MRS. E. CLEMAGE

Shortly after Frank was appointed to the supreme court, he took me into his study in the Washington hotel, and pointed to a stack

"That's where I spend my evenings," he said. "The newspapers say that I'm no lawyer. They make fun of my legal ability. But they're going to be disappointed. And you're going to be proud of my opinions," he

There was something of the boy in Frank Murphy-to the very end. He loved praise, hated criticism, and was always a little worried as to what kind of supreme court justice he would be. He shouldn't have been, for I am sure that some of Frank's dissents will stand up-as he so ardently hoped-alongside the ringing defenses of freedom written by Holmes. More important, Frank Murphy will always be known as one of our great champions of the common man.

Murphy became attorney general in January, 1939, and immediately launched the biggest political cleanup this country has ever seen. U.S. Judge Martin T. Manton, of the second circuit court in New York, had been getting away with graft for years. Many people knew this, but other attorneys general had let it pass.

In Louisiana, this column had exposed shocking graft by the old Huey Long gang. Frank Murphy took the columns, with supporting affidavits, called a grand jury, flew to New Orleans himself, and in record time convicted Gov. Richard Leche, the Democratic national committeeman, the head of WPA, the president of the state university, and several others.

In Missouri, the newspapers had talked about the graft of the Pendergast machine, but Washington paid no attention. But, under Frank Murphy, a tough district attorney-Maurice Milligan of Kansas Citygot justice department support. and Tom Pendergast ended up behind the bars.

City against G.O.P. Boss Nucky Johnson, and started to move against Boss Hague in Jersey City and Mayor Kelly in Chicago. The latter two were democrats.

Kicked Upstairs

It was widely rumored when Frank Murphy retired as attorney general to join the supreme court that he was "kicked upstairs" in order to protect the Democratic bosses. I have a personal reason for believing this was true.

However, it should also be noted that with the death of Justice Pierce Butler, a Catholic, in November, 1939, Roosevelt wanted a Catholic to take his place. Likewise, it was true that FDR's fair-haired boy, Robert H. Jackson, was being groomed for the presidency, and the White House wanted the justice department spotlight to play on

I am convinced, however, that the first factor-calling Murphy off the heels of the big-city bosseswas the most important. And here is my reason for thinking so.

By this time-early in 1940-most of the Louisiana scandals had been cleaned up, and a grand jury was considering the indictment of Mayor Robert Maestri of New Orleans on a hot oil charge. Suddenly, Chief Prosecutor O. John Rogge was called out of the jury room to answer the telephone from Washington. Returning to the jury room, he suspended the grand jury proceedings.

Learning of this mysterious move. went to Frank Murphy and asked Murphy told for an explanation. the truth. Mayor Maestri was not to be indicted, he said. He had received orders from the White

That was 1940-a presidential year. In order to get the nomina-tion, FDR needed the support of the big-city bosses, and in Louisiana the only man who could deliver the delegation was Mayor Maestri.

Ironically, when Frank Murphy went up to the supreme court to be sworn in, he asked Felix Frankfurter to accompany him. Murphy had recommended Frankfurter's court appointment to the White House, and they were close friends. But in a short time, however, they were bitter enemies. Frankfurter's scathing sarcasm hurt Murphy, and they scarcely spoke. Murphy was also bitter against brain-truster Tom Corcoran, once his closest friend, but who he felt had conspired to block his prosecution of city bosses.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIST

A-Bomb Output Hits Record Peak; House Approves Vet Pension Hike; Anderson Proposes New Farm Plan

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

ATOM BOMB:

Record Output

Maybe the atomic bomb isn't the world's most fearful weapon. Maybe the bomb's effectiveness for destruction has been over-emphasized. Maybe it doesn't mean anything at all-but if potential enemies of the U.S. could squeeze any comfort from those "maybe's," they were welcome to it.

For the United States had announced that its atom bomb production had reached an all-time high in the first six months of this year, and production is now on an assembly-line basis.

IN making that announcement, the atomic energy commission also announced that enormous tonnages of low grade uranium ores, have been located in this country, and could be used to produce A-bombs in an emergency if foreign supplies of high-grade ore were cut off.

All these disclosures were contained in the commission's sixth semi-annual report to congress.

Pointedly enough, the report made no mention of recent to-level secret conferences relative to sharing information with Britain and

It did have a lot to say, however, about the problems behind those conferences-United States' dependence on high-grade uranium ores from Canada and the Belgian

THE REPORT revealed that reserves of semi-processed ores are being built up steadily "to assure continuity of production." Research is being pressed on new extraction methods to cut the cost of processing the low-grade ores which abound in this country. And 'actions have been taken to improve and make more certain the supply of ore from abroad."

This latter statement, which was not explained, presumably referred to later negotiations with Britain and Canada for a longterm agreement on exchange of atomic information and division of uranium ore.

FARM PLAN:

Something New

Farm plans, or substitutes therefor, were still kicking around the halls of congress, despite recent legislative action retaining the current program of farm price sub-

Latest proposal in the field came didn't appeal to everyone's taste. Senator Anderson is the same gentleman who was onetime U.S. secretary of agriculture.

BRIEFLY, his plan called for flexible government supports . for some crops, rigid control plans for others, and authority to try out the Brannan plan for subsidy on some perishables.

Anderson heads a seven-man subcommittee casting about for an acceptable farm bill. Unless the senate and house managed to get together on some program, the delayed-action Aitken law passed by the Republican 80th congress would take effect January 1. It would permit, although not compel, the secretary of agriculture to maintain supports for major crops on a flexible scale ranging from 60 to 90 per cent of

The senators "try-out" proposal for the Brannan plan would be limited to "nonstorage perishables" including oranges, grapefruit, apples and vegetables.

ARMED UNITY:

Up to Truman

Final action on the bill strengthening unification of the armed services was up to President Truman-but there was no doubt that he would affix his signature to the measure in speedy fashion.

BY a lopsided vote of 356 to 7. the house gave final congressional approval to the measure in a bid for greater efficiency and economy in military operations.

The bill, which was sent to the President for his signature, sprung directly from the recommendations of the commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

THE citizens' committee for the Hoover report, headed by Dr. Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple university, immediately hailed adoption of the bill as "paving the way for savings of at least a billion dollars a year, and maybe more."

New Justice

U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark, smiling so broadly here, hesitated but a short while before accepting President Truman's offer of appointment to the United States supreme court bench. Sen. J. Howard McGrath (D., R.I.) was to succeed Clark as attorney general.

PENSIONS:

More for Vets

Veterans of World Wars I and II and the Spanish-American war stood to benefit to the tune of an additional 112 million dollars a year if a bill passed by the national house of representatives is approved by the senate.

WITHOUT a single dissenting vote, the house passed a measure raising veterans' pensions and disability payments by that figure annually.

There was another possible hurdle for the measure, however, even if it should pass the senate. for house action on the bill was taken despite objections from the White House. Whether this means that President Truman would have the political fortitude to veto such a bill if it ever came to him is an interesting conjecture. The logical supposition is that he would not, particularly if he entertains any deas of seeking a second term in

To indicate the potential weight of the veterans' vote as interpreted by house members, despite the fact that there was no opposition. a roll call was ordered and 354 from Senator Anderson (D., N.M.) members got "on the record" as

THE VETERANS' administration estimated that the first year cost of the proposal would exceed 112.5 million dollars. It made no estimate of costs in subsequent Principal provisions of the bill: Increase from $138 to $150 rate of pay for total disability; increase monthly payments to widows and dependents of wartime casualties: full compensation for World War veterans with disabilities presumed to be service-connected instead of the present 75 per cent: additional pay for dependents of veterans with service-connected 50 per cent disabilities.

At present such payments are made only if the disability is 60

GIVE-AWAYS: .

No Sinecure

The business of winning radio give-away prizes is not all beerand-skittles. A Hollywood insurance man is authority for the conclusion.

He spent his vacation as a contestant on such shows and wound up with $150 in one week-much more than he could have made working. He attended 20 radio shows, averaging four a day, saying that he couldn't stand any more than that.

That's all he could stand, he said. "It's much more work than working." he explained. The questions are easy, but the nervous strain is terrific. It's too hard on me to do it more than one week each year. He made his killing, however, on one program. He was asked to tell a girl how her husband would feel about her having a baby.

He replied that "things are very convenient for fathers these days. For that he received prizes worth $150. How to get picked as a contestant? Just sit on the aisle and wisecrack as the announcer goes

ROUGH GOING

Adversity Plagues Viking Saga Revival

The "invading" vikings had not ! counted on England's weather. So, what was to have been a thrilling, colorful arrival of a sleek oaken ship on the Thames, turned into a ride in a green bus, with the Vikings' horned helmets lying in their laps and their sharp spears neatly stacked in the racks overhead. It was all rather anti-climatic.

The band of modern Danish Vikings rowed and sailed their open boat through more than 600 miles of North Sea to reach England, Along the banks of the Thames thousands of Britishers had gathered to see them arrive. But bad weather intervened and the Vikings decided to have their ship towed up-river to pier.

EDUCATION:

Bicker & Strife

The proposal for federal aid to education was getting nowhere fast. Its proponents, realizing all the while upon what thin ice they skated, had believed the plan had been handled with sufficient tact and skill to win some hope of its final approval. But at this stage of the game, that appeared to be nothing more than wishful thinking.

THE explosive issue, made doubly volatile by the injection of the religious issue by a bill offered by Representative Barden (D., N.C.) and by the public row between Francis Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, threatened to kill the proposal entirely. The Barden bill would exclude Catholic and other non-public schools from all federal aid. cause Mrs. Roosevelt, in some of her syndicated columns, had argued for separation of church and state, Cardinal Spellman accused her of being anti-Catholic She denied the allegation and pointed to her record as proof. WITHOUT any attempt to argue the relative merits of each view point, capitol observers were generally agreed that these developments had done nothing to help the plan for federal government to assist in school programs by giving financial aid.

The proposal without the added controversies was stormy enough in itself, inasmuch as there had been much hue and cry to the effect that federal aid to schools would mean ultimately federal effort to control the choice of what would be taught in the schools.

It appeared that this obstacle to the proposal might have been hurdled, but when the religious issue was injected the fate of the plan was seriously jeopardized.

ADMIRAL BYRD:

Far Horizons

The lure of the frozen, silent spaces were calling again and Adm. Richard Evelyn Byrd, veteran polar explorer, was harkening.

ACCORDING to reports out of New York, some 3,500 men and eight ships are earmarked for an Antarctic expedition, to be headed by Byrd, which will have as its objective the mapping of a vast area of unknown territory in the Antarctic about as big as Europe.

If present plans were finally ap proved, the first ships would sail in October. The expedition would establish a base in New Zealand and remain in the arctic about four months of the south polar "summer," before returning to the United States about April, 1950.

IT WAS UNDERSTOOD the venture depended upon approval Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, but planning has been underway for some time. This, certainly, would indicate a high optimism that Johnson's approval is assured.

It was said naval planes would probably participate in extensive aerial mapping, air-sea rescue work, and the scouting for ice leads The goal of the expedition, apparently, is to be a great, oblong stretch of unexplored territory across the South Pole from Little America, site of the Byrd base camp in the admiral's expedition

A LARGE AREA, part of which is claimed by Australia and Norway, lying south of Africa and stretching across the snowy wastes of the Antarctic toward Australia and South America, is virtually uncharted, and it is expected that aerial mapping will reveal many of its secrets.

The expedition, if finally approved, would be the admiral's fifth to the south polar regions.

Urged Arms Outlay

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who put in the major licks favoring appropriation of approximately 1.5 billion dollars for arms to implement the North Atlantic pact, declared the aid program would prevent any aggressor from achieving "quick and easy victory" in a future war.

WHITE HOUSE:

Tradition Wins

Score a victory for history and tradition: the White House, official abode of the United States presidents, will not be razed. Instead, the historic structure will be given a 5.20 million-dollar face-lifting job.

A GROUP of six men settled the issue once and for all between advocates of renovation and those who wanted to tear down the present building and erect a new one

REPORTER IN WASHINGTON

WALTER SHEAD, WNU Correspondent

Five Percenters

MOST EVERYTHING that happens in Washington during these long summer dog days can be viewed through the jaundiced eye of politics . . . of what it will mean in votes next year.

Latest sensation is the so-called "five percenter scandal." There are those who want to blow up this five percent deal into another Teapot Dome on the eve of the 1950 elections. They want another congressional investigation to be dragged out as long as possible.

Insofar as this reporter can judge, there is nothing here that can be blown into the category of a scandal. There are scores of people who have had government jobs, who know their way around Washington in the huge and vast ramifications of this government, who are making a living telling others who come here, wanting to sell to the government, how to go about it. Of course there may be some grafters who may attempt to trade on the fact they know "Harry." But these are few and will be weeded out anyway, for it is the "knowhow" rather than "influence" which will keep these people in business.

Here is how it works. Take a big business on the scale of U.S. Steel or International Harvester or Edison Electric. This business would have a large office with a highly paid staff with an unlimited expense account to look after its government contract work here in Washington.

But a small business from St. Louis, for instance, thinks it has something the government should buy, whether it's an office desk or a new gadget. So this firm sends a representative to Washington to sell the government. He may be an able man, but he's here two weeks or a month before he establishes the proper connection, only to find out the government isn't interested or that he should have gone to San Francisco, or St. Louis or Chicago where the contract for that commodity is let. So the firm spends a lot of useless money and winds up right where it started. So the common practice has been to contact a representative in Washington who is paid a retainer to inform the small business concern the how, where and when about the commodity he has to sell. It's like having your own man on the job. That's what a "five percenter" is. . . .

And Washington is full of them. ence in Government practicing before the various governmental agencies; business men who have had experience in government: career men who have grown tired of government service setting up their own shop, even newsmen who have run "beats" in Washington for many years have gone into the business of "Washington represen-

But it is legitimate business and we don't believe the few grafters who attempt to trade on "influence" can blow it up into a pre-election scandal, even though some anti-administration congressmen want to try it.

Power Lobby

Right now, as this is written, the private power lobby is sitting pretty, having won a signal victory over the public power cooperatives in slashing appropriations for transmission lines, particularly for the southwest power administration expansion in Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri, These projects were backed by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, which claims to represent 10 million farm people in 42 states.

The private power lobby lost its initial fight when the house voted some $20,000,000 for these projects. The lobby won in the senate when the senate appropriations committee not only slashed the money from the appropriations, but ordered the Southwestern Power Administration to sign contracts with the private power companies in these areas for transmission to consumers.

It may be in the closing days of this session before the battle is over, because the fight is scheduled to come on the senate floor with the public power advocates seeking to put the money back into the interior department appropriations.

Recession?

When you read the statistics you do wonder if the talk about a recession is not for a purpose. People have about $60 billion dollars in their pockets; corporate profits are at a new high; there are still more people employed than in any year except the peak of 1948.

The securities exchange commission has just released figures showing net working capital of corporations increased during the first quarter of 1949.

Pastry Perfection RE YOUR PIES wonderful to A RE YOUR PIES wonder melt-look at? Do they have a meltingly tender crust? Is the filling a delightful suprise in-stead of a dis-appointment? Unless you can answer a resounding

"yes" to each of those three questions, better take a good look at tips given in this column. They'll help you reach pastry making perfection if you put the hints into practice.

Pie is a dessert to have at any luncheon or dinner, whether light or heavy. It might be a rich apple pie, topped with scoops of ice cream if the meal itself has been shy on calories. Pies may be baked or chilled.

Their crust may be pastry or crumb. Their fillings may be fruit, berries, juice or eggs or combinations of these, so you see how much variety pie can give your meals. If you have some especially bright and lovely berries or fruit, don't hide them under a top crust. # Singing Holidays

Lesson for August 14, 1949

TF A CITIZEN of the U.S.A observed all the holidays that are officially counted as legal, somewhere in his wide country, he would have 43 days off every year. Holi-days are a national habit in all coun-Not content with what the law gives us, we take our personal vacations besides. But how many holidays do we sing about? (One might even Dr. Foreman dare to ask, how many are worth singing about?) In the United States, there are known to this writer no New Year songs, none for Decoration day or Labor day, none for Armistice day, none for the various birthdays celebrated hither and yon. (Who ever heard of a song to commemorate Thomas Jefferson?) We may not even sing on our personal vacations. we are too busy working up a suntan. On the other hand, we could hardly think of Independence day, Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter without being reminded of the songs that go with them-The Star Spangled Banner or America the Beautiful for the Fourth of July, Now Thank We All Gur God in No vember, and all the Christmas and Easter carols.

God and Country IT looks as if some kinds of holidays produce songs and others don't. It appears to be a general If the holiday is specially patriotic or religious, then people sing; otherwise they don't. God and country, in short, arouse emotion and enthusiasm which (for example) the memory even of a great man like Jefferson, or the planting of a tree, does not. This is generally true throughout the world. It was true in ancient Israel, for many of the Psalms are holiday hymns, festival songs. Some years ago a religious denomination issued a new hymn book. One minister roundly denounced the book because it had introduced a few patriotic hymns. 'My Country, 'tis of Thee' has no place in public worship, he said.

If that man had been a closer student of the Psalms, he would not have made such a eriticism. Most patriotic hymns are really prayers for one's native land; Psalms 105 and 106 are only two of a number of Psalms which are in the best sense of the word patriotic.

If the reader will look through the Psalms for himself, noting all the references to God and to Israel, remembering that Israel was the name of the poet's country, he will be convinced that in those times as in these, love for God and love for country are singable.

Hallelujah

OUR word "Hallelujah" is Hebrew, and comes from the Psalms. It means "Praise ye the Lord!" Incidentally, it is a religious word, and should not be used, as it so often is, irreverently or lightly. Psalms 111-118 in our Bible were sung as a group, and called the Hallel, or the Praise. The Hallel was sung regularly at the three great holiday festivals: Passover (near our Easter time). Pentecost (in early summer, ancestor of our Whitsunday), and Tabernacles (in the fall).

When our Lord had his "Last Supper" he and his friends would sing these very Psalms. The "hymn" they sang before they went out was very probably the latter part of this group, 116-118, always sung at the end of the Passover meal.,

The note of praise in these Psalms is very strong. They are not in a minor key.

Parodies

A SAD FACT today is that the un-Christian world, which does not understand religion at all, has taken over our religious holidays but leaves the religion out. The result is a parody, something without rhyme or reason. Take a look, next winter, at Christmas greeting cards for sale. You will find scot-ty pups, all sorts of things, more easily than you will find true Christmas messages.

For people who are not Christians, Christmas is only Xmas, a time for exchanging useless presents, a time for shopkeepers to make money.

And as for Easter, there are cities where the big items are only the bunnies and the parade, neither of which has the slightest thing to do with the real Easter.

ROUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 28

Proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of Texas by adding to Article XVI thereof a new Section to be Numbered 68 and authorising the Legislature to provide for a statewide system of retirement and disability pensions for appointive officers and employees of the several counties of this State: providing that participation therein by counties shall be voluntary, and authorized by the qualified voters of such county, and providing that adaminstration of said system may be committed to the same body set up to administer the statewide municipal retirement system authorized under Section 51f of Article III.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:
Section 1. That Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section, to be numbered Section 63, which shall read as follows:

"Section 63. The Legislature shall have the authority to provide for a statewide system of retirement and disability pensions for appointive officers and employees of the counties of this State under such a plan and program as the Legislature shall authorize: provided, that participation therein by counties shall be voluntary, and shall first be authorized by vote of the qualified voters of such county. Administration of such system may be committed to the same body as may be set up to administer the municipal retirement system provided for by Section 51f of Article III."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors for members of the Legislature at an election to be held throughout this State on the second Tuesday in November, 1949; and at said election the ballots shall have printed thereon the words "FOR the Constitutional Amendment authorizing a statewide system for retirement and disability pensions for appointive county officials and employees," and "AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment authorizing a statewide system for retirement and disability pensions for appointive county officials and employees," sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and shall have the foregoing proposed amendment published as required by the Constitution for proposed amendments thereto. Sec. 4. If at said election, a majority of the rotes cast are "FOR the Constitutional Amendment authorizing a statewide system for retirement and disability pensions for appointive county officials and employees," the foregoing proposed amendment shall become Section 63 of Article XVI of the Constitution of Texas, and proclamation shall be made by the Governor thereof. Health Unaffected By Soil Fertility Status Of Land Not Disease Cause

Any statement that cancer, arthritis or heart disease are increasing because the foods we eat are raised on mineral-starved land is hokum according to specialists on the subject.

An article in Successful Farming magazine contends there is more oratory than knowledge about the effects of soil fertility on human health. The experts talked to doctors of the soil, doctors of plants, doctors of humans, nutrition experts and evangelists who say we are facing "race suicide."

It was pointed out that heart dis-ease is often linked to diet, but not because food is of poor quality. Rather stoutness and heart disease show a correlation.

As to arthritis and cancer, millions will call you blessed if you can show definitely how to stop them through diet. Meanwhile, it is dishonest to give the false hope that soil treatment can cure these dis-

HURRICANE BLAST.

Other myths blasted in the article are (1) that the baby won't have good bones if its formula is made of milk from a cow whose feed was deficient in phosphorus calcium; (2) that the adult won't build muscle and blood from beefsteak devoid of protein-building minerals and iron; (3) that all chemical fertilizers are poison and that compost and earthworms are the only means of soil enrichment we should use, and (4) that we are being starved to death because the grains, fruits and vegetables we eat come from soils which lack needed minerals.

Discussing starvation from mineral deficiency in foods, it is asked why we have a generationby-generation increase in the size of the bony structure of our young people if we are mineral-starved.

So far as scientists know, man needs some 12 mineral elements for growth. Ruminant animals need cobalt, to make 13. Plants also need 13 mineral elements, 11 of them the same as needed for man and animals. Except for cobalt and iodine, plants won't grow unless all the man-needed minerals are present, according to the arti-

As to statements that some milk is low in phosphorus and calcium, it is said a cow will take calcium from her own bones and put it in her milk if her diet is low in calcium. As that supply runs low, she will give less and less milk. But it will contain honest weight in minerals. When her mineral supply is gone, she quits giving milk and often dies from the effects of robbing her body.

A fertilized farm will produce more milk than one unfertilized but not better milk. That's because it produces more grass. There is no evidence to prove the grass is any better, blade for blade.

BRANNAN PLAN: Loses Trial

The house approved a measure continuing the farm price-support program in its present form. The bill was slated to go to the senate. The house vote was 383-25.

The retention of the 90 per cent of parity supports killed the Aiken law, passed by the Republicancontrolled 80th congress and which was scheduled to go into effect

The administration gained a partial victory in eliminating the Aiken law but saw defeat in being denied a test run of the controversial Brannan agricultural plan.

Under the Brannan plan, perishable crops would be allowed to sell at what the market would pay; then the government would pay the farmers the difference between the support level and the average price the farmers got.

The Pace bill, which embodied provisions for a trial run on three farm products of the Brannan plan, lost out, 222-152.

It was the first time in American history that a peacetime pledge had been made that the United States will take action (military action, if necessary) if certain other nations are attacked.

UNDER the north Atlantic treaty this nation and 11 other nations pledge that an attack upon one will be considered an attack upon all. The pact also pledges that the 12 members of the treaty shall prepare for mutual defense before the need for military action actually

A small minority waged bitter opposition to the pact during the 13 days of senate debate upon it. Three Republicans, Wherry of Nebraska, Taft of Ohio and Watkins of Utah, tried to write a reservation into the treaty, specifying that ratification did not impose upon the United States the moral or legal obligation to supply arms to the other 11 signers.

The heavy vote for ratification and the impressive vote against arms reservations were victories for the senate bipartisan foreign policy. Only two Democrats voted against ratification-Johnson of signing the pact.

Furniture Arrangement Is Important

By Ertta Haley

"A NEW BRIDE moved next door, and you should see the beautiful furniture she has! But it just doesn't look right, the way she's fitted it in the rooms," said an acquaintance of mine recently.

Many people have such good common sense about arranging furniture, they need little or no help. However, certain basic rules applied to room arrangement can help those who are a little weak on knowledge of just what is right.

Balance is the key to arranging furniture properly, but the balance may be formal or informal, depending upon the rooms, the type of decoration and architecture which each has in his home.

There are some rooms which are so constructed that several ways of arranging the furniture are possible, while other rooms are limited in what they permit.

Those people who want to rearrange furniture constantly show they are basically dissatisfied with now the house looks. Once a pleasing arrangement has been achieved, you'll be so happy with it, that nothing could induce you to destroy the convenience, service and beauty of it.

All Sides of Room Should Have Balance

A feeling of equilibrium is essential for giving a pleasing feeling, and this is achieved by distributing weight according to the walls. Each should balance the opposite wall. Each should also be balanced with equal weight on each half. The highest part should be centered on the wall.

When you have formal rooms, the formal type of balance should predominate. The centers of interest like sofas, secretaries and fireplaces are usually flanked with

It's a Transparent Mistake

-By Will Bernard, LL.B.

Is a Shopper to Blame If He Mistakes a Window For the Door?

The front of a paint store was mostly plate glass-including the doors. One sunny day a customer walked in, bought some paint, and started out. But, in a moment of confusion, he aimed in the wrong direction-and didn't stop until he had put one foot right through a plate glass window! When the store sued him for damages, the customer protested that he had been confused by all that glass and all that sunlight. However, the court rejected this excuse and held the man liable for the value of the window. The judge said that if a person was able to find his way into the store he ought to be able to find his way

A high-school student, riding a bicycle on a sidewalk, struck pedestrian from behind and knocked him down. The pedestrian later brought an assault and battery action against the youth. At the trial, the student argued that, while he might have been a little careless. he wasn't guilty of assualt and battery because the accident was not intentional. However, when the judge learned that the sidewalk was no less than 14 feet wide, he decided that the youth had indeed an implied invitation to visit each committed an asseult and battery, other.'

A man checked his suitcase at a depot parcel room, receiving for it a numbered claim ticket. He didn't bother to read the ticket-and so didn't see the clause that, in case of loss, the check room company was not liable for more than $10. Sure enough, the suitcase vanished. When the man sued for $200-the value of the contents -the company pointed to the $10 limitation clause on the ticket. But the court ruled that the man was entitled to full reimbursement for his loss.

Is it "Trespassing" To Visit Someone Without an Invitation?

A farmer's son decided to pay a visit to a neighboring farm. As the youth pushed his way through field of tall corn, the neighbor heard him coming-but couldn't see him. Deciding the intruder was a fox, the neighbor hastily grabbed a shotgun and fired - hitting the outh in the leg. Later sued for lamages, the neighbor insisted that the young man was an uninvited 'tresspasser' and therefore had no kick coming. However, the court disagreed and awarded damages to the injured youth. The judge said he was not a trespass-"because there exists among farm folk, as well as among others,

Large pieces are always placed parallel to the walls so they do not violate the basic lines of the room. Upholstered chairs may be placed at angles to add interest while straight-backed chairs look well placed against walls.

Try giving plenty of open space between various groups within the room for a pleasing, uncluttered effect. If a picture belongs to a certain grouping, hang it low enough so that it becomes a part of its own group, rather than a wall decoration in its own right.

Tall pieces are usually placed centered against a wall to add balance to the room and still give it plenty of space.

Arrange Furniture Group For Certain Activities

Furniture group, the phrase we meet so often in interior decoration, refers to arrangements that are part of a room. A conversational group is planned to take in several people who just like to relax and talk readily. A musical group may be placed around the piano or radio to make these activities pleasing. Groups such as this are logical and useful arrangements, and thus contribute to the utility and comBe Smart!

"That brings me to today's problem. My oldest daughter is sweet, easy-going, great big girl, who is marrying a man in every way suited to her; he owns a fine old suburban house, inherited from his father, and he and Carolyn are already talking of the family they mean to raise. The problem is his mother and father, who have in Fifth Avenue shops, night-clubs been living in the old house, Harold and beauty-parlors, she found here charging them with neither rent self headed for motherhood, nor taxes, and in fact paying a nominal board. They propose to stay, Harold wants them to stay, and to my distress Carolyn appears perfectly satisfied with the proposed arrangement.

EVERY ATOM of the universe, said Calvin, sparkles with the glory of God. That is our thought for this week: In the created universe we can see the God who wonderful more than all his works. The selected Psalms express four different aspects of God's creative power. Psalm 8 brings out the dignity and the glory of man, made to be master of the earth: Psalm 19: 1-6 listens to the majestic music of sun and stars: Psalm 65:9-13 sees nature as a farmer sees it, in terms of sun, rain and crops: Psalm 104, one of the noblest poems in existence, celebrates God's glory in all things great and small.

Mystery

THESE inspired Psalmists saw a high truth: Nature is for man's use, in part, but has also a value, a beauty and a splendor all its own; and it is one of the ways by which we can know God. What is true of nature is true, far more, of the God who created all things. One of the thoughts suggested to their minds was the mystery of nature.

Even today, with all that science has discovered, there is mystery in the most elemental facts of existence. What is light? What is life? What is energy? Where did it come from and what is the destiny of it

A common grass blade performs miracles that chemistry has not yet initiated. The mystery of nature suggests the deeper mystery of nature's God.

Power

WE ARE beginning now to realize, even better than the Psalmists could, how much energy there is in nature. We have seen tragic evidence of the atom's pow-Now we have also found that while energy cannot be destroyed, it cannot be created by us, though it constantly changes form.

As the water in a power station which has run through a turbine will not climb back up to turn the turbine again, so the whole universe (they tell us) is in the process of running

But how was the universe born, how was energy born, in the first place? How was the universe, so to speak, wound up? Science does not profess to know; but religious answers by faith: In the beginning, God . . .

Beauty

THE writer of Psalm 104 was well aware that some parts of nature are useless to man; but he rejoiced in them none the less. Few of his neighbors had any use for whales, for example, but he takes delight in the whale (he calls him Leviathan) just playing in the ocean. St. Augustine, in the same mood, says somewhere about things like wasps and spiders that if we could forget that they bite, we would be greatly awed by their beauty and the perfection of their mechanism. Indeed, St. Augustine, in one of his prayers, calls God "Pulchritudo," Beauty. Just as God is The Truth and The Good, so he is The Beautiful.

THE writers of these nature-Psalms (especially 19 and 65) impressed by another fact about nature: its regularity. You can count on the sunrise, you always know which order the seasons will follow. Even things like earthquakes and tornadoes, which seem pretty unpredictable, follow laws of their own. Science has now shown this to be true on a cosmic scale. The stuff of which the farthest stars are made is just the same (only a lot hotter!) as the stuff in rocks under your feet at this minute. The laws that govern the fall of a leaf or the shape of raindrop are the same laws that can be seen in the whirling of star-dust fifty million light years away.

The Creator of all is not erratic, eccentric or capricious. He is the God of Law, for from his infinite Mind come all the patterns, known to us or yet unknown, by which the vast fabric of the universe is woven. Mystery, Power, Beauty, Law: All nature, not only the stars, shine with all these-and as Addison

The laundress's rival tried desperately to find someone who could dispute the washwoman's assertion that she had blue blood in her veins.

"Could be," said one of those asked, "all the women on her side of the family have used washing - blue for eight genera-

Two very distinguished looking Southern gentlemen met on the street one morning after having attended a party the night before. The major greeted his ranking officer with all the respect and solemnity that the occasion demanded. "Colonel," he said. "how do you feel, suh?" The colonel's reply was just a bit on the brusque side. "Major," he declared a little thickly, "I feel like hell, suh, as any Southern gentleman should. suh, at this hour of the morning.

A social climber, trying to impress a prominent member of a club she had just joined, traced her ancestry all the way back to Julius Caesar.

The prominent member admitted that went back quite a distance but pointed out that the pedigree of her own family filled six pages of parchment and in the middle was a notation, "About this time the world was created.'

TET'S talk facts . . . Here is a tire that has extra bar height, Lextra bar length, and a curved bar design that outcleans, outpulls, and outlasts any other tire. NO OTHER TIRE has ALL these advantages.

Those massive tread bars take a bigger bite, a better holdand THAT'S NOT ALL. Because they're curved for selfcleaning, they keep right on pulling while other tires only clog and spin.

And here's another big feature. Every inch of tread-bar length does its share of the pulling because the low-pressure body design puts ALL of the tread in FULL ground contact for a FULL TRACTION BITE. Because it's patented, this tire gives you many advantages which no other tire has. Let your Firestone Dealer or Firestone Store demonstrate these facts to your satisfaction.
