Rear-End Collision Damages Cars

Last Saturday Herman Davis purchased a new Buick roadster and in the evening he invited a couple of his friends to ride with him. Upon reaching a point on the Lamesa road the car was stopped for a moment and Ford driven by Dalton Warren hit the Buick a terrific jolt from the rear. The Ford, a practically new one, was damaged beyond repair, the engine being driven from its back into its vitals. Mr. Warren was thrown through the windshield and was badly bruised. The Buick was damaged to the extent of about $200 and the occupants given a shake up that they will long remember. A fog was on the time and Mr. Warren says that he did not see the rear lights of the Davis car.

Commercial World Praises Your Paper

The Fort Worth Commercial World appreciates a good thing when it sees it and in its last issue has the following to say in regard to the Index and the L. D. Tucker advertisement recently carried:

The L. D. Tucker Dry Goods store at O'Donnell, Texas, recently used a double page ad in the O'Donnell Index in putting on its Fall sale. Many extra clerks were needed to handle the increased business as a result of this sale, it was said. O'Donnell has one of the best news papers in Texas, with T. J. Kelis, formerly of Mertzon, as editor.

O'Donnell Mercantile Putting on Sale

The O'Donnell Mercantile Co. is going after business this week with full page advertisement asking patronage and offering to give a 20 per cent discount on everything in the store except the groceries. A number of clerks have been engaged to wait on the trade during the rush that will take place when the doors are opened next Saturday morning.

Parent-Teachers Helping School

The Parent-Teachers' association is growing and now numbers about thirty members. At the last meeting a committee was appointed to solicit the membership of every parent patronizing the school and it is expected to make it 100 per cent. The organization is now affiliated with the State Parent-Teachers' association.

If you are not a member of the local organization, join at once and help make the O'Donnell school a better school.

Under the able superintendency of J. A. Rickard, we have the best faculty and the best school we have ever had, but the faculty needs the closer cooperation of the parents, and this can be best obtained through the association.

School Band Making Progress

The High School Band met again Sunday afternoon in regular rehearsal. Prospects were never brighter for a splendid high school band. A regular practice on the instruments is somewhat delayed, owing to the fact that some of the members are waiting for their instruments to arrive, the meeting Sunday was mostly spent in attending to business. The following officers were elected: Geoffrey Holman, president; William Burney, treasurer and Kate Davis, secretary. At the request of the instructor, Mr. Taylor, a few rules and regulations were passed by the band. Also a slogan was adopted: "A New Member Every Week." Most every member present expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the start made by the band and pledged themselves to work hard to make the band a success.

New Arrival

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Stuteville are happy over the arrival of a seven and one-half-pound girl, born Thursday morning.

Lady Injured by Automobile

While Mrs. D. W. Mires was passing by the family car which was parked on an incline near the family residence two miles south of town Wednesday, in some manner the car started to move down the hill and before the lady was aware of it the car had struck her and she clung to a fender. Before she could free herself the car struck the building pinning her there for more than an hour. The wind being high her screams were not heard and she remained in this painful position until J. W. Mires and Mr. Powell, who were working half-mile away, went to the house for some tools. They released the lady and called a doctor who found that one leg had been pierced through and the other badly bruised by the fender. While the wounds are very painful, the attending physician says that no serious results are expected.

"The Virginian" Coming Monday

The State Theatre promises something different next week, the feature of the program will be the "Virginian" taken from Owen Wister's novel that has been the best seller for twenty years, the picture promising to become even more famous than the book. "The Virginian" will be shown Monday and Tuesday nights. If life in the west appeals to you, don't miss seeing it.

Jack Hoxie will star in "Red Warning" on Wednesday night. Jack is at his best in this picture.

On Thursday, "Jesse James and the Younger Brothers" will be shown. This is a special picture and it will appeal to many as the outstanding number on the program. What are said to be remarkable likenesses of Jesse James, Cole Younger and Scout Younger, done in wax, will be on display in front of the theatre all day Thursday. The figures, it is agreed by everyone who have seen them, are as near life-like in appearance as it is possible for a dummy to resemble a man. Every detail which characterizes the appearance of the men is represented there, including the uneven hair-cut of Jesse James, who was said to have cut his own hair because he did not want to trust anyone else to cut it for him. To the moles on their faces. It is said the wax figures cost $3,000 each.

On Friday night, Dustan Farnum will appear in "Kentucky Days." On Saturday night you will have a chance to see Hoot Gibson in "The Ramblin' Kid," which is a picture full of the West when it was wild.

O. I. Luellen is going to make someone a present of a $100 radio set on the first of December. Mr. Luellen could have the radio for his own use, as the tailoring company he represents will give it to him for making a certain number of sales, but he will give it to some patron of his tailoring shop.

Car Runs Over Child on Street

A near serious accident occurred at the intersection of Doak and Seventh streets Monday when a car driven by a Mr. Christ of Tahoka, ran over the small son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Odum. The child had started across the street and darted in front of the car and before Mr. Christ could stop the child had been knocked down and the wheels passed over its legs. Nothing more than severe bruises resulted from the accident. Mr. Christ was entirely blameless, the accident being unavoidable.

Celebrates Fifth Birthday with Party

Mrs. J. R. Sanders entertained about thirty children Tuesday afternoon in honor of her little daughter, Clarinda Mary, who had reached the age of five years. As each of the little guests arrived they greeted their little friend with best wishes and presented her with presented. Fishing for prizes, blind man's-buff and other games dear to the hearts of children were indulged in. After dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake had been served, each of the guests were given a wooden whistle upon which was printed "November 13th" and were loaded in cars and driven to the State Theatre, where Mr. Sanders had a special show for them. The picture was "Easop's Fables," and the youngsters heartily enjoyed the finale as they did the entire afternoon.

Mrs. Sanders was assisted in entertaining by Misses Era Harris, Lois Lockaby and Fannie Dell Busby.

J. W. Mires of Fannin county, is here visiting his son, D. W. Mires and superintending the erection of a residence and other improvements on the place south of town which he purchased last year. He is well pleased with the production of his farm for this season.

Couple Marries in Lamesa

Surprising his many friends, J. P. Davis drove in from Lamesa Thursday morning with his bride. The ceremony was performed early Thursday morning by a justice of the peace in Lamesa, and after a wedding breakfast the happy young couple drove to O'Donnell where Mr. Davis is engaged in business.

The bride was Miss Juanita Nolen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Nolen, who reside in Lamesa, and her charming disposition and accomplishments has long made her a favorite in her social set.

The young couple will receive a hearty welcome from all.

Prunes Direct from Orchard

Dr. J. F. Campbell has received a car of prunes from his ranch in Oregon which he is selling to the public. Those who claim to be prune experts claim that this shipment is head and shoulders above any prunes ever seen on the local market. The fruit is packed in 25 and 50-pound boxes and are fresh from the orchard. Dr. Campbell has 35 acres in his Oregon orchard and he says this has been the best year he has experienced in orcharding, the fruit containing an exceptional amount of saccharine matter. J. E. Baker is selling the prunes in O'Donnell territory.

8,575 Bales Cotton Ginned to Date

Cotton continues to roll in, the past week holding its own with the past three in the amount ginned. Friday morning Weigher Busby reported that he had weighed 8,575 bales.

R. L. Wagner was a business visitor in Amherst the first of the week.

Two Persistent Voters

The town of Brooklyn, Conn., boasts of two voters, who, for a small town, are record makers. Fred S. Porter, ninety-seven years old, has cast his ballot at every election for 73 years and Gilbert (Gibby) Griggs, also a voter, ninety-five years old, has never missed an election since he was twenty-one, 74 years ago, and, unlike many voters today in the new-fangled way of doing things, Gibby never scratches a ballot in 148 town and state elections.

Road Building Far Behind the Automobile

Permanent roads are a good investment—not an expense.

Millions now recognize the automobile as a necessity. It is no longer a luxury for the few. Sixty per cent of its use is for business.

Because of this the modern paved highway has become an economic necessity.

Yet although the mileage of Concrete Roads and Streets has been steadily increasing, our highway system today lags far behind the automobile. The great majority of our highways are as out of date as the single-track, narrow gauge railway of fifty years ago.

Such a condition not only seriously handicaps the progress of the automobile as a comfortable, profitable means of transportation, but also holds back commercial, industrial and agricultural advancement in practically every section of the country. It is costing taxpayers millions of dollars annually.

Highway building should be continued and enlarged upon. Your highway authorities are ready to carry on their share of this great public work. But they must have your support. Tell them you are ready to invest in more and wider Concrete Highways now.

WEAK, RUN DOWN AFTER SICKNESS

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Mrs. Dube Well and Strong

E. Hartford, Conn.—"After a severe sickness I was so weak that I could not do my housework, so my mother told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The first bottle helped me so much that I took six more bottles and felt fine. I have just given birth to a nice baby girl and am feeling strong and well. So different from the way I felt before. I am taking the Vegetable Compound right along while nursing. The baby seems to be in good health, and my friends say they see a big change for the better in me."—Mrs. EUGENE DUBE, 69 Woodbridge Street, East Hartford, Connecticut.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine to bring back health and strength. Many mothers have found this true, as did Mrs. Dube. Ask some of your neighbors and friends, for there are women everywhere who know by experience the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Restoring Ancient Temple
A Buddhist temple of Borobudur in Java is being restored and preserved by the Dutch government. The temple is supposed to have been erected in that country during the Eighth or Ninth century when the Buddhist kings were in power. Mohammedan rule was established there during the Tenth century and since that time the temple has been in a process of decay.

Important to All Women Readers of This Paper

Swamp-Root a Fine Medicine

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by parcel post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole
That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

SAYS LABOR FARED WELL IN ELECTION

GOMPERS SAYS HE IS PLEASED WITH RESULTS OF NOV. 4 BALLOTING.

WILL DO THEIR VERY BEST

Reaction, Drunk With Victory, May Soon Find Itself Intoxicated Upon Imaginary Wine.

El Paso, Texas.—Labor fared "at most phenomenally well" in the general elections, Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation of Labor said in a public statement, commenting on the results of the Nov. 4 balloting.

"In the face of the tremendous Coolidge landslide there were elected to the new House of Representatives more members having labor's endorsement than are to be found in the present House," Mr. Gompers asserted.

"The new Congress is not likely to pass any measure greatly detrimental to the interests of the workers and our people generally," the statement continued.

The election comment was combined with an outline of the forty-fourth annual convention of the federation.

"The delegates," he said, "will do their best to act wisely for the good of the workers and for the common good of our Republic."

"While I have no desire to discuss specific questions in advance of the action of the convention, there is one important fact to which I may call attention, because it is already achieved, and can not be changed. It has been said by many writers in many publications that labor fared badly in the recent election. That is not true. Labor fared well—almost phenomenally well.

"In the face of the tremendous Coolidge landslide, there were elected to the new House of Representatives more members having labor's endorsement than are to be found in the present House. In the present House there are 170 such members, I have not the exact figures as to the new House, but the number of members elected with labor's endorsement will exceed that figure. Among these are Republicans, Democrats, and Farmer-Labor party members.

"The new Congress is not likely to pass any measure greatly detrimental to the interests of the workers and our people generally. This is one of the most hopeful facts of the day and one which to us is encouraging and reassuring. Reaction, seemingly drunk with victory, may soon find itself intoxicated upon imaginary wine."

TEACHERS SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED TO MARRY

State Secretary Opposes Rule—Board Sustains MARRS in Dismissal.

Austin, Texas.—Opposition to the rule or custom followed by the trustees of certain public schools of Texas that when a female teacher marries during the term she automatically forfeits her contract and ceases to be a teacher was voiced by one member of the Board of Education, but the board as a whole did not pass upon the rule.

Secretary of State J. J. Strickland, is the member who would not have restrictions placed against marriage of female school teachers. Such a rule, he said, is against the public policy. He would encourage marriage rather than discourage it.

This developed at the hearing before the Board of Education of the appeal of Mrs. Q. I. Smith, former Yoakum public school teacher, who had been dismissed by the trustees because of her marriage during the Christmas holidays last year. The trustees, in dismissing Mrs. Smith, asserted that she was cognizant of the rule because she had succeeded a teacher who had stopped teaching because of her marriage before expiration of her contract.

Mrs. Smith lost in the appeal, but the decision was not made on the particular point of violation of the anti-marriage rule. When State Superintendent Marrs some time ago sustained the order of dismissal it was on the grounds that Mrs. Smith had no claim on the trustees for payment of her full salary which she contended for. In the opinion of the State Superintendent, Mrs. Smith waived her rights when she abandoned her contract and entered into a new one to teach from the date of her dismissal until the close of the examination period. She later attacked the validity of the anti-marriage restriction.

Get rid of constipation by internal cleanliness

HEADACHES, biliousness, sleepless nights, heaviness, are Nature's warning that intestinal poisons are flooding your system. If this is allowed to continue, you may become a victim of serious organic disease.

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition and often lead to permanent injury.

Why Physicians Favour Lubrication

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

Mizs Lena Silverman came down from Amarillo last week to join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Silverman.

The Andy Gump Shop is a new enterprise established on Doak street this week by Dr. F. W. Thacker of Lamesa. The shop is now open for business with a nice stock of confections and has also installed a hamburger department. The place, formerly occupied by the Sanitary Market, has been thoroughly overhauled, and presents a most inviting appearance. T. J. Henderson and E. V. Lewis of Lamesa, will have active charge of the business.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Silverman are in Amarillo this week.

Miss Blanch McVicker accompanied her little nephew, Mac C. Bradley, down from Plainview and will spend several days with her sister, Mrs. Guy Bradley.

Kindergarten Approved by School Superintendent

The public school endorses the work done in the kindergarten by Miss Octa Crawson and recommends that children not in the scholastic age who are not already in school, patronize Miss Crawson's kindergarten.

We, the superintendent and primary teachers of the public school, have utmost confidence in Miss Crawson's work and believe that, considering the crowded condition of the primary department, that your child will receive better training in kindergarten than we can give him, without neglecting our duty to those already enrolled.

J. A. Rickard, Superintendent. Mrs. J. W. Shaw, Mrs. C. E. Ray.

Vol. 1 No. 4

SPORTING

Last Friday the senior girls basketball team of O'Donnell played with the Tahoka team, at Tahoka.

We had a real happy bunch to yell for us and naturally we were encouraged to play better—but wait we lost. The score being 24 to 5 in their favor.

Of course we are looking forward to better luck, so look out for the Senior girls basketball team of O'Donnell.

The players were:

Mildred Wyatt and Oma Fairley, forwards; Audra Humphries and Alta Rodgers, centers; Nellie Warren and Fannie Dell Busby, guards.

FOOTBALL

Crosbyton 37 O'Donnell 0.

This was an exciting game, it was fiercely fought from beginning to end. Crosbyton's large score was due chiefly to their excellent interference. This is not Crosbyton's first year and it is for O'Donnell. Several men were knocked out but none were seriously hurt. Crosbyton's touchdowns were all made by end runs, together with their splendid interference. For the first quarter we held them well and the score was 0 to 0. However the rest of the game was decided in Crosbyton's favor. If we get a return game we hope to teach them a thing or two.

Lorenzo 27 O'Donnell 0.

Armistice Day was the date of the hardest fought game of the year. Lorenzo's men out averaged the O'Donnell men 40 pounds to the man. This was a fierce fight from beginning to end. Lorenzo made most of their plays by passes, end runs or fake plays by forward passes. For the first quarter Lorenzo was forced to recognize the fierce tackling by O'Donnell men, but within the last two minutes of play the first touchdown was made. Lorenzo paid dearly for every score. It is hoped that we may get a return game with the score vice versa.

CHAPEL

The Chapel exercise was conducted Friday morning by Rev. Hicks our new Methodist pastor. First was a song, "Work for the night is coming." Rev. Hicks made a very interesting talk on "The sole of education is the education of the soul." We were glad to have him with us; he takes great interest in athletic work, and we hope that he will visit us in Chapel again soon.

SENIOR CLASS

The Spanish Club rendered its first program Friday, Nov. 7. A program will be arranged for each Friday. We urge that everyone who speaks Spanish to join the club.

Another new member, Nola Hill, joined over class last week. We are still climbing.

The girls of the O'Donnell school organized a girl scout club last Wednesday with Miss Christine Millwee as their captain. This is a worth while organization and all girls should join. We expect to have plenty of fun as well as the good we will realize from the organization.

The High school met and organized a literary society Tuesday morning. It is to be divided into two organizations. We expect to render some very interesting programs in the near future.

JUNIOR CLASS

The Juniors have been without anything of note, we are still progressing however and hope to make great men and women.

We accepted the challenge for debate made by the Seniors Tuesday morning. We hope to secure the judges unanimous decision in our favor.

Our victory for choosing the members of our literary societies was due largely to the splendid talks in Chapel this morning by our President, Miss Irma Gross and Mr. Geoffrey Holman.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of thanking Miss Gross and Mr. Holman for their great speeches in Chapel which helped to turn victory in our favor. May the Lord's richest blessings be upon them.

The following Juniors has been punctual in attendance and excellent in work: Roxie Hancock, Oma Fairley, Howard Tredway and Geoffrey Holman.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Preamble of the Freshman class:

We, the pupils of the eighth grade in order to have a more perfect class must establish rules and regulations, provide for class needs, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and to other high school students.

The Freshman class is still growing in number and in quality, and in a month or two we plan to take the Seniors down a notch in debating.

SIXTH GRADE

The pupils of the sixth grade are showing a great progress this month over their work of the first month. Two new pupils have been added to the low sixth class, Maurice Baker and Alta Lee Payne.

Inez Edwards had the honor of making the highest average in the low sixth this month, making an average of 94. Others were very close behind her though, and are working hard to attain that record for the next month. Eloise Foster averaged 93 1-2, being the highest in the High sixth.

Those who were awarded certificates for being neither tardy nor absent were:

Inez Edwards, Emma Cox, Penelope Etter, Ruth Wilhite, Mattie Williams, Beverly Wells, Harlene Russell, Ralph Beach, J. Y. Everett, Cecil Foster, Lowell Pugh, Warren Smith.

FIFTH GRADE

The fifth grade in Miss Lowrie's room are resolved to overcome all needs, and secure the blessings each room contributing several numbers.

They all report a very pleasant and profitable afternoon and hope to be able to spend some more such afternoons before the year is out.

SECOND AND THIRD GRADES

Mrs. Rickard's pupils have two nice pictures for their school room. These were brought in last week by Ora Riddle and Willie Jewel Horn.

We have another new pupil this week which makes thirty-two in regular attendance.

Our room is planning to have an art display sometime before Christmas. The date will be announced in this section later.

Nine pupils in our room received slips for perfect attendance last month. We hope to have a larger number this month.

We are progressing nicely with our studies and a number of us hope to be ready for promotion by mid-term.

The second grade enrolled one new pupil this week making a total of twenty-six.

We are glad to have Hazel Cox back in school this week.

Those receiving certificates of attendance were:

Mayis Hart, Kimmiley Pierce, Winnie Vaughn, Geneva Webb, Earl Howard, Julian Pirtle and Lester Vaughn.

MISS FAIRLEY'S ROOM.

We have been doing very good work though we hope to do better. We regret having lost Wilma Green from our classes. We have another new pupil this week, making an enrollment of 34 pupils. We have been having quite a few tardies and absents, although several received perfect attendance certificate's last month.

Those being neither or absent nor tardy were:

Ira Dimple Hancock, Mary Genice Hardberger, Addie Williams, Bessie Heard, Earlene Aldridge and Floy Cox.

We hope to do better than this next month. We shall be glad when Cecil and Iressie Payne and Cleo Petty can be back in school.

Mrs. W. O. Ballew visited our room Tuesday.

We would be glad to find something to make Felix Riggs and Lilburn Beatenbough in time to hear the nine o'clock bell. If anyone thinks of something please notify the third grade.

For battery recharging, generators, batteries and starters, see Cecil Hubbard with O'Donnell Battery Company. All work guaranteed to be done right.

their common mistakes in English. Now it costs each one a penny for very mistake he makes in his oral English in the school room. The pennies may come in fast for a few weeks, but they won't be wasted for the room need's several nice pictures and other things to improve its appearance and the pennies will help to do this as well as to stimulate a greater interest in English.

FOURTH GRADE

Mrs. Pfrimmer, teacher of the fourth grade, has twenty-nine pupils enrolled up to this week. They are all very busy at work, some striving to make it to the low fifth by Christmas.

On last Friday afternoon after recess the fourth grade pupils of Mrs. Pfrimmer's room invited as their guests the pupils of Miss Rodgers' and room. They had challenged them for a spelling match which Miss Rodgers and her pupils readily accepted. After a very hot contest between the two rooms, Mrs. Pfrimmer's pupils spelled down all of Miss Rodgers pupils. Of course this called for much laughter and cheering. Pupils of both rooms resolved to go to work harder on their spelling before the next contest. Before the visitors passed back to their rooms, there was rendered a short program.

NEW LOCATION—WARREN BUILDING

In Memory of Mattye Gillespie

"In my Father's House are many mansions"—

God's messengers are ever on the wing. In silence they cross the threshold, and when they go away, they leave a foot print named a grave. God's plans are not interrupted. There are no accidents, no catastrophes unto God. His love and wisdom are fully equal to every emergency—even a grave dugged in the grass.

When the life work has been done, when the harvest of influence has been sown, and reaped, then He sends His messenger for release, guidance and convey—homeward. His latest, richest and crowning gift is the gift of death.

At the summit of the desert palm is a single flowering bud. When the fullness of time comes the flower falls, the fruit swells, the seed drops, the flower dies and disappears, but the tree goes on, and it is the epic of Man's life that disappears but does not die.

Our best beloved disappeared, but in the darkness comes a voice saying, "I still live." Unto God all live.

We never realize that the immortal life is the real life until we lose our bravest and best. Then reason whispers how easy it is for God to continue this richly endowed soul whose building He must have found so difficult.

Did God give us this beautiful young life, filled her face with sweetness, and her life with love that at the crowing moment of her life she might simply return to the dust of the earth? No! her life still goes on, she has only turned the bend of the road, but going on learning new lessons and profiting by the sweetness of her life here and her brooding tender love is ever with you.

Listen! And in the deepest hollow of loneliness you can hear a voice bidding you, looking up and know that where God is there no death. Life is a vast hall. Beyond is the gallery; death is the hand that opens the door into the other room.

Where there's neither hurt nor pain God has taken her again.

Where no fever burns the brow God is cherishing her now.

Where no bypath leads astray God is guiding her today.

God is keeping her for you Where no enemies pursue.

Never shall she weep nor sigh, Never fear again to die.

God has spared her all the care, Those of us who live must bear.

It may be in heaven that birth Is what men call death on earth.

And what men call death, we'll learn Is the spirit's glad return.

Brave the loneliness and pain, You shall have her love again.

— By one Who loved her.

Tobacco Grows on Southplains

That tobacco will grow here was proven when C. A. Baldwin planted a small plot to a long leaf variety on the first of August and on the first of November the plants had reached a stage of maturity. The plants grew large and put on a heavy foliage and those who are posted in tobacco growing say that when properly cured, it will be equal to that grown anywhere. The Index has a generous supply of the plants going through the curing stage and some day we may write the feeling that comes over us when we stuff our old Jimmy pipe full and give it a few whiffs.

Room for Rent.—Outside entrance, electric lights.—Mrs. H. Verett.

Own Your Own Home

WHY RENT?

When you can buy a home off the famous spade ranch from 20 to 30 miles west of Lubbock the hub of the Plains, located not on the going-to-be railroad but the main line of the Santa Fe.

You can buy this land at a reasonable price, with $5 per acre cash. Balance from 1 to 15 years at 6 per cent.

You can pay the principle and a big part of the interest each year with what rent you pay the other fellow each year. The land is adapted to cotton, corn, maize and all kinds of feed crops, truck and good water.

Will make an ideal home and stay in civilization.

If interested would appreciate showing you this land at any time.

All I ask of you is to see what I have to offer. The land talks for its self. For particulars see us.

Mrs. A. A. House left first of the week for Galveston where she will spend the winter.

R. H. Lee arrived last week from Mills county and has deecided to cast his lot with us. He has leased a farm from J. N. Schooler for next year. The first thing he did after getting located was to subscribe for the Index.

A. B. Fortner reported to the Index man this week that M. F. Ballew has been offered some fancy prices for the seed of his cotton that is producing bolls as large as cocoanuts. The Index man would not be surprised to see Mr. Fortner going back to the farm next spring to experiment with this variety of cotton.

O. D. Bratcher and family are late arrivals from Hope, Ark. They have come to stay and will induce some of their friends to join them here. Mr. Bratcher states that farming conditions are bad in Arkansas and that almost every farm is for sale, the people having their eye on this country.

Our best beloved disappeared, but in the darkness comes a voice saying, "I still live." Unto God all live.

We never realize that the immortal life is the real life until we lose our bravest and best. Then reason whispers how easy it is for God to continue this richly endowed soul whose building He must have found so difficult.

Did God give us this beautiful young life, filled her face with sweetness, and her life with love that at the crowing moment of her life she might simply return to the dust of the earth? No! her life still goes on, she has only turned the bend of the road, but going on learning new lessons and profiting by the sweetness of her life here and her brooding tender love is ever with you.

Listen! And in the deepest hollow of loneliness you can hear a voice bidding you, looking up and know that where God is there no death. Life is a vast hall. Beyond is the gallery; death is the hand that opens the door into the other room.

Where there's neither hurt nor pain God has taken her again.

Where no fever burns the brow God is cherishing her now.

Where no bypath leads astray God is guiding her today.

God is keeping her for you Where no enemies pursue.

Never shall she weep nor sigh, Never fear again to die.

God has spared her all the care, Those of us who live must bear.

It may be in heaven that birth is what men call death on earth.

And what men call death, we'll learn is the spirit's glad return.

Brave the loneliness and pain, You shall have her love again.

— By one Who loved her.

Tobacco Grows on Southplains

That tobacco will grow here was proven when C. A. Baldwin planted a small plot to a long leaf variety on the first of August and on the first of November the plants had reached a stage of maturity. The plants grew large and put on a heavy foliage and those who are posted in tobacco growing say that when properly cured, it will be equal to that grown anywhere. The Index has a generous supply of the plants going through the curing stage and some day we may write the feeling that comes over us when we stuff our old Jimmy pipe full and give it a few whiffs.

The local markets swamped with turkeys, the two killing and dressing plants reporting receipts heavier than ever before at this season of the year.

Approximately 1000 delegates will visit Houston for the 1925 convention of the Southwestern Public Service Association, which will meet May 19-22.

A new bus line has been inaugurated between Boeville and Victoria. Two cars are in operation and two round trips will be made each day.

Hard surfacing of highways in Brazoria County is under way.

The attorney general Friday approved $96,000 Jim Wells County special road bonds and $25,000 of Kaufman County road district No. 5 bonds.

There are 1850 farms operated in Harris County by individual owners, while 999 are operated by tenants. This is a record held by very few counties in the state.

As the result of an inspection of Angelina County schools, $17,660 state aid will be granted this year, $3895 more than was secured in 1923-24 school sessions.

Thirty-eight more blocks of city paving will be added to the paved section of the city of Brownsville, following action of the city commission in letting a contract for that amount of work.

A representative of the state health department has been sent to Paris, Texas, to assist that city in getting started its milk grading program under state standard milk ordinance just adopted.

Turkeys and pecans are serving as nice trade stimulants for Cuero merchants, as cotton receipts fall off, and with some 35 cars of turkeys in prospect and 15 cars of pecans, business continues good.

An issue of $50,000 City of Beaumont school-house bonds, bearing 5 per cent interest and maturing serially, has been proved by the attorney general's department and registered in the comptroller's department.

Farmers residing along the Navasota River, in the eastern part of Brazos County, state that the water has become so salty that the fish are dying and that stock will not drink it. The salt is said to be draining into the river from the oil fields at Mexia.

The attorney general Wednesday approved $250,000 street improvement and $100,000 public school improvement bonds of the city of Waco; $50,000 school house bonds of Sour Lake independent school district; $28,000 for sewer and $42,000 bonds for water works of the city of Blooming Grove, Navarro County.

With the laying of the cornerstone of the administration building of the Texas Technological College last week, West Texas saw a dream of nearly eight years' standing come true. The administration building, which is the first of the units of structures to be erected on the college campus one mile west of Lubbock, will, when completed, cost about $450,000. It will afford accommodations for all of the administrative offices and about 1,000 men and women students at the opening session in September, 1925.

The Texas corn crop averaged only 16 bushels per acre this year, the lowest since the drought year of 1918, according to the November 12 crop estimate for the state by the United States department of agriculture. The total Texas yield of corn this year was estimated at 79,232,000 bushels, as compared with 96,440,000 bushels last year and 132,000,000 bushels as a five-year average. The grain sorghum crop is yielding 23 bushels per acre, and an average of two tons of forage, with a total production of 45,678,000 bushels of grain. Any surplus will find a ready market, the bureau said, in the deficient corn sections.

Following an executive session at Waco recently, the committees on finance and permanent organization of the proposed Texas centennial, it was announced that a meeting of the board of governors, consisting of 100 members, will be held in Austin Jan. 19, the day preceding the inauguration of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson as governor. At the Austin meeting a constitution and by-laws will be adopted, and an executive council of from nine to fifteen members will be elected from the board of governors.

Call for a meeting of the state educational survey commission to be held at Austin on Monday, November 24, was issued Saturday by the governor. This meeting is for the purpose of receiving the final report on the survey from the commission, the governor said. The commission explained that this meeting had been originally scheduled to be held at Fort Worth on November 17, but later he was advised by Dr. G. A. Works, director of the survey, that he would be unable to be in Texas on that date, so the governor changed the date and place of the meeting.

R. B. Walthall, member of the State Board of Control, left recently for an inspection of eleemosynary institutions in North Texas.

The Texas Public Health Association has announced the appointment of Lewis E. Bracy as director of the 1924 tuberculosis seal sale in Texas.

In observance of Armistice Day all departments in the State Capitol were closed Tuesday and all business in the city of Austin was suspended.

S. L. Staples, State Treasurer, made a call to pay 3,000 State warrants, up to and including No. 7050 and representing $403,566. This left the net deficit at $1,621,961. No. 7050 was issued Sept. 29.

Report that Joseph S. Meyers will resign as State Labor Commissioner early in December to become associated with publication of labor papers at San Antonio and Houston, could not be confirmed.

Curiosity of the public is netting the State penitentiary system an average of $25 a day, according to Mrs. J. E. King, member of the prison advisory commission. A charge of 25c recently was established as an admittance fee for visitors at the Huntsville penitentiary. Visitors are so numerous the prison is making a material profit, Mrs. King said.

Assignment has been made by Attorney General W. A. Keeling of Assistant General C. A. Wheeler to assist in the defense of Ranger Captain B. C. Baldwin at San Antonio, in cases resulting from four indictments returned by the Bexar County grand jury, charging Baldwin with having failed to make an accounting to the Sheriff of liquor seized by him and his men in raids.

The amount of crude oil gathered by pipe lines in Texas in September was 9,382,363 barrels, decrease of 726,774 barrels compared with gatherings during the previous month, according to the monthly statement issued by the oil and gas division of the Railroad Commission. Navarro County fields again headed the list, reporting 2,116,032 barrels as having been gathered in September.

Gov. Pat M. Neff, accompanied by D. E. Colp of San Antonio, chairman of the State Park Board, left Austin last week on a ten-day automobile trip through West Texas and the Panhandle country. The Governor, in addition to delivering the principal address at the laying of the cornerstone of the new Texas Technological College at Lubbock on Tuesday, Armistice Day, made a number of speeches on State parks in the different sections he visited.

An opinion of the highest importance to the departments and institutions of Texas was written when Assistant Attorney General Sutton advised the State Board of Control that the State Highway Commission has the legal right to designate the kind and class of machinery it needs for the conduct of its work, the only concern of the control board being to buy it at the least possible cost to the State.

An invitation to the nurses over the State to attend the institute for public health nurses to be held at Austin Nov. 17-19 is extended by the bureau of child hygiene, State Board of Health. Lectures on sanitation and public health administration will be given by Dr. Malone Duggan, State Health Officer; Dr. H. Garst, director of the bureau of child hygiene, and V. M. Ehlers, bureau of sanitary engineering.

The State Highway Department is now shipping out the various printed supplies, chauffeur's badges, dealers' plates, etc., to the County Tax Collectors throughout the State. Motor vehicle and commercial motor vehicle plates are being shipped by the contractor direct to Tax Collectors. The department is sure that all supplies will be in the hands of Tax Collectors so that they can begin the collection of 1925 revenue by Dec. 1.

The Texas Educational Survey Commission has been called by Gov. Neff to meet in Austin on Nov. 24 to take final action on the report of Dr. George A. Works, Cornell University, who directed the survey. The commission had been called to meet in Fort Worth November 17, but the Governor changed the place and date of the meeting in order to accommodate Dr. Works, who said he would be unable to attend a meeting for an earlier date than Nov. 24.

How Other Peoples Celebrate

Thanksgiving day in America began as a public rejoicing over a good harvest—the first reaped by the New England colonists. The idea is not peculiar to our people; probably they imbibed it from English customs or those, as old as history, which prevail in one form or another on the continent. Gratitude for plentiful harvests is the keynote of these customs, although among us the day would probably be celebrated even if Governor Bradford had not started the observance in 1621 by that memorable Thanksgiving day when a long drought was broken.

Different peoples have different times, but always some time, for harvest thanksgiving. When the Jews inhabited Palestine the festival of Pentecost embraced a thanksgiving for a plentiful harvest; but as the wheat is not gathered in Europe at the time of the Pentecost, flowers take the place of the first fruits in the synagogues there. The Druids had their harvest festival on the first of November; the Chinese and Japanese have theirs at their year's close.

The second of the three great festivals of the Jewish ecclesiastical year occurs on the sixth and seventh days of the third month (Sivan) which includes part of May and June. It is called in Hebrew, Shovuos, but more generally the feast of the Pentecost, the fiftieth day, since it commemorates the giving of the law to Moses on Mount Sinai 50 days after the deliverance of the Israelites out of Egypt. It is also called the Feast of Weeks, because it marks the completion of seven weeks, counted from the second day of Peasch or Passover.

In the famous temples of Ise, in the neighborhood of Yamada, are the shrines of the goddesses in whose honor those festivals are held. There are two temples, the Naiku (inner temple) and the Geku or outer temple. The Naiku is sacred to the sun goddess, the great ruler of heaven, the Geku is dedicated to the goddess of food, in other words, to the worship of a deification of the earth.

Thousands of pilgrims resort annually to these temples at Ise, because of the pre-eminence of the goddesses to whom they are dedicated.

Thanksgiving Memories

Trees, gray and brittle, shedding their last russet leaves, and cattle huddled in stubble fields about the straw stacks. Full cellars and barns, tables laden with turkey and pies, the drive home through the dusk, out of clustering village homes, past lonely farmhouses, with their beckoning lights and lifted roofs. Thanksgiving meant that to many of us in childhood. As fulfilling years go by, and toil and living write their record, the soul remembers for Thanksgiving day chiefly those who have gone from our fellowship. However far one's job may be from the harvest, or one's sympathy from acknowledging that eternal goodness which our fathers felt guarding their days, men cherish still their memory of the hearts which made this earth our home.—Colliers.

To Murmur

To murmur against God and His servants does not bring bread; though often in spite of the murmur, the faithful prayer of the few does provide help.—Evangelical Teacher.

Thanksgiving, Indian Style

Reservation Indians of the Southwest have taken to observing Thanksgiving day, until now it is a common occurrence for them to take part in the good cheer that comes all over the country on that day. To make the day more cheerful the redskins hold off their regular beef issues and annuity payments until that day, when they all join in one huge celebration. One might travel through an Indian reservation in Oklahoma today on Thanksgiving day and not find one-fifth of the teepees occupied—all are away at the feasting place. Coming upon these celebrations one is astonished at the interest taken. To the redskin, who generally takes everything calmly, the excitement manifest at a beef issue or a grass payment on these days is intense—even as great as at their ghost and war dances.

Very seldom of late has there been allowed any beef issue to take place on the reservations of the Southwest, and these events, when they do occur, come on Thanksgiving day. It is by a fitting arrangement that the head men of the tribes have agreed upon this one day of all others when they celebrate their feasts. I attended a beef issue on Thanksgiving day last year. It was given by the Ponca Indians on their reservation. Hundreds of Indians danced and made merry. The medicine man held sessions behind closed teepee doors, and the squaws raced with each other in their glee. Even the papooses cooed and sang their songs with much brighter faces.

All was happy in the camp of the Poncas. The day had dawned brightly. Yellow autumn was everywhere. The squaws hovered about the fires and lay upon the sweet grass telling stories of the old times that had passed. It had been a year since the Indian agent had consented to a beef issue. The issue is a savage fete, something like the Mexican bull fight—except that the Indian eats his prey.

When the agent rode out among the rows of teepees he gave permission for immediate chase upon the herds then grazing on a not far-distant hillside. Then a wild, weird chanting rang through the camp. Suddenly from the lodges burst forth the young men. They were clad in gay trappings and their faces were covered with paint. Each carried a long shining field-gun. To the stranger this aggregation would have presented the appearance of a regiment of savages going into battle. Off to the herd they dashed. Soon the crack of the gun, then snorting and howling of the wild cattle, and the fierce shouting of the warriors told that the chase was on. It sounded much like a battle in progress.—Leslie's Weekly.

Take Time for Church

On Thanksgiving morning there are few women of taste and feeling who do not attend divine service in some church or other. They may be finely dressed and they may indulge in any number of gayeties afterward, but that little hour or so with the sermon that tells you about your blessings, those few moments with comforting prayers and triumphant songs must begin the day. The sentiment pervades all communities, large or small, be the persons involved steady churchgoers or only occasional worshippers. One cannot seem exactly an ornament to society or a useful citizen without paying some respect to the religious aspect of the national holiday.—Exchange.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

FROM THE SILENCE

FROM the silent activity of the human brain come the world's greatest achievements, in the arts, in music, in letters and in statesmanship. Moving night and day, unceasing in its efforts to attain a higher plane, the mind of man is ever reaching out to unexplored realms in its perpetual quest for something new—something greater, grander and more sublime than is known today.

And in this quest the silent mind is the most potential force in the universe.

Every material thing in time must eventually yield to this awe-inspiring energy. If you will closely observe the men who are stirring the world by their accomplishments, who are rising above impending obstacles to new heights, who are sweeping away ancient traditions, startling mankind with the flaming torch of newly discovered truths, all having a bearing on a higher and better life, you will find they are souls of silence, dwelling with the stillness of their own thoughts.

Only the silent minds can separate the gold from the dross; only the silent minds venture the dizziest elevations and dare strike a new note that rings like a thunder-clap above the tinkling din of the commonplace.

Such minds have no quarrel with nature, with whom they walk arm and arm on intimate terms, gathering from her her secrets and using them for the uplifting of the world's peoples.

Such minds seek solitude, for it is in the quiet seclusion of their own chosen environment that they go forth in search of life and light and treasure, far too rich and elusive to be found except by souls who hunt in silence and are willing if necessary to give a lifetime to the quest.

In this respect the silent man goes far beyond all the louder types. Being humble, sincere, patient, earnest and devoted to his cause, he never falters in the work he has set himself to do. He holds resolutely to his purpose, tranquilly wending his way without noise or bluster.

He has a certain rugged ardor of temperament which never admits defeat or loss of faith. He is the type of man that changes the destinies of nations overnight; not an actor, not an imitator, but a creator, a prototype of divinity itself, vested with power of revelation, with which he was born.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

CAT AT CONCERT

Christopher, the cat, went to a concert, and no one knew he was there until it was almost over.

"I Was Almost Hit."

That was what made Christopher want to come in the first place. He had thought it would be a splendid thing.

It was a band concert and Christopher had come in when no one had noticed him.

He had heard the others talk about tickets and as he had no ticket and no money with which to buy a ticket he thought he'd better get in rather quietly and without being noticed.

He had succeeded.

He had walked in without being noticed. Such crowds had been coming in so he wasn't seen.

Then he had found himself a place behind some benches and he had sat there waiting to hear the concert. His white whiskers had trembled with delight at the thought.

But now he had come out. He had been waiting for an opportunity.

Ah, he was happy when he saw the few people coming out. The members of his family were still staying, but he was not near them.

Well, he got up and walked behind those who were leaving a little ahead of time.

He walked quietly and in a most dignified concert manner. He was sure it was a concert manner as the others had walked that way—just as though they knew everyone was looking at them but hoped they could make themselves believe they didn't think so!

They knew they were noticed but they tried to make themselves think that they weren't.

So Christopher walked out.

Well, he was home quite a bit ahead of the family, and he spoke to Napoleon, the other cat, about the concert.

"Napoleon," he said, "you would have been surprised to have discovered that people will like anything for which they have to pay."

"At least that is what I have decided."

"I listened to that concert—or almost all of it. I watched the people and their faces were all happy and beaming and pleased."

"And the concert was far, far louder than any of our back-fence concerts ever thought of being."

"My dear Napoleon, you can't imagine how noisy this concert was. You can't begin to imagine."

"And the noisier it was the better the people seemed to like it."

"They clapped at the end of each piece and made a great deal of noise themselves."

"Now you know how they act about our back-fence concerts?"

"I know," said Napoleon. "I was singing my most beautiful solo and I was almost hit with a jug of water—that's how they act."

"Exactly," said Christopher, "and yet they will pay to hear all that noise at a concert."

"Yes, that is what I think about it. If we can think up some way so that they have to pay to have us sing on the back yard fences, then they will clap and think we're fine."

"We've given music to them free all these years and we've spoiled them."

"I really do believe I have the right idea at last, and now we must think of how to put our concerts on a paying basis, as it is said."

"That's what we must think about," agreed Napoleon.

TEXT—Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin, and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.—Jas. 1:15.

What a picture this text presents—colors all dark—lust, sin, death!

J. H. Ralston, D.D.

James may not have had such keen perceptions of the grace of God through the redemption of Jesus Christ as had Paul, but he penned this picture by God's direction. And in this day when there is general indifference to sin on the part of individuals, social circles, political parties, courts of justice and sometimes in the church itself, something should be held up before all men to cause them to stop and ask whether this trend should not be checked.

1. The word "lust" here, as in almost all places in the New Testament, simply means "desire." Comparatively pure desire may be the seed bed for developing all kinds of trouble. As Eve looked upon the forbidden tree she saw that the fruit was pleasant to look upon, good for food, giving understanding to those who ate of it. As she gazed and parleyed the soil of desire was bringing forth lust, and soon her hand was outstretched, the fruit eaten and the saddest act of all history completed. If Eve had not lusted for that fruit, if she had turned away from the tempter, we would still have Eden with its beauty and harmony, with love dominating everything. It is in the lust that the danger lies. 'Pray that ye enter not into temptation,' our Lord admonishes us. Once Satan drags you into temptation his battle is practically won. What a master lust is!

2. Sin finished brings forth death. Before thinking of death let us stop to think of the process which has been followed.

Go into a shop where furniture is being made and you will see workmen there, probably for weeks preparing the material, putting it together, polishing it—a process all the way. We may rightly think of sin in its beginning as weak, as anything new-born. We see it in its earliest phases developing and gaining strength, until ultimately it is almost irresistible.

A man may be doomed long before he dies. How difficult it is to reach people of mature years who have lived a life of sin! Young people should tremble to see how sin, like the bon-constrictor of the tropics, winds itself about its victim until he is helpless, doomed.

3. We have here the outcome of sin. "Sin finished bringeth forth death." We note the steps—desire, control, death.

Has sin changed since the days of James? Is it not as true today as when Paul said it, "The wages of sin is death"? Where in all the revelation of God do we find that sin has changed its character? Who is so blind as not to see that sin is working today what it has always worked? God has not changed, nor can He change. Satan has not reformed, and there is no hope of his reform. Sin is the thing Satan uses to accomplish his purpose, and God has set Himself against sin and, sad to say, against men or women who live in sin.

Does sin kill the body? Funeral processions every day of the year give us the answer. Does sin kill the intellect? Insanity follows its dominion. Does sin kill the heart? Sin takes away love and the finer sensibilities. Note the death of natural love in the two Chicago boys who recently murdered their little neighbor and friend. What is there in man that sin does not kill? Notwithstanding the unbelief of the day in which we live, man has a soul that is to live forever, and sin destroys that. The death of the body, of the intellect, of the heart, is sad, but loss of the soul, the immortal part of man, is infinitely sadder.

If James, with his legal mind, could see the grace of God through Jesus Christ as clearly as the Apostle Paul did, we are not left hopeless. Lust may bring forth sin, and sin may bring forth death, but the grace of God hath brought salvation, revealing Jesus Christ as the Savior of men. His life in us kills out the lust. His life stops the processes of sin and defeats death. The wages of sin is death, the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. To defeat sin demands a miracle, and that is precisely what is performed when man's faith in Jesus Christ releases the infinite power of God.

KEEPING THEM COMING

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

A WONDERFUL start is a wonderful thing.

Your heart full of hope and your head full of schemes.

But, oh, it is easy to laugh and to sing When just setting out for the land of your dreams.

Good starters are many, good finishers few;

Though fortune may follow, good luck may attend,

When day's at the dawning and silver the dew,

It's keeping them coming that counts in the end.

And ore for the smelter, or logs for the saw,

Or cars for the shipper, or steel for the mill,

Or sales o'er the counter, or grain for the straw,

Whatever it is, we can win if we will.

It isn't production a day or a week,

It isn't the size of the order you send;

Whatever our labor, whatever we seek,

It's keeping them coming that counts in the end.

No target is hit by a flash in the pan,

No race ever won by a spurt at the start—

It's playing the woman and playing the man,

It's steady of purpose and sturdy of heart.

Whatever the world is expecting of you,

What matters is this: Can it safely depend

On the things that you make, on the tasks that you do?

It's keeping them coming that counts in the end.

SCHOOL DAYS

Birds Fond of Water

The majority of birds like to splash about in shallow water, flapping their wings and scooping the water over their backs with their heads. All of these like a daily bath, but some are so particular about the water they use that they cannot always get it. Swallows, for instance, will bathe only in clean rain water. Wild ducks and many other sea-loving birds bathe in fresh water, and will make long journeys inland in order to get it.

Reflections of a Bachelor Girl

By HELEN ROWLAND

MOST of a married woman's life is spent in thinking up devices for curing a man's little vices.

What a man calls his "friendship" for a woman is always either the beginning of love, or what is left of it, after the romance and the thrills are gone.

A woman's accusations roll right off a man's consciousness like water off a rubber coat; but her dead silence is sometimes so fraught with meaning that it makes him shiver with apprehension.

A mind-woman is the lily that adorns a platform; a heart-woman is a rose that sweetens a man's own home. The average man always marries one of these—and then spends his life thinking wistfully of the other.

A woman seldom finds real love until she has grown weary looking for it, and has begun to look for the amusement and diversion of synthetic sentiment.

It may seem a victory to be able to twist him round your little finger. Take care that your success does not make you top-heavy. A husband-twister often develops into a husband-nagger.

A woman always insists that a man acknowledge all her virtues, but always is thankful if a woman will just overlook all his little failings.

Most men have "commuting hearts" that leave home regularly, but always come back again to wife for a rest.

SEASONABLE DISHES

IF YOU have never eaten carrot pie, here is something yet worth trying:

Carrot Pie.
Scrape and boil until soft enough carrots to make a pint of pulp. Rub through a sieve, add three pints of milk and six well-beaten eggs, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, juice of half a lemon, one teaspoonful of salt, the grated rind of the lemon, and one large cupful of sugar. This amount will make two large pies. Bake as you do custard pies.

Cabbage Salad.
Cut a small hard head of cabbage into quarters, let stand in ice water to chill; drain in a cloth hung on a hook until dry. Cut out the hard hearts, then shred the cabbage very fine. For a pint of the cabbage add one tablespoonful of finely minced parsley and two finely diced slices of pineapple, a green pepper freed from veins and seeds and chopped very fine.

then mix with the following dressing: To one-half teaspoonful of salt add one-fourth teaspoonful each of mustard, pepper, and four tablespoonfuls of olive oil, with one and one-half tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Mix with the salad dressing and decorate with bits of cooked beets cut into fancy shapes.

Oatmeal Bread.
Pour one cupful of boiling water over one-half cupful of oatmeal, add one-fourth cupful of molasses and one teaspoonful of salt. Dissolve one-fourth of a yeast cake in a little water. Stir in all the flour possible with a spoon, rise over night. Pour into tins and let rise until twice its size. Bake about two hours in a moderate oven. Be sure to keep covered while rising.
