Garza County To Push Its Portion Of Highway Link

The Broadway to the Big Bend Highway Association, which was organized here more than a year ago for the purpose of promoting a West Texas link to an international highway from Canada to the coast of Mexico, met here again Saturday to report progress, to speed up construction of the link from Lamesa through Garza and Dickens Counties, and to elect officers.

Dawson County Judge Kiltner B. Corbin of Lamesa was re-elected president and Charles W. Roberts of Andrews was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

It was reported that more than 50 per cent of the proposed Texas link has been constructed or is under construction. The highway from the Mexican border at Presidio to Pecos had been constructed before the association was formed.

Through the cooperation of Winkler, Andrews and Dawson

Counties and with the help of the State Highway Department, the proposed route has been constructed or is under construction from Pecos to Lamesa.

The next lap is from Lamesa through Garza and Dickens Counties. The Garza County Commissioners Court, at the meeting Saturday, assured the association directors that the district highway engineer will be asked to map out the most feasible route through this county and estimate the cost of same; then a bond election will be called to raise money for this and some other farm-to-market paying needed in various parts of the county.

Cottle and Hardeman, the next counties along the route, have begun the paving of their portions, reaching almost to the Oklahoma line.

In every instance, the State Highway Commission, which is working with the counties along the route on a 25-75 financial aid basis, has been most favorable. The association voted Saturday to have the directors meet with the State Highway Commission in the near future to ask for the same financial aid for the Dawson, Garza and Dickens link.

Among those attending the meeting Saturday were Judge Corbin, Roberts, Judge J. Lee Bowen, Dr. Glenn Kahler, representing the City Commission; Sherrill Boyd, representing the Post Chamber of Commerce; Garza County Commissioners W. T. Parehman, Boone Evans and W. C. Quisenberry; Judge W. T. Stinson of Paducah, R. E. Smith of the Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce, W. R. King of Crosbyton, Carl Betenbough of Andrews, Jim Graves, W. C. Graves, J. F. Maxey, H. M. Snowden and a number of Post and Garza County residents who did not register.

Bargains Appeal To Women And So Are Here To Stay

Monday, being Dollar Day, was "Ladies' Day" in Post. Seventy-five or 80 per cent of the shoppers in town were women, and this included the women who patronized the men's haberdasheries.

Merchants in men's clothing long ago observed that women buy a large percentage of the clothing for their men folk and that it is the women who like to shop on special days.

Monday morning the Post stores were crowded with shoppers. The crowd had thinned out somewhat by mid-afternoon because of the hot weather, but trading remained brisk enough all day.

The merchants are agreed that Dollar Day is worthwhile.

Cubs And Dads Plan Follow-Up Pow-Wow

Sixty-five Cub Scouts and their fathers attended a South Plains Area Cub-Dad-Pow-Wow at Camp Post last weekend. They enjoyed hiking, games, conferences regarding Cub projects, Indian dancing by camp fire and other entertainment.

Another area Cub-Dad Pow-Wow will be held at Camp Post Saturday and Sunday.

Stores Asked To Close Doors For Military Rites

The local posts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion are urging all business houses to close for an hour or more and put out their U. S. flags during military funerals, as a tribute to the Garza County war dead whose bodies now are being shipped back to the United States for burial here.

Both organizations are co-operating to give the heroes the most impressive military rites possible, and they feel that the general public would like to similarly honor the dead heroes by closing their stores until the ceremonies at the cemetery have been completed.

Until the two patriotic organizations worked out the details of the military funerals, Post had no special observance in honor of the boys who died during the war.

Streets Remarkd

City workmen began yesterday the job of remarking the horizontal parking places in downtown Post, last year's experiment having proved that the markers facilitate parking during busy shopping days.

Swimming Pool Is Promised For Next Year At Camp Post

The Executive Board of the South Plains Area Boy Scout Council, meeting at Camp Post last Thursday night, authorized a swimming pool for the camp, made definite plans for having the project completed for next summer and appointed John Lott as chairman of the Camp Post development committee, giving him authority to select his own committee.

A development program was

Percy Parsons To Work For Hudmans

Percy Parsons, graduate of the Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science, this week joined the staff of the Hudman Funeral Home which will be open for business next week.

All arrangements for operating the funeral home have been completed and the C. W. Post home, which will house the business, is almost ready for the formal opening, date for which is to be announced next week.

Parsons will be on duty at the home full time, beginning Monday.

Post Has Benefitted From Its Individuals

The matriarch of south Post came here with her family from Callahan County in 1916 and lived in a tent until her husband could build a small house from scrap lumber left from construction of bleacher at the Postex Cotton Mills.

She is Mrs. J. R. Davis. She and her husband, who died here in 1944, and their three children moved from Missouri to Callahan County in 1899, and the family would have been there yet had it not been for Guy's asthma.

After 17 otherwise pleasant years in Callahan, the Davises decided to go west in search of a better climate for their son, Guy. They heard about the mill in Post and stopped to see if there was work. There was. Mr. Davis could help build the bleacher, but every house in town was occupied. The mill offered the scrap lumber, if they would put up with the tent quarters for awhile.

By 1925, the family had bought the house in which Mrs. Davis now lives and she was well on her way to a career in the laundry business.

Power Machine To Spray City Alleys

The City Commission, at a meeting Tuesday night, decided to head off the polio epidemic which has broken out in south Texas by engaging a power machine to spray the city's alleys, garbage cans, outhouses, cow pens, pig lots, etc., with DDT in the near future.

The county health officer, Dr. D. C. Williams, and City Commissioner Glenn Kahler are agreed that such a program can be effective in heading off the epidemic if the residents of the city will cooperate with the spraying program by acquiring their own small spray guns and spraying places around their home that cannot be reached by the machine as it goes through the alleys.

The residents are urged by Mayor John Herd and the City Commission to begin now to spray their porches, small garbage cans, screen doors and other places where flies collect. A 5 per cent DDT solution, available at many Post stores, is suitable.

Dodson Improved

Lee Dodson, who has been seriously ill in the Lubbock Memorial Hospital, is improved in condition this week.

During her first five years in Post, Mrs. Davis had spent her leisure time helping organize a church and Sunday School classes and being a good neighbor, particularly to those in need.

As a good neighbor, she started doing the laundry for a friend who was ill. The friend insisted on paying her for the work and the word got around. In 1921, she opened a home laundry with two tubs, a wash pot and a rub board as her only equipment.

In 1925, Guy came home from California, where he had spent several years recovering from asthma, and saw the need for a Helpy-Selfy laundry in Post. He and his mother built up a business which had 19 washing machines when the laundry was closed down last December.

Mrs. Davis and her son retired because of Guy's health—not hers—and she has continued to do "a man's day of work" ever since.

Handy with a saw and other carpentry tools, Mrs. Davis never has to call upon anyone to help her build a fence, a trellis for her beautiful roses or do any repair work around the house.

Not long ago, she changed up

POST FOLKS AT WORK:

A. W. Walker of the Post Produce Company is shown taking an invoice from his wife, the company's bookkeeper and general "handyman," after loading his truck for his weekly shipment of farm products to Lubbock. The amount of products shipped out, of course, varies with the season but at this time of year the Walkers send on average of 60 cases of eggs, 500 to 1,000 pounds of poultry and 25 cans of cream each week. Walker uses his own truck to take the products to Wilson and Company in Lubbock, making the trip after closing the store for the evening.

Sewer, Water Works To Be Offered Post

The City Commission, in a called meeting last night at the City Hall, called an election for July 3 on the question of issuance of $400,000 water works improvement and extension revenue bonds; and on the question of the issuance of $200,000 sewer improvement and extension revenue bonds.

The commission for the past year has been considering the purchase of the two units and combining them in a self-supporting project. The commissioners were assisted by H. N. Roberts and Associates of Lubbock, engineering firm employed by the city to make an evaluation survey on the two projects.

Although the survey is not quite completed, the evaluation is estimated at approximately $500,000. It is understood that the two units can be purchased for $315,000.

The purpose in voting $600,000 is that only approximately $450,000 can be issued at this time. The extra money that can be raised above $315,000 will be needed for the necessary extension of the sewer system.

The bonds are not taxable and so, if the election carries, there will be no increase in taxes. The revenue bonds will be issued against the two properties, which will pay themselves out over a

Larger Boys Are Needed For Well Rounded Program

Fifty boys had enrolled in the Post Boys Club, which meets every afternoon in the Post High School gymnasium under the supervision of Coach Bing Bingham, by Monday of this week.

Although a majority of the boys are from 7 to 12 years of age, several five-year-olds are matching muscles with the bigger boys in the games.

Working with Coach Tillery, who is managing a similar club in Slaton, Bingham is planning a series of inter-city softball games.

The local coach expects to have the small boys ready for a public night game here in the near future. They will wear T-shirts with "Post Boys Club" lettered on the front.

The program for the older boys is not as far advanced as that for the smaller boys. "We need more 13 and 14-year-old boys," Bingham said yesterday, "and they are hard to find because so many of them are working this summer."

A program of boxing and other matches, which will be open to the public is being worked out. The projects are sponsored by the Post Chamber of Commerce.

The membership roster, as of Monday, included Jimmy Minor, Dale Gordon, Ray Garner, Herbert Hays, Rexce Anthony, Jerry Hays, Don Clary, J. C. Sheild, Donald Hays, Ray Holly, Joe Wade, Paul Tobin, Jackie Redman, James Gibson, Jack Schmidt, Charles Williams, Carroll

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Range Conservation
Rain during the past few weeks has given pasture grasses a new lease on life. Buffalo and blue gama responded quickest to the first rains. A few seed heads of blue gama and seed burs of buffalo have been observed in pastures by range technicians of the Soil Conservation Service.

Most annual weeds and annual grasses ordinarily used by cattle for grazing had completely dried up before spring rains came. Filaree, an annual weed and residue grass also called rye, made very little spring growth. On poorly used pastures, the better forage grasses including side oat grama, buffalo, little bluestem, blue gama, black grama—and on some sites tobosa and alkali sacaton are of low vigor or have been completely grazed out of the pasture. The loss of the annual plants further lowers the grazing capacity of the pasture.

Grass Seeds Germinate
Frequent small rains and cloudy weather two weeks ago not only helped grass plantings that were made by district cooperators, but also germinated grass seed in pastures. Sand dropseed and prairie dropseed, both in-between grasses, had sometime in the past made a good seed crop. In-between grasses are not as good as the high forage grasses, such as the grammas, yet they provide more and better grazing than needle grass.

Pete Ottinger this week, found an abundance of new seedling dropseed plants with their first or second leaves in pastures over

Fry Defers Grazing

Truitt Fry, district cooperator, recently constructed a fence to divide his pasture, Fry, like Gilles McCrary, S. F. Everett, the Paddle Ranch, and many other district cooperators, are deferring grazing during the spring growing season on part of their pastures.

About 98 per cent of the dry weight of a grass plant comes from air and sunshine. Grass leaves are the manufacturing parts of the plant. By using a system of rotation grazing, ranchers take advantage of this to help their pasture grasses build themselves up to produce a better cover of grass to protect the soil and produce more grazing.

Grass Plants Live For Years
How long does a single grass plant live? We know that blue gama comes out year after year. Some students on the subject believe blue gama plants may be as old as the oldest redwood trees in the Redwood Forest in California.

Range conservation is usually needed to increase the vigor of grass that is already in the pasture rather than starting new seedlings. Range management practices that increase the vigor of old grass plants are favorable to new plants coming in the pasture.

District Grass Planting

E. O. Merrell, 15 miles north of Post, has been playing around for two years with a few African weeping lovegrass plants in a lot near his farm. He has some lovegrass that are full of seed heads. They look so good they would convince the most skeptical of the value of this grass. Merrell said "If I could get a stand of lovegrass in my sudan patch as good as it is, it would be worth twice the value of the land." This week he made a five acre trial planting of lovegrass. Merrell says, "I like fall plantings better, and I plan to sow 60 or 70 acres this fall."

Grasshoppers Are Poisoning Some Farms of County

Grasshoppers are again a grasshopper in Garza County, threatening some farms. The menace has become a pest on one or two farms east of Garza, said Robert H. Gibson, Garza County agricultural agent, said yesterday.

Grasshoppers can be controlled in the easiest way to poison them while they are very young.

Grasshopper poison is available to farmers who make their needs known to the county agent in order to order a sufficient quantity.

Anyone who suspects the grasshoppers are on his farm or in his direction should get in touch with Gibson immediately and place an order for poison and the bran for it is mixed.

Those who have a grasshopper emergency, there is on the court house a limited supply of poison. This, when mixed with ground feed which farmers will furnish, is almost as effective as poison mixed with bran. The agent recom-

Large Increase In Livestock Premiums Announced For Fair

A total premium of $62,191 for the 1948 Livestock and Junior Livestock Shows at the State Fair of Texas, representing a substantial increase over last year, has been announced by R. L. Thornton, State Fair president. National and state pure-bred livestock associations cooperating with the State Fair, are offering $11,459 of this amount.

Twenty-six breeds of livestock will compete for a premium of $52,123 at the State Fair's Livestock show, October 13 to 22.

A record number of 4-H members and Future Farmers is expected to compete in the State Fair's Junior Livestock Show, October 9 to 12, for a total premium of $10,068.

"Improvement in the quality of livestock is the main objective," Thornton said.

Conservation Of Fuel Important For Farm Budget

Fuel conservation can be started right on the farm and the farm tractor is one of the first vehicles to watch when it comes to saving fuel.

Texas tractor owners own close to 180,000 tractors, and from these it is estimated that nearly 18 million gallons of gasoline are wasted each year in the Lone Star State alone.

Not only will conservation of fuel keep more dollars in the farmer's pockets, but it will also lighten the fuel shortage that is expected this fall, says Robert H. Gibson, Garza County agricultural agent.

Gibson says there are at least seven good ways to save gasoline and breeding of all livestock to bring about more efficient production of milk, meat, wool and mohair, and a more prosperous livestock industry on farms and ranches of Texas, is the fundamental objective behind the greatly increased emphasis on the livestock program for the 1948 State Fair," Mr. Thornton said.

line, and here they are:

1. Don't let the motor idle when the tractor is not in use, such as when hooking on equipment or visiting with the neighbors.
2. Prepare all farm petroleum storage possible in advance and see that the drums are in good repair. If you need more storage, get new drums ready beforehand.
3. Look into the future and see how much you will need and when. Then tell the tank wagon salesman well in advance.
4. Make one trip to town do for many. Keep on hand a supply of spark plugs, fan belts, tools, gaskets and so on.
5. Haul full loads whenever possible.
6. Tune up the tractor during slack periods when it is not needed in the field. Adjust the carburetor.
7. Put equipment in the field in the best possible condition, and by doing so, you will prevent costly breakdowns when in use.

Safety Is Number 1 Crop Of 4-H Girls And Boys This Year

"Make Safety Our No. 1 Crop." That's the 1948 slogan of 4-H Club boys and girls throughout the nation to help reduce the annual toll of 18,000 deaths and 1 3-4 million injured on farms, due to accidents.

Many members are taking active part in the National 4-H Farm Safety awards program, which is being continued in Texas under the direction of the Extension Service for the sixth consecutive year.

Among the members' activities to safeguard their families against accidents are removing or correcting hazards on their farmsteads. Their safety measures include nailing down loose boards in homes and barns; covering open wells and water tanks; properly storing tools; exercising care in operating machinery on farms and automobiles on highways, to mention only a few.

As incentives for superior records in farm safety work, awards are again offered this year by General Motors. They comprise sterling silver medals to five winners in each county, and a merit plaque to the state championship county. Each state's champion will receive a trip to the Chicago 4-H Congress next November. Eight state winners selected to receive national honors will each receive a $200 college scholarship.

Interim Loans To Be Offered South Texas Farmers For Cotton

To provide price support for early harvested 1948-crop cotton, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced an interim loan of 27.50 cents per pound for Middling 7-8-inch cotton, with premiums and discounts for other grades. An increase in parity prices boosted this year's rate above the interim rate of 24.75 cents for the 1947 crop.

This interim loan applies almost entirely to south Texas. Instructions and forms covering the loan may be obtained from the County Agricultural Conservation Committees in the state.

The base rate for the regular 1948-crop loans will be announced in August, following determination of parity prices at the beginning of the 1948 marketing season. Loans on the 1948 cotton crop are mandatory at 92½ per cent of parity as of August 1. The regular loans will be available until May 1, 1948, and will mature July 31, 1949, or earlier upon demand.

The revolutionary new Ford er, roomier and provides nearly new model will be displayed four-door sedan for 1949 is low- 25 per cent more visibility. The over the nation June 18.

Revolutionary Ford Is Designed For More Comfort, Economy, Safety, Convenience

The 1949 Ford, which reveals a radical departure from traditional Ford styling and engineering, will be on display at Tom Powers' and in other Ford agencies over the nation on June 18.

To develop and produce the 1949 Ford passenger cars, Ford Motor Company has expended more than $37,400,000 in tools, dies, jigs and fixtures.

The modern design has been molded along functional lines, resulting in a long, low, sweeping silhouette. The grille is distinctive, the hood massive but shorter and the body so wide the rear fenders have been eliminated.

Comfort has been one of the primary objectives in the new Ford. There is more room in the "lounge car" interiors than in many cars with much larger over-all dimensions.

A new type of suspension system—"hydra-coil" springs—replaces the traditional transverse springs and the front axle. This system is centered around airplane shock absorbers mounted within low frequency coil springs. In the rear, extra longitudinal springs are complemented by airplane type shock absorbers.

New Heating System

A new heating system, which has an automatic temperature control, can be used as a fresh air ventilator, a fresh air heater or as a recirculating heater.

Economy of operation has been increased up to 10 per cent improvement in gasoline mileage for the new six-cylinder engine and the extensively redesigned V-8. A new manifold achieves better fuel distribution.

Improvements in the ignition system also have contributed to increased economy and efficiency.

As much as 25 per cent improvement in gasoline economy may be achieved by taking advantage of the overdrive which is available as factory-installed optional equipment.

New standards of safety have been set in the rugged construction of the chassis and body. The box-type frame is of all welded construction. Although the frame is lighter, there is 59 per cent rigidity when combined with the body.

Lowering the over-all height by four inches and placing the seats between the axles results in a lower center of gravity, an aid in safe driving.

The windshield has been increased in height and width and the rear window is larger than the ordinary windshield. There is as much as 20 square feet of windows in the new cars.

All doors hinge at the front. Inside handles push up instead of down to open the door. Both features combine to preclude accidental opening of the doors.

Steering has been greatly improved. The new Ford may be guided by a minimum of effort under severe wind conditions. Road shocks have been minimized. This is the result of a newly designed linkage in which the pivot point of the tie rods is on the same center line as the wheels.

Operation Is Smoother

Engineering changes in the engines contribute to smoothness of operation. These include the new cooling system, intake manifold, redesigned combustion chambers and improved crankcase ventilation system as well as other features.

The 114-inch wheelbase, convenient for parking and in moving through heavy traffic, has been retained.

The new six develops 95-horsepower, providing better acceleration in passing and heavy traffic. The V-8 develops 100-horsepower.

Interior styling is colorful and practical. Traditional, neutralized automobile fabrics have been discarded for new tweeds, broadcloths and mohairs which retain the ability to absorb hard family usage.

Door handles and other hardware are much easier to operate. The doors have new type locks which eliminate all possibility of persons being locked out of the car with the keys inside.

The flight panel dash centralized grouping of instruments for quick, easy reference is in line with the driver's view of the road. Fuel level, oil pressure, water temperature and battery charge indicators are placed outside the rim of the speedometer. The glove compartment on the right hand side has been enlarged.

There are two lines of cars, the

Summer Complaint Is Health Menace During Hot Months

Dr. George W. Cox of Austin, state health officer, has issued a warning to parents that this is the season for an increase in dysentery, diarrhea and "summer complaint."

"The chief cause of these intestinal diseases are contaminated milk; water or food; allowing the child to get overheated or exhausted; excessive sugar in the babies formula; and improper amount of food," Dr. Cox said. "All foods should be fresh and clean, and left-overs should be properly refrigerated to prevent spoilage."

Dr. Cox urged extreme care in the preparation of a feeding formula for infants. He said it should be prescribed by a physician, and that cleanliness and refrigeration were absolute essentials. Babies should be fed at regular intervals and on a definite schedule, since their stomach and bowels can be easily upset if fed irregularly or whenever they are fretful or restless.

The state health officer declared that dysentery is transmitted by flies and said that every home should be well-screened and free of flies.

"If dysentery or diarrhea develop, consult your physician at once," Dr. Cox advised. "This so-called 'summer complaint' can be a very serious menace to your baby's health, if not an actual threat to his life."

Ford and the Ford Custom. Body styles in both lines include the four door sedan, two door sedan and club coupe. Convertible and station wagon models are obtained only in the Custom line and the three passenger coupe only in the Ford line.

One of them, which was asked him a question, answered him, saying, "Mas- sachusetts is the great command- ment of the law? Jesus said un- der the law? Thou shalt love the Lord with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and greatest commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law of the prophets."

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

Mortgages, Other Debts Should Be Paid Without Delay

Magazine for May 3 of this year.

What Are The Facts?
The facts are that these big increases in land values are not the same in different sections of the country. Probably the farm values fairly near large cities are abnormally high. They are selling not on their value as producing farms, but rather on their speculative value for subdivisions, etc. This also applies to pasture land near small cities. There seems to be an abnormal demand for "bottom land" which in many cases is selling far above a sensible price.

The special concern of the Agriculture Department, however, is in connection with land being bought on mortgage. They are very much opposed, at the present time, for farmers to buy land for which they cannot pay cash, believing that sooner or later a crash is coming, due to an inevitable decline in farm prices. Of course, the ultimate value of a farm is whether or not it can raise crops which pay a fair rate of interest on the land after all expenses, and this of course depends upon the price received, as well as the wages and other expenses which must be paid.

City And Town Property
The Federal Reserve Bank in Washington is especially disturbed at the continuous climb in mortgage loans on city and town property. This is probably due in part to the activity of the Federal Loan and Savings Banks in soliciting mortgages. Certainly this should be curbed at the present time. It is wrong for mortgage loans on real estate to be climbing during a period in which business loans are dropping off steadily and are being reduced.

Reasons For Being Cautious
There are four definite reasons which people should carefully consider before further bidding up prices for any kind of real estate. These reasons are as follows:

1. The upward trend in mortgage indebtedness, which in some localities is reaching a dangerous point.
2. Threats of surplus farm products and even certain manufactured goods due to the present higher level of production.
3. The recent downward trend in the buying power both of farmers due to lower prices of farm products and of the industrial population due to the increased cost of living.

4. The fact that a large proportion of the money now being sent to Europe will be used to aid Europe to produce more farm products and manufactured goods in order to be independent of us.

How To Invest
Use your earnings first to pay up your mortgages and other debts. Then put your buildings and machinery into good shape so you can go through the next depression without any maintenance costs. After this, give your wife a break by buying her a modern kitchen and bathroom. She was patient and thrifty for you during the hard times; she now is getting older and cannot do so much. Be liberal with your church and give your children a useful education in agriculture, mechanics or business. Above all, have a good account of a safe deposit box of U.S. Government bonds. Don't keep these in your house.

GETTING OUT On The LIMB

By EDDIE the EDITOR

Did you write Congressman Mahon about our need for a library here and ask him to support the bill for federal aid? It's H.R. 2465 and the congressman's address is House Office Building, Washington, D.C.

If federal aid is forthcoming, we might be able to work out a county library here. There's one thing for sure, the county can't do it with the present financial set-up. The 10 per cent allowed by law wouldn't be a drop in the bucket here, even if it were available—which it isn't in the present county budget.

I really believe that if some federal aid were available, the people of Garza County—if we have good crops this year—will build a library as a memorial to the dead of World War II. The American Legion or the V.F.W. or both and their auxiliaries, I'm sure, would handle the details of it—because we haven't done anything big yet in honor of the local boys who gave their lives in the last war.

This is something to think about. The first thing to do is write Congressman Mahon.

THE WOMEN. God love 'em: Angels are always pictured as women, because it doesn't embarrass a woman to flit around with nothing on but a pair of wings.

There's hardly a day goes by that harassed residents of Post, particularly those who make their living downtown, don't have to literally FIGHT off these itinerant pests who are selling coupons for some fly-by-night picture-taking outfit.

These so-called salesmen (and women) talk so fast I never can get the straight of the "bargain" they have to offer, and so I can't explain their racket here with much accuracy. But I do know that nearly all of them offer the victim a large picture of himself "absolutely free." After the victim signs up, he discovers in a few days that the thing he signed obligates him to a big photograph "free" framed in a $1.25 frame which will cost him $10.

Not so long ago, the Post Dispatch staff photographer was in the process of taking a picture of a Post High School Senior in her cap and gown for the graduation issue of the paper.

The girl was arranging her cap and gown and the photographer was adjusting her camera when one of these fast talking racketeers walked in the front door and "took charge." She was going to sell the Senior her graduation pictures. OR ELSE. My photographer protested but the woman didn't stop talking until she had made a date with the Senior to have her picture taken by this fly-by-night company.

Legitimate, honest photographers such as David Schultz and our own photographer—like legitimate doctors, lawyers, filling station operators and hardware merchants—are too steeped in professional ethics to pull a stunt like that.

In this manner and many others, those coupon racketeers give themselves away as being frauds.

The best protection the public has against this sort of thing is to refuse to talk to the "salesman," if you suspect him, unless he can produce a letter from the Post Chamber of Commerce saying that he has been investigated and it is known that he (or she) is a bona fide salesman for an established, recognized firm.

If everybody in town will ask these pests to see their letters

Garza and the World

Editor's Note—Opinions expressed here are those of the author, and they do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of the Post Dispatch. The column is carried in the interest of applying world news to the situation here at home.

By EVELYN BOYD

In his matchless eulogy on General Washington in 1832, Daniel Webster closed with these words:
"Other misfortunes may be borne, or their effects overcome. If disastrous war should sweep our commerce from the ocean, another generation might renew it; if it exhaust our treasury, future industry may replace it; if it desolate and lay waste our fields, still, under a new cultivation, they will grow again, and ripen to future harvests."

"It were but a trifle even if the walls of yonder capitol were to crumble, if its lofty pillars should fall, and its gorgeous decorations be all covered by the dust of the valley. All these may be rebuilt."

"Who shall rear again the well-proportioned columns of constitutional liberty?"

"Who shall frame together the skillful architecture which unites national sovereignty with state rights, individual security, and public prosperity?"

"No, if these columns fall, they will be raised not again. Like the Coliseum and the Parthenon, they will be destined to a mournful and melancholy immortality. Bitterer tears, however, will flow over them than were ever shed over the monuments of Roman or Grecian art; for they will be the monuments of a more glorious edifice than Greece or Rome ever saw, the edifice of constitutional American liberty."

Just last week, the Lubbock Avalanche carried a story with these headlines: "White House Picketed In Protest of Anti-Red Law" "Negro Singer Leads Group." The first paragraph of the story, an INS release from Washington, D.C., said: "The White House was picketed by an estimated 3,000 singing and shouting persons today in a capital-wide protest against the Mundt-Nixon anti-Communist bill."

Many wore Wallace for President buttons.

The story went on for a whole column, but I couldn't read it. I can't stand to face the reality. To calmly read about the crumbling "edifice of constitutional American liberty" is more than I can do.

Even if Monday were not Flag Day I would think now is an extremely appropriate time to write about the wonderful things that the Flag of the United States should mean to the nation's citizens, including those ingrates who are trying to force Communism and a subsequent loss of freedom upon us.

On June 14, the Star-Spangled from the Post Chamber of Commerce, it won't be long before they'll start thinning out.

led Banner will be 171 years old. This date marks the anniversary of the historic date when a flag of 13 alternate stripes of red and white, with a blue field of 13 stars, was by decree of Congress made the official emblem of the new republic.

Flag Day is the anniversary of the day on which began the glorious career of the Stars and Stripes as the flag of a nation born in blood and strife and dedicated to the preservation of the dignity and integrity of the individual citizen.

The red of the stripes proclaims the courage that inspires men and women to face danger and to do what is right. The white of the stars and stripes stands for personal and religious liberty. The blue of the field stands for loyalty, telling the story of the thousands of men and women who have been loyal to their country, even at the cost of their lives.

Today the eyes of a down-trodden world turn toward Old Glory with prayer and hope. The United States stand today as the guiding star of a world which yearns for the freedom for which our flag stands.

That flag proclaims to a troubled world that here is a nation dedicated to personal freedom. In that flag are symbolized all the hopes and achievements of a nation established on righteous principles of freedom of speech, freedom of assembly and freedom of worship—even freedom of picketing the government which allows these freedoms—a nation made great by its adherence to these principles.

The flag calls to you and me to remember the serious responsibility that rests upon us as American citizens, and the great opportunity open to us to carry forward the ideals for which it stands. With much of the world in confusion and chaos, with countless millions living in fear and oppression, and with left-wing elements working like maggots under our very noses to put the United States under the same oppression, we who hold up the Flag of Freedom must be strong and resolute.

Twice last week we saw that flag cover the caskets of Garza County boys who have paid the supreme price for freedom. There hardly breathes a person in this area who, in two world wars, did not see a relative or close friend fall in defense of freedom.

On Monday Old Glory will fly from coast to coast on all buildings, schools and homes, symbolic of the pride, courage and spirit of our fallen comrades and the freedom that their sacrifices made possible.

I wonder if the gesture will mean what it should, in this important election year.

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

THE RED MENACE—Three brotherhoods want the government to take over the railroads. Well, we have seen how the government runs private enterprise. And the American people want no more such operations. Just how the brotherhoods would profit by government operation is not clear. Of course they think that they can bluff the government whereas they cannot bluff private owners. If those birds want to work for the government, why not go to Europe where the government runs many branches of industry?—Canyon News.

FACILIS DESENSUS—In those days of such widespread mulligrubs and frustration it seems rather encouraging to read of the old lady at Scranton, Penn., who celebrated her hundred-and-first birthday by sliding down the banisters to breakfast. Of course that was in the United States, and no doubt there was a better breakfast awaiting her than would reward centenarians (and others) in this country. But it also saves time, which must be a diminishing commodity at the age of 101; it is much quicker than walking down stairs.

And Miss Florence Dolph, we learn, is an experienced performer; it is her custom to open the day with the banister trick "on all holidays and anniversaries." One has a strong feeling that she may have been checked for such performances in her youth and has been making up for lost time ever since. She must have seen a lot of holidays and anniversaries since she came to years of discretion and could take her chosen form of the downward path in her own time and at her own sweet will. It is a solemn thought that she was probably celebrating the end of the first war to end war in November, 1918, by the banister trick, as well as taking VE-Day and VJ-Day in the same accomplished slide. — Manchester England Guardian.

LUBBOCK'S GROWTH—Lubbock is growing at the rate of 1,432,308 new families each day. According to reliable information received here Monday from a statistician, that means about one and a half families are moving to the city each day, or in a long range view, about 43 families each month—Lubbock Avalanche.

ASK HOW THEY STAND—When the candidates for State Senator approach you soon soliciting your vote in the primary, ask them how they stand on the "Fair-Trade" Bill. This bill is dangerous and is fostered by the big corporations. It allows the factories who sell goods to tell the local merchant how much they must be sold for and they cannot cut the price one penny. If any of the local grocery stores in Lubbock decided to sell Dreff (or any other article) at a cheaper price they would be prohibited under this bill. It is a scheme for the wholesalers to flame the price of all articles which prohibits the retail merchant from offering them at a smaller price. This bill came near passing the last session of the legislature, and the voters should know how each candidate stands on this bill.—Lorenzo Tribune.

Numismatics is the science dealing with coins and medals.

Some Folks Never Had Anything Besides Nicknames; Others Discard Real Names

By EVELYN BOYD

Nicknames are fascinating. I have several and I like 'em all. The main thing I like about my nicknames is that I have a different one for every town I've lived in and, every so often, I get a pleasant surprise when I pick up the telephone and hear "Babs" or "Annie" or "Slim," to name a few.

"Babs" is what they dubbed me when I was a youngan named Babb at the University of Kansas. All my Lubbock friends say Eve and Post friends who knew me 25 years ago (when a nephew couldn't say Evelyn) still call me Annie. Some other oldtimers like Guy Speck (who aren't around to see how I look now) still call me Slim. I like people who can remember that far back.

One of the nephews, J. N. Power, has a lovely nickname, Moco. Back when he was a little boy who liked to fight, there was a fighting Esquima in the Mutt and Jeff cartoons named Moco who reminded people of J. N.

We've Forgotten Why

We can't tell you who the Bolivar is that Jack E. Hays reminds us of, but Bolivar is what we've called him ever since the day he started to work at the Post Dispatch. We call his older brother, Butch, for a similar reason, but Butch has a more widely known nickname of Buddy. His real name is Jessie Harold. There used to be a newspaper cartoon about Aunt Eppie Hogg, the fattest woman in three counties—or something of the sort. As Mrs. E. A. Warren has long been the slimmest woman in three counties, many of her closest friends call her Eppie.

Plenty of people prefer their nicknames to their real names. O. D. Cardwell is so ashamed of his real name that he thinks the moniker Otto Derriferous is beautiful in comparison. "Punk" Peel feels the same way about the Vonnie Lee on his birth certificate, and we suspect that "Lefty" Davies has the same regard for Elbert.

Don't Like Full Names

And there are some people who just don't like their full names but struggle along happily under the derivatives. These include Ollie (Oliver) Weakley, Ted (Theodore) Hibbs who has never used his full name but once—when he was a soldier in World War I. "Jude" (Julius) Manly and his son, "Jude" (James Edwin) and grandson, "Jude" (James Edwin, Jr.), "Kenny" (Kendrick) Cash, "Gussie" (Augusta) Connell, and "Bing" (V. F.) Bingham.

My husband's kinfolks call him "Speed," but all the folks he met while working for Uncle Sam call him Bob because his first name (Sherrill is the middle name) is Robert.

"Dad" (Ira) Greenfield got his nickname when he was a little boy living in Canyon and was extremely fond of an old man whose nickname was "Dad." His wife, Laurene, says that when she was a little girl she reminded her father of "Fritz" in the Katzenjammer Kids comic strip and so he gave her the nickname which is now the only front name she uses.

They Won't Live 'Em Down

Some of the youngest generations of the company's West Texas office in Abilene.

The only other Post resident to receive the company's gold medal for 25 years of service was John Herd, who received it from Schulz five or six years ago.

tion is well on the way to growing up by their nicknames, including "Kaki" (Katherine) Kahler, "Butch" and "Suzy" (J. Lee Jr., and Sue) Bowen and "Bubber" (W. A.) Talley.

Many a nickname dates back to some special preference the owner had as a small child. We can imagine "Cap" (Walter) Roy clinging to his cap; "Boots" (W. F.) Pierce sparkling over his first pair of boots; "Wagon" (Walter) Duckworth begging his mother at a camp meeting to "Come on, let's go to the wagon, these store bought shoes are killing my feet;" "Button" (Bobby) Cash winning out in "Button, Button who's got the Button."

Origin Is Forgotten

"Beadie" (Mrs. Raymond) Redman didn't know her real name was Henrietta until she started to school and found herself enrolled by that title. She doesn't remember where or how the "Beadie" got started. Mrs. K. Stoker's grandchildren, Jack and Kay Kirkpatrick, also call her "Beadie," a custom they developed when babies.

This could go on and on. There's "Bib" Benson, "Rusty" Bowen, "Tinker" Beauchamp, "Sweet" Sims, "Jiggs" Price, "Sonny" Nance, "Si" Thaxton, "Fay" Claborn, "Doc" Collier, "Shorty" Hamilton and lots of others, but I've got work to do.

Jack Has Gotta Find That Pig Or Else Be Out $15

If anybody sees a black Poland China pig running around loose, he is urged to please get in touch with Robert H. Gibson, the county agricultural agent, or Jack Schmidt.

The pig, which weighs about 40 pounds, was one of the 9 Sears Roebuck Foundation pigs awarded to as many Garza 4-H boys last Saturday morning in Post. Jack, who was one of the boys selected to raise one of the pigs, took his prize home and put it in a pen.

That night the pig broke loose and Jack chased it until bedtime. The next day he resumed the search, without success. On Sunday evening, after hearing that the pig had been seen near the city dump ground, Jack searched there until bed time.

If he doesn't find the pig he will have to pay $15, the cost of replacing it. If he finds it, the pig is his to raise for 4-H exhibition purposes. His only obligation will be to provide the foundation with a pig from the progeny or $15 to be used in carrying on the foundation's program the next year.

Besides Jack, boys receiving pigs Saturday were Charles Bird, Wendell Turner, Darwyn Howell, Noel Keith White, Barry Ford, J. E. Thomas and Royce Lee Josey, who received gilts, and H. C. Gribble, who received a boar.

The pigs were supplied by the following winners of the Sears Roebuck Foundation pig a year ago: Bennie Wilks, Jimmy Puckett, Billy Cooper, Winford Craig, Jackie Carpenter, Donald Ray Ford and H. C. Gribble, who had gilts, and Carter Gene White, who had a boar.

Mrs. C. A. Woodell and children returned home last week from Colorado City where they had been visiting her sister, who was ill.

Patricia Annetta and Lydia Gayle Sanders of Lubbock spent the weekend with Loyce and Jayce Josey.

Who is this Man?

And then, in the pages of Who's Who, I run a biographical under the heading of "Who is this Man?" For instance... was one of the earliest lovers of American history... yet he was too shy to court... came to the New World on... to repair the beer bar... accompanying the Pilgrims... is this man?" thought that everybody was stumped. But not Ma Hoskins, who returned the clipping to me with "John Alden" on it. She recognized all the clues—including that reference to "beer" and "cooper."

For Ma—who's read her history, knows that beer as the beverage of moderation, is as old in this land of ours as the never-ending American search for tolerance which brought the Pilgrims over to this country in the first place.

Now Is Time For Spraying Closet To Kill Insects

Clothes moths feed upon animal hair, fur, feathers and articles made from these materials, according to Mrs. Jewell H. Strasser, Garza County home demonstration agent.

Woolen lint hair, which has accumulated in floor cracks, under the quarter-round and baseboard, and other hard-to-reach places are often fertile breeding grounds. The batch of dog and cat hairs may yield a supply of moths.

After cleaning the clothes closets this spring, apply a DDT spray to the walls, woodwork, baseboards and shelves as a protection against clothes moths for the warm weather season. Mrs. Strasser advises. Approximately one-half pint DDT spray is necessary for an average size closet. An oil spray is preferred because it does not leave a white deposit as a water spray does.

The best DDT spray for this purpose is a residue spray, rather than one of the "aerosol bomb" or space spray type, if it is to be effective over a period of months in killing insects which come into contact with the closet surfaces. The aerosol spray is fine for killing flying insects, or those which happen to be exposed at the time, but it does not have the lasting effect because it doesn't leave a residue.

DDT solutions may also be sprayed lightly on wool clothes without injuring the fabric. Too much of the solution, however, may show up in whitish traces on dark clothes, but these can be removed by brushing or dry cleaning.

DDT spraying is useful for protecting clothes hanging in closets, while the more familiar moth flakes or crystals are advised for clothes stored in tight bags, trunks or other containers where a fumigating effect is desired. Added protection may be given stored clothes by spraying them and their containers with DDT.

All woolen clothing, of course, should be treated before storing in either treated closets or tight containers, says Mrs. Strasser.

Rich Red Blood

MEDICAL records show 68% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, feel blue, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

Wonder Minerals

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ill. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The most important of our people, including doctors, go to mineral springs. They would not patronize regularly these springs without any benefit.

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Amazing Results

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals found in the world's best springs. Watch the results a day or two after using it. The housecleaning it will do in your body, the poisons it will bring out. When you see this, do not get alarmed—thank Nature who created Geo-Mineral as a sign that the medicine is working on you, and realize its priceless value.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic and does not interfere with the foods in the stomach. It cleans and purifies the intestines, thoroughly relieving gas, toxins, acids, and bloating. After these poisons are out of the system and the kidneys purified, we begin to feel the arthritis, rheumatism leaving as Nature starts to complete the recovery.

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

Read What They Say!

Pharmacists, like doctors, know medicine best. Thousands of druggists of high reputation, who now sell Geo-Mineral, report amazing results by its users.

"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled"—say Porter Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. "Users report amazing results in many instances, and we personally believe Geo-Mineral is a good medicine for purposes as indicated, and recommend it to sufferers who have tried other medicines with little if any results. They may discover that Geo-Mineral is what they have probably been needing and looking for—we unhesitatingly recommend it."

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds."

"We not only sell Geo-Mineral"—says G. A. Littlefield, Manager of Smith's Drug Store, Gastonia, N. C.—"but as pharmacists, we know good medicine, and we believe there is none better than Geo-Mineral as a supplement for mineral deficiency. Doctors, hospitals, sanatoriums know the value of natural minerals. We are not surprised at the many users who came back to buy more and told us stories of amazing benefit. We recommend it to our friends, relatives, and beloved ones, and to every one wishing it better health."

These included an automatic hot water heater, given by Jim Wilson of Floydada, a cooking table given by John Lott, a cabinet for dishes given by Joe Salem of Sudan, sheet aluminum covering for the dining tables, a new roof on the water storage tank, and other improvements given by different executives.

Members of the board arrived for the meeting in the late afternoon and watched the camp in action and had dinner with the 65 Boy Scouts at the camp.

Ranking next to her talent in carpentry is her sense of frugality, and so Mrs. Davis decided to restore the chair. She called Mrs. Strasner, who gave her advice and actual assistance in upholstering the chair after Mrs. Davis had rebuilt it (see pictures).

When not working in her garden or home or helping her neighbors or doing some church work, Mrs. Davis visits her children. She left last Friday to visit a daughter, Mrs. J. V. Beauchamp, in Roby until Monday. Her other two children are Guy, who lives here, and Willie, a son living in Lamesa.

Military Funeral Is Conducted For Pvt. Dan R. Ivey

Pallbearers and other veterans assisting with the military funeral Sunday of Pvt. Dan R. Ivey, who died in a Japanese prison camp in Burma 20 months after being captured with the Lost Battalion at Java in March, 1942, wore army khaki shirts, trousers and overseas caps. The pallbearers were Tom Power, Dan Altman, Harold Lucas, Alex Webb, Hayden Johnson and Hugh Blevins.

The funeral was held at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Huron A. Poinac officiating. The American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars conducted an impressive service afterward in Terrace Cemetery. Color bearers and guards were A. B. Haws, Jr., Shelley Camp, L. J. Richardson, Jr., and Lewis Price. The firing squad consisted of a group from the local V.F.W. post.

Ivey, son of Mrs. Ruby H. Ivey of Amarillo and Clyde B. Ivey of Abilene, was mobilized in November, 1940. He trained with the 36th Division at Camp Bowie, then sailed for the Philippines with the 131st Field Artillery a year later. His family never survivors include a brother, Clarence B. Ivey, of Amarillo. His mother is visiting in the home of a sister here, Mrs. W. C. Caffey. A number of out-of-town relatives and friends were here for the funeral.

BOND ELECTION—

The public will merely pay their water and sewerage bills to the City of Post instead of the two companies now owning the units.

Mayor John Herd this morning explained that the only reason for attempting to buy the water works from the Community Public Service Company is in order to acquire and support the badly needed sewer system and extension. It is necessary to acquire the water works in order to get the revenue bonds, and revenue from the water works will be needed to support the sewer project.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Shumard and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Bert O'Conner, former Post citizens in Plainview Sunday.
