O'DONNELL GINS ARE NOW READY TO HANDLE 1928 CROP

The seven gins of O'Donnell have been busy their plants and installing new machinery where it is needed. All are preparing to handle the cotton crop regardless of how large or small. When the ginning opens, O'Donnell will have seven modern well-equipped gins to handle the crop. The gins are owned by Henderson-Boone, and Harrison-Williams, have been designated to handle the Dawson county cotton crop that included in the infested area. Each of these plants have installed sterilizers and fumigators according to the requirements of the state department.

There is no town on the South Plains and possibly the state of Texas, that is better equipped to handle a large cotton crop than O'Donnell.

NEBRASKA SCHOOL USES ACCOUNT BOOK 50 YEARS

A treasurer's account book which has been in use more than fifty years was recently brought to the attention of the county superintendent at Nebraska City. The first entry was made in May, 1877, and the volume, neatly bound in leather, contains a record of every expenditure of the district since then. In comparing the teachers' salaries paid during the half century it was found that in 1877 the teacher was paid forty dollars a month, in 1880 the salary was reduced to twenty-five dollars, where it remained for several years. The present figure is eighty dollars.

COWBOY DOG CATCHER REFUSES TO USE NET

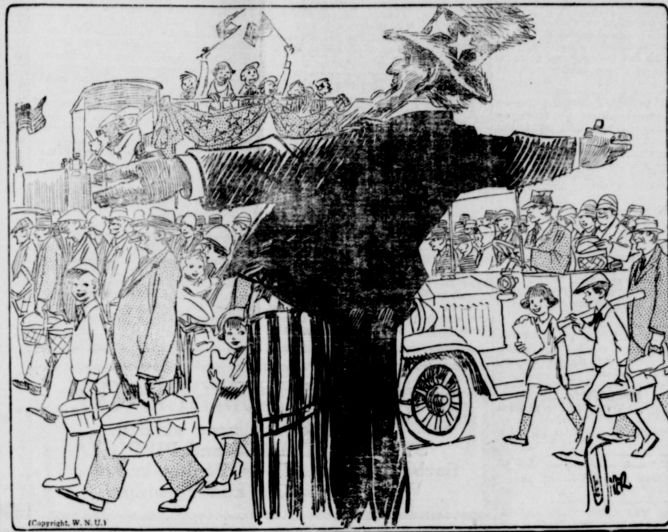

Tom Fifer, of Odessa, thinks it may be all right for other dog catchers to take up dope styles, but his department refuses to bow to the edict of invention.

As a city dog catcher, he will not discard the lariat for the more modern net. He grew up on the plains and learned to lasso from the saddle years ago.

Rev. W. K. Horn, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, closed a very successful revival at the Wells School house on Sunday night. The meeting continued for one week and Rev. Horn preached to almost capacity houses at each of the services with splendid results. There were twenty conversions, two of which surrounded for special work and two for the ministry. GAS IS TURNED ON IN THE LAMESA MAINS THIS WEEK

Gas was turned into the mains here this week and Lamesa is now burning natural gas from the Ann rillo fields. This is one of the most forward steps in Lamesa's progress. We wish to congratulate the West Texas Gas Company on giving this cheap fuel to our city. Quite a few have already tied in while others are waiting on the colder weather before tying on. Cooking schools have been the order of the day here for the past two weeks and many cook stoves have been placed in homes in the city.—Lamesa Reporter.

T. C. HAYNES HERE TO ENFORCE GAME LAWS OF STATE

T. C. Haynes of the Game, Fish and Oyster Department of the State of Texas, has been in O'Donnell the past ten days and will probably remain here until about the middle of October. He is here to see that the State game laws are enforced and that farmers of this section get the protection they are entitled to from the state.

Mr. Haynes stated that he found the people of O'Donnell and territory all ready to cooperate with him in every way possible. He says he has found the finest folks it has been his pleasure to meet and wishes to thank them for the hearty cooperation they have given him since he has been in O'Donnell. During his stay in our city he has issued upward of sixty hunting licenses to numerous O'Donnell and surrounding territory. Mr. Haynes says that he is going to do everything in his power to see that hunters observe the state rules regarding the hunting of chickens and quails when the season opens.

The chicken season opens Saturday, September 1st and continues for ten days. The bag limit for all game found in this section will be found on your hunting license. Be sure you do not exceed the limit.

Mr. Haynes says that in his opinion the chicken season opens about sixty days too early in this section and that when the next legislature convenes the state department is going to make strenuous efforts to have the present open season dates on chickens changed. Hunters of this section heartily agree with Mr. Haynes on this score as few chickens have been found in this section until about the last of October.

MRS. J. B. POUNDS PASSES AWAY AT DAUGHTER'S HOME

Last Saturday, August 25, Mrs. J. B. Pounds quietly passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. R. Kimball. She was well past the three score years and ten allowed as the span of mortal life, being seventy-six years and five months of age.

Susan Morman was born in Pittsburg, Mississippi, March 1852, the oldest of seven children, born to Thomas and Elizabeth Morman. She was converted in childhood and became a member of the Methodist Church of which was a faithful and loyal member till her death. At an early age she was married to Mr. Robert Foster and they were born two daughters, and one son, all of whom survive their mother and father. Mr. Foster died in 1879. Five years later she was married to Mr. J. B. Pounds and three children blessed this union. Mr. Pounds had one daughter, Belle, by a previous marriage and seven children grew up in peace and harmony together. Of the seven, all survive their mother except one. She had been a sufferer from bronchitis for many years and this disease together with age, so weakened her constitution as to cause her death.

She was all her life a patient consecrated Christian living her master's teachings and doing his work, a faithful wife and a devoted mother. She was happy to leave her pain and go to the place her Saviour had prepared for her.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. C. Hart at the cemetery and there she was gently placed to rest. She is mourned by a wide circle of friends and a grieving family, her husband, Mr. J. B. Pounds, Mrs. A. R. Kimball, Mrs. H. W. Smith of Garden City, Kansas, Bob Foster of Roswell, N. W., Mrs. Belle Knight, and Mrs. C. W. Dunn, and three grandchildren known to friends here, Miss Christine Milwee, James Milwee, and Miss Mabel Kirkpatrick.

The Index joins in extending deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

WORM POISONING BEGUN IN SEVERAL FIELDS

Crawford is using the old stand by arsenic, beginning work Wednesday. Several others have already begun poisoning and many are discussing the use of Pluvius would just stop plowing and let us have thirty days of hot sunshine, O'Donnell territory would have better than the average year's yield.

LUNCHEON CLUB BANQUET POSTPONED UNTIL LATER

The Luncheon Club banquet which was to be held at the O'Donnell Hotel, was postponed until a later date. Constant Effort Is a Vital Part of Electric Service

DAY in and day out, your electric service continues unfalteringly, yet how often do you consider the constant effort that must be made to keep this service up to the high ideal set by this company? You know that electricity is always available at the snap of a switch, but do you know that engineers work in shifts twenty-four hours a day to keep the huge generators operating, that patrolmen are making regular inspections of high voltage transmission lines to find any possible defect that will affect your service and that linemen are ready at an instant's notice to restore the flow of electricity should anything interrupt the service that you have learned to depend upon?

You may not have an opportunity to observe this constant effort, but remember that it is only a part of our many-sided work in providing electric service to you.

TO MY FRIENDS, THE VOTERS AND CITIZENS OF LYNN COUNTY, TEXAS

I desire to take this means of expressing my deepest thanks and appreciation for the honor rendered me in my recent nomination by the Democrats of my county, for County Judge. It being the will of the people, as expressed at the polls on August 28th, I shall, upon final election and qualification, devote my entire thought and effort to the faithful and impartial discharge of the duties of that high and respected office.

The responsible office of County Judge, to my mind, and to my understanding, does not, and was never intended to constitute the holder thereof, the master of the people, through which they exercise self-government. Consequently I shall, to the best of my ability, devote myself to the interests of the entire County, both to the development thereof, and to the rigid enforcement of the laws.

Again thanking you for the support accorded, I am,

Respectfully yours,
G. C. GRIDER.

KNOW TEXAS

Honey producing has become an important industry in Texas during the past few years. There are now about 300,000 hives in the state.

The annual value of Texas mineral production has increased from $5,316,000 in 1900 to more $350,000,000 at present.

There are in the state enormous supplies of several kinds of fuel, natural gas, petroleum, coal and lignite.

Much carbon is made in Texas oil fields from waste gas. Most of this carbon is shipped to tire manufacturers.

SALE OF ORIENT TO SANTA FE APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The Interstate Commerce Commission Tuesday approved the application of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company to acquire control of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railway Company by purchase of capital stock.

Already owning subscription rights to 15,561 shares of the Orient's capital stock, the Santa Fe Railway was authorized to require the 29,439 remaining shares at $415.50 a share, to total $14,507,500.

The Orient Railway extends 735 miles from Wichita, Kan., to Alpine, Texas, and all of its property, including cash and current assets, would be placed under control of the Santa Fe Railway by the transaction.

In announcing its decision, the commission said that competition between the lines "is confined almost entirely to territory between Wichita, Kan., and Cherokee, Okla., where the two railroads are close together," and added "not more than 5 per cent of the total Orient traffic is competitive with the applicant's lines."

"The two roads would be complementary and supplementary to each other. They come in contact eight times and practically every point of contact creates opportunities by which the applicant could use portions of the Orient's line as a cut-off, and thereby effect savings in distance as high as 285 miles," the decision said.

To Veterans Holding Government Insurance

Commenting upon legislation enacted by the last Congress, Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, Director of the Veterans Bureau stated this morning that there appears to be some misunderstanding among the veterans as to their present privileges in naming the beneficiaries of their insurance.

"The amendment to the World War Veterans Act, 1924, approved May 29, 1928, removes all restrictions as to who may be named beneficiary under Government Life (Converted) insurance policies, said Gen. Hines, may designate, any person, firm, corporation or legal entity as beneficiary to receive the proceeds of his U. S. Government Life (Converted) insurance." This will, of course, allow a veteran to designate a bank or trust company to receive payment of the proceeds as trustee in accordance with an agreement between the corporation and the insured.

Formerly, he permitted class of beneficiaries was restricted to relatives by blood or marriage, a midlife change in the law is in response to the desire of many policyholders to include their Government insurance in life insurance trusts along with other insurance granted by commercial companies.

pliable to 672,781 policies now in force, with a total value of $3,182,347,311," Gen. Hines stated, and it is anticipated that many of the veterans will take advantage of the fact.

HOPES AND FEARS FROM A BUMPER CROP

Glancing over the department of Agriculture crop forecasts, we find that the following prospects as compared with the 1917 harvest are:

| | | |
|--------|---------------|---------------|
| Corn | 3,029,561,000 | 2,773,708,000 |
| Cotton | 14,291,000 | 12,800,000 |
| Hay | 88,800,000 | 106,500,000 |
| Wheat | 891,000,000 | 873,000,000 |
| Oats | 1,442,000,000 | 1,184,000,000 |

Will the farmer have more money after harvest or before? This is the question which business men, bankers, advertising men and salesmen are asking as they study conditions throughout the country. As J. C.
Boyle points out in one of his consolidated Press Dispatches, "there is no assurance that the crop will be high as the prediction." The weather in some sections has been favorable to the boll weevil, and encroachments of insect pests are increasing in some parts of the Southwest. It is estimated that the world needs a crop of at least 15,000,000 bales to supply mill requirements and leave the necessary margin of excess for emergencies. All these facts would seem to indicate higher raw-cotton prices. But an advance in the price of raw cotton is pretty sure to bring a complaint from the manufacturers and statements that goods prices must advance. Consumers of cotton goods will oppose any such advance bitterly, and increases in price may decrease buying to a decided degree. On the other hand, failure to advance the price of cotton goods will cut the already narrow margin of profits of the manufacturers.

According to the financial editor of the New York Evening Times: "At current market prices the value of the nine leading crops fall 3.2 per cent below the corresponding value
on estimates at this time a year ago.
It should be remembered though that such crops as corn, hay and oats, all of which represent a substantial lower value, are what we term cash crops. They are marketed largely in the form of hogs and cattle, both of which command materially better prices than a year ago."

However, the important thing is not so much the size of the crop, but the total amount of money the farmer can realize.

According to present plans September 21st and 22nd will be two of the biggest days in the history of O'Donnell. On these two days O'- Donnell will hold a community fair, so far as the writer knows, the first to ever be held. It is one of the greatest movements the merchants of our city have ever attempted. It means closer relationship between merchants and farmer which is very essential to the future development of any town and community. Besides getting better acquainted it will advertise to our neighbors and the outside world the many advantages O'Donnell and community offers in the agricultural and livestock industries. We who live in Lynn County believe we have one of the best agricultural, livestock and poultry counties in the United States, but the outside world doesn't know the future possibilities of our county. When they have been convinced of facts then Lynn county will witness a period of development that will place her among the leading counties of Texas. Let's all get behind the community fair and make it the success that it should be—an event that all will remember with pride.

The Herald is now 24 years of age and still growing, thanks to the many reader and advertising friends. And the advertisers are not using our advertising space from any sense of charity or patriotism, but because they find it pays them.

The merchant who never advertises
does not assist the other merchants and business men of the town, but shares in some of the new trade brought by other merchants. He rides without paying his share of the gasoline bill, and should be ashamed of being a drone always. There are very few of this kind in Brownfield
we are glad to say.—Brownfield Herald.

The Index has been getting the Brownfield paper on exchange since our establishment and we can vouch for Mr. Strickland's statement when he says there are few merchants in Brownfield who does not advertise.
Judging from the patronage the Brownfield Herald receives it looks like the business men are 100 per cent when it comes to advertising Brownfield and Terry County. August is considered a dull month in the newspaper business and only last week the Brownfield Herald came out with fourteen pages all home print and what we mean it was chucked full of good live advertising. The advertising that the merchants of Brownfield are doing is bound to make Brownfield a better trading center and eventually a bigger and better Brownfield.

CHURCH NOTES

In the absence of the pastor who is holding a meeting out of town, there were no regular church or prayer meeting services at the Baptist Church this Sunday School met as usual and the congregation joined the eleven o'clock services at the Methodist Church.

The revival meeting at the Methodist Church closed Thursday evening. As this is being written (Wednesday evening) there have been twelve conversions, and a great revival of spirituality in the church.
Rev. Breedlove has preached the doctrine of brotherly love, tolerance and a God of love in a series of wonderful sermons. Our own pastor's talks and prayers have meant much.
The quiet intimate morning services have been heart to heart talks with each member of the congregation
taking part. Master Sam Breedlove has been a great help to the music with his cornet. Every member of the church has received a blessing.

Film Nightmares Are Produced by Invention

An invention that turns a simple movie into a nightmare of distortion has been perfected by an Englishman, H. G. Ponting, who was Captain Scott's photographer on his ill-fated trip to the South pole, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. People, animals or inanimate objects are changed into grotesque caricatures by successively distorting various portions. The process makes it possible to rephotograph an ordinary still picture and make it live on one film as it flows from one grotesquerie into another. An ordinary postcard photo of a race horse was shown by the inventor to an audience in London. As relation to a movie, it became successively a long-legged dachshund-like animal, a long-legged graffe type, a combination horse and mule, and other shapes.

What Is a Miracle?

The phenomena which are usually spoken of as miracles are distinguished by the following facts: 1. That only a very small fraction of mankind is, or was, permitted to witness them, under a wholly exceptional set of circumstances.

Few Persons Really Capable of Thought

Psychologists say that only few persons out of every hundred really think. The others imitate. In order to get an average across to ninety-five out of one hundred of us, says the story in Thrift Magazine, you must seek us in the jaw, lam us over the head, jab us in the ribs, pull our hair or tickle our noses with a feather. These were the cruel words but no one will feel hurt over them because all of us belong to the group of five. The group of ninety-five who can't think are all the other fellows. In our opinion the correct way to divide the one hundred would be as follows: Number who think they think, one; number who think nobody else thinks, ninety-nine; grand total of those who are wrong, one hundred.

There is much false clamor about the grandeur of pure intellectuality. We do it many of the wonders of the present day would have come about if it had not been for people who have felt more than a fellow thought. All members of the group of five will now please stand up and snort at this observation. Let us conclude to have plenty of feeling, laughter and thrills, tears and indignation, suspense and rewarded bravery. Without these, life would be dull as an adding machine.

Code Employed for Telegrams in China

The transmission and receipt of telegrams in China is not so easy as in western countries, because the Chinese language lacks an alphabet and expresses itself by characters and signs that represent words. In consequence, for purposes of telegraphing, an exact list has been made of signs in quantity sufficient for ordinary correspondence, and to each of the signs a different number is given which is transmitted by the Morse telegraphic system. The code consists of 8,900 ciphers, the whole forming a pamphlet of 40 pages, each one of which contains ten series of 20 characters with its corresponding number. On receipt of a telegram the operator looks up in his book the characters represented by the numbers transmitted by the apparatus and transcribes them into legible Chinese. —Washington Sunday Star.

Giant Ant Bear

Of all the denizens of the tropical forests of Central and South America the giant ant bear is probably the most dangerous. It is said to be too stupid to know fear. Its thick skin and dense stiff hair render it almost impervious to ordinary shot. It is remarkably tenacious of life, and its inch curved claws at the tips of its sinewy limbs, which can swing in any direction and are literally universal jointed, are terrible weapons.

No other animal, according to Mr. Hyatt Verrill, the well-known big game hunter, willingly attacks the ant bear, and while the creature cannot move rapidly for any distance, and is usually content to mind his own affairs and devote his life to lapping up ants, it becomes positively insane with rage when disturbed or wounded.

Blowing Hot and Cold

Doctor Slosson says that heat is measured, as time is measured, only by its loss. When you blow through nearly closed lips the breath is expelled so rapidly that, passing over the hand, it cools it by evaporating the perspiration from the skin, whereas when you breathe upon it more gently from the open mouth the hand is surrounded by the warm air, and hence feels hot. If a thermometer were used instead of the hand, you would find that the effect in the two cases is the same, or often the reverse, because the thermometer has no moist skin and registers the actual temperature instead of merely changes of temperature. —Washington Star.

Find Inscribed Tablets

Twelve thousand inscribed tablets, found recently in an unearthed temple in eastern Arabia by the Bagdad School of Oriental Research, prove that there was a reading public 35 centuries ago. According to Hajj Rikhan in the Marsh Arab, inscribed bricks bearing the names of Nebuchadnezzar and Darius are still picked up in the Iraq section of Arabia, and are so common in places that they pave many a courtyard in the houses of lower Iraq today. —Washington Post.

Idea Is American

The custom of jockeys riding in running races with their saddles across their horses' withers was inaugurated about the beginning of this century. American jockeys were responsible for it. It was some time before English turfmen became accustomed to it, but it was demonstrated that riding forward did give the horse thus ridden a slight advantage, and such saddling is now the general practice.

Impression Not Lasting

At a movie, mother, who did not appear of the picture which was being shown, said to father: "Let's go now. I don't want Margie to see any more of this picture."

Margie, overhearing her mother, promptly remarked: "Never mind mother, it doesn't hurt me. I let it go in one eye and out the other." —Children, the Magazine for Parents.

Age of Methuselah?

Did Methuselah of Biblical fame really live to an age of 969 years—or was that the life of the clan he founded, that bore his name? The latter is the sensible interpretation, R. P. Field of Philadelphia recently wrote in the American Philosophical society.

The chronicle birth, apparently a son, to many a patriarch, Mr. Field declares in Popular Science Monthly, was not that of a person, but of a new tribe that had split off from the father's clan. All dates of the Bible need revision, he says. He places the time of Adam and Eve, for example, between 15,000 and 25,000 B. C.

Where the Lace Comes From

In the good old days when Robin Hood and Richard the Lion-Hearted were active, Nottingham, England, was a great market town near the boundaries of Sherwood forest. Today its more than a quarter-million people spend most of their time making machine lace and hosiery. Yet notwithstanding the mills of lace and machine-made lace curtains, the city preserves a remarkable air of romance. It has sent many distinguished sons into the world since the days of the famous sheriff of Nottingham. One of these is General Booth, founder of the Salvation army.

Joshua's Dictation

A small boy, when asked by his Sunday school teacher what he knew about Joshua, answered:

"Joshua was a man who told his son to stand still and be hid."

The only comment on this, says the Christian Advocate, is that Joshua was much more successful than the modern father.

Curious Storage

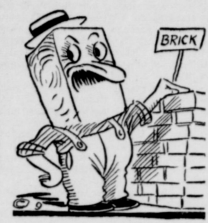

There is practiced in Kashmir, in India, a novel method of putting fodder up for winter use. The country lies in a valley among the Himalayas. The chief industry of the people consists of raising fine wool and in making this into fabrics which have carried the name of the country all over the world.

A curious custom in some places is that of hanging quantities of hay up among the branches of trees. Why this is done is more than the stranger can guess, and he is much puzzled until some native informs him that in winter the snow lies five and six yards in depth, and that the supplies of hay, which as he now looks at them seem only as if intended for gratifies, are then easily reached by the flocks of sheep which abound there.

Master Jimmie Lee Shook suffered a very painful accident last Friday when he slipped on the sidewalk and cut a gash in the back of his head. An alarming amount of blood was lost before the three stitches were taken, but he is recovering nicely now.

H. D. CLUBS PLAN ENJOYABLE OCCASION

The Home Demonstration Clubs of Lynn County are planning a most elaborate afternoon occasion on Saturday, Sept. 14th at the American Legion Home in Tahoka.

There will be only one cloud to darken the day and that is that this will be a farewell party for our capable and beloved Home Agent, Miss Millie Halsey.

Let each member of the club bear this date in mind and, taking into consideration the special importance of this meeting, make an effort to be present not only out of respect to our agents but also to enjoy a pleasant social occasion.

T. A. Wimberly, former City Marshal of O'Donnell, but now a resident of Tahoka, was the city Tuesday looking after business interests and meeting old friends.

BIRTHDAYS

On the household calendar there is no more important event than birthday anniversaries of the children.

Every fond parent knows it is out of time to punish Little Bobby on his birthday, so the day is inaugurated with solemn vows that no matter what he does there are to be no scoldings or whippings that day.

Unfortunately the juvenile here of the day has more reasons for being naughty on his birthday than at other times.

Youful minds do not distinguish between liberty and license. Nor do they realize that there are other rewards for being good than security from punishment.

A birthday anniversary without temper or tears is ardently to be desired, but seldom realized.

MYTHICAL "SUMMER SLUMP"

In early and experimental stages of advertising certain months of the year were poor in business. Midsummer was one of these periods and "the summer slump" became a byword among merchants.

Suddenly someone discovered that "the summer slump" was a hallucination of an unbusinesslike mind. It must have been a distinct shock to the old-timers when they discovered that the reason they were not doing business in the summertime was because they were doing no advertising.

With the aid of newspaper advertising many business men have transformed the "summer slump" into a "summer boom." They have produced goods the public needs and wants during the warm months.

Every man needs a few enemies to cause in an emergency.

The young aren't foolish. They are just willing to satisfy their curiosity at the cost of a blister.

Newspaper advertisements mirror the life of the community and of the times. From their posterity may get a graphic picture of present-day customs and manners.

SPEND $5,000 YEARLY TO CHECK OWN HONESTY

Building and loan associations of Texas are donating $5,000 a year to a state fund used for checking up on their professional honesty.

The state's appropriation of $5,000 yearly was found inadequate to pay supervision of the associations, which voluntarily supplanted the appropriation with a donation to R. B. Cousins Jr., chairman of the state insurance commission.

Austin, Texas.—Rules in football for the 1929 interscholastic League contests have been announced by the University League Bureau, according to Roy Bedichek, chief of the Bureau.

Although the closing date for high schools to sign up for participation in football this year is October 1, Bedichek said, "two hundred schools have already filed acceptances."

The early enrollment figures indicate a good total registration. There were 325 schools in the League last year.

Only one new rule has been added to the football plan, according to Mr. Bedichek. That rule, number 21, refers to the collection of five percent of the interscholastic receipts by State Office to maintain a fund for investigating eligibility questions and to supplement printing, salary and office appropriations relating to football.

The State has also been divided into new districts. Mr. Bedichek said, and it is very important that each school acquaint itself with the new lines of division.

CLOUDBURSTS NOT WHAT THEY SEEM

Every day or two another theory is exploded, and now we can't even have the good old fashioned cloud burst. This matter is discussed at some length by Charles Fitzhugh Talman in his Science Service feature "Why the Weather?" He says in part:

It is discussed at considerable length in a Latin work by one author published in 1721. These excessive downpours have sometimes been referred to as waterpots and some scientific writers have ascribed them to the action of tornadoes in condensing and carrying aloft in their voracious great quantities of rain, which are allowed to fall suddenly when the whirling storm is broken up or weakened; as for example, by striking the side of a mountain. It is now generally believed, however, that cloudbursts are merely violent thundershowers. The rising air-currents of a thunderstorm may be so strong at times as to prevent rain from falling and their sudden weakening at any point would permit a large accumulation of water to fall at one time. As the up-currents in many thunderstorms are due to excessive heating of the ground, their slackening and the consequent deluge of water would be especially likely to occur when the storm passes over the cooler surface of a mountain, and this would explain the special frequency of cloudbursts in mountainous regions."

THE ILLUSION ABOUT RED HAIR

According to the recent statements of some scientists, instead of being fighters red haired people are the victims of a congenital inferiority complex. Although such a statement may start lots of the red-headed population into fighting we are told to stop, look and listen whether or not these new scientific pronouncements can be proved or disproved. A lecturer to the British Social Hygiene Council at Cambridge assured his audience that the real truth of the matter is that red hair leads to an attitude of permanent self-defense.

All the same we notice the lecturer doesn't advise us to presume upon this inferiority complex, and personally we'd just about as soon monkey with a bad-tempered buzz-saw.
