Postings

It looks like the teenagers are going to get the "christmas job" done this year of collecting food, clothing and toys for the local needy.

Things are starting to get back to "half-way normal" here at The Dispatch with the return of Buck Hundley to his Intertype machine in our back shop—broken leg and all.

The county's new acreage allotment is more than 5,000 acres greater than this year's total planting of 39,009 acres, which includes acreages in the "B" program under which farmers obtained a larger allotment in exchange for lower price supports.

The Christmas season is here and you'll find The Dispatch today (See POSTINGS, page 8)

Three persons were hospitalized in Lubbock Saturday night as a result of a two-car crash at the intersection of Broadway and 10th Street here Saturday night.

All five persons in the two cars were Lubbock residents. The three injured were taken to Lubbock's Methodist Hospital by ambulance after treatment in the Garza Memorial Hospital here.

Most seriously injured was Sifreda Gallegos, driver of a car going north on Broadway. He suffered a serious chest injury.

Deputy Sheriff Mac McGowan who investigated the crash said Bolding was heading east on 10th across Broadway. He said he could find no eye witnesses to the wreck.

Winning bidder for constructing a new Post postoffice building and leasing it to the government for 10 years won't be announced until approval is given by the regional post office department office in Dallas.

Nine bidders sought the lease, the terms of which would require them to erect a building to federal specifications in the 200 block on West Main here.

Bids were opened Monday afternoon in Lubbock.

Construction of the new post office isn't expected to get under way until around Feb. 1.

Over the Top' $791 away Chest's goal within sight

Garza County Community Chest officials, enthused by steady contributions gains this past week, reported today that $12,709.49 has been raised in cash and pledges and that the Chest now is within sight of its lofty $13,572 goal.

Donations this week left only $791 needed to go over the top and with an estimated $300 of that "in sight" from late contributors.

Right now, the Chest stands at 94 per cent of its goal.

Vernon Scott, Chest treasurer, reported late yesterday that big gifts has accounted for $9,993.29 of the $12,709.49 total with the rural division reporting $898.49 and all employees division another $1,817.81 of which almost $1,100 came from Postex Cotton Mill employees.

Leo Acker, overall chairman of the drive, figures that he still has some $150 in contributions to pick up this weekend from employees of several local firms.

A strategy session may be called soon in an effort to push the drive "over the top" for the nine participating organizations.

Those who have not been contacted are asked to mail or bring their contributions to the First National Bank.

Pledges can be paid at any time during 1961 desired by the donor.

The two Negro men who attempted to "raid" the cash register at the Parrish Grocery and Market here last Wednesday afternoon have been identified and charged and are being held in Levelland on other charges of forgery and theft.

Only $10 was missing after the "raid" here in which one of the two snatched a handful of money from the cash register but lost most of it to Mrs. Ethel Redman, the store checker, who snatched it back.

The two are West Royal Jr. and Tommy Gene Everidge, both of Hobbs, N. M.

Sheriff Carl Rains obtained the identification finally by tracking down the license number of the new car they had purchased at Fort Worth only the day before the "raid".

ARCHITECT'S SKETCH OF POST'S NEW SWPS OFFICE BUILDING

Post's 1960 building permits climbed to within less than $11,000 of the million dollar mark this week with the start of construction of a modern office building for the Southwestern Public Service Co.

C. E. Basinger is building the 1,770 square foot building and leasing it to the electrical utility.

For customer convenience, the new office will have a drive-up window with an entrance on Main Street and exits on Avenues K and L.

In announcing the new building, Hibbs said, "Our new office is a tribute to the growth of Post and evidence of our faith in its future."

Collier is elected RMA president

Claud Collier Jr. of Caprock Chevrolet & Oldsmobile was elected as new president of the Retail Merchants Association at a meeting Friday night.

Others elected were Arnold Parrish, vice president; Miss Maxine Durrett, treasurer, and E. E. Pierce, re-elected manager-secretary.

Tom Harmon and Parrish were elected as new directors and Miss Durrett was re-elected. Casteel, the outgoing president, automatically becomes a member of the board of directors.

The group also approved the association's new constitution and by-laws.

Speakers at the meeting were Tom Watson of the Better Business Bureau of Lubbock and Earl Kerr of the Retail Merchants Association of Lubbock.

Watson's talk was "How Merchants Could Be Gyped."

In Slaton precinct liquor election Saturday Third time may be 'charm'

The third time may be "the charm" Saturday when Slaton precinct voters in Lubbock County go to the polls to vote on off-premise sale of liquor (package stores only).

Joel Combs, publisher of the Slaton Slatonite, told The Dispatch yesterday that it looked like a close vote this time than the 55-vote margin by which the precinct went dry a little more than a year ago.

Thank your school trustees for this

There's been a revolution going on over at the Post high school the last two or three years that a lot of folks may not as yet be aware of. Of course it's no news to the students themselves, or the parents who get the report cards each six weeks.

And the news on the "revolution" is good too. The revolution has come in the classrooms, in the science and mathematics course classrooms more particularly.

These courses have been toughened or beefed up considerably. It didn't just come about this fall when students and teachers set up shop in their new high school building which for the first time gave students and instructors in the science field the necessary laboratory space and equipment they needed to learn.

No sir, not at all. The courses have been toughened over the last two or three years. You won't see too many youngsters—try and study as hard as they can—hit the all-A honor roll in their junior and senior years.

Science is too tough. In some of those courses, A students fight for C's and C students fight to stay out of the flunking brigade and often fail in their efforts.

It all started back a few years ago—not exactly on the day either that the Russians put the sputnik into space and the U. S. spotlight was focused on the weaknesses of its own educational system which wasn't producing enough scientists to win the battle of science with Communism.

It started when school trustees asked for action, for tougher studies, for more emphasis on classwork instead of football so that Post high graduates going away to college weren't faced with the sudden realization that they weren't trained well enough in the classroom to compete in the collegiate classrooms.

There's no more of that now. Sure, the kids study harder. But they learn a whole lot more too. For example, you'll see some college algebra books at the sophomore level in Post high school these days.

The reports from the college campus this year are pretty wonderful. Susie writes her folks that she now simply loves that high school teacher she used to dislike because his course was so tough. College biology, or chemistry, or math is well within Susie's capacity to handle it now.

For this "revolution" we have many people to thank—but the first credit should go to the school trustees by whom we sat at their monthly meetings two and three years back and heard them demand classroom standards be raised.

Folks, they've been raised. School trustees don't normally come in for much praise. They get all the bellyaches. If we don't like one of their decisions we apply the economic pressure by refusing to trade with them. We aren't very smart when we do that—nothing but petty really—because we deprive our school board of a wealth of trustee material which can't afford to be at our mercy on Main street.

School administrators also have led the fight for improved standards. So have our conscientious teachers. Each year that curriculum is getting better and better.

We should be proud of this most of all. But we mustn't be complacent. It isn't all accomplished. We need much more. Other courses besides science—English being one for example—need to be toughened more at least for the college preparatory students.

It isn't enough that our kids get the same kind of an education we received back in the days when we went to school. That kind of an education simply isn't good enough in today's world—when most of the opportunities go to the well-trained and well-disciplined minds.

There is a big labor market now on the college campus each spring. College graduates these days step out into jobs in industry at salaries which would have required ten years of hard work to earn only 15 or 20 years ago.

That is because industry, which comes shopping to the campuses for raw science and executive material, wants the best—and is willing to pay the price for it to get such manpower and womanpower in its organization.

In raising our classroom standards here, we also are raising our sights and our hopes for our young people. A larger percentage of last year's graduating class went on to college this year than ever before. Next year it will be greater, and the next year greater still.

And it all started at some of those school board meetings three years ago when the school trustees raised their voices and made the decision which aimed our schools at all the progress that has been made.—JC.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THE LITTLE ROCK affair of a few years ago resembled an Epworth League picnic compared to the present fiasco in New Orleans over integration.

You wouldn't think a handful of six-year-olds—regardless of the color of their skin—could cause such a ruckus in one of the larger cities of the most progressive nation on earth.

ONE THING EACH of us might do well to ask himself is—would I, as an individual, go to the extremes some of the segregationists in New Orleans are going to? Would I make a public spectacle of myself in the streets?

To me, the most deplorable things to be seen in the mob scenes are the children—some a few months old, some a few years older—being held in the arms of the hate-filled, shouting women. It seems to fit into the pattern of these lines from "South Pacific": "You've got to be taught to hate and fear."

You've got to be taught from year to year. It's got to be drummed in your dear little ear.

You've got to be carefully taught.

You've got to be taught to be afraid. Of people whose eyes are oddly made.

And people whose skin is a different shade.

You've got to be carefully taught.

You've got to be taught before it's too late. Before you are six or seven or eight.

To hate all the people your relatives hate.

You've got to be carefully taught.

NOW THAT THE Main Street Christmas tree is up and the first letter is in for Santa Claus, I'm beginning to feel the onrush of the Yuletide season. It's a little late, at that, what with only about 14 shopping days left.

It's nice to get my feet back under my front office desk again after some five weeks in the back shop on the Intertype machine. Going from one keyboard to the other, does something to your fingers—since there is no similarity between the arrangement of keys on a typewriter and those on a typesetting machine.

BUCK HUNDLEY, who was injured in a car wreck several weeks ago, is back on the machine, and if his complete recovery is as speedy as everyone hopes, I'll be able to stay up front, renewing old acquaintances and tapping old news sources.

My stay in the back end overlapped the period of the telephone company's cut-over to the dial system, hence I didn't get to "cover" that big story. Funny thing, though—the first call I made on my new phone was one reporting that my car battery was dead and someone would have to give me a ride to the office. I'd liked to have started my own private dial cut-over on a happier note.

JUST ABOUT everybody at The Dispatch office agrees that the prizes to be awarded in this year's Christmas coloring contest are the best yet. I like the Strum Fun Gator best, because it's one of the two musical instruments I've ever seen that I could play. . . . the other having been a chord organ. Probably the most fascinating of these prizes being offered the champion crayon artists is the Etch a Sketch, which is a magic screen on which you turn knobs to sketch, simply shake the screen to erase and then turn the knobs to sketch again. Keeping pace with the times is another one of the prizes—a box of Moon Rocks for an outer space garden.

My friend up the street says "Know thyself" is right good advice, but it's more fun to watch the rest of the folks.

We've had the city boy and the country boy. Some day we may hear a candidate say, "Well, I'm just a plain shopping center boy myself."

Much greater community protection

Any community step forward usually brings with it several other important changes. That is how conversion to dial telephones last week also brought Post 24-hour sheriff's radio operation and thus greatly improved law enforcement.

Dial phones made it essential that a new fire call system be employed from the day dials took over.

The best answer here was to operate the sheriff's office around the clock and let the radio dispatcher there handle all the fire calls.

So that's what happened. The city and county are splitting the added expense of the round-the-clock sheriff's radio, but it will be some of the best money this community ever spent.

For instance, a householder awakened by the noise of somebody trying to break into his house or garage, can reach for his bedside telephone (make it a Starlight so you can see to dial) and notify the sheriff's office in a matter of seconds. The radio dispatcher there can radio any city or county officer on night duty and a patrol car can slip up to your house in no more than a minute or so.

Help also can be dialed via that same sheriff's telephone for any kind of an emergency—sudden illness, accident, or a car wreck.

Both the city council and the county commissioners court have been working toward the day when 24-hour sheriff's radio would become reality. And they worked that problem out together.

Where the dial conversion helped is that it prompted final decisions.

Post now not only has an improved fire alarm system, but added law enforcement protection as well for everyone—law enforcement only as far away as your telephone throughout the day or night.

Only one note of caution. Write on the front of your phone book the dial number of the sheriff's office—495-3201. Don't call the police department listed on the front page of your directory. That phone is not always manned and certainly not around the clock.

The sheriff's phone is the way to make contact. Memorize that phone number first, just for emergencies.

But don't call the sheriff's office number to report a fire. You might get a busy signal. There is a special telephone into the sheriff's office for fires only. Use it—495-2322. In this case the fire number on the first page of your phone directory is correct.—JC.

1961 cotton news is good

Given the fine growing conditions next year that Garza county enjoyed in 1960, the 1961 crop could be a record buster. That is a very pleasant economic thought for everybody.

This big 1961 chance came with the announcement of a major boost in cotton allotments for the county next year.

The 1961 cotton allotments for Garza county represents a 17.9 per cent boost over the "regular" or base acreage under the two-choice program this year. And its 13.6 per cent greater than this year's total area plantings which included acreage in the "B" program under which farmers obtained a larger allotment in exchange for lower price supports.

Assuming that all the Garza acreage will be planted this will be the largest acreage since the "free year" of 1953—the last time that cotton allotments were not in effect.

The new 1961 allotment for Garza county calls for 44,316 planted acres in comparison with 37,566 for the current year's base allotment and 39,009 for total acres planted, including "B" acreage.

While cotton is not the crop in Garza county that it is in some of the neighboring counties, it nonetheless plays a very vital role in the county's economy. Garza's economy, thanks to its oil industry and the Postex Cotton Mills, is much more balanced than most of the counties around her.

But cotton still is here in a very real sort of way. A good cotton crop means money to spend on Main street—new farm equipment, new cars, new homes, and new furniture and appliances to be sold. A bad crop means that this source of income doesn't reach Main street at all. The difference is a mighty important difference.

Consequently, the news is good on cotton allotments and will be rejoiced over everywhere hereabouts.

On the long range weather outlook, 1961 is scheduled to be another wet year in the seven-year wet cycle now at its midway point.

All in all, it's great news indeed.—JC.

Vote of community confidence

The new drive-in office of the Southwestern Public Service Company is already under construction on West Main street across from the new First National Bank.

Included in the plans is the Reddy Room, similar to the bank's Community Room which will be available for club and organizational use and will seat up to 30 persons.

When a utility firm makes such an investment in any community's future, you know that the outlook for that town or city is good because utility executives are in a position to know about progress because they have to stay a few years ahead of it to serve the public well.

Post appreciates the confidence and the improvement in facilities offered by Southwestern Public Service, a utility firm which to our thinking has done and will continue to do an excellent community service job for Post.—JC.

Easy to tell from cow

There is just as much between a beef steak and a cow as there is between a cow and a deer. But it's not so easy to recognize a cow at a glance as it is a deer. At least this is the theory of E. M. Sprott, director of the Game and Fish Commission.

Sprott is evaluating stories from the office about deer shooting cows on farms.

He says the cow shooting by hunters is divided into three categories. The first is the hunter who just sees something and shoots. The second, of course, is the hunter who shines a flashlight on a cow's eyes and pulls the trigger on the wrong kind of animal.

The captain admits, there are some who just don't seem to be able to tell the difference. He says these are a menace to other hunters, according to him.

More landowners would like to permit hunting on their land with some assurance that the livestock wouldn't be shot. "But it seems to me, somewhere, our war-time information about the killing of livestock."

How to Torture Your Wife A VISITING CLASSIC

TWO AFTERNOON PERFORMANCES WITH LUBBOCK SYMPHONY

Captain Kangaroo to star in children's concert Sunday, Dec. 11

NEW YORK—Television's beloved Captain Kangaroo is coming to Lubbock with a bag full of musical tricks.

He will star with the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra in two "Fun With Music" concerts Sunday, Dec. 11, at 2 p. m. and 4:30 p. m. The concerts will be given at the Municipal Auditorium under the direction of Paul Ellsworth.

The program will feature such works as Strauss's "Blue Danube", Grofe's "Canyon Suite" and Gershwin's "An American in Paris."

The bewhiskered gentleman, as familiar a face to children as Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, has been performing in major cities throughout the country for the past two seasons, delighting children and adults alike with his "Fun With Music" concerts.

Bob Keeshan, the 34-year-old performer who plays the venerable Captain on the CBS television network six days a week, exhibits his same magical quality when introducing pre-school and elementary school children to the delights of classical and semi-classical music.

Tickets for the Lubbock concert are now on sale at the Auditorium Box Office and at Furr's Supermarkets in Lubbock. There are no reserved seats. Ticket prices are $1 for children and $1.50 for adults. The program is being sponsored by the Texas Technological College Music Club.

Lubbock fans view the Captain Kangaroo Show six mornings a week over the CBS affiliate KDTUB. The program is seen Monday through Friday from 8:15 to 9 a. m. and 9 to 10 a. m. on Saturdays.

One of the most popular and of the most honored children's programs in the history of television, "Captain Kangaroo" recently celebrated its fifth anniversary on the network. An estimated seven million persons view the show daily.

I Give You Texas . . .

By BOYCE HOUSE

There was a young newspaper reporter in a Nevada mining town many years ago. He and two friends staked out a claim but each thought the other would do the small amount of work that had to be done within 30 days to complete the title and so they lost the claim. The new owners developed one of the richest gold mines in Virginia City.

Anyone would say that for a man to lose a million dollars is certainly a misfortune—but the newspaperman was Mark Twain. If in his twenties, he had had riches dumped in his lap, he might not have had the incentive to write and so the world would have lost "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn."

Sometimes, what appears to be a misfortune later proves not to have been.

man on the scene. The result was that, when he got back to New York, he was fired.

In Big Spring, a drive-in cafe features a "chicken gizzard basket". And in Abilene, the slogan of the Hill & Hill Company is, "Head for the Hills."

FIRE PERIOD POSSIBLE
Heavy frosts followed by low humidity and high winds could once again set the stage for wild-fire trouble in Texas, warns Bill Smith, extension forester. Just a year ago similar weather conditions coupled with plenty of grass and weeds produced one of the worst periods in recent years. Be careful, it could happen again.

AMERICA'S LOWEST-PRICED 6-PASSENGER CAR!

Sometimes I amaze myself!

FALCON TUDOR SEDAN, with standard trim, is America's lowest-priced 6-passenger car.* Car shown has deluxe trim and whitewall tires, optional at extra cost.

Even more amazing, Falcon is priced as much as $505† less than the new-name compacts recently introduced. But maybe you think more money means more compact car? No! Fact is, Falcon gives you more—much more—of what you buy a compact for.

You see, these new high-priced compacts are just too big and heavy to handle and park as easily as Falcon. That's why they make extra-cost power brakes and steering available. With all their excess bulk, how would they go up to 30 miles on a gallon like Falcon? And although they're bigger outside . . . where you don't want it . . . they have about the same room as Falcon inside. Falcon takes 6 people in the same comfort and luxury as the highest-priced compacts.

Pay more? What for? Only Falcon has that winning combination of compact features. That's precisely why Falcon is America's best-selling compact car . . . over 500,000 richer owners already!

NEW! DO THEY KEEP THE FALCON PRICE SO LOW? FALCON '61 WORLD'S MOST SUCCESSFUL NEW CAR

Post club president presents Mrs. T. L. Jones' biography

Note: Mrs. Tillman L. Jones, Post club president, presented a biography of her mother-in-law, Mrs. T. L. Jones, at a meeting of the Post club on Wednesday night. Mrs. Jones is the author of a book which will be published by the Post club. She is a member of the Texas Federation of Clubs, and she is a member of the American Society in Dallas. She has been a member of the Post club for more than 25 years and is still trying to serve in a useful capacity.

Tillman Lowell Jones was born in Kosse, Tex., the daughter of Charles Henry and Margaret Boren Griffin. She is a descendant of Gail Boren and Gen. Charles Griffin, for whom the county is named. Jones holds three degrees from Texas Teachers College, B. L. B. A., and Ph. B. She has traveled extensively in the United States, Mexico, Canada and Europe. Jones taught English in the Oklahoma, High School, and was superintendent of Post public school from 1917-1921. In 1933, the edition of "Notable Women of the Southwest" gave a place to Mrs. Tillman Jones, a well-known clubwoman of the Southwest. The book is a pictorial biographical encyclopedia of the women of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Arizona. Mrs. Jones has a wide reputation for being an outstanding leader in women's activities not only in this section but in the United States as well. She is a member of the National Democratic executive committee of the Texas, Texas Advisory Board for the World Fair of 1939 in New York City, Order of the Star, Texas State Teachers Association, Texas Music Assn., National Organization of Women National Defense Conference of the Gulf coast, and serves as chairman of Safety in Home. She has been a member of the American Cancer Society for 20 years. Jones was active in Red Cross during World War II, and still active in Red Cross. She has served every capacity of the American Legion Auxiliary of Texas and enjoyed the distinction of being its president during its Centennial year. She has served district and state chairwoman of the Texas Federation of Clubs. Jones is active in club and auxiliary work in this section and is recognized as a leader in her field. Jones joined the Woman's Club of Post in 1917, while she was connected with the public schools. Jones was Fine Arts chairman of the Post club.

the Seventh District and attended the first district meet in Plainview and was present at the last district meeting recently in Lubbock. She was called to the state TFWC board under the term of Mrs. Lee Joseph and has served almost continuously since, serving in almost every capacity, including first vice president.

Q. Before the new pension law went into effect, I was getting pension from VA as a disabled World War I veteran. This September I received a bequest which will put my income for this year above the legal limit. When I again become eligible to receive pension may I return to the old system of payment or must I come under the new law?

A. You may continue to receive payments under the old law, so long as you tell the VA immediately of the excess income you have received. To protect yourself in your right to get pension under the old law later on, do not wait until the end of the year to report income to VA.

Q. In talking with other veterans I get the impression not everyone understands that compensation and pension are two different things. Will you define each kind of payment as it applies to living veterans?

A. Compensation is payable to eligible veterans whose disabilities are DUE to service. Pension is payable only to eligible veterans whose total and permanent disabilities are NOT DUE to service.

Q. A neighbor of ours, a veteran holding GI insurance, has been hospitalized for some months and another person has been handling the payment of his insurance premiums for him. Does that person have the right to make any change in the way the premiums are paid, or to modify the beneficiaries of the policy in any way?

A. He definitely does not. The policyholder himself is the only one in a case like this who can make any change affecting premiums or the payment of proceeds to beneficiaries.

Q. May a veteran change his Korean GI Bill program of training if his progress in his present course has not been satisfactory?

A. He may, providing he shows that the lack of progress was not due to his own misconduct, neglect or lack of application, and if he has not changed his program prior to that time.

SLOW DOWN ON RURAL ROADS

With the rising toll of highway deaths in the state, many of them rural residents, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council urges drivers to slow down when driving on rural roads. Because all road intersections are not marked, they advise slowing to a stoppable speed before crossing any road. Farm traffic is considerably heavier at this season, and hence, the extra caution.

FALL SAFETY STRESSED

The word from the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council — "Have you noted how rural accidents increase with the fall harvesting and hunting season? It's better to lose a little time than a life trying to make up for time that has been lost. It's much cheaper to stay at home than to become a victim of your own or someone else's carelessness in the field or woods. Be careful and live a normal life."

This service has spoiled me. Our customers come from many states—and our reputation for friendly service is traveling far and wide. Enjoy it yourself—drive in soon and regularly.

THE FACE OF FAITH

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	24	6
Monday	II Corinthians	4	6
Tuesday	Psalms	121	1-8
Wednesday	Acts	2	28
Thursday	I Peter	1	8-9
Friday	Romans	1	16-17
Saturday	II Timothy	1	7-9

Sometimes a face is striking. It isn't the sort of face you're accustomed to. It's a face you wouldn't have expected to see. But you have seen it! That's why you call it striking.

The Face of Faith is like that . . .

The eyes seem lifted toward the hills, to a source of strength. The lips are firm with a courage that rests neither on prowess nor weapon. The countenance shines with a joyous light . . . a light that seems to reflect some mystic Sun though the world around is cast in shadow and gloom.

I see the Face of Faith each Sunday . . . the face of a child . . . perhaps your child!

I am her Sunday School teacher—and the joyous light of that striking face inspires me to seek more faithfully in the worship and work of my Church the help of God.

You are her parents. How that confident, expectant radiance must inspire you!

Texas' statistics show lots which to be thankful

Many have seemed tough to many things to be thankful for last week during these ominous times, but a look at Texas' statistics show plenty to be thankful for. For instance: a half-million babies were born during the two year period ending September 1958 and 1960. That equals almost 100 babies each day.

During the same time period there were 152,000 deaths—a ratio of three births per death, certainly something to be thankful for.

These records were disclosed from figures compiled for the latest biennial report from the Records and Statistics Section of the State Health Department.

As a result of the birth to death ratio, Texas' population increased by 350,000 plus newcomers from outlying states, bringing the current total population to more than 9,500,000.

Filing birth and death certificates makes up the major portion of the Section's workload which totaled 800,000 records and amendments.

This brought the over-all records on file at the State Health Department to a big 12,130,000 items.

Since 1936, deaths—during the first year of life—have dropped from 71 per one thousand births to

83 Texans found out they had TB

AUSTIN — Eighty-three Texans found out last week they had tuberculosis.

Added with others who have been told this same distressing news in 1960, the new cases of TB in Texas to late November totaled 3,814.

Unfortunately, the number of new cases of TB in Texas probably does not end here—health authorities believe there may be more cases that have not been reported to the health department than have been reported.

TB no longer spells death as often as it once did. But TB still may mean months of hospitalization, years of drug treatment and a lifetime of curtailed activity.

These new victims of TB in Texas, other victims who have TB and do not know it and thus do not protect others from their contagious germs, the 3,800-plus Texans in state TB hospitals, private and veterans' hospitals—are a part of the story which makes the Christmas Seal campaign of the TB associations important to every Texan.

HEATING CHECK URGED

It will pay to make sure all heating equipment is now ready for the winter months ahead. W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer, says no matter what kind of heating equipment you have in your home—space, central, stoves, wood burning fireplace or some other type—all normally require some maintenance. If there's a question, Allen suggests that a competent service or repair man be called.

about 30 per thousand today. The maternal death rate has been cut 94 per cent since 1936.

The amount of work needed to keep that many records and files accurate and up-to-date continues to grow.

Each certificate received is carefully reviewed, and for each error or omission noted, a query is forwarded to the person responsible for the mistake. During the last two years 25,000 such queries were mailed.

Adoptions are reported to the State Registrar and a new birth certificate in the name after adoption and showing the adopted parents as the natural parents of the child is filed.

The original birth record and the certificate of adoption are placed in a sealed file. Over 19,000 reports of adoption were received from district courts.

Amendments for change of names were attached to more than 1,000 birth certificates based on court orders.

New soil testing laboratory at Lubbock is seen as real asset

"A tremendous asset to Plains farmers," is Frank Gray's description of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service's new Soil Testing Laboratory which was opened in Lubbock Nov. 21.

Gray, an active agricultural leader for many years, has served on the Lubbock County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors since October, 1953, and as a member of the State Soil Conservation Board since May, 1959. He also currently serves as chairman of the West Texas Soil Laboratory Committee, a group which has played a vital role in the establishment of this important facility.

Gray called for continued close cooperation of all agricultural agencies and local soil conservation districts in aiding farmers to make maximum use of the soil testing laboratory. "Proper fertilization is necessary for the best economic returns from our soil and water resources," Gray said. He emphasized that "proper fertilization" includes attention to organic matter needs as well as to inorganic fertilizer requirements.

On behalf of his committee, Gray expressed deep appreciation to the various groups whose contributions have made the laboratory a reality.

They include Goodpasture Grain and Milling Company, Inc. of Brownfield; American State Bank, Lubbock National Bank, First National Bank, Plains National Bank, Citizens' National Bank, Plains Co-operative Oil Mill, Farmers Co-operative Compress, West Texas Compress and Warehouse, Plains

GAS RATE REQUEST

In other action Monday night, Mayor Shytles told Herman Heath of Pioneer Natural Gas Company that the council still wants to wait to see what "some of the other towns do" before granting Pioneer its request for a gas rate increase of approximately 10 per cent.

Heath, in presenting the company's case again for the rate increase, told the council that 26 of the 49 towns in the company's West Texas distribution system have already granted the increase. He said four towns were holding council meetings that same night and that at least three of them were expected to grant the rate increase.

Heath pointed out to the council that if they granted the increase and that if later the company found it necessary to go before the Railroad Commission to get an increase in some other town and got a higher rate than the 10 per cent they are asking, it would not affect Post's rate--"which you would have already set."

He also explained that if the Post council approved the 10 per cent increase and then the Railroad Commission gave some other town in the system a lower rate in a hearing, the Post council could, if it wanted to, meet the next night and lower its rate to the same as that set by the Railroad Commission.

PROPOSED NEW RATE

The minimum billing under the proposed rate would be $1.65 as against the present rate of $1.50.

In its request, presented the council at its Nov. 7 meeting, the company pointed out that this would be the first general gas rate increase here since 1951. In 1957, a small boost in the minimum bill was authorized by the city.

The company's rate request brochure, copies of which were presented the councilmen at their November meeting, pointed out that the average price per 1,000 cubic feet here today for domestic gas is 57.8 cents and under the proposed rate increase would be boosted to 63.4 cents. It added that the average Texas domestic rate is 75 cents.

Operating expenses and general taxes per customer has increased from $21.49 in 1951 to $31.19 in 1959. The distribution plant and equipment investment per customer has risen from $58 in 1947 to $146 in 1959. It was $110 in 1951.

The brochure also said the field cost of gas per 1,000 cubic feet has increased from 9 cents in 1952 to 15.2 cents under its present contract.

SOCIAL SECURITY VOTE

The city councilmen also voted Monday night to modify the city's Social Security agreement to cover part-time, as well as full-time employees, the effective date of the extended coverage to be Jan. 1, 1961.

The council also accepted the Post Volunteer Fire Department's bill for the year Dec. 1, 1959, to Dec. 1, 1960--a total of $5,289.

The bill showed that the fire-

AUSTIN--New efforts to change Texas' "scratch method" of voting are in prospect as a result of disagreements growing out of this year's close general election.

As the law now stands, voters using paper ballots are required to scratch out the names of all candidates but didn't notice or bother to scratch the small lists of candidates from the Prohibition and Constitution parties. Some election judges threw out these ballots. Some went ahead and counted them.

Republican leaders contend that "they might have won Texas, instead of losing by a thin margin, if the same rule had been applied on all these carelessly marked ballots."

Further, the GOP chiefs charge, the scratch method was designed to encourage voters to vote a straight party ticket.

Actually, scratching is the old, traditional way of voting in Texas. For a time during the fifties the law was changed so that a voter could either scratch out the names he didn't want or put check marks by the ones he did want. But this either-or approach was even more confusing, both to the voters and ballot counters. So the legislature changed back to the scratch-out method only.

Republican leaders failed to convince either an Austin district court or the state canvassing board (Gov. Price Daniel, Sec'y. of State Zolie Steakley and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson) that there was any evidence of fraud in the way ballots were counted this year.

But since the Legislature hardly ever has a session without doing something to the election code, the GOP will have another inning.

COURT BACKTRACKS

In a rare turnaround, the State Supreme Court reversed its previous decision on an insurance case that construed shock from watching a fire to be "accidental death."

In the case, an accountant died from a blood clot on the brain about a month after having watched fire destroy his office records. Two lower courts held that the beneficiaries of the accountant's insurance policies were entitled to the double indemnity provided for accidental death.

Several months ago the Supreme Court issued a 5-to-4 decision upholding the lower courts. On motion for re-hearing, it reversed this and held, again 5-to-4, that the case was not "accidental death."

INSURANCE BOARD VACANCY

More than usual interest will center on Governor Daniel's appointment of a new chairman of the conflict-rorn State Board of Insurance.

men answered 26 calls outside the city limits at a cost of $1,806, and 71 calls inside the city limits at a cost of $2,884. The bill also showed the city owing $499 for firemen's meetings attended, and $100 for the annual feed or banquet.

Motorists will lose an outspoken friend on the Board when Penn J. Jackson leaves to return to his old post as district judge in Cleburne.

Jackson has resigned the insurance post effective Jan. 1. He has been in open disagreement during the past few months with the other two board members over the so called merit rating plan for auto insurance. He favors scrapping the present controversial plan and letting companies set up their own basis.

Board members Robert W. Strain and Ned Price want to continue the controversial plan, at least for a time. Public indignation over the new program has been high. It ups auto insurance rates about 30 per cent on drivers who must pay the high penalty for receiving traffic tickets, regardless of their accident records. Only other recourse is to do without insurance.

Jackson's resignation means there will be two insurance board appointments to be confirmed by the Senate next session. Price was appointed last spring and has not yet come up for Senate approval. Merit rating has stirred up strong feelings, pro and con, among legislators and undoubtedly will be a factor in the behind-closed-doors discussion of Board appointees.

One of missing credit cards brings charge

Douglas Ray Scott, now being held in Seminole on another charge, has been charged in the theft of at least one credit card from the Triangle Service Station here.

Seven credit cards disappeared recently from the station, how, nobody is quite sure.

Scott had one of the cards in his possession when arrested recently in Seminole.

Rotarians see films of West Indies' trip

Clint Herring showed colored movies of his aerial vacation jaunt to the West Indies in 1959 to Rotarians Tuesday at their weekly luncheon in City Hall. Herring also told of many interesting points about those travels in response to questions from other club members.

WEEKEND VISITORS

Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Stephens were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bowen Stephens of Lubbock.

Postings--

(Continued from page 1) filled with gift suggestions from your Post merchants. As Santa Claus reminds, back on page 14, the deadline for The Dispatch's Christmas Coloring contest is Saturday noon so mail or bring your contest entries into our office right away, youngsters. If you need additional coloring sheets just stop in and ask for one. Full instructions and the pictures to color appeared in last week's Dispatch. Remember every entrant has a shot at one of the three fine prizes in his age division and every entry also will receive a free pass to the Tower Theater, courtesy of Johnny Hopkins. So get those entries in.

Postmaster Harold Voss comes up this week with his annual appeal to "get those Christmas cards in early". He reports the holiday package rush already has started and he advises everybody to get their mailings done as quickly as possible. No postal employees will be added for the holiday rush. Regular employees will be called upon for some extra time.

Residential mail delivery was extended this week to the Westgate Terrace addition. Sunset addition will be added to the city residential delivery just as soon as the Christmas rush is over. These were approved by a visit this week of a regional postal authority on city route changes.

But the big news on city residential delivery actually is the promise that the big Lincoln school area in the northeast part of the city can work into residential delivery status by getting walks from street to front door, putting up street numbers, and mail boxes.

Postmaster Voss, who is solidly behind this effort, said that residents of the area already are at work trying to bring that area up to postal requirements for residential delivery. He pointed out the streets are named and the street surfacing now is acceptable to postal authorities. The biggest problem is the walk into the door from the street.

Tom Power over at Tom Power--Ford is mighty disgusted with a new wave of hubcap vandalism which has hit his business and is planning to take action to halt the string of thefts if authorities can't round up the culprits. In the last week in three different night raids of the Ford lot, Tom has lost 12 hubcaps. That's petty to the vandals, but expensive to an auto dealer.

This is our final Community Chest appeal. The 1961 goal--big as it is--now is within reach. The campaign cleanup should boost the amount of cash and pledges over the $13,000 mark leaving less than $500 needed to achieve the goal for the nine participating organizations. A lot of folks have been missed. Won't you who have done your community share? Mail payable any time during the year or bring your check or pledge--year you designate--to the First National Bank. Campaign Chairman Leo Acker has really been busy this week picking up a lot of the pledge cards which have been sent. He still has a few more to get and big gifts has prospects for $200 or so more.

Post teams win over Crosbyton

School's boys and girls teams hammered Crosbyton, but almost lost to...

The coach and his Antelopes spent the night in various homes at Crosbyton, including those of School Supt. Sam Hawkes and Principal Wayne Hill.

In the boys' game, Post scored six points in overtime while holding the Chiefs scoreless, after the regulation game had ended with the score knotted at 31-31.

It was the Antelopes' second victory this season against three defeats.

The Does, although as cold as the weather outside in their shooting, led all the way in their 33-30 win.

Coach Watkins announced yesterday that the Does have cancelled out of this week's Friona Tournament because of the "long haul" and expense involved.

Sports Spotlight on Harold Mason

By Danny Jones and Jerry Ligon

Harold Wayne Mason was born in Post on Feb. 3, 1944. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Mason. He has lived in Post for all the 16 years of his life.

Harold Wayne was chosen captain of the Post Antelope basketball team.

Some of his favorites are: Sport, football; color, black; subject, biology; singer, Paul Anka; record, "Just a Little Bit Longer"; actor, James Stewart; actress, June Allyson; and movie, "Summer Place". His favorite pastime is sleeping.

He is undecided about the college he will attend, but his plan for the future is a good job.

Antelope band has fun at Dallas game

Friday morning, Nov. 25, at 6:30 a.m., the band boarded buses for Dallas. We have planned and anticipated this trip for a long time now. Going up there we stopped in Haskell for breakfast, lunch at Breckenridge, and we finally arrived in Dallas at 3:00 p.m.

We were met by a group of boys from the SMU band. After we checked in at Atkin's Hall on the campus, we ate supper at the cafeteria in the Student Union Building.

That night we divided into groups and went to a movie or bowling.

Early the next morning at 6:30 we were roused out of bed by Ben Howell and Coach Souter. Later when Ben and Coach Souter were sleeping everyone just happened to wander into their room and were trying to be real quiet but for some strange reason they woke up.

Coach and Ben brought Benny Schlehner and Judy Clary after the basketball game. Wayne Gambelin and John Sepeda arrived the next morning off the train. We were sorry that Ruthell and Janie didn't get to go.

Saturday morning we had breakfast at 8:00 then went to see the SMU band rehearsal. We rehearsed at 9:30 then dressed for the game and arrived at the Cotton Bowl at 1:00. It was a thrill and honor to get to perform in the pre-game ceremony and everyone had some butterflies in their stomachs.

The kids really enjoyed both the SMU and TCU bands and the game. After the game we loaded all our stuff on the buses and ate supper at Luby's before leaving.

We left for home at 7:30 and stopped in Breckenridge and Stamford. We arrived at Post at 3:30 Sunday morning after a wonderful time.

We would like to thank Mr. Barnes, Mr. Meisch, Jerry Windham and Arlon Ford for driving the buses and Coach Souter for driving some of the kids to the game.

WE NEED SOME NEWS! If there is any news anyone wants on the School Page in the Post Dispatch, please let someone in the Third period Typing II class know. We will really appreciate it.

Consolation from 'Connie's Corner'

Too-young suitor has real problem

By Gloria Peoples and Martha Goode

Dear Connie: I have been engaged to this girl for six months and we plan to get married someday. I want to get married now, but she says we should wait until we are older so as not to rush things. Anyway, she likes older men. I say we should get married now while we are young and full of life.

I'll admit we are rather young. She is only 52 and I am 53, but I think it will work out. What do you say, Connie?

Too Young: Dear Too Young: I agree with you. However, for her sake wait another month, if you live that long, and if you still feel the same way, by all means get married.

Connie

Dear Connie: I have a big problem. My Dad is mad at me and threatens to throw me out of the house if I don't shave my beard off. It's a fad where I hang out to wear a beard and I can't understand why Dad won't let me be like the other kids my age. Don't you think a girl of 17 has a right to dress and look the way she pleases? Do you think Dad should control his temper?

Bushy

Dear Bushy: I can see your point. A girl of 17 should be old enough to know how to dress and look. However, maybe if you put different colors of ribbons in your beard your dad would be more lenient.

Connie

Everyone is invited to attend.

Library Club project collection of Christmas items for the needy

By Billie Lou Hill

The Library Club will appreciate it if anyone in Post has any food, or toys that you don't need. There are boxes in the halls of PHS that you can put the items in.

We will have a party, Dec. 19, and wrap the items and tag them, then we will distribute them to the families that need these certain things that we have wrapped.

It would make a needy family very happy if they got some clothes, food, or toys for their Christmas.

Be sure and clean our your closet for any clothes that you don't need. We will take any kind of canned goods that you don't want. If you want to help some needy family have a very Merry Christmas please give us any items you don't need.

Thank you very much.

Junior High's Roving Reporter

By Sharia Pierce, Terry Power, Carol Camp, and others

Mrs. Wristen's bulletin board looks nice decorated with drawings of the Landing of Columbus, drawn by the 7th grade students.

Mrs. Baxter's class selected a committee to head the decorating of her room for Christmas. The committee members are Doyle Nichols, Sharia Pierce and Kenneth Pennell.

Junior High has decided not to draw names for Christmas this year. Instead they will have a Christmas program.

Mr. May's bulletin board is decorated with pamphlets on the heart and how it works, a picture of the circulatory system and two pictures of Benny Owen.

Who won the boxing match between Curtis Haynes and Kenneth Pennell in PE?

Junior High saw a film about how to dial our new telephones. It was a gasser!

We got new history books in the 7th grade. They are real nice and everyone likes them.

The January list of books has come in. They look interesting.

Mrs. Baxter was ill with a cold Tuesday afternoon. Her substitute was Mrs. Alexander.

This week there will be a "gossip box" in the library. Drop your news in this box and it will appear in the paper. Any juicy little bits of gossip you have will be welcomed.

Mr. May is punishing anyone who is caught chewing gum or eating candy. The girls' punishment is writing a three-page report, and the boys' three licks. The second time you are caught, the punishment is doubled.

Christmas is close, kids, so don't chew gum, talk in class and cheat on tests—until after Christmas!

I wonder who paid 25 cents for a picture of Mike Miller. Could it be you, Phyllis Mc?

LOTS OF TEXAS GIVING NECESSARY

Christmas is big project for 26,000 state hospital patients

DALLAS — Visions of a Christmas stocking big enough to reach from Wichita Falls to Harlingen is costing Mrs. Frank O. Hamilton of Dallas some sleep.

Mrs. Hamilton is chairman of the Volunteer Services Council, dedicated to making life better for almost 26,000 patients and students in 18 state operated hospitals and special schools. It's their Christmas stocking she worries about.

"It's like thinking of Christmas for the entire town of Orange or Pampa, Sherman or Denton," she said.

Mrs. Hamilton was a volunteer in the state hospitals when at most a small paper sack of hard candy, a few nuts and perhaps a bit of fruit marked Christmas for the patients as different from any other day.

"We've come a long way toward giving Christmas back to them," the chairman said, "because Texans do care about their fellow Texans. Still Christmas gifts, treats and parties for 26,000 is pretty staggering to contemplate but it's worse to contemplate disappointing a single one of them—and such a little gift can mean so much to a lonely, otherwise forgotten person."

In recent years, Mrs. Hamilton said, there has been at least one gift for each patient and in most instances it has been possible to add small items such as combs, bobby pins, cigarettes. Volunteers and hospital personnel wrap and tag the gifts, filling special patient "wishes" where possible. "Generous, warm hearted people—sometimes acting as a group, sometimes as individuals—have made this possible," she said. "We hope and believe they will remember again this year. It doesn't matter which institution receives ed how quickly the heat can be utilized, wrote up the project according to their outline and made plans for making other models. Mrs. Wristen encouraged the students to display models which they make and later these will be shown in a science fair.

In Language Arts, we are fixing up our notebooks again. We got to throw most of our old papers away—thank goodness!

Phyllis McMains' 13th birthday was honored Dec. 2. Presents received included a slip, a sweater and a game.

We all want to congratulate each other on how well the basketball teams (both boys and girls) have been doing. Terrific!

The 8th graders in Mr. Mallard's class have really been getting a treat this week. First, he told Dicky Vardman that he looked like a very handsome treader. Shirley is now "Miss Machine Gun of 1960," and—get this—we are giving reports. It's been MURDER!

Weil, Charlie, we see you finally brought Mr. Stone some tape. How come his board broken, anyway?

Mr. St. John's classes have been drawing the ear. Some are pretty good, and vice versa.

Sandy, what boys were you and Barbara comparing Monday at lunch?

POULTRY BIG BUSINESS

The day when the poultry and egg producer invested more labor than money in his operation is history. Today, one man can produce over 50,000 dozens of eggs or 400,000 pounds of broilers annually. Ben Wornell, extension poultry husbandman, says these changes have removed poultry production from a side line, backyard operation and made it a highly competitive business. The successful poultryman must also be just as successful a businessman.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The United States Post Office is quietly studying possible action on the anti-monopoly front which if it takes action, could go a long way into alleviating one vicious situation.

It would be quite humorous, too, if the Post Office, not charged with enforcing anti-trust laws, did take action in an area in which the Federal Trade Commission, specifically C. W. Harder, charged with this responsibility, has failed to act.

In the constant drive of a few big packers and manufacturers to eliminate regional competition, bigger competitions for prizes are being launched.

The big prizes are often big, such as a new home, a trip abroad for two, new cars, et al.

In fact, postal authorities are quietly questioning those who judge the entries in these contests to determine how much skill, and how much luck, enters into deciding the winners. If the winners are determined largely by chance, then it is against postal regulations for magazines, other publications entering the mails to carry the details on a game of chance.

This element of chance factor injected by the Post Office is interesting. Let it be supposed that a mythical product named Crunchies decides to put on a contest.

Now if the makers of Crunchies decide they have fooled around with local competitors long enough and now is the time to drive them off the retail shelves, they might very well dream up a contest with huge prizes given to those who send in to them, with a box top, in 25 words or less, stating "I like Crunchies because..."

This kind of a contest, advertised heavily enough in all magazines, et al, can easily bring in a million entries.

Now first of all, it is hard to imagine any manufacturer paying for the manhours necessary to carefully evaluate a million entries. But this factor is even more important.

It is safe to assume that out of a million entries, at least 5 or 10 thousand will be "I like Crunchies because they're really crunchy," or some other slogan that will win.

After all, there is a limit to the variety of things that can be said about most products, and it is certain that whatever is picked as the winner hit of language, thousands of the contestants sent in the same thing.

Thus, in any given contest of this type, there must assuredly be some element of chance employed in deciding which one of the writers of the fine "I like Crunchies because they're really crunchy" gets the all expense world tour for two. Obviously the company is not going to give 10,000 free trips away. Thus, it would appear, the Post Office is on the trail of a very hot issue.

It's the Law in TEXAS

COURT RULES PROTECT RIGHTS AND INSURE FAIR TRIALS Many people see court procedure as a mere tool of delay, of concern chiefly to lawyers and judges; but court rules are real tools of justice.

The law is made up of two parts—the "substantive" and the "procedural" law. The first defines rights, duties and remedies. It enforces contracts and rights wrongs. It describes crimes and sets up punishments. People can see its worth. Procedural law tells what steps to take to put substantive law to work for us.

Some of our most vital rights live in procedural law. A day in court means more than the right to have your say before a judge and jury. It means your right to be well represented before an impartial judge and jury, to have time to prepare for your trial. It means that you get due notice of the action against you; that the complaint or indictment shall state a clear cause of action. Due process of law means that you shall meet your accusers face to face; to cross-examine them. It means that you can present evidence in your own behalf.

The law of procedure tells you how to appeal your case to higher courts when you feel that you have not had a fair trial. Procedural law comes down to us from years of experience in the courts of many lands. Through the centuries procedure tends to become cumbersome, but it has had great periods of reform. In America, we have had many good changes in our court procedure. In the United States, we tend to give our courts the power to change rules.

Throughout its history, the state Bar has helped to study and improve court rules. The aim is a simple set of rules to do justice with speed, uniformity and fairness.

Internal Revenue busy educating taxpayers

The Internal Revenue Service folks are hard at work educating taxpayers. Some of us are ignorant about our taxes the year around, and plumb confused on April 15.

The tax folks say they haven't given up on the old folks, but they are pointing their educational program toward the youngsters. They have a free teaching kit for high school and college teachers. Last year there were over 150,000 students who learned how to fill out a simple tax return here in Texas.

If you want your son or daughter to take this short course, your school principal can get the material by writing Jim Hodges, P. O. Box 594, Dallas, Texas.

They were: Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Ella Dye, Wilma Johnston, Mrs. Marie Clayton, Mrs. Marvel Pearson, Mrs. Will Teaff and the hostess. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Teaff Monday, Dec. 12, and will be a mission and Christmas program combined.

Most unusual movie at Tower Sunday, Monday

One of the most extraordinary dramas ever brought to the screen is unfolded in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Village of the Damned," showing at the Tower Theatre on Sunday and Monday.

The stars are George Sanders and the beautiful British actress, Barbara Shelley.

This what it is about: Without warning or explanation, every inhabitant of Letchmore Heath within a certain radius of the village, is subjected to a blackout. The driver and passengers of a wrecked bus appear to be dead. An investigating plane crashes. Even the animals fall into unconsciousness.

In a matter of hours everyone recovers from the blackout, apparently unharmed. But something uncanny has happened in the interim, which manifests itself two months later.

Twelve women in Letchmore Heath find themselves pregnant, among them four unmarried women. Six boys and six girls are born to them. By the time they are nine years old, it is apparent that these supernatural children have powers of mental telepathy and are of evil intent. Feeling themselves to be menaced by the normal world, they are responsible for two suicides and plot to annihilate the entire village.

What happens in this struggle for supremacy between normal and supernatural forces? What plan does the physicist evolve to outmastermind the juvenile monsters who can determine in advance his ever thought and move?

This is one of the questions that is finally resolved in the spine-tingling climax of "Village of the Damned."

"One of the most unusual stories ever to come to our screen," said theatre manager Johnny Hopkins.

Jo Mears participates in West Texas event

Jo Mears visited her mother, Bill Mears, in Lubbock over the weekend and took part in the West Texas Barrel Racing Association tournament, of which she is a member.
