

German Student Due In Big O Soon

Above is Bernd Blank, 20, of Kassel, West Germany. He is an exchange student sponsored by the O'Donnell Rotary Club. He will arrive here about July 15th for a two-month residence here. He will live in the homes of members of the Rotary Club.

Mr. Blank is a pro-law student. He is a high school graduate and has had two years of college in Germany. He speaks enough English to carry on conversation.

In Bernd's application to be an exchange student his letter states: "I feel that my education, experience and general background may enable me first of all to learn what the American Way of Life is. How democracy works in its mother country, how the American people live, work and play and what their problems are. On the other hand I feel that I might be able to help the American people understand what problems my country faces."

This is the first year for the local Rotary Club to be in the project.

Note—Next week the Index will run Mr. Blank's autobiography, which is very interesting.

HEAD SMUT THREAT TO GRAIN SORGHUM

College Station — Head smut disease of grain sorghum occurs in all areas of Texas. Losses are likely to range from 0 to 50 percent in the Coastal Bend area of Texas. The disease, in recent years, has been building up in other areas and losses of 5 to 10 percent are not uncommon. The value of badly infected land is lowered.

Close examination of the stalk near harvest is necessary to determine disease loss. With many infected varieties and hybrids the head is sterile. In such cases, the blackish, powdery smut is found by pushing the leaves aside and checking lower on the stalk. On other varieties and hybrids the main head will be smuted and destroyed.

In harvesting a badly infested field, smut comes from a combine in a black cloud. When the smut gall first appears, it is covered by a whitish membrane. The membrane soon breaks and allows the black dust (spores) to be scattered by the wind and rain. The fungus disperses overwinters as spores in old plant trash or in the soil. The following spring and summer the spores germinate and produce smaller spores of another type, which in turn, infect the sorghum plants thru the roots.

Attends Work Shop

Mrs. Ben Young, supervisor of the lunchroom here, attended the annual workshop of lunchroom workers at Texas Tech last week.

There were more than 400 workers there from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arizona; the largest workshop of this kind ever held.

Classes were held in air conditioned buildings for the first time. Dean Tinsley, dean of women at Texas Tech, said it was the first time she ever remembered seeing women pull down the windows because they were too cold. Dean Tinsley was an inspiration to all who heard her speak. The food served was very good. All workers who did not attend just don't know what they missed. Mrs. Young was the only local worker attending and hopes that what she learned will help her prepare better meals for you child next year.

It is a good thing we can't read each other's thoughts, else man a man would come home with a black eye each evening.

CANCER AND HEART DISEASE ARE KILLERS OF OLDER FOLK

Cancer and heart diseases set a grim new record last year, accounting for almost half the 73,754 total deaths in Texas during 1959.

Final tabulations of State Department of Health death statistics shows 24,629 deaths from heart diseases and 11,036 from cancer. The cancer death rate in Texas is still well below the rate for the United States as a whole. Texas registered 117 deaths from the disease for each 100,000 population compared to the national population death rate of 150 per each 100,000 population. Texas has a younger population which probably accounts for the disparity between the Texas and national cancer rates. Cancer strikes most frequently at people past 45 years of age. Of the 11,000 cancer deaths last year, 9,783 were past 45. Heart diseases are demonstrating a significant increase. Three years ago there were 22,833 deaths from heart diseases—a rise of 1,741 for 1959 over the number registered for 1956. As life expectancy increases, more and more people are going to fall victim to heart diseases and cancer by living into the ages when they are more vulnerable to the ravages of the twin monsoons.

General Rain Is Badly Needed

Hot dry weather is hitting a hard lick at young cotton and much lack of moisture. Unseasonably hot weather is reported to be killing young cotton planted within the month. Older cotton is doing better having rooted down to sub-soil moisture. Older grain is also doing better.

Cotton choppers are moving in but there is not too much chopping to date except on early cotton and irrigated land. A rain is needed badly for a normal crop and time is running out to keep the younger plants alive.

JERRY UTECHT PITCHES NO HITTER

The O'Donnell Dodgers won their 7th game of the season last Friday night winning over the New Home Eagles 5 to 0 behind the no hit pitching of Jerry Utecht.

Jerry allowed no hits, only two walks and the Dodgers made only one error. He only pitched to 24 batters in posting the first no hit game of the season. This leaves the Dodgers with a record of 7 wins and 1 loss. The Dodgers play a near professional quality of ball and it is a treat to watch them. Jerry is a most promising all around ball player. The game before Fen Taylor thrilled the crowd with a beautiful home run.

Know Your Law

Monday morning quarterbacks always have brilliant hindsight. How well they can see the coaches' mistakes last week.

So, with a lawsuit: After the jury brings in its verdict, people can tell how your lawyer should have tried your case.

But, as with sports, it's hard to look forward into the swirl of moves and counter moves to see how a given move would make out in a trial.

What's worse, unless your lawyer objects and makes the proper motion, he may lose the right later to have the court strike a piece of damaging evidence from the record.

Fully to protect you, your lawyer must so fight your case that he could take it, if need be, "on the record" to a higher court by objecting then and there. That's why a lawyer may seem always to be objecting. He has to.

If he had not, for example, moved to "quash the indictment," or objected to certain evidence, the higher court might reject his appeal where your life, liberty, or property may be at stake.

By court rules, your lawyer must always keep in mind the thoughtfulness of the appellate benches. For they may some day sit down calmly to review what he did or did not do in the excitement of a trial.

Mrs. Matt Farmer and Shorty visited at Weatherford last week and returned with two of her grandchildren.

Ben Carpenter's daughter and husband and two sons from North Carolina spent week end here.

Women Outlive Men

Women apparently withstand the effects of being overweight better than men do, recently released results of a study by the Society of Actuaries show.

The study included the experience of women aged 15-69 years accepted for ordinary insurance in the period 1935-53 and traced to the anniversary of their policies in 1954.

In the broad age range 15-69 years, the mortality for women 10 percent or more overweight was 18 percent in excess of that for standard female risks. For women 20 percent or more overweight, the excess was 25 percent.

The excess mortality rose steadily with increase in degree of overweight—from nine percent for women 10 percent overweight, to 30 percent for those 30 percent overweight. Excess deaths were 20 percent for women 21 years of age.

The findings are probably lower than actual for the entire population because insurance companies only take persons who pass strict physical examinations and this study was based on those women.

For any degree of overweight, the excess mortality among women is less than among men.

Forexample, for women who at issue ages 15-39 years were 20 percent overweight, the mortality was 15 percent above that for all standard female risks. The comparable group of men had a mortality 24 percent higher than that for all standard male risks.

A major reason for this difference is that normal variation in weight is relatively greater for women than for men.

WANTED BY THE FBI

JOSEPH CORBETT, JR.

Corbett, one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives," is wanted for escape from the California Institution for Men, Chino, Calif., where he was serving a 5 years' life sentence for murdering an Air Force sergeant. A Federal warrant was issued at Los Angeles, Calif., on March 21, 1960, charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid confinement for murder.

A white American, born on October 25, 1928, at Seattle, Wash., Corbett is 6 feet 1 inch to 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 160 to 170 pounds. He has light brown hair, hazel eyes, a fair complexion, a medium build, and has worked as a clerk-typist, laborer, warehouseman, laboratory technician, and alkyl-resin cooker for a paint manufacturer. His two upper front teeth slant inward and he wears glasses, reportedly being extremely nearsighted and capable of seeing only close objects without them. He has a mole under his chin and a C-shaped scar on his right thumb.

Corbett, once a premedical student, is interested in scientific matters, avidly reads technical and travel books, and is intensely interested in firearms and target practice. He reportedly has a superior general intelligence and generally lives quietly and neatly but becomes erratic when drinking alcoholic beverages.

Convicted of second-degree murder, he is considered armed and dangerous. Anyone having information concerning him should immediately notify the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which can be found on the first page of local telephone directories. WFO 601200-W

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

New Anesthetic

Scientists have long been searching for an ideal anesthetic—one that is safe, effective and free of unpleasant side effects for the patient. Without anesthetics, modern medicine could not attempt life-saving surgery. A new anesthetic, tested by doctors at the University of California Medical School Hospital, recently has been developed along the lines of the much sought "ideal" agent.

This anesthetic, Viadril, when injected intravenously and combined with inhaled nitrous oxide, provided effective and safe anesthesia for 130 patients of Dr. Frank J. Murphy and his associates.

Viadril is a steroid—like such compounds as cortisone—but it does not exhibit any hormone-like effects when injected in humans.

The new anesthetic was developed and synthesized at the pharmaceutical laboratories of Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., after a screening program which tested more than 100 new steroid compounds.

First hint of the anesthetic-like qualities of the steroids came more than 20 years ago when Dr. Hans Selye, famed Canadian physiologist, reported that steroids exhibit a sedative effect in laboratory mice.

Other scientists, in the first decades of this century, developed the local, spinal and intravenous anesthetics in use today. Ether and laughing gas came into general use less than 100 years ago, but were great advances over the earlier anesthetics such as marijuana, henbane, mandrake root and cocaine.

Scientists believe Viadril will supply the surgeon another useful tool, and may well open a whole new area in the field of anesthesiology.

This is the time of year when all those who are alive should go out into the great outdoors.

There are too many do-gooders and organizers and not enough quiet humanitarians among us.

One should be careful in offering advice on buying stocks—some one might be foolish enough to take it.

Some of today's TV commercials are only out splendorized by the lousy plot and acting in the show.

Many a person eats away his insides being envious of others and thereby destroys his own personality.

Every now and then a politician retires from office, while not under pressure or investigation of any kind and that is rare.

It is a good thing we can't read each other's thoughts, else many a man would come home with a black eye each evening.

Looking busy has become one of the great talents in government work.

There is always a better paying job somewhere but perhaps not a better job.

You can usually judge a person by his or her friends just like the saying goes.

A person can get down to earth in the country, on a farm, if he knows how to think.

Proof that lovers are not bothered with thinking is the current crop of popular songs.

There is one sure way not to go in debt—spend less than you earn even if only a penny less.

Churches are built for thinking human beings—if you are one of them, the bell tolls for you.

The present generation is often foolish, but it nevertheless ranks a notch higher than the preceding one.

Check the price stickers and you'll see the new Ford

FALCON

Don't relax your efforts in the production of high quality milk. That's the advice to dairymen from A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman, who adds that seasonal jobs may take more attention now but herd management and production of top quality milk must always be prime considerations.

Hot weather is also horn fly weather. These insects, says C. F. Garner, extension entomologist, will be one of the chief pests of livestock from now until fall. They can be controlled and Garner recommends that producers check with their local county agent for the best practices and control measures.

The editor has to put his thoughts in black and white, and that tends to make an intelligent person think twice before he says things carelessly.

Few friendships avoid at least one acid test.

Not taking yourself seriously is usually a sign of brains. Looking busy has become one of the great talents in government work.
