SCREW-WORM-FREE PERIOD PROMPTS STATEMENT

The longest period in the recorded history of the Southwest with no screwworm infestations has prompted screwworm eradication officials to issue a statement that a basic objective-elimination of screwworms from Texas and other states in the eradication area—has been attained.

The feasibility of maintaining an artificial barrier of live, sterile flies along the Mexico-United States border to guard against reinfestation of areas freed of the pest is also believed to have been established, but determination of the most effective dimensions of the barrier zone requires further study.

The statement was released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation and Texas Animal Health Commission. These three organizations have jointly supervised production, sexual sterilization and aerial release of screwworm flies since the program began in February 1962. Sterile males mate with fertile female flies, preventing production of offspring.

Continuous release of sterile flies in screwworm-infested areas of the Southwest has resulted in no screwworm cases having been reported in more than two months.

The joint statement implied that farmers and ranchers cannot afford to relax their efforts, as some screwworm infestations are expected to occur within the eradication area in the months ahead.

Eradication officials said in a sense the most difficult stage of the program is just ahead. Absence of infestations could lead livestockmen to the false belief that threat from the insect has been destroyed. They reminded producers that this program is attempting to alter a centuries-old biological pattern of an insect that has a remarkable ability to bounce back if given the opportunity. Don't give it that opportunity, they said.

CHEMICAL WEED CONTROL

The use of chemicals for weed control continues to increase in popularity with cotton growers, reports Fred C. Elliott, cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The reason—their use saves both time and labor.

Recommended chemicals for use in 1964 have been listed by Elliott. Those for pre-emergence use are diuron, monuron, herbap and prometryne. Two materials which show much promise are recommended by the specialist on a trial basis. They are daethal and treflan.

The recommended chemicals for use after the cotton is up include diuron plus surfactant and herbicidal oil. Recommended on a trial basis is prometryne plus a surfactant. Lateral oiling—from the acres treated standpoint—is the most widely used practice involving chemicals for weed and grass control, Elliott says.

Chemicals for spot oiling Johnsongrass are in wide use and those recommended for use in 1964 include naphtha, general contact weed oils or diesel oil fortified with C-56. Dalapon is also recommended for spot treatment as a foliar spray or Johnsongrass.

Diuron layby is the only chemical recommended for layby treatment, the specialist adds.

Flaming, which utilizes butane or propane gas for fuel, is also recommended as a weed and grass control practice. More than 3,300 flame equipped cultivators were used in 1962, says Elliott.

Rotary hoes are among the most popular mechanical devices for weed and grass control. When properly adjusted and operated, they

Water workers, too, need Social Security cards

"Both lifeguards and novice swimmers need social security cards if they work. Applying for a card early is a stroke in the right direction," stated John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security office.

"We set up individual accounts in our central office in Baltimore on each wader, dog-paddler, Olympics prospect just as the name and number are shown on the card," said Mr. Hutton. "When a person's earnings are reported properly we are able to credit his account properly. If earnings are reported erroneously, the worker may get soaked."

Mr. Hatton said that an original card or a duplicate card could be obtained by writing or calling his office. He also reminds everyone to check his social security account for correctness at least once every three years. A card for that purpose may be also obtained at his office.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Post on Tuesday, April 14, at the District Courtroom at 9:30 a. m.

do a fine job, relates Elliott. It isn't too early to complete 1964 cotton production plans, advises the specialist. Only through careful planning, which includes grass and weed control, can production be made more efficient and give the grower the best possible income, reasons Elliott. He suggests a visit soon with the local county agent for the latest information on grass and weed control as well as other subjects on cotton production.

Q. I recently received my GI insurance dividend check. I am now drawing 100 per cent service-connected disability, and because of this, I have a waiver on my insurance premiums. Since I do not pay anything into the insurance fund, should I return the check?

A. No. The money is yours as long as you continue to have a 100 per cent disability.

Q. May a child in training under War Orphans Educational Assistance Act pursue summer school for about two months during the next two summers without jeopardizing full entitlement for four full school years of college training?

A. It depends. If each regular school year begins approximately Sept. 15, and ends approximately May 15, only eight months entitlement will be used each year, leaving entitlement for enrollment for the two summer sessions. A longer regular school year would leave less entitlement time.

Q. Why was my 1964 insurance dividend so much lower than 1963?

A. The dividend paid in 1963 included a special dividend in addition to the regular dividend. Only the regular dividend was paid in 1964.

A Moment With God

HE CAN ASSURE OUR SALVATION
He said, It is finished. John 19:30

There was jubilation in this dying cry of our Lord. On the previous night in instituting the Sacrament He had declared His gracious purpose to give His body and shed His blood for the remission of sins. Now that this was done, His last blood for the remission of sins. Now that this was done, His last moments on the cross were lighted with the glow of accomplishment that said, "It is finished."

On some Egyptian papyri of that time the same word, "Finished," written across tax receipts, meant, "Paid in full." When we think that our Lord has put the same stamp on the staggering debt of all our sin and guilt, should not a graceful joy pervade our spirit? Not partly paid, but paid in full.

Years ago a pamphlet, "The Finished Work of Christ," was read by a teen-ager. It made this strong point, that with this word our Lord was assuring us of the completeness of our salvation. All that God had decreed was done, nothing left undone. This glorious truth took such hold of the lad that, as he said later, "Then and there dawned on me the conviction there was nothing for me to do but fall on my knees in gratitude, accept that Savior, and praise Him forevermore." And he did, becoming the devoted missionary Hudson Taylor, whose life, exemplified the triumphant shout:

" 'Tis finished." Let the joyful sound be heard through all the nations round. " 'Tis finished!" Let the triumph rise and swell the chorus of the skies. Amen.

All dressed up for EASTER

We know a dour old philosopher who always has something nasty to say about what makes others happy. His latest diatribe is against folks "parading to Church in all their Easter finery."

But he won't get far with his complaints. For, strange as this might sound, the modern Easter "outfit" has its root in the very meaning of the day.

Easter has always stood for newness of life. It marks Christ's victory over death. It promises an eternal destiny to those who embrace the Faith.

Easter puts old things away and brings out the new — as the Earth sends forth its verdure — as God reveals our Hope.

And if there is a glow of happiness in wearing that new dress or hat or suit . . . well, it's only a hint of the joy that comes with finding that New Life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Tech graduate student is making study of playa lake modification

LUBBOCK — A Texas Tech graduate student from Levelland is concerned about the safety of your water supply and plans to do something about it.
Charles Forehand, a graduate student in entomology from Tech, has recently started a two-year series of studies involving playa lake modification as related to underground water.
This research is being done under a $4,800 fellowship grant from the National Institute of Health.
"Forehand's grant is the second largest ever conferred on a Tech entomology student," said Dr. Arnold Ashdown, professor of entomology. "Forehand's studies will be a continuation of playa lake modification research first started at Tech in 1961."
Forehand will be working with a new piece of equipment, in Tech's entomology department a gas chromatograph. This apparatus will be used to determine the amount of chemicals found in water and soil samples.
Dr. Ellis Huddleston, assistant professor of entomology at Tech, explained, "The gas chromatograph will allow Forehand to detect the presence of potentially dangerous insecticides in playa lake water."
Dr. Huddleston added that this type of research is important because most playa lake water eventually goes into underground water reservoirs.
"Contamination of this water by insecticides or by any other substance would be a catastrophe," Dr. Huddleston said.
In addition to his studies using the gas chromatograph, Forehand will devote much of his time to a continuing series of encephalitis control experiments.
Forehand has an interest in entomology which dates back to his early childhood. Through his father, Artie Forehand of Levelland, he started working with cotton insects commonly found on the South Plains.
After he received his B. S. degree in entomology, Forehand went into the Army and was assigned as an entomologist in the 6th U. S. Army Medical Laboratory, Ft. Baker, Calif. At Ft. Baker he worked on studies which determined the effect various insecticides had on insects.
Forehand is married to the former Miss Barbara Lewis of Levelland. He is a graduate of Levelland High School.

STORING FLOWER SEEDS

Flower seeds lose much of their vitality when stored under household conditions, and are generally no saving when held from one year to the next, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture plant specialists. They suggest that new seeds be purchased not too long before planting time. Allow no more than a three-month holding period, they say.
Rich pasture land yields about 700 pounds of cattle or sheep per year.

National advertising of Texas' many tourist attractions begins April 5

AUSTIN — Texas will observe a milestone Sunday, April 5, when for the first time it begins to tell the nation of its myriad vacation attractions.
The message will be beamed to The New York Times' 4 million readers who will see the ad in the newspaper's special Spring Vacation Travel section.
Another 3½ million will read the same ad the following Sunday, April 12, in The Chicago Tribune's first travel section of 1964.
The ads are the vanguard of a newspaper and magazine schedule approved by the new Texas Tourist Development Agency for the balance of the fiscal year which ends Aug. 31. Funds for the advertising, first ever made available by the state, were appropriated last year by the 58th Legislature.
IT GAVE THE TTDA a budget of $292,292 for the biennium beginning last Sept. 1. Of the amount, $200,000 was earmarked for travel advertising, promotion and public relations, $80,000 of which was to be spent during the current fiscal year and $120,000 during the fiscal year beginning this Sept. 1.
The first 11 one-half by 12 inch ads come at a time when most Americans are first beginning to think about where they will spend their vacations this year.
Texas will be presented to winter-weary northerners and midwesterners as a spot already offering summertime pleasures—at a time when much of the nation is still locked in ice and snow.
Superimposed on a photo of a girl on a Texas beach are eight lines of copy keyed to the idea, "Summer begins right now in Texas!"
THE COPY CONTINUES: "The sun sparkles on a thousand lakes and the gentle waves of the Gulf lap mile after mile down the world's longest beaches. The tarpon will be running soon.

"Flowering cactus paint the desert while bluebonnets carpet the rolling plains. Green fairways roll to the shores of lakes where record bass lie waiting. And sure-footed quarterhorses follow sunlit trails."
"Meet summer halfway in the big Fun-tier—in Texas!"
In an upper corner of the ad is a coupon which the reader is invited to clip and send to the TTDA for more expansive Texas travel literature.
"All we can hope for the ad itself to do is create sufficient interest in the reader that he will want to know more about Texas," said Frank Hildebrand, TTDA executive director. "We will rely upon the material that we send in response to his coupon to further persuade him to plan a Texas vacation this year—to clinch the sale."
The "Fun-tier Folio" which will be mailed will contain copies of the colorful 32-page brochure, Texas—America's Fun-tier, and the 1964 Texas highway map as well as a pamphlet, Texas Facts.
PUBLISHER OF THE Fun-tier Folio, the Texas Highway Department, is cooperating with the TTDA in distributing the material.
The April ads in The New York Times and The Chicago Tribune will be followed by the same size ads in the newspapers' travel sections June 7 and again Aug. 30. They will utilize photos of other sections of the state and will discuss additional vacation activities, all keyed to the season during which they run.
The magazine schedule begins with the May issue of Sunset and will be followed with the June issue of Redbook and the June issue of Reader's Digest, Southwest Edition.
Plans call for full page, four-color ads in both Sunset and Redbook and a double page, four-color spread in Reader's Digest. A variety of color photographs, selected to represent each major region of Texas and its vacation highlights, will be used in each magazine ad.
Like the subsequent newspaper ads, the second magazine ad will depict still more of the state's appeal as a vacationland. It will run in the September issues of Sunset, Redbook and Reader's Digest and will, like its predecessor, occupy a full page in both Sunset and Redbook and a double page spread in Reader's Digest.
COPIES OF THE advertising schedule will be mailed to all current travel advertisers in the state, urging them to consider "tie-in" campaigns with the TTDA. By placing their ads in the same publications and at the same times the state ads appear, the Texas impact upon the reader will be heightened.
All ads were prepared by McCann-Erickson, Inc., of Houston, the advertising agency selected in January to work with the TTDA in telling the Texas travel story. Account director is Kern Tins, well-known advertising executive and Southwest Conference sportsleader.
The current advertising schedule was approved in February by the TTDA's board of advisors. Chairman of the board is James M. Gaines of San Antonio, president of Southland Industries, Inc. Members are Bill Boregg of Hondo, publisher of the Hondo Anvil-Herald and president of the Texas Press Association; Chris Fox of El Paso, vice president of the State National Bank; John McCarty of Dallas, vice president in charge of

Textile mill for area announced

RALLS — Construction of the Texas High Plains first textile mill was announced today by Jean D. Smith, president of Ralls Tex Mill, Inc.
The Ralls Tex firm is owner of the new building which will house a modern automated textile mill. The masonry and steel structure will include over 50,000 square feet for manufacturing and packaging.
The primary product of Ralls Tex will be the production of cotton bale bagging. Smith said, "At long last a dream of the cotton industry will be a reality—to wrap cotton with cotton competitively."
Ralls Tex recently acquired manufacturing rights to a blending process from Ronald H. Marks of Dallas which will enable them to produce a material using seven parts cotton and five parts other natural cellulose fibers. Exhaustive tests show this new knitted fabric to be more uniform, stronger and presents a more marketable package.
It will be competitive with traditional bagging material, Smith said.
IRRIGATION SYSTEMS
Time spent now getting the irrigation system in shape can save many headaches next summer. All equipment should be checked and repaired. Any new equipment to be needed during the season ahead should be purchased early to make certain it will be available when needed.

EATING HABIT TRENDS

In the next five years, per capita consumption of food won't go up much — although people will change their eating habits slightly, predicts the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Americans will tend to eat more low carbohydrate foods, and homemakers will likely increase their purchases of convenience foods as more and more come on the market.

At Lubbock college

Baseball camp is slated for summer

LUBBOCK—Bobby Moegle, head baseball coach at Monterey High School, has been named director of the newly formed West Texas Baseball Camp to be conducted this summer at Lubbock Christian College. The announcement was made by Dr. Herman P. Segrest of Texas Tech's Physical Education Department, who will have general charge of camp arrangements.

Moegle will conduct instructions on the basic fundamentals of baseball for boys 8 through 16 years of age at four different sessions, the first one beginning June 7.

"We feel there is a definite need to provide boys in the West Texas area with instruction in the fundamentals of baseball," Moegle commented. "We don't intend to interfere with their Little League activities or instruction—rather we want to supplement that instruction."

Moegle is beginning his fifth year at Monterey after spending three years in the St. Louis Cardinal farm system. His teams have won the District 3-4A title every year since he came to the Lubbock school. They have also reached at least the regional round of the play-offs and twice have gone to the state play-offs at Austin.

Sixteen of his graduates are currently playing major college baseball. Two signed pro contracts right out of high school and several others turned down the pros in favor of college.

In addition to the baseball instruction a full slate of recreational and social activities are planned for each two-week session according to Dr. Segrest. "The boys will live in the new dormitory at LCC and will be supervised by college trained men," he added. The regular college dietitian will be on duty to supervise the preparation of all meals and the full facilities of the LCC Fieldhouse will be available to them. The baseball sessions will be conducted in the morning and afternoon with the recreation at night.

Post Country Club also to have club supper

Ladies' tourney, Scotch foursomes are planned

Plans were completed Monday night at a meeting of the Men and Women's Ways and Means Committee of the Post Country Club for the 1963 Ladies' Club Championship Tournament Saturday, April 4, and for a Mixed Scotch Foursome tournament to be played Sunday afternoon, April 5.

Both events will be played on the Caprock Golf Course.

Plans also were made at the committee meeting for a club supper to be held Saturday evening, April 4, at the Caprock Golf Course.

The men will be doing the cooking. Mrs. Mike Mitchell, social committee chairman, should be notified by Thursday, April 2, by those planning to attend.

The 1963 ladies' club championship tournament will be just that—the 1963 isn't in error. Such a tournament was not played last year so it is being scheduled April 4.

A 1964 ladies' event will be scheduled later in the club year.

The ladies' club championship affair will be an 18 hole event with the first nine holes starting at 10 a. m. and the second nine at 1:30 p. m. All contestants are asked to bring a sack lunch. There will be no entry fee. A trophy will be presented to the winner.

Women golfers planning to participate are asked to contact Mrs. Tom Greenwood no later than Thursday, April 2, to submit their entries.

All golfers are invited to participate in the Scotch Foursome Tournament, which is planned for Sunday, April 5.

Tea-off time will be 1:30 p. m. Eighteen holes will be played. Prizes will be awarded for first, second, and third place teams.

Entry fee is $3 per team and all entries must be in at the Caprock Golf Course by 6 p. m. Saturday, April 4.

A mixed scotch foursome event is one in which a man and woman golfer enter as a team and alternate shots using only one ball per team.

The Caprock Golf Course will be open for play to anyone both Saturday and Sunday, April 4-5, regardless of whether they have entered one of the two tournaments or not.

Buff scrimmage held Saturday

CANYON—The West Texas State Buffalo football squad went through its first heavy duty scrimmage session Saturday under head coach Joe Kerbel and his staff.

The scrimmage contained the usual number of fumbles, missed assignments and the like. However, Kerbel and the staff were fairly well impressed with the hitting and execution of some of the members of the varsity squad.

The next Buff scrimmage session will be held Saturday, April 4. The coming weekend will be a rest period for the Buffs as they take off for an Easter breather.

Spring practice will end Friday, April 10, under the lights of Buffalo Bowl in the third annual alumni game.

It's the Law in TEXAS

DIVISION OF ESTATES EXPLAINED

The death of an intestate person (one who has made no will) may give rise to many problems regarding distribution of his separate estate. In the preceding column we investigated the manner of dividing the community estate upon the death of a husband or wife. Now we shall see that, where separate property is involved, a completely different set of rules applies in determining heirship and apportioning the estate among the rightful claimants.

It may be well to recall that the separate estate of a husband or wife includes property owned by either before marriage, and that which is acquired after marriage by gift or inheritance. Any other property acquired after marriage is presumed by law to be community property until the contrary is clearly proved.

Now, here is a general idea as to how your separate property will be divided if you do not make a will with contrary provisions prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and if, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of previously deceased children, the children and their descendants immediately obtain a full (fee) title in two-thirds of the real estate involved. The surviving spouse receives a life interest in the remaining one-third of the real property, which passes on to the children and their descendants upon the death of the spouse.

The rule for distributing personal property—cash, stocks, bonds, furniture, or any other items not constituting real estate—is different. Here the surviving spouse gets full ownership of one-third, and the children and their descendants inherit the balance.

Now suppose your husband or wife survives, but there are no surviving children or their descendants. In this case the surviving spouse inherits all of the personal property involved.

With regard to real estate, the survivor obtains full title to one-half, and the other half is divided between your mother and father, if both survive you. If only one of them survives, he or she receives only half of this portion, and the other half (or one-fourth of the entire real estate) will be divided among your brothers and sisters (and their descendants) who survive. If there are no surviving sisters and brothers and their descendants, then the one surviving parent inherits the full one-half.

Where no parent survives, but there are brothers and sisters and descendants, the full one-half is divided among these survivors.

TEENAGERS NEED HELP WITH NUTRITION
They are fat or not, most girls are afraid they are fat. That's one reason why they are not eating properly.

Williams, home demonstrator, points to three other girls who are not eating properly. (1) They skip meals. (2) They eat poor quality food. (3) They eat too much of a day's calories (from snacks); and (4) they drink no milk — or not enough.

Williams says that six out of ten girls receive less than two-thirds the nutrients recommended for their age group by the National Research Council about every ten boys have the same.

Williams is to erase the fear of "overweight" from their minds by showing them how they can maintain normal weight and still eat nutritious meals.

Williams says that youngsters who eat a good diet can maintain a normal weight as well as have clear skin, and good teeth.

Williams says that every teen-age girl should get the approval of her mother before going to do what

PLAN FOR BETTER USE OF TIME
Time management is a problem for many people. They worry about failure to get things done, without making a plan for better use of time, says Miss Williams.

"Time use can be analyzed in terms of the familiar questions of what, where, why, when, who, and how," she says.

Persons interested in improving the use of time should plan what they are to do and how much time they allocate to accomplish it. Where they spend their time relates to the question of place, and a worthwhile, well-arranged work area can save considerable time.

Knowing when to do things may pay off in terms of increased productivity immediately, or it may be a matter of "a stitch in time saves nine." An hour for planning early in the day may be worth more than later when one is tired or interest is divided.

Homemakers also need to determine if they are providing a balanced distribution of time among the many planned tasks. They should

SAFETY URGED IN USE OF HOUSEHOLD PESTICIDES
A little common sense and a lot of caution should keynote the use of house and garden insect sprays this spring and summer, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Sales of pesticides will increase about 200 per cent in the next few weeks as the annual insect invasions get underway, White noted. "And accidental poisonings are an annual occurrence," he added.

Commissioner White pointed out that modern chemicals are a boon in the fight against household and garden pests when they are properly used. But, careless spraying can result in serious consequences to pets and even humans.

"We tend to forget that those aerosol cans or powders which are so effective against bugs are actually poisons—and they should be treated as such," said White. The Texas Department of Agriculture and U. S. D. A. are responsible for seeing that all pesticides are labeled properly, and that all information needed to protect the user is contained on the label. But, once these products enter your home, safe use becomes your responsibility.

"Read the labels first when the products are still on the dealers' shelf," White advised. "There is a large variety of pesticides, and many of them have specific uses so a hasty selection could be an unwise one. Then follow the directions and use all precautions that are included on the can or package."

"It is wise to wash your hands after using household pesticides and, above all, store them out of the reach of children, just as you do with medicines, lye or other poisons."

A few other pesticides safety "Don'ts" from Commissioner White are as follows:

- Don't save or re-use empty pesticide containers.
- Don't use a pesticide inside the home if a gas mask is required in using it.
- Don't use your mouth to blow out clogged sprayer lines or nozzle tips, or to siphon a pesticide
