PROPOSITION TO RETOP PAVING MADE CITY, PROPERTY OWNERS

A proposition whereby the present paving in O'Donnell, in bad condition in many places, may be retopped and placed in first class condition has been submitted to Mayor B. M. Haymes.

Each property owner, holding a 25-foot lot, would be charged from $12.50 to $15.00 and the city would bear the remainder of the cost, so Haymes says.

The work, if contracted, would be started by next week and finished before the main fall business starts, the mayor also declared.

Action is expected to be taken to present the plan to property owners today.

Hasty patching of the paving is done at intervals, but it is believed the paving will be ruined in a not too far distant date unless it is repaired in a right manner.

Several of the property owners questioned declared their willingness to co-operate because the rate to be charged now may be the lowest quoted for years to come as the vast defense program of the nation is getting started may hike practically all building costs.

NEWS STORY ON SLAYING ERRED SAYS BROTHER

A correction in part of the story which appeared in the Press last week relating to the slaying of E. L. Kirkland by H. H. Williams farmer has been requested by a brother, C. L. Kirkland.

The story in question was written by a Tahoka news writer, and released to the Press under a Tahoka dateline. The writer of the article admits a misuse, unintentional, on his part in the matter of initials of the persons affected, but claims the major portion of the story was given him by officers, and he did not question the validity of the facts.

Here is C. L. Kirkland's version of the affair. "At supper time, something was said about getting a melon for our mother. After supper my brother Ernest, another brother, Gordon, and I got in a car and started out to get one, intending to buy it. When we got to Williams' place, Ernest said that there was a melon patch there, that he had seen it a few days before, and that we could get a melon there. One of us suggested that Williams might object, but we finally decided that surely he would not object to us getting just one or two melons for our mother as he had such a large patch.

"Ernest and I went out into the patch about fifty yards and turned and started back. We had gone back about fifteen steps when Ernest hit a melon with his foot. He stopped and felt it and said he believed it was ripe and pulled it. He gave me the melon and I carried it down almost to the end and laid it down. Just as I laid it down and raised up the shot was fired. My brother hollied and told Williams not to shoot, that he was already shot. I ran to my brother and grabbed him and held him up until we walked to the road. I told Williams that I was going to have to take him to a doctor, and about that time my brother drove up in the car. I told my brother to open the door and let's put him in the car. We put him in the car and I and my brother, Gordon, to rush and let's get him to a doctor as quick as possible. Williams said, 'Yes, take him to a doctor.'

"That was the first time we had ever been in the melon patch. Sheriff Parker had never warned us, as stated in the paper, nor had any other law."

First Texas Demo Contributions Are Being Received

see Texas go over the top for the Roosevelt ticket.

Beginning with the state democratic convention at Mineral Wells where the key note of the campaign was sounded by leading democrats this week, the campaign has picked up momentum steadily and is sweeping into every part of Texas with gathering enthusiasm, the director declared here.

"The Republicans will find there were more Willie dollars than Willie votes in Texas when the polls close November 5," Bialock declared. "Texas has become a traditional Gibraltar of the national democratic party and its contributions to the campaign and the votes for the party ticket this year will maintain that standard," he added.

"Mr. Willie will have to go to but a few in this state for campaign funds while the democrats will depend upon the masses as usual to support the 'party of the people,' he declared.

Texas, Bialock asserted, is better organized for a successful democratic campaign than ever before. Every democratic county chairman, presidential committeeman, and congressional district committee is functioning, he said, as part of the short drive for funds and votes.

"While there is an overwhelming sentiment in Texas for the reelection of the president, over-confidence has lost more than one election," Bialock warned. "Every democrat man and woman must take the responsibility of getting out the vote and of helping to raise funds for the national committee to use in doubtful states. Every business man, farmer, laborer and white collar worker must be solicited and given an opportunity to help."

Bialock said that the American people know that the defeat of the president and the democratic party would be the "greatest victory Hitler could ever hope to win" and that "money and votes for the party's continuation in authority is an integral part of the country's vital preparedness program."

Bialock appealed today to every democrat to look up his county democratic chairman and to give a dollar or more to the campaign fund which he said was badly needed by the national committee. He explained that a receipt for every donation regardless of how large or small would be sent donors from both the central state headquarters and the national headquarters at Washington. He asked that funds be sent to either the county chairman or headquarters at Austin.

ANOTHER DRY HOLE?

In the constant search for new oil reserves in Texas, even the dry holes benefit the communities in which they are drilled.

They mean employment and wages for Texas labor, lease money for Texas farmers and ranchers and many other expenditures which benefit all lines of business.

2,300 dry holes were drilled in Texas last year at a cost of nearly 60 million dollars. Since oil was discovered in Texas, 52,000 dry holes have been drilled in all sections of the State at an expense of more than one billion dollars.

This billion dollar research has already resulted in the discovery in Texas of over half of all the known petroleum reserves of the Nation. The creation of this wealth will benefit Texas citizens for generations to come.

Whether the oil man wins or loses, the community always gains.
