2 Inches of Moisture in Rowden Community Revives Crops Gardens

Rain early Friday morning was a welcome sight even if some wind accompanied it. Two inches was gauged at the Jimmy West place in the center of the community, to .70 at the Warren Price place in the northeast part of the community. Young crops and gardens were revived and looking good.

Of course those wild grasses and weeds will grow ever so fast, which will require the efforts of a strong back and a long-handled hoe to be rid of them. Who wants to do work like that on the 4th of July? We extend our sincere sympathy to Dorothy Reynolds and her family in the death of her father, Larmer Henry. Many from here attended the funeral in Baird Friday.

This column will be limited to news that this writer knows about this week, due to early printing of the paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lawrence and Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Odom attended funeral services in Cross Plains Saturday for Mrs. Clara Henderson.

Visitors stopped by to chat and visit a few minutes while work was going on at the Community Center Saturday morning when Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Smedley of Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lawrence and two children of Abilene. It was the first time to see their newly arrived baby daughter, who is a beautiful baby. We were told her name but since correct spelling is not available, you will have to hear that later. They were on their way to Cross Plains after making a stop by the Bill Lawrence home.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Smedley are former residents of the community, having lived here before and after their marriage. Mrs. Smedley is the for which was located south of the Midway community, who taught her first school at Hillside, which was located south of the Tommie Harris home. They were enroute to the Coleman Lake for a weekend fishing trip, with other members of their family.

4th of July picnics were the main source of entertainment many years ago in the Rowden Community. Men of the area met at Pecan Bayou, on what is now the Blain Odom place to catch fish for the picnic and usually many were caught and prepared for the big meal, enjoyed by many families in the area. This writer can remember that the late Walter Jones was responsible for the barrel of lemonade that was enjoyed all during the day. Women spent hours in the kitchen preparing cakes and pies and many would be carrying their first fresh garden produce such as corn, blackeye peas, okra and tomatoes.

Teenage boys found the swimming hole nearby and shrieks and screams and laughter could be heard from them. Even the girls and ladies had a place for swimming also.

The only thing not enjoyable about these outings were the chiggers, who especially like to greet people too, and find a new home. Many say that days like these are gone forever, and probably they are. There are not enough people left in the rural areas to have picnics. That is why we are trying to keep our Community Center actively going and we hope more will take an interest in this endeavor.

Another change in rural areas is that all the people living on farms do not farm. Many are working in towns nearby. Harvey Davis, who recently moved here, works for a construction company in Abilene. Bob Dye farms and commutes to Abilene to work Mrs. Tommie Harris, Mrs. Roy Thornton and Mrs. Bob Dye each work in Abilene. Mrs. Don Harris does part-time work in Cross Plains as a beauty operator, and Mrs. Weldon Gary is our mail carrier out of Baird.

1972 is slipping by and we can expect more hot weather and hope for an even mixture of rain.

Those visiting in the Lella Gibbs home during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rose of Cross Plains, Ernest Sikks of Abilene, Mark Sikks of Garland, and Mrs. Tony Steele of Clyde.

Chris West is at home after spending two weeks in Reserve Army training at El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Vestal of Baird were Monday night supper guests in the Jimmy West home. Mrs. N. V. Gibbs visited Mrs. Mattie Gibbs and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bryant in the Nursing Home at Baird Friday.

BAIRD - Mr. and Mrs. James Asbury, and Mrs. Charlie Powell of Ft. Worth, spent 5 days recently in Galveston, Corpus Christi and the lower Rio Grande Valley, while in Galveston Mr. Asbury attended a session of the State Firemen and Fire Marshall's Convention, having served some 37 years on the Baird Volunteer Fire Dept. He still enjoys meeting old firemen friends. They report that on their 1500 mile trip, they failed to see a serious automobile accident or result of any motor vehicle accident.

Lt. Col. Clark F. Kreidler Retires From Reserve Officer Training Post

ABILENE — The top leadership of Hardin-Simmons University Reserve Officer Training Corp will change hands for the coming academic year.

Lt. Col. Clark F. Kreidler, professor of military science for the past three years, is retiring from active military duty after 20 years of service.

Col. Harvey E. Stewart has been designated as the new professor of military science, according to Dr. Jim E. Tanner, dean of faculties.

Col. Stewart is scheduled to receive a master's degree in education and guidance and counseling from H-SU in August commencement exercises. He has been working on the degree for the past year under a special program by the Army.

Kreidler plans to continue residing in Clyde following his retirement.

Kreidler came to H-SU from the 3rd U. S. Army Headquarters in Fort McPherson. He received an RA commission upon graduation from Kent State University. Kreidler is a senior aviator with more than 4000 flying hours in both fixed wing and rotary wing. He and his wife, Rosemary, have four sons.

While at H-SU, Kreidler has been a Rotarian and has been active in several other organizations.

Upon the eve of his retirement, Col. Kreidler praised the atmosphere on the H-SU campus in regard to the ROTC program.

"The program here is more a part of the school than at many schools. At least that's the way I've felt about it."

One of the high points in Kreidler's tour of duty with H-SU has been the completion of Mabee Hall, he says. With Gen. William C. Westmoreland's visit to the campus last September for dedication ceremonies, it marked the first time in the 20-year history of the ROTC at H-SU for the Army Chief of Staff to visit the campus.

During the last few years, Kreidler said that the staff here, as no other campuses, has been busy updating and streamlining the ROTC campus. "These efforts started before I came and will continue after I go."

Mrs. Ralph Roach and Mrs. Dez Woods served punch, sand tarts and pink cookies to the numerous guests, as Mrs. Carl Love, Mrs. John Berry and Mrs. Darrell Young assisted. The silver and white wedding cake inscribed "Tod and JoAnn" was a gift to the couple.

Camp Wood Lake Offers Many Activities For Girl Scout Campers

BROWNWOOD — Camp Wood Lake, the Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council's resident camp at Lake Brownwood, closed its first 12-day session of summer camp last week. Seventy-six girls from 16 different communities attended the session.

Highlights of the session were activities of the different interest patrols and the all-camp programs scheduled.

The Indian Lore patrol made a field trip to Paint Rock to observe the Indian rock paintings. The Foot Traveler patrol had an all day, six mile hike to Sandy Beach, which included lunch and swimming. The Canoeing I patrol paddled to Flat Rock where they spent a day and a night. All patrols planned and carried out special activities. Several hikes and cookouts were held in the State Park.

The camp's Camp Council planned an "Evening on Television" for an all-camp activity. Each unit presented a 15 minute program including commercials. Programs presented included game shows, comedy, and suspense. TV snacks were served by the camp council members for refreshments.

Evening baseball was another popular activity during the session. Each unit formed a team and inter-unit competition was scheduled. The Mariner and Trailblazer units each won one game and lost one. The Explorer unit won one game and the Pathfinder unit lost one. The 2nd half of the Wednesday night double-header was called on account of darkness.

The opening campfire of the session featured songs and games and a story introducing the counselors to campers. The mid-session campfire on Saturday night included an Indian dance by the Indian Lore patrol, while songs were taught by each of the other patrols.

The closing campfire for the session included presentation of badge certificates, swimming and canoeing cards and Honor Camper awards. Attending the session just completed from Clyde were Kathy Simmons and Diane Simmons.

The second session of the camp will open Sunday, June 25 through July 7. Junior, Cadette and Senior Scouts will be coming for the 12-day session. Brownie Scouts are divided into two five-day sessions during this period. Patrol groups will be formed according to interest, and activities will be planned by each group. Camp Council representatives will be selected from each of the patrols to help plan camp activities. 138 girls are registered for the 2nd session.

Girls from Clyde attending this session are Kelly Brown, Peggie Day, Brenda Estes, Lynn Hilscher, Lisa Hines, Vicki Martin, Dana Teeters and Kay Long.

Brownies attending Session II-A (June 25 - 30) are Patti Martin and Julie Powers. Lucinda Fox will attend II-B from July 2-7.

According to Mrs. Ray A. Hoyle, executive director of the Council, the camp employs 14 counselors, two waterfront safety instructors, a craft instructor, a nurse, a business manager, two cooks and two cook's aides. Mrs. Don Walker, field adviser for the council, directs the camp. She is assisted by Mrs. Donald Cole, another field adviser for the Council.

Hawks Lose Crucial Game

CLYDE — The Hawks lost a very important game Friday night to Cisco 6-0. This left the Hawks three games behind Cisco with only five games remaining. Needless to say, they will need a lot of help to have a chance at the league title.

The game was actually lost on a sour note, since Cisco has no outfield fence and no one had mowed the tall weeds in the outfield, and they refused to make any ground rules on a ball hit into them. All six runs scored by Cisco were scored while Clyde outfielders looked for the ball in knee-high weeds.

Local officials have decided if Cisco desires to be in the league next year, this situation must be remedied.

The Hawks will play in Eastland Friday night as they start the final round. They play two home games next week as they host Albany on Tuesday and Ranger, Friday.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Wide variance in election costs over the state have been pointed up by Secretary of State Bob Bullock in a recent report.

Bullock said primary expenses ranged from 36 cents per voter (Democrats) in Travis County to $4.83 (for Republicans) in El Paso County.

Some county chairmen managed a "thrifter, better-organized election," while others spent the maximum amount authorized, said the chief election officer.

"These figures have reaffirmed our belief that angle polling places for both parties, with primaries financed through the county clerks office, would be a positive step toward reducing our primary election costs," said Bullock.

Bullock noted this breakdown for major counties, with Democratic costs first:

Travis - 36c - $2.50
Harris - 61c - $2.44
Tarrant - 61c - $1.83
Dallas - 57c - $1.94
Bexar - 59c - $2.65
El Paso - 50c - $4.83
Nueces - 52c - $4.48

Higher unit cost for Republicans is not surprising, due to the small size of the GOP primary, Bullock said.

In some counties, the Secretary of State complained, 400 voting machines were allowed where "half as many" probably would have done the job.

COURTS SPEAK — A U. S. Supreme Court decision holding the death penalty unconstitutional left uncertain the fate of 41 Texas prisoners on death row.

A federal court at Brownsville held five Texas laws used in labor disputes are unconstitutional and scored the role of Texas Rangers in a 1966-67 Starr County farm workers' strike.

The State Supreme Court next fall will hear arguments concerning the extent of a health insurance policyholder's rights in suits based on alleged misrepresentation in policy sales.

The High Court ruled Sun Oil Company has rights to use 100,000 gallons of water daily for injection of oil-bearing sands beneath a Hockley County tract to increase production.

Part of the value of medical and legal practices of divorced husbands can be held at community property for distribution to wives, the Supreme Court held.

The Court of Criminal Appeals ordered new trials for two men who had earlier received death sentences which had been overturned by the U. S. Supreme Court, and upheld Gov. Preston Smith's commutation of sentences for two others under similar circumstances. The Court affirmed a fifth death penalty.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals affirmed a trial court finding that a Travis County couple did not have sufficient mental capacity to understand the effects of deeding their homestead to a niece.

NEW TRADE MISSION PLANED — An August trade mission by 12 Texas industrialists to the South American cities of Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro is planned by the International Trade Division of Texas Industrial Commission for August 20-31.

The trip will emphasize these products as best export possibilities in South America: petrochemicals, chemicals, power equipment, construction and mining equipment, steel, graphics, industry equipment, machine tools, office machines, textile machinery, transportation and communication and agriculture and food processing.

FILIBUSTER MARK SET — Sen. Mike McKeel of Dallas cracked the world's filibuster record during the special legislative session, arguing 42 hours and 33 minutes for more funds to improve mental health-mental retardation services.

McKeel's feat, which immobilized both houses of the legislature for nearly two days, may have thrown the session timetable out of kilter.

Indications are there is little hope of winding up work on the $4.1 billion appropriations bill before Friday. Additional federal funds totalling nearly $128 million apparently will be assured for welfare.

Senators scheduled a mid-week clash over adoption of new rules which include a controversial provision to authorize consideration of appointments by the governor in open session. Senators traditionally have done this work behind closed doors, and showed reluctance last week to depart from the old practice.

SHORT SNORTS — The May unemployment rate for Texas rose slightly but remained below the May 1971 level.

More than 420 cities received $40 million from the local option sales tax during the first quarter of 1972.
