Dedication Set New Catholic Church Here

The new St. Pius X Church here will be blessed by Bishop John Morkovsky of Amarillo Sunday, June 21, at 5:30 p. m.

Following the blessing a Solemn Mass will be celebrated. Father Louis Moeller, who is in charge of the mission, will be celebrant of the Mass. He will be assisted by Father Thomas Drury of Lubbock as deacon, and Father Thomas J. Kennedy, O. M. I., of Midland, as sub-deacon. Bishop Morkovsky will deliver the sermon. Father James Erickson of Slaton will furnish the choir and music for the Mass.

The new church in O'Donnell is the first church in the Amarillo Diocese dedicated to St. Pius X. It is a mission of St. Margaret Mary's Church in Lamesa. Plans for the church were first discussed when Father James Comiskey was pastor for this purpose. In the year 1958 $2,000 more was collected through "Jamaicas", personal contributions, and the proceeds from cotton planted on the two and one-half acre plot donated as a church site by the Saleh family. The sum of $5,000 was matched by the Extension Society of Chicago. Ground was broken on Oct. 12, 1958, by Bishop John Morkovsky.

The church is of concrete block construction with a composition roof and a belfry. A bell was donated by the Santa Fe Railroad. The church was built at a cost of approximately $25,000.

Following is a part of an article in an insurance magazine — The election of Floyd E. Sumrow as a vice president of Equitable Savings Association of Ft. Worth, was announced by C. H. Fleming, president. He formerly was vice president and treasurer of the 1st Federal Savings and Loan Association of Lubbock for nine years. He is married and has two sons, 5 and 7. (ed. note — his parents are Mr and Mrs. Elmer Sumrow of here and clipping was sent index by Mrs. Schuessler of Ft. Worth)

Watch out for the small fry around the farm this summer advises the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. They call particular attention to the needless injuries and deaths which are caused from tractor accidents. Don't, they caution, permit extra riders on the farm tractor, especially a child.

Rising temperatures call for lighter meals and more liquids. For that cold refreshing summer drink, A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman, says make it milk. June is Dairy Month and a good time to step up the use of dairy foods.

Folks Co-operate With Uncle Sam

The International Revenue Service is trying mighty hard to make the American system of voluntary compliance better. They are trying to help more people know when and where to volunteer insofar as their taxes are concerned. The tax men are also seriously concerned about people who pay tax they don't owe. One of the best parts of the Tax Education Program is the high school income tax course. Any teacher can take the materials furnished by Internal Revenue and in a few class sessions have the students preparing correct tax returns. At least the returns prepared by these students have only 25 per-cent of the errors found in adults returns. Internal Revenue is also dead serious about teaching a few new tricks to us old timers. Their advice is simple — read the tax instructions. Keep good records throughout the year, and see what the tax will be before, not after the sale.

MISSIONARY FILLS PULPIT AT CHURCH OF CHRIST HERE

Minister Bill Decker of the Bible Department of Abilene Christian College, has spoken at worship services at the Church of Christ for the past two Sundays in the absence of the regular minister, Mr. Cain. Mr. Decker has only recently returned from Japan where for two years he was an exchange teacher in Ibaraki Christian college in addition to doing missionary work.

Rodeo Plays To Record Crowds Here

Best Show In History

A capacity crowd rung down the curtain on the highly successful 15 th annual rodeo here Saturday nite in the third and final performance of the show. The riding events were especially thrilling and the stock was unusually salty and wild. Big crowds attended all three nites with the largest crowds on Thursday and Saturday nites. The three day parade was splendid and lived up to the tradition of the community. Mrs. Hollis Swinney and Mrs. Glen Brewer did a fine job in directing and advance planning of the parade.

Winners in the parade competition announced Saturday nite were — The Lions Club took the top prize in the civic club float division with the 1946 Study Club, Fire Department and Cub Scouts finishing in that order. The commercial division was won by Hale Variety, followed by Line Gro. and Claude's Foot shop.

The Scurry Co. Sheriff Posse took first among the riding clubs, followed by the Dawson Co. Sheriff Posse and the Dawson County Polo Club. Disneyland characters awards for children went to Jimmy Gay Gardenhire, James Williams and Margaret Abernathy in that order.

Rodeo winners were Ed Workman of Lubbock in bareback bronc riding, Bill James of Gail in calf roping, Pete Timmons in ribbon roping, David Milner in bull riding, Jan Lott in junior barrel race and Kathy Brakebill in the senior race. The goat sacking event, new for this year, was highly enjoyable.

Connie Pirtle is visiting her aunt Miss Wilma Pirtle in Post for a part of the summer.

Benna Askew Is Rodeo Queen

LIONS TAKE DOUBLE HEADER

The O'Donnell Lions Club, less than one year old here, did the near impossible by taking a grand slam in the 1959 rodeo. The club won the queen contest when Miss Benna Askew was named queen and also won first place in civic floats in the parade with a "flying saucer". Dale Cary is proxy of the club and members are showing a lot of get up and go power as indicated by their recent broom sale.

S. S. News

One provision of the 1958 amendments to the Social Security Act enables some newly married wives of men receiving social security benefits to qualify immediately for benefits on the husband's social security account.

In announcing this change in the law, John G. Hutton of the Lubbock Social Security office pointed out that before the 1958 amendments to the law, a new wife had to wait three years before she could receive benefits as the wife of a man getting social security retirement benefits. Under the old law this three year waiting period was waived only if the couple became the parents of a child. Now, if the wife was eligible for widow's, parent's or childhood disability benefits for the month before her marriage, she can qualify for wife's benefits immediately, providing she meets the other requirements for entitlement.

These other requirements include (1) being age 62 or more or (2) having in her care a child entitled to social security benefits and (3) not being entitled to a higher benefit on her own social security record.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security office will be in O'Donnell June 24 at 2 p. m. at the grade school and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to Social Security.

Hay Fever Time

It's sad but of-so-true: the hay fever season lasts all year in Texas. The reason: the wide range of climate and soil conditions which produce an assortment of offending flora — trees, shrubs and grasses. This might be some consolation, though: the state is running generally behind schedule in the rain department. And during dry weather pollen production goes into a slump. Ragweed pollen is still the biggest enemy of the watry-eyed set, but mountain cedar, scrub elm, and a variety of other plants and grasses also cause their share of sneezing misery.

From mid-winter until early spring, people from Dallas southward are affected by the pollen of cedar, a profusely growing tree with a bad habit of pollinating like it was going to be banned tomorrow.

Fall hay fever sufferers probably have the scrub elm to blame for their troubles. A late-summer pollinator, the elm is common over most of the state, but it is particularly prouise in the bottomlands of the Guadalupe and Trinity Rivers. The mesquite causes minor allergic trouble in West Texas during May, June and July. Cottonwoods and poplars are pesky sources of red eyes a n congested noses wherever they are found.

Grass hay fever is possible through spring, summer and fall over most of Texas, and in the winter in the Rio Grande Valley. Bermuda grass is the chief offender. Rhodes grass is a potential hay fever factor in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

No rest for this Chevy... round the clock the engine never stops!

At Washington's bustling National Airport, Allied Aviation Fueling counts on its radio-equipped Chevy to get crews and tank trucks to the right planes at just the right time. Aside from occasional time out for the usual service, its Thrift-master 6-cylinder engine has been running 24 hours a day for the past 9 months!

Once you've got that kind of endurance working you don't worry much about lost job time. Breakdowns go out of style the day your Chevy goes into action.

The fact is, Chevrolet trucks are dead set on dropping the word "downtime" right out of the English language. And they just might, if precision engineering and top-quality materials have anything to say about it. Chevy trucks are put together to stay together — incorporating the most advanced chassis developments, the most efficient 6-cylinder and V8 engine designs. They're built to last, built to keep Chevrolet's hard-earned reputation for reliability flying high.

Going into the real heart of Chevrolet advantages is where your dealer comes in. He'll show you, in feature after feature, that you can't buy more truck dependability — in any weight class — at any price.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

Power Mower May Be A Real Danger

The discarded nail was hidden in tall grass. The mower blade hit it and suddenly it was buried an inch deep alongside the shinbone of the 23-year-old Williamson County secretary.

Accidents of this type will be on the increase now — this is lawn-mowing time, you know — until fall weather brings a welcome respite from the weekly chore.

The State Department of Health does not keep statistics on non-fatal accidents, so the extent of injuries from carelessly handled power mowers is unknown. But a random check of private physicians and an emergency hospital confirms the fact that the number is considerable.

Like the man who stopped his car at the curb, intending to say hello to his perspiring neighbor busily mowing the grass, Neighbor wheels up with mower to return the greeting. Man in car — elbow resting on window — finds his forearm pinned to bicep with a five inch piece of wire flung at him by the whirling blade.

Power equipment is a tremendous boon to the man who likes to keep his yard neat with a minimum of effort. But it takes constant concentration to do the job safely. Even experience is no substitute for concentration.

A garden club member in a major Texas city used to pride himself on his safe and sane use of power tools that helped him maintain the sharpest yard in the block.

But no more. One afternoon recently, while trimming his driveway with a power trimmer, he reached down to lift a bloom-laden branch of a rose bush out of the way.

When he withdrew his hand two fingers were missing. "I wasn't alert," he wryly explained.

Weeds often reduce pasture yields by 50 percent. They compete with the desirable plants for plant nutrients, moisture and light. They lower hay quality, harbor insects and diseases and increase labor and equipment costs. Therefore, says
E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, weed control, either mechanical or chemical, is essential for best returns from productive pastures and meadows.

Credit is not a substitute for income and Extension Economist A.
B. Wooten says that credit should be used to buy consumer goods only when some income is reasonably certain. He adds that credit can help many farm families attain a desirable level of living, but misuse, often results in much unhappiness.
