Ex-convict is charged here on two counts of forgery

A 42-year-old ex-convict, accused of having forged a Garza County commissioner's name to six checks and passed them at local business places, has been charged here on two counts of forgery and is being held in the Lubbock County jail for safekeeping.

The alleged forger, Nathan Clark Kelley, was arrested by sheriff's officers at Breckenridge Saturday, just a few hours after Deputy Sheriff Lloyd H. Merritt had alerted officers there that Kelley probably was in that vicinity.

The last of six forged checks turned over to sheriff's officers here led to Kelley's arrest.

It was a $15 check passed Saturday morning at the B&B Liquor Store. An employee there, suspicious of the man who gave the check, called the First National Bank. He was told that the check was forged and immediately contacted the sheriff's department, giving them a description of the man, the pickup he was driving and the vehicle's license tag number.

Deputy Sheriff Merritt took it from there.

"When I learned the direction in which he drove away from the liquor store, I just used some simple arithmetic to figure where he might be if he kept going in that direction," the officer said.

"Figuring how long he'd been gone and how fast he might be driving, I came to the conclusion that he'd be somewhere near Breckenridge, providing of course he continued in that direction.

"I called the sheriff at Breckenridge and gave him a description of Kelley and the pickup he was driving. It wasn't but a short time until the sheriff called and said he had our man."

Merritt said another thing that helped him in tracing the man was the fact that he (Merritt) had seen the pickup that morning as it drove by his house.

"When I got the call from the liquor store I immediately recognized the description of the pickup as the one I'd seen pass my house," the deputy said.

Kelley was returned to Post Saturday night by Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claborn Jr.

The checks, forged with County Commissioner Jack Myers' name had been passed here at United Super Market, Short Hardware, Caprock Liquor Store, B&B Liquor Store and the K&K Food Store, two at the latter store.

The six checks passed by the man ranged from $15 to $46.80 and totaled $175.

Kelley had worked a few days for County Commissioner Myers, Merritt said.

The deputy sheriff said Kelley's record showed that he had been sentenced to three years from Harris County in 1957 for forging and passing.

Kelley's bond here was set at $1,000 on each of the two counts of forgery.

Hearings Monday on murder case, Close City suit

Two cases of widespread interest here are set for hearing Monday in district court.

One is the case of Reymundo Flores, deaf-mute farm laborer, who is charged with murder in the fatal shooting of Pearlene Stafford, 33-year-old Negro woman, here Nov. 18, 1961.

The other case is the civil suit brought by A. C. Cash against the Close City school board alleging discrimination in the board's decision to pay tuition and provide transportation for Negro students transferred to Post, but not for white students from the Close City district attending the Post schools.

The interest in the murder case centers around the problem of communicating with the defendant, who is also unable to read and does not understand sign language. The case first came to trial May 2, 1962, but was continued because an important witness was not on hand to testify.

Interest is also high in the civil suit brought against the Close City school board by Cash because of its implication of racial discrimination in reverse.

Pat N. Walker, attorney for the plaintiff, recently secured a temporary restraining order from District Judge Truett Smith enjoining the Close City school district from making any distinction between the white and Negro children transferred into the Post schools in either tuition or transportation until final decree is entered in the suit.

Meat judges win at Abilene

Another FFA team qualifies for state

Post's Future Farmers of America chapter qualified another team for the state FFA contests Saturday when the meats judging team won first place in the Gooch Pack Co. invitational meet at Abilene.

The contest was open to schools in Vocational Agriculture Areas II and IV and served as the area elimination contest for Area II.

Bids opened for White River electric contract

White River Municipal Water District directors accepted bids on the electrical contract for the big dam and booster stations at a brief April meeting last Thursday night at Contractor Steve Luce's house-trailer office on the damsite.

The City of Crosbyton bid on the booster station for Ralls, which is located in Crosbyton. The Dickens County Co-op entered the bid on the dam itself and its bid was for electricity to all of the project; but the Post and Crosbyton booster stations.

The Southwestern Public Service Co. bid for the two booster stations near Post and the one Ralls one located at Crosbyton. The Lyntegar Electric Co-op of Tahoka bid only to supply power to the first booster station out of Post.

The bids will be forwarded to the district's engineers, Freeze and Nichols at Fort Worth, for consideration before contracts are awarded. Utility firms bid only for service in areas which they serve.

Directors, on an inspection tour prior to a dinner at the White River cafe and the business session, were told by John King of Texarkana, president of Talon Construction Co. that his firm hopes to complete the filtration plant by August.

Five or six weeks of concrete work will be required, King, who is supervising the job himself, told directors. Then will come the setting of equipment and the construction of buildings.

Luce told directors that the big earthen dam was on that date approximately 36 feet above the streambed and that dirt is being

A plaque is to be presented each of two farmers selected for the honor by a committee composed of County Agent Syd Conner, Home Demonstration Agent Leta Smith, and Bobby Gray of the Soil Conservation Service office.

The Ladies' night program which is still in the process of being completed, will also include a guest speaker, according to Lion Boss John E. Carter.

A color film, "Wings Over Alaska," was shown at Tuesday night's Lions Club meeting by Buddy French, a pilot for West Texas Aircraft of Lubbock.

No decision yet on White River appeal

The civil appeals court at Amarillo has yet to hand down its decision in the White River Municipal Water District's appeal on its land condemnation suit against the Walker estate for the site of the White River dam.

Student selected for Boys State

Denny Odom, 17-year-old junior in Post High School, has been selected to attend the American Legion's Boys State June 9-15 on the campus of the University of Texas.

Odom, the son of Albert D. Odom of 201 South Ave. D was selected by a committee from James C. Cole Post No. 270 of the American Legion.

His father is a World War II veteran.

Danny participated in football, basketball and track at Post High School and also in the summer baseball program here. He is a member of the Science Club and was a member of the Junior Class play staff.

The City of Post celebrates its 56th birthday this week with 111 local business firms and professional men joining together in a two-page tribute (see pages 12 and 13) to the town's colorful past and its bright tomorrow.

All of the firms are listed in the order of their birthday year—and will surprise most readers to learn that L. M. Crowley's Blacksmith Shop at 113 North Avenue H is the oldest of the lot. It was founded in 1906 and has been continuously operated at the same location since that early beginning—47 years before the town was actually founded. Crowley told us this week he had traced the purchase of the property back to 1906 through the county records. Of course the county passed through several pairs of hands before Crowley purchased it.

We think Dispatch readers are sure to enjoy checking over the list of 111 firms listed on the two pages and their birth year dates. We used the date their business was established, although not necessarily under present ownership. We wanted to be listed only on the date of their own ownership. It might surprise many to learn that 40 of these 111 firms have been operations in or since the golden Jubilee year of 1957.

Most folks generally know the many things C. W. Post did, or attempted to do, for the town he founded in its early years. But many probably don't know too much more about the town founder. On page 3 of today's birthday edition of The Dispatch is a sketch of the busy and colorful life of C. W. Post.

We received a nice letter from (see POSTINGS, Page 8)

Dubree infant is buried in Post

Michelle M. Dubree, year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Dubree of the Grassland community, was buried in Terrace Cemetery here today after funeral services in Abilene.

The infant died at 1:30 a. m. today in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock.

The funeral services were held at 1 p. m. Tuesday in the First Methodist Church at Tahoka. Interment here was under the direction of White Funeral Home of Tahoka.

Survivors other than the parents are a brother, Gary, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dubree of Grassland and Mr. and Mrs. Cleo King of Tahoka.

Burning grass accounts for three fire alarms

Post would have enjoyed a perfect fire record for the last seven days if it hadn't been for grass fires.

All three alarms turned in the last seven days—two Sunday and one Tuesday—have been for grass fires.

Tuesday's grass fire, reported at 10 a. m., was just north of the drive-in theatre site.

One of the grass fires Sunday was at 4:46 p. m., six miles south of Post, and the other was at 10:45 a. m. at South Lake.

TOLN CAR CASE SPEEDILY SOLVED

Thirty-five minutes after a 1966 Dodge was stolen in Snyder, Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Merritt had the two thieves in custody and the car recovered.

Snyder police radioed law enforcement officers here Monday afternoon that the car had been stolen and gave a description of it.

Merritt in his patrol car parked eight and one-half miles south on US-84 when he received the radio report.

Five minutes later the stolen car came over the hill.

Deputy Merritt arrested Jesse Neal Morris 19 from West Virginia, and Eugene Linwood Lane, 17, from California in the same vehicle. The pair were AWOL soldiers from Fort Sill, Okla.

The two have been turned over to the Snyder police department.

Happy 56th birthday, Post!

Towns, like most people, don't have a big celebration every time their birthday rolls around, but then neither do they forget them to the extent of ignoring them completely.

That is the case here this week, with Post observing its 56th birthday. Our big "birthday party" was held six years ago, back in 1957, on the occasion of the town's 50th birthday. And, looking back on it, what a birthday celebration it turned out to be!

Considerable water has run under the bridge since Post went all out to celebrate its 50th birthday. The town is six years older than it was then, but you couldn't tell it by looking. Progressive towns don't age in appearance, and Post is and has been a progressive town.

There are a number of new buildings here today that weren't here when Post celebrated its 50th birthday, including a new high school, a new U. S. Post Office and First National Bank building, and a number of other new business structures. There's also been more than one "face lifting" job on buildings that were here six years ago, including a major one on the City Hall building.

There are more paved streets today than there were six years ago; farm-to-market roads leading in and out of town have taken on newer and broader looks, and we have a full-fledged city police department and dial telephones, which are two of the things we were "going after" back in 1957.

Many old-timers have passed from the scene, making the town seem emptier by their passing, but leaving behind them good records of having contributed to the town's progress. Many newcomers have moved in to take their place in keeping the town progressing.

We're six years nearer the final realization of the big White River dam project than we were in 1957, when the project was in its infancy. Two more birthdays—possibly one more—will find Post realizing the full benefits of the municipal surface water supply the dam will provide.

We could go on and on telling of the things that are here today that weren't here six years ago and of the many changes that have been made, but if we did we'd risk spoiling the town's 56th birthday observance by being wearisome to the reader. And no birthday observance should be a wearisome affair. So, we'll end it by saying...

"Happy 56th birthday, Post, Texas!"—CD

I'VE JUST TAKEN a look at the calendar and find that there are two "stretchable" holidays left this year—Memorial Day and Independence Day, both falling on Thursday "stretchable" means that by working it just right you can stretch them out over the weekend. Christmas, alas, falls on Wednesday.

The man up the street says as long as we prevent women from becoming astronauts, the man in the moon is safe.

WHICH REMINDS me that I heard a fellow wonder out loud the other day if the Russians were suddenly going to land a man on the moon while we in this country were still listening to the possibility of such a landing discussed on "Meet the Press."

Things are so speeded up nowadays that one never thinks of such an old-fashioned idea as becoming "involved" with a wheelbarrow but there was a time when the wheelbarrow was responsible for its share of accidents. This, from an essay titled "The Intricacies of a Wheelbarrow," by James N. Bailey, will give you an idea:

If you have occasion to use a wheelbarrow, leave it, when you are through with it, in front of the house with the handles toward the door. A wheelbarrow is the most complicated thing to fall over on the face of the earth. A man will fall over one when he would never think of falling over anything else. He never knows when he has got through falling over it, either; for it will tangle his legs and arms, turn over with him and rear up in front of him, and just as he pauses in his profanity to congratulate himself, it takes a new turn, and scoops more skin off of him, and he commences to evolve anew, and bump himself in fresh places.

A man never ceases to fall over a wheelbarrow until it turns completely on its back, or brings up against something it cannot upset. It is the most inoffensive-looking object there is, but it is more dangerous than a locomotive, and no man is secure with one unless he has a tight hold of its handles, and is sitting down on something.

ANYONE WANT to buy a professional football team? The Philadelphia Eagles were put up for sale Friday at an asking price of $4.5 Million.

A friend who is a Republican and who, along with other GOP hopefuls, is already sifting possible Republican presidential candidates, has more than a little to say about the State of Ohio's governor, James Rhodes. He says he believes Rhodes to be the best candidate of all, although largely passed over by the press. Among Rhodes' qualifications, my friend lists these: In his first few days of office he fired all state employees hired after Sept. 14, 1962, and ordered a reduction of spending by 9.1 per cent. "I believe that this is the type of man that we need in the White House," he said. Okay, okay; get him on the ticket and we'll see what our JFK can do with him.

SIGN SEEN in a church near here: "You can't take it with you but you can send it ahead."

MRS. JEAN Kennedy called in after reading the story in last Thursday's Dispatch about the chicken laying eggs within eggs to tell us that she had just found an April 19, 1945, copy of The Dispatch that had a similar story. I checked the files and sure enough there was a story about C. C. Francis bringing in an egg that contained a complete white and yolk inside the original egg.

The April 19 date made the "freak" egg story at about the same time of year as the current one, except 18 years earlier. Incidentally, that issue of The Dispatch was the same one that contained the news about the sudden death of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

WHOEVER WROTE the 1945 egg story called Mr. Francis' egg a "2-in-1" or "double-duty" egg. The writer also mentioned that Mr. Francis was bringing in four cases of eggs every week to sell to local stores.

Bible Thoughts

By HERB SMITH

"Building Christian Character"

Christian character is a character made in the likeness of Christ. The more of His traits we adorn, the more our character is christian. The finished product should be our goal, but we must also have a beginning. The building of any structure has three general steps.

The first step is preparation. Other things are involved, but one important thing is clearing the lot by moving old structures and trash. This amounts to repentance. We must stop sinful ways. The sins are cleansed by the blood of Christ through baptism. Acts 2:38, I Pet. 3:21.

The second step is laying the foundation. The Bible is the foundation. It won't be strong enough if the Bible is used for one side and man's opinion is used for the other side of the foundation. See Matt. 7:24-27.

Third step is the erection of the walls, braces, roof, and so on. With the christian it is adding the christian ideals to his life. 2 Pet. 1:5-10, Eph. 6:10ff.

TRY COLLIER'S

You can't make 'em sign 'em

We note from the Jacksonville (Ark.) News that a thin-skinned legislator has introduced a bill in the State General Assembly to require a publisher to append the writer's name to an editorial.

Now we see nothing wrong about signing an editorial. In fact, we here at The Dispatch "initial" the editorials so folks will know who wrote them, but we certainly wouldn't want anyone to try to force us to do it.

The Arkansas legislator's proposal has drawn a furor of objections from the press in that state and is clearly a childish attempt of its sponsor to strike back at a newspaper which has been critical of him.

After introducing this bill, the Arkansas legislator would have to make up a long list. Additionally, each newspaper is required by law to carry a box containing the name of the publisher and editor on one of the pages of each issue of the newspaper. You'll find the one for The Dispatch just over to the right and down from where you're reading. It is clearly the responsibility of these men, whose names appear there, to set the editorial policy of the newspaper and it is to them that the credit, or blame, must go for the contents of the editorial page.

It would seem, therefore, that the responsibility is already clearly fixed for whatever may appear on the editorial pages of any newspaper—even those which do not initial their editorials, as The Dispatch does.

'Phone tangle unfair to public

"General Telephone Men Say: July too soon for new rural phones."

That was the front page headline in last week's Dispatch. And the story which followed made us a little sick in the stomach. The long suffering public—both rural and local—is about to suffer some more.

This is the gist of the problem. The Caprock Telephone Co. is building a big rural loop through eastern and southern Garza County to reach over a hundred rural residents who have never had phone service before.

The plan has always been to hook it into Post's telephone system (General Telephone) without requiring toll call charges from rural home to city, or visa versa. After all, these people count Post as their home town and trading center.

What General Telephone said last week was that the hookup of the new rural exchange with Post's switchboards couldn't come by July. The

In view of these facts, it would seem to us that the Arkansas legislator's bill is unnecessary, irrelevant and childish.

We set up our own editorial policy of initialing our editorials the very first week the present publisher took over The Dispatch in June of 1957. We've been doing it ever since and at the end of every editorial there's always been a "JC" or a "CD". We've had a number of people want to know why we do this. Some have even accused us of being vain, but both JC and CD assure you that such is not the case. If either of them figured his prose was matchless or his ideas earth-shaking, he'd accord some merit to such an accusation. But, more times than the reader might suspect, they hesitate to append their initials to an editorial because they know it was hurriedly written and with a little more time and thought might have resulted in sharper writing and a better idea.

The main reason we initial our editorials is so that if one of us does get off something that makes a hit with the reader, the credit won't go to the other editorial writer... or if one of us "goofs" the innocent writer won't have to shoulder the blame.

But, as we said at the outset, we initial The Dispatch editorials because we want to. There is no law that says we have to and we wouldn't want to see such a law passed—not even in Arkansas, where our editorials, as far as we know, aren't even quoted.—CD utility spokesmen indicated additional months would be required.

First, no agreement has been negotiated between the two phone companies. That must, come, General Telephone has indicated, before rate negotiations can be opened with the City of Post for somebody to pay the bill for additional service and equipment.

After all that is finished, presumably, General Telephone would then order and construct the facilities. Whether this would require additional time for obtaining manufacture of equipment is not clear.

The Dispatch is firmly convinced that both telephone companies have been dragging their feet in not negotiating the service agreement long before now.

It isn't fair to the public, that has waited so long, to be faced in a couple of more months with completed facilities but no tie-in.—JC

Library Week—another editorial

Here it is National Library Week again and just to keep our "string" going we find it necessary to remind everyone that Post and Garza County are no nearer a public library today than they were some five years ago when we first began writing our Library Week editorials.

We'd have to check the files to make sure, but we don't think we've missed a year yet writing, as a Library Week contribution, an editorial calling attention to our own community library needs.

We'll have to admit that as far as getting anything done is concerned, the editorials haven't accomplished a thing. But we're always reminded of the old adage that starts out, "Little drops of water..."

Meanwhile, legislation has been passed to make it easier and simpler for counties without public libraries to establish them. All that has come about since our short-lived citizens library committee stopped functioning when it appeared that they weren't going to get anywhere discussing a library proposal with the county commissioners' court.

Maybe it's time to pick up the ball again. At least, we always think so every time another National Library Week rolls around.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Of course the dollar goes farther today. In fact a lot of it it ends up in outer space.—Wendell Tooley in The Floyd County Hesperian.

Scattered over desks and counters in Crosbyton you'll find 1963 editions of a publication called "Parade of Progress." This promotional booklet has short, once-over-lightly write-ups on various South Plains towns. If a town is to appear on its pages, somebody in that town must purchase advertising space. I don't intend to argue the merits of this fat brochure. Nor will I debate their purging, even from their maps, such towns as fail to cough up cash—Happy is on the map while Crosbyton, Floydada and Ralls are not. However, I can't see why Crosbyton citizens should put this booklet out in their public places. Tis for tat, friends. They left us high and dry; why give them the honor of a hearing?—Pat Bennett in The Crosbyton Review.

The American dollar, as all have realized, has shrunk woefully, so far as purchasing power is concerned. Measured in terms of costs of goods and services, it will do about half the work it did a few short years ago. Despite that fact, the world is seeking the dollar more eagerly than ever... and abroad, a nation's strength and hopes for the future are pretty largely determined by its ability to do business in American currency.—Al Hinds in The Haskell Free Press.

Town was founder's last big adventure

When C. W. Post founded this town—then Post City—56 years ago this spring, it wasn't simply the case of a rich man fooling around with his money.

Although then, at the age of 52, a multi-millionaire and known as a "cereal king", Post looked upon the building of this town as a colonization experiment to help men to help themselves.

It was to be his last great adventure of a very colorful and eventful life. He died in California in 1914 at the age of 59 leaving an estate—according to newspaper accounts—of some $30,552,340.

Of this his Texas holdings were valued at $1,600,000,000—most of it in the West Texas area.

C. W. Post came from pioneer stock. His father, Charles Rollin Post, was a Forty-Niner who went to California in pursuit of gold via the old Santa Fe Trail and also participated in Colorado's Pike's Peak gold rush.

Post was born Oct. 26, 1854 in Springfield, Ill. where his father was a well-to-do grain man and a friend of Abraham Lincoln.

WHEN HE WAS only 13, young C. W. Post was sent to the Illinois Industrial University at Urbana later to become the University of Illinois. More fond of play than of work, C. W. found two years of college enough for him.

At the age of 15, he struck out on his own.

At the time of the great Chicago fire in 1871, he served under General Phillip Sheridan while the prostrate city was under martial law. Later he became a member of the military staff of the governor of Illinois.

At 17, Post headed for the western frontier.

He borrowed a thousand dollars from his mother and with a partner set himself up in a hardware store at Independence, Kans. Twelve months later he was back in Springfield, wiser in the ways of business and with his original capital doubled.

Post next plunged into the farming machinery business in Springfield, first as an employe, then as salesman, finally as manager of one of the companies located there.

With this field expanding tremendously as farmers began to spread out across the broad midwestern plains, Post like many others began inventing farm machinery.

HE FIRST PERFECTED a seed planter which was patented in March, 1878. Post formed his own farm machinery manufacturing firm and in five years from 1881-86, he patented three different cultivators, a sulky plow, harrow, and hay-stacker. He also invented a bicycle, a player piano and a type of suspenders commonly in use later.

It was at this point that nature intervened to put him out of the farm machinery business and later to point him toward Texas.

He suffered a severe nervous breakdown. He resigned his position as head of the Illinois Agricultural workers in August of 1886. When his health began to improve shortly thereafter he made his first trip to Texas.

He had been married on Nov. 4, 1874, at the age of 20 to Ella Letitia Merriweather, a young lady of a Virginia family which had immigrated to Illinois.

Post came to Fort Worth in the fall of 1886 and became associated with a group of real estate men in Fort Worth as he saw new opportunities in the development of western real estate.

HE SUFFERED A second nervous breakdown from overwork in the fall of 1888 and spent the next winter in New England recovering. He returned to Fort Worth to build a woolen mill and then began work on a mill to manufacture paper out of Texas cottonseed hulls. But his health broke for the third time.

Post decided to return north for medical attention and in February, 1891, he took his family to Battle Creek, Mich., where he soon found his fame and fortune.

While a patient in a Battle Creek sanitarium in 1891 he was served the various health foods which had been developed there. He became keenly interested, studied foods and their relationship to health and developed his own theory of dietetics.

Impatient to be cured, he left the sanitarium to cure himself.

On the western plains of Texas, Post had run across farmers' wives who had been mixing chicory with roasted wheat and other ground grains which combined into a makeshift coffee. He experimented with it trying to find a coffee substitute which had much of the same taste but no ill effects upon the body.

FOUNDED POST 56 YEARS AGO
C. W. Post (1854-1914) founded and began building the town that bears his name 56 years ago as a colonization experiment "to help men to help themselves." The above picture was used to reproduce the large painting now hanging in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

HE OPENED HIS own Battle Creek sanitarium in 1892, calling it La Vita Inn. From his experiments to serve a warm cereal drink to his patients at his sanitarium came Postum, which was perfected in the latter part of 1894. Postum was a mixture of wheat, bran and molasses. Through Post's own successful promotion it was to bring him his fortune.

C. W. became the father of national advertising as this country knows it today, when, to create a demand for his Postum he began to advertise it widely. Sales jumped from $5,000 the first year to $265,000 the second. In four years sales climbed to $840,000 annually although the country was deep in a depression which toppled banks by the score.

As Postum had a seasonal winter demand, Post quickly developed a second cereal, Grape Nuts, in 1897 and placed it on the market the following year. It met with instant success.

Post then began to branch out. Against advice of his friends he built Battle Creek a fine new hotel, which soon began to make good profits. He built an office building next door and then helped to finance a theatre.

He built houses for his workmen in Battle Creek which were sold at cost to any workman who had been with the Postum Cereal Company for a year.

ABOUT THE TURN OF the century, Post turned over the operations of his cereal firm to his department heads and devoted himself mainly to travel, going to England every year and visiting all over Europe.

In 1902, Post moved to Washington, D. C. and for the next three years took great interest in the relationship between capital and labor. His parents continued to reside in Fort Worth and it was Post's frequent visits with them that pulled him back to Texas for his West Texas town building and colonizing effort.

In 1906 he employed T. P. Stevens, a veteran rancher, to help him purchase some West Texas ranchland and that year bought 213,324 acres, or about 333 squares miles of plains land. At an average cost of $3.50 per acre, they totaled something over $650,000 in worth.

He next employed W. E. Alexander as the manager for his colony in January of 1907 and for the next six years no matter where he might be he kept a close hand on

In a recent study of 142 fatal tractor accidents in Ohio, only eight indicated mechanical failure. Human failure caused the rest. Bonham Initiative Saves mill Payroll

When the Bonham Cotton Mill announced it would close its doors finally in early 1962, that North Texas city stood to lose a 61-year old industry with a $14,000 weekly payroll.

Bonham's vigorous enterprise in the face of crisis is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

Aggressive citizens of the 7377 population community arose to the emergency. Today, little more than a year later, Red River Textile Mill, Inc., is not only continuing the operation of its predecessor, but is talking plans for an eventual major expansion.

Young drivers in '62 had worst performance record, report reveals

Young drivers in 1962 had the worst performance record of any age group, according to a report by The Travelers Insurance Companies.

The report, issued annually since 1931 except during the war years, is compiled by The Travelers from information provided by state motor vehicle departments.

A Travelers spokesman pointed out that drivers under 25 years of age comprise only about 15 per cent of all licensed drivers in the United States. Yet, he said, these young people are involved in nearly 29 per cent of all fatal accidents. In 1961, this age group participated in 27.3 per cent of all highway deaths.

The Travelers report shows that young men and women in this age group also were involved in a great number of non-fatal highway mishaps. In 1962, they were implicated in 27.3 per cent of all non-fatal traffic accidents as against 23.3 per cent in 1961.

On the brighter side, the best relative improvement in 1962 was made by drivers 65 and over. This group was involved in only 6 per cent of all fatal accidents compared with 7.2 per cent the previous year.

The largest age group—including drivers from 25 through 64—also improved its performance record in 1962.

Traffic toll is high for babies under year old

AUSTIN—Babies under the age of one year were killed more frequently last year in automobile accidents than almost any other age of passengers, it was revealed today by an analysis of 1962 statistics by the Department of Public Safety.

The DPS reported that the only age to exceed the infants in number of deaths resulting from automobile accidents were 19-year-old passengers.

In 1962, the Department said, a total of 44 babies under the age of one year were killed in car crashes, as compared to 48 19-year-old non-driving passengers. These two categories make up over 10 per cent of the total number of persons killed as passengers, with the infants accounting for almost five per cent of the overall total.

The study also revealed that 109 or 12 1/2 per cent of the total number of passengers killed during 1962 were of pre-school age.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director, said: "These statistics should be brought to the attention of every mother and father, since they point up a most tragic aspect of the frightening toll of human life on our streets and highways which has not heretofore been noticed. The need for extra precautions to protect little children in automobiles is obvious."

ESA CONVENTION HIGHLIGHTS

Post chapter host Sunday to District 9 convention of ESA

Post chapter 2-24 with cuts. Gold grape clusters and leaves set the mood for the District 9 convention of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, a

One of my readers has requested me to explain why I do the lawn mowing chores at the C residence. The answer is quite simple—I like to do it. Our lawn mower is a light-weight one and I love to get out of doors after being in an office 5 1/2 days a week.

There, Mr. C, do you think that I'll take care of the passersby and neighbors?

Yep, Mr. C reads me!

Nobody from Post has stepped forth with the answer but I had a note from Coach Van Kountz's father, W. C. Kountz, who was here reading my column about the mysterious plant at the R. E. Cox residence, drove by to look at it. He seemed quite sure that it is a Spanish dagger plant—quite common around his home at Toyahvale.

Of course I had to ask where Toyahvale was, so learned a little geography along with a nature lesson. In case anyone else doesn't know—Toyahvale is 40 miles south of Pecos in the Davis Mountains, Banks, Mr. Kountz.

Mr. H. F. Wheatley brought me a nice little bouquet of bluebonnets last week when he came in the office with a "card of thanks". That one flower I am fast becoming an expert on.

Miss C the elder received a clipped column in the mail from an old Kansas friend. At the heading of the newspaper was a note written in longhand saying: "It was a long time ago, but you said it." In the column was circled the following: "Stop for Pedestrians. But signs from out of town, those knowing the town's background, insist that the sign says: Stop for Presbyterians."

Miss C will blush when she reads it but she made the error when she was in grade school and they set up such a sign close to the Presbyterian Church.

The whole column turned out to be "highlights and sidelights" about Presbyterian college in the town of Sterling (never been there in my life) Kans.

Having just gotten home from "El Cid" and not really being in a mood for this chore (I'm worried about El Cid out there riding and on) I decided to steal a nibble from this highly readable item.

To repeat a sixty-year-old (I've never heard it, but then I'm a long way from 60), joke, Sterling at one time had four Presbyterian churches holding services in the chapel on the top floor of old Cooper Hall. The United Presbyterians, the one which founded the school, West Adams was the Reformed Presbyterian Church, a strong "separatist" congregation which still with us. Also at that time there was a congregation repre-

THE HAPPY SOUL

Happiness isn't formed with facial muscles. It is deeper than a smile. Its brightness is merely mirrored in shining eyes.
 Happiness is the warm fertile climate with which God has endowed each human soul. It will flourish as long as our hearts and minds are exposed to the radiance of God. And, for those who discover early the spiritual center of happiness, no storm of life can ever penetrate so deeply as to chill the joy of the soul.
 Are you less conscious of that inner happiness than once? Perhaps you're living in the shadows . . . groping in dark forests . . . only a glimmer of God's truth filtering through.
 Bring your soul out into the sunlight. Seek joy where it is found. The Church points the Way.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Hogues leave for Orient; interim pastor is named

The Rev. C. I. Norris of Stolon is the interim preacher at the First Baptist Church here while the pastor, the Rev. C. B. Hogue, and Mrs. Hogue are in the Orient on a preaching tour.

The Rev. Mr. Norris is a graduate of Howard Payne College, of the Seminary in Fort Worth and has done graduate work for a master's degree. He has pastored churches in Texas, Colorado and Indiana.

The Rev. and Mrs. Hogue left Lubbock by plane at 8:50 a. m. Sunday on their trip to the Orient and participation in the Japan New Life Movement.

Their trip will include a visit to Seoul, Korea, on May 29. They will spend four days in Korea and while there will adopt a baby girl.

The pastor and his wife are scheduled to return to Post on May 25.

Highway Commission names new member

AUSTIN—J. H. Kultzgen of Waco today took the oath of office to officially become a member of the Texas Highway Commission.

Kultzgen, long a prominent good-roads backer, was earlier appointed to the post by Gov. John Connally and confirmed by the State Senate. He will serve a six-year term.

Kultzgen joins Herbert C. Petry Jr. of Carrizo Springs and H. I. Woodward of Coleman on the three-member commission which makes policies to guide the Texas Highway Department. Petry is chairman of the Commission.

The Railroad Commission, Murray said he made more than $1,000,000 in oil deals while regulating that industry.

Reps. Bob Eckhardt of Houston, James Nugent of Kerrville and Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi introduced a bill to outlaw investments by state officials in the fields which they regulate. Old Code of Ethics law—passed in 1957—merely called on them to disclose any such interests.

Rep. John Allen of Longview, chairman of the House State Affairs Committee, named a subcommittee to go over the bill . . . to tighten up the tightening up. He indicated that he will try to bring the bill out for House action quickly.

Bill would prohibit legislators from appearing for pay before state boards and commissions while they are considering appropriations which are the lifeblood of state agencies.

HOUSE BILLS — Beetles better beware if Conroe Rep. David Crews' bill to cause forest landowners to pay for their extermination becomes law.

Victoria Rep. Dick Cory's bill authorizing district judges to provide jurors' meals in the jury room, rather than dismiss them, is ready for Governor Connally's signature.

House endorsed a bill to require school boards to advertise for competitive bids on purchases totaling $1,000 or more.

Kerrville Rep. Jim Nugent gained approval of his bill to set up strict supervision by the Secretary of State for charity fund-raising organizations which solicit $10,000 or more a year.

Women's rights gained a small victory when the House passed bills, authored by Rep. George Cowden of Waco, to allow a woman to make contracts concerning her own property.

A bill by Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth to increase longevity pay for firemen and policemen across the state was given a second chance when Senate Counties Committee chairman Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin "freed" a subcommittee that couldn't reach a decision on the bill and set up a new committee.

325,000 school dropouts in Texas predicted for the next five years

AUSTIN—During the next five years, approximately 325,000 young Texans will walk out of school before the ninth grade and high school graduation, a state school official estimates.

In dollars and cents, this step represents a loss of close to $75 billion in lifetime income.

Some startling facts about the dropout problem are reported in the April issue of the "Texas Outlook," the Texas State Teachers Association magazine.

Out of every five pupils in the first grade in 1949-50, only two were graduated from Texas high schools in 1960-61. There were 208,452 in that first grade, and only 85,102 of them received a high school diploma.

The graduating class of 1965 was in the eighth grade in 1960-61, and there were 176,988 of them. Education officials are predicting that 70,000 of these boys and girls won't be at graduation ceremonies in 1965.

The transition from the ninth to the tenth grade is considered the first really critical point. Most boys and girls become 16 years of age that year, and the compulsory attendance law no longer applies to them and their parents. Moreover, they are moving from junior to senior high school, with a stiffer curriculum.

Dropouts face a dead end in a world where education and its skills in the employment field are becoming a necessity, the "Outlook" article states.

"Automation is eliminating the menial kinds of jobs which these kids can do," says Victor Sumner of the Texas Education Agency research division, who made the dropout estimate.

"People in the employment field tell me that the hard core of employment now is composed of dropouts from 20 to 30 years ago."

Education authorities hope to approach the problem in one direction by focusing on a research study of the migrant child and his education. The State Board of Education authorized the study last year and a report is expected soon.

The bafflement of the dropout story is finding the causes early enough, the "Outlook" reports.

House members amended the bill to eliminate the "agent form" of the scores of errors in the old law, which was overhauled in haste in 1951.

Progress is slow on the proposals to abolish the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting.

Senators passed a proposed constitutional amendment to let the people say whether they want to keep the poll tax. But after some delay, a House committee put it off.

Meanwhile, the national constitutional amendment to outlaw the poll tax in election of President, Vice President, Senators and Congressmen has been ratified by 30 states. When eight more ratify it, the poll tax in Texas would be out of the window.

WHAT IS THE LUTHERAN TEACHING ON SALVATION?

Lutherans teach and believe what the Bible teaches on salvation.

WE NEED A SAVIOR
For "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God;" (Rom. 3:23). "If we say that we have not sinned, we make Him a liar, and His word is not in us." I John 1:10. And God says, "The wages of sin is death;" Ro. 6:23a. This means eternal death and damnation.

WE HAVE A SAVIOR
By the grace of God we have His Son as our Savior. "By grace ye are saved through faith;" Eph. 2:8. Yea, "God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16. Jesus is our Savior and He is our only Savior. We cannot save ourselves. "Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we may be saved;" Acts 4:12.

JESUS OUR SAVIOR DID FOR US WHAT WE CANNOT DO FOR OURSELVES. He kept the law for us. "God sent forth His Son, made of a woman, made under the law, to redeem them that were under the law;" Gal. 4:4,5. "Who did no sin, neither was any found in His mouth;" I Pet. 2:22. He died for us and rose again. "He died for all;" II Cor. 5:15. "Who was delivered for our offenses, and was raised again for our justification;" Ro. 4:25. WE ARE SAVED BY FAITH IN JESUS AND WHAT HE HAS DONE FOR US.

When we are sorry for our sins, when we confess our sin to God and ask in all sincerity, "What must I do to be saved?" Then He says to us, "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved;" Acts 16:31.

God gave His Son into suffering and death, "that WHOSOEVER BELIEVETH in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life;" John 3:16.

WE CANNOT SAVE OURSELVES BY TRYING TO KEEP GOD'S LAWS. The law says, "Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no man be justified in His (God's) sight;" Ro. 3:20. We can only be saved by trusting in what God has done for us in His Son Jesus Christ. "We conclude that a man is justified by faith without the works of the law;" Ro. 3:28.

TRUSTING SAVER FAITH PRODUCES A NEW LIFE IN US. We are new creatures in Christ who love Him and want to obey Him. He is our Lord and King and we would serve and love Him. John 14:15. And the believer says, "The love of Christ has been poured into our hearts because we thus judge . . . that He died for all, that whosoever believeth in Him should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto Him who died for them and rose again;" II Cor. 5:14,15. We know that we have been SAVED FROM SIN FOR SERVICE IN CHRIST.

Small town store has advantage, RMA is told

The small town merchant is in a good position to compete with stores in cities if he will only let the public know about it, Karl Kerr told members of the Retail Merchants' Association at the RMA's annual banquet held last Thursday night at Levi's Restaurant.

Kerr, manager of the Lubbock RMA said new trends and procedures in marketing enable the small town merchant to compete with city businesses. Reduced overhead is a big selling item to put across to the public. He emphasized that merchants must tell the people that they want their business and need to convince customers that they can get the merchandise and service they want at home.

Miss Maxine Durrett introduced the guest speaker and pointed out the valuable assistance on Kerr's part in getting the local nationally affiliated.

The speaker also explained the bills that are pending legislation. Two of them are in the state and are being sponsored by RMA and the other is a national bill, the Douglas bill, that RMA is opposing.

Kerr pointed out that seven discount houses a day throughout the United States are going bankrupt and many are opening up credit departments to keep going.

Victor Hudman, president of Post RMA presided. The Rev. Graydon Howell gave the invocation. Mrs. Ruth Bennett introduced the new members present.

R. G. Wilkerson introduced the guests and members. Robert Cox was in charge of the entertainment and introduced George Willison, Post High School chorus director, who accompanied the Lighthouse, high school girls' sextet in a medley of popular songs.

The Lighthouse are composed of Meredith Newby, Dee Ann Walker, Cheryl Martin, Carolyn Mataler and Gayla Johnson.

The plays will be presented under the direction of Howard Carlyle, speech instructor.

For unrelated children

Child-care licenses required by state

All people caring for unrelated children outside of the child's home are required by Texas law to be licensed, Miss Carolyn Williams, Child Welfare licensing worker of the Lubbock regional office, said here today.

The Texas Legislature, Miss Williams explained, has charged the Child Welfare Division of the State Department of Public Welfare with the responsibilities of licensing facilities providing child care and for establishing minimum standards for good child care.

Citizens of Garza County interested in providing day care for unrelated children may now become licensed to do so, Miss Williams, who will visit Post once a week, will be providing this licensing service for Garza County.

Those wanting to apply for a license or wanting more information may leave their name, address and telephone number with Mrs. Helen Livingston at the Post Chamber of Commerce office, or write to Miss Williams at the Regional Child Welfare Office, Box 265, Lubbock.

Licensing requirements apply to all people who care for one or more children outside of the child's own home for any part of the 24-hour day.

The licensing law, Miss Williams explained on her visit here, offers a protective and helping service to three groups of people: The staff of the child-care facility; the parents and their children; and to the community.

The license assures the parents that their children will be cared for with good opportunities for physical and emotional growth and development.

There is no charge for the licensing service of the Child Welfare Department. The service is available to those now caring for children as well as to those interested in beginning a new program of child care, Miss Williams said.

VICTORIA VISITOR

Mrs. Al Shields of Victoria visited her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Carter and her brother and family, Dr. and Mrs. John E. Carter, this week. They visited her grandmother in Lubbock Tuesday.

Police Chief Elton Corley said yesterday that charges of running a red light and failure to leave information at the scene of an accident will be filed against a Slaton man.

Corley said the Slaton man was the driver of a car that crashed into an automobile driven by Dixie Lucas early Tuesday evening at the intersection of 8th Street and U. S. Highway 84.

The police chief said the man, who was driving north on the highway, failed to stop for the intersection's red light. The car driven by Miss Lucas, which was going west across the intersection, was damaged to the extent of about $150, the officer said. The right rear fender and taillight of the Slaton man's car was torn off by the collision.

Slaton man faces traffic charges

Police Chief Elton Corley said yesterday that charges of running a red light and failure to leave information at the scene of an accident will be filed against a Slaton man.

Corley said the Slaton man was the driver of a car that crashed into an automobile driven by Dixie Lucas early Tuesday evening at the intersection of 8th Street and U. S. Highway 84.

The police chief said the man, who was driving north on the highway, failed to stop for the intersection's red light. The car driven by Miss Lucas, which was going west across the intersection, was damaged to the extent of about $150, the officer said. The right rear fender and taillight of the Slaton man's car was torn off by the collision.

NORM CASH BELTS THIRD HOME RUN

Norm Cash, Detroit Tiger first baseman, re-entered the major leagues' 1963 "home run derby" Tuesday by bashing out his third circuit blow of the season.

Tuesday's homer by Cash came in a losing cause, however, as his team lost to Kansas City, 3-1.

Cash got his second home run of the season Sunday, a 420-foot blast that drove in three runs and powered the Tigers to a 5-2 win over Boston.

The Hoe

The hoe has been with man since the dawn of organized thought. It is our inheritance from the Neanderthal, and it was this instrument that brought man down from the hills and caverns and introduced him to civilization.

The hoe was present when the glaciers ground into Europe. It cut the first ditch to bring the waters of the Nile to the burned desert. It terraced the Andes before the time of Christ.

So brilliantly was this tool that its basic design and function has not changed in 10,000 years, and all mechanisms of agriculture are but derivatives of this initial creation.

And throughout these eons, this inseparable tool of man has gone out each year to consummate the task of harvest.

But history moves swiftly in this century and the hoe is marked for extinction by the intellect and demands of our times.

The ancient duties of the hoe will be borne by chemicals, at a fraction of the cost and effort for work performed.

World-famed science show will be presented in Post Thursday, May 2

"Previews of Progress"—General Motors world-famed science show—will be presented before Post High School and junior high school students at 1:30 and 2:15 p. m. Thursday, May 2, sponsored by the high school's Math and Science Club.

The public is invited to attend either showing. A non-commercial show. Previews has been seen by nearly 30-million students and adults in the United States, Canada and 22 foreign countries.

"We seek through Previews to inspire more young people to make science and engineering their career and provide the trained talent America must have to keep pace with the promise of the future," John F. Gordon, president of General Motors, declares.

The latest version of the 45-minute stage presentation includes nine different sequences. Designed to show some of the many contributions of research and technology to modern living, the exciting demonstrations are narrated in non-technical language by a specially-trained two-man team.

A model car powered by sunlight, a roaring jet engine and the Ground Effect Machine, a vehicle that skims over land or water, are a few of the dramatic parts of the fast-moving show.

Seven Previews units take the program to all sections of the country. Audiences have ranged from groups of 100 to crowds of six thousand.

In the true tradition of show business, Previews has been staged under a variety of conditions. It has been presented on the platforms of stake trucks in rural areas and on the Starlight Roof of the Waldorf Astoria.

Previews of Progress has received wide acclaim from educators and civic and fraternal organizations for its success in awakening students and adults to the importance of science and engineering in America's technological progress.

Girl track teams San Angelo bound

Teams of high school and junior high school girls from Post will compete Saturday, April 27, in the annual Bluebonnet Belle Relay at San Angelo High School stadium.

Coch Van Kountz said today that the high school girls' team is much stronger than it was last year in its first season, but that competition will be extremely tough at San Angelo. Baird, Abilene, Fort Worth and Lubbock are favorites for the team championship.

"Points will be hard to come by because they will be awarded for only four places in each event," Coach Kountz said.

The coach said the Post team is stronger than the team he had at Abilene in 1961, which finished second at San Angelo, but that the competition is much stronger now than it was then.

Since there is only one division in the meet Post's junior high

READ THE LABEL ON THE CAN

If the family food budget is a matter of concern in your home then cultivate the habit of reading the labels on the cans and boxes. It could mean better nutrition for your family as well as savings on the pocketbook.

The average supermarket carries some 8,000 items. Most of them are packaged or processed to some extent and must comply with various federal and state laws. In complying with these laws, the label offers valuable clues to content, weight and sometimes nutritional value inside the package.

A Colorful Past . . . .

C. W. Post, founder of our town, was a man of vast energy and vision.

Establishing this community as a unique colonization experiment in the spring of 1907—56 years ago—Mr. Post's principal efforts were prophetic of what was to come for West Texas.

He drilled for oil and stopped just 300 feet above one of the many oil pools. 56 years later was to see some 1,600 oil wells in Garza County.

He conducted a wide variety of agricultural experiments and pioneered irrigation in this region. Today, irrigation is the backbone of the Great Plains cotton industry and following behind his farm experiments have come scientists and organizations to help improve the cotton which he first planted in this cattle country.

C. W. founded the Postex Cotton Mills which have grown and expanded through the town's 56 year history into the community's leading industry—and the finest cotton mill west of the Mississippi River.

He brought in the Santa Fe railroad to Post and fought to win Texas Tech's campus which years later was moved to nearby Lubbock.

But just as C. W. sparked the first half century of the town's growth, so have you.

OUR 56TH BIRTHDAY

Bright Tomorrow . . . . .

Business and professional firms listed on these two pages helped to get the second century of town history rolling in high gear.

Since Post stopped in 1957 to commemorate its founding with its Golden Jubilee, whole fistful of new improvements have started Post off on its second 50 years of progress.

Foremost, of course, is the push of the White River Dam project from dream to operating reality.

But that has not been all, by any means. In the six years since the Golden Jubilee we have built a new high school, a new city-county park, a new postoffice, new bank building, organized a new police force, and seen some 40 new business and professional firms listed on these very pages coming into being. Five new residential sub-divisions have sprouted on the town's western edges and dozens of fine new homes have been built—over a million dollars worth of residential construction alone.

With all this material progress too has come a new cooperation and a new determination to keep building Post bigger—and "a little bit better."

A progressive Post today is looking ahead to an even more promising tomorrow.

Follow the Rainbow' is theme of banquet

Friday night, the school cafeteria was the scene of the Junior-Senior Banquet. The theme for the banquet was "Follow the Rainbow" and was carried out by the use of the colors of the rainbow. The ceiling was covered with rainbows of purple, blue, green, yellow, orange and red. A small wishing well, a large pot of gold and another rainbow were placed near the entrance.

The walls were covered with blue strips of crepe paper and a border which represented a picket fence. The tables were covered with white paper with strips of crepe paper down the center. Nut cups were tiny glass wishing wells and pots of gold also helped to set the effect.

The menu consisted of steak creamed potatoes, green beans and salad. Entertainment was provided by Lightning Jim (Jimmy Wells), singing "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows" and the Sunbeams (Argar Robinson, Cheri Moore, Linda Pennington, Susie Jo Schmidt, Linda Rogers and Linda McMahon), singing "Rainbow on the River" and "Somewhere Over the Rainbow". Guest speakers were Mr. Bob Collier and Mr. John May. After the banquet a prom and a show were provided for entertainment. The Junior Class hopes that they have provided a Junior-Senior Banquet which will be long remembered by the Seniors of 1963.

SOUTHLAND HIGH

Eagle's Nest

By Sue Pritchard

"Wow!" is the only word I can think of to describe this past weekend! The regional track meet was held at Tech, and the Junior-Senior banquet was held at the Pioneer Hotel in the Coachman room. At the track meet SHS qualified Johnny Haire for the State track meet to be held at Austin May 2-4. Johnny qualified for State in the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash. Way to come through for good ole SHS., Johnny!

The Junior-Senior banquet was a real smash hit! Everyone really had a ball! The theme was "Moonlight and Roses", and the decorations were highlighted by a beautiful centerpiece of long-stemmed red roses. All the guys and gals really looked nice, although the girls had a little trouble getting up and down in their long formal! The seniors say "Thanks very much, Juniors, for a beautiful banquet!"

Kelly Jo, did you make it to the rodeo after the banquet Saturday night?

Well, the Seniors are busy addressing invitations, 'cause graduation is only three weeks away. Hallelujah!

Beverly, the decorations for the banquet were really nice. And are you to help Kelly with them. Way to come through, gal!

Mary Beth Ford is hostess for party

Mary Beth Ford was the hostess for a slumber party Friday night (or Saturday morning) after the banquet. Cakes, candy, and sandwiches were served to the guests and "visitors". Those attending were Linda Pennington, Marilyn Minor, Betty Jo Hill, Shirley Ann Sappington, D's n e Kiker, Susie Jo Schmidt and Mary Beth Ford.

Everyone had a lot of fun, didn't they Betty? Of course her legs are a little sore after all the running she did. Thank you, Mary Beth. It was fun!

THE SUNMOBILE—WATCH IT GO!

The amazing Sunmobile, a car that runs on sunshine, is shown in action in this time exposure. The button-like photovoltaic cells on the hood turn light-energy into electrical energy to move the model car. A 300-watt lamp simulates the sun. The Sunmobile is one of the demonstrations in the General Motors science show, Previews of Progress, that will be presented May 2 at Post High School.

Senior Day one of year's highlights

On Thursday, April 18, a memorable event in the lives of Post High School's seniors took place—Senior Day! The day the Senior Class of 1963 had been looking forward to all year. Everyone set off in high spirits and the first stop was on the way to Lubbock when the football went out the window. No one knew how the little accident happened, but the football was soon recovered and we were on our way once again.

The second stop was Mackenzie Park where all jumped out and got in line to buy tickets for the rides. The bumper cars seemed to be the most popular ride but some rode the hobby horses, too. When everyone had tired of the rides, some sat on the bus and talked, some walked, and some played football.

At a little before 11:30, all piled back on the bus and we were off to eat lunch at Furr's Cafeteria.

After a wonderful lunch, we went bowling. There are a few in the Senior Class that are pretty good at bowling (also a few that can't even break 100).

After bowling, we were off to Iceland. We had planned for miniature golfing but with all the sand and wind, everyone was more than happy to go ice skating instead. We had a few professionals, some amateurs, and some that were just plain old greenhorns; however, we did have fun trying to skate.

Next, we went to the Lindsey Theatre where we enjoyed "Critic's Choice" as we munched popcorn and drank Cokes.

After the Lindsey, we went to Underwood's to eat supper.

When we had finished, we loaded into the bus and happily headed for Post. We had had a most enjoyable and memorable day.

YOU CAN'T BEAT an offer like this to get a good flashlight NOR CAN YOU BEAT the quality and price on JONES BLAIR paints, varnishes, brushes, etc. YOU WILL be pleased with the paint whatever the job may be.

IF YOU NEED TO DOLL UP the house, furniture or implements or just anything around the place, WHY NOT use Jones Blair Paints. They are time tested and satisfactorily used by many of our customers and the PRICE is probably lower than you will be able to find for the same QUANTITY and QUALITY.

Help Wanted

Due to business increase we need two more car hops. If you want a job, part or full time, come by the Snak Shak. Please do not phone.

If you don't want a job, please come by anyway, and drink an ICEE, either Dr. Pepper or Lemon-Lime. Don't call to inquire about the job, but if you want something to eat call 3064 for an order to go. It only takes 10 minutes, and the hamburgers are just great.

When you stop at the Snak Shak, notice the south curb that we're in the process of taking out. This is another little something that we're doing for your convenience. That's another reason we need more car hops. Seriously we do need two Car hops.

Garza County program presented at HD meet

By MRS. MAX CHAFFIN

I am telling you after the Easter holidays everybody should have been numb but there were a few people stirring around out here and I am here to tell you about it!

This newspaper was published in the homes last week, and in the Home Demonstration District II Home Demonstration Association met all day at the Second Baptist Church in Lubbock April 18. It was the annual spring meeting. How did we know it was spring? By the ladies' hats, of what color? By the women's wavy, wavy, wavy hair? By the women's wavy, wavy, wavy hair? By the women's wavy, wavy, wavy hair?

There were 17 counties represented and Garza County representatives were: Mimes, Lonnie, Letta Smith, Robert Mock, Carl Payton and Max Chaffin. Others attending from this area were: Mrs. Howard Kolb, Ann Bratcher and Grace Hodges, Post and Mrs. Carter White, Clovis City. It was a most informative meeting and a lot of fun too.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cole came from Albuquerque with their sons to spend Easter with Mrs. Agnes Baker and the T. L. Barnes.

A revival is taking place at the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church through Friday of this week. Dr. Charles Wood, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Slaton is conducting services every night at 8 p. m. All are cordially invited to attend.

Dale, Dennis and Ray Altman played in the softball games in Lubbock on Friday. The Southland school boys won second place.

Memorial services were held in Pecos, N. M. this past Sunday for Clyde E. Davison III, 19-year-old nephew of Mrs. James Shelton. Clyde perished aboard the nuclear submarine Thresher on April 11. He was the son of Clyde E. Davison and Mrs. George Burnett of Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Shelton attended the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Scott drove to Abilene last Thursday for a board of Development meeting of the Hinton-Simmons.

The D. C. Roberts of Post visited with Mrs. B. D. Robinson on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Ward spent a few days at Lake Thomas last week and did a little fishing.

Mrs. Ella Mae Moore, Mrs. Jim Hall's daughter, left for her home in Los Angeles Friday. Another daughter, Mrs. Chris Stearman and Mrs. Ross Hall and the Mrs. came from Wichita Falls and spent the weekend. Mrs. Hall is still pretty much her visitors during the week.

Mrs. Vancil Bowen and children were out a-visiting the Ben Altmans on Sunday afternoon.

Allen Johnson took the Intermediate Sunday School class of the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church on a 10-mile hike last Sunday and a beautiful day it was. (I hope that they had their canteens along!) Besides the leader of the band there was David Green of Slaton, Bill and Larry Bevers and none of them looked worse for the wear.

David Mock spent Sunday with Curtis Lancaster.

Jim Sain of Slaton came to see Mrs. Lewis and her aunt, Mrs. Beazly and family on Friday and helped Mrs. Lewis fix dinner for them all.

Don Altman was in a track meet at Lubbock Saturday and all the Deamos Altmans were spectators.

Marla and Donna Kay Shelton spent last weekend in Post with the N. R. Kines.

Mrs. C. R. Scott also went to Mr. Pirtle's funeral last week.

The Leroy Grambs of Lamesa visited the L. M. Sherberts Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Eubank T. L. Barnes' niece of Hale Center were at the Barnes' residence on Sunday.

The Clovis Robinsons and the Mike Winchester had a fish dinner with Myrtle Johnson Monday night.

Mrs. Carrie Guess has been under a doctor's care for her back and last reports received she is doing better.

The Pleasant Valley Home Demonstration Club met April 22 in the home of Mrs. Robert Mock. Roll call was answered with "A Food Habit I Need to Break" (desserts were voted for unanimously). A 10-minute demonstration was presented on smoking by Mrs. Carl Payton. Then, a dynamic farewell demonstration on "Manager's Road to Good Nutrition" by our blithesome county agent followed. We are all going to miss Mrs. Leta Smith who has done a top-notch job on informing us homemakers. Brownies and punch were served to Mrs. B. L. Thomas, Mrs. Max Chaffin, the program women and the hostess plus a half dozen children divided between the hostess and me!

Mrs. S. M. Lewis went to her doctor for a checkup on her eye which was operated on last year and it is just doing fine.

Theresa, Samuel and W. D. Sims spent the night with Mrs. Dave Sims in Post last Friday night.

Becky Scott has been ill this week with a high fever but it looks like she is on the recovery list as of this writing.

The F. D. Wheelers visited the James Sheltons Monday night.

The J. T. Davises of Lubbock and the G. L. Rinkers of Post and Margie Julian came to see Agnes and the T. L. Barnes on Friday.

Mrs. C. R. Scott entertained Dr. Charles Wood and the Rev. Joe Green, both of Slaton, on Monday night before dinner before the revival meeting at 8 p. m. The Vernon Scotts were there too.

There were two cottage prayer meetings before the revival started, one at the Robert Mocks on Friday night and the next night at the Vernon Scott home.

And so a quietus settles on the activities of Pleasant Valley until next week.

Post High instructors Science Fair officers

John May and James Pollard of the Post High School faculty were elected secretary and director, respectively of the South Plains Regional Science Fair at this year's event held Saturday in Lubbock.

The Post schools were well represented in the 150 Science Fair exhibits, the entries from here being winners in the schools' recent Science Fair.

Gold Bond Stamp firm in 25th year

Gold Bond Stamp Company is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year. And in this comparatively short time, the firm has become the world's largest international trading stamp company.

The international headquarters office of Gold Bond is located in Plymouth Village, a suburb of Minneapolis, Minn., the city where the firm got its start.

Close to half a century after the first introduction of trading stamps in a Milwaukee, Wis., department store in 1892, Curt Carlson, President of Gold Bond, had an idea that mushroomed the industry into the big business it is today.

A year after graduating from the University of Minnesota, Carlson, working for Proctor and Gamble, noticed that merchants that had stamps sold more soap than merchants without stamps. In his mind, he projected stamps into grocery stores and decided that if stamps could sell soap, they would really boost grocery sales.

So, on the strength of his idea, he formed his own company. Gold Bond Stamp Company started operating in Minneapolis in 1938. The young company struggled along those days with a staff of one man Carlson, still working at his regular full-time job, could only devote evenings and weekends to his new business.

But the firm did grow and soon Carlson left his regular job to become full-time president of Gold Bond. By 1941, the company was moving into southeastern Minnesota and neighboring Wisconsin. A step-up in retailers' competition speeded the company's progress and during the years 1945-1953 it spread into 11 states.

In 1953, Super Valu Stores started giving Gold Bond Stamps, making them the first major chain of affiliated food merchants to use stamps.

In 1956, Gold Bond entered Canada, to become the first trading stamp company operating internationally.

A few years later, Gold Bond added Safeway Stores as an account. Safeway is presently Gold Bond's largest customer. Numbered among the other large supermarket accounts Gold Bond serves today are Colonial, First National, IGA and Acme. Carlson's preliminary plan of coupling stamps and groceries has become a realized ideal for Gold Bond and the trading stamp industry as a whole, which does 60 per cent of its business in supermarkets.

Gold Bond Stamps were redeemed for cash until 1952. The latter part of that year, Gold Bond began offering gifts to savers which necessitated opening gift centers where these gifts could be displayed and picked up by customers. Approximately one year later, there were 30 Gold Bond Gift Centers. Today, there are nearly 400 centers serving the millions of consumers that save Gold Bond Stamps. Five warehouses keep gift centers stocked with gifts. They are located in Canada, New Jersey, Colorado, Georgia and Minnesota.

In 1962, Gold Bond completed its international headquarters office building, warehouse and gift center complex in Minneapolis Industrial Park—the first firm to build in the 850-acre Park in Minneapolis.

The Post (Texas) Dispatch Thursday, April 25, 1963 Page 75

Presently, there is one other business operating in the Park and plans are being finalized for several more business buildings as well as a shopping center, several apartment buildings and a church.

Within the past year alone, Gold Bond has grown to such a capacity that it has had to add a new Division in the Houston, Tex., area and one in the Lubbock, Tex., area and an entire new Regional classification, the North Central States. This region includes the states of Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Michigan and West Virginia and also Gold Bond operations in Canada.

The Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock Dec. 21, 1620.

SCREWORMS FOUND

A screwworm infestation discovered in Liberty County in late March served as a sharp reminder that it is not too early in the season for livestock producers throughout all of Texas to be alert for evidence of the pest.

In most years, livestock producers in Liberty County do not experience screwworm infestations until late spring; however, the March discovery points up that stockmen already need to be watching for screwworms, eradication officials stated.

Authorities noted that because the infestation near Liberty was detected during the early stages of the maggots' development and was reported promptly to eradication headquarters at Mission, it was possible to quickly implement emergency measures to prevent the spread of screwworms to other areas. Sexually sterile screwworm flies were being dispersed on and near the infested premises within 48 hours after the case was discovered in the wound of a goat.

Liberty High School vocational agriculture students were lauded for their fast action in collecting a sample from the animal and reporting the case to Mission by telephone. Officials stated the action by the students and their teacher may have prevented spread of screwworms into East Texas and Louisiana.

ALERT FOR "LEPTO"

Leptospirosis, commonly known as "lepto," is a disease which livestock producers should watch for during this season. It causes losses of more than a $100 million to cattle owners annually in the nation, points out Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian. Swine, sheep and horse losses add more millions to the total and humans are susceptible, he adds.

Lepto now exists on farms in every part of the state and because it can cause abortions, is often confused with brucellosis, says Dr. Patterson. The peak danger period is at hand since most cases occur during and following warm, wet weather. In areas of slow moving streams or swampy and low-lying pastures, stockmen should be especially alert. "Carrier" animals can contaminate such areas and spread the disease to other animals on the farm or to those on farms downstream, the vet says.

In cattle, lepto can cause a death rate of up to 10 per cent, in calves up to 25 per cent, in addition to abortions and a drop in milk to be production. It is hard to diagnose in mature cattle. In addition to abortions and a drop in milk output, it may cause the milk to become thick, yellow and blood-tinged. Calves may become depressed, lose appetite and develop diarrhea, Dr. Patterson says. Symptoms in swine may be overlooked because they are not as apparent as in cattle.

Because of the chance of confusing it with something else, Dr. Patterson suggests that a veterinarian be called when symptoms appear in any animals. He may have to resort to rather complex laboratory tests to identify the cause of the trouble. If the diagnosis is positive, the veterinarian will make recommendations for handling the situation, explains Dr. Patterson.

Vaccines are available for cattle and swine but must be properly used to provide protection.

GUIDE RELEASED

Vegetable diseases can seldom be cured but they can be controlled by carrying out a planned disease control program, say the authors of a new publication, L-583, "Guide for Reducing Vegetable Disease Losses" recently released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The authors, Harlan Smith, former extension plant pathologist, and Robert Lambe, area extension pathologist, point out that most fungicides and menatocides are poisonous and should be used in accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations. They should be stored out of reach of children, irresponsible persons, livestock and pets and empty containers should be either burned or buried. Use all chemicals with caution, they advise.

The authors suggest several measures for cutting down plant disease losses and they include the rotation of the vegetable crop each year; not planting susceptible varieties on soil infested with Southern blight, wilts, menatodes and root rots; growing disease resistant and adapted varieties; fertilizing according to a soil test; using transplants or seed produced under disease-free conditions and by keeping a close inspection of fields so that control measures can be used successfully when needed.
