PEACE PACT: Avenue to War?

As he did in the Taft-Hartley repeal fight, Sen. Robert Taft (R., Ohio) would lead the opposition to senate ratification of the Atlantic pact. That is the treaty in which America joins its western allies in an agreement that an attack on any signatory is an attack upon all-and that a signatory nation may take any reprisal steps

IN HIS SPEECH to the senate, Taft declared the pact was "inextricably linked" to the rearming of Europe, insisted this would lead to an armament race and pointed out that "armament races lead to

Thus did a highly effective senator most coherently raise the question of whether the pact really means peace or war. Taft was not without support in his conception of the pact's potentialities. Five senators jumped to their feet to applaud his remarks, and some 12 or 15 senators were applauding

This was construed by some observers as indicating the extent of the opposition.

Taft was not wholly against the pact, despite his ringing denunciation. He asserted that, even now, he would be willing to change his mind if a reservation could be incorporated into ratification making plain that the treaty did not bind

America to furnish arms. Said Taft: "There is no question that the arms program and the treaty were negotiated together. There is no question in my mind that foreign nations which signed the treaty regarded the providing of arms as an essential part of it if we ratify the pact and fail to furnish the military aid, I believe we will at once be accused of repudiation, and the pact will be completely discredited."

ERP FUNDS: Slash Voted

There appeared to be a change of sentiment regarding aid to Marshall plan countries. The senate appropriations committee had voted to slash 10 per cent from second-year funds asked for the ac-

The committee also tied up 50 million dollars of what was left in order to cut Spain in on the European recovery program should the administration see fit. The program would get something more than 3.75 billions. President Truman had asked approximately 4.20 billions. A committee member disclosed that one group within the membership had attempted chop 19 per cent off the requested appropriation.

Chairman McKeller (D., Tenn.) estimated that the committee cut approximately 749 million dollars from President Truman's budget estimates for actual appropriations in foreign spending, which includes other programs besides the Marshall plan. The sum voted for the Marshall plan would be spread over the 12 months ending June 30, 1950. This was nearly 210 million more than the house had voted-but the house bill would have permitted expenditure of the fund in 101/2 months if necessary.

A committee aide explained to Washington newsmen that unless the loan is made to Spain, the withheld 50 million dollars could ally denied by the navy-were later not be used for any other purpose.

Tired Wardrobes Can Be Revived Easily

By Ertta Haley

THOSE CLOTHES you started wearing a month or so ago don't look as fresh and crisp as they did when you first put them you say? Naturally you've laundered them or had them cleaned but just what has hap-

The same thing happens about the middle of every season, be it winter, summer, spring or fall. Most of us can't afford new clothes, and probably wouldn't buy them for the few remaining weeks of the summer, so what should be done?

Naturally this varies with each individual piece of clothing, but there are some definite tricks to revive or restore them to original freshness. No major remodeling is essential, usually, unless you've gained or lost weight, but some slight touch may make the difference between a piece of clothing you really want to wear and one you'd like to hide in a dark corner of the closet.

True Cleanliness

Revives Dresses, Suits You may have been fairly regular about having dresses and suits laundered or cleaned, but unless special care is taken, they may take on a sort of dusty hue which detracts from their beauty.

In many instances, a special laundering or cleaning treatment

Reviee dresses with trimmings these items a pleasure to wear. Check over collar, cuffs, pockets and hemlines. If you find any dirt at all, concentrate on this special spot and make it immaculate.

If the suit or dress does not hang just right, you may have to do some minor adjusting for perfect fit. This involves practically no time at all and renders the garment wearable.

Sometimes a dress simply needs to have the hemline shifted or new shoulder pads, and it will pick up amazingly well.

Other points to check on garments include the belt and its buckle. They fray easily sometimes and detract from the dress, coat or suit. Mending may eliminate this problem; if not, revive the dress with a new belt or buckle.

Most women used to do a lot of changing with trimmings to refresh their clothing. This is an old fashioned habit which we would do well to revive because so often the fragile laces on blouses need changing as do collars and cuffs. For basic dresses, you would do well to make or buy an alternate set if you really want to get the most wear out of the garment.

Clothes which have faded badly may simply need a bit of tinting to restore their good looks. Tinting does not mean dyeing. It can be

THE READER'S COURTROOM Give and Take in Divorce

By Will Bernard, LL.B.

Is it too Late to Change Your Mind-After the Divorce?

A young wife divorced her husband, but both soon decided they had made a terrible mistake. Back they went to the same judge, and asked him to cancel the divorce decree. He did so. Then, about a year later, the husband again changed his mind and asked the court to cancel the cancellation! He insisted that, once a divorce is granted, it is permanent-unless the couple gets married all over again. However, the court ruled that the divorce was no longer in effect and the pair were indeed husband and wife. The judge said, if a court can give a divorce, it can take it back

A man moved into a bachelor apartment, taking a one-year lease. Two months later he moved out, complaining that he couldn't bear the foul language of the family in the adjoining apartment. When the landiord sued him for the balance of the year's rent, the man argued that the landlord himself was to blame for allowing such uncouth language in the building. But the court ruled in favor of the landlord, saying that he was not obliged to he didn't actually encourage it.

A drunken customer in a bar began to get boisterous, and the bartender decided to eject him. He threw the man out so vigorously that the drunk crashed into a girl walking past the front entrance. Injured by the collision, the girl sued the bartender for damages. He protested that he was just exercising his right to get rid of an obnoxious customer, but the court held him responsible anyhow. The judge said that, while the bouncing was all right, it should have been done with regard for the safety of passers-by.

May a Landlord "Smoke Out" A Tenant Who Won't Move?

A landlord served an eviction notice on an elderly widow and she agreed to get out by a certain date. But when the day arrived, the woman happened to be sick in bed-and so she didn't leave. In a fury, the landlord opened the wood stove, poured some water on the embers, and "let it smoke." The harassed woman finally got out-but later filed a suit against the landlord for assault. He protested that a tenant has no right to remain on the premises after the eviction date. However, the judge said that was no excuse for such malicious tactics interfere in the situation—just so by the landlord and ordered him to pay damages to the widow.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

Tragedy of an Afflicted Mother

IN A TRAGIC letter from a north-Iowa town, Estelle Owens asks me for advice that is painful to give. Everything about mental illness is excruciatingly painful for all concerned, and in Estelle's case the patient is her dearly loved mother.

"I am 36, married to a fine man and with three daughters aged 14, 12 and 6," writes Estelle. brother, happily married, has four very small sons. We two are the sole support of our mother, who for more than four years has been an inmate of a private asylum. The charges for her care are $300 monthly, exclusive of such extra expenses as X-rays, clothing, dental plates and other details outside the regular routine.

"She shares a room with two other cases; with another 3-bed ward they have their own bathroom. But naturally she is not permitted freedom to bathe, and all doors and windows are locked at

"My husband and my brother's wife are understanding and generous in this situation, for we all ove-or did love, my mother," the letter goes on. "But we are faced now by the impossibility of continuing this arrangement, and I write to ask you if you know of any less expensive, perhaps semi-private institution? We could pay a hundred a month. To whom should we apply for information on

Disposed of Savings

"We have disposed of all our savings, cashed war bonds, and I am turning over every penny I make in boarding and tending small children, but it is not enough.

"We have determined among ourselves, and promised her, that we never will consider a public insane asylum for Mama, whose heart would break if we so much as hinted at it. We cannot have her in our home as she has irrational intervals when she is dangerous. But we are given hope of a cure in her case, as the injury to the brain may absorb. Often it causes delusions, but at times she is just Mama again. Please help us to solve this agonizing problem."

... food is poor in institutions

Estelle, my answer is that you and your brother are risking your own marital happiness by this unrealistic attitude toward what is a terrible tragedy.

But the sensible course for you, the most hopeful and promising one, the least expensive and the most responsible, is to place your mother in the state institution, and begin to work for her comfort, your own, your husband's and your children's welfare, from there.

Dangerous Burden

You and your brother are putting a dangerous burden upon the generosity of your mates, and it is important to stop that at once. Worry about money, discussion of the waste of it, payment of outrageous charges and unexpected expenses creates a strain that no marriage can long endure.

For every reason your mother should be moved at once to the state asylum. Terrible words, aren't they? But so are the facts. In the thesis during the war years.

public institution she will be much more intelligently handled, she will have access to modern and expensive methods and equipment not available in any private asylum, and - and note this carefully, - it will be to no one's financial interest to keep her there.

It has been my experience, in the last two years, to make many visits to one of California's largest insane asylums. There are some fearful cases there, shut away from human sight, of course. But there are also scores of borderline cases; not a week goes by but what some sobered, healthy, cured woman returns to her home. There are sunflooded wards containing ten or a dozen smooth beds each-oh, I've gone in at all hours unexpectedly and always found them so. There are long dining tables covered with white cloths, set decently with glass and china.

Synthesis Used For Vitamin-A

Can Now Be Made Up On Commercial Scale

NEW YORK .- The synthesis of makes possible its production on commercial scale was announce here by Dr. H. M. Wuest, direct of research at the Warner inst tute for therapeutic research of William R. Warner company.

Until now, vitamin A, necessa for the growth of children, the no mal functioning of the eye, ni vision, and other physiologic needs of the body, including res ance to infection, could be obtain only from fish liver oils. One o the drawbacks of the natural pr duct was that even the purest co centrates still had a fishy odor a taste, which made it unpalatab to a large number of users.

The synthetic vitamin is prepa from a starting material nar beta ionone, obtained from le grass oil and also found in vio It is this substance that give violets their characteristic pleasant

Although vitamin A was one of the first of the vitamins to become known, it was not until 1931 that its chemical structure was el-dated by Dr. Paul Karrer of Z ich, Nobel prize winner. Howev all efforts to synthesize the co plicated molecule of 20 carbo atoms arranged in six "rings," taining five conjugated dou chemical bonds, and a hydrov group (OH) at the end of th 'chain' hooked on to the ring-structure, failed for years. A major reason for the failure was the instability of the mole and its sensitivity to acids ligh and the oxygen in the air. In 1936, the prominent Brit chemist Sir Inn Heilbron made some headway toward synthesis by building up an intermediate sub stance with eighteen carbon atoms

But even the pressure of the war, and the necessity for assuring large amounts of highly active vitamin for the air forces (to increase maintain their visual acuity night flying) did not lead to a syn

Elmer .- No, but I had a kindergarten principal who carried a sawed-off bat and insisted he had been ordered to bunt. Doctor.-In your immature years did you ever play softball? Elmer .- Yes. I was such a poor hitter I never got to first except when hit by the pitcher. And I never got to second because there wasn't a .300 hitter on the team.

A Task for Truman

President Truman has before him one of the greatest opportunities that any president has had during the first half of our century. Oddly enough this chance of the century comes to the President through the foresight and statesmanship of the 80th Congress that last year absorbed so much punishment, politically, from Mr. Truman. It was the 80th Congress that set up the Hoover Commission on government reorganiza-

Nobody's Fault

Our only living ex-president gladly accepted the job of guiding the "task force" of experts through some 19 months of detailed investigation. Mr. Hoover has played well the role of public servant in past crises. This time he accepted the task as chairman of the Commission, believing it to be his last opportunity for important public service. At this writing, 18 "task force" reports have been sent to Congress. Only the final summary report remains to be made. The work of the Commission is so important that it must be placed above all politics. Like Mr. Hoover says, it's nobody's fault that our government has got itself all tied up in VACATION! They've picked time and place, and they've planned and saved for months. Now they're off!

That's the American way-the way of free choiceso familiar we take it for granted. A man picks his job, leaves it freely for a better one. He chooses the town he'll work in the house where he'll live. He saves or spends as he wishes, with only his income and his wife to dictate to him.

It's not that way everywhere. In some countries, the government puts a man in a city, a house, a job, with no choice in the matter. He can't quit, leave town or move around the corner without permission. If he gets a vacation, he is told where and when to go. The government runs everything, the people nothing.

That's what happens when a free people turn over their responsibilities to their government. They also turn over their freedom of choice. Socialism is the result. How does Socialism happen? Not overnight. It is woven slowly, a thread at a time, into the bonds of slavery. Little by little the government assumes powers other than governing-until it finally assumes all power.

In this country, the government has already entered the electric light and power business—and is aiming at medicine, steel, railroads, and other industries. That is how Socialism got its start in other countries. Talk to your friends and neighbors and see how they feel about this creeping Socialism that threatens your way of life.

Now! New Lower Prices Come In And See How Much You Save On The New Servels

Here's why the Gas Refrigerator

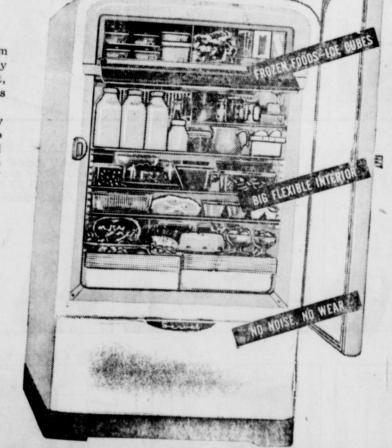

JIAYS SILL ASTS LONG... Only Servel freezes with No Moving Parks

Look at all the new refrigerators. Study them closely. You'll find there's only one that's really different . . . offers you more years of silent, dependable refrigeration. It's the Servel Gas Refrigerator.

That's because Servel operates on a basically simpler freezing system. It has no machinery to cause noise, no motor to wear, break down, need fixing. A tiny gas flame does the work. So owners find Servel stays silent, lasts longer. Many of America's almost 3,000,000 Gas Refrigerator users report that theirs are still on the job after 15, 18 and even 20 years.

But silence and longer life are only part of the story. The new Servels bring you every modern convenience, too. Plenty of ice cubes-easy to get at. Big frozen food compartment. Dew-action vegetable fresheners. Come in today-choose your new Gas Refrigerator from a complete line of beautiful models.

From these annual figures, 'herd' averages are then computed, and these are computed into the only "breed" averages extant. Owners of the Ayrshire cattle are given duplicate copies of the production records compiled with the help of foolproof IBM machines. This system is of immeasurable help to Ayrshire farmers in

The operations of the A.B.A are helping to make Ayrshire cattle one of the most popular breeds of dairy cattle in the country. The Ayrshire is reported the highest producer of 4.0 per cent milk of any breed. Only Ayrshires produce "naturally homogenized" milk—the fat globules are so fine and tiny that they are integrated by nature with the rest of the milk. Ayrshire milk is in great demand by hospitals, and by doctors with on-diet patients.

Pienic Plans

WHEN YOU PLAN an outing good food that will please everyone has to be part of the picnic plan. In addition to this, have "packable" lunch that you can carry in a shopping bag, string sack, bandana or hamper.

The less preparation you have at the picnic grounds where everyone will be famish-ing, the better will be the lunch. If you want to cook the hamburgers or ribs or frankfurters on an outdoor grill, that's all to the good, since this whets appetite to a tantalizing sharpness. However, if you have to wash fruits and vegetables, and pare or scrape them when you get there, this may seem like some-thing of a chore. These are things that can be done much more easily

SAVORY, well-seasoned meat A should be the main interest of the lunch, however. For some this may be old-fashioned picnic burgers, roasted frankfurters or barbecued ribs. These are easy to serve on buns which can be purchased ready made, and then simply split and buttered and even toasted while the meat cooks.

Picnic 'Burgers (Makes 12 'Burgers)

14 cup chopped onion 2 tablespoons fat 1 pound ground beef 1/2 pound ground veal

1/2 pound ground pork 1 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper 2 tablespoons soy sauce 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard 1 dozen hamburger buns

God Can Be Trusted

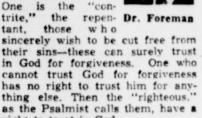

Lesson for July 31, 1949

EVEN if you do nothing else with this lesson, it will be a good thing to learn by heart some of the Psalms of Trust which have been selected for your study this week. They are far too rich to be treated in one column.

Who Can Trust in God?

(PSALM 34:16-22.) Not every one has a right to trust in God. Those who do not believe in him, do not love him, work against him, try to break down and corrupt those who do believe in him - these need expect nothing at his hand. But there are three classes of persons who are encouraged to put their trust in God. One is the "contant, those who right to trust in God. If that word means only the perfectly and altogether good people, it would leave all of us out. But in the light of the Bible as a whole, the righteous are those whose dominant desire is to love and serve God.

Their service is imperfect, their love is far from perfect, and no man is without sin. But if you can say with Peter, "Lord, thou knowest that I love thee," then you have a right to trust in God. Also the broken-hearted can safely trust in him. Whoever else may break your heart. God will not. He is the great Mender of hearts. For the little sorrows there may be lesser breaks only God can cure.

Why Trust God?

PSALM 37 gives one answer: The opposite of trust is worry, and worry never did any good at all. Worry eats into the mind, casts no light, gives no strength, solves no problems, worry makes any trouble worse. Then the writer of Psalm 30 gives another reason for trust he had tried it. If trust in God were simply a doctrine of theology or a theory of preachers, not many people would take it seriously.

Trust is really passed on by a kind of contagion from heart to heart. If there are not more people who know what trust means, it is because those who have known have kept it too much to themselves.

It would be a wonderful stimulus to most churches to have a little "cell" of people who would really agree to trust God every day.

When to Trust in God

ONe of Dicken's famous characters used to make a great point of being cheerful under the most un-cheerful circumstances. Anybody can be jolly when everything is lovely, he said. There's no credit in not worrying when there's nothing to worry about. Although the writers of the Bible, one and all, trusted in God, not one had an easy life. Read Psalm 46, for example: it gives a picture of a world much like ours of today, shaken to its foundations, torn by wars, a desolate, discouraged world. If it made sense to trust only under bright skies, religion would have perished long ago.

For What Shall We Trust God?

NO ONE PSALM puts the whole truth in one nutshell. If you read Psalm 91, for example, by itseif, it would seem to prove that if you trust in God you will never die a violent death, nor an early one; but too many saints (and indeed our Lord himself) had died early and violent deaths, for us to take Psalm 91 in that way. Trusting in God does not mean he will give us long life. It means he will give us strength to match our days.

It does mean he will give us all we need. It does not mean we shall be shielded from troubles. It does mean he will save us from troubles greater than we can bear. It does not mean that in this life we shall be wholly free from burdens or from pain; It does mean we shall have strength in our souls (Ps. 138:3),

Which is the greater thing-to be a weakling wearied by a straw's weight, or to be one of God's athletes, able to bear the worst the world can pile on?

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE by Roger C. Whitman

Stains from Screens

QUESTION: I had my large porch screened in with copper screening by a good carpenter, who did a fine job. But this copper oxidized and turned black, the stains continually running down on the sash and wood porch. Last summer I had my house painted and went down to a well known paint company for advice. I was told to clean the screening with trisodium and then apply varnish I applied a good varnish. Well, after my paint job of last summer, the varnish is coming off and staining the porch with yellow varnish. Is there any way I can stop this staining from the var-

ANSWER: My guess is that when you used the trisodium, you did not wash it off well afterward, so that the chemical continued its action and softened or otherwise caused the varnish to deteriorate. The varnish that you used may have been good; but perhaps it was not spar varnish, which is meant to withstand the weather. I suggest that you clean off the defective varnish, using the trisodium again or else varnish remover. After giving time for the varnish to soften, clean it off with stiff brushes. Then, if you use the "triso," wash the screens very thoroughly with water.
