Test soils now for fall crops

COLLEGE STATION — During the months of May and June, Texas farmers submitted 1,149 soil samples to the Agricultural Extension Service Soil Testing Laboratories, reports William F. Bennett, extension soil chemist. The largest number of samples was submitted to the laboratory at College Station, the second highest to the High Plains laboratory, and the least to the Baylor County lab.

Bennett points out that the Extension Service maintains these laboratories for Texas farmers to use in determining their fertilizer and limestone needs. Even though soil tests have some limitations in determining fertilizer needs, Bennett says the $2 spent on a soil test is the most important money spent in a fertilizer program.

The chemist closes by saying that farmers who are planning fall crops should submit their soil samples now. This will insure receiving the analysis in time to apply the needed fertilizer.

RELATIVES VISIT

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Evans this week are her brother, Ed Spence and his daughter, Mrs. Don Shellgrin of Los Angeles, Calif., a niece, Mrs. Tom Samson of Phoenix, Ariz. Also two granddaughters, Lisa Foster of Houston and Terri Tyeer of Wolforth. Mrs. W. C. McCelvey and Mrs. Johnnie Hall, sisters of Mrs. Boone were here for a visit Monday from Lubbock.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

Santa Fe carloadings for week ending Aug. 12 were 20,448 compared with 20,681 for the same week a year ago. Cars received from connections totaled 10,810 compared with 10,296 for the same week a year ago. Total cars moved were 31,258 compared with 30,977 for the same week a year ago. Santa Fe handled a total of 31,277 cars in the preceding week this year.

HOME FROM SCHOOL

Mrs. Gordon Hamilton has returned from Baton Rouge, La., where she attended Louisiana State University this summer. She will teach again this year in Tahoka High School. U. S. satellite communications company being urged by GT&E

WASHINGTON, D. C.—To prevent Russia from taking the lead in space communications, General Telephone & Electronics Corporation has strongly urged the federal government to authorize without delay the formation of a U. S. satellite communications company which would be the nucleus of a world-wide communications system utilizing satellites in outer space as relay stations.

In testimony before the Monopoly Sub-committee of the Senate Select Committee on Small Business, GT&E spokesmen also strongly urged the adoption of a high-altitude satellite system providing global coverage with satellites 22,000 miles above the earth, in contrast to various low or medium altitude systems proposed by other companies, "which do not meet the objectives set forth by President Kennedy."

Pointing out that the Russians are concentrating attention on a high-altitude system, Dr. Herbert Trotter Jr., president of General Telephone & Electronics Laboratories Incorporated, a GT&E subsidiary, and Theodore F. Brophy, a vice president of General Telephone & Electronics Corporation, warned that adoption of a low or medium altitude system by the U. S. "could discredit us before the world as a leader in space communications."

"If the United States went ahead with a low-altitude system it would be possible for Russia to hold back until we were deeply committed to this system and had launched a majority of the system's satellites. Then with three satellites the Russians could establish a truly world-wide system before our limited system was even in operation," the GT&E officials declared. "We must win the race to establish a common carrier communications satellite system."

Ownership of the satellite company should be open to all domestic and international U. S. communications common carriers. Mr. Brophy recommended, and should not be restricted to international carriers as advocated by the Federal Communications Commission.

Under the GT&E proposal, all communications common carriers would have access to the satellite system whether or not they elected to participate in ownership of the satellite company. "We believe it will be the least costly way to the taxpayer and, more important, will best serve to demonstrate to the rest of the world that our system of a capitalistic, democratic republic can lead the world in peaceful scientific development," Brophy commented.

Post recruit finishes course at Fort Ord

FORT ORD, Calif.—Recruit Samuel R. Eitter Jr., 23, whose parents, and wife, Donna, live in Post, Tex., completed the eight-week basic Army administration course at Fort Ord, Calif., Aug. 4.

He received training in typing, record keeping and Army clerical procedures.

Eitter, who completed basic training at the fort, was employed as an assistant manager with the T. G. & Y. Stores in Amarillo before entering the Army last March.

He was graduated from Brownwood High School in 1956 and attended Texas Technological College.

VISIT SISTER

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Perdue and daughter visited his sister, Mrs. Thelma Hogan in Wolforth, Sunday.

Astronauts' capsule replica will be on display at 1961 State Fair

DALLAS—A replica of the capsule in which America's first astronauts, Commander Alan B. Shepard and Capt. Virgil Grissom, were launched into space this year, will be exhibited along with other space age displays at the 1961 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 7-22, Dallas.

The full-size model of the capsule used in "Project Mercury" is being sent to the State Fair by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The capsule will be occupied by a dummy astronaut in flight position attired in an actual space suit like those worn by Shepard and Grissom. The capsule replica also has a simulated instrument panel and control board of the type used by the astronauts.

The space capsule will be on exhibit in the Varied Industries Building at the State Fair. Other NASA exhibits will illustrate the many aspects of Project Mercury which include wind tunnel tests, capsule drop tests, capsule fabrication, astronaut selection and training, test firings, the chimpanzee "Ham" space flight and the flight of Astronaut Shepard in the Freedom 7 rocket.

Another space age exhibit by the Convair division of General Dynamics will be devoted to the Atlas missile program which is designed to put an astronaut into orbit around the earth.

The Federal Aviation Authority will have a number of exhibits demonstrating how aircraft traffic is regulated. They will include an actual weather reporting station, sector control equipment used to direct traffic in the air corridors, a working model of a modern airport, operating radar for tracking aircraft and a simulated flight control tower where fairgoers can participate in controlling a simulated approach and landing by a model airplane.

Also on exhibit at the State Fair will be several actual Army missiles, including a Lacrosse, a giant Redstone and a Little John rocket.

NEW JAMAICA LENGTH PANTY GIRDLE by Silf Skin.

SCULPTURES YOUR THIGHS TO SMOOTH PERFECTION! An entirely new concept in thigh control, the flattering new length that cinches inches to create a marvelously sleek, unbroken line from waist to just a whisper above the knee. And you're longer on comfort throughout your active day! Because SILF SKIN puts maximum emphasis on ease: a pre-shaped back panel controls naturally, a satin front panel firms gently. Hip section eliminates seams.

Fibers: Rayon, Acetate, Nylon, Cotton, Rubber.

The Post Dispatch

Introduces A New Member in its Family of Advertisers

American Tobacco Company And Its Well Known Product

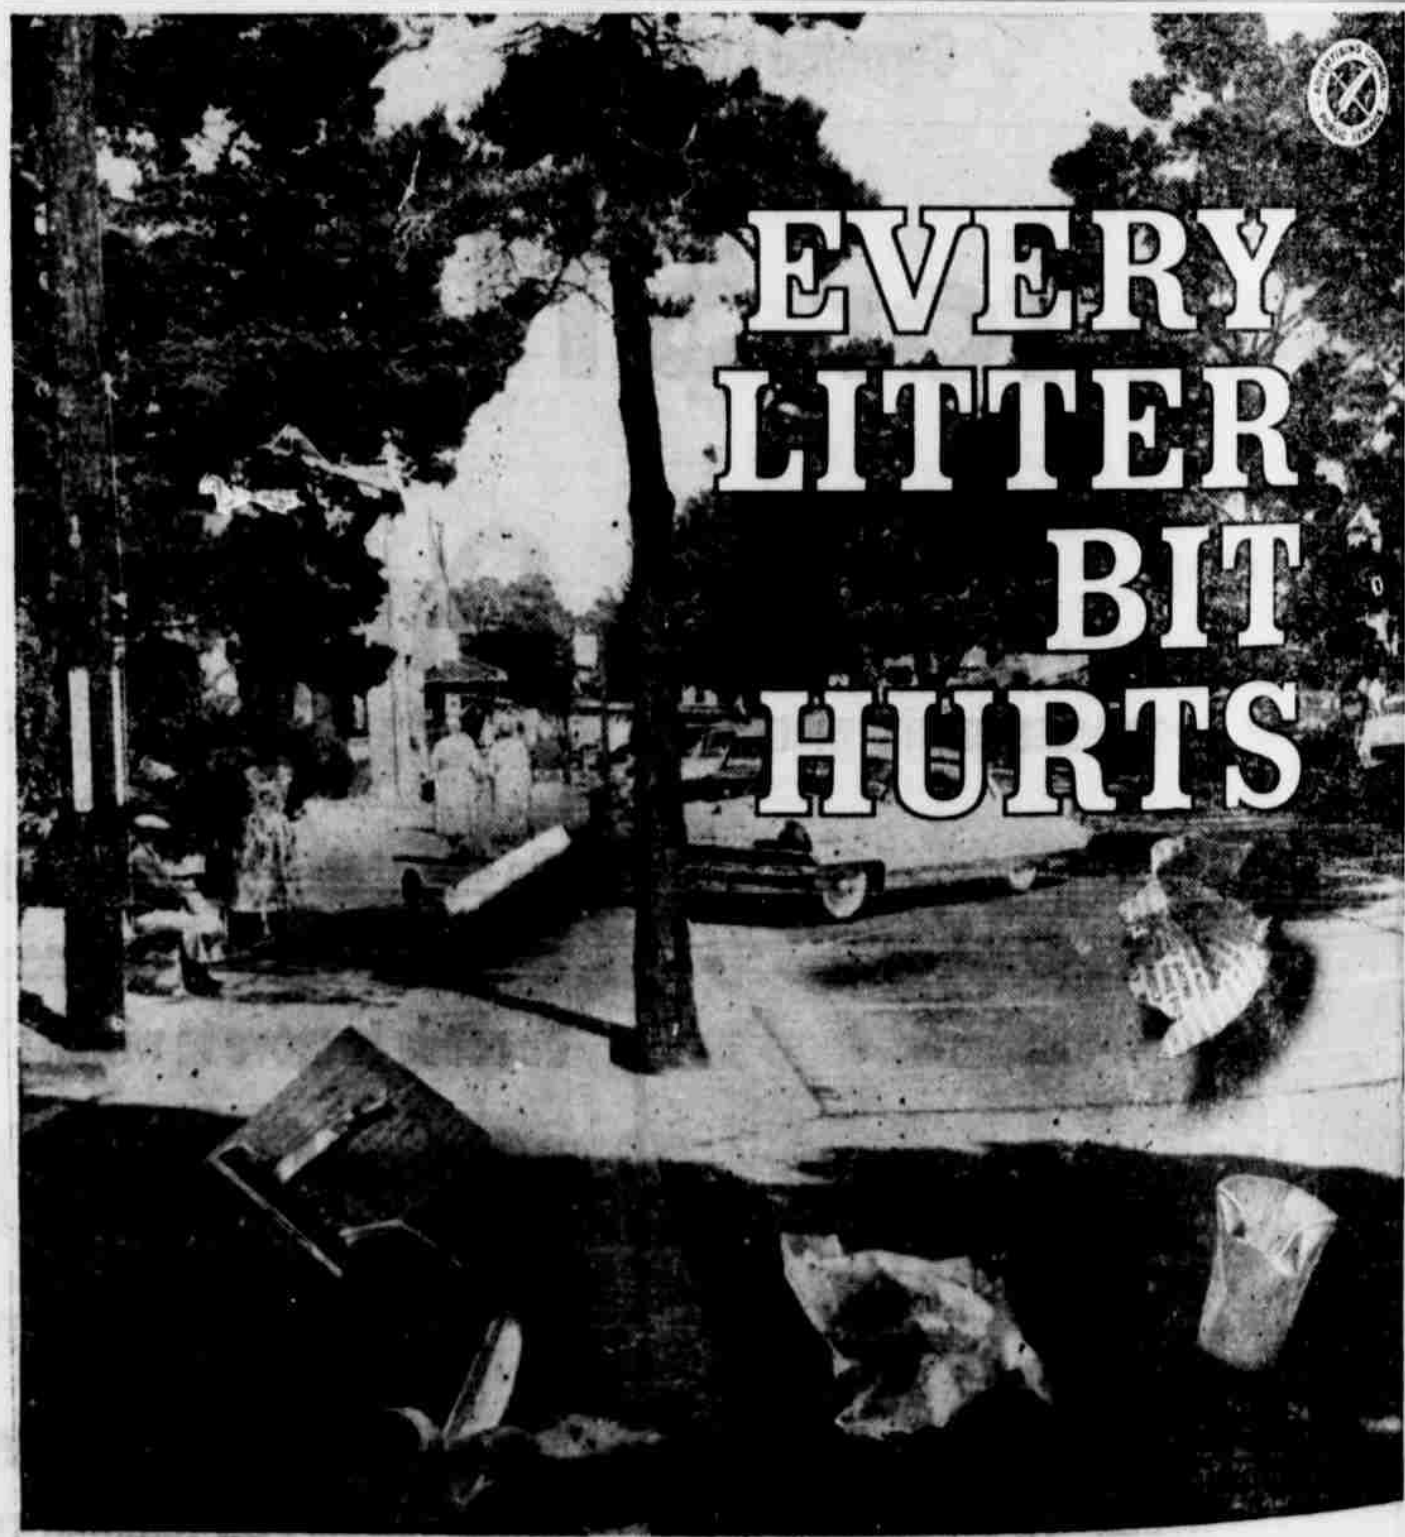

The Post Dispatch is pleased to introduce a new advertiser that has joined our growing family of national advertisers. We are proud to have been accepted by AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY as one of the Texas weekly newspapers to carry the advertising of their LUCKY STRIKE cigars.

Readership surveys in various parts of the country have shown that the smaller community newspaper — such as The Dispatch—receives 12 times or more the concentrated readership of its subscribers than do the "big city" newspapers. Consequently national advertisers today are taking a new look at weekly newspaper advertising.

They are making what they believe to be a very wise decision. In taking the heavy readership concentration of The Dispatch into account, the "line rate" is less expensive than the bigger dailies.

"Advertising Doesn't Cost — It Pays!"

EVERY LITTER BIT HURTS

YOU CAN HELP with every litter bit you hold for that next trash container down the street. YOU CAN HELP with every litter bit you deposit in the litter-bag you carry in your car. REMEMBER, mountains of trash from little eyesores grow. But, with EVERY LITTER BIT you properly dispose of, YOU

CAN HELP prevent the pile-up of trash that costs your city and state millions a year to pick up! Think of STREETS, HIGHWAYS, PARKS AND BYWAYS as your front lawn. You'll never let a litter bit go. and grow. YOU CAN HELP...

Salesmen on Duty 1 to 9
p. m. Sunday

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN—Texas has crossed the great divide of controversy and entered the field of general sales taxation.

To the central collection point for the operation of the state's business, this means some $320,000,000 in the next two-year period.

To the individual taxpayer, the cost is unknown, but educated guesses already are being made. James McGrew, research director for the Texas Research League, has estimated it will cost the average Texas family $25 to $30 a year, "maybe less if they don't buy any furniture or home appliances."

With some exceptions, the general sales tax will be two per cent on purchases of 25 cents or more.

Passage of the tax bill and the attending publicity caused many a man—and woman—on the street to suddenly realize that there already was a state sales tax on such things as cosmetics and appliances.

Actually, the sales tax bill was only part of the tax package handed down by the lawmakers. In addition to the $320,000,000 estimated to come from this source, they passed a corporate franchise tax worth $20,500,000. They increased drivers' license fees by $7,250,000. They made a bookkeeping transfer of motor fuel tax funds totaling $4,000,000. They also taxed dedicated gas reserves $3,330,000. And they passed a bill designed to bring in some $3,000,000 from abandoned property. In addition, the Legislature previously had passed a tax on private clubs, calculated to raise some $4,000,000.

Roughly, it is figured that all these things will cover the state's needs for the next two-year period, and provide for a school teachers' pay raise of $810 per year.

GOV. PRICE Daniel won a partial victory in his long fight to tighten the state's escheat law. It's the law under which abandoned cash and property held by private businesses and industry is supposed to revert to the state.

After several attempts the Legislature passed a bill requiring institutions holding such property to report it to the state. Banks, however, were exempt from the provisions of the bill, much to the dismay of Governor Daniel.

"With everyone else covered," he said, "the banks cannot hold out much longer. The enforcement procedures should include banks and I shall continue to fight for this, both as a principle and as a means for the state to obtain property it already owns under the present escheat law."

RECENT BREAKS at the Gateville School for Boys, and the death of an attendant beaten with a baseball bat, have focused attention on that institution which is without walls or barricades of any kind.

A delegation of attendants came to Austin, talked with Governor Daniel and complained that measures which they are allowed to take are too indefinite. They said no attendant is allowed to "discipline" inmates of the school. Sometimes the boys will mind and sometimes they will not.

Dr. James A. (Jack) Turman, Executive Director of the Texas Youth Council, told the men that changes were being made which would help. A maximum security unit is being built, a trade school is under contract, and a double maximum security fence is in the works for the worst offenders.

The Texas Legislative Council has been requested by the Legislature to look into a host of things which may require new laws. One request asks a study of the adequacy of the present cattle brand inspection laws. It was pointed out that Texas, unlike many other western states, has no statewide brand system, relying on county by county registration which

Silverton Rodeo makes comeback

SILVERTON — Silverton's first rodeo since 1957, when the rodeo stands were demolished in the disastrous tornado of that year, will be held here beginning tonight and continuing through Saturday night.

Rodeo events will include tie-down roping, heading and heeling, bareback and saddle bronc riding, ranch horse cutting contest and a women's barrel race.

The rodeo is being sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

BUSINESS ACTIVITY in Texas dropped three per cent in June, from an all-time high in May, reports the UT Bureau of Business Research. But it still was seven per cent above the level of one year ago.

June activity also was the second highest for any month since the bureau began computing in 1935.

Prospects are fine for good business conditions to extend well into 1962. This partially as a result of the expanded arms program, resulting from the Berlin situation.

However, the agency said there is a possibility of inflation plaguing the economy again.

COL. MORRIS Schwartz, State Director of Selective Service, has advised college students to stay with their studies and not be disturbed by increased draft calls.

He predicted no change in the present policy of not drafting anyone under the age of 22, "at least in the foreseeable future," and said college students will be considered for scholastic deferment and likewise will be deferred if they are full-time students making passing grades.

He reported Texas draft boards currently have more than 8,000 college students deferred on the basis of education.

TEN TEXAS newspapers were honored for public service by the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association at a meeting in Austin.

Awards went to the Marshall News-Messenger, the Bovina Blade, the Midland Reporter-Telegram, the Colorado County Citizen at Columbus, the Clay County Leader at Henrietta, the Weatherford Daily Herald, the Fredericksburg Standard, the Clifton Record, the Daytown News and the Raymondville Chronicle.

THOUGHTLESS LITTERBUGS

"You can't take it with you" is the thoughtless attitude of the litterbug, who leaves a trail of trash on the highways which Texas Highway Department maintenance crews clean up by the truckload as shown here. The Department asks that you do "take it with you when traveling. Dispose of your travel litter in proper containers. Please keep Texas highways clean for the enjoyment of others.

Rural toll rises on Garza roads

The Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Garza County during the month of July, according to Sgt. E. L. Stroud, Highway Patrol supervisor for this area.

These wrecks accounted for one person injured and property damage of $2,235.

The rural traffic accident summary for Garza County from January through July of 1961 shows a total of 37 accidents. As a result of these accidents, three persons were killed and 19 injured and estimated property damage was $39,535.

During the first seven months of 1960, there were 15 rural accidents in the county, resulting in two persons killed, 10 injured and estimated property damage of $12,495.

Farm beef production is seen as alternate source of income

COLLEGE STATION—Crop restrictions are forcing some farmers to consider other means of making money from the farm. One possibility is the raising of beef calves, says U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman. They offer a way to increase the value of farm produced roughage and grain.

How would such a system operate? Here is one possibility. Calves which are either bought or raised by you would weigh about 400 pounds this fall, and they would be weaned and ready for grazing. They could be grazed on permanent pasture, cotton fields after harvest, sorghum field stubble or any other crop residue. These sources of roughage are considered good feed if they are supplemented with cottonseed meal or cake, says Thompson.

If none of these feeds are available, then silage or hay crops need to be included in the farming system. Even if crop residues are available, you will need a supply of silage or hay if you plan to full feed the calves. The idea is to provide all the grazing possible from crops like oats, wheat or winter legumes during the fall and winter.

As long as there is sufficient green grazing there is no need for any additional feed. But on days when the cattle can't graze, they should be fed a roughage and about 1/2 pound of a 41 percent protein supplement. It is important to keep the calves gaining at least one pound daily during the grazing period.

After spring grazing, the calves may either be put on summer pasture or lot. This decision depends largely on the weather—if it has been wet, summer grazing works well. On the other hand, if it has been dry, drylot feeding would be better. If the cattle are summer grazed, then put them in the drylot when the grass plays out. The gain put on from full feeding in the drylot will be more expensive than the grazing gain, but when you sell the cattle out of the drylot you get the same price for the grass gain as you do for the feedlot gain.

The main thing is keep the feeding simple, says Thompson. A protein supplement, a grain and a roughage, properly fed, will do a good fattening job. Ask your county agent for a copy of L-507, "A System of Farm Steer Production."

I Give You Texas . .

By BOYCE HOUSE

One of the few spots which proved somewhat disappointing in New York City on my first (and only) visit was Washington Square. It is a bare looking place, with lots of concrete and little of nature. The concrete and little of nature, the Square, "Rose of Washington Square," was echoing in my memory, but I saw only one woman mope, but I saw only one woman who would be considered really pretty in Texas.

Nearby was Greenwich Village. (Maybe Washington Square is part of the Village.) One place with a rather quaint name, "Cozy Corner Coffee Shop," had a sign, "Ice cream sundae." Reminded me of the man who said, "Bring me pie à la mode—and put some ice cream on it."

A bit of history which I had never heard before is in Fallows' "Life of McKinley."

Telling of the martyred presidents, the writer says that when the orchestra learned that Lincoln was going to attend the performance, an Italian named Taltavullo suggested to the director that the orchestra flag be used to decorate the box, and this was done. It was on this flag that—after the fatal shot—the assassin's foot caught as he leaped from the box, causing him to fall heavily to the stage and injure his leg. But for the injury, Booth might have escaped.

Afterward the flag was for a long time in the possession of the orchestra director, William Withers Jr., who then gave it to the owner, Taltavullo, who resided in Memphis, Tenn.

Tombstone is one of the best-known towns in the world. At least a dozen books have been written about the Arizona mining town—and no telling how many movies have been made about it.

The place was laid out in 1879 and two years later, it had a population of 7,000—although some say the number was double that. The town enjoyed (if that is the appropriate word) five years of wild life and another five years of real activity during which most of the $80,000,000 worth of minerals were produced. The inhabitants now total less than 1,000.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

There has been much said about taking the fat out of American defense.

But there is probably no connection between these high policy statements and the fact that at the army commissary store at Fort Benning, Georgia, the demand for a well-known brand of 900 calorie powder meal diet food is so high that it is stacked on the floor with the cases cut open as it is impossible to keep the item stocked on the regular shelves.

But this is just one of the items stocked in one of the largest food chain operations in the country run by the armed forces. There are now 259 such stores in the continental U. S. doing an estimated $400,000,000 per year.

Because they pay no taxes, rent, utilities, and because a great part of the manpower costs comes out of defense stores, these stores sell from 20 to 25% less than independent stores in the area. The customers are active or retired members of the armed forces, plus their dependents.

While in a few remote areas, these armed forces commissaries may furnish a needed convenience, many are not necessary on this basis. For example, between the Presidio of San Francisco, in the heart of San Francisco, and Fort Lewis, surrounded by Tacoma, Washington, shopping areas, the two commissaries in these locations do almost a million dollars per month in food sales.

Actually, the majority of these government sponsored discount houses are located in big population centers where there is no shortage of stores. Military brass defends this system on the basis it is a fringe benefit to induce men to stay in business.

Of course, food retailers fail to understand why they should be cut into to provide for this fringe benefit. To them, it seems more logical for government to take the funds now spent on operating these commissaries and convert them into a blanket pay raise for servicemen.

Or as one food merchant is reported to have said "Where it's probably costing the government $10 to save the serviceman $7 on groceries, why not give him a $7 pay raise and save the other $3."

Probably even more important is the superb waste of manpower. The armed forces are very choosy about selecting for service only young men, physically and mentally sound, in short men capable of more than ordinary physical, mental and nervous accomplishments. This is as it should be.

But it does seem quite a waste of the flower of American manhood to be assigned to such duties as trimming lettuce.

Or consider officers carefully and expensively educated in the principles of Clausewitz, Mahan, in navigation, radar, ordinance, ballistics and logistics.

It does seem quite a waste to take groups of these highly trained professionals and put them to work computing how many cases of corn flakes they should buy on a given day for store stock as compared to the number of cases they should buy of a cereal that snaps, pops, and crackles. This is perhaps as silly as the situation that would result if a law were passed requiring U. S. Senators to serve also as postal carriers in Washington.

Very few outdoorsmen realize the really great importance of an anchor and anchor lines. Most boat owners regard an anchor solely as a necessary weight to keep the boat in place. They take anchors and anchor lines, that nautical term for rope, for granted.

But besides keeping your boat in place, an anchor can get you out of a peck of trouble.

Suppose you're fishing a wide expanse of open water. You see a squall building up and decide to run for shelter. But the squall hits before you reach the dock. Waves quickly build too high to run against, or away from, without swamping.

If you have plenty of line, you can ride out the blow with your anchor. The anchor, dropped from the bow, will keep the boat headed into the waves and wind. You'll take a lot of spray, but you'll ride out the blow.

OR SUPPOSE you launch your boat in the surf for an offshore run on mackerel or to fish around the oil rigs. By the time you begin your return, the wind has increased and you see a half dozen lines of big breakers. You can safely negotiate the breakers by heading the boat back out to sea, dropping the anchor, then playing out the line slowly as each succeeding breaker shoves your boat closer to shore. You can withstand some mighty big breakers by keeping the boat headed into them.

There are many types of anchors. You should buy the type best suited for the kind of bottom where you do most of your boating.

A mushroom type anchor will hold where you have a soft muddy bottom.

If the bottom is rocky, then you'll need a many pronged anchor.

ON A SANDY bottom any of the broad fluke anchors will do the trick. These broad fluke anchors are "digging" types—the harder the pull on the line, the deeper the anchor digs into the sand.

Scope—the angle the anchor line makes with the bottom—is important. With no current or wind, very little line is needed. You drop the anchor straight down and it will keep the boat in place. But the stronger the wind or current, the more line and scope you need if you are to keep the boat in position.

Scope then poses the problem of how much line to purchase. Experienced boatmen recommend getting line seven times the depth of the deepest water in which you operate. For example, if you fish in water 20 feet deep, buy 140 feet of line. That may sound like a lot of line, but you'll find the investment a wise one when there's a strong current running.

With but little line out your anchor will dig "out" rather than dig deep angle and upward pull. Increasing the line decreases the angle and permits the anchor to dig down properly.

YOU CAN greatly increase the effectiveness of your anchor by using a four or five foot length of chain between the anchor and the line proper. The weight of the chain will keep the anchor shaft down.

Anchor lines should be checked periodically for weak spots. It's better to discover these weaknesses in the garage than out in the middle of some squall-tossed bay or large lake.

If you care for it properly, manila rope will last many seasons. But if you're a bit careless about the line maintenance, as are most casual outdoorsmen, then spend a little more money and purchase nylon line. It won't rot, and it requires little upkeep other than occasional washing.

There are times when anchoring could mean the possible loss of the anchor. This is true in fishing rocky ledges, coral outcroppings and around jetties. Repeated loss of anchors can run into money.

Often you can get by with a homemade anchor that costs practically nothing.

FILL OLD gallon paint cans with concrete. Usually you can get the concrete for nothing if you drop by some construction job near the day's end. The builders won't mind filling a can or two for you, as they have to discard the left-over mix anyway. But don't show up with a couple dozen cans.

An eye bolt sunk into the concrete, is ideal to tie on. A short length of chain, or a big iron ring, or even a twisted coat hanger, will do. Once the concrete hardens you have an acceptable anchor. If you want to make a better one, insert a couple of short lengths of scrap steel crossways through the sides of the can before adding the concrete.

Tie these can anchors to your anchor line with heavy fishing cord. Then if the can wedges in the rocks and you can't free it, you can always jerk hard on the line, snap the fishing cord, and break loose.

OLD WINDOW sash weights make good "throwaway" anchors—especially around rock jetties. Throw them right into or across the rocks. Again tie them to the anchor line with fishing cord that will break if necessary.

Anchor lines should be carefully stowed in the bow of the boat. Coil neatly so you don't have to fiddle with knots and snarls when you play out line.

Above all, keep your tackle box away from the line. Many an ang-

Extension Service bulletins tell how to deal with farm-infesting insects

COLLEGE STATION—Are insects eating up your farm profits? If they are, or if they are only nibbling at them, you should read two recent publications of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. One B-975, deals with insects that attack forage crops, and the other, L-217, tells how to prevent insect damage to farm-stored grain.

For many years cultural practice were the main methods used to prevent infestation of forage crop pests. Insecticides were impractical for many years because the low market value of forage crops did not warrant a cash outlay for them. Price changes and improved production methods, however, have changed all this. Unfortunately, this increased use of insecticides has brought about some problems. Too many people see some insects on their forage crops and grab the nearest "bug killer." Sometimes this practice gets rid of undesirable insects, but in many cases it either fails to kill the unwanted insects or does kill beneficial ones. If the farmer would take time to identify the insects on his crops, this would not happen. True, he does know many of the more common ones, but there are usually some he is not familiar with. This is where B-975 "Insects Attacking Forage Crops" comes in. The farmer can use this bulletin to properly identify the insects and he can then look in Extension Service publication MP-339 for the proper control measures.

Even after the farmer has harvested his crops and has his grain stored, he is not safe from insect-caused losses. There are many insects that can reduce farm-stored grain to so much useless trash. These losses can be prevented, however. Leaflet L-217 "Control of Insects in Farm-Stored Grain" outlines the proper methods for preventing these unnecessary losses.

Both of these publications can be obtained from your local county agent or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

ler has accidentally dropped a plug or a set of gang hooks into a pile of anchor line, only to suffer a nasty wound from the hooks when playing out the line.

It sounds ridiculous to mention it, but be sure to tie the anchor to the line—and the line to the boat. It's most frustrating to toss over the anchor—then discover you forgot to make it fast to the line.

Funds for lateral roads requested

The Garza County commissioners' court voted at this week's August session to make the usual request for the Board of District and Road Indebtedness to return to the county the $13,997.57 credited to its lateral road account.

The county receives a sum every year as its share from the surplus for use in building, maintenance and operation of county roads. This year's amount due the county is down nearly $1,000 from last year's amount, which was $14,811.77.

The commissioners also voted to purchase a photostatic office copier for use in the county clerk's office. The copier, which will enable the office to make copies of birth certificates and other documents without having to use the office's big copying machine, will cost $99.50.

"The new machine will enable us to make copies of birth certificates and similar documents in about two minutes, whereas it would take about 45 minutes on the bigger machine," said County Clerk Carl Cederholm.

Outside of routine business, such as paying of bills, the commissioners' only other action was canvassing the recent Post-Close City school consolidation vote.

should be playing a nine-game schedule, such as the Post freshman team will be doing this season," Dr. Carter said.

"Varsity type football," he concluded, "is the wrong kind of program for boys of pre-high school and freshman ages."

The board's consensus was to agree with Dr. Carter that there are many abuses in the pre-high school football programs in nearly every school, but that for one school to cut out the program entirely would place it at a disadvantage in trying to compete on the varsity level with a school that maintained a junior high grid program.

"The place to try to eliminate it is on the state-wide level and not in just a few schools," one board member said.

"LET'S KEEP thinking about it and see how it works out this year the way it is," suggested board president Buster Moreland.

The board employed Lee W. Davis Jr. as a school bus driver, and was told by Supt. Smith that a replacement will have to be hired for Billy Hahn, junior high teacher, who has decided not to drive a bus this year.

The board approved a guidance program worked up by James West, curriculum coordinator, and a group of teachers. Supt. Smith recommended the guidance program to the trustees and said that in his opinion West and the teachers who worked with him had done an excellent job on the program.

The trustees decided to ask for low bids on a pick-up truck to be used by the vocational agriculture department, deciding that it would be better for the school to own the pick-up than to use one furnished by a local dealer, as the school has been doing the last few years.

The trustees also discussed, but took no action, on a request by Guy Floyd to lease the one-half block of land east of the primary building for five years. The board voted to have Floyd put his request in writing, setting forth terms of lease, price, etc.

Wheat producers to vote Aug. 24

Garza County wheat producers who have planted more than 13.5 acres of wheat in at least one of the years 1959, 1960 or 1961 are eligible to vote in the Aug. 24 referendum, except those who have a feed exemption for the 1961 crop.

Garza County producers may vote at the ASC office here between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m., said Emmartha I. Hartel, county ASC office manager.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has called for the widest possible participation in the referendum and has emphasized the importance of the determination that growers will make—whether or not marketing quotas will be effective on the 1962 wheat crop. A two-thirds majority of growers must approve before quotas go into effect. Approval of quotas will also make the new wheat stabilization program available to wheat producers.

The wheat stabilization program will cut 1962 wheat acreage allotments by 10 per cent. If quotas are approved, cooperators will be eligible for the 1962 wheat price supports of $2 a bushel. The present support level is $1.79, which is 75 per cent of parity.

If quotas are not approved, there will be no limit on marketings, but support at 50 per cent of parity would be available to farmers who comply with their wheat acreage allotments.

Goal of the new program is to reduce government stocks of wheat—now near 1 1/2 billion bushels—by 100 million bushels. Estimated savings to taxpayers would be $50 million the first crop year.

Producers desiring more information on the referendum are invited to call on this committee or local ASC office personnel. Local county agents can also supply detailed information.

33 report for first '61 football drills

Three candidates for the Post Antelope varsity squad, more than expected, answered the first call Monday for football practice. Coach Vernard Alexander reports.

The grid hopefuls, among them the 1960 squad, are going through limbering up drills, contact drills by mid-afternoon, the coach said.

As a whole, the boys are in fair shape physically and are showing lots of "fizz," Coach Alexander said.

The coach said Tuesday night there is no game-conditioning scrimmaging as yet but that one or two other teams, but that one or two probably will be within the few days.

The Antelopes' first game will be Friday night, Sept. 1. The home game will be here Sept. 8 against Colorado City.

Following the opening of practice because of illness was John Bland, a sophomore back, who played last season's "B" team. He is ill from a rare type of illness and may not be able to play this season.

The Antelope squad is working twice daily, at 7 a. m. and 4 p. m. Each practice session has lasted just a little over two hours, Coach Alexander said.

In addition to the 33 varsity hopefuls, about 15 candidates have reported for the freshman team, which is coached by Glenn Gregg. At least 10 more freshmen are expected by the time school opens for the new term.

Cash smash helps Tiger team gain

Norm Cash contributed a two-run homer, his 30th roundtripper of the season, to the Detroit Tigers' doubleheader victory over the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday night.

Cash's circuit blow was a line drive smash in the seventh inning of the first game and accounted for all the scoring in the Tigers' 2-0 win over the Orioles. The smash landed in the center field seats at the 415-foot mark.

The Tigers won the second game, 3-2, with Cash going hitless in four at-bats. He's still the American League leader in batting.

The twin victory allowed Detroit to pull up to within two games of the league-leading New York Yankees, who lost to Chicago, 2-1.

IN MINERAL WELLS

Former area grid stars on rosters of Texas Tech foes

LUBBOCK—Followers of West Texas high school football will get several opportunities to view their former schoolboy favorites in action in Lubbock this fall.

All four Southwest Conference teams playing Texas Tech in Jones Stadium boast gridgers who won their spurs in this region. Since Texas Tech and West Texas State also depend largely upon regional talent, only Boston College, of all the teams playing here, won't have a West Texan in the lineup.

Texas A&M will bring six West Texans to the home schedule opener Oct. 7. These include ends Larry Crutsinger of Brownwood and Bobby Huntington of Plainview, guard Jim Harper of Borger, backs Ronnie Brice of Andrews, Ronnie Ledbetter of Dalhart, and Travis Reagan of Wichita Falls.

Texas Christian, meeting the Raiders here Oct. 14, sports seven gridgers from west of Fort Worth—tackle Bobby Plummer of Seymour, guards Steve Garmon of Groom and Bill Phillips of Snyder, centers Ken Henson of San Angelo and Don Plummer of Seymour, and backs Jerry Spearman of Amarillo and Sonny Gibbs of Graham.

Baylor made the biggest recruiting inroads a few years ago. Sixteen West Texans will play for the Bears here Oct. 21. Included are ends Jeff Bearden of White Deer, Jerry Harris and James Ingram of Odessa; tackles Jon Markham of Odessa and Lewis Sessums of Sundown; guards Billy Allen of Wichita Falls and Robert Burk of

Denver City picked again

(This is the first of a series of articles on the Post Antelopes' 1961 District 3AA foes.)

The state Class AA champion Denver City Mustangs, although hard-hit by graduation, are picked to repeat this year as kingpins in District 3AA.

The Mustangs, who went all the way last year, losing only to Class AAA Kermit, have 11 lettermen back in the fold, but only two of them were regulars on last season's "whiz" team.

Head Coach Don Orr, not as optimistic as some are over his Mustangs' chances, picks Stanton to win the district crown, with Denver City second, Post third, Tahoka fourth and Slaton last.

The Mustangs, who got underway with pre-season drills Monday, open at home Sept. 1 against Lovington, N. M.

Returning lettermen are George Curtis, Jimmy Mobley, Mike Hubbard and Craig Fox, ends; Alton Sossaman and Vic Spivey, tackles; David Bruton, Dale Bradley and Charles Phipps, guards; James Childers, center; Tommy Jones, Joe Esparza, Don Kinder and Pat Hubbard, halfbacks, and Larry Rawls, fullback.

The Hubbard brothers, Mike at end and Pat at halfback, probably won't make Denver City followers forget the Gravitt brothers, Bert and Bill, but they'll help. Mike, a senior, weighs 175 pounds, and Pat, a sophomore, tips the beams at 170.

Quarterback Bobby Hunnicut, who failed to letter last year, but saw considerable "B" team action, is listed by Coach Orr as his best passer. Hunnicut, a 158-pounder, is a junior.

The punting chores more than likely will fall to Esparza, a 150-pound junior, who came along fast last season.

Curtis, a 170-pound senior, and Sossaman, a 185-pound senior, are the two returning regulars from the great 1960 team.

Coach Orr says lack of experience is seen this early as his squad's main weakness. The team will run from the "T" formation.

Orr's coaching assistants are Buford Emier, H. C. Knox and D. W. Harkins.

The Denver City schedule:

Sept. 1, Lovington; Sept. 8, Seminole; Sept. 15, at Kermit; Sept. 22, Abernathy; Sept. 29, Crane; Oct. 6, at Dimmitt; Oct. 13, Post; Oct. 20, at Stanton; Nov. 3, Tahoka; Nov. 10, at Slaton.

Open against Post Sept. 1

Ralls Jackrabbit '11' District 4A favorite

The Ralls Jackrabbits, who have won rather handsily over the Post Antelopes the last two seasons, will be shooting for another victory over their Class AA opening day opponents Sept. 1 on the Ralls gridiron.

The Jackrabbits, coached by Neal Chastain, were the choice for the District 4A title at last week's coaches meeting in San Antonio.

The Ralls squad opened drills Monday and will hold two a day until the start of school on Aug. 28.

They have game-conditioning scrimmages scheduled with Spur on Aug. 21 and Aug. 25.

The Jackrabbits lost seven starters from last year's team, but have 10 lettermen returning. They are Co-captains Danny McDuff and Charlie Edwards, Rudy Esparza, Wayne Sanders, Jerry Johnson, Valton Osborne, Dwight Gray, Lauren Huddleston, Danny Moore and Donny Moore.

Bill Williamson and Doug Duncan are Head Coach Chastain's assistants.

Ralls defeated Post, 26-6, here last year and the year before won a 20-8 decision at Ralls. The teams battled to an 8-8 tie in 1958 on the Post gridiron.

Snagging and jerking fish now forbidden

AUSTIN—House Simple Resolution No. 69, passed by the First Called Session of the 57th Legislature, calls for arrest and prosecution of anyone caught taking fish by means of snagging or jerking.

Notice of this Resolution has been sent out to all game wardens by Capt. E. M. Srott, director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

"It is our duty to carry out the will of the Legislature, in strictly enforcing the law providing such methods to be illegal," he says.

The taking of fish by snagging has been prevalent in the tail race waters below many of the major impoundments of the state.

Good dove season will depend on weather, weeds

AUSTIN—With fewer than 15 days until the opening of the mourning dove season in the North Zone, Sept. 1, there is still a great deal of speculation as to how plentiful this year's crop will be.

According to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, some hot, dry weather is needed to ripen feed seed, and darken considerably the green effect of the present abundance of foliage.

In parts of West Texas where there hasn't been too much rain, weed seeds are now ripening, according to information received in Austin. In these cases, the doves seem to be plentiful at the present time. However, the abundance of rain in Central Texas has vegetation very lush, and weed seeds are not yet ripening. Since water holes have been filled completely, this will tend to scatter late evening dove shooting around the water holes.

So, according to the executive secretary, it is anybody's guess as to how good the dove season will be. On the other hand, the quail crop right now looks to be in top condition. There are still a few nesting birds, but for the most part there have been heavy hatches in practically every part of the state. As a result, a big crop of birds is reported in areas where there were practically no birds last year.

Under the general laws, the quail season will open Dec. 1. The Game Commission will set the quail season in regulatory counties at its quarterly meeting early in October.

ORIGIN OF JURIES

Speaking before juries—the beginning of jury trials—goes way back to Greek colonies about 600 B. C., in lawsuits over lands seized by tyrants.

Soon afterwards Athens itself took over such oratory, but seems never to have worked out rules of evidence or control of the trial by a judge.

Jurors often boomed or cheered the parties, talked together, and shouted at speakers. What one man knew or thought he knew about the case he told his neighbor.

All evidence could go: Personal knowledge, hearsay, prejudice, and a juror's opinion.

The Athenian juror had power: Each "dicast" (a juror chosen by lot) was both jurymen and judge.

Jurors sat in many courts; the smallest had 201 dicasts, the largest one such as tried Socrates had 601. (The odd man broke tie). The jurors heard and decided their cases out in public, often amid swarms of citizens and foreigners.

One day to each case; and the accused—like Socrates—had to prove his innocence.

Each juror earned one obol a day—about three cents.

Each juror swore: "I shall vote according to the laws of the Athenian people and the Council of the Five Hundred; but as to things about which there are no laws, I shall judge as best I can without favor or enmity. I shall judge as to things at issue and shall listen fairly to both the accuser and the defendant. These things I swear by Zeus, by Apollo, by Demeter. May there be blessing on me if I keep my oath; but if not, let there be ruin for me and my family."

Today as yesterday our juries are under fire: Some say juries waste time, people won't serve; jurors make stupid mistakes. Let experts do justice, critics say.

Such things hold true only if citizens forsake their right to serve.

Only a free people can enjoy the privilege of jury duty. A Greek thinker once said that the mark of a citizen, as opposed to an alien, was his right to share in administering justice.

When jury duty calls, think of yourself as seeking truth, hearing all the evidence, heeding the court's instructions, following the lawyers' arguments, and laying aside prejudice.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Gun-scorched western plays here Saturday

Showing Saturday only at the Tower Theatre is "One Foot in Hell," a gun-scorched western with a unique and surprising twist to it, filmed in CinemaScope and DeLuxe Color, and starring Alan Ladd, Don Murray and Dan O'Herlihy with Dolores Michaels and Barry Coe. A man's wife dies in childbirth and for years afterwards he plans revenge on those whose misunderstanding and failure to help contributed to the tragedy.

He builds himself a respectable reputation in the town. He then organizes a gold robbery, under cover of which all his enemies will be killed. But he oversteps himself when he tries to eliminate his confederates in the robbery, and is killed himself while trying to kill the last two.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Lubbock operator spots 4 offsets

A pair of 4,000-foot offsets have been staked to the four-well Sims (Glorieta) field in northwest Garza County by Dr. Sam G Dunn of Lubbock.

Wildcat re-entry gets under way

Livley & Reed, Andrews oil field construction firm, has re-entered the No. 1 Alice Williams, near Justiceburg, as a wildcat attempt to find projection above 2,390 feet, possibly in the San Andres.

The exploration is 660 feet from west and 1,880 feet from north west of Section 20, Block 6, H&GN Survey, three-quarters of a mile north of the Tobe Strawn field and one-half mile northeast of a 3,329-foot duster.

The hole was originally dug to 7,520 feet by Tobe Foster as the No. 1-A Williams, and was plugged and abandoned in September, 1953.

The well was originally staked at 600 feet from north and west lines of Section 20 as a 2,700-foot cable tool wildcat try.

The operators have cleaned the failure to 4,000 feet, plugged back to 2,390 feet and were preparing to ball open hole from 1,800 to 2,300 feet.

The No. 1 Rains, 1/4-mile north offset, spots at 1,650 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of Section 23, Block D-19, D&SE Survey.

The No. 2 Rains, three-eighths of a mile east offset to production, is 330 feet from south and 1,390 feet from west lines of Section 23, Block D-19, D&SE Survey.

Both are six miles east of Southland.

Dr. Dunn also spotted two north offsets to the Post (Glorieta) field, 10 miles east of Post, to be dug to 3,000 feet.

The No. 2 Fumagalli, one location north offset, is 1,320 feet from south and 2,310 feet from east lines of Section 10, Block 8, H&GN Survey.

The No. 1 Stone-Karcher, seven-eighths of a mile north offset, is 330 feet from north and 2,310 feet from west lines of Section 10, Block 8, H&GN Survey.

WISE COUNTY REUNION
The annual Wise County Reunion will be held Sunday in Mackenzie State Park, Lubbock. All Wise County residents and former residents are invited to attend. Each family is asked to bring a well-filled basket for the dinner to be served at noon. A program is being arranged, according to Mrs. J. C. Williamson, secretary.

"I'll Tell You What Girls See In Me - Security!"

Garza prospect setting pipe

General American Oil Company of Texas No. 2-744 Koonsman, wildcat try 12 miles west of Justiceburg, was waiting on cement after setting 5 1/2-inch casing at 6,078 feet at the prospective Wolfcamp find.

During drilling operations a two-hour drillstem test in the Wolfcamp from 5,992-6,072 feet recovered 1,290 feet of gas in drillpipe, 15 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 60 feet of mud-cut oil.

The exploration is 330 feet from south and 2,100 feet from east lines of Section 74, Block 97, H&TC Survey, one-half mile east of a Red Loflin Strawn discovery well.

Yields good, price low for area potato crop

CROSBYTON — The Crosbyton area potato harvest ended last week with more than 45,000 100-pound bags of spuds having been dug up from local fields.

In all, 12 area farms had potato acreage, and a bout the same amount of acreage planted to potatoes is expected in the area next year.

Rains interfered with the harvest this year when the market was good. Harvesting was slowed or brought to a halt while the price was high, with the result that the spuds were marketed at a low price.

About Your HEALTH

AUSTIN — Texas consumers of foods, drugs and cosmetics will come out on the long end of an almost completely new state law which goes into effect late next month.

The new law, aimed at consumer protection against adulteration, mislabeling, and false advertising, was passed by the 57th session of the State Legislature with strong support of a major segment of the food, drug, and cosmetics industry.

State health authorities say the law is as good as in force anywhere in the nation. It puts Texas on the side of the proponents of uniformity in state food and drug laws.

It becomes effective Aug. 28, and represents the first major overhaul of the State's basic food and drug law in more than 50 years.

The old law made no provision for checking on the wholesomeness of cosmetics, whereas the new act requires truthful advertising, complete labeling as to ingredients, forbids the use of harmful ingredients, and requires that products be produced and held under sanitary conditions.

The law also brings therapeutic devices under control by outlawing worthless contrivances such as "cancer belts" and "arthritis rings" and similar quack appliances which take advantage of the desperation of afflicted people.

Under present Texas law the use of certain additives in food or drink is illegal. But after Aug. 28 it will be permissible to use additives to enhance taste, color, texture or preservative qualities of certain foods. However, the burden of proving the additive is not injurious to human health will be on the manufacturer rather than on the enforcement agency as has been the case heretofore.

"Advances in food and drink technology over the past several years indicate a definite place in the food industry for chemical additives," says Joe F. Lakey, director of the State Health Department's food and drug division. The department takes its task of consumer protection seriously. Lakey says division inspectors had supervised the destruction of 997-

'By Love Possessed' scheduled at Tower

One of the most important films to come out of Hollywood in years, "By Love Possessed," opens at the Tower Theatre on Sunday and continues through Tuesday.

"By Love Possessed" is based on Pulitzer Prize Winner James Gould Cozzens's best-seller of that name.

The film stars Lana Turner, Efrem Zimbalist Jr. and Jason Robards Jr. The theme of this story is love.

Ford saves you plenty when you buy...

Saves even more as you drive!

Who else but Ford could bring you the lowest full-size wagon price* in America?

Listen—not only does this '61 Ranch Wagon cost less than some so-called "compact"—but it is beautifully built to be more service-free!

Just read about the service-saving features on this page... then pop in and look for yourself. Look at that cavern of a cargo-hold. Try the wheel that turns as much as 25% easier when parking. Enjoy the sedanlike ride of the new Wide-Tread design.

Choose the Mileage Maker Six, or the optional Thunderbird V-8. Take your pick of six handsome Ford wagons. Whatever you want in a wagon, we Ford Dealers have it. Come and get yours today!

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD SAVES BECAUSE IT'S BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO BE MORE SERVICE-FREE!

- Saves on Lubrication—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between lubrications of major chassis components, which saves you time and money because Ford has replaced conventional grease fittings with a sealed-in lubrication system.
- Saves on Oil Changes—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes because Ford's Full-Flow Oil Filter gives you filtration through 80,000 and filters all the oil all the time.
- Saves on Brake Adjustments—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.
- Saves with Extended Muffler Life—Ford mufflers are double wrapped and slanted to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.
- Saves with Protective Body Coating—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath the doors.
- Saves with Special Body Finish—Ford's new Diamond Lustre Enamel never needs waxing.

Course hard to determine
FORT WORTH—An abnormally wet early summer, the new government feed program, and an unusual market for slaughter cattle are factors which have made the course of the beef cattle business hard to determine in the Southwest this year according to the first monthly Market Summary published by the Feeders Division of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association. The Market Summary for July points out that fat cattle weighing over 1,000 pounds were severely penalized during the month and that this resulted in a very narrow spread in the price of standard and choice cattle, and that there also has been a very narrow spread in prices paid for heifer and steer cattle. The market also reflected a smaller than normal spread between the price of low and high quality feeder cattle, and good range conditions have made owners reluctant to sell for immediate delivery. Stocker movement was light and very little contracting has been reported, with most owners holding out for higher prices than have been bid. "The additional problem of attempting to anticipate the action of government officials in release of feed grains held by the government for sale on the open market is faced by the cattle feeder today," the report stated. "Release of storage stocks during the past month has dropped the price of feed grain by 10 cents to 25 cents per hundred. Since it requires approximately 1,500 pounds of feed grain to feed an animal, a 20 cent per hundred difference in the cost of this resource means a three to four dollar difference in the total cost of feeding an animal." The Market Summary points out that 180,000 head of cattle were being fattened in the feedlots of Texas cattle feeders as of July 1. This was four per cent above the same date a year ago. Lloyd Bergsma, director of the TSCRA Cattle Feeders Division, emphasized that cattle feeding in the state shows a steady gain, and said that all cattle feeders are invited to join the TSCRA Cattle Feeders Division. Associate memberships also are available, and these members will receive the monthly Market Summary.

Conditions unusual for beef producers

Women Scientists Vitaly Needed, March of Dimes Grantee Warns

Increasing numbers of young women must be encouraged to become medical research scientists. They are needed to make up the loss of men researchers who more and more are turning to electronics and other technical fields unrelated to the nation's health. This is the view of Dr. Virginia Tennyson, a medical scientist herself, who sees the day near when there will be an acute and dangerous shortage of science laboratory talent unless hundreds of girls—now in high school or entering college—can be won over to science as a career. Dr. Tennyson is an anatomist and electronmicroscopist at Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City. Under a National Foundation-March of Dimes grant, she is working today to determine what causes excess fluid in the brain of infants, one of the major birth defects (hydrocephalus) with which thousands of babies are born every year in the United States. This dread disease leads to gross enlargement of the head, wasting away of the brain, loss of mental powers—often death. Dr. Tennyson has suggested that there is an advantage in having women in some laboratory studies. "I think it fair to say that in some fields of scientific inquiry, women are better equipped by nature than are men. For instance, few will argue that women aren't more intuitive. In the laboratory, they are more inclined to respect a hunch, which is just another word for disciplined imagination and deduction. We women 'hunch' because we are determined to get a realistic answer. "Then I also think," she said, "that women workers in science are inclined to be more patient than men researchers. Perhaps it's debatable, but I seem to find, too, that women are more likely to persevere, less prone to give up because of boredom and tedium." Dr. Tennyson mentioned that the National Foundation offers today post-doctoral fellowships to promising young individuals preparing for careers in science. In addition to offering aid to prospective research scientists, The National Foundation is taking steps to interest young persons in entering the allied health professions. Under this program, the health organization has awarded almost 1,300 scholarships (each worth $2,000 if maintained for the full period of four years) in the fields of medicine, nursing, physical and occupational therapy, and medical social work. The National Foundation offers 315 of these health scholarships each year to students in every state in the nation. Since Dr. Tennyson is dedicated to the serious task of determining the "why" of hydrocephalus, a person might conceive of her as a granite-faced zealot, oblivious to all save laboratory test tubes, reports and microscopes. Instead, this slim, auburn-haired and blue-eyed scientist looks like nothing so much as a professional model or dancer, and one endowed with humor. Her chief interests and training all relate to medical science, but when the occasion arises she can whip up the most epicurean crepes suzette one would ever hope to taste. She is also a talented amateur artist. Young women on the threshold of a science career, Dr. Tennyson advises, should realize that in some laboratories exceptional demands are made of them in ability and natural scientific talent. Inevitably, they represent competition with their male colleagues. She puts it this way: "If a young woman enters a science career with a 'feminist' chip on her shoulder—with the attitude of demanding her rights—she will doubtless arouse hostility, and so will meet with hostility. But I have found that most professional people will accord you more than your 'rights' if you have ability. If you do have it, it will be recognized. Appreciation of it shouldn't be forced down your colleagues' throats." For all her preoccupation with birth defects research, a field The National Foundation entered in 1958, Dr. Tennyson says she tries to lead a life of "dynamic equilibrium, the rule we find in all nature. I don't spend all of my time with rabbits and mice and peering into a microscope. Fact is, I have so much equilibrium I even go skiing."

Q. Is there a deadline by which a beneficiary of a veteran's GI insurance policy should file to obtain the insurance payment? A. There is no time limit for a beneficiary to apply for the proceeds of a veteran's policy. Usually, the VA sends the proper forms to the beneficiary upon learning of the veteran's death. But there is no limiting date for payment. Q. Can a non-service-connected World War II veteran still undertake educational courses under the so-called GI bill? A. All educational rights for non-service-connected World War II veterans have now expired. Q. Can histories of former wars of the United States be obtained through the Veteran's Administration? A. The VA does not have histories of former U. S. wars. Q. Where does one apply for VA domiciliary care? A. Application for domiciliary care may be made by a veteran or by his guardian or representative at any VA office. The veteran should not be sent or taken to a domiciliary until prior approval for his admission has been received

Double ring vows pledged by Patsy Payne, Ernie Popham

Double wedding ring vows were pledged by Miss Patsy Jean Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Payne, 110 East 10th Street, and Ernie Wayne Popham Saturday, Aug. 5. The bridegroom is the son of Erven Popham of Abilene.

Herbert Smith, minister of the Church of Christ, officiated for the ceremony, read at the home of the bride's parents. Vows were exchanged at 8 p. m. before an archway of white roses flanked with white tapers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta. Seed pearls enhanced the scooped neckline and the long sleeves came to petal points over her hands. A headpiece of seed pearls held her veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of red roses tied with white streamers.

Dennis Payne, brother of the bride, lighted candles.

A reception was held following the ceremony with the bride's parents hosts. Decorations of red and white were used, with the table laid in white lace over red. Miss Gay Briggs and Mrs. Kay Gene Payne, sister-in-law of the bride, served.

Mr. and Mrs. Popham are at home at 110 1/2 East 10th Street. The bride is a Post High School graduate. Her husband, also a Post High School graduate, served in the U. S. Navy and is assistant manager of G. F. Wacker's.

Those attending were: Jerry Nutt, Linda Nutt, Mary Lois Jones, Lamar Jones, Buddy Ussey, Stanley Jones, Charles Hawkins, Charles Allen, Elvin Allen, Melvin Allen and Joe Bob Blacklock.

Panel discussion held when Hospital Auxiliary meets

A panel discussion was held when the Women's Auxiliary of Garza Memorial Hospital met last Thursday evening at the Community Room of the First National Bank.

The auxiliary received praise and some constructive criticism from a panel made up of Dr. James Matthews, head of the medical staff; Jewell Parsons, who represented the hospital administrator; Mrs. Patsy Miller, head of nurses; Mrs. Elsie Campbell, hospital central supply, and Mrs. Pearl Polk, dietitian. The group told the 22 members and eight guests present what the auxiliary work had meant to the hospital during its first three months of operation.

Auxiliary officers and planning committees hope to make a better auxiliary organization by such panel discussions.

It was announced that a total of 485 working hours were devoted by the auxiliary, with 44 members participating during the month of July.

Mrs. Glenn Whittenberg and Mrs. Bryan Williams are to resume their duties as teachers in the Post school system and will not be on the active membership list after this month. Other members going on active duty are Mrs. D. C. Williams, Mrs. Edna Morris, Mrs. J. R. Durrett, and Mrs. Lee Davis, with several other members to begin active duty when school starts.

Plans were also made for a group of the Post Auxiliary officers to meet this morning with officers of the Lubbock Auxiliary for a group discussion.

Members attending last week's meeting were:

Mmes. Irby Metcalf, Giles McCrary, Malcolm Bull, Noah Stone, Jess Rogers, Esther Bird, Don Curl, David Newby, Tom Power, J. E. Parker, Larry Hopkins, Lee Davis, D. C. Williams, James Matthews, Graydon Howell, A. C. Cooke, Ronnie Bouchier, C. R. Wilson, Bryan J. Williams, Jack Ballentine and Lee Ward, and Miss Henrietta Nichols.

Guests were: Dr. James Matthews, Mrs. Tom Gilmore, Mrs. Billy Miller, Mrs. T. C. Polk, Mrs. Elsie Campbell, Miss Jewell Parsons, Mrs. W. E. Howard, and Miss Mercedes Pearson.

Methodist women donate to fund

Nineteen members attended a joint general meeting last week of the Naomi and Rebecca Circles of the First Methodist Church.

The meeting was opened with the group singing. "The Churches One Foundation." Mrs. J. R. Durrett led in prayer.

Mrs. J. R. Durrett presided at the business meeting in the absence of the president. It was reported that communion linens for the altar had been purchased. The group voted to give $1,000 to the building fund.

A WSCS life membership pin was presented to Mrs. Bill Edwards by Mrs. J. R. Durrett.

Mrs. J. E. Parker, assisted by Mrs. George Bisher, presented the program on the Council of Churches.

Mrs. W. R. Graeber gave the devotional.

Refreshments were served by: Mrs. T. L. Jones, Mrs. Joe Callis, Mrs. Ted Hibbs and Mrs. Mae Voss.

FOUR DAY TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cook, Rick and Ronnie, spent Thursday and Friday at Kerrville, where they visited the Shiner Institute. Saturday and Sunday were spent at Sunrise Beach on Granite Shoals Lake where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ward and children of Rosenberg and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Baxley and family of Freeport.

A moderate gain in rice imports is shown in Hong Kong trade reports.

WSG makes plans for future meeting

The Wesleyan Service Guild met last week in the chapel of the First Methodist Church with five members present.

Mrs. T. L. Jones gave a report on the School of Missions.

During the business meeting, plans were made to have Francisco Gonzales speak on Latin American relations in September. Plans were also made for members to attend the Guild picnic to be held in Lubbock, Aug. 28.

The Guild members wish to remind everyone of the Wesleyan Service Guild Memorial Fund.

Sales tax season starts soon

Beginning Sept. 1, Texans will have a little reminder of the cost of state government every time they buy something costing more than two bits—with certain exceptions—in the form of a 2 percent cent sales tax.

The $134,000,000 package tax bill finally passed by the Legislature in the very last hour of the 30-day special session is calculated to provide new revenue to take care of the increase in state spending since 1959. At that time the last legislature levied new taxes to raise about $185,000,000 which it thought would be sufficient for the current biennium.

It is estimated that the tax bill as passed will fall about $30,000 short of raising enough revenue to pay the general appropriations bill, also passed at the end of the 30-day special session, and the teachers salary raise voted in the second special session. These are problems to be solved through further deliberations.

Assuming its solution, the levies voted by this Legislature should supply sufficient money to run the state without the necessity of adding any more major taxes in the foreseeable future to meet new financial crises. For, the revenues yielded by the 2 percent cent general sales tax will increase as the state's population grows and buys more and more taxable merchandise. And unless state spending should mount inordinately, the growing tax base should balance the growing cost of government.

All the above is an introduction to answering a question uppermost in the mind of the reader—how much will the new sales tax cost him?

Well, sir, according to no less an authority than James McGrew, research director of the Texas Research League, the new sales tax will cost about $35 a year for the average family and maybe less if they don't buy any furniture or home appliances.

In black and white, the tax is a 2 percent levy on most purchases of 25 cents or more, with numerous exceptions.

The Texas Research League, in the process of preparing a detailed study of the impact of the new tax, says in practical application it works like this:

Let's say a housewife walks down to the corner filling station to pick up the family car after having new brake linings installed. She drives by the grocery store for some shopping, stops at the shoe repair shop, takes a turn through a department store, has a bite of lunch and returns home.

At the filling station her car repair bill will carry a 2 percent tax on the parts used but not the labor. The new bill does not tax services. She has the car serviced and pays a tax on the quart of oil but not on the gasoline.

The new tax does not cover items already under state sales taxes. There are no taxes on

Hunter's Code of Ethics

Last week's issue of The Dispatch contained an item from the Chamber of Commerce asking that landowners wishing to lease their land for hunting purposes this fall list their names and addresses with the Chamber office.

The appeal was made because of a number of inquiries from out-of-town hunters in regard to available hunting leases.

1. Indications are that this year's bird crop in Garza County will be plentiful, and the hunting seasons are only a few weeks away. That means dozens of hunters will be out after birds. Some of these nineties will be hunting on land they have leased for the purpose, some will be hunting on non-leased land with the permission of the owner, and others will be tromping around on land on which they have no permission to hunt and on which they have no business.

2. I will obey all game laws and regulations, and will insist that my companions do likewise.

3. I will do my best to acquire those marksmanship and hunting skills which assure clean, sportsmanlike kills.

4. I will support conservation efforts which can assure good hunting for future generations of America.

5. I will pass along to younger hunters the attitudes and skills essential to a true outdoor sportsman.

6. I will pass along to younger hunters the attitudes and skills essential to a true outdoor sportsman.

There's still room at the top

In the minds of all in the Fatalistic Fifties it seemed pretty well established that, as the song-of-the-day said, "What will be will be." Big business would stay big—get bigger, maybe—but medium-sized business and small business were really going to have to scratch gravel to stay in business.

But, among the upsets of the decade that may now be evaluated, none is more dramatic than what happened to a one-time Clinton Power and the modestly successful General Telephone Company of which our own General Telephone Company of the Southwest is a part.

As related in a recent issue of Forbes magazine, just ten years ago, when Don Power was asked to become president, General had revenues of $4 million a year and operated 13 premium telephones in 19 states. But it was pretty much potatoes compared with AT&T—with $3.6 billion in revenue and 37 million telephones. Also, the day of expansion in the telephone business was long past and besides, Don Power was 51 years old. But President Power (now chairman and chief executive officer) took on the job to work—not take it easy.

By building up the business of the phone companies he had, by acquiring phone companies in growing areas, by adding manufacturing facilities, and finally by completing a merger through which he acquired needed research facilities and further manufacturing properties, he so built the institutions that today, on his tenth anniversary, General Telephone and Electronics is the 22nd largest company in the country.

There is profit far beyond financial return to those who are young and the not-so-young—those who can apply the truths that Don Power has demonstrated in this age when big-time business expansion has been regarded as history. The first is that opportunities are still here for those who can use them. And the second is that the man of vision, whatever his past successes, is just hitting his stride at 50.—CD.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THE HUMAN memory is short. That is one reason the "Remembering Yesteryears" column that appears each week on The Dispatch's editorial page is so popular with our readers. With Ruby Williams, women's page editor, will on Friday, August 18, go through the 5, 10 and 15 year ago files to compile the Remembering Yesteryears column in this week's issue.

I found so much of interest in the Dispatch's back files that I had to keep a close check on the time to keep from running over, which might not have showed up in my work schedule over the weekend, but most certainly would have been due deadline time on this week's paper.

I LEARNED, for instance, that five years ago Garza County's first bale of cotton was ginned on Aug. 23, which must have been one of the earliest, if not the earliest, dates in history in this county. I also learned that the Rev. Graydon Howell came here five years ago, as new pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, and George M. Wilson, the church music instructor in the Post Public Schools. So, both Mr. Howell and Mr. Wilson are observing anniversaries this week.

Reading about that first bale of 1956 cotton also reminded me that the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., have estimated that Garza County will produce 34,000 bales of cotton from this year's crop. That is an encouraging estimate, but most local observers I've talked to are of the opinion that the estimate is too high. The estimated production for the county is approximately 11,000 bales against 1959's actual production figure of some 9,000 bales. But it doesn't hurt someone to hitch our cotton trailer to a star, and it just could be that we'll reach the estimated yield figure. It would be the first time, but then there is a first time for everything.

FROM COTTON to cabbage! This was contributed by a reader of this column. "There are 56 words in the Lord's Prayer, 248 in Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, and 297 in the Ten Commandments. But a government order setting the price of cabbage required 29,911 words."

The only signs that we are getting a new post office aren't to be found in the new building under construction at the corner of Main and Avenue K. Look around the next time you go into the post office and you'll see other signs. Those big crates stacked in the lobby are new carrier cases, lock boxes, and other furnishings for the new post office. "And, gosh, these aren't all of them," says Postmaster Harold Voss. There are other furnishings and equipment in the rear of the post office and still others stored in the Mason & Furniture warehouse. Harold said the schedule calls for occupancy of the new post office building soon after Sept. 1, but that it probably won't be that soon.

MY FRIEND UP the street says one of the finer things that he has noticed in a backward country is that children are still obeying their parents.

I found it out for the first time at last week's City Council meeting, but the councilman who said it was a civilian L. A. Presson to thank for being able to sit in cushioned comfort at their meeting. Mr. Presson donated the chair cushions before retiring from the City Council.

THAT BORDER patrolman Gilman who broke his right hand in landing a haymaker on the chin of an airplane hijacker should get together sometimes and swap stories with Charles Hudman, formerly of Post, who did the same thing the other day when a Negro was caught shoplifting in the Hudman Hardware and Furniture Store at Crosbyton.

The way the Crosbyton Review described it, Hudman was called over to a knife case in store after an employe became suspicious of a Negro loitering around the case. Hudman searched the Negro and found a new knife in his pocket. When he asked the Negro if he had any more knives on him and the man said he didn't, Hudman lost his temper and struck him on the head with his fist. The Negro fell to the floor and three more pocket knives dropped from his hip pocket. An officer was called and the man turned up a total of 13 new pocket knives. Hudman had his knives back, but he also had a broken fist.

PARTING THOUGHT: The brain is a wonderful organ. It starts working the moment you get up in the morning and does not stop until you get to the office.

Australia's unemployed increased by 19,000 last month to a total of 111,884—2.7 per cent of the nation's work force.

Remembering yesteryears...

Five years ago Seventy-six business firms were lined up for a 16-weeks of "Hospitality Days," sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Garza County's first bale of 1956 cotton was brought in Aug. 12 by Joe Moore of the Graydon community. Frank Kribus of Wakeney, Kan., accepted a position as line coach for the Antelope football team; the Rev. Graydon Howell has accepted a call as pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church; The Post Dispatch wins the "best all-around" trophy in the West Texas Press Association's newspaper contest; Garza County farmers sign 210 contracts putting 678 acres into the soil bank; George M. Wilson was elected as choral music instructor for the Post schools; 75 horses are paraded in the center of Main St. from Broadway to the courthouse being beautified; contract was awarded for Garza County a section of the Post-Rails farm-to-market road; softball games were being played on Postex's newly lighted park; a 15-car caravan of Brown-field rodeo boosters put on a program to be three weeks ahead of schedule; Miss Wynonna Morris 4-H Club boys and agent Frank Easton attended the district camp-in in Lubbock.

J. Lee Bowen and M. K. Bingham became new owners of the Pickett Abstract Co.; Weidon Skinner resigned as Post High School principal; funeral services were held for Harvey Donald Moreman, a resident of Post for 37 years; the parkway in the center of Main St. from Broadway to the courthouse being beautified; contract was awarded for Garza County a section of the Post-Rails farm-to-market road; softball games were being played on Postex's newly lighted park; a 15-car caravan of Brown-field rodeo boosters put on a program to be three weeks ahead of schedule; Miss Wynonna Morris 4-H Club boys and agent Frank Easton attended the district camp-in in Lubbock.

New farm trailer law will save farmers and ranchers millions

House and Senate agricultural leaders said this week the new farm trailer law will save farmers and ranchers of Texas about $10 million annually by ending the license fee.

They said many farmers do not know how the law benefits them and were protesting the payment of the license fee. The new law will save them $10 million annually by ending the license fee. The new law will save them $10 million annually by ending the license fee.

Q. I'm a nonmilitary-connected World War II veteran. If I die will my widow and two children be eligible for pensions?

A. If your widow's income and your own income are within the limits, she may be eligible for a pension. Likewise, your children if unmarried and under 18 years of age may be eligible if they do not have income or estate above the limit. Pensions such as these are awarded in case of need.

Q. I am a World War II veteran. Can I still get educational benefits under the GI Bill?

A. All educational benefits for World War II veterans have expired except in rare exceptions. The nearest VA office can tell you if you are one of these.

'Inherit the Wind' is screen version of the famed 'Monkey Trial'

"Inherit the Wind," which has been widely acclaimed by leading motion picture critics wherever it played, will now be seen at the Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

"Inherit the Wind" was inspired by the famed Scopes "Monkey Trial" of 1925 in Dayton, Tenn. The United Artists release stars Spencer Tracy, Fredric March and Gene Kelly.

Tracy portrays the defense attorney, a character patterned after Clarence Darrow, who represented a young school teacher accused of teaching the theory of evolution in violation of a state law.

March is cast as the prosecutor, similar to William Jennings Bryan, after he traveled to Dayton to represent the state. Kelly is seen as a reporter, reminiscent of H. L. Mencken, who covered the original courtroom proceedings and dubbed the case the "Monkey Trial."

Board sets transfer pupil tuition fee at $203.95; four new teachers hired

The Post school board set a tuition charge of $203.95 Monday night for pupil transfers from other school districts. Based again this year on instructional costs only, the new tuition fee is an increase of $14.53 over last year's $189.42. The action came at the board's regular August meeting at which also accepted two faculty resignations, hired four new teachers and a part-time secretary to the junior high school principal, approved the amended budget for the 1961 school year, heard a discussion by board member Dr. John Carter on athletics below the high school level, hired a bus driver, and attended to other items on a crowded agenda that required three hours' meeting time. THE BOARD DECIDED NOT TO IN-crease the cost of bonded indebtedness in this year's tuition fee, which would have made the cost $242.63 instead of the $203.95 arrived at by using instructional costs only in the formula for deciding the cost per pupil. The formula is based on average daily attendance figures and instructional costs for the 1960-

61 school year. Faculty resignations accepted were those of Charles Clark, junior high school coach and high school world history teacher, and Mrs. Eunice Vitatoe, second grade teacher. The trustees elected Howard Carlyle of Lubbock as high school speech instructor, and his wife, Billie, as a teacher in the primary school. Wilburn Bigott was elected by the board to replace Clark, and Ike Trimble of Seminole was hired as vocational agriculture teacher. THE BOARD LAST WEEK had elected Gail Harris of Lamesa as vocational agriculture teacher, but he changed his mind about accepting the position here, Supt. R. T. Smith said. Bigott, a graduate of the University of Houston, is from Pasadena, Tex. Mrs. William St. John, whose husband teaches science here, was hired as part-time secretary to Junior High School Principal Glenn Whittenberg. In submitting the amended 1960-61 budget to the board for its approval, Supt. Smith told the trustees that the budget for the 1961-62 school year is being completed and that a public hearing on it will be set within the next few days—after it is approved by the board. IN HIS DISCUSSION on athletics below the high school level, Dr. Carter said he thinks the pupils are started too young in competitive sports and that this line of reasoning is also that of other medical men, educators and physical education people. Dr. Carter read excerpts from an editorial and other articles in medical journals urging that a wider program of physical education for all pupils of elementary and junior high ages be stressed in the schools instead of placing so much emphasis on contact sports. He also read excerpts from a statement prepared by the Travis County Medical Society in regard to contact sports below the high school level. The statement was to the effect that inter-school sports are not recommended for adolescent and pre-adolescent youngsters. Such games as touch and flag football, if properly supervised, are safe for youngsters below high school age, but not tackle football. DR. CARTER pointed out that the ratio of injuries among football players of high school age is one out of every five, and that many of these injuries are fractures. "I am sure that the injury ratio is higher among boys of junior high age," he said. He said he is of the opinion that if a boy is a natural athlete he will be able to develop his ability without having to go through pre-high school training in contact sports. Dr. Carter, in calling attention to the number of games scheduled for Post's 7th and 8th grade and freshman football teams for this season, said he believes such emphasis on football is too tiring both physically and mentally for boys of this age group. The result, he said, is that some of them fall behind in their classwork. "I AM NOT arguing that 'B' team and freshman football should not be maintained as a training ground for the varsity squad, but I don't think a freshman team (See SCHOOL BOARD, page 8)

Damage heavy in two accidents
Two highway accidents Tuesday, one on Highway 84 and the other on Highway 94, resulted in heavy damage to the vehicles involved, but in only minor injuries to one driver, Highway Patrolman Max Knox reports.

One of the Houston regional minor injuries when his automobile went out of control and overturned about 2 miles southeast of Post, Metzelaar on route to Houston after a trip to Albuquerque.

Accident occurred at 2:45 p. m. on Highway 84, near the intersection of Highway 94 and the highway, the patrolman reported.

The five-man board was to have elected a chairman at a meeting Tuesday afternoon, but the meeting was re-set for Monday when two board members failed to make an appearance.

Here to assist in the organization Tuesday was Aubrey Dalrymple of Lubbock, a representative of the State Soil Conservation Board

15-year-old admits break-ins at store

Two recent break-ins at the Corner Grocery & Market have been solved by sheriff's officers following the arrest of a 15-year-old boy here last Thursday morning by Deputy Sheriff Elton Corley. The juvenile, who Corley said admitted the break-ins a few hours after his arrest, was remanded to the custody of his grandfather, who lives at Aspermont, following a hearing yesterday morning before County Judge J. E. Parker, sitting as a juvenile judge in the case.

Corley said the youth, who is from Carlsbad, N. M., had been under surveillance by sheriff's officers for about a week. He had been employed part time at a drive in restaurant here.

Cooperation overcomes weekend water crisis

Post's water situation today was reported much improved by City Superintendent Henry Tate after the city reservoir was virtually emptied at 7 p. m. last Friday night.

At that time, Tate reported, the water pressure in the mains dropped to 25 pounds, the lowest in a number of years, and the reservoir

3rd Treasure Day to be Saturday

The third in the series of Treasure Day events being held by the Post Chamber of Commerce and 50 cooperating merchants will be at 4 p. m. Saturday on West Main in front of Tom Power Ford, Chamber president Wilf Scarborough has announced.

J. T. Shepherd, caretaker at Terrace Cemetery, won the $130 first prize at last Saturday's drawing. The prize had been increased to that amount from $100 when the owner of the first ticket drawn at the first Treasure Day event was not present to claim the prize.

First prize in Saturday's drawing will be $100. If the holder of the first ticket drawn is not present, a second ticket will be drawn for $70. If the holder of this ticket also is not present, a third draw will be made for $50.

New SCD board sets meeting for Monday

A second try at organizing the board of supervisors of the new Garza Soil Conservation District will be made Monday, Jack Gray, SCS work unit conservationist, said Tuesday.

The five-man board was to have elected a chairman at a meeting Tuesday afternoon, but the meeting was re-set for Monday when two board members failed to make an appearance.

was so low that a full stream of water wouldn't flow into the mains. "We are glad it didn't too," Tate said, "or we would have simply run out of water."

Tate said that the reservoir has now built back up steadily, thanks to the wonderful cooperation of local townspeople in cutting down their water of lawns and shrubs.

Water pressure was back up this week to 65 pounds. He said that water can now be used on lawns and shrubs if the "folks will just give us a little help and not overdo their watering."

Tate estimated the reservoir now held enough to get the community through the remainder of the week in good shape.

It was within three and one-half feet of the top of the reservoir Wednesday morning.

The city superintendent said townspeople responded quickly to last week's appeal for water conservation and the cooperation enabled the city to get past the crisis and start building up the reservoir up again.

Oil operator filed on for delinquent taxes

The Close City Independent School District has filed a delinquent tax suit in district court here against J. Paul Karcher, Midland oil operator.

The suit is for $1,516.32, including delinquent taxes of $1,236.30, penalty and interest of $142.17 and attorney fees of $137.85.

Man injured in attack by cow

Tom Cade, about 65, of Aspermont was brought to Garza Memorial Hospital late Tuesday night after being attacked and seriously injured by a cow in a pasture about a mile south of Clairmont.

Cade, who was attacked by the cow while he was doctoring the animal's sick calf, lay in the pasture for more than six hours with a back injury that prevented him from moving.

He was found by members of the family and other searchers, who began looking for him when his riderless horse showed up at his home.

Cade, who was conscious all the time, but unable to move, told a physician that the attack occurred about 4 o'clock. He was found about 10 o'clock and brought to the hospital in a Mason & Co. ambulance summoned to the scene.

Cade is reported to have suffered dislocated vertebrae in his back, severe bruises and other injuries from the attacking cow. His condition was reported satisfactory yesterday afternoon at the hospital here.

Rotarians hear of Tech's grid outlook

Area football fans will have the opportunity to see four out of the top-rated five Southwestern Conference football teams during Tech's home 1961 grid schedule, Rotarians were told Tuesday by Tech Athletic Director Polk Robinson and two of Tech's assistant football coaches.

Robinson called the 1961 home slate—which will bring Texas A&M, TCU, Baylor and Rice to Lubbock—the finest in the school's history and he pointed out that the conference as a whole is rated stronger this year than it has been in over 15 years.

While refusing to guess where Tech would finish, Robinson predicted that the Raiders will be "a well disciplined ball club and will be respected."

He praised Football Coach J. T. King for "the remarkable job he

Oklahoman shows top stallion at 13th horse show

Sporty Pedro, aged stallion owned by Lowell Mason of Hobart, Okla., won grand champion stallion honors Saturday in the 13th annual Garza County Quarter Horse Show at Post Stampede Rodeo arena.

The trophy for the grand champion mare went to Tidy Lu, a three-year-old mare owned by H. L. Thornton of Clyde.

The grand champion gelding was Home Stretch, owned by Homer F. Guinn of Tahoka.

Reserve champions were: Stallion, Leo Bingo, owned by J. B. McNaughton of Vega; mare, Skip's Robin, owned by Joe Kirk Fulton of Lubbock, and gelding, Skinny Boy, owned by Willis Bennett of Gail.

While the number of horses entered in this year's show did not come up to the number entered in the 1959 and 1960 shows, the quality of the animals was believed to be the highest in the show's history. That was the consensus of show officials, judges and representatives of the various associations under whose approval the show was held.

The NCHA open cutting horse contest, which was the show's final event, was won by Ruthless, owned by Louis Brooks of Sweetwater. The senior cutting contest was won by Shiny Bar, owned by Willis Bennett of Gail, and the junior cutting championship went to Galway Bay, owned by S. R. Spires of Buckhorn, N. M.

Johnny Burson of Silverton judged the halter division of the show, and Novis N. Rodgers and J. E. Birdwell the performance division. Jack Johnson was the announcer.

Others assisting in conducting the show included Bill Long, George "Scotty" Samson, Mrs. Ruth Ann Young, Mrs. Don Long, Nancy Hart, Hinton Fluitt, Boy Hart, Pete Morgan, Ira "Dad" Greenfield, Nathan Little, and a number of others.

When man collapses on down street

SWPS employe's training in first aid comes to rescue

Quick administration of artificial respiration by Travis Thomas on a downtown sidewalk here Tuesday afternoon probably saved the life of Bob Wisdom, KUKO radio station salesman-announcer.

The 29-year-old Wisdom collapsed in front of the Gulf Wholesale office in the 100 block on West Main about 2:15 p. m. after twisting an ankle, which had been damaged years before by a football injury.

Thomas, repairman for Southwestern Public Service Co., saw the crowd gathering around the fallen man while driving by and stopped to see if he could help.

He said when he came up to Wisdom the radio man had stopped breathing. He immediately began applying artificial respiration while an ambulance was called.

Wisdom still wasn't breathing when loaded into the ambulance and James Minor put the oxygen mask on Wisdom and continued to force the oxygen into Wisdom's lungs during the trip to the hospital.

Inside the emergency room, Wisdom twice again quit breathing, but oxygen and respiration restored him to normal breathing in about 15 minutes.

Wisdom made a rapid recovery. He was dismissed from the hospital early Tuesday night and was back at work Wednesday, but "taking it easy."

For Thomas, who learned artificial respiration as part of his utility company training, it was the second time in an emergency he was called upon to save a life.

At Seminole several years ago, a repairman fell off a 40-foot pole. The unconscious man was given artificial respiration for ten minutes by Thomas until an ambulance arrived. He was unconscious for a month before recovering.

ASC survey made on farm damage

A survey of heavily rain-damaged farm facilities to determine if Garza County qualifies for emergency federal aid administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service was conducted yesterday in sections of the county.

Here to make the survey was N. B. F. McGuire, program specialist for the ASC. He was accompanied on the tour of damaged areas by Avery Moore Jr., chairman of the county ASC committee; Emmarhe I. Hartel, county office manager, and Don Tatum, performance supervisor.

The group visited the Grassburr, Crossroads, Verbena and Justiceburg areas in its survey of the damage, which was caused by rains totaling more than 30 inches in some sections between May 28 and early July.

ASC officials here said McGuire told them a report will be forthcoming soon on whether or not the county qualifies for the assistance, which would provide for federal participation of 50 per cent of the cost of needed repairs to tank dams, terraces and other farm facilities.

Open house Sunday in Fred Robinson addition

Henley Construction, Inc., will hold a Sunday afternoon open house, from 1 until 9 p. m. at its new "show home" in the new Fred Robinson residential addition in the northwest edge of Post.

The 1,187 square foot home, which contains three bedrooms and paneled den, is at 704 Chancellory Lane in the new 42 home site addition.

Horace Henley, the builder, invites everybody interested to come see the new home Sunday in a full page announcement on page 13 of today's Dispatch.

The home has attached garage, central heating, ceramic bath, tile floors, carpeted living room, aluminum windows, brick trim and is fully insulated.

Henley points out the entire Fred Robinson addition has been approved for both FHA and GI financed homes with suitable restrictions to protect home purchasers.

Henley announced he would complete homes within six weeks of loan approval and would build "by our plans or yours."

Red Raider club to be organized

Efforts were being made here this week to organize a Post Red Raider Club in support of the athletic scholarship program at Texas Tech.

Purpose of the club will be to finance an athletic scholarship for one boy this year.

Similar community Red Raider clubs already have been formed in many surrounding towns, including Slaton and Tahoka.

Open house event is set at Junior High

Open house at the newly remodeled junior high school building will be held from 2 p. m. until 6 p. m. Sunday, Sept. 3, Supt. R. T. Smith announced.

The summer remodeling project at the building, which, for more than 30 years was the Post High School building, is rapidly nearing completion, Smith said.

The superintendent said the public is extended a cordial invitation to attend the open house.
