Study Made Of Bats

A system of banding bats as a migrations is being planned by laboratory personnel as the State Department of Health continues its studies of rabies in Texas' bat population.

"Banding bats will help us answer the question of whether they go into Mexico's vampire bat haunts during whether migrations," Laboratory Director J.V.
Irons said. Vampire bats native to most parts of Mexico are notorious carriers of rabies.
Meanwhile, State Health Officer
Henry A. Holle revealed a $10,000 National Institute of Health research grant had been made to the state health agency to aid in financing the study, payment contin-gent on receipt of funds by the institute.

To date, 700 of Texas' furry little night flying insect eaters have been examined for evidence of infection by virologists at the deparment's Bureau of Laboratories.
Six "positive" strains have been found.

The study was initiated last year after a Florida boy was bitten in an unprovoked attack by a bat similar attacks have since occurred in Texas.

Two attacks occurred in Austin one in San Antonio and one in Houston. The most recent case involved an 18-year-old Austin girl who was bitten while swimming in a neighborhood swimming pool.

Watch Water On Vacation

One of the most important factors contributing to the well-being of summer vacationists is a safe and healthful water supply. Contaminated water is the annual cause of much sickness and many fatalities.
Water from sources not known to be safe should never be used to supply vacation needs.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer, stated this week that most municipal water supplies in Texas are periodically inspected and samples submitted to the State or local public health laboratories for examination. He advised that it is always best, when in doubt, to endeavor to secure water from a municipal supply.

"Families away from home on picnics, excursions, or vacation trips," Dr. Holle said, "should either ascertain that their water supply is safe or they should make it safe for human consumption.
Water can be rendered safe by bolling for 15 minutes or by the addition of chlorine. A few drops of ordinary chlorine laundry bleach can be added to a gallon of clear water and if the water is allowed to stand for 15 minutes it may be used for drinking."

If drinking water is obtained from a private well, Dr. Holle advised vacationists to look for these protective features: a well-site protected from flooding with good drainage, and a concrete platform surrounding the pump. The pump itself should be securely mounted on the platform, should have a rod that enters the top through packing and should have a turned-down spout. Contaminated water is usually found in wells with open wood platforms, pits underneath the pump, openings where the pump rod enters the pump, and in pumps that require priming to operate.

adverse to the farmer. The blow is being softened for 1955 by way of set-aside programs, etc., which are provided for in the new farm bill. The real, dampling blow to agriculture which is now being set in motion will not have its full impact until 1956 and 1957. In other words the real impact will come later, and people should not be misled by the sugar-coating which is proposed for 1955.

Producers with good cause are greatly disturbed over the kind of program which may be placed in effect next year with respect to diverted acres -- acres diverted from cotton, wheat, and probably milo. Secretary Benson has advised the House and Senate committees on Agriculture that he will place into operation next year program which will control the use by farmers of these so-called diverted acres. I think we will all agree that, if we reduce the acreage of a crop where there is surplus production, it does not make much sense to use the so-called diverted acres for the production of other crops which are in surplus. On the other hand, for producers to be put in too much of a straight jacket, so to speak, with respect to the use of diverted acres, could bring on very serious difficulties.

A committee in the Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C., under the direction of Mr. H. Laurence Manwaring, a Deputy Administrator of the Commodity Stabilization Service, is working on the details of a diverted acres program for 1955.

I am strongly of the opinion that farmers and farm groups should give the question of diverted acres very serious study and make recommendations to Mr. Manwaring and to Mr. Claude McCann, State Director of ASC, College Station, Tex. I have personally explained our problems in this field to officials here, seeking to be helpful, but I think grass-roots recommendations are necessary.

Middleton Makes Statement

To Voters of Pct. 2, Dawson Co.: Voting is a privilege and an obligation in a Democracy. I urge all citizens to exercise this privilege which is denied people in so many parts of the world.

The roads and their upkeep are important in any community, but that is a small part of a Commissioner's job. The government of a county and its development depends on the commissioner you hire next Saturday. Not only would I do as much road work in one part of the precinct as another but would transact the business of the county as conscientiously as I would my own.

I shall appreciate your vote on August 28th.

Sincerely,
JOHN MIDDLETON
