ANNUAL TRI-COUNTY CELEBRATION NOW OPEN

Toppling Work On Highway 9 Is Progressing Rapidly

Toppling Work Progressing on Both Sectors of No. 9

Toppling work has been poured several miles of Highway 9 south of the Lynn-Dawson county line. The new highway has been open for several days. Thus a toppling was begun in 1933 last beginning to approach the point.

The new lobby, when completed, will be most attractive and convenient, while approximately one hundred additional seats have been placed in the building, some of them at the front and others in the old lobby space. The screen space has been worked over as well.

Manager Caldwell and Mr. Hal Singleton, owner of the building are to be congratulated on their enterprise.

Remodeling of Theatre Is Almost Complete

Work of remodeling and enlarging the Rex Theatre building here is almost complete as we go to press, and the job has meant much to the theatre, both from the point of attractiveness and also from increased convenience and added seating capacity.

The new lobby, when completed, will be most attractive and convenient, while approximately one hundred additional seats have been placed in the building, some of them at the front and others in the old lobby space. The screen space has been worked over as well.

Manager Caldwell and Mr. Hal Singleton, owner of the building are to be congratulated on their enterprise.

Former Blanco Residents To Meet

Mr. S. G. Aten, one of our good subscribers from out east of town, stopped in for a moment Sunday afternoon and asked that we announce that a reunion of former Blanco county residents is being planned for the immediate future.

All former residents of this county with their families, are cordially invited to be present at Two Draw Lake, east of Post, on the evening of August 14, and that they come prepared to spend the night and the next day. Bring your own bedding and eat the committee in charge of arrangements has asked.

Mr. Aten has not been notified of any formal program, but it is supposed that, as this is the first meeting of what is hoped will be an annual occasion, much of the time will be devoted to effecting an organization.

So, Blanco County folks, please bear in mind these dates, and notify all other of your friends who are eligible to attend this meeting at Two Draw Lake at Post, August 14-15th.

Local Church Conducts City Religious Census

As a part of the evangelistic campaign now under way at the local Cumberland Presbyterian church, a religious census of the city is being conducted. Quite a bit of interest has been manifested in the work.

Emphasizing that this is not an effort to pry into the private affairs of any family or any individual, Rev. W. H. Cheatham, pastor and evangelist, explained the methods of the census Tuesday in this manner.

At the service Monday evening, those present were divided into two groups. Cards were distributed, and by personal visit and invitation, every person in town will be given the opportunity to fill out one of these cards. The information will show which Sunday school is the choice of the signer, and will also be a pledge to enroll in that Sunday school. Each card will count a certain number of points for the group to which the member belongs. In other words, if a member of the Hustler group secures the signature, the group will be given three points. At the close of the revival, these cards will be given to the pastors of other churches of the town, so that the project will be of direct benefit, not only to the Cumberland church, but also to all the churches in O'Donnell.

It has been a number of years since such a survey has been conducted here, and it is being received with approval by all officials of the various churches.

The Thresher's Harvest

Local Teachers Enjoying Excavation Expedition in N. M.

Superintendent E. E. Gilbreath and Mrs. Charles Cathey of the local schools are members of a class in special work at Texas Technological College, and have this week begun excavation work among Indian ruins near Santa Fe, N. M.

Mr. Gilbreath writes home that they have already unearthed several bits of interesting pottery since the class began work. As we understand the plan of operations, when the ruins of one of the Indian dwellings is found, two or three members of the class are assigned to excavate in each supposed room, the men doing the actual digging and the women sifting the soil and debris for worthwhile relics.

Both Mr. Gilbreath and Mrs. Cathey have promised to send in more definite information concerning this work. We, as well as our readers, will be glad to hear more of the expedition.

Cumberland Revival Attracts Good Crowds

A most pleasing attendance and gratifying interest has been accorded the annual summer revival which is in progress at the local Cumberland Presbyterian church. The meeting opened last Thursday, and will close with the evening service Sunday.

The pastor, Rev. W. H. Cheatham has delivered some splendid sermons, while his own and personal work on the part of various members outside of regular hours has done much to increase the effect of the revival period. Cooperation from the other churches of the town has been much appreciated throughout the meeting.

Shumake Child Rallies From Serious Illness

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shumake will be glad to know that the condition of their small son, Frank Jr., is much improved today.

The little boy was seized with a convulsion shortly before noon Monday, and only prompt and efficient medical attention at the office of a local physician saved his life. The physician was of the opinion that the attack might have been due to indigestion.

Huff Builds Addition To Residence Here

Mr. W. T. Huff is the proud owner of two features every woman would like in her own home—a specially built laundry and a specially built sewing room.

The two rooms have recently been built across the back of the residence which also houses the business of Mr. and Mrs. Huff, the O'Donnell Telephone Company.

Walter Gray Of Mesquite Buried Mon.

News was received last Sunday of the death of Mr. Walter Gray, prominent farmer of the Mesquite community for the past ten years. He passed away at an early hour Sunday at the home of a daughter in East Texas, typhus fever being the immediate cause of his death.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at Sanger, and Mr. Gray was laid to rest in the cemetery there. Members of the family here went down immediately after receiving news of his death and were present for the funeral rites.

The Index joins with other friends of the family in extending sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Angry Bull Injures O'Donnell Woman

Mrs. R. E. Austin, well-known resident of the O'Donnell territory, is in a Lamesa sanitarium in a very serious condition as a result of injuries received last Wednesday evening when she was attacked by a bull at the farm home east of O'Donnell.

Injuries about the head and chest were inflicted by the animal's horns, while still other abdominal and pelvic injuries were caused by his pawing and his weight as he stood on her body. Sanitarium attendants, we are informed, fear that pneumonia has already developed, and her condition is regarded as being exceedingly serious.

The tragic accident occurred late Wednesday evening as Mrs. Austin was returning from the cow lot where she had finished milking. No one could say what angered the animal, or what caused him to single Mrs. Austin out as the object of his attack. Her first intimation of danger was the rush of hooves behind her, and as she turned she was struck to the ground. Her cries summoned a daughter to her assistance, the girl also receiving minor injuries before her mother could be rescued.

Other members of the family rushed to the scene, and finally succeeded in driving the raging animal back to his quarters. Mrs. Austin was rushed to the sanitarium.

We join other friends in the sincere hope that her injuries may be less serious than they appear now to be and that she will soon be fully recovered.

Laymen Plan Service At Baptist Church

"Cultivating a Neglected Grace" will be the theme of the program on Sunday morning, August 4th, when laymen of the church conduct the regular eleven o'clock service at the First Baptist church.

Messrs. Blocker and Cabbiness will read the Scripture, after which the following topics will be discussed:

1. God the Owner of Everything—Mr. John Edwards.
2. The Title Belongs to God—Mr. John Anderson.
3. How Shall the Payment of Tithes and Offerings be Made—Mr. C. H. Mansell.

Evening services will be dismissed at 8 o'clock. Passengers will be taken for short flights, at a most nominal charge. The fliers are using the ball park as a landing field.

One of the most enjoyable features since the admission fee will enable the individual to see both the game and the races. We understand that a number of ponies have been listed as likely contenders for prizes each day, so that followers of this sport will have plenty of entertainment.

There will be plenty of free ice water, plenty of places to rest and talk, and plenty of hospitality. Come to O'Donnell Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and enjoy the Celebration with your friends.

Mr. J. Mac Noddy, Jr., had as her guests last Wednesday Miss Asalie Key of Lamesa and Miss Evelyn Jackson of Big Spring.

New Assistant At Cicero Smith Lbr Co.

J. L. Adams has this week been transferred from the Cicero Smith Lumber Company at Levelland, and has been named assistant to Mr. Don Edwards, manager of the local yard. Mr. Adams arrived Wednesday, and has already assumed his duties. He has been associated with the company for some time, and is well qualified to be of much help to Mr. Edwards.

J. D. Fairley, who has been employed at the yard here for several months, states that he will devote his entire time to his insurance business.

The Index joins with the community in welcoming Mr. Adams to our town, with the sincere hope that he will find his stay both pleasant and profitable.

Singing Convention At T-Bar Sunday

We are asked to announce that the singing convention will be entertained at the T-Bar school building Sunday afternoon, the program to begin at two-thirty.

Everyone is cordially invited to come and bring song books. The good people of T-Bar are famed for their hospitality and their courtesy to visitors; this is a good opportunity to make their acquaintance and enjoy some real singing at the same time.

South Plains Visitors Welcomed; Full Program Is Planned

South Plains Visitors Welcomed; Full Program Planned; Air Circus New Feature

As the Index goes to press today, O'Donnell residents are welcoming visitors from all over the section to the annual Tri-County celebration which opened here this morning. The celebration will continue through Saturday.

One of the main features of the entertainment program is a series of baseball games between the Hubbers and teams from Lubbock, Morton, and Hobbs, N. M. The first game with the Lubbock Hub Clubbers is being played at 2 o'clock. Tomorrow afternoon the team from Hobbs is due here, and on Saturday a second game with the Lubbock team is scheduled. Sunday's attraction is a game with Morton, the club which defeated the Hubbers in a ten inning game during the tournament at Lubbock.

Each of these games should be fast and thrilling. Manager Wright states that the boys are apparently in good shape, and that the recruits to the team are working out in fine fashion. Juan Costello is back from Amarillo and will be in the pitcher's box along with Cecil Pearce, Lefty Reeves and Bean Pair, borrowed from the Wilson Club. Roy Line is back in his old place at third, and will be helped out by young Prather and perhaps by Boren, a new man from Dora, N. M. Harris and Preston will be ready behind the plate, while Alaback, Tommorrow and Melton will be ready to fill their regular positions. Britt, McVicker and Paul Reeves believe they can hold down the outfield positions and Little Reeves will likely help out in the place which needs him most.

Carnival Well Under Way

Dudley's Carnival has been here since Monday night. The various booths and rides are ready for their customers, and have enjoyed a very good business all week.

Two Planes—An addition to the attractions which were secured Tuesday are two planes, a monoplane and a biplane, piloted by O. L. Holden and A. D. Hatch from Meacham Field, Fort Worth. The two planes will put on a show program of stunts each day, with parachute jumps as added thrills. Joy Benson of Stamford will do the balling out act, and reports are that Benson is about the best parachute jumper in the state. Passengers will be taken for short flights, at a most nominal charge. The fliers are using the ball park as a landing field.

A special news item from Edgewood, Texas, says that a Van Zandt county farmer planted Irish potatoes and tomatoes in close proximity and at harvest time found clusters of potatoes at one end of the vine and some tomatoes at the other. Not a new discovery, but verification of the work of Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, who years ago announced the production of the Pomato by fertilizing the bloom of the Irish potato plant with the pollen from the tomato plant.

From the July Southern Agriculturist we clip the following relative to the growing of Irish potatoes, which is interesting, and local farmers can add much to their winter food supply by planting a patch of spuds for home use. The clipping is as follows: "In the south it is impossible to keep potatoes in desirable condition for table use over winter without cold storage. This is impracticable in many instances and is expensive. We can have, however, high quality home grown potatoes all winter by growing a fall crop which may be either early varieties such as Triumph, Irish Cobbler, or late varieties such as Burbank or Green Mountain. If a early variety is used planting must be done late in summer so that the crop will mature during the late, cool fall. The later the crop matures the better the potatoes will keep and the higher quality they will be. This means planting in the middle or last of July in the northern tier of the States, to the first of September in the South."

What may well be termed the colossus of human achievement, the Grand Coulee power and reclamation project on the Columbia river in the state of Washington, now under construction, which, when completed, will have cost around $390,000,000 and will furnish more than 2,500,000 horse power of available energy and supply sufficient water to irrigate 1,250,000 acres of land. This immense structure will be 500 feet high, 4,000 feet long, 452 feet wide at its base and 90 feet wide on top, and will form a reservoir more than 150 miles long and over 1400 yards wide. It is estimated that the annual upkeep will cost something like $4,000,000. It is estimated that it will require eight years to complete this most gigantic of all human undertakings, which by some has been called the Eighth Wonder of the World.

Editor Guy of the Lubbock Morning Avalanche aptly says: "It would be nice if all men were good, and all lawyers were scrupulously honest and had nothing to do but draw up wills and plead cases in courts of equity. But we have to face facts, and when crime gets out of hand, fight it even to death if necessary."

Opportunity is a visitor who rarely calls on those who neglect to provide a suitable welcome.

There is a well known proverb, at once naive and striking, which illustrates the necessity of participating by one's own effort in bringing about fortunate circumstances and in giving them permanence: "Who comes at the sound of the flute departs at the noise of the drum."

As Gen. Coxey's army marched on Washington during the last Cleveland administration in an effort to get some relief, when it approached the White House everywhere it was greeted by this sign: "Keep Off the Grass." Just the other day when two hundred ex-soldiers led by Roy Robertson of California came to Washington to present a petition urging that the soldier's bonus be paid out of the four billion dollar work fund, they were ordered off the capital steps. Did your listening ear hear the clank of a chain hurting back from the not too distant future?

Harry P. Drought, State administrator of the Works Progress Administration, told a conference of the twenty district directors and their staffs, that the desire of President Roosevelt, that construction projects, for which $50,000,000 were appropriated to Texas, be kept entirely out of politics, would be strictly carried out. So far, so good.

The following clipping may not be much as an editorial, but it contains some information which is not generally known: "Centuries ago the tomato was thought to be a poison; one hundred years ago it was considered a curiosity. Today, babies even tho but three weeks old are being fed on its juices. Dollar for dollar tomatoes contain as much vitamin as oranges. Every diet, no matter how much or how little money there is to spend, calls for the tomato, for it is so rich in vitamins."

A prominent weekly publication, in its issue of July 19th, contains the following: "The semi-annual report of J. P. Morgan & Co., of New York, shows ownership of over three hundred millions in stocks and bonds and only forty-two millions in loans and discounts. The above institution has more than seven times as much invested in stocks and bonds as it has in loans and discounts. The country would be better off if big financial institutions would deal less with soulless corporations and more with flesh and blood." The writer of the foregoing is president of the First National Bank of his city of around four thousand population, and knows whereof he writes. On another page of this same paper is a condensed statement of the financial condition of the bank of which this writer is president, which statement shows among the resources of his bank there are U. S. Bonds and other stocks and securities amounting to $451,296.50, while the loans and discounts are only $99,750.67, this showing that this country banker deals "with soulless corporations" in but little smaller proportion than does the house of Morgan. "Flesh and blood" cuts but little figure where dollars and cents are concerned.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Singleton spent the week end in Desdemona and Gorman.

ON TEXAS FARMS—

Farmers' Short Course at A and M College all next week is the attraction which will cause about 5000 bags to be packed this week end.

"The Changing Country Life" is the theme around which all the Short Course programs and demonstrations have been built. Ox-cart ideas do not keep up with the procession in an automobile age whether in town or country. So it is well to recognize that country life is changing.

Science has made a wide range of inferences valuable to citizens in making more use of the raw materials of their land.

Science has also revealed that homemakers aren't so ignorant as they are thought to be. How sound methods of canning are being taught.

The Farmer's Short Course takes by demonstration the riches of science available to the farmer.

August 16, Date Set For Baseball Tournament

Out of courtesy to the people of Ackerly who are having their annual celebration on August 14-15, officials of the Dawson County Baseball Tournament have postponed their opening one day to Friday, August 16th instead of August 15th as originally planned.

Attention of all team managers is again called to the business meeting Saturday, August 3, at 8:30 p. m. at the Court house in Lamesa, at which time drawings for the playing schedule will be made and other rules and regulations of the tournament decided upon. Officials state that it is absolutely necessary that each team entering be represented so that no misunderstanding may arise.

Those wishing to bid on concessions during the entire tournament are also requested to have in their bids to Bill White, Lamesa, by this coming Saturday night, August 3rd. It is planned by those in charge to start work on the park next week getting the grandstand and grounds in readiness for play. Considerable repair work is to be done on the grandstand especially, but fans are assured that it will be completely repaired by the time the opening game starts.

According to the latest information the tournament is to be divided into two classes, A and B. All county teams that desire may enter the Class B section. It is announced that at least six teams are to be entered in the Class B section and that there will be eight or more teams in the Class A division.

With the large number of teams entered and the big prize money offered Dawson county fans are expecting the best tournament of recent years and are eagerly awaiting August 16th.

School Officials To Meet In Lubbock

Anticipating the need in Texas for closer cooperation between the county superintendents, independent district superintendents, county school boards, local boards of trustees, parent teacher associations, teacher-training institutions, and the State Department of Education, Dr. L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Education has called a conference for school officials to be held in Lubbock, at the Texas Technological College, Friday, August 9th. Supt. Woods is desirous that all county board members, trustees, superintendents of independent districts, principals, teachers, and presidents of parent-teacher organizations, who possibly can attend this meeting. Twenty-five counties are to be represented.

The principal speakers will be: Dr. Bradford Knapp, President, Texas Technological College; Dr. L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; E. M. Elwell, and S. O. Murdock, State Department of Education. The subjects of classification and standardization of schools, new school laws, transportation, high school tuition, the state music program, etc., will be discussed.

Let's have a good representation of county and district trustees, superintendents and teachers from Dawson county present at this meeting. Don't forget the date, Friday, August 9th.

The Compliance work began in the 31 school districts, Monday, July 29. Rented acres as well as acres planted to cotton are being measured.

As was stated in last week's issue each producer should be present or have some one present acting for him at the time the measuring is done so that the Compliance papers can be signed and the correct plot of ground which has been set aside as rented acres can be measured.

Notice to Producers
When the Compliance Supervisors visit your farm to measure contracted acres and rented acres are ready to point out a certain block of land as rented acres—don't say "just go measure my rented acres any where". The Supervisors time is valuable and if you do not have your rented acres designated the Supervisor can turn in a report that you have not complied with your contract because you do not know where your rented acres are.

Corn and Hog
All Corn and Hog Contract signers that are getting a hog payment must produce 25 per cent of their hog base or give sufficient reasons why they did not. Such reasons as lack of finances, drouth, or high priced feed are not sufficient reasons to justify the approval of compliance by Allotment committees.

WELLS 4-H GIRLS MAKE LUNCHEON SETS

Six members of the Wells 4-H club met last Thursday morning at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. John Etter. The girls are making luncheon sets, and these were supposed to be finished at this meeting. However, only three members brought their work, so the others helped with these pieces.

Expenses were brought to help defray expenses of the club's delegate to the Short Course at A & M.

Lemonade was served at the close of the meeting.

MARJORIE RHODES WINS GARDEN CONTEST

Marjorie Rhodes, member of the Morgan 4-H Club, won first place in garden contest among the 4-H Club girls.

For reward Marjorie was given her room and board at the Short Course, and she was one of the members that left Tahoka on Saturday on the chartered bus for College Station.

WOMEN ATTEND CLUB ENCAMPMENT

More than a hundred farm women and girls enjoyed the encampment sponsored by the Home Demonstration council, July 11-12 at the Lubbock Park.

This was a very busy season for the women and girls which made our number smaller than last year but those that attended enjoyed the outing, swimming, picnics, stunts and slumberlike night.

ANGES URGED IN BANKING BILL

Business Men and Bankers Agree Objecting to Political Control Over Banks.

REVISIONS ARE SUGGESTED

Domination of Federal Reserve Board Declared to Be Undesirable for Depositors as Well as Their Banks.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Business men and bankers alike who have approved the committees of Congress before the passage of the Banking Act of 1935 have found cause for criticism in those provisions which they agree would create a desirable political control over the Federal Reserve System through individual banks about the United States. They made the point that this undesirable condition would affect depositors much more than the banks themselves.

It has been stressed in criticism by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and the question of control over banking was the main theme of a statement presented to the Senate by the American Bankers Association, who appear before the Senate Sub-Committee on Banking and Currency hearings Mr. Hecht declared that his organization is actuated by a desire to be heard by Congress "in enacting effective and equitable banking legislation in the interests of all our people." He said in part:

It is finally decided that it is necessary to carry this legislation through this session, we are strongly of the opinion that special care should be taken to keep our credit control and the mechanism free from any sort of political considerations. Making this statement I do not appear to question the program of the Government's exerting as much control over banking as so far as they affect the national currency and general monetary policy. We do object to broad power of supervision over the operation of banking institutions because of the public responsibilities they carry. When it comes to such matters as printing of credit and the making of payments by our banks, these are some of the business policies that should not be under the sole control of the board as constituted as to be dependent upon partisan or political considerations under any administration.

The Basis of Sound Credit

The real conditions that create the basis for the expansion or contraction of credit arise from the needs of agriculture, industry and trade which are daily independent of the administrative policies of the party which is in power. We feel that the fundamental requirements of the national business constitute a continuing process that is not related to political changes. The fundamental basis of sound credit do not vary with variations in public thought. All these things that the quality of sound money is sound only so long as it is governed by the requirements of business. It is not sound when it is controlled by considerations or motives other than its composition.

The Banking Act would centralize Federal Reserve Board at Washington aimed to control the money in the country, which would include the sum total of currency circulation and demand deposits in banks which become current checks. The powers which it is intended to give the Board are intended to influence the quantity of deposit money through open market operations, the discount rate and reserve requirements.

The Need for Independence

It is the reason why we are so strongly in favor of making the Federal Reserve Board a body of such independence and prestige that it would be wholly removed from all political influence and dictation. Its members should be free to study and to report to the public with independence with the needs and interests of agriculture, industry and commerce. The policies of the board should be based on the policies of the national government.

Our studies of the bank bill, we have been strongly impressed with the fact that the Federal Reserve Board would set up a situation in which the policies might be subject to control by the political administration of the country. In saying this I do not mean that it is the intention of the administration to bring about a political control over the nation's money mechanism. The point is that the bill as now proposed, open market control would be there at the present or whatever administration might be in power.

The criticisms of the bill are not intended, at the motives of the administration, but they are personal and non-political and should be heard entirely at the bank bill involved."

Desirable Changes Proposed

It is stated that a study by his organization, which had resulted in a number of suggestions for constructive changes in the bill which he submitted to the Senate. On the other hand, he de-

TRI-COUNTY

INTEREST IN AUGUST ELECTION TO BE REPEAL

Chief interest in the August election on the seven proposed Constitutional Amendments is on Proposition No. 3 on the repeal of Prohibition. According to Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann.

At present, prohibition of alcoholic liquors (except 3.2 beer) will be struck out by adoption of the amendment. The proposed amendment specifies the return of the open market and it would be up to the legislature to define the term "open market." The legislature would have the authority to determine just how liquor is to be sold, and it would be done by State monopoly through private channels. The legislature would have the authority to pass laws regulating local option.

16,000 TEXANS TO BE ENROLLED IN CCC IN AUG.

Austin, July 30.—Young men throughout Texas eligible for Civilian Conservation Corps enlistment have been advised by State Enrollment Supervisor Neal E. Guy to their county administrators if they are interested in being among the 16,000 to be enrolled by August 31.

SYSTEM TO BE VOTED ON AUGUST 24TH ELECTION

Two years ago a Senate investigation committee discovered a number of abuses of the fee system in the State Monopoly which says the State has a liquor monopoly. To the present dry status both August 24th Amendment and the November 1936 Amendment must be passed. Passage of either will repeal the present prohibition section of the Constitution.

to the last Federal Census. The Legislature will, if the amendment is adopted, set the salaries for officials now receiving fees in such counties. In counties of under 20,000 population the Commissioners Court may put their county and precinct officials on a salary basis if they so desire. The amendment does not specifically state who shall set the salaries of such officials in this case. If this amendment is adopted all district officers must be compensated on a salary basis. The amendment provides that fees shall continue to be collected as at present but they will go to the county instead of the officer. The evident purpose of this amendment is to place as many officials as possible on straight salaries and thus abolish, in so far as possible the payment of officials through the present fee system.

16,000 TEXANS TO BE ENROLLED IN CCC IN AUG.

Austin, July 30.—Young men throughout Texas eligible for Civilian Conservation Corps enlistment have been advised by State Enrollment Supervisor Neal E. Guy to their county administrators if they are interested in being among the 16,000 to be enrolled by August 31.

Guy advised county administrators of their quotas and asked that they examine their relief rolls for probable enrollees, with the possibility that quotas will be increased when administrators show enough CCC candidates to warrant.

An eligible candidate is any single man between 18 and 28 whose family is on the relief rolls.

While administrators were asked to search their rolls for probable enrollees, Guy suggested that the young men themselves notify their administrator if they are eager to enroll in the CCC.

Approximately 16,000 Texans are to be enrolled by August 31, with about 10,000 expected to be sent to out-of-state camps, Guy said. Out-of-Texas camps already have their quotas, while camps in some of the other states have not, he explained.

Enrollment will be made at intervals during the next month, and enrollment instructions have already been issued to the first allotment of 3224.

Forty-three new camps are being built in Texas, bringing the total in this state to 96. Approximately 30,000 Texans will be in the CCC by August 31.

Doak Improving Rent Property in O'Donnell

Extensive renovations and alterations are being made this week in several pieces of the C. H. Doak rent property.

Chief among the alterations is taking place at the old Rochette Hotel, which is being transformed into an apartment house. Mr. Doak said Monday that it will have two apartments of three rooms each, and three apartments of two rooms each. O. D. Howard is installing plumbing for these apartments this week.

Other property which will be painted, Mr. Doak said, are the former Witherspoon house and the houses now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Carey Shook and Mr. and Mrs. John Minor. The old King house will receive repairs to flooring and porch, he added.

Changes in Classification in Schools

B. M. Haymes attended a meeting of the county board of trustees at Tahoka Monday of this week and reports several rather important changes in classification of rural schools.

Of chief interest to our territory were changes in the curriculum of the Pride, New Moore T-Bar, Joe Bailey, and Three Lakes schools. To meet new requirements of the State Board of Education, Three Lakes has been obliged to do away with all work higher than the seventh grade while Pride, Joe Bailey, New Moore, and T-Bar schools will include work through the second year of high school subjects. They have offered third year high school work in the past.

The Wells school will continue to offer tenth grade work as has been done in past years.

Mrs. Gay is somewhat improved, though still very ill. Mrs. Brunson, who had gone to Sweetwater several days previously, remained with the family a few days longer.

Foot Is Injured in Fall

Ralph Beach sustained a slight but extremely painful and inconvenient injury Monday when he fell and strained the ligaments in his right ankle. A misstep as he was working at the Rex Theatre, helping in the repairs and renovations, was the cause of the accident. He refuses to make a statement for the press, but it is believed that he may be recovered sufficiently to dance during the Celebration.

Mrs. W. H. Thornhill was down from Tahoka Wednesday, assisting in preparations for the Celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Richter of Skellytown spent last Thursday and Friday here with his mother, Mrs. R. E. Townzen, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hancock.
