Pearson-Adcock Nuptials

Miss Mary Louise Pearson became the bride of E. D. Adcock in a very impressive wedding ceremony in the parlor of the First Methodist Church of Odessa. The Rev. Woodrow Adams was the officiant, uncle of the bride. The ceremony was decorated with baskets of pearly daisies and pink and white flowers.

Leonard Williams and daughter Linda Lee of Stamford spent the day with her mother, Mrs. Annie Fortune.

Mrs. and Mrs. Harvey Line and Mrs. B. B. Street and family of Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. W. Wyatt and family of Tahoka were guests of the nuptials. Mrs. W. H. Jarrell and Jerry Jarrell, also three sisters from their families, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Malone, James and Mrs. Forrest of Troop, Mrs. J. Holland of Houston, and Mr. W. B. Fortner, Jeannette and David of Graham.

THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. J. V. Burnett, Jr. was hostess when the Thursday Bridge Club met in her home last Thursday. High score was won by Mrs. Mack Noble, second high by Mrs. James Wiese and bingo went to Mrs. John Stephens. Delicious refreshments consisting of salad, potato chips, box cake and coffee were served to madams: James Howlin, Roy Gibson, James Reed, Shagg Garrett, John Stephens, Johnny Billingsley, Sam Singleton, J. T. Forbes, Hervey Jordan, Mac Noble, James Wiese, Ralph Beach, Mac C. Bradley, Glenn Gibson, O. G. Smith, Jr. and C. R. Burleson, Jr. The next meeting will be with Mrs. James Wiese.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Noble P. Wood nee Veneta Garnett on the arrival of a 5 lb 11 oz daughter last Friday at Lamesa. She is named Sherry Minda.

Members of the P. T. A. the Home Economics Classes and their teacher would like to take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to the merchants of O'Donnell and to others who gave so generously in the drive put on the past week to get supplies for the newly equipped Home Economics Building.

Power Machinery Aids S. C. S. Work

Power machinery is doing much to increase earth moving soil and water practices, says Clarence Church, Chairman of the Lynn County Agricultural Conservation. Through the use of bulldozers, carryalls and other big earth moving equipment, farmers are able to build dams, terraces, level land and carry out other effective conservation measures. The conservation work that would have required days of hand labor or man and team labor can be completed in a few hours.

Commissioner Court Of Borden County Sets Next Paving for Top Caprock

At the last regular monthly of the Borden County Commissioner Court, Oct. 11th the group voted on the motion of Com. Hubert Walker to allot the next farm to market paving to Pct. 1 which was largely atop the caprock. The State will probably allot money for next year's paving by Jan. 1st or thereafter. In the past these roads have been 18 ft. wide and the state allows $9,000 a mile for building. A tentative route is from the end of the Lynn Co. pavement south 1 mile; East 1 mile thence by Berry Flat and Mesquite schools; 1 mile East, 2 miles south to Ned Smith's corner or a total of 10 1/2 miles. Commissioner Walker has worked untiringly on road improvement and he and the Commissioners Court are to be commended.

CLAYTON - STALLINGS RITES ARE READ

Miss Pearl Stallings, daughter of Rev. B. G. Rickberg of Jasper, Alabama and James Clayton, son of Mr and Mrs. S. M. Clayton, Sr of O'Donnell were recently united in marriage in Ruth Dyer's home in an impressive single ring ceremony. Ed Williams was best man and Miss Wilrena Riechbourg, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

For something old the bride wore a wedding band of Mrs. E. W. Burleson's mother who was wed in 1881. For something new she had a new penny in her shoe; something borrowed, her sister's hanky; and for something blue, a garter. Their wedding trip included Dallas and Lake Tawakoni. After Thursday they will be at home 6 miles north of here. Only intimate friends attended; coffee and cake were served after-the ceremony.

WASHINGTON DIGEST

Parapsychology Could Do Just Fine on Election Bets

By BAUKHAGE, News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—It won't be long now before you'll be able to settle those election bets.

A few days after the release of the official record of the negotiations with the Russians over the Berlin situation, I was sitting in the club with a couple of members of the Democratic administration. Talk had grown pretty tall in Paris and that morning, every other person I met, it seemed, asked me: are we going to have war?

But Washington was as calm as a sleeping tabbycat. The club dining room window was open, and a lazy autumn sun swept down through the trees of the park.

Squirrels loafed around, showing little or no interest in preparing for the winter, and when I repeated the question I had heard so often that morning to my two Democratic friends, it aroused very little interest.

Said they: "The Russians want Dewey. So we won't have war now. The Soviets know if they started a war at this time, it would cinch Truman's election."

Naturally my friends didn't indicate that they had any doubts as to the outcome of the election, but when we started talking odds, I noticed the conversation was confined largely to the race for the senate. After all, said my friends, even some Republicans concede that Dewey might face a Democratic upper house.

It wouldn't take much of a push either way. The Democrats have 45 seats now, and the Republicans only 51. The Democrats are confident that only one or two of their candidates are in danger.

On the other hand, there are a number of stiff state fights in progress in which the Republicans are being pushed pretty hard. The Democrats feel that if they can get out a large vote in these uncertain states, they have a chance of winning the four seats that would give them the edge.

In other words the count then would be: Democrats 49; Republicans, 47. That two-vote margin wouldn't assure Democratic dominance on all senate policy matters, of course, because too many senators are given to leaping out of the party corral these days. On the other hand, many issues are bound to be settled along purely partisan lines. But far more important, the party of the majority gains control of the senate committees.

The pre-election battles in which the Democrats seem to have the edge are in Oklahoma, West Virginia, Wyoming, and Kentucky. About in that order, Also Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, and Idaho.

The Democrats admit their weakest points are in Montana and Colorado. The Republicans by no means concede New Mexico, Rhode Island, and Tennessee, but the Democrats don't seem too worried about those states.

At this writing, it is useless to make predictions, for even between this calm moment and the time these lines are in print, skies may fall or some individual may stub his toe. Bets are collected after, not before, elections.

It is fortunate, of course, that all writers as well as all bettors are not equipped with extra-sensory powers. If and when the day comes when we are, the fun will be taken out of reading, writing, and betting.

And that day may come, believe it or not. I feel quite positive from the scientific proof offered, that most of the various forms of the supernatural are untenable. But, after attending a couple of lectures and reading considerable material on "parapsychology," I have become convinced that certain things MAY exist which are at present considered impossible.

I refer to extra-sensory perception, clairvoyance, and psychokinesis. And I see no reason why more scientists shouldn't give these subjects a more thorough looking-into than they have deigned to indulge in up to now. Some have.

Dr. J. B. Rhine, director of the parapsychological laboratory at Duke university, has been conducting experiments along these eerie lines for nearly two decades. He is a very modest man, and he leans over backward to avoid offering any conclusions or making any flat statements concerning these experiments.

I have read his book (heard him speak in an intimate group, take part in a forum and later answer questions at a private gathering under the auspices of the Washington Society for Parapsychology.

For almost two decades, as I said, Dr. Rhine and his assistants have been trying to determine whether or not there is a scientific basis for telepathy (the transfer of thought from one human brain to another); clairvoyance (the ability to visualize things or events taking place beyond the vision of knowledge); or for that ability which may involve both of the former, precognition—the ability to predict things which will occur in the future.

And also psychokinesis, the hardest one of all for the cynical to swallow. That is the power of mind over matter, e.g. ability to make dice fall the way you want them to by thinking at them.

Roughly, this is an example of what has been done by Dr. Rhine and others. After long experiment and mathematical calculation, it is determined that by chance alone anybody can pick correctly five cards out of a pack of 25. That is just guessing, and it is even money the subject can do it.

If he is right oftener (and may have been right consistently more often than five in 25) that is MORE than chance. If he is right oftener enough, it is said that he has extra-sensory perception. In other words, he is able to perceive what the card is without the use of his senses, but rather by some undefined, unmeasured, unclassified ability which science as yet cannot explain.

Clairvoyance is a common experience. An example might be of the mother who has a vivid and alarming impression of a train wreck. It may be a nightmare, a waking hallucination, or just an intuition. The wreck seems to be connected with her son, perhaps with some definite place like a tunnel. It turns out later that her son was actually injured in a wreck at the spot where her dream assigned it.

Careful checking of such experiences is now going on, and Dr. Rhine feels that the results in these cases too, appear to show that some unknown process is involved, unexplained in terms of our ordinary senses.

As to psychokinesis, experiments have seemed to prove that dice rolled in a mechanical cage would be made to fall, oftener than they would be by the laws of chance, according to the way the subject wished them to fall.

Dr. Rhine and his associates are trained psychologists. They say they are not trying to convince anyone that the above-mentioned qualities are actually possessed by certain individuals but they are trying to investigate their apparent existence.

And Now a Book On John Garner

I had another adventure which might be called parapsychological. There was nothing psychic about it, but it included a piece of hindsight that is interesting.

The hindsight is that of former Speaker of the House and Vice-President John Nance Garner. He said he wished he had never left the house of representatives to run for vice-president. He felt that if Franklin Roosevelt had had a man like Speaker Joe Cannon in the speaker's chair—a no-man—Roosevelt could have avoided some of the mistakes Garner thinks he made.

In other words, Garner would have liked to play Cannon to Roosevelt.

This came out in connection with a gathering of a few of the news friends of that over-six-foot-tall-Texan who looks like Abraham Lincoln and talks like Will Rogers. A man who was brought up on a ranch, but thought cows were a novelty until he was 10 because all they raised on his father's ranch were buffalo. He is Washington correspondent for more dailies than any one I ever heard of, and once we wangled him one vote for the vice-presidential nomination for the lack of it. Now he's author of a book.

I'm talking about Bascom Timmons and his book, "Garner of Texas," the only complete record of that fiery gentleman from Uvalde whose record for integrity and political ability in the house of representatives is one few can rival.

"Timmy" wrote it from his own notes and absolutely free hand. He probably knows Garner better than anyone on earth. It's a good book. It contains many interesting things including the "hindsight" I quoted.

Timmons is not only popular among newsmen, but he's popular with congressmen, presidents, cops and cats. One of his cats had its portrait painted by Howard Chandler Christy; another was operated on by a specialist at Johns Hopkins, both thereby setting up feline records in their respective fields, as their master has in his. If you're interested in "Garner of Texas," you'll be interested in what Timmons of Texas has to say about him.

THE FICTION CORNER

She Floats Through the Air

By JOHN H. HOSE

Tony silently worshipped the petite trapeze queen but she did not know he existed until his heart and imagination combined to bring about a unique introduction.

Tony had just emerged through the rear flap of the sideshow tent when he heard the steady rumble of the snare drums sounding from the big top just a few feet away. He hurried across the straw-littered area which was the actor's entrance to the circus. The gayly colored pennants floated in the breeze high above the mammoth canvas. Performers in gay costumes lounged lazily about the rear of the tent awaiting the grand finale. Lumbering elephants pushed and heaved to move the animal cages into the manager's tent. The big, tawny cats scurried viciously in anger at having been returned to confinement again after their performance.

But Tony was oblivious to all this activity as he moved intently into the tent, and slipped quietly onto the grass near the end of the hippo-drome track. His position gave him a commanding view of the space directly over the center ring. Multi-colored spotlights played upon the speckled figure of a dainty lady illuminated against the tent top.

The gentle music of a waltz now wafted through the tent from the bandstand. Poised upon the tiny platform, 80 feet above the ground, stood the petite Annette—queen of the aerialists. Many said she was the greatest since Langtry. The swinging bar floated rhythmically back and forth as she swung it gently and evenly away from her. Far across the space atop the tent, her assistant swung a similar bar back and forth.

Annette was readying herself for the highlight of her performance—the feature attraction of America's greatest circus. She was about to perform her triple somersault, defying death, as she swung her lovely body through the top of the tent. There were no nets beneath! The slightest misstep would spell instant death for the Intrepid Annette.

With the 4,000 spectators, Tony stared upward as the drums again began their ominous roll, and Annette floated out on her swinging bar. A silent pause! Then the drums increased their pace furiously, and the leading lady of the big top hurtled out and up toward the roof, her body revolving once—
"Tah-ah-ah-ah-ah-ah-ah-rump!"

Twice—
"Tah-ah-ah-ah-ah-ah-ah-rump!"

Three times—
"Tah-ah-ah-ah-ah-ah-ah-ah-rump!"

She met the bar swinging out to her with perfect precision, and in a trice, stood upon the platform on the opposite side, smiling down on the vast sea of faces below.

A great "Ah..." of relief escaped from the crowd, and then the applause resounded throughout the tent.

Tony sat enraptured as Annette acknowledged the plaudits of the multitude. Then she quickly slid down the rope to the ground, took several graceful bows, and scampered toward the exit. Already the performers and horses were pouring into the tent for the grand finale; but Tony watched only the movement of the raven-haired beauty, Annette.

Twice each day he came to the main tent to watch the star of the high swings. How his heart yearned for the little French actress, but Annette was entirely unaware of his affection for her.

Tony was billed as Anthony Fragiotto, creator and manipulator of FRAGIOTTO'S MARIONETTES. He was part of the sideshow, and had been with the circus about six months, joining them two months before they left winter quarters. Tony was in love with Annette. But the shy lad from Vicenza in Euganea province in far-off Italy scarcely dared speak to the star of the show, let alone declare his feelings for her. Tony had been a farmer's son, working in the fields of those rolling plains when a boy. But Giuseppe Fragiotto was no ordinary farmer. He was the village wood carver, and for years had delighted the peasants in the Vicenza region with his puppet shows. Naturally, he taught his son, Antonio, the art.

When Tony was big enough to assist his father in the manipulation of the gayly-costumed dolls, they traveled to Vicenza, Como, and even Padua to present the Fragiotto puppets at the street carnivals.

Then the war had come! The Fragiotto family had gone under-ground when the Germans flocked into Italy. Eventually Tony had come to America. And with him he had brought his precious puppets. He found work as a farm hand in Pennsylvania where he exhibited his puppets one evening at a Red Cross benefit show. Not long after that night, the circus agent had contacted him, and he was on his way to the circus quarters. There he became part of the strange conglomeration which comprised the sideshow.

During the months in winter quarters, Tony had seen Annette practicing her feats on the rings and bars high above the ground. Each day he became more enamored of the beautiful aerialist. But how could a poor youth who scarcely spoke English express his admiration for the star of the show?

In the early part of the season, Tony began to formulate a plan whereby he might show Annette how he felt for her. During the hours when he was not exhibiting his puppets, Tony carved furiously, creating new properties, scenery, and characters.

The triumph of this frenzied activity was a beautiful doll—the very image of Annette. Soon the trappings were completed. It was

The leading lady of the big top hurtled out and up toward the roof.

Tony's plan to assemble the miniature circus on a Sunday when the show would be laying over. He had planned how he would invite Annette to see his new act!

"What if she won't come?" he thought. But surely she would not refuse this simple request. The thoughts raced through his mind as he watched the object of his affection leave the tent.

Slowly he arose from the grass. He would wait until she had changed her costume. Then he would go to the mess tent. He knew the exact moment when she would enter for her evening meal. After an interval that seemed literally hours to Tony, Annette came into the dining tent. Shyly he approached her.

"Excuses, please, Signorina Annette..."

"Oh, M'sieur Fragiotto," trilled Annette, "and how are you today?" Tony was pleasantly surprised that the circus queen knew who he was.

"If the lady has the little minute," he stammered, "Antonio—have created the new puppets. They are the pairformairs of circus." He mouthed the words carefully in his broken English. "I would like, please, the advice of the Signorina about them!"

"How very charming," laughed Annette with a toss of her dark hair, and a merry twinkle of the sparkling, blue eyes. "I would be delighted, M'sieur Fragiotto. Perhaps you could show them to me tomorrow when we have no performance?"

"That is what I was theenking," said Tony. "I will have them assamble in the side show tent after dinner tomorrow."

"Fine," replied Annette. "I have often watched your charming show. I would be delighted M'sieur Fragiotto. Perhaps you would be so kind as to show me how to make them work?" This was even more than Tony had dreamed might be possible.

"Indeed! Indeed!" he shouted enthusiastically. "I shall expect you then tomorrow."
The next afternoon, Tony was ready with the puppets long before the dinner hour. He talked to them affectionately as he put them through their paces. To Beppo, the clown, he chuckled.

"And now, leetle fony man, you make the boys and girls to laugh, no?" The beautifully carved wooden horses pranced and danced as gracefully as their real counterparts in the big tent across the way. But the truly artistic masterpiece was the replica of Annette. Tenderly, he placed the tiny puppet into place on the aerial swing in his miniature arena.

"My beautiful one," he almost whispered, "we shall see if you can do the triple soubresaut, reeking your lovely life!" As the graceful puppet tumbled through space at the behest of Tony's nimble fingers, he became entranced in his work. He did not see Annette slip into the tent. He was startled when she exclaimed:

"But... it is perfect!" She scampered behind the scenes to examine the trappings of the new show. She oh-ed and ah-ed at the beautiful wrought details of the tiny circus, and when Tony handed her the tiny duplicate of herself, she was utterly speechless. Finally she said:

"Oh, Tony, it's beautiful... too beautiful. I don't really look like that, do I?" she queried, looking coquettishly up into his eyes. The blood rushed to Tony's face, and he stammered weakly.

"Oh, Tony, show me how to make her work," pleaded Annette, dancing up and down excitedly like a child with a new toy. "Can you really make her do a triple somersault like myself?"

"Yes," laughed Tony, "but it is not easy. You must practice. Now see," he said, placing the toggle sticks in her hands as she clambered onto the platform beside him. "When you move this one so, the arms and legs do your beedings. When you move these one so," he indicated the other stick, "the head and body move at your command."

Annette moved the sticks awkwardly, and the little doll gyrated wildly in her hands. In her effort to disentangle the puppet, she became involved in the strings, Tony reached around her shoulders to straighten up the entanglement, when she raised her face, brushing his chin with her soft hair. Her lovely feminine fragrance held Tony entranced, and acting impulsively, he kissed her upturned lips.

"Plees, forgeev me, I... I..." he stammered. But Annette was not angry. Rather she seemed pleased. Ever so tenderly, she cuddled against Tony, and speaking softly, she said:

"But, Tony, little Annette is still all tangled up. She will surely never make the somersault if you do not help me."
Tony's heart was making the somersaults now, as once again he put his arms about her. Then the words came pouring forth... the words he had whispered to the puppet Annette.

"Oh, my beautiful Annette," he sighed, "these long months I have loved you. I never dreamed... but his words were lost, for Annette's lovely face was lifted to his, and her warmth and beauty engulfed him as he kissed her long and tenderly.

And Annette—the doll—somersaulted again and again at the end of her tangled strings.

"People are tightening up. It's being felt in the auto business so much that the big dealers have decided to cut out two colors in 1949 models. Did you read about the new car with a luminous body?"
...
"You mean a car made out of luminous metal?"
"No; it's a paint that makes a car glow at night."
"What's the idea?"
"You can see another car miles away without just depending on its headlights to blind you. It's going to cause a lot of trouble in water-front parking spaces. Luminous necking will never be popular, no matter what colors it is in."

"I don't think Harry Truman can get in even if he uses it."
"Are you following the political campaign?"
"Only by hearsay. It's good to see the railroads neutral. They're giving both Dewey and Truman all the locomotives they can be photographed in."
"How're you voting?"
"I dunno whether to vote for Truman and less snow on the video screens or go for Dewey and the return of the two-dollar dinner."
...
"What about Henry Wallace?"
"He's all right, but only in a Disney short."
"Are you paying much attention to that spy probe? I see they grilled a millionaires on giving money to Communist agents."
"I see she refused to answer on new grounds."
"What grounds?"
"On the grounds what she takes off her income tax is her own business!"
...
"What do you think of the U. N. doings in Paris?"
"It looks like it will go the full seven games."
"I see where the un-American committee is still probing scientists."
"Yeah. And I can't understand why President Truman in that western speech said Wall street was sticking a pitchfork in their backs."

"This Same Jesus"

Grace Noll Crowell

TODAY on the road I met Him:
The very same Jesus who trod
The old, old lanes and the highways
On His beautiful errands for God.

I was troubled and heart-sick and weary
With a load too heavy to bear;
I cried aloud in my weakness
And suddenly He was there,

His gentle hand on my shoulder
Was lifting the burden from me,
And He dried my tears, and I knew Him,
It was Jesus of Galilee:

No different at all from the Master
On the Jericho road that day;
No different at all from the Saviour
Along the Samaria way,

And I am so glad that I met Him!
I knelt and I called out His name,
And I am so grateful I found Him
Unchanged and forever the same.

Spraying cattle in summer with

Although there is nothing new in account of spraying dairy cattle in one of the corn belt states. The work was given considerable pub-

In this case, older animals of the with grubs. The young stuff was peppered with them. The natural conclusion was that a summer spray of DDT was effective.

That conclusion is unwarranted because, as entomologists know, older cattle seldom if ever have grubs of the heel fly. The young animals are the ones that suffer.

The department of agriculture says: "Many substances have been applied to cattle to keep away heel flies and to kill the eggs deposited, on the legs of the animals. All have been found to be either ineffective or impractical. The best time for attacking the pest is when the grubs are in the backs of cattle."

Erosion Takes Alarming Toll of Good Crop Land

Erosion is taking an increasingly alarming toll of good crop land in the United States. Estimates by the department of agriculture indicate that about 100 million acres of once good crop land have been ruined or nearly ruined for profitable cropping by erosion, another 100 million acres have been badly damaged and still another 100 million acres are eroding too fast.

There are now approximately 460 million acres of good crop land in the U. S., including acreage now in crops as well as about 100 million acres that need clearing, drainage, irrigation or other improvement.
All but about 7 1/2 million acres of this 460 million acres are subject to erosion unless protective measures are adopted.

Better Care, Feeding

Improved Rations and Cleanliness Stressed

Extra care for the brood sow and her litter, with emphasis on cleanliness and better feeding, will assure extra profits whether the herd includes one sow or a hundred.
Proof of that assertion is contained in the experience of Joseph O'Bryan of Hiatville, Kas., nationally-known breeder and exhibitor of purebred Hampshires, who raises about 3,000 hogs a year, most of them for market.

Although O'Bryan raises hogs on a wholesale scale, he keeps his op-

O'Bryan with part of his herd of 3,000 purebred Hampshire gilts.

eration on an individual farm basis as a means of insuring proper care.
A program of better care and better feeding for sows and their litters, introduced on his farms in the fall of 1947, already has paid dividends.
O'Bryan reports. With 100 litters last spring, he raised as much pork as he formerly raised from 150.

Early in the gestation period sows were given a special ration of 80 per cent oats, 5 per cent meat scrap, 4 per cent pelleted milk product and the balance either corn or wheat. Sows were sprayed and washed thoroughly prior to farrowing.
Clean pens and a brooder for the litter pigs also were provided.
The sow's ration was changed when the pigs were about two weeks old, cutting down oats to about 40 per cent and increasing portions of wheat or corn.

At less than two weeks of age litter pigs were started creep feeding in a low pan or trough. Their ration consisted of 80 per cent oats, 4 per cent meat scrap, 8 per cent pelleted milk product and the balance course wheat. Pens and troughs were washed and disinfected regularly. As the litter pigs grow, oats in the ration is reduced while corn or wheat is increased to about 70 to 80 per cent.

Summarizing the program, O'Bryan maintains that he had much stronger pigs at birth, with earlier, faster and cheaper gains and a marked reduction in mortality.

'Police Force'

Plenty of organic matter is a good "police force" for ridding soil of acteria that cause diseases of rowing crops. R. C. Thomas, associate pathologist of the Ohio agricultural experiment station, estimates that 50 million bacteria live in a single ounce of soil. Some of these are beneficial. Others are harmful to crops. The good kind of organic matter and release plant nutrients to build a fertile soil. The harmful kind cause plant disease.
Adding organic matter to soil will help increase the good kind and at the same time cut down the harmful bacteria population. Adding organic matter makes the soil a better home for the good kind so they thrive and grow. Extracts from organic matter contain viruses that like disease-causing bacteria are harmful to plants.
A good soil management program will increase the soil's organic matter supply and help free the land of disease-causing bacteria.

Stinking Smut Remains
Major Wheat Disease

Bunt or stinking smut remains a major wheat disease even though science knows how to control it, demonstrating the need for continual vigilance in preventive measures.
Plant scientists recommend use of resistant varieties combined with treatment of the seed with a reliable fungicide. Where practical, the grower should avoid planting when the soil temperature favors development of smut in the soil.

The Tri County Hospital of O'Donnell
A Non-profit Organization Owned and Operated By Its Members
"You need this protection for --- YOURSELF AND YOUR FAMILY Prepaid Health Care"
Encourages Prevention of Serious Illness
Life Membership $100.00 per Family

INFORMATION

The TRI-COUNTY HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION is a non-profit organization owned and operated by its members. Our staff of Doctors is supported on a salary basis by the annual dues paid in by our members. It is much cheaper for each member to pay a small annual dues than is to pay a doctor every time you have an examination or operation. One case of serious illness in 10 years will save enough money to pay the annual dues for a period of 10 years to say nothing of the needed treatments, examinations, etc.

Members are urged to avail themselves of the FREE examination service at least twice each year. Visits to the Doctor at regular intervals is often the means of avoiding serious illness. Preventive medicine is by far more effective. The Tri-County Hospital Association serves not only to treat you when you are sick but also to keep you from getting sick. A person not provided with free service comes to the Doctor only when he must. He will delay each visit because of the cost. Our members on FREE Service comes to the Doctor as often as is needed without waiting until it is too late. Our member will also have a lot of work done that other persons will neglect.

A Doctor hired on an annual salary and not by the visit is more disposed to deal fairly with each case. He is also not concerned with the expenses connected with the operation of such an organization, therefore is free to devote all his time to the practice of medicine.

SERVICE PLAN

Our service plan is based on the payment of annual dues by our members. These annual dues are based on the number of persons in the family. The family is defined as: father, mother and all unmarried children living at home regardless of their age or number.

Annual dues are as follows:

One person in family	$20.00
Two persons in family	$30.00
Three persons in family	$35.00
Four persons in family	$40.00
Additional Children (each)	$2.50
Other Dependents (each)	$10.00

NOTE -- By other dependents we mean the father, mother, or other blood relative of a family living with such family and dependent on such family for food, clothing and shelter.

For the above stated dues you receive all examinations, treatment, and other services of our Medical Staff as often as is necessary at no cost. The services of our Doctors are FREE to our members at all times. You pay only for materials and medicines used. The annual dues shown above do not provide for free hospitalization; however, such hospitalization will be provided by our hospital at a greatly reduced cost.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: Who will control the Tri-County Hospital Association?

Answer: The members at their annual meeting control the hospital. For convenience the members elect a Board of Directors who carry out the wishes of the membership in the affairs of the hospital.

Question: For what is the $100.00 membership fee to be used?

Answer: The membership fee will be used to build and equip the hospital.

Question: Can a membership be transferred? Answer: Yes, when one is found to take your place and such a person is approved by the membership committee.

Question: Can non-members receive service at the hospital?

Answer: Yes, at regular hospital and physician's prices and as the hospital is able to care for people beyond its membership.

Question: When are annual dues payable? Answer: December 1st each year.

Question: When will annual meeting be held? Answer: First Tuesday in February.

Question: Can Doctors other than members of the staff use the hospital?

Answer: Yes, the hospital is open to any qualified M. D. who wishes to bring in patients for medical or surgical treatment.

Soil Inventory Termed Good Management Basis

Keep an inventory of the soil's fertility, the same as of buildings, livestock and equipment, advises Middle West Soil Improvement committee.

Nearly any farmer knows how many dairy cows, beef cattle, hogs and sheep he has. He also keeps a record of his seed, feed, buildings, machinery and fences.

Few farmers, however, have an inventory of their principal asset—the soil. Yet a farmer's earning power depends largely on whether his soil's fertility level is high or low.

On thousands of farms a soil fertility inventory would show serious shortages. Overcropping has used up nitrogen, phosphate and potash. The organic matter supply is scraping the bottom of the barrel. Soil structure has been damaged. Drainage is poor and air circulation is shut off. Crop output is low.

Restocking the "shelves" of the soil warehouse involves several essential steps. Plant food is important. But other things also are needed, particularly organic matter and good soil structure.

The soil inventory can be improved faster and at lower cost if "leaks" are halted by conservation measures that will slow down runoff and save topsoil and plant foods. Among such measures are contour cultivation, strip cropping and terracing where needed.

Soil Fumigation Needed In Sugar Beet Culture

Joint tests in Utah by sugar interests and USDA "showed that soil fumigation for beets which follow beets made the difference between big yields and no yield at all." The sugar beet nematode builds up so fast in one growing season where fertile soil has grown a big crop of beets that the field is a death-bed for sugar beets the next year without soil fumigation, it was indicated in the tests.

In the current craze for dissecting private lives even Bossy is not immune. The inevitable prober comes up with these statistics:

Bossy grazes only seven and a half hours daily, regardless of how much feed she gets. She does 60 per cent of her grazing during daylight hours, 40 per cent at night. She spends five hours a day eating at a rate of 50 to 70 bites per minute. She chews her cud seven hours a day and spends 12 hours lying down, at nine different times. While grazing, she travels two and a half miles in the daytime and one and a half at night. She drinks 10 times a day.

Household Hints

A child's sprinkling can is a good size for watering house plants.

Milk containers made of waxed cardboard make a handy receptacle for bread crumbs after they are washed and thoroughly dried.

When recipes call for "frying out" salt pork or other fat, cut it in small pieces and heat it slowly in a heavy frying pan until the fat is extracted.

When putting new elastic in a garment, pin the end of the new to the worn elastic. Then as the worn elastic pulls out, the new elastic will pull in.

Fill cream puff or éclair shells with ice cream and serve with a tutti-frutti sauce made from cherries, bananas, oranges and pineapple.

Parsley is easiest cut with a scissors. Fold over several of the sprays of one stalk and hold between the thumb and other fingers of the left hand and cut fine with the scissors.

Teach youngsters how to enjoy swimming unless he learns to enjoy the water first. Try not to let older children tease baby and frighten him when he is near the water. When he is about five years old, take him to a competent instructor who will teach him so that he will gain confidence as he progresses.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS by Lynn Chambers

This lamb shoulder takes on its tender in the form of a delightful fruit-bread dressing. The dressing is in it prunes and apricots as well as orange for tartness. The boned meat also makes an easy job of carving.

Dress Economy Cuts Of Meat, Save Money, Please Family Tastes

EVERY WOMAN will agree that there are very few cuts of meat that are really economical, but it's true there are some that are at least a bit cheaper than steaks, roasts or chops. You'll do well to watch for bargains weekly. If you don't want to buy as much meat as formerly, then extend what you get with vegetables or stuffings, and have plenty of other things to go with the dinner. Don't economize to the extent that the family will grumble about what they eat. Make everything palatable and attractive when served and pay particular attention to having platters look lovely. Here's the time to use pickled fruits and rinds to garnish meat platters without anyone's knowing that even these are an extender.

Fruit Stuffed Lamb Shoulder (Serves 6)

- 1 lamb shoulder, boned
- 2 cups bread crumbs
- 6 cooked apricots
- 6 cooked prunes
- 1 small orange, chopped
- 1 beaten egg
- Salt and pepper

Have lamb shoulder boned and sew it on three sides, leaving the fourth side open for dressing. Make dressing of bread crumbs, diced apricots and prunes, orange, egg and seasonings. Pipe into pocket. Skewer or sew edges together. Place lamb shoulder on a rack in an open roasting pan and roast at 300 degrees, allowing 30 to 35 minutes to the pound.

HERE'S A MEAT loaf that has vegetables right in it. You'll like the interesting flavor combination.

Vegetable-Meat Loaf (Serves 8)

- 3/4 tablespoons chopped onion
- 1/2 cup ground green pepper
- 2 cups ground carrots
- 1/2 cup soured cream
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 1/2 pounds ground veal

Mix all ingredients together. Shape into a loaf and place in casserole or loaf pan. Cover. Bake at 400 degrees for 40 minutes, then uncover and bake for 20 minutes longer.

HERE'S AN INTERESTING variation for drumsticks, using only a pound and a quarter of meat:

California Chicken (Serves 4-6)

- 1/2 pound ground pork
- 1 pound ground veal
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup crushed pineapple, drained
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1 tablespoon water
- Lard for browning
- Bread crumbs

Combine ground meats, salt, pepper, green pepper and pineapple. Shape like a chicken leg on a wooden skewer. Combine beaten egg with water. Roll "drumsticks" in bread crumbs, then in egg-water mixture, and again in bread crumbs. Let

LYNN SAYS: Make Winter Foods More Savory

Next time you're serving oyster stew, add a sprinkling of grated cheese just before you place it on the table. For your steamed puddings, serve hard sauce which has been patted flat on a cookie sheet, chilled, then cut with fancy cookie cutters. Letover pieces of fowl which aren't enough to make a meal, can be mixed with corn kernels, milk and egg and baked in a casserole.

stand for 30 minutes in the refrigerator. Brown in hot lard; cover closely and cook slowly for 45 minutes.

THE RICHNESS of pork sausage combines with nourishing kidney beans to make a hearty, meat-saving but appetizing casserole for cooler days:

Barbecued Sausage Casserole (Serves 6-8)

- 1 pound sausage links
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1/2 green pepper, chopped
- 6 pieces of celery, chopped
- 1 can tomato soup
- 1/2 cup catchup
- 1 No. 2 can kidney beans

Place sausage links in frying pan. Add water; cover and simmer for five minutes or until water evaporates. Remove cover and brown links. Add onion, celery and green pepper, catchup and tomato soup. Cover and simmer slowly for 30 minutes. Add beans to cooked mixture and heat thoroughly.

SPANISH PORK is pork simmered to perfection. It's a beautiful reddish brown color with peas and tomatoes combined with potatoes to make a perfectly extended meat dish that's complete enough to serve as a main course.

Spanish Pork (Serves 6)

- 2 pounds pork shoulder, boned and diced
- Flour and lard
- 4 medium-sized potatoes
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 2 cups tomatoes
- 2 cups canned peas
- 1 green pepper
- Salt and pepper

Have pork shoulder cut into 1-inch cubes. Dredge in flour and brown in hot lard. Place alternate layers of meat and vegetables in a casserole dish. Pour tomatoes over all. Season and cook in a moderate (350 degree) oven until meat and vegetables are done, from one and a half to two hours.

Spanish pork is a delicious as well as handsome vegetable-extended meat dish. The pieces of succulent pork ride in a tomato-red gravy with green peas which will make the family delighted with its eye appeal.

WHEN PROPERLY prepared kidneys can be a very tasty dish. Why not try these delicious veal kidneys, braised and served over hot, steaming noodles?

Braised Veal Kidneys (Serves 6)

- 3 veal kidneys
- Salt and flour
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons fat
- 1 cup canned tomatoes
- 1 bay leaf
- Hot, cooked noodles.

Cut kidneys in half lengthwise; remove white membrane; soak in cold water for 15 minutes. Cut into one-inch pieces, season with salt and dredge with flour. Brown onion in hot fat. Add kidneys and cook with onion until browned for about five minutes. Add tomatoes and cook for 10 minutes, covered, until kidneys are tender. Drop in bay leaf during last five minutes of cooking.

Roast Beef Salad (Serves 4 to 6)

- 1 cup diced cooked beef
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
- 2 tomatoes, quartered
- 1 small head of lettuce
- French dressing or mayonnaise

Toss first three ingredients together. Serve on lettuce with dressing. Use diced cooked ham, tongue or corned beef, if desired.

Canned cling peaches make a delicious salad-desert if you fill them with cream cheese mixed with a bit of orange marmalade and candied ginger.

Chop orange pulp which has been scooped from orange shells and mix with mashed sweet potatoes, seasoned with butter, milk and nutmeg. Refill shells and heat.

Let slices of bologna fry slowly in a skillet in a bit of fat until the edges curl. These make excellent little cups for scrambled eggs—a good luncheon combination.

God's Hand in History

Lesson for October 24, 1948

SUPPOSE you were given a long flexible wire and were asked to arrange it on a pattern which would represent history, what would you do to it? Some people would cut that wire into little bits and let them fall in a pile like jackstraws. History, they would say, is a meaningless collection of disconnected events—it has no real pattern. Others would arrange it in a series of up-and-down curves—history, they would say, sometimes goes up and sometimes down, but it never gets anywhere. Others again would make an immense circle, history goes around and around in cycles, repeating itself. Others still might take that wire and shape it into a kind of spiral, almost repeating itself but never quite, often seeming to go backward but actually making some progress.

Someone else would arrange the wire like a long arrow pointing upward; others would make it into an arrow pointing downward; these would be the pure optimists and pessimists among historians.

Others would arrange it in a series of up-and-down curves—history, they would say, sometimes goes up and sometimes down, but it never gets anywhere. Others again would make an immense circle, history goes around and around in cycles, repeating itself.

Others still might take that wire and shape it into a kind of spiral, almost repeating itself but never quite, often seeming to go backward but actually making some progress.

God's Chosen People

A GOOD deal of the Old Testament is taken up with history. Starting with Genesis and going through Esther, most of what you read is history. But it is not mere chronicles, that is to say it is not a mere listing of events.

The historical parts of the Bible were written by men who had a theory of history. They would agree that the Golden Age is ahead of us, not behind. They would all agree that the most important figure in human history is not a human being at all, but God the Creator. They would all agree that his hand can be seen — if you look for it — in the events of man's existence here. And they all affirm that among all the nations of the earth there was one which could be called truly God's chosen people, the little nation called Israel, the people we know as the Jews.

The whole of Hebrew history is a sort of sermon on this text: Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people. The history of any nation, ancient or modern, would illustrate that text just as well; only the Israelite historians saw it most clearly. They showed how, when their people followed God's leading and his laws, they prospered; when they went their own stupid, selfish ways they suffered.

Somehow Good

ONE great lesson the Old Testament history teaches is that God's will is good, and that when man defies and disobeys that will, he does it to his own destruction, but that God can bring good out of evil.

People often act from bad motives; yet even the worst of motives God can overrule. David waded in blood to his throne, and he treated cruelly many of his enemies. That was not good; yet God brought out of that a national independence and strength.

David put Solomon on the throne because he was the son of his favorite wife; that was pure favoritism. Yet God brought good out of a choice which was selfish.

When the Israelites were tempted to fall for the cheap and nasty gods whose shrines filled the land, that was bad; but it gave the prophets their great opportunity to make perfectly clear the difference between false and true religion.

The Voice of God

HISTORY is no bucket of ashes. If you have ears to listen, it is the voice of God. These ancient tales of a nation long since dead, that lived in a scarce 500 years, carry God's voice to us today.

The diseases which are fatal to a nation's life are here described; the foundations on which alone true national welfare can be built are made quite plain.

Up to now, all nations have perished sooner or later. We can see some of them decaying in our own time. That is because no nation ever yet has built its life on God's design. But the pattern is there, the lesson has been written. God still waits for a people who will learn his lesson in how to live.

To Relieve Your Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

You'll be surprised how quickly and easily you can relieve coughs due to colds, when you try this splendid recipe. It gives you about four times as much cough medicine for your money, and you'll find it truly wonderful.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's no trouble at all. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Then put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint of medicine that will please you by its quick action. It never spoils, and tastes fine.

This simple mixture takes right hold of a cough. For real results, you've never seen anything better. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its quick action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.
