McDonald-Ely Gin Installing Round Bale System at Local Plant

O'Donnell is to have a round bale system. This was decided recently by the McDonald-Ely Gin Company and the work of installing the machinery necessary for this is now under way.

A building 24 x 42 is being erected to house the press and make storage room for about 200 bales. A new Anderson-Clayton round bale press will be installed and the present power plant will be augmented by a 110 h. p. Anderson oil engine. This will give the plant a total of 245 h. p. from the two engines.

Guy Bradley, manager of the McDonald-Ely Gin, has purchased a one-fifth interest in the local plant, which makes him a permanent resident of O'Donnell. Mr. Bradley superintended the construction of this plant and has been the manager during the past two seasons and has made himself very popular with the farmers. Mrs. Bradley will continue to keep the books and attend the office of the plant.

Adversity builds character. Even a man with a cane usually is bent on getting somewhere.

Well Tests 25 Gallons a Minute

Those opposed to voting bonds for the installation of a system of water-works on the theory that we have no water supply will either have to change their minds and vote for the proposition or hatch up another excuse and continue to fight the advancement of the town.

O'Donnell has a visible supply of pure water to furnish each man, woman and child in town one gallon each per hour or twenty-four gallons per day.

This comes from one well 36 inches in diameter at a depth of about 70 feet; This was dug by Luther Wyatt for the purpose of furnishing water for home use and to test its strength the City Council superintended the installation of a cylinder pump. The small gas engine was started at 4 o'clock Monday morning and for nine hours it never stopped and with its last stroke the water was gushing forth at a measured rate of 25 gallons per minute. Those who went to the bottom of the well state that the water was coming in strong from all sides, showing that it was in a perfect water-bearing strata. Mr. Wyatt had sunk the well as deep as it was possible with the equipment to keep the water out of the way. He states that within five minutes after he had struck the flow at the bottom of the well the water had risen to a height of seventeen feet and it required four hours steady pumping to lower it so that he could recover tools left in the bottom. The water was encountered in a fine white sand with enough gravel to let the water through without caving. The sand was penetrated to a depth of about three feet.

Should the proposed bond issue carry, a well sixteen feet in diameter will be sunk to the bottom of the water-bearing sand and it is estimated that this well will furnish water for twice the population O'Donnell now has.

Let's vote for those bonds.

We have plenty of water at a depth of 70 feet, but as long as it remains underground, it had as well be in the Gulf of Mexico so far as helping O'Donnell is concerned.

Mrs. L. Dennis was taken suddenly ill with appendicitis Saturday and was rushed to a Lubbock sanitarium where it was found that an immediate operation was necessary. The operation was performed Sunday and the lady is now rapidly recovering and will soon be able to return home.

Rev. Hicks Addresses Seniors

Perhaps the largest crowd ever to assemble at the Methodist church was present Sunday morning to attend the baccalaureate services of the graduating class of the O'Donnell High School. It is said that more than 150 people were turned away on account of the church not being large enough to accommodate them.

The faculty and Junior class occupied the choir section of the church and the Senior class occupied a special section of pews near the pulpit.

Rev. W. B. Hicks preached the Baccalaureate sermon, taking his text from 16th Chapter and 16th verse of Proverbs: "Getting of knowledge is better than gold, and getting of understanding is better than silver."

Rev Hicks was at his best in this sermon and no doubt his words of wisdom will be a guiding factor in the lives of the young people who are just getting ready to start on life's journey. He treated his subject under four heads as follows:

First—The first necessary step in the accomplishment of man's mission consists in rightly understanding and properly appreciating the true functions of being and the possibilities of life.

Second—The second step in the accomplishment of man's mission consists of the receiving of truth of every kind as the richest legacy of heaven and the direct gift of God.

Third—The third step in the accomplishment of man's mission consists of a practical realization of the truth received from God.

Fourth—The fourth step in the accomplishment of man's mission in imparting to others the truth received from God.

"Still Alarm" for Benefit Fire Boys

The feature picture at the State Theatre for next week is the "Still Alarm". No, the "Still Alarm" is not a hootch picture showing an alarm for a still, but is a special picture showing the heroic work of fire laddies in fighting the demon fire in one of its worst forms.

In this picture you see the firemen in a mad rush to the scene of a conflagration, the quick work of connecting the hose to the hydrants and the big engine start throwing water with such force as to crumple ordinary walls, the firemen scaling walls on flimsy ladders, the rescue of victims trapped in the fiery furnace and other scenes that will give you thrills seldom felt in a picture show.

The fire boys have secured this picture at great expense and they want everyone to attend, giving the assurance that they will see a picture worth the price and the price will be used to help make the department a better fire fighting unit. Mr. Carpenter has generously donated the use of the State Theatre and on account of the high cost of this great picture the price of admission has been set for 20 and 40 cents.

Monday, May 31st, will be a great day with the ladies of the Baptist W. M. U. They are planning to entertain the members of the societies of the other churches of the town on this day. The meeting will be held at the Baptist church.

An elaborate program is being arranged and an invitation is extended all lady members of the other churches to be present.

Bill Jones says that a speeding car near town met a bridge approaching at a rapid pace. The bridge was not injured.

School Term to Close Tonight

Tonight will mark the closing of the O'Donnell public schools when a program will be rendered by the Senior class at the auditorium. The week has been a busy one with the children and fraught with much excitement over the coming of a long vacation.

The week's work began Sunday when the Baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. W. B. Hicks. On Monday night a recital was given by Mrs. Baggett's class in music at the chautauqua tent. Tuesday night Mrs. Kercheville's class in expression presented an operetta. Wednesday night the Senior class gave an operetta to a packed house to which a small admission was charged, the class making about $50 from the play. Thursday night the seventh grade graduating exercises were held at which Superintendent Rickard presented the diplomas to thirty-six members. Invocation was given by Dr. Tate and Judge C. H. Cain delivered an address to the class.

Tonight diplomas will be delivered by Superintendent Rickard to the following: Delbert E. Beaton, Roxie Hancock, Geoffrey Holman, Iona Maurine McDaniel, Golda Faye McGill, Howard Tredway, Mary Joe Ballow, Martin Line, Thady A. Gardenhire, Oma Faye Fairley, V. B. Hohn and Nola Hill. Following is the program for the evening:

Rev. W. B. Hicks will preach the closing sermon Sunday at a chautauqua week meeting being held at Lorenzo. At this meeting preachers from the churches surrounding Lorenzo have been called to conduct a service each.

No Chautauqua Next Season

The Cadmean Chautauqua filled its contract here last week, giving the closing performance Monday evening.

The Cadmean Chautauqua will not be here next season unless it decides to come and take its chances of being remunerated on the merits of the talent offered as other shows do. The Cadmean is all right. Each performer was an artist in his or her line but O'Donnell folks will not have chautauquas as their form of pastime or education. This was proven last year when the receipts were far below the contract price. Ditto this season when the promoters went into their jeans for $230 to make up the deficit.

It is not right that a few enthusiastic business men should expect O'Donnell folks to pay for and attend something they do not wish to. We do not want chautauquas and we are not going to have them—especially if the Index man has to dig up another ten spot to pay for them.

Give us something with a kick to it; like the little nigger boy doing the Charleston on the streets Wednesday. Unheralded, he drew a larger audience in five minutes than the chautauqua did with all its flashy advertising.

Popular Store Moves Into New Quarters in Davis Building

Have you visited the Popular dry goods store in its new quarters? If you have not, you should do so and see the neat array of goods that is being placed on display. Mr. and Mrs. Coin have been working overtime the past week to get ready for a Removal Sale which they have inaugurated. It will be some days yet before the store is thoroughly stocked, but they are anxious for the people of the O'Donnell country to know that they have moved into new quarters and invite them to visit the store and take advantage of some rare bargains while there.

The Coins are proving themselves worthy people and are boosters for O'Donnell every day in the week. The new store is quite a step upward from the small building just vacated.

Women have a chance nowadays. Think what a good opening the lowly can opener presents.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF O'DONNELL

A BANK WITH A PURPOSE, STRENGTH AND FINANCE

D. R. Couch, President
C. H. Mansell, Vice President
L. Dennis, Cashier
C. E. Kelley, Assistant Cashier

Directors:
D. R. Couch
C. H. Mansell
J. H. Hardberger
C. E. Kelley
J. B. Curtis

Before you entrust your savings to any institution you should know something of the character of the men behind that institution and their ability to protect you and your money. With our modern banking laws in operation this fact is often overlooked. Nevertheless it is important that you should know the personnel of the particular bank with which you do business. With these facts in mind we have prepared a condensed statement setting forth the character of good will, wealth and personal character of the stockholders and officials of The First National Bank of O'Donnell.

D. R. Couch, President is a native of West Texas and loves the western country and western people. He has always been a heavy investor in the virgin lands of the west. Mr. Couch quit teaching school after a number of years in the profession to enter the business of banking. By constant toil and dilligent saving he has managed to accumulate a small fortune which he continues to invest in a productive way. He believes in the future of O'Donnell and the surrounding country. Besides being a stockholder in the O'Donnell bank Mr. Couch owns interest in banks at Rotan, Peacock, and Aspermont.

C. H. Mansell, Vice President and a pioneer of O'Donnell has been actively engaged in the development of the community. He has had management of Mansell Brothers Hardware Company and besides saving up for himself a nice little sum he has been of real service to the farmers of O'Donnell community. Mr. Mansell is a wide awake worker in church and civic development. The bank is fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Mansell as a safe, conservative and accommodating business man.

J. H. Hardberger, Director, has been closely associated with the farmers of O'Donnell territory and is in a position to know their needs and ability. John, as he is known by his friends is an industrious, prosperous and progressive business man. We consider him as one of our best assets in human factors. In him we have a character above question, backed by good judgment, honesty and sincerity. Mr. Hardberger has the utmost confidence in the future of O'Donnell. As he has made a go of his personal interests and has helped in making O'Donnell what it is, we feel sure that he will continue to help in the progress of this bank.

J. B. Curtis, Director is a man whom we admire and in whose judgment we have the utmost confidence. Mr. Curtis is an old timer in west Texas and knows the ups and downs of this country. His experience will be worth much to the bank during the first years of its progress.

Emil Folda, President of the following banks:

Banking House of F. Folga, Schuyler, Neb.
Colfax County Bank, Howells, Neb.
Clarkston State Bank, Clarkston, Neb.
Farmers & Merchants Bank, Linwood, Neb.
Bank of Rogers, Rogers, Neb.
Pilger Bank, Pilger, Neb.

Total Capital and Surplus above banks $299,370.38

Besides the interests which Mr. Folda has in the above banks he is a stockholder in banks at several other points in the United States, including Knox City, Weslaco, and O'Donnell, all in Texas. The Folda banks are very strong banks and are well known throughout the United States and we feel that our rating has been increased by being connected with such a chain of banks. That is the money side of the question. Mr. Folda though an old man in years and experience is young in life. He never forgets his friends no matter how humble their life may be. He believes in being useful in life. He plays a big part in legal, political and social functions of the banking world. O'Donnell is fortunate in securing the attention of a man of this character. We need more foreign interests in the town.

Among the other stockholders in the bank there are men whom you will know more by association and who have lived in your community.

They are L. Dennis, C. E. Kelley, L. D. Tucker and A. J. Warren.

In dollars and cents the strength of the bank may be shown by the total net worth of all stockholders which is $2,000,000.

E. C. Couch, Weslaco, Texas

President Security State Bank.
President Weslaco Townsite Company
Trustee Carroll College
Vice President Chamber Commerce
Vice President Rotary Club
Trustee Valley Baptist Hospital

E. C. Couch is a Texan by birth, educated in the University of Texas. He taught school a few years, then entered the banking business at Knox City, where he was president of the First National Bank, also president of the First State Bank of O'Brien, Texas. Mr. Couch loves adventure; the spirit of the heroic was born in him, and it was that spirit which led him to the Cactus Jungles of the Lower Rio Grande Valley. The "Daddy of Weslaco", as Mr. Couch is known, is still the same progressive builder and banker. Among his latest adventures is the building of three new towns known as Lasara, Hargil and Rollo, located on the new railroad being built between Raymondville and Edinburg. In such a busy, active life, most men forget to render the proper service to their fellow men; however, we find this builder of cities and organizer of banks, spending both time and money, with churches, hospitals and Christian colleges. Organizations of merit find an ardent friend in Mr. Couch and many have enlisted his active co-operation.

The First National Bank of O'Donnell has for its slogan, "Conservative, Safe, Accommodating". Those who are in charge of its affairs strive to serve in a manner that will be for the best interest of both customer and bank. It is the purpose of the stockholders to increase the capital of the bank as the need demands and the town grows. This is a bank controlled by local people and for the interest of home people. We realize that the country is too new to finance itself as yet and for that reason we believe in encouraging foreign capital, but in keeping our home money at home. Yet, we want to add more each year to our saving and build larger structures on the foundation we have made. There is much in store for us all. Let's live for the future and in our living and hoping let us not forget to lay aside for the rainy day. A good bank account is the best security a man has besides character. Friendship is the best asset. Give us an opportunity to know you and you will learn us.

V. O. KEY JR. HAS WON MORE HONORS IN COLLEGE WORK

V. O. Key, Jr., eldest son of Judge and Mrs. V. O. Key of Lamesa and a member of the Freshman Class at McMurry College in Abilene, was last week elected Editor-in-Chief of "The War-Heop" the student newspaper of the Abilene school.

The Lamesa boy, who is just eighteen years of age won by a landslide in the election. He received one hundred and seventy four votes and the next nearest opponent was given only twenty five votes.

Young Key waged an active campaign for several weeks preceding the election. He had a complete political organization and had a campaigned manager, a platform and did all kinds of advertising.

This will make his second year as a student of McMurry College. Last year he was a member of the Senior Academy Class and distinguished himself for the high scholarship record that he made. He made the highest average of any student in the entire institution last year and has practically repeated that feat again this year.

During both his years as a student of the college he has been a member of the staff of the college paper and has taken quite a bit of interest in that kind of work.

The popularity of the Lamesa boy in the school is attested to by the fact that it is very unusual for anyone but a Junior or Senior to be elected to the high place in the school circle that V. O. has gained.

The young man's parents and his many friends in this city are very much gratified at the excellent records he is making.

Restoring Books

Books that have lain long in a damp place and acquired a musty smell should be thoroughly aired and exposed to the sunlight for several days. This should arrest the odor. Mildew may be checked by brushing over the books with spirits of wine or a few drops of essential oil, such as oil of cloves, applied with a soft cloth. The books should be dusted frequently.

Caloric Requirements of the Child

DIETITIANS declare that the average boy or girl of four years should receive about forty calories a pound of body weight per day. The average weight of a child of four years is forty pounds. Therefore the total caloric requirement would be approximately 1,600 calories. Calory is merely the name for a certain measure of heat derived from the burning of food.

Necessarily, the caloric requirement of the child is dependent on his temperament, since a child who plays hard and long requires more nourishment than one who leads a quieter life. Rate of growth also has a bearing on caloric requirements. The child who is growing rapidly should be given more food to meet his caloric needs than the boy or girl whose growth is normal.

Wimberley Withdraws From Sheriff Race

The many friends of T. A. Wimberley will be surprised to learn that he has decided to withdraw from the race as a candidate for the office of sheriff and tax collector of this county. In taking this action, Mr. Wimberley states that his private affairs will not permit of him making a thorough canvass of the voters of the county and he deems it to the interest of his supporters and himself to withdraw from the race unless he could see everyone. He asks the Index to extend his appreciation to those who have so loyally stood by him in the race and to give his best wishes to the two remaining candidates.

With the withdrawal of Mr. Wimberley and Mr. Roquemore, this only leaves Wesley Simpson and Tom Preston to make the race for sheriff and tax collector.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Busby and family attended the closing exercises of the Roby school Friday evening where a niece graduated. They also visited in Abilene while away.

Mr. and Mrs. Rev. W. B. Hicks spent Thursday in Snyder visiting Dr. J. D. Hicks and family. They were accompanied home by Mrs. E. Roundtree, a sister of Mr. Hicks.

Mr. W. G. Dingus, one of the teachers in the Lubbock schools, will arrive first of the week to join Mr. Dingus, owner of the O'Donnell telephone system. That is why Mr. Dingus is wearing such a broad smile these days.

BEING FOR O'DONNELL

To be "for" O'Donnell means putting your best thought into the measures that come before the public conscience.

No amount of words alone will put the finishing touches on good works.

If, in your judgement, the proposals for public improvement and community development are worthy of the aims of highest citizenship, and if those proposals are within the limits of sound public finance and prudent management of the people's affairs, then you are not strictly "for" O'Donnell unless you put 100 per cent of your ability into their realization.

There is no man who can not do his best under any given set of circumstances.

To be "for" O'Donnell is not difficult in the less arduous tasks.

No day passes but that some little help may be given or applied to advance the economic or moral welfare of the community.

One can at least trade at home and thus help local business.

He can strengthen the educational system of the community by showing his interest in the men and women and the boys and girls of the schools.

He can assist as an individual or in organization work in stamping out negative qualities and boosting positive and constructive factors in the community's progress.

He can be charitable and kind while being industrious and forceful.

This is no paradox; it is success. How strongly all citizens are "for" O'Donnell will determine its future.

HOW TO VOTE

All those wishing to see O'Donnell remain as it is; see it outstrip in size, trade-drawing power, health, living conditions, civic advantages and improvements by our neighboring towns keep on paying the present high fire insurance rates pay the same taxes, keep our individual wells same being in constant danger of pollution from nearby privies; have many vacant small value, taxpaying, no income bearing lots on the main street; be without fire protection; be without water for our lawns and gardens; see our children gradually migrate to near by more progressive towns; be without water for a future sewer system; like to see our wives lugging in pails of water from the well and lugging out pails of slop from the kitchen; be a good town to be from; then go to the polls on June 8th and cast a vote against the water bonds.

All those wishing to see O'Donnell grow; see their property increase in value; see the population grow; pay a slight increase in taxes; see the bank deposits increase; see the volume of business transacted in O'Donnell increase; pay a substantially lower fire insurance rate; have hot water from the faucet for their daily, weekly or monthly bath; see their wives' work in the kitchen lessened; have water to make green grass in the front yard and vegetables in the back yard; have fire protection if the adjacent building catches on fire; have water to flush the streets on hot dusty days; have our children remain in the most progressive town in this vicinity; have water so a sewer system can be built in the future; be justly proud of our town; be able to advertise our town and cite its advantages in uptodateness over our neighboring towns; have the name of being a good progressive town in which to live; then go to the polls on June 8th and cast a vote for the water bonds.

"Not knowing what styles will be twenty-five years hence, it is a little hard to say where the child ought to be vaccinated." —Detroit News. Not "where," brother, but "whether."

Chevrolet Preparing to Build Million Cars in 1927

The largest expansion in the history of Chevrolet Motor Company involving the expenditure of $10,000,000 and increasing the company's production facilities to a peak capacity of 1,000,000 cars per year will be inaugurated June 1, according to an announcement just made by W. S. Knudsen, President and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor company.

Building plans have been completed, machinery ordered and by January 1, 1927, the company will be fully prepared to build 1,000,000 Chevrolet cars during the coming year.

Under the new program, company employes numbering 25,000 during full time operation, will be increased proportionally.

Closed body production facilities will be 750,000 annually, constituting 75 per cent of the total production of Chevrolet cars.

Sixty per cent of the $30,000,000 will be spent in installing improved machinery and equipment of the most modern type and the remainder will be expended in erecting additions to various plants of the company in the United States.

With present equipment, capable of producing 750,000 cars a year, unable to meet the demand for Chevrolet cars and reports showing the factory production greatly exceeded, the building program calls for additions to seven of the company's plants located at Detroit, Flint and Bay City, Michigan; Toledo and Cincinnati, O.; Janesville, Wis., and St. Louis Mo.

The additions will provide greatly increased facilities at the forge, gear and axle plants at Detroit, to the motor plant at Flint, the small parts plant at Bay City and the transmission plant at Toledo. Expansion of the Fisher Body plants adjoining Chevrolet plants at Cincinnati, Janesville and St. Louis will meet the augmented demand for closed bodies.

"Facilities for building the Chevrolet car will be equal to those for producing the finest high-grade automobiles made in this country, regardless of price," said Mr. Knudsen.

"The expansion is being made in line with the Chevrolet Motor company's closely followed policy in the past of utilizing the most modern equipment available, enabling us to constantly increase the quality of our product.

"Inherent quality is the most essential feature of any automobile, and must of necessity be greater in a lighter car than in the heavier types, where the factor of safety need not be figured so closely.

"This unprecedented expansion of the Chevrolet Motor Company has no other explanation than that of the constantly increasing demand on the part of the public for the improved car. It is recognition on our part of this steadily growing favor of the Chevrolet car with the motor-buying public that has caused us to prepare for the future and to be ready to produce 1,000,000 cars during the coming year."

Mrs. J. C. McClung is home after a month's visit with relatives in various points of north Texas and in Oklahoma. She said she kept well informed on the doings in O'Donnell by reading the Index which she found in the homes of the relatives visited.

Big Questions Often Become Little Ones

This is when you make yourself secure by insuring against loss by Hail

Hail Insurance costs mighty little, in comparison to the safety it provides. It is a legitimate production cost, when you live in the hail belt. It should be reckoned and counted in, every year, just as regularly as you buy the seed!

Insure your Crop
Now

What is the use of making a crop for Hardy Hailstones to harvest—unless you make certain that somebody is going to pay for that crop! And if Hardy Hailstone reaps, there's just one person who will pay for the crop—he is your insurance man!

Now is the time to talk to him. It won't cost you a penny more to invest in Hail Insurance today, than it will to wait a month. And it may mean the difference between debt and prosperity.

Can you afford to take the chance?

Nature—with all her beauty, power and untold wealth—is at times a despotic and cruel ruler. Smilingly she may bring the promise of good crops and an abundant harvest, only to turn about and in a few moments of relentless fury totally destroy what it has taken months to produce. A Hailstorm is one of Nature's most destructive children. Hail will damage or totally destroy all growing crops that may be in its path. It cannot be avoided nor can the damage it does be repaired. Hail Insurance on Growing Crops is the only remedy. See me at once.

"In the Steps of Ma and Dad"

Like produces like you say, We most surely say it too, And we see the proof each day, By the things the young ones do, Just to show you what we mean, I now sketch a little scene.

One fine morning in the Fall, Jim, the boy, and little Bess, Stood behind the old barn wall, Eyes and mouth wide as could stretch.

Watching Daddy with a bat, Knock the life from Tabby cat. Just a few days after that, Dad and Ma looked from the door, Saw their Jim throw up his hat, Gave a shout that was a roar; Saw their Bess, some ways behind, Flying round their biggest pine.

On she sped with quickening pace, Dashed past her brother Jim, He, it seemed, cared not to race, Guess he'd spent 'bout all his vim. Soon, within the house went Bess, Who, by now was out of breath.

When she could, she panted out, "Dad, oh Dad, he's gone for shore! Your old goat we fussed about, He'll not butt us, any more.

"With a rail, Jim whacked his head, Didn't quit till he was dead". By this time, dear Jim was in, Looking blue, and quite cast down, For his Dad confronted him, Smiling not, but with a frown, Said in voice so tense and low, "Tell me, young man, what you know."

Poor, poor Jim now sick with fear, Scarcely on his feet could stand, Though he dashed away a tear, With one dirty little hand, Then, these words he slowly said, "Dad, our cat, you killed plum dead"

Closely now, the man drew Jim, Little Bess he hugged up too, Looked at ma, ma looked at him, Shook her head as mothers do, Said in tones, so grave and sad, "In the steps of Ma and Dad".

Jim and Bess, belong to you, So do they belong to me, In this age of strife and stew, What aim we, that they shall be? Let's be sure both day and night, That our footsteps lead aright, For those kids observe all things.

Every day, the entire year, They can cuss, as well as sing, If that tune has reached their ear, They don't think that cussing's bad, If they've heard their Ma and Dad, Annie Rooney
