GOP Sweep Frees Truman Of Burdensome Program

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON. - There is a feel of Christmas in the Washington air which is prompted by more than the evanescence of the joyous spirit of Noel - just try to get onto a Connecticut avenue car headed for the F street shopping district. The White House presents its usual decor of pine and ribboned wreath. And, at this writing, the chief tenant is, I believe, dreaming of a Missouri Christmas among his friends.

Whether he spends the holiday beneath his own rooftree or the one which Uncle Sam so generously provides, it can be said that it will be a far merrier occasion than a year ago. He will be among his friends as well as his family, and as one of his official circle put it, with his "professed" enemies (the opposite party) in power his "unprofessed" enemies (officially his friends) having no further opportunity to toss brickbats or bandy threats about his head. .

I recall another crisp, cool winter day last February a year ago, when we wended our way to the President's weekly press and radio conference. Bemused pansies (I recorded in this space) showed frostbitten faces in the garden of the White House grounds.

We were discussing the difficulties and differences which President Truman already was encountering at the hands of his own party in congress. 'Congress has to be realistic in an election year," I quoted some-one as saying, "They are facing real issues. And the President's program isn't realistic.'

"Whether or not it is realistic," another member of the group replied, "it isn't his program. He inherited it. It's New Deal and New Deal is Old Hat now. It doesn't represent Harry Truman's ideas at all, but he has to go through with it."

As we look back, it is plain enough that whether it was New Deal or what it was, the program of the President was one that the people rejected on election day, the moral obligations of the past, the effect of the pressure groups, the ukase of the party of bigwigs were swept away and Harry Truman, who didn't want the job that was thrust upon him when death commanded, was made a free man.

The President's satisfaction springs not from any spirit of "I told you so" hurled at his alleged supporters, not from any lack of lovalty to a cause well lost. It was simply the weary but happy flood of relief of a man who, having attempted what he knew was an impossible task, saw that task ended, and friend and foe forced fairly into the

War Terminated Honeymoon With Congress

My mind goes back to another scene shortly before the death of President Roosevelt. I sat in the office of the vice president talking of days when the caissons went rolling along and both of us - many miles apart - rode beside them. We talked also of the then forthcoming San Francisco conference of the United Nations and Mr. Truman's theme was what he felt to be his function. Paradoxically enough-as it turned out later-it was helping establish liaison between congress and the White House, complementing the highly successful effort of Secretary of State Hull which resulted in the forging of a bi-partisan foreign policy. And in so short a time, after Mr. Truman became President, that liaison between Capitol Hill and 1600 Pennsylvania avenue snapped in twain, never to be reunited. Three months after the President took office I recorded: "The political armistice in Washington will end shortly after the President's (Truman's) return from Berlinby that time domestic discontent will be crystallizing, the honeymoon will be on the wane. . . ."

And I then had the temerity to war should end year . . . President Truman will be stripped of the protecting armor of the Commander-in-Chief. Then America shortly thereafter.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N.W., | the slings and arrows which even Roosevelt's enemies were wont to deflect to congress and other government agencies will be aimed squarely at the man in the White

> That prophesy required no gift of the occult. Mr. Truman knew it then-or I wouldn't have.

From now on the President is his own man. The legislation he offers, whatever its fate may be, will be moulded to suit his own heart's desire. He has fought the fight to the best of his ability, assailed from the right and the left and the rear as well as the front. Now he will write his own ticket, be it good or bad. Few Presidents have had such an opportunity or faced a more severe test.

Presidential Bee Hums in Capitol Dome

Washington withdraws from official activity for the holidays without getting any real impact of the advent of the new regime. There has been the preliminary hurlyburly of reorganization on Capitol Hill but the same old faces are evident and the same old voices speak. The active Republican leaders in both houses of congress have been so much in the limelight for the last year anyhow that they merely appear to be stepping up, rather than stepping in. It all seems quite routine and casual. There was just a touch of the excitement of the beginning of a new era when house and senate steering committees had their first meetings and made their first official statements concerning legislation and policy. Most of the steps had been foreshadowed and the change of venue was not fanfared. The last 14 years make up the longest period of lean years that any party has suffered. I witnessed end of two 12-year drouths through which the Democrats thirsted; close of the one that began with William McKinley and ended with William Howard Taft, when Wilson accompanied the "new freedom" to the White House. And the next, another 12-year period, when the New Deal followed Hoover's exit. The Democrats had only a short interlude at the pie-counter between Taft and Harding and their return in 1933 came in the midst of such a domestic crisis, with the mad days of the NRA following on the heels of the bank holiday, that our attention was diverted from poliics. But what the Democrats did to the Republican officeholders "wasn't good," as one Republican put it recently. He added: "We are going to do the same for them.' Congress begins with the Republican Presidential plum within easier reach than any which have dangled in many a year and it is no wonder many hands are reaching hopefully for it. In fact, Senator Vandenberg early sounded the warning that more thoughts should be concentrated on the responsibilities following the victory of '46, and less on the possibilities of '48, for the good of all concerned. The battle between the Taftites and the anti-Taftites began even before election and the Ohio senator himself is so determined that this time he will win the nomination that he leans over backward predict that if . . . Rural Areas Most Affected By Shortage of Teachers

R ED" SKELTON, radio comehe now knows that the reason his grade school teacher looked that way was because she was just hun-While this may not be literally true, the recent report of Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching bears out the statement of the radio entertainer in that it describes the school teachers of the country as generally "the forgotten" people whose ability to carry on irrespective of work load, living costs and other worrisome factors is taken for granted.

The report asserts that one of the serious defects in the public education system is the apparent country-wide neglect "the central figure in the educational process-the teach-

There is no denying that the serious shortage of school teachers in the nation today is hampering and lowering educational standards in our public school system. According to Dr. Frank Hubbard, director of research of National Educational association in Washington, there was a shortage of approximately 109,000 qualified school teachers last year and the shortage for the ensuing year will be approximately the same number.

This shortage is revealed by the number of emergency certificates for teaching which have been granted. Such temporary paper means that the bearer is not qualified for a regular certificate, measured by the standards of the state.

Shifts of Population

Shortages of school teachers are worst in those states where influx of wartime population and extremely high birth rates have brought about tremendous population increases. According to Dr. Hubbard, this migration of population has moved toward the "rim" of the country to the west and east coasts, to Louisiana and the Great Lakes regions, and hence the school teacher shortage is worse in these sections, particularly in California. California educators declare they need 4,000 new teachers each year for the next 10 years to meet their educational

Dr. Hubbard declares the causes underlying this shortage in qualified teachers are cumulative over the years and conditions are worse in small towns and rural areas than in the larger cities.

Teachers migrate from the smaller schools and smaller communities to larger schools and larger communities, drawn by more attractive salaries and better living conditions and more economic opportunities. And so rural schools drawing upon unqualified teachers to fill the gaps, have considerably lower standards today than in prewar

Higher Pay, More Prestige

Immediate and necessary remedies to cure the shortage and to prevent a further breakdown in educational standards, according to Dr. Hubbard, include:

1. Immediate steps to make salaries attractive enough to prevent further losses of competent teachers. This is coming gradually with about a 30 per cent increase in school teachers' salaries since 1941;

2. Make salaries decent enough to attract young people into the teaching profession and to prevent them from going into other lines of work to earn a decent living:

3. Streamlining of teacher educational institutions to make life and study in these institutions more attractive to students;

4. A program of recruitment in high schools and colleges to prove to newcomers there are real opportunities in the teaching profession;

5. A broad and long-range program of raising the general prestige of the teaching profession, particularly in the matter of public thinking toward school teachers.

6. Eliminate many subordinate problems such as housing, poor school construction, inadequate school equipment and facilities and oversize classes.

The teacher shortage in rural schools is alarming to educators and an attempt was made during the 79th congress to provide for federal appropriations to assist local communities to provide better salaries. The measure failed passage, however, largely due to opposition to "federal control" which might follow use of federal money.

City schools are feeling the shortage only in specialized lines and enrollment in city schools likely will be smaller the coming year with population moving to the suburbs and rural areas.

Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

MORE DUPLICATION

WASHINGTON. - President Truman is a sincere, hard-plugging advocate of unified armed services, but he should persuade his army to obey the policy of its commander-in-chief. At present the army is building a special wing to Walter Reed hospital at 12th and Dahlia streets in Washington which will exactly duplicate the navy's. This wing is to take care of the President of the United States. Simultaneously, the navy also has floor of its Bethesda Naval hospital reserved for the President. It is all set to take care of him at any time. However, medical officers have changed in the White House and a navy doctor isn't in command any more. The army now runs the Roosevelt, always partial to the navy, appointed Adm. Ross McIntire White House physician. But Truman, who served in the army, selected Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham as White House physician.

And of course an army doctor does not like to practice in a naval hospital. Therefore the army medical corps, wanting to avoid the humility of sending the President to a naval hospital, authorized a new wing to the Walter Reed Army hospital. Thus, at the expense of thousands of feet of scarce lumber, tons of strategic metal and several thousand bricks, the special wing for the President is being built.

U.S. VS. U.S.S.R. DEMOCRACY

Secretary of State Jimmy Byrnes has been telling the following story about the difference between democracy in Russia and the United States. "An American soldier," he relates, "was talking to a Russian soldier in Berlin. The American said that in his country, he could go to Washington without a permit, go to the White House, wait his turn, get in to see the President and tell him that he doesn't like American foreign policy. 'That's democracy,' said the

G.I. "'That's nothing,' the Russian soldier replied. 'In my country I can go to Moscow, knock on the door of the Kremlin, walk in, wait my turn, see Stalin, bang on the desk and say, "Mr. Stalin, I don't like Truman's foreign policy either!" And nothing would happen to me. That's real democracy.' "

SUPPRESSED REPORT

While President Truman and other high government officials continue their enthusiastic support of the new Philippine government of President Roxas, there remain locked in the files of the White House and Attorney Gen. Tom Clark two copies of a report which, if made public, has explosive power nearly as great as that of the suppressed Rogge report.

The Philippine report was written by a special investigator sent to Manila last winter to determine what action should be taken against islanders who had collaborated with Jap occupation authorities. Inside fact is it pins guilt on nearly all the leaders of the present Philippine administration. Documentary evidence of collaborationist records of a large part of the present senate, cabinet and President Roxas himself is included.

The charges include such criminal acts as aiding the Japs to wipe out patriot guerrillas, conspiring to seize food from famished Filipinos for use by the Jap armies, in addition to the declaration of war against the United States in 1944.

Although the vast majority of the Filipinos hated and resisted the Japs, corruption spread through the top layers of political and industrial leaders. Result was that the justice department investigators recommended that the most important collaborationist clique be tried not in the Philippines, where it would be difficult to find a native court completely free of bias, but in San Fran-

Reason this recommendation was never acted upon, officials say, was largely Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

UNDER THE DOME

Speaker Sam Rayburn doesn't want the job of minority leader. . . . Southern congressmen are not enthusiastic over continuing the lead-ership of Massachusetts' John Mc-Cormack and they have the votes to put him in or out. . . . One fixture in the capitol regardless of political turnover will be the Rev. James Shera Montgomery, the house chap-lain. Appointed by the Republicans in 1921, he was continued by the Democrats.

MERRY GO ROUND

All cabinet members are strengthening their legal staffs, knowing they face the most exhaustive series of congressional investigations in the last 20 years. . . . Retiring Speaker Sam Rayburn tells friends that he will serve in the house only one more term. Sam has been a congressional fixture for 35 years, now wants to retire. . . . Nine members of the new senate are former newspaper men and publishers; three are former teachers. Sixty-four senators are lawyers, the largest group.

Ham and Bacon Stacks Offer Luscious Treat

"For a special luncheon there isn't any better dish than Ham and Baeon Stacks," writes Marjorie Griffin, Rural Home editor of nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer.

"This luscious treat offers ham an pineapple slices rolled inside bacon, and in the middle of it all is a mashed sweet potato patty," she tells homemakers in the magazine read by 1,300,000 farm families."

HAM AND BACON STACKS & strips bacon
4 slices of pineapple 1 c. mashed sweet

Cross two strips of bacon. Lay on one slice of pineapple. Shape the mashed sweet potato into 4 patties and the ground ham into 4 patties. Top each pineapple slice with a sweet potato patty and a ham patty. Fold over ends of bacon on top of each stack and fasten ends together with a toothpick. Place in baking dish. Bake in 350° F. oven for one hour. Serve while hot.

Plastics Brighten Home

Plastics are making their home entrance in everything from window screens to furniture upholstery, Tharen Petersen points out in na-tionally-circulated Capper's Farmer.

These adaptable synthetics will be seen in many forms. Some will be pressed into fine films, some made into thread to be woven into fabric and some molded into thicker sheets, giving a leather-like appearance, she writes in the magazine read by 1,300,000 farm families. Molded plastics are being made into dishes, accessories, furniture and other parts for home equipment.

Experiment

Nationalization of industry is the big issue in England. The Labor government, elected last year on a nationalization platform, is proceeding to carry out the program as rapidly as possible. Some sectors of American thought are advocating the same measures for our country For this reason it is my belief that many readers of this column will find interest in the progress of this socialistic program in England.

First step was the nationalization of the Bank of England, upon which the government long has relied for more or less of its own financing, particularly has it obtained large short-term loans for years. The bank's stock belonged to private individuals and had been paying about 3% interest. The government did not evaluate the bank, but simply took over all the stock, giving to all former owners bonds equal to the market value of the stock and bearing 3 per cent. The invaluable hidden assets which invariably accrue to such an institution went to the government without remuneration to the former stockholders. Danger Present

The Bank of England also was given power to require other bank's of the country to accept such banking policies as it might decide to issue. Some experienced bankers fear that the day may come when the government, because of extensive deficit financing, will advocate unsound banking policies which would react badly upon the financial status of the United Kingdom. Policies already adopted by the bank have led to the discontinuing interest formerly paid on deposits and savings accounts.

Industries slated for nationalization by the Labor government are: (1) Transportation, including railroads, transport buses, street-cars, canal barges, and coastal shipping,
(2) Utilities, including production and distribution of electric power and the operation of water systems throughout the Kingdom, (3) The iron and steel industry, and (4) Civil

Complications in Steel

Perhaps the most complex problems for nationalization are presented by the iron and steel industry. This is a highly skilled craft, requiring skills and know-how to be found only in the present management of the industry. Many important but closely related industries in manufacturing, from needles to locomotives, would be affected.

One government economist told me that the government would take over production of steel and iron up to the point where the metal was allowed to cool, regardless of the form in which that might be. However, another economist stated that this policy would draw the line of demarcation for nationalized industry right through the center of some plants which were accustomed to using a continuous process until metals were actually shaped into materials for sale.

IS THERE SUCH A THING AS PERFECT

know! Nature has so constructed and physically endowed woman that in many cases she's apt to suffer certain distressing symptoms during her life. For instance, when she enters womanhood—or during the menopause, the period when fertility ebbs away.

Now if on 'certain days' of the month—female functional monthly disturbances are causing you to suffer from pain, nervous distress and feel so tired, cranky, you snap at your children and husband—then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. It's famous for this purpose.

Made ESPECIALLY For Girls and Women

Pinkham's Compound does more than relieve such monthly pain. It also relieves accompanying nervous tension, irritability and weak, highstrung feelings—when due to this cause. Taken regularly thruout the month—this great medicine helps build up resistance against such distress. A thing any sensible woman should want to do!

A SERIOUS DISEASE FOR CHILDREN

Rheumatic heart disease is now the first cause f death among child-ren aged 10 to 14, and is second only to tuberculosis at ages 15 to Despite the importance of this disease its epidemiology is not completely established. No vaccine such as those that prevent typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox, and cough has yet been developed for ts prevention or control. We do know, however, some of the danger signals and with the physician's accurate diagnosis some of the damiging results of the disease may be prevented.

Exposure to frequent chilling. damp or overcrowded living quarters, a poor diet, an attack of scarlet fever, a bad cold or other infection caused by certain streptococcus germs are likely to be predisposing factors in the appearance of rheum tic fever.

In general the danger signals of rheumatic fever are pain and swell ing in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows, or wrists. The pain usually is felt in one of these centers and spreads it to the others. Ofttimes a child will get irritable and cress without any visible signs of a good reason for this attitude; may cry easily or develop habits of nervousness. A doctor should be con sulteed at once in such a situation for these symptoms may be the be-ginning of rheumatic fever.

A child should be examined once a year, and have the right kind of food and plenty of rest. When the disease is suspected of being present, a doctor should be consulted at once, and if he prescribes complete bed rest, his advice should be implicitly followeed.

Ordinarily, the more cars in traf fic, the more accidents we have but— the traffic death rate in cit-ies over 2,500 population is up 17 per cent, while in towns under 2, 500 the death rate is up 90 per cent for the first 9 months of the year. WHY? The Texas Safety Asseciation wonders if the adage "There is safety in numbers," applies - or is it lack of highway patrolmen to arrest drunk drivers and speed demons roaring thru small towns?

Are you a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde? The traveling motorist of Texas is - he may be a law-abiding citizen in one section of Texas and by the same driving be a traffic violator in another section, because there are so many conflicting sets of traffic rules and regulations

Adequate policing for Texas Hiways will be an important question before the 50th Legislature. Texas, whose hi-ways exceed the circumfer ence of the earth, ranks in the lower brackets among all states in num erical strength of hiway patrolmen.

The reason why truth is stranger than fiction is 'cause we hear so

A Heritage

Phrase-makers who refer to Dixie as the Bible Belt have missed an important point. Without ignoring anything, I should like to appraise the whole of America as a Bible Land. This is done humbly, for Americans have sometimes failed to follow the light of truth when that light burned brightly before them. Despite efforts of some modern historians to interpret the facts differently, our forebears developed this nation with religious principles in mind. They read their Bibles. Regardless of how many Americans have forsaken these fundamentals, it remains a nation that has been blessed bountifully by God.

Our Best Seller Where in the realm of recorded human experience can you find a land so blessed with liberty and opportunity, as in America? And where in history has there been a land so prosperous, where material blessings fit only for kings of the past may be enjoyed by each man and his neighbor? Let it be remembered that America's best seller is still the Bible, a phenomenon which is cause and not effect.

National Bible Week was celebrated this year from October 21 to 27. Where else among the nations can you find a land so dedicating itself? In calling America a land of Bibles, I affirm that the religious people of this nation constitute its greatest asset. There now would be no hope for world peace, there would be no prospect of good citizenship at home, were this not so.

Practical Application For example, the Bible offers us the perfect formula to put an end to industrial strife. In fact, I could never expect fair play in industrial relations to come about in a land where the Golden Rule is unknown We must not forget it, here in America. Shall labor forget this rule of action and become a pressure group so determined to apply pressure upon industry that investment capital will be driven out and become unavailable to buy and replace tools? That is exactly the way to cut production and achieve lower and lower wages. Industry aims at profits: it wants dividends for stockholders and capital for expansion. Should industry withhold fair wages and seek spe-cialized legislation? No, that is the road to bankruptcy. Industry's first objective should not be its own welfare, but the welfare of labor and of agriculture.

Back to Fundamentals

Agriculture wants high prices for all it can produce. How shall it obtain these high prices? Through selfish, class legislation? No, that's the road to failure. Agriculture wants a prosperous market, with many people eating and living well.

This it cannot attain by selfishly looking to itself. It must be more interested in the welfare of other

Wherever we have strayed from God, and from His laws and His formulas, that is exactly the point where we must return. Harmony, prosperity, and peace will surely follow. If we loved one another as we love ourselves, we should have no fear about what use might be made of atomic bombs. Neither science, nor so-called 'civilization,' nor any of the human-"isms," offers a sure cure for the world's ills. A return to God and the principles found in the Bible is our only hope that we shall not literally destroy

Here's an Easy-to-Serve Dinner

Simple Dinners

While talking to a young bride recently, she expressed a desire to learn how to entertain nicely, but simply, because, as she expressed it, "I don't know much about cooking, but I do so want things to taste and look wonderful."

Well, that's a problem all of us might give some thought to, every now and then. It's a good idea to have some menus all filed away that we can rely on as being successful both from the standpoint of being good to eat and looking attrac-

In case you're in a sort of a rut about entertaining because of the past several year's food difficulties, take yourself in hand and look over our suggestions today. I'm all for simplicity in entertaining, especially if cooking and serving doesn't come to one as easily as it seems to others. In that case, plan a simple menu, but carry it out well, and you'll really get bouquets to go

Before company comes, and even before you start getting the dinner itself, have the house, linens, tableware and cooking equipment in order. Once this big worry is out of mind, then you can concentrate on the cooking itself. Do everything you possibly can ahead of time, so too much won't be left for the last minute.

Make out a schedule of when things should go in the oven or when they should be put on the range. Be sure this is worked out in advance so you won't be worried that things will not all be ready at the same

I'm going to give simple but festive recipes today because they will be easy for the novice to prepare, but just wait until you see how they look on the table. UMMMMMM! Start off with a minted fruit juice, as this is refreshing and will not take cooking. Chill citrus fruit juice before serving - pineapple and orange juice is a good combination - and pour into dainty glasses. Add a few crushed mint glass. Serve. Everyone is bound to like lamb chops and here's a grand way to prepare those chops so they look like a roast: Mock Crown Roast of Lamb.

(Serves 6) 6 frenched lamb chops Melted butter or substitute Salt and pepper

Have the butcher french the lamb chops. Place them under mod-erate broiler heat and broil 8 to 10 minutes on each side until they are well browned. Baste with melted butter as they brown. Sprinkle with salt and pepper just before removing from the broiler.

Just before serving, pile a mound of fluffy mashed potatoes in the center of a platter. Stand the lamb chops around the mound of potatoes, as illustrated, patting them well into the potatoes so they don't fall down. Arrange cooked slivered carrots around the platter for the vegetables. Place paper frills, if de-

LYNN SAYS:

Suggestions for Hors D'Oeuvres: When you're entertaining, make up a plate of simple appetizers to serve with chilled fruit or vegetable juice, and let your company get into a chatty, informal mood for dinner.

Anchovy-Bacon Rolls: Lay flat strips of anchovy along a slice of bacon. Ro tightly, jelly-roll fashion, and fasten with toothpick. Broil until bacon is crisp. Remove the toothpick and insert a fresh one, and sired, around the lamb chops before serving.

There you have meat, potatoes and vegetable on one platter! Makes for easy serving, doesn't it? The salad is exceedingly simple to arrange and goes well with the hearty main dish. It may be prepared ahead of time on individual plates and placed in the refrigerator. Arrange three spears of canned, chilled asparagus on lettuce leaves.

Lay sliced cucumbers on each side and pour french or thousand island dressing across the center of the If you want to serve attractive and dainty biscuits with the dinner, here's an idea. Use a recipe for baking powder biscuit dough or get one of the good packaged mixes. Roll the dough out to 1/4-inch thick. Spread with melted butter, sprinkle with cinnamon and nutmeg. Roll as for jelly roll. Cut off one-inch pieces and place them, cut side down, in a baking pan. Bake for 15 to 20 minutes in a hot (400 degree) oven. Serve with jelly or jam, wish, or with just plain butter. A cake is really a simple dessert to have with this type of dinner because it eliminates last minute fluster. Prepare the cake the day before and frost before beginning to cook dinner. Orange Flower Cake. 11/2 cups sifted cake flour 11/2 teaspoons baking powder 14 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon grated orange rind 1/2 cup shortening 1 cup sugar

2 eggs, unbeaten ½ cup orange juice Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Add orange rind to shortening and cream together thoroughly. Add sugar to shortening and cream until fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with orange juice, in small amounts, beating thoroughly after each addition. Pour into greased cake pans and bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 30 minutes. This recipe will make two 8-inch layers. This cake may be frosted with a fluffy boiled icing and sprinkled with orange rind or garnished with orange segments. Whipped cream, if available, may also be used. Or, if you prefer, an orangeflavored butter cream icing may be used with orange segments arranged on top. Orange Frosting. 1 scant cup sugar 1/2 teaspoon salt Pinch of cream of tartar 1 egg white

3 tablespoons orange and lemon juice, mixed Beat all ingredients together in top of double boiler until it stands in peaks. Use on top and in between layers of cake. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lettuce Rolls: Use fresh, crisp lettuce leaves which have been washed and dried carefully. Spread. with any softened cheese, well seasoned and roll for serving.

Apple Wedges: Cut firm, red apple wedges into 1/2-inch-thick slices, but do not pare. Cut each slice into three wedges and dip in pineapple or orange juice. Spread with softened cream or Roquefort cheese and garnish with cheese forced through a tube. Serve with tooth-

PAUL ADMONISHES THE CHURCHES

LESSON TEXT—I Corinthians 11:20-27; Romans 13:13, 14; Ephesians 5:18-21. MEMORY SE3.ECTION—Let us walk hon-estly, as in the day.—Romans 13:13.

Temperance is readily taught from the epistles of Paul for he was constantly moved by the Holy Spirit to exhort the churches and individual Christians to a careful and worthy walk before God. In doing so he was not afraid to speak plainly about the use of intoxicants. Perhaps his brethren in the ministry today should consider him and take courage.

Our lesson is a temperance lesson and since some twist that word "temperance" to fit almost any kind of indulgence, we should like to quote a careful evaluation of it by Dr. W. R. White:

"Temperance is a seriously misunderstood word. The best definition we know defines it as abstaining from that which is harmful, and using moderately that which is legitimate. We would not advise a man to be moderate in teasing a rattlesnake. We would not tell him that it is all right to steal, lie or commit adultery just so he is temperate about it. We would not tell a man to use dope moderately. . . . We could tell a man to be moderate about eating meat or any other wholesome thing."

The only way to be temperate about liquor is to let it alone!

I. The Wrong Way and the Right Way-in the Church (I Cor. 11:20-

There were a number of disorderly things about the Corinthian church which needed correction. One of these concerned the Lord's Supper. A time which should have given them a blessed unity in fellowship and love had become just the opposite.

It was their custom to eat a socalled love feast before the sacrament, and instead of making it a time of loving and sharing, the rich ate their sumptuous meals and let a poor brother gnaw on a crust of

Then feasting led, as it so often does, to excesses. Some became drunken on the wine and even partook of the Lord's Supper while intoxicated. We are not so much concerned with the Lord's Supper in this lesson as we are with the behavior of those who attended. Think of coming to the holy table drunk! seems impossible, and yet it hap-Do we not still let the poor in our midst shift pretty well for themselves? The rich flaunt their affluence and let the poor get along on their crust of bread. The church needs to renew its scriptural appreciation of what fellowship and communion really means.

II. The Wrong Way and the Right Way-in the Community (Rom. 13: 13, 14).

This chapter of the epistle to the Romans concerns the right behavior of the believer in his civic relationships. He is a citizen of heaven, but he is also a citizen of the community in which he lives.

The use of intoxicants which a generation ago was a shameful thing is now generally accepted. The home in which liquor was served was a disgrace; now "cocktail" is one of the first words children learn.

What is the explanation? Is liquor any less destructive and demoralizing? Certainly not! Is it then true that people are more candid and open about what they do? No, it is rather that moral standards have slipped to the point where they are no longer ashamed when they should be, if they thought straight!

Along with the liquor go all the things enumerated in verse 13. Oh. the awful depth of sex degradation. of plain ordinary indecency and dishonesty, of strife and envy. It is not a nice picture, but it is true.

The right way is found in verse 14. It was reading these two verses in his mother's open Bible that led Augustine to Christ. He saw and took the right way. Will others do

III. The Wrong Way and the Right Way-in the Heart (Eph. 5:18-21)

This is a personal matter. The man or woman who finds satisfac tion in wine wants the overcoming power of the narcotic influence to take away the sense of responsibility for life. It is a weak and hopeless way to avoid facing reality.

The right way is to let the Holy Spirit take full control of the heart and life. This is to be an experience of complete surrender, being "filled with the Spirit.'

Does life then become drab and uninteresting? No, indeed! For the first time you will be really joyful. That inevitably leads to thankfulness, a grace too little known and practiced. It is for all things at all times. Do not overlook that fact. Then too there will be a delightful attitude of consideration and respect for one another (v. 21) and of devotion to God.
