ADVANCING INTO THE FUTURE—BOOSTING, BUILDING, BENEFITTING

Fourth Year. 19th Issue

O'DONNELL, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 1, 1941

For the Best Interests of O'Donnell and Lynn County

"My Sister and I"

A poignant story is told. A story that needs few words but tells why the Allies—Australia, Belgium, British Commonwealth, Czechoslovakia, Free France, Greece, Luxemburg, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland and Yugoslavia—are fighting on against aggression and for world freedom. These two children are French refugees who have lost their parents and await their assignment to new homes—homes that will be orphanages.

Softball Play Ends; Red & White Girls Win

Final play of the O'Donnell softball leagues was made this week. Sporting a hustling brand of ball throughout the season, the Line-Lambert Red & White girls team continued their headsup play Wednesday night and walloped Shorty's Volunteers by a decisive score. Champion of the men's league was decided Thursday night but too late for publication between the Builders boys of High school age, and Shorty's Volunteers. The Red & White girls won over spirited competition. In addition to Shorty's team, good play was made by the Corner Drug (known also as Harmony) and Oates' which made the most improvement as the season progressed.

Rotary Anns To Be Banqueted; Farley Is Speaker

Rotarians and Rotary Anns will be entertained Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the O'Donnell Hotel by District Governor Cal Farley of Amarillo and his entertainers. The entire program, plenty diversified, will be under the direction of Farley, and few are the local Rotarians who will miss—they know from experience the unusual wit and humor "Governor Cal" injects into any program. A business session will precede the banquet with the district governor meeting with President Fletcher Johnson and his various committee chairmen. Farley, new to the post, is making his entire district in meetings.

To Appear Here

GOVERNOR CAL FARLEY
127th District, Rotary International
Past president Amarillo Rotary Club.

Baptist Revival Starts Here Next Sunday

Summer revival services will begin at the First Baptist Church next Sunday with the pastor, the Rev. E. C. McDonald, in charge of preaching and Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Kinard of Lamesa in charge of the singing, so it has been announced by church leaders. Services will be held throughout the week, so the Rev. Mr. McDonald also pointed out, with morning worship starting promptly at 10 o'clock and evening meeting at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to attend. While sermon topics have not been announced, the Rev. Mr. McDonald will speak along broad lines and upon subjects which are of vital interest to every person living to-days.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Wayne Clayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Clayton, who underwent a major operation in a Lubbock hospital on July 22, is recovering in splendid fashion, so the family reports.

MOVED TO NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. John Ellis and family moved this week to their new home on North Doak. They have purchased the stucco building formerly occupied by the Clinic and they have remodeled it.

Cotton Flea Duster Will Be Shown

TAHOKA, July 30 (Special)—In order that farmers may become familiar with flea hopper control methods, a dusting demonstration will be arranged by County Agent, Turner. The demonstration will begin at 9:30 a. m. Saturday, August 2, at the L. M. Nordyke farm 2 1-2 miles east and 1 mile south of Midway. A dusting machine will be in operation. Dusted and undusted cotton will be examined and compared. Every farmer is urged to attend this demonstration. Considerable damage is being done by the cotton crop by the flea hopper, says County Agent Turner, who has inspected a large number of cotton fields over the county this week. A heavy infestation of this insect is costly to cotton farmers if not controlled, and as long as the moisture is sufficient to produce tender or succulent growth the hoppers will continue to breed on the cotton, says Turner. If dry weather should cause the growth to stop up the infestation should decrease, and the shedding of early bolls may be overcome by the development of a late summer or early crop, provided the flea hoppers are the cotton and the bollworms and leafworms do not damage the crop. However, since other insects and weather hazards may threaten a crop, it is recommended that control measures be taken to make the crop as early as possible. Some farmers in the county have been using machines and are dusting the flea hopper. Machines for this work are very hard to get because of the defense program. Other farmers are improvising their own machines from feed mills etc. Dusting with finely ground sulfur at the rate of about 10 pounds

Senior Tennis Tournery Sunday

The first rounds of a senior tennis tournament will be opened here Sunday near the High school grounds, and players in the O'Donnell area will bid for top honors. Several outstanding players, among them Weldon Hancock and G. R. Pierce, state contenders, will enter. Anyone wishing to compete should file their application with S. F. Johnson.

Connally Heads Powerful Group

Press reports from Washington state that Senator Tom Connally of Texas has been made chairman of the foreign relations committee of the Senate, succeeding Senator George of Georgia who relinquished that position to become chairman of the finance committee, held by the late Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi until his death recently. At this particular juncture, the foreign relations committee is probably the most important committee of the Senate. Connally is in thorough accord with President Roosevelt's foreign policy. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hoffman and Helen Jean are in Corpus Christi this week. Mr. and Mrs. Hilman Maxwell have gone to California.

Inauguration Of Governor Aug. 8

AUSTIN, July 30—The inauguration of Coke R. Stevenson as governor of Texas was set today tentatively for Aug. 8. This time was selected at a meeting of the joint inauguration committee of the Texas legislature. Senator Houghton Brownlee of Austin, chairman of the committee said:

"Provided that nothing occurs which will prevent Governor O'Daniel from carrying out his schedule, the joint inauguration committee has tentatively set the date for the installation and inauguration of Gov. Coke Stevenson for Friday, August 8. Arrangements and details will be announced later." O'Daniel's schedule calls for his departure from Texas next Saturday night. Stevenson then will become acting governor, automatically. Stevenson will become governor when O'Daniel takes the oath of office as U. S. Senator. That is planned for August 4 at noon in Washington.

All Trump! Bridge Players To Get "Defense" Prizes

Vases, won as bridge prizes, will be few and far between henceforth in the homes of members of the Tuesday Bridge Club—it will be Defense Savings Stamps and ultimately U. S. Bonds. Club members voted Tuesday to go another "bit" for Uncle Samuel. The idea is spreading over the nation, and should aid and abet in no small way the financing of the program. Prize-winners, in the past, have been given the usual range of prizes, with the result a varied type of vases graced many shelves. Now the winners can place their stamps in the vases for safekeeping. The Tuesday Bridge Club donated $14.00, twice its quota, to the USO. The ladies are playing bridge, but the armed services are reaping a benefit. Members are Mesdames J. Mack Noble, Guy Bradley, Pauline Campbell, Charles Hoffman, Chris Hafer, E. T. Wells, L. E. Robinson, Harvie Jordan, Fred Henderson, Marshall Whitsett, B. J. Boyd, W. G. Forgy.

New Supplies In For Red Cross

The local Red Cross room, located next to the Rex Theatre, is open on Wednesday's and anyone wishing to do sewing there may avail themselves of the machines and supplies, so Mrs. R. O. Stark announces. New supplies have been received, Mrs. Stark also says, and women who will sew for the unit are urged to contact those in charge at once as more sewing is urgently needed.

E. I. Hill Speaks To Rotarians Here Tuesday

Despite the absence of several Rotarians, the attendance at the Rotary noon meeting Tuesday was the largest in several weeks. Make-up attendance by Rotarians from Lamesa and Tahoka swelled the total. Two new members were inducted into the club Tuesday. Noel Boothe, variety store, and R. E. Golyghty, hotel owner, were previously voted in by the nominating committee. A vaired program was presented, with E. I. (Eee-Eye) Hill, publisher of the Lynn County News at Tahoka, guest speaker. Familiar to all present, Hill spoke briefly and dwelled upon interesting data regarding the manner political campaigns are held today in comparison with those of 40 years ago. "It was said many times during the last campaign that we had a 'heated' political campaign, but it was only child's play compared to those of by-gone years when campaigns were really debated and passions of the voters raised to a fever pitch," Hill said, and quickly proved. Well received were the vocal numbers by Richard Maxwell, nine year old county-meet winner, and the the marionette negro doll dance by Doris Nell Gates. An entirely different type of program will be presented Tuesday-week by the program committee. Next Tuesday, the entire program will be under the supervision of Cal Farley, district governor.

Oil Test Seems To Be Dry Hole

TAHOKA, July 30 (Special)—Reports from the Reuss Sport and Uscon Oil Company No. 1 J. E. Rice wildcat test about thirteen miles north of Tahoka are not very encouraging. On Wednesday a depth of 4,767 feet had been reached with no indications of oil. Those versed in such affairs say that unless this is to be a dry hole, indications of oil should have been found at a much lesser depth. While drilling in the well is proceeding, it is understood that oil people entertain little hope for pay oil in this test. AMERICAN CAFE NOW OWNED BY GRAHAM Bill Graham, who recently with George Cranford, installed the American Cafe, has purchased Cranford's interests, so he announced today. Graham moved his family from Lubbock Thursday, and made plans for a change in the operation of the business. W. W. Williams and family have returned after a vacation in California.

Announcing . . .

The purchase of the entire interest of the American Cafe by me . . . and of our intention to serve you better than ever.

Nazarenes Are Having Successful Meeting Here

The revival which has been progress at the Nazarene church the last two weeks has been well attended, so members say. The crowds each night enjoyed the singing and the preaching brought by Evangelist C. L. Henbest of Rogers, Ark. The meeting will continue until Sunday, August 3. Everyone is urged to attend the services, by Pastor B. W. Taylor. Mrs. Fay Westmoreland and daughter Yvonne have returned from a vacation trip to California. That Nagging Backache
 May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

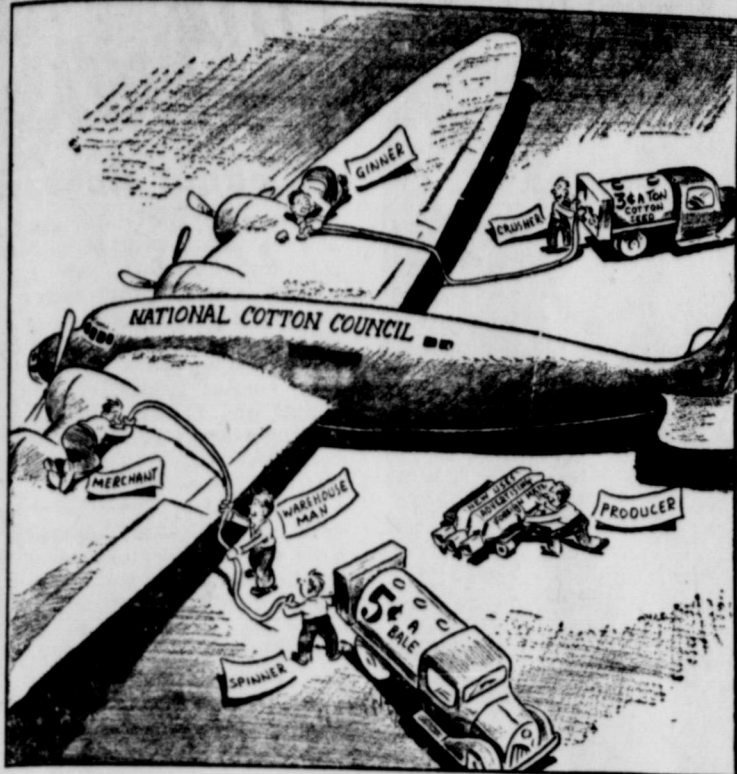

Modern life with its hurry and worry; irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, legs, aching, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

U. S. Attitude Toward Japan Changes With 'Drive to South' Viewed as Threat To Vital Supplies From East Indies; Soviet Discounts Air Raids on Moscow

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Following a half-hour conference with Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles, Japanese Ambassador Kichisaburo is pictured in Washington as he expressed to newsmen the hope that the feeling between the U. S. and Japan "will become better and better." Later, Welles had a little different version of the conference. He said he had warned the ambassador that Japan's actions threatened sources of U. S. defense materials and had a direct relation "upon . . . our national security."

(For other news of Japan see below: JAPAN: A Change.)

JAPAN:

A Change

Japan, following the establishment of a new government under the same premier, still rather puzzled observers as to what the new regime might have in store for Japan and the world.

Summed up by "the man in the street" in Tokyo, who commentators felt was as good a barometer of the mysterious future as any, the new government promised something like this:

- 1. A sterner prosecution of the war with China.
2. Outwardly, at least, no change in the tripartite pact with Germany and Italy;
3. A generally more placatory attitude toward the United States provided this were possible if Japan's aims were carried out.
4. A strengthening of Japan's position in Manchukuo and on the Siberian border, but no provocation or forward move against Russia unless the Germans were shown to be positively winning a decisive victory.

5. A definite "grab" in the southern portion of the Pacific front, probably in Indo-China. This last possibility, believed definitely promised since Japan was accusing the British of a similar attempted "grab" and hence following the old Axis technique of accusing the other fellow of doing what you intend yourself to do, would, it was feared, definitely involve the United States.

The inclusion of a noted Japanese banker in the cabinet was said to mean a promise that Japan's internal house would be put in order, as far as possible, and hence a move toward Indo-China would be along that line.

U. S. Attitude

Japan's drive met some real opposition in the attitude of the U. S. government. Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles came out with a statement declaring the occupation of French Indo China was primarily in preparation for "more obvious movements of conquest in adjacent areas."

He was of the opinion that such moves have a direct bearing on the national security of the United States because they threatened supplies of strategic defense materials. He was referring here to supplies of rubber and tin now being obtained from the Netherlands East Indies.

President Roosevelt added weight to the changing U. S. attitude toward Japan. He told a civilian defense group that the United States "had" (he used the past tense) been allowing oil shipments to Japan to make it unnecessary for that nation to go to the East Indies for this supply. He indicated that the policy had worked for two years, thus keeping war out of the Pacific region.

VICHY:

Still Sinking

The Vichy government, helpless against Germany and Italy, and equally helpless against Britain, as seen in the Syrian debacle, was seen as sinking more into a position of powerlessness by the announcement that if Japan moves on Indo-China that Vichy will have no course but to submit.

This far-eastern menace of the war, threatening as it would the Burma road, found Anthony Eden warning Japan that severe steps would be taken rather than yield Indo-China to the Japanese, and this was the ever-present closest threat of the entry of the U. S. actively into the war.

The Japanese newspapers, as noted above, have been accusing the British, Free French and Chinese of being about to invade Indo-China. This was taken in London as a veiled threat that Japan plans to do just the

RUSSIA:

And Nazi Claims

Since the move of the British commission into Moscow, also since the establishment there of a short-wave radio station, which would permit observers like Erskine Caldwell to make broadcasts direct to American homes, it was possible for the Russian sources to make more definite denials of German claims than had been possible heretofore.

For instance, the first large blitz raid by planes on Moscow was described by the Germans as having ruined the city, particularly the Kremlin.

Announcers came on the air the following morning and declared that the raid was much less effective than similar raids the speakers had gone through in England, and that their trips about the city had showed no signs of panic or disaster.

The British commission, which earlier had said that the Russian air force had far from been knocked out of the air, told of German planes shot down, and said that air battles they had witnessed showed that the Nazi pilots, in fact the British pilots, did not have as good technique as the Russians in clipping off rudders and tail surfaces with machine gun bursts of fire.

It also was apparent that Nazi claims on land, that their forces had completely disintegrated that Russian defense, that Smolensk had been taken and that the invaders were past Kiev and had Leningrad practically surrounded were entirely premature.

These maneuvers and triumphs might possibly be carried out, but they were some time in the future, those on the ground in Moscow reported, and the reports were not entirely the Russian communiques, but the reports, censored, it is true, but nevertheless made by Americans and British on the scene.

SERVICE:

And House

Chief of Staff General Marshall went before the senate and evidently made a deep impression. President Roosevelt followed this with a request for the passage of legislation declaring a national emergency, and the sum of these two appearances before the upper house was evident in two ways:

First, an effort by administration leaders to hustle the legislation to a vote. Second, a general upturn of sentiment in favor of the bill.

This was one of the oddest controversies since the World war started. The first feeling evidenced when it was hinted that the guardsmen and draftees might be kept in service longer than the statutory year was that the selective service people themselves felt it a breach of faith with the drafted men.

The next phase came from the selectees themselves, also from the guardsmen. The officers and non-coms of the latter seemed willing to stay in, but many of the private soldiers among the guardsmen expressed voluble desires to be let out.

In the midst of this came the announcement that all selectees of 28 and over would be deferred automatically, and the bill to this effect passed the senate by a terrific margin.

RELEASE:

For Workers

It was said in Washington that if any defense manufacturers want some of their skilled workers, already in the guard or the selective service, released to come back to work, the man to take it up with is Robert T. Patterson, undersecretary of war.

The recently announced policy will be that trained workers now in the army may be released when their services are urgently needed in defense industry.

$300,000 Grain Elevator Fire

This spectacular picture was taken just as a billow of white hot flame blew off the top of a United States Grain elevator, in Chicago, during a $300,000 fire, of mysterious origin. More than 350,000 bushels of corn were destroyed. Furnace-like heat melted steel girders like butter and drove back firemen.

Jacob Stalin, the eldest son of Russian Premier Joseph Stalin, is shown (arrow) in a German prison camp. He was captured near Ljosno, Russia, with a number of other officers and soldiers taken by German panzer forces under the command of Gen. Rudolf Schmidt, according to a Nazi communique.

This photograph was made at Jacksonville, N. C., during marine maneuvers—first time—between army-navy and marines on beach landing practice. Transports unloaded armored cars and troops carrying equipment, etc. Photo shows marines going over the side of transport into landing boats.

Pay Day for Dollar-a-Year Men

Here are some of the 262 dollar-a-year men in the defense program on their recent "pay day." Total of all payments was only $126 to the 262 workers as many of them had not worked a full year and could not receive their "total" salary. Distributing checks above (center) is Edward Stettinius, priorities director.

Warned by U. S.

Japan's Ambassador K. Nomura, after a conference with Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles, expressed the hope that U. S.-Japanese relations would get "better and better." Welles, however, said he told Nomura, that Japan's actions in Indo-China were a threat to U. S. "security."

'Unlimited Army'

Arrow indicates Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, as he appeared before senate military affairs committee asking congress to authorize a draft army of unlimited size. He spoke of the "grave national peril."

Another Number

Secretary of Navy Frank Knox is shown drawing the second number in the second peacetime draft lottery. The number was 96. First number was 196.

My Week by Eleanor Roosevelt

A very delightful day started, half an hour, with Mrs. Archibald MacLeish singing us charming French and German songs. The whole group began to sing together. While they have not done much singing as a group, I found they showed signs of getting together and really enjoying it. We have several young people with very nice voices and several who play the piano.

Dr. and Mrs. David Levy luncheon with us and after lunch we went back to join the students and listen to Mr. MacLeish, who read a commencement address which he delivered this spring, and his poem "America Was Promises." To hear him read, either prose or poetry, is an unforgettable experience. It was so beautiful that I think that every one present felt that, in applauding they were breaking a spell of beauty which had been cast about them.

At about 3:30 Mr. and Mrs. MacLeish left and then I listened to a discussion between Justice Frankfurter and some of the students of the need for political organizations. To my joy, when we returned to our own house, I found that our son Jimmy, and his wife had arrived. Soon after, Mrs. Henry Morgenthau Jr. came, having flown up from New York city under somewhat uncertain weather conditions. The fore here was thick until about five o'clock, when it suddenly began to clear and the setting sun shone through a rift in the clouds on the water, making the mouth of the river look like a pool of gold.

One evening, I read aloud some selections of rather lighter poetry ending up with one serious group from "John Brown's Body," by Stephen Vincent Benet, after which the students began to ask for poems which were special favorites. I was interested to find how many young people read poetry for pleasure. One of them asked me to bring some poems by Langston Hughes, another would like me to read Hood's "The Song of the Shirt."

BOSTON STOP

As soon as I reached Boston one day, I was greeted by Johnny and Anne. We had a very satisfactory visit and were joined a little later by Franklin Jr. I telephoned my husband and we spent some little time catching up on news of all the different members of the family. He had Ruth and her two children in the White House and I wished I could be in two places at once, for I would love to see her and Chandler and Elliott Jr.

All too soon, the message came that Professor Zimmerman was waiting for me downstairs and Mrs. Morgenthau, Miss Thompson and I went out with him to Cambridge. There we had a delightful dinner at the Faculty club and I enjoyed talking to my two neighbors, Mr. Jerome Green and Mr. Mather. At 8:00, we went over to the evening session of the Institute on the Children of Tomorrow. This was the first of three days of meetings. It seems to be a very well-attended institute. They told me there was probably some one from every state in the Union present.

After speaking, I had a short talk with the reporters and then came back to the Statler hotel, where I spent some time discussing their interests with a group of students, who are planning to go to South America. They have two months at Harvard under the direction of Mr. Louis Quintavilla and then, I believe, six weeks to two months in Mexico.

STUDENT CONFERENCE

One day during the week I attended another interesting session of the International Students' Service conference in Campobello, N. B. We spent most of the meeting listening to Justice Frankfurter addressing the Summer Student Leadership Institute. In the morning, he made a remarkably clear and simple statement of what law means in a civilized society and what the background of our own law is in this country.

He started out by telling us that he could not talk for an hour, since he was trained in the Harvard law school method of making the pupils do the work. Therefore, he would expect the students being trained in for leadership here, to behave in the same way and to carry the burden by asking questions after he had talked briefly. This was at 10:30, and at 12:15 he suddenly looked at Dr. William Allen Neilson, president of Smith college, and asked: "What time is it?" He had been as interested as the listeners and I do not think anyone there had taken any account of the passage of time.

VISIT TO NYA PROJECT

We returned to our seats and spent an hour questioning him immediately after lunch. Then all of us got into a boat and went to Eastport, Maine, to visit the Quoddy village. Many of the young people at our institute had never seen an NYA resident project. I found some of them watching the boys at work in the aviation unit, rather enviously, I thought. Finally, one of them said: "I'd like to be here if I was not at Campobello."

Post's Big Rodeo Starting Today

POST, July 30—Post's annual two-day non-professional Rodeo and Stampede will open Friday noon with a colorful mile-long western street parade through downtown streets. The first rodeo performance will begin promptly at 2 o'clock when eight chute gates are opened and as many riders, four on big Brahma steers and four on bareback brones, ride out in event No. 1, the "Mad Scramble." This special attraction has been arranged for those who come to the show expecting to see something rough and tough.

Each of the four performances will be made up of five major events, cowgirl sponsor's contest, calf roping, wild cow milking, and bronc and steer riding. Besides these events many special attractions have been arranged. Louis Blair, popular rodeo clown, has been booked to appear in each performance with his trick mule and will tantalize the big Brahma steers. A hurdling horse act, patriotic presentation of "Texas Under Six Flags," and several other special features have been planned.

Twenty or more pretty out-of-county sponsor girls, some winners of saddles in this season's rodeos, will be here to enter the calf penning contest. First prize for this contest will be a $115 saddle. A number of other prizes are being offered in this event.

The Post Stampede, Inc., sponsor of the annual entertainment, has posted in excess of $1,300 in cash prizes, two $115 saddles and other merchandise prizes for contestants in the various events. Bill Lyons' stock, same as used at the Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford, has been contracted for the Post show.

Two dances will be staged each night, one to honor sponsors and the other for those who enjoy dancing the square, new-shoe, schottish, and other old time steps. Afternoon rodeo performances will begin at 2:00 o'clock and evening performances at 8:00 o'clock.

CONNALLY BILL WOULD INCREASE OLD AGE PAY

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30—Tom Connally, Senior Senator from Texas has introduced a bill to increase the Federal Government's share in old age assistance payments. The bill has been referred to the Senate Committee on Finance, of which Senator Connally is a top ranking member.

Dr. A. J. Altmeyer, chairman of the Social Security Board, testifying before a Senate Committee on Monday, approved and endorsed the Bill and stated that it represented the views of the Board.

In 1939, the Connally amendment to the Social Security Act, providing for the payment of two dollars by the Federal Government to each dollar by the State governments, passed the Senate, but was eliminated in the Conference Committee due to objections from the Social Security Board.

The present bill has been worked out by the joint efforts of Senator Connally and the Social Security Board members. The bill does not carry a flat rate to be paid by the Federal Government, but provides a mathematical formula for payments to be made in reverse ratio to the State's per capita income per person. Thus, the State, with higher average individual incomes is more able to pay its share of the pension, and the less the Federal Government will contribute, while the poorer the State, the more the Federal Government will contribute.

Under the present law, there is considerable discrepancy in the amount paid to the aged in the various States; this bill would tend to bring about a more equal pay to the old age pensioner throughout the nation.

Heretofore in Texas, monthly old age pension payments have been a little less than $14. On that basis, under the Connally Bill, bined payments would be Under recent enactments of the Legislature of Texas, if favorable, the monthly would amount to $18.50. Terms of the Connally Bill, same State contribution, the ly payments would amount to each old age pensioner.

Volume UP Price DOWN

IT HAS BEEN SAID that advertising increases the price of goods. True, advertising is part of the manufacturer's and merchant's cost of doing business, all of which must be covered in the price of his goods if he is to stay in business.

But advertising helps boost sales and production. Bigger volume cuts cost per unit made and sold. To meet competition the saving is passed on to the public in the form of a lower price.

Think of the prices of radios, mechanical refrigerators and heating appliances, automobiles, light bulbs and other products when first introduced and sold in small volume. Compare with their prices today, after advertising won them enormous acceptance! Successful advertising decreases the price of goods.

SKETCHES
By
W. G. FORGY

"V" stands for "Victory" as the British maintain, but we in this country should remember it also stands for "vague"—meaning unsettled, uncertain, undetermined, indefinite, and therefore carries a warning that we, as a people, should fight TOGETHER against an enemy which threatens this country. There's too much "agin Roosevelt" feeling being manifested and misnamed opposition patriotism.

We cannot recall any modern American who has called forth as much invective and hatred as has Lindbergh—he was once the popular idol (few were the newspapermen who dealt with him who thought of him so). Yet his words are closely followed and approved by, we believe, millions. Why, we simply cannot know for sure when there are many greater than he in aviation, in politics, in knowledge, in economics AND with GREATER insight in the affairs and purposes of Germany. How many of us ever dreamed that Lindbergh, "the flying fool", of 1925 would just 15 years later be pitting his judgment against our best statesmen as to how this country should be run. Don't be surprised if Lindbergh is candidate for the presidency not later than 1948.

Just as a thought: We think now that our congressmen were dumb for not willing to fortify Guam just 2 years ago, so what assurance have we that they're acting any smarter in many of the things they do today

Johnson, Borah, Lodge, et al. (Wheeler included in a minor way) DID protest our entrance into the other war, but it was also their actions which sabotaged the League of Nations at the start and therefore made possible many things that later gave rise to Mr. Hitler and all of his "protection."

THANKS

Our thanks to Mrs. W. A. Tredway, city, for her recent subscription to the Press.

The Press will go to her son Lawrence this week in Camp Bowie so that he may keep in touch with all the home town news.

They will also visit relatives in Morgan Mill before returning.

Home Canning Part Of Defense Program

Home canning is part of the defense program, according to Miss Myriene Cannon, HM Supervisor of the Farm Security Administration. The FSA families are going to try to do their part in this program.

Miss Cannon is giving canning demonstrations in all areas in this county, chiefly for FSA families and other interested parties who wish to attend. Demonstrations have already been given at Mrs. Walter E. Dubrees and Mrs. Charlie R. Dabbs. Other demonstrations will be given this week in the New Home, Draw and Wilson communities.

These demonstrations are on methods of canning and preparing fruits and vegetables for the cold storage locker. Miss Cannon advised using government bulletins for canning, which may be obtained at the home demonstration office or the Farm Security Administration office in the court house.

Lyntegar Electric To Extend Lines

Garland Pennington, general manager for the Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, received an announcement from Washington on Thursday of last week that an additional appropriation of $130,000 had been made for the construction of at least 230 miles of extensions.

A map of the proposed extensions, however, shows the new mileage to be approximately 240 miles.

Plans call for the construction of about 70 additional miles in Dawson county, 60 in Terry, 35 in Lynn, and smaller amounts in Hockley, Garza, Borden, and Martin. Further more, the Terry county extension will run over into Yoakum county for a distance of about two and a half miles, and an extension in Lynn county will protrude over into Lubbock county for a short distance.

When all of these extensions are completed, the network of electric lines will extend through or into nine counties with a total mileage of about 900 and with at least 2,300 subscribers.

Easements for the extensions are now being procured, and the setting of stakes is expected to begin soon after August 1.

Mr. Pennington was not willing to hazard a guess as to just when contracts would be let and actual work on the extensions begun; but Mr. Pennington will get all the preliminary work done just as rapidly as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Adams were in Post Sunday to visit her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Doak visited friends in Lamesa Sunday.
