Willis Kirkland Rites Held Here Sunday

Funeral rites for Willis Ray Kirkland, son of Mrs. W. R. Kirkland of Clovis, New Mexico, were held from the Methodist church here Sunday afternoon. The young man passed away in a Clovis hospital about three o'clock Friday afternoon.

An invalid since early childhood, Willis had been seriously ill for some two weeks and attending physicians are of the opinion that he developed pneumonia sometime on Friday. He was taken to the hospital so that he might have an oxygen tent, but death came within a few moments after he was admitted.

The body was brought here to the home of his uncle, W. J. Shook, Saturday afternoon, the funeral party of friends from Clovis accompanying the family. Rev. J. H. Crawford, pastor of the church, said the last tributes of affection, and services were directed by Clyde Brannon of Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Palbearers included E. W. Ishmael of Clovis, Randall Gibson, of Tahoka, J. L. Shoemaker, Jr., Riley Sumrall, Buck Preston, and M. J. Whitsett. Interment was made in the city cemetery.

Willis was born on May 1, 1916, at Ballinger, being 23 years, 8 months, and 23 days of age at the time of his death. While he was still a small child, his mother and family came to O'Donnell to make their home, and had lived here until some three years ago, when they moved to Clovis. Willis was seized with a form of paralysis in early childhood, but continued his school work until his physical condition made it dangerous for him to walk or stand alone.

Throughout his long and painful illness, even after he had become practically helpless, he remained buoyant and cheerful, keeping himself occupied with his wood-carving hobby at which he showed remarkable skill and talent. His enthusiasm and his happy disposition were truly "sunshine in dark places" for his family and friends. The deep affection in which he was held was proven by the scores of sorrowing friends who mourned with his family, and by the numerous lovely floral offerings.

The young man is survived by his mother, Mrs. W. R. Kirkland, of Clovis, by two brothers, Vernon of Clovis and Charles of O'Donnell, by two sisters, Mrs. Waldine Cathey and Miss Jettie Kirkland of Clovis; by his paternal grandfather, J. R. Kirkland of Bronte, and many relatives here.

The Index joins with other friends in extending deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

Plans For Boys Live Stock Show Drafted

Plans for the coming Lynn county boys livestock show were drafted in a meeting at the office of the County Agent, Donald Turner, Saturday morning, January 27. Vocational teachers of the county, the Farm Security Supervisor, and A. D. Wensel, prominent Berkshire hog grower of Wilson, met with the county agent to discuss these plans. March 16 has been set as the date for the show and attractive prizes will be offered 4-H club boys and members of vocational agriculture classes in fat calf and hog classes. A complete prize list will be published at a later date.

GroundHog Will Take Weather Forecast Fri.

Will he or won't he... that's the question. But we're willing to bet more than we bet on the Lubbock-Waco football game that we have at least six weeks' more winter weather, whether the groundhog sees his shadow or not.

Yep, according to old Indian or some kind of legend, the shy little groundhog will creep out Friday to see whether or not it's safe to unhibernate (is there such a word?). If he sees his shadow the old story goes, it will frighten him back into his den for another six weeks.

E. D. Curry Dead At Snyder Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Stark, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gibson, and B. L. Davis attended funeral services at Snyder Saturday afternoon for E. D. Curry, father of Mrs. W. H. Ritzenthaler. Many Index readers will be pleased to recall that Mr. Curry, who visited here a number of times while Mr. and Mrs. Ritzenthaler were directing the destinies of the paper.

Mr. Curry, who was a long time resident of Snyder and Scurry county, had been in poor health for several years. Mrs. Ritzenthaler and little daughter arrived at his bedside Friday night, several hours before his death.

Deepest sympathy of friends here is extended to the bereaved.

Sherry Gale Singleton In Dallas Hospital

South Plains Stock Show March 25-27

Separate divisions of competition for five breeds of pigs in the approaching South Plains Fat Stock show have been recommended by a special committee, according to announcement by J. A. Fortberry, chairman of the show's executive committee.

In the past, he explained, no distinction has been made between breeds in the awarding of the prize money. The divisions of competition among pigs, as well as among calves and sheep, have been "light" and "heavy." Those same divisions will be continued this year in the calf and sheep competitions.

In the pig division, however, the recommendations, both for lights and heavies, be established this year for the Berkshire, Chester White, Duroc, Hampshire, Chester White, Duroc, Hampshire and Poland China breeds.

The further recommendation, Fortberry said that prize money for the division be increased from $104 to $121, including a $10 award for the grand champion of the pig show.

A meeting of the executive committee will be held in the next few days to consider the recommendations. Fortberry said.

Members of the pig division committee are W. L. Stangel, Dr. I. E. Barr, C. C. Johnson, M. U. May, O. T. Egan and R. C. Harvey.

Twenty-Acre Spacing Ruled For New Wells

AUSTIN, Jan. 28—Twenty-acre spacing for new oil wells was decreed in an order signed by the Texas railroad commission today. The regulation, intended to restrict unnecessary drilling, was proposed and discussed at the last statewide prorating hearing. Currently general spacing in Texas, the nation's largest oil producing state, is about 2 1/2 acres.

Under the new rule exceptions will be granted only after hearings on which 10 days notice is given for the benefit of all interested parties. The regulation stipulates that new wells cannot be drilled nearer than 333 feet to any other completed or drilling wells and not closer than 467 feet to any property line. It does not rescind previous orders applicable to spacing in fields requiring greater or smaller distances.

Cold Weather Damage Cause Price Raise

Prices of fresh fruits and vegetables climbed awfully over the week-end as the wail of the South's cold wave.

Wholesale dealers reported a shortage of many of the products with which southern Florida and the Rio Grande valley of Texas supply northern tables in the winter.

At the same time, California and Cuban growers looked forward to enlarged demands from much of the United States at higher prices. Atlanta markets receiving southern Florida produce reported price increases of as much as 200 and 300 per cent over quotations 10 days ago with best grade lima beans bringing $6 a bushel compared with $3.25 formerly; green peas at $3 a bushel against $1.30; cabbage at $3.25 a hundredweight compared with 90 cents to $1.25. In Boston, William Quinlin, president of the Boston Market terminal, said the effect of the cold on prices had not as yet been felt there, but that he believed it would soon be difficult to obtain peppers, peas, string beans and tomatoes.

The onion growers of Canastota, N. Y., which is as famous for the odorous bulb as in Raymondville, Texas, cleaned out the holdover of their 2,500 carload crop at $2 a hundredweight, about double the price which maintained up to a week ago.

Buyers in the big New York market snapped up all offerings of Southern fruits and vegetables, even though the state department of agriculture and markets described "a large proportion of the receipts" as "ordinary to poor quality." Peas brought as much as $4 a bushel and peppers as much as $4 a crate. Chicago market prices, which advanced last week, continued to climb. Beans rose 50 cents to $1 a bushel higher; celery went up as much as 50 cents a crate; green peppers climbed $1 a crate; Texas grapefruit went up 75 cents a hundredweight and oranges 25 cents. Houston reported fresh vegetables selling at premium prices with both wholesale and retail prices double those of a week ago. Fruit prices, however, were up only slightly.

San Antonio, a shipping center for the great Rio Grande valley, reported arrivals of fruit and vegetables were 200 carloads smaller daily since the cold wave and vegetable prices tripled and quadrupled. Again, fruit price advances were smaller.

Joe Eaker made a business trip to Amarillo Monday.

Miss Letta Merle Koeninger was down from Tech to spend the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Koeninger.

Dr. and Mrs. BuBany drove to San Angelo Monday to hear Fritz Kreisler, the violinist, in concert there.

George Oates made a business trip to Lubbock Monday.

Mrs. G. W. Kyle was up from Lamesa on business Monday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ables last Friday, an eleven pound son. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

Mr. Glen Allen was in Big Spring on business Tuesday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ramsey last Wednesday, an eight-pound daughter.

D. L. Harris is quite ill this week with pneumonia, it is feared.

Mmes. R. P. Weather, L. E. Turentine, and Walter Slaton of Tahoka were visitors here Tuesday afternoon.

Appletizers Point Up Simple Menus

APPLETZERS are something new for the hostess who likes to give her parties touches of individuality which make them memorable. The inspiration of Miss Cora Anthony, cooking expert for one of the nation's largest food chains, appletizers are featured in a group of recipes prepared for the inauguration of Second National Apple Week in February. Celebration of apple week marks the latest of the drives staged by food chains to move surplus crops and stabilize returns to farmers. During the week apples will be an important item for the housekeeper who keeps an eye on her budget, says Miss Anthony.

Appletizers on a Pickle
Cut apples in cubes, place alternately on toothpicks with cubes of cheese (sharp store or Roquefort); salami; pickled onions; cocktail sausages or frankfurters; pieces of crisped bacon; salted nuts, etc. Stick toothpicks in large apple.
Appletizer Canapes
Core unpeeled red apples; cut in slices, cut slices in half; cover with desired spreads such as caviar; cream cheese seasoned with salt; Cayenne; Worcestershire and onion juice; cream cheese and anchovy; pot cheese and chives; Camembert cheese; toasted sharp cheese sprinkled with cayenne; smoked salmon or whitefish; smoked herring fillets; deviled ham, etc.
Appletizer Slices
Cut apples into quarter-inch slices; wrap with thin slices of smoked turkey breast; boiled or baked ham; dried smoked beef; salami, etc.
Dip all cut apple in lemon, pineapple or grapefruit juice to retard darkening.

Willis Kirkland Rites Held Here Sunday

Funeral rites for Willis Ray Kirkland, son of Mrs. W. R. Kirkland of Clovis, New Mexico, were held from the Methodist church here Sunday afternoon. The young man passed away in a Clovis hospital about three o'clock Friday afternoon.

An invalid since early childhood, Willis had been seriously ill for some two weeks, and attending physicians are of the opinion that he developed pneumonia sometime on Friday. He was taken to the hospital where he might have an oxygen tent, but death came within a few moments after he was admitted.

The body was brought here to the home of his uncle, W. J. Shook, Saturday afternoon, the funeral party of friends from Clovis accompanying the family. Rev. J. H. Crawford, pastor of the church, said the last tributes of affection, and services were directed by Clyde Brannon of Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Palbearers included I. W. Hamael of Clovis, Randall Gibson, of Tahoka, J. L. Shoemaker, Jr., Riley Sumrall, Buck Preston, and M. J. Whitsett. Interment was made in the city cemetery.

Willis was born on May 1, 1916, at Ballinger, being 23 years, 8 months and 23 days of age at the time of his death. While he was still a small child, his mother and family came to O'Donnell to make their home, and had lived here until some three years ago, when they moved to Clovis. Willis was seized with a form of paralysis in early childhood, but continued his school work until his physical condition made it dangerous for him to walk or stand alone.

Throughout his long and painful illness, even after he had become practically helpless, he remained happy and cheerful, keeping himself occupied with his wood-carving, a hobby to which he showed remarkable skill and talent. His enthusiasm and his happy disposition were truly "sunshine in dark places" for his family and friends. The deep affection he had become held was proven by the scores of sorrowing friends who mourned with his family, and by the numerous lovely floral offerings.

The young man is survived by his mother, Mrs. W. R. Kirkland of Clovis, by his father, who resides in Arizona, by two brothers, Vernon of Clovis and Charles of O'Donnell, by two sisters, Mrs. Waldine Cathey and Miss Jettie Kirkland of Clovis; by his paternal grandfather, R. R. Kirkland of Bronke, and many relatives here.

The Index joins with other friends in extending deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

Lumber Yard Enlarge; Residence Being Built

New office and display space at Cicero Smith Lumber yard here is almost complete this week. The addition is built on the west side of the building, and will give practically twice the office space and display room.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Howard, in Dawson Heights, is also under construction, though work has been somewhat delayed because of inclement weather.

Workmen are this week installing two gas furnaces at the W. L. Palmer residence here.

Plans For Boys Live Stock Show Drafted

Plans for the coming Lynn county boys livestock show were drafted in a meeting at the office of the County Agent, Donald Turner, Saturday morning, January 27. Vocational teachers of the county, the Farm Secretary Supervisors and A. D. Wensel, prominent Berkshire hog grower of Wilson, met with the county agent to discuss these plans. March 16 has been set as the date for the show and attractive prizes will be offered 4-H club boys and members of vocational agriculture classes in pig calf and hog classes. A complete prize list will be published at a later date.

Groundhog Will Take Weather Forecast Fri.

Will he or won't he... that's the question. But we're willing to bet more than we bet on the Lubbock-Waco football game that we have at least six weeks' more winter weather whether the groundhog sees his shadow or not. Yep, according to old Indian or some kind of legend, the shy little rascaling will creep out Friday to see whether or not it's safe to unburdenate (is there such a word?) If he sees his shadow the old story goes, it will frighten him back into his den for another six weeks.

E. D. Curry Dead At Snyder Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Stark, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gibson and E. D. Curry attended funeral services at Snyder Saturday for E. D. Curry, founder of Mrs. W. H. Ritzenhaller.

Many Index readers will have pleasant recollections of Mr. Curry, who visited here a number of times while Mr. and Mrs. Ritzenhaller were directing the destinies of the paper.

Mr. Curry, who was a long time resident of Snyder and Scurry county had been in poor health for several years. Mrs. Ritzenhaller and little daughter arrived at his bedside Friday night, several hours before his death.

Deepest sympathy of friends here is extended to the bereaved.

Sherry Gale Singleton In Dallas Hospital

Sherry Coyle, two year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Singleton, was taken to a Dallas hospital Wednesday of last week for treatment of a bone infection which has for some months disabled her right ankle.

The baby, grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fritz and great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Fritz, was admitted to the hospital Thursday to be kept for three weeks. The family returned home Friday. The Index joins with other friends in the sincere hope that the treatment may be successful.

Mr. Homer Hancock has been seriously ill with flu this week. Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Wells were in Big Spring Sunday.

Miss Jim Ellen Wells returned Sunday from a visit with Miss Dorothy Culbertson at Gatesville.

South Plains Stock Show March 25-27

Separate divisions of competition for five breeds of pigs in the approaching South Plains Fat Stock show have been recommended by a special committee, according to announcement by J. A. Fortenberry, chairman of the show's executive committee.

In the past, he explained, no distinction has been made between breeds in the awarding of the prize money. The divisions of competition among pigs, as well as among calves and sheep, have been "light" and "heavy." Those same divisions will be continued this year in the calf and sheep competitions.

In the pig division, however, the recommendation is that separate competitions, both for lights and heavies, be established this year for the Berkshire, Chester White, Duroc, Hampshire, Chester White, Duroc, Hampshire and Poland China breeds.

The further recommendation is, Fortenberry said, that prize money for the division be increased from $104 to $181, including a $10 award for the grand champion of the pig show.

A meeting of the executive committee will be held in the next few days to consider the recommendation, Fortenberry said.

Members of the pig division committee are W. L. Singel, Dr. I. E. Barr, C. C. Johnson, M. U. May, O. T. Ryan and E. C. Harvey.

Twenty-Acre Spacing Ruled For New Wells

AUSTIN, Jan. 28—Twenty-acre spacing for new oil wells was decreed in an order signed by the Texas railroad commission today. The regulation, intended to restrict unnecessary drilling, was proposed and discussed at the last statewide proration hearing. Currently general spacing in Texas, the nation's largest oil producing state, is about 2½ acres.

Under the new rule exceptions will be granted only after hearings on which 10 days notice is given for the benefit of all interested parties.

The regulation stipulates that new wells cannot be drilled nearer than 663 feet to any other completed or drilling wells and not closer than 467 feet to any property line. It does not rescind previous orders applicable to spacing in fields requiring greater or smaller distances.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jackson are parents of a nine pound daughter, born Monday morning.

Cold Weather Damage Cause Price Raise

Prices of fresh fruits and vegetables climbed swiftly over the week-end in the wake of the South's cold wave.

Wholesale dealers reported a shortage of many of the products with which southern Florida and the Rio Grande valley of Texas supply northern tables in the winter.

At the same time, California and Cuban growers looked forward to enlarged demands from much of the United States at higher prices.

Atlanta markets receiving southern Florida produce reported price increases of as much as 200 and 300 per cent over quotations 10 days ago, with best grade lima beans bringing $9 a bushel compared with $3.25 formerly; green peas at $3 a bushel against $1.33; cabbage at $2.25 as hundredweight compared with 90 cents to $1.25. In Boston, William Quinn, president of the Boston Market terminal, said the effect of the cold on prices had not as yet been felt there, but that he believed it would soon be difficult to obtain peppers, peas, string beans and tomatoes.

The onion growers of Canastota, N. Y., which is as famous for the odoriferous bulb as in Raymondville, Texas, cleaned out the holdovers of their 2,500 carload crop at $2 a hundredweight, about double the price which maintained up to a week ago.

Buyers in the big New York market snapped up all offerings of Southern fruits and vegetables, even though the state department of agriculture and markets described "a large proportion of the receipts as 'ordinary to poor quality.' Peas brought as much as $3 a bushel and peppers as much as $4 a crate. Chicago market prices, which advanced last week, continued to climb. Beans rose 50 cents to $1 a bushel higher; celery went up as much as 50 cents a crate; green peppers climbed $1 a crate; Texas grapefruit went up 75 cents a hundredweight and oranges 25 cents. Houston reported fresh vegetables selling at premium prices with both wholesale and retail prices double those of a week ago. Fruit prices, however, were up only slightly.

San Antonio, a shipping center for the great Rio Grande valley, reported arrivals of fruit and vegetables were 200 carloads smaller daily since the cold wave and vegetable prices tripled and quadrupled. Again, fruit price advances were smaller.

Joe Eaker made a business trip to Amarillo Monday.

Miss Letta Merle Koeningher was down from Tech to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Koeningher.

Dr. and Mrs. Bulbany drove to San Angelo Monday to hear Fritz Kreuler, the violinist, in concert there.

Mr. Glen Allen was in Big Spring on business Tuesday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ramsey last Wednesday, an eight-pound daughter.

D. L. Harris is quite ill this week with pneumonia, it is feared.

Mmes R. P. Weathers, L. E. Turrentine, and Walter Slaton of Tahoka were visitors here Tuesday afternoon.

Appletizers Point Up Simple Menus

APPLETZERS are something new for the hostess who likes to give her parties touches of individuality which make them memorable.

The inspiration of Miss Cora Anthony, cooking expert for one of the nation's largest food chains, appletizers are featured in a group of recipes prepared for the inauguration of Second National Apple Week in February. Celebration of apple week marks the latest of the drives staged by food chains to move surplus crop and stabilize returns to farmers. During the week apples will be an important item for the housekeeper who keeps an eye on her budget, says Miss Anthony.

Appletizers on a Toothpick
Cut apples in cubes, place alternately on toothpicks with cubes of cheese (sharp store or Roquefort);

salami; pickled onions; cocktail sausages or frankfurters; pieces of crusted bacon; salted nuts, etc. Stick toothpicks in large apple.

Appletizer Canapes
Core unpeeled red apples; cut in slices, cut slices in half; cover with desired spreads such as caviar; cream cheese seasoned with salt, Cayenne, Worcestershire and onion juice; cream cheese and anchovy; pot cheese and chives; Camembert cheese; toasted sharp cheese sprinkled with cayenne; smoked salmon or whitefish; smoked herring fillets; deviled ham, etc.

Appletizer Sticks
Cut apples into quarter-inch sticks; wrap with thin slices of smoked turkey breast; boiled or baked ham; dried smoked beef; salami, etc.
Dip all cut apple in lemon, pineapple or grapefruit juice to retard darkening.
