TONY OLVERA KILLED IN GUN MISHAP

A 16 year old Latin American youth, Tony Olvera, died Sunday morning after being shot under the eye in an accidental shooting near Mesquite in Borden county. The body was brought to Rumbo clinic here at about 10 a. m. A Mexican national on the farm was shot in a 22 pistol and thinking the gun empty, fired at the youth.
Investigation is still in progress.
Funeral services were at 5 p. m. Monday in the Catholic church here with burial in the local cemetery under direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home. The youths parents are Mr and Mrs. Tlodoro (Charley) Olvera who work on the Edwards farm.

New laws are badly needed to govern sale of pistols to Mexican Nationals. Most of these men are unfamiliar with firearms and their possession of such arms is a danger to all.
Troop 104 of Girl Scouts met last Tuesday at Legion hall with the president, Jane Thompson calling the meeting to order. Secretary Joanne Bolch read the minutes. Plans were made to make a Girl Scout cook book. A game was played which would help to earn a badge. Refreshments were served and the group made their Friendship Circle. It sure would help if you would make a donation to our Girl Scout Fund — Reporter, Katie Garrett.

Johnson grass or sorghum after a frost is sometimes extremely high in prussic acid content and is very dangerous to livestock. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a short time after the damaged plant is eaten. Frost damaged Johnson grass or sorghum should not be grazed until after it is completely dry. Turkeys, pork and cranberries head the list of plentiful foods for November. Other plentiful foods in Texas are broilers and fryers, lard, apples, potatoes, sweet potatoes, onions, almonds, filberts, rice, lamb and dried beans.

Brown patch disease can be controlled in lawns if proper practices are used. For details on controlling the disease visit your county agent. Turkey prices for 1959 are not expected to improve materially over those of last year.

S. S. News

"Make sure that your employer reports your cash wages correctly." This was the advice given to domestic workers by Jern G. Hutton, Manager of the Lubbock Social Security District Office. Mr. Hutton pointed out that social security reports on household workers are due in October for the three month calendar quarter which ended September 30th. "The amount of your social security benefits is based on your yearly earnings as credited to your social security account," he added. "The amount of your future benefits depend on correct reporting." Because it is so important that wages be properly reported, you should discuss the matter with your employer to determine if there is any misunderstanding about the coverage of your wages under the Social Security Act. The test on such work is very simple. If you are paid as much as $50.00 in cash wages in a three month calendar quarter, the work must be reported by your employer. He should deduct 2&1-2 percent of his own, making a total of 5 percent which will be paid at the time he files the tax return. This return is due in the office of the District Director of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas, by October 31st.

The necessary tax forms for reporting domestic workers are mailed out each calendar quarter by the District Director of Internal Revenue. Information on all Federal tax matters can be obtained from the local Internal Revenue office. Domestic workers who are not being reported for social security purposes by their employers are encouraged to contact their nearest social security office. The necessary investigation will be made to determine if their wages should be reported. The social security office representative will be in O'Donnell on Wed., Oct. 28, 1959 at 2:00 p. m. at the Elementary School and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to Social security.

No. 1 Killer

During a recent conference devoted to orientation and experience for people in the field of heart disease, some interesting facts were discussed. The Division of Cancer and Heart Diseases of the Texas State Department of Health revealed figures on the prevalence of the nation's number one killer.
In 1958 there were 25,042 deaths from heart disease in Texas. Adding the 11,158 fatalities from vascular lesions (primarily strokes) equals a total of 36,200 deaths attributed to cardiovascular disease. Last year there were 73,443 deaths in Texas from all causes. This means that 49 percent of all persons who died did so as a direct result of some cardiovascular condition.
To further dramatize the effect of this condition, subtract from the total deaths the number killed by accidents (5,214). This leaves us with the cold fact that 52 percent (well over half) of the persons who died from natural causes did so from cardiovascular disease.
Accurate information concerning the occurrence of the different types of heart disease in the population is not readily available. It varies in different parts of the world and even in different parts of the United States and in different peoples or ethnic groups. However, Dr. Paul Dudley White's estimate is perhaps as good as any. (He was one of the specialists attending President Eisenhower.)
He found the occurrence of the different types of heart disease in 3, 0 0 0 organic cases to be as follows:
Coronary heart disease accounted for 48 percent, hypertensive heart disease (high blood pressure) claimed 26 percent, rheumatic heart disease took 23 percent, congenital heart disease made up six percent, and all the other types caused seven percent of the deaths from cardiovascular disease.

James Stewart Memorializes Hanged 200 Years Ago

EDINBURGH — Stewart clansmen met recently at the site near Ballaehulish, Argyll, where James Stewart was hanged 200 years ago for taking part in the murder of Colin Campbell to protest the innocence of Stewart and to commemorate the bravery with which he met the hangman. An oration was made and the Very Rev. Duncan McInnes, dean of Argyll, held a memorial service.

The Stewarts say that James Stewart was a victim of the most outrageous frameup in history. The murder remains the most celebrated crime case in Scotland.

Stewart was tried by a jury consisting of eleven Campbells and four others and the presiding judge was the chief of the Campbell clan, the Duke of Argyll.

Robert Louis Stevenson immortalized the murder in "Kidnapped."

Noah's Ark Still Is Lost on Mt. Ararat

ISTANBUL—Not even a pair of animal tracks was found by a French expedition which battled its way to the top of Mt. Ararat looking for traces of Noah's Ark.

An American expedition led by Dr. Aaron Smith, a retired missionary from Greensboro, N. C., tried fruitlessly to find Noah's fabulous boat in 1949.

Turkey's big Soviet neighbor charged that neither group really was looking for the Ark, but wanted to peer down at the defenses on the other side of the mountain.

International Kids' Village Peace Inspired

TROGEN, Switzerland—In the Swiss canton of Appenzel, overlooking the Boden See (Lake of Constance) and the German shore across the lake, is a new kind of village, an experiment in bettering international relations through the minds of children.

The International Pestalozzi Children's Village, on the outskirts of the modest village of Trogen, is the temporary home of some 200 children of varying European nationalities. All of them were in need of help when they arrived, and many were war orphans.

The village is the outgrowth of the idealism and compassion of Walter Corti, an Italian-speaking Swiss, who not only deplored the ravages of war upon children in belligerent nations, but who did something about it.

Popular Subscription
Corti first suggested a children's village in neutral Switzerland in 1944, while the war was still raging. The suggestion was received with enthusiasm by the Swiss.

Thus French children live in French homes, English children in English, and so on. They live much as they would in normal homes in their own countries, speaking their mother tongues and studying the subjects they would in their native schools, with teachers of their own nationality.

Joint Activities
There is a difference, however. In some classes the entire group works together. Recreation and community duties are international. Italian, Greek, German and English children may be playing soccer together while French children teach Finns the French words to a German tune.

Mutual suspicion and distrust were problems when the school first opened. In the immediate postwar days Polish children refused to play with Germans and the Finns had a tendency to keep to themselves.

Tennessee Bear Ruins Revenuers' Evidence

NASHVILLE—In the Tennessee hills there lives a bear which seems to know bad whisky when he tastes it. While Alcohol Tax Unit agents were waiting to trap the owner of a still they had just found, the bear lumbered out of the forest and decided to sample the product. He rolled it around his tongue and then smashed the still to pieces.

Free Speech Issue In Court Proceeding

LINCOLN, Ill.—Free speech was the issue here in a contempt of court case in which nearly 600 persons faced possible fines and jail sentences.

The defendants, many of them members of a reform group known as the "Good Government Council of Logan County," were cited for contempt for petitioning Circuit Judge Frank M. Bevan to replace a state's attorney in a case involving the prosecutor's friend.

Judge Bevan said the petition contained "odious, defamatory language concerning an official of this court," State's Attorney Edwin C. Mills.

Members of the Good Government Council contended Judge Bevan could not hold them in contempt and said if the prosecutor felt he was defamed by the petition he could sue them in a civil court.

The case arose when, as a result of action taken by the Good Government Council, Justice of the Peace Vincent Jones was charged with illegal diversion of funds collected in overweight trucking fines. Mr. Jones was charged with perjury, embezzlement and malfeasance.

The council followed up the case with a petition asking that Mr. Jones, be replaced by a special or assistant prosecutor.

Most Drinking Starts Before College Days

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Four out of every five college men who drink began their drinking before entering college, a researcher at Yale University's laboratory of applied physiology reported recently.

Robert Straus, research associate, disclosed for the first time preliminary results of a five-year study into the drinking habits of American college youth. This study was made by Mr. Straus and Selden D. Bacon, director of Yale's center of alcohol studies.

Of the American women students who drink, 65 per cent also started drinking before entering college, Mr. Straus said.

"The probability that a young person will drink at all," he continued, "is closely related to the practices of his or her parents."

"Of the men whose parents both drink, 90 per cent are themselves users. However, only half of the men (51 per cent) whose parents both abstain, drink. "Where both parents are users, 83 per cent of the women drink on occasion. However, when both parents abstain, only 19 per cent of the women students drink."

He declared that parental advice on abstinence seems to be much stronger than advice from either church leaders or teachers.

Family income is a large factor "closely associated with the probability that one will use alcohol. Among those whose family income is under $2,500, two thirds of the men and only 30 per cent of the women students drink.

S. S. News

"Make sure that your employer reports your cash wages correctly," was the advice given to domestic workers by Jora G. Hutton, Manager of the Lubbock Social Security District Office. Mr. Hutton pointed out that social security reports on household workers are due in October for the three month calendar quarter which ended September 30th. "The amount of your social security benefits is based on your yearly earnings as credited to your social security account," he added. "The amount of your future benefits depend on correct reporting."

Because it is so important that wages be properly reported, you should discuss the matter with your employer to determine if there is any misunderstanding about the coverage of your wages under the Social Security Act. The test on such work is very simple. If you are paid as much as $50.00 in cash wages in a three month calendar quarter, the work must be reported by your employer. He should deduct 2 1/2 percent of his own wages making a total of 5 percent which will be paid at the time he files the tax return. This return is due in the office of the District Director of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas, by October 31st.

The necessary tax forms for reporting domestic workers are mailed out each calendar quarter by the District Director of Internal Revenue. Information on all Federal tax matters can be obtained from the local Internal Revenue office.

Domestic workers who are not being reported for social security purposes by their employers are encouraged to contact their nearest social security office. The necessary investigation will be made to determine if their wages should be reported. The social security office representative will be in O'Donnell on Wed., Oct. 28, 1959 at 2:00 p. m. at the Elementary School and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to Social security.
