FORD TO BUILD HUGE EXPOSITION AT THE 1934 CHICAGO WORLD'S FAIR

A GREAT Ford Exposition, portraying the tremendous part the arts, sciences and virtually every other industry plays in the manufacture of today's motor cars, is planned by the Ford Motor Company for the 1934 World's Fair.

The Ford Exposition will be housed in a giant building 860 feet long to be built in the heart of the fair grounds on an 11-acre plot bordering Lake Michigan and flanking the main fair boulevard. Construction of the building will start Mar. 1.

In the dominant center building will be housed Henry Ford's "Drama of Transportation," depicting the development of wheeled vehicles from the chariots of ancient Egypt to the automobiles of today.

Every model of Ford car made since 1907 will be included.

In the smaller building to the left will be housed some of the priceless historic exhibits from the Edison Institute at Dearborn, Mich., including the one-story brick workshop, complete with the original tools, where Mr. Ford in 1893 built with his own hands his first motor car. This first car will be displayed in a glass shop.

The main exposition building will display an imposing array of exhibits, most of them in action, show how steel, aluminum and other metals, soy beans, corn, wool, cotton and other farm products and the products of myriad industries are converted into car parts. The building also will house displays of cars and a big movie theater. Along the east side will be an open-air lounge where hundreds may relax.

Across the drive fronting the lake will be a big Ford Park, beautifully landscaped and also fitted with seats and other comforts for fair crowds.

Henry Ford and Edsel B. Ford show to Rufus C. Dawes (center), president of the World's Fair, the scale model of the giant Ford Exposition building to be built at the 1934 Fair. EARLY INSECT CONTROL MEASURES HELP SAVE SOUTHERN PEACH CROP

Jarring is one of the first steps in the program for controlling the plum curculio, or peach worm, the most serious insect pest that directly attacks peaches in the South. The jarring should start as the trees are coming into bloom, according to entomologists of the U. S. Department of agriculture.

Adult curculios—hard, brown, gray-notched snout beetles, about 3-16 inch long—can be collected in large numbers by placing two big sheets or jarring frames under peach trees and jarring the trees with a padded pole. This disturbs the beetles so that they immediately fold their legs and drop into the sheets below. Here they can be collected and dropped into a can of petroleum.

The plum curculios pass the winter as adults under leaves, grass, bark, sticks, and rubbish in woodlands near orchards and in grassy areas in orchards or along terrace rows and fences. They come out of hibernation in the south and move to the peach trees just before the trees reach full bloom. The beetles begin at once to feed on the blossoms, and to some extent on the unfolding leaves.

Control by jarring fruit trees early in the season is particularly profitable near woodlands or other harboring places, entomologists say, and early morning is the best time to jar the fruit trees, because the beetles are least active before the sun has risen very high.

ADVOCATES PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS FOR PUBLIC

Austin, March 14.—For the protection of the public a law was passed in 1921 making it mandatory for every person who is employed in any public eating place, bakery, meat market, dairy or candy factory to secure a health certificate from a reputable physician. This law is intended to eliminate all persons having any communicable disease from handling any foodstuff. These certificates must be renewed every six months.

Typoid fever, diphtheria, and amoebic dysentery carriers have been found members of times working in dairies, cafes, and other places where food is prepared or offered for sale. It is not too much for the consuming public to demand that those who sell their food shall be free from all communicable diseases. If the examinations for food handlers are properly carried out much good will be accomplished in protecting the health of the buyer as well as giving the applicant for a certificate accurate information as to his physical condition.

The Texas State Department of Health has repeatedly advocated periodic physical examinations for the general public, as it is during these examinations that many incipient diseases may be discovered and treatment begun in time to stop its developing to such a degree that treatment will not be helpful. Many deaths and much suffering would be eliminated if every one would have this periodic check. In the case of food handlers, only the diseases that are communicable will withhold the issuance of a certificate. The cost is money well invested and the consuming public should demand that those they buy from have this evidence of good health.

Home Ec Play
Tryouts for the various roles in the play to be presented by the Home Economics department have been under way for several days and the complete cast of characters will probably be announced next week.

County Meet Plans
Boys' high school and grammar school students have been busy for the past month with county meet plans that regular class-room activities have been more or less neglected or relegated to the background. Though teachers and students are disappointed alike that O'Donnell will not be represented in the debating contest, our representatives in other events are expected to bring back a nice array of first and second places.

Grammar School
Seventh Grade: We are very glad that one of our pupils, R. O. H. Hest, will represent the school as junior boy declaimer. One of our former pupils, Leroy Walker, is again in school, we are very glad to know him.

Sixth Grade—Our room mother, Mrs. N. T. Singleton, entertained us with a party last Thursday night. After enjoying a number of games, refreshments of hot chocolate, candy and cookies were served. The girls enjoyed a slumber party during the remainder of the night.

Franco Barrow, who has been absent because of measles, is back in school this week.

Our honor roll is composed of Lendon Russell, Lloyd Shoemaker, Lenis Crane, Elizabeth Gantt, Max Harris, and Hilman Maxwell. The spelling honor roll is composed of Hilman Maxwell and Elizabeth Gantt.

Fifth Grade: Bettye Guye Simpson, one of our pupils, won first place in the Picture Memory contest. Yvonne Westmoreland, second, and Guy Thompson third. These three will represent O'Donnell in the county meet at Tahoka.

Weldon Curtis has returned to school after a serious illness.

Fourth Grade Two of our pupils have withdrawn, Emma Jo Hinkle, and Jerry Stokes. Our spelling honor roll is composed of Alton Barrow, Jerry Stokes, Jennie Mae Shoemaker, and Lena Mae Singleton. The athletic honor roll: Geraldine Board, Jerry Stokes, Valtina Herman and Lena Mae Singleton.

Baseball News
The first and second grades have organized baseball teams, and if you want to see some real games, just stroll up to the school ground. Donald Cargal is captain for the first grade, but we were unable to secure the remainder of the line-up. The second grade team, who call themselves the Bulldogs, have elected Dravin Miss as captain, Roy Allan Gibson, catcher, Billy Turo, pitcher; Clyde Perry, 1st base; Carl Page, 2nd base; Donald Herman, 3rd base; Stanley Cathey, 1st; A. B. Wills, 1st; Jimmie Todd, 1st; Clyde Manning, 1st. The girls of the two classes are organizing pep squads. Boy, oh boy, are we having baseball!

Committee Makes Favorable Report On Washington Trip

That the visit to Washington, D. C., last week of the committee appointed at a recent meeting held in Lubbock for the purpose of protecting the South Plains area against an unreasonable penalization of cotton production by the Backhead compulsory control bill now pending in Congress, was productive of favorable results, is the statement of Percy B. Ralls, Harry E. Blocker, Lubbock, and Jess Mitchell, Malheur, members of the committee who returned from that trip last Saturday.

The proposed cotton production control bill introduced by Representative Backhead, of Alabama, has had three distinct revisions and re-printings before finally being accepted by the Agriculture committee of which Congressman Marvin Jones, this district, is chairman.

This committee, since its appointment at the Lubbock meeting, has been very active in their duties toward obtaining a more equitable allotment for the South Plains cotton growers, especially for those farmers who have bought land on the "cotton payment" plan, endeavoring to bring about some phase of the proposed law whereby such purchasers would not be so heavily penalized, and present indications are that some definite results have been obtained.

At least three urgent suggestions of the committee have received favorable consideration by the Agriculture committee in Washington, viz: the basic production period has been cut down from the 10 year average, according to the original Backhead bill, to a five year average; instead of a blanket federal bill for the control of cotton, as originally proposed, a basic bill has been framed by the Washington committee whereby in each cotton producing state will be allocated a certain number of bales for production; and the proposed tax on over produced cotton has been reduced from 75 to 50 per cent of the current market price at the time of such cotton sale.

The bill originally offered by Representative Backhead called for a total production of 9,000,000 bales of cotton, this total to be proportioned to the various cotton producing states on the basis of their past 10 year average, the original allotment for Texas being 2,720,000 bales.

This revised bill, which last Friday was finally reported out of the Agriculture Committee, calls for a total production of 10,000,000 bales of cotton in the United States, on the basis of the past five year average, with a 10 per cent allotment of each state's quota permitted for land not heretofore planted in cotton. Under the revised bill Texas has a quota of 3,060,000 bales. Approximately 300,000 bales of this would be allowed to land not heretofore planted in cotton. It is thought the revised bill will lend considerable favor to areas where land has been recently sold and going into cotton production for the first time. For instance, Bailey county, under the 10 year basic production plan would have an allotment of 4,817 bales, while under the five year average it would be entitled to 9,420 bales; Cochran county under the 10 year plan would be permitted to grow 5,721 bales, under the five year average 2181 bales may be produced; Hockley county under the 10 year plan could have produced 15,267 bales, but under the five year average may produce 26,919 bales; Lubbock county on the 10 year average could have produced 33,631 bales but under the five year plan may produce 45,579 bales; Lamb county under the 10 year plan would produce 23,425 bales; under the five year plan it may produce 45,579 bales. And, it should be understood that the above mentioned figures do not include any of the 10 per cent additional quota to be planted in new land for the first time, and which is confidently expected a large percentage of the total allowable quota will be given to South Plains and other West Texas areas recently sold for farm purposes.

The proposed bill provided for definite cotton legislation only during the 1934-35 crop year, future year controls will be at the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture with the approval of the President.

The original Backhead bill provided for a 75 per cent penalty on all excess cotton sold, but since the Supreme court has previously ruled on other and similar measures that an excessively high tax would be of a confiscatory nature, and would not indicate its true purpose, for revenue only, the committee at Washington has reduced this tax to 50 per cent of the sale price with a minimum of five cents per pound tax regardless of the current market price when sold. This tax is to be paid at the time of first sale of the cotton after it has been ginned. Cotton produced from the 1933-34 crop, even if sold during the 1934-35 period will not be subject to tax when offering is made accompanied by the proper affidavits of growers. All cotton grown during the 1934-35 crop year will be branded with non-removable tags, while the excess cotton grown and offered for sale will not bear such tags. The bill carries penalties of $1,000 or five years imprisonment for its violation.

As with most previous provisions collection of the tax will be made by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture. An entirely new set of officers, directors, etc., will be set up in each state for handling details of the bill when it becomes a law. Agricultural stations, laboratories of certain kinds and other organizations doing official experimentation will be exempt from the tax.
