SANITATION COUNCIL TO SEEK $50,000 FOR RESEARCH

UNIFORM STATE SANITARY CODE PREDICTED

AUSTIN.—To assist Governor-elect W. Lee O'Daniel's "industrialization program," the year-old Texas Building Sanitation Council will seek legislative approval of a $50,000 to $100,000 annual program for sanitation research, W. R. Woolrich, vice-chairman, said here this week.

The twelve-man council, an outgrowth of a sanitation conference of municipal, health, industrial and educational officials here last spring, drew its proposal after an all-day conference Monday on the campus of The University of Texas.

The council will seek its funds from legislative earmarking and "personal gifts." Vice-chairman Woolrich added.

Engineering heads of the state schools are cooperating in the project independent of their schools and strictly as members of the council, it was pointed out.

Included in the research program would be "comprehensive studies" of water sterilization, chlorination, filtration and softening; utilization and sanitary disposal of sewage and industrial waste; expansion and control of housing; and study of industrial refrigeration.

After approval of the committee's report Monday the council predicted enactment by the next legislature of a uniform State sanitary code for state control of problems of sanitation and industrial waste.

Dean O. V. Adams of Texas Technological College is chairman of the council's research committee and author of the proposed program.

Anyone 18 to 25 May Register With NYA-State Employment Service

1400 Young People Placed in Private Jobs in One Month

AUSTIN.—More than 1400 Texas young people between the ages of 18 and 25 were placed in private jobs during the past month as a result of the placement program operated jointly by the Texas State Employment Service and the National Youth Administration.

J. C. Kellan, State Youth Director, said.

A total of 1311 jobs for young people were filled during November by the four Junior Placement Offices. As a consequence of the youth's own efforts or the assistance of NYA representatives, more than 130 other young people, assigned to NYA Work Projects, obtained private jobs.

Preliminary reports for December revealed that many Texas boys and girls received private jobs during the holiday season.

The four Junior Placement offices are operated in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio. The employment service also maintains young people through its regular offices in other towns. Their services are available not only to the 15,000 youth assigned to the Work Program but to any who wish to register.

WEST TEXANS WILL MARCH UP DALLAS' MAIN STREET JANUARY SECOND

TO SUPPORT TEXAS TECH'S RED RAIDERS IN COTTON BOWL GAME

LUBBOCK.—Texas Tech's Red Raider supporters throughout the South Plains and other points in West Texas will have an opportunity January 2 to march in one of the largest parades ever staged in Dallas or the Lone Star State.

Announcement of this fact was made late this week in Lubbock after several special committee meetings were held to work out the details for the "On To Dallas" plans for the "On To Dallas" parade.

At least one special train will leave Lubbock, and the date will be Sunday night, January 1, at 10:45 p. m., arriving Dallas the next morning at 8:30 a. m. Reservations are coming in fast, and the committee announced that those who have not made reservations should do so at once. If necessary, another special train will be chartered. Every train, whether regular or special, coming into Dallas will arrive in that city the morning of January 2 within a 45 minute period.

The Santa Fe, Texas & Pacific and Fort Worth & Denver trains arriving in Dallas the morning of January 2, all will arrive between 7:45 and 8:30. Regular as well as special trains will bring thousands of Red Raider boosters to the Cotton Bowl city.

Present plans call for a huge parade to begin at the Union Station in Dallas shortly after the arrival of the last train. Headed by the Texas Tech band and assisted by the Lubbock Westerners High School band, thousands of West Texans will parade up Main Street to the West Texas headquarters at Hotel Adolphus. A number of other bands from over the state, including several from the city of Dallas, will meet these special trains and escort them to their downtown headquarters.

Every person going to the Cotton Bowl game, whether on a special train, chartered bus or in private cars, is asked to be at the Union Station in Dallas not later than 7:45 Monday morning, January 2. Those who go to Dallas ahead of time are urged to be present and have a part in this huge parade.

Mr. J. B. Walker is reported ill with flu.

YOU ARE INVITED

Outdoor Inaugural, and Reception Stationed for January 17

The people of Austin will be hosts January 17 for an inaugural reception honoring Gov. Lee O'Daniel, Lieut. Gov. Coke Stevenson, and their families.

They are expecting a record attendance of something like 100,000 people for the daytime exercises at Memorial Stadium, and the reception, to be held the evening of January 17.

Raymond Brooks, secretary of the reception committee, tells us that anyone coming to the inaugural ceremonies who does not have an invitation in advance, may secure an invitation by calling at the place of business of Mr. O. F. Lockhart, Democratic State Executive Committee member, and chairman of the Inaugural Invitation Committee, 811 Congress Avenue, Austin.

AAA COMMUNITY MEETINGS GET UNDERWAY

Wells Unit Lynn Co. ACA Will Elect Friday

AACCORDING TO C. A. Lawrence, secretary of the Lynn County Agricultural Conservation Association, a community meeting will be held 7 p. m. Friday night (Dec. 30) at Wells for the purpose of electing community committeemen and a delegate to help elect county committeemen later at the county convention.

Other community meeting notices are expected soon. Date for county convention has not been announced.

COLLEGE STATION.—The Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee in session here last week set December 28 as the date when farmers throughout the state will elect community committeemen to help direct the AAA's farm and ranch program in 1939.

George Slaughter, state committee chairman, pointed out that any person participating in the AAA program in 1938 is a member of the County Agricultural Conservation Association; and members in each community, at the time they elect community committeemen from their own number, choose also a delegate and alternate to a county convention, where county committeemen are selected.

"In this way," Slaughter remarked, "farmers actually are governing the program in their respective localities. They have a representative voice in determination of acreage allotments, goals, normal yields, and other things on which administration of the program is based, and they choose their own local administrators."

Slaughter said the AAA is determined to "place on the shoulders of actual farmers more and more responsibility for making the program click" and that he is confident that farmers "are capable of getting the job done."

All 1937 applications for payment by the AAA must be in the state office by January 31, states the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee.

JANUARY 8 TO 14 IS 'SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION WEEK'

SOLUTION SEEN ON INDIVIDUAL FARM

COLLEGE STATION.—Texas could stop her disastrous floods and halt the siltin' up of reservoirs within the next 10 years by holding rainfall on individual farms and ranches, C. (Dutch) Hohn, specialist in soil and water conservation with the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, said in commenting on Governor James Allred's proclamation, made December 27, creating January 8-14 Texas Soil and Water Conservation Week.

"The conservation job in Texas is already more than a third finished as far as the crop land of the state is concerned, and the run-off of water and loss of soil is much greater on cultivated land than on pastures and ranches," Hohn pointed out.

"The 20,000 dams built by farmers and ranchmen during the past two years as water reservoirs for cattle alone have a capacity of more than 200,000 acre feet of water, or over one-fifth the capacity of the great Buchanan, which he declared.

Texas, one of the last states to realize the value of protective measures against loss of soil and rainfall, has been a leader in conservation work since the Extension Service began conservation work in 1910, Hohn said. County agricultural agents, vocational teachers, AAA workers, civic organizations, commissioners' clubs, the Soil Conservation Service, and farmers have combined to protect Texas land through terraces and contouring at the rate of some 3 million acres a year for the past two years. Some 18 million acres of crop land remain unprotected, he estimated.

"The church, the press, civic organizations, service clubs, and just plain unattached businessmen are joining in to make Soil and Water Conservation Week a great occasion," Hohn stated. He said many programs had been arranged during the week and that numerous ministers would make conservation their theme on Sunday, January 8.

LYNN GINNINGS TOTAL 54,615 BALES

GENESIS reports show that there were 54,615 bales of cotton ginned in Lynn county from the crop of 1938 prior to December 13th as compared with 121,618 bales ginned to the same date last year.

This report is by E. W. Holloway, Tahoka, special agent.

DAWSON COUNTY HOLDS COMMUNITY MEETINGS TO ELECT AAA OFFICIALS

LAMESA.—On Wednesday night, December 28, meetings were held at Shumake, Precinct 1, Hancock, Precinct 2, Fairview, Precinct 3, and Union, Precinct 4, to elect the 1939 community committeemen and a delegate to elect the 1939 county committee, X. B. Cox Jr. is secretary of the Dawson County Agricultural Conservation Association.

BLOCKER AND MILLER TRADING PLACES

Blocker's grocery is moving into the location of the Miller Variety store only a few doors down the street, and the variety store stock is being rearranged in the old location of the grocery store.

It has been a hard week for all concerned, but both businesses expect to profit by the change. Although it will be several days before shelving is completed and stocks neatly arranged, both places have things where they can get at them and boxes of moving without missing a sale. They are busy, but "not too busy to take care of their customers."

1939—A NEW YEAR FOR AGRICULTURE

"Kitchen Market" Free of Tariff and Handlers' Charges

COLLEGE STATION.—A many question marks face the Texas farmer in relation to his 1939 income prospects, the outlook report of the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics shows.

The agricultural income is influenced primarily by consumption and market demands, H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, points out, and the farmer can do much to influence individual income by the expansion of domestic and foreign markets.

"The Texas farmer does not have a big question, however, to help him get the best out of his kitchen market. The opportunity is growing, and the farmer should be prepared to take advantage of it."

income for use in purchasing of other necessities, estimated that the kitchen market, free of tariff and handlers' charges, were developed in Texas to its full possibilities, it would have a monetary value of 250 million dollars a year, or the equivalent of 6 million bales of cotton at 8 cents a pound.

Williamson pledged that the Extension Service, county agricultural demonstration families in expansion of production and conserving. In addition, it is the...

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS Jr.

AUSTIN.—Victory in the first round of a pretty little political battle which has been raging behind the scenes since the Beaumont convention came this week to Mrs. Frances Haskell Edmondson.

Woman Is Slighted

Mrs. Edmondson was not invited to the recent Chicago conference of State Democratic chairmen and national committeemen and women, held in Chicago by Jim Farley.

'Open Door' Flouted

This a Japanese victory in China would mean, in all probability, the loss of hundreds of millions of dollars in trade to American industry.

MANUFACTURERS' SEE GOVERNMENT AND INDUSTRY IN CLOSER RELATIONS

The recent annual Congress of the National Association of Manufacturers—representative organization of America's Grade-A service and manufacturing industries—was principally publicized because of Anthony Eden's address on democracy and world affairs.

In the words of Time, "N.A.M. was over-optimistic in its belief that it is now entering the New Deal and Labor at least have way."

Says Mayes Ineligible

Gov. Elect. W. Lee O'Daniel, at his Fort Worth headquarters, announced that Abe Mayes, legislator from Atlanta, about whom O'Daniel recently queried Senators regarding his eligibility for appointment as Secretary of State, is ineligible for the post under the constitutional provision which prohibits appointment of a legislator to an official position during the period for which he was elected to that office.

Austin observers were loud in their praise of O'Daniel's reported decision, despite the personal friendship of many of them for Mayes, because Gov. Alfred has flagrantly ignored what lawyers claim are plain provisions of the Constitution against appointment of Legislators.

Veneral Disease Drive

Profound effect upon the lives of Texas citizens during the next few years may be expected from the work of the Texas Social Hygiene Association, sponsored by a small group of philanthropic-minded citizens.

Traffic Deaths Down

Further evidence that the traffic safety movement in Texas is making real headway is seen in the report of the Department of Public Safety, which showed November, with 137 persons killed in traffic, to be the best month of the year.

Mrs. Frances Haskell Edmondson of San Antonio, distinguished and eloquent daughter of former Governor Charles Haskell of Oklahoma, will be the only woman speaker on the program of the official Texas Jackson Day Banquet to be held in Dallas Saturday, January 7th.

WASTEFUL GOVERNMENT'S BEST FRIEND

Many oil companies advertise the price of gasoline in this fashion: "Gas, 15 cents a gallon; state and federal tax, 6 cents; total, 21 cents."

If similar methods of illustrating the price of all products were employed, the American consumer would get the shock of his life.

2-Year High School Post-graduate Courses Suggested

To Keep Students Busy From Until Legal Working Age At 18

AUSTIN.—Two-year post-graduate courses in high schools for students who cannot go to college are suggested by the American Vocational Association. Such work is necessary, it is believed, to keep the average graduate, who is 16 years old, occupied until legally he can go to work two years later.

Miss Laura Murray, director of the Bureau of Industrial Teacher-Training at the University of Texas, who has just returned from the association's convention in St. Louis, Mo., reports her organization urges high schools to offer two-year post-graduate vocational courses for the young graduates who cannot go to college nor to work.

boys and girls who cannot go to college. "The University's Bureau of Industrial Teacher-Training supports the establishment of a two-year post-graduate course in Texas high schools, this work to be offered those graduates who are unable to attend college. A very definite campaign to that end is being planned by the bureau," she said.

PEEP SHOW For Ladies Only

By Mignon
Here's a new year full of gladness
And green, watered pastures too.
A haze of wishes
Hurled from my heart straight
to you.
I've no silver spurs to jingle,
I've no slipped-made boots to wear,
But there's gold in these here
heart beats
And some sliver in my hair.

Departing Year, before you had down in the lush grass of yesterday I would recall all the good things you have brought to those I love. I would remember those duties which so irked me but which proved the chastening rod I needed to lose a spirit, perhaps too proud, perhaps too arrogant.
I would remember the racing moments when Time's long tether broke and set my thoughts free
and they could center familiarly along the stony trails of beauty and poetry. I would hold close those moments of joy when a loved voice stirred potent magic in my heart; I would whistle a lone prairie tune that your gaze might slacken and let me keep the dear memory of fellowship with friends who may not pass this way again,
a little longer; I would take again
this last gallop through the chastering herd of days, taking the hurdles, dodging the brambles as they come, that I might be able to sit a little straighter in the saddle
of Tomorrow.

The fresh green pastures of 1939 lie before me. A new and wonderful range is opening for me and mine — horizonless as dreams. May we meet the perils of stampedede with serenity, remembering when the lightning flashes and clouds lower to ride around ourselves and sing until the noon
comes through and silvers the path which leads to happiness and the Land-of-Beginning-Again.
My kids are wise to Santa Claus
and I am my poor face dead!

Betty Crocker MEALTIME MAGIC

PASTIES FOR WARMTH

Pasties were first made, it seems, in the mining districts of Cornwall in England. Early stories tell that the miners there, and in Wales, carried Pasties for their lunches. And they carried them inside their blouses, not only to keep the Pasties warm, but to keep themselves warm. And, later, when it was time to eat them—the Pasties supplied the heat and energy they needed for their strenuous work. For Pasties are a whole meal in themselves. They are suitable for serving at the family dinner table—or they may be served as a lunch box or picnic food. To keep them warm for picnics or lunches, wrap them while hot in waxed paper, and then in several thicknesses of newspaper or wrapping paper.

The real Cornish Pasties are usually semi-circular in shape, although some women have indicated that oblong ones are sometimes used. General ideas are "buttoned" along one side. But some who make them suggest gathering and pinching the ends together on top of the Pasties, forming a frill lines, referred to as a
"Queen's Crest."

Formerly suet crust was always used for these pasties—not only because the suet made the Pasties firmer—and thus easier to carry,
but because the suet added a desirable flavor and tenderness. Many of the more modern recipes, however, suggest just "plain pastry."
But if you'd like to try the real old-time Suet Pastry, use 4 cups flour, 1 cup suet and 1 tsp. salt.
Mix with just enough cold water
to make the dough stay together.
And here is a recipe for the "plain pastry." The baking powder is a modern touch to make the pastry lighter.

CATHEY MORRISONS HAVE DINNER GUESTS

Mrs. and Mrs. Cathey Morrison entertained with a dinner Monday evening having as guests Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Cathey and daughter,
Billie Jean, and Miss Madeline Morrison.

I had to tell him that time when I tried to tell him to my bed.
I've met another Santa Claus
Who brought me Christmas Posies.
His whiskers are not long nor white
Nor stuffed down in his clothes...

I've got the notion the jolly old guy has red hair and an array of flowers instead of a pack on his back. Anyway there may be several. One has a waist line like the equator and honey under his tongue, too. It's lovely for a bright crimson flower to be nodding at you from several places in an office
where ink drips and the men
keep putting out paper dolls
and getting goosey paste all over everything.

You'll be reading this on Christmas, but here I sit on Christmas Eve trying to be a columnist when all the time curiosity is sitting on my shoulder until I can hardly wait until night to open those shiny packages. A scented box marked "Open Quick"
has already given me thrills and chills. Real greenery "holly" and anything else Christmas from Aunties... I give up...

SOCIETY CLUBS

MOZART MUSIC CLUBS' PROGRAMS FEATURE THE SEASONAL THEME

Mrs. Gibbs Hostess To Club No. 1 for Tree Party

The Mozart Music Club No. 1
had a delightful time Thursday afternoon, December 22, at the home of Mrs. A. W. Gibbs with Sarah Iden Archer and Billie Frank Gibbs as hostesses. Roll was called, and Christmas songs were sung by the club members. A piano solo was given by Ruth Yan-dall. Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and nutcrackers were served.

few games were played. Refreshments of hot chocolate and pin-ballons as favors, were served to about thirteen members and two guests, Ronnie and Johnny Williams. The members were happy on departing, looking forward to re-assembling a week later for their Christmas tree, with Mrs. A.
W. Gibbs, sponsor.

Mrs. S. L. Schooler and Jimmie Entertain Mozart Club No. 2

This club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Schooler with Cecil Roy and Jimmie Schooler as hosts. The living room was so very pretty with Christmas decorations.
The tree was beautiful, laden with many pretty gifts in vari-colored wrappings. We had no lights except the lights on the tree. To have no interruption in our fun, a plate of cake and cocoa was served to fifteen members before beginning of games. Games were begun at 7 o'clock, and I do not remember I ever saw children have more fun. At 9 o'clock we distributed the gifts among the members. They played for about half an hour longer with the hostess,
and given as favors by the hostess,
and with mints for a final refreshment.
The next meeting will be Jan.
12, possibly with Joyeys King Edwards.

Last Week Mozart No. 1 Met With Mrs. Williams

Mozart Music Club No. 1 met in the home of Mrs. Jess Williams
Dec. 13 with Madette Bell Saleh
and Joyce Wiens as hostesses.
Roll call was answered with musical quotations from each member.
A Christmas pyramid of piano solos and songs is rendered. Ever all enjoyed the beautiful tree of Joyce and her sisters. After the program the members drew names for the Christmas tree. Then a

at Northrup Mr. and Curtis
will be at home in O'Donnell,
where both are well known.

After the wedding dinner for
Mr. Earl Curtis and Miss Pearl
Knox, in her home, Mrs. J. B. Curtis and J. W., with a group from Tahoka went to Boque county
where they visited the McAlden and Dawson. On their return trip they stopped over in Big Spring to see John Curtis who is very ill with heart trouble.

Mrs. C. B. Morrison Entertains

One of the most enjoyable days of the Christmas season was spent in the home of Mrs. C. B. Morrison honoring Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor and children of Portales,
New Mexico, and Miss Josephine

Miss Lois Howard Entertains for Homecoming Students With Unique Kitchen Party

Lois Howard was hostess at her home last Thursday evening with one of the most unique entertainments of the holiday season. The affair was a kitchen party honoring Miss Letta Marie Koeninger, and Misses Mary Jane Goddard and Peggy Jane Adams, home from Texas Tech, and their dates.
The entire house was beautifully decorated with silver and blue.
On tables and buffet in the kitchen and dining room "the makings" of all kinds of sandwiches, salads, dishes, and desserts were conveniently arranged, so that whomever

he wished, could provide himself with whatever he wished.
Following an evening's entertainment of table games, popcorn balls, candies and fruits were served to the following guests: Mrs.
Jane Goddard, Letta Marie Koeninger, Peggy Jane Adams, Ola L.
Stephens, Tahoka; Joyce Hine
Dorothy Walls, Lois Howard, Bob
the Carrol, J. D. Stewart, Deat
Schooler, Ralph Gary, Robert
Gary, Earl Howard, Roy Elmo Eyerett, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bailey.

EASTER STAR HONORS HUSBANDS WITH MMES. R. C. CARROLL AND J. E. SCHOOLER HOSTESSES

Announcement will be made later of the next meeting of the Easter Star group.
Four tables were arranged for
"42" amid Christmas surroundings. Partners were matched by corresponding numbers on Christmas tally cards.
At the close of two hours of play some twenty-three guests were served a delicious salad plat-

carrying out the season's color,
with coffee.
I want to express my appreciation for the many kind remembrances at the Christmas time; also for the loyal support the members have given me in 1938, and hope for a continuance of the same in 1939.
Every member is urged to be present next Lord's Day at both services.
The morning sermon will be "Taking Inventory" and the evening
topic "Paul's Sermon At Athens."
I hope every member will resolve to attend worship every Lord's Day in 1939.
Visit the friendly church,
R. P. Drennan, Pastor.

Betty Crocker KITCHEN CLINIC

Your Newspaper—Betty Crocker Home Service Department

"AT HOME" ON NEW YEAR'S DAY
I think the old-fashioned custom of receiving one's friends on New Year's afternoon and evening is a lovely tradition that should be preserved. In many smaller communities the girls would go together and "receive" at one of their homes. The young men would come and also the young married couples. There would be lots of meritment and gaiety—and, of course, lovely refreshments. Dainty little cakes—tea or coffee—perhaps an ice—candies and salted nuts.
Now much of the New Year's festivities are on New Year's Eve.
But whenever time you are celebrating—I know that you'll find a place for these gay little red and white New Year Bell Cookies—these unusually delicious little Toffee Nut Bars.
The New Year Bell Cookies are simply a variation of the delightful little Chocolate Pinwheels that have been so popular for the past few years. Here is the recipe for the Pinwheels with this interesting Year Bell variation:

- Chocolate Pinwheels
1/2 cup shortening (part butter, 1/2 for favor)
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg yolk
1 1/2 tsp. vanilla
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
3 tbsp. milk
1 sq. chocolate (1 oz.), melted

Cream the shortening, add the sugar gradually, and cream the egg. Add the unbeaten egg yolk and the vanilla, and mix thoroughly.
Sift flour once before measuring. Add flour, baking powder and salt together and add to creamed mixture alternately with the milk. Take one-half the mixture, and add the melted chocolate to it. Roll the dough to a 1/2 inch thickness. Pat the chocolate dough out like dough and lay on top of the white dough. Roll the chocolate portion until it is the same size and thickness as the white dough. Roll up like a jelly roll about 2 inches in diameter showing alternate layers of white and chocolate. Set the dough in the ice box for several hours to become firm. Cut in thin slices and lay out side down on a cookie sheet or pan, and bake 12 minutes in a moderate oven, 350° F.
This makes about 5 dozen cookies, 2 inches in diameter.

New Year Bell Cookies
Substitute red coloring for the chocolate in the Chocolate Pinwheel recipe. Proceed with "Method" through "Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add to creamed mixture alternately with the milk."
Then, remove three-fourths of the dough and color it red with a few drops of red vegetable coloring. Form red dough into a roll about 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Shape with fingers into a ball with a flared bottom.
Chill. Roll white dough to 1/2 inch thickness. Brush red ball-shaped dough with milk and press white dough around the red. Chill. Slice thin and press a small ball of dough on bottom of each ball for clapper. Bake as for Chocolate Pinwheels. Amount: 3 dozen cookies.

Toffee Nut Bars
Bottom Layer: Cream 1/2 cup butter, add 1/2 cup brown sugar gradually, and cream thoroughly. Sift all-purpose flour once before measuring. Measure 1 cup flour. Add flour to creamed mixture—working it into a dough with the hands. Pat into the bottom of ungreased, 8-inch square baking pan, and bake 10 minutes in a moderate oven, 350° F.

Top Layer: Beat 2 eggs until light, add 1/2 cup brown sugar gradually, cream thoroughly. Sift 1/2 cup flour, 1 tsp. baking powder, and 1/2 tsp. salt together. Sift 2 tbsp. flour, 1 tsp. baking powder, and 1/2 tsp. salt and stir into brown sugar mixture. Beat until smooth. Blend in 1 cup shredded coconut and 1 cup chopped nuts (preferably toasted almonds).
Spread evenly over the slightly cooled, baked bottom layer in the baking pan, and bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven, 350° F. When slightly cooled, cut into 27 bars (1 inch by 3 inches).

New 'Bug Man' Joins Extension Service

COLLEGE STATION.—The appointment of Cameron H. Bell to the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service staff of specialists as assistant entomologist in charge of cotton insect control work has been announced by Jack Shelton, vice-director and state agent.

"Director Williamson feels that the condition of the Texas cotton situation makes it advisable to add an additional entomologist to our staff," Shelton said. "Reduced acreages of cotton make it necessary that farmers get the biggest possible returns from their plantings, and Bell's appointment is effective January 1."

"Bell made great strides in 1932 in the improvement of the quality of her cotton, but farmers will have to fight the boll weevil, boll worm, flea hopper, leaf worm and other insects as never before if they are to make a living wage from their cotton crop," Shelton said. He admitted that the spread of the pink boll worm to new areas was also a cause of considerable concern.

Bell holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from Texas A. and M. in entomology, served as county agricultural agent of Hartman county in 1933-1935, and has worked in entomological fields with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the USDA Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. His addition to the staff as assistant to R. K. Reppert will give the latter more time to concentrate on grasshopper control projects.

After the date, and of this opportunity.

TEXAS AGGIE CAGERS LOOK TO '39-'40 SEASON

Have Reserves, But No Championship Prospects For This Year

COLLEGE STATION (A&M).—Doormats for the Southwest Conference basketball teams since 1923, when they won their last championship, future Texas Aggie cage team prospects are looking up, but nothing startling expected to happen before the 1939-40 season.

The squad this year is blessed with reserve material, something they have not had for years, but even so the team is not expected to win enough games to make it a championship threat this season. With more experience the team might cause an upset but they have been seasoned they will be going getting ready for next year.

The team this year is built on one letterman, Capt. Sammy Dwyer of El Paso, guard, and four squadmen from last year, with only one man, Rubie Wheelis, mart center, having as much as 26 minutes conference experience. The others range down to 2 minutes of play in 12 games.

But looking ahead—the Aggies have a boy who should smash all scoring records next year when he begins his varsity career. Bill (Hitterbug) Henderson, of Houston, who broke all high school scoring records in that city last year, now with the Aggie fish and to date has made his past records look sick.

104 Teams In Two Games!

Participants in intramural games before the freshman season opened, Henderson scored the amazing total of 104 points in two games, making 50 in the first and 54 in the second. When someone pointed out that the competition was of inferior quality, Coach "Dough" Hollis also pointed out that 54 points in 25 minutes (intramural game time) is mighty good even if the shooter is on the floor all by himself with no one to bother him at all.

When the fish played Allen Academy recently for their opener, Henderson slowed down and scored only 38 points in the 38 minutes he played. The Aggies won 63-49 and the Rambler score gives some idea that they were no push-over team.

Time and time again "Hitterbug" went up on the backboard to stop Rambler shots, or to drop a shot in from one of his ham-like hands. He is not the type to stand under the basket and wait to be fed crisp shots but goes into the park and gets the ball. When he starts down the floor the ball is as good as in.

"... he missed one!"

At one time during the Allen game, after he had hit the basket every time he shot, Allen Head Coach John Crow jumped to his feet and shouted, "Good Heavens, he missed one!" And that about explains the type ball Henderson is playing and what Aggie Coach "Holl" McQuillan expects to throw at the other conference teams next season.

As a running mate for Henderson the Aggies have Charlie Stevenson, Johnson City star, who was named the most valuable in his district while playing for Austin (Tex.) high school last year. Steve plays a guard and has turned in some fine work. In the Allen game he came through with 14 points. He is bound to be valuable to McQuillan next year as he is one of the cockiest players here. In years and the funny part of it all is that when he makes a boast he is able to back it up and do as he says. He calls his 30's and then makes them. Both boys are wonderful team workers, and not out to set scoring records for themselves. Several times Henderson has passed to another player when he realizes he has made the shot himself. The same goes for Steve. Both are expert long distance shots, and frequently make them from beyond the center of the court. In practice both have several shots from the over-the-backboard, and back? You ability to survive.

University Training Druggists For Texas

New Largest State Pharmaceutical College in U.S.

AUSTIN.—More students are this year attending the College of Pharmacy, smallest branch of The University of Texas, than any other State pharmaceutical college in the United States, Dean W. F. Gidley announced here today.

The steady increase, averaging about 17 per cent for each of the last four years, pushed the college's enrollment to 244 this year. Ohio State, just one registrant behind, heretofore has topped the state field, Dean Gidley stated.

Nationally, the college ranks sixth behind five endowed institutions along the north Atlantic seaboard. Columbia's College of Pharmacy shows the largest enrollment in the nation.

Study of pharmacy was introduced into the University curriculum in 1893 at Galveston and was moved to the Austin campus in 1927.

A prominent member of its early staff was Dr. Edward Randolph of Galveston, now chairman of the University's Board of Regents.

Radio Studio (Not Station) For Texas U.

Plan To Sponsor Educational Programs

AUSTIN.—The University of Texas will begin operation of its own radio studio in early January, C. D. Simmons, acting controller, announced here today.

The studio will not serve as a broadcasting station, Mr. Simmons explained, but as a "service" unit from which special University programs may be picked up by individual stations or radio hook-ups.

A two-story building on the north side of the campus, gift of Major George W. Littlefield, early University benefactor, is being remodelled to house the studio.

Included will be two broadcasting studios, control, reception and rehearsal rooms. All of the equipment was designed by Dr. C. P. Boner, professor of physics.

Plans now are to sponsor a series of educational programs, Mr. Simmons stated. Besides remote control broadcasts, radio record transcribed programs for distribution among Texas radio stations.

The studio and equipment will furnish a laboratory for student radio engineers and for speech and voice instruction in several of the University's departments, the controller pointed out.

Clothing Sales Through November Fail To Rally

Credit Increases; Collections Somewhat Smaller

AUSTIN.—Texans continue to buy less clothing than they did last year, the Bureau of Business Research at The University of Texas revealed here this week.

Sales in dollars by Texas department, men's clothing, dry goods-apparel stores and women's specialty shops during November declined under the preceding month. The slump, however, was slightly less than the usual seasonal amount from October to November. Aggregate sales during the first eleven months were slightly below those of the like period last year.

Reports from 104 representative Texas establishments indicate a decline in sales of 1.5 per cent from October and 4 per cent from November last year. For the year-to-date the decline was 2 per cent.

The proportion of credit sales again was slightly greater than a year ago, while the percentage of collections of outstanding accounts was somewhat smaller.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Jones and son, Gene, spent Christmas day in Colorado City in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Whitley.

SHELTERBELT PLANTINGS IN PROGRESS

Main Offices, Vernon, Childress, Shamrock; Sub-offices, Quanah, Memphis, Paducah, Clarendon, McLean

WICHITA FALLS (Special).—For the past month, the Prairie States Forestry Project has been preparing for the 1939 planting of shelterbelts. Approximately 4,800,000 trees will be available for this purpose from the Government leased nurseries at Vernon and Plainview. State Director W. E. Webb of Wichita Falls states that more than 500 men will be engaged in planting approximately 600 miles of shelterbelts in Texas during the next three months.

District officers at Vron, Childress, and Shamrock have been organizing their staff and field crews to handle the shipment of trees as they are received from the nurseries. Over a dozen species of trees and shrubs will be used in those plantings, including live locust, cottonwood, chinquapin, green ash, walnut, desert wye, tamarix, osage orange, and several others. Most of these will be set out in 10-row shelterbelts most effectively serve the purpose. Rows vary from 8 to 10 feet apart.

It is common knowledge that these shelterbelt plantings are of great value for reducing wind erosion. Not so well known, but almost equally important, is that they materially assist in the conservation of soil moisture through reduction of evaporation over the adjoining fields. By also serve as a protection troops, particularly in early spring, when they would otherwise blow out or badly damaged blowing sand. They have considerable value for protecting livestock from severe weather conditions reduce the feed requirements of interest to many is that they serve as refuges for quail and ice-eating birds. After some years growth, the owners of these shelterbelts can often secure saw wood products such as posts and fuel from thinnings in the shelterbelts.

The Forest Service officials make it plain that the farmer must agree to do his part in cultivating and protecting the shelterbelt before they will approve an application. The trees and the labor to plant them will be furnished by the Government, but as the shelterbelt must be cultivated frequently for the first few years, the farmer must do his part if the shelterbelt is to be a success. Anybody who owns a farm within in the vicinity of the above mentioned towns, may submit an application to the Prairie States Forestry Project for a shelterbelt.
