With spring at hand and baseball time just around the corner, it's high time to get to solving the near-solved problem of getting the two local baseball parks equipped and ready for the youngsters of the Babe Ruth League and the Little League.

Here's the problem. It was decided last fall to seek enough funds through the Garza County Community Chest to complete equipping the new Babe Ruth League park, which needed both lights and bleachers, and to make some badly needed repairs to the Little League park, which is back to back with the uncompleted Babe Ruth park on the south edge of Post just west across the highway from the city-county swimming pool and park.

The estimated cost is approximately $5,000. The project was voted into the Community Chest for 1961 for $2,500 with the understanding the bank would loan the other $2,500 to the baseball organization to complete the project, interest free, to be repaid in 1962 from the Community Chest in the second half of a two-year project.

But no "super organization" above the two league groups was ever completely formed to handle the operation and to supervise play by the two leagues in the two parks. A president is yet to be found—and time is growing short.

Several have come up with the suggestion of turning the project over to the city-county park board for completion of the Babe Ruth park, remodeling of the other, and for supervising their use. Why

Teen Town cleanup set for Saturday

A "teen town cleanup" is planned for Saturday morning, weather permitting, to start at 10 a. m. with both boys and girls asked to turn out under the youth council of the youth center to clean out the youth center storeroom and to clean up the yard around the building.

Youngsters are asked to bring rakes and hoses for the job with at least one pickup truck needed to haul debris from the storeroom to the city dump.

Firefighters have a busy weekend

Post volunteer firemen had a busier-than-usual weekend, answering a total of six calls from Thursday night until late Sunday afternoon.

The most serious blaze was one late Thursday night that destroyed the farm home of the J. B. Robinsons, about eight miles north of town. Neighbors assisted the family in carrying the household furnishings to safety.

Firemen answered the alarm about 10:30 o'clock and then were called back about 4 a. m. Friday when the flames flared up again.

Two hurt when car turns over

Post Developments, Inc., near formal organization

Post Developments, Inc., had to postpone its formal organization Friday night, pending arrival from Austin of its incorporation papers, but business and professional men didn't waste time in getting into action.

The group authorized Temporary Chairman Irby Metcalf to appoint a committee to look into the proposition of seeking special legislation at this session of the Texas legislature which would permit Post to become a "home rule city" if it so desired.

Seventeen business and professional men turned out for its second meeting in the Community room of the First National Bank.

A "home rule city" is one which has its own charter and thereby has more power to govern itself. Post now is not a home rule city and is only permitted to act within the powers assigned to such cities by the state.

Special legislation is required to permit a city to acquire home rule status if it is under 5,000 population. Post missed that mark in the 1960 census with a 4,646 census figure.

Attorney Pat N. Walker told Post Developments that home rule city status would bring several advantages, such as lower interest rates on some types of municipal obligations, better methods to secure street paving, better property values, etc.

He explained that to attain

Dispatch Want Ad Pays Off

Tommy Markham stepped in last Friday night to happily report that Dispatch want ads really bring prompt results.

The Markhams, who live a mile west of Graham, lost their black dachshund puppy last week. The whole family was upset. So Mrs. Markham came in and put in a "lost puppy" ad in last Thursday's issue.

Thursday night, the Bob Bakers, who live two miles away, phoned the Markhams that the puppy had wandered over to their place and they had it safe and sound.

There was a happy reunion with the puppy and when Markham stepped in The Dispatch Friday to have the second insertion of the ad cancelled he was refunded his money for the second ad.

Let's boost 4-H training even more

National 4-H Club Week begins Saturday. It is a recognition week really for the young people and their adult leaders who are helping to build America stronger with solid leadership training of our adult citizens of tomorrow.

It's a good time too to pause and think for a moment on the benefits of this fine 4-H program to all of us.

Garza county has a well organized 4-H program of some 15 4-H clubs with around 300 young men and women enrolled and actively busy in its projects.

The concept of 4-H today is slightly different from its concept of yesterday, just like many of our concepts adjust to an changing world.

Today out of approximately 100 girls in our Garza 4-H program as many live in the towns as in the rural areas.

4-H is a program in citizenship and project training for all young people, not just for rural youth. Let's remember that where our boys and girls are concerned.

Another changing concept is the start of "community 4-H clubs" in the county. The community club is one in which boys and girls are enrolled in the same club together, rather than the boys having one organization and the girls another.

The pilot project for Garza was organized not so long ago at Pleasant Valley. This is going to be encouraged more and more. The club meets once monthly for a program together, both boys and girls, and have a program of interest and benefit to all. Then a second meeting is held each month devoted to the various interest groups within the group—the interest being some particular kind of project.

Other changes are coming. New interests are being added. For the town youth who do not have the opportunity to raise a calf, for example, soon a dog training interest group may be formed in which the youngsters who have pets can be trained in the proper care and training of those pets.

Our 4-H program of course has not been able to reach all the prospective young people in the county. But it is in better shape today than it has been in many a year.

Part of the problem in 4-H youth work, just as in any youth training, is the obtaining of enough adult leaders to permit continued expansion.

That is a problem here in 4-H. The adult leaders in the various interest fields we have are invaluable. The program could not exist without them. But more are needed. If you are interested in working with youth to build America stronger we would suggest 4-H work as a very worthwhile and rewarding field. If you are so inclined see your county agent or HD agent soon.

There is a place for you in the program. Those not actively busy in adult leadership can help in many other ways—by encouraging our youth in their projects, by taking an interest in 4-H as a program, by giving individual support in many ways when the opportunities present themselves.

With National 4-H Week just ahead, let's boost and encourage and help in every way we can to build an even better and stronger program.—JC.

Nothing's wrong with Post and area

Finally we read in the papers that at least one member of President Kennedy's cabinet sees an upturn in business within two months.

But it comes at a time when the new administration just about has the country "scared to death" over what's ahead.

Most of the recession talk did far more damage than it did good.

The nation has a job problem in several big industries with automation which will not be solved simply by a healthy business economy. Industry can expand its output to keep abreast of our growing population without adding the same percentage of new workers to its payroll.

That is a new economic fact of life which must be faced.

A lot of recession talk won't help. Pumping billions of government dollars into the economy will have only short range effect with no real solution.

Certainly this area has no cause for business alarm. Cotton and feed grains had tremendous years on the South Plains and another in prospect. The cattle industry isn't a bit sick. A slow upturn ought to be ahead for the oil industry. Our cotton mill is in excellent shape. The bank's deposits are at a record high.

There is a good, new feeling in our town that it's time to get things rolling.

Formation of the Post Developments, Inc., is a prime indication of that desire. A new interest in progressive local government also is in evidence. The schools have been improved tremendously in the last two or three years and the school plant brought into excellent shape.

The White River dam is at hand. The long five year fight to make a dream come true is almost reality. Now there is money to choose from where once it was tough to talk to anybody about. The plans are done.

Post is growing. It's building new homes, lots of them, and lots more will be built this year.

Southwestern Public Service's new office with drive-in window is but an illustration of the future of Post. Long range plans are already in the making at Southwestern Public Service to bring in a great increase in power to Post based on this community's growth record in recent years.

Lots of contractors have marked Post for real future growth.

This is no "pipe dream" optimism. This is a simple marshalling of some known facts and feelings. Post is on the move. Nothing is really wrong with our area economy.

Automation back East is a real and new problem. But don't get scared.—JC

Be a School Week participant

The need for the public school never changes, but times and conditions may change or require to be changed methods and practices of public education. This is inherent with anything that grows, for growth is the result of change.

The change—linked with the city's steady growth of the last few years—has been all to the good here in Post. A few years ago, the Post Independent School District increased in size through consolidation with three rural schools, bringing in more pupils and making expansion and improvement of the school plant necessary. Through the far-sightedness of school trustees and administrators, teachers and patrons, this expansion and improvement has been made—worth more to come.

Someone returning to Post after an absence of say ten years, would find the school plant practically doubled in size to take care of an enrollment that has increased in that time from less than one thousand to nearly 1,500. By observation and inquiry, he would also learn that the curriculum, teaching methods, and so forth, also have been improved to take care of the expanded plant, which include a new high school building that wasn't there ten years ago.

Already past the planning stage and nearing the contract-letting phase is completion of remodeling of the old high school building now being used as a junior high building.

It is a healthy thing in our democratic way of life to have intelligent understanding of our basic institutions. This is especially true of the schools. The initiative and resourcefulness and the wisdom and leadership that our schools are inculcating in the youth of today are the answer of the problems of citizenship in the years ahead.

We can do our part in understanding and helping the public schools to fulfill their great obligation to our times by being a participant in the annual Public Schools Week, which begins Monday, March 6, and continues through Friday, March 10. Post schools will hold open house, accept their hospitality, and you will enjoy the experience of going back to school—just for a day.—CD.

The lesser of two 'tax evils'

Governor Daniel is to be complimented for withdrawing his endorsement of the payroll tax to bolster the state's sagging financial position.

Now that the Governor has abandoned his payroll tax proposal, it appears that the only type of tax left at the Legislature's disposal that will raise the necessary revenue without crippling any individual or industry is a broad-based retail sales tax.

In our opinion, a sales tax is much the lesser of two "tax evils," when considered alongside a payroll tax.

If anything at all can be said for new taxes, there is this to say for a broad-based tax:

A retail sales tax is not a general sales tax, in that it would apply only to the last sale, and not on more than one level of transaction.

A retail sales tax is a growth tax under which revenue would show a steady growth in good times and only a "reasonably modest" rate of decline in a recession.

A retail sales tax does not overlap other tax systems. It would not affect present taxes, but merely provide the needed "new money."

The burden on any one family would actually be small, because the retail sales tax base is very broad. It would almost surely exempt some items now taxed and make other broad exemptions, such as food.

The retail sales tax is not regressive in that such a tax, for example, exempting food actually is proportionate to income in its effects on families.

Also, the retail sales tax is relatively inexpensive to administer and will not impede industrial development.

The situation is unhappy, of course. But sticking our head in the sand like an ostrich and trying to play like the situation doesn't exist won't help. We may as well face it.—CD.

What our contemporaries are saying

It's too early to advance the prediction that due to some high winds dancing over Martin County it is headed for a dry year. This is history in the last week of January. Old Man Winter may have heavy snows up his sleeve to fall and spread over the county, or "temper his dish" and send general rains over the county. February, the next month, knocking at the door to be admitted is usually our rugged winter month with snow and sleet falling. Nevertheless, the county is ready for some moisture.—James F. Kelly in The Stanton Reporter.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THIS HAS BEEN a crazy, mixed-up kind of winter—and the first day of Spring is still more than two weeks away.

Spring, incidentally, will follow close on the heels of Saint Patrick's Day, and with John Fitzgerald Kennedy in the White House, the big day for the Irish—March 17—will be an even bigger holiday this year.

SHAMROCK GROWERS in Ireland have already given credit for a sharp increase in American demand for the Irish national symbol to President Kennedy, who "will be wearing the shamrock on Saint Patrick's Day."

The shamrock growers said there was a 30 per cent increase in demand this year, adding they were receiving thousands of orders from Americans with no Irish connections who wanted to join in the "wearing of the green" on Saint Patrick's Day.

SO, EATING Irish stew and wearing a touch of green on Saint Patrick's Day this year may not be enough—unless that touch of green is a shamrock from the "cold sod."

Going from one plant to another—shamrocks to cotton—Bill McMahon, manager of the Graham Co-op Gin, told The Dispatch Thursday that the Graham Gin had turned out 8,916 bales of cotton for its best year since 1941. The same day, Roy Lemond, manager of Producer's Co-op Gin at Grassland, reported a total of 7,200 bales for that gin's biggest year since 1947. He estimated that some 300 bales were from Garza County growers.

THIS U. S. SENATE race is getting more interesting all the time, and now that Post and Garza County has a candidate in John N. (Johnny) Hopkins, it's a pretty good bet that the April 4 election will bring out a record number of voters for an "off year" election.

Just in case you've lost track of who all is in the race, here is a list of the 40 candidates who had filed up to Saturday—listed in the order in which they filed.

West Texas Band plays concert here Tuesday

A concert by the 85-piece Concert Band of West Texas State College will be presented in the Post High School auditorium Tuesday, March 7, at 3:00 p. m. The Post program will be one of ten which the band will perform on its annual tour of West Texas schools and cities. Directed by Dr. Ted J. Crager, head of the music department, the colorful band will also appear in Tulla, Lubbock, Stanton, Canyon, Hamlin, Seymour, Wichita Falls, Vernon and Quanah. Long recognized as an outstanding concert group, the West Texas State band has also built a so-lido reputation as a marching unit since Dr. Crager joined the WT staff three years ago. He introduced precision drills which have won acclaim, particularly during parades and football game half-times. Dr. Crager is assisted by Rowin Durden and Donald Haddad, graduates of Columbia University and Ohio State. All three are practicing musicians, and Durden and Haddad often appear as soloists with the band.

Student soloists include Harlon Lamkin of Lubbock, oboe; Mike Barry of Odessa, cornet; Vic Kyster of Borger, baritone; and Clyde Wilson of Midland, trombone. Featured drummers with the band are Bob Finicum of Plainview, Larry Parks of Midland, and Charles Weems of Sweetwater. The trio will be featured on the tour playing Paul Yoder's "Drumbeat Jamboree."

A variety of selections of marches, jazz, popular music, and novelties are included in the band's repertoire. A new favorite with the performers is Texas Don Gillis' "The Man Who Invented Music." The narrator for the selection is Louis Strovos of Borger.

Resume from Renal B. Rosson

Legislature's main concern still taxes

Editor's Note: The following short resume on pending legislation is from State Rep. Renal B. Rosson of Snyder, representing the 90th District, which includes Garza County.)

Taxes seem to be the ever present topic of conversation around the legislature; what is best to do for the money raising program that will be the least painful for all concerned. Among new money measures introduced are a 2 per cent sales tax on items costing more than $50; a 2 per cent sales tax exempting food and miscellaneous other items; a 3 per cent excise tax on utility companies selling gas, electricity, telephone or telegraph service; and the House Revenue and Taxation Committee has several important money raising bills in subcommittee and reports from them may develop during the week; however, it is not contemplated that a final tax bill will be complete for at least two or three more weeks.

Although we are aware a tax bill will be necessary this session it is a little early to know the exact form it will take. The governor has this day announced his withdrawal of the payroll deduction plan as a method of financing the state and is recommending the alternative of broadening the excise tax plan.

It is likely that the escheat (abandoned property bill) will receive a favorable nod from the taxation committee, thus sending it to the House for floor action. There is still much controversy on this particular bill and difficult to estimate its outcome at this time.

Among other matters of legislation being considered of top interest is the automobile liability insurance, merit rating insurance plan, Women's rights, public polls on tax conferences, rights of rural electric co-ops, as well as many other well publicized methods. The Constitutional Amendments committee will probably this Tuesday night get a report from the subcommittee on the proposed legislation on pari-mutuel betting at horse races. This proposition last week brought the session's largest night meeting so far.

The House approved Friday and sent to the Senate a bill (HB49) calling for runoff in special congressional elections. The runoff bill would apply the ground rules that now apply for special elections to fill vacancies in the U. S. Senate or for congressman-at-large. At present, congressional vacancies are filled by special election but there is no runoff. If passed by the Senate by a majority of two-thirds the measure would be effective immediately.

Costs least* when you buy... saves more when you drive

Here's the Classic Ford Look at the lowest Ford price. Ford Fairlane equipped the way most people like is the lowest-priced,* full-sized 6-passenger car of all... though you'd never guess it by looking. But more important still, is the engineering inside. Here are new achievement, new precision, new standards of quality. Here's a car that is built to take care of itself, and the savings mount up as you drive (the box at right shows you how). Altogether, the '61 Ford is so good that its dealers tripled the duration of the regular warranty! Other cars followed. But Ford began the trend with the car built to back up its longer-term warranty! See why we say, this is the Ford in your future!

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubrication itself—You go 30,000 miles between oil changes (oil changes only about $2.00 and take about 20 minutes).

Clean its own oil—You go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter (which filters better through specially graded filter).

Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves—automatically.

Checks its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and designed to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Protects its own body—All vital under-body parts are specially prepared to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—Just wash and clean Ford's new Diamond Luster Finish and it will continue to gleam like new. It never needs waxing.

Extended Warranty—Each part of '61 Ford, except tires, is dealer warranted against defects in materials or workmanship for 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. Owners remain responsible for normal maintenance service and routine replacement of maintenance items such as filters and ignition parts.

The bitterest national political campaign, with the exception of the one in 1860 when Lincoln was elected, took place in 1896. The combination of the threat of industrialization to close down if William Jennings Bryan was elected and the tremendous campaign fund spent by Mark Hanna caused the election of William McKinley.

was editing the Piggott, Arkansas, Banner. An attorney, Mayor Arthur Sneed, had vivid recollections to the campaign.

Sneed was a striping in 1896 but he had debated for Bryan's side. He said that one of the "arguments" of the gold standard debaters was that Judas had betrayed the Savior for thirty pieces of silver. Sneed countered with the assertion that instead of saying that silver should be accused because of the betrayal, the opposite was true, because, had it not been for the thirty pieces of silver, Judas would not have betrayed his Master; and if he had not been betrayed and had not died on the cross, mankind could not have received salvation for, without the shedding of blood, there could be no remission of sins.

(Another argument which occurred to me—but it was of course too late to use—was that none of those who denounced silver refused to accept dollars, halves and quarters made of the "accursed" metal.)

My partner had been the "printer's devil" in the Banner office in 1896 when my father was the editor. One of the candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1920 was Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer.

"All I know or want to know is that a man named Palmer ran as a Goldbug Democrat in 1896 in order to take as many votes away from Bryan as possible," my Partner declared. If one who had been only a lad retained such a strong view for almost a quarter of a century, that campaign of '96 must have really been charged with excitement and emotion.

Deputy transports prisoners to pen

Two men who had pleaded guilty to burglary charges after being indicted by a district court grand jury were taken to the state penitentiary at Huntsville Monday by Deputy Sheriff Elton Corley.

They were Theodore Telford, sentenced to four years, and Bill Smith, sentenced to three years.

Telford pleaded guilty to taking part in the theft of some $336 from the cash register at the Caprock Liquor Store last December.

Smith pleaded guilty to the burglary of the Vernon Scott home in the Pleasant Valley community last October.

Roosevelt Jefferson has been sentenced to five years in prison after pleading guilty to burglary of the Caprock Liquor Store on Jan. 28.

After delivering Smith and Telford to the pen Monday, Corley went on to Houston, where Wright Edwards was being held in jail for Garza County, where he is wanted on a felony theft charge, also in connection with the Caprock cash register "snatch." Edwards was released after making bond in Harris County and having it approved by the Garza County officer.

Good meals don't just happen

By LETA SMITH COUNTY HD AGENT

Good meals that go easy on the budget don't just happen. They result from careful planning, buying, storing and cooking of foods by the homemaker.

Meals that meet the nutritional needs of each family member and are also satisfying, colorful, tasteful and economical are the goals of each homemaker.

Planning: Improve your use of time, energy and money by planning meals several days in advance, meals that give good returns in food value for the money. Study food advertisements, in local papers, on television and on the radio to help determine the best buys. Select foods that are in season and on the plentiful food list. These are usually lower in cost. Preparing most of your food at home also keeps the grocery bill down, because partially prepared and ready to eat foods may cost more.

Make a shopping list and following it will enable most homemakers to cut down. A true food bargain is one that gives good returns in food value for the money. Good food buys vary from month to month, season to season, and what is a good food buy for one homemaker may not be for another.

Buying food in large containers means time, energy and money saved, if adequate storage space is available and what is bought is used before it deteriorates.

Proper preparation and cooking will help keep the food bill down and retain the nutrients in the food.

Peas, potatoes and carrots are cooked without paring. Cook fresh and frozen vegetables

Lunchroom menus

Menus for the Post schools lunchroom for the week of March 6 through March 10 are as follows:

Monday: Roast beef with gravy, creamed potatoes, buttered green beans, pudding, hot rolls, butter, one-half pint milk.

Tuesday: Butter beans with salt pork, sliced tomatoes, pickles, congealed salad, iced graham crackers, corn bread, one-half pint milk.

Wednesday: Barbecue wiener, buttered sweet peas, celery sticks, peach half, hot rolls, one-half pint milk.

Thursday: Hamburgers, potato chips, lettuce, tomatoes, pickles, onions, cake squares, fruit, one-half pint milk.

Friday: Turkey and dressing, giblet gravy, blackeye peas, green salad, fruit, bread, one-half pint milk.

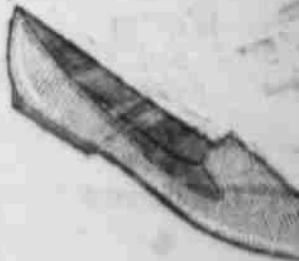

In a small amount of water and just until tender.

Cook meat at a low temperature and until tender according to cut. Cook less tender cuts in moist heat; as pot roast and tender cuts in dry heat, as broiling. High temperature toughens protein and causes shrinkage which results in fewer servings per pound.

If crackers become soft, heat them in the oven to crisp again. Use economical main dishes to cut cost.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Monday	Luke	12	35-40
Tuesday	John	20	24-29

ASK-SEEK KNOCK

Everyone knows that success comes not to those who merely desire it, but to those who achieve it through long, hard work.

It is odd then, that in the spiritual area of life some people should expect blessings to come for the asking.

Those who really understand PRAYER know that it's more than mere asking. It is seeking. It is the hungry search for truth and moral enlightenment... digging for spiritual gold in the hills of life.

But PRAYER is something more even than seeking. It is knocking... meeting life's obstacles bravely... waiting with patient determination until closed doors open... entering portals that the more timid pass by.

We wouldn't really need churches if spiritual growth came for the asking. But we do need churches to help us seek the treasures of God. And through our churches, with the united strength of millions of Christians, we knock on the portals of the more abundant life—and there find it.

Freight rate making methods are out of date

AUSTIN—Legislative efforts of the railroads to modernize and speed up the state freight rate-making procedures formulated in kerosene lamp days have been approved in principle, as long as they apply to all modes of transportation, by the Texas Industrial Traffic League, which is composed of shippers, men who are close to the freight-cost picture, and by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's large board of directors.

But the trucking interests in Texas, which would benefit along with the railroads and the public from the proposed changes, are bitterly fighting the legislation. The truckers' stand mystifies the Capitol and many transportation men throughout the state.

Despite the need for rapid action on rate decreases or increases in these fast-moving times, the low a time-consuming system which has resulted in no decisions on some applications for as long as five or six years.

The changes proposed by the railroads in legislation would take none of the public-protecting authority which it has been vested for more than a half a century.

The legislation would eliminate the costly, time-gobbling process of giving notice and conducting hearings unless there should be opposition to the proposed rates. Should there be protest, the Commission must act within a period of 7 months. Should there be no protest, the rates go in effect in 30 days.

All rates published by carriers must be just and reasonable, non-preferential and nondiscriminatory. Thus all modes of transportation are protected.

The federal government, through the Interstate Commerce Commission, in 1919 adopted the process sought for Texas. It's a bit hard to understand the opposition of the truck lines to this proposed legislation, the league points out.

The ground hog is the only animal with a special day on the calendar.

DPS reports increase of crime rate in Texas

Major crime in Texas increased 13.1 per cent in 1960 over 1959, led by hikes of some 25 per cent in robbery and burglary, the Texas Department of Public Safety reported today.

The total number of estimated offenses in 1960 was 57 per cent greater than the 1959 total, the department said.

The department's report, compiled from data reported by Texas sheriffs and chiefs of police, indicated the following:

Murder and homicide—1,080 estimated offenses; rate per 100,000 population 11.7; down 1.3 per cent from 1959.

Rape—1916, estimated offenses; rate 13; up 2.7 per cent.

Robbery—3,560 estimated offenses; rate 38.6; up 25.7 per cent.

Burglary—58,976 estimated offenses; rate 617.7; up 24.3 per cent.

Aggravated assault—12,128 estimated offenses; rate 131.5; up 1.8 per cent.

Thefts—108,869 estimated offenses; rate 1,180; up 12 per cent.

Auto Theft—15,417 estimated offenses; rate 164.2; down 4.3 per cent.

The total number of estimated offenses involving these seven types of major crime during 1960 was 198,956, or a rate of 2,157 per 100,000 population, for an increase of 13.1 per cent over 1959.

"This means there was an average of a little over one major crime committed in Texas every three minutes of every day of the year 1960," said Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., department director.

"The picture of the crime problem in our state can be seen even more clearly by a further breakdown: Murder and homicide occurred at the rate of about three per day; rape occurred on an average of three per day; robbery, 10 per day; burglary, 156 per day or about 6.5 every hour; theft, 298 per day or about 12 per hour; and auto theft, 41 daily or nearly two every hour."

TEXAS LAWYERS Col. John S. (Rip) Ford, Soldier - Statesman "Just a few kind words..." While John Salmon Ford was a regimental adjutant during the Mexican War a regular duty was to issue official death notices. He began each message, "Rest in Peace." When battles became hot, quick and fast, he shortened this to "R.I.P." and acquired a lasting nickname. This kindly-spoken gentleman was highly accomplished and versatile. South Carolina by birth (1811), Rip crowded an incredible number of activities into his 82 years of life. As a soldier, three wars: the Texas Revolution, Mexican and Civil Wars. As a statesman: Mayor, Congressman under the Republic, State Senator, Member of the Secession, National Democratic and Constitutional conventions. Between times Rip had practiced medicine, edited three different newspapers, explored and mapped the Ford-Neighbors Trail between San Antonio and El Paso. All this — and three years with the Rangers, stationed between the Nueces and the Rio Grande, where the Indians were usually looking for a fight. One historian commented that Rip always discharged his duties with "careful moderation." In later years Col. Ford enjoyed writing reminiscences and historical articles, about history he had helped to make. He was adding a few kind words when he died in San Antonio in 1897. As Texas lawmen made this a better place to live, industry and commerce were playing their part, too. And one industry, brewing, has always provided enjoyment as well as employment and revenues for communities. In Texas "Beer Belongs." Brewers, wholesalers, retailers and the United States Brewers Foundation are working constantly in cooperation with today's lawmen, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. White River—thirds federal and one third state participation.

In the meantime, Bob Nichols, representing the Fort Worth engineering firm of Freese, Nichols and Endress, employed by the district to prepare the White River project plans, said he would submit the final plans to both the state board of water engineers and the state board of health, both of which must approve the plans regardless of which financing route is finally decided upon.

Nichols, in presenting the plans and specifications before approval action was unanimously taken, explained that the project has been divided into six different contracts: one for dam construction, one for filter plant construction, one for pump construction, one for pipeline construction, one for pump station construction, one for purchase of water storage tanks, and one for purchase of B needed pumping units.

He further said that the pipeline contract might be divided among three or four different contractors, as the pipeline contract will be bid in several sections with the board having the opportunity to accept low bids of each of the various sections.

COST ESTIMATES BEING MADE

Nichols said his firm is in the process of working up final cost estimates for the project.

"We won't have any money left from the $4,000,000," he said, "but we are convinced we can build it at that price."

In answer to a question, he said a communications system is included in the plans to provide for both voice communications to all points of the project as well as automatic electric controls of the various units of the project.

Besides approval final plans and specifications for the project, the board also unanimously adopted a resolution setting minimum employment rates for all kinds of construction labor on the project. This is required by law.

James C. Sells, design engineer for the Fort Worth engineering firm, accompanied Nichols to the meeting.
Lloyd Wicks, White River district attorney from Dallas, said he has prepared easements for all pipeline right-of-way so that no time will be lost in seeking them as soon as loan money becomes available for payment of such easements.

POST TO GET STORAGE

Nichols pointed out after the directors' session that the White River water pipeline into Post will connect directly into the present city water distribution system at two points—one on the east edge of the city and the other on the north edge of the city on 12th Street.

Plans for the project call for construction of the district's expense of a $20,000 gallon water storage tank for Post west of the city on high ground. Excess water not used would flow through the city's present system back into the storage tank. The tank would be constructed on a dual fill or draw basis.

Post will be served by a 21-mile long 18 inch water pipeline. One pumping station will be located eight miles from Post but the main station will be only a mile from the northeast city limits.

Attending the directors' session Post were Bouchier, Dr. A. C. Surman, R. J. Jennings, the three White River directors, City Councilman Walter Duckworth and Dispatch Publisher Jim Cornish.

Elections—

In other words, the Texas law says a man can't hold two elective offices but doesn't bar him from seeking two providing his name doesn't appear twice on the same ballot.

In Hopkins' case, Webb explained, Hopkins' name will not appear on the same ballot as there will be two different ballots and two different voting places for voters to pick their city candidates and express their U. S. senatorial choice.

Both elections, however, will be held on the same day—Tuesday, April 4.

Hopkins, who has served four years on the council, told The Dispatch yesterday he had checked as to his eligibility to make the city councilman's race again before filing and had been told that there was no question of legality involved.

Street rumors have been heard that before the Saturday midnight deadline for city filings there may be a third candidate in the mayor's race. Several names have come up in such speculation.

Strike causes school head to cancel trip

The airplane engineers' strike has caused R. T. Smith, superintendent of the Post schools, to call off his trip to San Francisco to a regional meeting of the American Association of School Administrators.

Smith had planned to leave Lubbock by plane Feb. 24 for San Francisco.

Rites today for Mrs. Annie Brown

Funeral services were to be conducted here at the Calvary Baptist Church at 2 p. m. today for Mrs. Annie L. Brown, longtime former Post resident who died Tuesday night at 3 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Johnnie Mooney, 4620 38th Street, Lubbock, with whom she had been living.

She had been in ill health for the past several months.
Mrs. Brown had lived in Lubbock for the last eight years, moving there from Post. She resided here from 1923 to 1933.

Survivors include the daughter of Lubbock; two sons, Olen Brown of Beville, Tex., and Eulas Brown of Post; one brother, Bill Windham of Post; ten grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren.
Mason Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

'Backing' cars figure in accident Monday

City officers investigated an accident Monday afternoon in which an automobile being backed out of a driveway collided with another that had come to a stop just after having been backed out of a driveway.

City Marshal Junior Shepherd said a 1958 Pontiac driven by Mrs. Barbara N. Moriearty was heavily damaged when it was struck by a 1957 Chevrolet being backed from a driveway by Gwin Willis Bridgeman.

The accident occurred on 7th Street between Avenues R and S.

legislature now in session no time should be lost in going after the special legislation—first requirement for home rule.

A committee consisting of Walker, S. E. Camp, and Bryan Williams reported on proposed bylaws, but said they could not complete a draft until the return of the charter.

Directors would elect officers from the seven directors named by the membership. The terms of the directors will be staggered.

Directors' sessions are planned each two weeks with membership meetings every two months. Written reports on the outcome of negotiations with each and every firm will be distributed to the entire membership.

Dues are $100 a year with the authority of directors to draw upon members for an additional $200 each year, if needed.
"Patience is the key word," Camp told the group.

"It will probably take the first year to start developing channels of information," he pointed out. "If we lose any industry we go after, we're going to find out why we lost and try to profit by our mistakes," he added.

Walker said he already has contacted the secretary of the Texas Industrial Commission concerning the new industrial search and has been promised information as to the requirements of various industries and the names of some Texas towns which have been very successful in seeking out new industry to learn some pointers from.

Irby Metcalf, head of the Public Housing Administration here, reported that he had received a letter last week reporting something needs to be done in finding suitable sites for units approved or the city is in danger of losing them. He pointed out that lack of sewer, water, and paving is hurting the site hunt in the northeast portion of Post for units housing Negro and Latin American families.

Metcalf announced a called meeting will be held as soon as the non-profit corporation charter is received here from Austin to permit organization to proceed.
Attending the session were Bryan J. Williams, Metcalf, Ronnie Bouchier, S. E. Camp, Tom Power, J. E. Birdwell, Ted Hilbs, Walker, Jim Cornish, Spencer Kaykendall, George Boucher, Dr. James Matthews, Dr. John Carter, the Rev. Bill Hoene, Giles McCrary, Chant Lee, and Bill Edwards. Other new members were announced, but were unable to attend.

Both were named by the new 1961-62 directors following Dr. Matthews' election as president. All were by unanimous vote.
Club officers are named early to permit them to attend the spring conference of Rotary for the district at Pampa next month and a training session for officers in April.

CROSBYTON BANQUET

Three Post men and their wives were guests at the annual Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce dinner Tuesday night in Crosbyton. They were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bouchier, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Bouchier, and Chamber Manager and Mrs. Johnnie Hopkins. The Post junior high school girls' sextet sang on the Chamber banquet program.

not? It sounds like a good idea, especially as the park board is the ideal organization to be operating the parks anyway. Maybe there are some hurdles to be solved, but it looks overall as the best solution. Time is of the essence, however, so regardless of what action is taken, it is essential that it be expedited without delay because nobody wants to see this community's summer baseball program flounder.

We just discovered yesterday that the special senatorial election and the city elections—to be held the same day as the governor says to stir interest—will be held in different voting places. That sounds like a waste of time, money, and inconvenience to us. Can't it be worked out, as far as city voters is concerned anyway for the municipal precincts and cause voters a d e e d inconvenience? Judge Judge J. E. Parker with whom we checked, said the county has been instructed to conduct the senatorial election and he didn't think the two legally could be combined. Anyway, it's sure to be confusing—don't think it won't.

A Dispatch want ad is really a mighty mite, just as advertised, as Conor Howell of route 2 can testify. On Feb. 2, Conor advertised 70 weaning pigs for sale with a want ad. He sold all the weaning pigs the first week, forgot to have the ad taken out and received many more disappointed inquiries the second week.

Cal Casteel of Casteel Studios was "ticked pink" when three of his portraits were selected for display in the lobby of the Herring Hotel during the Panhandle Photographers' Convention, which Cal attended over the weekend. One of the portraits, a print of Cal's and Rose's youngest son, Davie, took third place in the children's division. The portraits were judged on the basis of craftsmanship, naturalness of expression and composition. Cal has won 10 awards, including some first and second place ribbons. In 1954 he won top regional honors—two first places and one third—from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. One print was hung in the National Geographic Salon in Washington, D. C. Eastman Kodak Company purchased this one for advertising purposes. "I prize this ribbon the most, as it was won in competition with some of the country's top professionals," Cal said. Leading photographers from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico attended the weekend convention in Amarillo.

Joe Williams, maintenance superintendent here for the Texas Highway Department, came in the first of the week with a 1910 and a 1918 newspaper and a December, 1915, issue of the "Review of Reviews" magazine, all of which he found in the attic of his home here at 106 West 10th. The 1910 paper is an issue of the Union City Register-Weekly, published at Union City, Mich., and the 1918 paper is an issue of the Renfrew Journal, published at Renfrew, Ontario, Canada. We've only had time to glance at the papers and magazine, but intend to peruse them further when we have time. The Review of Reviews, incidentally, has much in it about the first World War, which was then in its second year—two years before the U. S. got into the fray.

Meat Market—

The meat market will feature quality, locally slaughtered beef and pork from the Jackson Brothers plant.
Also carried will be chickens and fryers, milk, bread, cheeses, cold meats, potato chips, and all the essentials for both snacks and sandwiches.

A paved drive also is planned for the convenience of customers but the Jackson brothers weren't sure that weather this week would permit in time for the drive-way to be completed by the opening Saturday.

The Grand Opening ad of the new Jimbo meat Market appears on page 13 of today's Dispatch.

Garza County's 4-H Program

today has enrolled

200 Boys and Girls

in

15 Different 4-H Clubs

We Salute Them for National 4-H Week Which Begins Saturday, March 4

Beef Project . . . One Example

Under adult leaders, Floy Richardson, Bill Carlisle, L. G. Thuett, Jr., and Russell Wilks, Garza 4-Hers now have 34 club calves as their projects. Marketed later in 1961, they will bring an estimated $10,000 after being shown at the South Plains Fair in Lubbock and the Texas State Fair in Dallas. Many of these youngsters borrow from the First National Bank for funds to purchase calves and feed and pay off loans after selling their calves thus learning farm financing too.

The 4-H training program for youth is no longer one for rural youth alone. As many girls in 4-H work in Garza county today live in our towns as on the farms and ranches.

4-H work is ever changing to meet the needs of a changing world. The first community 4-H club has been organized in Pleasant Valley in which boys and girls meet together monthly. Interest projects are spreading into many fields . . . one soon may be started here on pets.

Garza's 4-H program today reaches more youth than ever before . . . but there are still more to be reached and trained to become this area's adult leaders of tomorrow and American citizens of the perilous future.

More can be done with more adult leaders. Choose 4-H work for a rewarding experience in working with and training our young people.

A Present For Thrifty Nephews and Nieces

Ag student sees project value

By ROBERT BEVERS
Voc. Ag. II

Since I have been in Vocational Agriculture I have learned many things. We have taken a few trips to see gins and crops. I think all the boys of FFA have learned a whole lot about crops, livestock and different insects.

I think if we study and work hard at different things concerning the FFA it can become a very good organization for young boys on a farm or in town. If the boys would try hard enough we all might win many prizes with our livestock.

Instead of spending all the money they make on their projects they should put it in on another animal for they can make more money and get to be a Chapter Farmer, State Farmer or even an American Farmer.

We have enjoyed the parties FFA has given and hope to have more. We hope we can interest more boys in joining this organization. In the following years when we are out of school and work on a farm we will know more about what we are doing instead of getting someone else to help and tell us what to do.

Santa Fe Railway is again presenting special 4-H awards

CHICAGO—Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway again will present achievement and scholarship awards to about 70 young people in 4-H work in the 11 states served by the line.

This is the 39th year the railway has sponsored the awards. And the 1961 winners will be honored at a banquet—the 25th annual fete of its kind—presented by Santa Fe—next fall during the 40th National 4-H Club Congress here.

Twelve 4-H enthusiasts from Texas were among the 1960 award winners, selected by the Cooperative Extension Service of Texas A&M College.

Youngsters over 14 years of age with at least three years of 4-H activities to their credit are eligible to compete for the Santa Fe awards. Qualified 4-H'ers are judged on the basis of agricultural leadership.

The Congress banquet provides an opportunity for Santa Fe management to become better acquainted with state leaders and members in the 4-H realm.

Butler County, Mo., was named for William O. Butler of Kentucky, candidate for vice president in 1948.

Texas manhunt on for 2 farmers who will receive $5,000 awards

RENNER—Supervisors of the 181 soil conservation districts in Texas are pushing one of the biggest man hunts in the history of the state.

Objects of the big search are the two Texas farmers who will be recipients next spring of the Hoblitzelle Awards for the Advancement of Texas Rural Life.

Each of the two winners will receive an award consisting of $5,000 in cash and a gold medal in recognition of his outstanding service to agriculture during the period of January 1, 1957, through December 31, 1960.

One of the winners must be a senior, a farmer who has passed his thirty-sixth birthday. The other must be thirty-five years of age, or younger.

Short course set for gardeners

LUBBOCK—Home gardeners throughout the Panhandle and South Plains may gain new flower growing ideas at Texas Tech's ninth annual Garden Club Short Course slated here March 6.

The course is designed for garden club participants and any "green thumb" interested in learning more about growing and arranging flowers," said Ed Zukauekas, Tech assistant professor of horticulture, and short course chairman.

Sponsored by the Tech horticulture and park management department and the District I Federated Women's Garden Clubs of Texas, all sessions of the short course will be held in the Tech Union ballroom. Registration fee is $2.

Theme of the short course this year is "Living with the Home and Garden." Registration will begin at 8:30 a. m. and the program will formally open at 9:30 a. m.

Public presentation of the two $5,000 checks and gold medals will be the highlight of Texas Research Foundation's Annual Field Day and Awards Dinner at Renner on May 17, 1961.

The Foundation is administrator of the awards, which are donated by the Hoblitzelle Foundation of Dallas. Purpose of the awards is to recognize older farmers for their outstanding accomplishments.

Texas soil conservation districts constitute the machinery for selecting every area of the state for those farmers and ranchmen who are performing outstanding service in their respective fields.

All nominations for the honors must be forwarded by March 15 to Texas Research Foundation at Renner.

The awards are presented biennially at Renner by the Karl Hoblitzelle Agricultural Laboratory of Texas Research Foundation.

Presentation of two awards this year instead of the customary, single $3,000 award marks a revision of the Hoblitzelle Award for the Advancement of Texas Rural Life as it has existed since its beginning in 1951.

Recipient of the single Hoblitzelle Award for the Advancement of Texas Rural Life in 1959 was T. A. Kincaid, Jr., of Ozona.

SEE THE NEW COMET... THE BETTER COMPACT CAR

PRICED UP TO $331 BELOW OTHER COMPACTS

HIGH RESALE VALUE UP TO $46 MORE THAN OTHER COMPACTS

FAMILY-CAR SIZE FINE-CAR RIDE

Comet is one of the least expensive compacts you can own! These are the facts. Comet costs less when you buy—up to $331* below other compacts. Comet gives you high resale value—up to $46† more than other compacts. That's why it pays to own a Comet. But that's not all. Comet has fine-car features, too. It's the first family-size compact. Longer wheelbase—up to 7.5" longer than other compacts—means more Comet room, not only in pleasurable comfort-for-six seating but in over 28 cu. ft. of trunk space—up to twice as much as other compacts.

Comet's big-car ride is the comfort difference. Extra length also contributes to Comet's road-leveling ride. The refined new suspension and easier-action springs give Comet a better ride than many standard cars. And you'll find Comet turns, parks and handles almost as easily as a tricycle!

Talk about economy and you're talking Comet. To save on gas, choose either of Comet's two thrifty engines. You change Comet oil only every 4,000 miles, get 10% better tire mileage, save on licenses and insurance. And Comet's super-economical finish won't cost you a cent for waxing—never needs it!

Both two- and four-door sedans and wagons. Take your pick from sedans or wagons. Comet wagons have up to 30% more cargo space behind the front seat than most other compacts, plus a convenient roll-down rear window.

Lasting quality, even where it doesn't show. Comet is quality, inside and out. Unit-built to keep quiet, stay sturdy and durable. Comet also has rustproofed vital underbody parts, complete soundproofing and an aluminized muffler.
