Legislative Program To Augment Funds Of West Texas Counties Is Proposed

A program calling for permissive legislation for counties to benefit under the recently voted constitutional amendment diverting the state ad valorem taxes to the counties, has been approved by the legislative enactment committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting was held in San Angelo under the chairmanship of W. R. Cusenbery of Sonora, for the purpose of studying the bill which will be offered in the present session of the legislature.

Cities May Benefit
 Municipalities also may benefit from the proposed bill, which provides the manner in which the farm-to-market and lateral road programs and flood control program may be carried out. Under the act a municipal corporation within the county may receive for water transmission and flood control purposes not to exceed one-third of the tax being levied upon the property within its corporate limits. In addition, it is provided the property may be assessed at a higher value than that fixed for county purposes.

The act would also municipalities the right to prouge these funds in aidance for flood fighting purposes, which would permit the municipalities to prouge with a larger protective program. The act would make a potential minimum of approximately $1 million annually available to the cities. By proper funding of these amounts it would be possible for municipalities to inaugurate immediately some of their water projects, it was pointed out.

Campaign Assured
 At this meeting Judge Roger Garrett of Jones County, secretary of the West Texas County Judges Association, gave assurance that the organization will conduct a campaign among all West Texas county officials in behalf of the measure's passage. Judge L. M. West of Channing, who is president of the association, could not be present, but previously had led his support to the proposal. Other county officials in the South and East Texas areas also will be contacted in their support. Mayor Robert B. Denting of Broken Ridge said a similar campaign will be waged on the part of city officials in Texas in support of the proposed act.

President Mitchell previously had announced that WTCC staff men would work directly through local directors in the West Texas area in support of the measure.

Paul Counts, Fort Stockton Chamber of Commerce manager, is secretary of the WTCC legislative enactment committee.

The legislative enactment group is a committee of the WTCC Soil Conservation Commission, of which Charles C. Thompson of Colorado City is chairman. The Thompson committee last year made its study of the program for the diversion of these funds for local purposes, under which study it was revealed that with the proper funding plan it would be possible for at least 90 municipalities to provide water systems with money that is not now available, according to Bandeen. This of course, would represent only a third of the revenue; while the remainder would develop more soil conservation and more farm-to-market and lateral roads within the counties than here-to-fore has been possible.

Timely Tips

1. Include mid-winter vegetables in magic by cutting meal costs with sundry vegetables.
2. Include fruits for that much needed iron. Equal parts of peanut butter and chopped raisins, apricots, or other dried fruits mixed together for sandwich filling puts to appetizing use two of the currently plentiful foods.
3. For variation, mix chopped pickles and minced onions with coarse grind peanut butter.
4. Dried fruits — especially prunes — used as a stuffing for peck will prove delicious, nutritious. Add a dash of dry mustard and some Worcestershire sauce for added zest.

Trial Planting Of Grass On 20 Acres Showing Results

District co-operators who have idle old cultivated land will be interested in a 20-acre trial grass planting on the Russell Wilks farm. The grass seed has been provided by the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District supervisors.

Wilks took the first step last spring when he sowed maize with a drill over the land to provide a dead sorghum cover for this spring's grass planting. The maize made about a foot or foot and a half growth last summer and fall. All of it has been left in the field and it is protecting the land from blowing. It is helping to hold moisture in the soil and will protect the young grass plants next spring and summer.

If the Soil Conservation Service can locate the seed a mixture of 10 different kinds of native and introduced grasses will be used. The rate of planting per square foot will be Little Blue stem, 10 seeds; Sand Bluestem, 5 seeds; Big Bluestem, 1 seed; Indian grass, 1 seed; Sand Love grass, 3 seeds; Weeping Love grass, 1 seed; Side Oats Grama, 3 seeds; Blue Grama, 2 seeds; Yellow Bluestem, 3 seeds; and Buffalo Grass, 1 seed. An average of 30 live seeds to each square foot will be planted in this trial planting. In regular commercial plantings, only 20 live seeds per square foot are used.

All of the grasses except Weeping Lovegrass and Yellow Bluestem were under natural conditions found on this land.

The Yellow Bluestem, Side Oats Grama, Sand Lovegrass, and Switch Grass have been received at the Post Soil Conservation Service Work Unit Office.

Keep Resistance Of Children High For Winter Time

Every mother is familiar with childhood illnesses known commonly as "summer complaints," but many mothers fail to realize that the winter season brings its quota of "winter complaints" from which young children must be carefully protected.

In stressing this important fact, Dr. George W. Cox of Austin, state health officer, says: "Certain winter diseases are just as harmful and just as likely to make their appearance as summer ailments, unless children are safeguarded against them."

In the group of winter health hazards, Dr. Cox included influenza, colds, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, asthma and diphtheria when no immunization has been given.

Any such disease affecting a child's respiratory or breathing system is apt to be very serious and in many cases it is fatal. Pneumonia often develops from a neglected cold, or may follow a severe case of measles or whooping cough. Bronchial conditions may also prove to be an after effect of these diseases, and certainly these respiratory illnesses are much more difficult to comb if commonly called summer turbances commonly called summer complaints.

"These winter diseases are especially dangerous to babies and very young children," Dr. Cox said. "Nearly all of them are spread from the secretions of the nose and mouth. Children not in good health are naturally more susceptible than those who are stronger, and the first line of defense is to keep the child's resistance built up to the highest possible point. The second is to keep him under competent medical supervision, and the third is to make sure that they avoid contact with persons who have coughs and colds."

Sub-Soiling Will Be Discontinued

Will Wright, chairman of the Garza County ACA, has advised that no more approvals will be issued for the practice of "Sub-Soiling" 12 inches deep since regulations require that this practice be carried out when the land is dry, in order that the maximum fracture of the plow sole will occur.

Letters From The Readers

Dear Mr. Warren: I am enclosing some parts of several letters I have received from a school teacher in Norrkoping, Sweden, which you might want to print.

I wrote you last fall but decided against mailing it. I was both criticizing and commending you: The former for your unfair attitude toward a Lubbock cafe for refusing entrance to a Mexican and his wife. The same thing could have happened in Post, as these transient boll pullers can look the part of aristocrats. Maybe the fault is in the native Americans who advertise our country to our south-of-the-border neighbors as a land where everybody is free and equal; and, then, we don't practice what we preach.

Also I want to say that your news sheet is so much better since Uncle Sam sent you home, although I did get a big kick out of trying to help take your place while you were gone. Did you see the Christmas issue for which I sent in three whole columns of news from Southland? Sincerely,

Mrs. Marvin Truelock.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: It was staunch supporters like Mrs. Truelock who kept the Post Dispatch going during the war. The improvement, since my return from the Navy, has been due to a gradual return to normal times, in which newsprint and working personnel are not so scarce.

As for the reference to the Mexican incident: If I recall correctly, my editorial on the subject stated virtually the same point of view as that above, regarding the way we of the United States mislead our neighbors by advertising that everyone is free and equal here, then failing to practice what we preach. I am reasonably sure, however, that I referred to us as people of the United States, rather than Americans, because our Mexican neighbors are also native Americans. The "parts of several letters" which Mrs. Truelock received from Sweden follow:)

Dear Flora: Your winter vacation (December 22 to January 3) seems short. Ours lasts three and a half weeks. But you, perhaps, have a longer Easter vacation. Ours is only a week long.

We spent the holidays in the country with my sister and family, for the first time in many years. We all attended the early morning service at 6 o'clock. We had already heard the bells toll an hour earlier. Outside the little white church, cressets were burning when we arrived. Lighted candles all along the aisle, candles in the tall Christmas tree on either side of the altar and candles in three big chandeliers illuminated the church. There were no electric bulbs as in our town churches. My sister played the fine, hundred-year-old organ and my brother-in-law led the choir. A young pastor held a short but extremely good sermon for modern people.

At school we celebrate Lucia, always December 13. A young lady then dresses up in a white nightdress, wears a crown of light-colored leaves on her head, sings a special song about Lucia—the young lady in Italy who was killed as a saint. I think it was in the Fourteenth Century. She is accompanied by a long line of girls in white, all with candles in their hands, who walk through the corridors singing. We teachers are served coffee by the girls.

Each city selects a beautiful girl to represent it as Lucia. Some Swedish people in America are paying the way for a trip to visit them by the Lucia chosen from Stockholm.

We were glad last fall when bread became free of rationing, after eight years. But butter, sugar, coffee, meat, petrol, and all kinds of soap and washing powders are still rationed.

Both my husband and I are teachers. It is very common in Sweden that wives keep their professions when they are married, as our salaries are rather good. It is not impossible yet to get maids. Mine is very clever and can bake, preserve fruits and so on.

During our summer vacation, we live in the country where we have a nice summer house with a garden where my husband grows vegetables and berries.

Yours sincerely, Iris.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Collier were Sunday guests in the home of his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wynne Collier and daughters, in Tahoka.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Floyd and daughters attended a family reunion of Mrs. Floyd's folks at the home of her brother, W. W. Hester in Snyder Sunday.

Priscillas Begin 38th Year With Traditional Fete

As is traditional, Mrs. Ben Williams gave the first New Year's party for Post's oldest sewing club, the Priscilla, Friday afternoon at her home. As a little observance of the New Year, Mrs. Williams showed the members a card souvenir from an October 4, 1912, meeting of the club in the home of the late Mrs. Sam Wilks. The club was organized in the Spring of 1911 with 16 members. Within two years, "so many women wanted to join," the members organized a second sewing club, the Needlecrafter group.

In keeping with another tradition of the club, the members told who their secret 'Priscilla Friends' were during 1948.

The hostess served a congealed salad with potato chips, waters and coffee, then she cut a pink and green cake, on which "Happy New Year" was lettered. Each slice contained a dime "for good luck."

Attending were Mesdames Bob Warren, R. H. Collier, L. A. Barrow, N. C. Outlaw, R. L. Redman, T. R. Hibbs, J. D. McCampbell, A. B. Haws, Victor Hudson, Robert Cox, Dove Mayfield, and Williams.

The club will meet at 3 p.m. Friday, January 28, with Mrs. Mayfield.

DODSON JEWELRY

Wilma Rose And Butch Have Bad Luck In Common

Butch, an 8-year-old blind Boston Bulldog belonging to a 16-year-old girl infantile paralysis victim, had a narrow escape last week.

Visiting here with Wilma Rose, his mistress, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Giles, at the H. F. Giles residence, for three weeks, Butch spent much of his time tied outside the Giles home. This was because he was not familiar with Post and, being blind, he was unable to cope with the Highway 84 traffic in front of the house.

He disappeared one day last week and was gone overnight. The rope with which he had been tied appeared to have been cut with a knife.

His disappearance brought grief to the entire family because he was acquired when he was only three weeks old. Just a few days after Wilma Rose had become stricken with polio. He was her constant companion, except for the many months that she spent in various hospitals. He entertained her during the year and a half that she lay in bed, flat on her back, and he helped her during the next year when she wore a heavy walking cast and used crutches.

"Butch saved me lots of steps," Mrs. Vernon Giles told the Post Dispatch. With this heavy cast on, Wilma Rose could not bend over. Whenever she dropped a crutch—as she often did while learning to use them—Butch picked it up and stood on his hind legs, manuevering the crutch into a position for Wilma Rose to take it.

Wilma Rose spent lots of time, over a period of years, in the Seefish Bite Hospital in Dallas, at a Glen Rose hospital in Fort Worth where she was under the care of a specialist. Butch was always eager to see her and to notice her gradual improvement, until he became too blind to see.

Now Wilma Rose walks without the aid of crutches. The polio left her with one leg shorter than the other, and she has to wear a built-up shoe. She has recovered otherwise, except for a defect in her speech. In recent years, she has been able to help the blind Butch find his way around. They were great pals, who especially appreciated each other.

Butch smelled his way back to the Giles home, after an absence of about 24 hours. Just as he reached Highway 84 and darted across to greet his family, an automobile whizzed by and ran over him.

A little boy witnessed the accident and asked the Gileses if they knew whose dog it was. First aid attention was given immediately, and by Monday, the crippled Butch was eating again and he appeared to be on his way to complete recovery.

Wilma Rose gave her permission to have the incident published in the Post Dispatch, because of the March of Dimes Campaign which opened Friday. March of Dimes campaigns through the years have made possible the medical research which resulted in her recovery from polio.

Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Young spent Tuesday in Kernal with Mr. and Mrs. Alton Carr and daughter. The Young's daughter, Beverly, who has been visiting with the Carrs several days returned home with them.

Report Of Docket Shows Decrease

The divorce rate in Garza County was proved to be dwindling by the 1948 report of the "Condition of the Docket of the Garza County District Court," which County and District Clerk Ray N. Smith recently submitted to the Texas Civil Judicial Council.

The 1948 report showed that a total of 13 divorces were granted last year. Twenty-four divorces were granted in 1947 and 29 were granted in 1946. This seems to indicate that the post-war marriages might be here to stay.

The 1948 docket report, as compared with the 1947 and 1946 reports, revealed the following figures:

Tax suits pending at the first day of the year (1948), 13; (1947), 13, and (1946), 7.

Tax suits disposed of (1948), none; (1947), none, and (1946), none.

Divorce suits pending at the beginning of the year (1948), 6; (1947), 6, and (1946), 5.

Divorce suits disposed of (1948), 16; (1947), 33, and (1946), 33.

Other civil suits pending at beginning of year (1948), 9; (1947), 6, and (1946), 5.

Other civil suits disposed of (1948), 9; (1947), 14, and (1946), 2.

Plumbing License Deadline Is Near

C. E. Belk, administrator for the Texas Board of Plumbing Examiners, announced in Austin this week that the deadline for renewing State Plumbing Licenses is February 1, 1949. The Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners was created by the 50th Legislature for the purpose of examining and licensing plumbers on a statewide basis. All plumbers who are affected by the law must renew their 1948 plumbing licenses by February 1 in order to avoid the payment of a deferred renewal fee.

Belk stated, "Licenses are being renewed at an unprecedented rate on a statewide basis. More than 65 per cent of all plumbers who are affected by the law have already renewed their 1948 licenses; however, there are some spots in the state which are lagging behind this average." Belk further stated, "We sincerely hope that every licensed plumber will submit his renewal on time and that it will not be our unpleasant duty to require a penalty payment. We are therefore taking every possible means to advise all plumbers affected by the law of this deadline."

The report shows the average cost per case of contested civil suits to have been $34.50 and of uncontested cases $7.50 in 1948. Seventeen civil cases pending at the end of 1948 had been on the docket longer than one year without trial; seven pending civil cases are over five years old.

The 1948 report also showed that the district judge worked 20 days in Garza County.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Wilson of Crane visited in the Walter Bowen home Friday night. Their sons, Bob and Bill, who had been visiting here for several days returned home with them.

Garza County Faces Shortage Of Dairy And Beef Animals, Swine And Poultry

The status of Garza County, agriculturally speaking, is brought up to date in the annual report of County Agricultural Agent Robert H. Gibson. This is the first of a series of articles based on the report. The preface to the report, entitled "Agricultural and Economic Situation," is reprinted here because it hints at some calamities to come unless some precautions are taken. It follows:

Garza County is in the north-west part of the state and has three definite land types. There is approximately 1/3 of the county above the Caprock on the South High Plains, 1/3 in the breaks, and 1/3 in the lower plains. The average annual rainfall is 20.89 inches and the mean annual temperature is 60 degrees.

Of the 584,960 acres in the county, 112,000 acres are in cultivation and the remaining acreage is devoted to ranch land. Of the 112,000 acres of cropland, about 2/3 are above the Caprock, where there is fairly level sandy loam which is very productive when moisture is sufficient. The remaining 1/3 is scattered throughout the county in small areas and they range from tight red soils to very sand soils subject to severe wind erosion. The range land is mostly below the Caprock and it consists of large areas of extremely broken or breaks land to sloping, rolling land. The range land is composed mostly of brown to red light soils.

All the farm land is well adapted to the production of cotton and grain sorghums. In the past few years, the cotton acreage has steadily increased until in 1948 there was approximately 80,000 acres of cotton planted. This acreage of cotton has lowered the number of acres

Famous Horses To Feature Rodeo Of Fort Worth Show

Capt. William Meyer of Sarasota, Fla., will present his famous dancing mare, "Starless Night." Oldtime square dances will be performed on horseback by the Boom Town Mounted Square Dancers of Burkburnett, Tex. The Pope Pony Hitch, eight Shetland ponies owned and driven by E. O. Pope of Fort Worth, will execute figures at full speed.

Respirator Gives Breath To Infant

For the fourth time in a year, the iron lung was used Monday night to start a newborn baby to breathing.

The child was a son born shortly before 6 p.m. to Mr. and Mrs. Mack Head. After the attending physician was unable to get the child to breath by normal processes, the Post Volunteer Fire Department was called to bring the iron lung which it sponsored for the community. Within 10 minutes after the iron lung was applied, the baby started breathing normally.

The artificial respirator was operated by Fire Chief Homer McCrary, Dan Altman, Robert Cato and Ralph Carpenter.

of grain sorghums and fodder crops, which in turn has lowered the number of livestock and poultry on the farm. It has also increased the size of the farm and lowered the number of tenants. The lowering of the number of beef animals, dairy animals, swine and poultry is likely to cause unfavorable results if and when a serious lowering of the price of cotton occurs.

Therefore, efforts are being made to maintain or increase the present number of livestock on the farm, and to encourage more persons to practice the cow, sow and hen program.

In the ranching area the infestation of mesquite is ever on the increase and the grazing capacity of the range is steadily increasing. Cattle completely dominate the range and the climate is especially adapted to them. There is very little loss from disease. However, lice, hornfly, grubs and screw worms cause considerable trouble in their season.

The high price of cattle has caused many ranchers to increase the number of cattle to the point where every available sprig of grass is utilized during the summer and none is left for reseeding and propagation. Efforts are being made to encourage the ranchers to think in pounds of beef rather than number of head. In this manner, it is hoped that the ranges will not be overgrazed to the extent of ruination. Cooperation is being practiced with the Soil Conservation Service to increase the number of ranchers practicing good range management and conservation.

Alvin Davis Asked To Attend Truman Inauguration Rites

Although several Post people received invitations to the inauguration of Governor Beauford Lester in Austin on Tuesday, only one Garza County resident, as far as is known, was invited to the inauguration of President Harry S. Truman in Washington, D. C. this week.

Alvin G. Davis, the nation's most outstanding 4-H boy, received an official invitation to Washington, which included a four-page mimeographed program of activities for the week. The invitation was the courtesy of Governor Lester, who asked him to represent the rural youth of Texas in Washington.

Because of a delay in receiving the Governor's letter, Alvin was unable to make arrangements for the trip. The Texas delegation left the state Sunday.

Among the Post people who received invitations to the Governor's Inauguration and Reception were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Herd and Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Boyd. None were able to attend.

Junior Historian Groups Organized Over Large Area

Texas high school youngsters are thoroughly enjoying local and state history, judging by increasing membership in the Junior Historian organization. Director H. Bailey Carroll of Austin reports.

Dr. Carroll, University of Texas professor, is director of the parent body, Texas State Historical Association, with headquarters at the University.

The 100th chapter of Junior Historians has just been organized at Central Ward School, Lubbock. The Junior Historians were organized in 1939 by University of Texas History Professor Walter P. Webb, to stimulate the study of state and local history by high school students.

Dr. Carroll became head of the Junior Historian branch of the Association in 1940 and initiated publication of the "Junior Historian" magazine, first published periodical of its type in which writing was both by and for young people.

Chapters have been organized in schools all over the state, and the movement has spread to other states that now have organizations and periodicals. Junior Historians annually gather in Austin in conjunction with the Texas State Historical Association meeting, to report on their year's work, and hear announcement of winners of the annual Junior Historian writing prizes.

Sponsor of the 100th chapter is Miss Carolyn Hymen who received her Master's degree in history from the University of Texas last May.

Mrs. Melvin Hill who recently underwent surgery in a Lubbock hospital is able to return to work at the Postex Mills this week.

Patsy Jo Carl who underwent surgery several weeks ago is able to be up and about.

Progressive streamlining of the 1949 Chevrolet is emphasized in the view of the Styleline De Luxe four-door sedan, which will be one of two 1949 Chevrolet demonstrators on display at Connell Chevrolet Company Saturday and Sunday. Notable in the roomier, lower cars is a balance in design that adds greater comfort and driving ease as well as smart appearance. The public is invited to see the two demonstrators this weekend.

Plains Residents See Lights Again

Plains residents of Garza County, served by REA electric lines, began emerging from a week of darkness on Monday.

The lines, badly damaged by the ice storm of last week, halted the electric service in many rural homes. By Tuesday many of the lines had been repaired.

Janice and Dale Gordon, accompanied by Connie Marie King, spent the weekend in Stanton with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor.

Ten More Days Of Bargains Remain

Ten more days remain in which to subscribe to the daily newspapers of Abilene and Fort Worth and to the Post Dispatch at bargain rates. After January 31, the regular rates will go into effect.

The Post Dispatch bargain rates are 50 cents cheaper than the regular rates. The bargain rates are $2 a year for Garza County and $2.50 for outside the county.

The Fort Worth Star Telegram bargain rates are $13.95 with the Public Invited To See Display Of Chevrolets

A product of three years' development work and more than a million miles of engineering research, the 1949 Chevrolet will go on display at the Connell Chevrolet Company this weekend.

Two demonstrators will be on display from 7 a. m. until 8 p. m. Saturday and a special showing of the cars will be made to the public Sunday afternoon from 2 until 6 o'clock.

The latest model has been completely restyled. It is lower, wider and more distinctive than any previous series.

Two series of cars, the Fleetline and Styleline, are included with De Luxe treatment an option in most body types. De Luxe cars lay increased emphasis on the styling of fabrics, trim and appointments. The lineup shows:

Fleetline — Two and four-door sedans. This design is distinguished by the extension of the roof line in an unbroken sweep to the rear. Known to the trade as a "fast back," the firm arch enjoyed great popularity on the 1948 two-door Aermetean.

Styleline — Two and four-door sedans, sport coupe, three-passenger business coupe, convertible, wood and all steel station wagons. Styleline sedans carry the "notch back" here the curvature of the roof meets the rear deck at the body belt line.

The design is fresh and substantial-looking without approaching the extreme. The rugged six cylinder, valve-in-head engine remains fundamentally the same, but refinements will increase appreciably the car's handling ease.

Fit in the passenger's standpoint, perhaps the chief improvement in bodies is the immense increase in glass area. All windows have been deepened and widened. The windshield takes full advantage of broader bodies, curving inward at the narrowed pillars to improve sideway as well as forward vision.

Besides the influence on overall balance in design, repositioning of the passenger compartment claims still other benefits. Rear seat passengers are now cradled in the comfort zone between the front and rear axles. Formerly passengers rode over the rear axle. Lowering of the compartment as reduced the center of gravity of the car, resulting in greater stability on curves and at higher speeds. Further, the lowered floor and wider doors permit easier entrance and exit by passenger.

Another important factor in better roadability is the adoption at the front and rear of direct double-acting shock absorbers, a type that proved itself in wartime service. Front suspension, which continues to feature the coil spring "Knee-Action" Chevrolet pioneered 15 years ago, has been made sturdier.

A new steering geometry will be found significant by drivers. The master arm is now located in the center of the chassis front end, equalizing the effort of right and left turns. This type of steering reduces "wheel fight," any tendency of the car to "wander" and adds to tire life.

The gearshift is new. Recent developments in shift linkage caused engineers to substitute the manual shift for the former vacuum-assisted mechanism. The lever remains on the steering column, but has been lengthened to equalize the effort of shifts.

Sunday issue and $12.00 without Sunday. The Abilene Reporter bargain rate is $9.95.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beauchamp of Moffett Field, Calif. are visiting friends and relatives here. He will report to Corpus Christi, January 28 to the Naval Base there.

Mrs. George Barker is visiting relatives in Sweetwater and while there is receiving medical treatment.

WORKS DONE FASTER Electrically

ON THE farm and on the ranch work is done faster when electric service is effectively used.

Today more farms and ranches have electricity than ever before, and those who already have dependable electric service are finding more uses for it than ever before.

These progressive men are finding that electric lighting in the work areas, electric refrigeration, electric power tools for repairs and maintenance, electric milkers, brooders, incubators, choppers, and loaders all mean that more work can be done in a shorter period of time...at less cost.

When the time saved is compared with the low operating cost of modern electrical farm and ranch aids, the answer is obvious. That's why so many are using so much electric service. Check with your nearest county agent, REA or Public Service representative to see where electricity can help you.

Bodies Of Three Garza Boys Will Arrive Here Soon

Parents of three Garza County boys who died in the Pacific Theatre of Operations have been informed that the bodies were shipped to the states.

The boys were Pvt. Jack L. Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Edwards of Route 3; Pfc. Don G. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jones of Route 3, and Clyde Paddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Paddy.

Military services probably will be held for all three of the young men in Post, and two of the bodies probably will be buried in Terrace Cemetery, Paddy's remains probably will be interred at Tahoka, his former home.

The families had not been informed by press time when the bodies might arrive here.

Buck Gossett Saves Food In Emergency

Not to be outdone by the lack of electricity service last week, Buck Gossett rescued his large store of meat and other frozen foods from his home freezer and brought them down to the Post Truck and Tractor Company to be put in the Home Freezer demonstrators. Manager Dowd Mayfield said he was happy that he had enough freezer space on hand to store the foods.

Landing Strip Is Welcome Sight To Kansas Aviators

Probably the most grateful aviators ever to use the landing strip here were the eight Kansas Flying Farmers who force landed their five Mexico-bound planes here about 6 p.m. last Thursday.

Flying in a fog, lost and low on gasoline, the pilots were hunting a place to land and had a hard time deciding to try landing on the highway when Pilot Charles Heisz of Selden, Kans., spotted the Post landing strip. He was able to signal three of the planes and four of them landed here. The fifth plane, piloted by Lester Dible of Rexford, Kans., set down in a cotton patch 3 1/2 miles east of Justiceburg.

The party at the landing field found the telephone and name of Jim Hundley, which was posted there. Hundley met the group, which included Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Dible and Roy H. Dible of Rexford, Heisz and C. C. Carmon of Selden and O. O. Brown and Wes Knoles of Colby, Kansas.

Hundley obtained rooms for the party at the Garza Hotel. It was not until Friday afternoon that they were able to notify anyone as to their whereabouts because of the damaged communication lines here.

Storie Motor Company sent a truck to assist Lester Dible in removing his plane from the cotton patch and towing it to the landing field. The five planes and the passengers took off about 9 a.m. Saturday to join the rest of their party, a total of 162 Kansas Flying Farmers, on a goodwill tour of Mexico. This party had a sack of flour grown and milled in Kansas for the President of Mexico. Their itinerary called for a two-day stay in Monterrey and three days in Mexico City. They had an appointment with the President to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Richards of New Orleans, La., spent the weekend here in the Walter Boren home. Mrs. Richards is the former Miss Narcissus Wilson of Dallas who used to visit often with her cousin, Mrs. Boren, when they were girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Durham of Lubbock spent the weekend here with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stallings.

Mrs. Loyd Webb received a broken leg in a fall on the ice last Wednesday.

MRS. DOUGHTY'S RITES—

 09 when he came here to take a job with the Double U. Commissary. He continued working in the store, which was located in the present Wacker building, after it was sold to Mr. Reed until about 1913 when he bought the store's hardware stock from Mr. Reed and opened a variety store in a frame building where Warren Drug store now stands.

Mr. and Mrs. Doughty later moved their store stock to the building now occupied by Short Hardware, and operated the business there until Mr. Doughty's death in October, 1945. The store stock and building were sold to Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Short.

Mr. Doughty, who was born in Ipswich, England, in April, 1876, had as special interests natural history, anthropology and geology. Following his hobby in this country, he became one of the first and most important museum collectors of West Texas historical relics.

Many of his anthropological and historical relics are now on display in the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C., and the Museum of Natural History in New York, and a few of them are in the Museum at Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

A number of his books on natural history and other subjects pertinent to his hobby, along with arrowheads, interesting rocks and other relics of particular interest to Boy Scouts were given by him and Mrs. Doughty to several local boys. Probably the largest collection of the items now belongs to Kay and Jack Kirkpatrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Doughty's primary interest, of course, was their daughter, whom they gave a first rate musical education and for whom they planned an opera career. Dorothy died in Chicago, in March, 1942.

B. K. BOWEN RITES—

 Bowen and Oscar Bowen of Post and W. L. Bowen of Doole. He was also a member of the Odd-fellow Lodge.

After retiring from his farm career, Mr. Bowen operated the Bowen Tourist Court here for a number of years.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. D. A. Bryant, who officiated, was assisted by the Rev. A. C. Hardin of Sundown who delivered the message. Music included "What A Friend We Have in Jesus" and "The Old Rugged Cross" sung by a choir with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Ray N. Smith.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery with Mason and Company in charge.

Pallbearers were Mr. Bowen's grandsons, Jerrald, Gayle, Boyd and Charles Bowen and O. K. Bowen, Jr., all of Post, and Carroll Bowen of Abilene.

Honorary pallbearers were all the deacons of the First Baptist Church.

Flower girls were Mrs. Tom Garner of Hereford, Mrs. Gaylon Combs of Lubbock, Mrs. Carroll Bowen of Abilene, Mrs. Mansell Richardson, Jr., of Lubbock, Miss Bonnie Ann Bowen of Abilene, Mrs. E. A. Ensminger, Mrs. Jerry Queen and Misses Sue Stephens and Mary Nell Bowen.

Mr. Bowen is survived by his wife; two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Arthur of Spur and Mrs. G. W. Ely of Grover City, Calif., nine children, Mrs. Noah Reeves of Snyder, A. D. Bowen of Stacy, W. L. Bowen, Charles R. Bowen of Post, Mrs. Mel Pearce of Post, Mitchell Bowen of Post, Judge Bowen, Mrs. Wesley Stephens of Post and Oscar Bowen of Post; 35 grandchildren, and 29 great grandchildren. Three of his daughters died in infancy.

All members of his immediate family and their families, except Mrs. Reeves who was ill with influenza, were here for the funeral despite the fact that telephone and telegraph communications were impossible. Friends of the Bowen family drove their cars to the various cities to notify the relatives.

Several relatives, who were notified by letter, arrived here Sunday to visit Mrs. Bowen and other members of the family. They included Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Kinman and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Luney and Laverne, Jeanette, Jimmie and Meldine, and Manes and Terrell Kinman of Big Spring.

When Dr. B. E. Young first came here, he took the Abilene paper. One day he was standing in Collier's Drug Store, when the former Ruth Baker walked in and asked Wynne Collier for an Abilene paper. He had just sold out, but he had Dr. Young's copy there and said she could look at it if the doctor didn't mind. "He didn't," and the courtship began. That was in 1933.

Dick Allen really FELL for Mohoto Morgan the first time he saw her in 1938. But first, here's how he met her:

Mohoto was driving her family car one evening in July, 1937, and had brought her father to town for a few moments when her good friend, Marguerite Hurt (now Mrs. Harold Stotts of Lubbock) passed by in a car with two young men and honked. Mohoto stopped to see what they wanted and learned that Marguerite had a date with a young man who had brought along a friend, and the friend wanted a date. Mohoto and her father met Dick, who was all dressed up in a white linen suit, and agreed that it was all right for Mohoto to go, if they would take Mr. Morgan and the car home.

In the car with Marguerite and the young men was an leed water melon, and the foursome decided to take it to Two Draw to eat it, but they needed a quilt to sit on. Dick said he would smuggle one out of his room, as he was certain his landlady would disapprove of her good quilt going to Two Draw. In order to do this, he had to leave his room by way of the fire escape. About two thirds down, he stubbed his toe and fell down the rest of the steps and fell practically on the feet of his startled landlady. Dick and Mohoto were married in March, 1938.

If you like this, let us know how you met your husband and wife.

POLIO FUNDS IN RED—

 needed to carry out the research and treatment desired in 1949.

Judge J. Lee Bowen, Garza County campaign chairman, is urging every citizen to give all he can to this good cause. The money will always come back to Garza County polio victims, in the form of saved lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwood Billings and daughters, Cheryl and Carol, of Albuquerque, N. M., arrived Monday night to spend the week with Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Cardwell.
