Attends Funeral

Mr and Mrs J J Hodnett and Miss Florence Carpenter and Roy Carpenter of Lubbock attended the funeral of Mrs. G W Carpenter at the funeral home Monday of last week. Mrs. Carpenter was 90 years of age. She was a sister in law of Mrs. Carpenter and Miss Florence Carpenter. The family wishes to thank the First Baptist Church for the telegram of sympathy.

Re-Burial of Body Of Cpl. Aten Will Be At San Antonio

Mr and Mrs. G C Aten received word this week that the body of their son, Cpl. Buford Lee Aten of the Marines, was enroute home on ship due to arrive at San Francisco this week. Cpl. Aten was killed in action at Iwo Jima on Feb. 19th 1945 while in company with his fellow Marines they were storming the island held by the Japanese. Re-burial is planned at the National Cemetery at Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio.

C. L. Tyler who died near Brownfield last week was a pioneer settler in the Wells Community before moving to Brownfield.

Taylor Is Candidate For District Clerk

W. S. (Skip) Taylor announces that he is a candidate for re-election to the office of District Clerk. The office pays little, but is a necessary one, and Mr. Taylor has and it easy to handle the business of the office along with his abstract business. The office does require a person of some qualifications and ability, however, and Mr. Taylor has filled it in a capable manner, we are informed.

Skip is an old timer in this area moving to Lynn County in 1916. He was gone a couple of years helping out the Kaisers men back across the Rhine in 1917 and 1918 as soon as that job was done he returned to Tahoka and entered the abstract business in 1921. He will appreciate your vote at the polls in July.

Maion Writes Of Grain Sorghum

Recently I have discussed with Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson and other officials of the government the possibility of developing better markets for West Texas grain sorghum overseas. Grain sorghums are now being raised in many parts of the world. India is our heaviest overseas consumer of grain sorghum and the Indians pay cash for it and complain because they are not permitted to buy more. There is a quota system in operation which governs all our shipments of grain abroad. Recently we were successful in getting an increase in the grain sorghum quota for overseas shipment. Export of grain sorghum to India during the last 9 months approximated 10 million bushels. This includes March shipments which are enroute. I am told that the Indians grind the grain and cook it pancake fashion on top of the stove. In Germany the grain sorghum in the form of a mash or gruel. In Japan the grain sorghum is milled and used as flour or is polished and used in the whole grain as a substitute for rice. Last year the U S production of grain sorghum was 197 million bushels. Texas producing 88 million bushels of that amount. The great portion of the U S production will be utilized for stock feed but an excess of 4 million bushels will be used for human food in Japan, Korea and Germany in addition to the shipment to India. A good price for grain sorghum is a very important factor in the maintenance of Agricultural prosperity in West Texas. This is true despite the fact that grain sorghum production in the Nation is relatively small compared to wheat and corn. Last year the U. S. produced 12 times more wheat and 22 times more corn than the grain sorghum production. CARD OF THANKS I want to thank each one that made it possible for the Colored School to charter a bus to go to Dallas to take part in the Inter-racial League on Friday the 19th. Dorothy Giddings, teacher.

Group Votes Hospital Plan

SEVEN DIRECTORS ARE ELECTED

Despite a raging sand storm on Thursday night, some 125 residents braved the bad weather to meet at the school auditorium to vote and organize a community hospital for this area. Mr. Edler of Crosbyton was the guest speaker and gave his experiences in the organizing of the 35 bed Crosbyton hospital. Seven directors were voted by the group to seek a state charter, namely, Shack Blocker chairman, Carl Sanders, secretary, Bill Snellgrove of O. K., John Burkett of Berry Flat, J. W. Gardenhire, S. F. Johnson and Joe McLaurin of Wells. The directors will meet Wednesday night and as soon as possible the public will be advised of a proceeding in building this needed civic enterprise. Miss Lona Proctor and sister Mrs. Tune of Ft. Worth and Mrs. Ed McKee of Seagraves visited two sisters at Artesia. Mrs. Clay Adams and Mrs. Howard Blackwelder.

Court Test Seen In Borden Road Request

Word from Mesquite in Borden County is that recently the Commissioners Court meeting at Gall had refused to consider, heed and order an election in reply to a petition of residents of the northwest precinct of the county praying for election to set up a special road district to improve roads. Mr. Nance advises us that more than 80 qualified voters petitioned the Court, Commissioner Hubert Walker voted for and the three remaining officials were said to have voted AGAINST.

Feeling in the Berry Flat and Mesquite communities is said to favor a legal test of the County Court in refusing the order an election for above purposes.

Upon interview, representative business men have said here that they would subscribe money if the case comes to a legal test. Lawyers said this is the first instance in the history of Texas legal procedure. If tried the case would likely be in district court at Gall.

JUDGE GARRARD SEEKS RE-ELECTION AS CO. JUDGE

The Index is authorized to announce the candidacy of Judge Tom Garrard as a candidate for re-election to the position of County Judge of Lynn County.

Judge Garrard needs no introduction to voters of this area as his record of progressive and sound county government speaks more than words. During his administration Lynn County has seen a well balanced program of farm to market road building and the Judge advises us that the County has every hope of getting the State to assume the roads already built.

Lynn County feels extremely fortunate to have a man of Tom's ability in the most important of all county offices. As an attorney and a civic leader he is as well known at Austin as out here in West Texas. For the important days of development ahead, O'Donnell and Lynn County is fortunate to have the qualified services of Mr. Garrard.

Boys and Girls GO FLY A KITE

REDDY KILOWATT SAYS

1. DON'T FLY KITES NEAR ELECTRIC WIRES.
2. USE ONLY DRY COTTON STRING.
3. DON'T CLIMB POLES TO RECOVER KITES.
4. DON'T USE METAL OR WIRE ON KITES.

BUT FLY IT SAFELY!

...and here's a message to parents:

For safety's sake, ask your kite flyers to fly their kites AWAY from all wires--and ask them not to try to dislodge kites that do become entangled in wires.

ANYONE who sees a kite in our lines should promptly call our office. Linemen will remove the kite--undamaged, if at all possible.

Let's all cooperate in making kite flying SAFE this spring.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman, MacArthur Would Accept Presidency "if the People Call"; Great Powers Confer on Palestine

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

The United States is experiencing a steady increase in population. From a range of 2.1 million to 2.3 million in the 1930s, births rose to 2.9 million in 1943. They totaled 2.7 million in 1945 and then sharply rose again to about 3.9 million in 1947. This sharp rise in births has had the effect of increasing the population some 4.4 million persons since 1945 and 13 million since 1939.

PRESIDENCY: Announcements

As far as grabbing the spotlight was concerned, President Truman and Gen. Douglas MacArthur stumbled all over each other with their coy and almost simultaneous announcements that they would accept a presidential nomination if the people called them.

The declarations by the two men, coming within just a few hours of each other, were perhaps a symbolic prelude to a similar but greater clash of personalities and political forces which it is now possible might develop later this year.

Mr. Truman said he would run for a full term as chief executive if the Democrats would nominate him; and MacArthur opined that he would accept the presidency "if called by the American people" but would not actually seek it.

Taking note of the fact that petitions have been filed in Wisconsin putting his name in the primary there on April 6, MacArthur issued this sonorous statement:

"While it seems unnecessary for me to repeat that I do not actively seek or covet any office and have no plans for leaving my post in Japan, I can say, and with due humility, that I would be recreant to all my concepts of good citizenship were I to shrink because of the hazards and responsibilities involved from accepting any public duty to which I might be called by the American public."

Republicans, however, were going easy in their comments on the general's willingness to accept presidential nomination, confining them, for the most part, to peripatetic remarks about what a highly regarded figure MacArthur is. Sen. Ralph Flanders (Rep., Vt.) said, "I think General MacArthur would be doing the country a disservice if he left the job he is in until he has put it in such shape he can leave. That's the place the Lord put him."

Other politicians were wondering about the spot that the Lord and Harry Truman was putting them on. Southern Democrats, despite Mr. Truman's announcement of his candidacy, were not burping an inch from their stand opposing him and his civil rights program. Some of the southern states, notably Mississippi, went right ahead with their plans to prevent their electoral votes from going to him.

NEW ATOM: Thorium

Already well beyond the awesome threshold of the atomic age, nuclear scientists are continuing to step deeper into the contradictory wilderness of creation and destruction that appeared when the first atomic blast burned up the night and the sands at Los Alamos, N. M.

Latest step is the manufacture of the first small pieces of a new kind of atomic bomb and fuel metal, according to an announcement by Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, atomic scientist. Where formerly the extremely rare metal uranium 235 was the only practicable substance through which atomic energy could be produced, there now is a new metal, known as uranium 233, made by changing the heavy metal thorium into uranium.

This new form of uranium does not exist naturally on earth, nor is it known to exist in the stars. Dr. Seaborg reported that a small fraction of an ounce—actually only a few hundred milligrams—of the thorium metal has been made in the Hanford, Wash., uranium-graphite, chain-reacting atomic piles. Apparently, although Dr. Seaborg did not amplify his announcement to include this implication, the use of thorium for atomic power is considered practicable.

Since thorium is three times more plentiful than uranium it will be the world's main reliance for atomic power.

PANIC PITCH

Americans Ready to Go off Deep End

People of the U. S. are conducting their day-by-day activities in a state of mind that is separated from a condition of acute panic by only the merest veil of self-restraint, says Dr. Frank Fremont-Smith of the International Committee for Mental Hygiene. Any day now a phony rumor of sudden war or even of sea monsters invading New York harbor might pro-

CONSULTATION: Holy Land

Leading experts on global anatomy were getting together in a consultation to determine whether there was any conceivable way in which they could perform a painless bisection of Palestine.

Russia, France, China and the U. S. had been requested by the United Nations security council to hold one of their famous conferences to study how partition of the Holy Land into independent Arab and Jewish states might be effected. Britain, too, had been asked to participate but declined the invitation, although consenting to sit in the role of advisor.

As the consultation got under way, the United States was reported ready to seek big power agreement on a new conference effort in Palestine. Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate, said he felt the talks should deal primarily with the question of "peaceful settlement."

But while U. N. delegates might talk in New York about a peaceful settlement, Arab military forces on the spot in Palestine had vastly different ideas.

Arab Commander-in-Chief Fawzi el Kawki publicly issued a vow to free Palestine from "the Zionist menace whether it takes one month, one year or a generation." Red-haired El Kawki, the Arab chieftain who had led anti-British and anti-Jewish revolts in 1936 and 1939, had just returned to Palestine after an absence of nine years. He came back, he said, to fight "partition, intrigue and Zionism."

"We came here to fight anyone who stands for partition, be they British, Jewish or an international force."

What the United Nations conferees, none of them eager to apply international power in the Holy Land, could do against this kind of gun-waving local zeal was a problem which so far had them completely baffled.

RUHR: Solution

One of the major problems of the uneasy peace—what to do with the Ruhr, Germany's prime industrial section—was solved when the U. S., Great Britain and France agreed in a series of conferences at London that they would place the Ruhr under international control.

It was decided also that the economic and industrial assets of western Germany, perennial breeding ground for German war machines, would be enlisted in the Marshall plan.

Moreover, the western powers agreed that western Germany should have a federal form of government, providing adequate central authority but protecting the rights of the various states.

Indicative of the manner in which statesmen of the western powers are thinking now was the fact that Germany will be represented in the international control of the Ruhr but that Russia very probably will not.

Recognizing the importance of the Ruhr to the recurring surges of German aggression, the conference communiqué pointed out that "the purpose of this international control would be to ensure that the economic resources of this area should not again be used for the purposes of aggression and that there should be adequate access to the coal, coke and steel of the Ruhr for the benefit of extensive parts of the European community including Germany."

Stressing the absolute need for cooperation among the British, American and French zones of western Germany, the conference observed that the "continuous failure" of the foreign ministers council to reach four-power agreement "has created a situation in Germany which, if permitted to continue, would have increasingly unfortunate consequences for western Europe."

Economical Buying Cuts Costs for Homemakers

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON—According to a recent poll, the topic in which the people are most interested today is the high cost of living. This despite competition with communism, Taft, Dewey, the weather, and why who jumped out of a hotel window clad only in a filmy night-dress.

I managed to get myself into the middle of a controversy on that subject.

It all started when the wife of a machinist in York, Pa., wrote me of her difficulties in making ends meet on her husband's net salary of $53.40 a week (incidentally, bureau of labor statistics informs me that 50 per cent of the workers employed in manufacturing industry earn less than this York machinist.)

Her family includes a boy of 15 and a girl of 6. She outlined her weekly budget as follows:

Insurance	$ 4.57
Food	30.00
Gas and Electricity	3.00
Taxes	1.54
Withholding	1.60
Union Dues	.50
Water Rent (they own their own home)	.36
	$41.57

She pointed out that this total left very little for clothing, dentist and doctor bills, and nothing for the new stove, washer, vacuum cleaner, refrigerator and furniture they would like to have. And "Don't forget," she admonished, "There are a lot of people worse off than we are."

I used her story in a broadcast, and this is the reaction I received from other women correspondents:

An Oakland, Calif., housewife wrote: "When you mentioned that family who spent almost three-quarters of his salary for food, I just had to 'sound off' or bust. Either this is an exaggeration by the wife or she is guilty of woeful ignorance of proper dietary requirements. In these days of shortages, I'd like to ship folks like these over to England where we have relatives, who could (perhaps!) 'larn'er' a thing or two about the wanton selfishness of such extravagance."

This woman goes on: "My husband and I manage nicely on $10 a week for two. I enclose details to prove it. (She did.)" And she adds: "I can remember no evening in years when my husband failed to compliment me on his dinner."

She suggests that women who can't cook should attend classes to discover that the "chemistry" of food preparation can be "fascinating and, oh, so rewarding." She herself gained knowledge in public school night cooking classes that enabled her to run a small tearoom in the lean years from 1930 to 1935, and which from 1941 to 1945, helped her to save 40 per cent of her husband's salary.

Another woman writes concerning a Dearborn, Mich., homemaker who fed "and fed well" her family of six on $75 a month last September. Now, since food prices went down, this woman planned to revise her budget downward. She spent $71.82 for food in November, $58.85 in December and $55.35 in January of this year.

As a sample of her meal planning: On a Saturday noon, (she writes) she may feed her three girls, aged 11, 4 and 2 years, egg sandwiches on bread spread with oleo (mixed with canned milk), a whopping big fruit salad made from pears, plums and peaches she canned last summer, and big glasses of milk. A supper menu might be macaroni and cheese, a vegetable salad, home-made chocolate cookies and fruit for dessert.

A woman from Detroit, Mich., whose family is the same size as that of the York woman's, writes that she costs her only $20 a week to feed her family. And that, she says: "Includes a carton of cigarettes for my husband, all my soap supplies, polishes, cleansers and additions to my pantry shelf. We average one pound of butter a week, two dozen eggs, 10 to 14 quarts of milk, steaks and chops once a week. My husband takes his lunch—two or three sandwiches, one or two pieces of fruit, lettuce, sometimes another raw vegetable, cakes and cookies. The children (aged 2 and 5) have a hot breakfast and lunch each day. 'I think,' she says, 'that we get well-balanced meals. At least we're all in good health and rarely have colds. It can be done easily if you apply yourself and figure ahead.'"

And this is accomplished, mind you, in Detroit, where according to labor statistics, is cost upwards of $3,293 a year for a family of four to live modestly.

Wife Achieves Near Miracle

Even more impressive is the food-budgeting record of a homemaker here in Washington, D. C., where, says BLS it costs more to live than it does in 33 other major cities of the country. This woman, wife of a navy captain, has a family of seven to feed—herself, her husband, her mother and father, and three strapping boys aged 18, 16 and 13. Also two cats who are fed frozen horsemeat. She spends between $21.80 and $31 a week, and with prices lower, expects her costs to go down. My first thought was that probably she shopped at a navy commissary, but she does not. She saves money by buying apples by the bushel, oranges by the crate, flour by the 100 pounds and cheese by the five-pound brick. She also "puts up" fruit, jams, jellies and preserves.

My assistant is prone to scoff whenever I receive one of the I-can't-manage-on-what-my-husband-makes letters. She's been keeping track of monthly food bills for herself and her husband since September of last year. She spent $31.28 in the month of September; $31.54 in October, $37.56 in November; $53.36 in December (she had a dinner party for 14 people, and another Christmas day dinner with turkey, et cetera for 7 people, and that upped the bills); $45.39 in January, and $29.69 in February. She says the February food bill dropped significantly because they took advantage of the price dip and bought cheaper butter, eggs, flour, et cetera.

Her food bills do not include their twice-a-month "eating out" which costs roughly $10. They also do not include her husband's lunches downtown which come to $1.60 per week.

She explains that her monthly food costs are low because: (1) They buy milk at stores instead of having it delivered; (2) don't eat much butter; (3) her husband doesn't demand meat at every meal, so they have dinner dishes like souffles, baked beans, hearty soups, baked eggs; (4) they shop once a week, going perhaps to five or six different stores to take advantage of special sales items (of course persons without a car couldn't do this); (5) she uses canned milk for coffee, and to make puddings and cream sauces; and (6) she says she never wastes ANYTHING. (I can believe that!)

With such a variety of figures to choose from, there isn't much basis for getting into a stew about budgets. What it seems to boil down to is that the bill-of-fare is a fair subject for argument, but doesn't leave a man too much to get his teeth into.

A good deal seems to depend on where you are willing to draw the waist-line.

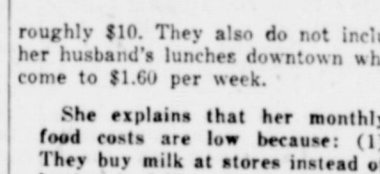

When it comes to checking inflation, we have proved one thing—that the checks and controls are excellent—for the other fellow. Any checks and controls applied to ME though are ruinous, unholly, undemocratic. It all depends on whose bull is gored.

The favorite answer to what is the electoral college is "it's a school where you learn how to vote." It really is an institution where you don't learn that you are not voting for the man you think you are.

Financial War Loss Before the war, half the cost of Britain's imports was met by invisible exports, including income from overseas investments, shipping and insurance. During the war, Britain had to sell a major part of her overseas investments to a total value of $4,500,000,000 to help finance her war effort, and in addition acquired new indebtedness to a total of $11,500,000,000. Her shipping fleet never fully recovered from wartime sinkings.

QUESTION OF ANGLES

By FREDERICK SKERRY

Later Clem asked for his time—which was just as well.

A few days later Dave began to eat again in the Elite. And I quit staying late to look at Mary when she wasn't constantly on the move.

A few weeks afterwards we were practically finished with the bridge; half the crew had left. One night I went to the picture house and saw Mary and Dave sitting a couple of rows in front. I figured that Dave was making up for lost time. After the show, while on my way to where I slept, I crossed the street just as a car popped out of a cross street. I got it in the right leg.

Evidently a busted leg wasn't too much for that little hospital in the next town; anyhow that's where I landed. Dave was waiting when they'd got my leg set and in a cast. I had been wondering about him and Mary, but he was no talker. But I was sure I'd find out something from Mary, if I could see her.

And I did see her the next afternoon; she walked into my room not a minute after visit-time began. But is off. He's getting crutches for you. Now I have it all figured out. I have a perfectly good house and oodles of room, and nobody in it but myself—except when Ann James is there doing housework—and that's where you go from here.

"Listen, Mary," I put in. "You've been an angel of kindness. But there's a limit, I know what these small places are, Mary, and I won't have you talked about on my account."

"I see what you mean. She looked down at me, and her eyes were dreamy. "Of course it would be nice..." I said nothing, and she wagged her head and looked at the ceiling.

"My heavens! Did a woman ever work harder for a man?"

"That didn't make sense. "What man?" I said.

"You! Who else, for goodness sake?"

"Listen, Mary," I said. I felt all hollow inside. "Don't kid me—not about that."

"I'm not kidding—anything but."

And Jack toppled to follow it down to the river. All of him but his legs was off that six by six platform.

Dave Johnson was the quiet, serious kind, and an A-1 bridge jack. But, now that he seemed out of the running, he quit coming altogether. Clem Sask and Benz were not talking.

Working from both ends, we were now almost ready to join steel. Jack and Dave and Clem were together on the down river truss. They'd put the head of a strut or a diagonal in place for the riveters, then go down to bolt the foot. Dave was on a hanging platform below when Jack went down, leaving Sask to tighten the bolts. Jack had no sooner stepped on the platform—hadn't time to anchor his safety belt—when Clem Sask dropped a spanner. Clem let out a yell. But that seven-pound spanner was on its way and bounced off Jack's head.

And Jack toppled to follow it down to the river. All of him but his legs was off that six by six platform. But that was as far as he went because Dave had grabbed a suspension line and had thrown himself across Jack's legs. Then he reached down the other hand and took a fistful of Jack's overalls—and whatever was underneath it—and pulled Jack back. And it all happened while you'd be striking a match.

An ambulance took Jack to the nearest hospital, a small one in a small town twenty miles away. I guess they felt at the hospital that this job on Jack was too much for them because they delivered Jack to a big city hospital.

We put it down as an accident. But I wished it hadn't happened between that particular pair. The news got to the Elite before we did, and Mary shared the general gloom.

The only news she let out was that Dave had heard that Jack was getting on all right but would be laid up for a long time.

For three weeks Mary came every day.

Then the crew was through with the bridge, and Dave, making a last evening visit, was as dead-pale as ever. That puzzled me, and I banked on Mary being less shut-mouthed.

AND, thinking of her, I realized that once out of the hospital I'd see little of her. I had that load on my mind when she came next afternoon looking pleased as Punch. She told me how the gang had bid her good-bye the day before.

Then she said, "I had quite a compliment last night, Charlie: Dave asked me to marry him."

"Congratulations, Mary!" I said. "Dave is a grand guy." And I meant it.

"Yes, he is," she nodded. "He'll make a fine husband—for some girl who wants to worry about him while he's climbing over bridges. But I had to turn him down. I'll marry nobody I have to worry about at the start. That's that. Now look, I just talked with the doctor. He says you can leave here in two or three days, but you'll have to go easy on that leg, even after the cast

She reached out and grabbed my hand. "Charlie, you are dumb! Did you think I was a district nurse, or something—coming here every day?"

"But—" I could hardly speak. "I thought—well, with Jack and Dave..."

"Business, dear," she cut in. "I own the Elite Lunch, so why wouldn't I build up good will with the customers? You never asked me out."

"Not because I didn't want to," I said. "But all those fellows, Jack and Dave..."

She gave a kind of snort. "You didn't think a woman would be interested in the only man around who didn't seem interested in her. No. So I had to find out all about you from those others. And you had to go and get yourself hurt for me to get a good chance at you."

"Listen," I said. "A minute ago you said you wouldn't marry anybody who climbs bridges."

"I know I did," she admitted. "But your climbing days are over, Charlie—so Doc says."

That stopped me. Still, I could always have a good berth in the plant—or some other plant. My tongue seemed tied, but I managed to make it work. "Would you marry me, Mary?"

She was off the chair like a flash and sitting on the edge of the bed, holding my hands. "He's said it!" she laughed. "The dumb bunny has actually said it! Would I..."

So after all, you might say that the affair turned out to be a pentagon.

Enamel-Coated Tin Cans Play Part in Atom Role

In experimenting with radioactive chemicals from the stomic piles at Oak Ridge, plant scientists of the U. S. department of agriculture have stopped using the familiar clay pots and jars in their greenhouse experiments. Instead they are using inexpensive tin cans coated with enamel. After each experiment they discard the cans and soil that contains the radioactive material, and bury them deep in the ground to get rid of them.

The reason is simple. In checking the action of the radioactive chemicals moving out of the soil and into and through the plant, the scientists make use of the delicate "tracer" method. Counting instruments detect and record the passage of charged molecules as they pass through the plant tissues. It is necessary to have exact knowledge as to the radiant energy present at the start of the experiment. This is possible by using fresh soil, a new container and exactly measured quantities of radioactive chemicals.

But if a clay container had been used previously, the pot would have become at least slightly radioactive, and so would add some unmeasured radioactive energy that would complicate the experiment. It would disturb what the scientists term the "control" of conditions.

Human Nature Prevails

SURELY you remember the rosy picture presented by Sen. Robert A. Taft (Rep., Ohio), its author, to the effect that the voluntary anti-inflation act, passed at the special session in December after days of debate in the senate and under "gag" rule in the house, would end the spiral of high prices and curb inflation.

All the big boys in the monopolistic industries were supposed to be eager to comply and get down here to Washington to sign agreements bringing down prices and allocating scarce materials—no compulsion, no government interference—just one big happy family—all eager to help the consuming public make those pay checks reach farther.

But unhappily, insofar as anyone knows, there hasn't been one single solitary agreement to bolster up Senator Taft's rosy picture or to justify house majority leader Charlie Halleck's brusque: "It is this or nothing."

One lone voice on the majority side in the senate predicted what would happen, and it has happened. That voice came from Sen. Wayne Morse (Rep., Ore.). Said Senator Morse:

"Does any senator think we are going to change human nature by the adoption of legislation which says in effect, by way of a slap on the wrist, to industry, 'Now boys, just stop making such great profits; now you get busy and lower the prices, and to labor, 'Don't start a other round of wage-increase demands.'"

And so Big Steel, instead of lowering prices, has increased its price $5 per ton on steel, slapping down little business dependent upon steel all over the country, and labor has notified the steel industry it expects wage increases at impending contract negotiations.

The President demands a probe. Senator Taft demands a probe. But there's no law forcing big business or labor or anyone else to do anything and take the rap. There are the anti-trust laws, but...

If collusion can be proved it will take months to make a case against the Big Steel companies and, in the meantime, unless they back down, the price hike stands.

It appears to this reporter that the GOP leadership in congress again has outfumbled Mr. Truman and that whenever the President's political fortunes ebb some vehicle always is provided for him to bounce back.

He did it after his tilt with John Lewis; it happened after the bungling first session of the 80th congress. Now again the President has skidded to a new low because of Henry Wallace and his third party movement, the recalcitrant South, his weak partisan speech at the Jackson-Jefferson dinners and his vacillating policy on Palestine. But a new opportunity awaits and Mr. Truman again may jump back into popular favor as a new David battling the modern Big Steel Goliaths on behalf of the people.

Representatives of scores of women's organizations recently met in Washington at invitation of the women's bureau of the department of labor. Some 200 delegates sang the praises of the advancement of the women folk in all fields of labor, professions, business and the arts—a continued march to equality with men. Which reminds this reporter of the famous toast credited to the late Elihu Root: "Here's to the ladies. God bless 'em, once our superiors, now our equals."

After months of hearings, a senate agricultural subcommittee has drawn a long-range agricultural program measure for presentation at an early date.

Among other provisions it includes support prices for farm products based on parity of income rather than parity of prices, a new parity formula based on present production costs, extension of benefits of social security to farm people, expansion of farmer-owned and controlled cooperatives, coordination of federally sponsored farm credit agencies and adequate soil conservation.

Rural Library Service

The senate has passed a bill to extend library service in rural areas and an identical bill has been reported out favorably in the house. The bills provide for library demonstrations in areas where there is no library service and sets up an appropriation of $25,000 a year for five years for each state. In addition, another section says the federal government will match up to $75,000 a year put up by the states for further extension.

Smash Sale Records

All records for Ayrshire auction sales in the U. S. were broken when an average of $2,267.39 was paid for 23 Scottish bred Ayrshires imported and sold by Frank V. Lie of Bellefontaine, Ohio. The sale grossed $52,150. A new record price for Ayrshire bull calves was set at $4,600 by Howard Baum and Sons of Paint Valley farm, Bainbridge, Ohio, in the purchase of eight-months-old Killoch Gay Spark (above).

Increased Yields Noted With Use of Fertilizer

Wheat yields can be stepped up 7 to 14 bushels per acre and the hay crop can be increased through use of more fertilizer in hay and pasture crops seeded in small grains, declares Dr. D. R. Dodd of the Ohio experiment station.

This practice is particularly profitable on land already highly productive, Dodd points out. As an example, he cites tests made by research men on plots at the Ohio station. The land's producing capacity already had been built up by good soil management so that it was producing an average of 85 bushels of corn, 23 bushels of wheat and 3 tons of hay per acre.

In the tests, a 2-12-6 fertilizer was applied at increasing rates to wheat.

Checking Equipment Will Pay Dividends

Tractors Need Regular Servicing, Adjustment

Periodic checking of tractors and other farm equipment is a timely precaution that will prevent serious delays in the field, assure safer operation of machinery and make farm work easier.

Increasing the life of vital machine parts results in more units of useful production per machine and per part. This in turn means less cost per unit produced by the machine. A machine naturally wears out with Careful inspection of tractors and other farm equipment at regular intervals will increase efficiency of the machinery.

use. However, the rate of wear may be reduced greatly by a skillful operator who is exacting in his attention to adjustments for wear and for proper and systematic lubrications.

A tractor in good repair, agricultural engineers estimate, can operate on two to three less gallons of fuel than the tractor with faulty operation. Adjustments in the carburetor, governor, timing, manifold and valves also will increase the efficiency.

A careful check will disclose loose bolts and nuts as well as parts that need adjusting or replacing, thus eliminating the chance for costly breakdowns later. Every repair and adjustment should be made just as soon as the need is noted.

Farmers also are advised to equip their tractors with fire extinguishers and to provide secure holders for grease guns or other servicing tools carried on the machine. Loose accessories may cause falls or result in a tragedy.

Hitchhiking Pests

"Hitchhiking" insects, taking advantage of the frequency and speed of modern airplane flights, offer a continual threat to areas of the nation now free from certain insect pests. A continual watch must be kept at airports in infested areas to assure that "hitchhiking" insects do not move from one part of the United States to another or leap easily across international boundaries via the airplane.

Last summer, inspectors of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine intercepted the projected flight of thousands of Japanese beetles trying to hitchhike by airplane from beetle infested airports in Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Newark. These beetles threatened to move into beetle free sections of the United States.

Inspectors closely checked more than 7,000 airplane flights and supervised the application of a thin film of DDT from aerosols over hundreds of commercial and military planes. The beetles' favorite food plants in the immediate vicinity of the airports were sprayed, using mist blowers for the job. The summer's program was the most comprehensive ever attempted to prevent beetle spread, and yielded the largest number of interceptions for any season since this type of control work became necessary.

Production of Citrus Shows Steady Increase

Production of citrus fruits in the United States has about doubled each 10 years of the last 40, a department of agriculture report indicates, with prospects that the record will continue to climb.

California and Florida produce more than 90 per cent of the oranges, Florida and Texas account for 90 per cent of the grapefruit. Almost the entire commercial crop of lemons is grown in California.

Rabbit and Chicken Raising Is Profitable

To offset high meat prices, home production of rabbits and chickens can be carried on very economically, making the family at least partially independent of commercial sources.

Raising of rabbits and chickens at home has a big advantage in the economical use of feeds, because such animals mature more quickly and at a lower feed cost per pound of gain in weight.

If American cropland were fenced into equal shares, the individual plot for each person would average about three acres, compared with about four at the end of the first world war.

Texas has about 113,000 acres of citrus trees in bearing, and 40 percent of the nation's total grape fruit acreage.

The 1947 acreage of commercial truck crops in Texas for fresh market is estimated at 347,650 acres with a total value of $52,916,900

Bandit Is Just a 'Crumb'; Waitress Proves Her Point

DETROIT.—Mrs. Imogene Corretta, 38, waitress in a local restaurant, brushed off a would-be bandit as she might have flicked a bread crumb off the counter, holdup squad officers said.

A man strode into the restaurant, right hand threateningly in his overcoat pocket in the approved manner. He announced boldly, "This is a stickup."

Mrs. Corretta pretended not to hear him.

"Open the cash register," the desperado blustered.

Mrs. Corretta ignored him.

The "bandit" reached across the counter and started to open the till himself.

Mrs. Corretta calmly rapped him across the back of his hand with the dull edge of a large butcher knife and the toughie yelled and fled.

Gay Easter Menu
Heralds Approach
Of Spring Season

A table setting perfectly expressive of Easter and all the tradition that goes with it can easily be done the day before. The bowl or basket in which you place the eggs may be decorated with shredded crepe paper in pastel colors.

Easter really heralds spring and we like to make the day as gay and lovely as possible. That means bringing out your delicate china, pastel china, and sweeping the menu with a touch of spring, both in choice of foods and colors.

Many people like ham for Easter and it's a real economy to have it because you can make so many interesting left-overs, have sliced ham for sandwiches and sandwiches, and still have a lovely meat for the table the first time you serve it.

Start off with chilled orange juice but add excitement to it by placing a small scoop of raspberry (or mint or lime) sherbet on top. The dessert I've chosen is light but pretty and is balanced for the menu.

Your centerpiece can be made of traditional Easter eggs nestling in a basket or bowl. You'll find a package of inexpensive dyes with a handy egg dipper, a special pencil and decals of popular comic characters to help you decorate more successfully.

If you use the decorated eggs for place cards, set it on stiff paper.

Of course many people like to spend Easter evening eating the eggs with salt and bread and butter sandwiches, but if you have any left, use them for egg salad, creamed eggs or eggs a la king.

The ham is easy to prepare and always popular. For small groups, buy half a ham, but decorate it, too.

You may buy the ready-to-eat type or the cook-before-eating. Whichever one you select, however, keep it refrigerated. The ready-to-eat variety is baked, but only enough to heat it through. Give it 10 minutes to the pound.

Here's how to prepare the other type:

Place ham fat side up in an open roasting pan. Do not cover and do not add water. Bake in a moderately slow (325 degree) oven allowing 22 to 25 minutes per pound for cooking a before-eating ham.

How to Glaze.

Half an hour before the ham is done, cover with glaze and finish baking at life same low temperature. If ham is to be scored, do it at this time. Brush ham with 1/2 cup of honey, molasses or apricot jam. Baste frequently during rest of cooking time.

If you do not want to garnish the ham, simply fill peach halves with bright colored jelly and place around ham before serving.

Escalloped Broccoli.
(Serves 6)

2 pounds broccoli
1 1/2 cups thin cream sauce
1/2 cup grated American cheese

Cook broccoli in boiling, salted water for 15 minutes.

Place layers of broccoli and cream sauce with a little cheese in casserole until all is used. Sprinkle cheese on top and heat through in moderate oven (about 15 minutes).

If you are particularly fond of asparagus, serve that in place of the broccoli. It's excellent just buttered; or, if you wish a sauce, here's a good way to do it.

LYNN SAYS:
Ways for Serving
Vegetables Are Many

Green lima beans may be creamed for variety, or served with crumbled bits of crisp bacon.

Cream sauce and asparagus with a few mushroom caps are delicious, too. Try a bit of nutmeg for seasoning.

Of course, you can combine lima beans with other vegetables. Try them with scallions, tomatoes, string beans or corn.

LYNN CHAMBERS'
EASTER DINNER

Orange Juice with Raspberry Ice

Asparagus, Lemon Sauce.
(Serves 8)

1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup flour
2 cups milk
2 egg yolks, beaten
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 pounds asparagus, cooked

Make white sauce with butter, flour and milk. Add egg yolks, lemon juice and seasoning. Arrange hot asparagus in serving dish and pour lemon sauce over it.

The molded carrot salad is easily prepared the day before. To serve six, simply shred carrots fine, using two cups, and add to lemon or orange flavored gelatin. You may add grapefruit wedges or green pepper or celery, if so desired.

The torte is a light dessert which is so splendid for this type of meal. This, too, may be made the day before as it requires thorough chilling.

Pineapple Torte.
(Serves 6 to 8)

Crust:
24 graham crackers
1/2 cup butter
2 tablespoons sugar

Filling:
3 cups milk
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons cornstarch
3 egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup crushed pineapple
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
6 tablespoons sugar

To make crust, crush finely the graham crackers and mix with butter and sugar. Press 2/3 of the crumbs against the sides and bottom of a well-buttered tin.

To make filling, bring milk to the scalding point in double boiler. Blend thoroughly the sugar, salt and cornstarch. Beat in egg yolks, add hot milk gradually. Return to double boiler and stir until thick. Cool.

Add vanilla and pour into crumbled tin. Put drained pineapple on top of custard. Beat egg whites stiff, add gradually the six tablespoons of sugar, spread on pineapple. Sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven. Chill overnight before removing from pan.

Let your ham reflect the holiday spirit by garnishing it with flowers, the petals of which are made with candied or fresh orange peel, the stems of candied citron and the centers of maraschino cherries.

Here's a good use for leftover ham the following day:

Baked Ham Casserole.
(Serves 6)

2 cups ground, baked ham
1 cup cooked peas
3 eggs
2 tablespoons green pepper, minced
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons horseradish
1/2 cup grated American cheese
Paprika

Place ham in greased eight-inch square pan. Top with peas. Beat together eggs, green pepper, milk and horseradish. Pour over peas. Top with cheese. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 40 minutes. Let set in warm place for 10 to 15 minutes. Cut into six inch squares. Serve with tomato sauce, if desired.

Beets do very well with a dusting of ground cloves or a bit of horseradish.

You can do all sorts of things with corn. Make fritters or pudding out of it if you want to dress it up a bit.

Mustard sauce goes well on string beans, and mushrooms are a nice addition to either plain or creamed string beans.

Broccoli is delicious when seasoned with some parmesan cheese, but you also may serve it with cream sauce or hollandaise sauce.

Eternal Life
Lesson for March 28, 1948

"THE Lord has risen indeed," and because he lives, we too shall live. Easter is the day that reminds us of this blessed truth—the truth of eternal life. Well has Henry Burton expressed it in these lines:

*"There's a light upon the mountains,
And the day is at the spring.
When our eyes shall see the beauty
And the glory of the King,
Weary was our heart with waiting,
And the night watch seemed so long,
But his triumph day is breaking,
And we hail it with a song.*

*"He is breaking down the barriers;
He is casting up the way;
He is calling for his angels,
To build up the gates of day;
But his angels here are human,
Not the shining hosts above;
And the drumbeats of his army
Are the heartbeats of our love."*

BREAKFAST BY THE LAKE

READ John 21:1-14 for the exquisite account of Jesus appearing to his disciples in the early morning at the sea of Tiberias. They had been toiling all night, and had taken nothing. Bringing their boats near to the shore, they saw one standing there, "but the disciples knew not that it was Jesus." Jesus told them to cast their net on the right side of the ship, which they did, and they caught 153 "great fishes." Jesus then summoned them to breakfast. He had prepared the bread and fish on coals of fire. And they did eat.

BLESSED ASSURANCE

BEFORE his death, Jesus had said to his disciples, "Because I live, you will live also," John 14:19, but they did not fully grasp the meaning of the great words. But that morning on the sea shore, they understood. They remembered that he had died on the cross, and now they were assured that he was really alive, for this was the third time he had appeared unto the disciples after the resurrection.

How happy they must have been! How happy we should be on this recurring Easter season, assured that he is alive evermore. And because he lives, we too shall live.

WHAT IS ETERNAL LIFE?

SUNDAY'S lesson leads us on to the answer to the question, What is eternal life? In Colossians 3:1-4 and 12-17, we have the declaration, "Your life is hid with Christ in God. . . ." If we have believed on him—cast ourselves in implicit trust into his keeping—we have eternal life, which is his gift to every believing heart.

Paul goes on to admonish those who have "entered into life eternal," through faith in the risen, risen, reigning Saviour, to put on the garments of his presence and power and peace—kindness, humility, meekness, long-suffering, forbearance, forgiveness.

The evidence of eternal life is to be found in the fruits of the Spirit in our daily lives.

CERTAINTY OF ETERNAL LIFE

WE READ in John 17:3 this word of further assurance, "This is eternal life, that they know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent." And in 1 John 5:11-12, we read, "And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life."

In another passage John tells that we know that we have passed from death unto life because we love the brethren.

Easter is the day of eternal hope. It lifts above the fog of earthiness the glory of the blessed hope that fadeth not away. We have God's own testimony that we shall live with him forever, through Jesus Christ, our risen, reigning, returning Lord.

Our Richest Treasure

The Bible walks the ways of all the world with familiar feet and enters land after land to find its own everywhere. Children listen to its stories with wonder and delight, and wise men ponder them as parables of life. The wicked and the proud tremble at its warnings, but to the wounded and the penitent it has a mother's voice. It has woven itself into our dearest dreams; so that love, friendship, sympathy, devotion, memory, hope, put on the beautiful garments of its treasured speech. No man is poor or desolate who has this treasure for his own. —Henry Van Dyke.

N. Y. Court Decision Holds

NEW YORK.—A supreme court justice ruled that a child born as the result of artificial insemination is legitimate.

The ruling was made by Justice Henry Clay Greenberg in deciding that the estranged husband of Mrs. Julie Strnad, 31, had a right to visit her daughter, four-year-old Antoinette, who she said was a product of artificial insemination.

Mrs. Strnad claimed that her husband, Antoine, 42, was sterile since birth, an allegation he denied. She sought to prevent him from seeing the child on the ground Antoinette was not the offspring of her ex-husband. She had won a separation decree and principal custody of the child last October.

Farm Mechanization Boosts
Production to Record Level

OMAHA, NEB.—Americans are harvesting 20 million more acres today than they did in 1940, although there are three million fewer people doing it, and on 200,000 fewer farms.

Fast-growing mechanization of farms is largely responsible for this feat, Joseph A. Hoban, merchandise manager of B. F. Goodrich company, told members of Midwest Implement Dealers association. He cited the fact that the nation's tractor "population" had doubled, from one million to two million, just since 1940.

Praising "the way America's farmers and other food producers had come through to ease tragic conditions in many lands," Hoban cited the following estimates on the nation's 1947 exports of foodstuffs: 392 million bushels of wheat, five times the amount exported in 1939; 88 million bushels of corn, compared to 32 million in 1939, and 328 million pounds of meat products, against 193 million in 1939.

The farm market offered "the biggest sales opportunity" for industry in 1947, Hoban said, adding that "there is no question that this market is going forward at as great or even greater pace in 1948."

Hoban said that all tractors now made are rubber-tired, and that changing all a farm's rolling stock from steel to rubber tires produced an average saving of 24 working days and 675 gallons of gasoline per year, for each 150 acres worked.

Pellagra Is Important In Public Health

Pellagra, although not a communicable disease, is one of great concern to public health officials in Texas and other southern states. The disease is caused by the lack of certain essential foods, and as it comes on slowly, it may not be recognized until the victim begins to have the more serious symptoms as sore mouth, stomach trouble and reddening and scaling of the skin. When these symptoms appear, the disease has been present for some time. The longer an individual has pellagra the harder it is to cure. It is advisable therefore to watch for the early symptoms such as nervousness, indigestion and burning of the hands and feet and if these symptoms appear, treatment should be instituted at once. In its advanced stages pellagra may become so severe as to not only cause physical suffering but seriously affect the mind.

Pellagra is not contagious and it can be prevented entirely by including the right kinds of foods in the daily diet. These essential foods are milk, fresh meat, whole wheat products, brewer's yeast, and salmon as well as tomatoes and other fresh fruits and vegetables. Including these foods in the daily diet will prevent pellagra and as in the case of any disease, it is much better to prevent it than to cure it.
