COSTLY DIAMONDS AND COMMON SUGAR ARE BOTH FROM SAME CARBON SOURCE... BUT ONLY SUGAR IS PRECIOUS TO LIFE!

CARBON IS PRESENT AS CARBON DIOXIDE IN THE ATMOSPHERE. (0.03%)

SCIENTISTS RECOGNIZE THAT ONLY A PLANT HAS THE POWER TO CONVERT THE ATOMIC ENERGY OF THE SUN INTO NOURISHMENT SUITABLE FOR LIVING MATTER...

BY A PROCESS CALLED PHOTOSYNTHESIS, WHICH MEANS "BUILDING WITH LIGHT," THE ENERGY OF SUNLIGHT IN THE PRESENCE OF CHLOROPHYLL (THE GREEN SUBSTANCE IN LEAVES) COMBINES CARBON DIOXIDE FROM THE AIR WITH MOISTURE FROM THE SOIL TO FORM SUGAR AND OXYGEN... ALL OTHER FORMS OF FOOD COME DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY FROM SUGARS.

A COMMON MISTAKE HAS BEEN TO BAN SUGAR FROM REDUCING DIETS... YET, A TEASPOON FULL OF SUGAR (18 CALORIES) SATISFIES THE APPETITE FASTER... SUGAR IS ENERGY FOOD.

Mark Twain's Story OF THE READING SPIDER

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri newspaper. One day he got a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his newspaper and asked if this was an omen of good luck or bad luck.

Twain wrote: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

You will find no spider webs across the doors of the merchants who advertise in your local newspaper.

 "My floor bouncer is the telephone," the tavern operator said. Since only four of the five councilmen were present when the petition was presented, it was not voted on until after the two tavern operators had left the meeting. The unanimous vote—on the arrival of the fifth councilman—followed a motion by councilman Wesley Scott that the petition be rejected, with Dr. Matthews seconding the motion.

 arguments down there and have the manpower." Arkansas is always strong, he pointed out. "Because the University of Arkansas has a fence built around their state borders as far as home-grown football players are concerned."
 The Red Raiders chief called the Southwest Conference one of the finest football leagues in the country and "probably the best balanced in the nation." It's the only one, he said, in which a low ranking team can defeat the conference leader time after time. Only three times in league history, he said, has a grid eleven gone through the season unbeaten. And only four times in 27 years has the pre-season favorite won.
 King said Tech isn't going to have a "floor mat athletic program" but one in which "when you come to the campus you will know that Tech rates a 50-50 chance to win."
 Conley defended lanky starting quarterback, John Lovelace, who was booed a few times at home last season. He attributed Lovelace's 1961 fumbling in the scoring zone to Tech's inexperienced centers who were handing him the ball.

"In our last two games against Arkansas and West Texas I thought he was the best back on the field," Conley said.
 Burl Huffman, freshman grid coach, reported that "we at Tech feel we've come up two years back to back with good freshman football squads."
 Tech's freshman cage coaches and assistant varsity basketball coach, Charles Lynch said that the Raiders are picked to finish last in the conference next winter, "but we hope to come strong and finish in the top four."

Louie Burkes, presiding at his first Rotary meeting as the club's new president, presented King and Leete Jackson, executive vice president of the Red Raider club, each with a pair of Garza sheets and commented, "These aren't crying towels."
 Don Sparks, track coach and Raider trainer, also was introduced.

here two months when his salary goes up to $325 on July 15. Police Chief Elton Corley told the council that the new patrolman is doing a good job on his night patrol.
 The decision to increase the salary of City Judge Percy E. Printz from $50 to $100 a month came after Mayor Shytle read a report from Printz in which the latter pointed out the increase in police court business in recent weeks.
 The mayor enlarged on the judge's report by explaining that the judge is finding it necessary now to make numerous court appearances in addition to the schedule set up when the court was established here last October.

The original schedule, Mayor Shytle said, called for the judge to hold court for an hour each Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning. In recent weeks, he has been finding it necessary to hold court at other times during the week, including Sunday mornings and at night on occasion, the mayor pointed out.

A. Arthur Davis of Lubbock will replace the late Harold Wine as city auditor. He is also auditor for the White River Municipal Water District. The other applicant for the job of auditing the city's books was Bolinger, Segars & Burk of Lubbock.

The council's decision to recommend that the minimum of certain city fines be increased came after Police Chief Corley told them he did not think some of the fines were high enough for the offense.
 The minimum fines tentatively recommended by the council are: Drunk, $20; vagrancy, $10; disturbing the peace, $20; speeding, $10; reckless driving, $10; unregistered vehicle, $10; no driver's license, $5; defective muffler, $5; running stop sign, $5; running red light, $5.
 It was explained that the above amounts would be the minimum and that it would be up to the court to increase the amount of the fine at its discretion.

The council's decision — in the form of an agreement and not a vote — to retain Webb as their legal advisor followed a discussion after Mayor Shytle read Webb's letter asking that he be relieved of the duties.
 Webb, who is Garza County attorney, stated in his letter to the council that he would finish any legal work already started for the city.

The council agreed to the mayor's suggestion that "we just leave things as they are" to terminate the discussion on Webb's request.
 The council discussed the need for more street lighting at the front and in the back of Garza Memorial Hospital, particularly at the parking area on the east side.

The discussion brought out that Southwestern Public Service personnel have surveyed the current need for more lights at the hospital at the city's request, but that the city has not decided the best method to follow in increasing the light.

The council decided to postpone the discussion after councilman Walter Duckworth, who is also a member of the hospital board, said he would bring the matter up at Thursday night's board meeting.

The council voted to join with the school district in the collection of back taxes. The school board recently commissioned local attorney Thomas W. Gamblin to collect back taxes prior to and including the year 1957, at a 13 per cent commission, with the board to retain 5 per cent until the back tax collection project is terminated.

Two bids on the purchase of a back-hoe, which the city needs for sewer, street and other work, were opened, but neither was accepted, pending further deliberation by the city on just what type of equipment it wishes to purchase and whether to attach it to the present tractor or purchase a new tractor at the same time the back-hoe is purchased.

The bids for the back-hoe equipment were submitted by Hodges Tractor Co. and Garza Tractor & Implement Co.

Dodgers trounce Cardinals, 17-2, to pad league lead

Little League Dodgers trounced the second-place Cardinals, 17-2, Saturday night to increase their lead by one full game, having defeated the Tigers, 10-1, Thursday night in a ding-dong battle.

Cardinals, meanwhile, bounced the Yankees, 12 to 4, last Thursday night, and downed the Corvairs, 11 to 5 Monday night to hold onto second place.

The third-place Red Sox, still in contention for the league championship, whipped the Corvairs, 15 to 10, Saturday, and downed the cellar-dwelling Tigers, 9 to 2, Monday night.

Post track girls score 22 points

Post's six points in the junior girls' division came on a fourth place by Isaacs in the 60-yard hurdles, a fifth place by Wilson in the 8-pound shot put and a sixth place by Martin in the 60-yard hurdle.

The four points in the senior girls' division were scored by Carradine with a fourth place in the 60-yard hurdles and a sixth place in the 8-pound shot put.

New Orleans, La., won the women's open division, Fort Worth, the senior girls' division, and Abilene the junior girls' division.

All the teams that participated in the women's division except Post and Baird are competing this week in the national AAU meet in Los Angeles.

One national record was set in the Abilene meet.

Headings do not include Tuesday night games between Indians and Pirates and Pirates and Pirates and Pirates.

Friday night, the Pirates, 19 to 6, made-up games and the finishing of a postponed game were Tuesday night, but results too late for The Dispatch publication, which closed up one day because of the 4th holiday.

Make-up games were between the Indians and the Pirates and the Pirates and the Braves. Also to be played was the final inning of a game between the Pirates and the Indians, which had been called with the teams deadlocked 21-21 and the time after midnight.

The Braves lost all chances for the pennant when two protest-victories went to the Cubs in a ruling last week at a meeting of Babe Ruth League officials. It was inadvertently reported in last Thursday's Dispatch that the Braves were ruled the winners of the protested games with the Cubs, but it was the other way around.

Manager Ben Howell's White Sox, sponsored by General Builders, ended the season on top of the league standings with a 13-3 record by virtue of their win over the Cubs in their final game Friday.

The Pirates, making a desperate bid for a victory, lost to the Braves Friday, but still had three chances to come up with their first win of the season in Tuesday night's make-up play.

In two well-played games last Thursday night, the White Sox edged the Indians, 6 to 5, by scoring two runs in the bottom of the seventh, and the Braves nudged the Cubs, 8 to 7, by shutting off a last-inning Cub rally that produced three runs.

White Sox player receives plaque

Benny Owen, catcher for the championship White Sox team, was presented a plaque as the Babe Ruth League's outstanding boy in a between-games ceremony last Friday night at the Babe Ruth League park.

Benny was selected for the honor on the basis of sportsmanship, ability, cooperation, etc. The selection was made by a special committee of adults.

The plaque was presented Benny by Luther (Luke) Bilberry, Babe Ruth League vice president.

Benny, 15, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Owen of 111 North Ave. P.

Legion nine loses to Brownfield, 11 to 8

Although outhit, 10 to 7, the Brownfield American Legion Junior baseball team came up with a five-run fifth inning here Saturday night to defeat the Post Junior Legion team, 11 to 8.

Going into the top of the fifth trailing by two runs — 6-4 — the Brownfield team put together one hit, two bases on balls and two infield errors by Post to score five runs and take a 9-6 lead.

Post scored two runs in the bottom of the fifth to narrow the gap to 9-8, but the visitors put the frosting on the cake in the top of the sixth with a two-run homer by second baseman Nunn.

The defeat left the hard-luck Post team without a victory in six league contests.

Schoolboy football in Texas just seems to keep right on growing

Texas schoolboy football has for 40 years been the largest in the world but not even the bragging-est Texan of them all would have forecasted what has happened this year.

In 1958 there were 917 schools playing football under the aegis of the University Interscholastic League. But even league officials said that was the last big surge, that from then on there would be a fall-off or at least a static situation because of the many consolidations of schools.

For three years this held up, but 1962 dawned with the all-time record smashed again. There will be 921 schools fighting for championships when the 43rd campaign opens in the fall. No other state can even approach this figure, made possible by a faster growth in high schools than anyone contemplated.

Class AAAA, the top division, is one-fifth larger today than when there was more than one division created in the late forties. Actually, there are 27 more schools. Thus, the big increase has come in the major classes. Class AAA has shown an even greater jump than Class AAAA.

Next fall there will be 121 in AAAA, 108 in AAA, 190 in AA, 191 in A, 183 in B, 71 in Six-Man and 57 in Eight-Man. Only the A classes play to state championships, but there are four of those, which is more than any other state can boast.

Because Class AAAA is the only division holding spring training, it will not be permitted to begin fall practice until Aug. 31. All other classes begin Aug. 20. AAAA also gets a later start in playing games, opening the campaign Sept. 14. The other divisions can begin Sept. 7.

There will be three brand-new schools in Class AAAA—Houston R. E. Lee, Houston Memorial and San Antonio McCallum. Waco Richfield will be competing for the championship for the first time although it is not a new school. There will be one new competing school in Class AAA — Rider of Wichita Falls. And there also will be some changes made by schools moving up or down. Orange, for instance, will be in AAA this time instead of the top class and Terrell, long a Class AA power, comes up a notch.

Class AA will have three new schools playing for the championship—Hirschi of Wichita Falls, Lake Highlands of Richardson and

Stelzer wins third flight

Julius Stelzer won the third flight of the annual Brownfield Invitational golf tournament at Brownfield Sunday by defeating Ted Hardy, Murphy May and Bonner Lidy, all of Brownfield, in an 18 hole medal play final round.

Stelzer carded a 79 for the final 18, four strokes better than Hardy, who took runnerup honors with an 83.

Lee Williams won the runnerup honors in third flight consolation. Other Post golfers competing were Jimmy Hundley, who was reported "chewed up" in the championship flight competition, and Roger Camp and Oscar Garner who were defeated in the second round of the first flight.

two-run circuit smash by Nichols. Glenn Polk grounded out, short to first, and Pat Cornell fanned to end the frame.

Brownfield's big fifth inning came after Nichols had struck out the side in the fourth.

Cornell's two-bagger scored Thomas, who had walked, and Nichols, who had singled, to produce Post's two runs in the bottom of the fifth. Two men were out when the runs scored and Cornell was left stranded on second base when Neal Francis struck out.

In the bottom of the sixth, Acker singled with one out and went to third on R. Valdez' one-bagger after J. Valdez had fanned for the second out. Howell, who had relieved Garcia in the third, fanned Thomas to get out of trouble.

J. Valdez, the third Post pitcher, fanned Ritter, but yielded a single to Parker in the seventh. He fanned Brown and forced Davis to pop up to the shortstop to end the inning.

Post mounted a mild threat in the bottom of the seventh when Polk singled after Nichols had fanned. Howell dashed the locals' hopes, however, by pushing third strikes past Cornell and Campbell, who had replaced Francis in left field.

Eleven Brownfield batters went down via the strikeout route and 12 Post batsmen were whiffed. Post pitching yielded five bases on balls, with only one free ticket being issued by the Brownfield pitching.

BR tournament scheduled here for July 12-14

A six-team Babe Ruth League tournament will be held in Post on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, Ben Owen, president of the local Babe Ruth League, announces.

The tournament will be an invitational affair to give teams and players the opportunity to "warm up" for district tournaments coming up the following week, league officials here said.

A team of all-stars will be selected to represent Post in the tournament here, Owen said. The all-star aggregation will not be the same as the one selected to play in the official district tournament, according to the league president.

Besides the Post all-stars, Babe Ruth League teams participating in the three-day tournament here will be from Ralls, Jayton, Spur, Crosbyton and Slaton.

The president of the Post League said plans are to play three games a day in the double-elimination tournament. Trophies will be awarded the teams winning first and second places.

BR all-stars are being selected

Babe Ruth League officials this week are in the process of selecting the all-star team that will represent Post in the district tournament beginning July 19 at Leveland, league president Ben Owen said today.

The Post all-star team will be selected from among the player rosters of the five Babe Ruth League teams here.

Post drew a first-round bye in the district tournament, Owen said, and will play their first game July 19 against the winner of a down and Whiteface.

Nine teams will compete in the district tournament.

By VERN SANFORD

Texas anglers who use artificial lures are perhaps the most original and apt of any be-pod on earth, when it comes to bait.

Should they want to go fishing and the usual lures aren't available, they create their own version of what fish like.

Sure, they haunt the sporting goods stores too, just like all other fishermen. They fill their tackle boxes with lures of every hue and shape.

But is for any reason, they find themselves without lures, these Texas artisans of the artificial lure make their very own.

Everything from dentures to squirrel tails are used as improvised bait. Horsehair, chicken feathers, bucktails, felt, calico, tin foil, glass, pine cones, and many others are used to fool the fish.

When the minnow bucket gets empty, or the last worm in the can be used up, many bank fishermen quit for the day. They needn't! Not when there is so much natural bait available.

AFTER ALL — fish relish a change of diet just like you do. So offer it to them!

Most fish that go for minnows or worms will strike equally well, sometimes better, on such bait as hellgrammites, rotten eggs, Ivory soap, wash grubs, grasshoppers, chicken entrails, caterpillars, whole corn and even grapes, to name a few.

Hellgrammites make excellent bait and they stay alive on the hook indefinitely.

To gather a can of them, wade through shallow riffles, turning over stones as you wade. Most often than not you will find hellgrammites under these stones.

Use a small minnow net (the kind you use to dip bait form a bucket) to scoop them up. If you must use your bare hands be careful, for this fellow is armed with vicious, but non-poisonous, nipper.

To "bait up," insert the hook under the hard collar the hellgrammite wears.

Rotten eggs should be used only in an emergency—For obvious reasons.

But they do make good catfish bait when tied to a tobacco sack. Just punch several holes in the sack—after placing them in the sack—then attach to hook.

The stink travels out and attracts catfish like crazy.

WHEN YOU FIND yourself in a bind for bait, open your tackle box and get out that small cake of Ivory soap you have packed away. Cut cake into a number of small cubes. Use these cubes as bait. They make a fair pole line and trotline bait for catfish.

Wasp-nest grubs make good bluegill and sunfish bait.

Gathering these grubs can be dangerous, for wasps don't take kindly to such raids. So try creeping up on the nest with an open container of gasoline. Quickly douse the nest with the fluid—then run.

The gasoline will kill all the adult wasps instantly—except those away from the nest at the time. Make your raid at night and you'll catch all the wasps at home.

Once the wasps are killed, pull the nest down and dig out the grubs. They are good bait for bass, too.

GRASSHOPPERS are widely used as bait. Bluegills, catfish and sunfish like them. No reason to wear yourself out chasing them. Wait until night, then use a flashlight. You can pick them up without trouble after dark.

Place the hoppers in a jar fixed so that only one at a time can be taken out. Otherwise all may escape.

To use, insert barb through the

LEGAL TERMS

Words are good tools. All professions have to use them precisely to get their work done. Your doctor has words for your illness; and your pharmacist, for your drugs.

As a rule, we say what we have to say: If people do not get it the first time we tell them again. But you can't always do that in wills and contracts.

In legal papers, words need clear meanings for courts to interpret them right. Hence, technical terms such as the following:

1. Real property: Land, buildings, fences, and things attached to the land such as trees and crops.

2. Personal property: Movable things: Bonds, bank accounts, notes, cars, livestock, furniture, jewelry, clothing, television sets, etc.

3. Community property: Property which a man or wife earn after marriage.

4. Separate property: Gifts, inheritances, and some court awards received after marriage as well as things which man or woman owned before marriage.

5. Trusts: You have a trust when someone holds title to property for another person's sake. Thus a man's will may have some person or concern hold and manage his business interests and turn the income over to his widow.

6. Deposition: A sworn statement to get or keep testimony for a law suit—a help when a witness is sick or far away, for instance; or when facts can be taken down in "discovery" proceedings to shorten actual trial time. Depositions are of two kinds:

a. Lawyers on each side ask the witness questions before a notary public. His answers are taken down and he signs the "transcript".

b. The lawyers write out their questions beforehand; and the answers, given before a notary, are also written out. The notary sends the testimony to the court where it may be used during hearings.

Vet's

Q. My regular non-government pension is to be increased by $15 per month. In view of the possibility that the increase might make me ineligible to receive my veterans pension, may I refuse the increase and remain eligible for my VA pension?

A. No. Your refusal to accept the monthly increase in your pension would constitute a waiver. Since such a waiver is not authorized by Federal statute, the additional $15 must be counted as income for pension purposes.

Q. What is the eligibility requirement for a veteran to receive a physical examination from the VA?

A. He must need the medical examination in connection with applying for certain benefits such as VA compensation, life insurance, or hospital or domiciliary care and he must be discharged or retired under conditions other than dishonorable.

Q. How can a veteran's former wife get his insurance benefits after he dies when he had a later wife who gets nothing? I know that this occurred.

A. The veteran evidently had named his earlier wife as his insurance beneficiary and did not change either because (a) he intended for her to get insurance benefits or (b) he forgot to change the designation of his beneficiary to his later wife. The VA is required by law to pay insurance benefits to the designated beneficiary.

Another frustration in Ted's life will occur next Sunday morning. Like every American youngster Ted needs religious training. But Ted's parents, who should be offering him opportunity and encouragement in spiritual growth, can't seem to find the Church.

Our children deserve the full spiritual opportunity which our free heritage has preserved for them. Today it is their turn to develop the power with which God endowed them. And our assignment, like the batting-practice pitcher's, is to offer them our best... and not lost control.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

LOST — Yellow Persian kitten. Call 2392. tfc (7-5)

AUSTIN Texas has something to brag about: The best safety record in Texas history.

The National Safety Council "grades" all states on traffic safety. Of a possible 100 points, Texas got 84 for its efforts to solve traffic deaths and injury during 1961. A big share came from the second lowest traffic death toll since 1949—"only" 2,314 killed on the highways in 1961.

California had the best score with 86. Michigan was second with 85. Texas tied with Illinois for third place among the "big traffic" states.

Gov. Price Daniel said that holding down the death rate despite steadily increasing traffic made a real record—fewer deaths per 100,000 miles traveled than ever before.

NEW INDUSTRY—Every Texas city is looking for new industry. But they aren't alone. Every state has some sort of industry-attracting program.

In May, Texas tied with Illinois for fourth place in the number of new industries opened for business. Each had 30. New York's 49, California's 35 and Pennsylvania's 32 led Texas.

Some states allow public-supported bond issues to finance plant buildings. The Texas Industrial Commission thinks this should be done by private finance, but it asked the Texas Research League to make a study to see which approach is best.

Texas Industrial Commission is running ads this month in Business Week, Wall Street Journal, Dun's Review and American Banker magazines and newspapers, inviting industry to look at Texas for new plant sites.

CARLA'S COST—Hurricane Carla, which hit Texas last September, struck a delayed blow this week.

After insurance companies paid more than $110,000,000 in insurance claims, the State Board of Insurance ran up the statistics in setting new rates for extended coverage insurance — which includes windstorm damage.

The result — a 27 per cent increase in dwelling rates in the "seacoast territory" and a 5.3 per cent increase in the two inland territories.

"Seacoast territory" comprises all counties on the Gulf of Mexico, plus a tier of counties adjoining them.

In those counties, where $100 worth of extended coverage insurance costs 35 cents this year—it will cost 44 cents after July 1.

This is just the dwelling rate. There are dozens of other variations in the complicated business of setting insurance rates.

But it's all based on statistics. When insurance companies have the biggest losses in history in 1961, it raises rates for a number of years to even things out.

HERE TO STAY—From the way Texas Democratic nominees for the state Senate are thinking now—the new sales tax is here to stay.

There likely will be some modifications—but no chance of repeal, and little chance of making it one per cent on everything instead of two per cent on most things.

That is the result of a newspaper survey of Democratic nominees for the Senate.

A clear majority—17 of the 31—felt that the sales tax would not be repealed. Only one among the 17 said he would vote to repeal it.

But several feel there should be some changes made. Major items suggested was to do something to ease the strain on small vendors.

Interpretations of the law are that the merchant can't collect the tax on sales of less than 25 cents, but must pay the tax to the state on those sales as a part of his gross sales.

Theory was that collecting more than two per cent on sales of 25 cents and more would even things out. But it hasn't worked that way, particularly among people like restaurants where they sell a lot of coffee, vending machines, newsboys and others.

There may well be some changes made in this.

GIFT DECLINED — The State Parks Board had before it a bold offer—but with a half million dollar string attached.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wheatley of San Antonio offered the state their 4,778-acre ranch in Blanco County for a state park. But the condition was that the state spend $500,000 to make a sure enough park out of it.

Parks Board members divided. Harry Hornby, Uvalde publisher, said yes. He was joined by two members, but three opposed. So it was a 3-3 tie.

Ed Kilman, Houston editor who voted not to take it, hoped that the Legislature will see its way clear to provide the money in 1963, and that the offer by the Wheatleys will be renewed.

The Wheatley ranch lies along the Pedernales River. It abounds in wild game and scenic country for 10 miles along that stream.

Parks Board, fighting a hard fight with a short stick on money, just couldn't see how it could promise to spend $500,000.

It has a fund of $700,000 to be used next year on parks improvement. Meanwhile, however, Texas Tech is to draft a master plan for park development, showing where the start should be made in improving the long-neglected park system.

BOOKS — Bookmobile library demonstrations are being set up in Caldwell, Hays, Fayette and Coryell counties.

State Librarian Dorman H. Winfrey announced the extension of the rural book program, presently financed by federal, state and local units of government.

Artist of Month' pictures are now on display in Post

MILDRED OUTLAW
Post Art Guild through the Fine Arts Association presented the pictures of the month, Mrs. Johnnie Rogers as the artist of the month. Her pictures are exhibited at the City Shoe Co. Main, owned and operated by Leonard Booth. These pictures will remain in the shop for the month of July.

The picture of the month, chosen by the artist, will be shown, during the month, at the Southwestern Public Service Co. located at 217 W. Main.

Mrs. Rogers is a true westerner. She was born on a ranch near Lakewood, N. M., the youngest of several children. Her father and three of her brothers were cowhands. She used to rope and ride along with them. She says she was a poor frontier child with one hardship after another, but she loved it all.

She was married at 18 to John Rogers and came to Texas to make her home. They had three children, all grown now. Her husband recently passed away.

She began painting in earnest when Mrs. Kenmen, a relative of Mr. Rogers, who had been secretary to the Chicago Art School, gave her all her art supplies, paint brushes, palette and paints. She began sketching at an early age and still has one of her first drawings, a cowgirl in high heeled boots on a pony.

Mr. Rogers encouraged her to keep painting and admired her work. She is one of the few professional artists who paints and sells consistently.

Mrs. Rogers has been a member of the Art Guild since it was organized. Her philosophy is expressed in these words, "It makes me feel good that I have a part in the beauty around me."

Don't fail to see her pictures.

'Big day' is next Thursday

Next Thursday will be the "big day." That's the date set to receive bids on construction of the White River dam, the filter plant, and the water pipe lines to the four member towns of the district.

The session is set for 10 a. m. Thursday, July 12, at Crosbyton.

They should need an auditorium to hold all the people who will be there. They won't be spectators. They will be contractors and "subs" interested to see who offered to build what and for how much.

Bidding is going to be spirited. No doubt about that. An incomplete list of bidders for the various parts of the big project we saw last week was quite an impressive one. But we were assured there would be more.

They've been running what almost amounts to a "bus line" to the proposed dam site in Crosby County for the last two or three weeks and then showing prospective bidders the proposed pipe line routes.

Post, Spur, Rails and Crosbyton can be mighty proud of their water-seeking efforts. It wasn't easy. It was almost impossible really. It's taken six years from the start to next Thursday.

It would be hard to find anywhere the cooperation that has existed among the four member cities as we have had in the White River district. It would be harder to find a group of more dedicated men who have worked harder to find a common viewpoint without losing sight of their respective community's best interests than the members of the White River board of directors.

It would be interesting to spin the clock ahead 50 years and take a peek at the results of their work. And all of that tremendous effort has been given freely without a nickel of remuneration.

They've weathered a lot of storms together. There were so many times when none of it looked possible, or practical. But they stubbornly went ahead, steadfastly meeting each knotty problem and waiting patiently through one agonizing delay after another.

These directors are looking forward to next Thursday hopefully—hoping that the bids are in line with engineering estimates, which through five years of planning have indicated that the $4,000,000 available for financing through state loan would be enough.

Wide contractor interest in the project indicates bidding should be brisk. And that is good.

If it isn't good enough, then directors will figure out a way. We are convinced of that.

The White River dam is so close now, we would guess that it will be built on the sheer will power of those 12 men to see it through now that the four towns and 12 directors have traveled such a long, twisted road together.

That's why next Thursday is the "big day." It can be the biggest day in the history of the four member towns and in the lives of each of the 12 directors.

There will be one bigger one, of course, coming up. That will be the day the dam is built, the lake filled, and White River water starts pouring through miles and miles of pipe lines to supply the thirsty needs of four hardy West Texas towns that stuck together to see a stubborn water dream become reality.—JC

Mills' importance well understood

Louie Burkes as head of the Postex Mills entertained some 27 members of the Retail Merchants Association at a luncheon at the mill last Thursday and then opened a lot of eyes by conducting them on a complete tour of the mills' highly mechanized operations.

In a two-minute talk prior to the tour, Burkes told the merchants the mill wanted to cooperate with the community in every possible way and the event that day was a gesture of goodwill and an opportunity for the merchants to see first-hand the mills' complicated operations.

Other such goodwill events are planned by the mill in the near future for other such groups.

This is excellent public or community relations. It gives the townspeople an opportunity to understand the mill and some of its problems.

Certainly, merchants came away amazed at the significant progress made at Postex during the past year alone.

The community relations works both ways. The merchants are just as interested in promoting the best possible relationship with the mill and its many workers.

Today the relationship between the mills and the community is probably the best ever. Good cooperation back and forth and a better understanding of each other's operations and problems can make these relations even better.

Speaking for Main Street, we can say the economic importance of the mill to this community has never been better understood than it is today.—JC

Sidewalk Sale - - A turning point

The big Post Sidewalk Sale, which is coming up next week, promises much for this community's merchandising future.

Retail promotion requires a whole lot of cooperation among individual merchants to arrive at a project in which all will join wholeheartedly.

The Chamber's new retail committee has done a good, tough job in getting virtually everybody working together to make this first new promotion a success.

The reason it promises so much for the future is that such cooperation at the merchant level is vital to any area promotion. If this one clicks, as everyone is sure it will, then others will come—probably on a monthly basis. Each will be somewhat different.

But the heart of the promotion will be the same—good, close knit cooperation.

If Post merchants will stick together, together they can make this community's Main Street an even more important trading center. It takes all the merchants together to draw big crowds.

It requires some rewarding bargains to bring those crowds back. If Post can get the promotion habit, both the merchants and the shoppers will all do better.

That's why this Sidewalk Sale is so important. It's the first time everybody has pitched in together on something around here since the Golden Jubilee in 1957.—JC

Boy Scout training pays off

We were reminded again the other day how valuable Boy Scout training is to a youngster in trouble by a story on the front page of the Rotan Advance.

The news story told of a boy from Castlerock, Wash., one unfamiliar with the West Texas terrain, becoming lost in a remote canyon while on a hiking trip with two other boys. When found several hours later by a searching party, the 11-year-old boy was making preparations to spend the night in the canyon after realizing he was lost. He was getting ready to put his Boy Scout training to emergency use.

Boy Scouts the nation over are constantly being trained on what to do if they become lost in rugged country. Much of the training being undergone this summer at C. W. Post Scout Camp here is along that line.

Then, too, new emphasis has been put on survival training of Boy Scouts in this area of West Texas following a tragic incident a few years ago in which two Texas Tech students froze to death after becoming lost in the rugged canyon country near Silverton.

This survival training in the South Plains Council, which serves Boy Scouts and their leaders in some 20 counties, has included temporary establishment of "survival camps" in the area, one of which was near Gail about a year ago, and another one more recently near Crosbyton.

The Boy Scout motto of "Be Prepared" is never more worthwhile than when applied to such an emergency as becoming lost.—CD

'The Road Ahead' - - - a sobering message

The eyes of Garza County and the rest of the big state of Texas are on the road ahead.

Millions of Texans are pausing this month to take a long, reflective look at their highways—and at their highway department. "The Road Ahead" was the theme of Texas' version of the second annual National Week.

In Texas, supporters of good roads have joined hands under the banner of the Texas Good Roads Association to throw the spotlight on Highway Week. Their theme, "The Road Ahead," places more emphasis on tomorrow than today.

Distilled to its essence, the "road ahead" idea expresses concern about the future of Texas in highway transportation. While Texas has a high-quality highway system today, will it have one 20—or even 10—years from now?

Taking into account the rise in Texas population (there are now more than 3½ million Texans); the even more startling rise in motor vehicles (Texas now has in excess of five million, is adding them at the rate of a million every three years); and the miles traveled by these vehicles (which stands at a staggering 43 billion miles annually now, and will be at least 44 billion miles by 1970), the problem seems clear: will our fast-generating traffic overwhelm our highways?

These figures may add up to the most terrific traffic jam in history unless Texas is able to keep pace by continually modernizing and improving its highway system to meet changing traffic needs.

If that traffic jam occurs, it will be at an enormous economic cost—and at the cost of many human lives on the highways.

That is the sobering message of the "road ahead," as Texans view National Highway Week not as a mere observance, but as a window to tomorrow.—CD

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

TODAY IS THE tomorrow last night's radio-TV programs urged you to see eight different makes of cars, pick up 14 assorted products, and drop in on 11 friendly dealers.

Since I'm more of less behind schedule on account of not getting back to my cluttered desk until Monday morning because of a week's session in the back shop to fill in for a vacationing operator-printer, I'm calling on a guest columnist this week who won't know anything about being called on until he receives a marked copy of this week's Dispatch.

The guest columnist is LEON HALE, who writes some highly readable stuff for the Houston Post's editorial page, but I'm a little miffed at his column of June 15, entitled "Cereal Man Dynamited for Rain on Cap Rock Near Post."

Hale's column of the above date follows: "On the wall behind my typewriter is a big Texas road map, and for several years now I have been in the habit of sitting here a while every day and just looking at it.

"This is chiefly because it is the only thing to look at. "In offices elsewhere, while other guys sit and stare out windows or study secretaries as they walk about from desk to desk, I sit here and look at my road map.

"Map staring is not especially productive, but now and then you run into an old acquaintance.

"Just now for example I was getting in my daily round of map staring and by chance I stared a little while at the city of Post, way up in Garza County.

"I remember Post for several reasons.

"One is that it lies just below the Texas Cap Rock on U. S. 84, and coming south out of the Panhandle, at the rim of the Cap Rock you can cut your ignition—as I used to do when gasoline money was short—and coast all the way into Post. Several miles, I expect, though I never measured it.

"In my hitchhiking days, Post had the reputation of being the toughest town in Texas to catch a ride out of. Guys thumbing their way toward Fort Worth from Amarillo or Lubbock refused to accept a ride unless it carried them past Post.

"Plus the fact that motorists didn't seem quick to pick up thumbers in Post, the weather there could be the hottest in summer and the coldest in winter it has ever been my experience to endure.

"I didn't know it in those days, but Post has a pretty interesting background. It was established by C. W. Post, the famous cereal manufacturer, Post Toasties and Battle Creek Mich., you know?

"Post owned ranch land in Garza and Lynn Counties, and he did a lot of colonization in that region, slicing land up in small acreages, building houses on each and selling them to farm families on long term low interest loans.

"But the most interesting thing Post ever did there on the edge of the Cap Rock was try to make it rain by shooting off dynamite.

"I wish I had known about this back when I used to stand on the highway at Post, thumbing and shivering and saying ugly things about the town. We all had a personal grudge against Post in those days and didn't figure anything worth remembering ever happened there.

"Anyway C. W. Post had the idea he could make it rain by shooting off dynamite charges up on the rim of the Cap Rock.

"Above town he had firing stations established at strategic points. These dynamite charges would be set off at exact time intervals, several minutes apart.

"Whether this ever brought rain I don't know, but Post must have been convinced that it did or was likely to, because the story is that he spent many thousands of dollars shooting off this dynamite over a period of several years, back before 1920.

"At any rate I expect it made an interesting thing to watch, those explosions popping off up there on the horizon. And no doubt the townsfolk standing around the courthouse making book, or bad jokes, about whether it would rain or not.

"As applied to the habit of map staring what all this shows, I think, is that no matter how remote a little dot on the map you may have chance to spot, if you dig around

Is Sin Inherited?

If sin is inherited, then infant baptism would still be useless. An infant cannot possibly fulfill the prerequisites of baptism, any more than he can do college work at the ripe age of eight weeks old. But this isn't the question; rather is sin inherited?

We are the offspring of God, and He is the Father of our spirits. Acts 17:29; Heb. 12:9. Are you to admit and charge God for sin?

Adam wasn't born with sin. He committed sin after he was born. This is also true with infants.

Jesus says that we must become as little children. Matt. 18:3. If children INHERIT sin, then we are to become depraved as they are in order to enter the Kingdom of Heaven.

We are especially told that we do not "bear the iniquity of the father." Ezk. 18:20. Do infants do that? "Sin is the transgression of the Law." I John 3:4. Can infants voluntarily transgress the law and if so how?

Christ came because of and for the sins of the world. Do you believe salvation is automatic and without having to do anything? Certainly not, and neither is sin inherited. It is the work of the flesh. Gal. 5:19-23.

Mr. and Mrs. "Doc" Reeves of Richmond, Calif., are here visiting old friends in the Grassland community. The Reeves family lived here for many years. They operated a garage for some time

Cotton Institute
elects trustees

LUBBOCK — Election of Roy
Forkner of Lubbock and Leroy
Durham of Plainview as trustees for the Cotton Producers Institute in the High Plains was announced today.

Both men were elected in a mail ballot by growers participating in the voluntary research and promotion plan of the Institute. The election method was developed by a 33-man Plainswide Steering Committee meeting early in June.

The Plains trustees will meet soon with others elected by western growers to consider specific research and promotion projects for cotton. The projects will be in operation before ginning starts on the current crop.

The urgency of getting these projects under way—and of broadening the support of the Institute this season—has been pointed up sharply by recent competitive developments, the Plains trustees explained.

In 1961, cotton experienced one of the biggest competitive losses in its history. This was particularly true against rayon, traditionally its biggest competitor, which took nearly 200,000 bales of consumption away from cotton.

Evidence is becoming stronger, too, that foreign producers, who already have the advantage of low labor costs, may be catching up with U. S. growers in the use of modern technology.

TAKES RIGHT KIND
Water is the cheapest item in milk production, but is all too often a limiting factor because dairy cows don't get enough of the right kind, says Arch Meekins, extension dairy specialist. He adds that the average dairy cow in production will drink from 12 to 15 gallons daily but that some very high producing cows will consume up to 35 gallons or more. Don't make the cows walk too far for their water or they may not get it, he says.

Cotton was grown in the U. S.
as early as 1607.

New officers of the Texas 4-H
Council are Richard McDonald,
Cameron County, chairman; Ann Williams, Brazoria County, and Richard Chitwood, Parmer County, vice chairmen, and Judy Miller, Grayson County, secretary and treasurer. They were elected during the Council's annual meeting in Houston.

School integration here is ordered by trustees

After voters approve move by 242 to 175

Trustees of the Post Independent School District unanimously adopted an order abolishing the dual public school system here Tuesday following their official cancellation of Monday's special election which voters by a 71-vote margin voted to integrate the school system.

It was a relatively light turnout of voters Monday. Only 46 of an estimated 1,376 eligible district voters went to the polls in the junior high school library to vote in integration here, 2 to 175.

Tip-off to the light vote came only seven cast absentee ballots last week. Postex Mills employees mostly were off on their annual mill vacations, but few, if any, bothered to vote before their departure.

The order abolishing the dual public school system was contained in a resolution which read: "Resolved that in accordance with the results of an election held on the 2nd day of July, 1962, in the school district favoring the abolition of the dual public school system in said school district, the board of trustees does hereby integrate the Post Independent School District, subject to a detailed plan of integration to be worked out at a later date and in all deliberate speed so that integration of said school system may be effected at the beginning of the September term of 1962." Actually, little planning appears to be needed.

Trustees, in advance of the integration election, announced that if approved all 12 grades here will be integrated and the Lincoln Elementary School closed with the start of the fall term.

Savings by integration would amount to some $25,000 or more the first year and $35,000 each year thereafter.

The integration vote means that the trustees are pledged by their pre-election announcement to holding the tax rate at its present level for the coming year.

The budget is yet to be officially approved, but this may come Monday night at the regular July meeting of the trustees. Supt. R. T. Smith this week is attending the national school administrators' meeting in Denver, Colo.

Bill Armstrong of Lubbock, the trustees' attorney for the integration election, met with the board Tuesday night and went over all legal questions with them prior to the adoption of the order abolishing the dual public school system.

It was a short session. No other school business was transacted. All trustees were present except Russell Wilks Jr.

In the integration election campaign there was little apparent organized support or opposition to the question of integrating, which was presented to the voters as a vital economy move.

Most people assumed the integration question would carry. This apparently accounted for the light voting turnout Monday.

'62 Junior Rodeo is to be held Aug. 1-4

Post's 1962 Junior Rodeo is scheduled for the post Stampede arena Aug. 1, 2, 3 and 4 with a new producer and four events scheduled for both girl and boy contestants in the three age groups.

Decision to hold the event again this year was made Monday night in a three-hour session of Junior Rodeo directors in the district courtroom with about 30 in attendance.

The new producer is Jack Aull of Lubbock. Aull attended the Monday night meeting and contract arrangements for the stock were worked out.

Approval was received Tuesday by Lester Nichols, senior association president, from the American Junior Rodeo Association for the rodeo here as an AJRA event, which will mean points scored in rodeo events will count in the AJRA seasonal record for various contestants.

Junior Rodeo directors will meet again tonight at 8 p. m. in the courtroom to name working committees and discuss other necessary plans for the big four-night show.

A new event—break-away calf roping—will be offered in each of the three girls' age groups and in the youngest boys' age group, 12 years and under.

Break-away roping is a new event for the junior rodeo here, but is fast gaining popularity. It will be first roping event for girls in a junior rodeo here.

In this event, contestants rope their calves with the rope tied by string to the saddlehorn of the contestant's saddle. When the rope is pulled tight by the calf the string breaks the rope from the saddlehorn.

This provides an interesting roping event without the contestant dismounting and tying the calf. Tie down calf roping, however, is scheduled for the two older boys' age groups — 13 to 15, and 16 through 19.

A saddle will be given to the best all-around cowgirl and another saddle to the best all-around cowboy.

Belt buckles will be awarded to average winners in each event. The break-away calf roping events will replace the steer riding in the younger boys' events.

Also added for the two younger age groups will be barrel racing. The program has been designed to provide four competitive events in each age division for both boys and girls so that any cowboy or cowgirl, no matter what age, can compete.

The Appaloosa Horse Show, held annually in conjunction with the junior rodeo, is scheduled again for Saturday, Aug. 4, with Oscar Gray receiving the entries.

"From your clock, of course" was the reply.

City rejects petition for Sunday beer sale

Presented by tavern operators

Post city councilmen voted unanimously Monday night to turn down a petition from local tavern owners asking that the city ordinance against the sale of beer on Sunday afternoons be repealed.

The action came at the city council's regular July meeting after the petition was presented by tavern operators George Childers and Bailey Crump.

Also Monday night, the council: (1) Agreed to raise the salary of city patrolman Dearl F. Croft from $300 to $325 a month effective July 15.

(2) Decided to recommend to City Judge Percy Printz that the minimum on city police court fines be raised.

(3) Agreed to raise the city judge's salary from $50 to $100 a month.

(4) Accepted the application of A. Arthur Davis of Lubbock to audit the city's books.

(5) Decided to retain Carleton P. Webb as legal advisor to the city after reading a letter in which Webb requested that he be relieved of the duties.

(6) Discussed the improvement of the street lighting system in the vicinity of Garza Memorial Hospital.

Powell Shyles administered the oath of office to new councilman J. B. Potts, who had been appointed to complete the unexpired term of the late Roy J. Baker.

George Childers, the spokesman on the tavern petition presentation, read the names of tavern owners who had signed the instrument.

The petition sought the setting aside of the city ordinance prohibiting the sale or serving of beer inside the city limits on Sundays and asked that the state law of on-premise sales and service from 1 p. m. to 7 p. m. Sundays be observed.

Childers pointed out that tavern operators and package store dealers themselves had suggested passage of the present city ordinance prohibiting the sale of beer on Sundays when Precinct 3 was voted "wet" in April of 1960.

He said the ordinance was suggested by the dealers so that "things could run right" until the situation was in hand following the "wet" vote more than two years ago.

Childers said he and the other tavern operators are convinced that things are "well enough situated" at this time to warrant setting aside of the ordinance.

He argued that the summer months are when the taverns "make their money" and asked the council for immediate action on the petition. He also pointed out that Saturdays and Sunday afternoons are the most profitable times for sale and serving of beer in counties where taverns are allowed to operate both days.

Childers called attention to the off-premises sale of beer by taverns outside the city limits on Sunday. He said one tavern sells "from $750 to $1,500 worth of beer "to go" every Sunday afternoon.

"I'm in competition with them and I want part of that money," said Childers, who identified his own tavern as the Western Wrangler.

Childers and Crump both mentioned the sale of bootleg beer here on Sundays, and Childers commented that "some people close their eyes to that while opposing the sale and serving of beer in taverns, as provided by state law."

While at least three of the councilmen indicated to the two tavern operators present their feelings on the question, councilman Dr. James R. Matthews was the only one who voiced any opposition while the case for the petition was being argued by Childers.

Dr. Matthews brought up the question of Sunday afternoon and evening disturbances at the taverns. Childers told him that as far as his own tavern was concerned there wouldn't be any disturbances.

Childers said that when a customer (See CITY COUNCIL, Page 8)

The Bethel Baptist Church building was given to the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church.

All former pastors have been invited back to participate in the activities.

White River bids are due Thursday

Bidding is expected to be sharp next Thursday, July 12, when construction bids are received for the White River dam, filter plant, pipelines, pumping stations, etc. at Crosbyton.

Dozens of bids are expected at the 10 a. m. deadline in Crosbyton's Pioneer Memorial Building auditorium.

Lots of interest is reported by contractors. The White River district's engineers, Freese, Nichols and Endress of Fort Worth, have two engineers in the area showing the damsite to prospective bidders and A. F. O'Brien, general manager of the White River district, also has been busy showing the damsite and pipeline right of ways.

Six different bids will be accepted. The first bid will be for the large earthen dam itself, the second for the water treatment plant at the damsite, the third for all pipelines to the member cities, the fourth for all pump stations and tank foundations along these miles of pipelines, the fifth for the ground storage tanks to be located at the edge of the member cities (one being here at Post), and the sixth a manufacturers' bid for all pumping equipment.

Contracts are not expected to be let next Thursday, however. Some time will be required to study the bids by Freese, Nichols and Endress for their recommendations.

Construction work is expected to begin within a few days after the contract letting.

A week's delay has developed in the condemnation hearing at Crosbyton for some 2,000 acres on Mrs. Lee Walker's ranch, which includes the actual damsite.

The hearing by a condemnation commission appointed by the Crosby County judge was scheduled for last Monday, but was postponed a week at the request of Mrs. Walker's attorney.

The hearing has been rescheduled for Monday, July 9.

The commission will fix the price for the land purchase by the water district which will then put up the necessary deposit to take possession of it.

The White River dam project is being financed through a $4,000,000 loan from the state. White River directors will know next Thursday if this amount will cover the project's construction costs or whether additional money will be needed.

Garza wildcat is new discovery

Forest Oil Corporation of Midland has completed its central Garza County wildcat, the No. 1 Clifford Williams as a flowing Giorletta discovery.

Potential on 24-hour test was 116 barrels of 36.2 gravity oil through a 1/2-inch choke and perforations, 3,482-90 feet, with no report of treatment.

Casing pressures were 325 pounds per square inch and gas-oil ratio gauged 160-1.

It is located two miles northeast of Post, 990 feet from north and west lines of Section 1, Block 5, K. Aycock survey, 1 1/2 miles north-east of Garza (San Andres, Giorletta field).

The White River dam project is being financed through a $4,000,000 loan from the state. White River directors will know next Thursday if this amount will cover the project's construction costs or whether additional money will be needed.

The hearing has been rescheduled for Monday, July 9.

The commission will fix the price for the land purchase by the water district which will then put up the necessary deposit to take possession of it.

Scheduled for Friday, Saturday, July 13-14

Post's first Sidewalk Sale, with between 25 and 30 local merchants participating, is scheduled for next Friday and Saturday, July 13-14.

Sale merchandise will be displayed and sold right out on the sidewalk in front of the participating stores. Some middle of the street parking will be reserved for the display of new cars and farm tractors and equipment by auto and farm machinery dealers.

Adding a carnival atmosphere will be music and old-time dress.

The Sidewalk Sale is the first of planned monthly Howdy Days and is sponsored by the Retail Committee of the Post Chamber of Commerce.

Participating merchants will take a full four-page Sidewalk Sale section in next week's Dispatch and over 2,100 four-page circulars on the sale will be distributed throughout the Post trade area.

The idea of the sidewalk sale is to sell at rock bottom prices all kinds of merchandise the stores want to clear.

Tempting bargains will be offered from one end of Main street to the other.

Plans are being made to handle the biggest crowd of shoppers in modern community history.

"If bargains draw the crowds, this sale ought to really jam Main street," one merchant declared.

Eight Legs

An eight-legged calf was born Monday afternoon to a cow on the L. P. Kennedy Jr. ranch south of Justiceburg.

Mr. Kennedy, who "took" the calf from the six-year-old Hereford cow, said it was alive while being born, but died soon afterward.

The calf, normal in every other respect, weighed about 80 pounds. It was born with four front legs and four back legs. All the legs were of normal length, but some were twisted. The rear underpart of the calf's body also showed evidence of two hips.

Mr. Kennedy, who lives at 110 South Ave. R in Post, said it was the first multiple-leg birth he had seen in long years of ranching.

The rancher said yesterday he would like to find some way to preserve the calf in case some museum is interested in it. A large number of people here saw the calf when Mr. Kennedy stopped in town with it Monday afternoon and later that day at his home here.
