Two Revivals To Start Here

First Baptist Revival Will Start August 22nd

Rev. L. A. Doyle, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Floydada, will do the preaching for us. Rev. Doyle is a faithful preacher of the Word, a hard worker and you will enjoy hearing this man of God. The song service will be led by Mr. Russell of Plainview who is at this time the music director of the First Baptist Church at Tahoka. He is a good music director and you will enjoy singing with this splendid young man.

We will be very happy to have all the singers and workers of other churches who can do so to be with us in this revival effort. A glad hand, a cordial welcome and a Bible message awaits you at the First Baptist Church. — J. Mat Hale.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Scott and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Clayton visited at Carlsbad Caverns last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Teeter and baby of Knox City visited here over the week end.

H. S. Vankirk and family of Denison visited their mother Mrs. J. F. Warren over week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Huy of San Antonio visited her mother Mrs. Chas. Baker last week.

Mrs. Jack Reed is attending a family reunion at Seymour this week.

Gold Sox Drop Welch Game 3 to 1 Sunday

The Gold Sox Sunday dropped their second game of the playoff to Welch 3 to 1. Russell pitched for Welch and struck out 14 batters. Pierce, after allowing 3 on base in the last of the 8th, retired the next three batters in order without allowing a run. The next game will determine the champion ship.

Harmony Will Attend School Here Say Officials

According to School Supt. S. F. Johnson, a contract between the Harmony School and O'Donnell has been agreed upon whereby students will attend school here. The first 4 grades will be taught at Harmony; there are 68 students in the district. Recently the election contest suit was rendered in favor of O'Donnell by the District Court at Lamesa, but the judgement will probably be appealed. Regardless of the final outcome of the suit, the above arrangement will be binding for this school year, officials said this week.

Mrs. E. E. Hood Dies Here Friday Morning

Funeral services for Mrs. E. E. Hood, age 79, were conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist Church of Silverton. Mrs. Hood passed away at 7 a. m. Friday here at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Wallace Rains. A more complete obituary will appear next week.

Azilee McKee of San Angelo, grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Smith returned home Saturday and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hays returned with her to visit.

Mrs. Roy Payton and little son of Roswell has been visiting her parents Rev. and Mrs. Hale.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Harris and daughter are vacationing in Colorado.

Mrs. Betty Jo Romines of Slaton is visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Simpson.

Mrs. Harvey Jordan and sons and Mrs. Cox and daughters left Monday for the Cita Canyon Encampment.

Sunday visitors of the James Crumleys were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Weeks of Patricia and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Warren of Lamesa.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin McMillan and a sister of Mrs. McMillan, Mrs. L. J. Peary of Levelland have returned from Desdemona where they attend the Old Settlers Reunion here.

James Mahurin of Tech, Nancy Wyatt of Tahoka, and Jeanette Fortner of Graham spent week end with uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Line and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Gray and family enjoyed a vacation trip to Palacios and Corpus reporting lots of fish.

Compress To Start Building Program

Work will start soon on a 30,000 sq. ft. warehouse at the Trinity Warehouse and Compress. This will take care of about 3,000 bales in addition to the present 6,000 bale storage. Material is arriving daily for the job.

Jake Gates evidently drew first blood in the cotton season showing a hand full of open cotton bolls as white as a maiden's heart.

8 Blocks are being paved in the south of O'Donnell with more to probably be paved.

See our complete line of fishing tackle and supplies at H and S Auto and Home Supply.

Francis Eugene Barnett recently enlisted in the Navy and he is now taking boot training at San Diego, Cal. Eugene is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Barnett and finished high school here last spring. He formerly worked at the Rex theatre for 3 years; he was an honor scout while here. Eugene is a bright boy and O'Donnell is plumb proud of him.

MISS TODD WEBS AT KRESS

A double ring ceremony was read in the home of Rev. Russell Pogue pastor of the Baptist Church of Kress at 8 p. m. August 6th for Miss Captola Todd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Todd of O'Donnell and Eron Wilson of Kress.

Those attending the couple were F. W. Seckinger of Kress, brother in law of the groom and Miss Margie Fleming, friend of the bride.

The bride chose a navy blue crepe dress with pink and black accessories. The brides maid was dressed in aqua with white accessories.

Mrs. Wilson attended high school at Tahoka and O'Donnell finishing here in 1945. Mr. Wilson attended school at DeLeon and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilson of Gorman.

After a brief honeymoon the couple will be at home three miles southeast of Kress where Mr. Wilson is farming.

Wayne Vaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Vaughn of Pie Town S. M. and grandson of the W. E. Vermillion, suffered a back injury while working in a lumbering camp; he is in an Albuquerque hospital.

APPENDICITIS KILLS MANY YOUNG PEOPLE

Sixty Texans died as the result of appendicitis during the first 5 months of 1948 according to figures released by the Texas State Department of Health.

This figure does not appear large when compared to the deaths from cancer, tuberculosis and heart disease but with the knowledge that these 66 Texans died needlessly, the figure is tragically high.

More than anything else Dr. Cox said he would attribute fatality in appendicitis to the complacent attitude of the people concerning the disease. It is not put in its proper perspective. Too often people have the vain hope that the prolonged pain in their stomach will wear off. He cautioned that the stomach which lasts more than three or four hours should be considered a serious matter.

Appendicitis killed 60,000 people in the United States and Canada last year. Young adults are especially susceptible to attacks and appendicitis is a leading cause of death among children and adolescents.

Operative techniques have been improved to the extent that an unruptured appendix can be removed with great safety. It is there fore apparent that the negligence in appendicitis rests with the patient who fails to seek prompt medical attention. It is imperative that the patient be quiet until the doctor comes as moving about disturbs the inflamed parts. He strongly urged against taking laxatives in cases of suspected appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Adams and family of Artesia are visiting their parents the L. D. Proctora

Moscow Talks Provide Peace Hope; Congress Eyes Inflation, Housing; Red Spy Scare Startles Country

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

MOSCOW: Conference

Practically all that anyone knew during the initial stages of the Moscow conference between Josef Stalin and the ambassadors of three western nations was that there was a conference.

The opacity of a thick censorship ban overlaid any details of what was happening.

Nevertheless, the impression was that the talks fathered by the desperation inherent in the Berlin crisis, might be the first step in easing off the strain between Russia and the western powers.

Some information that slipped through the secrecy wall indicated that both sides might be willing to make some concessions in order to further negotiations between Russia and the U. S., Great Britain and France.

The talks with Stalin and Molotov were reported to have produced at least one new suggestion—that prior to another Big Four conference there should be a meeting of the U. S., Russian, British and French deputy foreign ministers.

Such a conference would, theoretically, be accompanied by a gradual relaxation of the restrictions which the Soviets have clamped on the western areas of Berlin and which brought the East-West relations to their present boiling point.

Although it might be the height of optimism, Communist Russia being what it is, there was some faint hope that such a piecemeal lifting of the Berlin blockade might bring about a provisional meeting of minds on the subject of German currency and other irritating issues.

At the worst, such a discussion at least would tend to act as a brake against a drift to war and provide a breathing space for talks with Moscow on more basic controversies.

There was, however, still another interpretation of the discussions between Stalin and the three western ambassadors, Russia, having carried its Berlin blockade virtually to the ultimate point short of war, might be thinking that it had brought the western powers to a position where they would have to accede to Soviet demands if they wished to avoid conflict.

CONGRESS: Unwilling

Probably the only accomplishment of the special summer session of congress called by President Truman was to provide both parties with a bigger and better supply of political ammunition for the election campaign.

Democrats would be able to say that the GOP congress simply sat back on its haunches and did nothing about the pressing problems of inflation, housing and other national issues.

Republicans could counter with the assertion that, within the bounds of their political beliefs and judgment of what is best for the nation, they did all they could under the circumstances. To that they probably would add the stock argument that the whole thing is the fault of the 16-year Democratic regime and that the ultimate solution must lie in the election of a Republican administration this November.

One result of the special session that might be classed as favorable was that it served to sharpen the rough edges of the wide cleavage between the two parties over domestic problems and give the voters a more clear-cut, definitive idea of what they will be deciding on November 2.

Despite President Truman's laborious diatribes against congress and his repeated warnings that controls alone will curb the now dangerous inflation, in the final analysis it remained foolish to believe that the GOP congress ever would take the action he recommended. Republicans simply do not approve of that method of handling the nation's economy.

Republican congressmen agreed only to string along with legislation serving to reimpose consumer credit controls, with some limitation on bank credits, and to speed action on a watered-down housing program which does little except ease credit terms for home builders.

The anti-poll tax measure, blocked for a week by a droning filibuster by southern Democrats, finally withered and blew away in dust.

TAXATION: 125 Billion

By the end of this year individual taxpayers in the U. S. will have paid nearly 125 billion dollars in direct personal taxes, according to a survey entitled "Domestic Consumer Markets" prepared by the National Industrial Conference Board.

Last year, the report says, Americans paid more in personal taxes than they spent for new homes, cars, furniture and medical care.

'Then There Was ...'

Whittaker Chambers, a senior editor of Time magazine and an admitted former member of the Communist party, got a load off his chest when he told the house un-American activities committee the names of a few more higher echelon government officials who had participated in the notorious Washington spy ring of a decade ago. His testimony included the names of Alger Hiss, former state department official; Nathan Witt, former attorney for NLRB, and Lee Pressman, former CIO general counsel.

ESPIONAGE: Dragon Seed

The dragon seeds of international espionage sown during the war suddenly had begun to bloom with a vengeance and the nation's capital seemed to be overgrown with spies and rumors of spies.

First stone was cast by Miss Elizabeth Bentley, self-confessed courier for Soviet agents, who revealed that much of her information had come from sources in official government positions.

She showed no hesitancy in naming names, among which were those of Nathan G. Silvermaster, board of economic warfare and war assets administration official; William W. Remington, former commerce department official, and Alger Hiss, former state department official active in the establishment of the United Nations.

There was no visible proof that any of the persons she implicated ever had furnished information to the Soviet espionage ring, although some had Communist backgrounds. As a matter of fact, the FBI reported that it had spent more than three million dollars in an investigation of the same matter months prior to the current excitement. The G-men finally gave it up because of lack of documentary proof.

But congressional investigations were under way in both the senate and house. Testimony included the usual flamboyant accusations and recriminations but failed to produce any concrete evidence.

Rep. Karl Mundt (Rep., S. D.), chairman of the house un-American activities committee, added to the national impact of the affair by asserting that there is "good reason to believe a Communist spy ring is operating in Washington right now."

His committee was investigating, he said, although the public hearings so far had dealt only with the testimony that a Red espionage system was at work in the U. S. during the war.

COTTON: Mechanized

Last of the great American farm commodities to remain essentially a man-mule crop, cotton finally is becoming mechanized, thus eliminating the necessity of maintaining vast armies of laborers to meet the two peak labor periods of the crop cycle.

Mechanization is one of the major steps in the effort of cotton people from Virginia to California to achieve lower production costs. To the 12 1/2 million people in 18 states who derive all or a substantial part of their income from cotton it is of paramount importance that they keep their crop competitive cost-wise.

The answer lies, to a great extent, in mechanization. Thinning and weeding equipment and harvesting machines are revamping the farm picture in the South.

The mechanical cotton picker is capable of performing the work of 40 to 50 human pickers, varying with weather conditions, land surface, and other factors.

Typical result of mechanization was the experience of a Mississippi farmer who used a flame cultivator to control weeds at a cost of 50 cents an acre at the same time human choppers were costing $5.

Of course, complete mechanization of cotton will not materialize overnight. National Cotton council, representing the entire industry, reports that in 1947 less than 3 per cent of the crop could be classed as entirely mechanized. A considerable portion of the remaining crop, however, was in various stages of mechanization.

RELIGION

World Council

"To justify the ways of God to man" was John Milton's expressed purpose for writing his monolithic epic poem of the Reformation, "Paradise Lost."

Academically Milton succeeded in providing that justification for his own and an unknowable number of future generations of Christians. But since the 16th century days of Milton human society has turned an increasingly cold cheek to the spiritual values preached by every great Christian since Paul.

Particularly since the outset of the 20th century man's attention has been claimed more and more by the dramatic power of materialism which has been brought into full play as a result of this technological economy with its assembly lines, power politics and tentative wars.

Thus, the problem now is not so much how to justify God's ways to man as it is how to justify man's society in the eyes of God. And if, as many churchmen believe, no such justification is possible, then how to work a reasonable and beneficial change in the society which man have wrought.

It is that problem which the World Council of Churches composed of 148 Protestant and Orthodox churches from 40 nations, will endeavor to meet squarely at its first world assembly in Amsterdam August 22 to September 4.

Four hundred and fifty church leaders — laymen and clergymen alike — are determined, among other things, "to assess the strengths and weaknesses of present-day Christendom" and "to define a basis of common principle upon which Christians can cooperate for world order."

Under the conference theme, "Man's Disorder and God's Design," the delegates will attack such questions as: How to infuse more spirituality into our mechanized society without advocating the destruction of all mechanization? What action can the church take among its members to aid in establishment of world order and what is the church's answer to the amoral power politics of the present day?

If these are tough questions, the World Council of Churches is likely to prove itself spiritually tough and realistic enough to go a long way toward providing some of the answers.

Heave Ho

Despite the impression you might have received from reading newspaper accounts of the Olympics, American athletes were not the only ones who took part in the games. This straining gentleman, for instance, is Imry Nemeth of Hungary who won the hammer throw with a heave of 183 feet, 11 1/2 inches.

HOLY LAND: Optimism

Although the July 18 truce in Palestine put at least a temporary end to the military bloodshed between Jews and Arabs, the struggle for rights and power continues behind the diplomatic scenes in the Near East.

However, there is some reason to believe now that many of the troubles in the troubled spot may be smoothed out when Count Folke Bernadotte, U. N. mediator, proposes his next peace plan in September.

One of the reasons for such optimism is the attitude of King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, most powerful of the Arab league states.

Abdullah has asked for full and careful consideration of any future proposal for permanent peace in Palestine.

And, he said, his "Arab nation does not exclude any possible compromise that secures justice and prevents unnecessary bloodshed."

"We would like that the efforts of Count Bernadotte in the refugee problem be successful, and afterwards that any new proposals which he will make should not be rejected outright, but be fully discussed before they are put in final form."

That Old Oil

Oil is being consumed in the U. S. today at a rate exceeding the total world consumption of only 10 years ago, according to an article in a recent issue of "Business Comment," bulletin of the Northern Trust company in Chicago.

Demand for all oils in the first quarter of 1948 averaged 6.3 million barrels daily, an increase of 7 per cent over the corresponding period of 1947.

Washington Digest

Czech Refugee Confirms Crack in Iron Curtain

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—Is the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics cracking? That's an idea which is being toyed with by some wishful thinkers in Washington while others consider it one of the most dangerous playthings that ever got into the hands of unwary diplomats.

In any case, the theory is worth examining. It appears to have been encouraged by some members of the little group of highly intelligent but also highly prejudiced people who form a constantly growing segment of Washington society—the political refugees from the countries on the Soviet borders. One can, however, trust this group for certain basic facts.

Recently, I learned one of these facts which may surprise you. Of course, you recall that Soviet diplomacy always has explained what we call its aggression as simply a desire to surround itself with what it describes as "friendly" countries. The refugees of whom I spoke are living proof that not all of the inhabitants of Russia's satellites are friendly.

However, most of us have been led to assume that at least the governments and the controlling Communist minorities which support them have been able to produce a degree of mutual affection which satisfies the Kremlin. After Tito's action we wondered.

What about the frontiers between these countries and Russia?

The answer came from an anti-Communist, recently arrived from Czechoslovakia—one of the many persons who are seeping out of that and other satellite countries every day. He was asked in my presence if the frontier between his country and Russia was open, in the sense that travel was permitted under the same conditions that obtain between normally friendly nations.

The Czech laughed. He said: "The border between my country and Russia is no tighter than a dam would have to be to keep a drop of water from getting through."

I have heard the Russian frontiers of other satellite nations similarly described.

My informant also outlined other significant conditions in Czechoslovakia, first reminding us of three important facts:

1. Czechoslovakia is the most industrialized of all the satellites.
2. It is also the most democratic in the realistic sense we view democracy. In other words, the country is the most indocrinated with the kind of democratic methods we know. This is due in part, of course to the fact that so many of the men responsible for formation of the Czech republic spent many years in the United States and were made thoroughly familiar with American methods. It is also due to the fact that they had a long period of practical experience in putting these methods into effect in their own country.
3. The Czechs had a very high standard of living compared to the other satellites.

These factors, taken together, made the Czechs particularly vulnerable to a Communist coup. When it came, because of their democratic training and high standard of living, the Czechs were particularly unhappy as an aftermath of Communist methods and Russian domination. In other words, the Czechs had more to lose than any of the other countries within the Red orbit.

Greater Problems Are in Prospect

Czechoslovakia is not yet thoroughly communized. There is still a certain amount of open criticism. There have been no wholesale purges. Undoubtedly, these will come, but when they do—and herein those who believe that the Soviet position is weakening are encouraged—the prospects are that the harder the Russians crack down, the greater problem Czechoslovakia will present to her Kremlin overseers.

Before the coup that ended in the death of Masaryk took place, it was estimated that perhaps 20 per cent of the people had been indoctrinated with communism. Another 10 per cent were sympathetic, chiefly from a theoretical point of view. My Czech informant declares that it can be reliably estimated that the taste of practical communism which the people have had now has reduced that communist score to 15 per cent.

He also confirmed the recent statements about the army—though he gave no figures—made by Gen. Antonin Hasal who escaped to the American zone of Germany in the middle of July. Hasal said that 70 per cent of the enlisted men and non-commissioned officers in the Czech army was anti-Communist. My informant put it this way: "The air force, many of whose members fought with the R. A. F., is almost entirely pro-Western. If the Reds hadn't drained the tanks of all the planes before the coup, most of them would have flown away." Many did anyway and Czech planes are turning up continually in Western controlled areas of Europe. This occurs in civil aviation too because many of the pilots are former members of the air corps.

But if the Red government cannot trust the air corps, it has even less confidence in the Czech armored force. It has been necessary to immobilize it.

But the greatest friction caused by partial communization is felt by the nation's economy. Everyone suffers, at least indirectly, because of this, but it can be seen most clearly among workers. Recent figures, which were made available to the public, indicate that there is a sharp falling-off in the man-hour productiveness. This could be attributed either to conscious sabotage or to a feeling of indifference and resentment caused by reduced pay and restrictions on the union labor movement.

Before the Russians moved in, 70 to 80 per cent of Czechoslovakia's foreign trade was with non-Communist countries. This has been considerably reduced under pressure from Russia, but even now some 60 to 70 per cent of her exports go to Western Europe.

Virtually the entire output of the great Skoda arms factory goes to Russia. The output is largely heavy artillery. Production of small arms for Russia also has been stepped up greatly.

Chance of Revolt Termed Small

Objective observers admit that there is small chance of an open revolt. That isn't the Czech method. They are great underground workers, but they haven't the enthusiasm for blood-letting that people like the Yugoslavs have. If, however, the Soviets became involved in war, undoubtedly the Czechs would join heartily with those they consider their liberators.

Those persons who predict a crack in the iron curtain base part of their argument on an attitude among Czech leaders which is said to parallel that of Tito's supporters in Yugoslavia. That is this question of nationalism. There have been recent reports from Europe that Czech Premier Gottwald, who always has been considered Moscow's right-hand-man in Czechoslovakia, is about to fall from Soviet grace for the same reason Tito fell.

Gottwald is a lifelong Communist who was won over to the Marxian philosophy before he had an opportunity to see it put into effect in his own country. He was an apt and willing student in Moscow, but he apparently cherished the illusion that his own country could accept the communist form of government and still maintain its identity and its independence. The utter domination by Russia has become not only distasteful to Gottwald but also to at least two other members of his cabinet, including the minister of justice.

Gottwald is not the leader that Tito is and he probably can be brushed aside. But the viewpoint he has come to represent is pointed out as one of the weaknesses of the Russian system.

There is one other fact which cannot be hidden from the eyes of any careful observer with some military knowledge of Czechoslovakia. That is that the military preparations in the country which the Russians have carried out are almost 100 per cent defensive. Apparently, the Russian fear of invasion from the West is greater than their desire or ability to prepare for offensive warfare.

As proof of this, my informant told me that although one of the scarcest consumer products in Czechoslovakia is paper, two of the biggest mills manufacturing it were limiting their output to blackout paper only.

These are some of the reasons back of the theory which the people who believe in the old military axiom that you mustn't underestimate the enemy say is dangerous.

Britain's labor government of Attlee and Bevin declared the dockers' strike a national emergency, the first such proclamation since 1926 when Bevin himself was a strike leader. Proves how you can make the shoe fit, even when it's on the other foot.

If you keep on your toes you're not likely to get down at the heel.

JUST THIS

Green Old Age "Did your grandfather live to a green old age?" "I should say so! He was swindled three times after he was 70."

Nature Study Teacher—Do you know why the little chickens come out of the eggs? Pupil—They know they'd get cooked if they stayed inside.

Dry Cleaning "I'm all upset. The doctor said the only way to cure my rheumatism was to keep away from all dampness." "What's so tough about that?" "You don't know how silly it makes me feel to sit in an empty bathtub and go over myself with a vacuum cleaner."

Subtle Difference Bill—Is your cousin looking for work? Jill—No, not at all. He only wants a job.

LIFE WITH JEAN

By HELEN LANGWORTHY

DORIS WALTERS ran a clean, white sheet of paper into her typewriter. Very determinedly she began, "Susy Cow was out in the meadow eating the green grass when—"

That was it "when" — what? In her mind's eye she tried to total all the stories she had written about Susy Cow. Timothy Piggie and Horatious Horse. The stories would reach to the moon, of that she was sure. But they did keep a roof over the heads of she and her daughter, Jean.

Doris went to the window for inspiration. The same dull yard, the same dull neighborhood of the town of East Branch was there. She wished desperately that she might write something altogether different but according to the publishers the youngest generation had not had their fill of Susy, Timothy and Horatious. They wanted more. Sometime, she reflected, she would burst out and write something but those too-familiar epics, publishers or no.

Doris smiled then, for from the window she saw 17-year-old Jean standing on the corner with Pety. They were talking with intense interest. Doris went to the kitchen and fixed a thick sandwich in readiness for Jean. She reflected that for one so dreamy looking, so ethereal, Jean had no loss of appetite.

She practically marched to the typewriter then, determined that Susy Cow would be doing something before Jean breezed in.

As it happened, an idea hit Doris, an idea so overwhelming that she sat and whistled like Jean. Could she? She would! She was whizzing away at her typewriter when Jean came in.

"Hullo, Mov," Jean called loudly. "I'm starved!"

"There's a sandwich," Doris answered shortly and went on typing. Jean munched the sandwich and asked, "Get an idea for dear, dear Horatious at last?"

"Yes. Brand new," Doris answered absently, clicking away.

Jean was in the mood for conversation and also she might have noticed that her mother had a far-away look she had to tell her the school gossip. "Alice had a new dress on," called it a rag, but she was careful to let the label show. Pety liked me in bangs, but Chuck says it puts me in the kiddie car class— Mov, you're not listening!"

"You'd be surprised what a good listener I am," Doris answered, but Jean turned on the radio full blast and Doris resumed typing.

Days passed. Jean talked this day of Pety, that day of Chuck and forever worried whether she looked kiddie car young or hideously old, even twenty!

"Can't you forget the seven-year-olds and concentrate on the 17-year-olds?" she asked plaintively after finding Doris typing for many days.

"This story is—different. Maybe I ought to tell you—," Doris began. But Jean clapped her hands over her ears and ran from the room. "Spare me the details. I've positively heard my last Horatious yarn." She grinned wickedly. "Just let me help with the check."

There was a reward for Doris' tired fingers the day the publishers wired her that the synopsis had been altogether satisfactory and to rush the completed manuscript. They sent an advance that left Doris dizzy.

"I'm made, Jean," she crowed. "It's easy street for us from now on."

Jean picked up the check, unbelievably. "Did Timothy and Horatious do this? Oh, I love 'em to pieces. What will we buy first, Mov?"

That evening there was no typing for Doris and Jean mentally spent thousands, maybe millions. "We ought to move to New York," Doris told Jean. "I'm sick of this town. An apartment—with someone else to shovel snow all winter and weed all summer!"

"It will be just too-too wonderful," Jean relaxed in dreams of their future. One minute she appeared as still as the Sleeping

"Can't you forget the seven-year-olds and concentrate on the 17-year-olds?" she asked plaintively after finding Doris typing.

Beauty, the next she went tearing to the phone. "Gotta tell Pety," she called.

"Wait! Something could go wrong—," Doris cautioned. But Jean was already saying, "Guess what? Horatious came thru in a big way!"

FROM then on things were even more hectic than they usually were around Jean. The crowd dropped in often, thrilling with Jean over the move or mourning that they'd perish if she dared leave.

It seemed to Doris in those frantic weeks that life was a round of typing and cleaning up the kitchen after the raids of Jean's gang. The publishers were getting impatient and already sending a few sample ideas of their promotion plans for the book.

The day it was finished Doris felt vaguely uneasy and went for a long walk. On the path by the river she told herself she wouldn't dare sit down or after all those nights of work she would do a Rip Van Winkle.

Back home Jean came in with her usual, "Mov, I'm starved!" Munching an apple she sat down at her mother's desk and picked up the top page of the new story. She was curious about the excitement her mother had uncorked for the seven-year-old gang.

The title appalled her. It was "Life With Jean." She began reading, she skipped pages. It was all there. Her story. It began with her first date with Pety. They were 12. At a kids' party Jean had thought Pety "hers" but afterwards he had gotten on his bike, waved casually and rode away leaving Jean to walk home alone.

Jean gasped. Skipping a few pages, she read: "—she was washing her face—washing?—practically scrubbing. When asked why, Jean answered calmly, 'Pety kissed me.

It wasn't as much fun as in the books."

A few pages further Jean read of the time she had caught the front of her dress on a porch railing at a dance and had torn a strip completely off without noticing. On the dance floor she became aware that two inches of her slip showed. But several dances later three other girls had "suffered" similar accidents. Next day 10 girls tried the new style.

Jean sniffed and flipped more pages. There was the account of the time the new life guard began duty. He was wonderfully handsome and Jean had an inspiration to require a rescue. He had paddled all 15 years of her and then shown her the picture of his wife and small boy. Even Jean's wail, "Why are such good looks wasted on married men," was there.

She read of the time Chuck had come to East Branch. His convertible had won Jean over at first. Pety and Chuck eventually settled it "man to man." Jean thrilled hearing of Pety's bloody nose and Chuck's dislocated jaw. "I'm infamous. I'm notorious. I've been fought for," she had crowed.

Jean was crying stormily as her mother came in. "How could you!" she demanded.

"Doris' heart sank. "But, honey, it was so cute. After all, New York, new clothes—," she coaxed.

"I'd perish if Pety read this drivelt," Jean told her coldly.

"Horseteathers!" Doris straightened the jumbled pages. "Think what it means. If East Branch smiles a little now, it will be forgotten a year from now."

"I'm not living in a year from now," Jean cried furiously. "It's now!" She blew her nose loudly.

She tugged at her mother's arm. "Say you'll cancel it, Mov. I'd run away, honest." Her voice trembled.

"Pety means more to me than old New York."

Doris gave her daughter a very searching look. She took a quivering breath and managed a faint, "You win."

Jean danced, she turned on the radio. "Come on, Mov, let's put the old thing in the furnace." She was all smiles now.

Doris had sat down weakly at her desk. But her voice was stern. "No! Label it yourself. 'Open in 1968.'"

"I'll be frightfully old then," Jean complained. "I'll be aged. 37!"

"But it will make such beautiful reading for your own 'teensters,'" Doris commented acidly. She ran a clean sheet of white paper into her typewriter and began, "Susy Cow was out in the meadow—"

Fresh Slipcovers Will Hide Poor Points of Furniture

By Erta Haley

NO, YOU don't have to go out to buy new furniture when your things begin to look weary. Slipcovers will do amazing things to cover the poor points or just give them a fresh, new look.

If you want to change the appearance of a room and can't maneuver the furniture just the way you would like, the answer lies in slipcovering it.

If you can't afford to redecorate the room, you can add gay new covers to the furniture and no one will ever know what you've done, but they probably will think you've gone out and bought new furniture.

If you are living in a one-room apartment and want to make it look less like a bedroom and more like a living room, the trick is to make it look like a studio simply by the use of clever slipcovering.

If you really want to change the room into something new and different, be bold in your changes. If you have flowered, frouny furniture, tailor it, using good and true solid colors as well as nubby, textured fabrics that add real smartness and richness even to the simplest, oldest furniture.

Wall colorings do not necessarily need to be changed. You'll find that

Plastic Pretties

Redecorating is not only fun but also economical when the results of your efforts stay fresh and new looking for months on end. Both bedspreads and curtains are made of Vinylite plastics in a lovely shade of peach, decorated with an all-over hand-painted design. These articles may be kept spotlessly clean merely by wiping with a damp cloth.

For bedrooms, choose candy striped fabrics or flowered types. If the room is small, a muted stripe will be most in keeping, but large rooms with few pieces of furniture need large floral prints to give them the necessary filling.

For rooms that are just in between you can, of course, combine a floral covering with a plain seat, or a solid with a striped material. This same type of thing can be followed through in making drapes.

Change Furniture Style Through Coverings

If you are living in a one-room apartment and do not have the desired bedroom, you can use a mattress on box springs for a bed. To make the room look less like a bedroom, however, the bed should have a slipcover rather than a spread.

For the bed, select a nubby or textured fabric in a color that goes well with the room. Inverted pleats can be used on all corners, and a tailored look should be the goal. Make the cushions very thick to reduce the size of the bed and thus achieve a sofa look.

If space is at a premium, upholstered boxes can be covered in the same fabric as the bed itself and used for storing pillows, blankets and other goods.

To give a room a really smooth look, slipcovers must be carefully measured and made. Zippers are popular now that they are again available because they make the slipcovers easy to put on and the final result will be smoothness.

The original shapes of chairs of which you have tired can be changed with clever slipcovering. If, for example, you have a wing chair, cover it with a gay plaid and a solid toned seat to match one of the darker colors in the plaid. This will keep the chair from showing dirt.

For bedrooms and sewing rooms, wing chairs can be covered with floral prints or candy stripes. If you have household pets, it's wise to make at least two sets of founcers that zipper on and off so that the founce always will be neat and clean.

Dining Room Chairs Can Be Brightened

Few of us can afford a new dining room set as often as we would like, but slipcovering the chairs will save them for many a year.

The seat can be slipcovered, a founce added to hide the ungainly legs at least partly. The back also can be slipcovered with a piece that simply slips over it.

If you like, the chair and back cover can be made in one and tied at the back. The cover can be tailored or frilly, the latter on the edge, if you like. Add draperies either to match the chair covers or to contrast with them, and your dining room will sport a new look.

Cotton quilting can also be used to hide the frame of the chair, if you really want to disguise it. This can be cut from a paper or purchased pattern; then pinned, fitted to the chair and stitched. The slipcover then is made to fit over the padding.

Fabric chosen for dining room chairs should be sturdy because this furniture receives a lot of use. Materials also should be washable, so they can be freshened often without going to the expense of cleaning. If you choose something bright and gay, but still in good taste, the joy of new slipcovers will last a long time.

The main thing about the covers is making them fit. Be exacting about measurements and fitting, and use elastic bands or self fabric tie-backs, not only under the seat but also at the back of the chairs so they fit smoothly and wrinkle less readily.

Box cushions are smart...

choosing well for the slipcovers actually will bring out different colors in the walls for textures and colors in slipcovers have a trick of doing something to the walls themselves.

Select Covers For Their Use

If you have growing children and pets abounding in the home, stoutly woven duck or sturdy cotton striped materials are best. They seem to shed the dirt before it touches them, they stand lots of wear and tear, and always will look neat and casual. Best of all, they are easy to keep clean.

An old sofa bought years ago can be made to look almost modern. It's best to choose some of the textured fabrics which are so popular right now. If the sofa is a little bit too large to look attractive, select a shade to match exactly the wall coloring and you'll find the sofa seems to sink into the room better and it consequently will look smaller.

Satin striped fabrics are best choice if you keep a very proper home which is not disturbed except by guests. With these fabrics, a deep hemline fringe adds richness. Vertical stripes add height to the furniture while horizontal stripes will make it appear wider.

Be Smart!

Jackets are very young and casual. They furnish vast wearing pleasure for the small outlay which they represent, not to mention their fashion value. At left is sketched a denim jacket whose smart shirt lines are all the more vivid for color contrast bands. At the right is a new idea in country jackets of lightweight wools such as houndstooth checks and glen plaids, always in neutral, muted colors that have that wear-with-everything versatility.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: What can I use to wash my furniture?

ANSWER: Clear turpentine is often used to clean the woodwork of furniture followed by polishing with a coat of paste wax applied thinly and well rubbed, when dry.

QUESTION: We have to put a new floor down in our basement. Which is better, plank or concrete?

ANSWER: Do not use boards because they will rot in time. Have a good waterproof, concrete door laid by a mason contractor.

QUESTION: Please tell me how to remove old paint from "white limed oak" finish on a dining set.

ANSWER: Soften the old paint with paint remover, then take it off with a hand scraper and steel wool. Carefully avoid scratching or gouging the wood. Follow by cleaning off every trace of remover with benzine or turpentine. If the color of the wood is what you wish, you can refinish with quick-drying varnish or in some other way.

QUESTION: What can I do in the way of refinishing a brass bed?

ANSWER: If you wish to paint the bed, go all over the metal with sandpaper to roughen it slightly, wipe it with turpentine and then apply one or two coats of enamel undercoat. Finish with a coat of enamel.

TALL WHITE TAPERS

TRUTH and beauty flow from this old Book Like tall white tapers set to light the way; O hearts distressed and burdened, if we look There is a light for every darkened day Here in the living truth, before our eyes, To cheer and comfort, and to make us wise.

These are the words of others who have known Great tribulation, whose bright faith was lit Out in the dark, and there with God alone They found His love—the power and strength of it; They found His everlasting arms and laid Their burdens in them, and were unafraid!

So we should come, in this bewilderment, To take the hand that, somehow, we have lost, Like children groping through the dark, and spend With things for which we paid too high a cost. Conning the old Book over, there we find The light to which we long have been too blind.

CHAIN GANG

Every season there's a new jewelry fad that sweeps through the high school halls like an Art Lund recording. A few years ago it was those tummy length pearls; last year it was chatelaines. This year it will be 60-inch gold metal chains and here's how you're going to wear them.

FESTOONED FOR FESTIVITIES—With your crepe date dress, wind your chain 'round and 'round again, but achieve a more elaborate festoon effect by pinning the chains up in the center with your favorite brooch. We hope you have one that looks like an antique medal.

WAISTLINE WHIMSEYS—Double your chain and fasten it around your waist with a pin, for a belt that will dress-up your sack dress. Or attach it to your skirt waistband like a watch chain.

And, don't forget that these 60-inch chains are a brand new twist for your wrists, too.

Homemaking Students Show Summer Work

The Homemaking Department had an achievement day Exhibit in the High School Gym on August 11th. Exhibits consisted of school dresses, all occasion dresses, sun dresses, and a gown and robe set made by the summer students and stencil work on fabric, oils on dishes and glass ware and re-finished furnishings made by the adult summer class. The girls had selected appropriate accessories for their dresses. Those who had exhibits were: Bobbie Baggett, Patricia Etter, Peggy Etter, Evelyn Gillespie, Joan Golden, Hazel Shumake, Fern Simpson, Inez Summers, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. James Forbes and Mrs. Glen Gibson.

At noon the student and adult classes enjoyed a buffet luncheon. The menu consisted of fried chicken, potato salad, deviled eggs, pickles, cake, pie, and home made ice cream and lemonade.

The group divided into teams and played volleyball in the after noon. The students and sponsor, Miss Helen Stokes, wish to thank the guests who visited our exhibits. By your interest in our work, you have made us feel that our summer projects have been worth while.

Young Cockleburbs Are Poisonous for Swine

Young cocklebur seedlings will poison pigs, according to veterinarians at Iowa State college. The danger of cocklebur poisoning is greater this year because of short pastures. With grass short, pigs will be tempted to eat young cockleburbs in search of green feed. Best remedy is to keep hogs out of fields containing cocklebur seedlings until they are eliminated.

It seems to us that the average person of today isn't quite so average as he used to be.

Men put off things they ought to do, and women put off things they ought to wear.

No Iron Curtain

The Communist attitude is getting to be pretty well known to Americans. Even the Iron Curtain has not been able to hold behind its barriers the ideas and thoughts of men. We have come to understand what the Russian Communists think by watching the actions of their American comrades. Everybody knows that the Communist party in this country watches Moscow closely. We can believe that Moscow keeps them in line, too.

Everybody knows also that the Communist party in the United States is not very powerful. In terms of what it can do legally as a party, the average American gives it very little attention. However, what the party would do if it thought it could get away with it—that is another thing. In this respect, home-grown Communist opinion is very enlightening.

Outside the Law

Recently, William Z. Foster, top man for the Communists in America, told the Senate his party would not support the nation in event of war with Russia. He was testifying before the Judiciary Committee on the Mundt-Nixon bill, which would put strict controls on Communists. Foster defiantly told the committee that if the bill should become law the party would not register with the Department of Justice as required.

Foster shouted that Russia would never attack the United States. His reason: Russia is not an imperialistic nation. At the same time, he said that America has embarked upon an imperialistic program, the greatest in history. (Imperialism means the practice of seeking control or dominion over other lands and peoples.) Way the American Communists have the situation sized up bears no kinship to the plain truth in international affairs.

Who's Imperialistic?

Any school boy knows that America has no ambitions for the control and domination of other countries. On the other hand, what Russia is doing in eastern Europe looks like the most obvious kind of "taking over." It is this same William Z. Foster who once wrote that the Communist party would take over the United States government and liquidate the free enterprise system, along with the Republican and Democratic parties and our religious institutions.

The rankest kind of imperialism known today may be seen in the Communist Internationale, to which all world Communists are responsible. This world organization exists for the purpose of satisfying the imperialistic ambitions of Russia's political rulers. It uses Communists wherever they are. It plots the overthrow of other governments by force. It incites revolutions wherever Communists stand to gain.

The Melody Lingers
 Our experience with rent control has underscored this fact: the longer we permit political controls to linger upon the scene, the harder it is to get rid of them. This is a good lesson for us to learn. For two years in succession now, our Congress has decided to keep the controls, while adding some "decontrol" features that never seem to get rid of the controls. So, we still have rent control.

These efforts to control the nation's housing by tampering with rental units is actually making it difficult for the country to come back to a more normal housing situation following the dislocations of wartime economy. Rent control creates very few fair and square deals between renter and landlord.
 Indeed, it brings more injustices than it corrects.

But the worst thing about rent control right now is that it keeps housing scarce. Millions of rental units would become available at once, if it were not for rent control.
 Veterans and others in need of housing are suffering under the direct burden of rent control.

Let Industry Do It.
 It has been said that the nation has more housing per person today than it had in 1940. Yet, we're worse off. We need more housing,
 yes. But as long as we have rent control, we may not expect more rental housing. The hazards of control and its well-known injustices are too easily remembered by those who could offer rent housing. They will not undertake this kind of enterprise, when the count is already against them. Moreover, the private builders of the nation do not want to be compelled to compete with public housing, which is subsidized by tax money.

The truth is this: if government would get out of the scramble, private building would soon meet the demand for rental units. Competition would then go to work in keeping rents at reasonable levels.

Depend On Incentives.
 Yet, there are those who work hard trying to keep the government in the housing business. These agitators want rent control because rent control keeps the building industry in a dither and creates these artificial shortages. These tinkers want rent control because they believe it will help bring socialized housing.

When private money is deliberately scared away from investing in rental housing, then the next step is to holler for the government to put up housing. Actually, rent control and public housing are two pieces out of the jig-saw picture-puzzle of socialist and collectivist controls that the agitators are trying to foist upon the nation.

Once a government agency has power to tell you how much rent you must pay, whether you can live in a private house or a government project, then we are getting to the place where we can join up with Russia and all the other Communist experimenters.

The Socialists and Communists know that it sounds good to plead for "adequate" housing. They claim to be fighting for the people, against all sorts of bogeymen. But the people are not told that rent control, together with public housing, will go a long way toward destroying the welfare and the future of our free economy in America. We must in the future depend upon incentives and fair competition. Then there will be no housing problem in America.

The REA has approved $400 thousand for 202 miles of line for Rusk county, $830 thousand for 546 miles of line in Hamilton Co untv, and another $400 thousand for 195 miles of power line in Lamar County. Also in East Tex as Jasper and Newton counties got $270 thousand for 178 miles of line. Upshur county got $5,000 for improvements and additions to a locker plant.

A JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to Section 25 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to provide for a board for apportioning the state into senatorial districts in the event the Legislature fails to make such apportionment; providing for the issuance of the necessary proclamation by the Governor, and making an appropriation.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 25 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as hereinafter to read as follows:

"Section 25. The Legislature shall, at its first regular session after the publication of each United States decennial census, apportion the state into senatorial and representative districts, agreeable to the provisions of Sections 23, 28, and 29 of this Article. In the event the Legislature shall at any such first regular session following the publication of a United States decennial census, fail to make such apportionment, same shall be done by the Legislative Redistricting Board of Texas, which is hereby created, and shall be composed of five (5) members, as follows: The Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Attorney General, the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum. Said Board shall assemble in the City of Austin within ninety (90) days after the final adjournment of such regular session. The Board shall, within sixty (60) days after assembling, apportion the state into senatorial and representative districts, or into senatorial or representative districts, as the failure of such Legislature may make necessary. Such apportionment shall be in writing and signed by three (3) or more of the members of the Board duly acknowledged on the act and deed of such Board, and, when so signed and filed with the Secretary of State, shall have force and effect of law. Such apportionment shall be binding on the Legislature succeeding that of the general election. The Supreme Court of Texas shall have jurisdiction to compel such Commission to perform its duties in accordance with the provisions of this section by writ of mandamus or other extraordinary writs conformable to the usage of law. The Legislature shall provide necessary funds for clerical and technical aid and for other expenses incidental to the work of the Board, and the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall be entitled to receive per diem and travel expense during the Board's session in the same manner and amount as they would receive while attending a special session of the Legislature. This amendment shall become effective January 1, 1951.

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the state at an election to be held throughout the state on Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1948, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"FOR the amendment to Section 25, Article III of the Constitution of Texas providing for a Board for apportionment of the state into senatorial districts and representative districts in the event the Legislature fails to make such apportionment."

Section 3. The amendment to Section 25, Article III of the Constitution of Texas providing for a Board for apportionment of the state into senatorial districts and representative districts in the event the Legislature fails to make such apportionment."

Each voter at such election shall mark out one of such clauses on the ballot, leaving the clause expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Section 4. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

Section 5. The sum of Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any funds in the treasury of this state not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expense of such publication and election.

H. J. R. No. 14

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an Amendment to Section 14 of Article VIII of the Constitution of Texas to provide that no ad valorem tax shall be levied upon any property within this state on or after January 1, 1951, and authorizing the several counties to levy additional ad valorem taxes for certain purposes, providing for a Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) residential homestead exemption, and providing for tax levies in counties having tax donations, providing for submission to the qualified electors and for the necessary proclamation by the Governor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 14 of Article VIII of the Constitution be amended so as to be and read as follows:

"Section 14. From and after January 1, 1951, no State ad valorem tax shall be levied upon any property within this state for general revenue purposes. From and after January 1, 1951, the several counties of the State are authorized to levy ad valorem taxes upon all property within their respective boundaries for county purposes, except the first Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) value of residential homesteads, not to exceed the value of $1000 on each One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation, in addition to all other ad valorem taxes authorized by the Constitution of this State provided the revenue derived therefrom shall be used for construction and maintenance of Farm to Market Roads or for Flood Control, except as herein otherwise provided.

"Provided that in those counties or political subdivisions or areas of the State from which tax donations have been received, and the State Automatic Tax Board shall continue to levy the full amount of the State ad valorem tax for the duration of such donation, or until all legal obligations heretofore authorized by the law granting such donation or donations shall have been fully discharged, whichever shall first occur; provided that if such donation to any such county or political subdivision is for less than the full amount of State ad valorem taxes so levied, the portion of such taxes remaining over and above such donation shall be retained by said county or subdivision."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the date fixed by law for the General Election in November, A. D. 1948, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon: "FOR the Constitutional Amendment of Section 14 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Texas to provide that no ad valorem tax shall be levied for State general revenue purposes after January 1, 1951, and authorizing the several counties to levy additional ad valorem taxes, providing for a Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) residential homestead exemption, and providing for tax levies in counties having tax donations," and "AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment of Section 14 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Texas to provide that no ad valorem tax shall be levied for State general revenue purposes after January 1, 1951, and authorizing the several counties to levy additional ad valorem taxes, providing for a Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) residential homestead exemption, and providing for tax levies in counties having tax donations."

Each voter at such election shall mark out one of such clauses on the ballot, leaving the clause expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

H. J. R. No. 15

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION amending Section 15 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto a provision that the husband and wife from time to time may in writing partition between themselves in severally or into undivided interests all or any part of their community property, whereupon without prejudice to the rights of existing creditors, the interest set aside to each spouse shall be and constitute a part of the separate property of such spouse; further providing that such Amendment, if adopted shall be self-operative and self-executing; providing for the submission of this Amendment to the voters of this State; prescribing the form of ballot; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 15 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 15. All property, both real and personal, of the wife, owned or claimed by her before marriage, and that acquired afterward by gift, devise or descent, shall be the separate property of the wife, and laws shall be passed more clearly defining the rights of the wife, in relation to her separate property as if the wife were a feme sole partition between themselves in severally or into equal undivided interests all or any part of their existing community property, or exchange between themselves the community interest of one spouse in any property for the community interest of the other spouse in other community property, whereupon the portion or interest set aside to each spouse shall be and constitute a part of the separate property of such spouse.

This Amendment is self-operative, but laws may be passed prescribing requirements as to the form and manner of execution of such instruments, and providing for their recording, and for such other reasonable requirements not inconsistent herewith and anticipatory herein. Such Act shall be self-operative and self-executing and shall take effect just as though this Constitutional Amendment was in effect when the Act was passed.

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State of Texas at an election to be held throughout the state on Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1948, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"FOR the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that husband and wife from time to time may in writing partition between themselves in severally or into undivided interests community property existing at the time of partition so as to convert same into separate property of the respective spouses without prejudice to the rights of pre-existing creditors."

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

C. C. "BILL" ELLIS

"Housing" Sounds Good

Public housing proposals, like so many other measures that would take America "way down the road to Socialism, come up in nearly every session of Congress. A government housing program, known as the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill, found enough support in the recent Congress to get through the Senate. It failed in the House. Bills of this type have at least nine lives, and you can expect to see more of them later.

It sounds good to nearly everybody to say that "low-income" families are entitled to housing. When the real issues are all clouded up with emotion and sentimentalism, there are some who will vote "yes" without taking the trouble to get down to facts. I, too, favor "housing." Housing is essential for everybody. But I am also aware that the needy, the unemployable, the very lowest-paid workers, do not get into public housing projects.

What is Low Income?

From all reports, the situation at a 350-family unit government project in New York State is typical. The law states that a family earning more than $1,700 cannot qualify there for an apartment. Yet, half the families in the project have incomes above the minimum, some up to $8,000. Only a very few destitute families ever get into government housing. They cannot pay the high maintenance and operating costs. Even government rents are too high for them. I say these things to shed light on the arguments of the planners, who dote on the goodness of the government. Their sentimental propaganda serves no purpose but to mislead. The T-E-W bill promised to build homes for "low-income" families. Perhaps there are 10 million, 20 million, or maybe 30 million. What's the measuring stick for a "low-income" family? Who would decide about this? And where would they be put up?

To Get the Vote.

A joint committee of the 80th Congress found that the Federal Public Housing Authority, even with a "dormant" program, employed 6,571 persons and used up a budget of more than $11,000,000 a year. A major part of the FPHA's activities were devoted to creating a desire on the part of the public to depend completely upon a benevolent government. Nor has the FPHA overlooked its opportunities to set up systems of political patronage.

The T-E-W bill calls for 500,000 units of housing over the next five years. Despite the tremendous cost of $7 billion, this amount would not even begin to satisfy all the "low-income" families. But it would be enough to satisfy many a politician. Think of the possibilities for keeping the party vote in line. Why couldn't the government projects be put up where they would bring in the vote?

Despite all these dangers, the sorry part is that public housing can give us no expanded production of materials, no additional skilled construction workers. In short, it cannot relieve the housing shortage. Besides real discouragement to more private housing construction, the government would extend its powers over all the people through public housing. We must not be fooled this way into accepting Socialism.

Congress Makes a Comeback

The 80th Congress was our first post-war Congress, and it faced mountains of problems. Moreover, it was a Congress of a different party from that of the President. The 80th Congress worked hard to get as far as it did. It ran an independent course and made a great record.

During depression days a bewildered Congress took orders straight from the strongman. This was approved by many as the best kind of unity for the nation. Unity is a fine thing. When purposes are sound and methods are right, unified action can benefit the people. But the United States Congress was not created by the founding fathers to always say "yes" to the nation's president. The whim and fancy of a political leader, no matter how great the leader, may not be to the best interest of our people.

Restored to Strength.

That is perhaps why the founding fathers created the three branches of our government as they did: the legislative to pass the laws, the executive to carry them out and the judiciary to provide justice. Knowing these things, many persons wondered whether Congress would ever regain its rightful place.

The 80th Congress has done just that. If ever a Congress denied the rubber stamp process, this one did so. The stature and dignity of Congress appears to be returning. It would hardly be possible for Congress in a nation like ours to please everyone. But every one of us can be thankful that the 80th Congress has done much to restore the integrity and strength that our national legislature should have.

There were times when this Congress did not answer "yes" to the President. Congress did not do this just to nettle Mr. Truman. The 80th Congress was doing things upon its own conviction, following its own best judgment.

The People's Safeguard.

There was no vindictiveness, but instead a determination to rely upon its own judgment rather than upon that of the executive alone. Our people can find no quarrel with this, once they think about it. It is only that kind of Congress which will continue to safeguard the welfare of our nation under the Constitution. We can never afford to forget the importance of Congress as the people's will in this republic.

The hard work of the 80th Congress is shown by the fact that it passed more than 1,000 bills and conducted numerous investigations. It studied and acted upon nearly 30 major pieces of legislation. Among these was the Taft-Hartley bill—called the "slave labor bill"—which has not enslaved but has already shown its workability.

Of great significance, too, was the leadership that Congress showed in world affairs. The 80th Congress led the nation out of isolationism and into the leadership of freedom-loving nations of the world. Congress did much to retrieve lost prestige for America in the realm of international affairs.

I believe every citizen should appreciate the great job the 80th Congress did in bringing back the integrity of a legislature which was set up to represent the people. I am grateful to our hard-working legislators.

Some folks learn how to relax; others never learn how to do any thing else.

Precautions for Dipping Sheep Are Suggested

Among rules to be followed when dipping sheep are: Fast the sheep several hours before dipping. Don't dip sheep immediately on arrival at the bath if they have become heated. Don't dip sheep in an arsenical bath if they have open wounds. Don't put the sheep in the bath head first. Prepare the bath strictly in accordance with instructions on the package and mix thoroughly.

Farm Bulldozer Blade

This bulldozer blade can be attached or removed from a tractor in three minutes. The blade was salvaged from an old road scraper and the pushers are old 1 1/2 inch galvanized irrigation pipe. The U-clips which attach the pushers to the tractor are 1 1/4 or 1/2 inch flat iron which was bent into shape and welded to the pusher pipe. Braces for the frame are 1 1/4 inch pipe.

Hampshire Sow Sets New Production Mark

Ringold Lady Dora, 753,056, with the litter with which she established a new production record for the Hampshire breed. This sow is the first to have made a "Six Star" record in the Hampshire registry. She is five years old and has raised 75 pigs in eight litters. In her six star litters she has raised 62 pigs, an average of 10.3. These pigs weighed a total of 413 pounds, 56 days after farrowing. She is owned by William C. Goodheart Jr., Eaton, Ohio. She was fed corn, oats, alfalfa and pelleted milk by-products prior to farrowing. Her pigs were raised on a ration of seven parts corn and three parts oats with 8 per cent milk by-products added.

Tests Disclose Silage Increases Hay Tonnage

Tests of haymaking methods show that considerably more tonnage of feed will be obtained from a meadow crop when it is put in a silo than can be procured by any other method of storing.

Analysis of field cured and mow cured hay and of grass silage show a larger percentage of protein in grass than in similar forage cured either in the field or in the mow.

Mineral oil makes a good lubricant for egg beaters and will not ruin food if it drops into it.

Onions are probably the most dangerous vegetable to slice thin because they have a way of slipping out of the knife's way and leaving your fingers there to take the rap. Avoid this by setting the onion on a flat metal grater while you slice it. The grater won't allow the onion to slip out from under at the crucial moment.

With chromium-plated copper pans, there's no need to beware of bare spots. You will have to keep after them diligently with steel wool and scouring powder every time the vessel is used, though, because the bare spots will stain easily.

Lawn Furniture Can Be Made at Very Low Cost

MAKE your porch, terrace or lawn an outdoor living room. Turn your backyard into a picnic ground. You'll be agreeably surprised to see what fun dining out can be. Food takes on an added zest when flavored with the thrill of a picnic.

You can build wonderful pieces of lawn furniture at very low cost.

The set illustrated above was built from patterns. These patterns take all the mystery out of woodworking. Each shows the full shape and length for cutting each part. Wherever two parts are fastened together, the exact location is indicated on the pattern. Step by step directions explain every part of construction in easy to understand language.

Making a home is traditionally American. The strength of the country rests on the people who have built a home for themselves and their families. Building lawn furniture or any other home equipment is not difficult. You can do it if you try. Each pattern is designed so that no special tools or skill are required. Build this lawn set for immediate use.

Cook in Cool Morning To Avoid Sweltering Over Stove at Dinner

ARE YOU the homemaker who's sweltering over a hot stove preparing the evening meal, somewhat on the grumpy side, short with the family and generally discontented? Or are you the cool and neat homemaker who simply opens her refrigerator door and swishes food on the table with neat flourish?

If you aren't the latter, then do something about it now. Plan several menus for each week that have most of the food prepared early in the morning so they may be served chilled for dinner.

Some women always will object to this plan because, they say, the food is so light that husbands are not fully satisfied. The dishes I'm giving you today are on the hearty side even though they are served cold.

It's a good idea to serve some hot food with a cool meal, but this food

- Cherry Cobbler
- Beverage
- *Recipe Given

Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Cool and add real mayonnaise; mix well. Dice hard-cooked eggs, reserving a few slices for garnish. Add chopped eggs with cheese, celery, salt, green pepper, pimiento and lemon juice to mayonnaise mixture; mix well. Pack firmly into a leaf pan which has been rinsed with cold water. Chill until firm or chill overnight. Unmold on serving plate and garnish with radish roses, carrot curls and watercress. Decorate top with green pepper rings and egg slices.

- *Salmon Supper Salad. (Serves 6)
- 1 head iceberg lettuce
- 3 green onions, diced
- 2 cups canned peas
- 2 tomatoes, cut in wedges
- 1 tall can salmon
- 3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
- 1/2 cup French dressing
- 1/2 cup real mayonnaise
- 3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 3 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- 1 clove garlic

Cut lettuce into cubes and place in salad bowl or platter. Sprinkle with diced onion and canned peas. Arrange tomato sections on lettuce. Place large pieces of salmon in center and surround with slices of egg. Blend French dressing and real mayonnaise, add green pepper, pimiento and garlic. Just before serving, remove garlic. Serve with salad.

COOK THE MEAT in this recipe on a cool day, then make an aspic for it and you'll have an excellent dinner, fit for company:

- Pot Roast in Aspic. (Serves 12)
- 4 to 5 pound rump roast of beef
- 1 large chopped onion
- 1 clove garlic, grated
- 2 tablespoons butter
- Salt, pepper and paprika
- 1 1/2 pints boiling water
- 2 bay leaves
- 1/2 cup tomato pulp
- 1 tablespoon flour

Brown onion and garlic in butter; add well seasoned meat and sear quickly on all sides. Add boiling water and bay leaves. Cover and simmer for two and one-half hours.

If you're one of those people who likes salmon in its natural state, serve it in nice chunks with these delightful accompaniments such as lettuce wedges, sliced eggs, canned peas and tomatoes. This makes a pretty and welcome cool platter for Sunday night supper or lunch.

Add tomato and more water if necessary; continue cooking meat until tender. Thicken gravy with flour mixed with a tablespoon of cold water.

- Aspic.
  - 2 tablespoons gelatin
  - 1/2 cup cold water
  - 2 beef cubes
  - 1 cup boiling water
  - 3 cups strained pot roast gravy
- Soak gelatin in cold water; dissolve with the beef cubes in boiling water and add to pot roast gravy. Fill a mold with a layer of aspic and place in refrigerator to congeal. Put the cooked meat in the center and place small cooked carrots and onions around it. Cover with remaining gelatin mixture. Place in refrigerator to jell.

Plums and pears make a good combination for a fruit cobbler or a molded salad. You also can add cherries if you like.

Did you ever try rice with mushrooms sautéed in butter? Try molding the mixture in a ring and serving green peas in the center if you want a dish that has a flavor thrill in it.

Ever try coconut custard pudding with thick, rich caramel sauce? It's just the cooling dessert you need with a rich meal.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Religion: Hand-Sewn
Lesson for August 22, 1948

THE NEIGHBORS didn't know what Tabitha's ideas were. She never went down in history as a great thinker. What church she attended, whether she ever took part in a prayer-meeting, what her spiritual life was like, the neighbors did not say. But they cried when she was dead. She was a good woman, they knew. When Simon Peter came that way they did not tell him about Tabitha's prayers or her peace of conscience. No doubt she had these. But what the neighbors brought in to show how good their friend had been, was—"coats and garments." All made by hand, her hands; made for her poorer neighbors, widows. In those days widows were not protected by life insurance, social security or annuity plans. They could not go out and earn big money in factories. To be a widow, as a rule, meant to be in need of help. Too many of them starved. So Tabitha spent her time making clothes for the widows of her city.

Full of Good Works

THE BIBLE says she was "full of good works." It does not say she was full of faith or full of love. Just full of good works. We can be pretty sure the faith and love, the religion, was there, but it was the good works that people noticed.

Religion in Tabitha's house was translated into the language of coats and skirts. Religion always has to be translated into something we can understand. Religion uses words, of course; books full of them. We cannot get along without them. They stand for something. But where the Christian religion is concerned, we cannot stop with words.

Would They Want You Back?

THERE MUST have been a number of deceased Christians in Joppa, but the only one who seems to have been worth a miracle to bring back to life was this woman, Tabitha, or Dorcas. Her life was over, yet it was a life worth living again.

How many people would be worth bringing back to life again? How many funerals would the neighbors want done in reverse? Not many, maybe, but if the neighbors voted at each funeral, as they did at Tabitha's, on the question, "Do we want this person back again?" they would usually vote for people like Tabitha, whose religion was all hand-sewn.

What Is Service?

SERVICE IS a word much used in Christian circles. We even have the world around us using the word. Department stores, government agencies, radio manufacturers, filling stations, all offer service. The trouble is that much of this is something for which you have to pay. And much so-called service is simply mending something that was not done right in the first place. Tabitha's service was of a different kind. It was genuine doing for people who couldn't do much for themselves and who certainly could not do anything in return.

Even among Christians, when we think of service we set our sights sometimes too high. We think of Telemachus, who stopped the brutal sport of gladiators murdering one another on Roman holidays. We think of great missionaries or settlement workers, or Christian statesmen like Gladstone or Kuyper. All honor to such men and women; they inspire us all. Yet they discourage us, too. For these great Christians are "special" people; they had outstanding talent, some of them even genius. They had opportunities given only to a few, opportunities that do not come in every one's lifetime.

Religion in the Hands

WE SHOULD REMEMBER this Tabitha, or Dorcas. All she had was her hands and some pieces of cloth. Her only opportunity was a poor city filled with poor people. Her only talent was one most women have: Plain sewing.

Yet the Tabithas, the Dorcases, make the backbone of Christianity. They are the salt of the church, the salt of the earth. In your own town, in your own community, if the Christian religion is loved and respected, it is not because of the famous preachers; it is because of the humble doers, the people whose Christian religion goes to their hands.

Mahon Seeks Effective Loan On Grain

Congressman George Mahon reported to the Index Press this week that he had personally appealed to the Secretary of Agriculture, Charles Brannan, to use the full force of his office to make effective the Government loan program on combine maize. He explained that much of the West Texas crop was not yet beginning to move and that plans should be perfected now to avert millions of dollars in losses to West Texas farm ers.

Foreign demand for American grain has receded and the price of grain has sagged. Mahon said that some Central Texas farmers were already selling their grain at 50 cents per hundred below the loan rate.

Under the law the producer is entitled to a loan of 90 per cent of parity on his combine maize, but loans are dependent upon the availability of storage, and the law will not be effective if storage arrangements can not be made. Adequate freight cars and storage were not available during the war years but the market price for grain was above the loan rate and there was no serious question as to a support price and no considerable demand for loans.

Mahon said that if the loan on grain sorghum should not be available many producers would sacrifice their grain sorghum below the support price but that if the loan were available the market price should remain firm above support price levels.

Secretary Brannan advised Mahon that the Department would intensify its efforts to move the wheat crop out of the pipe line insofar as possible and would give sympathetic assistance in trying to meet the situation confronting producers of combine maize.

Following a long distance telephone conversation with Walter Hammond, head of the Texas Farm Bureau, Mahon in his capacity as chairman of the Texas Congressional Delegation, appointed Congressman Poage of Waac as chair man of a committee of six members to cooperate with Texas farm ers and the Texas Farm Bureau in finding ways and means to meet the situation. A large additional amount of storage that will be acceptable to government loan of ficials will be necessary.

Mr and Mrs. Joe Carroll of Lamesa and Mrs. Bob Carroll and Wayne have returned from a two week vacation traveling thru 7 states. Among the enjoyable points visited were Colorado Springs, Yellowstone, Bear Lake Lodge in Idaho, Salt Lake City, Grand Canyon, Marvel Valley and Santa Fe.

Mr and Mrs. Bob Carroll and Wayne were among the many O'Donnell folks attending the dedication of the Lyntegar Coop last Tuesday at Tahoka.
