Eight in race; four file for school board places

Interest in Post's city election mounted Wednesday with the filing of the names of Mrs. Katharine Trammell and Mrs. Eleanor Webb as the first women council candidates in the city's history.

Two council positions are to be filled in the April 5 election, with the other candidates including the incumbents, W. S. Duckworth and C. R. "Si" Thaxton; Morris Chambers, V. F. "Bing" Bingham, Harold Lucas and Lester Nichols.

The filing deadline for the city election is midnight Saturday.

Meanwhile, the filing deadline for school trustees passed at midnight Wednesday with four candidates in the race for two places on the board of the Post Independent School District. They are Bobby Pierce, who is seeking re-election, Dr. John R. Carter, David Newby and Malcolm T. Bull.

The other term expiring on the Post school board is that of Clint Herring, who did not file for re-election.

Through the Wednesday deadline, the names of two candidates had been filed for the Close City board, five for the Justiceburg board, and four for the Southland board and three for the county board of education.

The Close City candidates are D. C. Morris and Troy Nelson. Terms expiring are those of Marshall Tipton and R. H. Sapington.

At Justiceburg, the candidates include Bandy Cash and Buddy Roper, both for re-election, Jim Boren, Sam Bevers Jr. and W. T. Helms.

The Southland candidates are Edmund Wilke, Arthur Smallwood, Harley Martin and Billy Lester.

The three candidates for the county board are seeking re-election. They are Sam Ellis, Precinct 1; Pearl Nance, Precinct 2, and L. G. Thuet Jr., trustee-at-large.

The school trustee elections will be held Saturday, April 2.

First to file for councilmen in the city election were the incumbents, Thaxton and Duckworth, on Feb. 15. Duckworth has finished out the unexpired term of Powell Shytles, who was elected mayor in last year's election.

Filing on Feb. 16 were Chambers and Nichols, with Lucas filing on Feb. 22 and Bingham on Feb. 26.

Mrs. Trammell, one of the women candidates, is an office employee of Brown Bros., et al., oil operators. Mrs. Webb is manager of Dunlap's Department Store.

White River rates for water adopted by city

Post's proposed water rates when the White River dam is built are in for a boost, as has been known all along.

The city council at a special meeting Monday afternoon voted unanimously to adopt the maximum water rates here as proposed by the White River fiscal agent rate experts, Mayor Powell Shytles announced.

Present rates are $2.50 minimum for the first 4,000 gallons each month with all water used above the minimum costing 40 cents per thousand gallons.

is virtually what Tom Boucher, now president of the White River directors, predicted in a water speech before the Rotary Club several years ago.

AS ITS SHARE of the White River project financing, the city of Post is agreeing to buy $72,000 worth of White River water each year. More of course can be purchased.

This is figured at the 30 cents per thousand gallon rate charged by the White River district to all (See WATER RATES on page 8)

Double $ Days in Post offer values

Post's second big Double $ Days Friday and Saturday again will see hundreds of bargains offered by local merchants to thrifty area shoppers.

The Double $ Days were launched for the first time here a month ago and were met with a big response from appreciative shoppers.

Over two dozen Post merchants are participating in the Double $ Day program.

Each store for these two days only is offering real bargains on a number of items in the store.

Double $ Day placards of green and white will be in the show windows of all participating stores.

To get a good idea of the many, many bargains in Post this weekend, shop the Double $ Day advertisements of participating firms in this edition of The Dispatch.

The Double $ Days are the first all-out business promotion undertaken together by local merchants here in several years.

Remember Double $ Days come regularly on the Friday and Saturday before the first Monday of each month.

Plan to Double $ Day shop in Post this weekend—and save!

Exchange school land completed

The Terry County Board of Education concurred Friday in the action of the county school boards of Garza and Lynn County in the exchange of territory between the Post and Tahoka school districts.

Dean A. Robinson, Garza County superintendent of education, said today that Terry County's action completes the negotiations between the Post and Tahoka school districts.

"The exchange became official with the Terry County board's action Friday; but students involved in the exchange will complete this term in the schools they are now attending," Robinson said.

In the exchange, the Tahoka district has traded six sections of land from the eastern part of the old Grassland district for eight sections out of the western part of (See SCHOOL LAND on page 8)

Proposed White River water won't be cheap, but it should be plentiful. That's been known by everybody all along, so the announcement this week of Post's proposed maximum White River water rates should come as no surprise to the informed public.

Post needs — and badly — a guaranteed water supply for the long pull into the future. The White River project is the only logical answer. The choice between a fairly stiff water rate and no water is simply no choice at all.

Everybody needs to understand that the newly announced rates are the maximum rates which the city can charge. The government requires the voters to know these maximum rates before a second vote on the water contract. Before Post voted on the first water contract, White River backers announced that White River water would cost on the average about 70 cents per thousand gallons. The announced maximum rates show the average cost actually to be a little less—67½ cents.

If Post grows and the city's water demands increase, then there will be enough water from the White River dam for all. This water will cost 30 cents a gallon delivered, but using more water will enable the average cost for city water department operation and present water debt amortization to be reduced.

The city water contract elections coming up are vitally important. They must carry in all four towns (See POSTINGS on page 8)

To meet again Saturday

Jr. Rodeo group elects directors

Directors of the Post Junior Rodeo Association will meet at the courthouse at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night to elect new officers and make plans for this year's Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo.

At a meeting last Thursday night, new senior and junior directors were elected by the rodeo group.

The directors voted to hold a rodeo again this year, since Post Stampede, Inc., officials have indicated that their arena will again be available for the junior show.

Plans to hold the junior rodeo earlier than the usual August dates—probably the last of May or first of June—were discussed at

Severe weather in Ninth day

The Post vicinity, along with the rest of the Southwest, shivered into its ninth day of severe winter weather Wednesday.

Streets and roads remained icy in this area, with some of the Post school buses still unable to make their runs Wednesday.

Light drizzles Tuesday and Wednesday brought only a little more than a trace of moisture to Post.

Farmers, of course, are facing a longer delay in preparing or completing preparations of their land for this crop year.

County Agent Lewis C. Herron said Wednesday, however, that the time delay is not as hazardous to the crop year as is the fact that it will be hard to keep the land from blowing when it is "stirred" after the thaw.

It's time to go

Slaton has recently organized its civic leadership into a well-departmentalized planning group aimed at guiding that community into a well-planned future. It goes far beyond just a city planning commission or a zoning group. It takes into account virtually every phase of community life.

We are not too familiar with the details of this effort, but it is obvious that Slaton business and professional folks are determined to sit down together and try to work together for a bigger and better hometown.

It behooves every community in this day and age of dynamic change to do all the thinking together, planning together, and cooperating together it can.

One must admire the leadership drive of Lubbock—a younger community by a couple of years than Post—which is constantly striving to build Lubbock bigger and better in every way.

It's obvious that more individual opportunities exist for all in a growing and expanding town or city.

We here in Post well could give some sober thought to Post's future and to thinking what we can do together to help it all we can.

Probably we have been a bit too prone to sit back and say, "Let's wait to see what happens with the White River dam project because if we don't get water, well—" and we shrug.

The White River Dam each day and week is drawing closer to reality. That White River dam future is almost upon us.

Many individually haven't waited for the dam—and the water. The best example of that is the new home of the First National Bank—large enough and roomy enough to become the financial headquarters for a town twice or three times Post's size.

Irby Metcalf and his directors didn't wait. Others haven't either. The school trustees didn't wait to build the new high school. Bryan J. Williams didn't wait to plan and open for development three residential sub-divisions.

There are many ways that towns grow. If they have the economic vitality they will develop through one method or another.

The best way of course is through an active, interested civic leadership which knows that dollars spent today for planning will save thousands tomorrow and that time taken from one's work today for community effort such as this will return a hundredfold in the years just ahead.

We say it's time to go.—JC.

Remodeling postponement wise

Most of last week there wasn't a sign of activity at the new high school and gymnasium construction jobs, with snow banked against the buildings and the piles of building materials. Only a night or two before Wednesday's heavy snow, the board of trustees of Post Independent School District had voted to postpone completion of remodeling at the present high school building until it can be determined if the new building will be ready for the opening of the 1960-61 term.

It appears that the board's action in the matter was wisely taken.

At the time, the building contractor was at least 20 days behind schedule on the job, and more days were lost last week. Heavy rains during the coming spring could further delay the construction work.

Weather conditions are a hazard on any big building job.

As pointed out, if the remodeling job at the present high school building is undertaken as soon as the present term ends, and the new building is not ready for the 275-300 high school students when the new term opens, there just won't be any place to put them.

In its present condition, the high school building now being used could be used again next year until the new building is ready.

In other words, the remodeling is something that is needed to put the present high school in shape for use as a junior high, but it is certainly something that can wait a little while if it is going to further jeopardize the space problem in the schools.

In the meantime, there is a chance that the weather will let up within the next few months to where the contractor can catch up on the new building, in which case the remodeling job could get under way at the old building—with time changes, of course.—CD.

Looks like two rodeos again

With a resurgence of interest throughout the country in junior rodeos, it's good news to local followers of the arena sport to know that directors of the Post Junior Rodeo Association have definitely decided to stage the Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo again this year.

Officers of Post Stampede, Inc., have indicated that their arena will again be available for the junior rodeo. Meetings this week were to result in more definite plans by both groups, with stockholders of Post Stampede, Inc., meeting Tuesday, and directors of the Post Junior Rodeo Association holding their second meeting of the year on Saturday, at which time officers will be elected.

In a meeting last Thursday night—their first of the year—directors of the junior rodeo group decided to proceed with plans to stage their event again this year, but in late May or early June, instead of August.

Last year, it will be recalled, it was doubtful for some time if the juniors would stage their rodeo, but they finally did so after working out an agreement with Post Stampede, Inc., on the use of the latter's arena. The juniors came up with their best show in several years and the result was a revival of interest in the annual event for 19-year-olds and under.

As one adult Post Junior Rodeo Association director put it the other day, "The youngsters would be mighty disappointed if they had to cut out their show."—CD.

Income tax just had birthday

The U. S. income tax was 47 years old last Thursday—Feb. 25. Did anyone sing "Happy Birthday" to celebrate the joyous occasion?

When it was born in 1913, few people foresaw how the tax would grow. It started with a nibble of one to six per cent. Now it gobbles 20 to 91 per cent.

The result has been to eat up savings and capital and stunt the growth of the national economy.

A way to curb the damage has been suggested by Cong. Howard Baker of Tennessee and

A. S. Herlong of Florida, with the backing of five other Representatives from Indiana, Texas and Tennessee. They are sponsoring legislation to reduce the income tax rate in every bracket. Their proposal would ease the bite on all taxpayers. In addition, they predict the lower rates would spur economic growth which soon would put tax revenues back at their present level or even higher.

We wish Congress would observe the 47th birthday of the income tax by adopting the Herlong-Baker bills. It would mark the birth of a better day for taxpayers and for the economy.

Something that needs to grow

Public Schools Week has come and gone in Post and the Masonic Lodge, the Parent-Teacher Association and the schools themselves are to be congratulated for whatever measure of success the annual observance enjoyed.

The Masons annually urge visits by patrons to the schools during this special week and the P-TA members assist by being on hand to help the teachers welcome the visitors and show them around.

It is a healthy thing in our democratic way of life to have intelligent understanding of the important functions of our basic institutions. This is especially true of the schools. The initiative and the resourcefulness and the wisdom and leadership that our schools are inculcating in the youth of today are the answer of the problems of citizenship in the years ahead.

If you missed taking part in this year's Public School Week observance by visiting one or more of the schools, resolve now to be a participant next year. It's one observance that needs to grow and grow.—CD.

What our contemporaries are saying

Two of the most publicized world problems in recent weeks have been the population explosion and possible food shortage. The problems are related, and one man living in Washington, D. C., says the ultimate solution will have to be cannibalism.—James H. Russell in The Belton Journal.

To be honest, the real reason it's so hard to bring up children right is that they insist on imitating their parents.—Howard Hudson in The Ochiltree County Herald, Perryton.

It's so unfortunate that the symptoms of fatigue and laziness are practically identical.—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

Tribal drums of politics are echoing from the jungle of smoke-filled rooms where the king makers are cutting patterns and testing the strength and appearance of materials. Heads will be shrunken and bones will be picked white while the witch hunters shake the bushes for issues palatable to the voter. At the end of the ritual, with its offensive odors and strange noises, the democratic process of government will emerge, far less than perfect, but truly a miraculous instrument.—Douglas Meador in Matarador Tribune.

Another bunch of phonies we're sick of is Hollywood and all the "Show Biz" hogwash which anybody vaguely connected with the farce—from ticket takers to silly old Tallulah Bankhead—always insist on singing songs about. I must admit there is no other business like show business—and thank God. I doubt there has ever been such a concentrated congregation of phonies in history as now resides within palatial huts within the Beverly Hills limits. Now I don't object to their acting or getting married, divorced, sentenced and other questionable activities if they would only keep their traps shut.—Bill Neal in The McLean News.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

IT WAS AN unfamiliar sight Saturday morning to see the City of Post equipment blading the snow and ice away from the curbs on Main Street. Such things usually aren't necessary this far south.

Further proof that this winter is closing out as an unusually severe one is seen in the fact that we've had two unscheduled school holidays, both on Wednesdays, in consecutive weeks.

BUT EVERY TIME someone remarks that cold weather is staying with us longer than usual, I think of the time three or four years ago when it came a two-inch snow on March 21—the first day of Spring.

You just can't tell what's going to happen next where the weather is concerned—especially if you listen to the weather forecasts.

FROM THE U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, we've just received a final report on cotton ginings by counties from the crop of 1959. Arguments as to the size of the Garza County crop died down two months ago, but in case they should flare up again, here's the final figure: 18,037 bales. That's a decrease of 2,015 bales from the previous year's ginning total of 20,052 bales.

I hear that one Garza County citizen has already told one of the candidates for sheriff what he is going to expect in return for his vote—a stop to the dumping of beer cans, in many instances tied up in tow-sacks, along the public roads and highways.

THE MAN UP the street says many people are itching for opportunities for which they should be scratching.

Then there was the guy who said he had so many troubles, "If anything happens to me today it'll be at least two weeks before I can worry about it."

HONESTLY, UNTIL a week or two ago, I thought it was nothing more than a big joke about proud grandparents liking to show other people pictures of their grandchildren. I'm not so sure, now that the wife has received some pictures of our new grandson.

How quickly can you find what is so unusual about this paragraph? It looks so ordinary that you would think that nothing was wrong with it at all, and, in fact, nothing is. But it is unusual. Why? If you study it and think about it you may find out—without any coaching. No doubt, if you work at it for long it will dawn on you—who knows? Go to work now and try your skill. Par is about half an hour. If you can't find out as quickly as you think you ought to, look at bottom of column.

SIGN IN A tire shop: "Invite Us to Your Next Blowout."

One of our local preachers says that some years ago at his Sunday school the teachers took turns addressing their pupils. Usually they rounded off their stories with, "Now, children, the moral of this story is..."

Came the day when one teacher did an extra-fine job. The youngsters were delighted—so much so that one boy asked if that particular teacher might talk more often. "We like Miss Brown very much," he explained, "because she doesn't have any morals."

MAYBE THIS ELECTION year a little less attention to the thinking man's cigarette and a little more attention to the thinking man's candidate might be a good thing.

Sending them up in rockets seems like an expensive way of getting rid of rats.

NOW ABOUT THAT paragraph puzzler (see above): There are no e's in the whole paragraph—unless the joker on the Intertype machine slipped one in on us.

A heavily loaded truck that got stuck under a railway bridge at Redan, South Africa, resulted in one man's death and tied up traffic for six hours.

Dublin will have a $4,000,000 chemical fertilizer plant, backed by Dutch interests.

Morocco now is a leading foreign market for American cigarettes.

Argentina is getting bids on $40,000,000 of work connected with plants for its expanding petroleum industry.

Costa Rica plans to sell some $30,000,000 of 7 per cent development bonds.

One of Europe's queerest street names is in Brussels, Belgium. It has a Flemish name of 36 letters. Translated it means The Street of the Uncracked Christmas Coconut.

ding this year . . . but will be enough water for Texans in 1967?

is not a fantastic question, one that Texas state and local engineers and water managers are grappling with now.
Their efforts come these days of news and views:

Price Daniel told a farm show in Austin that Texas is making great progress in statewide water management in the next three years. But, he said, three years remains to be done.
More remains to be done.

er planning and development, the governor, is essential to state's growth and prosperity years ahead.

be held during March along the states for the next 50 years.

ings will be held in conjunction with the U. S. Commission on Texas' major river basins. They will be in Wharton on March 8; Big Spring, March 15; Austin, March 17. Colorado Ri-meetings and Wharton meetings, and

3. State Board of Water Engineers called for a "time out" until March 8 on the longest-ever water hearing. At issue in the hearings which began Nov. 2 is whether the Trinity River Authority and City of Houston shall be granted permits to build two downstream reservoirs on the Trinity.

WATER BOARD, apparently getting short on patience, advised opponents to get together and solve their problems cooperatively. Hearing has been given to long, bitter arguments and frequent flare-ups among participants.

San Jacinto River Authority has been chief objector to granting of the permits. SJRA contends that Houston will shortly need more water for domestic use but that Trinity water, because it contains sewage from Dallas to Fort Worth, is not suitable. San Jacinto officials say Houston should work with SJRA to meet the city's domestic water needs.

In the far - ranging testimony, water engineers discussed the probable water needs of Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth in 2010, and the possibility that Texas might be subjected before 2010 to a drought worse than that of 1950-57.

4. Texas is losing the battle for industry because of inadequate water supply, the director of UT's Balcones Research Center told an Austin meeting.

"Central Texas is in good shape," said Dr. J. Neils Thompson, "but the rest of the state is in a sorry shape."

Texas has an average annual rainfall of 27 inches compared to an average of 30 inches for the U.
S. as a whole, said Dr. Walter Moore, also a UT engineer. But he said Texas has a special problem —an evaporation rate 50 to 100 per cent higher than for the U. S. as a whole.

AUTO DEATHS DROP — Texas had an "almost sensational" 28 per cent drop in traffic deaths in the first seven weeks of the year, Governor Daniel announced.

This is the period since the new Safe Driving Auto Insurance Plan went into effect.

There were 69 fewer deaths during the first seven weeks of this year than during the same period in 1959. Drop was from 243 deaths in 1959 to 174 this year.

Board of Insurance Chairman Penn J. Jackson said he felt the new insurance rates, which are higher for careless drivers, were due at least a portion of the credit for the improved safety record.
Conclusive evidence, both the

Vets under way
on rabies plan

DALLAS.—A state-wide program for the voluntary prevention of rabies among domestic animals was announced here today by Dr.
H. T. Barron of Taylor, president of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association. Dr. Barron said the plan calls for cooperation between civic officials and public groups and members of the veterinary profession throughout the state.

Emphasis will be placed on public education, the TVMA head said, to make sure all pet owners know that, not only is rabies preventable through immunizing vaccination, but that such vaccination may be ineffective or even harmful if improperly administered. At the time, he said, the veterinary medical association is calling on all regional officials and local veterinary organizations to cooperate with local rabies programs, so that all immunization may be done under the supervision of licensed veterinarians.

The sale of cattle is subject to income tax

The sale of cattle is subject to income tax, no matter what use the proceeds are put to, according to Ellis Campbell, Jr., Dallas District Director of Internal Revenue Service.

Numerous questions at farm tax schools have pointed up misunderstanding on the part of some farmers. The sale of cattle, land, and other farm capital assets are taxable no matter whether the proceeds are reinvested in similar property or not.

There is one exception in the case of condemnation proceedings or other involuntary conversion.
Farmers having a problem in this area were advised to get a free copy of the "Farmer's Tax Guide" from their County Agent or the Internal Revenue Service.

The service, which has as its theme, "Labourers Together With God," will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

The call to worship will be by the Rev. Joe Norton of Hamlin, who is conducting a revival at the church.

Service leaders will be Mrs. J. E. Parker, Mrs. Ed Neff, Miss Maxine Durrett, Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Mabel Martin.

Also taking part on the program will be the Rev. C. B. Hogue, pastor of the First Baptist Church; the Rev. Clinton Edwards, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

There will be hymns with Mrs. Bennett as song leader and Mrs. O. V. McMahon as pianist.

The 1960 service for the World Day of Prayer was prepared by the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada.

The public is invited to attend the service.

48th Girl Scout Anniversary to be observed by Post troops

Members of Caprock Girl Scout Council will be among the nearly three and a half million Girl Scouts celebrating their 48th Anniversary from Sunday, March 6, through Saturday, March 12. Local troops will be participating in activities to emphasize the theme, "You Can Count on Her to Be Prepared."

The first troop meeting organized by Juliette Gordon Low, founder of Girl Scouts of the U. S. A., took place in Savannah, Ga., March 12, 1912.

Each day of this year's Girl Scout Week members of the Caprock Council's troops will illustrate some areas of Scouting. The calendar will be: Sunday, duty to God; Monday, homemaking; Tuesday, citizenship; Wednesday, health and safety; Thursday, health and safety; Friday, arts and crafts; and Saturday, out-of-doors.

Garza County has five Brownie troops and one Girl Scout troop, composed of 75 young ladies. Troop leaders are: Mrs. Clint Herring, Mrs. Harley Turberfill, Mrs. Howard Kolb, Mrs. J. C. Steiner, Mrs. A. Lee Ward, and Mrs. Spencer Kuykendall.

Local Chi Rho Fellowship has part in weekend convention

The Chi Rho Fellowship of the First Christian Church was in attendance at the World Fellowship Meet for Intermediates in the New Westmont Christian Church in Lubbock last weekend. The Post group directed the evening worship in the opening session Friday at 7 p. m.

Youth conduct services at local church

The Christian Youth Fellowship of the First Christian Church, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gamblin, was in charge of the morning worship program at the 11 a. m. service Sunday.

Theme of the program was "Contractors for Christianity." Speakers in that order were Johnny Haire, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Haire of Southland; Sandra Martin, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Almon Martin, and Mike Cornell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cornell.

Johnny spoke on the sort of contract each Christian has with God and Christ, pointing out that each young person should enter into this contract, and that it is a lifetime contract, once we have entered.

Sandra gave information on the values of the contract with God and Christ, and gave illustrations of some who have overcome great obstacles to attain the goal of preparation for greater service. She showed how each youth may prepare himself or herself for a great and worthy service if there is determination and faith to do it.

Mike told of the work the church is doing through its recruitment and guidance program to help youth to know what are their capabilities, what are the varied occupations within the program of the church, and where and how youth may avail themselves of the opportunities for training in the various vocations of the church.

Janene Haynie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Haynie, sang as a solo, "An Evering Prayer." Jack Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Roberts; Victor Hudman and Curtis Hudman, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hudman; and Benny Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Owen were in charge of the Communion service. Charlotte Covey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Luttrell, read the scripture lesson, and gave the prayer of dedication.

This was the second of such presentations. The congregation is proud of their youth and the work they are doing.

ship attended, with several members unable to attend because of illness. Accompanying them were their sponsor, Jack Alexander, and teacher in the Post schools, and assisted by Sandra Martin in the music and worship. She is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Almon Martin.

The World Fellowship Meet of both Chi Rho and Youth is so named because of the emphasis put on worldwide fellowship, and the study was conducted on the actual work being done in the field of world missions. Four topics were covered in the weekend session; worship, play, study and fellowship.

District Director of Chi Rho is Ralph Keeton of Lubbock. District activities include a summer camping program and a spring convention for all age groups.

Representing Post at the weekend convention were: Curtis and Joe Hudman, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hudman; Benny and Pam Owen, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Owen; Lana Haynie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Haynie, and Beverly Avant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Avant Jr.

After returning from Lubbock Sunday, the youths met with the local organization and presented an outline of the activities. The Chi Rho Fellowship is one of the most active in the church, and meets regularly at 5 p. m. each Sunday at the church annex.

New industry is discussed at C-C director meeting

The possibility of attracting new industry to Post was discussed at a Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The discussion brought out that a number of industries annually write Lubbock inquiring about the possibility of locating in nearby towns instead of in the city itself, and that Post might do well to put in a bid for some of these prospects.

George "Scotty" Samson was appointed by Chamber President A. Lee Ward to contact Lubbock C. of C. officials in regard to the matter.

The directors also heard a report that much of the water drainage problem in the northeast part of town—the "flats"—is being taken care of by Commissioner Precinct 3 road machinery under the direction of Commissioner Ozzell Williams.

Harold Lucas, immediate past president of the organization, was presented a plaque by the group in appreciation of the service he rendered as president. The presentation was made by Manager Johnny Hopkins.

Three of four new directors elected by the Chamber were present at the meeting. They were R. B. Dodson, Henry Tate and Walter Johnson.

The United States has 2,300 community and civic theaters.

Girl Scouts, Brownies to take part in annual cookie sale

Young girls, members of twelve troops and one Girl Scout organization, will be participating in the Caprock Girl Scout annual cookie sale here Tuesday. Eleven and one-half cent cookies, according to the plan, will be sold by the troops and the sale will be held at the home of Mrs. Clint Hopkins, who has been in charge of the sale.

The sale will be held on Friday, if weather permits, and will be held at the home of Mrs. Clint Hopkins, who has been in charge of the sale.

Troops participating in the sale are Troop 352, Mrs. Clint Hopkins; Troop 353, Mrs. Harley Turberfill; Troop 354, Mrs. Phil Sterrett; Troop 355, Mrs. A. J. Stelzinger; Troop 356, Mrs. J. C. Stelzinger; Troop 357, Mrs. J. C. Stelzinger; Troop 358, Mrs. J. C. Stelzinger; Troop 359, Mrs. J. C. Stelzinger; Troop 360, Mrs. J. C. Stelzinger.

The success of the cookie sale will provide funds for the Girl Scout organization. The Community Fund will provide support for the sale. The budget of the Council, which will be used for the sale, will be provided by the Girl Scout organization.

cents per box will be adding to their troop treasury because eight cents per box will be retained for the troop and 20 1/2 cents will go to the camp development fund. Girls will wear their uniforms or pins and each customer will be given a window sticker indicating purchases and the Scout's name and address.

Troops selling 25 cases of 12 boxes of cream filled or chocolate mint cookies will receive a Girl Scout achievement award certificate from the Council President Mrs. C. H. Shoemaker of Lubbock.

Proceeds from this year's sale will be used to construct a covered wagon unit consisting of seven covered wagons, shower shelter and latrine at Camp Rio Blanco, Phil Sterrett of Abernathy, camp development chairman, announced. Each wagon will house four campers who are seventh graders or older.

The covered wagon unit will be built before the second summer session begins in the new camp in June. Any registered Girl Scout in the Council who has completed the fourth grade and above is eligible to attend camp. Fees, including room and board, are $35 per session. A total of 274 scouts attended the seven 12-day sessions last year.

There are 22 cream-filled cookies or 27 chocolate mint cookies in each box.

Red and white sets theme for Amity Club's dinner Tuesday

 live it...
 support it...

BROTHERHOOD presents a challenge to men of good will everywhere to make our country's pledge of "one nation under God—indivisible—with liberty and justice for all." It provides a means whereby every community in America can reaffirm those religiously inspired moral values which are the foundation of our democratic, pluralistic society.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Love stifles weeds of hate...invite someone to church, so that they may know and share in God's love for mankind.

4-H Club Week is proclaimed

COLLEGE STATION—Gov. Price Daniel has by official proclamation designated the week of March 5-6 as 4-H Club Week in Texas and has asked all citizens to participate in the observances being planned by 4-H members in the communities and counties of Texas.

The Governor in his proclamation said, "Learn, live and serve through 4-H is the 1960 challenge to Texas 4-H Club members. Since the 4-H program was inaugurated by the United States Government in 1914 more than a million young Texans have received its benefits. An expanding 4-H program not only teaches the latest practices in agriculture and home economics, but emphasizes character, development and good citizenship. Club members learn by conducting result demonstrations and participating in 4-H activities. By putting into practice in their homes and communities what they learn, club members live and serve through 4-H.

"County extension agents work with voluntary 4-H adult leaders, 4-H members, their parents, and friends of 4-H in developing a program which provides education and leadership opportunities for the youth of Texas. The 4-H program is under the direction of the Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M College System. "Any boy or girl from the ages of 9 to 21 can take part in 4-H club work. The opportunities offered to 4-H Club members to grow in citizenship and in practical skills are especially valuable to them, the State of Texas and the Nation."

In a letter to all Texas 4-H Club members the Governor said, "Please accept my best wishes for 1960 and the years ahead. May you continue to build yourselves, your homes and communities, and thus help build our State and Nation. The future holds bright promise for our land, and you as 4-H club members have a vital share of this future. I join the people of Texas in saluting you and the parents, adult leaders and friends of 4-H who make this program possible."

Urban renewal election set

CROSBYTON — Qualified taxpaying voters here will decide the issue of an urban renewal program Saturday, March 5.

The election was called following a public hearing here on Jan. 28. Crosbyton already has a workable program approved for a Federal Housing project, city officials point out, but urban renewal is an entirely different program.

Barbecue is planned for Carr campaign

LUBBOCK — Members of the executive committee of the Waggoner Carr for Attorney General campaign in the Lubbock area will stage a barbecue and program at 7 p. m. Tuesday, March 8, in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Tickets to the event have gone on sale to the general public at $2 each.

Approximately 5,000 persons are expected to attend the event, which will launch the Carr vote drive in the area.

Grain production and use detailed in new Experiment Station bulletin

COLLEGE STATION — Grain production and utilization are important aspects of the Texas farm economy. The farm value of grain grown in Texas after 1950 has varied from 275 to 550 million dollars annually. Cash sales of grain have amounted to about 15 per cent of total receipts from crops and livestock in the State. Considerable amounts of grain also are fed to livestock on the farm where it is produced.

Clarence Moore and Howard Whitney, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, point out in their new bulletin, "Changing Supply of Grain in Texas," that wheat production was about three-fourths of total food grain production in Texas in the 1940's. It declined in relative importance, while rice increased, in the food grain

1960 census to be of unusual interest to veterans and families

The 1960 census will be of more than usual interest to veterans and their families, according to the Veterans Administration. The census taker will visit every household beginning Friday, April 1.

This year the Census Bureau seeks the latest accurate information on the total veterans' population figures as well as a grouping by war period.

Census takers will not ask this information on their visit to each household. Instead they will leave at every fourth household a special questionnaire for each person residing there. A box, number "p. 35" on this questionnaire, supplies space to check off whether or not the individual is a veteran and in which war period he served.

Veterans organizations are joining with the VA in asking that each veteran, in every fourth household selected, fill out the form promptly and correctly and see that it is mailed back to the designated address.

For the next decade, statistics resulting from this census will be used as an authoritative benchmark when veterans service or legislation come under consideration.

Wheat production in Texas increased from an average of 27 million bushels annually in the late 1930's to 75 million bushels in the late 1940's. Acreage controls and drought conditions caused a cutback in production in the 1950's. Production averaged 36 million bushels annually from 1954-58.

Grain sorghum underwent the biggest change, increasing from 21 per cent of total feed grain production in 1935-39 to 72 per cent in 1955-58, while corn decreased from 52 to 14 per cent. Average annual grain sorghum production was only 30 million bushels in the late 1930's, compared with 184 million in the 1954-58 period, with an estimated 273 million bushel crop grown in 1958. Yields doubled in the 24-year period from an average of 14.2 bushels per acre in the late 1930's to 28.8 bushels in 1954-58. Acreage increased from two million in the late 1930's to over six million in 1954-58. However, a large portion of the increased production was a result of increased yields rather than increased acreage.

This new bulletin also discusses oats, rice, corn, rye and barley in detail. Copies can be obtained by writing the Agricultural Information Office, College Station. Ask for B-939.

Vet's Forum

Q. Is it possible for a young man or woman to take a regular high school education under the War Orphans school program?

A. No. The law prohibits regular high school studies under the level courses may be taken, but the course must be one which offers specialized vocational training which will equip the student for a vocational goal.

Q. I am the widow of a World War II veteran, and up to now have not been eligible for a pension because my husband's death was not service-connected. I understand the new pension law has changed that, and that I may now be eligible. Is this correct?

A. Yes. Widows of World War Two and Korea veterans may now be eligible if their husbands had 90 days or more of active service, part of it during wartime, and were discharged under other than dishonorable conditions. The widows' incomes, of course, must not exceed legal limits for pension eligibility.

Q. I have just reinstated my Government insurance and don't want it to lapse again. How can I use my dividends to keep my insurance from lapsing?

A. Before your next dividend is due, ask VA to hold it for you as a credit. Once this dividend credit is earned, VA can use it to keep your insurance in force. VA does this by withdrawing a monthly premium from your dividend credit whenever the premium due is not paid by the end of the 31-day grace period.

Q. I am at school under the Korean GI Bill and don't feel I am making satisfactory progress with the course I am taking. Can I change it?

A. Yes, that is possible, provided of course that the lack of progress is not due to your own misconduct, neglect or lack of application, and if you have not already had a change of course up to now.

King Ardis and his crew at K&K Food Mart really had a bang-up Grand Opening over the weekend despite the wintry weather. Those nickel hot dogs were a good example of the public's response. Six hundred were sold Friday and 750 on Saturday and both days the available supply of "dogs" was exhausted long before closing time with customers clamoring for more.

And if anybody has a good history of the bank we'd be mighty obliged to borrow it for a day or two—though we're sure there isn't one in existence. ### Victim of accident buried at Tahoka

Funeral services for William Edward Gandy Jr., 7, who died at 7:30 a. m. Friday in Garza Memorial Hospital from injuries received in a strange accident Feb. 14, were conducted at 4 p. m. Saturday in the Sweet Street Baptist Church at Tahoka.

The child fell from a tractor in a shed near his home with a rope tied about his neck. Although he was almost strangled to death when found, he apparently received a more serious injury when he struck his head.

The accident occurred at the Gandy home 13 miles west of Post on the Jimmy Bird Ranch, where the child's father, W. E. (Bill) Gandy, is employed.

The youngster was brought to the hospital here, where he remained until Feb. 19, when he was transferred to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. He was returned to the Post hospital Tuesday of last week.

The Rev. Joe Webb, pastor of the Tahoka church, officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in the Tahoka Cemetery under direction of Stanley Funeral Home.

The child is survived by his parents; one brother, Sammy Dale; three sisters, Elvie LeAnn and Peggy Sue; a maternal grandfather, S. B. Roe of Tahoka, and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gandy of Sweetwater.

1,455 scholastics in Post district

A total of 1,455 scholastics—1,379 whites and 76 Negroes—were enumerated in the Post Independent School District in this year's census, according to figures released this week by Supt. R. T. Smith.

Although this year's total is down 14 from the 1959 census figure of 1,469, there were 1,258 students enrolled in the Post schools on Jan. 15, 1959, Smith said.

Included in the school age children enumerated in this year's census were 105 who will be starting school for the first time next year. Last year, 119 beginners were counted, but the enrollment of six-year-olds reached 160 before the end of the school year.

The total for the county this year is 1,785 children of school age. Besides the 1,455 in the Post district, there are 211 at Southland, 73 at Close City and 26 at Justiceburg.

Water rates--

The White River water district's charge to the four cities is the same—30 cents per thousand gallons. The cities then must add to this the cost of operating their water departments and amortization of present water department debt, which in Post's case is substantial.

FISCAL EXPERTS studying Post's water problem told councilmen at a special meeting here recently and White River directors at Ralls that Post is selling all 242 million gallons it is pumping—having no expensive water loss in its lines.

The proposed maximum White River water rates would increase the minimum here 58 per cent, the rate on the next 7,000 gallons by 94.6 per cent, and the gallonage above 10,000 per month by 62.5 per cent.

A local water consumer using 10,000 gallons per month under present rates would pay $4.90, under the proposed White River maximum rates would be billed for $9.45.

A user needing 20,000 gallons per month now pays $8.90, but under the new maximum White River rates would pay $15.95.

EACH OF THE four city councils promised White River directors to have their proposed maximum rates for White River water ready by March 1 (Tuesday).

Rates will vary in the four towns, due to the local water picture despite the fact each town is paying the same for White River water—30 cents per thousand gallons delivered to the city limits.

Rates for Crosbyton, Ralls, and Spur were not available here today.

Voters of the four cities must approve the new maximum rates for the four towns via new water contract elections soon to be set by the White River district.

This is the final condition yet to be met to obtain a $2,700,000 federal loan to help finance the water project.

The elections will be called by the various city councils in the near future.

Post trackmen going to Crosbyton Relays Saturday

weather is wing hamper

Post Antelope track team, permitting, will open its season Saturday at the Crosbyton Relays. Coach John Blocker and Harold Teal have been working with candidates for the last several weeks, greeted several more Monday following close of the season.

This year, the Antelope team will have a makeshift which to work out, ground the junior high school been graded for that purpose.

POST trackmen have also been hampered by bad weather in practice sessions, with much conditioning going on in the gymnasium. Antelopes are expected to contend for this season's 3-AA championship in the meet at Floydada on April 2. They finished only one-half point behind the Whirlwinds in a neck-and-neck race for the championship.

At 25 is open, but Coach said today that some kind of rain probably will be in for that date. On April 2, the Antelopes will compete in the district relays, with the district scheduled for the following day. Boys qualifying for the district meet will be in the district meet will be for the annual Red Raider Relays at Crosbyton.

Being counted on as a sprinter in the sprints is Ronson, a transfer student who eligible this semester. More Tommy Boucher, who placed second in the 880-yard dash last year, is showing up well at the event and also in the 100-yard dash. He is also being counted on as a member of the relay team.

Pierce, who was second in the 100-yard dash and also placed in the hurdles events and jump last season, did not attend because of illness, expected to be out before the week.

Other track letterman in the fold is Glendon Washburn, who placed second in the 100-yard dash in last year's district meet. Ivie, district fourth in the mile run, is expected to help bolster the Antelope team.

Coaches pointed out that the Antelope practice sessions have been hampered by making arrangements for all events, but a picture is expected to be taken following Saturday at Crosbyton.

Track and field candidates have already mentioned Harold Wayne Mason, DeCapps, Wendell Duncan, Minor, Larry Welch, Jim Kerzy Poole, Neal Francis and Richard Ray.

By CHARLES DIDWAY

The weather of the last few days hasn't been the best in the world for track—or for spring baseball training either, if we had any of that going on out here. But as of today (Tuesday), Coaches John Blocker and Harold Teal are planning to take their Antelope track and field squad to Crosbyton Saturday morning for the Crosbyton Relays—the first meet of the season on the South Plains.

Surprisingly, the weather man smiled on the Comanche Relays held Saturday at Fort Stockton as one of the first, if not the first, track and field meets in Texas this season. Hazardous driving conditions, however, kept a number of track teams at home, including the Southland Eagles, who were an early entry in the meet.

Since the Post Antelope basketball team numbered Dimmitt among its 23 victims this season, we are glad to see the Bobcats at the state tournament beginning today in Austin. It makes the Antelopes look better than ever and if Dimmitt comes through with the championship, it'll make Coach Pete Murray's cagers look even better.

Dimmitt, conqueror of Seminole Saturday night in the Region I championship game at Lubbock, plays Belton tonight in a first round game. Belton won its regional title by defeating Buna, last season's state champions in AA.

For the sake of consistency, however, we must also mention that the McAdoo Eagles are in the state tournament, too, and the Eagles were responsible for one of the three losses pinned on the Antelopes this season. But, considering that Dimmitt defeated McAdoo by 23 points, our Antelopes still look good!

Two former South Plains high school gridders, Quarterback James Williams of Post and Halfback Bill Patterson of Floydada, played a big part in the Blues' victory over the Whites in a spring training scrimmage game at East Texas State College.

Williams who earned a varsity letter at ETSC last year after transferring from San Angelo College, threw one touchdown pass and ran for two extra points in the Blues' 28 to 6 win. Patterson, who transferred to ETSC after one semester at Rice Institute, scored on a 70-yard touchdown pass for another Blue six-pointer.

Two of Post's most enthusiastic basketball fans this season were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hundley. They saw nearly all of the Antelope games, and were in Lubbock Saturday to sit through all six regional tournament contests. And, it appears that the basketball season might not be over for the Hundleys. Jim was in this morning to ask us when and where the girls' regional tournament would be.

The Hundleys are the sort of sports fans we need more of. Jim, incidentally, was a member of the only other Post team ever to win a district championship—some forty years ago when the Interscholastic League first began basketball competition on a district basis.

BOND ISSUE VOTED CROSBYTON — Crosbyton voters Saturday approved a proposed $135,000 bond issue by a count of 111 to 8 for the financing of a new engine for the municipal power plant here.

You can catch crappie anytime, but it's easier in the spring. At this season of the year the crappie, notably a roamer, settles down closer to home with thoughts of spawning.

They swim in tight groups, all at the same depth. Find one of these schools, and you can get your limit before breakfast.

Crappie abound everywhere—in rivers, lakes and streams. But it was with the advent of big dam building in Texas that they really came into prominence. Dammed up water submerged many a tree and that is the kind of habitat crappie like most.

All you have to do is locate such a spot.

IF YOU'RE on the lake, look for a stump sticking out of the water. Go there and tie your boat to the stump. If it's the top of an old submerged tree, you're in business.

For bait, use minnows, or any bait that resembles a minnow. Small spoons, spinners, or jigs will get results.

While the lure or bait must be small, the hook should be large. The crappie's mouth is big, but tender. So he must be handled with care to avoid tearing the hook out.

A small hook will work through the delicate structure of the crappie's mouth. On the other hand, a big hook grabs more of the light gristle, therefore holds better.

A GOOD RULE to follow is to figure that the crappie is just off the bottom. So let the minnow down until it touches, then pull up a couple of turns of the reel.

Stay right there for a couple of minutes. If nothing happens, start reeling up very slowly. It won't hurt to jiggle the bait lightly, because a crappie loves a slowly moving target.

It's important to note the depth where the first crappie takes hold. That's where all his brothers and sisters are. Also it's a good idea to put a blue or red pencil mark on your line to indicate where to stop letting out line.

Spinning gear is ideal for crappie fishing. To begin with, the crappie is a small, sporting-type fish. He requires no big rig. He wants his food presented in a natural way, and a spinning outfit is tops.

ALTHOUGH a big hook is recommended, it can be the wire kind—light, without restricting the minnow's movement.

If there is room, the angler can let his minnow swim free, without any sinker. But if necessary or desired (See Outdoors Texas on Page 12)

Buy a license before you get fishing fever

AUSTIN — "The fishing season is here, so get your 1960 fishing license before you get fishing fever," warns the director of law enforcement, Texas Game and Fish Commission.

Last month, 37 persons were charged with fishing without the required license. "Most of these probably were individuals who forgot about a license until they were already in the boat and fishing," said the director.

According to the Commission's monthly report on game and fish law violations, hunting contrary to the laws also ran high. A total of 70 persons were charged with illegally hunting at night. Some 29 were charged with hunting in closed season, and 23 were filed on for hunting from an automobile.

Wardens arrested 19 persons for killing doves out of season, five for hunting on game preserves, 14 for headlighting animals, 13 for killing deer in closed season, 12 in possession of wild doe deer, two for killing curlew, and 10 persons were charged for polluting public water.

A total of 413 violations were reported in January. Of these, 39 were dismissed in court, three served time in jail, six appealed, one had his fine suspended, and two were found not guilty.

Fines for the month amounted to $15,609.15 and court cost totaled $662.00, making $16,271.15 the amount paid by hunters and fishermen for game and fish violations in January.

FASHION NOTES

Everyone liked Sue and Lue Taylor's grey pleated skirt with grey vests and red, black and white checked blouses.

Dixie Lucas' light brown quilted skirt with "Yea, Team" printed in big black letters across the front of the dress with a black blouse looked "snazzy" on her.

One of our sixth grade reporters, Carol Camp, looked cute in her blue, quilted skirt and a white blouse with a large button-sized funny face print on it.

Mrs. Florence looked pretty in her black and white checked suit with two large pockets on it.

Prince Zogi Revue is to be here March 12

A full baggage car of equipment is required to stage the Prince Zogi Revue, which is to appear Saturday, March 12, at the grade school auditorium under the auspices of the senior class.

There will be a matinee at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and a night performance at 8 o'clock that night.

Prince Zogi and his "Stars of Today" are playing a series of one-night stands for the first time since 1955. In recent weeks over $25,000 has been invested in the Zogi Revue bringing the total investment to a tremendous sum. C. A. Frank, business manager, declined to name the total figure because, as he says, "It would be unbelievable." However, he did say that Prince Zogi could retire for life on the amount that is invested in the Revue and provide his cast a substantial retirement, too.

The Prince Zogi Revue will be presented against a background of numerous colorful changes of scenery and will utilize an abundance of dazzling, exotic costumes, some of which were created in the Orient, while others were designed in Hollywood, New York, London, and Paris.

This is the show that entertained Broadway, dumfounded Hollywood and Chicago . . . and enthralled thousands upon thousands from coast to coast.

"Back Stage", a theatrical trade journal, declares that the Zogi Revue is one of the most charming shows on the road today. The audience will enjoy every minute of the dazzling two-hour production and go away declaring it to be one of the finest shows of the decade.

Headliner acts include the Oriental "Rod-Through-The-Body" illusion, The London Ghost Cabinet, The Guillotine illusion, Music and Humor and Prince Zogi in person.

WEEKEND IN SEYMOUR

Mrs. Charles Casey and son, Mark, visited in Seymour with her mother, Mrs. R. A. Ward, over the weekend.

Have You Heard??

Six weeks are over, although a little belated due to the snow and having no school last Wednesday. Report cards were passed out Wednesday.

We heard some of the girls are really taking advantage of Leap Year rules. All's fair, girls.

Seems Bobby Hudman is "wanted" these days. There was a 3 cent reward poster for Bobby (picture of him, too) tacked up in Coach Blocker's room last week. Some joker!

The students who will compete locally for IL spelling contest are practicing before school with Mrs. King. The district literary events will be held at Floydada again this year.

The whole senior class is working real hard on advance ticket sales for the coming Zogi show. Buy a ticket and really enjoy a good show while you help the seniors.

Couples seen around are Jan Herring and Mike Cornell, Danelia Bateman and Leslie Acker, Murnie Mathis and Don Harlan Pennell, Judy Clary and Wayne McFadin, Jo Ann Chilcoat and David Lee, Kay Gordon and Clinton Smith, Mary Beth Ford and Roy-

Spelling champs qualify for Bee

Trip policy voted on by Senior committee

By Melanie Thompson

The senior class executive committee met last week. They discussed and voted on whether to let the people who do not graduate go on the senior trip. The vote was taken and it was decided that they should not.

The committee also voted against letting married students go on the trip.

This policy must be voted final by the class. This will be done sometime this week.

I Give You Texas . . .

By BOYCE HOUSE

On the subject of memory: You can know a man — and know him fairly well — and still have difficulty in immediately calling his name.

It may be that you haven't seen him in a good while; or it is on the street in Fort Worth and he lives 200 miles away. If you saw him in his home town, "association" would help you. (We speak of not being able to "place" someone.) Sometimes you might know a man very well and still your memory refuses to come up with the name.

Fred Korth is one man who realizes this and so he supplies his name when he greets you. He is impressive in size and appearance, has an excellent voice, formerly was Assistant Secretary of the Army and recently became president of the Continental National Bank in Fort Worth — all in all, a man who because of achievement and appearance certainly can have every right to expect to be remembered, yet he considerately supplies his name.

Pat Neff was introduced to some one as "ex-governor of Texas."

Neff quickly said, "No — former governor! A former governor is one who retired; an ex-governor is one who got beat."

Neff was the finest speaker in Texas in his era. I heard him speak at the State Democratic Convention in Austin (in 1942, if my memory serves me a-right). He spoke for half an hour, perhaps a little longer; his language was elevated; his thoughts were stirring. Afterward, newspapermen asked for a copy of his speech. He produced a single piece of paper on which a few notes were written.

When he was president of Baylor University, Governor Neff invited me to address the student body and he introduced me. My scholarly contribution was "How I Took Hollywood by Storm," an account of my adventures in connection with "Boom Town." At close, he asked the audience that filled the big auditorium to rise. "And now, for our friend," he said, "let's sing 'That Good Old Baylor Line.'"

To any individual, that is something to remember; to one who never attended college, it was something to treasure.

First Christian group going to spring meeting

Members of the First Christian Church in Post will be in Lubbock Sunday, where the annual spring convention will be assembled in Lubbock View Christian Church at 2:30 p. m.

The main thing of interest in this convention will be promotion of the State Convention of Christian Churches, which is to convene April 27 through May 1.

At the convention Sunday the churches of District II will report their registrations for the state meet. The goal for the entire district (reaching from Tulia on the north to Lamesa on the south, and Paducah on the east to the state line on the west) is 100 per cent of resident members registered. The First Christian in Post as of March 1 had registered approximately 52 per cent and it is anticipated a number will be registered by the weekend—at least by convention time.

Principal speaker for the program in Lubbock will be Dr. W. Earl Waldrop, pastor of Central Christian Church in San Antonio. Also on the program will be Rev. J. Edgar McDonald, associate executive secretary of Texas, who has been devoting his efforts to the western part of the state for the past two years.

The churches of District II are proud to be host to the state convention, since it usually is held only in such cities as Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, and San Antonio. The goal of the churches in the district is to register 4,000, which is virtually the resident membership of the district.

Outdoors in Texas-

sirable, he can put a split shot in the line, say a foot and a half above the minnow. That gives the live bait a little room to move around.

Some crappie fishermen use bobbers. That's all right, provided the rule is observed that the bait must get down to the depth where the fish are.

A bobber will mark the distance, and you can rig up your crappie outfit so the bobber will keep track of depth.

My preference is to get the crappie by feel, not by movement of the bobber. A crappie strike is very light, very gentle. He may even touch the minnow or lure a couple of times before he decides to take it. When he does, he often swims up with it, so that you have to reel in to find out if he's on there.

ONCE YOU FEEL his weight on the line, don't set the hook as you would with a bass. A hard pull would be likely to tear the hook out. Simply pull up, reel in enough to keep the tension on, and you'll get him.

Somewhere between the depth where he's hooked and the place where you are, he'll offer a little resistance, but not much. Nobody ever called the crappie a fighting fish.

He makes up for that deficiency by being a willing feeder and by his excellent flavor when properly cooked.

The crappie, like most fish, lives where he finds the most cover and the most food. In his hiding place, such as an old sunken tree, he is in the midst of branches where you're going to foul and lose hooks, sinkers, and line.

That's part of the game, and is to be expected. So when you go crappie fishing, take plenty of equipment, because you're going to lose part of your rig now and then. If you don't, you are in the wrong place for crappie.

But the loss is small compared to your gain, if you get a string of these silvery beauties.

Chlorine in tap water is the reason some indoor plants die. If it is inconvenient to water them with rain water, you can remove the chlorine by boiling tap water. Be sure to cool before using.

Measles outbreak strikes several children in the Graham community

By MRS. DILLARD THOMPSON

Some folks don't care to turn back the pages of time, but Feb. 2, groundhog day, isn't too long past to think of. It sure seems that Mr. Hog must have seen his shadow according to the weather we're having—if not, wouldn't you have hated for him to have seen it?

A speedy recovery is wished for every child in the community who has the measles. Among those are Don Maxey, Beth Peel, Kathy Mason, Stephanie Davis, and the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Norman, the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Norman and two children of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bilberry. A speedy recovery is also extended to Mrs. Minnie Maxey who is on the sick list, and to W. O. Fluitt Sr., a former resident who was admitted to Garza Memorial Hospital Saturday as a medical patient.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ethridge accompanied the ambulance which carried the body of an old friend, W. T. Collins, overland to Brownwood Tuesday evening. The Ethridges remained there for funeral services held Thursday morning. Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wilson and several others from here attended the funeral.

MR. AND MRS. Wiley Parrigan of Odessa and Johnny Bowen of Oklahoma City, Okla., were Friday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dee Jones and family.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Stone, Leta, Kathy and Mary Ann were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerrel Stone and daughters of Artesia, N. M., and Mrs. Stone's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Claxton of Abilene. Mrs. Roy Holland of Portales, N. M. visited Monday afternoon with the Bryan and Quannah Max-

REV. WALTER L. BRIAN
Pleasant Valley Baptist Church states revival

The annual Spring Revival at the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church will begin Sunday, March 6, with the Rev. Walter L. Brian, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Alamogordo, N. M., as guest speaker.

The Rev. Mr. Brian, who is the uncle of the Rev. Elton Brian, pastor of the Pleasant Valley church, has pastored churches for eight years in Ruidoso and Alamogordo.

He has been vice president of the New Mexico Baptist General Convention for two years and is now serving as evangelism chairman for the state of New Mexico.

He comes from a well-known family of Baptist preachers of the Texas South Plains.

Vernon Scott will be in charge of the music during the revival.

The services will be held at 7:30 o'clock every night through Sunday, March 13.

About your health

Two months from now a thin black line on a graphic chart at the State Department of Health will begin an inexorable climb upward, getting higher and higher each week as summer progresses, then turning into a slow downward curve in mid-September.

The chart is the department's way of keeping a weekly tally on polio. By referring to charts for previous years, Dr. H. E. Smith can predict when the line will begin its upward swing.

"The last week in April is when polio starts to increase in Texas," says Dr. Smith, chief of the department's preventive medicine section.

"The line reached its high point during August last year when 1,455 cases were charted. At the year's end 526 cases had been tallied, a high toll but still a fine testimonial for polio vaccine when contrasted to the 3,984 cases during pre-vaccine 1952."

Extending the line each week is a painful chore for statisticians. Each time it advances one square on the chart they mentally hear a physician speaking to someone somewhere in Texas and making his dire diagnosis: "Polio."

That someone thus becomes a statistic with his name and facts surrounding his illness filling blank spaces on Form No. 68-R5732, the department's cold and impersonal polio case record.

An analysis of 273 case record forms, completed with a clinical thoroughness during the polio season last year, is a dramatic study in human frailty.

It shows that nine of every ten cases had less than the basic three vaccine shots recommended for maximum protection. It shows that three of every four cases had not received a single dose of the vaccine proved effective beyond all expectations.

More than half of last year's victims of paralytic polio were under five years of age, the analysis reveals. And among these youngsters as among other age groups, nine of ten had not received the recommended three shots.

Now they're part of a black line on a sheet of graph paper.

"It would only add hurt to injury," says Dr. Smith, "to ask their parents why, in the face of almost daily urgings, they ignored the chance of giving the youngsters an infinitely better chance to escape polio."

In a brief few weeks the thin black line will begin its seasonal climb.

"We hope it won't go as high this year," Dr. Smith says, "but we've got plenty of case record forms on hand, just in case."

SERMON TOPIC TOLD FROM STANTON

The Rev. J. R. Brincefield, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, has announced his sermon topic for Sunday morning will be "What Vital Part of a Christian Needs Strengthening?" The public is invited to hear this sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Thompson of Stanton were here over the weekend visiting with Mrs. Lee Byrd.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

BY G. WILSON HARDER

Up in the Arctic there is a small animal called the Lemming that travels around in big packs. Every once in a while, the leaders of the pack are seized by some undetected hysteria and rush pell mell for the cliffs overlooking the Arctic Ocean with the entire pack following. They jump over the all jump over the brink and are drowned. One of Nature's oddities.

Yet perhaps no more odd than the spectacle of some 170,000—C. W. Harder, 800 Americans being led by self-appointed hysterical leaders to the brink of destruction.

In a recent public address, Senator Andrew Schoepfel, Kansas, spelled out danger.

"The first duty of any society," he said, "is to provide for its self preservation. We are making the United States the worst place to buy and the best place for the world to sell, and if we continue our present policies we will have full employment in Manila and Milan, and increasing unemployment in Topeka and Detroit."

"Many American corporations," the Senator said, "have from 50 to 70% of their entire production abroad. In answer to those who claim that present trade policies result in a gain for our economy, I say those who gain do so at the expense of American worker and small businessman."

Sen. Schoepfel reports Japanese can buy American grown cotton for 7 1/2 cents per pound.

Major crime in Texas increases over last year

Major crime in Texas during 1959 showed a marked increase according to figures released today by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

In a report from Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas DPS, aggravated assault gained the most with a 22 per cent increase over the year 1958. Crime in all categories increased 3.9 per cent over the previous year.

Of the remaining six major crimes — murder, rape, robbery, burglary, theft and auto theft — only robbery showed a decline. According to the estimates, there were 45,827 burglaries in 1959 as compared with 44,822 in 1958, an increase of 2.2 per cent. Offenses in the automobile theft category totaled 15,830 as compared with 15,402 in 1958.

The crime report showed that on each day of the year 1959 there were 125 burglaries, 43 automobiles stolen, 266 thefts other than automobile, 32 aggravated assaults, 7 robberies, 3 rapes and 3 murders.

On a ten year basis crime in Texas percentage-wise by far out-gained population. During the last decade the population of our state increased 24.4 per cent while crime increased 73.2 per cent.

Of other information in the report, the department's Identification and Criminal Records Section received 72,434 sets of criminal fingerprints in 1959, compared with 110,531 last year—an increase of 52.59 per cent. In the year 1959 identifications were made on 35,649 fingerprints, while 66,961 were identified in 1958; this was an increase of 87.83 per cent.

As was true in all phases of law enforcement work, activities in the department's chemical laboratory showed tremendous gains. In 1959, 2,500 chemical examinations were completed. Last year there were 10,179.

Letters to the Editor...

CLOSED MEETINGS

Dear Editor:

The interesting and amusing attack that you published in your edition of Feb. 25, written by one of Post's respected citizens, has done our City and County a great justice by bringing before them a question of "closed meetings."

The fact that he feels your paper and its reporters have stepped beyond their bounds in reporting those closed meetings in Post or Garza County is an admission on his part that he has read your paper. His statement that he approved closed meetings with the "agreement" or "outcome" of those meetings to be offered for publication, vetoes and defeats all principles of democracy.

We have now, and will have as long as there is a U. S. A., a certain number of citizens that think our present form of government, by and for the people will prevail. This, in itself, will still demand that all elective bodies shall conduct their business in the open. When any of these bodies fail to do so, they automatically lay themselves open to public criticism, whether it be the local paper, or otherwise.

Post Chamber of Commerce joins national organization

Business men in Post have learned with 2,700,000 other throughout the nation to work for good citizenship, good government and good business.

By joining the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the Post Chamber of Commerce takes its place with more than 2,800 chambers and some 6,000 trade associations in an organization which yields a powerful influence in national affairs, and which will bring to Post the advantages of pooled information and advice about improving the local community.

In the National Chamber, American business men work as a team. They work on the theory that business cannot flourish and expand, and conditions cannot improve in one area or one field, if the country as a whole is not strong, productive and prosperous, and if business in general is not free to advance.

Over forty years ago, a Senator arose in the Capitol to make a speech. In his hand he held two telegrams. One was from a chamber of commerce in the eastern end of his state. It asked him to support a pending bill. The other was from the western end. It asked him to oppose the bill.

"I don't know," said the Senator, "whether this is a good bill or not. I am not well enough informed about the subject. I asked the two largest chambers of commerce in my state for their views, and these two telegrams are my answer."

"What does business think? I wish I knew, and I am sure that the rest of you here in the Senate would like to know, because the bill you have before you is of the utmost importance to business."

Business leadership throughout the country had long felt the need for an instrument to coordinate and give public expression to accomplish the purposes sought.

In the summer of 1912, at the request of this group, President Taft called a meeting in Washington of local chamber of commerce representatives. Thus, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States came into being. Its beginnings were small, but as business men in cities and towns over the nation came to know of its work the membership grew. The bulk of the country's trade associations came into the membership so as to give voice to specific industries. The local chamber gave representation to business geographically and to civic interests as represented in the activities of local chambers.

Today, the Post Chamber of Commerce is a part of this far-flung fabric of business representation—big and little—which might be called the nation's "business front."

The National Chamber interprets to government the considered views of business on issues of national importance, and in turn interprets to its business membership the moves of the legislative and administrative branches of government. It has helped to create within local chambers of commerce more than 1,000 committees on national affairs which conduct continuous campaigns for more efficient government.

At all times, the national organization is ready to survey business opinion in the interest of applying business experience for the solution of economic problems. That function has been welcomed by public representatives in the nation's capital, who know that business men conduct their operations with the knowledge that the public welfare must at all times be safeguarded.

Negro, Latin-American in Slaton city race

SLATON — Three men, including a Negro and a Latin-American, have filed as candidates for city commissioner, Ward 4, subject to the city election April 5.

The candidates are Albert Grigsby; L.L. Dixon, a Negro, and Roy Martinez.

A Ward 2 commissioner is also to be elected, with H.G. Stokes the only candidate filed to date.

A total of 6,723,505 motor vehicles were turned out by U. S. automobile plants in 1959, an increase of 31.3 per cent over 1958.

Attendance is increasing at church revival

Revival at the Church of the Word, conducted by the Rev. Cecil Stowe, has been drawing good crowds, according to the pastor.

In spite of the bad weather, there has been a steady increase in attendance since the meeting began.

The minister is interesting and his message is being received with the Word," said the Rev. Stowe.

Rev. and Mrs. W. E. (Skeet) Stowe are in charge of the music and special singing.

Services start at 7:30 o'clock on Sunday night. The Sunday school service starts at 7 o'clock.

The public is invited," the pastor said. Rev. Mr. Norton is a former pastor of the church here. He and his wife now reside in Hamilton.

Alcoholics Anonymous of Texas hold conference in Houston

More than 100 "drunks" will converge upon Houston's Rice Hotel March 17 through March 20, observing the 20th anniversary of Alcoholics Anonymous west of the Mississippi. The AA's will be holding their 15th Annual Texas Conference.

Originally in 1949 a Cleveland newspaperman, himself previously a "drunk," moved to Houston bringing the story of his relationship through the fellowship with a then small band of former drunkards.

At that time an estimated 15,000 Texans have undergone the A.A. program of recovery and are at present leading useful lives. A.A. groups now operate throughout Texas.

The Houston conferees, who will be welcomed to the city by Mayor Lewis Cutrer, will hear addresses by nationally famous A.A. figures including a matinee idol and a best-selling author.

Non-alcoholic speaker at the convocation will be the Rev. Tom Ship of Dallas who describes A.A. as "a 20th Century Christian miracle."

While only A.A. members and the Al-Anon auxiliary will participate in the principal sessions, a public meeting from 9:30 a.m. to noon will be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Rice Hotel on Sunday, March 20.

Texas Prison System inmates, especially released for the occasion, will be heard at one session of the conference.

Simultaneous sessions will also be held by the "Alateens", teen-age sons and daughters of the A.A. members cooperating in the overall program.

Edwin Cozzens is to speak tonight at mission study

Edwin Cozzens, retired missionary to Africa, will speak tonight at a mission study at the First Presbyterian Church, according to an announcement by the pastor, Rev. Clinton Edwards.

Mr. Cozzens was a missionary in Africa from 1914 to 1958 under the former Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., and has given most of his time to educational work and property matters.

He is a native of San Jose, Calif., and a graduate of Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif. He also studied at the Bible College in San Francisco and before going to Africa he had been a civil engineer in the United States. He retired from active duty in 1958.

The mission study is to begin at 7:30 o'clock, following a family-night covered-dish supper. Host couples for the supper are Mr. and Mrs. Julian Smith and Mr. and Mrs. James Simms.
