ADVANCING INTO THE FUTURE—BOOSTING, BUILDING, BENEFITTING

FOURTH YEAR, 30th ISSUE

O'DONNELL, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1941

For the Best Interests of O'Donnell and Lynn Counties

Equipment For Drilling of Borden Test Well Being Hauled Through O'Donnell

Drilling equipment and timbers for the oil drilling location in Borden county, about 12 miles east and south of O'Donnell, have been hauled through here during the last few days. Rain in that section, which made roads quagmires in many places, held up the hauling temporarily. The location is on the Clayton-Thomson pasture. Drilling will be done by an Oklahoma City firm, with the contract calling for the drilling to reach a depth of about 4,500 feet.

Rotarians To Hear Speaker

Rodney D. Glasscock, Christian church minister of Lamesa, will be speaker at the Rotary club luncheon on Tuesday, it has been announced, and his topic will be "Building Community Morale." A short musical program will also be presented, making the program of about 30 minutes duration. Rotarians are beginning to watch attendance more carefully as a result of a contest now underway. Well cooked chicken dinner at one table and the losers will be served with beans, cornbread and water. Most of the Rotarians like beans, but think they would gag on them if they were made to make a meal of them. Levi Noble and B. J. Boyd are team captains.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clemage attended the football game in Lamesa on Friday night.

LAS AMINGAS

Members and ex-members of the Spanish classes of O'Donnell High School formed a Spanish club October 13, 1941. Allie Jo Schooler was elected president and Allyne Garnett reporter. The purpose of this club is for the enjoyment of the members and to advance their study of Spanish. All of the members are required to speak Spanish all through the meeting. We plan to learn many songs in Spanish to sing on programs and to present at the Spanish banquet.

Members of the club are: Allie Jo Schooler, Margaret Sue Goddard, Joyce Edwards, John Ellen Beach, Veneta Garnett, Allyne Garnett, Billie Maxwell, Miss Aline Nunnally, Eloise Shoemaker, and Miss Nell Guthrie.

The next meeting will be next Monday night at Allie Jo Schooler's house at 7:30.

Lawrence Resigns As AAA Secretary

TAHOKA, Friday 16. (Special)—C. A. Lawrence announces this week that he has resigned his position as secretary-treasurer of the Lynn County AAA, to take effect next Monday. His successor has not been announced.

His resignation will bring many regrets to the farmers and business people of the county. He has served them faithfully for more than seven years, is thoroughly conversant with the government AAA program in all its details, and is just as thoroughly acquainted with the condition, the needs, and the desires of the farmers of Lynn county. He has been with the department practically ever since the Triple-A program was inaugurated, beginning his work here on July 1, 1934. First he served as treasurer and later was assigned the additional work of secretary.

Mr. Lawrence feels that both his health and his private interests demand that he give up this work. He expects to remain in Tahoka until about the end of this year when he will remove to his farm near Littlefield.

Mr. Lawrence recently sold a farm near Idalou at a rather fancy price and thereupon purchased a larger farm near Littlefield. He owns still another farm in Lubbock county. These should give him plenty of outdoor exercise, all right, a thing which he says he needs.

The announcement of his resignation follows.

"I wish to announce to the farmers of Lynn county that I have resigned my position as secretary-treasurer of the Lynn County AAA, effective Monday, October 20.

"I wish to take this occasion to express my thanks for the co-operation and many kindnesses shown me while serving the farmers in the above capacity. I have tried to serve impartially every farmer in the county and deep down in my heart I will always treasure the friendships which I feel that have been made. To the farmers who have served on the county and community committees through the years I have been in the county, may I express my deep appreciation for the sacrifices that have been theirs in serving in the capacity for which they were chosen."

Motor Parts Five In Bowling Lead

Trying to carry a load of two 100 averages out of five men playing, the Whitsett Drug went down three straight games to the O'Donnell Motor Parts Monday night in the City bowling league.

The competition was a bit tougher between Corner Drug and Cicero Lumber Co., with the Corner copping two of the three encounters.

Fur will fly next Monday night, however. The Motor Parts kegglers take on the Corner Drug, while Whitsett, with the addition of two new players, will desperately try to extend their winning total from just one game to date.

Results Monday were: Whitsett-Barnes 100 ave.; Brewer 134, 131, 170. Motor Parts—Liddell 118, 127, 111; Thompson 94, 169, 127; Nowell 110, 156, 131; Schooler 163, 141, 159; Brock 150, 158, 164.

Corner Drug—Street 142, 158, 84; Hancock 136, 153, 98; Koeninger 96, 170, 131; Howard 121, 149, 118; Forgy 184, 145, 138.

Auto and truck accidents caused Cicero Smith—Allen 152, 96, 133; Caldwell 121, 150, 121; Davis 124, 103, 129; Wimberley 113, 156, 140; Applewhite 131, 170, 145.

Hail Damages Crops Near Town

Severe damage from hail to both cotton and feed crops was sustained Wednesday by several farmers east and southeast of O'Donnell and additional losses suffered from other farmers of the section when rain checked farm crop gathering.

Very few days have passed in the last two months which did not witness either rain or at least cloudy days here, and untold hundreds of dollars have been lost to farmers as an aftermath of the heavy precipitation.

An indication as to the lateness of the crop can be gleaned from ginning reports of the county as released by E. W. Holloway, spl. agent.

Census reports show 157 bales had been ginned in the county prior to October 1, 1941 as compared with 3,138 bales for a like period in 1940. Most people thought the crop was "late" last year.

Eagles Will Face Tough Brownfield

Still in quest of that Holy Grail, a victory in this case, the O'Donnell Eagles will tangle with the Brownfield team Friday night in that city, but few are the boosters who believe the victory long sought will come so soon.

Brownfield's Cubs, a terror that even class AA teams would respect count on this game as a "breather" before tougher competition meets them and may not play all first-string men.

Labor Shortage May Be Possible

Many cotton pickers have been arriving in Lynn county the past few days, but according to those who are supposed to know, there is possibility of a shortage unless the weather clears or some provision is made to take care of the small groups of itinerant Mexicans arriving here who are unable to find a place to stay until the weather clears.

Some of the Mexicans are turning back because of lack of a place to stop out of the weather, it is said. But, if they had definite jobs in sight and some shelter, they could be prevailed on to stay here.

E. W. Flumey of the Texas State Employment Service, has set up an office here in the County Agricultural building, and he asks that all farmers who need hands now or who will need them soon to get in touch with him at once.

SEW AND CHATTER CLUB

Mrs. Stansell Jones was hostess last week to members of the sewing club.

A variety of fall blossoms enhanced the rooms.

Mrs. Hollis Hunt was given a shower of birthday gifts and Mrs. S. F. Johnson was presented layette gifts.

Dainty refreshments were served Oates, Middleton, Minton, Fritz, to Mesdames Line, Liddell, Miles, Harris, Tredway and the above mentioned.

Mrs. Harris is hostess this week.

BAPTIST W. M. U.

Mrs. Hal Singleton Jr. directed a Mission Study Monday when W. M. U. members met at the Baptist Church.

"Author of Liberty" is the title of the new study book. Members were Mesdames Middleton, Vaughn, Lambert, Warren, Earles, Haney, and Singleton.

DORCAS CLASS MEETING

There were fifteen present last Friday when Dorcas class members met at the home of Mrs. A. J. Warren.

Mrs. Stubblefield taught the Bible study.

Refreshments were served.

JIM BINGHAM IMPROVING

Jim Bingham, who is in a Lamesa hospital suffering from an attack of pneumonia, is better so friends of the family have been advised.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Edwards and Mrs. Ed Goddard were in Lubbock Wednesday where Mr. Edwards attended a Co-op. meeting.

J. B. MILES IMPROVED

Friends of B. J. (Granddaddy) Miles were happy to see him out in the car Monday enjoying the sunshine.

He was returned from the Scott White hospital recently.

Cases Transferred To Brownfield

TAHOKA, Friday 16. (Special)—The case of L. A. Enloe, who was tried and convicted on a murder charge in this county and whose case was reversed and remanded by the Court of Criminal Appeals, was last week transferred by Judge Louis Reed to Brownfield for trial there.

Also transferred to Brownfield was the civil suit of Birdwell vs. D. E. Harris. Birdwell is suing for damages for personal injuries sustained when his car and that of Harris were in collision. He alleges negligence on the part of Harris.

The criminal case against Harris, in which he is charged with drunken driving, has been transferred to the county court and has been set for trial on October 27. The offense of drunken driving has been reduced by law from the grade of felony to a misdemeanor since Harris was indicted, a change which made the transfer necessary.

The case against Leo Cunningham was scheduled to be tried in the district court here on Thursday of this week.

Urge Support Of Food-For-Freedom

TAHOKA, Friday 16. (Special)—Lynn county farmers are asked today to do their part in the "Food-For-Freedom" campaign by increasing their production of milk by 3,192,000 pounds and eggs by 121,000 dozen in 1942.

Tentative production goals set for the county were announced by the Lynn County USDA Defense Board as follows:

1,328,000 dozen eggs, increase of 121,000 dozen over 1941.

18 per cent increase in beef cattle marketed.

29,072,000 pounds of milk, increase of 3,192,000 pounds over 1941.

10 per cent increase in hogs marketed and butchered on the farm.

8 per cent increase in feed grains (grain sorghums, oats, barley, and rye).

6 per cent increase in sheep and lambs.

In addition every farmer is urged to grow a home garden.

BROKEN WRIST HEALING

Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce have recently moved to the house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kirkland.

Mrs. Roy D. Smith visited in Lamesa Tuesday.

Mrs. S. D. Stockbridge has returned to Big Spring following a visit in the E. T. Wells home.

Car Wrecks Injure O'Donnell People

Auto and truck accidents caused injuries to two O'Donnell residents within the week, and a good scare for others.

Homer Hancock, prominent landowner suffered only shock and severe bruises Tuesday when his pickup collided with another on a country road east of town. Hancock was thrown from the cab after the pickup had turned over several times, and the driver of the other vehicle and two strangers brought him into town for treatment. An examination was made by a local physician who advised x-rays. Further examination at a Lubbock hospital revealed no broken bones.

Donald Todd, 17-year old son of Milt Todd, suffered a broken left elbow Saturday night when the car in which he and five other persons were riding was struck by a truck. None of the others were injured to any extent.

SENIORS

The Seniors have selected their caps and gowns along with their invitations. Their caps and gowns are white and the caps have red and white tassels.

The SENIORS are very glad indeed to say that they have the least amount of failures in High school this six weeks. They want to keep this honor all the way through the school year.

L. E. Robinson Jr., who attends John Tarleton in Stephenville, and Miss Lometa Robinson, who attends Tech, spent the week end visiting their parents.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

Nazis Claim Smashing of Soviet Army In Terrific Attack on Eastern Front; Pro-Nazi Panama President Is Ousted By Regime Friendly to United States

EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

GAMBLE: On Eastern Front

Hitler's dramatic announcement that "events of enormous importance" would take place on the eastern front was followed closely by what many observers and analysts of military tactics called the greatest gamble in the history of warfare.

Then from the Nazi high command came the word that in their opinion the last effective Russian forces on the central front had been smashed and "last army groups are being wiped out."

An initial campaign which had been planned for a month or less to yield Leningrad, Kiev and Moscow had been going on for more than 17 weeks, and the yield had been Kiev.

Though knocking on the doors of Leningrad, entry had been denied, and there were many reports that this new plan of Hitler's to storm Moscow from a beginning distance of between 150 and 200 miles would call for the abandonment, for the present, of attempts to take the northern metropolises.

The observers, at the same time that they questioned the good sense of the all-out campaign for Moscow, admitted that if Hitler was to throw all his available forces into a blitz on the central front, Timoshenko's men would have to fall back, but whether Hitler could count on driving all the Russians out of western Russia before winter they believed to be dubious in the extreme.

There was a general feeling in Moscow that the attack was spurred on by desperation, that Hitler was feeling the effects of the unrest back of the eastern front, and believed he would have to have a big Russian victory before winter so that his front-line forces could be relieved to clean up the mess in occupied Europe, steadily becoming worse as winter approached.

As usual whenever a German drive was announced there were those who believed it might be a cloak for something else.

Some suggested that the first spearhead to be driven forward, north of the Sea of Azov, might be a cloak for a water-borne attack on the Caucasus oil fields.

If this were true, however, the Reds on the fighting lines were badly fooled, for they reported a general central German attack of greater ferocity than any so far experienced.

TWO BITES: Or Just One?

Just as many papers were asking editorially why it was that congress was following the plan of what they called A-B-C legislation or the program of voting for or against Bill A, when everybody concerned knew that Bill B and Bill C, two other steps, were in the offing, the White House brought them a new sample to chew over.

Sen. Tom Connally (left) and Rep. Charles Eaton of New Jersey are shown before entering the White House as members of a bipartisan delegation from Capitol Hill summoned to discuss with the President his plans for congressional changes in the nation's neutrality law. Both men are members of the foreign relations committee in their respective branches of congress.

This was the question of the alteration of the neutrality act.

The press was informed that the first congressional-White House conference on the bill was whether it would be advisable to take two bites out of the cherry or only one.

Would it, they discussed, be advisable to settle the question of shipping merchantmen and extending the right to American merchantmen to go to British ports separately, or both at once.

Were the question decided in the first method, congressmen asked to vote on Question A, whether merchantmen should be armed, would know full well that this question would be indissolubly linked with Question B, of whether they should allow merchant ships to sail into British ports—but this question would not be before them.

PANAMA: Coup d'etat

Three presidents within the space of a few hours with the news from the republic of Panama as political elements favorable to the democracies ousted Arnulfo Arias, pro-Nazi president and set up their new government.

In the bloodless coup d'etat, Ernesto Jaen Guardia, former minister to Mexico, took over the duties of president as Arias fled to Cuba by airplane. A cabinet was then formed, Guardia resigned as president and Ricardo Adolfo de La Guardia, former minister of government and justice, was elected president by the new cabinet.

Reports were that the coup was precipitated by the recent action of the Arias regime in ruling that Panama-registered ships could not carry arms for protection against submarine attacks. A cabinet ruling, this regulation was ordered as the U. S. was considering arming its own cargo ships.

RED AID: Wins Support

Despite the fact that President Roosevelt had been conceded to have stirred up a hornet's nest with his pronouncement about Soviet Myron C. Taylor, President Roosevelt's personal envoy to the Vatican, is pictured upon his return from Rome. Before leaving the Vatican, Taylor is said to have had a lengthy interview with the pope and it was reported that this was the subject of his discussion with the President.

Russia and religion, the house of representatives, even while the press battle over the subject was raging, put its O.K. on a plan to give cash aid to Russia in addition to material help.

This had been regarded as indicative of the tenor of house thought on the subject of helping the Reds in their defense of their homeland, an attitude that had been echoed in the American Federation of Labor convention.

This group, while assailing Communism as such, completely endorsed the sending of aid to Russia in increasing quantities.

The house action came when, in discussion of a bill which would increase the RFC lending power to a billion and a half, Representative Smith of Ohio said he understood Russia wasn't going to get any of it but he wanted to make doubly sure, so offered a prohibitive amendment.

ALUMINUM: A Decision

In an opinion that required 8 1/2 courtroom days to dictate, Judge Francis Caffey of a New York federal court ruled that the government had failed to prove its charges of violations under the Sherman Anti-Trust act by the Aluminum Company of America. Thus ended one of the longest trials in U. S. history with ALCOA the apparent winner on all points. Inasmuch as the government failed to prove its case, Judge Caffey said that it would be contrary to the public interest to dissolve or enjoin ALCOA.

An interesting part of the court's opinion was the statement that it appears that there exists in this country adequate supplies of bauxite (ore of aluminum) and water power available to anyone. Therefore, he said, anyone is and has been able to go into production of virgin aluminum since the last of ALCOA'S patents ran out in 1909.

Notes of an Innocent Bystander

The Front Pages: President Roosevelt, who has taken many a lashing from the press, saluted National Newspaper Week with a message to publishers to guard the press' freedom. In short, he urges it to hang on to its right to slam him . . . Royal Cortissoz, celebrating half a century with the H-Trib, also said something worth remembering about press freedom. "Opinions," he said, "are a critic's capital, and he is useless if he cannot find freedom of expression for them" . . . Virginio Gayda, the typewriter that talks like Mussolini, urges the Fascist dailies to fake news to keep the people's spirit up. According to dispatches from Italy, the Italian people would prefer to have him fake up a few plates of spaghetti.

The Wireless: Jan Masaryk's broadcast was heartbreaking enough to wring a tear from an isolationist. He reported that the victims of the Hun slaughters in Czechoslovakia are not the revolvers, but just any helpless Czechs they lay their hands on . . . The squeeze is on the Nazis in South America, however, take it from broadcaster Herbert M. Clark. It's getting so uncomfortable for them in Argentina, he said, that some of Der Fuehrer's busiest dagger troops are screaming alluvial sudden that they're Swiss . . . C. Fudman and B. Hope ping-ponging humorous insults at each other made laughs come like bananas—in bunches . . . Eleanor Roosevelt's chatter does more to keep her listeners awake than the coffee she plugs.

The Story Tellers: Runyon makes a monkey out of the fiction rules in "Broadway Incident," his entertaining piece in Cosmopolitan. His hero is a drama critic, which is definitely a contradiction in terms . . . Garbo is news for the funniest reason. She used to collar space as being a mysterious recluse, out of the world. Now Life blows her to lots of pages because she's a simple, friendly girl like you, Toots . . . Paul Gallico's word-halo for Lou Gehrig in the Nov. Cosmopolitan creeps into your heart like a smile from a baby . . . Writes Kyle Crichton in Collier's: "When ecstatic cries of dah-ling greet a Hollywood actress entering Ciro's, she knows that her last picture has been a success" . . . Or her first marriage has been a failure.

The Magic Lanterns: The cinema gets a pretty good report card "Hold Back the Dawn" is a large afternoon for the sighting set. Charles Boyer plays put and take with two hearts, Olivia de Havilland's and Paulette Goddard's (who is a heel with a tender side). The yarn, about how he marries his way past the immigration gate, is skillfully told . . . Things are milder in "It Started With Eve," but all ool' nice. Deanna Durbin is the same likeable lass, and Chas. Laughton is the funny-mans of the occasion . . . Tom Harmon runs and kicks a gamut full in "Harmon of Michigan." Football shots from the newsreels are woven into the love story, which also looks like cuts from previous films.

Typewriter Ribbons: F. E. Freedman: Is the Atlantic Ocean verboten or fer boatin'? . . . Kin Hubbard: 'Ther ought t'be some way t'eat celery so it wouldn't sound like you wuz steppin' on a basket . . . Youngstown Vindicator: The generals most likely to defeat America are general inertia and general apathy . . . Toronto Star Weekly: All Europe is now divided into three parts: occupied, unoccupied, and pre-occupied . . . Olin Miller: It's when a man first feels his age that he has the hardest time being it . . . Damon Runyon: She has an ice-cream cone where her heart is supposed to be . . . M. Foster: The plaza was drowsy with history . . . H. Klurfeld: She was a good secretary, but cloyed.

New York Heartbeat The Big Parade: Ambassador and Mrs. Martins from Brazil at the Stork rindside cementing Good Will with United Statesmen—by applauding the rhumbacrobats . . . the Joe E. Browns staying young in the sinful places up 'til almost half-past eleven! . . . Sonja Henie swapping a chilly howja-doo with her boss, Darryl Zanuck . . . The Drew Pearsons of Washington gapping at The Big Town's tallest buildings, the list . . . Beatrice Kay and her definition of a diplomat in Washington or on Broadway: "A guy who knows how to keep his chin up without sticking out his neck."

New York Newsreel Subwayites gazing at people across the aisle as if they were a blank wall . . . The once famous actress who now performs in five-and-ten-cent stores, exhibiting all kinds of kitchen utensils . . . The debutantes who have everything to make life worth living, yet few of them have learned how to live . . . The amazing dexterity of cabbies weaving through the traffic, listening to their radio, talking to passengers and smoking a cigar at the same time.

The No. 10-C Hammer Mill with feed conveyor. Note the adjustable gate at the feed throat of the conveyor.

• Name any grain or roughage you like . . . it's pretty certain you can grind it just the way you want it in the new McCormick-Deering Hammer Mills No. 10 and No. 10-C. These two mills are easy to adjust, simple to operate, and they grind at the exact degree of fineness you want.
Come in and see them at our store. The No. 10 has a large-capacity, gravity-feed hopper; the No. 10-C is equipped with feed conveyor. By removing screens and hammers in the No. 10-C, you can use it as an ensilage cutter—a feature many livestock feeders and dairymen will like.

The McCormick-Deering line is the complete line of feed-grinding equipment. Besides these two mills, we have the new No. 5 Hammer Mill (slightly smaller capacity than the No. 10 and No. 10-C), the No. 2 Roughage Mill, and a complete line of plate-type Feed Grinders.

Honeymoon

By JOSEPH Mc CORD W.N.U. Service

INSTALLMENT SEVEN

THE STORY SO FAR: Larry Cutter started pretty Jacqueline (Jack) Anthony, public stenographer at the Hotel Raynear, by telling her she could realize her globe-trotting ambitions by marrying him. Jacqueline had just lost her life's savings in the stock market, and her father had left her only a month before when she refused him additional money for work on his inventions. Stunned by this double blow, she accepted his proposal. They were married after signing a contract permitting her to continue her present mode of living, and to nullify the marriage after six months. Jacqueline invited Larry to her apartment for dinner that evening. Now continue with the story.

CHAPTER V

August Hildebrand kept his promise to Jacqueline about the chicken. It arrived from the delicatessen shop on the stroke of six and, even now, was in the oven being subjected to a careful heating. It looked beautiful.

The little hostess, wearing a frilly apron over her silk dress, cheeks pink from heat and excitement, scurried about the apartment in last minute preparations.

Over and over she had checked the items of that menu on her nervous fingers or, with puckered brow, called the roll of the edibles in the refrigerator. The fruit salad, the crisp celery, the olives. The desert buried in its bucket of cracked ice, reposing in the bathtub.

One more peep at the fowl. Sizzling. Oh!

A ring at the bell. When the door was opened, there stood Larry. He seemed to fill the entire opening. A package under either arm. Grinning like a boy.

"My word!" was his greeting to his hostess. The smile vanished. He stood motionless.

"Won't you come in?" "Oh yes... But you..." The flush in Jacqueline's cheeks deepened.

"I forgot to take off my apron," she apologized in confusion. "I'm the cook and everything tonight," she added gaily.

"Please don't take it off," Larry blurted. "You're so pretty... Excuse me. But you rather took me off my feet." He transferred the packages to one arm, clutched off his hat and closed the door.

"Here. I brought you a few posies and some... candy."

"Oh, thank you!... But you shouldn't have tempted me. I'm reducing."

"You!" Larry's laugh filled the room. It served to put both of them at their ease. The guest dropped into a chair and watched his new wife bustling about. She opened the flowers with eyes that sparkled, exclaiming over their beauty.

"We must have them on the table," she declared. "But you can't have any candy. Dinner is almost ready. I'm going to put it on the table now."

"Can't I help? I'm handy around a kitchen."

"You're too big to get into this one," Jacqueline laughed. "No, indeed. You sit there and read your paper or smoke... anything you like. I won't be but a few seconds."

"I shall watch you," Larry returned significantly. Read a paper when there was a chance to watch Jack! How beautiful she was just now... so different. What was the use... of anything?

And, at last, the dinner was on, Jacqueline looking over the table with one breathless last inspection. It seemed to be all right. Everything there. A swift retreat to the bathroom to divest herself of the apron, to peek at her shining hair in the mirror of the wall cabinet. Then, back again to stand behind her chair and summon her guest to his place. Little dreaming the peril in which she was involving herself, she invited laughingly, "Come and get it, Larry."

Larrymore H. Cutter leaped to his feet, hesitated. With the greatest self-control he ever had exhibited, he thrust both hands deep in his pockets and stalked grimly to his place. Ordinarily, he would have gone around and seated his hostess. But that would have meant standing behind her chair, looking down on the tempting brown waves of her hair. It was too much to ask of a man. He didn't dare.

Instead, he dropped into his chair and unfolded his napkin with fingers that shook strangely.

"You'll have to carve," was Jacqueline's next warning. "I hope you know how."

"I can do... almost anything, I think."

Larry proved to be a superb combination of guest and host. The complete devotion he exhibited toward the food testified eloquently to his approval.

"And you're some cook!" he proclaimed with a satisfied sigh as he accepted a final cup of coffee.

"That's the best dinner I ever ate in my life, Jack."

"You're a gallant prevaricator," she retorted. "Make yourself comfortable while I carry out these dishes so we won't have to look at them."

"What'dya mean comfortable?" Larry stood up and removed his coat. "Get me an apron. I'm going to help with the dishes."

"Nonsense! I'll do them later."

"Listen. I'm boss in... your house... for the moment. Don't try to stop me, either." He walked into the kitchenette and looked about him. Spying some dish towels on a rack, he took one and gravely tucked the corners in his waistcoat pockets. "Let's go!" he ordered.

Jacqueline entered into the spirit of this newest occasion with a readiness that surprised herself. It was rather fun to watch Larry lounging about his tasks in a masculine, but peculiarly deft, fashion. They chatted together familiarly as they worked, putting things to rights.

"Don't let me forget I'm making a train tonight," Larry cautioned later as he slipped into his discarded coat. "I'm likely to overlook such trifles."

It would have surprised him to know that this thought had been recurring to Jacqueline with unpleasant frequency. It brought a little feeling of sadness, in spite of herself. Larry was going away. He had not said for how long, and she did not feel free to ask. But she knew in her heart that she was going to miss him... after tonight.

"I won't let you forget," she promised very solemnly, with a glance at the clock. Only a little over an hour left! She turned on the radio, tuned it down so that the music would not interfere with conversation. She felt a little easier when they both were talking.

Perhaps Larry felt the influence of the music. He talked informally of this and that, indulging in few personalities. Asking no questions. Apparently, he was resolved to take no advantage whatever of this unique situation. Playing the game like a perfect gentleman. Jacqueline was conscious of something like a feeling of relief when he asked finally if he might use the telephone.

Two weeks of this wearying, baffling situation dragged out their allotted space. Then something happened.

Jacqueline's office phone rang. An outside call. A woman's voice. "Miss Anthony?"

"Yes." "South Side Hospital speaking."

The little office seemed to be going around in mad circles. Jacqueline's hand clutched at her heart; she forced her stiff lips to ask, "What is it?" The word "Larry" struggled to escape.

"We have a patient who gives his name as Vincent Anthony," the voice went on. "Is he your father?"

"Why... yes. Yes! It must be! Is he seriously ill? Is he... hurt?"

"He is ill," said the matter-of-fact voice. "It may or may not be serious. But he has asked for you—"

Jacqueline sat staring straight ahead of her, trying to fit the pieces of this new puzzle into an understandable pattern. But only for a moment.

The main thing, now, was to reach the South Side Hospital. The hotel doorman signaled a taxi at her breathless request.

In the hospital office, Jacqueline was told that Vincent Anthony was in the emergency ward, brought by ambulance after a police officer had seen him collapse on the street. That was early the previous evening.

"Is he seriously ill?" Jacqueline faltered.

"A chronic ailment aggravated by malnutrition. There is a possibility that an operation may be necessary. If you wish to see him, please do not stay longer than necessary."

As in a dream, Jacqueline made her way through long drug-scented corridors, then into a large room with rows of white beds. What did that woman in the office say? Something about malnutrition. That meant not having enough to eat! Vince...

There he was! Thin and haggard looking. But the same quizzical eyes, the same smile...

"Vince!" "Lo, Skipper."

That was a name he devised for her long ago... when they used to sit with their heads close together over the old atlas. Charting courses through the Seven Seas.

"Vince! What is it? What have they done to you? Where have you been? Why didn't you let me know...?" Questions tumbling from the girl's lips in whispers, after a lingering kiss on her father's forehead. She pressed one of his hands tightly in both her own, her dark blue eyes welling with unshed tears.

"I'm all right, Skipper."

"Of course you are, dear. Can you tell me a little about it?"

Vince squirmed uneasily. Like a small boy caught in a misdemeanor. "I've been very busy," he began in a weak voice... "Working on an invention. It's a good one, this time, and I'm almost finished with it. I got a job as a night watchman a while ago... Needed a little extra money for... dry batteries."

His eyes twinkled. "And then, this had to happen."

"Vince!" Jacqueline whispered almost sharply. "Where was that job?"

"Yager and Brown's." Vince wriggled again. "Why, they're here in the city! Vince... Have you been in town all this time?"

"Pretty much, Skipper."

Two big tears rolled unchecked down Jacqueline's cheeks.

Vince had never left the city. He had hidden himself in some obscure quarter, going without enough to eat while he pattered over his mechanical dreams. Too proud to ask for help... help he must have needed sadly. And all these months, the one person in the world who belonged to him had been living in near luxury. Saving her money for a selfish dream, gambling, losing...

Jacqueline controlled herself with a fierce effort.

My Week by Eleanor Roosevelt

RADIO BROADCAST

FROM HYDE PARK.—We drove down to New York city after lunch one day and I had a visit from Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr and Dr. James Loeb Jr., who came to ask me to speak at a meeting. They allowed me a choice of dates in October or early December. October is already so filled with obligations and December is filling up so rapidly, that I had a very hard time deciding. I finally agreed that I would try to go, if certain conditions can be met, and if no one can be found who will do a better job than I.

Then I went over to the broadcasting station and went through the usual preliminaries of photographs and rehearsals. I wish my reading time would be the same at least twice, it would save the poor people who run these programs a great deal of trouble. As a result of the broadcast, I had a most entertaining telegram which reads: "Face the fact that Communism and Democracy are not the same and see where that leaves you." It was signed: "An Isolationist."

DEFINITION OF DEMOCRACY

I must be very dull, because I thought I had made crystal clear that Communism and Democracy are not the same. I thought that I had given a fair definition of what Democracy really is! However, I am delighted to have an opportunity to say here that it seems to me that Democracy has one great advantage over Communism—it really requires the participation of every citizen in the choice of the people to fill government office.

Of course, it would be impossible to have a real democracy in a country which has not so far had, for at least two generations, free public school education and laws which protected people in their right to exercise fundamental freedoms of thought, of speech and of assembly.

Mr. and Mrs. "Isolationist," whoever you may be, facing the fact of this difference between Communism and Democracy, leaves me in just the position I was in when I made my radio speech.

ANOTHER NEW YORK TRIP

One day we caught the six o'clock plane for New York city and worked on my personal mail during an extremely smooth flight. I went home first, where I had a glimpse of Jimmie and Rommie, who were just starting out in their best bibs and tuckers to dine very gaily in celebration of her birthday.

Miss Thompson and I dined in a little restaurant on Sixtieth street near Fifth avenue, which we both like, and had a very leisurely and pleasant meal by ourselves.

The meeting called the next day by the Co-ordinator of Federal Security Services, Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, was a most inspiring occasion. It brings together not only the different agencies under that bureau, but all the other government agencies working in the area. Here were government representatives on a regional level, working out the problems which affected all their different agencies. Thereby, they accomplished results, which, if they had not met together once a month, probably would have taken weeks of correspondence finally to clear up.

In the afternoon, all the state officials joined the meeting. This meant that purely state responsibilities, and the points at which the state officials touch the federal government officials, could also become clarified because of personal contact.

In addition, Lieutenant-Governor Poletti of New York state, state co-ordinator of civilian defense activities, and Maj. Gen. Irving J. Philipson, representing the military interests of the area, were present. It seemed to me that this was as good a co-ordinating job as I had seen accomplished anywhere in the government.

SOUTH AMERICAN FILMS

One evening the President and I, with our dinner guests, had the pleasure of seeing some new films. One is made from pictures taken during Mr. Julian Bryan's last trip to South America, and his voice gives the running comment.

Life is full of little coincidences, and I smiled when I thought that, only that morning I had read a letter which a young friend wrote from Bogota. She told most interestingly of the country and the life there and casually mentioned that they had been spending some very pleasant hours with Mr. Julian Bryan. Here I was looking at the picture made on his last trip, while he was out making pictures for a future film!

The other picture shown was done under the direction of Mr. Joseph Losey. It is a very charming picture of a nursery school in a rural area. Children are shown in all the activities that are possible in country surroundings. We see them at work and at play. The children range in age from two to seven years. It has no great significance, except that it brings the people who see it a realization of the value of the nursery school. This educational experiment is fairly new in our country. In Europe it has long been known.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease to your stomach in taking. For years, many Doctors have given pepsin preparations in their prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a touchy stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative-Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna at your druggist today. Try one laxative combined with Syrup Pepsin for ease to your stomach, too.

YOU BUY INOCULATION ON FAITH

Field tests have shown a big difference in the quality of inoculator brands on the market. You cannot see the legume bacteria you purchase. Immediate demonstration is impossible. What is the reputation and experience behind the inoculation you buy?

- NITRAGIN is the ORIGINAL LEGUME INOCULATOR, having served the farmers for over forty years. It was a GOLD MEDAL at the World's Fair, St. Louis, 1904. NITRAGIN is made in the most complete and modern laboratory of its kind in the world. NITRAGIN is the leader in its field by a big margin. NITRAGIN demand in the South has rapidly increased year after year. During the fall of 1940 the Southern shipments of NITRAGIN were for more than 45 million pounds of VETCH and WINTER PEAS. This large demand is due to many field tests carried on year after year. We prove by these tests that NITRAGIN is a good product. Send for our booklet "Plant Legumes to Prosper," showing pictures of field tests and how NITRAGIN is made. The booklet also gives you valuable information regarding the inoculation of legumes. If your dealer does not have NITRAGIN in stock, have him get it for you. Insist on NITRAGIN inoculation.

NEW DESIGNS FOR YOUR COOKIE JAR
(See Recipes Below)

COOKIE SURPRISES

All crisp, crunchy, and some slightly nutty, all of today's recipes are so fashioned as to send you on a real cookie-baking spree. Fill that lovely cookie jar of yours until the sides are fairly bulging with goodies so you can have cookies a-plenty to put in the children's lunch boxes, to serve as afternoon snacks, and as a pick-up for mealtime.

If you're doing some baking for a bazaar, there's nothing quite like plates of yummy cookies to put over the sales. Remember, you can sell a lot more, if you give out some samples. These can be set on plates with white paper doilies, for sampling, and those to be sold put in boxes already fixed. Cookies can be sold by the dozen if they're fancy and somewhat elaborate, by the pound if they're small drop cookies or squares.

Here's an interesting variation of the filled cookie, both dainty and delectable.
Corn Flake Filled Cookies.
(Makes 36 medium-sized cookies)
1 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
3 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups cornflakes

Blend shortening and sugar thoroughly. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add alternately with water and flavoring to first mixture. Stir in coarsely rolled corn flakes. Chill. Roll dough to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut with cookie cutter. Spread one round with filling, put on a second round and press edges together with a fork. Bake on a greased baking sheet in a hot (425 degrees) oven about 12 minutes.

Filling.
1 1/2 cups chopped dates
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 tablespoon orange rind
Combine all ingredients together and cook until soft paste is formed. Cool before filling cookies.

These little butter balls make good nibbling and smart additions to your teatime table. Made with butter, their flavor will be something you'll long cherish and remember.

Butter Rolls.
(Makes 7 dozen small cookies)
3/4 cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup finely chopped nuts
Cream brown sugar and shortening. Add beaten eggs and vanilla. Add flour and baking powder. Roll into balls the size of marbles. Mix the granulated sugar and nuts and roll the balls in the mixture. Place on a greased baking sheet and bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 10 minutes. These cookies will flatten slightly.

LYNN SAYS:

An assortment of cookies, freshly baked and packed in tins with waxed paper between layers makes a delightful present for youngsters away at school and for friends you seldom see. When your own cookie jar has been filled to bulging, pack a few boxes from what you have and spread cheer to others, too.

Careful packing in tins with waxed paper will keep even small dainty cookies fresh for a long time. Some flavors like chocolate improve after they stand for some time. Chewy, nutty cookies are the more chewy and delicious after several days. Spicy cookies become moist and well flavored after standing.

1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sifted flour
1 1/2 cups fine rolled oats
7 ounces chocolate pieces

Cream butter and sugar. Add orange rind, egg, vanilla and beat well. Add salt and flour which has been mixed with the oats. Add chocolate pieces and work into batter. Drop by spoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake 15 to 20 minutes in a moderate (375 degrees) oven.

Recommendations are in for the old favorites of which you never tire. If you want to make a pretty and at the same time, a very successful platter, you might try alternate rows of both these Ginger Cookies and

Brownies:

Soft Ginger Cookies.
(Makes 5 dozen)
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup molasses
3/4 cup evaporated milk
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon each, ginger, cinnamon

Cream sugar and shortening, add egg and molasses. Beat well, add milk and blend well. Mix dry ingredients and add to batter. Last add soda, dissolved in 2 tablespoons warm water. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Bake 15 minutes in a hot (375 degrees) oven.

Brownies.

(Makes 2 dozen)
1/2 cup butter or shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
3/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat eggs and sugar together. Add to this melted butter and chocolate and blend. Add flour, baking powder, nuts, and beat well. Pour into a greased pan and bake 30 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Cool and cut in squares.

For a delicious variation of the brownie recipe, you'll like the addition of 3/4 cup of bran cereal in place of the chopped nuts. They'll give you a slightly different flavored cookie, but guaranteed to please you, just as well.

Meat-Macaroni Casserole.
1 package macaroni
1/2 cup salad oil
1 pound hamburger
1 dry onion, minced
1 green pepper, minced
1 clove garlic, if desired
1 can tomato soup
2 cups peas
2 cups corn
Salt and pepper

Cook the macaroni in plenty of boiling salted water and when tender, put in a sieve and rinse with cold water. Meanwhile fry the hamburger in the heated oil, stirring it occasionally to separate it. Skim out the meat and in the same fat cook onion, pepper and garlic till tender, but not browned. Garlic may be omitted entirely, and it is usually removed after the onion and pepper are cooked. Combine all ingredients and simmer 20 to 30 minutes to heat thoroughly and blend flavors, then serve.

THE HOLY SPIRIT OUR HELPER

LESSON TEXT—John 3:5-8; Acts 1:8; Romans 8:29-30; Galatians 5:22-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.—Romans 8:14.

Nothing could be more practical or blessed for and in the life and service of the believer than an understanding of the person and work of the Holy Spirit; yet it is a subject concerning which most Christians are woefully ignorant.

Before taking up the work of the Spirit as it appears in our lesson, we should understand that the Holy Spirit is a person, not an influence which may exert itself upon a service, or a power which a man may obtain and use. He—the Spirit—is one of the Trinity, with the attributes of a person, doing the work of a person and always referred to as a person in Scripture. (When "it" is used of the Holy Spirit in the A.V. it will be found to be corrected to "him" in the R.V.)

What then does this divine person do? The work of creation was His as one of the Godhead. He regenerates, He teaches, He comforts, He leads, He calls and qualifies Christian workers, He is the divine author of the Bible. These and many other things He does, this One who indwells the believer as the ever-present Guide and Counselor. The Christian is

I. Born of the Spirit (John 3:5-8).
The new birth is indispensable to entrance into the kingdom of God. We either enter that way or we do not enter at all. Let's be clear about that. "Ye must be born again" is not the edict of a church or the plea of a preacher; it is the plain statement of our Lord Himself (v. 5).

The Holy Spirit is indispensable to regeneration. We must be born of the Spirit. How it takes place we can no more explain than the coming or going of the wind, but just as the power of the wind is known to us by clear evidence, so the regenerating power of the Spirit, mysterious though it be in operation, is known to us by the evidences of redeeming grace in a man's life.

II. Empowered by the Spirit (Acts 1:8).
Spiritual birth calls for service for Christ. For that we must have the power of the Holy Spirit. A man may do many ordinary things in the strength of his own body and mind (although even these ought always to be under the Spirit's control), but when he comes to witnessing for Christ, teaching or preaching God's Word, he must have Holy Spirit power or he is utterly ineffective.

III. Directed by the Spirit (Rom. 8:26-28).
The guidance of the Holy Spirit, especially in the matter of prayer, is stressed in these verses, but they are a part of a longer passage dealing with the indwelling, enabling, and guiding power of the Holy Spirit (read vv. 9-14). Every detail of life in the home, at business, or in social relations should be in conscious submission to His leading.

It is in the realm of the spiritual, however, that we find ourselves peculiarly infirm (v. 26), and this shows itself especially in prayer—"we know not how to pray as we ought." Then the Spirit in the Christian makes intercession. How blessed! "The practical meaning of these profound words seems to be that the divine Spirit, by His immediate influence in the saint's soul, which becomes as it were the organ of his own address to the Father, secures the rightness of the essence of the saint's prayer. To our understandings such intercessions with groanings which cannot be uttered, take the form of desires of ours, inspired and secured by Him. In any special case of prayer, the saint may or may not use words; but anyway the root-desires that underlie the prayer, being the Holy Spirit's promptings, are unutterable to the full. In the heart the Father sees below the surface of our ignorance the sacred longings which are the expression of the Spirit's influence" (H. C. G. Moule).

IV. Walking in the Spirit (Gal. 5:22-26).

Being born again of the Spirit, living daily by the Spirit, it is right that (as v. 25 puts it) "if we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit." The works of the flesh, horrible in their wickedness and lust, are listed in the verses preceding (vv. 19-21), and then by striking contrast we have the fruit of the Spirit in the life of the Christian. Note the distinction: Work is something we produce; fruit is something that grows.

Walking in the Spirit the Christian finds in his life the inward graces of love, joy, and peace. These then express themselves outwardly in long-suffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness, and self-control. The Spirit-filled man is not only a good man; he lives a good life.

Farmers To Ballot On Soil Program

Lynn county land owners will again vote on October 25 in an election to determine whether or not a Soil Conservation District will be created embracing lands lying in Lynn county.

This is the second such election to be held in Lynn county. On March 9, 1940, an election was held on the creation of the proposed district composed of Lynn and Dawson counties. More than the necessary two-thirds of the land owners of Lynn county voted in favor of the district. However, the land owners in Dawson county, voting against the proposed district, more than offset the Lynn vote. Practically every other South Plains county is now located in a Soil Conservation district.

The State Soil Conservation Law promises the means that farmers need for working together, for democratically developing a program to conserve their soil. The basic principle underlying the law is to place the responsibility for planning and carrying out a Soil Conservation program squarely upon the shoulders of local landowners. Under its provisions, the initiative for forming a soil conservation district must come from local land owners. No district can be formed unless the land owners want it. Once the district has been formed, control rests directly in the hand of local land owners, and cooperation on part of the land owners is strictly voluntary.

In brief, the law enables farmers to exercise local initiative in conserving their soil, yet maintains safeguards that will assure that the things done are done because a large majority of the land owners believe that they are safe and sound and will be of benefit to them and to the community; to request and secure such technical aid as they may need from various State and Federal agencies; and to secure the use of available equipment and materials from such agencies and from other sources. There is no provision in the law that would enable a district to vote bonds or levy taxes.

Voting divisions and polling places for the election have been announced by R. C. Wood, polling superintendent, as follows:

Voting box No. 1, Co-op Gin office, O'Donnell, for qualified voters residing in O'Donnell, Joe Bailey, and T-Bar school district. Presiding judge, Paul Gooch; clerks, E. J. Treadway, John A. Anderson.

Voting box No. 2, Court House in Tahoka, for qualified voters residing in Tahoka, Midway, Edith, and New Lynn school districts; Presiding judge, R. C. Wood; clerks, R. M. Stewart and I. M. Draper.

Voting box No. 3, Draw school house in Draw for qualified voters residing in the Draw and Redwine school districts; presiding judge, H. W. Callaway; clerks, R. L. Pirtle and A. P. Headrick.

Voting box No. 4, Wells school house for qualified voters residing in Wells and New Moore school districts; presiding judge, P. E. Askew; clerks, L. A. Light and D. J. Bolch.

Voting box No. 5, West Point school house, for qualified voters residing in West Point and Three Lakes school districts; presiding judge, C. T. Tankersley; clerks, G. W. Hickerson and Tom Hale.

Voting box No. 6, New Home school house, for qualified voters residing in New Home, Petty, Dixie, and Joe Stokes school districts; presiding judge, J. R. Strain; clerks, Lynn West and Jim Izard.

Voting box No. 7, Lakeview school house, for qualified voters residing in Lakeview precinct; presiding judge, Roy Nettles; clerks, E. F. Schwartz and Ed McManus.

Voting box No. 8, Wilson school house, for qualified voters in Wilson school district; presiding judge, John Heck; clerks, Hugo Maeker and Louis Mueller.

Voting box No. 9, Grassland school house, for qualified voters residing in Grassland and Garnolia school districts; presiding judge, J. W. Walrick; clerks, Carl Greer and J. W. Norman.

Voting box No. 10, Gordon school house, for qualified voters residing in Gordon and Morgan school districts; presiding judge, Houton Haire; clerks, W. P. Lester and T. H. Basinger.

A schedule of educational meetings to explain and discuss the workings of the Soil Conservation Law is being arranged by Don Turner, county agent. Notices of these meetings are being mailed Lynn county farmers this week. Although only land owners are eligible to vote in the election, every farmer, whether land owner or tenant, is invited and urged to attend these meetings.

4-H CLUBBERS MAY SECURE LOANS

Farm boys and girls in Lynn county whose parents are now cooperating with the Farm Security Administration, may obtain loans to finance 4-H Club and vocational agriculture projects, Wyman J. Welch, rehabilitation supervisor for the FSA, said today.

Projects which may be financed in this manner include baby beeves, dairy heifers, small ewe flocks, bred gilts, and so forth.

"These projects," Mr. Welch said, "are to be under rules of 4-H and vocational programs, under the direct supervision of county agents and vocational teachers, in cooperation with FSA supervisors."

The Farm Security Administration's participation in these projects, it was learned, is designed to make it possible for all children in Farm Security families to obtain the educational and vocational training opportunities available in the public school systems and community affairs.

Don Turner, county agent, said: "I see in this plan an opportunity for youngsters, who otherwise would not be able to participate in club work, to carry out successful projects and to receive the advantages of club work."

"The Farm Security Administration's lending program for boys and girls," said Leslie Browning, vocational agriculture teacher in the Tahoka High School, "is not only an opportunity for more youngsters to participate in vocational training, but it is also a method of providing adequate financing so they can carry out their projects with the maximum efficiency. Moreover, this splendid experience in business and financing."

Farm boys and girls, whose parents are now working with the Farm Security Administration in this way may obtain complete details about financing their projects from the County Farm Security office, or the county extension office, or the vocational agriculture department of their high school.

BUY NOW!
IT
WHY
New, 1942 SERVEL
ELECTROLUX models are now available. But why buy now? Read these answers and decide for yourself—

Q. 1. Why not wait until next summer? Why buy now?
Ans. Will you be able to buy any refrigerator then? No one knows. The defense program demands daily more and more steel, copper, etc.—the very materials required to build a Servel.

Q. 2. Can I get terms to suit my purse, if I wait?
Ans. No one knows. But—right now, a small down payment puts Servel Electrolux in your home—with 18 long months to pay!

Q. 3. How much tax will I have to pay, if I wait?
Ans. No one knows. Excise taxes, such as these, can be increased by Congress as required. And defense authorities say "far heavier taxes yet to come."

Q. 4. Is it patriotic to buy now?
Ans. Buying now may release man-power, machine power, materials, later on, when they are much more badly needed for defense. And protecting the nation's health—your family's health—is a number one requirement for defense.

Q. 5. Is Servel a good investment at a time like this?
Ans. Food prices are going up! We probably haven't seen anything yet. The higher they go, the more Servel Electrolux will save in your home. Remember—it's always summer in your kitchen! At present food prices we can show how an average family may save up to $8.60 per month!

Q. 6. How long can I expect such savings?
Ans. Servel, the Gas refrigerator, is backed by an iron-clad 10-YEAR GUARANTEE on its entire refrigerating system—at no extra cost—still the ONLY one that is. Because there are NO MOVING PARTS in its freezing system. Nothing to wear, to cause costly repairs, to grow inefficient and costly to operate. In West Texas today, there are hundreds of Servel Electrolux refrigerators that have been giving faithful, trouble-free, refrigeration for 10, 12, 14 years—without one cent for service or repairs! Over and over again, they have paid for themselves. Yours can, too. Come in and pick out your 1942 Servel today.

(See Recipes Below)

All crisp, crunchy, and some slightly nutty, all of today's recipes are so fashioned as to send you on a real cookie-baking spree. Fill that lovely cookie jar of yours until the sides are fairly bulging with goodies so you can have cookies a-plenty to put in the children's lunch boxes, to serve as afternoon snacks, and as a pick-up for mealtime.

If you're doing some baking for a bazaar, there's nothing quite like plates of yummy cookies to put over the sales. Remember, you can sell a lot more, if you give out some samples. These can be set on plates with white paper doilies, for sampling, and those to be sold put in boxes already fixed. Cookies can be sold by the dozen if they're fancy and somewhat elaborate, by the pound if they're small drop cookies or squares.

Here's an interesting variation of the filled cookie, both dainty and delectable.

Corn Flake Filled Cookies.
(Makes 36 medium-sized cookies)
1 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
3 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups cornflakes

Blend shortening and sugar thoroughly. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add alternately with water and flavoring to first mixture. Stir in coarsely rolled corn flakes. Chill. Roll dough to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut with cookie cutter. Spread one round with filling, put on a second round and press edges together with a fork. Bake on a greased baking sheet in a hot (425 degrees) oven about 12 minutes.

Filling.
1 1/2 cups chopped dates
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 tablespoon orange rind
Combine all ingredients together and cook until soft paste is formed. Cool before filling cookies.

These little butter balls make good nibbling and smart additions to your teatime table. Made with butter, their flavor will be something you'll long cherish and remember.

Butter Rolls.
(Makes 7 dozen small cookies)
3/4 cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup finely chopped nuts

Cream brown sugar and shortening. Add beaten eggs and vanilla. Add flour and baking powder. Roll into balls the size of marbles. Mix the granulated sugar and nuts and roll the balls in the mixture. Place on a greased baking sheet and bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 10 minutes. These cookies will flatten slightly.

LYNN SAYS:

An assortment of cookies, freshly baked and packed in tins with waxed paper between layers makes a delightful present for youngsters away at school and for friends you seldom see. When your own cookie jar has been filled to bulging, pack a few boxes from what you have and spread cheer to others, too.

Careful packing in tins with waxed paper will keep even small dainty cookies fresh for a long time. Some flavors like chocolate improve after they stand for some time. Chewy, nutty cookies are the more chewy and delicious after several days. Spicy cookies become moist and well flavored after standing.

THE HOLY SPIRIT OUR HELPER

LESSON TEXT—John 3:5-8; Acts 1:8; Romans 8:23-25; Galatians 5:22-25.
GOLDEN TEXT—As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.—Romans 8:14.

Nothing could be more practical or blessed for and in the life and service of the believer than an understanding of the person and work of the Holy Spirit; yet it is a subject concerning which most Christians are woefully ignorant.

In the heart the Father sees below the surface of our ignorance the sacred longings which are the expression of the Spirit's influence" (H. C. G. Moule).

IV. Walking in the Spirit (Gal. 5:22-26).

Being born again of the Spirit, living daily by the Spirit, it is right that (as v. 25 puts it) "if we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit." The works of the flesh, horrible in their wickedness and lust, are listed in the verses preceding (vv. 19-21), and then by striking contrast we have the fruit of the Spirit in the life of the Christian. Note the distinction: Work is something we produce; fruit is something that grows.

Walking in the Spirit the Christian finds in his life the inward graces of love, joy, and peace. These then express themselves outwardly in longuffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness, and self-control. The Spirit-filled man is not only a good man; he lives a good life.

Ton of Scrap Iron

According to an estimate by army ordnance officers, a ton of scrap iron collected in this country could be made into: One 75-millimeter field-gun, or the carriage for such a gun, or 12 machine guns, or nine 500-pound demolition bombs, or one 2,000-pound, 16-inch battleship-piercing shell.

Getting and Giving
No man lives without jostling and being jostled; in all ways he has to elbow himself through the world, giving and receiving of-fense.—Carlyle.

Relieves MONTHLY FEMALE PAIN
Women who suffer pain of irregular periods with crampy nervousness—due to monthly functional disturbances—should find Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound Tablets (with added iron) simply marvelous to relieve such distress. They're made especially for women.
Taken regularly—Lydia Pinkham's Tablets help build up resistance against such annoying symptoms. They also help build up red blood and thus aid in promoting more strength. Follow label directions. Lydia Pinkham's Compound Tablets are WORTH TRYING!

BUREAU OF STANDARDS
A BUSINESS organization which wants to get the most for the money sets up standards by which to judge what is offered to it, just as in Washington the government maintains a Bureau of Standards.
You can have your own Bureau of Standards, too. Just consult the advertising columns of your newspaper. They safeguard your purchasing power every day of every year.

Farmers May Ask For FSA Farms

TAHOCA, Friday 16. (Special)—Letters are being mailed to all families who filed an application to purchase a farm under the terms of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act in 1940 with an application blank enclosed so they may renew their applications.

Applications may be filed in the local Farm Security office at any time during the year by tenants, share croppers and farm laborers. These applications will be reviewed by the local Tenant Purchase Committee and applicants notified as to what action is taken.

It is the desire of the Tenant Purchase committee to have applications up to date each year so proper consideration can be given each applicant. Any tenant, share-cropper, or farm laborer may secure an application form by calling or writing the Farm Security office in the courthouse at Tahoka.

When You Repair an Appliance,
IT'S LIKE GETTING A CHECK in the Mail!

You'd forgotten all about that limerick contest, but here comes a check in the mail! You can think of a dozen things to buy with the money. Now here is a way you can get a similar thrill.

Look over the electric appliances you have in your attic, on the pantry shelves and in the closets, and you'll most likely find a lamp, toaster, percolator, waffle iron or some other useful appliance that can be made as good as new with only minor repairs. Maybe just a new cord, a tightened connection or some other small adjustment is all that is needed.

When they are fixed, you'll agree that it's like getting money you didn't expect

Make your Electric Appliances as good as new. Take them to an Electric Shop today for repairs.
