23 RD YEAR NO. 41

O'DONNELL, LYNN COUNTY, TEXAS, JULY 11, 1946

$1.50 PER YEAR

PRODUCTION PAYMENTS HAVE EXPIRED

According to Clinton M. Walker, county clerk of the Lynn County A. C. Corporation to make Beef and Lamb production payments and lamb production payments expired June 30th. These subsidies were initiated during the war for the purpose of stimulating production and several hundred dollars have been paid to stock feeders in this county thru the program.

SOIL BUILDING PAYMENTS TO BE MADE 1946

Applications for payment under the above program must be submitted to the County AAA office before August 31, 1946. Carl Sanders, chairman of the county committee, reports that the payment that will be made under the 1946 Farm program will be made out certain soil building practices on the farm. Before payment will be made the farmer must secure written approval of the county committee for the amount of the practice the producer is to be paid for in 1946. Since this money is allowed only a certain amount of money to be paid out for these practices it was necessary for the producer to secure approval on most of the same this spring.

The county committee grants approval to carry out the practices. The farmer must report completion of the practices. Otherwise the payment will be cancelled and the money will be re-allocated to another farmer.

Future farming must be reported in a written performance report for the existing date for receiving this practice which is July 1st. If a farm has been guaranteed approval for carrying out this practice but does not report this practice carried out by July 31st he will not receive payment for this practice in 1946. Mr. Sanders stated.

DAILY PAYMENTS NOW BEING TAKEN

The dairy production payment for April, May and June were as follows: April whole milk was $1.20 per 100 and butterfat 17c per lb. for May and June milk was $1.10 per 100 and butterfat 15c per lb. The program was dropped effective July 1st. This subsidy payment was used to dairy production to increase production during the war years.

ADCOCK ANNOUNCES FOR CO. ATTORNEY IN DAWSON CO.

TO THE VOTERS OF
DAWSON COUNTY

Six years ago you elected me to the office of county judge from a field of four candidates. That was the last political campaign during which I was here for any part. In April 1942 four months after Pearl Harbor, after serving 15 months of my first term as County Judge, I resigned that office for the Army as a private with the pay of $21 per month. During the 1942 election campaign I was taking infantry basic training in Camp Roberts, Calif. and during the 1944 campaign I was serving in Italy. After 40 months service and our last enemy had been defeated, I was given an honorable discharge under the demobilization plan with 122 points. Words are insufficient to fully express how thankful I am to be back home.

After the careful consideration of the solicitation of many of the fine citizens of Dawson County, I decided to offer my services as your county attorney. That is a position for which my training and experience has well equipped me to serve you. It is a lawyer's office and I practiced law in Dawson County 5 years before the war. During that 5 year period in addition to service as county judge, I served Lamesa as City Attorney 2 years and this county 21 months as county attorney. I am now engaged in the private practice of law with my office in the Garland building at 216 North Austin street in Lamesa.

Should you elect me, I promise to co-operate with the citizens of the county, the grand jury, petit jury, the other officers elected by you, and all law enforcement officers, in an honest, just, fair, impartial and common sense discharge of the duties of the office of county attorney to the best of my ability. I have considered Dawson county one of the best in the state since I came here at the age of 19 as a public school teacher in 1923. Since seeing some of the rest of the world during the war, I consider it one of the best in the world, and you may count on me working with you in keeping it so.

Your active support of my candidacy is earnestly solicited upon my own qualifications and record for sincerity in the discharge of duty. By your vote and influence you

HARMONY MAN IS STATIONED IN GERMANY

Ngt. Leroy V. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Davis of O'Donnell, Rt. 1 is connected with the 14th Constabulary Regt of the 1st Light Tank troops in the Patch Kaserne, just outside of Karlsruhe, Germany.

This troop, in a recent examination to determine what they were familiar with including such topics as the Trooper's Handbook, maps, map reading, sanitation and such, made a test rating of 55.3 per cent, the highest of troops examined. This troop is composed of a few tankers with long combat records, to replace men from the states, who, until joining the outfit, had little or no armored training.

Mrs. Roy D. Smith and Mrs. F. M. Page visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Page at Abilene last week, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hays of Ballinger drove over.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gary and son, Robert, sporting a new '46 Ford left Tuesday for a visit at Henderson.

KEEP CLEAN

In addition to the general instructions for community sanitation which are important in preventing poliomyelitis, Dr. Cox issued an urgent warning to every individual in Texas to practice strict personal hygiene to protect his own health and that of those about him.

"Of course cleanliness and personal hygiene are ordinarily taken for granted but at this time with the incidence of polio having reached a total of 2992 cases, I would like to re-emphasize some personal sanitary measures which may help in preventing the spread of this crippling and often fatal disease."

The State Health officer stressed the importance of scrupulous cleanliness of the person. Frequent bathing and immaculately clean clothing are vitally necessary. Oral hygiene with thorough brushing of the teeth and the use of a mild antiseptic are recommended. The nasal passages should be kept clean and dental defects corrected immediately.

Sanitation and thorough cleanliness in the home are instinctively the average housewife, but at this time their importance to health must be re-emphasized. Home sanitation includes those taken for granted measures such as washing the dishes in hot soapy water and rinsing them in hot clear water; keeping sinks, bath tubs and fixtures scoured clean and rinsed with a mild antiseptic solution; sunning and airing bed clothes, ridding the home of flies, rats and roaches which, since polio is believed to be a fifth borne disease, are suspected as being responsible for transmission.

McKee and Marjorie, and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McKee. Everyone had a very enjoyable day.

Chief Wimberley decided a couple or three years ago to enter the apple growing business as a sort of side line. A 3 year old tree this season produced some 200 apples many of which blew off during the high wind period. The quality of the fruit is delicious. Chief has his own windmill and waters his trees liberally. Showing what water will do on the Plains, take the peach trees Lee Garner planted on his former place now the Stephens home. The trees were set out last December and have made remarkable growth. They are watered from a deep well. Again take the gardens of the Hermans the McCarty's and the Walkers. Gardens do splendidly here when watered in row-type irrigation. It is the opinion of the index that for the City to compete with home owner's private water wells that a special city water rate for the summer should be effected no later than next year. Tahoka solved their water problems which were as difficult as that of O'Donnell. Tell your aldermen your opinion on summer rates.

H. N. Judd of Lorado, brother of Marshall Whittett visited here several days last week.

New York Ringside

One of us wondered how the Louis-Conn RKO fight films would get over since there wasn't a real blow struck in Round One and not much fighting in the following rounds until the finish.

"The movies will be awful dull," said a fellow.

"They'd look a lot better," said a wag, "with Lana Turner!"

Gracie Allen, the fight expert of Burns & Allen, was among the Working Press section in Row A. . . . When the 6th round ended, she ho-hum'd: "Only nine more rounds to go!" . . . Sherman Billingsley was the guest of Prof. Runyon at the ringside. The Stork man was thrilled about getting a "free" seat. He bought $1,000 worth of 100¢ ducats, which he gave to friends. . . . After round two (in which Conn inked the champ with some fancy hoop-la) Louis gave Conn the most refrigerated glare since Sorla Henie iced Dan Topping. . . . When Income Tax Collector Nunan met heavy taxpayer Ann Sheridan, she groaned: "Hullo, boss." . . . As the gambling wisecraps put it: "Never bet against a champion—until he loses."

Admiral Halsey was irked over an editorial in a mid-western paper, which rapped his former Comdr., Harold Stassen. . . . The editorialist inaccurately stated that Stassen "hid behind Halsey's skirts." . . . "That's the damndest tommyrot I ever heard of," barked the Admiral. "It was just the other way 'round! I was far behind Stassen's ship when the Japs dropped bombs on it—killing 75 of Stassen's crew!"

Gen. Eisenhower has a new style of answering politicians who are trying to get him to give some hint on whether he'd consider running for President on the Repub ticket. He refers them to his wife, who says: "I don't like politics." . . . While Uncle Sam sends vast hunks of our fleet to Bikini for destruction—the British continue to build up their navy. . . . The king without a throne (Leopold of Belgium) will figure in a story out of Switzerland where he plans to white-wash his war record with some sort of defense. . . . The National City Bank has purchased a plot of land in Sao Paulo (Brazil) and paid more for it than they paid for their Wall Street headquarters. . . . A Boston firm recently bought a million and a half surplus knives, forks, and spoons from the gov't. Then they stamped them: "Stolen from the U. S. Army." They sold like mad to war vets who like to boast.

A group of Soviet engineers have arrived in the U. S. "to study public works systems," under the tutelage of the Federal Works Agency. . . . They'll visit Chi. San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego. They are "interested" in bridges, streets and highways. . . . Is dot job? If the Army-Navy merger goes through (which insiders believe it won't), Stuart Symington will be Secy of Nat'l Defense. . . . Lots of big shots are reported loaded with Mexican gold. They keep it to circumvent the ruling about possessing American gold coins. . . . You'd be amazed at the number of big-shot American writers and others who pay no taxes by living in Cuba—and continue selling pieces up here. . . . And for good reason, too. Authors often use four years to write a book, and if it's any good, it is a best-seller. Then they are taxed heavily the year they are paid—not the four years devoted to doing the work.

Silhouettes About Town: Admiral Halsey, in mufti, at the Stork with his daughter, Mrs. Lee Spruance, confirming that it is pronounced Hrrrah-shim-mah not Hrrro-shee-mer. . . . When we reported that months ago a Navy lad "corrected" . . . Youthful Lord Lascelles (King Geo's neevy), one of England's greatest "catches," lurching unrecognized at the Colony. . . . Gen. Hap Arnold in a tweed get-up at the same spot. . . . Jimmy McLarnin, who furiously fought Tony Canzoneri many times at the Garden, embracing him at Toots'. . . . D. Runyon shopping at Hanson's drug store unrecognized by some of the kerickicks he got rich writing about. . . . Prof. Albert Einstein, New York's top answer to England's Bevingrate. . . . Dudley Digges, the first to be signed for Eugene O'Neill's "Ice Man Cometh" play. . . . Jacques Goldsteyne, RKO's good-will man-about-town, in charge of visiting Ingrid Bergman. Tough job.

F. Sinatra probably was the heaviest better on the fight in these parts. Put a skyscraper bundle on J. L. . . . G. O. Welles' best trick in his new show ("Around the World") is making the critics eat their reviews. . . . In "Born Yesterday" co-star Paul Douglas rips apart several phone tomes easy as pie. Not that Paul Douglas couldn't (without this trick), but if you bake a phone book you can tear it in two without much exertion. . . . A midtown dress designer is expected to contest Major Bowes' will.

Know Your Congressman To Make Democracy Work

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

The time of the singing of candidates has come, and the voice of the mock-turtle is heard in the land.

The representatives of the people are about to assure you that you have been well-represented, and that they would like to continue to do the representing.

And who are you to say no, if you don't know exactly how well your representatives in the house of representatives or in the senate have carried out your interests?

Issues are being joined, there are sharp cleavages of thought these days. And if you don't take the trouble to vote for the men in congress who are voting the way you want them to, you have no right to lambast congress. True, it does take some trouble to learn to read your congressman's record correctly. A simple statement by a candidate that he voted for the X bill (the one you wanted passed) doesn't mean too much.

A number of energetic organizations are out to tell you how to read the lawmaker's records. One organization is the National Citizen's Political Action committee, which reminds voters:

"A favorite device of congressmen is to vote for a series of mangling amendments, or to procrastinate with investigations or recommendations. Then, having partially or completely wrecked the usefulness of a bill, they may vote for the final version. Don't take these votes at face value."

In other words, don't be satisfied with the record of the final vote. See how your congressman voted on the amendments.

The NC-PAC literature concludes with a warning that any voter, whatever side he is on, may well take to heart:

"When your congressmen start promising in their forthcoming campaigns, check their past voting records very carefully. Don't take it for granted that if they voted for a measure, they were for it, and fought for it. Perhaps they helped cripple it first."

Disguise Enmity To Legislation

That is true, and with a little investigation, you will learn that a lot of congressmen, whose real views and activities you really wouldn't subscribe to at all, may have been voting in favor of some of the bills you would like to see passed. Later, when he is soliciting your support, he will point with pride to these measures, omitting to mention the fact that he helped to emasculate them carefully before hand.

You will also find sometimes that although he has loudly shouted down a bill (which you didn't like, and, secretly, he did), he did not actually work against it. Perhaps, finally, he even voted for it if there was no roll call.

Another way in which a congressman can fool his constituents is to offer an amendment which appeals to his particular locality, but which he knows can't possibly go through. That appeases the constituents and, at the same time, doesn't hurt the congressman with the particular interests with whom he may be friendly. They know, as well as he does, that the whole thing is just an empty gesture.

Kill Bill With Recommendation

The vote to "recommit" is a favorite trick, and usually reveals the true sentiments of a senator or congressman. Not much attention is paid to these votes. When a bill is "recommitted," it is sent back to committee, supposedly for reconsideration. Actually, recommitment usually means the measure is pigeonholed forever.

On the other hand, when a powerful committee pigeonholes a bill you would like to see passed, and your congressman is willing to sign a petition to try to get it out, you can be pretty certain he is sincerely working to get it through.

Of course, what goes on secretly in committees is most important, and can usually be found out, for the newspaper and radio correspondents make every effort to report the inside facts. This is not difficult for the reporters, since committee members whose efforts were defeated are usually willing to divulge the machinations of the majority—if there were any machinations.

Admittedly getting all this information takes time and trouble on your part. But that is the price you have to pay for the kind of government you want. The government makes you take time to figure out your income tax and to do a lot of other little chores, but it doesn't force you to inform yourself on how your government is being run. However, the information is all there, if you care to take the trouble to get it. Reports of public hearings, as well as the record of what happens on house and senate floors, are available for the asking. That is a part of your congressman's job—reporting to you.

As Lowell Mellett says in his "Handbook of Politics": "The true test of a member of congress is not the good bills for which he voted, but the good bills he voted against—plus the number of bad bills he voted for."

Nobody can ever take democracy away from you—you have to give it away, by default. And such "defaulting" is no rare occurrence. Within the last few months, I know of four organizations which discovered there was a Communist in their midst. Furthermore, that Communist, using his own energy, and taking advantage of the indifference of the other members, had gained a key position in the group. As soon as the rest woke up and realized the real purpose of measures taken under that amounted to this man's minority rule they threw him out. You know, "eternal vigilance. . ."

Knowledge is power. Know your congressman, don't knock him.

The Leaves Secrets Untold

The final report of General Eisenhower to the combined chiefs of staff, which has at last been released, is a splendid example of terse and comprehensive exposition. Into less than 123 pages is compressed the epic of the greatest military operation in history, extending from D-Day to V-E Day.

It is unfortunate, for the sake of mystery lovers, that the document does not go into detail concerning one phase of the invasion which has rightly been called the "greatest deception in history"—the clever ruses which caused the enemy to make his fatal miscalculations.

The Germans knew that the Allied landing must be made somewhere within a relatively limited length of shore-line, but despite this, they were completely deceived as to where that landing was to be. The result was that the Allies were able to get a toehold which they might never have been able to secure, had the Germans guessed the prospective location of the real beachheads.

Obviously, the natural place for a landing would be in reasonable proximity to Calais, where the English channel is narrowest. Actually, the nearest beachhead was established more than a hundred miles farther to the west, but the whole German 15th army remained immobilized in that locality until it was too late.

But even after the landings were made, the Germans were not sure they were the main objectives. This was because of a five-prong plan of deception, all the prongs pointing to simulated diversionary attacks by land, sea and air, away from the actual invasion area.

One simulated attack was at Cap d'Antifer, northwest of Le Havre, far to the east of the invasion area. There, planes, ships and balloons moved in, gradually producing echoes on the German radar warning instruments similar to the approach of a convoy.

Another fake landing was staged in the direction of Boulogne, still farther east, with 16 ships and accompanying planes. The steady patrolling of the skies was taken by the Germans to be the air cover of an oncoming armada.

Far to the west, halfway down the Cherbourg peninsula, and at various other points, dummy airborne invasions were carried out. The Germans finally decided that the real thing was approaching Boulogne, and opened up with all they had. Meantime, the actual invasion forces crossed the channel without any interference by air or sea.

It was a grand fake.

A Case For The Forsaken 'R'

As a midwesterner born, I have battled many years for the letter "R."

Therefore I was overjoyed to find further distinction for the "R" as against the "R-nots." It was in that strangely intriguing "Book About a Thousand Things" by George Stimpson (whose "Book About the Bible" I have mentioned before in these columns) that I learned that "R" and "L" are the "last and most difficult consonants added to speech,"

Tells of 12-Day Fight for Life In Wilderness

Hunting Ability Helps Two Wisconsin Fliers to Win Battle.

MILWAUKEE.—Hunting ability which enabled them to shoot two deer and several smaller animals is credited with saving the lives of two Wisconsin men whose plane crashed at the foot of the Canadian Rockies.

Details of their experiences were received recently from Edmonton, Alta., from Richard K. Ledward, 21, of Waukesha, and his uncle, Elbert D. Ledward, 35, of 3222 N. 42nd street. They were reported missing April 8, when their light plane was forced down on a flight from Edmonton to Grande Prairie. The craft was smashed, but the Ledwards were unhurt.

The two men waited near their wrecked plane for a day in the hope that either aircraft would spot them, then set out armed only with a .22 caliber rifle and a hunting knife.

Traced Course by Rivers.

They had a map of the region and noted that all the streams in the area flowed into a river which went near Grande Prairie. Retracing their route on maps after they reached civilization, it appeared that they crashed near the Smokey river, about 150 miles north of Grande Prairie near the foot of the Rocky mountains.

The men's clothes were poorly suited for hiking through the Canadian wilds. They were wearing leather jackets, moccasins and medium weight trousers and socks.

"We made packs of our parachutes and set out down what proved to be the Smokey river," the elder Ledward said. "The going was too rough on the bank, so we walked on the ice. As we went along we made maps of the streams and checked them with our printed maps to make sure we were on the right course."

"It was a race to see if we would make it before the ice went out. Both of us fell in several times when shell ice gave way. One morning I practically had to swim for it when ice broke underfoot. After the ice went out we had to travel along the bank."

Had One Sandwich.

A deer was shot the second day out, about the time the single ham sandwich which they had carried in the plane was gone. A second deer was shot later and roasted. Even chipmunks, fried on a spit over an open fire, made welcome fare.

"We finally came on a trapper's cabin and found a little tea, some beans and a chunk of salt pork," the uncle said. "At one point, wolves were near but we didn't see them. If we had, we would have shot them for food. At night we could hear them howling."

After 18 days in the wilds, the Ledwards ran into Mr. and Mrs. James Cochran of Grande Prairie, who were on their way in a small boat to a cabin on the Wapiti river. Unharmful except for hunger and swollen feet, the two men were taken to the Cochran cabin and ate their first real meal since they had left Edmonton.

In Coma Six Months, Wife Becomes Mother

ALLENTOWN, PA.—In a coma for six months, a young wife of a hospitalized G. I. gave birth to a normal healthy daughter one night—and she doesn't even know it.

Mrs. Rhoda Wenger of San Francisco was injured seriously in a truck-automobile collision last November 30 and has lain unconscious since then in an Allentown hospital. Her husband, Cpl. Leland Wenger, is a patient at Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C., as a result of the same accident.

The couple, married in 1942, came to Indiantown Gap, Pa., shortly before the mishap. Wenger was stationed there. They were en route to New York City when the accident occurred.

Losing Tough as Blazes, Finding Cash Is Pie

DECATUR, ILL.—As far as C. T. Durbin is concerned, getting back money lost in a fire is easy. It's a piece of cake.

Durbin's house burned and along with it $2,400 he had in a cash box went up in smoke.

Poking around the ruins, Durbin found two pieces of iron pipe which had been part of his cash box. He took them to his Decatur bank.

The bank forwarded some charred material found inside to Washington along with a claim.

Treasury experts identified the charred bills and have authorized the bank to credit $2,400 to Durbin's account.

Mother's Fatal Attack Didn't Interrupt Play

MAZOMANIE, WIS.—Two grade school girls went on with their parts in a musical play unaware that their mother, Mrs. Cyrus Jordan, 45, had suffered a fatal heart attack in the audience. Mrs. Jordan, a farm wife, was stricken shortly after the opening of the play, but her daughters, Elaine and Lois, were not informed of the tragedy until the program had been almost completed.

Crockery Shortage Cause of Thievery

LONDON.—With Britain feeling the height of a severe crockery shortage, the Pullman Car company reported that on dining cars between here and the south coast, 755 glasses, cups and saucers, teapots, dishes, plates and platters were reported missing over one three-week period.

Dozes at Wheel, Woman Killed

Head-On Collision Ensues With Fatal Results.

CHICAGO.—An automobile driven by a grocer, who admitted he fell asleep at the wheel, smashed head-on into another car on North-west highway, near Meacham avenue, Park Ridge, killing a grandmother and critically injuring her daughter and her granddaughter. The driver suffered minor injuries.

The grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Cohn, 68, of 2239 N. St. Louis avenue, died en route to Mount Sinai hospital.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. Percy Alper, 3139 Palmer square. Accompanied by Mrs. Alper's daughter, Barbara Ann, 6, they were driving south on the right side of the thoroughfare.

A northbound automobile on Mrs. Alper's left suddenly veered out of the line of traffic and headed straight for her car. Mrs. Alper could not avert in time, she told police, to avoid a collision. The impact overturned both cars.

The driver of the other car was Fred De Ayres, 51, of 15 N. Brockway avenue, Palatine.

De Ayres told Lt. Willis Jones of Park Ridge police that he fell asleep. He said he was returning to his grocery from a Chicago cemetery where he had made arrangements for decorating his son's grave.

Mrs. Alper and her daughter were in serious condition said physicians at Mount Sinai hospital. Surgeons performed an operation on the child to relieve pressure of a skull fracture.

De Ayres was charged with involuntary manslaughter and released on a $10,000 real estate bond pending an inquest into Mrs. Cohn's death. He later entered Palatine hospital for observation.

Heart of 'Dead' Woman Beats On for Over a Day

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.—The heart of a young woman patient in Erlanger hospital continued a "slow even beat" for 26 hours after she had "to all intents and purposes, ceased breathing," Dr. A. F. Branton, superintendent of the institution, said.

The young woman underwent a brain operation Sunday afternoon at 4 p. m. Attending physicians said, however, that her heart continued to beat until 6:10 p. m. Monday.

"Of course there was some breathing, enough to supply oxygen sufficient to maintain her in an existing condition, but the breathing was not detectable," Dr. Branton said. It was probable, he added, that a "brain tumor depressed the respiratory center," slowing the breathing to imperceptibility.

Man Burns to Death While Crowd Watches

SPOKANE, WASH.—A man, pinned beneath a window, burned to death in a downtown apartment house fire as hundreds of spectators looked on.

Sidewalk crowds shouted to him to jump from the second story as his clothes caught fire. The window fell and pinned him to the sill as he was attempting to climb out.

A fireman equipped with a gas mask climbed a ladder to the window and released the man. The body slipped from his grasp and fell to the pavement. He was identified as James Edward Hutton, 46. Three other persons were injured in the fire.

Husband Awakens Wife, But It's With Cannon

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y.—Paul Hoffman, accused of shattering the Sunday morning quiet with two blasts from a 20-pound cannon, was dismissed recently with a suspended sentence.

Hoffman told the court he did it to wake up his wife.

He had been to a college reunion and forgot his key, he said, and gravel on the windowpane didn't awaken Mrs. Hoffman.

The cannon—a relic used to start yacht races—aroused Mrs. Hoffman and the rest of Mount Vernon, including the police.

Panda Grabs Keeper by Wrist; Bone Is Broken

CHICAGO.—Mei-Lan, Brookfield zoo's eight-year-old panda, injured Ralph Small, 24, a keeper, when he stepped too close to her cage. Robert Bean, director of the zoo, reported. The panda, now weighing 375 pounds and about 6 feet 2 inches tall when standing on its hind feet, grabbed Small's wrist, breaking the bone and tearing flesh and tendons.

NEW NATIONAL ANTHEM

WASHINGTON.—Gen. Joseph P. McNarney, who is doing a better job as commander of occupied Germany than most people think, like to sing. And when he comes up to Berlin for his regular visits with the other Allied commanders, he always engages in a song fest with the Russians.

As a result, the Russians have adopted a new song which they virtually regard as the American national anthem. They sing it on any and all occasions. They think it brings pride and pleasure to the hearts of Americans; and the Red army in Berlin, at least, is anxious to please Americans.

Actually the song may bring great pride and pleasure to General McNarney, but other Americans privately are getting a bit weary of it. The Russians have learned the English words, and to the tune of "The Stars and Stripes Forever," here is what they sing as the new American national anthem:

"Three cheers for the Sam Jones Junior high school.

The best junior high in Toledo.

The fact that they have learned the words illustrates a point which some of our top-bracket statesmen don't always realize—namely, despite our difficulties with the Soviet government, we have no quarrel with the Russian people. Not much has been said about it, but relations between the American and Soviet armies in Berlin have been extraordinarily good. At first, the Russians were suspicious, didn't want any fraternization of their troops with ours. But that suspicion has largely disappeared. The Red army is a large, unwieldy, badly disciplined, very human crowd consisting of the Russian people, and that part of the Red army which is in Berlin likes Americans. . . .

PRUSSIAN JUNKERS

Robert Murphy, political adviser to General McNarney in Berlin, has secretly sent a bitter complaint to the state department because the Russians have redistributed the estates of the Prussian Junkers in the Soviet zone of Germany. The Russians have broken up some 15,000 large estates among about 25,000 peasants. Despite the fact that the Potsdam agreement specifically called for breaking up large estates, Murphy has warned Washington that this land reform in the Russian zone is endangering the western type of democracy we want.

WE DIDN'T DEFEAT JAPAN

Most people won't believe it, but in Czechoslovakia, a country not unfriendly to the U. S. A., the people have no idea that the United States had anything to do with defeating Japan. They think it was Russia that did it all.

Reason is that the Russian radio and propaganda machine has done a skillful job of propagandizing the Czechoslovak people, while we have done absolutely nothing to counteract it.

Reason we haven't told our side of the story is that congress has hamstringed the state department on shortwave broadcasting. The house appropriations committee cut the heart out of the state department's appropriation for propaganda, especially radio broadcasting.

MAILMAN SULLIVAN

Too little attention is paid in this politics-ridden capital to the quiet, unassuming officials who consistently do a bang-up job. One of them is Assistant Postmaster General Gael Sullivan. Coming from Chicago and trained under Mayor Ed Kelly, Sullivan at first looked like a pure political appointee. In six months, however, he has become one of the most effective members of the little cabinet.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Both the Chinese Nationalists and the Chinese Communists are bursting to learn what's in the script for "The Life of Dr. Sun-Yat-Sen," a new movie to be made by Producer Lester Cowan. Perhaps General Marshall could use oriental curiosity to persuade both sides to get together. . . . Assistant Secretary of the Navy John Kenny is the latest to knife President Truman's atomic control policy. Kenny testified on Capitol Hill that he was personally in favor of giving the military greater control over atomic energy—which was directly contrary to his commander-in-chief. . . . They seem to feel he can be more useful in private life.

MERRY GO ROUND

It got little publicity, but President Truman pulled an A-1 man out of the navy when he made Comdr. Jim Reynolds a member of the National Labor Relations board. Reynolds is brother of famed war correspondent Quentin Reynolds, has been doing a good job handling the navy's labor relations. . . . Harold Dickes had his first censorship difficulties when the Washington Star didn't like what he wrote about Senator McCarran of Nevada, and omitted that particular column.

Tells How To Can Peaches

News that peaches are plentiful, even a few in Lynn County, offers home-makers one of the summer's best chances for home canning — more important than ever this year due to the World's food shortage and the prospect that some commercially canned fruits in this country will not be enough to meet consumer demands.

Even canning peaches without sugar is worth considering to save fruit this year. Fruit thus put up can be used in salads and tart mixtures or sweetened at serving with sugar saved from the family's sugar ration.

Here is the way to home can peaches:

Can only fruit that is fresh, firm ripe and free from blemishes. Work with no more than one canner load at a time. Wash the peaches well, lifting them out of the water carefully to avoid bruising. To peel, dip in boiling water for a minute or so, then quickly in cold and skins will slip off easily. Pit the peaches and cut in to halves or slices.

If the fruit is juicy, add 1-2 cup dry sugar to each quart of uncooked peaches and heat to the boiling point. For less juicy fruit, drop into already boiling sirup of about 1 cup sugar to two cups of water or peach juice — made by crushing, heating and straining peaches that are sound but too soft to be canned. Just heat thru.

Canning sugar may be stretched by replacing up to one third the sugar with light colored corn syrup, or up to one half with mild flavored honey. If peaches must be canned without sugar in order to save them, heat them in their own juice or add just enough hot water to keep them from sticking to the pan.

Pack peaches loosely in clean, hot jars, then cover with boiling hot liquid. Leave 1-2 inch head space at the top of the jar. Work out air bubbles by running a knife down the jar side — adding more liquid if necessary to cover the fruit. A quart jar usually takes about 3-4 to one cup of liquid.

Adjust jar lids. Process jars of peaches (Lynn, Dawson and Bord counties) for 2 1/2 minutes. At sea level for 20 minutes. Complete seal according to directions for the type of jar. Let jars cool right side up, uncovered and away from drafts and sudden cold. — Miss Anderson, CHDA.

Those you can get with an OIL-PLATED engine

Breathes there an American who isn't checking on cars? Chief question is, "What's different for '46?" An OIL-PLATED engine brings you this swell difference: it will escape lots of carbon and sludge by escaping lots of wear. That special type of wear-defense — internal OIL-PLATING — will likewise favor your oil and gasoline mileage.

You can have an OIL-PLATED engine in any car—in the newest or oldest—just simply by making sure to use Conoco Nth motor oil.

The difference in patented Conoco Nth oil is its added ingredient that does OIL-PLATING. This is done in a magnet-like manner—by making metals attract and hold lubricant. And that's what puts inner engine surfaces under cover of OIL-PLATING. It stands in wear's way; acts to prolong that new car feeling. . . And it will act to prolong any older car's usefulness. So if that's your particular problem, change now to Conoco Nth motor oil—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station, Continental Oil Company

Wage Wisdom
Wages rose and prices fell during the ten years just before World War II when working men were able, through collective bargaining, to influence the operations of private enterprise without political interference. Workers earned more dollars per working day and each dollar took on more buying power as time went on. It was a two-way improvement.

"The actual buying power of one hour's work (straight time) rose at the rate of more than 4% each year, or over 40% for the entire ten-year period," says Labor's Monthly Survey, issued in May by the American Federation of Labor. "This was possible because production per man-hour increased steadily, creating the wealth to pay higher wages."

War Changed Things
So long as men, money and machinery were busy making things to eat, wear and use for better living, it turned out as planned; better living resulted. But when capital, labor and tools, by necessity, had to swing into the manufacture of munitions and instruments of destruction, better living ceased. Wages increased, to be sure. So did profits. But what could we buy?

Once more let the AFL survey answer: "Every hard-won nickel of wage gain was offset by a price rise which cancelled it and the workers' actual buying power per hour of work, as measured by real wage rates, did not increase at all." These statements are supported by government figures made available through the department of Labor. Moreover the AFL analyst's logic is perfectly sound.

Holding Prices Down
The labor bulletin contained no carping criticism of government, nor against the artificial restraints set up to keep a fictitious economy from getting out of control. On the other hand it says plainly that under wholesome business conditions "wage increases are paid for by rising productivity." Thus with mass production and volume sales "the wage rises are all clear gain."

"Our first task is to increase production of consumer goods so that supply will be enough to meet demand, and competition again will keep prices down, so that increasing productivity will create the income to pay further wage increases." Anything I might say about that doctrine would be simply gilding the lily. It is the plain truth and a credit to any philosophy.

Cut Restraints
At the present, conditions are far from wholesome. The government's new artificial wage controls, born of political expedience, create higher wages with one hand and snatch them away with the other in the form of higher prices. In a government-foiled economy, it is small wonder that farmers and business men alike line up for help at the door of Uncle Sam's "fix-it" department.

The Office of Price Administration is getting as much criticism as it deserves now perhaps. My comments are brief: Private enterprise needs freedom if it is to operate by the law of supply and demand, and in some fields, supply will meet demands much sooner if regulations are lifted. The O.P.A. has done some good work and well deserves a dignified funeral, soon.

Uncle Sam Says

There is something about Niagara Falls which symbolizes a strong, happy future.
If we had been here a year ago, all our thoughts would have been about backing our fighting men. Americans bought as many war bonds as possible to help win the war. Today, your Government is still selling United States Savings Bonds. To you and every June bride and bridegroom I say with all my heart: Now Back Your Future.

LORENZO'S City Secretary Mitchell uses the municipal fire truck each noon to ride home for lunch. "It keeps the batteries up," he explains.

PLAINVIEW farmers are planting black-eyed peas this month, keeping local seed dealers up to midnite in allotting seed for what appears to be a bumper harvest prospect.

CANADIAN announces a quarter million dollar business building boom.

THE SCURRY COUNTY TIMES of Snyder featured the Colorado River dam project last week which will supply ample water to that city as well as Colorado City. Big Spring, Odessa and Midland.

MONAHANS is seeking local financial support for a three story fire proof hotel.

Ed WARREN of the Post Dispatch, has the greatest collection of Pacific pictures in Texas; if not the nation. This corner is attempting to have Warren publish them in book form.

SLATON commissioners are working this month on new farm to market roads thru Lubbock County. PLAINS had a little voting trouble. Of 54 contested ballots, 25 did not apply for a ballot and one was dead these past 3 months.

HASKELL hits more oil. A gusher, and 600 barrel producer in the West Extension of Lawson pool have yielded 2,000 barrels daily as the estimate of the No. 1 M. A. Smith well.

STAMFORD had the largest crowd in the city's history for the annual July 4th Rodeo and celebration.

4-H CLUB girls, 50 strong, met in Crosbyton last week for an all-day session.

COLEMAN is headquarters for a gigantic rodeo and show July 10th and 11th.

HEREFORD started its potato harvest July 1 in face of what America considers a bumper crop and a lower selling price. This was announced as Mayor W. E. Dameron warned Hereford business men of higher taxes if Hereford is going to progress.

AL HINDS, Paducah Prattle columnist, was asked if he liked bathing beauties. Al replied, "Darned if I know, I ain't bathed any."

PERRYTON elevators are bulging with more than 2 million bushels of wheat.

A Tucumcari, N. M. American reporter called for the mail last week at 7:30 a. m. Opening the postoffice box he dragged out a cat with assorted envelopes. The editor swears his reporter is a sober man and not accustomed to seeing pink elephants.

Today's acute housing shortage was in plain view ten years ago. Experts in the business of building and equipping homes were writing articles and making speeches back in the 1930's forecasting what they called the building boom of the 1940's. They supported their predictions with sound reasoning and leaders in many equipment lines arranged to meet the demand.

A quick look at census figures, years before Pearl Harbor, would have convinced almost anybody that an unusually big share (say 20%) of the U. S. population would reach an age to be married between 1940 and 1946. Patently this would call for more places to live and, true to form under free enterprise, business men began getting ready quietly to serve this market, but war interfered.

Plans Not Executed. Wars always frustrate plans, and few were revised more in World War II than those of the building trades. Priorities on materials, general shortage of labor and the compelling urge for victory changed most things but the predicted need for more housing came right on schedule. It is even bigger than experts estimated ten years ago because war retarded building and accelerated marrying.

Plans made before the war for meeting this expected peak demand are still workable plans. If industry were free today as it was then, people who want homes would be getting them a great deal faster. I believe Herbert U. Nelson of the National Association of Real Estate Boards has proved that Washington bureaucracy is chiefly to blame for today's housing shortage.

Facts to Remember It's an old story that America has housing a plenty, and it was always true until right lately. France, England and other European countries that have endured regulation of home building since World War I have been short of housing meanwhile. Bureaucracy got a firm grip on American building during World War II and now hates to let-go, shortage or no shortage.

The O.P.A. is the worst bunion on the toe of our progress. Here is an illustration: Manufacturers of doors got caught behind increased manufacturing costs and asked O.P.A. for permission to raise prices 75c per door. It was refused. Result: No doors by mass production. Carpenters can build doors where they hang them, of course, at much loss of time and at several times normal cost.

Industry Is Ready. A similar man-made muddle built a bottleneck in window sash. There's almost no end to the roster of crippling rules in this one industry. Miles Colean, a thoroughly respected Washington economist, says that industries producing building materials are fully reconverted, full capacity restored. Still the most productive nation of history is handcuffed and can't house itself. Why? A price-fixing agency, while proclaiming its loyalty to the people, has refused many small strategic upward revisions, thus halting production. Consumers do without this, or pay amazing prices for makeshifts. It savors of the Marie Antoinette school of thought. On being informed that by reason of her extravagance her subjects had no bread, she said "Let them eat cake."

Wage Wisdom
Wages rose and prices fell during the ten years just before World War II when working men were able, through collective bargaining, to influence the operations of private enterprise without political interference. Workers earned more dollars per working day and each dollar took on more buying power as time went on. It was a two-way improvement.
"The actual buying power of one hour's work (straight time) rose at the rate of more than 4% each year, or over 40% for the entire ten-year period," says Labor's Monthly Survey, issued in May by the American Federation of Labor. "This was possible because production per man-hour increased steadily, creating the wealth to pay higher wages."
War Changed Things
So long as men, money and machinery were busy making things to eat, wear and use for better living, it turned out as planned; better living resulted. But when capital, labor and tools, by necessity, had to swing into the manufacture of munitions and instruments of destruction, better living ceased. Wages increased, to be sure. So did profits. But what could we buy?
Once more let the AFL survey answer: "Every hard-won nickel of wage gain was offset by a price rise which cancelled it and the workers' actual buying power per hour of work, as measured by real wage rates, did not increase at all." These statements are supported by government figures made available through the department of Labor. Moreover the AFL analyst's logic is perfectly sound.
Holding Prices Down
The labor bulletin contained no carping criticism of government, nor against the artificial restraints set up to keep a fictitious economy from getting out of control. On the other hand it says plainly that under wholesome business conditions "wage increases are paid for by rising productivity." Thus with mass production and volume sales "the wage rises are all clear gain."
"Our first task is to increase production of consumer goods so that supply will be enough to meet demand, and competition again will keep prices down, so that increasing productivity will create the income to pay further wage increases." Anything I might say about that doctrine would be simply gibbing the lily. It is the plain truth and a credit to any philosophy.
Cut Restraints
At the present, conditions are far from wholesome. The government's new artificial wage controls, born of political expedience, create higher wages with one hand and smother them away with the other in the form of higher prices. In a government-fouled economy, it is small wonder that farmers and business men alike line up for help at the door of Uncle Sam's "fix-it" department.
The Office of Price Administration is getting as much criticism as it deserves now perhaps. My comments are brief. Private enterprise needs freedom if it is to operate by the law of supply and demand, and in some fields, supply will meet demands much sooner if regulations are lifted. The O.P.A. has done some good work and well deserves a dignified funeral, soon.

By Boyce House
The most beautiful short story ever written was composed by One who never wrote a word. Would you like to read it? It is in a book called the Bible and it is the story of the Prodigal Son.
The expression "En-ne-me-mine-ee-moh" was used by little boys in Babylon 3,000 years ago.
Instead of making so many run of the mill pictures, why doesn't Hollywood bring back some of the truly grand films of bygone years? "Cimarron", for example, also "The Great Ziegfeld" and "Rio Rita", the original version with John Boles and Bebe Daniels?
A little philosophy:
To cultivate calmness and self possession, to live longer and to enjoy life more fully.

Learn to like what doesn't cost much: reading, conversation, music. Plain food, plain service, plain cooking.
Fields, trees, woods, brooks, fishing, rowing, hiking.
Learn to like people, even though some of them may be as different from you as a Chinese.
Learn to like to work and enjoy the satisfaction of doing a job as well as it can be done.
The song of the birds, the companionship of dogs, and the laughter and gaiety of children.
Gardening, carpentering, putting around the house, the lawn, and the automobile.
Learn to like the sunrise and sunset, the beating of rain on roof and windows and the gentle fall of snow on a winter day.
Learn to keep your wants simple. Refuse to be owned and anchored by things and the opinions of others.

HOUSE WILL AID FARMERS

Fort Worth, July 10 -- New issues were injected in the race for lieutenant governor this week as Boyce House, newspaperman, author and commentator, announced his platform, which included planks calling for better marketing and price conditions for farm products, more farm to market roads, and improvements in agricultural methods.
House also advocated higher pay for teachers, intensive efforts to correct juvenile delinquency, redacting of the state legislature representative set up, full payment of pensions, support of peace officers in combatting crime, and state measures to equalize opportunities for veterans.

First Choice for a Picnic—Fried Chicken
 (See Recipes Below)

Eat Outdoors!

The time has come to take the picnic baskets out to the shady glen or under the old oak tree in the back yard and let the outdoors spread its inimitable seasoning to savory-cooked foods. Why not plan to eat outdoors at least once a week this summer?

Eating outdoors will get Mother out of the sweltering kitchen for at least two hours; it will give Dad time to contemplate the beauties of nature; and it will give youngsters a chance to catch up on out-of-doors secrets.

Outdoor eating is spoiled if there's too much fuss connected with it, so plan everything as simply as possible. The family will enjoy nibbling on a chicken leg with their fingers much more than trying to carve a piece of pot roast for every bite they take. If they don't want to wrestle with salads, take along whole fruits like oranges and tomatoes, pears or grapes, or such things as carrot sticks and celery hearts and let them get their vitamins that way.

If it's pie or cake for dessert they like, bake and leave in its pan, as it's easy enough to place that in a box and slice as it's needed on the picnic.

Here's an unusual way of preparing potato salad that's both flavorful and easy to make. If you are having a light supper, you won't need extra meat:

Hot Potato-Sausage Salad.
 (Serves 6)

1 pound sausage links
 6 medium-sized potatoes
 1/4 cup minced onion
 1/4 cup vinegar
 2 tablespoons water
 2 teaspoons sugar
 1/2 teaspoon salt

Parboil potatoes and cook. Drain and cut in 1/2-inch squares. Place sausage links in skillet and add a small amount of water. Cover and steam for 5 minutes. Drain off remaining water and cook sausage over low heat, turning to brown evenly. Remove links from pan. Add onion to drippings and brown. Add vinegar, water, sugar and salt. Stir and cook about 10 minutes. Pour over potatoes. Top with sausage links.

Sandwiches for Summer: Nut bread tastes mighty good when spread with orange marmalade, currant jelly and a grated rind of lemon mixed with cream cheese.

Or mix chopped, cooked fruits with cream cheese and spread on date bread.

Date paste or mixed dried fruits ground into a paste and mixed with cottage cheese offer a taste treat on raisin brown bread.

Cut peeled cucumber very fine, mix with mayonnaise and give it a dash of onion juice and spread on thin slices of white bread.

You'll also like these combinations: cottage cheese with grated carrots; apple butter with raisins and chopped nuts; cream cheese with finely ground, hard-cooked egg and minced green pepper.

Cottage cheese mixed with ripe olives or green stuffed olives gives an attractive color to pin-wheel sandwiches.

Sweet salad desserts are excellent for strictly feminine lunches. Diced canned cling peaches plus assorted fruits, frozen in gelatin-thickened whipped cream, are tops.

For enjoyable eating, include shiny black olives in your picnic lunches. To keep them shiny and to prevent shriveling, roll them in a few drops of olive oil or salad oil and wrap them in wax paper.

Fried Chicken.

Cut chicken into serving pieces. Chicken may be dipped in seasoned flour, corn meal and flour, or cracker crumbs or flour. If a heavier coating is desired, dip in egg, beaten slightly, then in flour coating. Use heavy skillet and have 3 to 4 inches of fat in it. Fry chicken on both sides until golden brown. When browned, turn fire down very low and allow chicken to cook until tender—from 30 to 60 minutes depending upon size of the pieces and age of chicken. Or, if desired, finish cooking in a moderate (350°) oven.

If you prefer your chicken in a loaf, bake it and when ready to serve your picnic lunch, slice it from the loaf for sandwiches, or serve with tossed salad.

Chicken Loaf.
 (Serves 8 to 10)

4 to 5 pound chicken, cut in pieces
 1 small carrot
 1 small onion
 2 stalks celery
 1 clove
 3 peppercorns
 1 teaspoon salt
 2 cups bread crumbs
 1 cup cooked rice
 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
 2 cups chicken broth, milk or both mixed
 5 eggs, beaten

Place chicken in large kettle and add carrot, onion, cloves, peppercorns and salt. Cover with cold water and simmer until tender, about 2 hours. Strain chicken stock and let chicken cool. Combine diced chicken with remaining ingredients. Add more seasoning if desired. Place in a deep loaf pan and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for one hour or until firm.

A good salad to take in a well-chilled bowl to the picnic grounds is this one that is light but chewy and rich in vitamins:

Tonic Salad.
 (Serves 6)

2 cups cabbage, sliced fine
 1 cup grated carrot
 1 cup chopped tart apple
 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
 1 small onion, minced
 Moisten all ingredients with a little salad dressing. Salt, if desired, and serve cold.

A delicate yellow cake that is made in a square pan is another easily transported item. Ice this with a little orange powdered sugar icing or a chocolate frosting:

Hot Milk Cake.

2 egg whites, beaten stiff
 2 egg yolks, beaten light
 1 cup sugar
 1 cup flour
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 cup hot milk
 1 tablespoon butter, melted

Add yolks to egg whites, then blend sugar in slowly. Fold in flour which has been sifted with baking powder, then lastly add the butter. Bake in a square pan in a moderate oven for 25 to 30 minutes. When cool, ice with:

Chocolate Frosting.
 2 squares chocolate
 1 tablespoon butter
 1/2 cup rich milk
 Powdered sugar

Melt chocolate with milk and butter. Add enough powdered sugar until frosting is of a spreading consistency. Flavor with vanilla. This will keep soft and smooth.

Lesson for July 14

JESUS AND SUPREME LOYALTY TO GOD

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:3-6; Joshua 24:18, 22-24; Luke 14:25-27.
 MEMORY SELECTION—No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.—Matthew 6:24.

The first three commandments bring man into the presence of God, where he is taught how to worship God in spirit and in truth.

"The first commandment (Exod. 20:3) bids us worship God exclusively; the second (vv. 4-6) bids us worship him spiritually. The first commandment forbids us to worship false gods; the second forbids us to worship the true God under false forms" (Farrar).

We shall lose much of the value of our lesson if we confine the application of it to Israel. We miss the point if we think only of the gods of wood and stone which the heathen worship and fail to apply the truth to any and all idol worship of our day.

The loyalty to God which our lesson text teaches may be summarized in four words. It is a loyalty of

I. Purpose (Exod. 20:3).
 Jehovah means, "I will be what I will be," or "I am that I am," (Exod. 3:14). His very name declares God to be the self-existent, eternal one. How infinitely gracious then is the use of the word "thy" in Exodus 10:2! He—the great I AM—is my God, a personal God. It must be our constant purpose to worship him only.

There are many things concerning which we do not speak dogmatically. There are even Christian doctrines about which spiritual and earnest men may honestly differ, but regarding God we say with absolute assurance and complete exclusiveness—there is but one true God. If he is what he claims to be, if God is not to be declared to be a liar, then it is beyond the realm of possibility that there could be any other God.

Here it, men and women of America who in an enlightened land and age bow down in heathenish worship "before the god of gold, the god of self, the god of wine, the god of success, the god of fame, the goddess of pleasure, the god of licentiousness." The one true God says, "I am Jehovah. . . Thou shalt have no other gods before me."

II. Performance (Exod. 20:4-6).
 What is in the heart must show in the life. The second commandment calls for the undivided devotion and worship of man. It expressly forbids idolatry in any form. The injunction is twofold. (1) Men are forbidden to make any material likeness which to them represents a being to be worshiped. It matters not whether it be an image of what men believe God to be like, or the image of an angelic being, or a heavenly body, in fact, anything that is in the heaven above, or on the earth, such as a man or animal, or under the water, such as a fish. (2) If such objects have been made either by ourselves or others we may not bow down to them, nor render any service to them. Let us all examine our religious ceremonies and practices in the light of God's commandment. Observe that obedience to this command brings rich blessing to "thousands" (v. 6), whereas disobedience is a curse not only to the man who disobeys, but also to his descendants.

III. Promise (Josh. 24:16, 22-24).
 Before the aged leader of Israel came to the close of his life he called leaders of the people, whom he had led in the taking of the Promised Land, and urged them to continue in the way of faith and loyalty to God.

They promised rather readily, but he made clear to them that God was not interested in lip service. They were to prove their promise by putting away all strange gods. This they agreed to do. Wherein they failed, they suffered defeat, and wherein they kept their promise, God blessed them. We may learn from their experience.

IV. Practice (Luke 14:25-27).
 It is not always necessary to choose between our natural affections for those near to us and our loyalty to Christ, but if the time comes for that decision, Christ must come first without question and without hesitation (cf. Matt. 10:37).

The word "hate" (v. 28) does not carry with it any thought of malice or personal dislike. We know from other scriptures that we are to honor our father and our mother (Exod. 20:12). The one who fails his own is declared to be worse than an infidel (1 Tim. 5:8).

The point is that no personal loyalty or responsibility is to stand in the way of our devotion to Christ. Our own lives must be counted as a glad sacrifice to him as we take up our cross—in the crucifixion of self-will and devotion to his will (see Gal. 2:20; 6:14).

Household Hints

The oyster shell is good for something. Put it in the bottom of the tea kettle and it will prevent formation of hard-water scale.

"One meal half" will go just a bit farther if you will only remember to add a little cooked macaroni to the meat mixture when serving with tomato sauce.

In building a casement window in the kitchen remember that it should open out, not in. And the base should be at least a foot above the sink.

When game is on the menu, avoid handling before cooking by flouring this way: Put a small amount of flour in a paper sack, pour in the pieces of meat and shake the bag until each piece is well coated with flour.

Record the guests who have dined at your table by having them autograph the tablecloth. Then, before the next dinner, you can embroider each signature in outline stitch.

A basket equipped with such items as soap, poishers, short-handled brushes, sponge, clean and lintless dust-cloth, and the like will save time in cleaning as you go from room to room.

TEXAS POLITICS
BY H. B. FOX

Some times it seems regrettable that the scientific poll was invented.

The polls have been a little too accurate in calculating election returns ahead of time, almost making a man who puts his favorite candidate on the back when he comes thru his county and tells him he'll carry the place two to one look like a fool. It simply takes a lot of the fun out of politics.

I remember the first time O'Daniel ran for governor. Hearing that some radio hill billy was going to run, I predicted, to the extent of betting a malted milk, he wouldn't get 50,000 votes. Malted milks have never tasted the same since. O'Daniel ruined a good drink for me.

During the present campaigns the write ups the daily papers usually carry work in a few unscientific polls toward the last, for exam-

le. Tom Jones, well known local attorney, tells Jester he'll lead in that county, or Joe Smith assures Sellers he'll not only carry the county but Rainey, for example, will run 5th. Joe's no piker. If you're going to make it sound good, might as well throw in the trimmings too.

In other words, the theory is, I think, if you can get out the report often enough that your man is ahead, by some alchemy of vote getting he will be ahead, but with every candidate sailing into town and having somebody on hand to tell him he's going great guns around here, things get confused and the band wagon becomes about like Stephen Leacock's knight who jumped on his horse and rode madly off in all directions.

The truth is, very few people are turning out to hear any of the candidates this year. That is no reason-shattering crowds like the ones which swept into town like Dutchmen during the tulip season when O'Daniel, the early pre-disenchanted-ing O'Daniel, used to show up with his hand and his magic hoakum, are showing up this year, and there probably is a reason.

Of course, I may not know any more about what the people are thinking than I knew how they were going to vote the first time W. Lee cut loose, but it seems to me one reason the people are not making a fireman's picnic out of politics this year is that they have had about all the fireworks, and I use the word grimly, one world can stand. After the excitement and the living on nerves of a world war in which you followed the big battles with overall fear, for the world and individual fear for the ones you knew on those battlefields, it would take a powerfully magnetic personality to drum up excitement again this soon over a political race. It takes time for people to build back up. Moreover, another theory is that this time the people, sobered by the war, know what the candidates are talking about. They have been promised before and they have believed before, and they'll do it again, but at the moment hoakum isn't popular.

YOUR ELECTRIC DOLLAR BUYS MORE TODAY THAN EVER BEFORE!

Even though electricity has always been cheap, it is now cheaper than ever before! All through the war we served our customers with no rationing and no increase in price.

Now, while the cost of practically everything else has gone sky-high, the cost of electric service has been cut again. It is our constant aim to do everything within our power to assure you of a continued high standard of electric service at the lowest rates possible.
