Index Is $2 Year After May 1st

As announced a month ago, the index will be $2 per year in Lynn, Dawson and Borden Counties and $2.50 elsewhere in the nation. This was the rate during the war years when we purchased the paper. The fifty cent hike is only a drop in the bucket to the unreasonable cost of present day publishing. If the index's revenue continues to fall Big O may be without a paper at some future time. Such is the reason for the hike -- to try and keep in business. Inflation is like a wild, angry fire eating away at our economy. Farmers are spe- cially hit by increased costs and lower income. That's the fix of your home town newspaper.

Mrs. Paul Gooch spent the Easter period with relatives in San Angelo Mr and Mrs. D. E. Sumrow and Mr and Mrs. Neal Duke of Lubbock and Miss Barbara Harris were in Irving over week end for wedding of Don Sumrow and Sammie Joyce Hill.

HEALTH RETIREMENT IN S. S. POSSIBLE AFTER AGE 50

Social Security benefit payments to qualified disabled workers, age 50 or over, will begin in August 1937 for July.

This marks another important milestone in the progress of the Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance program, according to John G. Hutton, District Manager of Social Security at Lubbock. Originally designed to provide protection against loss of income due to the twin risks of retirement or death, Social Security will now provide protection against loss of income against the risk of total and permanent disability.

The disability payments will be made to persons who are unable to work because of a severe disability which has existed for at least six months and is expected to continue indefinitely. The applicant must have worked at least five years out of the ten years before the disability began and 1-2 years out of the 3 years before that date.

Mexican Dentist Sinks Teeth in New Poultry Development

MONTERREY, MEXICO—There's a revolution going on in Mexico and strange as it may seem, it's in poultry and not politics. Yes, Mexican poultry raising is taking on a new look largely through the efforts of one man—a practicing dentist in Monterrey.

Dr. Gonzalo Gonzalez started caged poultry production as a hobby several years ago, and now, his new venture has expanded into a mammoth business of its own. In cage operations, each hen is kept in her own cage and remains there only as long as she pays a profit. When a layer's egg production drops below 50%, she is removed and sold for meat. Since starting his poultry program, Dr. Gonzalez has supervised the purchase and management of over 150,000 DeKalb Chix. The Doctor hopes to triple this number in the next three years. Shown above are several typical cage buildings of the latest type near Monterrey which house up to 15,000 birds.

Broiler Production

GEORGETOWN, N.C.—A broiler in the broiler business has been near this Ohio town a new farm product that can be produced profitably—eggs for hatchery purposes.

A good example of a farmer who has gone into this business in a big way is Wayne Bach, R. P. D. 2.

Since most of his eggs go for the broiler trade, Mr. Bach raises New Hampshire Reds, a fast maturing, meat type bird, preferred by many broiler raisers and the market.

His breeding flock consists of 1,000 hens and one rooster for each 10 or 12 birds. His egg production runs about 50 to 55 per cent now and is increasing.

As many farmers have done, Mr. Bach converted a barn into a laying house. The former dairy barn measures 36 by 60 feet and 550 birds are housed on the mow floor and another 450 on a floor constructed above the mow floor.

A chain conveyor system carries feed from a hopper on the first floor to feeding troughs on the upper floors. It's a great labor saving device, but Mr. Bach still has to carry feed sacks about 12 feet from his truck bed to near the hopper.

A motor on the conveyor system automatically starts every hour and a half and runs for 15 minutes. That's the length of time it takes to carry adequate feed to the laying flock.

Commuter Snags Train But Can't Hold It

EUREKA, Calif.—Loafers around the railroad station here tell this for the truth. Seems the station agent heard a loud crash on the platform. He ran out and saw the rear end of a train, disappearing around a curve. A disheveled gent lay prone on the ground, surrounded by the contents of his banged-up suitcases.

An owlish youngster stared at the gent, but made no effort to assist him. "Was he trying to catch the train?" the station agent asked the youngster.

"He did catch it," replied the youngster, "but it got away."

the river that flows on wheels

More petroleum moves over Santa Fe than over any other railroad in the country

The 2,384,000,000 gallons of petroleum that Santa Fe moves every year is the river that flows on wheels.

It's so large that it makes Santa Fe the No. 1 petroleum railroad in the country.

This flood tide of oil gives heat and power to farms, factories, military installations and homes all over the nation.

The tremendous demand for petroleum, in all its forms, poses special problems for Santa Fe. For it requires speed and service to keep that river flowing full force. Here are a few of the ways we get the job done:

We move empty tankers just as fast as full ones, so no vehicle will stand idle.

As new oil fields are opened up, we stand ready to serve them. And when new developments take place within the industry, we adapt ourselves to take care of them.

As an example, take liquefied petroleum gas. The demand for it has skyrocketed in the last 10 years, because with this "bottled gas" rural families can cook and heat with gas just like city people. And the railroads have made it possible for them to get it.

Santa Fe runs special LPG trains when the demand for this product requires it. In a year, these trains carry enough LPG to heat over 500,000 homes from November through April.

This is just a part of the story of the dependable transportation service Santa Fe is providing to essential industries that contribute so much to the welfare of our country.

A new age of automobiles begins with this car

Touch a button—in less than a minute the steel top disappears magically into the trunk—and you're in a supremely elegant convertible. It's two cars in one!

Here Today! The FORD SKYLINER—world's only Hide-Away hardtop

Once in a long, long while a car comes along that people remember and talk about for years after its introduction.

The first model "A" Ford was such a car...
The first Ford V-8 was such a car...
The first Ford Thunderbird was such a car.

Today Ford Division is proud to announce still another car that many say is destined to become the most famous Ford of all: The Skyliner—world's only hide-away hardtop.

If you plan to buy a new Ford, or already own one, the fact that Ford created this car is important to you. For all the exhaustive research, planning and testing that went into the Skyliner is evidence of the engineering skill you get in every Ford model.

The Ford SKYLINER, the only all-steel hide-away hardtop, is a car for history.

This is an old dream of Detroit, a dream of two generations of motorists.

And today Ford has made that dream come true—in steel.

But the story behind this dream is a story of men who refused to accept "no" for an answer. In the Ford tradition they kept striving toward the goal long after others had given up the chase.

To understand this Ford spirit you must go back to 1908. That was the year when many Detroiters smiled smugly as Henry Ford announced, "We will build a motor car for the great multitude... so low in price that no man making a good salary will be unable to own one." And they did.

Today, nearly a half century later, Ford continues to cause the "experts" to change their tune. When you see this all-steel hardtop that retracts into a convertible, you'll be seeing a car that many said would never be mass-produced.

But Ford did it.

It was December 1956—after eight years of research, planning, experimenting and testing—when Ford unveiled this masterpiece... unveiled it amid all the pomp and splendor of the New York Automobile Show.

And now this history-making car, this prototype of a whole future generation of cars, is ready for your own personal inspection in the showrooms of many Ford Dealers.

Plan to see it soon. And ask your Dealer to show you the exciting advances in all models of the new Ford line for '57.

It's the newest new kind of Ford

1. It's an all-steel hardtop with sleek Victoria styling... 2. Touch a button and presto! It's a sun-loving convertible!
