Former Post boy top landscape student at Amarillo Boys Ranch

Ray Holman, a former Post boy and one of the 275 boys now making their home at Cal Farley's nationally-famous Boys Ranch near Amarillo, was recently recognized as one of the top landscape students at the Ranch.

Ray has been at Boys Ranch for more than one year and is studying landscaping as part of his vocational training. A large number of shrubs, trees and plants donated to the Ranch made possible a general beautification of the Ranch last summer. Ray and other landscape students were instrumental in the planting and care of the plants.

The former Post boy is a junior in the fully-accredited Boys Ranch High School. Landscaping is an important vocation for the older boys of the Ranch who have an opportunity to learn one of the 12 skills offered in the vocational training program in addition to their academic studies. Not only are the boys taught how to work, they are encouraged to follow the skills in which they show the most aptitude and learn how to apply for jobs after they leave the Ranch.

Boys Ranch was founded more than 21 years ago by Cal Farley, former world-champion wrestler and successful Amarillo businessman. It has been the home for more than 1,200 boys who were formerly homeless and in trouble and who are now scattered all over the world. They are serving in the armed forces, earning their own ways with skills they have learned at the Ranch and raising families of their own.

"Ray is a fine young man and we're proud of the progress he has made since he has been with us," Farley said. "He is becoming the kind of citizen the people of Texas and Post can be proud of."

Development plan

Catholic Diocesan fund drive begins

The Diocese of Amarillo Development Fund Campaign got under way this week in Post with every Catholic income receiver being called on in the campaign to raise funds to provide for parochial requirements and for an educational program for the development of Catholic leadership in the diocese.

The quota for Post's Holy Cross Parish is $500 and all above that amount will remain with the parish for its own use, Rev. James Erickson, Holy Cross pastor, explains.

Jim Durbin has been named as fund chairman here, with Jim Sexton as finance chairman and Charles Didway as publicity chairman. Working with the Spanish-American members of the parish in the fund campaign are Philip Vargas, Ascencion Solis and Nicholas Flores.

The objectives of the campaign are summarized as follows:

1. To provide a fund to be used by the parishes as needed for expansion, renovation or rehabilitation of present plants; debt reduction, and new facilities.
2. To provide funds for the establishment of five inter-parish Catholic high schools in the following areas of the diocese: San Angelo, Odessa, Midland, Lubbock and Amarillo.
3. To provide a fund for the es-establishment of a diocesan seminary.

4. To provide funds for the acceleration of the program to construct a diocesan home for the aged.
5. To provide funds to complete the retirement of the existing debt on the Diocesan Children's Home.
6. To provide funds to help establish retreat houses and religious motherhouses in the diocese.

All contributions can be paid in 104 weekly payments, 24 monthly payments or eight quarterly payments from the income of three tax years.

The fund chairman said every attempt will be made to contact Catholics for their contributions or pledges. Anyone missed and wishing to join in the "fair share plan" is asked to get in touch with one of the above-named chairmen.

Farmers are using more petroleum

NEW YORK—Farmers use more petroleum horsepower than any manufacturing industry, according to Oil Facts.

They spend about $8.5 billion dollars annually to fuel, lubricate and maintain nearly five million tractors alone.

63,000 miles of Texas pipelines transport oil

Every 24 hours the Texas petroleum industry must move nearly half a million tons of oil from thousands of fields to the refineries and then move about that much finished oil products into the supply lines which sustain American civilization.

To link the most remote West Texas oil well with the consumer's gasoline tank, the industry relies on all forms of transportation—pipelines, rail tank cars, trucks, barges, and ocean-going tankers.

The heaviest part of this great transportation task, however, is handled by the industry's network of pipelines totaling some 63,000 miles in Texas. About 31,000 miles of these lines are the smaller systems which gather oil from the wells and deliver it into the big trunk lines. These are the main arteries of the whole industry. Another network carries the refined products to terminals and other distribution points for truck, barge or tanker movement.

The size of the petroleum transportation industry in Texas is seen in the fact that three out of every four tons handled in Texas harbors are crude oil or oil products. About one out of every 14 tons of Texas rail traffic is oil.

The average credit union in Texas has 596 members.

Over 700,000 people are members of credit unions in Texas.

I Give You Texas ...

By BOYCE HOUSE

When I was a serious student of economics in high school, I attended the Memphis Single Tax Club. All others were mature men, a judge, attorneys, a leading dentist among them.

The club had a visitor one night. He was a rather swarthy man, stocky, dressed almost like a tramp. He was called on for a few remarks he might wish to make, the chairman expecting only a few words. Instead, he spoke for several minutes eulogizing the noble spirit of Henry George (the originator of the single tax) and quoting his writings.

His was easily the outstanding contribution of the meeting.

I saw him a few times in the Cossitt Library, then I saw him no more. No doubt, he had drifted on. I have often wondered who he really was—what he had been—why he became a vagrant and have felt pity that one so brilliant should have wasted his gifts.

It used to be that when anyone had an attack of appendicitis and underwent an operation, the paper said that he had an appendicitis operation. But now the paper says that he underwent an appendectomy.

Maybe the original expression was not strictly accurate—but everyone knew what was meant, and that's the main purpose of language.

Also towns used to be struck by cyclones, the papers said. Lots of people were buried under the belief of their relatives that they had been killed by a cyclone. This was wrong however, according to science; there is no such thing as a cyclone on land. It's a tornado.

You think that man is a great athlete? He can't compare to the flea, at least when it comes to the high jump or the broad jump. A flea can jump six inches into the air and that's 100 times the length of its body and a flea can leap 12 inches horizontally, which is 200 times its own length. A man six feet tall would have to stand flat-footed and jump 600 feet high or broad-jump a city block to equal the flea.

Texas cars big gasoline users

Texas is also one of the country's major users of products from its own oil and gas wells.

The 4.4 million Texas motor vehicles account for a major part of the 4.5 billion gallons of gasoline consumed in 1960. Texas ranks third behind California and New York in the number of vehicles registered.

To provide fuel, lubrication and accessories for these millions of motorists, the industry maintains approximately 15,000 service stations in Texas. Texas is second California in number of stations.

Texas gasoline prices in the large consuming areas are some 4 percent lower than the average for the nation.

Cheap energy from gasoline is important in the production of Texas crops and livestock. Texas has 278,000 tractors, which consume estimated 150 million gallons of gasoline a year. Texas leads the nation in the number of farm trucks in use.

National Recreation Association is supported here by Community Chest

The National Recreation Association, supported in Post through the Garza County Community Chest, helps, among other services, to secure more and better playgrounds for young children, character-building activities for teenagers and satisfying and creative activities for the increasing number of citizens.

Bryan J. Williams, campaign chairman, says that communities throughout the country turn to the Association for information and leadership on these and many other recreation problems.

It is a member agency of the Texas United Fund, along with ten other state and national organizations which combine for one appeal through United Funds and Community Chests in Texas.

Recreation has always been a fundamental human need, and is more important today than ever because leisure time is expanding tremendously for all members of the family. More and more children need playgrounds, more people need more time on their hands, need more opportunity for social activity, a growing number of older people need chances for enriched and useful lives. The physically handicapped, the mentally ill and the retarded all have special recreation needs.

Although a large part of its program is devoted to local community needs in the field of recreation, the National Recreation Association organizes recreation programs at military installations in nearby communities too numerous to warrant a more elaborate program.

Williams said that the Association served more than 150 communities in Texas last year, and made field service visits to 31 towns and 17 Air Force Bases. The services are available to every community in Texas, he emphasized.

Hydraulic fluid well preserved

NEW YORK—The college of Chemistry and Physics at Pennsylvania State University recently discovered that the hydraulic fluid found in an Air Force bomber that had crashed 17 years ago was still usable.

The fluid found in the B-24, which had gone down in the Libyan desert in 1943, was so well preserved that it could be used in aircraft today, according to Oil Facts.

Thank you, Texas Newspapers!

For 20 years, Texas newspapers have been giving the government free space in which to advertise U. S. Savings Bonds.

You've seen the ads: you save more than money with U. S. Savings Bonds. Those ads have sold an impressive number of bonds in Texas, bonds that have helped, and are helping, your government defend freedom at a precarious moment in history, when freedom is in desperate need of defending.

When you buy these bonds you serve well the cause of liberty. You enable your country to build up her own defenses without doing damage to her economy. You insure the future for this and succeeding generations.

The space occupied by the ads that sold those bonds was donated to your government — and that means to you — by the newspapers of Texas.

We thought you'd like to know.

"The public-spirited newspapers of Texas have made an important contribution to the well-being of this country," says Ed Gossett, Co-Chairman of the Texas State Savings Bond Committee.

"We are happy to salute the generous newspapers of this State. They have done their part, and more, in giving the public an understanding of the importance of Savings Bonds — to individual buyers, and to the cause of freedom. And they have certainly made this Committee's job easier."

CONVENTION SPEAKERS

DENTON — James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers Union, will keynote the Friday night banquet on Dec. 8 at the state convention of Texas Farmers Union in Waco. Other speakers at the two-day meeting will be Sen. Ralph Yarborough and John Hutchinson, director of Extension Service, Texas A&M College.

CANDIDATE

Sen. Robert W. Baker (above) of Houston said in Austin Saturday that he has definitely decided to run for Lieutenant Governor, and will make a formal announcement later this fall. A 40-year-old Houston attorney, Senator Baker is completing his tenth year in the State Legislature.

First Christian minister tells sermon subjects

"Bloody Hands" will be the sermon topic of Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the First Christian Church, at the 11 o'clock morning worship this coming Sunday.

For the 7 o'clock evening service, the minister has chosen the subject, "There Came a Viper," for the message.

The Lord's Supper is observed each Sunday and all Christians present are invited to partake, regardless of their denomination or communion. A supervised nursery is provided for smaller children at all worship services.

Sunday School is at 9:45 a. m. for all age groups. Chi Rho (Intermediate) Youth meet at 6 p. m. Sunday.

Highlighting other activities of the week will be the mid-week prayer service at 7 p. m. Wednesday, with choir rehearsal immediately following at 7:45. The CYF Youth meet at 7:45 p. m.

On Friday evening the choir will sponsor a chili-spaghetti supper at the church from 5:30 until 7:30, benefit of new choir robes and stoles. Tickets are 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children. The public is cordially invited. You will always find a warm welcome awaiting you at the First Christian Church.

The tour will have a two-fold purpose, according to Dean Stangel. The grain market development objective is given added importance by the fact that California already is the largest single user of Texas milo, and tour leaders and participants hope to further encourage that market.

Livestock, grain tour is planned

ABILENE — Plans for a Livestock Feeding-Grain Markets Development Tour into Arizona and California have been announced by Dean W. L. Stangel, chairman of the Agriculture and Livestock Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The tour is set for Jan. 14-20, 1962, and will include the Phoenix, Ariz. area the Imperial and San Joaquin Valleys of California, and also the San Diego region, Dean Stangel said.

A special train will be made up for the tour, with Pullman sections

J. E. Blakey, Midland independent, completed the second well in the West Dorward (San Andres) field, No. 1 J. C. Dorward and others, about seven miles southeast of Justiceburg.

Completion was pumping for 67.56 barrels of 35.8 gravity oil per day plus 33 per cent water from perforations, 2,050-52 feet, after acidizing with 1,000 gallons. Bottomed at 2,105 feet, 4½-inch casing was set at 2,097 feet. The well is 330 feet from north and east lines of Section 2, Block 6, H&GN Survey, and is a one-half mile south outpost to the discovery well.

Humble Oil & Refining Company abandoned at 5,800 feet its No. 11 Alexander, Section 139, Block 5, H&GN Survey, drilled as a Wichita Albany wildcat in the Dorward San Andres and Glorieta pool.

The abandonment came after extensive tests of the San Angelo through perforations at 2,434 to 2,482 feet returned oil, basic sediment and considerable water.

COVERED DISH SUPPER

The Rev. Ed Herring, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, has announced that there will be a covered dish supper at the church Sunday night at 6 p. m. A film, "Through These Hands," will be shown. It is a report on medical mission work in the Far East.

MEDALS MARK 4-H PROGRESS FOR MANY

Scholarships Aid Outstanding Youth

One 4-H Club member in 14 will qualify for a county medal this year, predicts the National 4-H Service Committee, while the ratio for national scholarship winners will be one in approximately 10,000 members.

The coveted medals shown here represent 12 different 4-H award projects. More than 50,000 boys and girls in virtually every county in the U. S. who have done outstanding work in one of these areas will earn a medal, according to the committee.

Altogether, there are nearly 60 national 4-H projects and scholarship programs participated in by 23 million club members. Last year a total of 166,000 medals were won.

Only members over 15 years of age who have been in 4-H at least three years can compete for scholarships and other awards. Younger 4-H'ers are eligible for medals only, one of the first badges of county recognition.

At the national level, around $115,000 in scholarships will be presented to qualified 4-H youth and young adults who were former 4-H'ers. This is a slight increase over last year, the committee reports.

All 4-H award winners are named by the Cooperative Extension Service. Funds for awards come from private business firms and educational foundations, and are administered by the National 4-H Service Committee.

Among the award sponsors are: Ford Motor Co., Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, Standard Brands Incorporated, Oliver Corporation, Ralston Purina Company, Hercules Powder Company, Allied Chemical Corporation, General Foods Corporation, Eli Lilly and Company, John Deere, Moorman Mfg. Co., Humble Oil and Refining Company.

Also, California Chemical Company, Singer Sewing Machine Company, Homelite, a Division of Textron Inc., Sperry and Hutchinson Company, Massey-Ferguson, Inc., Successful Farming (through Edwin T. Meredith Foundation), Elgin National Watch Company, International Minerals & Chemical Corporation, and Whirlpool Foundation.

As the 4-H Club year draws to a close, well over 1,400 top-notch boys and girls look forward to winning the most exciting award of their 4-H career: a sponsored trip to the week-long National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. More than 200 will receive scholarships at this event.

Loss of top-soil by wind erosion one of big problems in Garza SCD

The loss of valuable top-soil by wind erosion on the High Plains and Rolling Plains of Texas is one of the many problems faced by farmers in the Garza Soil Conservation District, points out Bobby Jack Gray, SCS work unit conservationist here.

Managing crop residues to prevent the soil from blowing by leaving residues on or near the soil surface throughout the wind erosion period in the spring is a very effective way to cope with the wind erosion problem.

All high residue crops such as a small grain or grain sorghums normally produce sufficient amounts of residue to give adequate protection from soil blowing.

The methods of tillage is an important factor in leaving residues on the soil surface for wind erosion protection. Some types of equipment anchor the residues near the surface of the soil, while others bury the residue and leave the surface bare and exposed to the action of the wind.

One of the best tillage methods for leaving the residues from crops on the soil surface is to list with the rows and turn the freshly plowed soil back to the stalks, leaving the stalks exposed.

Thanks, Folks!

I have sold the Dudley Brown Motor Company to Guy Floyd, an experienced local man in the automotive business.

I want to take this opportunity to thank all my many customers for your business. It was appreciated.

I hope you will continue to trade with your new Mercury-GMC dealer.

DUDLEY BROWN

I am proud TO ANNOUNCE I have purchased THE Dudley Brown Motor Co.

GUY FLOYD

AND AM THE POST AREA'S

New Mercury-GMC Dealer

For many years I have sold Ford Motor Co. automobiles and consider their cars excellent products. I am pleased to have purchased that Mercury-Comet-GMC truck dealership here from Dudley Brown that I may have an even greater opportunity to sell their fine cars in my hometown.

I want to invite you to stop in at the Dudley Brown Motor Company—the name for the present will remain the same—and see the fine lines of cars and trucks we offer the motoring public.

We will service what we sell, give top value trade-ins, and handle used cars. Come in and let me show you the new 1962 Mercurys, the 1962 compact but luxurious Comets, and the sturdy, economical GMC trucks.

Junior play cast chosen

"Time Out For Ginger" was written by Ronald Alexander and it is a three-act comedy. The director is Mr. Carlyle, the speech teacher. The assistant director is A n n Pennington. The junior sponsors are also helping with the directing of the play. They are Mr. May, Mr. St. John, and Mr. Teal.

The part of Ginger is played by Chris Cornish. Ginger is 14 years old and very active in sports such as football.

Howard Carol is the father of Ginger and very well known for his way of saying things that always turn out in a turmoil. Agnes Carol is the mother of Ginger and the wife of Howard. She is played by Lin Allyn Cox.

Sharon Isaacs is Joan, the 18-year-old daughter and Ginger's oldest sister. Sammie Caffey plays the part of Lizzie, the maid. Marsha Smith is Jeanie the 16-year-old daughter of the Carols.

Kent Wheatley is Eddie Davis, a big football hero, who is also Joan's boy friend. Lenny Howell is Tommy Green, Ginger's boy friend. He is the intellectual type.

Ronald Tallent is Mr. Wilson. He catches all the trouble from the speeches Harold makes. Jimmy Wells is Ed Hoffman, who is the president of the band and bosses Howard Carol.

Dec. 15 is the date set for the play. The Juniors are going to try to have two night performances and everyone is invited.

The heads of some of the committees are:

Construction. James Mitchell; painting. Marianne Jones; properties. Delton Robinson; lighting. Sonny Gossett; sound. Buddy Moreland and Stanna Butler; costumes. Vonda Howell; make-up. Glen da Hurt; box office. Elaine Wheatley and Tom Campbell; house manager. Sandy Irons.

Ushers will be Sharon Blackwell and Edna Redman.

Couples seen around PJHS are: Belinda Lee and Jerry Sullivan; Linda Hays and Bobo McWhirt; Pamela Owen and Mike Miller; Sherry Woods and Paul Walker; Marcia Newby and Richard Scott; Linda Altman and Larry Johnson; Cerretha Jones and Donnie Cornell; Carol Camp and Seve McDonald.

What's this feud between Linda Hays and Arleta Robinson?

Mr. Loyd's homeroom won the beautiful United States flag. They had more new members to join and more attendance at the P-TA meeting. We are all sure his group, including himself, are proud—as we are.

Most of the girls are happy. Wonder why?

Wanted: Unattached boys. Notify unattached girls.

It seems as though Jan Miller, Pat Robinson, Belinda Lee and Linda Hays never run out of things to say.

Danny Cooper, is it true that you are going to stay with Brenda Ward instead of breaking up and starting over with Jane Hutchins?

Michael Petty, which one of these girls are you going to stick with: Pat Robinson, Scharlene Holland, Darlene Jones?

In Memoriam

Revised by Butch Bowen

When I die don't bury me at all. Just lay me out in dear old PHS hall.

Put my Bookkeeping book at my feet.

And tell Mrs. Fleming, I was East beat.

Put my Government book on my chest.

And tell Mr. Souter, I did my best.

Put my Typing Book in the floor.

And tell Mrs. Fleming, it wasn't all a bore.

Put my Grammar book at my head.

And tell Mrs. Ryder, that's why I'm dead.

Put my music in my hand.

Tell Mr. Meisch, that I really enjoyed band.

Put my Chemistry by my side.

Tell Mr. Baxter to let my grave ride.

No place for my Algebra, just can't get it in.

Tell Mr. Pollard that this is the end.

Friday night hayride planned by Freshmen

Just imagine, real hay! Yes, the Fish are planning a big blast, a hayride, this Friday night. We'll ride out to one of the riverbeds and feast on hot dogs and roasted marshmallows.

However, if the weather is bad, we'll all go over to the old gym for a tacky party and have homecooked hot dogs (not to mention marshmallows).

So unless you want to miss a keen party, better pay your class dues or else we'll miss you.

SHORTHAND, TYPING, BOOKKEEPING

Real progress noted in all phases Post High's Commercial Department

In the Shorthand classes last week, everything was going as usual, with all the girls reading, writing, and transcribing. Friday morning the girls had a short test which consisted of transcribing from their homework notebooks. Unfortunately, some of them did not have their homework and you probably know the rest! But of the ones that did hand their test in Melinda Newby, Sharon Blackwell, Ann Pennington, Lynda Taylor, and Sue Howell did very well.

In Mrs. Fleming and Mr. Teal's

Typing I classes, the students are learning to type business letters. The students seem to think it is rather hard to type the letters with limited mistakes, but take it from a Typing 11 student, you had better learn it now, for if you don't you will catch it next year if you take Typing 11.

The Typing 11 Classes, under Mrs. Fleming, are working on a notebook. It will consist of the basic fundamentals of typing and will be very useful for them in the future.

And last, the good ole bookkeeping classes are trudging along, with the exception of Wayne Gumbly, Ralph Ardis, Beverley Young, John Anderson, Sandra Lobban, Robert Sanchez, Kay Murray, Judy McCullough, Charlotte Covey, Archie Gill, Cherry Irvin, Jean Johnson and Leatrice Justice. These students are a chapter and more ahead and are doing very well. But for the rest of the classes it seems like hard work—but then that never did hurt anyone, did it?

We plan to get a new march soon. We've been practicing on marching—so some of us can't march! We had a talking period when Mr. Raphael took over Friday. It was a reunion.

We will have our pictures taken soon. Now let us look our best, kids. Let's all try harder to be in tune; maybe we can get along better.

Frosh English classes turn in good projects

The Freshman English classes turned in their projects last week. There were quite a lot of them and Mrs. Smith was very proud of the things that were turned in. Some of them were: A poster picture of a halibut and halfhorse. The idea of this poster came from "I Get A Colt to Break in" by Lincoln Stevens.

"Tell-tale Heart" by Edgar Allan Poe was represented by two posters. They both consisted of the title "Tell-tale Heart" in red plus a big red heart. One of these posters had a picture of Edgar Allan Poe.

"Battle of the Tea Cups" by Sir Arthur Coyle was represented by a plastic boxing ring with two paper cups, tea cups, fighting with each other.

Another poster was "A Piece of Red Calico." This was represented by a miniature chair with the seat cushion made out of red calico.

These are just a few of the very original posters that the Freshmen made. Mrs. Smith was very pleased with the unique ways in which the stories were represented.

Last day would be a big one!

Some of the members of the Paper Staff compiled a list of things they think certain people would do if this were their last day—with the following results:

Dwayne Capps: Run home and put his boots on.

Danella Bateman: Talk as much as she could.

Sharon Isaacs: Get out her make-up kit.

Leatrice Justice: Get out all of her pressed corsages and put them on.

Judy Clary: Start eating all she could.

Glenn Polk: Look in the mirror all he could.

Charlotte Covey: Be nice to Wayne McFadin for once.

Harold Wayne Mason: Make an excuse to try to keep from dying. secrets he knows.

Ruthell Martin: Backcomb her hair all day long.

Sandra Stewart: Put on her football helmet.

Janith Short: Heaven only knows.

Dwan Johnston: Dance all day.

Football Boys: Break all the training rules.

Becky Thompson, Vivian McWhirt, Pamela Stewart, Dee Ann Walker, Darla Pierce: Wear their basketball uniforms all day.

Buddy Moreland: Make a joke out of it and tell everybody he sees.

Sandy Irons: Flirt with all the boys twice as much.

Jerry Thuet: Buy himself and Lynette the most expensive caskets in town.

Kent Wheatley: Grab his rebel cap and go South.

Sandra Lobban: Grab her civics books and run to the teacher for help.

David Lee: Wash his white keds, Larry Guy: Just giggle.

Lynda Taylor: "Says who?"

Bobby Lubman: Throw his crutches down and go to Old Mexico.

Mr. Clark: Keep everyone in an hour later after school.

Improvements in Library noted

By Charlotte Covey
The Library has made possible a new convenience for the students of PHS. Mrs. McRee has pulled the biographies out of the card catalog and has re-filed them in a separate drawer that contains only the cards on biographies. This will save the student many hours of effort and will encourage the use of the biographies.

Halloween party is Friday night event

Friday night at 7 o'clock at the Graham School, Theresa and Bobby Dean and Wesley Morris were honored with a Halloween party.

WASHINGTON AND
"SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

The loss of the U. S. gold reserve has taken an increased stride as foreign nations present dollars for exchange in gold. Unless the Congress takes strong action on restoring American protective tariffs, there is every indication this trend will continue.

Half-measures will not work. Early this fall there went into effect the reduction from $500 to $100 the amount of goods American tourists abroad can buy duty free. While this was a step in the right direction, it also places further focus on the need for an upward revision of the tariff rates as long as European skilled labor is paid on wage scales running from 50 cents an hour on downward.

Actually, the bulk of American tourists, on limited budgets, have never bought too heavily abroad. The damage has been done by the minority of affluent means who have bought heavily in Europe.

It is doubtful this affluent minority will be impeded. After all the whole of Europe is dedicated to getting the American dollar and even Diner's Club, American Express and Carte Blanche credit cards are accepted freely for goods.

In addition, foreign governments give tourists special concessions in purchasing that their own citizens cannot get.

In many countries, the citizens of those nations must pay a stiff purchase tax on things they buy.

Winter season brings on danger of carbon monoxide, potential killer

AUSTIN—Each winter brings its toll of deaths and serious accidents from carbon monoxide, a potential killer gas loosed into every home when fire is used for cooking or to dull the chill edge of weather.

State Health Department records show that for each of the past four years the lethal mixture has killed an average of 28 Texans in mishaps at home, in automobiles, and industrial plants and public buildings.

So insidious is the gas that by the time a victim is aware that he is being poisoned, he may be only a few seconds away from unconsciousness when he will be unable to help himself.

Health and safety officials at all levels unanimously urge that extreme precautions be taken to safeguard against carbon monoxide, particularly during winter months when windows are closed in homes and automobiles.

Says Dr. J. E. Peavy, Texas commissioner of health: "Prevention is the key word when dealing with carbon monoxide."

Postings--

(Continued from page 1) available. Builders are conforming to them. In Lubbock in recent weeks, construction of fallout shelters had become the new "boom business" with contractors specializing in them working night and day and falling farther and farther behind the demand. In West Texas they serve a dual purpose as tornado cellars too.

County Judge J. E. Parker reports a rising interest in such shelters here as well, now that Russia has been bombarding the world's atmosphere with tremendous nuclear explosions. He has received an ample supply of two different pamphlets and sets of government approved fall-out shelter drawings. One pamphlet is entitled "Facts about fallout protection". The other is named, "The Family Fallout Shelter" and includes facts on how to build them in backyards or basements, and what's more how to live in them should the need arise.

The judge says quite a few already have been picked up at his office in the courthouse but that plenty are now available for all who are interested.

Jerry Hitt--

Side II: "Theme From a Summer Place"; "Stardust" (Carmichael-Parrish); "Song From Moulin Rouge" (Engbick-Auric); "Moon-glow" (Hudson DeLancey Mills); "Nola" (Arndt), and "T a m m y" (Livingston-Evans).

"A Word About Jerry" on the album cover says, in part:

"Being a member of a musical family it wasn't unrealistic that he should learn to hum "Five Foot Two" before he could talk plain English, nor was anyone surprised when he picked his way through his first piano tune at the age of three.

"From this first childish session at the piano, Jerry has been in the public eye on the musical scene for most of his short years. Starting with a weekly radio program when he was seven and graduating to numerous TV appearances, including a short engagement with the Danny Thomas Show, to several hundred personal appearances, including a Governor's Banquet and Ball in Houston, Texas; appearance for the Prince and Princess of India; the Century Room in Dallas; numerous club and dance engagements; talent contests (he has won every talent show he has entered); and finally Jerry is organizing his own trio to play dance and club engagements throughout the country."

Weather--

Ginners generally are expecting their plants to be swamped once the weather clears off and the cotton starts coming in again.

The bale count yesterday afternoon from the county's six gins was: Basinger Gin, Southland, 939 bales; Pleasant Valley, 760; Close City Co-op, 265; Graham Co-op, 127; Storie, 202; Planters, 195.

HOME FROM HUNT

Claude Collier Jr. of Caprock Chevrolet & Oldsmobile here has returned from a hunting trip north of Bayfield, Colo. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Grant Yandell of Durant, Okla. The trio has gone deer hunting together in all except three of the last 10 years. They killed three deer, including a four-point buck brought down by the Post man.

New pastor--

Father Eugene was born in Cali, Colombia, and studied in Paris, France, where he was ordained in 1931. He has been in the United States for three years, having served parishes at Miami Beach, Fla., and Houston before coming to the Amarillo Diocese.

He speaks Spanish, French and Italian fluently and while still a student of the English language, is mastering it rapidly.

Would you trade your pocket change for $1,000?

Just 63¢ a day will do it

You'd be surprised how much the money you carry in your change pocket, saved regularly, can add up to.

By putting away only 63¢ a day for one month, you'd have enough to buy a $25 Series E Savings Bond. Keep it up for forty months, and you'd find yourself owning a neat stack of Bonds worth $1000 at maturity. The nice part about this $1000 nest egg is it only costs $750. And you pay for it with money that probably would have gone down the drain.

SOME ADVANTAGES OF U. S. BONDS

- You can save automatically with the Payroll Savings Plan.
- You now earn 5 1/2% interest to maturity.
- You invest without risk under a U. S. Government guarantee.
- Your money can't be lost or stolen.
- You can get your money, with interest, anytime you want it.
- You save more than money—you help your Government pay for the peace.

Vet's Forum

Q. What happens to a veteran's National Service Life Insurance if he neglects to name a beneficiary to collect the proceeds after his death? Do the funds remain in the Treasury?

A. If no beneficiary has been designated, or none is alive at the time of the insured's death, the proceeds are payable in one lump sum to his estate.

Q. With regard to VA benefits, what period following the Korean Conflict is considered to be "peace-time" service?

A. Active service beginning Feb. 1, 1955.

Q. I am receiving compensation for a 40 per cent disability incurred in combat. Others I know receive extra compensation allowances for their children under 18. Should I apply for these allowances for my children?

A. No. Additional allowances for dependents are granted only to veterans with disabilities rated at 50 per cent or higher.

Q. Does the Veterans Administration have outpatient clinics for the treatment of veterans' service-connected injuries in every state of the Union?

A. Yes, they are located in every state of the Union, including Alaska and Hawaii.

"What doth the Lord thy God, require of thee..."

but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all His ways, and to love Him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His Love for men and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor.

Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long preserve and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish.

Therefore—even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family.

Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, will set him free to live as a child of God.

8th birthday reflections

(Editor's Note: Post, like thousands of other towns and cities throughout the nation, has a chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous, the organization that has helped literally thousands of men and women who had, or have, drinking problems. This article, which gives some idea of the methods through which AA helps the alcoholic, was written by a member of the Post AA chapter.)

That is a statement you can agree with if you read the rest of this column and see the kind of English or grammar that I use. But if you know me personally you would surely agree with the you would course you thought perhaps I was not yet eight.

But as a matter of fact I am eight years old in AA. You see I am an Alcoholic and by finding AA I found a new way to live that didn't include alcohol.

By attending AA I discovered that alcoholism is a disease that is second only to heart trouble in the number of deaths every year. And my guess is that if the doctors would sign the exact cause of death on certificates that it would be the number 1 killer in the world today.

Post is indeed very lucky to have an organization here that can combat this disease.

THE NEW CHEVY II GOING GREAT GUNS!

Chevy II Nova 400 Sport Coupe—and there are 8 more models, just as nifty, where this one came from

This one was on the road to success right from the start, a new kind of solid simplicity blended with economy and dependability. Beneath the hood... a frugal 4- or satiny 6-cylinder engine (your choice in most models). Nine new models... sedans, wagons, hardtop and convertible.

If you're looking for sensibility at its Sunday best—join the celebration at your Chevrolet dealer's. It's Chevrolet's golden anniversary year, and this new Chevy II is making it a year to remember with a new line built especially to save you money on service and maintenance. Get the full story at your dealer's.

CHEVROLET CELEBRATES 50TH BIRTHDAY

Famous race driver, Louis Chevrolet, displays his experimental 1911 car, which went into production in 1912. This was the beginning of one of the automotive industry's fabulous success stories and one which is highlighted by the golden anniversary of Chevrolet starting Nov. 3. In its first year of production Chevrolet built 2,999 cars.

a little easier I would get another jug. I had been to see the psychiatrist and he told me I was going crazy if I didn't quit drinking, and in order to make insanity a little more bearable I would buy another jug. I had been to the minister and he told me that if I didn't quit drinking I was going to hell and I had almost been there several times. None of these seemed to do me any good.

When I came to AA I found out that I was sick physically, mentally and spiritually. These good men had been trying to frighten me into staying sober and one of the reasons why I drank was fear.

I found out in AA that I was an alcoholic and that it didn't make any difference if I stayed sober 20 years I was still an alcoholic and would be for the rest of my life. But that I could arrest the disease by trying to follow a way of life that was laid out in 12 steps.

The first step was to admit that I was an alcoholic and that my life was unmanageable. Step two, came to believe that a power greater than man could restore me to sanity. Step 3, became willing to turn my life over to the care of God as I understood Him. Step 4, made a complete and fearless moral inventory. Step 5 admitted to God and another human being the exact nature of my wrongs. 6, became willing to have God remove these defects of character. 7, humbly asked God to remove these shortcomings. 8, made a list of all the persons we had harmed and became willing to make amends to them all. 9, made direct amends to them or others. 10, continued to take personal inventory and when we were wrong promptly admitted it. 11, sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God, praying only for his will for us and the power to carry it out, 12, having had a spiritual awakening as a result of these steps we tried to carry this message to other alcoholics and practice these principles in all our affairs.

No one in AA can live the 12 steps perfectly, but we are not perfectionists, we only strive to make a little spiritual progress as we go along.

I was taught right from wrong when I was at home with my folks but they too used fear and made me feel that I was going to hell and burn unless I quit all sin. Now I know God as a God of love not fear, and I have learned some of the things that were wrong with me. I am almost convinced that drinking was only a symptom of what was really wrong with me.

When I joined AA nobody asked me how much money I had, or who I knew or what kind of a background I had. I was accepted as a sick alcoholic with no questions asked. The only requirement for membership was an honest desire to stop drinking. I really wanted that and when I was told that I didn't have to make any promises, or swear off, just quit for 1 day at a time, it seemed like I could follow the program on that basis just one day at a time. Now I realize that AA has taught me that I have a choice each day. I can get drunk if I want to or I can stay sober by using the tools I have found in this wonderful way of life.

I am not proud of my 8 years of sobriety but I am deeply grateful to God as I understand him and to AA members everywhere for making it possible for me to

1 station for every 327 motor vehicles

Department of Commerce statistics indicate that there is one service station for every 327 motor vehicles registered in the United States.

In 1958, the year of the last official count, there were 206,302 service stations and more than 67 million motor vehicles. Ten years earlier there were 179,647 stations to care for some 41 million vehicles, a ratio of one to 226.

The decade saw a net increase of 14.8 per cent in the number of service stations compared to a gain of 66 per cent in registrations.

HARRY ELAM

'Phone company appoints Elam

General Telephone Company of the Southwest has announced the appointment at Brownfield of Harry Elam as manager of the company's western division operations.

Elam has served as division traffic superintendent in the company's southern division office at Robstown for the last two years. As western division manager, he replaces the late J. L. (Dusty) Kemper.

R. B. Shirey, who had served as western division manager in a temporary capacity since mid-September, has been named manager of the north central division at Sherman.

Two guilty pleas entered for DWI

Three cases were heard by County Judge J. E. Parker during the last week with two guilty pleas entered in driving while intoxicated cases.

J. B. Robertson pleaded guilty Oct. 30 to a DWI charge and was fined $75 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months.

Howard L. Rankin pleaded guilty to a DWI charge Oct. 28 and was fined $50 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and his driver's license suspended for six months. In the third case, Judge Parker fined Victor Reyes $35 on a charge of defrauding by worthless check.

Six others listed for 'Norm Cash Day' help

More names were added this week to the list of individuals and business places which the Post-Ex-Students' Association wish to thank for their help in making Norm Cash Day a success here Oct. 20.

Contributors not previously thanked on a page ad published by the association include Harry Wood, Dee Coleman, Cottage Lounge, Dr. A. C. Surman, George (Scotty) Samson and General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

MOTHER HAS STROKE

James Minor's mother, Mrs. John Minor of Tahoka, suffered a stroke Friday while visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Bobby Philips, in Muleshoe. She is in the West Plains Hospital and Clinic at Muleshoe. James is at the hospital today and has been dividing his time since Friday between being at his mother's bedside and his business duties here.

In last 94 years of drilling 470,000 holes in Texas seeking oil

The search for oil and gas in Texas began just after the Civil War and some production was developed before 1900, but it was the flood of oil released by the Lucas gusher at Spindletop, near Beaumont, in 1901, which first made Texas world famous as a petroleum area.

In the past 94 years, some 470,000 holes have been punched down in Texas seeking oil. The deepest of these went down 23,340 feet in 1958 — and yielded nothing. The deepest Texas producer is a gas well at 16,680 feet.

The search for oil requires vast sums of money because the only way to prove whether an area may be productive is to drill a hole. Only a few (about one out of 60) find anything profitable. This expensive test is usually preceded by months and sometimes years of study of the geologic formations of the area.

The cost of drilling wells varies widely in Texas, depending on the area, kinds of formation, and depth. The average well has been calculated at something like $47,600, with the per-foot cost around $11.40. Gas wells, which are generally deeper, average more than $112,000. A gas well drilled in the Gulf of Mexico might run about $88 per foot or an average of some $973,000 per well, with an off-shore oil well averaging some $481,000. A fairly deep West Texas oil well averages $296,000. One between 5,000 and 7,000 feet deep may cost about $83,000. It is estimated that some $750 million was invested in Texas on drilling in 1960. A few years ago the amount ran close to $1 billion a year.

The new fields and new producing formations are found by "wildcat" wells drilled in untried territory or at unexplored depths. About 3,166 of these were drilled in Texas in 1960. These exploratory wells were tried in 217 Texas counties that year. The risk involved in hunting for oil and gas is shown by the fact that more than 90 per cent were dry holes and few of those that did produce were financial successes.

Another 12,415 wells were drilled in 1960 to develop oil and gas fields which had already been discovered. In all, some 66 million feet of hole (12,581 wells) were drilled in Texas that year, which it added together, would reach through the earth about one and one-half times.

The search for oil and gas in Texas has slowed down considerably from the peak year of 1956 when about 21,500 wells were drilled. High costs, disappointing results, and relatively low oil prices are listed among the reasons. However, about one-third of all the wells drilled in the U. S. during 1960 were in Texas.

$500 bond made in liquor raid

Felipe Valdez was out on a $500 bond from County Judge J. E. Parker's court this week following her arrest Sunday night by a trio of sheriff's officers on a charge of unlawfully selling alcoholic beverages.

Four "customers" who were in the place at the time of the raid were brought to the sheriff's office, interviewed, and signed statements.

Making the raid were Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claborn Jr., and Deputies Elton Corley and Oscar Gray.

ATTEND MEETING

County Agent Lewis C. Herron and Mrs. Leta Smith, home demonstration agent, were in Lubbock Wednesday to attend a district agents' meeting.

Fatal school accidents total 81 in 1960-61, 17 less than in 1959-60

Accidents took the lives of 81 school-age children in Texas during the 1960-61 school year, 17 less than the 98 recorded during the 1959-60 school year, according to a report compiled by Lewis Spears, safety consultant, Texas Education Agency, Austin.

Forty-nine of the 81 deaths in 1960-61 are listed as "out-of-school" and are not related to the school accident record; 32 of the deaths resulted from accidents in school on the way to and from school. Statistically, the 32 in-school accidents are approximately 30,000 of one per cent of the more than 2,046,000 children enrolled during that period in Texas elementary and secondary public schools.

During the same period, injuries (in or out of school) caused 68,732 days of school attendance, less than two-tenths of one per cent of the approximately 332,625,000 days of aggregate daily attendance.

The statistics quoted do not include private and church-related schools. Spears, in a recent annual safety report to school superintendents, suggested that accidents might be further reduced by placing more emphasis on the correct use of spending more time on directed play in the first three grades of school.

In grades 1-6, one of every three "in-school" accidents occurred when children were "scuffling" and or using playground equipment. In grades 7-12, the greatest number of injuries occurred in athletic activities. According to the report, "This is understandable as athletic activities play a large role in secondary school training."

The number of these accidents can be reduced, no doubt, by the development of an improved physical conditioning program, better equipment, and rigid enforcement of playing rules.

Spears complimented Texas teachers on "an excellent job in safety education and general attention to students' physical welfare. Thousands of them devote much of their leisure time to training in accident prevention, civil defense, and first-aid. They are the front line of defense against accidents and disease. As they are in daily contact with every child in school, they are often the first to observe seeing and hearing difficulties, or that a child's physical appearance indicates impending illness."

Vet's Forum

Q. How much is the VA burial allowance and to whom is it paid?

A. The allowance is $250, and it is paid to the funeral director or if the director has been paid, to the person who paid the veteran's burial expenses.

Q. On what basis are some peace-time veterans eligible for VA hospitalization?

A. They may be eligible for VA hospitalization if they were discharged, retired or released from active service for a disability incurred or aggravated in line of duty, or are receiving compensation for a service-connected disability, or would be eligible to receive such compensation if they were not receiving retirement pay.

Q. Is it true that the monthly payments for orphans attending school under the War Orphans' Education Assistance Act vary from $50 to $110, depending on the amount of death compensation or pension they are receiving?

A. The rates of payments are: $110 a month for full-time school attendance; $80 a month, if three-quarters time; and $50 a month if half-time. The rates are not determined by receipt of compensation or pension.

State officers of TFWC spend busy day on Post visit

Mrs. T. L. Jones opened her eye to the state officials of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs as they arrived in Post Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Harry Griffith of Austin, president; Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher, vice president; Mrs. A. E. Boyd, secretary and state chairman of Home Life, and Mrs. A. E. Boyd, secretary of the District were guests at a breakfast at the First Christian church at 11 a. m. on Wednesday. Members attending were Mrs. Lee Davis, local president; Mrs. E. S. Stewart, Mrs. Cecil E. S. Stewart, Mrs. C. E. S. Stewart, Mrs. T. L. Jones, Mrs. H. Haire, Mrs. J. F. Storie, Mrs. T. Smith, Mrs. Louie Burkes and Maxine Durrett.

After the luncheon, the members of the state officials of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs spent the day at the bank building for a meeting. Mrs. Jones introduced Mrs. Griffith, who spoke on her favorite subject and project of the year, "Finland." Mrs. Griffith was guest of honor in Finland last year. "Finland" was an entertaining afternoon was spent learning of the way of life of the best-read people in the world. We were reminded that Finland is the only country to pay no war debt in full.

The serving table was laid with beautiful linen cloth centered with an arrangement of purple and white candles. Appointments silver and crystal were used. Mrs. Burkes and Mrs. Haire served during the tea hour.

Mrs. Malcolm Bull, president of the Study Club, was a guest.

CROP drive gets 185 Halloween

About 50 youths from the Calvary Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist and First Baptist churches participated in the Christian Overseas Program (CROP) drive, Halloween night. They collected 185 in their canvass of the neighborhood.

After the drive, they were entertained at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kirkpatrick. The guests enjoyed dancing and visits.

Refreshments of popcorn balls, candy, Cokes and punch were served.

WCS holds Day of Prayer Monday

Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met on Monday in the chapel of the church for a day of self-denial and prayer, from 11 a. m. until 2 p. m.

General chairman for the day was Mrs. J. R. Durrett; the afternoon chairman was Mrs. Jim Hundley Sr., and Mrs. Vernard Alexander held the meditation and devotion in the morning.

Each person brought a sack lunch. After lunch, there were five speakers: Mrs. R. T. Smith, Mrs. George Booher, Mrs. Darrell Eckols, Mrs. J. R. Durrett and Mrs. Joe Callis. Various home and foreign missions were the theme of the program and the offerings of the day were donated to them.

There were 15 members present.

It's the Law in TEXAS

THE KNOWLEDGEABLE WIDOW

Sit back and take a good look at all you have done: You've given your family a home, security, and many luxuries. For them you want the best now and tomorrow. And even after you are gone. So, most likely, you've already drawn up a will to save on death taxes. Perhaps you've put some funds in trust for certain purposes.

Even so, you can't do all your family's thinking for years to come. You have to equip them, especially your wife, to manage their own affairs.

Refresh your wife on your business—what you own; how you regard it; who your associates are, and whom to look to for facts and advice. In this way you can keep her from some mistakes.

Tell your wife how you pay the bills, keep records, and pay your taxes. Tell her especially who advises you on these matters. Tell her about insurance, trust funds, stocks and other investments. Show her the papers and where you keep them. And why.

Show her how you bought the house and car.

See that she meets your lawyers, bankers, and business associates. Does she know enough about your business and whom you deal with? She may have to take it over and run it or sell it.

Take her to your office; show her where you keep the books, vital papers, letters, checks, and receipts.

Does she know how to file her tax forms and whom to consult about taxes?

Take her through your business papers. Perhaps while you are around to supervise, you ought to let her have a trial run or two in some transaction to give her skill, knowledge, and confidence.

Ward home scene Girl Scout party

Girl Scout Intermediate Troop 286 held a Halloween slumber party last Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lee Ward.

At 7 o'clock a fried chicken dinner was served to the girls. At 9 o'clock, they left the Ward home for the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Bingham where they enjoyed dessert of cookies and punch.

The group played rhythm games and returned to the Wards' home at 10:30.

Those attending were: Brenda Clemmons, Zelika Freeman, Barbara Bingham, Brenda Ward, Kay Litton, Mickie Taylor, Helyn Cheshire, Shirley Kruger, Debbie Ryder, Patsy Pierce and Iris Howell.

Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Bingham are co-leaders of the troop.

Little-Branson vows exchanged

The Southmore Baptist Church of Houston was the scene recently for the double-ring ceremony of Miss Melrose Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Little of South Houston and Louis Ray Branson, son of A. Louis Branson of Post and Mrs. J. T. Kennedy of Pasadena.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Charlene White was maid of honor and Billy Little, brother of the bride, served as best man.

The reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

The bride graduated from South Houston High School and is employed by the Houston Post. Mr. Branson attended Post High School and was employed with the Alameda Printing Co., before being recalled to service at Camp Polk, La.

Group pieces quilt for wife of pastor

Members of the Y. W. A. of the Calvary Baptist Church met recently. They all joined in piecing a quilt which they presented to their pastors' wife, Mrs. Graydon Howell.

Hot chocolate and cookies were served to: Mmes. E. E. Pierce, John Miller, Mabel Martin, Daisy Britton, Lee Long, C. D. Nowell, Graydon Howell, Mae Payne, W. C. Kiker, W. C. Craig, and Misses Estelle Nowell, Ann Long, Wanda Williams, Diane Kiker.

It's My Turn

By MRS. C.

If only we could publish all the comments we sometimes get when we are calling for personals. A person will tell you that old college friends spent a couple of days with them. You say: "How nice." They say: "Gad, it was horrible. In the first place they came a day early and there I was with my hair pinned up mopping the filthy kitchen floor, not a thing in the house to eat and they had three children instead of two, and my youngest child was in bed with a simply horrible cold and my husband was out of reach for the day and they let school out early for some reason or other and I could have just sat down and cried." All this comes in one long sentence. After a pause, "I can't imagine what we ever had in common anyway. We'd all gotten fat, the children fought, they worried about the cold germs, they kept talking about all the exciting things they did trying to impress us. I thought they'd never leave."

How does all this appear in the paper?

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Doaks and three children spent two days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones. The Doaks' are old college friends of the Jones' and now live in Roundup.

Noticed one of the high school girls' P. E. classes playing touch football the other day. Has this been going on for some time or is it a Kennedy-inspired sport?

Surely the viewing TV public will some day rise up in arms about the increased volume one has to put up with on commercials. If one can find a decent program to watch, or if one is out of good reading material and watches TV for lack of anything else to do, you are shouted at during every commercial. Guess they figure you have left the room and want to be sure they catch you wherever you are. If you stay in the same room, they practically blast you out. One either suffers through it, gets up and turns the volume down, (which calls for getting back up after the commercial and turning volume back up so you can hear) or in pure disgust turning the thing off and going to bed.

Troop 49 of Brownies meets after school

Brownie Troop 49 met last Thursday after school in the Girl Scout Little House. These girls are second-year Brownies and are in the third grade.

Officers of the troop are: Ander Hampton, president; Debbie Cooper, vice president; Carol Davies, secretary; Belinda Blacklock, reporter.

Troop members are: Quay Williams, Syan Thomas, Jeanie Ryder, Diane Luttrell, Willa Barson, Laru May, Rhonda Case, Terry Callis, Terry Taylor, Marsha Duncan and Yolanda Pantoja.

Mrs. Garland Davies and Mrs. W. D. Williams are the troop leaders. They meet every other Thursday. Jeanie Ryder served refreshments.

Sorority history told at meeting

The fourth meeting of Texas Mu Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held Monday, Oct. 23, at 7:30 p. m. in the Community Room of the bank building. Margaret King was hostess and Wynelle Holland was co-hostess.

The program was given by Ella Norene Ryder on the history of Beta Sigma Phi, with readings by Wynelle Holland, Margaret King, Dwayne Loyd, Mary Eckols, Bernice Eubank, Joyce Teaff and Al Durbin. Berna May showed slides of North Carolina and Tennessee that were made last summer to conclude the program titled "Natural Beauty."

Refreshments of lemon pie, peppermint drops and spiced tea were served to the following members: Al Durbin, Sally Luttrell, Wanda Mitchell, Jean Stockton, Dwayne Loyd, Mary Eckols, Bernice Eubank, Barbara Boren, Wanda Markham, Sherry Josey, Ella Norene Ryder, Joyce Teaff, Shirley Moore, Berna May, and the new pledges: Jeinece Reno, Flute King, Joan Stewart and Jeanette Brown and the hostesses.

Halloween theme of club program

Guests were greeted by "Mischievous Casper the Ghost" at the meeting of the Needlecraft Club last Friday in the home of Mrs. Boone Evans.

"Casper" seemed to know everyone and a lot about them. What he didn't know, Madame Mazenda, the fortune teller, was able to supply more complete history.

Mrs. Evans' home was decorated in autumn and the Halloween motif. Refreshments of cake, apple cider, nuts, candy and coffee were served to the following:

Mmes. J. R. Durrett, T. L. Jones, Will Wright, Noah Stone, F. A. Gilley, H. W. Schmidt, M. H. Hutto, Nell McGrav, Mae Voss, Esther Bird, Ida Robinson, Carl Jones, Lee Bowen, R. A. Moore, M. J. Mauloud and J. C. Caylor.

First aid course under way here

The Ladies Auxiliary of Garza Memorial Hospital is taking a first aid course under the instruction of a Mr. Hood of the Lubbock Fire Department in the Community Room.

There will be seven two-hour lessons and they are held on Monday and Friday at 1:30 p. m. Any member who has not yet signed up for the course may still join and get credit for it. There are now 14 members taking the instruction.

Recently, Mrs. Lee Davis, Mrs. Carl Jones, and Mrs. J. E. Parker of the auxiliary here went to Abilene for a District Hospital Auxiliary meeting at Hendricks Memorial Hospital. A luncheon and workshop meeting was held.

Party is held for chapter pledges

Mu Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a "Round-up Time" pledge party recently for the pledges this year. Those present were: Jeinece Reno, Flute King, Twilight Dudley, Jeanette Brown and Jean White.

The members present were Wynelle Holland, Dwayne Loyd, Margaret King, Sherry Josey, Shirley Moore, Al Durbin, Joyce Teaff, Jean Stockton, Elizabeth Grice, Ella Norene Ryder, Sally Luttrell, Wanda Mitchell and Hazel Greer. Also present were the sponsor, Mrs. Kirkpatrick; the director, Mrs. Davis, and Jean Hopkins and Sue Cornell from the Xi Delta Rho Chapter.

The chuck wagon meal was fried chicken, pinto beans, potato salad, sliced tomatoes, chow-chow, hot biscuits, cherry cobbler, iced tea and coffee.

Everyone was introduced to the new pledges after which they played bingo.

Varied program heard Thursday at Music Club of Post meeting

The Music Club of Post met last Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Jim Jackson with Mrs. Morris Neff as co-hostess.

Mrs. Kay Kirkpatrick, president, presided at the short business meeting.

Mr. Tillman Jones gave a report on the Texas Federation of Music Clubs Convention which was held in Lubbock Oct. 16-17.

Mrs. H. J. Dietrich presented two of her piano pupils, Karen and Brenda Haley, who gave selections from Chopin.

Miss Maxine Durrett, program leader, gave a book review, "Beyond Desire" by Pierre La Mure, based on the life of Felix Mendelssohn.

A social hour followed with refreshments being served from a tea table centered with yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Those attending were: Mmes. Ronald Joe Babb, Jones, Kirkpatrick, Charley Luttrell, A. J. Mc-

Alister, O. V. McMahon, Glenn Norman, Ray N. Smith, Ed Sawyers, B. Tizard, Dietrich, Miss Maxine Durrett, the two guests and the hostesses.

The next meeting will be Nov. 17, in the home of Ms. Glenn Norman, who lives six miles out on the Graham road, and Mrs. Ray N. Smith will be co-hostess.

News is news, good or bad

Remarks similar to "it would have been better if you hadn't printed that story," or "What good did it do to print such a story?" are heard often by a newspaper editor.

Such remarks usually are heard when some unfavorable situation develops involving an individual or some event or organization or even a community.

Nine times out of ten such criticism stems from the same individuals who seek and expect favorable publicity whenever the occasion warrants and sometimes when it doesn't.

Some say no worthwhile good is accomplished when a respected citizen is drawn into a court test. We submit, however, that it proves that the laws are made for everyone, that nobody rises immunity.

The "unfavorable publicity" charge has been hurled during grand jury investigations, polio epidemics, government shake-ups, and even during ing natural disasters ranging from floods to droughts when some individuals thought the press was doing irreparable damage by reporting the facts.

It is our belief, however, that an informed public is by far the best policy. There is no greater enemy to rumor and exaggeration.

This newspaper has never been an "all is peachy" type publication, reporting only the favorable occurrences and overlooking anything which might tend to be unfavorable to some. It never intends to be.

A newspaper is, or should be, a mirror which reflects the activities of a community. Sometimes, perhaps, that mirror will become clouded.

We hold that these policies, maintained and fostered through the years, formulate an adequate reply to a critic who objects to this newspaper publishing some news events as they occur.—CD.

May never realize the benefits

Along with Christmas and the post-holiday lull between Dec. 25 and New Year's Day, residents of Post, Garza County and the rest of the world have something else which to look forward.

Late in December—after more than three years of voluntary withdrawal from nuclear testing under any and all circumstances—the U. S. will set off an underground atomic blast of five kiloton force, or one ten-thousandth that of the Russian detonation of Oct. 23. And, by the time this editorial appears in print, the Russians may have set off an even bigger testing blast than that of Oct. 23.

The U. S. shot, to be fired 1,200 feet under the desert in our neighboring state of New Mexico, will be dedicated to peaceful use of the atom and may help scientists discover whether the heat of nuclear fission can be bottled up and subsequently tapped to run electric power generators or used to replace steamshovel and bulldozer in massive excavations.

Meanwhile, Russia continues its outdoor, high-yield testing in the face of world-wide protest and growing panic over the controversial peril of increasing fallout. Thus, while we merely plan to resume a type of testing objectionable to no one, our opportunity for developing weapons essential to the survival of the free world is fast fading.

By merely continuing her test blasts in the faraway Arctic, and methodically stepping up global terror of creeping wind-borne death, Russia could conceivably win the world's first atomic war—without a counterblow being struck or any coveted cities so much as tarnished by gunsmoke.

We may yet have to decide whether, as Americans, we are willing to be frightened to death.—CD

Good response to sound program

Garza County cotton producers, who have signed up some 85 per cent for membership in the new Cotton Producers Institute, apparently know a good program when they see one.

Garza County's 85 per cent participation is unsurpassed on the High Plains or in any other cotton-producing area where the program has been put into operation.

Such an outstanding participation record is a credit to the far-sightedness of the individual farmers as well as to the enthusiasm of their committee men and to the effort they are putting forth to get the producer program going.

Organization of the Institute, which is non-political and strictly a producer's program, is nearing completion. The Institute is controlled and financed at $1 per bale by producers.

The Institute gives the cotton industry two powerful tools—research and nationwide advertising. Research will be used to cut production costs, help improve cotton products and find new uses, and nationwide advertising will be used to cultivate customers for cotton products.

The Cotton Producers Institute appears to be a sound business approach to cotton farming. As such, it is receiving high participation in all High Plains counties, with Garza County's 85 per cent topping the list by at least 10 per cent.—CD

New 'Blue Law' in effect soon

From the consumer's standpoint, Texas' new Sunday closing law that goes into effect Nov. 7 is not a great imposition. It permits seven-day sales of what may be termed emergency items—food, ice, drugs and newspapers, along with certain others.

Here in Post, the impact of the new law will scarcely be felt. Actually, the new law, a compromise measure, admittedly is aimed at forcing the big discount houses to close one day a week. However, there are 42 articles of merchandise which, under the new law, may not be sold on Sunday—in Post or anywhere else in the state.

They include appliances, cameras, musical instruments, and a number of other items.

Penalties under the new law are stiff—$100 fine for the first offense, and ranging up to six months in jail or a $500 fine, or both, for subsequent convictions. And any business which continually violates the law may be declared a public nuisance, subject to injunction.

It is not likely that the public will become excited over the law, for or against. What reaction there will be among merchants, and how effectively the law will be enforced, are questions remaining to be answered.—CD

Girls coming into sports picture

It's time now for the girls to take over a share of the sports spotlight at Post High School.

With a brand-new coach in Van Kountz, the Post High School girls' basketball team, nicknamed the Does, open their season here Saturday night against the Sands High School team from Ackerly, in Dawson County.

Sands, where Kountz coached before coming to Post, comes up every season with an outstanding cage sextet, and this year isn't expected to be any exception. Last season, the Sands girls' team advanced to the state tournament.

Sports fans are urged to attend this season's cage opener Saturday night and help get the Does off to a good start. From now until late February or early March, the girls will be making a big contribution to the PHS sports scene.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

When parents complain about teachers overloading their children with school work on the night of a football game, it's time they adjusted their sense of values.

Recently the school board instructed the faculty to "get tough" on the students so they might be better prepared for higher education when they leave high school, or simply better prepared for life itself if they don't seek higher education.

One of the difficulties teachers face everywhere nowadays is the conflict for their students' time and interest by the numerous extra-curricular activities of the schools. These activities are very valuable in broadening the personalities of the students and there are supplemental benefits, but that's where they belong . . . as supplements. Basic education should come first.

Some students simply try to carry too heavy a load. Proper counseling can help advise some of those who overload themselves.

But to the study load . . . let's back up those teachers who are trying to teach. They're only trying to better equip the minds of your child and mine.—Pittsburg (Texas) Gazette.

who heard the tale through her nurse who visited a nurse on the floor who knew the nurse who was on duty with Mr. Sam. It appears Mr. Sam asked his nurse if she knew who he had just talked to on the phone. She replied in the negative and the speaker told her it was the Veep. She exclaimed: "Oh, you mean Mr. Nixon!" Now everybody, nearly, knows that LBJ is the VP. But the thing that interested us most was the way gossip gets around in Big D. And they say small towns are the ones with monopolies on gossip. The next thing we'll hear from Dallas is that a neighbor borrowed a cup of sugar from a neighbor.—Neal Estes in The Stanton Reporter.

"How long will they have a job?" is the caption under a picture of some braceros in a cotton field down in the Valley. In the past, 85 to 90 per cent of cotton down there has been picked by as many as 85,000 braceros, but this year only about 10,000 were used as farmers converted to machine harvest. To a smaller degree, the same is happening in Lynn County. In the past, Mexicans have crowded the streets of our towns in the fall when they were not busy in the fields. Today, we have only a handful, due to higher wages and pressure from the Department of Labor. The farmer, the wage earner, and the business men all lose. Union laborers out of a job simply will not do stoop labor.—Frank Hill in The Lynn County News.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

SINCE PRESIDENT John F. Kennedy, is Boston-born, Boston-reared and Harvard-educated, he scarcely can be called anything except a "city boy," but he was a "country boy" for a few hours Sunday afternoon.

He was smack-dab in the middle of "the sticks" and nowhere else when he went to Big Cedar, Okla., Sunday to dedicate a new highway through the Ouachita National Forest. I know, because Big Cedar is only a whoop and a holler east of my home town, and I've been in that same Big Cedar pasture where 90 acres were cleared for the speaker's platform and for parking. That's about all they did to the pasture in preparation for the President's visit—outside of installing public rest rooms, and that was something that had me a little bit worried until I read in a Fort Smith, Ark., paper that the public rest rooms would be installed.

THE SAME Associated Press release that told of the pasture preparations for the President's visit also advised those thronging to hear the President to bring their own lunch and water. "There will be no food or soft drinks or even water available at the Big Cedar site," the AP story warned.

Motorists were warned to watch their gasoline supplies since there are no service stations in the area. Big Cedar is a two-family community. It used to boast three families until my blood kin, the Hemphills, moved away.

THOSE HEMPHILLS! They were quite a family. One of them, a first cousin of mine, was quite a baseball fan way back when Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis was baseball commissioner. He was, in fact, such a lover of the national pastime that he named his first son Kenesaw Mountain, after the baseball commissioner. And, believe it or not, that boy grew up to become quite a pitcher. Kenesaw Mountain Hemphill didn't make it all the way to the major leagues like some other country boys I know of, but he did play a few seasons in the high minors, spending most of one season with Fort Worth of the Texas League. The baseball writers used to have a field day with that name, added to the fact that Kenesaw Mountain Hemphill was a somewhat colorful character.

A few years back when our three youngsters were at home and Kenesaw Mountain Hemphill was getting an occasional write-up, I'd show them his name and proudly announce, "He's your third cousin." Without fail, they'd come back with a "So, what?" Kids nowadays don't go in for kinfolks with the same enthusiasm as did those of past generations.

PRIOR TO GOING to Big Cedar Sunday to dedicate the new highway, President Kennedy will spend Saturday night in the plush ranch home of U. S. Senator Robert Kerr, six miles south of Poteau. Senator Kerr hadn't yet moved to Poteau and built his mountain showplace when I lived there back in the late 1930's, so it was news to me when I read that the Senator's home had 13 bathrooms. I was thinking maybe he'd better move one or two of them out to the Big Cedar pasture until I read in the Fort Smith paper that public rest rooms were to be provided. Of course, there still were plenty of rocks and trees in the pasture even after they cleared off 90 acres for parking, but not enough rocks and trees to accommodate a throng of 50,000 people.

I'd sure like to have been there to have heard the President's speech and to see if I couldn't have bumped into one of the Hemphills. There used to be lots of them.

THE WITAN publication of the University of Kansas, recently published some terse precepts to teenagers under the caption, "Ten Things I Wish I Had Known Before I Was 21."

- Here they are:
1. What I was going to do for a living—exactly what my life work would be.
 2. That my health after 30 depended in a large degree on what I put into my stomach before I was 21.
 3. How to take care of money.
 4. The commercial asset of being neatly and sensibly dressed.
 5. That habits are mighty hard to change after you're 21.
 6. That worthwhile things require time, patience and work.
 7. That the world would give me just about what I deserved.
 8. That a thorough education not only pays better wages than hard labor, but it brings the best of everything else.
 9. The value of absolute truthfulness in everything.
 10. That my parents weren't old fogies after all.

Parting Thought: What most people are looking for these days is less to do, more time to do it in, and more pay for not getting it done.

"Yes madam, drive-in hanks are nice, but this doesn't happen to be one."

Texas Merchandise Vending Association plans to ask for a court ruling.

SALE OF $25,000,000 in bonds by the Veterans Land Board completes the borrowing by the State government for that program. Voters authorized $200,000,000 to finance purchases of farms and ranches for veterans.

In the last year, about $37,500,000 has been invested in land since the program was revived after an increase in the authorized interest rate.

L. H. Page of Carthage, member of the Veterans Land Board, estimated that veterans will pay enough extra interest that the state will have made $100,000,000 profit on this program by 2005. That is when the last loan is supposed to be paid off.

GOV. PRICE Daniel asked the Legislative Council to bring its 1958 study on loans and interest rates up to date.

Governor Daniel now seems likely to call the Legislature back into session in January. He wants up-to-date facts on the subject of regulation of interest rates and lenders. Regular session just could not reach agreement.

He will ask also for passage of a bill extending the new escheat enforcement procedures to unclaimed bank accounts in banks and savings institutions.

Speaker James A. Turman appointed a special House committee to make a follow-up study of escheat laws. Reps. Franklin Spears, San Antonio; Ted Springer, Amarillo; Richard C. Slack, Pecos; Paul Haring, Goliad; and Reed Quilliam, Lubbock, are its members.

GOV. DANIEL assigned Dr. James A. Turman (no kin to Speaker Turman), Texas Youth Council director, and Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth to attend the National Governors' Conference of Delinquency and Youth Crime in Denver, Colo.

They'll come back armed with arguments on why Texas needs juvenile parole officers in more than just the five biggest counties. That's the extent of present program.

Governor Daniel is asking the Legislature to expand the five-man juvenile parole set-up it created this year. Kennard has sponsored juvenile parole legislation.

FASTER FEEDING of federal-aid money into highway construction is reflected by the State Highway Department's monthly report.

As a recession-trimmer, U. S. cash was sent out faster than had been scheduled. On October 1, there were $325,858,057 worth of highway construction contracts outstanding in Texas, averaging at just about 50 per cent completion.

During last month, highway contractors completed $18,684,270 worth of new construction. Figure doesn't include the maintenance work by Highway Department crews.

Pipelines - smi-pelines! What do oil pipelines give that's so outstanding?

Two things, my friend: economical oil transportation and good service to producers and refiners.

Means nothing, chum. I'm no producer or refiner. What I want to know is what they do for me.

That's the point. THEY SAVE YOU MONEY... at your gas station.

For without low cost pipeline transportation, the cost of petroleum products would be a lot higher.

Break-ins outstriped Halloween shenanigans here Tuesday night

Not all prowlers were 'goblins'

They weren't all goblins, "trick treaters", or Halloween pranksters who were busy in Post Tuesday night.

Two burglaries—one a major one at Herring's Department Store—were discovered Wednesday morning, along with three other breakings, in efforts.

Deputy Sheriff Elton Corley, who had a busy morning yesterday with investigations, reported that the Herring's store burglary resulted in a loss of about $150 in cash.

This included approximately $90 in bills and $60 in change which was taken from a sack in a cabaret. He said no merchandise was reported as missed.

Entrance was gained from the roof, by moving a skylight cover and climbing down through the skylight.

The second burglary was at the school lunch room.

The "haul" there consisted of five boxes of ice cream pies and three small watermelons taken from the walk-in freezer.

Entrance was gained through an unlocked south window of the lunchroom after unlatching the screen, Deputy Corley said.

The other three burglary attempts were at the Forrest Lumber Co., school band room, and Lavelle's Shop.

At the lumber firm, an emery stone was used to try to cut a hole through the front window glass to gain entrance. Deputy Corley said the window glass was cracked but was not broken out. Apparently the burglars had been frightened off there.

The emery stone was found on the ground near the street in front of the store.

The back door screen at Lavelle's Shop had been removed, but intruders failed in their efforts to break-in through the back door which was barred from the inside.

A window screen was cut at the band room and entrance gained through the window, but nothing was missing, Band Director Robert Meisch said.

Officers reported the usual Halloween mischief Tuesday night, which was climaxed about 11:30 p. m. by the burning of an outhouse in the middle of West Main Street at the Avenue Q intersection.

This is an annual Halloween "project" of the local younger set.

The youngsters were persistent, getting the second outhouse to burn after the first one, which was hauled to the Avenue S and West Main Street intersection about 9:30 p. m.

When firemen arrived in answer to that alarm there was but a small sliver of flame. Apparently this outhouse selection was simply too wet to burn.

The rest of the Halloween pranks were about the usual—some downtown window soaping, wholesale dumping of trash barrels in alleys, the hauling of cotton trailers out into streets from the Post Implement Co., Shytle Implement, Planters Gin, etc., the turning over of one trailer, the scattering of big tractor tires in the street around the Garza Tire Co., etc.

At the direction of Georgie M. Willson, will present its first fall concert at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 9, in the grade school auditorium. The public is invited.

The choir will sing: "Happy Wanderer," "Mr. Touchdown, PHS," "Rise Up, O Men of God," "Hi Li, Hi Lo," "I Feel a Song Comin' on," "The Breeze and I" and "Green-Sleeves."

Members of the special groups are as follows: Wilks Sextet; Vicki Wilks, Carolyn Carlisle, Cheryl Martin, Linda Gist, Faye Crawford and Carolyn Walker.

Short Sextet: Janith Short, Stanna Butler, Shirley Isaacs, Margie Harrison, Cerretha Jones and Linda McMahon.

Rogers Sextet: Linda Rogers, Susie Schmidt, Sammie Caffey, Cheri Moore, Carol Billings and Jan Herring.

Johnston Sextet: Gayla Johnson, Gayle Tittle, Carolyn Matisler, Dee Ann Walker, Meredith Newby and Karen Haley.

Boys' Trio: Laylan Bratcher, Daniel Johnson and Robert Johnson.

Final plans for next Tuesday's pancake supper were made and a guest speaker was heard at the Post Lions Club's ladies' night program Tuesday.

The club's pancake supper is to be held in the newly-decorated kitchen of the First Methodist Church from 5 p. m. until 8 p. m.

The cost will be 45 cents per person for pancakes, bacon, coffee and "all the trimmings". Proceeds from the supper will be used by the Lions in their civic activities program.

Tut Tawwater of Plainview, director of the membership division of District 217, Lions International, was the guest speaker, on "Citizenship of the Community." Tawwater, a radio broadcaster, is also president of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce.

Also present at the meeting, along with some 30 members and the guests, was Claude Burnett of Hale Center, deputy district governor.

Visitors also included Miss Rosie Jackson, Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the First Christian Church, and Mrs. Ramsey.

Shop. At the lumber firm, an emery stone was used to try to cut a hole through the front window glass to gain entrance. Deputy Corley said the window glass was cracked but was not broken out. Apparently the burglars had been frightened off there.

The emery stone was found on the ground near the street in front of the store.

The back door screen at Lavelle's Shop had been removed, but intruders failed in their efforts to break-in through the back door which was barred from the inside.

A window screen was cut at the band room and entrance gained through the window, but nothing was missing, Band Director Robert Meisch said.

Officers reported the usual Halloween mischief Tuesday night, which was climaxed about 11:30 p. m. by the burning of an outhouse in the middle of West Main Street at the Avenue Q intersection.

This is an annual Halloween "project" of the local younger set.

The youngsters were persistent, getting the second outhouse to burn after the first one, which was hauled to the Avenue S and West Main Street intersection about 9:30 p. m.

When firemen arrived in answer to that alarm there was but a small sliver of flame. Apparently this outhouse selection was simply too wet to burn.

The rest of the Halloween pranks were about the usual—some downtown window soaping, wholesale dumping of trash barrels in alleys, the hauling of cotton trailers out into streets from the Post Implement Co., Shytle Implement, Planters Gin, etc., the turning over of one trailer, the scattering of big tractor tires in the street around the Garza Tire Co., etc.

At the direction of Georgie M. Willson, will present its first fall concert at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 9, in the grade school auditorium. The public is invited.

The choir will sing: "Happy Wanderer," "Mr. Touchdown, PHS," "Rise Up, O Men of God," "Hi Li, Hi Lo," "I Feel a Song Comin' on," "The Breeze and I" and "Green-Sleeves."

Members of the special groups are as follows: Wilks Sextet; Vicki Wilks, Carolyn Carlisle, Cheryl Martin, Linda Gist, Faye Crawford and Carolyn Walker.

Short Sextet: Janith Short, Stanna Butler, Shirley Isaacs, Margie Harrison, Cerretha Jones and Linda McMahon.

Rogers Sextet: Linda Rogers, Susie Schmidt, Sammie Caffey, Cheri Moore, Carol Billings and Jan Herring.

Johnston Sextet: Gayla Johnson, Gayle Tittle, Carolyn Matisler, Dee Ann Walker, Meredith Newby and Karen Haley.

Boys' Trio: Laylan Bratcher, Daniel Johnson and Robert Johnson.

Boys' Quartet: Glen Polk, Dwayne Capps, Teddy Scott and Jimmy Wells.

The choir members are: Dwayne Capps, Neal Francis, Rosie Jackson, Leatrice Justice, Noel Landreth, David Lee, Judy McCullough, Harold Wayne Mason, Margaret Ritchie, Larry Williams, Wayne Kiker, Cecilia Bland, Cherry Irvin, Diana Bias, Stanna Butler.

Sammie Caffey, Frankie Gary, Sonny Gossett, Jan Herring, Ann Long, Cheri Moore, Glen Polk, Robert Sanchez, Reba Shepherd, Marsha Smith, Janith Short, Jimmy Wells, Elaine Wheatley, Carol Billings, Nancy Bingham.

Shirley Bostick, Wayne Brincefield, Tom Clark, Brenda Foster, Margie Harrison, Betty Jo Hill, Carol Dee Hodges, Robert Johnson, Linda McMahon, Linda Rogers, Susie Schmidt, Delton Robinson, Judy Ballentine, Joe Bob Blacklock, Laylan Bratcher, Carolyn Carlisle.

Faye Crawford, Laura Gerner, Linda Gist, Karen Haley, Mary Hodges, Shirley Isaacs, Daniel Johnson, Gayla Johnson, Sherry McAfee, Deborah McCampbell, G. T. Mason, James Matthis, Carolyn Matisler, Meredith Newby, Dennis Odom, Teddy Scott, Patsy Snow, Gayle Tittle, Elisabeth Tubbs, Dee Ann Walker, Vicki Wilks, Susan Ramsey, Cheryl Martin, Jean Gunn, Carolyn Walker, Billy Bland, Cerretha Jones, Carol Camp and Tommy Mason.

Final plans for next Tuesday's pancake supper were made and a guest speaker was heard at the Post Lions Club's ladies' night program Tuesday.

The club's pancake supper is to be held in the newly-decorated kitchen of the First Methodist Church from 5 p. m. until 8 p. m.

The cost will be 45 cents per person for pancakes, bacon, coffee and "all the trimmings". Proceeds from the supper will be used by the Lions in their civic activities program.

Tut Tawwater of Plainview, director of the membership division of District 217, Lions International, was the guest speaker, on "Citizenship of the Community." Tawwater, a radio broadcaster, is also president of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce.

Also present at the meeting, along with some 30 members and the guests, was Claude Burnett of Hale Center, deputy district governor.

Visitors also included Miss Rosie Jackson, Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the First Christian Church, and Mrs. Ramsey.
