WILKE WILKERSON IN "WINDOW MUSEUM"

R. G. (Wilke) Wilkerson is shown holding an ancient wooden ox yoke in the midst of his collection of some 200 items in his front "window museum" of his store, Wilke's Supplies. Wilke reports his father, G. A. Wilkerson, who lives in Jackson County, Texas, kept oxen and leased them out for use as teams until the late 1930s.—(Staff Photo)

A few more items needed to complete

'Window museum' at Wilke's is growing

R. G. (Wilke) Wilkerson, who loves to collect old things, has one of the most unique store windows anywhere at Wilke's Supplies in the 200 block on East Main street. It's a museum of the former days of the Texas way of life.

Wilkerson, since opening his store here last year, has collected an estimated 200 items for his museum window.

Folks from all over the county have brought things to his store to "put in the window."

The museum window is a constant attraction to passing-through tourists, who glimpse the window driving through or hear about it at local service stations while stopping for gas.

Wilkerson refuses to sell any of his many items. "They're not for sale," he says simply.

But he is willing to give most of them away—to a Garza County museum if one is organized here, as has been talked, providing, of course, it is operated by a responsible organization.

Wilkerson says he owns about 70 percent of all the pieces in his museum, but that some folks just drop things off.

Wilkerson just returned last week from a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wilkerson, in Jackson County, and brought back a whole car full of "new items" to add to the museum.

He had just cleaned up the window when the above picture was taken.

In the window is an antique table which has been in his family for over 100 years, and an old silver bell that has been in the family for an estimated 200 years.

Wilkerson reports he still needs a few items to "complete" his window. Wanted most are a button hook for shoes, some button shoes, an old wood boot jack, a dinner bell, and a beaded purse or two.

Anyone wanting to give them up or display them in the "museum" are asked to bring them by the store.

Lake land condemnation hearing set for July 12

Crosby County Judge Cecil Berry has named a three-man condemnation commission and set Friday, July 12, in Crosbyton for the hearing on the White River Municipal Water District's condemnation suit against the Jones estate of Abilene.

The district is seeking 3,150 acres to complete the land purchase for the new White River lake.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Aletta Walker has filed an application for a writ of error to the Texas Supreme Court in the injunction suit against condemnation of her land for the White River dam site.

The suit recently was thrown out by the Civil Court of Appeals in Amarillo, which ruled the Crosby district court had no jurisdiction in the condemnation case.

When the Supreme Court might rule on the writ application is problematical, as the court adjourned Monday for a three months' summer vacation.

Extension for new Justiceburg road

The new farm to market road, FM 2458, which will extend east from US-84 at Justiceburg 3.1 miles into oil and ranch country is being extended an additional two miles as part of this highway district's $12,500,000 farm to market road program for 1963.

Announcement was made over the weekend by District Engineer Oscar Crain of Lubbock.

Resident Highway Engineer Julian Smith told The Dispatch that planning and right-of-way purchase is virtually complete on the first 3.1 miles of the new farm road which was already programmed.

The additional two miles will cost an estimated $34,000.

The new road begins at Sid Cross's filling station just north of the Justiceburg townsite.

Shell Oil is testing well northeast of city

Shell Oil Co. is reported ready to test, or is testing, one new shallow well northeast of Post, where it picked up a large block of leases last year.

The report could not be confirmed this week by The Dispatch that Shell is planning a number of tests in that area.

Joe Irons, Shell superintendent here, is out of the city on vacation.

New First Presbyterian pastor arrives in Post

The Rev. Edgar Graham Jr., new pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will begin his new ministry here with the Sunday morning worship service.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham arrived here Monday night. Rev. Graham comes to Post from a Fort Worth church.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

The Rev. C. B. Hogue, pastor of the First Baptist Church, is attending a Southwide Evangelism Conference in Dallas. The conference opened Tuesday and will close Thursday. Billy Graham is among the many outstanding speakers in world evangelism that were present.

Over million dollars in city improvements recommended

A capital improvement program for the city of Post, costing $1,021,650 in the next five years, has been recommended to the city council by the Dallas consulting engineering firm of Fowler & Grafe, Inc. in its fifth interim report of the Post Comprehensive Plan.

Of the $1,021,650 capital improvements expenditures through 1967 the city planning firm recommended $166,600 for water development, $168,750 for sanitary sewers and sewage treatment, and $730,700 for the start of a storm sewer program.

Post is unique, as the report points out, "in not having a foot of storm sewers in place because drainage runs overland for the entire city."

The report says that "to storm sewer the entire town at one time would be very expensive, therefore we are suggesting as a start-up that the storm sewer be constructed on Avenue H from South Lake to East Eighth street, then west on Eighth Street to Avenue M and north on Avenue M to West Main Street to relieve the excessive amount of water that gathers there."

The engineering firm recommends that the cost of the million dollar capital improvements program be financed by $688,800 in general obligation bonds, $65,500 in current funds, and $269,300 in water and sewer revenue bonds.

As to water, Fowler & Grafe, Inc., recommended that the city seek an additional water supply of not less than 500,000 gallons per day to protect itself until White River water would become available in the spring of 1964.

It also recommended strengthening the water distribution system by installation of a 12-inch main from the end of the 12-inch line on West Eighth Street and Avenue M to the end of the 12-inch line the water district is to put in on East Main Street and South Avenue E.

The firm urges installation of water mains of adequate size in the Postex Mills housing area and in the northeastern section of the city for fire protection. It also urged installation of additional fire hydrants in several sections of the city to comply with the Texas State Board of Fire Insurance regulations.

The sanitary sewers and sewage treatment recommendations included a $50,000 expansion of the city's sewage treatment plant in 1964 and installation of new mains in the northeast and northwest sections of the city costing approximately $70,000, besides eight-inch mains to new divisions as they develop and customer service.

The city already has planned new sewage lines for the northeastern part of the city, for which federal aid has been obtained.

The bulk of the capital improvements recommended over the next five years would come in the beginning of a storm sewer system for Post.

The report notes that if the capital improvement program is instituted it "will add impetus in making Post one of the most progressive cities in the High Plains area."

The Dallas planning firm also analyzes the city's financial situation and recommends what it believes to be the best method of financing such an improvement program.

The report goes further and points up what needs to be done in the way of capital improvement.

Mayor names group to study city airport

Mayor Harold Lucas named a committee of three councilmen Monday night to look into the problem of finding a new and better location for a city airport.

The action came at the end of a long meeting, at which Victor Hudman, local flyer, appeared before the council to see if the city was interested in establishment of some kind of a municipal airport.

He explained that he and Spencer Kuykendall for the last several years had leased the present Morrow Field, located on the Rails highway north of Post, for $300 annually. Since Kuykendall has moved to Montana, Hudman said he cannot afford to maintain the airport himself and cannot be responsible for its maintenance.

He proposed that if the city was interested in a municipal airport they could operate Morrow Field as an "interim" field until a better location could be found. He did not advocate it for a permanent airport and said the city should own its own land.

Hudman said if the city wasn't interested, he would take steps to close the field, as he could locate on another field. But for the future of this community, Hudman urged the city to open its own airport as many surrounding towns, including Tahoka, already have.

Hudman said it takes time to close down a field from the standpoint of federal regulations and that a decision needs to be made soon as to what the city wants him to do in the matter.

The local flyer reported the county commissioners' court had promised to make county equipment available to help re-grade the field if the city was interested in keeping it open.

"If the field is fixed up it would be used a lot more than it is now," Hudman commented. He said Louie Burkes of Postex was interested in a local airport, as Burlington Industries would like to fly its officials in here in a company jet.

Mayor Lucas named Arnold Parrish, Wesley Scott and J. B. Potts to the airport study committee.

Councilmen expressed the desire to "do something about an airport."

Rotarians told of upturn in Tech grid fortunes

Texas Tech's head football coach, J. T. King, told Post Rotarians in City Hall Tuesday noon that "we're on the verge now of having a pretty good football team."

In fact, King had lots of good news for area Raider gridiron followers.

"We'll field the type of ball club most fans will like to watch play," King added, although he made no claim to Southwest Conference championship caliber.

"It will be the first time since I've been up there that we have seven, eight or ten folks who could play football for Texas, Rice, or anybody else," King declared.

Although lacking size and experience in tackles and guards and being woefully lacking in backfield experience, Tech, come September, will have speed and plenty of it, King reported.

"We have 15 backs as fast or faster than anybody we had last year and 31 players who can do the 40-yard dash under five seconds, compared to only five last year," he added.

King drew a chuckle when he pointed out that a lot of folks complain he lacks football imagination. "But when you see the team

Council reluctant to give up parking

The city council wanted more time Monday night to think about giving up 24 Main Street parking spaces to comply with the State Highway Department's request to provide 120-foot left turn lanes for the Main Street and Broadway intersection.

Councilman Arnold Parrish made a motion to do away with center parking for 120 feet from the curb lines of the intersection in both the 100 blocks East and West Main after the council heard Mayor Harold Lucas report that the request was a compromise solution to a two-year-old request by the highway department.

But the motion died for want of a second and the matter was tabled until the next council meeting.

Mayor Lucas and E. A. Warren, acting city superintendent, went to Lubbock Monday morning to discuss the matter with District Highway Engineer Crain.

The highway department had requested that all center parking be abandoned for the full block on Main Street on each side of the intersection.

Also requested by the highway department was a ban on parallel parking.

Rites conducted here Saturday for accident victim

Funeral services for William Joseph (Joe) Williams, former Post resident who was fatally injured June 26 in an automobile accident northwest of Snyder en route here, were conducted at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in the Church of Christ.

Herb Smith, Church of Christ minister, officiated, assisted by Leonard Tittle.

Palbearers were Jack Morris, Henry Wheatley, Jake Heiskill, Virgil Stone, Marshall Tipton, and W. H. Childs.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery with Hudman Funeral Home in charge.

Williams attended Post High School from 1936 when he moved to Post from Jones County with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Williams of the Post area, until 1940. He lived here until he entered the Navy in 1942, serving in both the Atlantic and Pacific during World War II.

He was married in 1943 to Miss Hazel Jenkins. After the war, he farmed near Post for several years.

For the last three years he had been living near Ballinger where he farmed and also worked as an electrician. He was 42 years of age.

Mrs. Williams, who was critically injured in the accident, is still in a critical condition in a Lubbock hospital.

Only two easements needed

Big sewer project near bid stage

Only two easements are needed to clear the way for the advertising of construction bids on the long-sought sewer extension into the northeast portion of Post, Mayor Harold Lucas told the city council at its July meeting Monday night.

One of the two easements has been virtually worked out. Lucas added.

In an over three-hour session, the council took care of a host of items, which included:

Approving purchase of a $25,000 blanket bond for all city employees, including city councilmen, at a cost of about $125 a year, and bonds for peace officers who carry firearms of $5,000 each.

Coordinating city purchases by having employees clear all purchases through E. A. Warren, acting city superintendent. This would give the city better control over its purchases.

Hearing Police Chief Elton Corley report on a complaint of parking all over South F Street near the Cottage Lounge on Saturday nights. Limited parking signs are being installed for better control.

Water shortage may be near Post's water problem was "on vacation" along with Postex Mills employees this week.

The city was managing without difficulty with the mill, its biggest water user, shut down for its one week of the year to permit employees to take vacations.

Next week?

Well, as Mayor Harold Lucas said Monday night at the council meeting, folks should give their laws a good watering this week. Next week "we can hope for rain."

The city was working to boost its water output after losing a string of lease wells in field water flooding up on the plains two weeks ago.

One good new well has been tied in. Another that was cut off due to the control box being out in the field lake has been restored to duty.

The mayor is hopeful of getting 850 to 900 gallons of water per minute.

"If we can do that, it won't be so bad," he said.

But the fact remains that a rain will be needed within two weeks to prevent a return to the old cycle of the "annual summer water crisis."

Maybe third time is charm

Brown Brothers will make one final try to open up the Gioriella oil zone south of Post with a third test to be drilled immediately.

The first, the Montgomery-Davies AG No. 1, is making only 11 to 14 barrels of oil a day plus lots of water. It is located just off US-84 southeast of Post.

The Montgomery-Davies AG No. 2, located three-quarters of a mile west of the No. 1, was drilled to 4,000 feet and was a duster all the way. It was drilled into the Clearfork without any oil shows. It has been plugged.

Extension for new Justiceburg road

The new farm to market road, FM 2458, which will extend east from US-84 at Justiceburg 3.1 miles into oil and ranch country is being extended an additional two miles as part of this highway district's $12,500,000 farm to market road program for 1963.

City now out to wipe out those pesky flies

Post is now after the flies.

Repeated "dusting" to kill off the mosquitoes, the latest one last Thursday night, has kept this threat down fairly well.

But the fly problem has mushroomed.

E. A. Warren, acting city superintendent, reported city employees sprayed the city dump grounds both Tuesday morning and Tuesday night where "the flies had literally taken over."

The Manhattan Construction Company last Thursday was awarded the contract to build the new Rivera Apartments at 34th St. and Avenue T in Lubbock.

The firm submitted a low bid of $700,000. Second low bidder was W. G. McMillan of Lubbock with a bid of $715,000.

This project calls for 40 luxurious apartments with swimming pool. The building will be two story in height and of masonry and structural steel construction.

THURSDAY, JULY 4, 1963

Evolution of a holiday

The story of America's Fourth of July might well be called evolution of a holiday.

Only a few decades ago, Independence Day was the biggest thing on the holiday calendar except for Christmas.

Back two generations, it was "really something."

It was a day in which literally every community got together and celebrated the independence of this nation. It was the day of speech making, when the orators were in great demand. It was a day for huge picnics and all kinds of athletic contests. It was a day of firecrackers and it was followed by a night in which the sky almost everywhere was ablaze with sky rockets and fire balls from roman candles.

The nation literally stirred with patriotism and emotion.

We can remember when we were a youngster all the fun that was wrapped up in the Fourth, from the slipping out of bed at dawn to awaken the neighborhood with home-made cannons to the evening of that holiday which was topped off for years in our family by the sending up of a huge hot-air paper balloon to drift across town, after the big supply of sky rockets, pinwheels and roman candles had been exhausted.

It's different now. Firecrackers are banned in most towns as too noisy and too dangerous. Night-time fireworks displays are so expensive that towns have discontinued them even on a community-wide pool basis.

People long ago quit listening to speeches—even on television.

It's too hot for most folks to go out. Generally, what most people want with a holiday in this modern age is to loaf and listen. Certainly, mid-summer exuberance is definitely frowned upon.

As for patriotism, well, let's say people have grown too sophisticated, even in our small towns, for any outward display anymore.

The Fourth of July now is a quiet, mid-summer holiday when most folks head for the country to go fishing or boating, or just sit around the house and relax. You can't even get a baseball game on television. The "one-eyed monster" pays no attention to holidays, except for Christmas.

What has happened to our holidays is just a small part of the price we are paying for our rather hectic daily pace. It used to be that holidays were a special day when people "did things." Now people are too worn out from day to day living to want to do anything with their holidays but loaf.

But we will guess there still is a patriotic stirring way down deep for most of us on each Fourth of July. And no enemy should measure America by its careless "holiday posture" either.

When the time comes to stand up and be counted, Americans will—and shoulder to shoulder.—JC

Beginning made in tourism

Texas, at last, is embarking upon a campaign to attract out-of-state tourists into the Lone Star State.

The recent session of the legislature, at Governor Connally's urging, created a Texas Tourist Development Agency and later in its appropriation bill gave the new agency $250,000 a year for its operations.

It wasn't as big a start as those seeking more tourist promotion wanted, as a half million dollars had been asked. But it is a start.

The new tourist agency will be under the direction of an administrator, assisted by a six-man advisory board, and is charged with promoting and advertising by means of radio, television, newspapers and other means tourism to Texas by non-Texans.

Other duties assigned by the legislative act to the agency include coordinating and stimulating the orderly, but accelerated, development of tourist attractions throughout Texas, conducting a public relations campaign to create a "responsible and accurate national and international image of Texas," cooperating fully with the agency in charge of the state's park system relating to tourist promotion, cooperating with the Texas Highway Department in the administration of the department's program of highway map distribution and operation of Travel Inter-mation Bureaus, and encouragement of Texas communities, organizations and individuals to cooperate with the tourism program by use of their own funds.

Unhappily, as the governor pointed out to start with, the Texas tourist industry has been declining while the nation's tourist business is growing. The trend needs to be reversed.

Governor Connally went on to point out that "it is a substantial fact that everybody in Texas benefits from tourist spending; the farmers, the businessmen, the working men—and the state itself. Out-of-state tourists last year spent about $480 million in Texas, of which about $25 million went directly into state taxes."

In any well-operated business you have to spend money to make money, and tourism is a business to which this axiom applies, as well as to one of Main Street here.

The Dispatch has long been a booster for bigger and better Texas tourism. This newspaper is pleased to see a start has at last been made to promote the tourist business.

But this is only a start. Whole-hearted cooperation on everyone's part is now essential.

Let us resolve to give this cooperation unstinting through our organizations, our businesses, and as individuals, whenever called upon to do so.—JC

Let's get back to earth

We're as eager as the next fellow for the United States to keep pace with Russia in the space race, but we're not overly worried about the Soviets being far ahead of us in orbiting the earth.

Both nations have proved that it can be done and it is now time for our space scientists to turn elsewhere for outer space achievements. It would be odd hat to try to outdo the Russian endurance record, since it seems doubtful that 42 orbits, or 182, would prove any more than the Russians' 81.

Museums will doubtless be happy to receive the space capsules and we can now devote ourselves to other achievements, including learning how to exist on the earth's surface.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

A Woman's Logic: She complained bitterly to her husband, "If you had really loved me you would have married someone else."—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

Mixing a little milk of human kindness into the dough of reality will produce a uniform loaf of wholesome satisfaction.—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

Thought he was just a little over pessimistic, but heard a farmer say yesterday he should have ginned his planting seed. "With lint from four plantings I would have had more cotton than I'm going to get from this crop," he stated.—Hubert Curry in The Crosbyton Review.

The man who thinks ahead is the fellow who doesn't watch TV in the fall so he won't have to watch reruns in the summer.

SOMEONE CALLED Friday morning to ask me what had happened on my vacation. The caller said it must have really been some vacation judging from the first "Thursday to Thursday" column I wrote after getting back.

I asked the caller to explain, and he said, "Well, according to your column in last week's Dispatch, you must think July 1 is New Year's Day."

OH, BROTHER! I checked the column, and the caller was right. This is the way it read:

"Next Monday not only starts off a new week, but also a new month—and the second half of the year 1963. Our Special Events calendar doesn't show much for the month—and the second half of the upcoming July except Independence Day on the 4th and Farm Safety Week, July 21-27."

This one caller only wondered what had happened ON my vacation. No telling how many people thought I was STILL in the throes of a vacation hang-over after reading the above paragraph.

THIS IS THE way it should have read:

"Next Monday not only starts off a new week, but also a new month—and the second half of the year 1963. Our Special Events calendar doesn't show much for the upcoming July except Independence Day on the 4th and Farm Safety Week, July 21-27."

A misplaced line did all the damage. The worst typographical error ever made can't be any worse than a misplaced line sometimes is, and in the case of last week's "Thursday to Thursday" column, the out-of-place line worked out just right to make it appear that I was trying to get a brand-new year started on July 1.

THE PROOFREADER usually catches the blame for the mistakes that show up in your newspaper, but in this case the proofreader was not to blame. Except, perhaps, for the fact that if there hadn't been a proofreader, there wouldn't have been a correction line to begin with, and the right line wouldn't have been stuck in the wrong place by whoever made the correction.

The Man up the Street says there are two things a person should be careful about opening: His mouth and his pocketbook.

DR. DREW A. BROWNE, Ophthalmologist, who is in Post once a week in the interest of the community's eye needs, was by The Dispatch office Thursday with precautionary hints on the total eclipse of the sun that will occur July 20. The information brought in by Dr. Browne was worked up by the South Plains Optometric Society, of which he is a member.

The material brought in by Dr. Browne opens on an alarming note—that on April 8, 1959, 170 Australians—principally school children—suffered permanent retinal damage and partial loss of central vision in watching an eclipse of the sun.

THE REST OF THE Optometric Society's public service fact sheet reads about as follows:

"Similar eye damage (to that experienced in Australia) may be anticipated over most of North America on July 20, the date of our next solar eclipse, total from Alaska to Maine. A partial eclipse will be visible over most of the continent.

"There is real risk of eye damage in viewing an eclipse. Make-shift methods include dark photographic negatives, glasses that have been smoked over a candle, or a card with a pinhole opening. None of these devices is completely

"Seven Things You Never Regret"

Someone has listed seven things you never regret, which are:

1. Showing kindness to an aged person.
2. Destroying a letter written in anger.
3. Stopping a scandal that was wrecking a reputation.
4. Helping a boy find himself.
5. Taking time to show your mother consideration.
6. Offering the apology that saves a friendship.

Shifting sands move Pass from lighthouse

ARANSAS PASS — Many a sailor and ship place their trust in a lighthouse. But when the Aransas Pass Lighthouse was built in 1865, you can bet no one counted on the Pass moving.

However, shifting sands now have moved the Pass a mile south of the old lighthouse.

Though this old beacon has been closed since 1952, others still are in use on the Texas Gulf Coast.

CORNSTARCH TO PAPER

About a billion pounds of starch are used by the paper industry annually. The starch is used to make paper and paper stronger and in the machine making of paper. The next largest use of cornstarch is the textile industry which requires about 300 million pounds of the material.

Some of Texas' lighthouses have been designated as museums and now are used only as sightseers.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

The lights of freedom have gone out in many nations around the world within a few short years. Others today are only glimmering. If we are to preserve ours, we must remain strong as a nation—both morally as well as physically—lend our support to freedom's causes, and be a vigilant and working citizenry.

Together we must maintain a strong national purpose and strive constantly to make America an even more blessed land of freedom and of opportunity.

On our FOURTH OF JULY holiday this year, let us resolve to be better Americans ourselves and thus make our nation stronger at a time when this country needs all of its strength and great unity of purpose as the leader of the Free World.

LET FREEDOM RING! In observance of this great day in American history, let us as individuals remember to guard the precious gift of freedom by being alert and responsible citizens. Have a careful 4th.

JULY IS SHOP RITE'S

10th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

1963

In ten short years, Shop Rite Foods, Inc., has grown from one to 73 Piggly Wiggly Stores in 31 towns and 3 states. Starting with one store in July, 1953, in Albuquerque, N. M., by October the company had acquired seven stores operating under the Piggly Wiggly name. These stores were located in Albuquerque and Santa Fe, N. M. This rapid progress reflects a supreme loyalty and efficiency on the part of Piggly Wiggly employees in offering our customers the finest foods at the lowest prices in clean, bright stores, with courteous, fast service at all times. Won't you help us celebrate our 10th Anniversary by enjoying the low, low prices and registering for these valuable prizes? You need not be present to win. Drawings will be held on July 31, 1963.

Sandee Cross, Jerry Crader wed in Justiceburg church

The First Baptist Church of Justiceburg was the setting Friday for the exchange of wedding vows of Miss Sandee Cross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Cross, and Jerry Crader, son of Mrs. Clark Crader of Lubbock, formerly of Plainview.

The ceremony was read at 9 o'clock in the evening by the Rev. W. Pettyjohn, minister of the church. The bride wore a gown of white tulle with a lace bodice and sleeves. The skirt extended into a long train. A pearl and crystal tiara held her four-tiered veil which edged with lace extending the length of the organza train. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid atop a white Bible. For something old she carried a piece of Battenberg lace from her late great-grandmother's wedding gown. Mrs. Lee Duckworth, something new was the bridegroom's gift, a drop necklace of diamond and pearl; borrowed was a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother; her blue garter was a gift from Mrs. Jerry Lou Cameron and she wore a penny in her shoe for good luck.

THE BOOK AND THE FLAG

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Behind the open Book, we see the Star Spangled Banner of the United States and the cross-borne flag of Christianity.

Does this seem like a strange combination to you—the flag of a nation beside the flag of a religion?

Not at all! Look into the Bible and see these great truths: MAN IS THE CHILD OF A LOVING GOD; WE ARE MADE IN GOD'S IMAGE. Here is explained the DIGNITY OF THE INDIVIDUAL.

Now we begin to realize how close is the relation between democracy and the Church.

Our national flag, our church flag would not be here today were it not for the open Book.

Come learn of this Book. Come worship and study in the church of your choice this Sunday.

News items can be left at store in Justiceburg

By MRS. BUD SCHLEHUBER
I would appreciate it if anyone having any news items would leave them at the store for me.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Schlehuber and Denise and Mrs. Fernie Reed and Bruce were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Reed Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McWhirt visited the Babe Norrises Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rainwater were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fernie Reed Monday evening.

Benny Schlehuber spent four days in the Fernie Reed home last week.

Meg and Tommy Lee Reed visited a few days with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Reed visited this past week while their mother, Mrs. Weldon Reed, was a patient in Garza Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Reed visited Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Cross were hosts to a rehearsal dinner for the members of the Cross-Crader wedding party and for the hostess of the bridal shower, in their home Thursday evening.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Crader upon their wedding Friday, June 28 at 8 o'clock at the Justiceburg Baptist Church. A reception was held following the ceremony. Many out-of-town relatives and guests attended. Mrs. Crader is the former Sandee Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Cornett were Friday and Saturday guests of the Bud Cornett family in Gail.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Schlehuber and Denise returned home Saturday morning after spending the past few days visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wiley and Mrs. Ellen Schiehuber, and other relatives and friends in Cherryvale, Kans. Mr. Schlehuber is recuperating from recent surgery.

Douglas McWhirt is on vacation from his duties with Humble Oil Co. The McWhirt family are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Breedon in Albany and with relatives in Oklahoma.

Lois Nance of Amarillo spent the weekend here visiting her mother, Pearl Nance. Lois came to attend the Cross-Crader wedding.

Mrs. Albert Rainwater visited in the Guv Floyd home Friday.

Bud Schlehuber visited in the Lee Reed home Sunday evening.

MR. AND MRS. E. C. FRANKLIN have returned from a visit in Jalisco, N. M. with their son and family. Their grandchildren returned home with them for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Miller, Ben

Letters to the Editor...

Dear Mr. Didway:

Several weeks ago I was forced to make an unscheduled stop in your town while enroute from Walker AFB, N. M., to Barksdale AFB, La.

I spent two weeks in your town as a resident of Garza Memorial Hospital. During this time the word must have gotten around for many people stopped in to see me because I was far from home and quite ill.

Unfortunately I did not get to see them all again before I left. Therefore I wish you would print this note in your paper so that I may publicly express my thanks for kindness and friendliness. I should also like to mention my appreciation of the aid and professional service rendered by the staff of Garza Memorial Hospital.

I hope that my next trip to Post will enable me to enjoy my stay more than was possible on my previous trip.

Sincerely yours,
Peter G. Knight
Lieutenant USAF

and Jennifer, and Clyde Miller of Fluvanna have gone to Faith, S. D. where they will visit for the next several weeks.

Mrs. Lee Reed and Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks of Slaton returned home Sunday evening after spending the past two days visiting their sister, Mrs. Audrea Long, who is seriously ill in the hospital at Jacksboro.

Ben Schlehuber, Kenneth McFadin and Jacky Braddock went to the "Drag Races" in Amarillo Sunday.

Visiting the Fernie Reeds Sunday were Ray Crisoin and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Light, all of Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith visited his sister, Mrs. Ella Murphy, Sunday.

Mrs. Bud Schlehuber and Denise visited Mrs. Weldon Reed and children in Post Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Nance returned Saturday after a visit in Haslet with their son, Sonny, and family. The Hawden Rogers of Post stayed at the Nance home during their absence.

Lois and Pearl Nance were breakfast guests in the Cecil Smith home Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Blacklock and sons were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bandy Cash and son, Sunday.

dise, that is if the tourist has money galore, and wishes to spend it.

Indeed, it is also the shopper's dilemma, for there are every kind of merchandise imaginable, and at prices lower than elsewhere in the world, perhaps.

Most of the shops are owned by Indians or native Chinese. Some are British owned. The main shops appeal to the tourist, and are particularly on Nathan Road, the main thoroughfare in the city. Shops appealing to the Chinese mainly are on the back alleys, or in regular Chinese shopping centers or districts. Few foreigners really go to these for their general buying.

I found myself gazing at the luxurious woolsens, simply gorgeous silks made in Thailand, and hand-made shirts tailored to your taste. Tapestry and rugs of Oriental vintage were abundant. Brocades were abundant. Of especial interest was the thrillingly beautiful linens of varied prices and taste for table use.

These hand-made, intricately embroidered items were lush and exquisite arts of beauty that could grace the table of nobles and kings. One could buy one of these sets for a large table, with 12 napkins to match, for the price of $80 to $120; which cost would be four to five times in the U. S. Of course, it is quite a problem getting them out, since many of these items are made in Red China, and the U. S. government will not allow anything made in Red China into the country.

One has asked, why does not Red China simply take over this small colony of Chinese and British subjects? The answer seems quite simple. They like the trade afforded by Hong Kong and Macao. Being free of export and import taxes, the Red Chinese government have a serious working agreement with the British. In fact the Red Chinese have large merchandizing marts, a fabulously beautiful and expensive bank and maintain a trade in the colony that is world-wide. The probable main reason is because millions of U. S. dollars pour into this trade center, and the Red Chinese take it gladly through trade processes. It is an ingenious means of achieving U. S. money, which stands so high on the world market in gold and silver value.

Hong Kong is understaffed, and has such lack of facilities for schooling, any are welcome to start a school for the children. In fact the British government and the government of Hong Kong will help to buy the property, and pay a percentage of the bills for any church group or others who will start a school. The Catholics have certainly taken advantage of this boon to finance, as well as the Communists. We saw many Communist schools with very fine students because the cost of attending is so very low compared to the government schools and others.

I was quite amused at the run of some tourist folk, when one day we were going on a tour, we passed one of the Communist schools. The elderly lady sitting next to my wife was quite startled and exclaimed: "Those are Communists' schools? Why there are Chinese in there!" I must admit the day we

Tahoka housing bids rejected as too high

TAHOKA — Bids on the 12-unit housing project for elderly people were rejected last week by the Tahoka Housing Authority and the Public Housing Administration.

Nine bids were turned in and all deemed too high.

The low bid by a Quanah firm was for $143,500.

New bids will be asked.

TAHOKA — Construction got under way last weekend on a $45,000 nursing home here to take care of 30 people. The home, which will have 6,200 square feet of floor space and 15 rooms, will be operated by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Roberts.

Duties of county health officer are explained

Dr. Harry A. Tubbs, Garza County's new health officer, released the following article pertaining to the duties of his office and its operation for general public understanding.

In this county, the health officer is appointed by the Garza County Commissioners' Court. The court is guided by certain broad principles of protecting the public health in setting the specific duties of the health officer. The health officer is not salaried and receives no payment for services rendered to any individual unless the court, through the County Judge's office, authorizes the health officer to act for the county and to receive payment from the county for that service.

In general, the public health is stressed and served, rather than the individual's health. In some instances an individual's physical or emotional health affects the public health and interests and must be considered.

The health officer is expected to take emergency action when an emergency involving the public health comes to his attention and it is impractical or inadvisable (i. e., harmful to the public health and interest) to wait to secure the instruction of the court. Except in such emergencies the court expects to be the agency through which requests for specific compensable services of the health officer are processed and approved.

Medical care for individuals who have been specifically designated by the Garza County Commissioners' Court to be eligible for medical care at county expense may be secured from any M. D. residing and practicing in Garza County who agrees in advance with the Commissioners' Court as to the nature of the service to be rendered and as to the fee to be paid for that service.

Medical care for all other persons remains the private concern of each individual. M. D. Fred M. D. expects to provide medical care by agreement between himself and whoever is financially responsible for the patient. Fee is commensurate with the ability of the patient (or his relative) to pay, within the range of a full fee and equitable fee to no monetary payment at all.

Any needy person can secure necessary medical attention by application to the local M. D. of his own choice, setting forth his need and his inability to pay.

There is no "county doctor" in whom all who seek free medical care are directed. Charity is dispensed by each practicing M. D. according to the need of the applicant and his own ability to meet the need.

Each parent is urged to secure for his family protection against diphtheria, whooping cough, lockjaw and polio. Any M. D. can provide these inoculations. If the patient is unable to pay, the M. D. can obtain the vaccines from surplus funds of S.O.S. contributions. But, the M. D. must be told of the need, and must apply on behalf of his patient for restitution of his costs in giving this charity service.

In past decisions, the Commissioners' Court has been of the opinion that temporary financial embarrassment should not be considered sufficient to qualify a person for free medical care at county expense. Ordinarily such individuals are expected by the court to be able to pay for medical services rendered over a period of time.

Big Bend is the sixth largest national park in America

If you are a "National Park traveler" you'll want to see the sixth largest of America's national parks—Big Bend—presented to the United States by the State of Texas in 1944.

Located along the Rio Grande in southwestern Texas, this is an area of dramatic contrasts. Land of legend and range rider, Big Bend has been called the "Last Frontier."

You will experience new travel adventures when you drive into the mile-high Chisos Mountains or join a horseback party for an exciting ride to the lofty plateau of the South Rim, 7,200 feet in elevation.

The imposing canyons, colorful arroyos, flowering desert and the expansive plains offer unlimited sightseeing opportunities and excellent subjects for your camera.

THERE IS AN atmosphere of the old frontier along the Rio Grande where the Sierra del Carmen and Fronterizo ranges of Mexico dominate the landscape to the south.

Approximately 400 miles from Abilene and San Antonio and 325 miles southeast of El Paso, the park is reached by two paved roads—U. S. 385, which intersects U. S. 90 at Marathon, and State Road 118, which intersects U. S. 90 at Alpine.

A paved road in the Park connects these State Roads, forming an east-west "loop" through Big Bend.

A new scenic road, the Camino del Rio, has opened a third route to Big Bend National Park over U. S. 67 from Marfa via Presidio and LaLita.

TOURING BIG BEND by automobile provides access to much of the Park. Roads lead to the Rio Grande, where the desert terrain and mountain ranges of Old Mexico lend an atmosphere of drama and stark, rugged beauty.

The Santa Elena Canyon and Boquillas areas provide splendid all-day outings from the Chisos Mountains.

Among the tourist attractions is

City council—

(Continued From Page 1) parking on Broadway for a distance of 120 feet back from each side of the intersection.

The council was willing to go along with this.

The council was fearful of what the loss of downtown parking might mean, although as Parrish pointed out, a parking lot is available to the public in the 100 block on East Main and is little used.

Commented one councilman after the motion to approve the highway department's request was tabled, "I just hate to see it happen."

Five cases filed in county court

Joe Ray Riso was charged in county court here Monday with driving while intoxicated and unlawfully carrying a pistol on or about his person.

He posted bond of $750 on each count.

Manuel Fuller Jr. pleaded guilty July 1 to driving while intoxicated and was fined $30 and costs by County Judge J. E. Parker, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's licence suspended for six months.

Tony Thomas was booked June 28 on a charge of aggravated assault.

William Don Wilkins pleaded guilty June 28 to unlawfully transporting whiskey, beer, and gin and was fined $100 and costs by Judge Parker.

City plan—

The report points out Post had a bonded indebtedness as of June 30, 1961, of $293,000 and $206,397.87 interest with $480,000 of the bonded indebtedness in water works improvement and water and sewer revenue bonds.

In comparison with cities in the area of similar growth problems, Post has a debt per capita of $135.10, as compared with $111.69 for Muleshoe, $70.52 for Tulla, $62.96 for Floydada, $56.12 for Ballinger and $185.29 for Lubbock.

While Post's per capita debt is high, in comparison with other High Plains cities noted in the above paragraph, its per capita tax levy is the lowest.

Post's per capita tax is $10.87, as compared with $11.69 for Muleshoe, $23.18 for Tulla, $15.44 for Floydada, $20.09 for Ballinger, and $36.64 for Lubbock.

In a forecast of revenue table, the Dallas engineering firm forecasts a growth in water and sewer revenue from $184,850, predicted for 1963 to $221,025 in 1980 with the maintenance of current water and sewer rates, and an increase in ad valorem taxes from $49,928 this year to $73,060 by the year 1980.

Vet's Forum

Q. I will retire soon but my wife will be employed. Will her income be considered in determining my retirement to veteran's pension?

A. Yes, your wife's income will be considered under the law. The first $1,200 of your wife's annual income will be exempt but the amount over $1,200 will be considered in addition to your own income.

Q. Do veterans receive any preference in Federal government employment?

A. Veterans of wartime separated under honorable conditions receive a five-point preference when they apply for Federal employment. Veterans of peace service alone must have been a campaign of expedition for a badge or service medal to be qualified for this five-point preference. Veterans holding the Purple Heart for combat wounds who presently have some service-connected disability receive an additional five points.

Q. I am a Korean Conflict veteran who was released from duty in May, 1957. May I still be entitled to educational benefits under Public Law 550, the KGI Bill?

A. Public Law 550 requires the veteran enter training within three years after release from active duty. Since you have past this deadline you are no longer eligible for the benefit.

White Sox can clinch flag with one more win

The front running White Sox had only one more victory Tuesday night as they took the 1963 Babe Ruth League flag after three straight victories during the stretch during the week-end.

The Dispatch standings were off a half game and hard to check, but the Indians had to have the Tuesday night game to stand a chance of tying for the crown.

The two remaining make-up games are yet to be definitely scheduled, league officials said Tuesday morning, but were due to be completed this week.

The White Sox, picking up momentum, walloped the Braves 7-4 last Wednesday night, the Pirates 13 to 1 on Thursday night, and then the Indians 9-5 Sunday night in one of the decisive games which clinched at least a share of the flag for the winners.

In the Sunday night "showdown" the White Sox banged out a collection of nine hits for as many runs, while Ron Pierce was limiting the Indians to four.

Mike Petty, the White Sox cleanup hitter, and Pierce each collected a pair of singles in three trips to the plate.

The Braves broke out in front with a pair of runs in the first, but the White Sox tied it in the bottom of the second. The Sox then added two in the third, three in the fourth and two more in the fifth to wrap it up.

The Cubs finished out their season by splitting a double bill of make-up games Monday night with the Pirates to wind up even with an 8-8 record in league play.

The Cubs grabbed the opener, 7 to 1, but dropped the finale, 4 to 1.

The Cubs also scored a 10-0 shut-out win over the last place Braves Friday night as the losers managed only two hits while the winners were collecting 10 blows.

Post's American Legion team, hard hit by a rash of injuries and loss of players planting and doing other summer work, plays its final home game here Wednesday night, July 3, at 8 o'clock, against the Lubbock Bell Cheks.

The locals, who have defeated Petersburg for their only district triumph, lost to the Bell Cheks, 6-0, at Lubbock in the first meeting between the two clubs, with David Nichols holding the Lubbock team to three hits. Early errors proved costly in that one, however.

The locals then will close out district play Saturday night against Plainview at Plainview.

Plainview and the Lubbock Bell Cheks are tied for the district lead. They have split their two district games.

The Post team lost its only start during last week, bowing Saturday night to Slaton, 13-2, at Slaton.

Teddy Scott started on the mound for the locals and was followed to the hill by Luis Ayala and Pat Cornell, who came on to injure the final inning.

The Post team expects to have Butch Cross, who has been out with a sprained ankle, back for action tonight. But Benny Owen, who has been out for two games, will be lost for the final pair as well, with a lacerated foot. Chunky Johnson also has been out of the line-up, with a back injury.

The late season plowing, due to the many recent rains, has kept a couple of regulars in the fields and out of the line-up, and Nichols, the team's leading pitcher, has missed some games due to oil field work.

Announcements for the one-day affair have been mailed to some 75 bowling lanes in West Texas and eastern New Mexico.

After the one-day singles tournament on the holiday, the invitation men's tournament will get rolling this coming weekend, Saturday and Sunday, July 6-7, and continue for the following weekend as well.

Besides the usual men's events—singles, doubles, team, and all-events—the Tangerine Bowl also will run a ladies' doubles division and a ragtime doubles division all through next week.

Local bowlers are urged to get their entries in immediately for both, or either event.

Red Sox need one more win for Little League pennant

The third-place Yankees upset the Dodgers 8 to 5 Monday night in Little League play to all but knock the Dodgers out of the tight two-team race and hand the Red Sox the 1963 pennant.

With both contenders having only two games left to play this week, the Red Sox need only one more victory to clinch the flag now they are sporting a two-game lead.

Of course if the Red Sox nose dive and drop both games and the Dodgers bounce back to win their final pair, the two clubs would wind up the schedule all even Saturday night, making a playoff necessary.

But the odds are long that this will happen.

During the last week's action, the Red Sox closed in on the crown with three straight victories, while the contending Dodgers were splitting a pair.

Only four games are left on the Little League slate.

Wednesday night (July 3) the Yankees will test the Red Sox while the last place Tigers take on the Dodgers. Then on Saturday night the Dodgers play the Yankees in the first game and the Red Sox meet the Corvairs in the night-cap.

In the Yanks' upset triumph over the Dodgers Monday night, the Yankees broke open a 5-5 ball game with a clinching three-run rally in the bottom of the fifth.

What's more they did it on only one hit. With two down and three walks, M. Levins socked a triple to clear the sacks and was out at the plate trying to go all the way.

R. Pace and R. Levins divided pitching honors for the winners, each hurling three innings. B. Alexander was on the hill for the Dodgers when the winning rally came, going the final two innings after starter R. B. Buerger went the first three.

The Dodgers jumped into a 4-1 lead with a four run rally in the third with Buerger's triple the "big hit." The Yanks bounced back in the fourth with a four-run rally of their own to tie the game after the Dodgers had added one more in the top of the inning for a 5-1 lead.

The Red Sox made it strictly no contest in the first inning of their game with the Tigers as they poured across seven runs in the top of the first en route to their easy 16-4 triumph.

The Red Sox also hammered the Tigers 10-2 last Thursday night but had to go all out Saturday night to squeeze a 3-2 decision from the Cardinals.

In that one, the Cards took a 2-1 lead with a pair of runs in the third on a walk to M. Johnson, singles by D. Odom and Steve Newby and an error.

But the Red Sox came back with the tying and winning runs in the fourth on Hernandez' second single, an error and a single by Irons.

The Dodgers got their only win with a close 4-2 decision over the last place Tigers on Saturday night.

The Corvairs vaulted over the Cardinals into fourth place in the standings with a 13-6 victory over the Cards Thursday night.

Big golf meet opens Saturday

The biggest golf tournament ever held in Post — the Caprock Golf Course Tourney sponsored by the Post Chamber of Commerce, is expected to attract up to 96 golfers here Saturday and Sunday for two full days of shot-making on Durward Bartlett's sporty nine-hole grass greens layout.

Jimmy Hundley, in charge of the entries, reported some 36 entries already in Monday with the real rush yet to come. Most such tourney entries usually come in the final 48 hours before the deadline, which won't come for this one until 5 p. m. Friday.

Members of the T-Bar Country Club at Tahoka, the Lorenson Country Club and the Floydard Country Club, as well as membership players of the local course and their guests, have been invited to participate.

Hundley said five and possibly six flights of 16 players each are expected to tee off Saturday.

The course will be open to all entries Friday for practice rounds.

A "shotgun start" is planned for the tourney.

In such a start, foursomes tee off on each of the nine holes on the course at the same time with another foursome behind them ready to tee off as soon as they are out of range. This fills up the course in a matter of minutes.

First prize in each flight will be a set of four woods of the player's choice. Runners-up in each flight will receive sets of three matched woods, with the third place flight winners each winning a dozen golf balls of his choice.

The big array of prizes accounts for the $12.50 entry fee.

The greens are all in good shape with the fairways green and growing following the recent rains.

A large group of special golf ball prizes will be awarded for various things, but this special prize list has yet to be drawn.

A number of local merchants are contributing these prizes.

The tournament will be full handicap allowed within flights and be on a 36-hole medal handicaps basis, with 18 holes played each day.

The players with the higher handicaps will tee off at 8 a. m. each morning of the tournament, with the lower handicap players starting at 1 o'clock each afternoon.

Local players are urged to get their entries in as soon as possible.

The Beta Sigma Phi sorority will have a sandwich concession at the clubhouse to help feed hungry players.

to tee off as soon as they are out of range. This fills up the course in a matter of minutes.

First prize in each flight will be a set of four woods of the player's choice. Runners-up in each flight will receive sets of three matched woods, with the third place flight winners each winning a dozen golf balls of his choice.

The big array of prizes accounts for the $12.50 entry fee.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE
RELEASED BY THE TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
John C. White, Commissioner

CAUTION URGED IN USE OF HERBICIDES
The use of hormone-type herbicides sometimes called weed-killers has proved to be of considerable value to many Texas farmers. The application of herbicides as 2, 4-Dichloroacetic Acid and 2, 4, 5-Trichloroacetic Acid, is referred to as 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T, respectively, can be of specific benefit in weed control on pastures and ranges because they act on broadleaved plants. However, there can be an appreciable risk in applying these chemicals to the cultivated plants within proximity of the area being treated. Accidentally damaged or killed herbicides when proper precautions are not used. Cotton, Texas' main crop, is particularly vulnerable to herbicide damage.

regulations when using the chemicals with reference to such matters as wind velocity (which would determine the amount of drift from the application area to surrounding acreage) and closeness to susceptible planted crops such as cotton and flax.

In 1963, a marked increase has been noted of people who are using 2,4-D (the more commonly-used hormone-type herbicide) for the first time. There has also been noted a significant rise in complaints from people who have cause to believe that the application of herbicides by others has had some effect in their crops. Such complaints are serious and call for prompt attention by the Department of Agriculture when regulations apply.

It is therefore a matter of great importance that any person not having had previous experience in the use of these important chemicals first of all check with the nearest Texas Department of Agriculture office or write to John C. White, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, Austin, for information concerning regulation and use of herbicides in their home counties.

LAWN CARE HINTS
A beautiful, well-kept lawn adds material value of a home. It is a basic requirement of an active yard. The beauty of a lawn depends largely on the care given during the growing seasons. A. C. Novosad, extension pasture specialist, root systems and enables the plants to utilize the plant food applied. It is best to water in the mornings.

Proper mowing gives a healthier and thicker turf. Mow regularly and don't clip more than one inch at a time. Keep the mower sharp and in proper adjustment and mow Bermuda grass at a height of one to one and a half inches; St. Augustine and bluegrass at one and a half to two inches for an attractive lawn, says the specialist.

A thick, vigorous turf is the best defense against weeds but if they are a problem chemicals can be used for control. Ask the local county agent for details.

FARM SAFETY
During the busy season on the farm, many of us become careless and forget safety practices.

Henry O'Neal, Extension agricultural engineer at Texas A&M College, warns that modern high speed farm machinery must be handled safely if we expect to reduce serious accidents. He suggests that you check your operators manual to determine proper operation and care of your tractor and equipment

Will sell Texas products abroad

WACO — Walter Meyer, Texas Farm Bureau commodity director, will depart for a 20-day trip to England and various European countries beginning July 5 and returning July 25. Purpose of the trip will be to study export possibilities to the countries presently being served by Farm Bureau's Trade Development Office in Rotterdam. Accompanying Meyer on most of the itinerary will be H. H. Alp, manager of the Rotterdam office.

Principal cities Meyer will visit include Manchester, Liverpool, Oslo, Amsterdam, Copenhagen, Hamburg, Rotterdam, Brussels, London, Paris and Madrid.

Through active promotion and merchandising by the Rotterdam staff, several markets have been opened up for American farmers which never existed before. Several shipments of fresh fruits and vegetables such as carrots, beets, onions, peaches, and others have been exported to England, Denmark, France, and Holland. Other Texas commodities such as honey, pecans, canned vegetables, citrus, feed, grains, poultry, variety meats, various types of seeds, show a good potential in foreign markets, Meyer said.

Things Meyer will include in his itinerary are visits with prospective buyers, showing samples of commodities to these people, and gaining commitments for future business.

CHRIS COPY

By CHRIS CORNISH

I can tell right away this is going to be one of those weeks. The minute I walked in the door Monday morning I heard: "Chris, we need your column right away." Now when Mr. C says that it means you go straight to your typewriter and type your column without another word. This column I'm typing is supposed to be clever and informative. Now when I walk in the door Monday morning the two things I'm not really wake up till about midmorning after a Coke-break. My good friends in Post Pharmacy put a roll on to heat; and fix a Coke the minute I open their door. Now that's service. Any way back to the columns—I wonder why Mrs. C or Mr. C for that matter, don't have to have their columns ready early on Monday morning? And the reason the columns have to be in early is because of the Fourth of July. See, the Dispatch comes out a day early and now all week we'll be rushing things up a day and that means I might not get those Coke-breaks which means I might never wake up all week.

—CC—

Ah! The Fourth of July. That brings back old memories like the time the roman candle blew up in my hand or the time Marcia Newby stepped right in the middle of the chocolate cake we were going to eat for our picnic lunch. We weren't feeling too patriotic toward Marcia after that but it really didn't hurt the cake much. Just sorta messed up the frosting a little bit. I feel like I ought to say a little something about patriotism and stuff like that. If you notice, there's something about it on practically every page. And they really all say the same thing . . . so I won't be saying anything different. But I don't think people really feel anything at all on the Fourth. Here we are living in America, the land of the free and we don't ever take time out to think about it. I wonder if we'd feel any different if the hammer and sickle were flying over us instead of the stars and stripes. Now that ought to give you something to ponder over.

—CC—

Jimmy Minor returned home last week after a week's visit in Houston. Seems like Jimmy spends an awful lot of time down there. He must really have it bad. He's working again at the A. S. C. office this summer. This is Jimmy's third summer there. Wonder if he'll find any cotton to measure along down Houston way? We have a new steady couple in town, Phil Foster and Cheri Moore. Congratulations, you two. It looks like Jimmy's not the only one who has it bad. And Bobby Roach was home over the weekend which made Cereba Jones very happy I imagine. Looks like the sugar ants are working overtime.

—CC—

Susan C. Janice White, Davis' Nichols and James Mitchell all went to Lake Thomas Sunday. Bet they had a blast. Won't that place be a madhouse on the Fourth? Linda Hopkins came to town on

Slaton political pot still boils

SLATON — George D. water and sewer superintendent for the last 12 years, resigned effective June 30.

The resignation was submitted without explanation to a meeting of the Slaton City Commission, which at a meeting previously failed to renew the employment of City Secretary Maxey.

Police Chief Gene Martin asked the commission, that the city's spring election his department has received threats and assent from the criminal element of the community, which led to the threat that, if arrested, would get the officers and the commission. It was so voted.

Martin asked for the support of the commission. It was so voted a specific case of a complaint a vagrancy arrest.

Mayor Jonas Cain named a committee on fiscal policies to set up with recommendations to the commission, after pointing out Slaton was now operating a deficit financing and there were many complaints about high rates.

Pleasant Valley reporter catching up on sleep

By MRS. MAX CHAFFIN

Here we go again! If I don't seem very wide awake it's because I'm not! Went to a convention this weekend and haven't caught up on my sleep yet!

The convention was in Lubbock and it was the 43rd annual Convention of the Department of Textile and Apparel of Foreign Wars, June 27-30. Max Chaffin attended the last three days of it mostly after work, except on Sunday, all day. There were 123 posts of the VFW represented and mobs of people. I attended Saturday and the crowds reminded me of New York City. You've never seen a lot of people until you have been there.

Saw Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Altman at the convention; Mr. Altman is the son of Ben Altman of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Payton are recuperating from a trip to Oklahoma, home, and then to New Mexico, Linda (Mrs. Earl Kenney) went with them. First stop was Paden, Okla., where they visited the Rev. and Mrs. Bill Payton, Carl Payton's brother. Then, on to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Collins' home at Salina, Okla. The highlight of the trip was a surprise Golden Wedding anniversary party for Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Payton, formerly of Pleasant Valley. Six of their seven children were present. The D. R. Paytons' mailing address in Gentry, Ark., but they live over the border in Oklahoma.

The Carl Payton returned home on June 22 with Linda and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Payton (Mrs. is a sister of Carl), Judy and Bill, spent the night with them and they all left the next day for New Mexico, that is, the Bruce Paytons and Mrs. Carl Payton and J. W. They moved Mrs. Payton's parents to Lemitar, N. M. It took them three days. The Carl Paytons are all home now, resting nicely.

After this third cup of coffee my eyes are beginning to open! Mrs. Jack Burkett and Jan and Jackie spent Saturday night in Lubbock with Mrs. Burkett's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Johnston, Sharla and Kevin of Slaton spent Sunday at the Clay Johnstons.

Mrs. O. H. Hoover reports on trip to California

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Mrs. O. H. Hoover, The Dispatch's Grassland correspondent, has just returned from a five weeks trip to California, and in this story gives a full account of her trip.)

By MRS. O. H. HOOVER
Cheese, my little dog and I left Clovis, N. M., 12:40 p. m., May 26 for sunny California. We arrived at Pinole 2:20 p. m. Saturday, May 27. Had a lovely trip out. I rode in the observation car. While we were in the mountains, I could see the engine and the rear car of the train at the same time—made a perfect S. The scenery was beautiful. There was drifting fog on the mountains and the valleys. My son, Jack, and his family were all at Pinole to meet us.

We stayed with the Jack Hoovers in Vacaville for a week. Then Billie Bob, who lives in Mountain View came after us. Wednesday, we traveled to Mountain View by way of the Bay bridge where we had a good view of the Alcatraz Rock. The Rock is a prison no longer, the prisoners have all been moved to Vacaville and San Quentin. On Friday, Billie, Betty, Kelli and I went to Santa Cruz and out on the pier we had a wonderful seafood lunch, and watched the seagulls fly in. They were as large as tame ducks. I never saw so many different kinds of seafood in my life. There were also a number of shops on the pier, and of course we did some shopping. We returned to Santa Cruz and visited the wonderful wax museum. There were wax figures from Abe Lincoln to Ike and Mamie Eisenhower. There was an old-fashioned one room school with life size figures including a boy sitting behind a girl putting her long braids into an ink well. There was Billy, the Kid, and his hideout home. Also Florence Nightingale and Jennie Lind. You could almost hear them sing, they looked so real. From there we went down to the beach, but it was cold and we couldn't stay. We took some pictures and returned home by way of the scenic ocean drive and I mean it was some drive. It was so crooked you could almost meet yourself coming back.

Next day Betty and I went to San Francisco having lunch and shopping at the City of Paris. Then we made a tour of the shops in China Town and had a little snack at a Chinese restaurant.

The following day we drove all over Palo Alto, Los Altos, Sunay Vale and Mountain View. Only streets separate these four towns. There are beautiful, lovely homes tucked away in the trees on the side of the mountains. We went through the Methodist Church, it was marvelous. Then we drove on back to Vacaville and went sight seeing with the Jack Hoover family. We went through Travis Air Force Base and went through the big planes that carry 300 men with all their equipment. My son, Jack, flies a C-124 which is also a very huge plane. Jack got a few days off and we went sight seeing up through the Red Wood forests. I couldn't see the tops of the trees and they were very large as well as tall. We ate a picnic lunch among the trees and drove from the forest over to San Francisco. We went through the science and planetarium buildings. Also saw the reptile gardens where we saw huge pythons and all kinds of other reptiles. We didn't get to visit the aquarium there as it was closed, but we did see the one at Santa Cruz. We also visited the Japanese Tea Gardens and went to the museum where we saw many beautiful industries and paintings. We went out to Fisherman's Wharf and had a delicious seafood dinner. Then on home—a tired but happy bunch. The highlights of my trip I believe were seeing my son, Jack, and his wife, Jean, initiated into the Order of Eastern Star and my grandson, Mark, installed as chaplain in the Order of De Molays.

Mrs. Willie Becker has grandchildren visiting

By MRS. MAX CHAFFIN

Mrs. Willie Becker has had a house full of grandchildren the past two weeks. Theresa and Rebecca Forrester, Terry and Danny Becker were there to attend the American Lutheran Bible School in Slaton during that time. Don Earl Blythe has been staying with her since school was out. Daughter Mrs. Joe Blythe was there to help out for two weeks.

Mrs. Cline Drake was ill last Sunday but is doing much better now.

Mrs. Weldon McGehee visited with Mrs. B. D. Robinson on Tuesday.

The Hubert Taylors had a big occasion at their house on last Friday—it was the third birthday of Rodney Josey, their grandson of Post, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Josey. His other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Billingsley of Lubbock were also there.

A cowboy cake with little cowboys, horses, Indians and a fence, hamburgers and Cokes were served to the guests. Among the many presents received by Rodney was a Gym Dandy set given to him by his grandparents.

The Rev. Roy Bassett, Methodist minister in Southland, is attending a seminar in the Fort Worth-Dallas region for three weeks. He is due to return this coming Sunday. Mrs. Bassett is visiting with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Othell Carey from Brownfield spent the weekend with the Billy Lesters.

R. L. Hagler has not been feeling very well but we hope he is doing better by now.

Raymond and Tommie McGehee and Weldon McGehee attended the Joe Williams funeral in Post on Saturday.

The whole family was at the Willie Beckers on last Saturday evening for barbecued chicken, steak and shrimp cocktail made out of 20 pounds of fresh shrimp from Houston brought by Mrs. Joe Blythe. The Joe Blythes are moving from Houston to Kansas City, Kan., and they picked up their son, Don, on their way up there.

Burnet has many vacation spots, historical sites

BURNET—Tourist information on Burnet, one of Central Texas' finest vacation cities, lists many fine features.

Fact of the matter is, there are so many fine features in this wonderful land of lakes and hills that it's hard to relate all of them.

Perhaps Burnet's best and most accurate claim is that it has "unlimited facilities for fun." To list a few: Burnet is located among five lakes with a total of 76,600 surface acres of water; nearby Buchanan Dam is the largest multiple arch dam in the world; Inks State Park, located on the shores of Inks Lake, covers 2,000 acres; nearby Longhorn Caverns is the third largest in the world and is dramatically lighted throughout its two-mile expanse.

There are other recreational facilities such as parks and a golf course, but there also are historical sites to see. In addition to a fine museum, nearby Packsaddle Mountain was the site of the last Indian battle in Texas.

Sharon, Ronnie and Todd Sales spent Saturday night with the Weldon McGehees and also visited Ronnie's mother and father over the weekend.

The Hubert Taylors attended another birthday party in Post on Saturday for Rodney Josey given him by his mother, Mrs. Royce Josey.

Wes Donahoo hurt his back and was laid up most of last week. My phone is acting temperamental and wouldn't reach most people or they were out hoeing the whole week so this is all I know.

HOME FROM VACATION
Mr. and Mrs. Don Dunbar and children returned home Thursday from a week's vacation in Dallas, at Lake Texoma and in Fort Worth. While in Fort Worth, they visited Six Flags. They also visited their parents in Big Spring.

FAMILY VISITING
Visiting in the home of Mrs. S. W. McCrary last week were her son, Scott W. McCrary, and family of Dallas. They all spent two days in Amarillo visiting the Leroy McCrarys. Leroy and his wife had recently returned from Granite Shoals, where they caught a 35-lb. yellow catfish. The guests enjoyed a fish fry.

Q. I want to convert my term insurance to a permanent plan but I've put it off for years because it costs too much to convert $10,000. What can I do?
A. You can convert part of your insurance in any multiple of $500 after the first $1,000. Convert what you can budget now; retain the balance as term insurance until you are able to convert it.

Q. In a short time, I will retire after 20 years of military service. I desire to go to school under the GI Bill. Am I eligible?
A. It depends on when you received your first unconditional discharge after Jan. 31, 1955. If less than three years have passed since that clear discharge, you are eligible; if more than three years, you are not.

Q. Does the date of my discharge count as far as rehabilitation training is concerned if I have a service-connected disability?
A. Servicemen discharged for physical disability may have eligibility for vocational rehabilitation training. Approval of such training depends on a number of factors and should be investigated. Ask the Veterans Administration.

Measuring cotton fields real Grassland headache

By LUCILE WALKER
Measuring cotton acreage is a big headache to many farmers in the Grassland community this week. They have planted little patches here and there to get in their allotted acres. Makes a problem for the person who has to try and figure it all out and especially hard on the "poor old farmer." He will still be trying to figure a way out at the end of the year.

be gone several days.
The people of Grassland were saddened by the death of O. R. Cook, one of our pioneer citizens. May God comfort you in time of sorrow.

Odie Campbell, who has been a patient in Lubbock Methodist Hospital for several days, had major surgery Saturday morning. He is reported to be doing very well.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Donnell of Lubbock visited the L. B. Burks, the B. A. Normans and C. M.

Don Davies takes ROTC training

Cadet Don E. Davies, attending Texas Tech, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Davies, 112 E. 10th, is one of 1891 Reserve Office Training Corps cadets attending the General Military Science ROTC Camp at Fort Sill, Okla., to become future army officers.

The cadets began their intensive training Monday, June 17, and for the next six weeks will learn how to become an expert firer with the M1 (Army) Rifle on the Trainfire Range at Ft. Sill.

The cadets will learn how to set up, load and fire 81 mm mortars, 3.5 Rocket Launchers, operate radios, function as radio operators in communication Nets as used under combat conditions. They will become efficient in the technique of mine warfare. The training is carried out by the cadets utilizing the actual equipment used under combat and personally doing the work as practice makes perfect. Physical training and organized athletics are part of each weeks training. Although the training is intensive, the cadets are able to take advantage of the many athletic and recreational facilities in the Lawton and Ft. Sill area.

Sunflowers soon may be new Texas crop

HALFWAY — Sunflowers may be a new crop for the High Plains of Texas within the next three years. Research at the High Plains Research Foundation indicates that a profitable variety will soon be available for commercial production.

Seven hundred and twenty strains from seed selected in the breeding program in 1962 are growing at the Foundation Farm at Halfway. These strains were planted on April 24 and many of them will be ready for harvest in early August. These plants have stood up under adverse weather conditions of wind, hail and hard rain. They are resistant to the ravages of the Sunflower Moth, which has been the scourge of sunflower development in the area in the past.

Scientists at the Foundation are seeking a plant with one head in the stalk; a bent or crooked stem which makes it difficult for birds to feed on; and a seed yield from 3,000 to 4,000 pounds to the acre. Most of the desirable strains are 30 to 36 inches which make them easy to combine. The sunflower plant has a low water requirement which makes it fine for the area.
