A Storm Brewing

Co-Operative Effort a Way To Community Betterment

This community represents much to all of us. It is home; it is where our families are reared; it is the center of our joys and sorrows; it is where our property interests lie. The better the community the better it is for each individual member of the community. A greater degree of prosperity for the community as a whole means a greater degree for each individual.

Making a better community, a more prosperous community, is the work of individuals, but of individuals working together along comprehensive and progressive lines. As a community we get nowhere when each one travels his own path, each leading in a different direction, and each striving for a different goal. We have collective interests and to accomplish anything we must work collectively—each for all.

When we think of our selves as a community circle, in which each member of the community has a place, we can visualize the benefits of co-operative action passing from one to another around this circle. When by such co-operative action we increase the prosperity of the community, we have increased the prosperity, the wealth of each member of the circle.

Abetter town means a better market place for the farmers who are a part of the community, and a better market place means better farm values. A better town means, without increasing, but in reality decreasing, the burden of local taxation, means better schools for our children, better streets, more attractive living conditions for all of us.

Communities in which the individual members are not working together are dying because of a lack of co-operative effort. With each backward step there comes a decrease in property values, a decrease in the number of opportunities for the individual in the home town. This community cannot afford to be numbered among those that are going backward. We must and will, keep in the forefront of those that are going forward. We can do this by working together for the interest of all.

This working together means that our merchants must do all that is possible to supply our needs for merchandise at equitable prices. It means that they must afford our farmers a market place for such of their products as are disposed of through local buyers and sellers. But for the merchants to do these things means that we must give our merchants the opportunity to supply our needs. We must realize that if we do not offer them patronage for such stocks. We must realize that the prosperity of our merchants but adds to the prosperity of the community as a whole, an increased prosperity for each of us as individuals.

Our bankers, our professional people are here to render service to each and every one of us as individuals. Our interests are necessarily their interests, and their interests are our interests. We grow and prosper only as they grow and prosper. We are all a part of the community circle, each unit of which is dependent upon each other unit.

Let us make our community a better place in which to live by co-operative effort.

Dollars That Work, Help the Community

The real value of a dollar in this community is progressive. The more often it is spent to buy home produced or home sold merchandise, the more valuable it becomes. If it is spent often enough it will double in value.

This may seem a little out of the ordinary as a statement, but let's see. Every time a dollar is spent it produces a certain percentage of profit. Hence to increase its value to the community at large, all we have to do is to keep spending it over and over and adding the percentage of profit each time—result, sooner or later it has doubled in value.

So you see, it is to your advantage and to our advantage to keep your dollars at home where they can work for us home folks. When we employ labor, employ home folks. When we buy anything, patronize home folks. It is to our own self interests that we do so.

On another page of this issue the business men present in a full page advertisement an appeal on why it pays to try first at home when you need anything. We heartily agree with them, since we know we profit even more than do they.

RETURNS FROM SANITARIUM

Doodle Russell returned Tuesday from a Lubbock Sanitarium where he has been the past three weeks recuperating from an appendicitis operation. He was able to be on the streets Wednesday greeting old friends.

PLAINVIEW—Plainview will enter a carload of Jersey pure bred cattle at the dairy show at the Dallas Fair this fall.

Interest In Railroad Revives as Letter From Kennedy States Responsible Parties Interested

NOTICE!

We are calling a meeting at the O'Donnell School House, Saturday night, August 18th, 1928.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss the new marketing agreement of the cotton co-operative Association, which provides for optional or daily pools and withdrawal privileges, as well as a number of minor changes.

We will have some one with us who is familiar with the new contract to explain in detail the various features of the new co-operative contract, with withdrawal privileges, how the new contract may become operative, etc.

Since this change can only become operative by a vote of the present members it is very necessary that you attend this meeting, hear the contract read and explained and determine by its date had not been changes will be advantageous to growers.

Very truly yours,
M. MITCHELL.

BOWLIN-JOURDON

Last Saturday afternoon, Miss Mildred Bowlin and Mr. Harvey Jourdon were quietly married at the parsonage of the First Methodist Church at Lubbock, Rev. White, the pastor, reading the impressive service. The bride wore a simply tailored model of flat crepe with hat to match, in the blue so becoming to her blonde loveliness.

Though he date had not been publicly announced, this marriage did not come as a complete surprise, since for some months past strains have been indicating which way the wind was blowing.

Mrs. Jordon, who is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bowlin, has been a leader among her associates in every phase of activity. She was a 1928 graduate, standing high in scholarship among her classmates. This spring she was Queen of the May Fete, the highest honor her school mates can bestow. Her influence has always been felt in the scholastic, social and church circles of the town, while the unaffected sweetness of her disposition her gracious manners and queenly dignity endeared her to all who know her.

Mr. Jordon, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jordon, is a popular and promising member of the banking firm. Perhaps he doesn't say much, but his sterling qualities are well known. He was graduated from Spur high school in 1924.

The bridal couple was accompanied by Miss Alta Rogers and Mr. Harvey Line. So far they have not announced plans for the future other than to go to Ruidoso to be present at a reunion of the bride's family. However it is hoped and confidently expected that they will make their home here. The many friends wish them much happiness and hope that they may be as successful in all things as they were in their choice of a partner.

RISEING STAR—A vocational teacher has been secured for this community through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce and business men.

Palo Duro Camp Proves Enjoyable Occasion for Participants

"I don't know what to tell first—everything was so wonderful," was the statement which greeted the writer when one of the campers was interviewed. And from all we can learn, it must have been a thrilling experience.

The Methodist camp grounds owned by the Northwest Texas Conference, is located in one of the most beautiful sections of Palo Duro canyon. Each summer groups of girls with their chaperones come from Young Peoples' Missionary Society in the conference for a few days of real camp life, fun, and good fellowship. Saturday night is always "stunt night" and anyone with any imagination whatsoever can picture the program.

Sunday was a high point for all the old girls especially since on that day the corner stone was laid. Dr. R. E. L. Morgan of Polk Street Church, Amarillo, was to be in charge of the ceremony, but he was unable to be there. In his absence Mrs. Tom C. Delaney, assisted by Rev. Hiburn, made the official address, to a house packed with girls in camp uniform.

A representative from each group was asked to bring a piece of fire wood to drop in the cornerstone, others brought flowers as a tribute to nature, another a song book, the tribute to music, another brought a Bible, because it is the foundation of all spiritual life. The ceremony with the earnest words of the speakers, the songs and prayers of thanksgiving for the culmination of a long cherished dream, was impressive and beautiful.

Interest in the proposed east and west railroad being promoted by Captain Ed Kennedy and associates of Houston, was again increased when the railroad committee received a communication from Capt. Kennedy stating he would be in O'Donnell within the next ten days with parties who are interested in building the proposed route. The letter is self-explanatory which follows:

This will be your notice that I have got my people interested and they are coming to you and yours to show you who they are in the next ten days. You will have to have a new contract made out as our friend Tate is absent from your community and I will have a copy made of the old contract and expect a man, appointed by your honorable committee, to sign it. After meeting my people and after satisfying yourself that they are suitable to carry out anything they may agree to with you and yours, then you will be ready to go ahead with your part of it. If this is satisfactory to you I would like to get a Night Letter from you with an invitation to bring my people and that you people will go along as you always have done.

Respectfully yours,
Ed Kennedy.

The railroad committee notified Capt. Kennedy that every co-operation would be given by each party upon their arrival in O'Donnell. People of O'Donnell and the South Plains are ready and willing to assist in every possible way in the building of an east and west railroad.

PLAINVIEW FARMERS FIGHTING MILLERS

The farmers of Plainview community are within old owls, so instead of waiting for worms to fight, they are killing the millers that start the trouble. And this is the way they do it. Lighted lanterns are placed in large pans of kerosene and the pan set in the field at night. The light attracts the moths and they fall in it. Lighted lanterns are placed in large pans of kerosene and the pan set in the field at night. The light attracts the moths and they fall in it. Lighted lanterns are placed in large pans of kerosene and the pan set in the field at night. The light attracts the moths and they fall in it.

We understand that a few worms have put in their appearance at several places in the field, but in great numbers as yet. This pest has been a source of much unnecessary labor and expense in this country. We say unnecessary because none of us could see any use in having worms as guests. If scientists would spend a little more time devising methods to rid us of such scoundrels rather than so much in proving we had long-tailed ancestors, we'd be better off in lots of ways.

MARFA—Mexican laborers are available in this section as a result of efforts of WTCC to have an American crew stationed temporarily at Ojinaga, Mexico.

The evening service or vesper service is another wonderful part of the program. Just at dusk the girls gather on the east side of the auditorium and there with only the stars for light an inspiring meeting is conducted. Two of these services especially were beautiful. Mrs. Clements of Shamrock made a vivid and picturesque talk at the first using as her subject "The Falling Star." Another was taken by Mrs. Delaney from the note book of Verna Smith, one of the guiding lights of camp work until her recent death, and was a characteristic of her another amusing event was the ball game between the blondes, in overalls, and the brunettes in knickers. The blondes walked away with the big end of a score of 6 to 12.

Thursday evening was devoted to a Fine Arts program and was most worthwhile.

These camps are a wonderful inspirational force. Here ideals are formed, friendships take root, and each girl finds in the beauties of nature around her a new source of strength and spiritual growth.

Our girls are trying hard to procure funds for a summer concert there. Let's all join in and help them.

NEW BUILDING IS BUILT FOR SOUTH FAIR; AMPLE ROOM IS NOW ASSURED

LUBBOCK, August 15.—Keeping a pledge made to the live stock exhibitors here last fall, the Panhandle South Plains Fair Association has let a contract for a 90 by 130 foot building that will be used this fall, Oct. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, as a live stock barn at the fair.

"The live stock department was filled last year with the biggest display of live stock that has ever been gathered in the Plains section," Dr. I. E. Barr, president of the fair association stated today, "and after the fair was over, we made a pledge to the live stock breeders who exhibited their cattle, hogs, horses, mules, sheep and other stock that we could provide a new live stock barn for the 1928 fair.

"The letting of this contract is keeping faith with these exhibitors and we are expecting an increase in the number of entries in this department this fall. With this new building we can solicit the stock of any breeder in the Southwest, assuring him that his stock will have adequate protection and barn facilities.

Fair officials are especially anxious that Plains stock breeders exhibit their stock here this year.

G. O. C. SECRETARIES WILL GATHER IN LUBBOCK FOR MEET AUG. 21

Every chamber of commerce secretary on the South Plains is expected to gather at Lubbock Tuesday morning, August 21, for the semi-annual meeting of the South Plains Commercial Executives Association.

Several successful chamber of commerce secretaries from various sections of Texas will appear on the program.

Ed. Bishop, Floydada secretary and president of the association and John D. Bird, Ralls' secretary and secretary of the association made out the program and have written the speakers. Early this week two acceptance notices had been received.

The acceptances came from Maury Hopkins, of Plainview, who will speak on "Program of Work" and Paul T. Vickers, Mildand, who will speak on "Publicity". Both speakers have made recognized success in the line of work they will speak upon and in all their activities. Other acceptances are expected to come in this week.

All the talks will be made in an effort to help the secretaries who come in to attend the meeting.

Besides the secretaries the presidents and a number of directors from each chamber of commerce on the Plains are expected to attend the meeting.

The meeting will start at 9:45 Tuesday morning. At noon, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will be host to the visitors at a luncheon. The meeting will adjourn at 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

The program includes talks of general interest to the chamber of commerce secretaries on the South Plains.

TOURIST BUSINESS IS AN AID

The development within the past few years of tourist camps has opened an entirely new chapter in the history of modern motoring and the results of the new touring will be to decentralize tourist business and recreational activity.

Tourists camps, especially those operated by towns, are proving to be a great aid to the smaller places where before the motorists would pass rapidly through, making some effort to reach a larger place before nightfall. Today, the small towns are furnishing the greatest opposition to the cities for the tourist trade.

There are a few communities where the tourist fails to stop. A survey of the tourist camping growth shows that there are more than 3000 camps sites, many of which are equipped with every facility for the motor tourists comfort and convenience. California tops the list in the number of camps for a single state, while Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois Iowa and Florida are not far behind.

There are thousands of small towns which could not possibly support a first class hotel and maintain it as a paying investment but which are nevertheless able to provide for suitable camping grounds and thus make a strong bid for their share of the tourist patronage which formerly escaped them altogether.

HEALTH IS WEALTH

Health is wealth, some has said. It is also happiness, because to be unhealthful is to be unhappy.

That happiness means health has a scientific basis, according to a noted scientist, who has experimented with rats.

Those who have been tamed so that they could be handled in the hand do not suffer the ill effects from experiments as do those that are wild and afraid during the experiments.

This is directly due to properties of several glands of internal secretion in the human, this scientist says.

Since fear affects health, and therefore happiness wise people will avoid fear.

Most fear is fancied, anyway and is a mental condition that in a large majority of cases can be overcome.

To be healthy and fearless then, is to be happy, which is the goal of every human being.

John Deere Corn Binder

You harvest seven or more acres of corn a day when you use the John Deere Corn Binder. You do the work better and easier, eliminating entirely the muscle-tiring labor of hand-cutting.

Your corn is in prime condition for the silo; no need of cutting the crop days in advance—the corn can be cut fresh with no loss of feeding value. And when you are through with your own fields you can increase your income by putting your binder to work in the fields of your neighbors. You will appreciate the easy operation of the John Deere. No hard-working, old style carrier to operate—simply press the handy foot release, and the power carrier dumps the bundles out of the way of the horses—no bundles scattered—no waste.

The quick turn tongue, truck relieves the horses of load weight and keeps the binder running straight. Hot-ripped steel frame insures rigidity and perfect alignment. Roller and ball bearings at all main points reduce friction, lessen wear, and insure lighter draft. Riders can be equipped with the new John Deere Bundle Elevator.

Principles Of OPERATION

We believe that a bank should not only be a depository of funds, but indeed a haven where the rich and poor alike can confide their financial troubles, fears and doubts in to the attentive ear of their mutual friend and counsellor the BANKER. The bank, the foundation of all saving, should be solid like the granite, standing the acid test of time, pursuing a conservative but friendly course.

This bank like the great Oak from a little acorn, of persistent effort and sound business principles has grown. It stands today like the Oak, its many services and ample resources like the limbs, cast their shadow of protection over those who seek its shelter, a mecca which invites the confidence and patronage of the public.

THE OPEN PURSE

The value of money is in what it will buy—the necessities, the comforts, the luxuries of life. Money spent in this community to buy these things for its people stays here where each and every person shares in the new profits its trading produces.

More modern conveniences, a wider social life, a greater business activity—in fact, a far reaching, ever growing wave of benefits to every citizen of O'Donnell follows the practice of buying at home.

Open the purse strings—not to spend foolishly, but to buy wisely. O'Donnell offers you full value for every dollar's worth you buy, plus the greatest of all returns on your money—

Keeping Pigs Growing in Summer

Counting the profit on a bunch of pigs on the basis of the farm farrowed is just a little like counting chickens before they are hatched. Just as the number of pigs raised to weaning age is a better indication of prospective profits than the number farrowed, so is the number raised to market weight a still better indication than the number raised to weaning age.

A great many pigs are now at or near weaning age. What factors are of greater importance in giving assurance that the number will reach market weight in a reasonable time?

First let us consider the hazard of hog cholera. Last year's experience gave convincing evidence that there is a lot of dynamite, so to speak wrapped up in the tiny non-visible, filterable virus of hog cholera. The disease is easily controlled by immunizing the susceptible pigs. The prevention is not easily applied and is cheaper if done shortly after pigs are weaned. If this is not done, one's pigs will reach market weight and does not have positive assurance that there is every probability that some farmers will lose some pigs by cholera.

It is too late to consider full prevention and control of worms. We have pointed out earlier in these columns that this begins before pigs are born by giving them clean places to live in while they are young and by then placing them on clean pastures. Worms do not kill pigs quickly and in large number but they most certainly sap the kind of thrift that makes 200-lb. hogs in 180 days. The lung roundworms, most commonly found, may be successfully expelled. Formulas for two very good worm expellers are given on this page.

A third hazard that may keep some pigs from ever reaching market weight and, if present, will certainly extend the time that affected pigs will reach such weight, is one or more forms of necrotic infection caused by bacillus necrophorus. The disease is generally found about the lips, gums and face of pigs or in the snout or in the small intestines. It is too late to do a good job of controlling this disease in those herds where infection is present and active. As pointed out earlier in the year in these columns, prevention is the only reliable and effective way to deal with the problem and prevention means clean quarters before and for a short time after the pigs are born. We can offer no sure cure or effective treatment for the disease after it is well established except as good care and feeding may tend to help pigs overcome the difficulty.

Adequate shade and pure, cool water, are essential in hot weather.

Pigs will little more than maintain their weight on pure grain. Some grain is necessary. The economy of limiting grain compared with full feeding on pasture has not been definitely settled. Skim milk and tankage are the best supplemental protein feeds. The tankage when mixed with linseed meal in the proportion of 80 parts tankage and 20 parts linseed meal gives just a little better results than tankage feed alone. Dairyman.

WE LIVE FOR LUXURIES

Robert Louis Stevenson once said: "We don't live for the necessities of life. What we live for are its superfluities."

If a man has one can of beans, he won't work overtime in order that he may enjoy two cans.

On the other hand, many men will get along on half a can of beans for two days in order to save up money for a broiled lobster on the third day.

I suspect that many of us have the wrong slant on the luxury business in the United States. A favorite occupation with economists is totaling up the expenditures for luxuries, and then drawing the conclusion that if this money were wisely spent everybody could own a little cottage on a shady street and grow geraniums in window boxes.

Perhaps that is your idea and my idea of a sensible way of living, which merely proves that we are out of step.

To assume that the American people work as hard as they do if every third or fourth family did not own an automobile, reveals a lack of understanding in human nature. The reason men hustle, the reason both wives and husbands work, the reason we get up when the alarm clock rings instead of going back to sleep, is because we can't support our luxurious fancies unless we do.

One day a man asked me to lend him $150 so he could buy a second-hand automobile. He had no cash surplus himself. He was living with his wife in a furnished room. He was making $30 a week and she was making $15. He proposed to pay back the $150 to me at the rate of $5 per week. I told him it would cost at least $5 a week to operate the car, making a total expenditure of $10 for something which had never before been included in his budget.

"If you've never been able to save money out of your income, is there how can you expect to meet this additional expense?" I asked him.

"Oh," he said, "we can cut down our other expenses. Furthermore, I expect to get a raise soon, and so does my wife."

O'DONNELL PARTY ENJOYS LAMESA SWIMMING POOL

Several O'Donnell people drove to Lamesa Wednesday evening for a dip in the swimming pool there. A picnic lunch was taken and a glorious time was enjoyed by all. Those who composed the party were Messrs and Mesdames Waldo McLaurin and family, W. S. Cathey and family, H. E. Gillespie, S. G. French, Pierce and R. O. Stark.

WOMEN DRIVERS MOST RELIABLE

Logic, psychology and science have been commandeered to build a stranger case for the woman motorists as a more reliable and safer driver than man.

Coming to her defense this time is Robert Clair, safety engineer and chairman of the taxicab and fleet owners section of the National Safety Council. Clair discards as unfit the old arguments that were used to prove the superiority of woman as a driver and resorts to more scientific evidences for the defense.

His case is built up on answers sent in by 100 representatives of women in the same number of men who operate car drivers, besides verbal statements from 100 commercial car drivers. Asking them whether they believe the average woman is as careful as the average man, he finds that 74 per cent of the men reply "No," while 84 per cent of the women shout back "Yes."

On Woman's Side

But the word of these men and women isn't the deciding factor for woman's defense. Clair goes to Dr. F. A. Moss, of the department of psychology at George Washington University, who set out to learn who responded more quickly to danger signals.

The tests showed that the women students were as reliable as the men, "if not more so." And they were more consistent.

"In concluding his tests," Clair reports, "Dr. Moss stated that there is no physical reason why a woman may not drive as well as a man and that he has found no psychological reason."

Therefore, Clair insists science and a newer logic prove woman at least as good a driver as man.

Palmer, Miss Alta Rogers, took part in the party and if you think it was a good one, just ask some of the guests who were there.

YOUNG LADIES M. S. TO SERVE DINNER AT RUN-OFF

Members of the Young Ladies Missionary Society voted Tuesday to serve both dinner and supper in town on the day the run-off elections are held. The place will be announced later. Proceeds from this venture will go on the fund for the camp location and cottage at the camp grounds at Palo Duro Canyon. This year marked the third trip O'Donnell girls have made to this encampment, and it seems the logical thing to have a neat shelter of some kind. The general public is asked to remember the girls and make plans to eat dinner or supper or both with them that day.

An Ancient Symbol of Hospitality

A PICTURESQUE old rectory in Rhode Island was recently being restored. Covered with vines, its colors mellowed by age, so the rectory had stood for over one hundred years. The north doorway on this old home was formerly the doorway of the French Admiral deTernay, and is one of the famous carved doorways of New England. When the dust of years was brushed from the ancient carvings and the central ornament disclosed, it proved to be a pineapple.

Only one other similar doorway is still in existence—that on the old State House on Washington Square. Commenting upon his architectural design a writer of "Parish Tidings" says:

"The pineapple in the midst is an ancient symbol of hospitality, and no symbol of hospitality must be allowed to decay over the doorway of a priest, whose doors must always be open to the sheep of the flock. May the old pineapple be a true symbol of a real welcome for many years to come!"

Today, the pineapple on the table symbolizes hospitality. Much of the beauty of old doorways has been lost, but the spirit of hospitality is still fostered, and the hostess who serves pineapple extends to the guest within the door, the newest warmth of greeting.

The ancient aid to the hostess who serves pineapple are Hawaiian pineapple "tid-bits." They are made from the same sun-kissed Hawaiian pineapple as the sliced or crushed product, and they lend themselves to dishes in which smaller pieces of pineapple are preferable to larger pieces.

Here are some delightful ways of serving pineapple tid-bits:—

MRS. W. H. VEAZEY ENTERTAINS THURSDAY CLUB

Despite the thunder storm and rain which invariably precludes or accompanies her parties, Mrs. W. H. Veazey was the gracious hostess Thursday to members of her club and a few guests. In this case the storm accompanied the festivities so the party consisted of much talk and laughter and sewing laid up with the incessant telephoning of husbands who seem to think their wives don't have rumption enough to stay in out of the rain. At a late hour the hostess, assisted by Miss Kathryn Veazey and Kitty Mae Garner, served home made grape juice and cake to Mesdames Mack Garner, H. E. Gillespie, S. G. French, R. O. Stark, E. L. Sorrells, John Earls, J. W. Roberts, Waldo McLauren, John Etter, J. I. Weems and Mack Haymes.

Mary's little lamb must retire from literary fields, ousted by a tan and white bird dog named Bruce. For, while the lamb went to school one day, Bruce attended classes eight years, at Homerville high school in Georgia.

As a result, Bruce now holds a diploma bearing the seal of the Board of Education, making him the only dog graduate of a high school. His diploma was identical with that of his master George Peagler, and both presentations were made at graduation exercises.

WHY does CONOCO AMALIE have such Expert Endorsement?

IT must be an unusually good oil to have the unqualified endorsement of the designers and builders of engines used in 207 automotive vehicles.

But no wonder these experts favor Conoco Amalie! Made from Pennsylvania Crude and made a better way, Conoco Amalie does a 100% lubricating job.

It retains its viscosity under practically all operating conditions — thus sealing the pistons and greatly reducing crankcase dilution the cause of so much costly wear and tear on the motor.

CRUCIAL NOTES

International Sunday School lesson for next Sunday has the text "Come over into Macedonia and help us." The subject is "Paul's Call to Europe." Lesson material will be found in Acts 15:36 to 15:41. We print this for the benefit of those who were absent last Sunday or who have misplaced their quarterlies.

There was no regular Sunday School service at the Methodist Church Sunday. L. B. Nance, Conference Superintendent of Sunday Schools, was present and told of plans for the Sunday School Teachers Training School which will be held here in the latter part of September. Tabaka and Lamesa will join in this institute.

Rev. Davis of Houston, who was visiting relatives here, was present also, and made a most interesting and uplifting talk on "The Importance of Sunday School Training for Children." In the course of his talk he mentioned that reports from prison officials show that ninety eight per cent of criminals had had no Sunday School training, leaving only two per cent who had turned from their early training.

After the Sunday School hour the congregation was dismissed in order that members might attend the Baptist meeting.

The Woman's Missionary Society met at the usual hour Monday afternoon, with a fair number present. Mrs. Paul Gough in her usual concise and clear cut manner spoke on "An All-church Missionary Society." Mrs. J. W. Campbell gave a few thoughts on "What Shall I Tell My Child About God?" Mrs. Belle Knight concluded the program with a beautiful story. Mesdames Garner and McGill had been asked to sing, but they were unavoidably detained much to the disappointment of those present.

Members of the Young Ladies Missionary Society have returned from the camp at Palo Duro Canyon. An account of their trip will be found in other columns of the paper.

The Epworth League had a most interesting missions lesson at the evening hour, with Miss Sue Gates as leader. Many unusual phases of our gro life and interesting things concerning Booker T. Washington were brought up and discussed. These programs are exceedingly important and decidedly interesting. One might almost say impressive because it is wonderful that young people can express themselves so clearly and forcibly. Miss Louise Edwards will have charge of the program next Sunday.

Tonight (Friday) the Epworth League will entertain all the young people of the town of every denomination, married or single, with an informal social hour at the Methodist Church, beginning at 8:30.

The Baptist meeting closed Sunday evening, ending a series of powerful sermons by Rev. C. S. Stevenson. Approximately twenty-five new members were added to the church, twenty-one by baptism and several more by letter. The baptismal ceremony Sunday afternoon was witnessed by a large crowd, and was exceedingly beautiful and impressive. The great tabernacle has been filled to capacity at many of the services, and large crowds were in attendance at every one. A general quickening and revival of interest has been felt in every department of the church and it seems that the meeting will have many and far-reaching results.

CHEWING GUM IS AMERICAN

The department of commerce has issued a booklet concerning the origin and growth of the chewing gum industry, which deals primarily with chicle, the best base for chewing gum discovered to date. Prior to 1860 those who wished to chew something besides their food and tobacco had to look for it in those places where grew certain gum-producing trees. But in 1860 an American inventor, while making an unsuccessful attempt to vulcanize the sap of the sapota tree for use as a rubber substitute, discovered the similarity of chicle to spruce and cherry gums.

He experimented and found that chicle was adaptable as a base for chewing gum because, as the report states, "it is not only easily and satisfactorily chewed, but is also compounded readily with sugar corn syrups, flavorings and summer medicaments as pepsin, licorice, peppermint, wintergreen and some others."

For many years the habit of chewing gum was deemed an exclusively American habit and foreigners contended it one carefully to be avoided by all refined persons, yet the opinion has changed somewhat because the growth of the habit has reached nearly to all corners of the world.

The report of the government says that prior to 1914 the European demand for the product was negligible, but during the war the American soldier found in the chewing gum relief for nervous tension, and, in the absence of water, a mitigation of thirst. Since then the habit probably spread by veterans of the war, has touched the populations of Australia, New Zealand, South America and all of the Oriental countries. This seems to prove that the habit of chewing gum spread from the American soldier to all other nationalities.

Bankers Association Official Tells How Young People Are Fleeced in "Hokum Pokum" Movie Schemes—The Investor Loses Savings by Listening to Messrs. Slick and Smooth.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

THE fabulous salaries paid stars of the first magnitude, and the publicity of the "movies" naturally create longing in the breasts of thousands of our young Americans to get into motion pictures. Because so many are ready to leave home, and risk everything on a fling at motion pictures, unscrupulous persons have devised ways of fleecing these ambitious young people out of their savings. "Hokum-pokum" schemes of various kinds are used with great success before the camera, fake courses on how to make-up, fake registration gags and screen tests, are among the schemes used to separate these thousands of young people from their cash.

The Pilgrimage to the motion pictures centers by thousands of novices usually ends disastrously for the pilgrims. Naturally a few are successful, but only a very, very few, the ninety and nine meeting with disappointment. The truth is, the number of persons who seek to "break into" the movies exceed the number of available positions by one hundred to one, while in the realm of popular stars it is thousands to one.

Don't be misled by the promises of promoters of hokum-pokum schemes that there is room for all, because this last year over 100,000 young people knocked at the door for admission and were turned away because there was no room on the inside for them. Consult your banker or address the National Better Business Bureau, New York City, for information or advice regarding any enterprise that seeks to gain possession of your money. They will give disinterested counsel before it is too late.

Also let every investor approached by either Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth with a proposition yielding big dividends remember that such assurances always spell financial danger ahead. To every investor who is inexperienced in making investments, in other words perhaps just a little green and perhaps a little too easy, any offer coming from this source should be like a red flag warning to come to a complete stop.

Such investments as Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth offer are too good to be true and therefore they are not true. Slick, Smooth and Company are not miracle workers although from their sales talk you would infer that they could make you rich as if by magic. No, they are not miracle workers—just slick and smooth.

The Estate Gag
Twenty-four estates representing $12, billions of dollars have been used as bait to interst a lot of savers and finally bleed them of their savings. The scheme is built around a supposed search for the heirs to certain phantom estates. At all costs these heirs must be found. Every person who can by any hook or crook, figure it out that he is in anyway related to the deceased are urged by some shyster lawyer or genealogist to send in their names and their life history.

Soon they receive glad tidings telling them that their family tree can be traced back to the deceased, in fact, they are a direct descendant and an heir at law.

Like fake rattles everybody who responds to the search is found to be a winner—in other words an "heir." Here is where the rainbow chaser gets trimmed. Before his claim to the mythical thousands can be pressed so as to insure success a demand is made on him to advance attorney's fees and pay the expense of tracing through his genealogy.

THE NEW FARMING ACCOUNT SCHOOL

The good business farmer today watches his farm accounts carefully. In respect to his labor, his farm stock and his soil, he knows what they can do and how they can be most profitably handled. He knows the mathematics of growing feed from the soil, pigs and poultry from the feed and cash profits from pigs and poultry. He knows whether he is milking the cow for paying returns or the cow is milking him out of the invested capital. Wherever his accounts show a deficit or insufficient profit on one or more items, he immediately studies to overcome the handicap and correct any mistakes that have been made.

The Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association is conducting a nationwide educational campaign for better methods of farm accounting. The commission has been stressing the wisdom of country bankers through cooperation of county agents, calling farmers together, and holding account schools where instruction is given on the use of the farm account books.

Each person is led through the various steps in keeping accounts and each enters his own inventory which he has previously been instructed to take and bring to school. This gives a good start and when properly fol-

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?
 By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Okla.

Eugene C. Stow publisher of The Mail of Woodland, California, says: "That is costs about ten cents to send out a bill... A small bill mailed only a few times becomes a loss instead of a profit, even though it collected. Courtesy and self-respect should prompt at least an answer to a billing, even though the account cannot be paid. You should immediately notify the creditor if there is any error in the bill so the mistake may be rectified while the details are easily remembered. Money is "made to round" and the money you pay your creditor will pay many bills in its circulating. Even though the account may be small, the creditor probably has many others, which in the aggregate amount to considerable. A prompt remittance is greatly appreciated by all creditors and assists materially in giving you better service. A bill, large or small unpaid when due, discommodes not only one creditor but many. You want your money when it is due—so does everyone else!"

DIFFERENT TYPES OF PEOPLE

The bullfrog never croaks except when the shadows begin to fall. The thrush never warbles except when sitting in the top of the tree in the full light of the bright sun. Each has to have its peculiar environment in order to express itself. One needs a gloomy atmosphere in the swamp around where he can make that dismal noise expressive of his surroundings. The other needs the invigorating sunshine to produce the sweet music that fills his being. Do you belong in the frog or the thrush class? If you associate with grumblers and kickers can never hear the bright and optimistic side of public questions, you will never be anything but a complainer. If you select as associates, people who never see anything but the silver lining, you will be influenced by their optimism and become like them. Always be sure to stay away from

Lubbock Tech Announces Grid Dates; Two Southwestern Conference Tilts Are Scheduled

LUBBOCK, Texas, August 16.—Nine football games two with leading teams of the Southwestern conference, are on the schedule for Texas Technological College for the coming season, a completion of the card here shows. The Matadors will meet the University of Texas for the first time this year. The game is to be played in Austin on October 6. T. C. U. will be the other Southwestern team which the Matadors will meet. October 27 will be their third encounter. The schedule follows: Sept. 29—Schiener Institute at Lubbock. Oct. 6.—University of Texas at Austin. Oct. 13.—St. Edwards University at Lubbock. Oct. 20.—McMurray College at Lubbock. Oct. 27.—Texas Christian University at Fort Worth. Nov. 3.—Daniel Baker College at Brownwood. Nov. 10.—Abilene Christian College at Lubbock. Nov. 17.—Simmons University at Lubbock. Nov. 29.—W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon.

TICKS MENACE TO LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY

Advocates of the dairy industry in the tick-infested areas of the southwest had better move slowly until their section is removed from quarantine. The first move toward success with dairy cows or with feeder beef animals is to rid the country of this pest. Until this is done farmers cannot hope and should not expect to be able to compete with dairymen and feeders in tick-free counties. The cost of production is the big factor in the profit column, and costs are always higher where animals are reduced in vitality by this insect. That it is possible to rid any sections of ticks by the dipping process has been demonstrated too often to be a matter for discussion. That under improved methods of dipping and handling of cattle has greatly reduced the risk may not be known to some people. It is a fact, however, that the dipping of cattle, where all details are carefully looked after, is attended with very little risk and animals come out of the vat and go about their business without ill effects. One of the earlier troubles in dipping cattle resulted from driving the vat. Oftentimes the cattle were animals, sometimes, several miles and then running them through the thirsty and hot and they would get enough of the liquid into their stomachs to either kill them or make them ill. The practice today is to have plenty of fresh water at the vat and yards in which the animals can rest and cool off before dipping them. This is a good practice and should not be neglected.—Farm and Ranch. ## MISS ERA HARRIS HONORS HOUSE GUEST

Miss Kathryn Foster of Canyon was the guest of honor at a most enjoyable party at the lovely country home of Miss Era Harris on Wednesday afternoon.

Whether it was the thrill of country air, the influence of the hostess, or a combination of both, everybody fell into the proper mood and the staid old fields started in amazement as shrieks of merriment drifted from the house.

As each guest entered and registered in the guest book, she was given a number and during the rest of the proceedings she was classified as an "odd" or an "even." Too many things happened to try and tell them in detail, but one contest which was indeed comical was the race down-hill to the pond and back, the prize being a horse back ride. Miss Irma D. Palmer and Alta Rogers and Mrs. George Shumake, Jr., were the winners and they more or less solemnly in a highly dignified manner, reaped the benefits of the superiority and rode old Dobbin, (one at the time, of course).

After several other games, the hostess invited the "odds" to the dining room where they were served refreshing punch and cake. During the refreshment hour Mrs. Mack Garner accompanied at the piano by Miss Sue Gates, sang that beautiful old favorite, "My Wild Irish Rose" which was much appreciated.

When the "odds" had received their share of the cake, and then the odds and semi-classical acts. At a very late hour the party had such a good time, and inviting Miss Foster to visit frequent. The guests included Misses Irma D. Palmer, Mrs. Sue Gates, Mary Nichols, Jessie Fuller, Golda Simmons, Juanita Mae Garner, Ferris Heathington, Shumake, Jr., and Harvey
