

President Stands Alone

DESPITE THE fact that President Truman is in almost hourly conference with his cabinet, with top military advisors and with leaders in Congress, there is probably no man who is more alone than the man in the White House. For under our constitution, the President of the United States is solely responsible for the foreign policy of this country. As one writer phrased it, "The fate of the civilized world may well hang on the soundness of the decisions which Harry Truman will have to make, and in the last analysis, he will have to make them alone, in consultation with his God and his heart and his conscience. He will have the sympathy and support of all thinking people, but there will be none to envy him." And as the President goes through his lonely Gethsemane, there is a hue and cry from many sources that Mr. Truman should seek and follow the advice of members of the congress in this time of national crisis. This reporter has jotted down some of the opinions in the senate to which the President should listen as he seeks a solution of the problems which beset the nation.

Senator Wiley, Wisconsin, thinks the President should build up our spiritual resources by taking an offensive against the Russian government. Senator Chapman, Indiana, believes the situation is serious, and lies if the President doesn't act. The President consults with New Mexico, Senator Chavez, the executive believes this country is representative of the United States, must once and for all recognize the world that we will see. Senator Eastland, Mississippi, thinks we should arm the Communists in China. Senator Knowland, California, believes we should place, in conjunction with the navy of the Republic of China, an immediate naval blockade against the entire China coast and should not permit the entry or exit of a vessel of any nationality.

Senator Kim, Missouri, believes Secretary Acheson must go; congress should take whatever steps are required to bring about this result. Senator Malone, Nevada, thinks we must let General MacArthur use every means and every weapon against the enemy, or endeavor to entirely remove the U.S. forces from Korea.

Senator Connally, Texas, thinks the security council should be called upon to take appropriate action to bring about a quick showdown in Korea.

Senator O'Mahoney, Wyoming, thinks we should serve the Russians with an ultimatum to get the Chinese troops out of Korea.

Senator Brewster, Maine, thinks General MacArthur should be given full authority to use the atom bomb if he thinks it necessary.

Senator Bridges, New Hampshire, believes the same thing.

Senator Cain, Washington, demands that General MacArthur be given authority to send troops and planes across the Manchurian border.

Senator Ferguson, Michigan, says MacArthur should be given authority to wage all-out war.

Senator Smith, New Jersey, believes the Chinese troops of Chiang Kai-shek should be thrown into the fight.

Washington Silhouettes

Washington Silhouettes—The old Belasco theatre on Lafayette park may be back in service as a recreational center for service men. During World War II it was a stage door canteen and stands next to the historical home of Dolly Madison. In peacetime it serves as a storage house for the treasury. Quiet 56-year-old Senator Ernest McFarland of Arizona, farmer-banker-schoolteacher-lawyer, likely compromise senate majority leader, a middle-of-the-roader, has one creed—he tries to get along with people. If he is elected it will be a Democratic unity move.

It seems almost sacrilegious to watch workmen dig a sewer trench across the velvety green lawn of the White House in the refurbishing process. State officials may obtain original seals of their states removed in favor of sculptured seals in the new house chamber, by writing to David Lyhn, Capitol architect. Crisis in international affairs has so changed thinking there is a chance the excess profits tax may pass this lame-duck session despite opposition of business interests.

Russians Claim Discovery May Be Key to Life

NEW YORK—Russian scientists now claim a discovery which they say may even help science create life from nonliving matter. The purported discovery is in how living cells—of plants or animals—are formed. It has been given official Soviet blessing. However, Robert C. Cook, editor of the Journal of Heredity, published by the American genetic association, says the theory is "complete nonsense and a part of a gallop back into the middle ages or before" by Soviet party line science.

Russians Add Link
The Russians say, yes, this happens, but that they have found something new in addition. The new thing, they claim, is that some living cells come from tiny living particles which are not cells. The cells generated by these particles are different from ordinary cells and form a vital part of the new plant or animal.

These particles may be "a connecting link" between living and nonliving matter, claim articles in Soviet newspapers. Soviet biology is approaching the solution of the great problem of the processes of qualitative changes in nature and the transformation of nonliving matter in living. This problem can be solved by the Marxist-Leninist philosophy and used the methods of materialists dialectics, the articles declare.

Credited to Woman
The theory also offers support to Soviet claims that wheat has been changed into rye by grafting plants together. The strange particles supposedly figure in bringing this about. Prof. O. B. Lepeshinskaya is credited with the discovery. The articles say Prof. Lepeshinskaya has found "proof" that the tiny mysterious particles can become cells, under the right conditions. She is said to have photographed tiny grains of white matter in the yolk of birds' eggs, tracing their development into cells.

Prof. Lepeshinskaya first published her findings in 1945. But in publishing Soviet scientists, who 1948 led in cell division, tried to believe reviews, the article said, suppress her. She do not say what happened to these posts at the time, and "were" the leading. Histologists' scientific society attacked "American imperialism" and one hailed Stalin as the "great coryphaeus (chorus leader) or science."

'Never Say Die,' Is Motto Of Dog 'Dead' and Buried

CHICAGO, Ill.—Brownie, a five month old dog, strayed into the home of Albert Herman in suburban Calumet City and was adopted by Herman's four young children. Then one day the dog was hit by an automobile and seriously injured. Mrs. Herman rushed him to a veterinarian but he was out of his office. She decided to put the dog out of its misery. A neighbor took Brownie to a wooded area and fired one shot at the animal's head. Then he placed the dog in a shallow grave and covered the body with sand.

The next day, Mrs. Herman said, Brownie showed up at her back door—whining. She again rushed him to a veterinarian who soon had him patched up. Splints were removed from the dog's fractured left hind leg recently. He's frisky and playful—with only a slight limp. The vet said that the bullet fired by the neighbor had ricocheted off Brownie's skull without inflicting serious injury.

Unknown Soldier of Last War Could Be a Woman

WASHINGTON.—Could the unknown American who will symbolize the American dead of World War II be a woman? Legally, in the Army's opinion, it is possible. The law provides that the person to be enshrined in Arlington national cemetery beside the Unknown Soldier of World War I shall be an unidentified American who lost "his" life in the armed services overseas. But the Army thinks congress did not intend this use of "his" to bar a woman from being honored.

Actually, there seems to be less than a chance in a million that the unknown dead of World War II will be a woman. The army says it knows of no woman buried among the unidentified dead of that war in U. S. military and national cemeteries overseas. It is from those unknown dead that the unknown American will be chosen.

Should the remains of an unidentified woman member of the armed forces who lost her life during the war be found overseas buried in one of the cemeteries between now and next fall, her code number would be included in the drawing that will start the selection process on or before October 1. And should the woman's code number be drawn her body might be among the six to be moved to Philadelphia for the final selection May 26, 1951.

Man May Be Only 50,000 Years Old, Scientist Reports

CHICAGO—A question somewhat like the one about which came first the egg or the chicken has long bothered scientists. They have wanted to know which came first in human evolution: man's body structure or his brain? A University of Chicago anthropologist has come up with a theory, based on laboratory tests with animals, that the brain came last, a mere 50,000 years ago.

Some investigators assume that man has been on earth around 1,000,000 years. Sherwood L. Washburn, associate professor of physical anthropology, has a different timetable. Trunk and arms—10,000,000 years old. Leg structure (upright posture)—1,000,000 years. Skull structure and brain—50,000 years.

Washburn has been able to modify drastically the skull form of adult rats by cutting certain muscles in the heads of day-old rats. This surgery parallels evolutionary steps. He said his work indicated that changes in the bony structure of mammals might not have required the many slow evolutionary steps previously assumed. He said only a relatively few changes in genes—the factors which control heredity—possibly were required to bring the enlarged skull capacity man needs for his brain.

The evidence checks with other recent findings that much of earth's past is not so distant as once supposed.

An atomic calendar developed at the university which determines age by the amount of radioactive carbon left in matter tested has fixed the end of the last ice age at 12,000 years ago instead of the 25,000 once assumed.

Also, recent studies of the fluoride content in fossil bones in England have indicated that fossil man is much younger than once thought.

Mascot Wakes Fraternity, But Perishes in Blaze

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Terry, a fraternity house mascot, gave the 30 occupants of the house the first warning of fire and enabled them to escape. But the small dog remained in his master's third-floor room and was suffocated. The dog's coughing roused his owner, Melvin Chrisman, 24, a George Washington University graduate. He gave the fire alarm while his roommate aroused the other occupants.

The dog has been credited with saving the lives of the men.

Rumanian Doctor Flayed; He Used American Drugs

VIENNA, Austria.—Because a Bucharest physician recently prescribed American drugs for two of his patients he has become a snake-in-the-grass to the Communists. Among other things, the doctor was described as "a submissive servant of the imperialists," a "tool of inveterate reactionaries," "a man without professional honor" and "a worshiper of American specialities."

All this because he prescribed 4,000 tablets of glutamic acid and three bottles of aureomycin made by an American firm for a father and his son. The official publication of the Rumanian ministry of health identified the offender as Dr. Stefan M. Radulescu and devoted more than 600 words to an editorial pointing out his "errors."

After asking rhetorically where Dr. Radulescu heard about these American "wonder drugs," the editorial said that they aren't necessary in the Rumanian peoples democracy.

U.S. Tank Crew Has Four Faiths Under One Hatch

KOREA—A Pershing tank named United Nations goes into battle with the sergeant of the crew shouting "Allah." That's because William C. Koontz, Wilcox, Neb., is a Moslem—probably the only Moslem in the marine corps. "It's a good religion," he said. "A fighting man's religion." Koontz holds the navy cross for heroism on Saipan in World War II. Cpl. James R. Rader, Akron, O., the tank gunner, is Jewish. A Catholic, Cpl. Andrew Navarro, San Jose, Calif., is the gun loader. The others in the crew are Cpl. Donald R. Husted of Springfield, O., a Methodist, and Sgt. Thomas N. Wiley, Sand Springs, Okla., a Presbyterian. "We never argue religion," said Koontz.

Red Farmers Must Furnish Wool Quota Without Sheep

BERLIN, Germany.—The farmers in the Mecklenburg, a Soviet zone state, were angry and bewildered. They were ordered by the government to deliver individual quotas of wool regardless of whether they had sheep to produce it. Sheepless farmers were told to buy their quotas from others. Sheep owners said they had no surplus wool because they needed it for clothing. As wool growers, they had not received a clothing ration from the government.

Atom Reactor Plants Safest Places to Work

RICHLAND, Wash.—The Hanford atomic reactor plants are the safest working places in the world, according to records. Unprotected, a man could not safely come within a quarter of a mile of such nuclear chain reaction as takes place in a Hanford pile. Let no worker at Hanford has gotten in an entire year as much radioactivity as having your chest X-rayed. Thick concrete walls furnish most of the protection but there are jobs in which workers walk right into the rays.

For instance, men with periscopes, magnifying lenses and powerful lights detected a piece of apparatus out of order. A remote control crane lifted it over a wall to an area free from rays. But the piece itself was emitting powerful gamma rays.

Safety Fence Put Up
A crew taped paper on the floor where the piece was to rest to save the floor from getting radioactive. The distance the rays would travel from the apparatus was calculated, and a safety fence set up at the limits of danger. The piece had to be repaired. First a crew trained on an identical piece of apparatus, to save time when they came to the "hot" apparatus.

After training, the crewmen stripped. Those with cuts or scratches on hands and arms were rejected. The others dressed in two pairs of white coveralls, two pair of gloves, rubber and leather, cloth hats fastened down over hair, and rubbers over shoes. They wore masks furnishing their own oxygen for breathing.

At the fence the men found their tools already laid out at points nearest each tool's probable need. All the tools were long handled. Parts of the crew stepped inside the fence, into the direct rays, which then bathed their bodies. New men on this kind of job say they feel the rays pricking their skin. That seems to be nerves, because experienced men never feel anything.

Timekeeper Keeps Watch

A timekeeper watched them, checking how much of the rays each worker got. Presently he signaled one to come out. That man left the job, because he had received all the rays permissible on one day. One of the reserves took his place. So it went until the job was done. By that time every man's clothes were presumed to be covered with radioactive atoms. The crew went to a room where they stripped these clothes, washed and had their skin tested for radioactivity.

Some had radioactivity on their hands, the parts which had been closest to the "hot" apparatus. These had to scrub several times with special green soap and other chemicals. The amount of radioactivity permitted these workers is less than the natural radioactivity which everyone gets from the air at one mile altitude. Dust and air might get radioactive in the Hanford plants, and for this robot monitors detect the contamination long before it is dangerous. The robots blow whistles, ring bells and flash lights in warning.

Czech Paper Blames Atom For Shortage of Onions

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia.—Prace, the trade-union newspaper, reports many people in Czechoslovakia are buying heaps of onions to protect themselves against atomic radiation. Others are stocking up on vinegar to guard against gas attacks. Prace blamed such citizens, "insuring themselves against all eventualities" for current shortages of those two commodities. Bad onion harvest and insufficient vinegar production has nothing to do with the current shortage, the newspaper said.

The newspaper said a woman spread the rumor that the smell of onions helped counteract the effect of radiation after an atomic bomb explosion. "And so, people bought a quintal (220 pounds) of onions and put them under the bed." Another woman, Prace reported, gossiped that in case of a gas attack a handkerchief dipped in vinegar was a good thing to have. "And so these people have their larders full of vinegar bottles."

Other newspapers have reported an onion shortage.

8-Year-Old Wields Wrench, Knocks Out Home Prowler

SEATTLE, Wash.—An eight-year-old boy has captured his bandit. Robert Dixon was alone in his home at 4:30 a.m. when he heard someone attempting to force the front door. When this failed, the man broke a front window and started to climb in. Robert was waiting just inside, armed with a monkey wrench and a kitchen knife. Wham! He let the prowler have it over the head twice, and, for good measure, he took a slice at the man's hand with the knife. The prowler collapsed. A few minutes later the boy's parents returned. The prowler was still unconscious when police arrived.

Astonishing Results Produced by New Arthritis Treatment

NEW YORK, N. Y.—A new blood plasma treatment for arthritis victims is reported to be producing astonishing results. A group of patients crippled with rheumatoid arthritis for several years have been restored to normal buoyant life following the administration of plasma taken from mothers 48 hours after childbirth, it was reported.

The group, seven women and one man, told a tale of suffering for years, many of them spent in wheel chairs or lying helpless in bed. Then they demonstrated their recovery by a series of calisthenics, including rope jumping. The plasma method, which in many respects yields results even more striking than those obtained by cortisone and ACTH, was originated by Dr. Louis W. Granier, associate physician in charge of the arthritis clinic at the Queens general hospital, Jamaica, N. Y.

The most remarkable effect of the plasma, Dr. Granier reported, is its apparent long lasting effect. Whereas the effect of cortisone and ACTH wears off generally in a few days or weeks, the effect of plasma has so far appeared to last for as long as 24 months without recurrence of the disease. The plasma also appears to have other important advantages over cortisone and ACTH. One is the availability of the plasma in large amounts as compared with the two hormones, which are still relatively scarce—and therefore expensive. The other advantage lies in the fact that the patient does not have to be hospitalized.

Another advantage, is the complete absence of any kind of side effects, such as sometimes result from the prolonged use of cortisone and ACTH.

One-Man Strike Leaves Town in Timeless State

ROME, Italy.—The town of San Vito al Torre in northeastern Italy doesn't know what time it is—all because of one man. He is Ferdinando Miani, 70, sexton and church clock winder, who went on strike for a pay increase.

The town's clock on top of the belfry is stuck at 2:45. Laborers sleep late in the morning, husbands arrive home late for dinner. All this for Ferdinando's strike. Explaining why he asks a pay increase, Ferdinando said: "How can the mayor expect that a man of my age and skill should climb 250 steps daily for $1.10 a year?"

Dead Python Vindicates Worker Who 'Saw Snakes'

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Calif.—A number of San Francisco street cleaners still have the shakes. Recently a couple of cleaners tripped over a big, fat, twenty-foot python at the city dump. It was dead, sears and blisters indicating it had perished from burns received in a recent grass fire near the dump. Where the reptile had come from was not established. But after its surprised finders, Joe Diaz and Adolph Soldani, had turned it over to the fire department, they got the shakes. They realized it had been in the vicinity for at least two months and perhaps longer.

About two months before Joe Mortesini, working at the dump, came staggering up to fellow employees to gasp: "A snake, a big green snake, biggest green snake I ever seen, he chased me and I threw rocks at him and he kept chasing me." Diaz and Soldani and other workmen remembered that Mortesini had quit his job after being kidded by other workers. That gave the gang working on the dump the shakes. City employees recalled also that a half dozen dogs had disappeared recently near the dump. This might explain the sleek appearance of the snake.

Electronic Brain to Help Develop Guided A-Missiles

PRINCETON, N. J.—A $1,400,000 electronic brain designed to help develop guided missiles such as a rocket-borne atom bomb has been unveiled by the navy. It is the largest and most accurate electronic computer ever built to evaluate the performance of guided missiles and to aid in the air protection of American cities. Officials at the R.C.A. laboratories, who built the computer for the navy, said it is expected to "save many millions of dollars in the design of guided missiles and also solve many riddles encountered in the air defense of our cities."

$1,500 Venice Lace Cover Adorns a Holiday Table

NEW YORK—What was likely the most elaborate of the many table settings exhibited in New York stores during the Thanksgiving season was in Lord & Taylor's linen shop. The cloth, ten feet long and fashioned of point de Venice lace, was on a table set for thirty-six diners. Originally made for the United States Embassy in China, the cover, with four dozen matching napkins, was offered for sale at $1,500.

Churchill Supports Attlee

THERE is a certain vein of similarity running through the lives of the two men who conferred regarding the course to be followed by the British and American governments toward future war or peace. Prime Minister Attlee and President Truman both are left-of-center liberals, both have spent much of their lives in government, both have tried to work for the less privileged sector of the British and American people.

Neither is considered a strong man in his own country, neither is a man of much imagination, neither has the force, the flair, the genius of two others who conferred a great deal during the past decade—Franklin Roosevelt and Winston Churchill. However, Clement Attlee, in his quiet way and backed by a powerful labor party, has put across a schedule of socialist legislation which staid old Britons never dreamed could happen. And while these reforms were passed in the face of vigorous conservative opposition, nevertheless, Attlee today has one important advantage over President Truman. He has the support of his opponent, Winston Churchill, when it comes to foreign policy.

Churchill Advised Trip

Furthermore, he has the support of most of the Conservative party. On the other hand, Truman of late has had the bitter, sometimes vitriolic opposition of a majority of Republican senators in regard to almost every foreign-policy move he has made.

Attlee not only was careful to get Churchill's support before he left London, but Churchill even advised him on how to force Truman's hand regarding the trip. What happened was that immediately after the Prime Minister heard of Truman's atom-bomb statement, he called on Churchill. Though political opponents, the two served in the same coalition war cabinet together and are personal friends. At one time Attlee was Churchill's deputy prime minister, and handled British domestic affairs while Churchill was busy with the war.

With this background of friendship, it is not hard to understand why Attlee should have consulted Churchill or that Churchill advised him that he should take the trip to Washington. Furthermore, Churchill suggested that inasmuch as Truman might be opposed to the trip, Attlee should make a premature announcement of his plan—thus making it impossible for Truman to decline. This was why news of Attlee's plans prematurely leaked from London.

Churchill also promised Attlee that no effort would be made to overthrow the Labor government while he was away.

Attlee's Tory Background

Though Truman and Attlee have much in common politically, Attlee came from more conservative surroundings. His father was a Tory lawyer and president of the British equivalent to the American Bar Association. After studying at England's ritziest schools and being admitted to the bar, however, young Attlee suddenly became a social worker. At the age of 24 he went to work and lived in London's house, one of London's workmen's districts, and he has made his life with labor ever since. Unlike Mr. Truman, who frequently lapses into Missouri mule-drawl language, Attlee's diction is erudite, cultured, sometimes poetic. In fact, he has written some widely quoted poems, one of them regarding his own workmen's district, which reads: "I hear the feet of many men who go their way . . . Through streets that have no pity, and streets where men decay."

Repairs Own Pipes

Attlee is married to Violet Helen Millar, and for many years in a lived with their four children in a modest house in a London suburb where Attlee did a little gardening and repaired his own pipes in his own carpenter's shop. Unlike Truman, Attlee is a halting, none-to-forgetful speaker. When he speaks impromptu, he hesitates and repeats. The President, on the other hand, is at his best when speaking off the cuff. In conferences, Attlee tries to win his point by charm and persuasion. The President sometimes gets impatient and petulant.

When Foreign Minister Molotov visited Truman a few days after Roosevelt's death while en route to the new President conference, the new President spent 45 minutes bawling him out. There have been many occasions such a scolding. In Europe, Attlee and his government are considered among the most vigorous of all opponents to communism. The Russians predicted that, in case the Russians overran Europe, the Attlee cabinet would be the first to suffer.

Fantastic Possibility

For a horse to have twins is not unusual. But this appolloa mare is shown with twins, one of which is a horse foal and the other (right) a donkey foal. Don L. Steadman, Crescent, Utah, owner of the mare, says she was bred to a palomino stallion at the same time that she occupied a pasture with a small jackass owned by Steadman. Mr. Steadman says: "We suppose the stallion is the father of the horse, and the donkey is the father of the mule". He calls them a "Morse" and a "Hule." Dr. John MacLeod of Cornell University, said that under certain conditions such a birth is a "fantastic possibility."

Lights on Farm Machinery Will Cut Down Accidents

Highway authorities through the country have urged that farmers have bright headlights and taillight on farm machinery. Bright lights will help you avoid accidents when driving farm machinery on highways at dusk or after dark this fall and winter.

Safety engineers recommend lights that can be seen at least from a distance of 500 feet.

Scanty Fertilizing Only Crop Starter

Soil Building Practices Needed for Best Results

Scanty fertilizer applications like a shot in the arm a doctor's patient. The treatment encourages the patient to recover enough to take more nourishment. But in case of scanty fertilizer applications, the "crop starter" gives the plant quick early growth and strong root system, but fails to provide enough nourishment to carry the crop through to healthy, yielding maturity.

Putting sufficient fertilizer in ground isn't a cure-all. You have to be sure the soil is in condition to deliver all the plant nutrients, moisture and oxygen the crop needs to produce maximum crop response. Fertilizer has to be teamed up

To do all season job of feeding a growing plant, the farmer must have a reserve of nutrients. Otherwise, the plant will starve in midsummer.

Other soil building practices. To include practices that will reduce damaged soil structure, improve drainage and make the soil more and build tilth and water-holding capacity. When tilth, drainage and ventilation are good, crop roots do their job of feeding the growing plant.

You can fit the soil for maximum returns from fertilizer by building up its organic matter content. This can best be done by growing deep-rooted legumes regularly in the rotation. The legume roots and tops add organic matter and make a thicker layer of soil. A high in organic matter has plenty water-storing capacity.

Illinois Farmers Enjoy Good Year, Reports Show

Farmers attending the 36th annual meeting of the Illinois agricultural association were agreed 1950 has been generous to Illinois.

Farmers in every section of the state agreed that corn, soybeans and other grain crop yields for the year were satisfactory. Many reported corn yields better than expected view of the anticipated damage from corn borers.

Cattle feeders, hog raisers, growers and dairymen also reported generally good years.

Fruit growers, however, reported peach yields were very light. Said the apple crop was only half of normal.

Illinois livestock producers reported a state wide agency coordinating the work of livestock marketing co-ops, reported that marketing companies handled animals valued at approximately $150,000,000 the year.

Approximately 5,000 farmers attended the meeting.

Surplus Potatoes

These hereford steers of Kittitas valley region, Ellensburg, Washington, are eye-bred for deep in surplus potatoes are being used in the region to fatten cattle. The ranchers pay two dollars a ton to the government and receive the potatoes dry. They can't sift back into commercial market.

Cows Don't Like Cold Water, Specialist Says

Ivan H. Lougary, dairy specialist of the Wyoming agricultural extension service, points out that cows will drink more water when the water temperature is above 40 degrees.

"Water consumption has a influence on milk production," says, "therefore, when cows drink the needed amount of water it is too cold, milk production declines."

F.F.A. Star Regional Farmers Are Selected Named for Achievements In Vocational Agriculture

Three Future Farmers of America members were named regional star farmers for 1950 for outstanding achievement in agriculture. Each received a check for $500.

Budd Ott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Ott, Bangor, Pa., was named star farmer of the North Atlantic region. His activities include operating a 300-acre dairy farm in partnership with his parents. The farm features 70 head of holstein of which 44 are in producing age.

Ott

Rolland E. Turnow, 20, another regional winner, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Turnow, Curtice, O. He is farming in one-third partnership with his father and brother. They operate two farms totaling 812 acres near Toledo. Major crops are sugar beets, tomatoes and cucumbers. They have a small herd of 12 dairy cattle and raise some grain and feed crops.

Turnow

Paul Crawford, 20 of Moore, Utah, star farmer of the Pacific region, operates a large ranch in partnership with his father, featuring the production of high quality registered hereford cattle, range beef cattle and a few dairy cows.

Poultry Outlook Depends On Government Decision

What the government does—or fails to do—to get increased meat production next year will greatly influence incomes of poultry farmers. This is the view taken by farm officials at the annual agricultural-outlook conference which was sponsored by the agriculture department. A government price-support program could be expected to boost production of hogs above present prospective levels.

The more pork there is, the lower the prices of both meat and poultry products are likely to be. They are highly inter-changeable in the American diet, and hence compete for consumers' dollars.

The gross income of poultrymen next year is likely to be somewhat higher than this year, the department said. But the net income—returns left after payment of production costs—will not rise as much as gross income.

Sure Proof

Russia-First variant, as related at the Cafe de la paix: The Soviet politician Malenkov paid a visit to Premier Stalin to report that it had just been verified that Adam and Eve were Russians. "What if the Voice of America calls this merely a piece of Moscow propaganda when we announce it?" the Premier demanded. "What definite proof have we?" "The best in the world," Malenkov replied. "Adam and Eve had no clothes. They had no dwelling. All they had to eat was apples, and they believed they were in Paradise. They must have been Russians."

FANCY PANTS

Composer Ludwig von Beethoven was once invited to a dinner party by a noblewoman who delighted in showing off her artistic friends. She glanced at his shabby attire and said: "Of course you won't come dressed like this. It's a very important party. I must see your best clothes." Beethoven flushed in anger. Then he promised: "You will see my best clothes, madam."

On the night of the dinner, Beethoven did not arrive at the appointed time. The hostess waited nervously for her prize guest to appear. An hour passed. Then there was a knock on the door and a messenger entered, carrying a package. The noblewoman opened it. Inside was a full dress suit and a card which read: "Madam, these are my best clothes. I hope they will make your party a success."

Nothing Serious

The man and woman entered a New York taxi and told the driver where they wanted to go. He raced off wildly, went careening down the streets, swaying, bumping, and giving them several anxious moments. Noticing their concern, he shouted over his shoulder.

"Don't worry, folks. I ain't going to land in no hospital, especially after spending a year in one overseas."

"How dreadful," answered the lady, sympathetically. "You certainly must have been seriously wounded."

"No," the cabbie replied cheerfully, "never got a scratch. I was a mental case."

INCONSISTENT CUSS

A guard from the lunatic asylum rushed up to a farmer on the road and said, "I'm looking for an escaped lunatic. Did he pass this way?"

The farmer puffed thoughtfully on his pipe. "What did he look like?" he asked.

"He's short and he weighs about 350 pounds."
The farmer looked at him in amazement. "How can a man be short and still weigh 350 pounds?"

"Don't be silly," retorted the guard testily. "I told you he was crazy."

Beastly Mistake

In one of the large Los Angeles department stores a portly dowager, panting Pekingese under her arm, paused at the drinking fountain flanking the elevators. The elevator starter stopped clicking his castanets in amazement—the lady was giving her pet a drink.

"Madam," he said, "Please! the fountains are placed here for our patrons."
"Really?" she asked, putting down her dog. "I'm so sorry. I thought they were for the employees!"

A Better Man

"At her request you gave up drinking?"
"Yes."
"And you stopped smoking for the same reason?"

"I did."
"And it was for her that you gave up dancing, card parties and billiards?"
"Correct."
"Then why didn't you marry her?"
"Well, after all this reforming I decided I could do better."

TRUE TO FORM

A shipwreck cast upon a desert island two Americans, two Israelites, two Irishmen and two Englishmen. Forty-eight years later the two Americans had subdivided the island and erected skyscrapers and baseball stadiums; the two Israelites had financed them; the two Irishmen had gained complete control of the police department—and the two Englishmen still were waiting to be introduced.

Lesson for December 31, 1950

SCRIPTURE: John 15:1-10; Galatians 2:20, Philippians 3:8-16. DEVOTIONAL READING: John 15:1-12.

HOW does a Christian grow? During the past three months this has been our underlying question. Now at the year's end we come back to the point where we began: to Jesus Christ. When all is said and done, the best way to describe a Christian's life is not "religious" or "spiritual" or even "godly," much less "pious." The best way to describe it is to put the fullest possible meaning into the single word "CHRISTIAN."

"I Have Been Captured"

Your hymnal you may find a hymn by the author of the better-known "O Love that will not let me go." It begins with these lines:

"Make me a captive, Lord, And then I shall be free . . ."

That sounds upside-down. Captive and free are opposites, aren't they? Not when God is the captor! The American translation of Phil. 3:12 says, "I have been captured by Jesus Christ." Paul's word was a strong one; it was the Greek word used when police or soldiers take a man and tie him and lead him off.

People who have gone far in music would understand this. Take two young people, both of whom know something about music, maybe both of them in the same music school. One of them has been captured, so to speak, by music, the other has not. That is to say, in plainer language, music has "got hold" of one of them. There is an irresistible fascination about music for him, every day is too short for the study and practice he wants to do. The other one goes through his lessons, but his heart is not in it.

We need no prophet to tell us which of the two will make a good musician. So it is with the Christian faith. One who has never been captured by Christ may play around with the Christian faith, as the uncaptured music student may play around the music school; but his heart will not be in it.

Name any saint you like in the whole history of Christendom, whether famous like St. Francis or Ballington Booth, or known only to a few, like one of your own family perhaps; you always find that this person, whose Christianity was a living and powerful thing, called Christ Master, and meant it.

"Christ Lives in Me"
THERE is a more intimate way of putting this. It is true, the Christian has been "captured" by Christ. But this would still leave him on the outside. Christ lives in the Christian, as Paul said. For some people this may seem strange and mystical, but it can be understood by any one who wants to know what Christian living can mean.

Christ in the Christian means that in every situation, in every condition, at every turn of the road, in the everyday choices and conversations, the Christian will be as much like Christ as he possibly can. This is one point on which Christians of every name and church agree. Catholic or Protestant, conservative or liberal, our differences evaporate when our hearts are warm, when we try to think what the ideal Christian life is.

High-level Christians from all over Christendom would all come out with the same story that Paul put into classic words: I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me.

"Abide"
"ABIDE in me and I in you," said Jesus. That is a command and a promise. But the command comes first. Whether we think of the Christian as "in" Christ or Christ as "in" the Christian, it should be a long story, not a short one. Is the sunshine in the flower or the flower in the sunshine? Well, both. Put the flower in the sunshine and keep it there, and the sunshine will get into the flower. The sun makes the flower, not the flower the sun. Yet unless the flower stays in the sunshine, the sun can do nothing for it.

Christ never yet battered his way into any one's life. To know him as an occasional visitor is doubtless better than never knowing him at all. But friendship is far better than acquaintance, and to know him best one must know him always.

But the welcoming heart has him always for a guest. What 1951 will bring, no man can tell; but no friend of Christ will be afraid.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS

Welcome the New Year With a Festive Party, In an Informal Style

WHETHER YOU PLAN to await the New Year or to hold open house on the first day of the year, an informal type party is best. Either occasion will last for several hours, and you'll want to have the kind of food that can be set on the table for eating and nibbling when it's convenient.

Cold succulent slices of turkey, roast beef or ham are ideal for the main platter. Serve with this tossed or molded salad, assorted relishes, bread and rolls.

The dessert can take the form of a festive, creamy punch to be served in low mugs or punch cups with stick cinnamon stirrers, salted nuts.

Make your preparations in advance since nothing needs cooking just before serving. You'll appreciate the last minute ease of a party meal thus managed.

Red Cabbage Salad (Serves 8)

- 3 cups shredded red cabbage
- 1 cup diced celery
- 3 tablespoons oil
- 4 tablespoons minced parsley
- 1/2 cup minced watercress
- 3 tablespoons tomato juice
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Cover cabbage with water for 1 hour. Drain and add celery. Mix oil, parsley, watercress, tomato juice, minced onion, salt, and pepper together thoroughly and pour over cabbage and celery. Mix well, chill and serve.

Frozen Pineapple Salad (Serves 8)

- 2 cups diced pineapple
- 24 cherries, quartered
- 24 marshmallows, cut into sixths
- 8 tablespoons confectioners sugar
- 6 ounces cream cheese
- 1/2 cup salad dressing
- 1/2 cup cream, whipped
- 2 tablespoons vanilla

Combine pineapple, cherries, marshmallows, and confectioners sugar. Blend well. Thin cream cheese with salad dressing. Mix with fruit. Fold whipped cream and vanilla into fruit mixture. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze at coldest temperature just until cream mixture is firm. Unmold and serve with additional salad dressing or whipped cream. Garnish with pineapple wedges and cherries.

Raisin-Bran Muffins (Makes 9 medium muffins)

- 1 cup ready-to-eat bran
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 cup sifted flour
- 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup sugar or molasses
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons soft shortening
- 1/2 cup seedless raisins

Combine bran and milk in mixing bowl. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; add to soaked bran with sugar or molasses, egg, shortening and raisins. Stir only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans 3/4 full. Bake in pre-heated moderately hot oven (400°) about 25 minutes.

LYNN SAYS: Seasonings are Essential To Glamorizing Foods

Rolls for the holiday can be made prettier if you frost them while still warm with confectioners' sugar icing and dot with candied fruits.

Toasted cheese sandwiches are a favorite that will be more so if you make them with cheese plus a deviled ham spread.

Have you tried dusting peeled sliced apples and putting them between thin pork chops as a stuffing? Very good flavor!

Quick supper can be made from chicken livers sauteed with chopped onion and green pepper. Add soured cream and heat ever so slowly so the cream won't curdle.

Plain gelatin plus fruit is a good base for a salad, but it's even more flavorful if you use ginger ale in place of water for the gelatin mixture.

Try wrapping oysters in bacon and heating them in tomato soup which has been seasoned with green pepper and a dash of tabasco sauce. Serve on a bed of fluffy rice.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Youngsters who spill food (and can you name one who doesn't!) should have place mats that can be thrown away when they're soiled. And they can have them if you save empty cardboard cake boxes and cut the mats out of them.

If you use a pail of clean, dry

Quality Pasture Cuts Swine Feeding Costs

Feed Costs Reportedly Can Be Cut 30 Per Cent

Hog feeding costs can be cut down as much as 30 per cent with high quality legume pasture, reports the middle west soil improvement committee, in citing a recent statement by University of Wisconsin animal husbandry specialists.

These specialists point out that an acre of good pasture will save 1,500 pounds of grain and 500 to 700 pounds of protein in fattening hogs for market. They say that if you don't want to push your pigs they can eat enough pasture to save 30 per cent in feeding costs. And even Good pasture provides hogs with high quality, low cost protein. It gives them needed vitamins and minerals, particularly calcium.

If they are fed all the grain they will eat, pasture will save at least 15 per cent in feed.

Among high protein pastures are alfalfa, red clover, Ladino clover and rye for late fall and early spring.

How big a pasture yield you get depends on how well the legumes are fertilized. Agronomists recommend adding phosphate and potash to new legume seedings. They recommend top-dressing older established fields in summer or fall with phosphate and potash to help keep the growth thick and vigorous. Top-dressed fertilizer helps the legumes come through the winter in better condition. Moreover, the plant food is there in the soil ready to be used by the roots when spring growth starts.

Aberdeen-Angus Increase in Breeder's Popularity

An increase in the popularity of Aberdeen-Angus cattle among breeders throughout the United States was noted during the past year.

Cattlemen reported that registrations of purebred Angus moved upward 26 per cent this year as compared with 1949 and transfers advanced 32 per cent.

A total of 110,442 Angus were entered in the registry records during the fiscal year. This compares with 87,512 Angus recorded last year and only 38,737 a decade ago.

At public auction sales and by private treaty, 98,591 Angus went to new owners while 74,826 changed hands in 1949. A strong demand for breeding stock marked the 32 per cent upturn in ownership transfers of Angus cattle.

During the past year, 2,431 new breeders were recorded by the Angus breeders' association.

Durable Feeder

Recommended for its toughness and durability the above feeder can be constructed economically. Materials required: one piece of 1 by 6 lumber 7 1/4 feet long, a 1 by 4 of 8-foot length, another that is 6 feet long, and a 1 by 2 that is a half-inch longer than 4 feet; a half pound each of eight-penny and four-penny nails; one piece of masonite 1/2-inch tempered hardboard 4-feet long and 1 1/4 feet wide. Any farmer who is handy with tools can easily assemble the feeder.

Use Safe Eat Poison — Fortified red squill, either powder or liquid form, is the safest rat poison. Some other rat poisons are extremely dangerous to other animals and to humans, he warns.

Government Removes Eggs From Price Support List

Many agricultural workers throughout the midwest are anxiously awaiting the outcome of the removal of eggs from the list of government price supported agricultural commodities, scheduled for January 1.

Many poultrymen believe it is probable that egg prices will fluctuate considerably when supports are removed, but will steady in a short time.

Good grass is the cheapest and best food for a dairy cow. Grazing must be supplemented with hay to supply all the energy the cow will get every day.
