FACTS OF LIFE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Jimmy was so fascinated by his new goldfish that we thought he'd forgotten about the other one. Then, suddenly, he looked up and asked, “Mommy, will this one die too?”

I tried, as gently as I could, to tell him that, in time, all things die. And as I did so, I realized how valuable it is for a child to have even as small a pet as a goldfish. For in observing a pet — even in suffering the loss of one — a child begins to learn a great deal about life, in a natural and understandable way.

But I warned myself, it is important to realize that he is learning only the visual, material part of the lesson. In order to understand what he is seeing, and what he is feeling, he must be taught its spiritual meaning. This is why religious education is so important. That is why Jimmy attends church with us ... and he'll start church school, next fall.

Despite toxoid, undercurrent of diphtheria still exists in Texas

Despite the fact that an effective diphtheria toxoid has been available to everyone for many years, there is still an undercurrent of diphtheria cases occurring in Texas. At the end of September, 1962, there had been seven deaths in Texas attributed to diphtheria. In 1961, because of a series of isolated outbreaks, the death toll from this disease reached 23.

By the end of the first week in December, 1962, 80 cases had been reported to the State Health Department's Communicable Diseases Division.

For the same period in 1961, the total was more than doubled—201 cases.

State Health Department authorities speculate that the reason for this undercurrent of diphtheria cases is the fact that victims had not been immunized.

Most pediatricians suggest as a matter of course that their very young patients receive the diphtheria toxoid in combination with other vaccines and that periodic boosters be administered according to a schedule prescribed by your family doctor.

Immunity against the disease can be determined with the Schick

The disease occurs most frequently among children between the ages of one and ten, but can strike an entire family unprotected with diphtheria toxoid.

It is spread from sneezing and coughing of a convalescent or other carrier, or less frequently, from contaminated articles. Diphtheria may develop within two to seven days following exposure.

Common symptoms include a sore throat, fever, drowsiness, headache, and vomiting. If such symptoms occur, and there is a chance that the person had been exposed, a physician should be called immediately.

The disease is not only dangerous and sometimes fatal, but damaging

11 contracts awarded on Slaton City Hall

SLATON — Eleven contracts on bids totaling $16,052.40 have been awarded for remodeling of Slaton's City Hall, on which work already is under way.

after effects can be serious and long lasting, or even permanent.

Immediate treatment is necessary to avert possible disaster. Medical care under close supervision of a doctor should be maintained until the patient is pronounced well.

Letters to the Editor...

Dear Editor:

The Post School District has a financial problem to be sure. This problem is of our own making. We haven't grown as fast as we needed to. This problem is not the responsibility of any of our rural districts. I feel our duties as trustees are to try to improve our school system to such an extent that they will choose our school when they decide to consolidate. I feel any attempt by this school board, as a group or as individuals, to force the issue of consolidation is completely out of order.

The 64 transfer students in question are scattered through our system and do not create a problem. They are not free loaders. We are spending more money than we are making, this is the problem. Certainly if these districts choose to consolidate with us, it would be wonderful.

I will not be a part of any attempt to use these students in a consolidation issue. First, this is not my way of doing things. Second, this is the best way I know for us to lose the people we need most. I sincerely believe our school can offer these children a good education and we need them in our school. These transfer students are the best possible salesmen we can get. Where they attend school, is where Mother and Dad's interest will surely be.

I just can't see any reason to tear our school apart, just because we are short on money. We have a good school system. I am sure a minor change can be made here and there and improve it. Probably we will always have room for improvement.

This can be a case where everybody loses. If you want to see the Post School System limited in growth, cutting these children out is the place to start. Cutting them out of our system won't cut our taxes one bit. In fact, it will probably mean just the opposite.

Attempting to force the issue will probably force them to consolidate with another school. They do have a choice in this matter.

If the present proposed policies are followed to any extent, this school system will fall apart in a very short time. If you want these so-called improvements supported, you had better get yourself another trustee, because they are going to get everything but support from me.

Sincerely, Russell Wilks Jr.

Bible Thoughts

By HERB SMITH

To my distaste, some refer to me as "Reverend". I submit the following as a basis for not wearing this honorable title:

1. The meaning of "Reverend" is to be "feared, revered". I don't want one soul to fear me. Respect? Yes, but not fear me. Nor do I want anyone to bow down to me in name or otherwise.
2. The term is found in Psalms 111:9 and nowhere else in the Bible. "How revered is His name." This refers to God. Only God is to be feared and revered. I do not want to be called revered, or to be put on equality with God.
3. There is no record of the Apostles or preachers in the New Testament ever being called Reverend.
4. A preacher isn't a SPECIAL christian. He shouldn't place himself above others for he is no better, and sometimes not as good as other christians. Peter felt this way. Acts 10:35-35. Cornelius made worshipful reverence to him, but Peter raised him up, saying, Get up; I myself am also a man.

TREES FOR WINDBREAK PLANTINGS
The Texas Forest Service is now taking orders for trees for windbreak plantings, according to Bill Smith, Extension forester at Texas A&M College. These trees will not be sold for ornamental or landscape plantings, Smith says, but an ample supply is available for windbreak plantings.

Order forms may be obtained from county agents, Soil Conservation District supervisors, ASC Offices and district offices of the Texas Forest Service. Or, you may get them by writing to the Director, Texas Forest Service, College Station, Texas.

Trees for windbreak plantings will be shipped from the Forest Service nursery beginning in February, so if you are interested, Smith suggests you get your order in right away.

USE FERTILIZERS PROPERLY
Here is an idea from Soil Chemist Bill Bennett at Texas A&M College that may make or save you money. He says that using the proper combinations of fertilizers in the right amounts at the proper time can increase your crop production and net income. There are other factors, of course, such as good seed, good seedbed and weather conditions, but the key to the situation is balanced fertility.

The way to start on a program of balanced fertility, Bennett says, is with a soil test. It's pretty hard to tell what your soil needs for maximum production until you know what it is in. That is where the soil test comes in. Why not see your county agent and ask him for instructions on how to take and send in a soil test. The money you spend for a soil test will be the best fertilizer money you spend.

SCREWORM BARRIER EXTENDED
Officials of the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program have announced that the artificial barrier of sterile screwworm flies along the international border in Mexico has been extended from Laredo to above Del Rio. A 25-mile-wide strip from Brownsville to Laredo has been seeded with sterile flies since early last month.

The barrier zone, which is eventually expected to extend from Brownsville to the New Mexico-

It's the Law in TEXAS

LOCAL RULE
Under our dual system of government, two sets of law—state and federal—may govern what we do.

State laws have traditionally governed certain fields: for example, the law of wills, estates, and transfers, of property upon death. Each state has its own rules on death transfers, how to make wills, and what happens when a person dies without a will.

But the federal government has some power in this field, especially when federal money went to the decedent or when it involved a national policy.

In a dispute between the United States and a State over a decedent's estate, the U. S. Supreme Court set forth some of the federal powers: A war veteran died in a veterans hospital without a will or heirs. He had some personal property. Under the state law property escheated to the state. Under federal law his property goes to the U. S.

The U. S. Supreme Court handed the estate to the U. S. under its war powers. When patients die without wills all their property goes to keep up veterans' hospitals and recreation programs.

Other veterans' laws have cut into the states' property laws. Federal law governs G. I. insurance. They cut off community property rights, even though premiums came from community funds.

As a rule people who live in federal enclaves within a state must obey state laws. Thus, Texas law governs civilians on military and scientific areas, or workers on a federal reservation as to wills, property, marriage and divorce. In the case of crimes, there may sometimes be concurrent jurisdiction.

But the federal government may pass laws to avoid conflict between state laws and a national policy.

DPS is urging early vehicle safety checks

"Our weather is getting worse all the time and April 15 will come before you know it," Capt. Alan Johnson, Texas Department of Public Safety Supervisor, commented this week.

He was talking about the time left for Texas motorists to get 1963 vehicle safety inspections. The seven and one-half month period for getting inspections is more than half finished. Inspections started Sept. 1 and will continue through April 15.

Since the period is so long, Johnson stated, no allowances are made for bad weather. He pointed out that inspections may not be made when streets are wet. "From now until April 15, we usually have a siege of bad weather in this part of the state which eliminates many inspection days," Captain Johnson said.

He also pointed out that inspection or vehicles now will insure that they are safer for the rest of the winter driving period, when good lights, brakes and other equipment are so vital.

It's My Turn ...

—By MRS. C.

Since I started writing this column some 15 months ago, several women have suggested to me from time to time that I invite guest columnists to take over once in a while.

So consider this an invitation. If any of you have anything on your mind you would like to air in public, write your column and bring it to me. There is only one requirement—you have to sign your name and have it published right along with your writings. But don't let that scare you out. If you have something to say, write it down and get it off your chest.

I've got a couple 'things on my chest tonight. One is the big fat raise in social security payments. If you get a weekly check, you were properly stunned last week. If you get paid every two weeks, I'm sorry I've spoiled your anticipation of payday. Just in case any of you have been falling for any of this tax cut the politicians are talking about, forget it. They'll have to go quite a bit to make any tax cut make up for the tax raise you have already started out 1963 with.

I guess everyone has complained enough about the postal rate increase, but I sort of feel like the Postmaster General is really rubbing it in by putting out such a sickly looking 5 cent stamp. Poor old George (I didn't even recognize him) looks bluer than any one has any right to look.

I can gleefully report that we have a hole in the pavement in front of our alley. What on earth caused it? Is my theory right and mud and water standing on streets is no good for them?

It's a fine state of affairs when a line gets dropped from your column right in your own (community property, you know) newspaper. Last week, near the end where I was complaining about the cat that came to sleep, a line was dropped. What I said (in case you are interested) was: We don't mind the cat sleeping on our patio, we just don't like cats. (I guess it (?) read our column cause it hasn't been back.)

I wonder if we didn't have a first in our school system last week. As everyone knows, Ella Mae Hudman teaches in the Elementary School but it's not every mother who had a son teaching high school chemistry for a couple of days last week. Mr. Boase, the chemistry teacher, was ill and Victor Hudman, home from college, did some pinch hitting. Talk about proud parents!

Things are getting back to normal at The Dispatch after all those holidays in the middle of the week. This will be our first full week in what seems like months, but guess it is only two (weeks, that is). Clubs are starting to meet, the college students are all gone, showers are being held, babies are not being born and weddings are upcoming. Life has jumped back to normal everyday humdrum happenings—but more holidays will be coming and soon.

Jan. 29 is Kansas Day. I'm sure you are all interested in that and we will be open along with everything else in town and in Kansas.

TEEN TOWN MEETING

Byron Havine, chairman of the board for the Youth Center, has called a meeting of the adult and youth board to be held next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the youth center building.

CLOSE CITY HD CLUB

The Close City Home Demonstration Club will meet Tuesday, Jan. 15, at 2:30 p. m. in the school lunchroom. All interested women are urged to attend.

Good Neighbor policy believed in at Graham

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS

The Graham community is made up of people who still believe in the good neighbor policy as was demonstrated Tuesday when they gathered at the Ambrose Parrish farm to pull his cotton.

Those who took pullers were: Mack Ledbetter, Bob Lusk, Melvin Stewart, Joe B. Taylor, W. W. Johnson, Elvus Davis, Harlan Morris, Harley Wallace, Elmer Cowdrey, Delmer Cowdrey, Bobby Cowdrey and Lonnie Peel. Helpers were: Ray McClellan, Curtis Williams, Quannah Maxey, Bryan Maxey, Clarence Martin, Junior Morris, E. E. Peel, James Morris, Wesley Morris, Grover Mason and Stanley Jones. G. M. Davis was given the job of straw boss.

Fifty-nine bales were tagged at the gin. J. W. McMahon, manager of the Graham Gin, had the cotton ginned at it was brought in as most of the men had cotton at home to pull and needed their trailers. Mrs. Parrish and her daughter-in-law sent coffee to the workers.

RECENT GUESTS

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams Jr. were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Lee Smith and son of Garland who spent the New Year's holiday in Post visiting his parents.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower was born in Denison, Texas.

STRAY DOGS ARE PROBLEM AGAIN

The dogs are about to take over the town again, Chief of Police Elton Corley said yesterday.

In fact, Corley said, the stray dog problem has once again grown to such proportions that the city will resume operations of its "dog wagon" and pound within the next few days. Neither has been in operation for several weeks.

The police chief warns dog owners to comply with the city dog ordinance, including keeping their pets on their own premises, unless they want them picked up and taken to the dog pound.

Numerous packs of stray dogs are roaming the town, with many of them congregating on the school grounds, where they are a hazard to children, the police chief said.

Credit Bureau on firm footing

Arnold Parrish is due a whole lot of credit up and down Main Street for the fine job he turned in during 1962 as president of the Retail Merchants Association of Post.

During his year as head of the fledgling organization, the Retail Merchants have literally put their credit operations on their feet and into the "black".

The year has seen the local credit group become successfully affiliated with the Associated Credit Bureaus of America, thus opening avenues of credit information from all parts of the country.

A public relations advertising program by the RMA has helped the local consumer come to a much better understanding of the importance of maintaining a good credit rating and thus opening to him or her credit accounts wherever they might be desired.

The credit bureau works both ways—to benefit both merchant and consumer. The folks who maintain a good credit standing here in Post through prompt payment of obligations can rest assured that a good credit rating will follow them wherever they might go throughout the country, quickly opening the doors to credit wherever they might ask for it.

Under Parrish's administration, too, the Retail Merchants group, acting jointly as the Chamber of Commerce Retail Committee, have been responsible for bringing merchants together in a number of successful downtown promotions, which also worked both ways.

By working together, local merchants offered combined bargain opportunities in many stores.

Time again for school census

January is the month of the annual school census in the Post Independent School District—and in all other Texas school districts, for that matter. Once again every patron is asked to cooperate to the fullest extent in seeing that every scholastic is counted.

The chief aim of the school census, of course, is to count all children of school age. Data received from the census will be used in projecting need for school facilities and for this reason all pre-school children will be included in the count.

Only in the more populous counties are census takers sent out to enumerate the scholastics. In at the same time. This enabled customers on a single trip to downtown Post to take advantage of as many bargains as they desired.

As an outgrowth of this merchant cooperation, a downtown system of permanent outdoor loudspeakers were purchased and installed through merchant donations to give Post the distinction of being the only known town of its size anywhere with music for the shoppers.

It has been a truly highly successful year for the Retail Merchants Association and opens the way for the development of an even broader program of merchant cooperation to the benefit of the entire community.

The "spade year" is over. A solid base has been built.

Arnold received a big assist from Tom Power, chairman of the promotions committee, and the many merchants who worked so diligently on working out the promotions or who cooperated, with plans once announced.

The general reaction to all of this from the shoppers' standpoint has been highly favorable.

The presidency of the RMA passed last week with the coming of the new year into another capable pair of hands, those of Victor Hudman. Victor already has named his committees and at the first luncheon session of the RMA for 1963 last Thursday announced his plans for the coming year, which will include a membership drive, an organizational budget, both of which should put RMA on the firm financial footing it now deserves.—JC

Garza and most of the other sparsely populated counties, the census will be taken on forms sent home by the students. Parents are urged to fill out and return these census blanks promptly.

Parents of pre-school age children who will be of school age by Sept. 1, 1963 and who do not have other children in school to bring home the census blanks are requested to contact the superintendent's office or the office of any of the school principals.

It is important to our school system that every scholastic in the county is enumerated in the current census.—CD

Youth on wheels... too early?

We don't rightfully know how many persons were charged in either Justice of the Peace court or the city court here during 1962 with not having a driver's license, but we would guess the total would number well over 100.

But few such charges that we know of were made against youngsters legally too young to drive.

If the law is to be administered fairly to one and all, these should not be overlooked either.

How widespread the practice is of youngsters too young to legally drive driving in this area we don't know. Some tell us it's a considerable one.

We don't recall exactly where we read it recently, but some writer was comparing the dangers of today's civilization with that of our forefathers. He said the danger was about even to brave Indian attacks and cross the Great Plains to the west coast a little more than a century ago by covered wagon, or to drive a modern, high speed automobile down a modern highway with only a few inches or a few feet of pavement separating the car you are in with one approaching head-on at a tremendous speed. We bet you never thought of such a comparison; certainly we hadn't. But the danger is there and the comparison seems highly accurate.

Youth is on wheels today—usually years too early—because of many things. One is because youth wants to be. Another is because parents are too lenient due to the "transportation chore" involved if Junior or Mary doesn't drive. A third is because parents always want the best for their youngsters, even when it's not best for them. A fourth is that the youngsters have a way of cajoling what they want, one way or another.

It's a problem and modern auto-while insurance rates attest to just how great a problem it has become.

If youngsters below the legal driving age are competent to assume the responsibility of driving the family car, then we'd suggest that everybody pitch in and get the law changed. And if they're not—well, they shouldn't be driving and they should be checked regularly as to whether or not they have a driver's license in their possession when they're behind the wheel.

It ought to be the same law for everybody.

And we'll bet this editorial viewpoint will arouse far more indignation from parents whose teens do drive and shouldn't, than support from the rest of the folks. That's the way the ball bounces in this life, so we have become a bit philosophical about it.—JC

There's also big job at home

The Peace Corps, which most everyone will admit has functioned admirably abroad, might do just as well at home.

In fact, the suggestion has been made that our development of a domestic counterpart of the Peace Corps should be carefully considered, and the new Congress now converging on Washington might do just that.

If the Peace Corps is able to work wonders in underprivileged countries, then its domestic counterpart should be able to do the same among the underprivileged people of our own country. Few there are who will argue the point that there is plenty that could be done in our own country.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Some home people are prone to point to neighboring towns, hating or coming right out and saying how much greener the grass is across the fence. Sometimes they are right, but most times they are wrong. Even some Lubbock folks have been known to come to Tahoka to buy groceries. Some Lamesa and Big Spring ladies buy clothing in Tahoka. There are people in Terry, Gaines and Yoakum counties who bank in Tahoka. So, you see, the thing works both ways.—Frank Hill in The Lynn County Leader.

half overtime, there never would have been a trip made on the Mayflower.—Harold Hudson in The Ochiltree County Herald.

Watching old movies on late television schedules detracts from some of the intended pleasure when the audience is the approximate age of the deceased players. A more appreciative reception might result a few generations hence, when pulling the covers off the past would be a less grim experience.—Douglas Meador in Matarador Tribune.

When you stop to think of it, an income tax return is a whole lot like a girdle. If you put the wrong figure in either one you may get pinched.—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

As usual our New Year's resolutions are made in good faith and broken accordingly.—James Hill in The Knox County Herald.

THIS COLUMN IS being written Monday, Jan. 7, and my first thought is that we're on the seventh day of the new year 1963 and the prizes in the First Baby Contest still are unclaimed. That doesn't sound as if Garza County is contributing to the predicted population "explosion," does it?

The fact that no baby has yet been born in Garza County to claim the 1963 prizes reminds me of what comedian Herb Shriner (remember him?) once said about beauty contests. He said they used to have beauty contests in his home town, but that they stopped holding them because no one ever won.

BUT, SINCE the rules and regulations of The Dispatch's First Baby Contest set no time limit, we're going to have a winner one of these days.

The man up the street says it isn't the ups and downs of life that bother a guy. It's the jerks.

THERE ARE A couple of "big shows" starting this week in Austin, Tex., and Washington, D. C. In Austin, the Legislature of the State of Texas is convening for the 58th time, and in Washington, the 88th Congress convened Wednesday. In connection with the opening of the 88th Congress, there was something in a wire service story in Monday morning's paper that set my teeth on edge. An influential GOP house member was quoted as saying in discussing the balance of legislative power, "Why should we help Kennedy make a record to run on in 1964?" Such a statement makes me wonder how many other congressmen will be putting politics ahead of the nation's problems in this session of Congress. I am a Democrat, but if the situation had been reversed and a Democratic congressman had made the same statement about a GOP president, it would have sounded just as appalling.

It is said that one finger on the right hand of a neighbor of ours has been worn down nearly an inch since the advent of the dial telephones in Post.

JANUARY IS March of Dimes month in Post and elsewhere throughout the nation. But did you know that some areas now have a "march" in connection with a fund-raising campaign? The new one is the "53 Minute March," conducted by Cerebral Palsy Associations in many places. The march derives its name from the fact that a cerebral palsied child is born in the United States every 53 minutes.

One of my friends, who doesn't care much for sports, says the new year doesn't really start until all the bowl games have been played.

A FRIEND OF the Woody and Dixie Billings family, former Post residents, had a post-holiday letter from Dixie, who says they are real happy with their home in Burlington, Vt., where they have been for about a year and a half. Dixie says it is cold, but beautiful, in Vermont; that their daughter, Cheryl, is a member of the high school student council and that a younger daughter, Jan, has learned to ice skate.

In winning their second first place tournament trophy of the season Saturday night at Slaton, the Post High School girls basketball team, the Does, got big support from a large delegation of Post fans, who almost filled one side of the Slaton gym. That gym by the way, probably was one of the noisiest places in West Texas Saturday night while the Does were defeating the Slaton girls for the tournament championship. It's good to see the fans here support the teams, both boys and girls, by their attendance at out-of-town games. There were also large numbers of Post fans at the Thursday and Friday sessions of the Slaton tournament.

"I need a holiday," said the pretty young cashier. "I'm not looking my best."

"Nonsense," said the manager. "It isn't nonsense," retorted the pretty young cashier. "The men are beginning to count their change."

A British psychologist claims that happy people swear more than unhappy ones. Over 2,000,000 Christmas cards go astray each year because of mistakes in postage or address (that's probably why you didn't get mine).

Bill Edwards, owner of General Builders, organized this Post construction firm July 14, 1961. The firm's office is located at 209 Mohawk in Westgate Terrace Addition.

Bill was born in St. Louis, Mo., March 16, 1919. His wife's name is Maxine. They have four children, Sharon, a junior at SMU, Lynn, Ginny and Julie.

A member of the First Methodist Church, Bill served on the school trustees of the Post Independent School District, and is a member of Masonic Lodge No. 1058, the American Legion Post, the Post Rotary Club.

During World War II, he served in the U. S. Army as a master sergeant. He was schooled at Dallas, Fort Worth, Phoenix, Olney, where he played halfback for the Olney Cubs, and was graduated from Gallup, N. M.

He is an ardent sports fan and his hobbies are fishing and hunting.

After establishing General Builders in 1961, he formed a real estate department Aug. 8, 1962, and is a licensed real estate broker. From 1959 until 1961 he was associated with the Greenfield Hardware Co. and Edwards Appliances, Post's Frigidaire dealer.

General Builders reorganized the Westgate Terrace Addition development in 1961, a new residential area for larger homes.

Bill is convinced there is a real market for smaller quality homes in Post, however, and this open house for his first Holiday House—the Dover—is his method of introducing this fine three-bedroom award-winning house to this area.

City to purchase new auto, truck

The Post city council voted at its regular January meeting Monday night to accept the bids of Tom Power, Inc., and Collier Chevrolet-Olds Co., respectively, on the purchase of a new truck and police car.

The council also voted to raise the salary of City Policeman F. M. Reep from $300 to $325 a month; discussed increased lighting along the Main Street business section; voted to again employ Pritchard & Abbott as tax valuation engineers; discussed the collection of delinquent paying lien payments; heard a report from Mayor Powell Shytle that the city-county radio operation will have to be used solely for police duty beginning next October; authorized the mayor to inform the Public Housing Authority that it will close a short street in one of the designated housing areas, and heard the report of Chief of Police Elton Corley on December police department operations.

The Tom Power, Inc., bid on the new truck was $2,600, the lowest of two bids submitted. The new two-ton Ford truck will be used by the city's water and street department. The present truck will be transferred to the sanitation department for use in trash pickups.

The bid of Collier Chevrolet-Olds Co. on the new police car was $2,190, also the lowest of two bids submitted. The new 1963 Chevrolet will be a special police unit with automatic transmission.

The council voted to raise the monthly salary of City Policeman Reep to $325 effective with his Jan. 31 salary check. Reep has been a member of the police force nearly three months and is doing a good job, the council was told by Police Chief Corley.

The brief discussion on better street lighting in the downtown business section came after Councilman J. B. Potts stated that a number of business men had requested it.

It was pointed out that the present lumen-capacity of the lights on Main Street are the maximum of any now in use here, but that a request will be made to Ted R. Hibbs, local manager for Southwestern Public Service Company, to have a company engineer survey the need for more lighting.

"We don't want to have to install additional light standards if we can help it," Mayor Shytle said. To do so, he explained, would increase congestion along Main Street.

Pritchard & Abbott, the tax valuation engineers, will be re-employed for this year at the same rate they have been paid in the past, the council said.

The discussion on the collection

Postal receipts gain during '62

Post's postal receipts for 1962 were $48,298.09 — an increase of $994.35 over the 1961 total of $47,303.74. O. V. McMahon, assistant postmaster, announced Friday.

Reporting on the local post office's Christmas business, McMahon said an increase of about 20 percent in packages was noted, but that "perhaps there was a decrease in Christmas card mailings."

Beginning Saturday, all money orders at the local post office are now being machine printed at no increase in costs, which includes insurance, McMahon pointed out. Postal rates, announced several months ago, went into effect here Monday. First class mail went up a penny from four cents to five cents, cards went up from three to four cents, and air mail from seven to eight cents per letter.

"Our annual total of receipts for 1962 would have been somewhat higher," McMahon pointed out, "but many firms in the last part of December were not buying at the normal rate so as not to have a large postage inventory on hand when the rates increased."

Bank deposits in jump here

Bank deposits at the First National Bank here stood at $8,413,413 at the close of 1962, an increase of over $700,000 from the $7,713,987 deposit total on Dec. 31.

A report of the bank's condition appears on page 12 of this Dispatch, was made in response to a call on Dec. 28 with deposits standing at $8,078,693.

of paving lien payments came after Mayor Shytle told the council that Mrs. Irene Rodgers would undertake collection for the city if an agreeable rate of payment or salary could be fixed. The council authorized the mayor to discuss with Mrs. Rodgers a rate of pay or salary for the job.

Mayor Shytle said the county, which has charge of the city-county radio operation, had been informed by the Federal Communications Commission. (See CITY COUNCIL, Page 5)

POSTINGS

It's been such a hectic news day today (Wednesday) at least for my corner of the news room, that there hasn't been time to go column item hunting. But we do want to congratulate Susan Tijerina Menchaca, Little Garza County 1963, and her proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Menchaca, for winning the annual "first baby contest." She arrived just "at the right time" for a front page story in this week's Dispatch.

The cotton crop should hit the 20,000 bale mark at the county's gins today and should wind up somewhere about 22,000 to 23,000 bales, which certainly isn't bad for the crop we looked like we had in a dry late year only a few short weeks ago.

On the business news front we want to call attention to the big $40,000 consolidation sale which opened this morning at Dunlap's and will also recommend the Marshall-Brown and Hundley clearance sales to the bargain hunters.

Bill Edwards of General Builders takes up all of page 3 to explain why he is so proud of his new award-winning Holiday House show home, the Dover, which passed its final FHA inspection last Thursday and will be shown furnished to all of those who are interested in a bargain small house with good design. It's located at 204 West 11th Street. But turn to page 3 to read all about it. If you like it, too, Bill (See POSTINGS, Page 8)

18,554 bales reported ginned

Cotton harvest heads into 'home stretch'

Garza County's 1962 cotton harvest headed into the home stretch today with 18,554 bales ginned up to mid-afternoon yesterday at the county's seven gins.

Another 1,388 estimated bales were in the gin yards when The Dispatch's weekly gin check was made, which would bring the total out of the fields to 19,932.

Some experienced county cotton observers predicted the harvest is now 80 to 85 per cent complete and estimated the total bales for Garza's 1962 crop will be between 20,000 and 25,000 bales—but closer to the former than the latter.

A high wind out of the northwest, forerunning of a cold front, closed down the Planter's Gin at Post, the Pleasant Valley Gin, and the Close City gin because of fire hazards and had the Basinger Gin at Southland down most of the day for cleanup to prevent fire hazards. It resumed ginning at mid-afternoon.

Most gins expect the harvest to be completed by next week if good weather continues to hold.

For a year in which rainfall was below normal, the season late, and the lint heavy, the 1962 cotton crop is turning out much better than expected two months ago.

It will still be below the record high of 1961 when over 27,000 bales were ginned.

The individual gin reports:

Planter's Gin: 2,965 bales ginned to date, shutdown at 2 a. m. yesterday because of wind, estimated 180 bales on the yard, still going round the clock.

Storie Gin: 1,351 bales to date, 3 bales on yard, still ginning yesterday without fire danger, harvest practically over in area, another week to get in scatterings.

Graham Co-op Gin: 3,051 bales ginned, 290 bales on yard, down two hours yesterday morning due to wind. Harvest about two-thirds complete in area with another 1,000 to 1,500 bales expected. A lot of farmers finished, some nearly done, and others with a ways to go.

Close City Co-op Gin: 2,537 bales ginned to date, 120 on yard, shutdown Wednesday by fire danger. Most of cotton in area should be in by weekend if weather holds, with few more bales expected next week.

Pleasant Valley Gin: 2,240 bales ginned, 70 on yard, another week to two weeks will see area harvest complete.

Basinger Gin: 4,173 bales ginned to date, from 500 to 550 bales on yard, shutdown yesterday morning and early afternoon for gin cleanup. Another week or so should see area's harvest complete.

Hackberry Gin: 4,560 bales to date, only half of which are counted in gin totals as Garza cotton, 400 more bales on yard. About 400 to 500 more bales expected. It should be over in about a week.

Susan Menchaca first Garza New Year baby

Little Garza County 1963 is Susan Tijerina Menchaca, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miguel (Mike) Menchaca, 109 East Seventh Street.

She was born at 7:56 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 8, in Garza Memorial Hospital to win the annual first baby contest sponsored by the hospital and some dozen progressive Post merchants.

Her winnings include five days of free hospital care for mother and child, worth approximately $100, and a wide variety of gifts from merchants.

She was one of the latest arriving contest winners on record. But she arrived a day earlier than the 1960 winner, Karla Kay Peppers.

Her array of gifts, besides the free hospital care, include: GE alarm clock from Western Auto, a $4 gift certificate for any Post store from the Post Insurance Agency; a take-me-home size diaper set from the Lavelle Shop; a box of 25 cigars for proud father to distribute from Parrish Grocery & Market;

A non-electric Hancraft 8-bottle sterilizer from Bob Collier, Drugist; a "Chip off the Old Block" picture frame from Maxine's; a Lustraware laundry basket and a set of Libbey's safe-edge glassware from Wilke's Supplies; two dozen Birdseye diapers and a Comfort receiving blanket from Wacker's; an arrangement of beautiful flowers for mother's hospital room from The Flower Shop;

Ten gallons of Conoco gasoline from Payne's Conoco Service; a Carter's Sacque Set of shorty jacket and waterproof pants and a Carter's shorty gown, both from Herring's; and a solid oak picture frame from Forresi Co.

Dr. Rotary Club talk

Dr. James Matthews told Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon he agreed with an article in a denominational periodical which termed "sex the No. 1 problem of young people today." He called for all adults to assume their responsibilities in its solution.

Some of the conditions which have brought the sex problem to the forefront since World War II, he declared, include today's ease of transportation via the automobile which keeps the youngsters away from home most of the time, the high pressure economy "in which we live" that has brought

New CofC secretary breaks wrist in fall

Things happened fast Wednesday last week for Mrs. Helen Livingston.

The day she began her new duties as secretary of the Post Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Livingston broke her left wrist in a fall on East Main Street.

She fell when she started to step up on the curb and hooked the heel of her shoe in a crack in the pavement.

She is on duty this week at the Chamber office, but still has her forearm in a cast.

New directors named by bank

Arnold Sanderson, Verbena area rancher, and Glenn Norman, Grassland area farmer and co-owner of the Grassland Butane Co., were elected new directors of the First National Bank of Post at the annual stockholders meeting held here Monday.

Sanderson is chairman of Garza County's Screwworm Eradication program and chairman of the Garza County Rural Era Development program.

He is 38 years old. He and his wife, Patsy, have one son, Bruce, 5. Born in Garza County, he is a member of the Church of Christ and a member of the Masonic Lodge. He served in the U. S. Navy in World War II, 1944-46, and in the Korean conflict, 1951-53.

Norman, who is 37 years old, was born in Grassland and is a graduate of Post High School. He is a member of the First Baptist Church and also of the Masonic Lodge. He served in the Navy during World War II, 1943-46.

He and his wife, Mary Margaret, have two sons, Lee, 12, and Bobby, 8, and two daughters, Nancy, 10, and Mary Ann, 5.

Other directors of the local bank are Irby G. Metcalf Jr., C. E. Basinger, Ira L. Duckworth, J. Harvey Herd, G. C. McCrary, J. B. Potts, L. G. Thuet Jr., O. L. Weakley, and E. W. Williams Jr.

Mrs. Mamie Lott of pioneer ranch family is buried

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock this morning in the First Methodist Church here for Mrs. Mamie Slaughter Lott, 50, who came to the Garza County area as an 18-year-old girl in 1902, five years before the town of Post was founded.

Mrs. Lott died at 2:15 p. m. Tuesday at the home of her son, John F. Lott in Lubbock. She had been visiting there since Dec. 23.

She had been a resident of the Baker Hotel in Mineral Wells for the last six years.

Mrs. Lott was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Slaughter. Her father founded the famous U Lazy S ranch, one of the largest in this area, when he purchased the Square and Compass ranch, comprising some 200 sections of grazing land, from the Nave McCord Cattle Co. in 1901.

At one time, the U Lazy S ranch comprised several hundred sections in what is now southern Garza County, northern Borden County, and eastern Lynn County.

In 1906, Slaughter sold 77 sections of land to C. W. Post to enable Post to found the town of Post and develop the surrounding farming area.

Garza County was officially organized in 1907, the same year the town of Post was founded.

Mrs. Lott's father first had a ranch in Blanco Canyon in Crosby County, back in 1877, and ran cattle in what is now eastern Garza County. (See MAMIE LOTT, Page 8)

Dry weather and acreage diversion hurt grain crop

Garza County's 1962 maize crop was down approximately 50 per cent in size from a normal 1961 crop year, Mike Mitchell, Post grain dealer, reported today.

"Dry weather hurt the worst," Mitchell told The Dispatch, "with a 20 per cent diversion in acreage plantings also figuring in" due to the governmental feed grain program, compliance with which makes farmers eligible for government loan.

Mitchell estimated the county's maize harvest at about 10 million pounds, as compared with about 20 million pounds in 1961.

The government loan price during the harvest season was $1.90 per hundred pounds with the cash price averaging around $1.55 per hundred.

Approximately half the year's crop went into storage under government loan, all that was eligible and the remaining half was sold at the cash price.

This would place the value of the county's maize harvest at approximately $170,000.

The harvest was completed during the last two weeks.

H. J. Bingham, 87, dies Wednesday; funeral is today

H. J. Bingham, 87, a resident of Post since 1930, died at 3 a. m. Wednesday in a Lubbock nursing home, where he had been since last Thursday.

Directed verdict of not guilty

Leander Richard won a directed verdict of not guilty to charges of assault with intent to murder and assault with a deadly weapon in a district court trial here Monday.

District Judge Truett Smith instructed the jurors to return the not guilty verdict because the state failed to make a case.

Richard was charged after allegedly taking a knife swipe at Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Merritt early in December. Charges were filed in the case Dec. 4.

Pat N. Walker was the court-appointed attorney for Richard.

Jose Soria's $1,000 bond was declared forfeited by Judge Smith when he failed to appear Monday for trial on a charge of burglary with intent to commit theft. Soria had been charged with three others.

Jim Hays sells store interest

Jim Hays, who has spent some 35 years in the grocery business, almost all of it in Post, has sold his interest in the Corner Grocery and Market to his son, Robert (Pete) Hays, he announced this week.

Other interests in the grocery store are held by the L. A. Pressons and Marvin Williams.

Jim plans to retire "partially, that is." He will continue "to keep the books" for the grocery.

Pete, who has had some previous grocery experience, has been working in the oil fields here for the last six months.

Since 1937, Jim has been associated with the Southside Grocery, the Pure Food Market, and the Corner Grocery here. Prior to that he lived at Texline, Tex., for seven and one-half years, two of that which he also spent in the grocery business.

He was associated with Graeber's M System store here for eight years in the 1920's.
