Uncle Sam guarantees almost double your money back

When you hold U.S. Savings Bonds 17 years, 9 months

U.S. Savings Bonds keep on growing after regular maturity. In fact, a $25 Bond will pay you $36.25 at the end of 17 years, 9 months. The cost to you—$18.75.

SECTION 3. The Cost of said improvements shall be paid as follows, to-wit: (a) The City shall pay all the costs of excavation and base preparation on all portions of the street units involved, which said cost is determined to be in excess of twenty-five per cent (25%) of the total cost of said project, and where the City Council may deem it just and proper, the City shall also pay all or any amount of any credit adjustment which may be allowed in the assessment of abutting property and the owner thereof.

However, said City Superintendent may, in addition to the contents of the Notice of said hearing, as required by law and the Charter of said City, which shall be for all purposes valid and sufficient in itself, included in any one or all of the publications of said notice such further data and information regarding such proposed improvements and assessments as the City Superintendent may deem proper and such general statement in connection therewith as the City Superintendent may desire, to acquaint those to whom the notice is direct with the facts and matters concerning said improvements assessments and hearing. In levying said assessments, if the name of the owner be unknown, it shall be sufficient to state the fact, and if said abutting property be owned by an estate or by any firm or corporation, it shall be sufficient to state the fact, and it shall be unnecessary to give the correct name of any such owner and no error or mistake in attempting to name such owner or in describing any of said property shall invalidate any assessment or certificate issued in evidence thereof; but nevertheless, the real and true owners of said abutting property shall be liable and the assessment against said abutting property shall be valid whether or not such owner be named, or correctly named, or said property correctly described therein.

SECTION 7. Each portion of said streets hereinabove described and designated by Unit numbers constitute a separate and independent Unit of the improvements and shall be improved and the improvements constructed therein as separate and independent from each and every other Unit of said streets and the assessments to be levied for said improvements in each unit or portion of said streets shall be altogether separate and distinct and independent of and from the assessments to be levied in every other of said units and portions of said streets, and, in making and levying said assessments against the property abutting upon one of said Units, no matter or circumstance in connection with any other of said Units shall be considered to have any effect upon the other, all as fully and to the same extent as if separate proceedings and contracts had been had and executed with reference to the improvements to be made in each of said units.

SECTION 8. The Mayor and the City Secretary are hereby authorized and empowered upon the completion of each block to issue warrants which shall be general obligations of the City of Post, payable to the Contractor in Six (6) equal annual installments, the first of said installments to become due and payable one (1) year after date for one-sixth (1/6) of the total price and a similar installment due respectively 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 years after date; said warrants may be paid off in full at any interest paying date; said warrants shall bear interest from date of issuance at the rate of five per cent (5%) per annum, payable semi-annually.

In order to secure the payment of said warrants and to set up a fund for retiring the same, the City of Post, in addition to levying the assessment as herein provided for, shall secure from the property owners of any exempt property abutting said project a Mechanic and Materialman's Lien securing notes to be executed by the property owners for the cost of the construction of the improvements as herein above designated. The City Secretary shall establish a separate fund known as Post Paving Fund No. 4 into which fund all money collected from property owners by virtue of payment of Mechanic and Materialman's Liens or payment of assessments herein levied shall be deposited and shall be kept separate and apart from any other fund of the City and the amounts deposited in said fund shall be applied solely to the retirement of the warrants as herein specified. The amount of warrants herein issued shall not be in excess of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00). In the event collections in said paving fund are not sufficient at the time of the due date of said warrants to retire any of the warrants then due, sufficient money shall be transferred from the general funds of the City of Post to complete said payment. The City Council further approves the contract on the terms and at the prices submitted by F. C. # Market for grain sorghum in West Africa surveyed

LUBBOCK—A survey of the market potential for Texas grain sorghum in three West African nations has been conducted by Dr. J. Wayland Bennett of Texas Tech. The Tech agricultural economics department head has just returned from three-weeks of travel in Nigeria, Liberia and Sierra Leone under a survey-study sponsored by the U. S. Feed Grains Council, Grain Sorghum Producers Assn., and the USDA's Foreign Agriculture Service. Bennett left the United States on June 27 and returned July 20.

"All of the nations we visited are on a subsistence-level of consumption," Bennett said, noting that "in most of the areas 90 per cent of the population merely subsisted in the economy while about 10 per cent are in the money economy. The exception to this is Nigeria where between 15 and 20 per cent of the population participate in the money economy."

HE SAID THE primary objective of the study is to determine the potential of developing poultry and livestock enterprises in those nations with the secondary purpose of supplying them with the necessary feed grains.

"Primarily, all of the governments of the nations we visited are interested in developing their agriculture to raise their population above the subsistence level of consumption," the Tech agricultural economist said. "More than 80 per cent of the people in each nation are engaged in agriculture."

"If the primary purchasing power of this 80 per cent can be increased, they expect the economy will be improved all up the line," he added.

At present, Bennett said, Liberia has no feed production and Sierra Leone produces a small amount of grain sorghum and corn—totally inadequate for its needs.

In contrast, Nigeria is expecting a surplus of peanut meal but is short on supplies of grain sorghum or corn which are major crops there.

THE SUPPLY is short mainly for livestock feeding as the maize is a major human food there. Nigeria was the only country of the three he studied that had a mill to make wheat flour. It was only a few years ago that wheat was introduced in that country, Bennett noted. Another mill is being constructed in Lagos, the capital city of Nigeria, but it will only supply flour for the surrounding area.

Bennett said that Liberia—a nation that was founded for freed slaves from the United States—is at present the poorest of the three nations he visited.

"But, Liberia probably has the potential of outstripping the others in economic growth in future years," he said. "Newly discovered and developed iron ore deposits are expected to produce up to $200 million annual income by 1965. This will certainly increase the money population."

The government agriculturists in Nigeria, Liberia and Sierra Leone are putting primary emphasis on developing poultry enterprises, Bennett said. As the nations become more self-sufficient in foods and as their national budgets increase, they hope to put a greater proportion of their budget into agricultural development.

He said his conclusions on the market potential for U. S. feed grains in Africa will be reported to the U. S. Feed Grains Council, a report he is in process of completing.

Bennett was a member of a survey team that included two businessmen, T. A. Cisco of Bloomington, Ill., Dr. John L. Milligan, McCracken, Foreign Agriculture Service, Grain Marketing Division, of the USDA.

Credit needs increasing Banks largest lenders to farmers, ranchers

Texas banks were serving farmers and ranchers with more credit and other financial services than any group of lenders at the beginning of this year, according to Irby G. Metcalf Jr., president of the First National Bank here. During 1960, the state's banks maintained their leadership in agricultural credit services.

Based on the 20th annual farm lending summary of the Agricultural Committee of The American Bankers Association, Metcalf reported that at the beginning of the year, Texas banks were helping farmers and ranchers with $386 million in loans, 2 per cent more than a year previous. This total included $338 million in production loans and $48 million in farm mortgages. At the same time, $321 million in farm loans was held by life insurance companies; $236 million by the Federal Land Banks; $121 million by Production Credit Associations; and $58 million in non-real estate loans by the Farmers Home Administration. About 65 per cent of the production credit extended by lending institutions to Texas farmers and ranchers came from banks.

ranchers, and bankers working together in this way help make Texas agriculture more prosperous." He reported that 92 per cent of the insured commercial banks in the state are serving agriculture's credit needs.

Magazine has articles on hunting bull frogs

AUSTIN—If you have ever been tempted to hunt bull frogs, you'll learn something from two articles in the July issue of "Texas Game and Fish" magazine. Curtis Carpenter tells with story and pictures how to catch them, how to clean them and how to cook them.

The pictures were made of bull frog hunters, using strong headlights and gigs on streams and stock tanks.

"Hunting frogs can be a very exciting and productive sport," the article says. "There's not much to it if you have the right equipment and a good frog pond."

The article says a dozen good bull frogs will provide a good meal for a family of five. Then it goes on to explain how the frogs should be killed, handled, cleaned and finally prepared for the table.

"Cook until golden brown and serve with gravy and potatoes, a salad and ice tea," he suggests.

Retarded children aided by program

Lubbock's summer recreation program for retarded and physically limited children, which was spotlighted with a feature article and a page-full of pictures in Sunday's Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, is headed by Haskell Odom, a former Justiceburg resident and Post High School graduate.

The son of Mrs. Harry Wood of Justiceburg, Odom is a Texas Tech graduate who is now teaching math and coaching in the Cal Thompson Junior High School of Lubbock while continuing his studies toward a master's degree in teaching and school administration.

This is the first year Lubbock has had such a recreational program for retarded children. It has been so successful under Odom's supervision that it appears to be here to become a permanent fixture.

The Lubbock program can be made available to Garza's retarded youth as well, and some local Lions, whose principal community service is children's work, are interested in the project. The project will close in Lubbock Aug. 31.

The recreational program for the children has been conducted five days weekly from 2 to 4 p. m. with most of the activities in the air-conditioned Maxey Community Center. There also have been swimming classes at the K. N. Clapp pool.

There is no charge for participation in the program. The theory of the program, according to Odom, is this: as the physical base of a child's personality improves, he gains confidence and progresses in social skills.

The program, according to Odom, is designed to teach the youngsters simply "to have fun."

Included this summer in the activities offered are softball, ping pong, badminton, basketball, group singing, square dancing, soft horse-shoes, miniature bowling, shuffleboard, crafts, fishing, swimming, folk dancing, field trips, picnics, tumbling and body building.

Some of the sessions may be kept open during the winter months although the program is scheduled to close Aug. 31, Odom indicated. Parents are trying to work out a continuation, he explained.

He said there are about 450 physically handicapped and mentally retarded children in the Lubbock area which the program could reach.

three homeowners there—Joe Wilson Jr., "Bo" Jackson and Charlie Lee—appeared before the council in regard to getting the paving done this summer.

Mrs. Irene Rodgers, who is signing up paving for the city this summer, brought the council up to date on how far along she is on sign-ups in that area of West Fourth and Avenue R, and her report was optimistic enough that the council said it felt it could include the paving in this year's program.

Paving is being requested practically everywhere it does not now exist, but in many sections not enough property owners have been signed up and the city is not financially able to "force" pave and issue time warrants in payment, the council explained.

The only item on Monday's agenda besides the paving came when the council told Bryan J. Williams that his projected housing extension in the west part of town appears to be acceptable to the council.

The layout presented to the council by Williams is an extension to the present Bill Edwards and H. J. Dietrich additions.

Trustees renew paving request

The board of trustees of the Post Independent School District adopted a resolution Monday to write the Post city council asking it to proceed with paving around the new high school building and gymnasium.

Supt. R. T. Smith said the letter to the city council would point out that the school has had its share of the paving cost appropriated for some time.

The letter from the school board had not been received by the city council prior to Monday night's regular August meeting. At the meeting, the council said it was ready to go on three blocks of paving at the new school, but that all property owners had not been signed up on an additional three blocks, which would be required to complete the school paving project.

The three blocks on which the council said it is ready to go are those just east and west of the building and one between the school building and the gymnasium.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

The unfairness of expecting tax-paying business enterprises to compete against non-tax paying operations is becoming more and more apparent to the people of the nation.

Appearing before the House Ways and Means Committee, in deliberations on tax reform, George Burger, vice president in charge of the Washington office of the National Federation of Independent Business, presented the constantly rising tide of feeling on permitting cooperatives to escape payment of income taxes required from independent enterprises with which they compete.

He pointed out that in September of 1960 in a nationwide poll of independent businessmen, 79% requested that this favoritism be ended. In a poll on the same question taken in March of this year, the vote for this relief had grown to 86%.

Mr. Burger then further testified as an adjunct to the widespread nationwide polls, the Federation's field staffs this year also made spot check polls throughout the country on which problems of small business loomed largest.

Next to the need for an overhaul of tax laws, the problem of unfair competition from cooperatives ranked as the major problem, even outranking unfair labor practices.

And while ruinous price competition from imports ranked high as a major problem, only in North and South Carolina, and Connecticut, out of all the 50 states and the District of Columbia, did this problem outweigh in gravity the problem of independent business paying taxes and seeking to compete with cooperatives enjoying a most favorable tax status.

Spontaneous comments volunteered by businessmen were most interesting. In Kansas it was said "that the co-ops on an equal tax basis with private enterprise. The taxes that they dodge is becoming an almost unbearable burden on our private enterprise sector."

A businessman in the state of Washington said "Unfair competition by co-ops is our big gripe. We have two of them in our town. It will be a bright day for independent stores when our Congress has the courage to change this law." From Wisconsin "If co-ops were taxed like any other private business they would not be able to undersell." From West Virginia "Let's get the co-op taxed as everyone else is taxed. They deserve no more than I deserve. Thousands of small businesses are going to be forced out unless we tax everyone the same."

And as Mr. Burger pointed out, it is not only independent businessmen who are protesting this injustice.

Last year, the National Farmers Union testified before Congress that cooperatives should bear their fair share of the income tax burden. There is no attack on cooperatives as such. But the overwhelming sentiment seems to be there is no more reason for exempting business enterprises from taxes merely because they operate under the form of co-ops than there is to exempt from personal income taxes all blue-eyed blondes. This latter, of course, would do wonders for the sales volume of the peroxide industry.

Hospital auxiliary to meet here tonight

Brother of Post woman succumbs

James M. Latimer, 61, brother of Mrs. Tom Caffey of Post, died at 11 a. m. Tuesday at his home in Lubbock, where he had lived for seven years.

Funeral services were conducted at 4 p. m. Wednesday at Westmont Christian Church, with burial in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Mr. Latimer, who was honored July 17 as Westmont Christian Church "Man of the Year," had been in ill health since November. He was one of the organizing members of the church and had served as church school secretary and vice president of the Christian Men's Fellowship. He built church school furniture for small children.

Mr. Latimer, who formerly lived at Cisco, was a veteran of World War I and a member of Yellow-house Masonic Lodge.

Besides the sister of Post, he is survived by his wife, three other sisters and three brothers.

Homes blamed for moral laxity

Weldon Price, sophomore footballer at Baylor who is the featured speaker at the Youth Revival this week at the First Baptist Church, told Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon that "the moral laxity of today's youth" in his opinion should be blamed on their homes—not on the churches and schools.

"If our kids aren't like they used to be it is because the parents are not like they used to be either," Price declared.

Opening his talk, Price picked Rice to win the Southwest Conference football crown this fall with Texas second and Baylor third "although I would like to see Baylor win it." He listed Texas Tech as finishing fifth in his forecasting book.

Cody Garner, who is leading the singing at the youth revival, sang a solo for Rotarians preceding Price's talk.

Cappleman is new Farmers Home Administration state director

Lester J. Cappleman of Ladonia has been appointed state director for the Farmers Home Administration in Texas. His headquarters are in Dallas.

Cappleman has returned to the position he held with the agency for approximately eight years prior to April in 1954. Since that time he has been managing his farm near Ladonia producing livestock, cotton, and alfalfa.

Born in Oklahoma in 1902 when it was known as Indian Territory, Cappleman attended public schools in Honey Grove, Tex., and Texas A&M College where he majored in agronomy and animal husbandry.

From 1924 to 1934 he farmed in Fannin County.

From 1934 forward, including his eight years as Farmers Home Administration's state director, Cappleman worked in the field of supervised credit and related services for family-type farmers. He joined the Resettlement Administration at Amarillo after a year with the Federal Emergency Relief Administration at Sherman. From Amarillo, his work took him to Dallas in 1936 where he served first as loan officer in Resettlement Administration and later as Assistant Regional Director for the Agency's successor, the Farm Security Administration.

In 1941 he transferred to Surplus Marketing Administration as regional director, then was in similar position with Agricultural Marketing, Food Distribution, War Food Administration, all at Dallas. He became state director for Farmers Home Administration in 1946.

As state director, he will have charge of the agency's agricultural credit and farm management program serving farmers in all areas of the state through 126 county offices.

the city used 1,124,000 gallons for the 24 hour period. The reservoir water level dropped another 18 inches Tuesday when only 986,000 gallons were used which means that the wells did not produce their million gallons that day.

Tate admits he "has a hard time sleeping" in periods of such water danger, especially at the start of a long hot week—as this one has been.

In past years, the community has faced innumerable water crises but the water users have always quickly responded to the city's appeal for voluntary conservation of water.

That response is needed today, Tate said, if enough water is to be maintained in the reservoir to finish out the week.

The only other water crisis this year was averted with some beneficial rains which stopped the lawn sprinklers for several days.

Youth-led revival to close Sunday

The youth-led revival at the First Baptist Church will close Sunday with the evening service.

The series of services has been in progress each day and evening this week under direction of the youth of the church. Jerry Thuett has served as youth pastor, while many other young people have served as chairmen of committees and in various capacities.

Weldon Price, sophomore football player from Baylor University, has been doing the preaching. Cody Garner, graduate student from North Texas State University, has been directing the music.

Fellowships and seminars have been planned for the youth during the week with each of these young men sharing leadership in the conferences. They will be with the church through the evening services Sunday.

Locals win team title in annual tournament

Post defeated defending champion Aspermont here Sunday afternoon in the championship match of the 10-team tournament of the West Texas Team Roping Association.

Held at Post Stampede Rodeo arena for the second consecutive year, it was the association's tenth annual tournament.

The three-man Post team got off to a fast start against Aspermont when Ed Sims roped and tied his first calf in 13.6 seconds. Fred Dalby, the first Aspermont roper, could do no better than a 32.8, and Post was out front to stay.

In the four-round match, the Post team had a total time of 186 seconds flat on 12 calves, which was 28.6 seconds better than Aspermont's time total of 214.6.

At the end of the first round, the Post team of R. E. Josey, captain; Sims and N. A. Pitcock had a time total of 51.1 seconds, which was 22.7 faster than the Aspermont team of Dalby, captain; Roy Thompson and Bill Flowers had roped and tied their first round calves.

In the second round, Post had a 45.4 to Aspermont's 51.1; in the third round, 48.6 to 43.6, and in the final round, 40.9 to 46.1.

For Post Antelope squad

Grid drills start Monday

Approximately 30 candidates for this season's Post Antelope football squad will report at the field-house Monday morning for the opening of grid practice.

Head Coach Vernard Alexander and his varsity squad assistants, Gerald Loyd and Harold Teal, are in San Antonio this week attending the annual week-long school of the Texas High School Coaches' Association.

Upon their return, the coaches will spend the weekend getting everything in shape for the issuance of equipment Monday morning and the first day of drills.

Coach Alexander said two-day practice sessions will be held until the opening of school Sept. 1. The Antelopes' first game is scheduled for that night against Ralls on the latter's gridiron.

The head coach lists as his 1961 squad's main weaknesses, lack of depth and experience.

Nine lettermen from the 1961 team, which won two and lost eight to finish third in District 3AA standings, will be among the some 30 candidates expected to report.

The lettermen are Dwayne Capps, end; Larry Williams and Dean Johnston, tackles; Bobby Hudman and Buddy Moreland, guards; Leslie Acker, quarterback; Tommy Bouchier and Ken Rankin, halfbacks, and Harold Mason, fullback.

Thirteen lettermen were lost from last year's squad by graduation.

Nuel Landreth, letterman back, and Larry Guy, end, will be ineligible for football because of scholastic difficulties, the coach said.

Alexander lists as being among his best newcomers Billy Shumard, John Bland and Jackey Fluitt. All three played "B" team football last year. Shumard is a lineman and Bland and Fluitt are backs.

Hunting leases can be listed

About this time every year, in advance of the hunting season, the Post Chamber of Commerce receives a number of out-of-town inquiries in regard to available hunting leases for dove, quail, etc.

Joan Stewart, Chamber of Commerce secretary, asks that anyone interested in leasing their land for hunting notify the Chamber office by phoning 3461 and their names will be listed.

Mrs. Stewart also said that a number of inquiries are received about small furnished houses, one or two bedrooms, and that the Chamber office will list such houses if the owners will call.

Post youth to attend unusual reunion at Gonzales Foundation

GONZALES — Ray D. Steele, Route 2, Post, will attend the nation's most unusual reunion, Sunday, Aug. 13, Walter H. Richter, executive director of the Texas Rehabilitation Center, announced here today.

Richter said that the reunion is unusual because many of the people attending will be in wheelchairs or on crutches. The event is a gathering of former patients of the Texas Rehabilitation Center of Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation.

A day of lively entertainment has been planned for those attending the reunion. Refreshments, prizes, elections, and entertainment are all included in the program.

Members of the TRC Former Patients Association will elect officers for the coming year at a business meeting in Cullen Wheel Chair Chapel, and a musical group from Houston will provide entertainment throughout the afternoon.

Victor Canavespi of Bryan, president of the TRC Former Patients Association, said, "We're very happy that Steele will be able to attend the FPA Reunion. The TRC staff and the FPA officers will try in every way to make the Reunion a delightful, worthwhile experience for each person who attends."

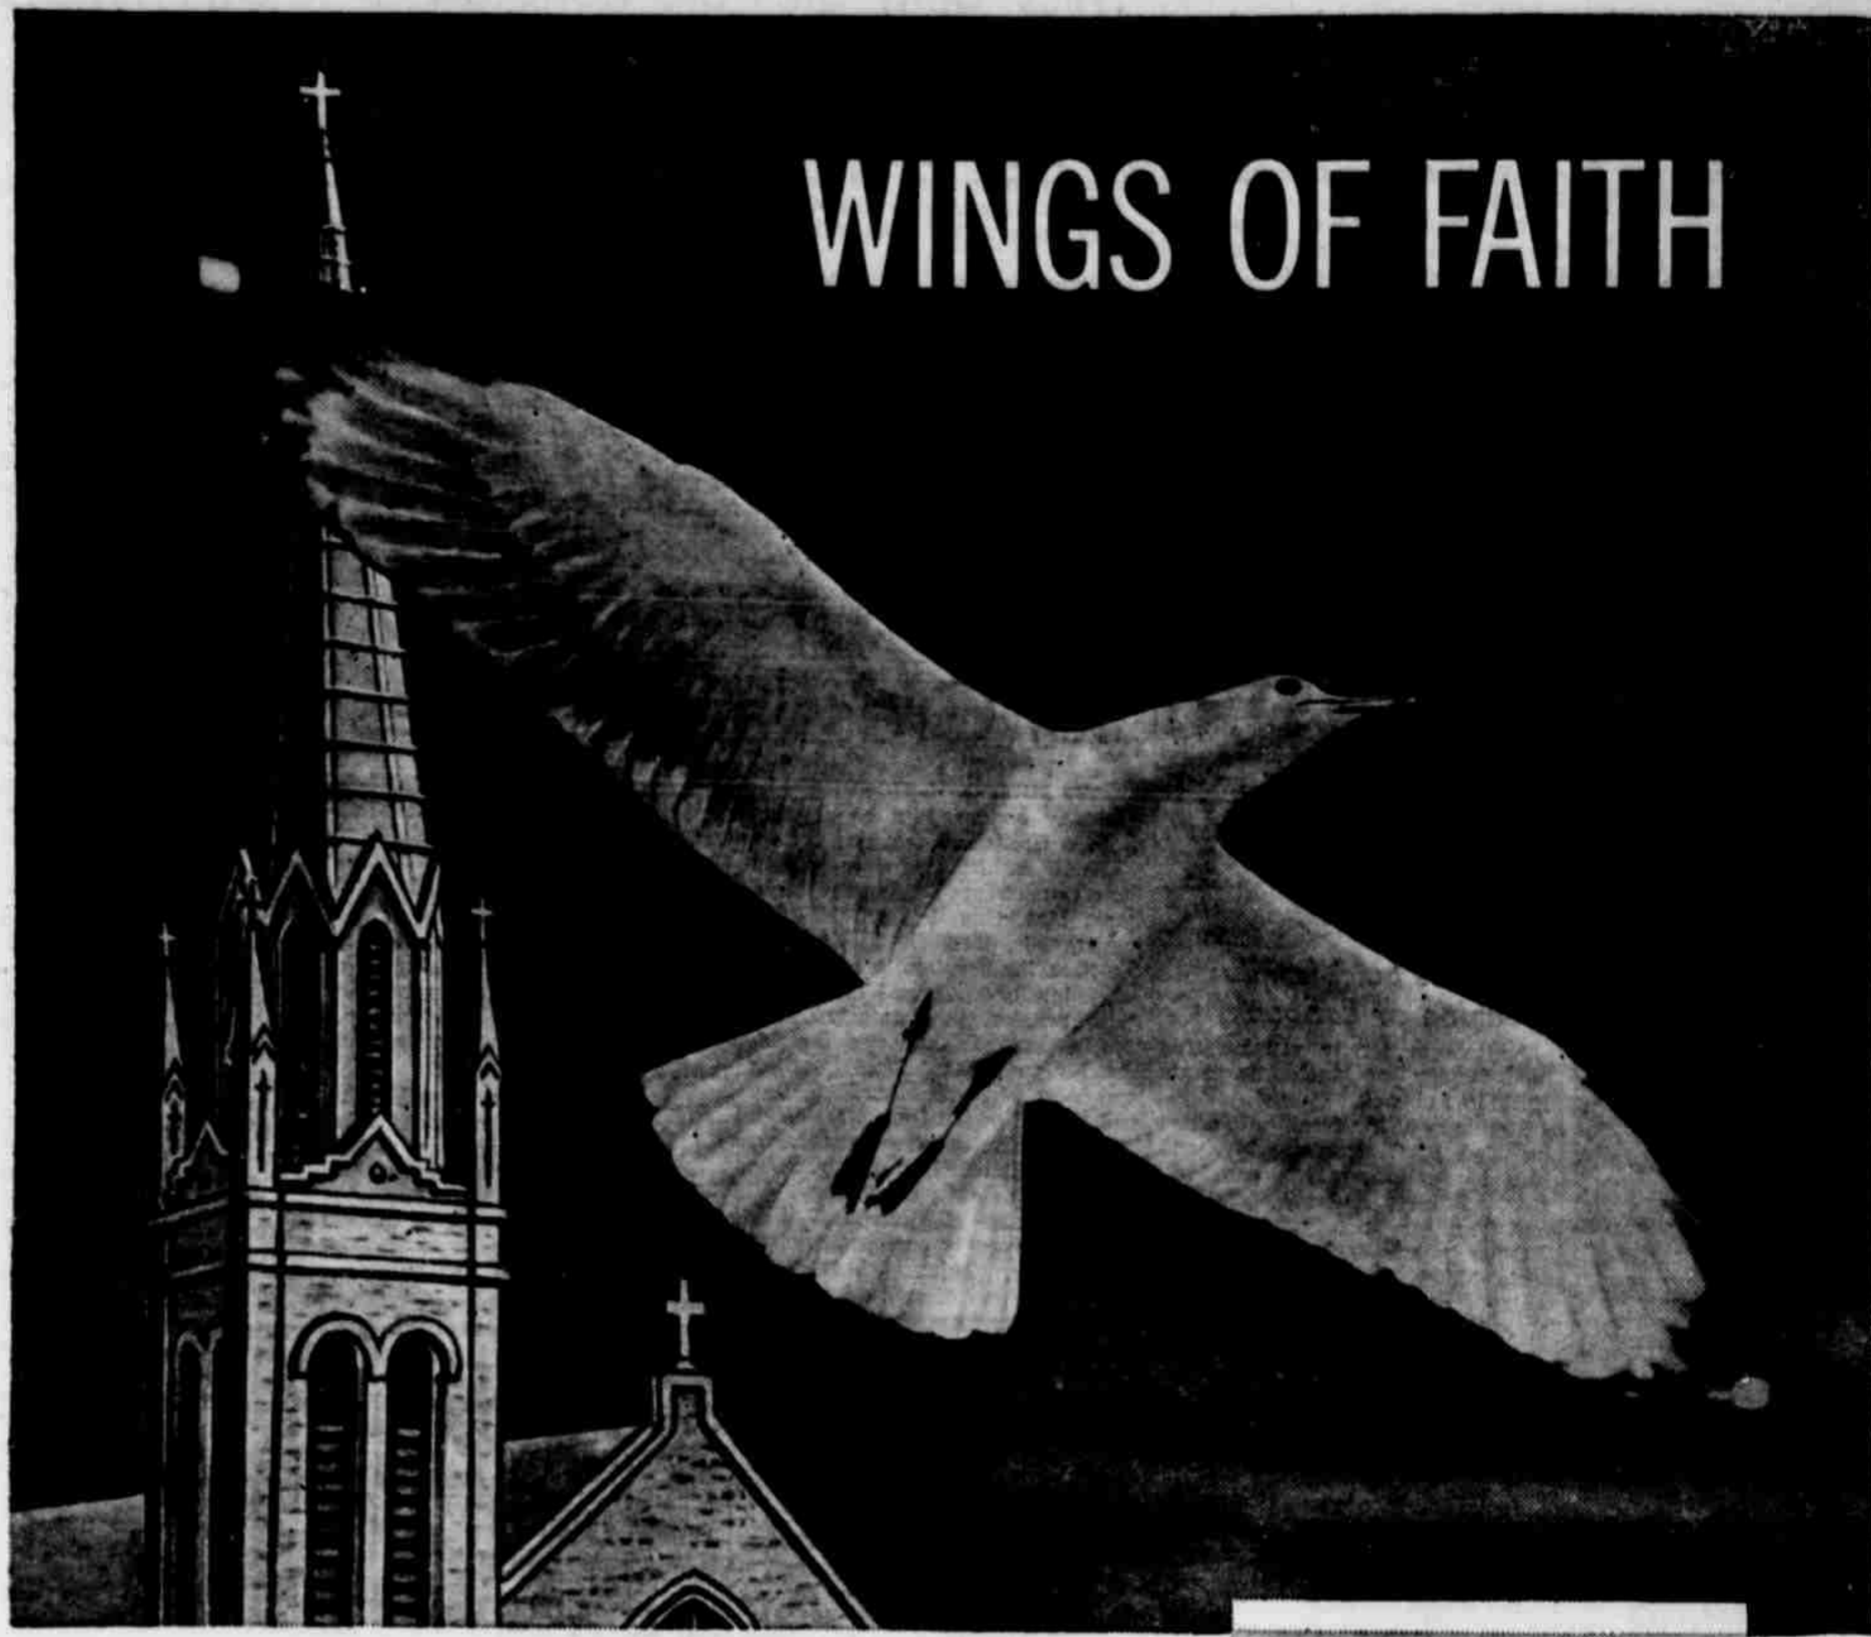

The Center is located off Highway 183 between Gonzales and Luling and adjoining Palmetto State Park.

SLATON BANQUET PLANS
 SLATON—Plans are under way for the Slaton Chamber of Commerce's annual Farmers and Merchants Night banquet. The banquet will be held on a date soon after the first three bales of cotton have been ginned and reported, probably early in December. Prizes will be given to the growers of the first three bales.

SIGHT-SAVING MONTH
 AUSTIN—Gov. Price Daniel has signed the annual proclamation designating September as Sight-Saving Month. Each September the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, through its local divisions, conducts a campaign alerting the public to the danger of unnecessary blindness.

WINGS OF FAITH

Who does not marvel at the flight of a bird? The roaring jet does not seem such a miracle. It cannot fly with the same grace and beauty and ease.

Every bird must learn to fly. The mother bird pushes her fledgling out of the nest. The young bird falls helplessly until its wings discover the invisible support of the air.

If our lives are to rise beyond frail human nature, we too must learn to fly... on wings of faith. We must discover the invisible support of God's presence and power.

Come to Church next Sunday. You can find there the invisible support of God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

State water plan is in governor's hands

AUSTIN — The State Board of Water Engineers has presented to Gov. Price Daniel a plan for development of Texas water resources to meet the anticipated water needs of the State in the year 1980.

In a report of some 200 pages titled "A Plan for Meeting the 1980 Water Requirements of Texas" which was also submitted to the 57th Legislature, the Board outlined a state-wide program to provide sufficient water for the population and industrial growth anticipated through the year 1980.

"Water is fundamental to sustaining our people and our economy," the Board said in its letter of transmittal. "Additional development of our water resources will be essential to provide for a rapidly expanding population and an accompanying expansion of industrial capacity."

"THIS REPORT reveals that through proper development, Texas has adequate water to meet its municipal and industrial needs in 1980 and sustain agriculture and other uses. Studies made during the preparation of this report indicate that continuous planning and increasingly comprehensive studies will be essential to bring about the development of the State's water resources necessary to meet its needs beyond the year 1980."

The plan proposes construction of 45 new reservoirs and enlargement of two others to supplement 73 existing reservoirs and 14 now under construction. Total capacity of the 132 reservoirs would be 58,826,000 acre-feet of water. Of this capacity, 36,261,200 acre-feet would be conservation storage; and 17,564,800, flood-control storage. Each of these reservoirs would supply water for municipalities and industries. In addition 12 of the reservoirs shown in the plan, now under construction or proposed, will furnish water for new irrigation or provide supplemental water for presently irrigated lands. Twenty reservoirs contained in the plan proposed or under construction, have storage capacities included for flood control.

Chairman Durwood Manford stated: "The plan provides a guide for orderly development of the water resources of the State to meet the needs that can be estimated at this time. The projects suggested will be basic components of any plans devised to meet the water needs beyond 1980. The plan is not intended as a directive which would in any way limit any entity from considering or obtaining a supply from an alternate source."

CHIEF ENGINEER John Vandertulp said that although the Planning Division, headed by Karl F. Keeler, was primarily responsible for preparation of the plan, it also represents thousands of man-hours work by other personnel in various branches of the agency. This report follows a progress report published in December 1958, following the Legislature's creation of the Planning Division in 1957 at a special session called by Governor Daniel for that purpose.

The Board of Water Engineers acknowledged the interest, aid, and assistance in preparation of the report received from Governor Daniel, many persons, engineering firms, river authorities, and conservation districts, as well as agencies of the Federal Government.

Development programs are proposed for each of the State's 14 principal river basins and adjoining coastal areas, with special attention to the needs of larger population and industrial centers. River basins are the Canadian, Red Sulphur, Cypress (Creek) Sabine, Neches, Trinity, San Jacinto, Brazos, Colorado, Guadalupe, San Antonio, Nueces, and Rio Grande.

Prepared against a 10-year background of alternating droughts and floods, the report states: "Inadequate facilities to meet increasing municipal needs heads the list of Texas water problems." Other problems are: an unequal natural distribution of water resources across the State; floods and flood control; the poor chemical quality of some surface and underground supplies; determination of future agricultural needs for surface water, with respect to both location and amount; sediment; and the depletion of underground supplies in some areas.

THE REPORT, dealing with both surface and ground-water resources, consists of three chapters of explanatory text, and many tables, maps, charts, and much other material.

The report contains five major classes of information:
 1. A description of the historical and present uses of both surface and ground waters by municipalities, industries, and irrigation.
 2. A summary of the development of reservoirs constructed in Texas to conserve water and regulate floods, and a summary of the increased use of underground water.
 3. Estimates of the 1980 municipal and industrial water requirements of each area of the State.
 4. A plan by which the 1980 municipal and industrial water needs could be served while providing for a continuation of all other existing rights and uses.
 5. A summary of a program of coordinated studies to amplify portions of the plan.

The plan contemplates the use of both surface and underground water to meet the 1980 annual demand of 6,547,500 acre-feet for municipalities and industries, while continuing to provide a water supply to other existing surface-water uses. Existing water rights were recognized in development of the plan.

CONSTRUCTION OF the proposed 45 additional major reservoirs, plus enlargement of two existing reservoirs, "... appears to be within the financial capability of the State and local interests, with Federal participation in projects containing flood control," the report states.

Noting that 79 per cent of the communities and municipalities in Texas now obtain their water supplies from underground sources, the plan reports that a state-wide program of ground-water investigations is in progress, together with detailed studies in some areas.

The report stresses that the plan was designed for modification to fit unforeseeable conditions, and that all projects listed can be integrated into any long-range plan, accomplishing later full development of the State's water resources.

"To go beyond these 20-year projections with state-wide project planning would not be prudent, due to the speculative nature, both as to quantity and location, of projections of water needs that look forward 50 years or more," the report reads. This indicates that a continuing inventory of water uses and additional future needs must be maintained to show when new reservoirs will have to be constructed.

Cattle rustlers' return seen by TSCRA head

FORT WORTH — Cattle stealing could again become as rampant in Texas as it was in the 1800's if the inspection authority of the Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association isn't extended, Dolph Briscoe Jr. warned here Monday in an address to the Fort Worth Farm & Ranch Club.

Briscoe of Uvalde is president of the association.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently revoked the authorization of the TSCRA to inspect cattle at posted markets, effective Sept. 1.

"Our inspectors don't just look at branded cattle. They make a report on every public sale that includes brands, marks and other identifying marks. Without this, the public market will be a logical place for thieves to dispose of stolen cattle," Briscoe said.

"I feel confident the TSCRA will receive a new authorization," he said.

Briscoe took advantage of the occasion to reiterate the TSCRA's stand in opposition to any marketing controls or quotas on cattle.

Briscoe said the land reform talk by some people in high places in the U. S. is most disturbing.

"I'm real concerned with the thought of a land reform program in this country. In countries where it has been tried, it has destroyed the productivity of agriculture. "The do-gooders would destroy profitable agriculture. The free enterprise system has made the cattle business great and must be retained," Briscoe said.

New containers for milk out
COLLEGE STATION — Plastic coated containers have been developed for packaging fluid milk. These new containers are designed to replace the present wax coated cartons, says Arch Meekma, extension dairy specialist.
 The new carton was introduced and became the big attraction at the Dairy Exposition in Chicago last November. It is a variation of the present wax covered carton. It has a polyethylene coating on the fiber carton. The new carton does not require glue for forming, wax for coating or staples for closing. It comes with the plastic coating already on the carton. All that is necessary is to shape the carton and heat seal it into form, points out Meekma.
 Manufacturers of the containers say the new cartons will eliminate the costs, inventories and handling of wax, glue and wire; prevent the contact of wax and milk and loose wax particles in the milk; do away with leaky milk cartons, and improve the appearance of the milk package.
 Plastic containers are currently being used on a trial basis in several cities and other installations will follow as soon as additional packaging machines are manufactured. It is reported that conversion kits to modify existing cartoning machines will be available in the near future.

MRS. PAT PENNELL (Laverne Lauderdale)

Church at Grassland scene of Lauderdale-Pennell wedding

Wedding vows were pledged by Laverne Lauderdale and Pat Pennell, Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Central Baptist Church at Grassland.

The Rev. Kenneth Leach, pastor, read the ceremony before an archway covered with greenery and pink gladiolas and flanked by baskets of pink gladiolas.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Lauderdale of Rt. 3 and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Pennell of Post.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz-length gown of nylon chiffon over satin. The bodice designed with a shirred midriff topped by a jacket of nylon lace featuring three-quarter length sleeves. Her veil was of tulle silk illusion, attached to a crown of sequins and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations atop a white Bible.

Mrs. H. C. Drake attended her sister as matron of honor. She was dressed in a pink dress of arnel cotton featuring a shirred midriff and full skirt and wore a headband of iridescent sequins. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and white satin streamers.

Howard Lee Teaff served as best man, and Tom and Kenneth Pennell, brothers of the groom, acted as ushers.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Kenneth Leach accompanied Mrs. J. B. Greer at the piano as she sang "Always" and "Because".

Following the wedding the bride's parents were hosts at a reception in their home. The serving table was laid in a white lace cloth over pink and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations with pink candles. The traditional wedding cake completed the table decor.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Leon Anderson, Mrs. Roy Teaff, and Miss Marlene Fitts.

For travel, Mrs. Pennell chose a black dress with pink accessories.

The couple will live in Post, where he is employed at Postex Cotton Mills.

There's a time for everything

As this is written, the legislature's special session is within hours of being over and the outlook is for a deadlock on the always-tough question of money.

Stalling, pressures and quarreling have not led to an answer in the special session. No one has budged enough for a solution to the problem to be worked out.

If no solution is worked out in this special session, which will have ended by the time this editorial appears in print, then the only choice to stave off a crisis in government business is for Gov. Price Daniel to call another special session.

The new fiscal year starts Sept. 1. Texas has never before come to the point where it had no money in sight to keep its vital services going. And, as of now, the prospect is murky for reaching an accord on taxes in this special session.

A sound and sensible start

Some 100 West Texas newspaper publishers and their wives were given the opportunity for a face-to-face appraisal of Sen. John Tower, the first Republican to be elected to the U. S. Senate from the South in over 70 years, at the West Texas Press Association's summer meeting at San Angelo over the weekend.

Judging from the comments we heard after Tower's Sunday luncheon address they liked what they saw and heard.

Tower, the first disciple of Barry Goldwater conservatism, today is the second most sought-after political speaker in the U. S. The first, of course, is Goldwater.

Speaking before an audience comprised in the main of Democratic newsmen, Tower drew applause and cheers at several places in his concise talk which he confined basically to the Communist menace and our handling of the same in the nation's capital.

A political "happencence" due to Democratic errors, Senator Tower may prove in the next six years to be a much bigger man than his rather small stature.

His conservative appeal strikes home in many Texas hearts these days. In six years his Republican label may not seem as foreign to them as it is now.

Tower, obviously inexperienced in politics, has yet to prove himself. But if he proves it,

The Voice of Experience speaks

West Texans' chests are swelling with pride over the fact that one of their number, Melvin O. Griffith of Big Spring, has been named "Driver of the Year" by the trucking industry.

And, when a man has driven more than 2,000,000 miles in 28 years without an accident, as Mr. Griffith has done, the advice he offers other drivers deserves to be listened to with respect.

Mr. Griffith declares that the first rule for safe driving is to pay attention to signs.

"First of all, pay attention to your road signs," he says. "A lot of people don't seem to realize that they are there for a purpose. If the sign says 'Sharp Curve Ahead—Slow Down' do just that."

In stating that many persons pay too little attention to signs, the Driver of the Year calls attention to a failing common to all of us. Driving the same familiar routes every day, we become so accustomed to seeing the same signs

Just walk in and sit down

Seldom, if ever, nowadays can you find such an outstanding attraction as Saturday's upcoming Garza County Quarter Horse Show that makes no admission charge.

Saturday's all-day show will be the Garza County Quarter Horse Association's 13th annual event, and this admission-free show has been growing in size and interest with each successive year.

Until two years ago, it required only a half-day to stage the show, but more and more entries with each successive year and the addition of new features made it necessary to turn the event into a day-long affair.

The show, which is affiliated with and sanc-

Post grows more eye-appealing

It's doubtful that at any other time in Post's history lawns have looked as attractive and well-kept as they do now. Flowers are in profusion, shrubbery and lawns are well-kept and, generally, the town is more eye-appealing than it has been in years.

All of which is a reflection of pride—pride not to work without fanfare, but catching on from one part of a neighborhood to another.

One beauty spot in a neighborhood usually tends to create two or three more within as many years, but this year the ratio of yard and

What our contemporaries are saying

It is bad enough to be a heel, but when folks generally recognize the fact it really hurts. All day Tuesday and Wednesday people have accused me of setting the radio station on fire. I don't do it, and I have an alibi. If I had set the fire, some of those particular records they

One big stumbling block put in the way of tax accord in this special session of the Legislature came when a San Antonio senator wasted eight hours of precious time by building on his platform for his forthcoming race for Congress with a foredoomed anti-sales tax filibuster. Despite this interruption, the Senate last Thursday passed the $360,000,000 tax bill. The mark was increased, however, when the House Committee sent the bill to Attorney General Will Wilson for an opinion of the gas tax provision.

There was time, over the weekend, to enact the measure if the lawmakers resolved to do it. Let's hope that Texas was not subjected to another such dismal spectacle as that of the San Antonio senator who, at a critical point last week, disrupted the Senate's deliberations for eight hours to stage a congressional campaign demonstration.—CD.

he may do a lot toward bringing the two-party system to Texas in actuality.

He must prove that he stands on principles, not political expediency. Texas is growing mighty sick of the "political expedient" type of politician. We have had too many of them lately—conservatives at home who work hand in glove with liberals in Washington to gain liberal, not conservative, ends.

There is "on the loose" today across America a new wave of political conservatism, which holds as its goal the return of freedom to the individual and the hacking away of some of the size and activity of "big government."

Tower sprang into national prominence with his victory in the Texas senatorial runoff. He stands in the national spotlight in many respects ill prepared for his opportunity.

Like the Harvard club which surrounds President Kennedy, he, too, is a college professor. But he professes to be of an entirely different breed. Both he and Kennedy studied in London in a widely recognized university of economics.

"We studied the same things," says John, "but we came to different conclusions."

Senator Tower made a mighty good impression in San Angelo. He appears to be making a sound and sensible start at his new job. West Texas publishers, as most Texans, will follow his career with interest.—JC.

that we often fail to pay attention to them until we find ourselves in danger of an accident.

Signs are designed to guide traffic smoothly at speeds consistent with safety. If we follow their directions closely, we get to where we are going with a minimum of trouble, Griffith says. When we ignore them, sooner or later, we find ourselves inviting an accident.

When we are driving in familiar territory, we realize how important signs really are. This is particularly true at night, when we often find ourselves watching for reflective signs that glow brightly in our headlights to guide us along our way or warn us of danger ahead. Too often, unfortunately, such signs do not exist.

The next time we go for a drive, even on familiar routes, we'd all do well to keep in mind the advice offered by the Driver of the Year: "Pay close attention to your road signs. They can save your life."—CD.

tioned by the nation's and area's top Quarter Horse and Cutting Horse associations, annually attracts many of the best Quarter Horses and cutting horses in the Southwest.

Many of Post's business and professional firms and a number of individuals, recognizing the importance to the community donated the handsome trophies and buckles that go to the winners.

The officers of the Garza County Quarter Horse Association say "thank you" to these trophy donors, and to everyone they issue a cordial invitation to attend Saturday's show, where all you have to do to see it is walk in the gate and sit down.—CD.

lawn beautification seems to have run even higher.

Contributing to the community-wide spread of flower growing and better lawn care is the to-be-commended tendency of a homeowner, who, seeing his neighbor's yard attractive and well kept makes up his mind to do just as well or a little bit better with his own yard.

Beautiful flowers and well-kept shrubbery and lawns have done a whole lot to convert Post not only into a more eye-appealing town, but also into a more prideful town.—CD.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

NOW THAT HOT weather has really set in, you wouldn't think so, but last month went on record here and just about everywhere else as one of the coolest Julys ever. It also ranked high in the amount of rainfall, which coupled with the cool weather, reduced Post's water usage to the point that we've got it made again this year with our fast-dwindling underground water supply. If we can pull through a few more summers, we'll have the water problem licked with the White River reservoir.

Jude and Mittie Manly's son, Chesly, who is a veteran Chicago Tribune reporter, has been in Texas doing a series of six articles for his paper on the upsurge of conservatism in this state which elected a Republican U. S. Senator on May 27. I've just read the first of Chesly's series of articles, which he leads off as follows:

"When Texas goes Republican, Hell will go Methodist," said Robert G. Ingersoll 81 years ago.

"Ingersoll was a poor prophet, for the people of Texas, on May 27, voted Republican in a state-wide non-presidential election for the first time in the state's history."

CHESLY GOES ON to give both sides of the spirited debate engaged in by Texans, disputing whether this sensational Republican victory was a political accident, caused by special circumstances, or evidence that Texas has become a two-party state. The Tribune reporter discussed that question with editors and political writers, Republicans and Democratic leaders, and other vocal Texans in seven Texas cities, including nearby Lubbock.

Not having been, nor not now, a John G. Tower man, I found much with which to disagree in this first of Chesly's articles, but found it highly readable and written in that professional newspaperman's style that has made the Tribune man one of the nation's top reporters. Here is one paragraph that I left me a bit cold:

"Sen. Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.) is a popular idol in Texas, esteemed almost as highly as the heroes of the Alamo. Some Democrats with long experience in politics privately concede that Goldwater, in a presidential election today, would carry every county against President Kennedy except George Parr's 'Duchy of Duval' and possibly a few others in south Texas where Latin American voters are herded to the polls like sheep."

CHESLY WRITES that "My own conclusion, after a two-week tour of Texas, is that Tower's election was an event of great significance, not only for Texas but for other southern states and the nation as well; that Texas has indeed become a two-party state; and that the Republican party, however weak it may be locally for years to come, will be in contention in all future state-wide elections in Texas."

On his way back to Chicago, the Tribune man came by Post to spend Father's Day with his parents and with his sister, Ruth Stewart.

MY FRIEND UP the street says too many meetings open at 7:30 sharp and close at 10:30 dull.

We don't hear much about it any more, but from all appearances Post's senior citizens organization, which started out as the Golden Age Club, is still going strong. Every Thursday noon, which is the group's luncheon-meeting time, there's a large number of automobiles parked outside the Teen Town building, which is the club's meeting place.

WHEN YOU start mixing them up with counties, some of these Texas town names can come as near throwing you as the Oklahoma Indian-name towns such as Tuskahoma, Bokchito, Tishomingo, etc. In Texas, for instance, Wink is the county seat of Winkler County, but the town of Winkler is way off in Navarro County. Dimmitt (spelled with one "t") is a Texas county, but the town of Dimmitt (spelled with two "t's") is the county seat of Castro County.

The way we get it, just about everybody is ready to make the sacrifices the times require. We're just waiting for President Kennedy to suggest something that we wouldn't mind giving up.

PERSONALLY, I'M glad the kids are going back to the yo-yo. It teaches them that just pulling strings has its up and downs but never gets you anywhere.

I read a news story the other day that said a meteor might set off World War III. The story explained that some nervous big shot might think a meteor was a guided missile and start pushing retaliatory buttons. All I got to say is that if people are getting that jittery the rest of us had better get out of here.

ONE OF THE most interesting baseball games occurred recently in Sedalia, Mo. In the top of the Notes of a traveler: The original Brown Palace in Denver is a relic of nineteenth century grandeur. The marble columns, some round, others square, in the lobby are, appropriately, brown. The rotunda has five gal-eries, each with copper (or perhaps bronze) railing and the center of the lobby has a partition of glass.

Colorado's state Capitol is an impressive edifice. Nearby is a fountain with the figures of a scout on horseback, hunters, trappers and a pioneer woman. Other buildings and a stately colonnade grace the beautifully landscaped area.

'Honeymoon Machine' scheduled at Tower

"The Honeymoon Machine," showing at the Tower Theatre here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, is a comedy loaded with amusing characterizations, daffy dialogue and howlingly funny situations.

This CinemaScope and color picture by M-G-M has a cast of personable and talented young players headed by Steve McQueen, widely known as the star of television's "Wanted: Dead or Alive" series; Brigid Bazlen, Jim Hutton and Paula Prentiss.

With Venice, Italy, as its setting, the plot revolves about the plan of young Lt. Fergie Howard, Ensign Beau Gillion and civilian missile expert Jason Eldridge to use their ship's electric computer as a means of detecting where the ball will fall in the local Casino's roulette wheel.

POST YOUTH FIRST TREASURE DAY WINNER

15-year-old Post youth is first Treasure Day winner

Fernando Raymundo, 15, whose mother, Mrs. Angela Raymundo, is a widow, was the first winner in Post's new Treasure Day events, the first of which was held Saturday afternoon.

The Raymundo youth was winner of the second prize of $70 in merchandise. The name of Avril Mae Taylor was on the first ticket drawn—the one for the $100 prize—but she was not present to claim her prize.

That means, Chamber of Commerce manager Johnny Hopkins said, that $30 will be added to the first prize for the second Treasure Day event this Saturday, making a first prize of $130. If the one whose name is on the first ticket drawn is not present to claim that prize, then the second ticket, for $70, will be drawn, and if it is not claimed, a third ticket for $50 will be drawn.

Each week that the first prize is not claimed, the difference between the second prize to $70 or the third prize of $50, whichever is awarded, will be added to the $100 for the next week's drawing.

The Raymundo youth was given merchandise certificates totaling $70, which he may use to shop in the designated stores, using the face value of the certificates as money.

Fifty merchants are participating in the Treasure Day promotion and have free tickets available in their stores for customers who ask for them. The tickets may be signed in the stores and will be gathered by the Chamber just before the 4 p. m. drawing.

Saturday afternoon's drawing will be held on East Main in front of Bob Collier Drug Co., it was announced today at the Chamber of Commerce office. The time will be the same as last Saturday—4 o'clock.

Burglary suspect out under bond

C. L. Milo, Post Negro, has been released from jail under $1,500 bond after being charged with burglary in Justice of the Peace Court.

Milo was arrested last Thursday by Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claborn Jr. and Deputy Elton Corley in connection with the burglary of John Smith's cafe and tavern several days ago.

Sheriff Claborn said Milo was arrested after he was found to own a pair of shoes whose heels matched tracks leading from the scene of the burglary.

Nothing was taken in the break-in at the Smith place, but attempts were made to break into two coin machines.

City boosts its paving program

The City of Post's summer paving program filled the agenda at Monday night's council meeting, with a discussion of requests for new paving taking up most of the time.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the council had decided that it was "ready to go" on an additional six blocks to the paving already under way or ready to get under way.

Three of the additional blocks planned for paving this summer are at the new high school building—one east and one west of the building and the other between the high school and the gymnasium. Two of the other blocks planned for the summer are at the extreme west end of Fourth Street and another is on East Fourth between U. S. Highway 84 and Avenue I.

Not all property owners were signed up on the three residential blocks added, but the council indicated that sign-ups were far enough along that it felt sure the blocks could be added to the summer's paving program.

The decision to include the paving on West Fourth came after the

$6,750 allocated, but final total will be higher

A federal grant of $6,750 has been made for the City of Post's comprehensive program of community planning and zoning, and more is coming, Mayor Powell Shytle announced today.

Major Shytle was informed by Cong. George Mahon last week of the grant's approval by the Urban Renewal Administration.

When the request for the grant was made by the City of Post several months ago, the federal government was paying 50 per cent of approved planning and zoning programs, but since that time the government's share of the cost has been upped to 60 per cent, the mayor said.

"That means," the mayor said, "that by amending our request we'll receive from the government 60 per cent of the total cost instead of 50 per cent."

The city council adopted a resolution May 1 to enter into a contract with Koch, Fowler & Grafe, consulting engineers of Dallas, to do the planning and zoning in the development planning project.

Now, instead of paying 50 per cent of the estimated $13,500 cost, the city will pay only 40 per cent, with the government paying the rest. In addition, however, the development project will cost the city about $1,000 more, which will go to the Texas State Health Department for preliminary fees.

What the program will amount to is the drawing up of a master plan for the town's development.

Included in the plan, which will be provided in some 150 copies, will be a population and economic base study and report, a land use and land survey report, a major thoroughfare plan, detailed recom-

Board accepts four resignations

3 teachers elected by school trustees

The board of trustees of Post Independent School District accepted four teacher resignations and elected three new teachers at a special luncheon meeting Monday.

Supt. R. T. Smith reports. Resignations accepted by the board were those of James West, curriculum coordinator; D. H. Koeninger, vocational agriculture teacher; Don Watkins, girls' basketball coach, and Mrs. Beth Walker, junior high school librarian.

The board elected Gail Harris of Lamesa as vocational agriculture teacher, Van Kountz of Sands High School at Ackerly as girls' basketball coach, and Miss Peggy Collins, who taught in California last year, as homemaking teacher.

Miss Collins, a graduate of Texas Woman's University, Denton, will replace Mrs. Wilma Hill, whose resignation as homemaking teacher was announced earlier. Last year was Miss Collins' first year to teach.

Harris, the newly-elected vocational agriculture teacher, has taught that subject at Lamesa the past two years. He is a graduate of Texas Tech.

Kountz, the new girls' basketball coach, is 25 years old. In his first coaching assignment last year at Sands, Kountz piloted his team to the Class B regional championship and to the state tournament, where they lost their first game to Claude, perennial Panhandle Class B champions. In the big Duncanville tournament last year, the Sands team defeated the Post girls.

The new coach, whose home town is Fort Davis, is a Texas Tech graduate.

Supt. Smith said Tuesday that he was interviewing applicants for the positions of junior high school librarian and high school speech teacher and that he expected to have the vacancies filled within the next day or so.

West resigned as curriculum coordinator to accept a sales position and he and his family have moved to Wichita Falls. Before being elected to the newly created post of curriculum coordinator here last year, West was elementary school principal for two years. He came to Post from Shallowater with Supt. Smith.

Koeninger resigned as vocational agriculture teacher to accept the position of high school principal at Wilson. He also came here from Shallowater when Smith became Post superintendent.

Watkins, who was in his first year here last year as girls' basketball coach, is a Texas Tech graduate.

Close City voters nix consolidation

The school consolidation election Saturday in the Post and Close City independent school districts failed when Close City voters defeated it, 40 to 24.

Post voters favored the consolidation, 18 to 3.

The state school election laws decree that both districts must approve a consolidation before it can become effective.

It was the second time in recent years that voters in the Close City district voted against consolidation.

The 64-vote total was considered heavy in the Close City district, but the Post district's 21-vote total was extremely light.

Classified sells bikes, set of encyclopedias

A Dispatch classified ad that cost only 50 cents did a big selling job last week for Mrs. Marion McMains—in a hurry.

In Thursday's Dispatch, Mrs. McMains advertised two bicycles and a set of encyclopedias for sale. The bicycles sold the day the paper came out and the encyclopedias found a buyer the following day.

If you've something to sell, don't overlook the power of a Dispatch classified ad.

HERBERT A. SMITH

Herbert A. Smith is new minister

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Smith and two children have moved to Post, where he is new minister of the Church of Christ. He replaces Kenneth Greene, who resigned to accept a Bible Chair position with Navarro Junior College at Corsicana.

Smith, who is 33, was born at Dill City, Okla., and finished high school at Ralls in 1947. He served six years in the Air Force, three years of that time in Germany.

He has a Bachelor's Degree in Education from Midwestern University at Wichita Falls.

Smith began preaching in 1952 and while preaching at Petrolia, taught in the public schools. He has held meetings in Oklahoma, Texas and California and during the past two years has lectured at the annual Teachers' Workshop at Abilene Christian College.

Smith's wife is the former Wilma Joy McGhee of Wichita Falls, whom he married in 1952. They have two children, Stan, 8, and Jan, 6.

Greene came here as Church of Christ minister less than a year ago, replacing Ronnie Parker, who resigned to do evangelistic work in Denmark.

Junior high job near completion

The remodeling job at the Post Junior High School building is scheduled to be completed by Aug. 20, Supt. R. T. Smith said he had been informed by the contractors.

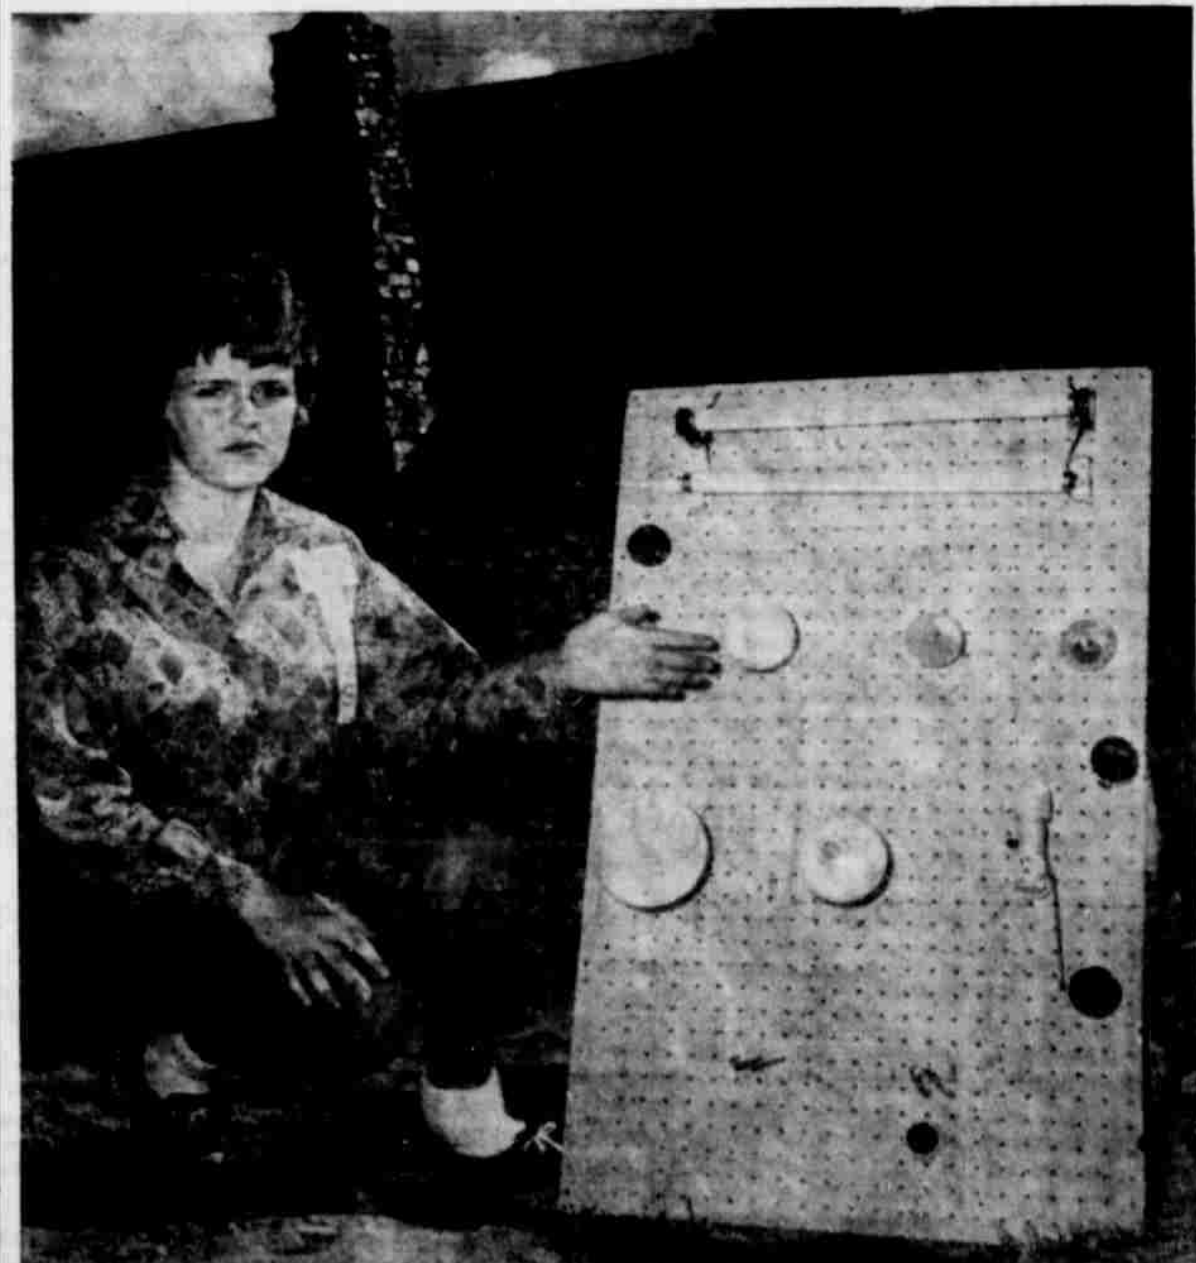

The current work is the second phase of the remodeling job authorized a few years ago on the building, which formerly was the high school building. The first phase, completed two years ago, saw conversion of the auditorium into six first floor classrooms and an upstairs assembly room.

This summer's remodeling consists of a addition of classrooms downstairs, rewiring, new floors and ceiling, exterior work, and other improvements.

Youth Center plans swimming party

Postings

By JIM CORNISH

We always prefer writing good news to bad, so let's start off with a couple of prosperity notes. Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Odam of the Western Auto store have won an all-expense-paid trip to Hawaii for their fine sales record for the first six months of this year, and Billy Miller reports he almost called us up at midnight Monday to have us come out to the Post Bowling Center and take a picture. Seems all 12 of the alleys were in use at that late but magic hour.

Our congratulations to T. B. and Louise Odam who have proved themselves real merchants since moving to Post last September and buying the Western Auto store here. T. B. got a long distance call last weekend notifying him that he and Louise had won the free Hawaiian vacation in competition with all other Western Auto stores of their size across the nation for the percentage of business volume increase for the first six months of 1961 over the same period for 1960. They will fly from Lubbock to San Francisco in early September and then fly in a chartered plane with all the other Western Auto store winners to Hawaii where they will have a week's vacation, staying at the Royal Hawaiian hotel.

Since coming to Post, the Odams have tripled the size stock carried by the store, more than tripled the store's advertising and gone into business with quick and cour-
