NEW TANKS BOOST GRAIN STORAGE
Three new steel tanks, two large ones and one small one, have been constructed at Capitan Grain Co., 216 South Ave. H, to help store this year's grain crop, which is beginning to come in. The new tanks provide a storage capacity of 33,000 bushels and increase the company's total storage capacity to 350,000 bushels.—(Staff Photo.)

New plans made for Garza Youth Center

The board decided to open the youth center, which has been completely repainted, each Saturday night when the football team is playing away from home and Friday nights after home football games.

The junior high program is to be worked out.

TWO NIGHTS LAST YEAR

The youth center was operated both Friday and Saturday nights for high schoolers last year, but a noticeable drop in student participation was noted by mid-year except for special dances for which bands were hired from student admission funds.

The board agreed to a 25-cent admission charge again this year. (See YOUTH CENTER, page 8)

Parker going to Copenhagen

Ronnie Parker, minister of the Post Church of Christ, and his family are sailing for Denmark Nov. 9 where he will enter evangelistic work for the Church of Christ in Copenhagen, a city of a million and one half people.

Parker announced his plans Sunday to the local congregation.

The local minister said the Church of Christ in Copenhagen has approximately 35 members including two American preachers and families.

Parker, his wife, June, and their three children Dawn, 6, Cliff, 4, and Anna, 2, have tentative plans to sail from New York City Nov. 9 on the liner Osloford.

Parker, who is 27, came to Post Sept. 15, 1957, from Whitharral to assume the local Church of Christ pastorate. During his three years here the $30,000 addition to the local church was completed.

Parker is currently president of the Post Rotary Club and of the local Dale Carnegie Alumni Association. He will resign as Rotary president effective Oct. 11.

In March, 1959, Parker was a Texas delegate to President Eisenhower's White House Conference on Children and Youth.

Paving program set at school

In cooperation with the City of Post and Garza County, the Post Independent School District has worked out a program for paving of streets at the new high school building.

Plans call for a caliche base and asphalt surface on the streets and for valley gutters, which will enable the parking of more automobiles.

From the valley gutters, the streets will be hot-topped up to the sidewalks, according to Supt. R. T. Smith.

The streets to be paved are on the east and west sides of the high school building and on both sides of the street running between the high school and the gym.

Garza County has agreed to haul caliche for the street paving, providing that the caliche is surfaced after it is put down.

First bale of cotton heralds start of Garza's fall harvest

Garza's first 1960 bale of cotton was ginned Monday afternoon at the Basinger Gin in Southland to signal the start of the fall harvest of the county's "money crop" which is expected to reach 18,000 bales or better by the time winter arrives.

The county's other big fall harvest—that of milo—kicked off here last week with the receipt of the first load of feed grain. Farm experts foresee the cutting of approximately $741,000 worth of maize in the next 60 days in the county, although the 57,000 seeded milo acres are badly in need of rain.

The first 1960 bale was ginned from cotton grown and gathered by Stonewall Jefferson on the farm of Mrs. Ivy Basinger of Southland.

FROM 12 ACRES

Jefferson gathered cotton from about 12 acres of irrigated cotton beginning Monday morning.

C. L. Driver, Basinger gin manager, said the gin was all ready for the first bale when it came in. The load of cotton weighed 1,650 pounds, the finished bale 460 pounds and the seed 800 pounds.

Jefferson said the cotton—Paymaster 101 variety—was planted April 14.

The cotton was ginned free by the Basinger gin.

Jefferson's first bale was the winner by only three hours. The second bale was ginned at the Close City Co-op Gin at 7 p. m. Monday, whereas the winner's bale was ticketed out the same day at 4 p. m.

Cotton prospects this year are regarded as "equal to better" than (See FIRST BALE, page 8)

Postings

By JIM CORNISH

Mark your date down for Saturday night, Sept. 17—to visit the 1960 Garza County Fair, a unique undertaking sponsored by the Post Lions Club. The Lions have been staging the county fairs for years as a community project, but this one is going to be different—all-home-grown, so to speak. Every booth, game, and event at the fair—starting from the big beef barbecue at only 50 cents a plate will be locally operated. A lot of interesting events are planned.

Any funds raised through the fair by the Lions also will go to a very important cause—the Lions' big child welfare program, and other projects they sponsor for this community. Helping crippled children and fitting youngsters who can't afford them with eye glasses is where the money goes—and not a penny of it goes into that "overhead" category. The Lions and all the folks who want to volunteer to help them will be working hard next weekend to help make the fair a real success and obtain funds to help needy local youngsters. Go on out to the county 4-H building and fair ground, take the family, enjoy the barbecue, and all the rest the Lions will have for fun and entertainment. It will all be for a very, very worthy cause.

We want to introduce to you a new Post family—the T. B. Odams—who have purchased the local Western Auto store on East Main from Jess and Claudine Michael and Mrs. C. E. Casey. The Odams took over their new business here Monday. They are members of the First Baptist Church and have one daughter, Pat, who is now a senior in the local high school, and a son, Don, 23, who has just completed four years of military service and will start his college education this fall at Texas Tech. They are making their home at 807 West 12th. Both Mr. and Mrs. Odams were born and reared in San Angelo, but they came to Post (See POSTINGS, page 8)

Private citizen catches prowler

Eddie White of Lubbock, who was caught prowling late Tuesday night at the home of T. M. Campbell, was fined $50 and costs yesterday in Justice of the Peace court after pleading guilty to a charge of molesting private property without the owner's consent.

A. J. McAlister, post office employee, who lives across the street from the Campbell home, held White at gunpoint until Deputy Sheriff Sam Price arrived to arrest him.

McAlister, who had been bowling, came home about midnight and was told by his wife that she had been watching a man prowling about the Campbell home. After her husband arrived, she telephoned the Campbell, who assisted in the capture.

McAlister, armed with a shotgun, discouraged any intentions the prowler might have had of fleeing the scene.

City plans optional policy on water, sewer extensions

An optional policy for water and sewer extensions within the city limits was near adoption today by the Post city council.

The policy, which the council discussed at length at Monday night's regular monthly meeting, would not eliminate, but would merely add to the new policies for water and sewer extensions adopted by the council at a special meeting on June 30.

The optional policy, as first proposed by Mayor Powell Shytles, calls for the developer of subdivisions to pay for the utility extensions and be reimbursed by the city over a long-range period of up to 10 years out of water revenue profits and sewer service charges.

Club speaker here raps income tax

John R. Anderson, Borden County rancher, who is running against George Mahon for Congress as an independent, advocated abolishing the national income tax and getting government out of competition with private enterprise as two major steps which will restore American capitalism to its healthy state, in a speech before Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon.

Anderson, who lives near Gail, told Rotarians this was his first public address and did not refer to his political race for congress in his talk.

The income tax, he declared, is not a "rich man's tax" at all, with 82 per cent of all such U. S. income taxes paid by people making $6,000 or less income annually.

He termed the income tax "the way to kill capitalism."

By getting government out of competition with private industry in every field, the income tax could be abolished and leave the nation with several billions in extra tax revenues to be applied to remaining government activities, Anderson said.

Anderson declared that 20 per cent of the industrial capacity in America today is owned by the federal government and operated on a "rent free and tax free basis."

"Think what would be done for the economy of Post," he said, "if all the money now paid here in national income taxes could be spent in Post. It would be adding 20 per cent to everyone's take." (See ANDERSON, page 8)

Suit filed here on $1,300 note

A suit on a $1,300 note has been filed in district court on behalf of Levi Noble against Clifford E. Savaria. The suit was filed by Noble's attorney, N. C. Oulaw.

The plaintiff's petition charges that the first installment on the note became due Aug. 14. The note was dated July 13, 1960.

Savaria, who had been operating Levi's Restaurant for the last several months, closed the restaurant about 10 days ago and since that time had been operating the snack bar at the Post Bowling Center.

Savaria has disposed of his equipment at the snack bar and left town.

Major projects under way

The task of assigning new dial numbers for all telephones in Post has been completed, according to Wayne King of Lamesa, district manager for General Telephone Company.

King said that all business telephone subscribers will soon be notified of their new number assignments in order that they might use these numbers for publicity and advertising purposes.

The district manager also announced that the company has begun two key construction projects in the Post area in preparation for the city's conversion to modern dial operation later this year.

Rehabilitation of cable lines and other outside plant equipment began Aug. 23.

King said that new office entrance cable and main aerial feeder cables would be placed and other existing facilities reinforced in anticipation of the city's future growth.

Also under way west of Post is an extensive rural line addition, which will provide 8-party service to 26 new telephone customers and improved service to a number of others. Both projects will be completed prior to the dial conversion, King said.

Two of break-ins are admitted by three juveniles

Burglars, three of them known to be juveniles, have struck at four business places, the Boy Scout Camp and the American Legion Hall since last Friday night.

Three juveniles, one 15 and the other two 13 years old, have admitted breaking into Greenfield Hardware and the American Legion Hall. A juvenile court hearing for them was scheduled for 10 o'clock this morning before County Judge J. E. Parker.

A break-in at the Boy Scout Camp building, burglaries at Maxine's Gift Shop and Shytles Implement Company Sunday night, and a Tuesday night break-in at the M. J. Malouf Dry Goods Store had not been solved late yesterday by investigating officers.

GUNS ARE STOLEN

Greenfield Hardware Store was the hardest hit, with the intruders carrying off a number of pistols and rifles, a transistor radio, World War II souvenirs and a total of about $53 taken from a filing cabinet and a cash register.

Much of the loot taken from the hardware store was recovered after Frank Runkles, camp ranger at the Boy Scout Camp, took the three juveniles into custody after finding them engaging in target practice with some of the stolen guns in a canyon at the camp.

The boys admitted the break-in to Runkles and led him to where they had pitched a tent in the canyon and to a hide-out under a bridge on FM Road 1313 between Post and the Scout camp.

MEDAL MISSING

Not all the loot was recovered, according to Bill Edwards, manager of Greenfields. Among that still missing was Edwards' World War II Purple Heart Medal taken from a souvenir case at the (See BURGLARIES, page 8)

Roy Williams in Lubbock hospital

The condition of Roy Williams, Olney High School football coach, who has been ill since Aug. 15, is reported improved by members of his family here.

Williams, suffering from nervous exhaustion, is in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital, where he was admitted last Friday after being brought from Olney to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. (Bill) Williams.

Williams, who is 30 years old, became ill the first day of football practice. He voluntarily stepped down from the head coach position at Olney, but has been retained on the coaching staff and granted sick leave by the Olney school board.

The former Post High School athlete had been employed at the Olney school during the summer, taking care of the football field, parks, and other school facilities.

His Olney team was picked at the recent state coaches' school as the favorite to win the state Class AA championship. Last season under Williams, the Olney eleven went to the quarterfinals before being eliminated by state champion Stamford in a close contest.

Williams played two years of football at San Angelo College and two years at Hardin-Simmons University, where he received his degree.

Lions Fair lists new attractions

Plans for the annual GARZA County Fair to be held here Saturday, Sept. 17, were being completed this week by the Post Lions Club, which sponsors the fair.

This year's event will be entirely home operated and will include a number of attractions not held at any of the previous affairs. Chief among these will be a barbecue, for which beefs are being furnished by area ranchers. Post-Montgomery, with headquarters at Loveland, has donated $50 to the barbecue event.

Plans also call for an auction of baked goods, all sorts of midway attractions and the usual club and agricultural exhibits.

The fair will be held at the 4-H Club building on the south side of South Lake.

R. G. Wilkerson, the Lions Club's fair chairman, today listed J. E. Birdwell as one of the beef donors, and said E. R. (Buster) Moreland of Brown Bros. Et Al will see to the gathering and furnishing of wood for cooking the barbecue.

Practically all the booth space has been taken for this year's fair, Wilkerson said.

Dr. John E. Carter is working as the Lions Club's fair director.

256 enrolled in school Wednesday

Enrollment in the Post schools Monday morning totaled 1,256, according to Supt. R. T. Smith.

The three days of the new term enrollment figure was up 100 from last year's enrollment total of the same period, Smith said.

Enrollment by schools was: High school, 77; junior high, 345; elementary, 215; primary, 421.

Superintendent said 1,197 students were enrolled the first day of the term. The enrollment had increased by 59 up to Wednesday morning, and Smith said he expects the figure to hit the 1,300 mark in the next few weeks.

Positive voting beats negative

As the nation heads into another presidential campaign, we voters need to wise up to ourselves—for our own good, and more important, for the country's good.

Most of us, let's admit it, are negative voters.

We're not positive voters. We don't vote FOR somebody. We vote AGAINST somebody. We vote our dislikes—and it's a dangerous threat to our democratic system.

If something about a candidate rubs us wrong—maybe his stand on some particular issue, maybe his looks, his geography, or his religion—we are out to get him. When we go to the polls we vote against him.

Here in Texas, for example, we don't vote for anybody when we mark our ballots. Instead we "scratch" out those we want to vote against. It's a negative method and is too often quite representative of our thinking about candidates.

Now this voter psychology is well known by all the politicians. In an age when political research keeps a lot of firms in business, you can count on the candidate knowing the public's thinking and capitalizing upon it in every way he can.

So for our negative thinking what do we get?

Farm problem hexes politicians

The complex farm problem is used by both parties in every presidential campaign as a "vote-getter"—or, as some would say, a political football—but certainly not to the benefit of the farm problem itself.

Basically, the farm problem is much too complex to be solved by campaign promises. In fact, neither party has been able to come up with a solution when that party was in office. How, then, can either party expect to solve the farm problem by blaming its present muddled state on the other party?

The present farm program, which came along more as a war incentive to agriculture than anything else, poses problems which appear incapable of solution. During the war years, farmers were encouraged to produce more, with the result that over-production naturally followed in peacetime. In more recent years, acreage allotments have been imposed to cut down on production, but today's farmer is able to grow more, even on decreased acreage, than he was before. The reason for that is that agricultural know-

Out of the alphabetical mess

News that Post's dial telephone system to be installed between now and the first of the year will have all digits for numbers instead of a two-letter prefix and five digits may sound confusing on the surface, but it will be welcomed by those among us who have been lost in the world of the alphabet ever since NRA crashed in nearly thirty years ago to start a long string of depression and post-depression alphabetical formations.

The way it has been explained to us, Post's dial telephone numbers will consist of three digits, a dash and four more digits. Those first three digits will amount to the same as such combinations as "FO 3" or "SH 2," to use Lubbock's dial system as an example.

Wayne King, district manager for General Telephone Company, informs us that if your Post telephone number is, for instance, 495-2816, you won't need to pay any attention to the first two digits—the "49." When dialing the number, you'll simply dial 3-2816, or it may be that you will be required to dial only the last four digits

Texan opposes stub ballots

Voting booths (Post finally got a couple for the White River water contract elections) and voting machines in the larger cities are major contributions to the drive for the Australian ballot or more secret elections.

Now comes a man in Donna, Tex., who sends Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) a $25 check as a contribution for going a step farther and doing away with stub ballots.

The New York senator said Saturday he had returned the check to the Donna man and advised him to send it to Sen. Thurston B. Morton (R-Ky.), national party chairman. The check had been made out to the "national Republican chairman."

Javits said he asked the Civil Rights Commission about the stub-ballots in Arkansas and Texas.

What our contemporaries are saying

Just one small comment on the action of the Ralls School Board. Before school opened it was announced there would be no car driving during the noon hour. Great walls and means went up from students owning autos or having access to the family jalopy. Well, the board stuck to their guns and after the first week of school there is a marked improvement in student attitudes. There are very few cars at school compared to last year and they stay parked during the noon hour. It is even safe to step off the curb from 12 to 1 each day. And cafeteria attendance has jumped a marked degree. Mrs. Hunt is serving more students in the cafeteria than in their history. As yet not a single student has starved to death. Also, since the decline of noon hour driv-

Candidates don't stand for things—that loses them votes. The fewer issues they can find the better. Instead they try to emphasize everything about their opponent which will produce negative votes for him—and therefore votes for himself.

It is hard for a real national leader, one who takes a stand forthrightly for what he believes, to be elected dog catcher. And we have only ourselves to blame.

A man who stands for nothing, and does nothing, is rated these days a pretty good politician because he hasn't built up a negative following that is out to "scratch" him off every ballot.

Consequently we are getting more and more of this type of politician to run our government for us.

In this presidential year, we'd recommend a positive approach. Let's pick the best men to run our government and our country. Let's applaud their stands on issues simply because we can't vote intelligently FOR somebody without knowing what he is FOR himself.

A little positive thinking in politics on our part will go a long way toward strengthening our American way of life.—JC.

how has kept abreast of everything else can which we have made progress.

It reached the point several years ago where no farmer was allowed to make a living by his own ability, and the situation has not improved in recent years. The farmer is "smoked," regardless of in which direction he turns. The $64 question now is—will the farmer ever get back to where he can run his own business?

If there had been a solution to the farm problem, you can bet your boots that either the Democrats or the Republicans would have come up with it long ago. It would have been too much of a feather in either party's cap not to have.

Let's not kid ourselves and let's not let the campaigners kid us on the farm problem. It has been with us during the years that both parties have been in power. It is a problem, but not as much of a political problem as the party leaders would have you believe when they start going after votes every four years.—CD.

—the 2816. King said it will be a few weeks—after everything is set up—before the company will know whether the dialing here will consist of five or of four numbers.

Regardless of the procedure, we repeat that we've seen as much of the alphabet in the last 30 years, that we are pleased to see Post's dial system go the all-digit route. Could be that the reason we have become confused over today's alphabetical pie is that our parents didn't teach us the correct procedure with which to eat alphabet soup and alphabet cookies—of course, if they had known how or why.

We didn't know when we swallowed a vowel. We didn't learn to judge between the taste of an ordinary "u" and that of a capital I.

It makes a whole of a difference whether you know exactly the name, the number, the address, for you may spend all your lifetime and fail to find a way out of your very first alphabetical mess. As a result, you'll come up not knowing whether FHA stands for Federal Housing Authority or Farmers Home Administration.—CD.

He quoted the response:

"About a dozen states use a ballot with a perforated stub in one form or another. The purpose is to prevent chain voting and other possible abuses.

"There are only two states, however, where both the ballot and stub bear identical numbers which makes it possible to determine how a person votes. These states are Arkansas and Texas.

"So far as we know, a record may or may not be kept as to the number on the ballot which a person receives, so the practice does not necessarily prejudice the secrecy of a ballot."

That may or may not set the Donna man's mind at ease, but it is heartening to know that we still have citizens willing to jar loose with $25 to help preserve the secrecy of the ballot.—CD.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

IT HAS BEEN two weeks since any section of Garza County has received any rain, but three or four weeks ago when scattered showers were hitting here and there, dampening one place and skipping over another, I heard one man say that one inch of rain fell on his back forty the day before while only a trace fell on a nearby field of maize.

"That ain't a patching on what happened to me last week," another recalled. "I went out rattlesnake hunting with my double barrel shotgun when I found where the calves had knocked down the barbed wire fence. I leant my gun up against the fence while making the repairs. Before I got through a shower swept across the field. When I returned to get my gun, I found one barrel plumb full of water and the other drier than a bone."

That may be my weather story for the week.

MAIN STREET, AT the Avenue I intersection, has taken on all the appearances of a thriving building project area, with the erection of whatever you call those things they put up for you to walk around while construction is under way. One of the construction barriers is at the old First National Bank building, which is being remodeled for offices, and the other is catty-cornered across the street at the old Double U Company building, which is being remodeled to house Dunlap's Department Store.

The building projects are reminders that Post's 1960 construction figure, which is already crowding the three-quarter million dollar mark, will be almost as big as it was last year, when it went well over a million dollars.

ONE OF OUR readers has clipped and sent us the "Uncle Zeke Says" column from the Sept. 2 issue of The Jayton Chronicle. While I don't always agree with Uncle Zeke's homespun philosophy and observations, I always enjoy reading his column. This particular one will be of interest to many of our readers:

"I noticed that a school not far from here has decided that just to teach the younguns book learnin' is not enough. They have decided to teach them to be little ladies and little gentlemen.

"In fact, I read it right in the paper where that school board said the kids what went to their school was a going to dress like ladies and gentlemen.

"For the girls, no slacks, no pedal pushers, no slim jims, no short shorts, in fact no shorts of no kind, they are going to wear only dresses, or at least that is what the powers that be in the school ordered. And the boys, I gotta always wear belts, and keep their shirts inside their britches at all times, and they are a going to have a certain kind of hair cut, too.

"This I gotta say about it—it's a wonderful thing if they can put it over. They is just not anything that looks any purtier than looking at little ladies and little gentlemen. But I just got an idea they may run into a mite of trouble enforcing these simple little regulations. In so far as I no, they ain't been a way figured out by no mortal man how a grown boy can keep his shirttail put in. And on top of that, I can remember back when Ma was a raisin up the girls, I learnt one thing early and that was not to criticize how she dressed them.

"I pity any school teacher that the school board tells him to tell any woman she ain't dressin her girl right. There's one thing sure, he better have the price of one of them toupees or wigs as I calls them, cause when that woman gets through with him he's a going to be bald headed.

"Yep, it's a good plan, I am interested to see how they get along with it."

This probably won't worry anyone in the Nixon camp, but a Vice President has not been elected President of the U. S. since 1836. Martin Van Buren was the last "veep" so honored. Vice Presidents who moved up when an incumbent President died were Harry S. Truman, Calvin Coolidge, Theodore Roosevelt, Andrew Johnson, John Tyler, Millard Fillmore and Chester A. Arthur.

Sept. 4-10, 1960
 LETTER FROM GOV. HOUSTON
 AUSTIN—

To my friends in the United States:

I withdraw my name from the list of candidates for the Presidency. I consented to its use because the call came from spontaneous voices of respectable numbers of the people themselves, not because I desired the office. But the time has now arrived when it behooves every patriot to act for himself, and to do all in his power to save his country from a dangerous war of sectionalism, North and South. The responsibility now devolves upon the candidates themselves, whether called into the field by the untrammeled will of the people or by the several Conventions, which have unfortunately destroyed all harmony, and threatened the stability of the Union itself. I cannot hesitate, in my belief, that it is the duty of the candidates to sacrifice their hopes upon the altar of our country. It may be said that I yield least, as my chances of success are not so apparent. But with four opponents for the nomination of the Republican Convention in the field, the defeat of all is equally certain. In such a scramble the pleasure or mortification of getting more popular or few electoral votes would only be comparative, and neither candidate would stand relieved before the country from the charge of having recklessly tampered with the liberties of the best government in the world.

Let not those who rely upon carrying the election into the House of Representatives deceive themselves. The people have been taught to dread such a consummation. Neither four, three nor two opponents to the Republican candidate can carry it there; and if they could the strife, which is being engendered among the different factions, would render the result very uncertain. There must be an abandonment of spacious dogmas, clap-trap platforms and electioneering cant, and a concentration upon a common purpose, or else the factions which, united, would constitute a majority, must make up their minds to the elevation of a sectional President, whose claim to success is based upon opposition to the institution, whose existence should never have been brought into national politics. A timely Union of all national Union men to defeat this sectionalism would put an end to discord and a clamorous tendency towards disunion.

I call upon my countrymen to forget me and to forget the claims and endorsements of all more men, as well as the hopes of the mere office-seekers who expect to profit by the elevation of one man or another. They should remember the farewell address of the father of his country, and the immortal sentiment of the Hero of New Orleans, and sign of the Hermitage: "The Federal Union, it must be preserved." Could the spirits of Jackson, Clay and Webster be recalled to take part in the active transactions of the political arena, the Union would be preserved, laboring through life to perpetuate its glory, they know its value and appreciated its blessings.

I am aware that it would be

Party listing order is up to election boards

AUSTIN—It's up to county election boards to decide the order in which parties will be listed on the general election ballots.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled that counties do not have to list the parties in the same order in which the secretary of state lists them on a sample ballot. The secretary of state sends this out to list the certified nominees for state office.

Republican officials have been urging that county officials draw lots to decide whether Republicans or Democrats shall get the preferred first column on the left.

A law requiring that public schools be established in every town of 50 families or more was passed in 1947 in the blanchard Bay Colony.

Ira Greenfield, Post fireman, is award recipient

Fireman Ira Greenfield has been awarded the Senior Fireman Award in the Post Volunteer Fire Department by the Allstate Insurance Companies.

The award, presented by Chief Robert Cato for representatives of Allstate, is in recognition of long and devoted service by safeguarding the lives and property in the community.

Greenfield's outstanding dedication to duty merits the appreciation of all the fellow citizens in Post. He started with the Department in 1932 and has continuously served faithfully ever since.

Allstate began its search for the Senior Fireman in Texas about two months ago. A winner has not yet been selected as all fire de-

New Home woman is national THDA officer

NEW HOME — Mrs. Wilmer Smith of New Home was elected treasurer of the National Home Demonstration Association Aug. 31 at its annual meeting in Madison, Wis.

Mrs. Smith is president of the Texas Home Demonstration Association, in which office she has been serving nearly two years.

Departments in the State are being contacted and recommendations are still coming in. The state's Senior Fireman (length of service), when determined in the next few weeks, will be guest of honor at a function either in Dallas or Houston and will receive a weekend expense paid vacation for him and his immediate family at the Lost Valley Ranch in Bandera, Texas.

"I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt as the greatest of dangers to be feared. To preserve our independence, we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. If we run into such debts, we must be taxed in our meat and drink, in our necessities and in our comforts, in our labor and in our amusements. If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people, under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy."

pleasing to my friends of different preferences as to the remaining candidates to have me express a choice for one or the other of them. But I trust that it will be seen from this and my previous letters that my sentiments arise above mere personal preference.

I desire to see a Union of all national minded men, to defeat dangerous sectionalism; and I leave my friends free to pursue whatever course may appear to them best at such crisis.

I cannot conclude without returning my sincere thanks to those who have in various ways expressed a desire to see me occupy the distinguished position of President. But, to remain longer in the field, could be productive of no good, and it might be a stumbling block in the way of those who desire harmony.

Very Respectfully,
 SAM HOUSTON

Mr. Farmer —

With another milo harvest season at hand — and prospects good for a higher quality crop — we here at Caprock Grain Co. have again improved and expanded our facilities for the third straight year to serve you better.

We have added three new steel tanks with a storage capacity of 33,000 bushels to bring our total storage capacity to 350,000 bushels. We also have relocated our dryer to enable us to dry almost twice as much grain.

We will either buy your grain for cash or store it for you for government loan. We are a state bonded warehouse and have plenty of room for your grain.

When we came to Post in 1958, Caprock Grain constructed a new 200,000 bushel capacity warehouse. Last year we continued to expand by purchasing the grain storage facilities of T. L. Jones, including his new grain dryer. Remember, we are here to serve you as best we know how. We will appreciate your business.

Candlelight ceremony unites Rhea Peel, Glenn Huntley

Donnie Parker, Church of Christ pastor, officiated at the candlelight ceremony uniting Miss Rhea Peel and Glenn Huntley in marriage Thursday, Sept. 1. Double wedding vows were exchanged at 7 p. m. before an altar of gladioli and stock. Back- and decorations were formed in an archway of candelabra and ferns, flanked with palm branches of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Elva Peel, Route 3, and Mrs. Sexton Huntley, 605 8th.

When in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white tulle lace over satin, designed with a fitted bodice featuring a ruffled neckline outlined in seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The fitted sleeves tapered to the wrists. Midway in the full skirt, a tier of net flowed in a chapel train in back. Her shoulder-length veil fell from a crown of seed pearls and sequins, and carried a cascade of white tulle and pearls entwined with pearls on white tulle.

Miss Leta Stone was maid of honor. Miss Glenda Whittenberg and Mrs. Charles Morris were the other attendants. They wore identical dresses of red brocade taffeta, styled with scoop necklines, three-quarter length sleeves, and full skirts. White feather hats, white kid gloves, and bouquets of red and white carnations completed their ensembles. Miss Peel, sister of the bride, and Miss Lynn Byrd of Snyder, niece of the bride, were flower girls. Miss Kay Hedrick of Lubbock and Mrs. Anne Morris, cousins of the bride, were candlelighters. Their dresses were styled like those of the other attendants.

James Cato attended the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen included Mrs. Ronnie Morris and Charles Morris, cousins of the bride.

Misses Floyd Duncan, Ronnie Miller, J. B. Potts, Ed Sawyers, George Miller provided wedding music. Mrs. Sherry Carpenter sang "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest".

The bride's parents were hosts of a reception held at the Community Room of the First National Bank. Table decorations carried Mrs. Huntley's colors of white and lavender with the table laid in white lace over red and featuring white milk glass centerpiece. Tapers were surrounded by bridesmaids' bouquets.

After a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. M., and El Paso, the bride chose a brown silk suit with beige accessories. They are at home at 1718 25th Street, Lubbock.

Mrs. Huntley is a 1960 graduate of Post High School and until her marriage was employed by the Post Dispatch. Her husband attended Post schools and recently completed four years in the U. S. Navy. He is employed by Lubbock Automotive.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included relatives from Portales, N. M., Lubbock and Brownfield.

Garza pioneers reminisce at 50th anniversary

Land sold for $2 an acre in Texas when Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gilbert were married 50 years ago in Post, Gilbert recalled at their golden wedding anniversary open house Sunday, held in Tatum, N. M. Their daughters, Mrs. Cecil Nickel of Tatum and Mrs. C. M. Berry of Artesia, N. M., entertained for the event.

Gilbert and the former Miss Annie Dodson of Post were married here on Aug. 29, 1910.

Gilbert and his family arrived in Post in 1906 in a covered wagon, camping on the courthouse square. At that time his father was offered a section of land where Texas Tech now stands, for a pair of horses and $500. But they moved on, settling in Grady.

In 1908, Gilbert helped build the Rock Island Railroad from Amarillo to Tucumcari, N. M., and on finishing that job he helped with the Santa Fe Railroad from Lubbock to Coleman. He recalls they were one year making the cut through the caprock and that wages were from 20 to 25 cents an hour.

In August, 1910, he took time off for their wedding and a 10-day honeymoon trip by covered wagon. On returning he began working on the railroad from Lubbock to Crosbyton. After completing this job he moved to Post and worked for the late C. W. Post, founder of this city.

The Gilberts moved from Post in 1938 to Artesia, N. M., where he was engaged in dirt contracting until his retirement. They now reside at 610 West Avenue E., Lovington, N. M. They have two daughters, Mrs. Berry and Mrs. Nickel, a son, Joe Harley Gilbert of Santa Fe, N. M., and an adopted son, Billy Gilbert, of Artesia.

Anderson--

(Continued from page 1) home pay. An amendment to the U. S. Constitution to abolish the income tax already has been passed by four state legislatures and will be up for consideration shortly by eight more, Anderson said.

"Ever since 1950 we've been looking forward to the Golden Era of the '60s," Anderson said. "But I'm afraid instead it's going to be an era of 'golden fleecing' with the taxpayers getting the fleecing."

"I don't know where all the money is coming from to give us all the wonderful things we've been promised," he added.

He added that government interference with business is discouraging production, that inflation discourages savings and thus cuts in to the money used to finance production capacity.

"We have lived with the income tax a long time and gotten used to it, but I have the figures to prove we can cut it out and not be hurt if we get the government out of competition with free enterprise," Anderson said.

Anderson, who is 31, is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and Lovington, N. M., high school who went to work as a cowhand for 1865 a month and furnishing his own groceries after leaving school. He now owns and operates a ranch in Borden County, but refers to himself simply as "a cowboy". He was born near Midland.

His father, W. A. Anderson, has raised registered Hereford cattle on a ranch in Lea County, N. M., for the last 45 years.

Postings--

You'll find their "get acquainted" announcement on page 13 of today's Dispatch, along with an invitation to stop in to meet them. The Odams are mighty friendly folks and they have big plans for their new store, including a stock expansion and a grand opening next month after they are settled into the routine.

The Michaels and Mrs. Casey are moving to Pecos where Jess is field representative for Western Auto for southwest Texas and southern New Mexico. Jess has been on the job several months, getting back to Post only for weekends with his family. The Michaels have purchased a home in Pecos and are happy over the prospects of having the family reunited again, although they are sorry to be leaving Post after five years here. You'll find their "Thanks, Folks" announcement over on page 18.

It's always fun to see a local merchant expand into a new line of business. And that's the next "good news" item we have to report. Iven Clary who has been operating his Clary Service Station at 185 North Broadway for the last 25 years—he took over the Conoco station in 1935—this weekend will open his new Iven's Brake & Alignment Service in a new 24 by 32 foot steel garage behind his service station. Iven has just completed a two weeks training course at the Bear Training School at Rock Island, Ill., in wheel alignment and is now offering this specialized wheel alignment and brake service. You'll find his "new business announcement" over on page 13 of this issue. Stop in and see his new shop and equipment. It's a humdinger.

Post youth Eagle Scout candidate

Gary Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Simpson, is a candidate for the Eagle Scout badge, the highest awarded by the Boy Scouts of America.

A Comanche Trails District board of review will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Community Room at the First National Bank to pass on Gary's qualifications. The review will be conducted by five district Scouters, headed by Bill McGlaun, district Boy Scout executive.

If Gary successfully passes the review here, he will receive his Eagle Scout award at the South Plains Council's Eagle Court of Honor in Lubbock on Oct. 19.

If successful, young Simpson will be Post's sixth Eagle Scout since 1925, according to Bub West, Troop 16 scoutmaster.

Burglaries--

Runkles told officers he came upon the youths after investigating shooting that sounded like a battle was taking place.

The tent the boys had pitched in the canyon had been stolen from the Boy Scout Camp. Sheriff Carl Rains said the boys admitted having broken into the camp building earlier, but that they denied the more recent break-in there.

TWO ARE BROTHERS

Two of the juveniles are brothers who make their home with their grandparents. They told officers they saw the first half of Friday night's football game then came up town and broke into the store.

The manager of the store said both skylights on the roof of the building were broken and that a window was broken out at the back of the store.

Officers said they hadn't determined the full extent of the loss of the Legion Hall, but that servicemen's caps, flags and other articles believed to have been taken were found at the boys' hide-out.

The owner was still checking yesterday to determine the extent of the loss at M. J. Malouf's dry goods store. He told officers he was sure the burglars had carried away some loot but that it would take a thorough check to determine what was missing.

The break-in was discovered after postal employee Weldon Swanger saw the alley door on the north side of the building open about 8:30 a. m. The door had been pried open.

Officers said tracks in the alley indicated that three persons were involved in the break-in.

At Maxine's Gift Shop, the glass was broken out of the small east display window late Sunday night or early Monday morning and watches worth approximately $100 were stolen.

Not all the watches and jewelry in the show window were taken. The jewelry left behind included a diamond ring set.

The broken window was discovered about 4 a. m. Tuesday by Pat Blacklock of the city sanitation department while he was sweeping the streets.

Officers said Powell Shytle's, owner, told them nothing had been missed in the burglary at his place.

In addition to getting away with the most loot, the burglars at Greenfields also wreaked the most destruction. The manager said that in their tawdry through the store, they piled up stolen gunpowder in one or two places. "It looked very much as if they intended to blow up the place," Edwards said.

District governor sets Rotary visit

The Post Rotary Club will be host Monday and Tuesday to Bruce M. Pember, governor of the 572d district of Rotary International who is making his annual official visit to each of the 43 Rotary clubs in the Northwest Texas area.

He will address a local club assembly, composed of officers, directors, and committee chairmen of the Post club, Monday night in City Hall at 7 p. m., and then will address the entire club at its regular luncheon Tuesday noon.

Prior to the club assembly, he will confer with Ronnie Parker, president of the local club, and Jim Cornish, its secretary.

Pember is in the insurance business as an Independent Local Agent in Slaton and is a member and past president of the Rotary Club of Slaton. He has been a Rotarian for over 15 years. He was elected as a district governor of Rotary International for the 1960-61 fiscal year at Rotary's 51st annual convention in Miami, Miami Beach, Fla., U. S. A., last June.

He is one of 267 district governors supervising the activities of more than 10,600 Rotary clubs which have a membership of nearly 500,000 business and professional executives in 116 countries throughout the world.

Wherever Rotary clubs are located, President Parker asserted in discussing the governor's visit, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Post because they are based on the same general objectives — developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community-betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of understanding, good will and peace among all the peoples of the world.

Each year, this world-wide service organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength. President Parker added. During the past fiscal year, 405 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 47 countries, bringing the total number of Rotary clubs to an all-time high of more than 10,600, and five geographical regions were added to Rotary's membership roster—Aden, French Polynesia, New Guinea, Ryukyu Islands and San Marino.

Hearing is today on liquor appeal

A hearing is set for 2 p. m. today on the appeal of L. D. Stewart of Crosby County on a Sept. 2 ruling denying his application for a beer and wine retailer's on-premise license.

The suit, filed by Stewart's attorney, Pat N. Walker, is entitled L. D. Stewart vs. J. E. Parker and Coke Stevens Jr., administrator of the Texas Liquor Control Board.

Stewart's application for the license was filed July 25, 1960.

The county judge denied the application and in which the Liquor Control Board concurred was (1) that the proposed place of business was so far remote that it would necessitate constant vigil on the part of law enforcement officers (2) that because of present law enforcement conditions the place would be a menace to the general welfare, health, peace, morals and safety of the people and (3) that the place would be located on a farm-to-market road insufficiently patrolled by Department of Public Safety officers and would be a hazard endangering the lives of school children in the area.

The application specified location of the place of business as 3 1/2 miles south of the Crosby County line on FM Road 651.

The plaintiff's petition charged that his application was denied without any witnesses being called and without any basis in law.

ATTEND FIESTA

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hayes spent the holiday weekend in Santa Fe, N. M., where they attended the 128th annual fiesta, combined with celebrating the town's 350th birthday.

First bale--

last year's crop of 18,000 Garza bales.

Although the first bale is already in, it will be probably three weeks before it's really "cotton pickin' time" again.

Most of the cotton has "quit", according to County Agent Lewis Herron. Early planted cotton, he said, is about through blooming and with irrigation shut off will be going into a hardening process prior to opening.

Herron said the insect situation on cotton remains a "relatively light" and with the present warm weather cotton is opening rapidly.

BETTER MAIZE

The milo harvest is just getting under way on the April plantings with Mike Mitchell at Caprock Grain reporting the maize is of better quality this year.

The current cash price for maize here is $1.40 per hundred pounds. Mitchell reported yields are running from 1,500 to 4,000 pounds an acre.

About 90 per cent of the grain crop is dry land and needs rain badly.

It probably will be about two weeks before the grain harvest hits its peak.

NO RAIN HURTS

County Agent Herron said lack of August rains have reduced prospective yields on May and June planted maize. He estimated it is cutting from 1,100 to 1,700 pounds per acre on dry land and over 3,000 pounds on irrigated acreage.

The maize crop this year is "above average", especially the early plantings due to early July moisture.

Approximately 57,000 acres of maize were planted this year, down about 3,000 acres from last year's 60,000 due to skip row

Exchange student is Lions Club speaker

Bernard Blank, an exchange student from Germany, was the Club speaker at Tuesday night's Lions Club meeting, with Jim Jackson in charge of the program.

The German youth made an interesting talk on economic, political, religious and other conditions in his country, and also talked on the conditions of the people living near the Iron Curtain country of East Germany.

Guests at the meeting were George Hooper and Warren Blanton.

mill as an experiment to determine the quality of sheets which can be produced from it.

The mill normally buys longer staple cotton than that produced locally for their sheet and pillow case production.

Ward said he would take up to seven weeks to process the bale all the way through the mill into sheets.

Postex bought the bale at about market price to give the first Garza producer a special reward for his energies. Ward indicated. He said this purchase did not establish any future policy on "first bales".

planting of cotton

The $741,000 cash value of the maize crop is based on a rough 1,000 pound average per acre on 57,000 acres. Early cuttings are averaging well above that but the total crop may not average out to this figure if the later plantings are hurt too much by lack of moisture.

Post, Colorado City to play Friday on Wolves' grid

Antelopes rate underdogs'

Vernard Alexander's Post team will travel to Colorado City Friday night with chances to hit the victory against a better-than-usual AA Colorado City eleven. Antelopes will be almost as much for the game, but from Friday night's perspective against the Class A Jackrabbits, that won't be enough.

Head Harold Wayne who played a steady defense against Ralls in the opener, came up with a hurry Monday and may not on Friday night.

Only other casualty early in the game was senior halfback Richard, who suffered a bruised Ralls game, but he is to be ready to go tomorrow.

ON FLAWS
Alexander said Monday a multitude of flaws showing in the Post team's performance in the opening game will be pointed out in this week's drills. The line and other responsibilities were blamed for the Antelopes' showing against Ralls.

Under said the Post players to lose their poise after Ralls touchdown and that the score went the other way. The Antelopes lost.

Coach said it was evident mental depression hit the youngsters early in the game they never recovered from it. Under called attention to half fumbles and a couple of passes as having contributed to the Antelopes' downfall to a team with whom they were rated as about even.

HOW MORE
See right now that we're not here to throw more, we're not gifted with lots of the coach declared.

On the basis of Colorado City's loss in their 21-6 loss to Brown-Friday night's task is going to be a rough one for the Post.

Wolves scored first against field when tailback Don stepped over after a sustaining drive, and the Cub team had to air the lanes to come behind and outscore their opponent.

THAT'S HOW IT HAPPENS

From left, Coach Jess Neely of Rice University; Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the Southwest Conference; and Kern Tipton, chief of The Humble Company's announcing staff discussed football tactics at a recent announcers' seminar in Houston. Humble's football broadcasts and telecasts will start Sept. 17.

'B' team and freshmen

Slaton here today for grid contest

The Post "B" and freshman football teams, losers to Floydada last Thursday night, are to play Slaton here this evening.

OPEN SEPT. 17 AGAINST WEST TEXAS

Tech's Red Raiders to follow SWC pattern in wide open style of play

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's Red Raiders, who open their 1960 season against West Texas State here Sept. 17, will present a style of football similar to the wide open type that made Southwest Conference football famous.

Early practice sessions indicate that the Red Raiders will utilize the multiple offense that threw so many teams off balance last year — the attack that Baylor side Chuck Purvis termed "the most difficult one we tried to defense last season."

Spreading out over the field, the Raiders will use the multiple wing, slot, spread single and double wing, and some split T.

Texas Tech lost quarterback Ken Talkington of Tyler but will go to the air via the right arms of Glen Amerson of Munday, the Raiders' leading passer last year, and Johnny Lovelace of Farwell, the big sophomore.

Tech returns its leading receivers, halves Bake Turner of Alpine and Dan Gurley of Fort Worth, and Don Waygood of Sundown. Also, the Raiders pick up sophomores Jerry Garrison of Levelland, Ross Grief of Stephenville, and Jerry Elbert of Wellington, among others, who are highly rated pass catchers.

Tech's running game has been bolstered, too, by the addition of sophomores Larry Tipton of Levelland and Coolidge Hunt of Lubbock.

Tickets are on sale at the Texas Tech Athletic Department, south of Jones Stadium on 6th street, or may be ordered by mail by enclosing a check or money order to the Athletic Department. Single game tickets cost $4.

Ralls Jackrabbits outrun Post, 26 to 6, in opener

It looks like another long season for the Post Antelope football team and its coaches—to say nothing of the fans.

The Antelopes, unable to shake an opening game jinx that has plagued them the last three seasons, lost one of the few games they were expected to win here Friday night, with the Ralls Jackrabbits going home on the long end of a 26 to 6 score.

There really was little doubt in anyone's mind after each team had gone through its first series of plays as to the outcome of the contest.

After bringing the opening kickoff up to the 36 from the 16, the Antelopes made nine yards on three line plays, then lost the ball on a fumble, and the Jackrabbits set themselves up in the touchdown business.

RALLS OPENS UP

Ronnie Morgan, pile-driving 175-pound fullback plowed for 13 yards, then followed with four more before scat-back Rudy Esparza carried for eight and another first down on the 20.

Halfback Danny McDuff made seven yards and Morgan bulled for six more and a first down on the 7. Quarterback Jerry Smith called on the big fullback again and he responded with a touchdown stash through the right side of the Post line with 7:38 to go in the quarter. On an attempted place kick by guard Charles Edwards, the snapback went awry, and Ralls was out in front 6 to 0.

The first in a long series of penalties helped stop a brief Antelope drive after halfback Richard Ray ran the kickoff back 18 yards to the Post 36.

PENALTY HURTS

Fullback Jimmy Minor, the Antelopes' leading ground gainer, plowed the middle for six, but Post drew a 15-yard holding penalty on the next play—a dive at the left side of the line by Ray. Quarterback Leslie Acker hit Ray with an 18 yard pass to the Post 45, but halfback Tommy Bouchier fumbled a handoff and the Jackrabbits recovered on the 44.

Ralls drove to the 19, but end Harold Wayne Mason pounced on a fumble on the 30 after the Ralls quarterback had been caught for a loss.

Post picked up nine yards in three smashes at the line, but a fourth down running try failed and Ralls took over on the Post 39.

Aided by a 15-yard penalty against the Antelopes, Ralls got to the 20, but were set back themselves by a 15-yard holding penalty, and Post took over on downs on their 27.

EXCHANGE PUNTS

Going into the second quarter, the Antelopes again failed to make their first down yardage and Wendell Duncan punted to the 37. Ralls returned the favor a few plays later, with Smith punting to the Post 37.

The Antelopes drew a five-yard offside penalty on the first play, and Minor fumbled a pitchout after gaining six, with the Jackrabbits recovering on the Post 38.

With quarterback Smith exercising the option for most of the Bouchier returned the kickoff 22 yards to the Post 37, but a 15-yard clipping penalty stymied the Antelopes after Bouchier had cir-

Hopkins loses in meet semifinals

Post's golf-playing industrial arts teacher, Charles Hopkins, was defeated by Frank Mackey, 21-year-old former TCU golfer, 3 and 2, Sunday in the semifinals of the Big Spring golf tournament.

In his first round game, Hopkins defeated Don Goodspeed of Jacksonville, 1-up, and in the second round won from Eddie Don Harris of Big Spring, 2-up.

More than 29 golfers were entered in the 29th annual tournament. Hopkins, who last year coached the Post High School golf team to its first district championship, is a former member of the North Texas State College team.

closed end for a 10-yard gain. Quarterback Kenneth Williams passed to Ray for a 16-yard gain to the Ralls 46, but a fourth down pass from punt formation failed to click. The Jackrabbits, aided by a 15-yard personal foul penalty against the Antelopes, had the ball on the Post 16 when the first half ended.

THIRD TOUCHDOWN

It didn't take Ralls long to score its third touchdown in the third period.

Smith ran Mason's kickoff back 20 yards to the 35, and then hit end Bill McFadden with a 15-yard pass to the 50. Esparza exploded through the line and with a nice bit of broken field running behind good blocking went all the way. Center Mike Cornell blocked Edwards' attempted place kick, and the Jackrabbits were out in front, 20-0.

The rest of the third quarter found Post still unable to muster an offensive threat and Ralls, apparently content with its 20-point pad, playing it safe. They upped the count to 26-0, however, with four seconds to go in the quarter when McDuff scored from 10 yards out. Smith carried over the extra point try, but a penalty rubbed out the two points.

POST FINALLY SCORES

Post's touchdown came with 3:22 remaining.

Faced with fourth down on the Ralls 41, Smith went back to kick, but the low snapback went through his legs and by the time he picked the ball up on the 12, Mason was swarming all over him.

In three plays, Post made a first down on the 2, with Minor cutting back for seven yards, but it took three plays to get it over from there. Minor negotiated the final yard to get the Antelopes on the scoreboard. A running try for the extra point failed.

Coach Vernard Alexander and Coach Neal Chastain of Ralls emptied their benches in the final minutes of the contest.

The game ended with Post in possession of the ball at midfield. The Antelopes managed only three first downs and only once did an offensive thrust carry them past the 50-yard line—and then no farther than the Ralls 46.

On defense, Mason, Cornell and guard Clarence Ivie carried most of the load for Post.

Eagles beat Bula, 26-16

The eight-man Southland Eagle team of Coach Duane Locke got off to a flying start Friday night by defeating Bula, 26 to 16, in a non-conference game at Southland.

The Eagles, who were district champions last year, scored on the first play from scrimmage, with right halfback Ronnie Sales shooting 60 yards.

Right end Manuel Salinas scored two touchdowns on end-around plays, and left end Harvey Pennell snagged a pass from quarterback Don Basinger for the other Southland touchdown. The Eagles' only successful extra point play came on a pass from Basinger to Pennell.

Coach Locke used 20 players in the game.

The remainder of the Eagles' 1960 schedule is as follows:

Sept. 9—Jayton at Jayton.

'Ice Palace,' exciting film version of novel, to show at Tower Theater

"Ice Palace", which shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Tower Theatre, is Warner Bros.' big-scale version of Edna Ferber's novel about the taming of Alaska and the struggle of this great northern wilderness to become America's 49th state.

As was the case for Miss Ferber's "Giant", the studio has spared no expense to make "Ice Palace" a powerful, exciting and authentic saga of a young country coming of age. What "Giant" did for Texas, "Ice Palace" does for Alaska.

Exceptional care was exerted to assure the right castings for the Ferber characters. The story of the march to statehood by the last great American frontier is told in the half-century-long struggle of two Titans. The Titans are Richard Burton, who as Zeb "Czar" Kennedy, wants to take everything from the country and give nothing, and Robert Ryan as Thor Storm, of Norwegian heritage, whose love for Alaska rouses him to battle for the statehood its people want. Carolyn Jones, Martha Hyer and Jim Backus also are starred in a cast which includes Ray Danton and two lovely newcomers, Diane McBain and Shirley Knight.

Decision making time on cotton harvesting near

COLLEGE STATION—The time for harvesting this year's cotton crop is fast approaching, and the farmer should be considering how this harvesting is to be done. If the crop is to be machine harvested, the problem arises of whether it would be better to own or hire the machine.

Cecil Parker, extension farm management specialist, says that often it is cheaper to have the crop custom harvested than it is to own the equipment. By hiring the custom work, the farmer can avoid the investment in machinery and use the capital elsewhere in the farm business. The farmer's labor problem is eased if the custom operator furnishes all the labor for the job. Also, because the custom operator is skilled in operating and maintaining the machinery, the farmer may get a faster, more efficient job, Parker points out.

Before deciding on hiring custom work, however, the farmer must make sure that the answer to each of the following questions is "yes." Is equipment for custom work available? Will it be available when I need it? Are the operators dependable and efficient?

A machine may be purchased, however, with the idea of doing custom work in addition to personal work. This would lower the farmer's cost of harvesting his own crop, Parker continues. Other factors, such as alternative use of labor and capital, should be considered before the farmer decides between owning or hiring a machine.

Parker suggests talking with the local county agent before any decision is made.

Bible Thoughts

"You Must Choose"

By RONNIE PARKER

Joshua gives the challenge "Choose you this day whom you will serve . . . but as for me and my house we will serve the Lord." (Joshua 24:15).

It is the decisive life that achieves nobility. In this life we make choices continually. The greatest, most important choice has to do with the spiritual—the inner man. Every man must choose; it is Christ against all else.

In Acts 2 the story is told of the men who had so recently crucified the Lord, turning to him for their salvation. A most forceful message from the lips of Peter produced this change of heart and life. They were made aware of their guilt and they cried aloud, "What shall we do." They were told to "Repent ye and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins." (Acts 2:38). They chose to obey.

God calls men today to choose between sin and righteousness—Christ or the devil. When we make the decision to obey God we leave sin, guilt, and earthly ways for a life of joy unspokeable.

'The Time Machine' is Tower attraction for this Friday, Saturday

"The Time Machine", based on H. G. Wells' novel, will show Friday and Saturday of this week at the Tower Theatre.

"It is an astounding tale in which you see the future before it happens," said Tower manager John N. Hopkins.

The new color production by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer shows the passage of time from 1899 to 802-701 A. D.

It is the story of a man who invents a machine that takes him into the future. The picture shows a mannequin in a department store window at various ages in the respective fashions of the times.

Rod Taylor plays the part of The Time Traveler and Yvette Mimieux is the "girl of the future" with whom he falls in love.

Others in the cast include Alan Young, Sebastian Cabot and Tom Helmore.

Five Sunday performances

Prison Rodeo is set for October

HUNTSVILLE—A full-scale variety of entertainment with eight television, movie and recording stars in personal appearances has been scheduled as headliners for the 29th Annual Texas Prison Rodeo here five Sundays in October in the prison's million-dollar stadium.

For the opening performance on Oct. 2, Ricky Nelson, famous recording star will take the spotlight, followed by Allen Case (The Deputy) and Neil Sedaka, balladist, on Oct. 9.

Molly Bee, who rose to fame on the Tennessee Ernie Ford Show will appear on Oct. 16 along with Bo Diddley, with an unusual singing and playing style which has won him countless admirers.

Movie Star John Wayne, whose recent film, "The Alamo" has rocked the world, comes to Huntsville on Oct. 23. Sharing honors with Wayne will be that teen-age sensational singer, Frankie Avalon.

Closing the 29th Annual Prison Rodeo on Oct. 30 will be none other than Singer-Musician Jimmie Rodgers, an entertainer who is popular with all age groups.

In addition to entertainment celebrities, there will be a host of inmate riders contesting for prizes in what already is known as the "World's Wildest Rodeo."

Outside attractions include the popular girls' barrel race, trick riders and other topflight specialty acts.

There also will be a number of inmate groups on tap to help round out the fast two-hour show, including the Goree Girls, with Candy Barr, a former Dallas entertainer.

Net proceeds from ticket sales are earmarked for the prisoners' welfare fund which pays for special rehabilitative services not furnished by legislative funds.

Reserved seat tickets are now on sale at $2.40, $3.75 and $4.40 each, tax included. They may be had by writing Rodeo Ticket Office, Huntsville, Texas, enclosing check or money order. There are 30,000 seats in the modern stadium.

Tahoka housing work progresses

TAHOKA—Work is well under way on Tahoka's 14-unit $128,700 low rent housing project.

Six units for white families are being constructed, four units for Mexicans and four for Negroes.

The brick duplex homes will be complete with lawn grass, shrubs and trees planted, and each unit will have a range, refrigerator and Venetian blinds furnished.

J. M. Uzzle, secretary of the Housing Authority of the City of Tahoka, says there are ten applications for the Negro units, seven for the Mexican units and three for the six units being constructed for white families.

For those who can qualify for renting the units, the minimum rental price is $27 a month, including utility bills. The rental charges are principally based on size of family and its income.

The Housing Authority secretary cites this example: A couple with six children and an income of $2,400 a year can rent one of the units for $30 a month.

AUSTIN—A family trying to get all slicked up to make a good impression on important company can't take time out for a domestic squabble.

On this premise, the Texas Industrial Commission, whose job is to lure new industry to Texas, voted to steer clear of political hassles and concentrate on putting the best foot forward.

Vote on this decision was 5-to-1. Voting no was Al H. Chesser, railroad brotherhood representative, who has urged the Commission to sponsor a legislative program including repeal of the state's "right to work" law.

"Our job is to sell Texas," said E. B. Germany, Commission chairman. He said he felt the Commission would be hampered in doing so if it got involved in controversial legislation.

Reviewing two years' progress, Germany reported that 475 new plants had located in Texas since the TIC was formed in March, 1958. Plans have been announced, he said, for 375 others in 99 counties, and 492 plants have expanded in the past two years.

For the future, Walter Dickerson, TIC executive director, said 138 factory managements are considering a move to Texas. A number of these, he said, would make products for which Texans now send $2,500,000,000 out-of-state.

HANDS OFF HOUSTON
As a long believer of local control for local matters, Gov. Price Daniel said he would not intervene in affairs of the Houston Public School system.

For weeks Houston schools have been in a squeeze between a federal court order to begin gradual integration and a state law which says it will lose state aid if it does.

As a last resort, the Houston School Board asked Governor Daniel to "interpose" in its behalf. Under the theory of interposition, the state has, under the Tenth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution, the right to interpose against any federal act by which it believes the federal government is exceeding its constitutional powers.

Daniel pointed out that this course had been tried without success in other states. Expressing confidence in the Houston board and its attorneys, Daniel said, "The Texas policy of local operation and control of public schools is far better than an attempted control by the governor or state."

TAX BITES UNCLE SAM
It was a sort of man-bites-dog story when the Attorney General's Department ruled the federal government would have to pay a $400,000 state inheritance tax to Texas.

In her will Mrs. Susan Vaughan Clayton made a bequest to "the United States of America, to be used for the retirement of the national debt." Mrs. Clayton was the widow of the late Will Clayton of Anderson, Clayton & Co.

A federal attorney proposed keeping the money in a special account in Texas since bequests to Texas and its citizens are exempt from the inheritance tax.

But the AG ruling said other states would benefit just as much as Texans from national debt retirement. In effect, the federal treasury will have to take the bitter with the sweet.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?
Hottest rivalries between neighboring Texas towns used to center on who would have the court-house. Nowadays it's usually over who has the best high school football team.

But two Central Texas towns, San Marcos and New Braunfels, are having a lively contest over the naming of a park to be built between the two cities.

State Parks Board, back in July, designated it as "San Marcos State Park." Civic-spirited San Marcans had raised $2,500 for park equipment with the request that it be named after their town.

New Braunfels folk raised a storm. They claimed it would be nearer their town, that their county would have to maintain a road to it, etc.

Recognizing the touchiness of the situation, the State Parks Board says it will re-consider the whole thing at its October meeting. Both sides are to be given a chance to present their views.

PISTOL-TOTIN' CURB
Legislation to close the loopholes in present state law governing sale and possession of pistols may be offered in the next session.

Atty. Gen Will Wilson ruled that the law requiring the presentation of a certificate of good character before buying a pistol is not enforceable.

In 1958, the opinion pointed out, the Court of Criminal Appeals ruled that this part of the law was unconstitutional because the caption of the bill passed by the Legislature did not sufficiently explain what was in the bill.

Local peace officers were quick to call for corrective legislation. Lawmen feel there should be curbs on who can buy concealable weapons and records of the purchases so the police can check on who made them.

OLD AGE ROLLS DWINDLE
Though the number of oldsters in the state is increasing, the number receiving state old age assistance checks is declining and is expected to drop still more.

This conclusion was contained in the report of a subcommittee to the state Conference on Aging.

Drop in the state pension rolls was attributed to more Social Security benefits, more company retirement plans, more oldsters working or receiving other support.

Right insecticides will bring ant nuisance under control in a hurry

COLLEGE STATION—Ants can be a real household nuisance but applications of the right insecticides will bring them under control in a hurry. Entomologists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service say that chlordane or diel-drin, sold in many stores as roach and ant sprays, are very effective against ants.

The entomologists point out that several species of ants can become pests in the home. Some may nest in the house, but most build their nests outside and find their way inside through openings. Once they find a food supply they set up a regular route between the food and their nest.

The most common species found in Texas are the Pharaoh, thief, black crazy, fire and Argentine ants. They range in size from the tiny Pharaohs to the much larger fire ants. They feed on any kind of food material in the home including sweets and greasy foods. The thief ant prefers greasy foods.

For inside the home applications, the entomologists recommend a two or three per cent chlordane or a five-tenths (.5) per cent diel-drin household spray. Special attention should be given to drainboards, window sills, door openings and pantry shelves.

For outdoor applications, the entomologists recommend a 10 per cent chlordane, 2 per cent diel-drin or 5 per cent heptachlor dust.

If an emulsion spray is used, they strongly urge that label directions be followed. They suggest that a band of insecticidal dust or spray be applied around the foundation wall and that all ant nests in the yard be treated.

They point out that repeated applications of the insecticides may be needed to give complete control of ants. They suggest that a copy of L-311, "Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects" be obtained from the local county extension agent. The Guide lists control measures for the more commonly found household insects including those attacking fabrics, foods, structures and humans.

the Law Texas ...

BRADWELL WAS FIRST WOMAN LAWYER

in 1890 when there were no women lawyers in the United States and highly intelligent women suggested that he teach her to be an attorney.

It was a time when women were expected to stay home to attend to their knitting. Nevertheless, Bradwell had the courage to go to law school and to pass her examination.

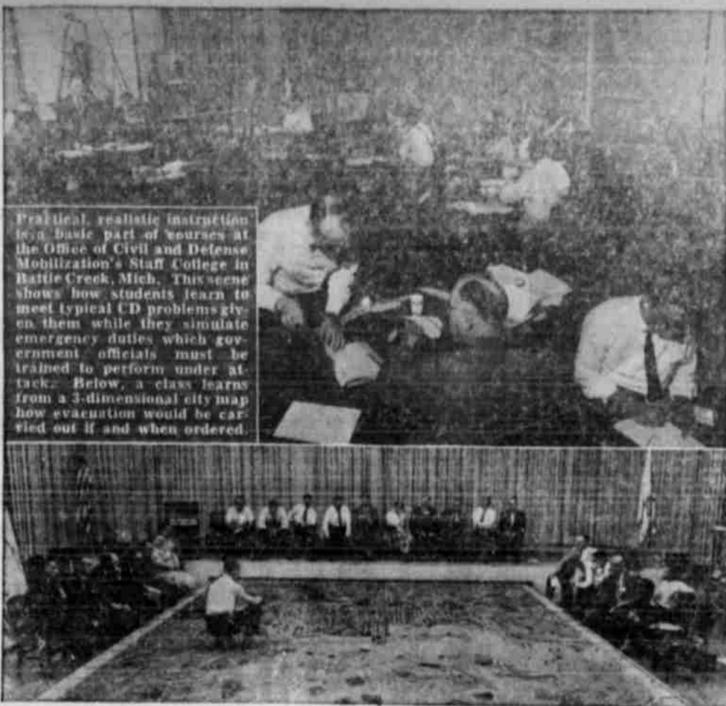

She was certified for admission to the bar of the Supreme Court of Illinois. That court refused to apply the ground rule that she was married.

Defeated by the adverse decision of the Illinois court, Mrs. Bradwell carried her case to the United States Supreme Court. In her holding the case for a period without decision, the Supreme Court affirmed the Illinois court. Mrs. Bradwell had to battle but she had won a victory for the fair sex. The wide interest engendered by her case became the opening wedge in the barrier of the prejudice against women and women were being admitted to the practice of law throughout the Nation.

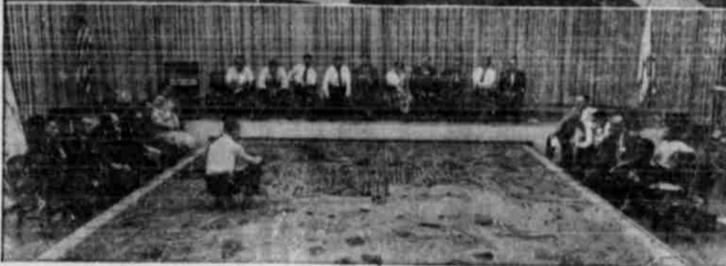

She had been refused admission to the bar Mrs. Bradwell had a highly successful legal business and became a leader of numerous reform movements.

She was so busy in these ventures that she never sought admission to the bar again. When she was brought to the attention of the Illinois Supreme Court she automatically became a member of the bar. Only did the court accord her the honor but its order of admission was made retroactively effective in 1909, the date of her original application.

The column, prepared by the bar of Texas, is written to advise. No person ever apply or interpret without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, be it a slight variance in fact to change the application of the

PRESENT PRACTICE NEEDS REVISION

Gin yard grouping of cotton advised by A&M specialist

COLLEGE STATION — The practice of ginning cotton in the order of arrival at the gin needs revision. The reason, says B. G. Reeves, extension cotton ginning and mechanization specialist, is the ever-increasing number of machines used to harvest the fleecy staple. Machine harvested cotton, he says, usually has a higher moisture and trash content than hand-picked cotton and different settings of gin machinery and drying equipment are required for each type. A modern gin can turn out a bale of cotton every 5 to 10 minutes and there isn't time to make the needed adjustments on an individual bale basis. The result, points out Reeves, somebody loses and it is usually both the grower and ginner. The answer to the problem is the grouping of seed cotton on the gin yard according to the method of harvesting or moisture content. Reeves says that a number of gins in Texas have been using this plan and both the ginner and grower have profited. The grower has received a better selling price for his cotton and the ginner has been able to do a better ginning job.

Reeves suggests that farmers and ginneries get together and agree on a procedure for solving the problem locally. In some instances, hand-picked cotton has been ginned during the day and machine harvested cotton during the night. If machine harvested bales are in the majority, then ginning hours can be adjusted to take care of the local situation.

Experience has shown, says the specialist, that trucks and trailers are usually back in the field, under the grouping plan, as soon as they were under the old system of ginning on a first come basis. The best ginning job is done when the lint moisture is 5 to 7 per cent. Drying to this level, says Reeves, gives a smooth sample and allows proper cleaning. He advises farmers and ginneries to get together on the problem before the heavy harvest season begins.

CHILDREN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Anderson were visited by their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Anderson and Holly, of Lubbock this weekend.

About your health

The major killers—cancer, heart diseases and accidents—do most of the statistic rattling in Texas just as elsewhere throughout the United States.

But there are lesser killers, no less potent once they strike—and in many cases the disease is preventable. For instance, during 1959 there were 52 deaths attributed to tetanus, often called lockjaw. Most could probably have been prevented.

Twenty-four deaths were among infants less than one-year-old, but 17 fatal cases of tetanus were among persons 15 years of age or older.

Tetanus can be guarded against with appropriate toxoid injections. In fact, a standard recommendation of the American Academy of Pediatrics is for children to be immunized against tetanus in combination with pertussis and diphtheria, commonly referred to as DTP shots.

Parents are familiar with the DTP shots administered to their infants by pediatricians or a family doctor while the child is still less than a year old.

Such early protection is also recommended by State health authorities.

However, the protection afforded by tetanus toxoid loses strength over the years and should be maintained with a periodic booster or in the event of injury subject to tetanus infection if recommended by your family doctor.

Especially vulnerable are playing children and workers who may be injured on the job.

Males fall victim to the disease nearly twice as often as females. In 1959, there were 34 tetanus deaths among males and only 15 among females.

The tetanus germ is a stable spore which can lie dormant for long periods of time—blowing around in the dust waiting for an opportunity to spring to death-dealing life under the proper conditions of warmth and moisture found in a deep cut or puncture wound, or even an abrasion.

Tetanus appears to be a stable item in the death columns of Texas. In 1958 there were 57 deaths, 1957—46, 1956—52, and 1955—54 deaths.

It is a small figure in the total death picture of Texas—but even one death is too much when it can probably be prevented with tetanus toxoid.
