Procedure for Enforcement of Premarital Health Examination Law

Effective October 5, 1949, every man and woman marrying in Texas must obtain a medical examination which includes a standard blood test from a physician before a marriage license can be issued. The marriage ceremony must be solemnized within fifteen days following the medical examination.

1. The applicant for a marriage license consults a duly qualified physician licensed to practice medicine and surgery for a medical examination and a blood test. The physician sends the specimen of blood to a laboratory approved by the Texas State Department of Health.

2. The laboratory makes a confidential report of the result of the test to the physician and to the Texas State Board of Health and transmits the certificate form to the physician.

3. The physician completes the certificate form and gives it to the applicant.

4. The applicant gives the completed certificate form to the county clerk who then issues a marriage license. Previous to the issuance of the license the county clerk shall certify upon the reverse side of the said license that all certificates of the court order required by this act have been received and filed. This statement of the county clerk shall show the dates of the examination of both parties unless same has been suspended by court order.

Hi School Hit By Fire Last Thursday

Auditorium Is Severely Damaged; Loss May Run To $50,000 - 75,000

An early morning fire last Thursday morning severely damaged the auditorium of the high school and adjoining class rooms. Only the library, the study hall and the gym addition escaped the flames.

Damage has been estimated as high as $80,000 but it is likely that final estimates may be less.

All school classes were suspended Thursday and Friday but resumed Monday. The fire started at about 6:30 in the morning from what is thought to have been a direct strike by lightning. A severe electrical storm was in progress at the time. J. L. Shoemaker, who lives across the street from the school, turned in the alarm.

When the Fire Department arrived at the scene, Chief F M Jones said, the auditorium was in flames. The blaze was spreading rapidly to the class rooms of the second floor adjoining the auditorium.

Equipment was sent from Tahoka and arrived after the fire was controlled. The local fire fighters did an excellent job and prevented the entire school plant from burning. They ran out their entire supply of 1,600 feet of hose connecting to two fire hydrants. The men fought the flames in a heavy rain. The High School, which was built in 1926 was renovated and remodeled this past summer. The building with its addition was valued at $225,000. Smoke and water damage was evident over most of the high school although flames were prevented from spreading to the entire plant.

The prizes are 25 new Fords including 5 Ford trucks; 25 $1,000 Savings Bonds, 100 $100 bonds, 200 $50 bonds, and 350 $25 bonds.

The contest has the support of the National Safety Council, the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee and other safety organizations.

In order to participate in the contest, Mr Forbes pointed out, motorists must bring their car or truck of any make to the dealership for a safety check at absolutely no cost or obligation to the motorist. Free checks will be made on the brakes, steering, headlights, rear and stop lights, tires, windshield wipers, muffler, glass, horn and rear view mirror.

The Forbes Motor Co. will place an attractive safety driver reflector insignia on the car or truck inspected and the motorist will be given an entry blank to participate in the contest. The motorist must then complete in no more than 50 additional words the following statement: "All cars and trucks should be safety checked periodically because"

SCHOOLS RE OPEN MONDAY

School reopened Monday morning and classes were resumed as per scheduled. A pioneer spirit was exhibited and near normal routine established. Jones, Pierce and others have been working long hours, since the fire, so that school could reopen Monday. Fortunately many of the rooms were not badly damaged by the fire. Classes are being held in all rooms excepting one or two upstairs.

All students and teachers met in the study hall during the first period and were instructed in changes. Then regular classes were resumed. In his address to the students, Supt. Johnson said, "Classes and school will carry on as though nothing has happened. I know that some of you will accidentally rub against fire damage items and dirty your clothes. It will be inconvenient and stuffy in some rooms but we must all show our pioneer spirit until the rooms are renovated. Each room will be fixed completely, one at a time and thus it will minimize the inconvenience and discomfort. Let us all continue with stout hearts filled with a determination to do our best. We will not be able to use any part of the auditorium but when necessary to meet in body, we will use the study hall. Since now you know a school building can burn, we must organize our fire drills in a more rigid and business like manner. Fire drills may save a life."

Supt. Johnson said later, "I deeply appreciate O'Donnell efficient and capable Fire Department. They are organized and well drilled. Each man knows his job and does it quickly. I certainly appreciated their alertness and efforts." "I also want to thank all that offered to help us during and after the fire. It shows their interest and it inspires me with determination to make O'Donnell schools the best."

The entire staff of teachers are well pleased about the school's return to routine and normalcy. They are anxious to do a good job this year.

Two Die Near Here In Car Crash Sunday

Mr. Putman of Draw Is Killed

Two men were killed in a car and truck crash at 8 p m Sunday 4 miles north of here on the Lubbock highway. A third man was hospitalized. Killed were W C Putman age 51 of Draw and John W Hunter age 29 of Lubbock Parker Hayden who was riding with Hunter in a truck belonging to Baldrige Bakery of Lubbock, was hospitalized at Lamesa. He was released Monday noon after treatment for head cuts. Hunter and Hayden were employees of the bakery, Lynn Co. Sheriff who investigated said that Putman, driving alone in a 1946 Plymouth sedan, had apparently pulled his car from a side road into the main highway and into the path of the truck.

Harden, who was driving the truck told Clem that the car had pulled in front of him suddenly leaving him no time to swerve the truck and avoid a collision. Stanley Funeral Home in Tahoka where bodies of both victims were taken said Putman had suffered fractures of the skull, both thighs and the right arm. Hunter's neck and right arm were broken.

Sheriff Clem said the truck was traveling south when the car heading east on a farm to market road, leading to Draw pulled in front of the truck.

Funeral services for Mr Putman were set for Wednesday as we go to press Tuesday noon at the Methodist church at 3 p m. with Rev Tom Allman of Hubbard to officiate. A complete list of survivors was not available and a more complete obituary will appear next week.

O'DONNELL PUSHES DIME BOX

THE RAINFALL RECORD

The law of average rainfall is being up for last years out here in the plains of West Texas. Last week exactly 3 inches of rain fell Tuesday and Friday and as we go into Tuesday it is raining with a vengeance first north blowing. Over half an inch fell as we go west. City unpaved streets are impassable. Drainage ditches to dikes formed by pav streets running north and south. Many argued at the time, drain should have gone hand in hand with paving; many property owners have been damaged more less less - to their feelings, anyway. Seventh street running from the station east a block is a mess; you don't believe it - take a look; better take a duck.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

British Ask Special Loan Favors; Senate Rejects Economy Measure; GI's Apply for War Risk Rebates

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

BRITISH LOAN: True to Form

Even before the talks got fully underway, the trend of the discussion concerning British-American finance deals was becoming familiarly clear.

THE PROBLEM was Britain's current financial crisis. The hope rested with U. S. procedure as it affects assistance. That the U. S. was thoroughly under the spell of British need and persuasion was shown in the statement that this government is hospitable to a proposal to relax terms of the British loan pact.

Under the current preliminary proposal, the U. S. would grant Britain permission to discriminate temporarily against American goods. Under the British loan pact, Britain got 3.75 billion dollars from the United States in return for a promise to treat American exports the same as those from British empire countries and Europe.

Now, the British want that requirement knocked out. Here's how the British plan would work:

BRITAIN could, for instance, refuse to license British buyers who want to buy American goods, but it could give "open licenses" to Britishers who, for example, wanted to import Italian goods. Since the Italian imports could be purchased with sterling, this would save Britain dollars.

Thus, with the monetary talks hardly underway, the British are asking a double burden of the American taxpayer—money from the taxpayer to solve Britain's economic problem while at the same time setting up what amounts to a boycott of American imports which will further cost the American taxpayer if he happens to be one of the businessmen affected by the ruling.

And, as the pattern seems to be, officials were reported favorable to the British proposal and — symptomatically, too—were planning to by-pass congress in implementing that approval.

WATCHMAKING: Pioneered in U. S.

Many Americans believe precision watchmaking is an exclusively Swiss craft. Hence the small but lusty U. S. jeweled watch industry delights in pointing out that basic production methods now used by the Swiss were developed here a century ago, and that this "American system" was adopted by the Swiss about 1875.

Two years ago American craftsmen proved they hadn't lost their ingenuity. An Elgin, Ill., watch manufacturer introduced a rust-proof, acid-proof "durapower" mainspring which was called the most revolutionary advance in watchmaking since introduction of jeweled bearings 200 years ago.

Now by way of improving on perfection, the same factory announces its technicians have learned how to squeeze every last ounce of power out of the wonder-alloy mainspring.

Their method was to eliminate the conventional annealed arbor end of the spring, which had always been dead, unproductive weight. By pre-forming the arbor end, possible only with the new alloy, they have put the entire length of the spring to work. The result: A longer run of the watch between windings, hence a boon to lazy and forgetful thumbs and forefingers!

DIVIDEND: Rebate for GI's

The federal government, in one of the most amazingly simple forms ever to come out of Washington, was receiving applications from World War II veterans for rebates on GI insurance premiums.

REJOICING over the windfall, surprised and delighted with the simple application form, veterans were flooding the mails with their application cards.

"It's like finding money on the street," one veteran declared.

The dividend payments from national life insurance surplus funds are to be made to persons who hold or have held these policies. The average payment is estimated at $175. To be eligible for a rebate, the veteran must have had his service life insurance in force at least 90 days. The dividend would not be issued on any service life insurance issued after December 31, 1947.

International Ring Floats Bogus Bills

The dead hand of Adolf Hitler reached out to assist one of the biggest international counterfeiting networks in history. Touched Off Probe

Cedric Worth, special assistant to Navy Undersecretary D. A. Kimball, is shown as he appeared before the house committee investigating the B-36 bomber program. It was Worth who touched off the probe. He admitted writing the document containing serious charges against Defense Secretary Johnson and former air force secretary Symington.

SPENDING: Slash Rejected

The United States senate stood firm in support of President Truman's estimate of the financial needs of the nation for the next fiscal year.

A move to force the President to slash federal spending to a level 5 to 10 per cent below his advance estimates was defeated. But the margin was only three votes.

The economy amendment, had it carried, would have required the President to hold spending for the current fiscal year some two billion to four billion dollars below the estimates he made last January.

FOES of the proposed economy asserted it amounted to passing the economy buck to the President. Supporters of the amendment answered that the President was in better position than anyone else to determine where to cut.

After the decision on this issue, the senate passed by a voice vote a 14.80 billion dollar appropriation bill to pay for national defense—the cost of the army, navy and air force. This was 500 million less, however, than President Truman had asked.

IN OPPOSING the economy rider, Sen. Scott Lucas, majority floor leader, said the amendment was a "political gesture," an attempt to tell the President to do what congress lacked the courage to do. He asked if economy supporters would "impeach him" if Mr. Truman failed to save as much as ordered.

On the contrary, contended Senator McClellan of Arkansas, "it is sound legislation necessary in the public welfare, and failure to balance the budget or hold the deficit to the minimum this amendment makes possible may well prove to be a stupid and dangerous blunder."

TELEVISION: Color Must Wait

For those who want color in television, there were four more years of waiting.

That was the expressed conviction of a television manufacturer, Benjamin Abrams. He said that while color television had been demonstrated successfully, "it still is in the laboratory stage and it will be years before it is available for the general public." He then estimated the waiting time as four years.

Abrams said that at the present stage of development of color television, he did not believe manufacturers could turn out adapters for less than $300 to $500. And he estimated a set built especially for color would cost $1,000.

He declared present sets would not become obsolete even with the advent of color. But he said widespread interest aroused by the FCC exploration of color television was causing some prospective customers to postpone buying sets.

Abrams took issue with charges that manufacturers are deliberately holding back color video. He declared it would be in the manufacturers' own interest to bring out color sets quickly if they could produce them at prices within range of the general public.

Summing up he said: "You can't push a button and have color television appear over night."

ONE AUTO CLUB LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN...

Some Drivers Act Late for Their Accidents

... AGAINST THE SAFE AND SANE DRIVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

ALL DONE BY DAWDLERS

WATCH OUT! You're apt to get hit by a careful automobile operator, but you can never tell what those drivers who are in no hurry may do next. Whammo! I knew it . . . another smashup due to one of those scourges of the highway, the cautious autoist!

The Automobile Club of New York, through William J. Gottlieb, its president, issues (with a straight or nearly so, face) a statement saying that dawdling drivers are a menace to safety, and urging that something be done about them. "While it is commonly believed that irresponsible, speeding, intoxicated or reckless drivers cause most accidents, many may be traced to those who drive cars too slowly," says the statement.

"When these slow drivers move out of the right-hand lane," says Mr. Gottlieb, "they create perils for faster drivers." (Ya don't say!) "This is utterly selfish and provocative of accidents," he adds. (How about some traps for slow drivers?)

However, "Anything to make the highways safer!" is our motto. So let's rush up the following caution signs at once:

DRIVE FASTER
for
SAKE!
KEEP YOUR FOOT ON THE GAS!
IT SAVES LIVES
DON'T DAWDLE!
ZONE

Or perhaps a few reading "SLOWPOKES CAUSE ACCIDENTS," "TAKING YOUR TIME FORBIDDEN," "ARE YOU DRIVING FOR PLEASURE? SHAME ON YOU!" and "DON'T RISK LIFE AND LIMB BY PROCEEDING WITH CAUTION."

Of course, it is just possible the auto club is looking for some publicity. Auto associations are like that. But it is dangerous stuff these dizzy days on the highways to belittle the slow driver and classify him with the drunk, the roadhog and the speed maniac.

The dawdlers are mighty few and you never hear of one running over a child, crushing a baby carriage on a crowded sidewalk or going through a drugstore window. And who are those rough, tough, inconsiderate schmoos who may be seen tearing down our crowded highways at homicidal speed in trailer trucks? Just dawdlers out for a pleasant dawdle, eh?

(Note: At this point this article had to be concluded. The writer heard a terrific crash and rushed out to see what had happened. He found a truck, a bus and two sedans full of picknickers in a tangled mass. Well, that's what comes of caution.)

• • •
Anne Notre, the Jersey gal, who won that "Hollywood Calling" gets among other things a trip abroad, an ermine coat, a diamond ring, a sedan, two poodles and a year's supply of dog food free . . . That stirs ye ed.

"There is no need for anyone to intervene between the businessman and the government in procuring government contracts. Let me repeat, there is no need to have any broker between the businessman and the government to do business."—Louis Johnson.

Well, we'd like to see some newspaper send a businessman to Washington about doing business with it and record his progress trying to see the right man.

• • •
"Ignorance and uncertainty on the part of the businessman as to how he should proceed and whom he should see have been the basic causes for his succumbing to the five percenters," added Mr. Johnson. Never was a truer word spoken. And the bureaucratic red tapers, whose chief delight is playing hard-to-find and whose motto is "Never do anything in a half hour that can be stretched over a month," would die rather than relieve the ignorance and uncertainty.

YE GOTHAM BUGLE & BANNER

Tobacco Road reached London the other night . . . British stamina continues to get a rigid test . . . Western Union reports a deficit of nearly four million . . . Those "Having a wonderful time; wish you were here" telegrams must have been cut to "Arrived Okay, Toots." . . . And nobody wants a singing telegram unless it's delivered by Ezio Pinza . . . Ginger Rogers is divorcing her third husband . . . Love is like that.

The Greater Love

THE sight of others' suffering hurts me so.
How can God bear it, he who knows so well
The innermost recesses of the heart
That hold the secrets tongues can never tell?
I wonder at it often as I see
Some child in pain, some aged one in distress—
When my heart aches with pity, how can God
Restrain a hand with power to heal and bless?

I question it, and then I know, I know!
I learn it in this school which I attend:
Whatever hurts us, hurts his great heart more;
Whatever else may fail, he is our friend.
He does not send our grief, or pain or loss,
But if we wait and trust him as we should,
I am quite certain his great love will turn
Ultimately, all things for our good.

STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

MARIE WILSON, in New York to help publicize the hilarious screen version of "My Friend Irma," was probably the most cooperative actress Paramount has worked with in a long time. Also one of the nicest, "I want to go on making comedies," she said, "but with the radio 'My Friend Irma' going on, I won't have to take just anything that's offered." Pre-views of the picture have been so enthusiastically received that a sequel, "Irma Goes West," is being prepared, to be made with the same cast. Three members of it, Miss Wilson, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, the comedians, have been signed for "That's My Boy." So she's back on the screen to stay.

More about the pretty Marie. Arriving on one of New York's hottest days, she posed on a load of ice for news photographers. Her dog, a true lens hound, promptly scrambled up beside her and gazed into the cameras.

If you have a Mark Warlow Victor Record (No. 27868-B) of "The Music Goes Round and Round" you may be able to get $10 for it. Mark Goodson and Bill Todman, producers of CBS' "Spin to Win," use it as their theme song, and they've worn their disc thin. So they will pay that sum for the first 10 records they receive—in good condition, of course.

Tipsters and radio columnists cannot cue listeners to the "Kate Smith Calls" show about the week's Mystery Personality. Each broadcast features a new celebrity, and a contestant must do some on-the-spot guesswork.

Betty Hutton, whose "Red, Hot and Blue" will be released before the end of the year, will make "Annie Get Your Gun" for MGM, and another story based on the life of Mack Sennett.

The Fiction ACTING ON IMPULSE

By Richard H. Wilkinson

"IT'S ABOUT TIME," said Uncle Ralph, "that you, my dear Constance, were married. You're nearly 25, which is the verge of the intelligible age. Don't let popularity turn your head, my dear, it won't last forever."

3-Minute Fiction

One of these days you'll find yourself seeking a man, instead of being sought after. And that," Uncle Ralph added, "often means disaster."

Connie Brigham wrinkled her cute little turned-up nose, closed one eye and stared soberly at Uncle Ralph with the other. Uncle Ralph cleared his throat and began to let his gaze wander about the room. He felt guilty.

"Which," said Connie, with the slightest of twinkles, "is a polite way of suggesting that I accept Bob Merrill, and forget all about Don Baxter. She stood up and ruffled Uncle Ralph's hair, an act which he resented delightfully. And Connie went on: "Uncle Ralph, just why is it that you dislike Don so much? I think he's fascinating."

Uncle Ralph snorted. "Donald Baxter," he said, "is not a fit young man to become the husband of any girl. He's flighty, unreliable, impulsive, and out of a job. You never can tell what he's going to do next."

"He's romantic," said Connie. "He's after your money," said Uncle Ralph.

"And he's so good looking," said Connie.

Uncle Ralph coughed. "On the other hand, Bob Merrill is dependable, honorable, manly, steady. You can count upon him to make you a good husband."

"That's just the trouble," said Connie.

"What's just the trouble?" said Uncle Ralph.

"He's steady and dependable. So easy to read. Life with Bob would be safe, yes, but it would also be monotonous."

Despite his outward jovialness while conversing with Connie, Uncle Ralph was worried.

I wish, thought Uncle Ralph, I only wish something would happen to open her eyes. Drat that Don Baxter, you never could tell what he'd do next.

WITH THIS in mind Uncle Ralph rose from the veranda chair in which he was sitting, only to see Connie coming slowly up the walk. He sat down again, and picked up his newspaper. Connie came on, doleful and sorrowful of expression. She sighted Uncle Ralph, stopped and smiled whimsically.

"I guess you were right," she said.

"About what?" asked Uncle Ralph.

"Don."

"Don? How was I right about Don?"

"About never knowing what he's going to do next."

"What's he done, now?"

"He's married. Decided to last night about 6 o'clock. At 6:30 he was a married man."

"Oh, hum," said Uncle Ralph. He was not one to gloat, hence suppressed his delight with a masterful effort. He merely said mildly, "Well, that's that. Sort of turned out like I said it would. Well, you'll be happier with Bob. He's a man in a million."

Connie shook her head. "I can never marry Bob, Uncle Ralph. That's what makes me feel so bad."

"Tsek, tsek. That's no way to talk. You'll get over Don soon enough. Bet a thousand the girl he married isn't worth one-tenth of you."

"Yes," said Connie, "she's worth all of me. I'm the girl Don married."

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, rising up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urinations.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nationwide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

A BETTER MOUSETRAP

"HOW ARE THINGS as of early September?" we asked the man who built a better mousetrap, this being our regular seasonal inquiry into business conditions. "I can't quite make out," he replied, with a glance at the paths made to his door. "The paths seem fairly active but the activity could hardly be called path-beating at this moment."

"Would you say there was a slump?" "I might think so, but Harry Truman says no." "Does he think much about mousetraps?" "You know Washington. There are experts in everything available. The President has aides who claim to be specialists in mouse habits and mousetrap trends in our economic system. There is a federal mousetrap commission at work now."

"Has it been here?" "I think so. There has been a group here which acted like a federal committee. It came up the paths backward, asked where it was, and immediately wanted to know where there was a good place to eat."

"What did it do after eating?" "It showed up every day at 11 and quit at 3, announcing after a week that it had studied my business thoroughly and would have an early report with a complete solution to all problems in the mousetrap field." "You think it will find that you are prospering and that there is no cause for concern?" we asked.

"I am sure of it," said the man who built a better mousetrap. "The commission left in a very hazy mood and announced nothing was worrying me."

"Strictly on your own," we asked, "what is the real situation in the mousetrap industry?"

"I am optimistic. It can't be that the country has caught all the mice. Hence the drop in demand for traps must be due to something else. People may be making old traps last longer. I had a fellow come in with some holes and ask that we build a trap around 'em."

"Are you operating in the red at the moment?" "Yes, but don't let the President hear it. He would hold I am sabotaging public confidence. He may even say I want depression for my own selfish ends."

"So what?" "Well I guess I should do some deficit-financing and expand. After all I don't want federal control of mousetraps."

The man who built a better mousetrap paused a moment and reflected.

"I shall have to style my mousetraps," he resumed. "I must bring out smarter models with startling new innovations. Streamlining might help and possibly some mechanical devices that will make it possible to bait a trap by pressing a button. This will cost a lot of money, but I can borrow it or something."

"Have you thought of turning out a trap with fewer holes?" we asked. "Wouldn't half as many holes mean that people with mice would need twice as many traps?" "Aha!" exclaimed the M.W.B.A. B.M., showing us the door. "I knew it. You are one of those economic experts direct from the capital. Scram!" We scrambled.

STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

ARNOLD MOSS has succeeded in so many fields that it is hard to know where to begin describing him. He entered college at 15, has a master's degree. He has been a success on the stage, radio and screen, as actor, writer and producer. As narrator for "Duel in the Sun" he was so good that he was engaged for the same stint for "Arch of Triumph." His latest picture is "Reign of Terror," for Eagle-Lion. During the war he did broadcasts in four foreign languages, narrated six pictures for the navy. The coming season will see him on the stage in "Twelfth Night," and on television as well. He is married, has two young children—and makes interviews a pleasure.

Daytime serials may be broadcast in Korea, if Miss Ok Yul Kim, an announcer, and Mr. Young Ho Song, a director, both with the Korean radio network, have their way. Here to tour New York's radio studios and study American technique, they visited "The Road of Life" and "Young Dr. Malone" broadcasts, said they'd recommend them to their government-operated radio system.

George Burns and Gracie Allen cut their European visit short by two weeks, came rushing home to Hollywood early this month. Could be that they had last-minute preparations to make for their new comedy show, starting September 21 on CBS.

In Columbia's "Feudin' Rhythm" Eddy Arnold sings a song called "Nearest Thing to Heaven" to little Tommy Ivo, playing his son, end something about the song reminds one of Al Jolson's "Sonny Boy," although the tune is entirely different. Arnold expects the song to be very popular once the public hears it. Jolson hopes Arnold's right—he wrote it.

The Fiction Corner

I'LL NEVER FORGET the spectacle of Joe Abbott and Count Obeid fighting. Thinking of it, I am more apt to shudder than smile. Though it certainly had amusing aspects.

You see, Joe is an American. And he wasn't used to the way they did things in Luandia.

Anyway, when Joe and I stopped off at Cabindas on our world cruise, we were much pleased with the place.

That night we had dinner at the Plaza and it was there that we first saw Kandace. She was sitting alone in a booth, and when she caught Joe staring at her boldly, she nodded and smiled at him.

Instinctively I knew, when I saw the tall dark man come through the door, that Joe was in for trouble. And I was right. The tall dark man strode toward the booth and there was something about him that caused my blood to creep. I stood up, but was by no means quick enough. The stranger had grasped Joe by the coat front, jerked him to his feet and slapped his face.

Joe was hauling back for a haymaker when my arms closed about him.

After a while a messenger came in and handed me a note. I read it and looked sourly at Joe. "Now you've done it. That was Count Obeid and that was his girl you insulted."

"Insulted?" said Joe. "And he wants to fight a duel with you. He realizes our boat sails first thing in the morning, so in order to accommodate us he'll await our pleasure at dawn. He will do you the honor of permitting you to choose your own weapons."

Joe shook his head and tried to grasp it. "That punk—the dope who smacked my jaw—wants to fight a duel? You mean like they do in Sabatin's books?" "And I can choose my own weapons," Joe went on. He stood up. "Come on."

I followed him, not quite daring to use force in stopping him again, yet ready for an emergency. We went back to the Plaza. The count and his girl were, of course, gone. Joe made inquiries, wrote down an address and beckoned me to follow. A taxi deposited us before a pretentious looking house of white adobe. A servant admitted us and presently Count Obeid appeared.

"You're giving me the honor of choosing my own weapons," said Joe. "I'll take these," and he knotted up his fists and held them under the count's nose. "Those!" said the amazed count. "Yeah," said Joe, "and on your honor as a gentleman you can't refuse. Also, why wait till dawn?"

WHAT followed was pitiful. We trooped into the back yard. Joe and the count took off their coats and squared off. Grinning, Joe stepped in and delivered a quick one-two on the nobleman's chin. Blood appeared on his mouth. He swung wildly. Joe set him back on his heels. The count came in again and Joe knocked him down. He got up and came back for more.

"Listen, old horse," he said, "you're as dumb about the customs back in America as I am about them over here. Only I didn't have the guts to fight you your own way —and you, well, by gosh, there are danged few Americans can take it the way you have. And right here and now I rise to remark you have my apology, and I'll tell that dame so, too, if you'll tell me where she lives."

Well, the count only caught on to about one-third of what Joe meant and grinned and offered his hand. Ten minutes later the three of us were sitting around a fire in Kandace's living room, laughing and talking and drinking punch and telling each other that it was too bad there wasn't a perfect understanding about customs of different countries, and agreed that if such were the case every one would be happier.

Speeds Harvest

With another multi-million bushel corn harvest expected this fall, America's farmers are turning more and more to machinery to prepare the crop for use.

One improved machine (shown above) made by the New Holland machine company shells up to three and one-third bushels of corn each minute. This machine takes in ears of corn and seconds later ejects cobs in one direction and cleaned shelled corn in another. The shelled corn is either bagged or elevated into a wagon automatically.

Leaving Straw to Rot Costly to Dairy Men

Leaving straw to rot in the fields will get a farmer as much for his money as lighting a pipe with a 10-dollar bill.

Ivan H. Loughary, dairy specialist of the Wyoming agricultural extension service, says: "Use that straw for bedding down your dairy cows, and especially since the bedding problem always becomes acute during the winter months."
 He adds that straw is costly.

Versatile Tool

This "adjusto-blade" tool is a time, space and money saver for the farmer and gardener and can be used at any season of the year. A product of the Cofing hoist company, the tool does the work of a hoe, an angle hoe, an axe, edger, trencher, sickle in summer and a scraper in winter.

The secret of its versatility lies in the adjustable blade which can be fastened securely in a number of positions. The head of the company which makes it, Fred W. Cofing, is the inventor.

The tool is sturdily made throughout, with blade made of heat-treated tool steel to insure extra toughness.

Grain Sorghum Grazing Cuts Farm Feeding Cost

The widespread use of grain sorghum for fall grazing has proved this crop to be one of the best grown for livestock, according to J. T. Graves, Clemson extension livestock specialist.

The grain sorghum gives grazing at a time of year that most other types of grazing are unavailable. It fits in very well between summer pastures and green winter grazing crops.

Hatrack Technique
If you have hatracks in the shape of smooth wooden knobs and the hats have a tendency to slide off them, put a stop to it by crocheting a "beanie" to put over each rack. Or glue some sandpaper, rough side up, to each rack.

Use for Shoe Bag
A shoe bag that is not being used for that purpose can be put to work in the kitchen. Hang it behind the kitchen door as a container for paper bags, wrapping paper, string and such other items.

Drawer Opener
A bureau drawer, after the knobs have been lost or removed, can be opened by pressing a suction cup or rubber plunger against

Airing Pillows
If you live in a sooty city and want to air your pillows outdoors without getting them too dirty, put them inside a large laundry bag and hang on the line.
