

Garza County '60 'home grown' Fair starts early Saturday, continues late

Garza County has never had a fair before anything like the "home grown" production the Lions Club has coming up today and Saturday night at the building and grounds south of Lake here.

Three lucky fair visitors going to carry home $350 of U. S. savings bonds before Midway lights are turned Saturday night.

BONDS PRIZES

The big winner goes a $200 with the runnerup receiving $100 and the third place finisher a $50 bond.

These prizes should pack a whole lot more crowd allure than the fanciest kewpie dolls ever made.

There will be thousands of other small prizes for booth winners and plenty of booths at which to try your skill.

But the prizes aren't the only attraction fair visitors Saturday —not by a long shot.

There's a big barbecue being served from 5 to 7 p. m. featuring hundreds of pounds of tender home grown beef donated by J. E. Birdwell, Ed Kelly Sims, Pearl Nance, Jack Lott, Riley Miller and Post-Montgomery. Each of the six furnished half of a beef for the occasion.

The price for a barbecue ticket is only 50 cents for all you can eat with youngsters of the family under 12 eating free.

Final plans for the county fair were made Tuesday night at the Lions Club weekly dinner session.

STELZER BARBECUE CHEF

R. G. (Wilke) Wilkerson, fair chairman, besides announcing the donations of the six half beefs by Garza ranchers also explained arrangements have been made for Matt Stelzer, the area's leading barbecue chef, to be in charge of the food preparation which will take most of the day Saturday.

County Agent Lewis C. Herron says 18 heavy 4-H Club steers are to be exhibited during Saturday afternoon. These are the steers that will be shown in October at the state fair in Dallas. Also to be exhibited by 4-H boys are five smaller steers that will be shown at the South Plains Junior Fat Stock show in Lubbock next spring.

Livestock judging will begin at 1 p. m. with Leroy Colgan of Lamesa, Dawson County ag agent, as judge. Ribbons will be given winners.

HDU women also will exhibit their work and some crop exhibits are planned.

The high school band under the direction of Robert Meisch will play a concert during the barbecue serving.

The midway carnival games and food booths will be in operation through the evening from 6 to 11 p. m.

The Lions are planning to operate booths for a spinning wheel, bottle throw, penny pitch, cigaret pitch, and hoop pitch.

WCS FOOD BOOTH SET UP

The WCS women of the Methodist church will sell pies, cookies, and coffee in one food booth. One Boy Scout booth will feature cold drinks and another will specialize in pop corn. The FFA boys both will handle hot dogs and Cokes.

There will be a pie and cake auction too, featuring the specialties of some of the county's best cooks.

Those who will donate cakes and pies to the auction include Mrs. L. W. Duncan, Mrs. J. E. Parker, Mrs. Vada McCampbell, Mrs. Roberta Herron, Mrs. Ella Mae Hubbard, Mrs. Al Norris, Mrs. L. A. Barrow, Ms. Estelle Davis, Mrs. Dick Allen, Mrs. Max Gordon, Mrs. Inez Capps of Judy's Cafe, Mrs. Nita Burress, Mrs. Paul Jones, Mrs. R. P. Tomlinson and Mrs. Bessie Bowen.

Fair Director John Carter urges everyone to come on out and make the fair a pleasant evening with friends and neighbors having fun together and renewing acquaintanceships.

Food and soft drink concessions also will be open during the day.

School tables paving plans

Plans for paving of parking area at the new Post High School were tabled Monday night at the regular monthly meeting of the board of trustees of Post Independent School District.

The board's action in tabling the plans came after they had conferred with paving contractors and an engineer.

The board members said they would wait and see how much it would cost to remodel the old high school building, which was postponed from last summer, before making definite plans to pave the parking areas at the new school.

RECONSIDER

The board told the contractors an engineer, however, that decisions within the next few weeks may change the picture and that if it does they probably will reconsider the paving.

The plans for the parking area paving called for valley gutters on the east and west side of the new high school building and hot-topping from the valley gutter to the walk.

The board also decided at the meeting to offer for sale the temporary classroom building constructed more than two years ago. The building is not being used this year and Supt. R. T. Smith explained that after the main building is remodeled, "we will have two more classrooms than we have now."

The temporary classroom building was constructed so that it can be removed.

Action taken on three juveniles

15-year-old Post boy who had been arrested at Greenleaf Hardware Co. and the American Legion Hall and to an earlier hearing at the Boy Scout Camp in Gatesville, was remanded to the state reformatory where he cannot be rehabilitated.

Judge J. E. Parker said the judge's ruling was made Thursday at a juvenile court hearing held for the boy, his 13-year-old brother and another 13-year-old boy, who were also involved in the break-ins at the hardware store and Legion Hall.

Two of the two younger boys were returned to the custody of their parents and the other to the custody of his grandparents, with whom he makes his home. Judge Parker's ruling included that all delinquent court costs be paid by the boys' parents and grandparents and that their activities be supervised to him regularly.

Judge Parker said every attempt will be made to rehabilitate the boy, but that if rehabilitation fails he will be sent to the reformatory at Gatesville.

Koeninger received a clock-radio as an award for being the outstanding ag teacher in farm electrification in District II.

The clock-radio was awarded Koeninger by Ted R. Hibbs, local manager for the utilities company.

Bradshaw, Hibbs and Sam Thomas, farm development manager for SWPS, praised the chapter and its advisor for the splendid work they have done in farm electrification.

The awards were made at noon in the ag building at Post High School.

The question now is whether there is time to do anything about the library project in time for the 1961 fiscal year. The board of school trustees is putting on the auction block next month the two-year-old "classroom cottage" behind the present junior high which is no longer needed for a school use with the new high school completed. The library study group had its "eye" on this classroom cottage as a building which could be inexpensively converted to library use.

The library boosters were willing at the time to circulate petitions.

The proposed Garza County Library project can be revived if the folks who both pay the taxes and read the library books are interested in pushing for such a project.

If you'll recall a county-appointed library study commission submitted a report to the county commissioner court last spring detailing estimated costs for the project.

No action was taken by the commissioners at that time with the court pointing out that a dip in county valuations was feared for the coming year, and thus the county could not provide any library funds without a tax boost.

Library boosters decided to wait until the valuation picture came into better focus. It has—with an increase of around $400,000 in county valuations, instead of the decrease that was feared. This raises the possibility of some available funds without a tax hike if the money is not channeled into other county needs.

The question now is whether there is time to do anything about the library project in time for the 1961 fiscal year. You'll enjoy the County Fair

It is a privilege to be able to make a contribution at any time to the Lions Club's child welfare program, but when you can also get the enjoyment of a typical West Texas county fair in return for that contribution, that makes it doubly worthwhile.

The Post Lions Club has actively carried on its child welfare program ever since the club was organized, with the Garza County Fair it sponsors each year as its only fund-raising effort outside the club. Members of the club, of course, are contributing generously of both time and money throughout the year toward their child welfare program, one of the most important phases of which is sight conservation—the purchase of eyeglasses for needy youngsters.

Adding to the general attractiveness of this year's fair, to be held Saturday, is the fact that probably for the first it will be 100 per cent home-operated—no out-of-town carnival. Incidentally, the Lions report they are getting splendid cooperation from Post non-members in the club's plan to make the 1960 fair one of the best ever held here.

The club has lined up a barbecue, an auction of baked goods and a few other attractions not held at any of the previous fairs. Proceeds from the barbecue, the auction, the midway, etc., will go into the Lions Club's child welfare fund.

Every citizen of Garza County, and as many outsiders as care to attend, are urged to visit the fair at least once during the day. There'll be plenty to see, including 4-H Club and FFA boys' livestock, and agricultural exhibits. Booth space has been assigned to a number of Post organizations and business firms.

The fair is a good thing for a good cause. Give it your support.—CD.

Knox City editor applauded

For his work in calling the "Knox County situation" to public attention, this newspaper is proud to have once had Editor James Hill of the Knox County Herald as one of its employees. Hill resigned as shop foreman at The Dispatch some two years ago to assume ownership of the Knox City paper.

As a result of Hill's efforts, a grand jury became interested and investigated the situation. Last Wednesday, the grand jury handed down a lengthy report on the way it wanted its county government to operate. Its concluding recommendation was: "That this report and list of recommendations be published in each paper in the county and, if possible, in at least two newspapers having a daily circulation in this county."

This is not to say yea nor nay to the way Knox County's business has been run. Its government is of primary concern to Knox County voters. We applaud, therefore, most heartily the grand jury's determination to get its findings on its government out into the open.

A newspaper has many functions. Mainly, it informs. It is a free enterprise institution, taking its chances in the commercial field. It answers to no government—and, no government to it.

A newspaper that is doing its job is a "spectator" of government. On behalf of its readers it keeps a sharp eye on the functioning of all phases of government with which it is in contact. The public can't attend all meetings, so the newspaper does—and so reports.

A proper newspaper, through its news columns makes no effort to tell government how it should function. Editorially it makes suggestions, but, a newspaper in the final analysis cannot correct situations not to its liking. It merely tells the public what is going on. The all-powerful public does the correcting if it decides correction is needed.

The grand jury's recommendations should take care of things in Knox County. Just keep the public informed and everything will be just fine.—CD.

School a place for parents

School is a place for parents as well as for children, and that is one of the premises on which the Parent-Teacher Association was organized.

"The school," points out a new brochure issued by the Texas State Teachers Association, "is your community center."

The TSTA brochure, which was designed to help parents of new school children, also urges: "Join your P-TA with enthusiasm and a personal sense of service."

The Post Parent-Teacher Association holds its first meeting of the new school year this week. Parents of students are not only invited, but are urged to join their P-TA, which in the last few years has enjoyed its best rate of growth since it was organized.

One of the most encouraging things about the P-TA's growth in Post is the interest the men-folk are taking in it. Until just a few years ago, membership in the local P-TA consisted entirely of women, although membership has always been open to men. During the last three years, at least, a man has served as president of the Post P-TA, and this year, the office of president, vice president and treasurer are all held by men.

There is yet time to become a member of the P-TA, take part in all of its meetings during the 1960-61 school year, and thereby join the ever-increasing number of faculty members and patrons, who, through the Parent-Teacher Association are putting out extra efforts to improve our school system.—CD.

Landowner-sportsman relations

Landowner-sportsman relations need improving and the best time to accomplish this is during the hunting season, which opened Sept. 1.

If you've ever asked and been refused permission to hunt on someone's farm or ranch, you were probably the victim of some earlier hunter's discourteous or irresponsible actions.

The wildlife specialist of the Texas A&M College Extension Service offers a few tips on hunting courtesy that will help you and the landowner become friends. They are: (1) Ask permission to hunt on any land or water; (2) Respect property; (3) Obey the law on bag limits, shooting seasons and shooting hours; (4) Inform the landowner when and where you will be hunting; (5) Do not invite friends to hunt with you unless the landowner has given permission; (6) Handle firearms in a safe manner at all times. Make certain that you do not fire toward people, buildings or livestock; (7) Offer to pay for any damages done the property of the landowner; (8) Offer to pay for the privilege of hunting; (9) Make sure that all gates are closed behind you; (10) Be courteous and friendly.

The hunter should remember that the farm or ranch is a place of business for the owner. He will appreciate your respect and interest in treating his property as a means of livelihood.—CD.

Effect of politics on business

It may well be that too many Americans ascribe too much importance to the effect of national election campaigns on business. How often does one hear it said that business is likely to drag until after election day, when we will know who the next President will be?

As a matter of fact, while politics undoubtedly has some effect on business, general economic conditions have vastly more. And a quick survey shows that in the 13 national election years of this century, business was good in eight, off in five and irregular in two. That score probably is somewhat similar to that for non-election years of this century as well.

What our contemporaries are saying

Nowadays you'll find there's nothing like a good, old-fashioned home-cooked meal . . . not in most homes anyway.—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

We've been asked to use our influence for a late frost date. This we do willingly, eagerly in fact. Late cotton crops need 20 days not usually vouchsafed a cotton crop. Since these growers keep pouring water to the crop, gambling on a late frost, we can do no better than join them. A hot, dry September would make late watering pay off everywhere except in the big, far advanced fields where the wells are being shut off. So we are betting the frost date will be late this season. We expect frost, without fail, by Christmas eve, however.—The Floyd County Hesperian.

Noted around town are a few bumper stickers which indicate that "the thinking man" prefers Richard Nixon for president.

Tommy Thompson, editor of the Amarillo Globe-Times, quotes an Amarillo attorney, just returned from a downstate swing, as saying that

"the thinking people" . . . are convinced that Amarillo is a wide open city and corruption has permeated every walk of life. (The quotations are ours.)

We're a little leery of these so-called "thinking people." Perhaps these downstate "thinking people," the ones who prefer a certain brand of filter cigarette, and the ones who prefer Nixon are all of the same clan.—H. M. Baggary in The Tullia Herald.

Be the first one in the office every morning, the last to leave at night, never be absent or sick, always work through your lunch hour, and one day the boss will come over to you and say: "I've been watching your work very carefully Jones. Just what are you up to anyway?"—Frank Hill in The Lynn County News.

Seeing the punishment that the youngsters give the automobiles which their parents furnish them wrenches a pain in the region of the pocket-book of the stodgy lookers-on.—The Floyd County Hesperian.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

IN THE STRESS and strain of trying to meet the news deadline Wednesday afternoon of last week, Publisher Jim Cornish and I reached a hasty agreement that so much is going on in Post that it is hard to find a stopping place where news is concerned.

"There's about three times as much going on in Post as in any other town its size," Jim said. Now that I have time to reflect on that statement, it seems just a little bit exaggerated, but not much, and at the time Jim made it, it appeared to me to be an understatement.

THE BIG BOTTLENECK in the news department of a weekly newspaper that really tries to cover the field is that most of the front page news is of a necessity written on Wednesday. There are other pages to fill earlier in the week, and we usually wait until late to tap our more important news sources because if we tap them too early we have to do a re-take to make sure that nothing has happened in between our contacts.

The one big news day of Wednesday is also sometimes responsible for an important news story being shorter than it should be, or, in rare cases, being left out entirely. This is hard for those unfamiliar with newspaper operations to understand. Many times they find news of much lesser importance on some of the inside pages while searching in vain for a story that should have been in but didn't make it.

OUR PRESS PRINTS four pages at a time. On a 16-page paper, four of those pages are run off early Monday afternoon. These first four pages contain only what local news we have been able to collect over the weekend or early Monday morning, editorials and features. The second four come off the press on Tuesday, and sometimes these four contain only a smattering of local news and as much of the area correspondence as we've received up to that time.

The third four-page run, which includes the sports page, goes to press Wednesday morning, and usually contains all the correspondence—the news from Garza, Justiceburg, Gordon - Southland, Barnum Springs and Close City—and such local news as we've gathered and which we don't think we'll need for page one.

THAT LEAVES four pages for the page one news, the run-over, which goes on what we call the "jump" page, the women's news, and the classifieds—plus any rural correspondence that didn't make it for one of the earlier runs. The news staff usually gets off to a flying start on Wednesday morning, but by the time the deadline has hit, our wings are drooping.

It sometimes amounts to trying to roll about three days' work into one, as far as news is concerned, leaving us haggard and worn, tattered and torn on Thursday but, well satisfied, if we don't think we've missed some news that should have been in the paper.

A QUICK LOOK at last week's Dispatch—the issue of Sept. 8—shows 18 local news stories and three pictures on page one; seven news stories, nine front page "jumps," and one picture on page 8; four news stories and three features on 7; one feature on 6; 12 major stories, seven shorter ones, three pictures and one feature on 5 (the women's page); four stories on 4 (the classified page); three stories and two features on 3; 12 major stories, a flock of shorter ones, two pictures and two short features on 9 (the sports page); two stories, two local pictures and a number of personal items on 10; three correspondents, two stories, two features and one picture on 12; two correspondents, two stories and one feature on 13; four stories, one picture and one feature on 14; one story, two features, one picture and a flock of personal items on 15. Page advertisements take care of pages 11 and 16.

We haven't written all this as an appeal for sympathy, but believe it will help the reader appreciate his newspaper more, and understand why sometimes a story coming in late doesn't receive "full" treatment, or misses the paper entirely.

OUR NEWSPAPER didn't receive this letter, but we know someone's who did.

Dear Sir: Perhaps you can help me. My wife's sister has been going out with my uncle, who is a widower, having been previously married to my mother's sister, whose daughter was my first cousin's aunt on the paternal side. What bothers me is where this leaves my oldest daughter, Paracelsa. Paracelsa is in love with my other uncle's son, my first cousin, who is a nephew of my half sister, whose mother's sister was my other first cousin's daughter. What should we do about this?

—Puzzled.

ANSWER: Emigrate.

Miss Janet Carpenter marries Billy Gerald Light Monday

The Rev. J. T. Crawford, pastor, performed the single ring ceremony Monday morning that united Miss Janet Carpenter and Billy Gerald Light in marriage. Parents of the couple are Mrs. Eva Carpenter, 309 West 14th, and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Scarborough, 213 Avenue H.

The Rev. Mr. Crawford read the service at 10:30 o'clock at the Church of the Nazarene, before an arrangement of pink gladioli. The bride wore a street-length dress of light blue wool, designed in sheath lines with three-quarter length sleeves. A large collar framed the neckline with buttons accenting the fitted bodice. She wore a blue hat with a short veil and carried a bouquet of white feathered mums and white streamers atop a white Bible.

Miss Sue Tracy was maid of honor. Her dress was navy blue, styled with a slim skirt, and her corsage was of white mums. Carol Light attended his brother as best man.

For a wedding trip to Cloudcroft, N. M., the bride chose a two-piece plaid ensemble. They will be at home here where he is employed by Rocker "A" Well Service. Mrs. Light is employed by The Post Dispatch. Both attended Post schools.

Green tapers flanked a small white tree trimmed with tiny bags of rice, wedding bells and two yellow lovebirds, with a miniature bride doll standing in front. Fair will honor senior citizens

The 1960 State Fair of Texas will pay honor to senior citizens of the state on Monday, Oct. 10, in keeping with the Fair's celebration of its 75th anniversary year.

The day has been designated as Jubilee Day and Golden Age Day at the Diamond Jubilee Exposition.

Jubilee Day will especially honor these individuals who attended one of the first five fairs, 1886-1890.

On Golden Age Day, all persons 65 years of age or older will be guests of the Fair and will be admitted free to the fairgrounds.

VISIT FROM LUBBOCK

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Evans of Lubbock visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charley Williams and other relatives.

Original Setting Rebuilt

A full-sized replica of the Alamo and parts of old San Antonio, as they looked in 1836, has been built on a ranch near Brackettville. This Kinney County town is located in southwest Texas, near the Mexican border.

Built for the biggest motion picture Hollywood has ever made, John Wayne's production, "The Alamo", this century-old setting was constructed from plans uncovered in Spain. The finest adobe craftsmen were imported. No false fronts or imitation work was performed. Walls are as much as three feet thick.

The setting is now open to the public so that tourists may see the lifelike replica of this historic event. Olf Fort Clark has been converted to a guest ranch to house the flowing tide of visitors.

Sam Said It

Fort Worth often is referred to as "Where the West Begins". Know where this saying originated?

It started after a meeting held with the Indians by Sam Houston, where Houston promised them everything west of Fort Worth.

Fort Worth is a good place to start, or end, your trip through intriguing West Texas, as interesting in its modern facilities as it is exciting in its history.

Brownsville's Jose First

Jose Ayala is its name and its number is No. 1. Jose is a miniature, but honest-to-goodness, railroad locomotive.

Today it is a tourist attraction at Brownsville, in Cameron County, on the southern tip of Texas on the border of Mexico.

Around the end of the 1800's, "Jose" was the first locomotive to pull the freight-laden, toy-like railroad cars over the Rio Grande Railroad coming from Port Isabel into Brownsville.

Eggs In Your Mail

A post office may seem like an ordinary building to most anyone, and certainly not a tourist attraction. But there is one post office in Texas that really is a sight to behold.

It is referred to as "The Federal Building" and is east of Huntsville at Point Blank, Texas, in East Texas' San Jacinto County.

Don't expect to be awed by its beauty or immense size, but do be prepared for a little chuckle. After all, what do you expect from a former chicken house?

Large Enough to En-Gulf

Three hundred and seventy may not sound like a large figure to most big-minded Texans, but it's quite a few miles for such a pleasure-packed shoreline.

We're talking about the salt water shoreline on the Gulf of Mexico, which affords thousands and thousands of Texans and visitors ideal recreation and vacation facilities each year. You can travel farther—but you can't have any more fun.

(Continued from page 1) tions for such a county library which is the method set forth by the Texas county library law to bring such a project before the commissioners court for its consideration. The court has said it wanted to be sure a majority of taxpayers favored a library project before undertaking one — but several looked askance at such petition procedures and wanted some kind of a "ballot" instead.

This has left the library boosters confused and perplexed as to how to proceed. The petition method of course is the legal way as set forth by law but if the court won't consider petitions actually then the great time and effort to pass them would be a waste of time. It's obvious the court needs "convincing" that the people really want a library—a majority of county folks that is — before it wants to proceed further. The question now is—how to go about it. Meanwhile another fiscal year is slipping past and a golden opportunity for a library building is going too.

Anybody got any ideas? The Dispatch will gladly print any letters you might want to write with your suggestions. Are you interested?

Postings this week wishes to tip its "editorial hat" to the Post Lions Club for its promotion of the Garza County Community Fair, a home-grown product which comes off Saturday afternoon and night at the county 4-H building and grounds just across South Lake from the city-county park. You'll find a full page announcement on fair activities on page 3 and you can note the big amount of prize money offered. The barbecue ought to be a humdinger with some of the juiciest beef ever promised. There'll be a whole evening of enjoyment at the many booths sponsored by local organizations. Take the time to have some fun and support one of the nicest projects anyone has undertaken around here in a long time. Take the family down for the barbecue and stay to enjoy yourself together.

The Dispatch today welcomes another new business enterprise to its advertising columns—Jack and Beth Brown's J & B Liquid Feed Co. You'll find their announcement ad over on page 13. Liquid feeding of livestock, sheep, and dairy cows is a new venture in this area. Jack tells us, but already is well established around Hereford, San Angelo, Alpine, Brownfield and Clovis. Jack has been in the livestock business all his life and is the new mixer-distributor of Morea liquid feeds in seven counties in this area, including Garza. Jack has been a resident of the area for the last ten years, being foreman of the U Lazy S Ranch for nine of those years. The firm name is the use of Jack's and Beth's first name initials. The Browns sell the liquid feed tanks and service them via tank truck.

Powell Shytles is home from "Deere Day in Dallas" where $2,000,000 of new John Deere tractors with some big major changes were displayed to dealers. He's mighty enthusiastic and will have them in Post for showing around Sept. 23. His enthusiasm for his product is pretty obvious in his page 13 ad on the "new generation of power" tractors. Watch next week for his announcement on the Post showing of this fine new farm equipment.

We'd like to call attention to the inauguration again of The Dispatch's school page again on page 16. The Post high school staff got organized this week and the junior high staff will be organized and have some copy ready for next week's school page. Principal Glenn Whittenberg promises. We hope other county schools will submit their stories too for the page—all got letters on the subject Monday from Editor Charlie Didway. That copy is needed in the Dispatch office by Monday afternoon as the page goes to press in our "Tuesday run". Printing a 16 page paper on four-page press requires four press deadlines—Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday afternoons and Thursday mornings. We hope to make the school page this year even better than last—but that will depend upon the cooperation Editor Didway receives from student reporters and school administrators.

Over on the sport page on page 9 you'll also find the first bowling standings of the two men's bowling leagues. We have the standings each week, along with bowling notes written by Post Bowling Center Manager Billy Miller. Bowling is a fine sport and like other community sports will receive full Dispatch coverage.

Rotarians of 116 nations united, local club told

Rotary clubs in 116 countries are united in these difficult times of international tensions in an endeavor to promote understanding, good will and peace throughout the world. That was the message Bruce M. Pember of Slaton, governor of District 373 of Rotary International, brought to the Rotarians of Post Tuesday noon in City Hall, following a conference with local Rotary officials Monday night in the Community Room.

In addition to the activities of the more than 10,000 Rotary clubs within their own communities to promote this objective, Pember explained, Rotary International has awarded grants of more than $3,300,000 in the past 13 years through its program of student fellowships, which enable outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own, as Rotary ambassadors of good will. Since 1947, when this program was established, 1,322 Rotary Foundation Fellowships have been awarded to students in 68 countries, with grants averaging $2,500. Donald Kats of Amarillo, Texas, will return from Switzerland in September as District 373's latest Rotary Foundation Fellow—and will bring Switzerland to Texas as he saw it.

"With fellowship and service to others as its keynote, Rotary provides a common ground for nearly 500,000 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of differing nationalities or customs or languages or political and religious beliefs," the Rotary district governor emphasized. "In addition to the promotion of international understanding," Pember continued, "special emphasis is being placed by Rotary Clubs in this district, which includes 43 Rotary clubs in the North West area of Texas, on community-betterment and vocational service undertaken within the district."

Pember urged all local Rotarians to attend the Rotary district conference to be held in Pampa in March, and to make plans for the club to be represented at the 52nd annual convention of Rotary International, which will be held in Tokyo, Japan, next year.

Bids on sale of the building will be opened by the board Oct. 10. AG PICKUP POLICY The trustees also decided Monday night to follow the same procedure on a pick-up truck for the vocational agriculture department as they are now doing on a car for driver education. That will mean setting up the vocational ag pick-up program on a rotating basis, giving all local automotive dealers an opportunity to participate. In the only other action on the agenda, Supt. Smith explained to the board that there are three reasons why driver education training is not being offered this year in the 4th grade. One is that most of the 4th graders are too young to qualify for a driver's license, another is that the course is needed to be left open for as many high school students as want to take it for the full credit it offers, and the third is that instructor N. R. King's time is needed for other courses.

Heart workshop planned Sept. 24

The first annual Heart Association Regional Workshop will be conducted at the Holiday Inn, Lubbock, Sept. 24. Members of all district heart committees and the Lubbock County Heart Association members are expected to attend.

This meeting is the first of its type in the West Texas area and is designed to meet the growing need of dissemination of Heart Association material available in the fields of research, community service and public education, in addition to campaign activities needed to support such programs in all localities. A complete program of this meeting will be sent all members of both Associations, with the request they bring with them everyone they know to be interested in this work. The Lubbock County Planning Committee on this meeting will submit the final agenda before Sept. 15 and notification will be mailed out well in advance of the Sept. 24 meeting date.

Ernest T. Guy, executive director of the Texas Heart Association, will be the principal speaker, accompanied by James Blozie, State Consultant. Blozie will present campaign organization details and will be available for personal consultation on any local problems.

Garza gets ruling on baseball help

The County of Garza cannot grant public money to the youth baseball program here, according to an opinion received by the commissioners' court from the office of the Attorney General of Texas.

Announcement of the ruling was made yesterday by County Judge J. E. Parker following a session of the commissioners' court. The county had been asked to contribute to improvements at the Little League and Babe Ruth League baseball parks.

The numerous opinions cited by the attorney general were based on the premise that "a county has no right to donate money to any organization run by individuals unless such organization is controlled and owned by the county." Judge Parker said the court had tried to find a way to respond to the baseball organization's request for assistance, but that under the state constitution it is unable to make any financial contribution of any kind.

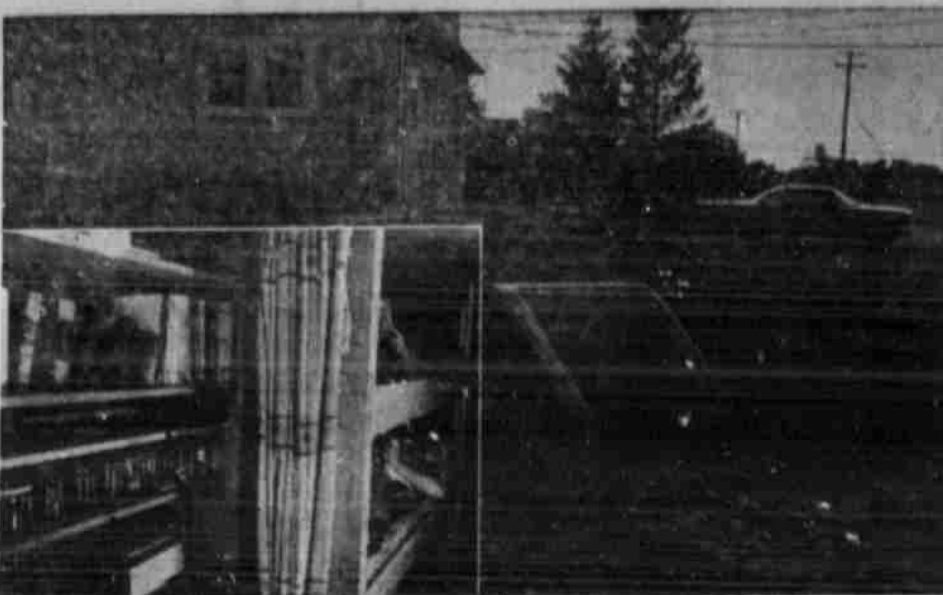

DWI guilty pleas bring penalties

Two men pleaded guilty in county court this week to driving while intoxicated. The guilty pleas were entered by Melvin Thomas Florence and Alfred Bennett Cowdrey. Each was fined $50 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months. Florence was charged with DWI after his automobile turned over on North Broadway near the city limits. After being taken by ambulance to Garza Memorial Hospital for treatment of a head injury, Florence, officers said, fled on foot, but was apprehended a short time later and returned to the hospital.

FALLOUT SHELTER built by Louis Severance adjacent to his home near Akron, Mich., includes a special ventilation and escape hatch (right), an entrance to his basement, tiny kitchen, running water, sanitary facilities, and a sleeping and living area (inset) for the family of four. The shelter cost about $1,000. It has a 18-inch reinforced concrete ceiling with thick earth cover, and concrete walls. Severance says, "Ever since I was convinced what damage H-bombs can do, I've wanted to build the shelter. Just as with my chicken farm, when there's a need I build it." (OCDM Photo)

Liquor license denial upheld

The decision of County Judge J. E. Parker in denying L. D. Stewart's application for a beer and wine retailer's on-premise license was upheld Thursday in an appeal hearing before Judge Truett Smith of the 106th Judicial District. Judge Smith ruled that "the court finds that substantial evidence existed at the time of the hearing by the county judge to support his findings." Stewart's application for the license was filed July 25 and the application was denied by the county judge Sept. 2.

Man pleads innocent to liquor violation

Solomon Bunton Jr. of Lubbock pleaded innocent Monday in county court to a charge of unlawfully transporting liquor. His bond was set at $500 by County Judge J. E. Parker. Bunton was arrested by Liquor Control Board agents about three miles northwest of Post on U. S. Highway 84. The place of business for which application was made was to have been located 3 of a mile south of the Crosby County line on FM Road 451.

Extensions--

THE OTHER PROPOSAL

The policy proposed by Patterson and Walker and rejected by the city council provided for subdivision and additional developers to bear the costs of all materials, labor and engineering, with the total cost of a particular project to be prorated among the building sites on a front-foot basis and the developer to be reimbursed 100 per cent for the total cost. The manner of reimbursement proposed to the council was that 50 per cent of the cost prorated against a building site be refunded to the developer at the time that the ultimate purchaser places with the City of Post a deposit for water charges and begins to purchase water from the city.

The proposal continued that the remaining 50 per cent of the development cost be paid to the developer by applying to his credit 5 cents for each 1,000 gallons of water consumed or sold at the building site, and further crediting to the developer all the sewer charges collected from the site. The repayment plan would continue in force for 10 years or until the developer recovered the total cost for the project, whichever came sooner. All costs not recovered by the city during the 10-year period would be forfeited to the city under the terms of the proposal.

The docket is as follows: James Robert Johnson, driving while intoxicated; H. Bruce Bryan, hunting quail from pick-up; G. V. Post to play old foes, Spur Bulldogs, here Friday

Visitors hold big edge in recent years' games

The Spur Bulldogs, who have the upper hand over the Post Antelopes for more than a decade, are back into Antelope Stadium tonight to try to extend their string of victories. They are expected to do just that.

The Antelopes of Coach Vernard Anderson will be seeking their win after setbacks at the hands of Ralls and Colorado City. The Royal James' Bulldogs, on the other hand, have a 1-1 mark in the young season. They lost to opener to Floydada, 6 to 0, and bounced back last Friday to pin a 12-0 defeat on Aberdeen.

This season, Spur is operating in district 6AA, where they are co-regions along with Hamlin for the championship. Prior to this season, they had been in the same district as Post for seven years.

The nearest a Post eleven has come to winning over Spur in the last ten years was in 1958 when the Bulldogs edged the Antelopes, 14 to 13.

Coach Alexander said today that the Post squad is in good shape for Friday night's game, and he came through their bruising 33-0 defeat at Colorado City without any serious injuries.

The Antelopes' depth problem became more acute this week when the squad members decided to drop football. Those checking in equipment were sophomores Polk, Frankie Gary and Jerry Sutt and junior Richard Cook.

The post coach said today that he plans to move Harold Mason to the backfield in a try to pick up more size and speed. The tall end probably will alternate with co-captain Jimmy Miller at fullback.

ARTISTS NAMED
With Mason shifted to the backfield, the coach plans to start Floydada teams will play in Post today.

The Floydada "B" and freshman teams are scheduled to play Post today, with the freshman getting under way at 6 o'clock.

The Post gridders will be seeking revenge for defeats handed out at Floydada Sept. 1 when the "B" team lost, 16 to 0, and the freshman team, 8 to 0.

7th, 8th grade gridders defeat Slaton in two

The first 1960 victories by Post football teams were chalked up today night at Slaton when the 7th graders won by a score of 10 to 6 and the 8th graders by a score of 15 to 8.

Buddy Scott scored two touchdowns and had another called back.

Scott broke through on a dive play and went 70 yards on the first play from scrimmage, but the sensational play was rubbed out because of an offside penalty.

Scott then scored the first touchdown on a 10-yard run, and Cross added another in the second quarter on a roll-out. Post led 12 to 6 at halftime.

Owen scored in the third quarter and also crossed over for the extra points to up the score to 20-6. Scott went 30 yards on an end sweep for the fourth TD and also raked up the extra points.

Other standouts on offense included back Ronnie Simpson and end Danny Pierce, who went 40 yards on a pass play, with Cross on the throwing end.

Coaches Glynn Gregg and Richard Souther named as their defensive stalwarts Billy Mitchell, Dickie Vardiman, Tommy Rinker, Jackie Beavers, Charlie Brown, Jackie Braddock and John Suttler.

In the 7th grade game, Post held a 12-0 halftime lead.

Lamar Jones scored two of the Post TDs and Ruben Salinas accounted for the other one. Fullback Manuel Mimieta had a 50-yard touchdown run called back.

Birch Lobban was in at quarterback for the Post team.

Charles Clark, who with Don Watkins coaches the team, singled out Donnie Cornell, Willis Sims and Salinas as outstanding on defense.

A number of 8th grade boys played, with four of them in the line-up on one of Post's sustained scoring drives.

Pick up birds is advice from warden chief

AUSTIN—"Pick up those birds," warns the director of law enforcement, Game and Fish Commission. "Some hunters are careless about recovering their kills when they go into the field to hunt doves and whitewings. These people are detrimental to the honest and responsible hunters and fail to see the damage this causes to the bird crop."

The director encourages every hunter to make an honest attempt to search out any and all birds killed or wounded. He reminds shotguns that picking a stand is important to the recovery of birds. First, don't shoot a bird if it will fall into heavy brush. "It's best to let the bird escape than to waste it," he said.

Second, if you shoot a bird, be certain to mark it even if it falls into an open field. "Get a line on something in the background and walk straight toward it keeping a sharp eye on the ground. A dove blends well with the soil in most areas."

One reminder suggested by the warden chief is that "even if a hunter fails to recover his birds, he had better keep a close count of them. Wardens will be in most areas, and they will apprehend a hunter for shooting more than his limit, whether he picks them up or not."

Those hunters who abide by the law and have faith in rules and regulations can help themselves by reminding irresponsible hunters who leave their birds lie, that it's wrong, and can't be tolerated.

'Lopes no match for Wolves, lose 53-0

The Colorado City Wolves rolled up their biggest score in more than ten years Friday night to eat up the Post Antelopes, 53 to 0, on the Wolves' gridiron.

The Wolves rolled up a wide statistical margin in completely outclassing Coach Vernard Alexander's outmanned Antelopes, who, even in one-sided defeat showed some improvement over their previous week's performance when they lost to Ralls, 26 to 6.

The Antelopes managed to complete more yardage both rushing and passing than they did in losing to Ralls, but over-all they were about as deficient on offensive blocking and on defense as they were in their opening game defeat.

FEW BRIGHT SPOTS
The few occasions bringing cheers from the Post fans included a 20-yard scamper by halfback Richard Ray on the Antelopes' first play from scrimmage, a fumble recovery by halfback Tommy Boucher, a nice runback of an intercepted pass by fullback Wendell Duncan, a pass from quarterback Leslie Acker to end Dewayne Capps for a 31-yard gain, and Duncan's punting.

The nearest a Post eleven came to scoring was early in the third quarter when Colorado City, deep in their own territory, gambled on fourth down, with Post taking over on the Wolves' 32.

Fullback Jimmy Minor took a pitch-out from Acker and went 13 yards for a first down on the 19. Minor lost a yard in a stab at the line. Acker's jump pass to end Bobby Beard failed to connect, and Minor recovered his own fumble for a four-yard gain to bring up a fourth down and seven to go situation. Boucher was stopped for no gain in a try at the line and the ball went over on downs.

GET EARLY START
The Wolves started their scoring parade after tailback Don Vest returned the game's opening kickoff 13 yards to the Wolves' 33.

With quarterback Jerry McKay, Vest and halfback Gary Lightfoot alternating in jugging the leather, the Wolves went all the way, with McKay putting the icing on the cake with a 15-yard run. Lightfoot made it 8-0 with a successful extra point carry over center.

Following an exchange of punts (the Wolves kicked only once during the game), the Colorado City eleven drove from its 14 to the 40, from where halfback Wayne Reed sprinted 60 yards behind blinding blocking for the touchdown. The TD came on the first play of the second quarter, and Vest cracked the center of the line for the two points that put the Wolves out in

LOPES BOG DOWN
The Antelopes were unable to move after receiving the kickoff, and Boucher's punt rolled dead on the Colorado City 43.

Assisted by a 15-yard personal foul penalty against the Antelopes, the Wolves drove to the Post 19, but Boucher pounced on a fumbled lateral at that point to halt the threat.

Post drove for two first downs to the 40 on jump passes from Acker to Beard and end Harold Mason, but a 15-yard clipping penalty and two losses on running plays set them back to the 13. The ensuing punt was returned 11 yards to the Post 27, and two plays later, Doug Hodges went 24 yards for another TD. The try for point failed.

Colorado City took over on downs on the Post 20 and had time for an unsuccessful field goal before the half ended.

WOLVES HIT AGAIN
For some nine minutes in the third quarter, the Antelopes held the Wolves in check, but McKay went 34 yards for a touchdown with 2:18 to go. The try for extra points failed, and Colorado City was ahead 28-0.

Only 58 seconds of the fourth quarter had elapsed when the Wolves struck again, with Vest bucking over from the one-yard line after a drive from the Post 31. A field goal attempt for the extra point failed.

The sixth Colorado City touchdown came with 8:35 to go in the final period, with Reed going 33 yards for the counter. A pass try for the points failed to connect.

After taking Duncan's punt on their 37, the Wolves racked up another touchdown, this time on a 33-yard pass from quarterback Dan Latimer to halfback Buddy Comp-ton. A place-kick attempt failed to add the extra points.

DUNCAN INTERCEPTS
The final touchdown came with 2:34 to go and followed a pass interception by Post's Duncan on his 16 and a nice runback of 39 yards to the Wolves' 45. On the first play, Colorado City pulled an interception of their own, grabbing a pass on their 31 and getting back to the 46.

Reed scooted for a first down on the Post 44, and on the next play, Jim Womack skirted his left end, fell in behind good blocking and went the distance. Vest kicked the extra points to boost the score to 53-0.

After receiving the kickoff, the Antelopes racked up two consecutive first downs, with Minor carrying for gains of 17 and 10 yards, and hitting for seven more yards on the final play of the game.

Minor, Acker and Ray all flashed brilliantly at times on offense, with linemen Bobby Hudman and Jimmy Ivie standing out on defense.

New teacher for world history

By Robbie Nutt

Let's give a great big welcome to our new world history teacher and 7th grade coach, Mr. Charles Clark. He was born in Atoka, Okla., in 1936.

He attended school in Lubbock. He also attended Paris Junior College and Southeastern College.

Better luck next time girls, but he is married. His wife is Kathryn Clark and they have two girls whose ages are 3½ and 10 months.

Mr. Clark chose teaching because he likes to work with teenagers. Just give him time! Or should I say us?

His favorites are: Pastime, football and sports; Music, Dean Martin, and he likes classical music. He isn't afraid because he also likes Elvis; Food, steak; Colors, Black and Gold.

other schools in the county—Southland, Justiceburg, Close City and Lincoln Elementary—haven't had quite enough time to come up with a contribution to this first school page edition.

We look for them all to be in next week, however.

Some eight months of interesting, even exciting, school news is in prospect for regular readers of the Garza County School Page.

Student Council plans pending

No definite plans have been made in the Student Council as yet but President Jane Maxey and Vice-President Judy Clary met before school started and discussed different ideas with the new principal, Mr. T. C. Clark.

There hasn't been an organized meeting of the Student Council because the classes or other organizations haven't met to elect their Student Council representatives.

The Student Council is supposed to get the concession stand at basketball games this year in order to raise money to send delegates to the state convention in Odessa.

School Page Editorial
SCHOOL SPIRIT... DO YOU HAVE IT?

If you'd like to see your team win, then come out and do your part, too, by supporting them.

Our school isn't represented just by that team on the field. It is represented by each and every one of us; the band, cheer leaders, students and adults. Every person in Post fits into one of these groups. If you don't want your team to let you down, then don't you let them down.

In pep rallies if anyone feels like it's a little on the sissy side to yell, they are a little too tough. Let them come out for football a few days and see what it's like.

We know that our boys feel as if no one has any faith in them when they lose a game. That's not the general attitude of the students, though, we are happy to say.

It takes a special kind of boy to work and sacrifice all year to make that team. He has to love that game an awful lot to even get out there, knowing he may not win every time, or possibly be hurt. No one likes to lose, but it takes a lot of willpower to stay out there when you do.

Let's all come out Friday night and back our boys to a VICTORY!

Three women compose PHS English staff

The English staff of Post High School is composed of three women teachers this year. A new member of our staff is Mrs. Ryder, who comes to us from junior high. Mrs. Ryder is teaching English III and IV. Mrs. King, who is in her second year of teaching, is doing a fine job with English I. Last, but surely not least, is Mrs. Smith, who is teaching English I. Incidentally, the student body was sorry to learn Mrs. Smith's mother passed away this week.

All four sections of English classes are studying English literature for the first semester. Everyone seems to be enjoying it. We hope to have a good year in English, and we believe we have some of the best English teachers of any to be found.

Shop and mechanical drawing gets start

Mr. Hopkins' classes in woodwork and mechanical drawing seem to be well under way. The students in the woodwork classes have started choosing plans for their projects.

The mechanical drawing classes have begun the semester with engineering type drawings.

Audie Murphy stars in western booked two days at Tower

Vividly sketched film portrayals by stars Audie Murphy, Felicia Farr and Stephen McNally, plus a compelling frontier story of the 1870's have been deftly combined in the filming of "Hell Bent for Leather," which shows Friday and Saturday at the Tower Theatre.

The highly entertaining net result of the combined qualities displayed by the stellar performing cast and the "men behind the cameras" is one of the most suspenseful western stories to date.

"Hell Bent for Leather" pits Audie Murphy in the role of a wandering cowboy who is mistaken for a wanted murderer when he wanders into the frontier town of Sulterville, against a ruthless town marshal, portrayed by Stephen McNally, who would kill an innocent man rather than jeopardize his record of convictions.

BIOLOGY NEWS

Biology classes are studying animal life. Many of the students have begun their insect collection for the year. Each student is required to collect from 25-50 insects, mount them, and name them. The students are also writing reports on different types of animal life.

New library is well arranged

Mrs. McRee has worked very hard in our new high school library to arrange the material in the way she thinks will be most helpful to the students. The non-fiction books are labeled and shelved in sections of the library according to their kind, with use of the duo-decimal system. Signs are over each type of book which can be read with ease from across the library by students who are trying to find a special book shelf.

This year the library has received many new books, both fiction and non-fiction. We also receive current magazines throughout the year. They have been arranged in alphabetical order in the magazine rack by the check-out counter. If every student does his part and places a returned magazine back in its proper place, this should prove a great time-saver for Mrs. McRee and the library help, as well as for the students.

The library opens at 8 a. m. and remains open until 4:30 p. m. each school day, so anyone who needs a study period may feel free to use this extra library time.

An added attraction in our new library has been the flower arrangement with a book-worm theme which was presented by the First National Bank at the school open house. Many students have noticed it and appreciate the thoughtfulness of the bank.

'Post Does' new name for girls' basketball team

The Post girls' varsity basketball team are very proud of Mr. Watkins, their new coach. He is from Friona, is married and has one small girl.

We have seen a lot of improvement and everyone is willing and capable of working.

We have changed the name of Antelopes to the "Post Does". With this new name we are looking forward to a new season with many victories.

Everyone has been working very hard this year. There are around 30 girls that have gone out for basketball this year. Our first scrimmage will be at Silverton, Nov. 5. Teams entered are Claude, Friona, and White Deer.

Saturday night the girls and their parents along with Coach Watkins and his wife, had a social at the Community Room in the new bank building. Refreshments of lime sherbet and ginger ale punch with cookies were served. We enjoyed getting to know each other and hope to do something like it again.

Chemistry students all 'sorta' confused

The chemistry students are all walking around in a daze. It seems they are all kind of confused. In fact, their motto, password, and favorite saying, are all: "I don't understand!"

These students have been studying about matter and energy, elements and their valences, and laws for gases.

Oh, yes, they are the only chemistry students in the state with "dish-pan hands". They had to wash all the chemistry apparatus.

ENROLL IN COLLEGE

Glendon Washburn, Horace Smith and Curtis Didway left Sunday for San Angelo to enroll for the fall semester in San Angelo College. Donald Young also is enrolled in the college. All four boys are 1960 graduates of Post High School.

WANTS PEP SQUAD
Dear Editor:
I believe I speak for a great many fans when I say that I thoroughly enjoyed the Colorado City pep squad last Friday night. Any such organization is a credit to a school.

I would like to give due credit to our five hard-working and very attractive cheer leaders and the 10 girls and one boy who try so hard to take the place of a pep squad. They are entitled to have an organization to work with and be proud of.

We have a band that is equal to the average Class AA school. It has come a long way and I for one am proud of it and Mr. Meisch. If we had a pep squad in uniform with a bus for transportation and rules to abide by, they could help the band carry the load of cheering the boys whether they win or lose, and make the cheerleaders and few cheering students feel like their efforts were worthwhile.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Byron Haynie

Q Now that the right to apply for a GI loan has been extended for World War Two veterans, I may want to get a loan to go into business with a friend who is not a veteran. Is this possible?

A Yes. You may join with a non-veteran in obtaining a loan. However, the amount of the loan on which VA guaranty or insurance can be based will be in proportion to your interest in the loan. VA cannot guarantee any part of the loan which represents the non-veteran's contribution to the business.

Q I'm about to start on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill. How many hours a week are considered to be full-time training?

A Full-time training is considered to be the standard workweek of the firm where you are taking your training. However, it generally may not be less than 36 hours a week.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD
Hot news seldom stays hot. But talk about the .22 Caliber Winchester Magnum Rim Fire Cartridge has not cooled off yet. Main reason the new cartridge remains so newsworthy is that it affects more people than do the ordinary new developments in firearms and ammunition.

Nearly everyone who has his own private arsenal, whether of one gun or 100, has a .22 caliber rifle or pistol. The marvelous .22's are versatile and are the least expensive to shoot.

Development of the .22 W.M.R., announced last year, is the first significant development in .22 Rim Fire Cartridges in 60 years.

This cartridge is not a modification of any of the present cartridges, but is an entirely new cartridge. It was designed to fill the void between the conventional rim fires and the .22 Hornet, which is a center fire cartridge.

The bullet is a 40 grain jacketed hollow point expanding bullet. Fired from a 24-inch barrel, the bullet is driven at a muzzle velocity of 2,000 feet per second.

PREDATOR SHOOTING
This cartridge should be ideal for predator control and mid-range varmint shooting. Game of small and medium size are beginning to feel the effect of these bullets, and the hunter is paying only about half as much for his shells as he formerly did before the appearance of this little powerhouse.

Oddly enough, when Winchester announced this shell, they didn't even have a gun that could fire it. However, Savage didn't take long to alter their popular Model 24 over-and-under by boring the rifle barrel to fit the .22 W. M. R. Mossberg produced a bolt-action in a single shot and a 5-shot clipped repeater. Marlin announced a lever-action model.

In rapid fire time Ruger, High Standard and Colt all announced their versions of the peacemaker six-guns designed for the .22 W.M.R.

Now Winchester has a rifle for their fabulous new cartridge. Winchester modified the well-known Model 61 slide-action repeater as their .22 magnum entry on the market.

Don't be sending in your old Winchester 61 for modification.

BEWARE TULAREMIA
Speaking of rabbits, let's not forget that summertime cautions about the rabbit fever—Tularemia. When that hare takes off in a scared run, take an extra 100 and see if he's running as fast as he should. If he's loping off like a sort of a strained, dopey run, leave him be.

Be extra careful when you're cleaning your rabbits too. Use rubber gloves and don't touch the meat with your bare hands. You do, then wash your hands quickly and thoroughly with soap.

Tularemia is transmitted to humans primarily by absorption through cuts or punctures in the skin, while handling the raw meat of rabbits. The meat is safe to eat, after it has been thoroughly cooked, so the danger lies in preparing for the feast.

If you're a wise hunter you know to play it safe in the field, use your weapon. So play it just hair safer when handling the hare.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. —(Romans 5:1)

We have faith that the sun will rise tomorrow; that when we turn them on, the electric light, the TV and the radio will work... belief in the operation of powers we cannot see or comprehend. Why, then, does our faith in God often falter? Without it, we can have no peace.

About your health

Since its beginning on March 1, 1960, 13 Texas cities have passed ordinances under Section 12 of the Texas State Meat Inspection Law. Section 12 pertains to the Municipal-State Cooperative Meat Inspection Program which is gaining popularity in Texas by cities and meat packers alike.

An inspection program must be developed by the municipality as required by the State Department of Health. "Regulations Governing Meat Inspection."

Since the beginning of the cooperative program, Division of Veterinary Public Health meat inspectors have surveyed 100 meat packing plants for approval upon request by the local health officer of the area.

Formal approval or disapproval of the individual plants are then made by the State Health Department.

The 13 cities that have passed ordinances including the required provisions are: Amarillo, Lubbock, Pecos, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Whitewright, Fort Worth, Dallas, Mount Vernon, Palestine, Waco, Luling and Houston.

Included in the program are all types of meat production including beef, mutton, goat, pork, poultry, rabbit and game birds.

The effectiveness of the program is enhanced by the cooperation of the meat packing industry in Texas.

In addition to the 13 cities approved, 11 more are in the process of drafting the required ordinances.

The advantages of the Municipal-State Cooperative Meat Inspection Program, aside from assuring safe quality meat products, affords greater opportunity for intra-state shipment of meat products.

An approved plant may ship its products anywhere in Texas, however, meat processed by an unapproved plant may not be shipped into a city with the complying ordinance.

Careful Texas shoppers are assured of a safer quality of meat and meat products if they buy a meat affixed with the "Texas State Approved" meat label.

"The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," Mark Twain's hilarious story of reckless adventure on the Mississippi in the days of the river-boat, shows at the Tower Theatre here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The film boasts one of the biggest aggregations of comedy stars ever brought together for a single picture. Ranging from old-timers to today's laugh headliners, the group includes Buster Keaton, Andy Devine, Sterling Holloway, Judy Canova, Mickey Shaughnessy and Tony Randall.

Also included in the cast, as "Jim," the runaway slave, is Archie Moore, world's light heavyweight boxing champion and one of the sports world's most remarkable celebrities.

The big role of "Huck" went to a 13-year-old Eddie Hodges as the screen's most important juvenile role of the year.

"The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," released by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, was produced by Samuel Goldwyn Jr. and directed by Michael Curtiz.

Bible Thoughts "TRUTH"

By RONNIE PARKER

Truth is the object of all research. Doctors search for the truth about the heart, cancer, and other diseases. Scientists are looking for truth in all fields. The honest soul seeks the truth of God.

Jesus said to those Jews which believed on Him, "If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." (John 8:31, 32).

Men should want their lives to be in harmony with truth for it is bitter disappointment to stand in the wrong. Life becomes miserable and one stands condemned. Solomon says, "Buy the truth and sell it not." (Prov. 23:23). He is simply telling us to pay the price for truth, whatever it is, and sell it at no price.

Truth saves only when applied. It is obedience to the truth that purifies. Our task is to get men to believe it, obey it, abide in it, and their souls will be saved. Seek it, love it, live by it, and your life will always be rich and full. Jesus is the way, the truth and the life.

It's the Law in Texas...

STATE SOMETIMES "INHERITS" PROPERTY
 Made your will? If not, the State of Texas may wind up as owner of your estate upon your death. Under our statutes, the estates of persons having no heirs who die intestate revert, or "escheat", to the State.

Such provisions have been carried over from the English common law. There, under such circumstances, the estate escheated to the British crown. The theory of the process is that the sovereign (or State), having been the original owner of all lands before they were parcelled out to individuals, is entitled to a return of such lands when the possibilities of legal inheritance have been exhausted.

This idea has been expanded to include personal property as well as real estate. It also applies in the case of a person absent for a term of seven years and not known to exist who leaves no heirs and no will.

Presumably, there is hardly a person who does not have some individual or charity that he would prefer to have his estate, rather than have it go to the State by default, so to speak. Yet, surprisingly, estates worth many thousands of dollars do escheat to the various states from time to time.

Now, before you shrug the matter off with the idea that these statutory provisions could not possibly apply to you, better think a minute. Suppose you and your spouse have no heirs besides each other and your children. Many people do fall into this category.

In event of a catastrophe resulting in death for you and your entire immediate family, no legal heirs would remain. Therefore if you had no will, your property would go to the State. In preparing a will, it is possible to provide for such an eventuality.

In this hypothetical case, you would probably want to designate some friend as executor, to take care of all necessary arrangements and then distribute the estate according to your wishes.

On the other hand, if you have plenty of possible heirs, a will could be used to designate which of them shall participate in the division of the estate. And even if you wish your property to be distributed entirely in accordance with our statutes of descent and distribution as explained in previous columns, a will can perform useful functions. Among other uses, a will could provide for an orderly and economical partition of your property, preventing any waste of the assets by heirs impatient for a settlement.

What happens to property which escheats to the State? Following certain required legal formalities and court proceedings, all escheated lands are set apart to the Permanent Free School Fund of the State, and may be leased and sold by the Land Commissioner under certain regulations. Escheated personal property is sold by the local sheriff under a court writ and the money received therefrom paid into the State Treasury.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

A familiar sight . . . men with briefcases daily throng airports all over the nation, winging their way from one place to another. But where, really, are they going?

In this busy age of appointments, rush hours, and summit meetings, we search for success, for more money, for a better future, for a variety of things. Yet, like so many mid-twentieth century Americans, the harder we seek the less we find.

We need a job, a purpose, a home, a family. But also, we need a church. We need to go into that church to reaffirm our faith both in God and in our fellow beings. Only then does our quest — and our ultimate destination — begin to make sense.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

He will not try to anyone who wants to com- out the National Democracy platform, says Gov. Daniel.

This prediction is made by Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria, chairman of the Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy. Fly was defeated in his race for re-election last May but contended his tax stand had nothing to do with it.

Those who do come back, said Fly, may face the need to raise as much as $100,000,000 in new money. This is the estimated new revenue need if the Legislature enacts bills to raise teacher pay and provide medical aid for older people—both programs with wide popular support.

Latest report by the tax study group shows that Texas families are now paying less state taxes than the national average. Annual state tax bite on a theoretical "average" Texas family is $115.89 a year. Nationally, the "average" family pays a state tax bill of $235.51 a year.

MEDICAL AID URGED
Legislation to provide state-federal payments for medical care for Texans on old age assistance has near-top priority on his list, says Governor Daniel.

He noted that there are in state mental hospitals some 3,000 older people who are not really mentally ill, but who have no other place to go.

A medical aid program that would make possible the care of these people in nursing homes or their own homes would be "a great step forward," said the governor. Enactment of such a program, he told the statewide Conference on Aging, is "near the top of the list of unfinished business of this administration."

He noted that a constitutional amendment to make such a program possible was approved by Texas voters nearly two years ago.

INVESTMENT EASING SOUGHT
State Board of Education will ask the next Legislature to pass a law allowing investment of some of the permanent school fund in corporate stocks and bonds.

Object would be to obtain high earnings from the $400,000,000 trust and provide a hedge against future inflation. Investment in corporate securities has already been allowed under the law for the University of Texas permanent fund, but the public school fund is limited to government bonds.

Board of Education also went on record as favoring salary raises for Texas teachers, noting that teachers trained here are being lured away by higher salaries in other states. No specific amount was suggested for the raise.

YOUTH COUNCIL HARMONIZES
With past differences smoothed over, the Texas Youth Council is now in accord over the executive director's purchase of government surplus buildings.

Earlier, Council Chairman W. C. Windsor Jr. of Dallas had declared that Dr. James Turman did not have authorization to purchase the two buildings for $230. Other two Council members backed up Turman. Windsor called a special meeting to look into the matter.

After conferences, which Governor Daniel also attended, Windsor announced he was completely satisfied.

Turman said he had been offered $25,000 for one of the buildings purchased for $150 but that the contract with the government forbade such a re-sale.

One building is to be used to provide a classroom for Negroes at the Gatesville School for Boys and the other a lunchroom for the Gainesville School for Girls.

SHORT SNOOTZ
August collections for the state wine, liquor and cigarette taxes totaled $9,611,005, reports State Treasurer Jesse James. This is an increase of $2,473,188 over August collections a year ago which was before tax increases went into effect.

State general revenue fund ended the fiscal year last month with a deficit of $34,572,407. Department of Agriculture has announced the beginning of a demonstration livestock auction market news program beginning Oct. 18. Two livestock auction reporters are now being trained under the direction of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

At a public meeting of the citizens of Fort Bend County, Texas, to inquire into the charges of Abolitionism made against two citizens of Illinois, named Hughes and Parker, the said meeting having convened on the 18th day of August, 1860, in the town of Richmond the following action was had:

"Be it resolved that Hughes and Parker, map-peddlers, having strongly suspected of being abolition spies, and the proof before us satisfying us of their guilt, we hereby order them to leave the State of Texas for some State north of Mason and Dixon's line, and that they never again return to Texas or any Southern State under the penalty of death.

Be it further resolved; that they be placed in the custody of some competent person or persons, to be appointed by the Chairman of the meeting, whose duty it shall be to conduct them to Galveston and have them placed upon some vessel going direct to some port north of Mason and Dixon's line."

The laws of Texas are more full and complete on this subject than some of our citizens seem to think. They provide that any person who shall, in the presence or hearing of any slave, utter words, calculated and with the intent to render such slave discontented with his state of slavery, or who shall, by words or speech addressed to a slave, endeavor to render, said slave discontented with his state of slavery shall be punished by confinement in the Penitentiary not less than two nor more than five years.

Any free person who shall publicly maintain that masters have no right of property in their slaves, either by speaking, or printing, shall be punished by confinement in the Penitentiary not less than two nor more than four years.

Any person who shall privately or otherwise than publicly maintain that masters have no right of property in their slaves with purpose to bring the institution of slavery into disrepute in the mind of any free inhabitant of this State, or of any resident for the time being herein, shall be punished by confinement in the Penitentiary not less than two nor more than five years.

If any free person shall write, print, publish or cause to be written, printed or published, any writing incalculating resistance to the right of property of masters in their slaves, or calculated to produce in slaves a spirit of insubordination, with the intent to advise or incite negroes in this State to rebel or to make insurrection, or if he shall, with the intent to give effect to the tendency or to aid the purpose of any such book, writing, or publication, knowingly circulated the same, he shall be punished by confinement in the Penitentiary not less than two nor more than seven years.—CIVILIAN.

POSTMASTER HAROLD VOSS ANNOUNCES
Letter Writing Week set for Oct. 2 to 8

The 23rd annual Letter Writing Week will be celebrated in Post Office during the week of Oct. 2 to 8, it was announced today by Postmaster Harold Voss.

Voss noted that there has been a revival of personal letter writing during the last few years. "A letter remains the most economical, longest lasting, and sincerest means of extending greetings, communicating social news, and exchanging ideas," the Postmaster said.

During Letter Writing Week, Voss suggested that individuals write at least two letters: one to a friend or relative from whom you have not heard in a long time, and the second as a reply to a friend or relative who recently wrote to you. He also urged correspondence to people in other countries as a means of promoting greater understanding among the people of different nations.

The slogan of this year's event, as indicated on more than 200,000 banners, is "Letters Are Links to Friendship." The display materials will appear on post office bulletin boards, and rural carrier vehicles, as well as in various schools and libraries.

I Give You Texas . . .

By ROYCE HOUSE
When I was a boy, inflammatory—or crusading, depending on your point of view—weeklies flourished. One was called "The Yellow Jacket" and it lived up to the name. Another was called "The Appeal to Reason." (Foss called it "The Appeal to Treason.") It devoted many columns of space to a dynamiting case and I can recall the rather rhythmic grouping of the names of the three defendants: Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone.

about a city dressed in old clothes. He was reputed to be rich but he lived like a miser. He was jeered by children as he walked along. When he died, it was found that he was indeed rich—and he had left his entire fortune to establish free schools. And so the children gave their pennies to build a statue; and each year, on his birthday, they decorate the statue with flowers.

Powell is only a village. You'd never dream that it was once the scene of a big oil rush. It was in January, 1923, that deep production was struck and, in May of that year, front pages of the nation's press told of the J. K. Hughes No. 1 McKie, which blew in for 8,000 barrels a day, caught fire and burned for 11 days. Hundreds of wells were drilled in rapid succession. The peak year saw over 33,000,000 barrels produced. Then the field declined rapidly.

Early one summer morning a year or so ago, I saw—in a city—a chunk of ice on the sidewalk in front of an office door which was locked. There was a time, before electric refrigeration, when that was a common sight.

The poet, Richard LeGallienne, was lamenting that he would never be able to write a best-selling novel, such as those written by Hall Caine and Marie Corelli. He declared, "It's no use; you can't fake it—bad writing is a gift."
