The Race Question

Lesson for March 27, 1949.

ESUS DID NOT know there was a race question. That is to say, there was no question for him, though he well knew that his neighbors found the race problem a hot one. All the germs of any race problem, even of race riots, were there in Palestine as in all of our world to-

First there was the feeling of racial superiority. Few, if any, peoples think of Dr. Foreman themselves as an inferior race. Nobody being kicked around if he thought he deserved nothing better. The Jews, to which race Jesus belonged, were no exception to the rule. They felt themselves the superior of any race on earth.

Two Sides of the Question

IN JESUS' time the Jew of Pales-tine was in the middle. The Romans, having conquered the land, were top-dog in Palestine. With the Romans, the Jews saw the under-side of the race question. But there were other races, much less pure than the Jews, races called "Canaanite" for want of a better name. These people were kicked around by the Jews, just as the Jews in turn were kicked around by the Romans. Looking at the Canaanites, the Jews saw the race question from the top side.

In Palestine the wounds of race quarrels were made worse by the vinegar of religious differences. In those days it was taken for granted: Different race, different religion.

Jesus' neighbors and relatives in Nazareth, like most Jews, supposed that God would favor only the "chosen people," namely themselves. So the Jew's resentment toward the Romans above him and his contempt of the Canaanites beneath him were made more bitter by his conviction that they would all end in hell except his own race.

What Jesus Did About It THE TWO STORIES in our lesson

(see the Scripture references) show the astonishingly simple way in which Jesus walked straight through those walls as if they did not exist. He passed no resolutions, denounced nobody; he simply treated all races alike. He helped the Roman army officer and the Canaanite woman precisely as if they had been Jews. (By the way, his remarks to that woman should not be misunderstood as rude. She did not take them that way. He spoke to her, we may well believe, with a smile, and she took him with equal good humor.) Jesus appresoda to eggs; mix with butter and ciated faith wherever he found it.

He was the last person to fancy that all human beings are alike. But he was the first to give all an equal chance. He took people as human beings, not as "Romans" or "Cana-

He neither cringed to the Romans nor bullied the Canaanites. He looked at all men and women with level eyes, seeing not their skins nor their clothes, but their hearts.

What We Can Do

OUR NORTH AMERICA is also criss-crossed by walls of prejudice - racial, political and religious. In Canada (for example) there is the friction between Canadians of French and those of English or Scotch descent; in the United States (not by any means confined to the South) between Negroes and white people, or between Japanese and white people; between the "old stock" and recent immigrants; and so on. Those walls look pretty solid: but a Christian will find that if he follows Jesus' example he can walk right through them. Last winter a national interdenominational organization challenged its 28 million members and through them the Christian world, with one of the most sweeping declarations of human rights ever drafted by an American church body.

Hitting at every type of discrimination-r a c i a l, political, social, economic, religious-the group has challenged the Church to work for the creation of a nonsegregated society "as proof of their sincerity."

Yet the real breakdown of human prejudices, hatreds and contempts. with the injustices growing out of these, does not come at one stroke by resolutions. It comes only by degrees, as Christ-inspired individuals make their own bright doorways.

Tomatoes Important

While the average farmer knows the value of a garden and always sees to it that he has ample garden planted to run his family through the year, there are still some men who glean their living from the soil who don't bother to plant a garden.

The aim in gardening, at all, is to supply the household with vegetaoles-summer and winter; and the tarmer who does this is always repaid not only with money saved and convenience of having supply immediately at hand, but also by the nourishing value of home-processed

As family sizes and needs vary as much as individual tastes, the garden should be as variable as anything could be. Thus a garden becomes such an individual matter that the seed list for each must be individually worked out.

However there is a principle involved that is general and that is "planning." Here is an example:

The tomato is among the most versatile of vegetables to prepare for the table and returns the most for the garden space occupied. So, there must be tomatoes. Properly handled, harvesting may start July 1 and tomatoes may be had fresh until several weeks after frost, or for about 120 days. At one and onehalf servings a day, the fresh to-mato amount should be about three and one-half bushels, as a serving for five persons is that needed to can a quart, a bushel canning 17 quarts.

For the remaining 245 days, the tomatoes must come from cans and, allowing two servings weekly, 70 quarts are needed, or five bushels more. The total becomes eight and one-half bushels, or 510 pounds. A correctly-tended plant yields 10 pounds and 50 plants are needed. Of these, 15 should be early (Break O'Day), and 35 late (Rutgers).

Other crops may be worked out as carefully based on family likes.

Humans May Take Rabbit Fever

Tuleremia or rabbit fever ransmitted to humans thru the careless handling of wild rabbits and every wild rabbit should handled with extreme care from the time he is bagged until he is laced on the table. If a rabbit i diseased, careless handling can cause tuleremia. This serious disase is transmitted from rabbits to humans usually thru direct contact with the infected animal or with objects contaminated by the meat or fur. Each year many persons contact rabbit fever because they failed to use proper precautions in the handling of the rabbit which are killed for food.

World Speculates on Premier Stalin's Plans

INFORMATION from London was to the effect that the opinion apparently is ased on reports which British Ambassador Sir Maurice Peterson had sent from Moscow. They said Peterson warned against expecting any change in Russian foreign policy as a result of Molotov's release as foreign minister. Andrei Gromyko, the "walking man" of the United Nations setup so called because of the many times ne has walked out of U.N. sessionsbecame Vyshinski's assistant.

All these diplomats agreed that Stalin would remain the No. 1 man in Russia even if he should quit the post of prime minister. His supreme position, they speculated, would be safeguarded by his personal prestige and his post as Communist party secretary general and politburo

THEY CONCEDED, however that Stalin, 69 and ailing, may wish to be free of administrative chores. Informants made it clear that Ambassador Peterson himself did not make an outright prediction that Stalin contemplates retiring from the prime minister's job. They said the sense of his reports merely led British diplomats to think that is a possibility.

The interesting thing, however, was the wild and widespread speculation set off in the world by a change of Russian personnel at high policy level. This reaction served to emphasize world jitteriness in the "cold war" with the Soviets.

RENT CONTROL:

Tik-Tok, Tik-Tok

With the continuing tie-up of business in the senate because of a filibuster on a rules procedure, congress had been racing against the clock in the matter of rent controls.

RENT CURBS were due to expire March 31. Congressmen generally were agreed that unless they were extended by that date, nothing more could be done this session to save or renew such controls.

Meanwhile, Republican sentiment in the house was that rent controls should be taken out of federal hands and turned over to the respective states. A mass meeting of GOP members of the house overwhelmingly supported the idea of ending federal rent control.

It was reported that Repubicans favored only a 90-day extension of curbs and many wanted all controls to end with the fixed expiration date. They also took the position that if any controls were continued. the house first should adopt an amendment by Democratic member Paul Brown of Georgia providing that landlords, as far as practicable, should be "given a reasonable return on the fair value of their property under rent con-

MANY CAPITOL observers expressed a conviction that the apparent trend toward relaxation of rent curbs was stemming from the effective lobbying of rental property owners and their organized groups.

But whatever was to be done to protect the public from gouging on the part of some landlords would have to be done fast. Time was swiftly running out.

MEXICO:

Oil for U. S.

Mexico had relented, the animosity of the old expropriation days was over, and American interests were to set up again in the oil business "south of the border."

Antonio Bermudez, director of Petroleos Mexicanos, announced that a drilling contract had been signed with a group of California oil men formed by Edwin W. Pauley and two American oil companies.

Senor Bermudez said the U.S. group's chief job would be drilling of wells in Tabasco and Varacruz

Under terms of the agreement, the U. S. group will not be paid for

The Mexican organization would set aside the proceeds of the sale of 50 per cent of the production obtained from wells drilled by the mentioned companies to pay off their expenses in drilling product for its employes by contributing 25

COW'S THAT, FELLOWS?

Yukon Lions Would Re-Ensilo "Grady"

The Yukon, Oklahoma Lions club was strictly on it's toes-members organized a "committee to Put The Cow Back in The Silo." The cow, of course, was "Grady," who had captured national attention and country-wide press coverage when she leaped into a silo and there resulted great puzzle-

"Grady," for whom owner Bill Mach paid $1,000, had jumped through a silo door 17 by 251/2 inches When the AP broke the story, the nation was agog.

However, farm editor Ralph Partridge, of the Denver Post, came up with the answer. "Grady" was given a sedative, well-greased ment as to how she was to be and then pushed and pulled through the door by which she had entered.

"Spell" Broken

In the remote fastenesses of the Pennsylvania mountains strange fears and legends abound. Among the mountain people such things as "hexes" and "spells" and witchcraft are real and fearsome things.

And out of these regions has drifted a strange tale of eerie graveside rituals in which a uniform was stripped from the exhumed body of a soldier to "break a spell" cast over his widow.

PVT. REUBEN ROCK was a woodsman in Greenfield township. A veteran of the north African. campaign, he returned in 1946 to shortly before the Jackson-Jefferhis home in the Allegheny mountains and married Rosella Dively, then 19. The rigors of army life had created in Pvt. Rock a tubercular condition that steadily sapped the veteran's strength. Rosella cared for her husband night and day in their unfinished home. She denied herself proper rest and nourishment while carrying on her nursing

But the veteran died. Before he that her husband be buried in it. That was done, then strange things began to happen. The young widow became a virtual invalid, refusing

And there are myriad folks in the section who are convinced that this action "broke the spell," enabled Rosella to regain her health.

BABY-SITTING literally has become "big business," with full-time agencies providing sitters on a daily, or part-time basis. to serve as part-time parents.

Women may be hired to take children to the theatre, to a party or out to dinner. Many families hire a sitter for one, two or three days every week, and the part-time parent takes over for the day.

Doubtless there are many com-munities in which a "Part-Time Parents" organization would be most welcome.

Mrs. ARTHUR DIVELY, Rosella's mother, was convinced Pvt. Rock had practiced witchcraft. Conceding he was "saved in the end," she told of weird "books and things" he kept in the house. "Rosella was crazy to be with him," she said. "She would go to him at any time. That's probably how he did it-by charming her picture that he always carried with

Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

Different Twist

ONLY THE PRESIDENT'S inside advisers know it, but he gave a decidedly different twist to the idea they originally put up to him of stumping the country.

Some of Mr. Truman's loyal friends had suggested to him, son dinner, that he go on a tour of the nation in order to keep contacts with the people, not to rap congress.

They were frankly afraid that Truman, sitting in the rarified atmosphere of Washington and surrounded by too many yes-men, was losing his perspective. So it was suggested that instead of going to Key West for a vacation, the President go on a trip through the west perhaps to visit some water-power project or the snowbound areas.

Mr. Truman, however, declined to give up his Key West outing, though he had spent two weeks there shortly before Christmas. And at the Jackson-Jefferson dinner, he twisted the original idea around so that his proposed trip becomes a campaign tour against congress-despite the fact that the present congress is overwhelmingly Democratic

Security for Servants

President Truman's program to extend federal old-age insurance to an additional 20 million persons will not slide through the house ways and means committee as easily as did the bill to extend reciprocal-trade agreements.

Although chairman "Muley Bob" Doughton of North Carolina agreed to introduce the administration bills on social security, he explicitly did so only "as the basis for consideration and discussion."

When current bearings have been completed, the committee will then sit down in executive session to write its own bill, which will probably bear little resemblance to the Truman

For example, the President includes 5 million farm workers, 3.5 million hired hands, and 2.5 million cooks, maids and other household servants in the 20 million total to be covered. Yet members of congress from rural areas, among them Speaker Sam Rayburn, are convinced that farmers are opposed to social security And the prospects of a rebellion from an army of irate housewives, compelled to pay and collect employment taxes on their hired help, makes even the congressmen from the cities shudder a bit.

Old Age Benefits

On the other hand, increasing social security benefits will definitely be approved. However, congress will throw out the benefit payments for both sickness of short duration (up to 26 weeks) and for extended disability. Too many people, the congressmen think, would get sick on purpose.

In addition, ald-age retirement for women will probably be reduced from 65 to 60 and a beneficiary will be allowed to earn up to $50 (now $15) per month without losing the right to his government pension check.

Bureaucrats Dug Snow

The army did a great job in feeding snowbound civilians and cattle during western storms, but other civilian agencies did equal pioneering jobs with no credit at all-the interior department's bureau of land management and the agriculture department's forest service.

Inside fact is that the land bureau proceeded with rescue work at a time when the army at first refused to budge.

What happened was that on January 12, Paul L. Fickenger, regional director of the Indian service at Billings, Mont., telephoned Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, army engineer at Omaha on January 12 asking the army for assistance. General Pick, one of the highest officers in the engineers corps and already nominated as chief of engineers, refused to budge.

He said he was most sympathetic with any plan to help snowbound people and cattle, but he had no authority to act. Also he said he had no funds allocated for this purpose.

Meanwhile, the bureau of land management also lacked funds or authority. Without waiting for word from Washington, however, its officials proceeded to spend money anyway. Figuring that Washington would reimburse them la'er, they worked round the clock with no figuring in of overtime.

Taking a chance that Washington later would pay the bill they contracted for snow-removal equipment, etc., which were not authorized. Later, the money came through. But it was the so-called civilian bureaucrats who had the courage to act when the army hesi-

Harry, thousands of pages which the American newspapers have devoted to you in reporting your speeches and your programs. The space devoted to any one of your speeches in the papers of the country would swamp the total space consumed by all those full-page ads over a period of six months. The ads get into few papers; no paper fails to report your speeches to its fullest ability.

Convert Tool Box To Magazine Stand

OUR blacksmith designed the original model for his hammers, files and nails. Seeing what a compact, trim and convenient magazine stand it made, we added casters and use it in our living room. The upper compartments conveniently hold ciga-rettes, matches and ash trays while the lower compartment accommodates even the largest magazines. Anyone can build this handy magazine stand from Full Size Pattern No. 25. User merely traces the pattern on the wood the pattern specifies, saws and assembles exactly how and where the pattern indicates.

DISCOVERS MINIATURE DEVICE FOR THE DEAF

Chicago, Ill. — A big improvement has been made in a new device now welcomed by thousands of deafened. It is so small if fits in the palm of the hand. Its clear noiseless tone is so efficient that even faint voices are understood. With it thousands now enjoy music, sermons and friendly companionship. Finger tip friendly companionship. Finger tip controls permit you to adjust it instantly to changing sound conditions.

Accepted by the American Medical Association's Council on Physical Medicine. The makers of Beltone are so proud of their achievement they will gladly send you free descriptive booklet on how to overcome deafness and explain how you may try this miniature device in the privacy of your home without risking a penny.
