Renewals, or new subscriptions, may be taken to the Press until January 17 only at the old bargain price of 50c yearly, and this is done in order to allow all former subscribers of the O'Donnell Index to take the Press, time to subscribe. After Jan. 17, the regular rate for the Press will again be placed at $1.50 yearly ($1.50 outside this trade territory). Weekly newspapers are raising their rates beginning with the new year due to rising costs of living. This is not the plan of the Press. The $1.00 rate will hold forth as long as practicable. Persons wishing to subscribe, or renew, may do so Saturday at the office of the City Secretary in the Building. A solicitor of the Press will be present throughout the week.

W. C. Warren Of O'Donnell Dies

Death came to William Clay Warren of O'Donnell, 36, in the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening of last week as a result of mastoid trouble.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Baptist Church in O'Donnell by Rev. L. S. Jenkins of Amherst, former pastor of the O'Donnell Church, assisted by Reverend E. C. McDonald, the present pastor. Interment was made in the Tahoka cemetery under the direction of the Harris Funeral Home of Tahoka.

Surviving are the wife, Mrs. Maggie Warren; three sons, Darroll, Jackie, and Orval; and two daughters, Glenda and Gay; all of the family home near O'Donnell.

Also surviving are the mother of deceased, Mrs. A. J. Warren; one brother, L. G. Warren; and two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Bowen and Mrs. Millie Long; also of O'Donnell.

Mr. Warren was a native of Lynn county and was born on July 17, 1905. He had resided in this county his entire life. He was married to Miss Maggie Tucker at Tahoka on July 20, 1927.

He was regarded as a good citizen and neighbor and was a devoted husband and father.

New Grocery Store Opens Next Week

Opening of a new grocery store in O'Donnell next week was announced yesterday by C. T. Isaacs, who has been employed in Lamesa for the last few years. He formerly worked for the Holman Grocery here.

Isaacs is an experienced groceryman, and expects to have a modern style, modern arranged store. It will be located in the building recently occupied by Townsend's Furniture store, and prior to that by Holman's Grocery.

A formal opening is tentatively set for Saturday, January 10. Details will be announced in the next issue of the Press.

Mrs. Howard Lee and son David of Grand Prairie visited her sister, Mrs. B. J. Boyd and Mr. Boyd during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Everett of Snyder visited relatives here Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Caldwell and Miss Betty Rhea of Lubbock visited in the Palmer home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Noble of near Brownfield were business visitors here Monday.

Year of Election, But Candidates Delay Announcing

Although several aspirants for political office had entered various races this time two years ago, none had announced in this county a check reveals for the 1942 merry-go-round.

Election year of 1942, however, is expected to bring forth a good crop in both Lynn and Dawson counties. Some offices in both counties may not be contested because of "first terms."

The new state publication law, passed by the last legislature and signed by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, makes it mandatory that uniform rates be charged all candidates, but no raise is expected by any newspaper in Lynn or Dawson as the former rates have been fair to all.

A charge of $10 is made by the Press for state, district and county officers, while $7.50 is charged for precinct.

The Press charges for space occupied, and not according to the size of the salary the office pays. And a political candidate pays no more than for other legal or reader advertising.

Vows Read Dec. 25 For Burl Koeninger, Miss Freddie Worley

Vows were read for Miss Freddie Marie Worley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Worley of Canadian, and Burl Koeninger, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Koeninger of this city, in a twilight ceremony last Thursday in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Gracie Bownds in Lubbock.

The couple stood before an altar of white lilies, with baskets of carnations, fern, palms arranged attractively. Fourteen candles were in a candelabra, and candles decorated the mantle under which burned a log fire.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, D. T. Worley, wore a floor length dress of white jacquard taffeta with sweetheart neckline, with long fitted sleeves, shirred at the top and pointed at the hand. The waist was of bodice style.

The bridegroom's father served as best man.

A reception followed the ceremony. The couple left immediately for New Orleans on a two weeks honeymoon and other points east.

Mrs. Koeninger attended Texas Technological college three years, while Mr. Koeninger was a student there for two years.

Mr. Koeninger is the owner of Burl's Auto Parts and appliance store here.

Junior Leaguers Open Bowling League; Slaton Taps O'Donnell

Experienced bowlers opened their eyes last week when the "juniors" formed their own league and proceeded to start mowing the pins down. High score of the week went to J. W. Brantley with 190.

Teeter's Bearcats and Saleh's Panthers are the two teams already organized.

Players listed are Johnny Saleh, Hal Singleton Jr., Junior Barnes, Stanley Cathey, J. W. Brantley, James Teeter, Robert Pierce, Don Cargal, Johnny Smith. All players must be under sixteen years.

No change was made in the City Bowling league. The Corner Kegglers copped two from White's and the runner-up Motor Parts five did the same to Cicero Smith.

The season is to close January 14. Six Slaton bowlers defeated a like number of O'Donnell's pin toppers Tuesday night on the local alleys, by exactly three pins out of the night's play.

Year's Ginnings Exceed '40 Totals

A total of 53,758 bales of cotton had been ginned in Lynn county prior to December 13, in comparison to 33,285 in 1940 for a like period, according to E. W. Holloway, special agent.

Many of the ginnings of O'Donnell's gins are credited to Dawson and not Lynn county.

Lamesa Explosion Kills 1, Injures 1; Damages Stores

LAMESA, Jan. 1 (Special)—One man is dead, another critically wounded, several buildings damaged and an untold amount of damage done to plate glass windows of other stores following a downtown explosion in Lamesa Thursday morning at 8 a. m.

Allen Blake, 30, carpenter, was killed and Suttle (Hi) Purcell, contractor, is in a hospital critically injured.

The explosion occurred in a new building across from the Dal Paso hotel, and was due, it is believed to accumulated gas.

No attempt had been made late Thursday to estimate the damage to other buildings, but the loss will run high. The Vaughn Chevrolet building, next door to where the new cafe was to be housed, was badly damaged, with the west wall bulging outward.

Plate windows in several stores as far away as two blocks were blown out. Every window in the courthouse on the south side was either broken or blown out.

The blast was so violent and far-reaching, residents in houses five and six blocks away were badly frightened, many thinking their own homes the scene of the explosion.

Purcell informed Sheriff Buck Bennett that he and Blake had entered the building and started to light a fire in the store, but immediately as soon as the match was struck, a sheet of flame resulted.

Blake's death could have been caused from any of three factors—the explosion, fire or collapse of the roof.

Marriage of Miss Virgie Hanes, Royce Smith On December 26

Marriage rites for Miss Virgie Hanes, teacher in the local school system, and Royce Smith of this city were read Friday, December 26 in Cisco, Texas by the Rev. Mr. Seymour, pastor of the First Methodist Church. The marriage occurred at 4:30 p. m.

Miss Hanes has taught here for almost three years, and is popular with faculty members and student body. Her home is in Ladonia. Mr. Smith came to O'Donnell in 1937 from Rising Star and is a brother of Rogers Smith, Texas Tech football star.

The couple are making their home in the Brock apartments.

Joe Proctor and Miss Lona Proctor returned Monday from Fort Worth where they accompanied Miss Coreen Proctor, who has enrolled in a Beautician school.

Roosevelt and Churchill Conferences Aim at Strategy for Smashing Axis; Army Is Withdrawn to Spare Manila; Jap Sub Is Sunk Off California Coast

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT
For one thing . . . it was precedents-shattering.

PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL

PHILIPPINES: Battle

In the hope of saving the city from bombing by Japanese, Manila had been proclaimed an open city and military headquarters of the forces defending the Philippines had been moved elsewhere. This move was designed to prevent the civilian population from unnecessary bombing raids.

It was becoming evident from the news dispatches from the Far East that the intensity of the Japanese drive against the Philippines was growing and that the defenders, facing six invasion points, and the constant landing of reinforcements, were going to have all they could do to defend the islands.

Five of the landing spots had been on the island of Luzon, three to the north, one to the east and one to the northwest of Manila, and the sixth was on the island of Mindanao at Davao, which the Japanese claimed to have occupied.

This island and particularly Davao port are heavily populated by Japanese, and though the defenders had aid from the Dutch air force, they had considerable fifth column activity to face as well.

Most important landings were on the Lingayen gulf, in which an estimated 80 transports had been sighted on the first day, and at Atimonan, 75 miles east and slightly south of Manila, where there were said to be 40 transports.

Washington had estimated the total landing forces of the Japanese at from 80,000 to 100,000 men, and while Manila sources seemed to think this a little high, it was probable that they revised their estimate upward after the Atimonan landing.

The combined Filipino and American forces had held the enemy pretty much to a standstill in the north, but it was evident that the Lingayen gulf landing and that at Atimonan had as their object the splitting of General Douglas MacArthur's defense forces into two groups, a typical Axis maneuver.

The seriousness of the situation with regard to the Philippines was not underestimated there or in this country, and seemed to depend for a successful outcome on the sending of supplies and fleet units to the scene.

HONOLULU: Reinforcements

Reports that heavy reinforcements of bombing and fighting planes had arrived in Hawaii, and that the air defenses of the islands were once more on a firm footing showed two things.

First, that Washington was not passing up the defense of the Pacific in favor of all other tactics, but that Hawaii and other points would get what reinforcements it was possible to send.

The freezing of employees' labor and wages on the Pearl Harbor repair job also showed there was a determination to clean the affair up as rapidly as possible. Hundreds of mechanics had been rushed there from the mainland and the work was under way.

Also these two facts proved their corollary to be true, that the sea lanes between Hawaii and the mainland were open and usable, proof that the fleet was busy keeping them that way.

Successes of our naval vessels were reported from time to time, and the list of Japanese boats sent to the bottom continued to grow in length and importance.

PRESIDENT:

In his holiday message of affection, love and pride to the men in uniform, President Roosevelt assured them of ultimate victory, and that the nation was wholeheartedly behind them whether they were fighting, training for the battle, or taking part in the innumerable services of the army and navy in noncombatant fields.

He said: "You are setting an inspiring example for the nation and the people as you have so often in the past."

CHURCHILL: Drama

The arrival in Washington of Winston Churchill, prime minister of England, for a long series of Christmas conferences with President Roosevelt and the working out of a united method of conducting the war was dramatic.

It was precedent-shattering for one thing.

It was a triumph for American and British censorship, for another thing.

It burst on the American press at 6:59 one evening after most of the newsmen in Washington had known all about the plans for a week, and "hadn't breathed it to a soul."

Churchill, his pipe, his cane, his navy jacket and the rest, looking very much as he did during the August conference, was ensconced in the White House while Mr. Roosevelt sat smiling on the sidelines, watching his confrere from overseas fence with the newspaper men and chuckle into his cloak.

One of the prime minister's wisecracks made history. A newsmen asked him, "How long will it take to win the war?" He replied "About half as long if we do it well as if we do it badly."

The reporters roared, the President laughed merrily and the prime minister gave one of his well-known chuckles of merriment.

COAST: Sea Attacks

The Japanese submarine fleet, at least part of it, was apparently active off the California coast, coming close inshore to attack coastwise vessels.

At least one submarine had been sunk, according to an official announcement. This craft had been blown into debris by an army bomber.

Two tankers, at least, had been sunk, but some five others, after attack, had been able to escape. Few of them, if any, carried guns as protection, and the skippers seemed to feel they would be extremely useful.

Some of those who escaped told of the submarines coming to the surface and shelling them, and that if they'd had guns "the subs would have made wonderful targets."

Japanese marksmanship had been so bad that the escaped vessels were able to turn away from the foe and make it to the mainland coves in safety.

The attacks were widespread up and down the coast, reaching from the farther northern seaboard to points south of San Francisco.

LIBYA: Epic of Destruction

While the numbers of troops engaged was not enormous as figured from the Russian front, the British Libyan offensive had taken on all the aspects of what British commentators called "an epic of annihilation."

General Rommel's mechanized forces, what was left of them, were about to make a "last stand" before surrendering. The imperial high command had declared without equivocation that the British fleet had the Germans' escape cut off by sea, and that the land forces had them surrounded in Cyrenaica.

British thrusts were being reported even within the borders of neighboring Tripolitania, a point not even reached in the previous invasion by the British against only the Italians.

Reports that the Italians were not withdrawing as fast as the Germans brought cartoonists to the fore in this country, who showed German and Italian forces racing away from bayonets with Mussolini holding a stop-watch on them, and grinning up at a flabbergasted Hitler.

The British tactics in Libya, well carried out by strong forces, equal to or superior to the enemy at all times, had been to move westward along a southern route, shooting up to the coast at distant points, and then mopping up the troops thus caught in a series of trans.

Plenty of Action

From the Philippines came the report that before he had removed his base of military command from the city of Manila General MacArthur had rushed to the fighting front to take personal command of fighting off the Japanese attacks.

HITLER: At the Helm

The holiday period had been electrified by the German disaster in Libya and Russia, and the "firing" of leading Nazi General Marshal Brauchitsch, and his replacement by Adolf Hitler himself.

Many believed this "purge at the top" would be followed by other generals leaving their command rather than trust themselves and their troops to Hitler's "intuitive" policies of military management.

At the same time all Europe had been in a state of jitters wondering what "Der Fuehrer" would pull in the way of trickery out of the hat of his ingenuity to scare his opponents and to cause what he might call a "victory" to bring him forward into public favor again.

Most thought that an occupation of Spain and France's north African bases, and perhaps the taking over of the French fleet might be the answer.

In line with this it had been reported that Petain had given up his position as dictator of unoccupied France and head of the Vichy government, turning the reins over to pro-Axis Darlan.

It was also reported that 15 divisions of Nazi troops were on the march toward Spain through France and that the occupation of Bizerte and other important Tunisian and Moroccan points was as good as accomplished.

Europe, "waiting to see," was having a bad case of nerves.

RUSSIA: Finds Line

After disastrous withdrawals all along the nearly 1,000-mile front in Russia, late dispatches from that district of the world war seemed to indicate that the German resistance was stiffening and that at long last the Reds had found the Nazi "winter line of resistance."

Up to that point the withdrawal had been practically a rout, and there was photographic evidence appearing in the press to bear out the Russian claims of enormous losses of material in the snowy wastes of that part of the Soviet the Germans had invaded.

Whether Hitler, reported raging at his generals, would be able to halt the backward sweep with Russian pressure apparently undiminished, was a problem.

But the tone of the Reds' dispatches had changed somewhat, and were no longer telling of pursuits, but rather of break-throughs that indicated a German effort at holding was now in progress.

Most of the other theaters of war hoped the Germans would leave plenty of troops in Russia, and Churchill, in the United States, frankly said that "Stalin had done the world an enormous service."

SARAWAK: Navy Successes

An "allied navy" and air force, which might or might not have included Americans, was reported by the British to have fallen with terrific force on an enemy landing force at Sarawak.

The attack occurred shortly after Sir Charles Brooke, the rajah, had sharply criticized the British management of the Far East defense, and had said that the leadership had been poorly selected.

The allied navy and air force fell upon the Japanese flotilla, rapidly sank three transports and set fire to a fourth, and threw the whole attempting landing body into confusion.

The stalwart British forces on the island of Hong Kong, faced with almost certain defeat, finally surrendered to the Japanese.

BRIEFS:

Seattle: You can't do anything about the weather, said Mark Twain—now you can't say anything about it either. A broadcast of "how hard it rained today" might give vital information to America's enemies, the war department has ruled.

New York: The new draft law gives soldiers 120 more days to purchase low-rate insurance without medical examination. The draft is expected to yield 2,000,000 more men for immediate military training.

New Pearl Harbor Chiefs

A shakeup in the high command of the navy and Hawaiian command of the army, because of the Pearl Harbor debacle, brought about promotion for these officers. They are Admiral Chester C. Nimitz (left), who will replace Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, who was in command of the Pacific fleet. Center: Lieut. Gen. Delos C. Emmons, replacing Lieut. Gen. Short, in command of the army Hawaiian department. Right: Brig. Gen. Clarence L. Tinker, assigned to the command of air forces, and who replaces Brig. Gen. Frederick L. Martin.

After Stab-in-the-Back by Japs

Air Raid Shelters at Bargain Prices

Mass production air raid shelter, shown during a tryout in Boston. It is bolted on a concrete base. Ventilation comes in at the top where the little cone crowns the steel pyramid. Yes, this shelter can accommodate 12 people. With air raid alerts on both coasts, interest in shelters is increasing. Some can be bought for as little as $200.

First Victim of Pacific Coast Blackout

Two members of an army beach patrol are shown looking at the stranded Matson line steamer, Mauna Ala, which ran aground near Astoria, Ore., while en route to Hawaii. The steamer was the first victim of the West coast blackout, having run aground when she lost her bearings because of darkening of lighthouses during an air alert.

German Baron Jailed

Ernest de Meyer, reputed German baron and alien, who was arrested in Los Angeles for a traffic violation. Police became suspicious of him when he attempted to change from an army jacket to a civilian coat. A short wave broadcasting set was found in his apartment, as well as data on coast defense.

America's Second Line of Defense

Today America's destiny rests in the hands of two defense lines—our armed forces and those of us working in essential industries.

One of our Nation's most important essentials is oil—not only for our defense requirements, but for all related civilian activities.

Texas supplies over one-third of America's oil and we Texans who work in this vital industry—250,000 of us—are proud of our part in providing it. We know how necessary it is to National Defense.

There can be no interruption in the flow of these materials so vital to our Nation's safety. The task calls for the all-out skill, experience and loyalty of every American.

The Texas oil industry to a man is on the job.

Rice's "tur didn't have did" . . . Yo

Man About Town: After his conviction in Brooklyn Federal Court, Gestapo agent Carl Reuper (one of the 14 convicted Nazi agents) grunted: "We will be rescued soon by the German army when they take over."

The FBI is now accepting applications from lawyers and expert accountants (between the ages of 23 and 35) to enlarge its field of G-men. Must be physically fit and ready for duty anywhere. Apply by mail to J. Edgar Hoover, the Department of Justice, Washington, D. C.

Romo Vincent, who weighs 265, told pals at LaMartiniere the other night that he was thinking of joining the navy. "As what?" taunted a wag, "an anchor?"

Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. has been called to the colors. He is specially assigned with the army and is down in the Pacific area. Vanderbilt was a private with the AEF and was gassed. He is a Major in Army Intelligence.

One of New York's more famous playboys was paying his estranged wife $1,000 weekly not to divorce him—so he could beat the draft. She agreed while he paid. Last week he stopped paying—and enlisted.

Tommy Manville met an old school chum and his wife strolling along 5th Avenue. Tommy greeted him with: "I'm very glad to see you again—and is this your most charming wife?"

The friend glared, and then, in his most sarcastic tones, squelched: "This is my ONLY wife!"

There'll be no attempt to curtail the sale or manufacture of hooch in the U. S. because of the war. Representatives in the liquor industry were so assured by Washington. Don't rate the Doris Duke Cromwell-Errol Flynn romantics as another cafe society silly. Hundreds of New York newspaper men have been assigned locations to cover in the event of air raids.

Here is an amazing story. The aunt of one of New York's better known girls recently died in California. The body was shipped East. The family thought they would like to take a last look and had the coffin opened. Instead of seeing auntie, they saw an old General in full uniform. Frantically, they telephoned the War Dept. After much delay they were informed there had been a mistake—and that the General's body would be picked up. Auntie, it seems, had been buried at Arlington with full military honors.

The Story Tellers: In Reader's Digest, Lieut. Comdr. Gene Tunney burns up about the harm nicotine can do. We knew somebody would start a spirited campaign against smoking as soon as someone perfected a lighter that works. Life was right on the nose with its piece on General Douglas MacArthur by Clare Boothe. Very interesting bioging. Stag is a new mag with a promising future. Many of your old favorites are contributors. Raymond Gram Swing's article, "Beware the Palace Revolution," is a tipoff on how the Nazis intend to stay in power even when they lose the war. Jim Tully's "Man Without Arms" has already been selected for inclusion in the next O'Brien anthology. Maj. George Fielding Elliot is to be Look's military expert. In Metropolitan Host, drama editor I. Cahn, in reviewing the new hit, "Angel Street," remarked: "The author didn't shoot the audience's emotions until he saw the whites of their knuckles."

The Front Pages: The Times dug up a reminder that Japan has always specialized in sneak tactics. The Japs "mugged" Russia in 1904, just like Pearl Harbor. Dorothy Thompson isn't one to be fooled by the first patriotic squeals of some of the mischief-makers, and pointed out: "Germany wants to continue to use her fifth column in the U. S., and they will all begin yelling now that we take away our interests from Europe and fight our own war."

It is laughable to note that some of the people who weren't worried about the safety of the flag—are now trying to hide behind it. The reason they refuse to eat their words is that they know they're poisonous.

Jerry Lewis from H'wood reports: "Aside from the war stuff, everything here is as quiet as the cash register in a Suki-Yaki joint."

Peggy Joyce tells her chums that she will marry again. She won't tell his name. He is said to be an executive of Lloyd's, London.

From "Trial by Fury," Craig Rice's murder novel: "Her voice didn't have a lisp but her wide eyes did." . . . You know, fathoming eyeth."

Honeymoon

By JOSEPH McCORD WNU Service

THE STORY SO FAR: Larry Cutter startled pretty Jacqueline (Jack) Anthony by asking her to marry him. Before their marriage, they signed a contract providing that Jacqueline may continue her present mode of living.

INSTALLMENT EIGHTEEN for six months, after which she could tear up the contract. When her father, Vince Anthony, became ill, Larry invited him into the country to live. Several months later Jacqueline accompanied Larry to his former home. He was shot when they broke into the house to obtain some buried records. Escaping, they returned to her apartment where they were confronted by Detective Staples and Mr. Jacobs, owner of the house. Now continue with the story.

"Maybe we'd better talk it over," was Detective Staples' calm reply. "Sit down, Mr. Jacobs. This gentleman isn't going to run away." He helped himself to a chair and regarded Larry closely. "You seem to have met with an accident. Shot, may I ask?"

cause it's in my lawyer's hands at the moment." A dull red surged into Jacob's face. "Do your duty, Staples. I'll see this through. This young fool is hinting at blackmail because he knows I have money!"

How soon can you spare me, Larry? I'll have to tell him. "Never," said that gentleman promptly. "I'm not going to let you get away from me. I don't know who Mr. Potter is, but you can tell him for me that you're washed up. I'll hire him a flock of stenogs, if he gets nasty."

"Yes." "Mr. Jacobs called me early this morning and said that someone had broken into a property he owns. A forcible entry. Escaped with valuable property. Mr. Jacobs has reason to believe that you were the intruder, Mr. Cutter."

"I was." "There!" Jacobs cut in. "As I was saying, the detective went on, paying no heed to the interruption, 'I suggested to Mr. Jacobs that he come to Headquarters. It just happened that I knew your license number, Mr. Cutter, so I had our radio cars notified. Just before I met Mr. Jacobs, I heard that your car was parked here. We came over. When I saw Miss Anthony's name in the vestibule, I thought, maybe, she could help us out. You see, I happened to know she was a friend of yours. And here you are, I finished pleasantly."

"Well, there's one thing I'd like to settle before we get down to serious business. I've been expecting you to crack it. . . sooner?" "Whatever do you mean?" "I want to know what that tobacco vampire down at the Raynear spilled in your ear about Miss Morris. She saw us together."

All this while Jacqueline had been staring wide-eyed at Mr. Jacobs, trying to use her dazed faculties in an effort to fit him into the picture. There was but one answer. He was the man who had been keeping Lieutenant Staples on Larry's trail. He was the owner of Fairlawn. He was the one-time partner of the elder Cutter. He was the man Larry suspected. She shivered a little. Jacobs must have sensed her fixed look. He turned to her, one hand toying with his moustache.

"It's taken me quite a while to get around to this, Mr. Jacobs. But I'm trying to do a good job. You must have had something in mind when you put this sleuth on my trail. Just how you happened to find I was in town wasn't such a piece of pure luck as you supposed, either," Larry went on. He was carrying his bluff to the utmost now, hoping for some sort of collapse on the part of his dapper enemy. "I've

"You're a poor liar, Jack. I'll have to take you in hand. I knew she had ditched the dirt as soon as I saw you. Come clean now. . . what did she say?" "Well, almost nothing at all. Just that you were up there with your wife. That she was a dizzy blonde and that the two of you didn't get along very well any more. In fact, you were having a family quarrel at the time."

"Do you know that man?" Larry cut in sharply, staring at his wife. She nodded. "Excuse me," Staples said quickly to Jacqueline, and walked to the desk. He lifted the receiver to his ear.

"In the first place . . . I am Mr. Cutter's wife."

"You are the last person in the world, Miss Anthony, whom I would have expected to find in a situation like this. . . . Do you know that man?" Larry cut in sharply, staring at his wife. She nodded. "Excuse me," Staples said quickly to Jacqueline, and walked to the desk. He lifted the receiver to his ear.

been able to turn up a few items of interest through a mutual friend. . . Miss Morris." Jacobs leaped to his feet. His face was fairly purple. "Do you mean to insinuate. . . . Not at all. Miss Morris has been in my employ, as well as yours. She's a very capable young woman."

"I get it. And you believed her." "Absolutely. Well. . . I did question her story about your being married. I had reason to. . . unless you were a bigamist. But I didn't doubt that you were involved with another woman."

"Well, I'm. . . excuse me. Say! Were you married to him when I was giving you that little first degree there in your office?" "Oh, yes." "Wish I'd known it. I suppose we can't look for much testimony from you." He rubbed his bald head reflectively.

"Anything you like, Lieutenant." Then to Jacobs: "But you and I won't get anywhere in conference. You'll do your talking with my lawyers. . . first. And I think that will be all for now."

"What a break," Larry groaned. "I saw the cigar vendor going by with one ear hanging out. Well, you know the truth now. Miss Morris works for a Chicago agency. We brought her here so that there wouldn't be any chance of her being recognized. She landed a job with Jacobs as his secretary."

"We're wasting time!" Jacobs snapped. "This man has been identified, and admits he broke into my property. What more do you want?" "I guess that does give me pretty good reason to hold him for the county officers. I suppose you've notified them, Mr. Jacobs?"

"I don't think Mr. Cutter will leave town. I wish to have a talk with him when he is able to come down to my hotel. I will be responsible."

"I do." "I don't know exactly." "I do." He drew her down to him. "It means that you love me. . . that I love you. We're through pretending."

"I'm sorry, Cutter. I was a very close friend of your father. . . his best friend, I believe. I should hate to see a son of his get into trouble, if I could avoid it. I fear I am doing wrong, but if you care to return my property. . . I might consider withdrawing my charges."

"Jack, darling!" Larry called from the couch, as he watched his wife dialing the number of Rannie Hicks, his lawyer and friend.

"I do." "I don't know exactly." "I do." He drew her down to him. "It means that you love me. . . that I love you. We're through pretending."

"That's very kind of you," Larry's lip curled. "And just what do you want me to return?"

"I'll ask. But I know he did." She confirmed it with a nod and smile after a few words with her father.

After a family consultation, it was decided that Jacqueline might report for work. Larry stipulated, however, that she was to give notice that her stenographic days were over. Vince was to take him downtown for a conference with the Hicks firm and, then drive up to the Brown farm for a supply of Larry's clothing. Larry could make out for one night at the hotel. And did Vince mind going out and putting down the roadster's top? Larry would like the sunshine when they started.

Adaman Club Greet New Year on Summit Of Lofty Pikes Peak

While most people will be celebrating New Year's in comfortably warm homes, theaters and other amusement places, a small group of men will be battling bitter cold and high snow drifts as they climb to the top of Pikes Peak.

Every year at the stroke of midnight on New Year's eve members of the Adaman club set off a huge display of fireworks from the summit of Pikes peak. The mercury has fallen as low as 40 degrees below zero during the nine-mile climb, and the wind blows relentlessly atop the 14,110-foot peak.

Early in the afternoon of December 31 the hardy group will leave Colorado Springs. They will ride in automobiles as far as Manitou Springs which is located at the base of the peak. Their ride ends here, and they begin their long climb.

At first the climb is easy, but after the Half Way House is passed the climbing becomes extremely difficult. Snow drifts are more than 20 feet deep in places, and the incessant north wind whips the snow particles with great force.

U. S. Had Quiet Year During '42

No one knows what the year 1942 will bring, but '42 exactly 100 years ago was a relatively quiet one for the United States.

In that year the national debt reached the high level of more than $13,594,000. La grippe (influenza) was prevalent throughout the country. This year also saw Charles Dickens visit the United States, and the Horatio Greenough statue of General George Washington was placed in the federal Capitol.

Other events of national importance which occurred exactly one century ago follow: March 31—Henry Clay of Kentucky resigns from the U. S. senate. May 2—Col. John C. Fremont commenced an exploring expedition to the Rocky mountains.

June 29—President Tyler vetoes the tariff bill. August 9—Maine boundary established by the Webster-Ashburn treaty between the United States and England.

August 30—President Tyler signs the tariff bill. September 29—Order of the Sons of Temperance organized in New York.

Columbus Achieved 'Greatest Discovery' Just 450 Years Ago

The year 1942 would ordinarily be one marked by a great observance of some sort for the achievement of Christopher Columbus in 1492. For 1942 rounds out 450 years since the discovery of America.

In 1892, on the occasion of the four hundredth anniversary, the Chicago fair, one of the most renowned in the world, took place. But for World War II, 1942 would have brought about another significant celebration.

Even as it is, there is some talk of paying due honor to the great navigator who, in 1492 like the world we know in the dawn of 1942, also had his "darkest hour" before the light burst on a new world.

Joaquin Miller wrote of this hour in "Columbus' life"—and it could be symbolic of the arrival and hopes of the year 1942. The poetry follows: Then pale and wan he kept the deck And peered through darkness. Ah, that night, of all dark nights And then a light—a light.

It grew, a starlit flag unfurled It grew, a burst of dawn— He gained—a world. He gave that world its grandest lesson. On—and on!

U. S. Only Sixth Rate In Eyes of Father Time

Although the United States leads the world in many ways, it is about sixth rate in the eyes of Father Time. He brings the new year first to Australia, Asia, Africa, Europe and most of South America before he finally gets around to this country.

My Week by Eleanor Roosevelt

I started one day with a committee meeting at nine o'clock, at which all the government agencies met to find ways in which they could co-operate.

From there, I went to a meeting of the District of Columbia social agencies. They have gathered a group of volunteers who have been taking a course in an effort to prepare themselves for work which would necessitate a knowledge of all the available resources in the community. This kind of knowledge is valuable, and I think it is a good preparation for the type of activity which defense work asks of us all.

There was a time when many people thought that the word defense meant simply physical protection. This could be given by the army, navy and air force, plus the police and fire departments. Even the air raid warden, who became a recognized person in defense through our knowledge of what had happened in England, was looked upon primarily as a person who would see that lights were out and people were notified where fires were to be extinguished.

Now it is understood at last, that real defense begins in every home. The insecure home is a menace to the security of the community. Therefore, the air raid warden, who knows every family in his or her area, must know upon what agencies to call to meet the needs of each and every person in it who is not able to meet them himself. The job is not just policing, it is social service as well.

I am told that some people have an idea that this has nothing to do with defense. They say it is really only a way of putting over on an unsuspecting community, in the guise of defense, some of the very bad things which go by the name of "New Deal Measures." These people, I am afraid, are putting the cart before the horse.

If there had never been a New Deal, we would have had to accept this conception of defense. We have learned from London that it is insecure to rush in large numbers to congregate together in air raid shelters. They must be given security or their fears run riot.

TWO WAY PASSAGE During the trip to the West coast I read Louis Adamic's book, "Two Way Passage." It is a book that every American should read. I have not quite finished it, so I cannot really discuss it, but it has started a trend of thought which is pointed up by the situation on the West coast for the American-born Japanese.

We know that there are German and Italian agents and people representing other sympathetic Axis nationalities who have been very active in this country during the past few years, just as the Communists have been. We know that now there are Japanese as well as other agents, who are here to be helpful to their own nation and not to ours. But these people are gradually being rounded up by the FBI and the Secret Service.

We, as citizens, if we hear anything suspicious, will report it to the proper authorities. But the great mass of our people, stemming from these various nationalities, must not feel that they have suddenly ceased to be Americans.

DEFENSE GROUPS CO-OPERATIVE On returning to Washington I called Mrs. Morgenthau and some of her assistants in the Office of Civilian Defense, to learn what had happened while Mayor LaGuardia and I were on the West coast.

Then I considered some of the difficulties now arising. There have been conflicting directions as to what people should do in case of air raids. The reason is that there are quite a number of people, who have no official sanction whatsoever, giving advice and directions about a number of things.

In addition, there has been conflict in the minds of the people actually in charge of developing programs. However, much of the confusion is being cleared up, as it always is. Actual experience on the West coast has helped.

War Impetus. Up to the war's beginning it was almost impossible to accomplish any real work with state and local defense councils, which were often nonexistent or existent only on paper. Frequently, people who wanted work were given no money by state or local governments with which to do so. Volunteers did not materialize in such great numbers until a real war was upon us. Now there is co-operation everywhere.

Even with that co-operation, it is going to be necessary to work out certain plans in the light of experience. No one should be surprised if there is a certain amount of change that develops in the handling of different situations. The organization for actual defense, even where civilians are concerned, is primarily under army control. However, in many cases, the welfare of the people of the community, which is also part of defense, is closely tied up with the actual protective organization.

Rumors Said False Wherein All Class 1 Men In County

Mrs. Loyce McMahon, secretary to the local selective service board, stated this week that the rumor that all men in Class 1 are being called up for service January 1, is false. She said that all tentatively Class 1 men except Class 1-H have been ordered to appear for physical examination, but have not been called to report to the army. Mrs. McMahon said also that the present Class A-1 list will be depleted very soon, and it will probably be necessary to re-classify many who have been in deferred lists prior to this time.

Under the new censorship, the local board is not permitted to give the press complete lists of those called out for service, although it is permissible for newspapers to print the names of some selectees who might fall in certain classification, such as volunteers, etc.

There have been no volunteers for the next call, Mrs. McMahon said.

Invite the Club—Serve Apple-Banana Rings (See Recipes Below)

Dessert Parties

"Come over for dessert" has become one of the most popular ways of entertaining at luncheon or afternoon meetings of bridge or sewing clubs. Your guests will take a light snack at home and come over to your home for dessert only. Easy? Yes, and a very successful way of starting out your afternoon. So, take out your best recipes for dessert and let's go: Whatever you have must be attractive, so bring out your nicest dessert plates and doilies. First idea on our list today are these broiled Banana-Apple Rings which will polka-dot your table in dessert perfection:

*Broiled Banana-Apple Rings. (Serves 6) 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water, 2 apples, unpeeled, 3 firm bananas, Melted butter, Salt, Cinnamon. Bring sugar and water to a boil and cook until sugar is dissolved. Core apples and cut crosswise into three thick slices. Add to syrup and cook until tender, but firm. Remove from syrup and place on a broiler rack or pan. Cover apple slices with overlapping slices of bananas which have been peeled and sliced thin. Brush with butter and sprinkle with salt and cinnamon. Broil about 10 minutes or until bananas are brown and tender, easily pierced with a fork. Serve hot with sweetened, whipped cream.

To make your dessert party a double success, serve: Banana Oatmeal Cookies. (Makes 3 1/2 dozen) 1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 3/4 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 cup mashed bananas (2 or 3 bananas), 1 3/4 cup rolled oats, 1/2 cup chopped nuts.

Sift together flour, soda, salt and spices. Add sugar gradually to shortening and cream well. Add egg and beat well. Add bananas, rolled oats and nuts and mix thoroughly. Add flour mixture and blend. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto an ungreased cookie sheet about 1 1/2 inches apart. Bake in a moderately hot oven about 15 minutes. Remove from pans at once. Simply elegant will be your guests' or family's verdict when you serve Chocolate Mint Tarts. (Serves 6) 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, 1 cup evaporated milk diluted with 1 cup water, 3/4 cup sugar, 5 tablespoons flour, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 2 egg yolks, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 6 baked tart shells. Sweetened whipped cream, 1/2 cup crushed peppermint candy. Add chocolate to diluted milk in double boiler and heat until chocolate melts. Beat with rotary beater until chocolate is blended with milk. Combine sugar, flour and salt and add gradually to chocolate mixture. Cook until thick and smooth, about 15 minutes. Beat yolks and add to cooked mixture gradually. Cook two minutes longer. Remove from fire, add butter, vanilla and nuts. When cool, pour into tart shells. Top with whipped cream, mixed lightly with the crushed candy.

Orange Ice-Box Cake. (Serves 8.) 1 tablespoon gelatine, 3 tablespoons cold water, 2 cups milk or 1 cup evaporated milk diluted with 1 cup water, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1/4 cup orange juice, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 2 dozen lady fingers. Soak gelatine in cold water. Scald the milk in a double boiler, mix cornstarch and sugar, and add to hot milk. Add the eggs slightly beaten, combined with cold milk. Cook several minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and add gelatine. Add orange rind and juice. Line a mold with lady fingers, then fill with alternate layers of the cooked mixture and lady fingers. Have a layer of lady fingers on top. Chill in refrigerator overnight. Serve with whipped cream, garnished with orange sections. Piquant peppermint adds a never-to-be-forgotten flavor to chocolate, and served in quaint tarts, here's a dessert that will mark you as a leader in your crowd:

THIS WEEK'S MENU Tomato-Pea Soup, Breaded Veal Cutlets, Riced Potatoes, Broccoli, Molded Gingerale Salad, Broiled Banana-Apple Rings, Cookies, Beverage, *Recipe Given an ambrosial concoction so easy to make, it's no trick at all. Here's a dessert that proves you don't have to spend hours of cooking and baking to get a first-rate dessert: Krispie Cream Roll. (Serves 10) 1 1/2 cups whipping cream, 8 marshmallows, 1/4 cup honey, 1/2 cup chopped dates, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 3/4 cups oven-popped rice cereal. Whip cream until stiff, reserving 3/4 cup. Cut marshmallows into small pieces, adding them to cream. Add honey, dates and nuts. Roll rice cereal into fine crumbs and add 1 cup of crumbs to cream mixture. Blend well. Spread remaining crumbs evenly on a piece of waxed paper and place cream mixture on top. Mold into a roll and chill for several hours. Slice and serve garnished with remaining whipped cream, chopped nuts or fruit slices or berries.

No list of dessert tempters for parties is complete without super-smooth, delectable ice-box cake. Made with orange flavoring the ice-box cake can be truly provocative in both flavor and appearance and still be easy on the waistlines of your diet-conscious friends:

LYNN SAYS: When planning your luncheon dessert parties, be sure to use this season's rich color schemes on your tables and favors and placecards. White with silver, gold, blue, red are tops right now. If you like three color combinations, there's green, white and gold, blue, white and gold, or white, red and green. For an elaborate color scheme use the rich tones of violet, emerald, gold, blue and red. This is especially good in a centerpiece. Bridge placecards may be made out of paper chrysanthemums in your favorite color with the card tilting out of the flower. The white cards may also be decorated with painted flowers, or candy-shaped flowers pasted in the corner. Evergreen, holly, mistletoe, bright berries, pine cones, used alone or with a silver ornament such as a bell on the place card are sure to bring delighted murmurs from your bridge guests.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for January 4

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

THE SYNOPSIS GOSPELS: MATTHEW, MARK, LUKE

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 1:1, 17; Mark 1:1, 14, 15; Luke 1:1-4; Acts 1:1-5. GOLDEN TEXT—Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.—1 Timothy 1:15.

A new year of God-given opportunity with the assurance of His grace and strength for our daily need. Such is the precious gift we hold in our hands as we enter on A. D. 1942.

With the new year, we enter upon a new course of study—carefully planned ahead through 1947, if the Lord tarries. We begin very appropriately with a study of the life of Christ as presented in the first three Gospels, known as the Synoptic Gospels.

"Synoptic" is a combination of two words, meaning "a view together," and refers to the fact that Matthew, Mark, and Luke give us the same general view of Christ, although differing somewhat in their emphasis.

Matthew, writing his Gospel especially to the Jews, presents Christ as King, Mark, for the Romans, presents the Servant. Luke presents to the Greeks the Son of Man—the perfect Man, and John, for the Christian church, reveals the Son of God. But note that all the Gospels are for us, and in them we find the fourfold picture which presents the many-sided glory and beauty of our Lord. Turning to our scriptures we see—

I. The King (Matt. 1:1, 17).

These verses come at the beginning and end of the kingly genealogy of Jesus. It is important that the descent of a king be carefully recorded and studied, for it alone can prove his right to the throne. We know that Israel rejected Jesus as King, but we also know what prophecy reveals that He will one day take the throne of David and reign. Does He have that right?

In Matthew 1:1-17, we have His national and royal descent. Being son of both David and Abraham, He is heir to both the promise and the throne. As King of Israel, there was no need to trace His lineage back further than Abraham through David, but we find that in Luke (2:23-28) the Son of Man is traced back to Adam. Mark has no genealogy for reasons noted below, and John also has none, for the Son of God is eternal, infinite, without need of genealogy.

Turning now to Mark, we find Him presented as

II. The Servant (Mark 1:1, 14, 15).

A servant needs no genealogy, he needs only to be able and ready to work, and that is just what we find in Mark. The account plunges at once into the story of "the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God," who is ready to serve—by life or by death—yes, even by the death of the cross.

The forerunner, John the Baptist, bears his witness. Jesus is baptized. John is imprisoned, and immediately Jesus begins to preach, "Repent ye, and believe the gospel." The key verse of Mark is 10:45: "For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister." The characteristic words are "straightway," "forthwith," and "immediately." The Greek word thus translated appears about 40 times in the book. The Servant of God went quickly about the Father's business. Christians, can we say the same for ourselves?

III. The Son of Man (Luke 1:1-4).

Luke undertakes to write, under the control of the Holy Spirit, a careful account of the saving work of Christ, but he makes it doubly clear that he writes from firsthand knowledge. "Eyewitnesses" means those who made a personal investigation, hence, those who knew Christ as the Son of Man, the One who became flesh and dwelt among us. "Ministers" means literally those who served under Jesus, His personal assistants; again emphasizing His personal ministry as "the Son of man who is come to seek and to save that which was lost" (as Luke 19:10, the key verse of this Gospel, expresses it).

IV. The Risen and Ascended Lord (Acts 1:1-5).

Christ who was crucified arose a Victor over death and the grave, and ascended to the Father, where He now appears as our Advocate. That does not mean that His work on earth terminated, for we have in Acts what Dr. Morgan fittingly calls "the book of the continued doing and teaching of the living Christ by the Holy Spirit through His body, which is the church."

The Gospels (Acts 1:1) told only that "Jesus began to do and to teach." Acts continues, but does not complete the story. Christ is working today in and through surrendered believers. Will He have liberty to work through you and through me this year of 1942? If so, it is sure to be a happy—yes, a blessed—New Year.

Household Hints

Grapefruit and oranges will peel more easily if you soak them three minutes in boiling water to cover. That will make the membrane come off along with the skin. Then chill the fruit for use in salads, cocktails, or desserts.

If doors and drawers swell so much that they won't close, sandpaper or plane the edges, and then varnish the surface to prevent further swelling or shrinking.

If your vacuum cleaner has several attachments, make the best use of them. They come in handy for cleaning behind radiators, book cases and the refrigerator.

Here's a fine way to use leftover biscuits, muffins or rolls: Scoop out the insides, butter the case well and fill in with a thick cream vegetable, meat or chicken. For a creole version, spread the insides with chili sauce blended with butter. Quickly fill with piquant creamed shrimps or salmon. Bake 10 minutes in a moderately hot oven.

Try dipping the knife in boiling water before cutting cake or pie.

The white part of orange and lemon rinds is usually bitter. So when grating use only the outside yellow part.

Rumors Said False Wherein All Class 1 Men In County

Mrs. Loyce McMahon, secretary to the local selective service board, stated this week that the rumor that all men in Class 1 are being called up for service January 1, is false. She said that all tentatively Class 1 men except Class 1-H have been ordered to appear for physical examination, but have not been called to report to the army. Mrs. McMahon said also that the present Class A-1 list will be depleted very soon, and it will probably be necessary to re-classify many who have been in deferred lists prior to this time.

Under the new censorship, the local board is not permitted to give the press complete lists of those called out for service, although it is permissible for newspapers to print the names of some selectees who might fall in certain classifications, such as volunteers, etc.

There have been no volunteers for the next call, Mrs. McMahon said.

TWO HOME BOYS PREACH AT DRAW

TAHOKA, Dec. 31 (Special)—

Rev. Jesse Young, good pastor of the Draw Methodist Church, reports a great day for that church last Sunday. Two of the boys who were reared in that community and who entered the ministry and now hold pastorates in widely separated states preached at the two services of the day.

Rev. John Sewell, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Sewell, pastor of the Methodist Church in Jeanerette, Louisiana, preached at the morning service, and Rev. Bervin Caswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Caswell, pastor of the Methodist Church at Aztec, New Mexico, preached at the evening hour.

Good congregations heard these two young ministers, and Brother Young states that it was a great day.

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS

Visiting in the Harvey Line home during the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Malone and Claude Forrest of Kilgore and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holland and Wayne of Houston.

BAPTIST W. M. U. DID NOT MEET

ENTERTAINS MUSIC PUPILS WITH XMAS PARTY

Mrs. Gibbs entertained her music pupils and a few friends with a Christmas party on December 22. The house was decorated in keeping with the season with poinsettias, holly and a Christmas tree.

Interesting games were enjoyed throughout the evening. At nine o'clock, the group went Christmas caroling. Returning a plate of fruit punch, open face sandwiches, angel food cake, topped with green whipped cream, pickles and Christmas favors were served to seventeen guests.

After refreshments were served, names were drawn for the exchange of gifts. The party continued until midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bradley visited in Abilene Sunday.

What Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood. You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swollen feet, constant tiredness, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

Dessert Parties

"Come over for dessert" has become one of the most popular ways of entertaining at luncheon or afternoon meetings of bridge or sewing clubs. Your guests will take a light snack at home and come over to your home for dessert only. Easy? Yes, and a very successful way of starting out your afternoon. So, take out your best recipes for dessert and let's go: Whatever you have must be attractive, so bring out your nicest dessert plates and doilies. First idea on our list today are these broiled Banana-Apple Rings which will polka-dot your table in dessert perfection:

- *Broiled Banana-Apple Rings. (Serves 6) 1 cup sugar 1/2 cup water 2 apples, unpeeled 3 firm bananas Melted butter Salt Cinnamon

Bring sugar and water to a boil and cook until sugar is dissolved. Core apples and cut crosswise into three thick slices. Add to syrup and cook until tender, but firm. Remove from syrup and place on a broiler rack or pan. Cover apple slices with overlapping slices of bananas which have been peeled and sliced thin. Brush with butter and sprinkle with salt and cinnamon. Broil about 10 minutes or until bananas are brown and tender, easily pierced with a fork. Serve hot with sweetened, whipped cream.

To make your dessert party a double success, serve:

- Banana Oatmeal Cookies. (Makes 3 1/2 dozen) 1 1/2 cups sifted flour 1/2 teaspoon soda 3/4 teaspoon nutmeg 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon 3/4 cup shortening 1 cup sugar 1 egg 1 cup mashed bananas (2 or 3 bananas) 1 3/4 cup rolled oats 1/2 cup chopped nuts

Sift together flour, soda, salt and spices. Add sugar gradually to shortening and cream well. Add egg and beat well. Add bananas, rolled-oats and nuts and mix thoroughly. Add flour mixture and blend. IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE SYNOPSIS GOSPELS: MATTHEW, MARK, LUKE

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 1:1, 17; Mark 1:1, 14, 15; Luke 1:1-4; Acts 1:1-5. GOLDEN TEXT—Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.—1 Timothy 1:15.

A new year of God-given opportunity with the assurance of His grace and strength for our daily need. Such is the precious gift we hold in our hands as we enter on A. D. 1942.

With the new year, we enter upon a new course of study—carefully planned ahead through 1947, if the Lord tarries. We begin very appropriately with a study of the life of Christ as presented in the first three Gospels, known as the Synoptic Gospels.

"Synoptic" is a combination of two words, meaning "a view together," and refers to the fact that Matthew, Mark, and Luke give us the same general view of Christ, although differing somewhat in their emphasis.

Matthew, writing his Gospel especially to the Jews, presents Christ as King. Mark, for the Romans, presents the Servant. Luke presents to the Greeks the Son of Man—the perfect Man, and John, for the Christian church, reveals the Son of God. But note that all the Gospels are for us, and in them we find the fourfold picture which presents the many-sided glory and beauty of our Lord. Turning to our scriptures we see—

I. The King (Matt. 1:1, 17).

These verses come at the beginning and end of the kingly genealogy of Jesus. It is important that the descent of a king be carefully recorded and studied, for it alone can prove his right to the throne. We know that Israel rejected Jesus as King, but we also know what prophecy reveals that He will one day take the throne of David and reign. Does He have that right?

In Matthew 1:1-17, we have His national and royal descent. Being son of both David and Abraham, He is heir to both the promise and the throne. As King of Israel, there was no need to trace His lineage back further than Abraham through David, but we find that in Luke (2:23-28) the Son of Man is traced back to Adam. Mark has no genealogy for reasons noted below, and John also has none, for the Son of God is eternal, infinite, without need of genealogy.

Turning now to Mark, we find Him presented as

II. The Servant (Mark 1:1, 14, 15).

A servant needs no genealogy, he needs only to be able and ready to work, and that is just what we find in Mark. The account plunges at once into the story of "the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God," who is ready to serve—by life or by death—yes, even by the death of the cross.

The forerunner, John the Baptist, bears his witness. Jesus is baptized. John is imprisoned, and immediately Jesus begins to preach, "Repent ye, and believe the gospel." The key verse of Mark is 10:45: "For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister." The characteristic words are "straightway," "forthwith," and "immediately." The Greek word thus translated appears about 40 times in the book. The Servant of God went quickly about the Father's business. Christians, can we say the same for ourselves?

III. The Son of Man (Luke 1:1-4).

Luke undertakes to write, under the control of the Holy Spirit, a careful account of the saving work of Christ, but he makes it doubly clear that he writes from firsthand knowledge. "Eyewitnesses" means those who made a personal investigation, hence, those who knew Christ as the Son of Man, the One who became flesh and dwelt among us. "Ministers" means literally those who served under Jesus, His personal assistants; again emphasizing His personal ministry as "the Son of man who is come to seek and to save that which was lost" (as Luke 19:10, the key verse of this Gospel, expresses it).

IV. The Risen and Ascended Lord (Acts 1:1-5).

Christ who was crucified arose a Victor over death and the grave, and ascended to the Father, where He now appears as our Advocate. That does not mean that His work on earth terminated, for we have in Acts what Dr. Morgan fittingly calls "the book of the continued doing and teaching of the living Christ by the Holy Spirit through His body, which is the church."

The Gospels (Acts 1:1) told only that "Jesus began to do and to teach." Acts continues, but does not complete the story. Christ is working today in and through surrendered believers. Will He have liberty to work through you and through me this year of 1942? If so, it is sure to be a happy—yes, a blessed—New Year.

Household Hints

Grapefruit and oranges will peel more easily if you soak them three minutes in boiling water to cover. That will make the membrane come off along with the skin. Then chill the fruit for use in salads, cocktails, or desserts.

If doors and drawers swell so much that they won't close, sandpaper or plane the edges, and then varnish the surface to prevent further swelling or shrinking.

If your vacuum cleaner has several attachments, make the best use of them. They come in handy for cleaning behind radiators, book cases and the refrigerator.

Here's a fine way to use leftover biscuits, muffins or rolls: Scoop out the insides, butter the case well and fill in with a thick cream vegetable, meat or chicken. For a creole version, spread the insides with chili sauce blended with butter. Quickly fill with piquant creamed shrimps or salmon. Bake 10 minutes in a moderately hot oven.

Try dipping the knife in boiling water before cutting cake or pie.

The white part of orange and lemon rinds is usually bitter. So when grating use only the outside yellow part.

County Red Cross Over Top

TAHOKA, Jan. 1 (Special) -- The New Red Cross Drive for $2,000.00 in War Funds went over the top in this county Wednesday, just 20 days after the Tahoka Rotary club started it off with a bang.

Other Tahoka citizens, and the citizens of other communities, as soon as notified of the new drive, cooperated as admirably to raise the total to date to $2038.64 with some precincts incomplete.

Mr. Huffaker urged that all precinct chairmen complete their drives and report as quickly as possible. Chairmen, who were selected by the various committees after Mr. Huffaker had been elected chairman at a county-wide meeting, are as follows: O'Donnell, Warren Smith; Wilson, Howard Cook; Newmoore, Bill Cathey; New Home, J. R. Strain; Joe Bailey, L. G. Warren; Grassland, M. L. Thomas; Draw, Mrs. John Berry; Lakeview, Fritz Speckman; New Lynn, "Slim" Evans; Redwine, E. W. Holloway; T-Bar, Mrs. C. C. Coffee; Garnolia, B. J. Emanuel; West Point, W. A. Yates; Three Lakes, W. B. Edwards; Dixie, A. L. Dunagan; Edith, Walter Kahl; Wells,

Carl Sanders; Midway, I. M. Draper; Petty, Mrs. Joe Unfred; Morgan, Mrs. Jack Cook; Gordon, Mrs. Houghton Haire.

Lynn County's fine contribution to the Red Cross puts it with 38 other Texas counties who were among the first in all the Middle West to reach their quotas. Perhaps the quick response from this county was prompted by the memory of the aid given residents of the Draw community following the 1938 tornado and to all the county during a drouth in the county several years ago.

An itemized account of donations by school districts will appear in the News next week.
