DOCTORS' FEES

Very seldom does this publication take occasion to express an opinion concerning political questions and affairs, but once in awhile it becomes necessary for us to boll over. And this is one such time.

Two members of the house have so little to do that they have introduced a bill limiting the fees that may be charged by physicians and surgeons in Texas. A few samples: Office consultation, $1; house visit $2 and 25 cents per mile; major operation, $100; minor operations $40 hospital call 50 cents.

While we agree with the backers of this bill that occasionally fees may seem rather high, we firmly insist that the health and often the life of a loved one is not an asset to be entrusted to less than an expert, and physicians and surgeons are trained to be experts. Perhaps these same backers have failed to take into consideration the years of study and training necessary to receive license to practice, with the thousands of dollars expense for this education. And after the license is obtained, the expose has only begun, for instruments and equipment are not, for some peculiar reason, donated to physicians and surgeons. Neither do automobile agencies make a gift of motor cars to doctors, nor do gasoline, oil, tires and accessories grow on bushes or flow from a water hydrant.

If this bill contained some provision whereby doctors could collect the fees earned, even though the fees are small as those mentioned, there might be some justice in such a measure. We believe that the doctors themselves would be the first to vote for such a law under that condition. Doctors, even in good times, collect only a fraction of the fees earned. More than any other profession, perhaps, they are the victims of the no-payers and the slow-payers. If fees are out of proportion to the service rendered, it is because of poor collections—and even a doctor must eat and wear clothes.

Such a bill is just as sensible as would be a bill setting the price a merchant is to place on his goods, or the wages he may pay his clerks, and just as sensible as setting a price on cotton and wheat. We believe the farmers would be the first to vote for a bill placing a permanent price of ten cents per pound on cotton provided they know just where the money was coming from, and we believe as we said before, that the doctors would heartily approve of a set fee, provided the law assured the collection of this fee.

But we further believe that these two lawmakers could have found something more profitable to do than to meddle with the private affairs of doctors and their patients. It has always been our experience that the person who is "fussing" the doctor is the one who owes him a big bill and has no intention of paying it. Wonder if that could have any bearing on the fee question which so greatly interests our solons.

Tips on Taxes
 LEGISLATIVE NEWS SERVICE LTD.
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION AUSTIN

Austin—An important factor in the tax situation is to secure legislation that will give some degree of permanence to economies effected during the present period when economy has become a matter about which there is no debate. It is obvious that conditions are propitious for changes and reforms that will extend benefits of retrenchment beyond the period of the present emergency. It is equally obvious that little will have been accomplished if measures of economy gain approval simply as emergency matters.
 To adopt measures temporary in purpose and character that are equivalent to an admission that the cost of government should return to its former high levels would be a distinct failure to make the most of the present opportunity. People are intensely tax-conscious now. They seldom when business is at normal.
 For this reason, many think it would be a blunder not to capitalize on present sentiment and write into the organic law some very definite barriers to excessive government costs in the future.
 It is necessary to bring expenditures down to the capacity of the people to pay in order that the present unbalanced condition of State and local budgets may be corrected.
 To stop there, however, would leave the larger task of providing safeguards and eliminating wasteful expenditures practically untouched.
 Many people are likely to be misled concerning reports of flat reductions.
 Such treatment should be applied only to necessary functions of government. Unnecessary service should be abolished.
 Agreement is general among students of government and taxation that the most costly and possibly the most wasteful practices are to be found in local affairs. Organization of county government is notoriously inefficient. Wasteful constitutional and legislative requirements are largely responsible. County commissioners have only very limited control over the affairs of which they are in theory responsible.
 A number of certain officials are fixed under the constitution by State law.
 Ridiculously high salaries are common, and county Commissioners are powerless to make reductions. There are many needless offices, especially in counties of small population, but they cannot be abolished any more than the office of Governor.
 Practically, County Commissioners must levy the taxes and waste others over whom they have little or no control, spend the money. They have responsibility without authority.
 Several constitutional amendments designed to correct this condition have been introduced in the Legislature; a committee is now trying to combine them into a single measure.
 There is a distinct danger that men may resort from too greatly liberalizing authority for issuing of bonds and determining limits of taxation as applied to counties. The "home rule" idea sounds attractive.
 Yet, it has been shown that extensions in public expenditures, rather than economy, has followed the loosening of constitutional inhibitions. It will be found that the local tax burden has become heavier where the greatest measure of local action is permitted. This is an anomaly, but a study of the local tax map of Texas will substantially bear out the statement that taxes are least bur-denous where communities have been slowest to adopt modern devices.
 Extreme caution must be exercised in amendments designed to re-ceed in county government. Elasticity of authority should be in the direction of economy. In the past two decades the tendency has been toward more expensive local government, through multiplication of services.
 The chief reason why Texas is in less distress today than many other states is because framers of the constitution imposed certain restraints as to powers of borrowing and taxation.
 Citizens should analyze county government reorganization measures and let their representatives know their wishes. The present system is archaic and wasteful but changes might prove even worse through removal of the constitutional barriers, along with those provisions which now prevent needed freedom of action.
 Another proposed amendment designed to provide an automatic check on State expenditures is the one which would limit the total State taxes to $10 per year per capita.
 These two suggestions constitute the attempt to work out permanent tax relief, rather than to be content with temporary measures that do not correct the fundamental causes for the terrific increase in the cost of government within the past decade.
 To accomplish these reforms will be easy matter. Those who are sponsoring them will need the active support of the people.

...Mechanic Elder Schaffner found the Hidden Quirt... Also that Without it, Motors Show 50% to 60% Greater Wear ... So He Switched to Conoco

...The Germ Process (exclusive Conoco patent) imparts to this motor oil that peculiar ability to penetrate and combine with metal surfaces. (1) The first filling about one quart will "hide" itself up in your motor's precious working parts. This hidden quart never drains away. It becomes a part of the motor itself, worth its weight in gold.

MECHANIC SCHAFFNER REPORTS ON DISCOVERY:
"I never did believe that Conoco Germ Processed oil would do: not until an Essex owner, with 25,000 miles on his speedometer, asked me to check his motor and put in new parts where necessary. If surely surprised me; clearance of pistons was only four 1-thousandths; of bearings only three 1-thousandths of an inch."
"This owner said he had used Conoco Germ Processed oil since the car was new. I have overhauled many another Essex at 25,000 miles, which has not used this oil, and found the wear 50% to 60% greater. Now I recommend Conoco Germ Processed Oil to my friends, and have changed to it in my own car." -Elder Schaffner, Highland, Ill.

This is proved. Even with the crankcase empty, due to accident, users of this oil have driven many miles, without damage, on the "hidden quart" alone.
Isn't it smart and thrifty to have a "hidden quart" up in the parts of your motor, where you are sure it cannot fail? It is so simple to be safe! So foolhardy to be in doubt. Tend to it today. Go now, drain and refill with the "hidden-quart oil. Do it for safety's sake.

Stop Cruel Motor Wear . . . Escape its Painful Cost Don't Wait Another Day to Drain and Refill With Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil

To a motor, lack of lubrication is cruelty indeed. You are too "humane" to permit it, if only you knew the truth. But motors suffer in silence till costly damage is done. Then you pay . . . and pay . . . and pay.
50% of motor wear occurs in the moments following a cold start. Ordinary oil drains back into the crankcase and leaves the motor dry, till it is pumped back up again. Not so with Conoco's hidden quart. It stays up in the motor and never drains away.

COFFEE FOR THE BUSY MAN'S BREAKFAST

How Vaculator Operates
Measured water in the bottom, pulverized coffee is the top, one heaping teaspoon of coffee to one cup of water.
Heat generates pressure that causes water to flow upward. The use of hot water hastens this preliminary action.
Coffee is brewed in upper glass where correct temperature is controlled. When upward flow of water stops, current should be turned off.
Removing from heat causes a vacuum which draws down brewed coffee into lower glass.
Remove upper glass and serve. The coffee will be at its maximum in the bottom.

Good coffee for breakfast starts the busy man's day off with a bang - Leaves for his place of business with a feeling of freshness and pep that gets him through difficult mornings with flying colors.
Coffee made in the new Vaculator is the last word in coffee - just as it should be - coffee that has all of the fine flavor and clean taste that the manufacturers strive to instill in their product.
