The Nelva exchange serves the erritory west of O'Donnell, including Wells. Newmoore, and part of the T-Bar area.

Mrs. Davis and her late husband. Bill, purchased the local exchange n April 1945 from Mr and Mrs Huff who moved to Colorado. The tocal exchange spent some $10,000 in extra equipment to care for the tie in of two rural exchanges.

The Aten and Nelms exchanges are entirely automatic and may dial each other without going thru the C'Donnell erchange by dialing No. 7 and then the number desired. Some 400 millies are now served by the three exchanges. Recently the City of O'Donnell ed to see that they get in to the granted a small increase for local center.

Man Is Restrained From Marrying Again

DETROIT - Some repeat performances can be avoided by the use of a little foresight. A Detroit man found a way out. On obtaining his second divorce he made a special request.

"Your Honor," he pleaded, "there are just too many goodlooking women around. Can't you fix it so I'll be safe for just a while?"

The court then ordered a special rider on his decree restraining him from another marriage for two

Wednesday Nov. 24th, 1954 How Town in Texas Obtained Its Name Beats Bugs Fightin

BUG TUSSLE, Texas-The story of how Bug Tussle acquired its name ran in a big newspaper and started a nationwide request for souvenirs from the Texas town. The demand is abating, but Bug Tussle still gets some strange requests for souvenirs.

Here's how the town was named: Two old-timers, dissatisfied with the town's former name, were arguing about a new one. They noticed a couple of tumble bugs fighting. "Look at those Bugs Tussle!" exclaimed one. Right then the town got its name.

The operator of the town's general store, R. B. Thompson, says: "People mostly just drive by any-more. I guess I let Bug Tussle's big claim for fame get by me. I intended to do something about it, but I just never could get start-

"I reckon I got letters from a dozen states," recalls Mr. Thompson. "They all wanted a souvenir from Bug Tussle. One lady wrote that she had been trying for years to get a six-inch-long hat pin. She was certain I could find some for

LOS ANGELES-The first naunicipal recognition of man's inalienable right to drink a cup of coffee during working hours on the bosses' time is working out fine for both the City of Los Angeles and its 15,000 employees, according to Samuel Leask, Jr., administrative officer.

Coffee 'Sneak' Becomes

Break' in Los Angeles

Los Angeles became the first U.S. city to legalize coffee breaks for municipal workers when it passed an ordinance authorizing employees to take 15 minutes each morning and afternoon at no loss of pay or time to themselves. Previously, city workers had been permitted to take such breaks but the time was deducted from their lunch periods when-and if-employees reported it.

According to Leask, replacement of the coffee "sneak" with the regulated coffee break has been a decided "plus" operation for the

The purpose of making the coffee breaks legal and regulated was to increase work output and thus promote efficiency and economy in the conduct of city business." he said. "After several months of observation, it certainly seems to be working out that way.

"Just like the coffee break in offices and factories, our city rest periods have ended time-wasting 'sneak outs' and other abuses which were costly to taxpayers."

No Speeches But Candidate Wins

RIPLEY, Miss.—The new mayor of this small town, Mrs. Ruth Street, 54, was elected without asking for a single vote. During the campaign, she was ill in a hospital and made no campaign speeches.

She had been appointed to the post to fill out the unexpired term of her husband. Mayor John B. Street, who died in office. Then her friends urged her to run when the term was over for the office in her own right.

After she attended a few aldermen's meetings, she said that the board of aldermen in session is just like a missionary society-they just talk and do

But she hastened to add that the aldermen cooperate fine. She would like it if they served refreshments during sessions. Mrs. Street is Mississippi's only woman mayor.
