JOE L. RAY ASKS FOR RE-ELECTION

We are authorized this week to place the name of Joe L. Ray in our announcement column as candidate to succeed himself as Sheriff and Tax Collector of Dawson County subject to the action of the Democratic Primary July 28th. Below is Mr. Ray's statement:

In making my run for re-election to the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Dawson County I wish to thank the entire citizenship for every courtesy shown me and especially do I wish to thank those who have contributed their co-operation in any degree, for I realize that without the help of the people, no man can make a success in the enforcement of our laws. I tried at all times to be fair with everyone, and at the same time enforce the laws. I think my record as an officer, but rather by the records will show that I have delivered to the State Prison or its agent fourteen persons since I have been Sheriff. Besides there have been a number of suspended sentences and I have quite a number under bond, yet to be tried. Now folks, there is no untrue propaganda started against me, but it was not by those that has tried to help me make you know it is human too err, but divine to forgive, so I have in your mind made a little error, I assure you that it is not my wish to do so, so that we will at all times find me ready to serve you.

Now folks, it will be impossible for me to make a house house attorney, which will require most of my time between now and the election. So I take this means of asking your support. Again thanking everyone for their support in the past and your vote and influence on July 28th.

Yours For Service
Joe L. Ray
To the Citizens of Dawson County: There has been in circulation throughout the county, various reports regarding improper conduct on my part during my tenure of office. I requested our District Attorney, Hon. T. L. Price to take a thorough investigation, which they did, and you will find below a report signed by each member of the Grand Jury which speaks for itself.

Respectfully submitted,
Joe L. Ray
We, the Grand Jury, of Dawson County, having been requested to make an investigation with reference to certain purported official misconduct of our Sheriff, Joe L. Ray, wish to make the following report of our investigation of the charges as reported to us:
After a careful investigation of such charges and rumors, we feel it unjust to Mr. Ray and state that we find no foundation for such reports and that they are unfounded and unproved. We feel that our investigation reveals that Joe L. Ray has not been guilty of such official misconduct as has been brought to our attention, and reported to us.
SIGNED: H. L. Hobbs, foreman; Dan Bartlett, A. S. Ahsbrook, J. C. Hart, R. T. Redford, C. B. Smith, O. B. Beaman, E. L. Jeter, H. A. Grosham, J. E. Ray, C. A. Gleshorn, Joe W. Smith.

O. E. S. INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

Installation of new officers of the O. E. S. was well attended last Thursday evening in the lodge hall. Incoming officers are:
Worthy Patron—Mrs. Margaret Middleton.
Worthy Matron—Jeff Shook.
Associate Matron—Mrs. Ben Moore, Conductress—Mrs. Alice Gillespie, Associate Conductress—Mrs. Estes. Secretary—Mrs. Sam Eaton. Treasurer—Mrs. Doctor.
The star points have not been filled. These will be announced later.

Ice cream and cake was served a large number during the social hour. An enthusiastic crowd was present at the regular meeting Monday evening. One notable feature is that almost as many men as women attended these meetings. Whether the refreshments have anything to do with it is nobody's business. If your membership is here but you have a good friend in your attendance or if your membership is not moved here yet, come and join the crowd. It will be well worth your time.

INITIAL PROGRAM OF E. L. TO HOLD UNUSUAL FEATURE

The newly organized Epworth League promises to be a decided factor in the spiritual and social life of O'Donnell young people. The initial program which will be rendered Sunday evening at 7:30 will be one of unusual features. The "college crowd" is in charge of it, and when invited to attend these meetings, happily there has always been a spirit of harmony between the churches of the town, so that we feel that the above invitation is extended to personal friends.

UNLOADING COMPRESS MACHINERY THIS WEEK

(Brownfield Herald)
Mr. Underwood, manager of the East Texas Compress Company for this section of West Texas, is having machinery unloaded here this week for their plant which they are building in the Santa Fe addition to the mill. We understand that work will be rushed on both the buildings and installation of machinery in order to have the plant ready for the season's run.

Large platforms, buildings and sheds are to be constructed and the very latest machinery and methods will be used for the compress and it will be large, sufficient to take care of all cotton produced in this section at the present time. They purchased these grounds last year and built in these grounds a little home for the superintendent which will also be useful for offices until other arrangements can be made.

This is one of the largest compress corporations in Texas, and they have sufficient capital to put up anything they may need now or in the near future to take care of the needs of this section. They are now operating successfully scores of compresses all over east, north and west Texas, a number of which are on the South Plains.
Another good thing that can be said about this big company is that they had the good decency to get out in the edge of town to put up their plant and did not stick it right in people's front yards who had for years been trying to establish a home, damaging them hundreds of dollars. The Herald welcomes the new establishment in Brownfield, and hopes for its success.

E. M. HEBISON SAYS FROG CANNOT LIVE WITHOUT AIR

E. M. Hebison, local contractor, has his own ideas regarding the horned frog. After reading the story about the Eastland County horned frog which was supposed to have been embedded in concrete for thirty years and when taken out was apparently very much alive and many other stories from various sections of the United States equally as doubtful Mr. Hebison decided to make an experiment and at the same time prove that the frog could not live without air and water.

Some thirty days ago with several witnesses he sealed a horned frog in a pickle jar and buried him beneath the sod leaving him there until Thursday morning when in the presence of Clyde Fairley and others, the frog was taken up. (Mr. Hebison called it Resurrection) and was found to be very dead according to witnesses. In fact so dead the body was decomposed across the story of another horned frog.

W. M. S. SERVE BANQUET TO SCOUT WORKERS

Last Tuesday evening the W. M. S. served a lovely banquet to members of the Scout workers. The Training School of this district which comprises Tahoka, O'Donnell and Lamesa. Mr. Knox is sent out by the Scout Headquarters and has had much success with his school.

The table was placed in the hall on the second floor of the new school building and covers were laid for fifty guests. The table was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and a menu consisting of creamed chicken, vegetable salad, string beans, hot rolls, ice cream and angel food cake was served to the guests.

BAPTIST W. M. VISIT SICK AND STRANGERS

After a short business session in which the devotional was led by Mrs. Sutton, prayer by Mrs. Anderson, which was closed by Mrs. Goddard, members of the W. M. U. spent the rest of the afternoon in visiting the sick and the strangers of the town. Such work should be stressed more. A little time and a few cheerful words mean a great deal to shut-ins. The writer has a very tender memory of an occasion when this same group of ladies visited an invalid grandmother and now when she hovers on the very brink of death she remembers and spoke of it, and asks God's benediction on them.

MISS HESTER GATES VERY ILL IN LUBBOCK HOSPITAL

Miss Hester Gates, who has been quite ill for several days, was rushed to a Lubbock sanitarium Monday night where an operation for appendicitis was performed. It was found that the appendix had ruptured, and the same was removed. In latest reports she is in a serious condition. Her many friends here anxiously await further developments.

Mr. Boles has owned out a car, wedding and the family left Thursday for their new home at Weslaco, Texas. The Boles have been residents of O'Donnell for the past two years and have made many friends who will regret to learn of their removal to South Texas, but join the Index in wishing them every success in their new home.

A JOLLY OUTING

A jolly bunch gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Seely Sunday with well-filled baskets to celebrate Mrs. Evelyn Seely's birthday.
About 14:30 they all journeyed to T. J. F. Ranch where the lunch, consisting of fried chicken, sausage, aspic, pickles, pickles, deviled eggs, jellies, preserves, pies, puddings, cakes, and ice cream was spread under the large shade trees. The last freezer of cream was almost finished when some one yelled "Thunder!" While rushing to the cars they all expressed what a great time they had, also wishing the honoree many such birthdays.
Those enjoying the outing were: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Seely, and family; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Seely and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Essie Arnold; Mr. and Mrs. Evelyn Seely and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Seely, and daughter, Misses Jessie Seely and Fern Fritz, Messrs Price Seely and Clyde Woods.

Those who will attend are: Chief Grady Gantt, J. D. Fairley, Clyde Ash, Cass Minton, R. C. Willis, and Cecil Hubbard. They expect to return by way of Fort Worth and take in a part of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention which begins there June 18.

TODAY'S TELEGRAM READ BY RURAL PATRONS TODAY

In these modern times although distance does not mean anything the Fort Worth is 300 miles from O'Donnell, it does not keep the people who live in the rural community near O'Donnell from reading today's Fort Worth Star Telegram today. Lately the paper has been arriving in O'Donnell at 8:40 a. m. and is being distributed to rural patrons leaving the local post office at 9:00 o'clock. The train and leaving there in the early morning in the rural carriers O'Donnell before the rural carriers leave the local post office.
That's what we call service.

FIRE DAMAGES OLD LAUNDRY BUILDING

Fire of unknown origin damaged the old laundry building just north of the business district early Thursday night. The fire boys did heroic work in saving the building from complete destruction. The alarm was sounded about eight o'clock and the fire boys responded promptly, reaching the scene in record time to find it apparently almost ready to fall in. Only a few minutes was needed by the fire department to return by flames. The building has been unoccupied more than a year. A piano and some other household effects were stored in the building but were not damaged other than by water used to fight the blaze. Damage to the building will probably amount to $150.00 with no insurance we understand.

FIRE DAMAGES OLD LAUNDRY BUILDING

Famous last words: "I believe that's his left hand burning."
Hon. Marvin Jones, Congressman of the Eighteenth Congressional District, who is a candidate to succeed himself, spoke here Saturday afternoon to a large and appreciative audience in the interest of his campaign.
Congressman Jones arrived in the city unannounced due to the "index" lack of information regarding his speaking date. Mr. Jones informed us he had sent advance notice of his coming to O'Donnell, but for some unknown reason we failed to receive it.
In his brief address Saturday afternoon he severely touched upon the work he had been doing in the House at Washington during the past ten years. Mr. Jones is a very active, hard working member of Congress and has had a part in the passage of a great deal of constructive legislation during the past few years. He is a ranking member of the committee on agriculture which handles legislation most vitally affecting this section which is one of the greatest agricultural sections in the country.
Congressman Jones actively supported the establishment of the farm loan system, the enactment of the restrictive immigration law, and was joint author of the measures providing for the separation of the mercantile and non-mercantile cotton in reporting carry-over, and for the investigation of new uses and outlets for cotton. Under this latter act tests are being made for the use of cotton bagging, sugar sacks, automobile tops and many other new uses for cotton, which tend to furnish further markets for the surplus cotton. Mr. Jones has made O'Donnell and the South Plains famous.
Mr. Jones has also secured the adoption of a great number of amendments on the committee has enabled him to help defeat much legislation not in the best interests of the country, the most important was the prevention of a non-cotton zone over the newly infested area where a couple of dead worms were found.
Mr. Jones will spend the next few weeks over his district in the interest of his campaign.

HOUSE-KING

The culmination of college romance was a great wedding at the home of Miss Edna House and Mr. Gordon King were united in marriage. The ceremony was read at 3:30 p. m. in the Episcopal church at Retan, Rev. Smith officiating.

The church was a scene of rare beauty with its lovely decorations of roses and mums. The summer frocks and bridesmaids were college mates of the bride and groom. Mr. Eugene Cook acted as best man. The bridesmaids wore lovely summer frocks harmonized with the bride's chosen colors, pink and white. The bride wearing a beautiful white georgette gown with tulle and lace, carried a bouquet of pink roses, entered on the arm of her father, Mrs. J. W. House who gave her away.

The ceremony itself was never more beautiful and impressive, the solemn questions being so reverently and earnestly responded to by the contracting parties. The bride and groom left the altar to the triumphant strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. While the audience waited for the wedding party to pass out, the happy couple dashed to the bride's home where she donned a traveling costume, they drove by the church in time to wave farewell to disappointed friends who had planned various and sundry pranks. They drove immediately to Abilene where they visited schoolmates and friends, and came on by O'Donnell on their way to Flagstaff, Arizona, where they will be in school for several weeks.

After the end of the term they plan an extended tour of Colorado and the mountains. They are making the trip in a new Studebaker roadster, the groom's gift to the bride. The bride's friends and admirers and friends in wishing this charming couple much happiness and success and a long life together. Each numbered many of the acquaintances, and they were deservedly among the most popular and best beloved of our teachers and young people. Mrs. King will always be as fortunate as they were in their selection of each other, and that they will always be as happy as they are. Mrs. King will be remembered in school for her consolidated high school there and Mrs. King will teach history.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Harris returned Wednesday from Canyon where they had gone to see their daughter, Miss Isabel receive her Bachelor of Arts degree. Miss Isabel received in school for some special work. Miss Hester Gates accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Harris.

POLITICAL FORECASTING

An editorial that appeared in the Sunday Austin American attempts to sum up the Democratic situation in Texas and especially at Beaumont and at Houston. It is at least interesting and it shows about how the end may be when the big show closes at Houston.

"The precinct and county conventions are over. The state convention at Beaumont is imminent. Then comes Houston. Gov. Moody will control at Beaumont. First delegates under the unit rule will be sent to Houston pledged to work for a dry national platform, indorsement of the Eighteenth Amendment by name, and a candidate in sympathy with such a platform.

Gov. Moody as head of the delegation, will be named the Texas member of the platform committee. If the supporters of Gov. Smith on the committee agree to endorsement of the Eighteenth Amendment, the platform will go before the convention as a unit and probably will be passed unanimously. If the Smith influence declares against any mention of the Eighteenth Amendment, a minority report, if necessary, will go before the Houston convention and the dry force of the South and West will look north with Eastern and Northern eyes on the floor of the convention. The governor of Texas, in the event of such a battle, will lead the nation dry Democrats.

Smith is already nominated. One ballot only will be taken at Houston. By the time the roll call reaches Texas the convention floor will be a waving mass of Smith flags and a frenzied mob of marching delegates. It is doubtful if the permanent chairman will be able to keep sufficient order so that the vote of Texas may be heard.

So, after all, Beaumont will not settle any question in regard to the candidacy of Smith. It will, however, settle the question of whether Smith can run on a platform ignoring the definite sentiments of the southern and western Democrats to the effect that the Eighteenth Amendment should be definitely named and endorsed by the Houston convention. If Gov. Smith can and does accept the Eighteenth Amendment as a part of his platform, he will become the favorite in the fighting to defeat Hoover or whoever is the Republican nominee. If he does not accept the Eighteenth Amendment he will be defeated by the Republican nominee. A refusal of the Eighteenth Amendment by Smith will mean that for the first time since the Civil War a Republican candidate has a chance to carry gulf coast southern states. A refusal of the Eighteenth Amendment by Smith will mean that he will lose Kentucky, Tennessee, Oklahoma, possibly North Carolina, and Mississippi, and in the event of a party split, Texas itself.

So after all, the issue is not whether Smith is to be the nominee; it is whether Smith is to become president. If Smith is merely a politician, if he is a provincial statesman affected by New York environment, he will use the steam roller and ignore the serious thought of the south and west. If he is a broad-gauged statesman, he will indorse the Eighteenth Amendment along with every other amendment to the Constitution. And in his speech of acceptance he will reserve to discuss fully and frankly his personal views regarding the Volstead law.

The Eighteenth Amendment is a fact. Any candidate for office who is not willing to state that he will enforce the Eighteenth Amendment; if elected president, might as well not run for office. On the other hand, any democratic candidate who attempts to run on a platform endorsing the Eighteenth Amendment and who does not meet the issue sincerely, might as well not run.

The views of Gov. Smith are well known. He is not personally in favor of the Volstead law. He believes in temperance in thought, in eating and in drinking. Believing these things, he can become a candidate on a platform endorsing the Eighteenth Amendment. And also believing in temperance, he can in good conscience as a candidate, discontinue the desires and practices in the Volstead law, the better to bring out temperance and with the definite design of reducing lawlessness and killing off the unwholesome partnership now existing throughout the United States between the super-boogler and the super-politician. To summarize:

Gov. Smith will be nominated on the first ballot at Houston.

If Gov. Smith accepts the Eighteenth Amendment as a platform declaration, he will have the South and West with him, and there will be no party split.

If he becomes a steam rolling wet politician instead of a far seeing statesman, he will lose enough states in the South and West to beat him, and the man on the convention floor who most clearly voice the sentiment of the South and West will be Dan Moody, governor of Texas, and head of the Texas delegation.

With the girls all working, young newspapermen may get the notion that a helpmeet is one who will meet the expenses.

TRIBE'S REFUSE ONLY MONUMENT

Washington.—When the Calusa Indians, who dominated southern Florida when the Spaniards landed, and who were reported to have grown rich on the shipwrecked gold of the conquistadores, became extinct, they left behind them as almost their sole monument the refuse of the food they ate. Their principal diet was shellfish and the shells they threw out piled up into heaps thirty feet high and hundreds of feet long. The Smithsonian Institution's recent expedition under Henry B. Collins, Jr., determined the point about which there had been some uncertainty, that these shell heaps were really kitchen middens and, not artificial structures with some other significance. The proof is that all the shell heaps investigated were stratified with ashes, small animal bones and other refuse from the kitchen. The language of the Calusa, except for a few isolated words and place names, is lost, little or nothing known of their beliefs, customs or material culture. Some sounds of soft beach material and loose sand do exist, some of which were foundations for houses, and others burial mounds. Mr. Collins excavated several of these. His most important find was of twenty-five well preserved skeletons in a single mound.

Most of the bodies had been fadded with the knees to the chin and burial was very close together. The skeletons were excellently preserved. The burials probably took place before the coming of the white man, since only one bone was found with any evidence of disease and the artifacts associated with the burials were purely of native origin. The only objects in the way of mortuary offerings were pieces of broken pottery placed around the heads, an arrangement not known among other Indians. The mound contained no other artifacts.

Find Greased Shoe Stays Dry and Wears

Washington.—Farmers who grease their shoes to make them last longer are following a sound scientific principle and not a fallacy of the hinterland," the Department of Agriculture insists. Greasing shoes, experts say, not only prolongs their life, but helps to keep the feet dry. They recommend neat-foot, cod and castor oils, tallow and wool grease or mixtures of these. Shoes worn on the farm get particularly hard wear, since they are subjected to mud and water and at times to extreme dryness. All these, it is observed, ruin leather, whereas oil and grease preserve it.

SMUGGLING ON THE THAMES IS EXPENSIVE FOR ENGLAND

Customs Official Declares That Half Million Dollars in Revenue Is Lost Annually.

London.—Half a million dollars in revenue is lost annually by the British government as a result of smuggling into London by way of the Thames, according to the recent estimate of a customs official. He said that the smugglers and their accomplices are said to in no way approach the American bootleggers when it comes to desperate tactics. It is believed that only ten per cent of them are apprehended by the authorities.

The authorities have admitted that the job of apprehending smugglers is not an easy job, despite the assistance of the customs officers, and considerable staff is being given to the matter of checking the evil.

Since the ships which come up the Thames usually carry the same type of cargo for the same consignees time after time, it is a comparatively simple matter for the smuggler to get articles ashore. Goods which may be sold at a great profit in England, such as perfumes, cigars, brandy and jewelry, are merely lowered over the side of the ship to lightermen friends, who are regularly on hand to take delivery of the contraband cargo.

It is pointed out that these latter may easily secure smuggled goods on board their barges, which no customs official will ever search, unless some information is received. The barge is loaded and towed to some private wharf where the lighterman brings the parcel ashore and disposes of it at a profit which varies according to the nature of the goods smuggled. This profit is split on a "fifty-fifty" basis.

The manner of approaching the smuggling problem will be decided within the next two months, but it is as yet unknown whether the drastic steps contemplated will include a careful and minute examination of ships, the imposing of new penalties for the placing of men on responsibility upon the seamen themselves, or all three.

AIRPLANE REVIEW IS FEATURE OF CONVENTION AT FT. WORTH

Fort Worth, June 1.—More than one hundred airplanes are expected here June 18, 19 and 20 for the Tenth Annual Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Fort Worth. B. B. Buckridge, Industrial Commissioner of the Fort Worth Association of Commerce, is in charge of plans for this event.

The program is incomplete but will include grand parade at 10 o'clock each morning. The planes will take off at 10:01 each day and will over the city in the afternoon jumping and other feats. One of the oldest planes in the world, as well as the very latest, will be here, as will the very latest. It promises to be one of the biggest airplane reviews ever given in the United States. Still others will be a barbecue for the delegates. Already returns indicate at least one hundred planes.

The permanent school for Texas amounts to about $70,000.

Next to the persons who are a strong, inflexible who can be ped around her finger.

Miss Ina D. Everett returned from Post where she had since Sunday visiting her mother, Miss Frances Ethel Dent.

Principles Of OPERATION

We believe that a bank should not only be a depository of funds, but indeed a haven where the rich and poor alike can confide their financial troubles, fears and doubts in to the attentive ear of their mutual friend and counsellor the BANKER. The bank, the foundation of all saving, should be solid like the granite, standing the acid test of time pursuing a conservative but friendly course.

This bank like the great Oak from a little acorn, of persistent effort and sound business principles has grown. It stands today like the Oak, its many services and ample resources like the limbs, cast their shadow of protection over those who seek its shelter, a mecca which invites the confidence and patronage of the public.

Seeks 180 Pounds of Gold Buried During War Brussels.—An eager search for 180 pounds of pure gold is being conducted at the Belgian village of Heverle, close to the German frontier. The gold is supposed to have been buried there during the last days of the war. Two German soldiers, according to the tale, found the gold in the box attached to a heavy artillery gun, and when they passed through Heverle upon the German army's forced retreat, they buried their treasure in the soil.

One of them died and the other is an invalid and about to die. Seeing his end approaching, he confided his secret to a friend—namely, the German who now is busy searching for the hidden gold. Up to the present his search has been in vain, but the village of Heverle has sent for a spring finder to come and help discover the treasure.

Daughters of Peers to Dance for Hirohito Kyoto, Japan.—From the daughters of prominent peers eight young women have been chosen to perform the goshichin mui, or sacred dance, before Emperor Hirohito at the coronation ceremonies here in November. They have begun rehearsals at once for the ancient classical dance, which is always performed at the enthronement of a Japanese ruler. Only daughters of peers between the ages of seventeen and twenty-six may take part in the dance. The household department makes the selections. Special dressmakers appointed by the imperial household will make the dancers' kimonos, which will be crimson, embroidered with gorgeous flowers and birds.

KOEHL MAKES DARING ESCAPE

Transatlantic Pilot in Thrilling Exploit While War Prisoner.

New York.—Capt. Hermann Koehl pilot of the Bremen, in the role of leading spirit in a vain attempt at escape by a number of German officers from a prison camp in France is the subject of an article recently published by the Manchester Evening News.

"At least that's what he looked like. He was escorted by a small detachment of Frenchmen, with fixed bayonets. There had to be a little comedy too. Before the German officer could enter the barred-wire enclosed court, yard, with its comfortable barracks and horse stables, he must go through the office of the interpreter.

"After this formality, the new arrival entered the prisoners' quarters. A number of eager prisoners were already lined up against the barred-wire fence in expectation of meeting a possible recalcitrant comrade or of getting the latest news from the German front. But this time somebody else was there to greet them—a short, strongly built man, with clean-cut features and with the order of Pour le Merite around his neck.

"This must be done another way," said Koehl to himself. "One day there was an alarm! In a minute! Fall in! What's the matter? Nobody knows. Koehl's place is filled. Everybody knows it. Koehl is gone. He, whom the French had guarded like the apple of their eye. A quiet but great joy filled the hearts of all. He was gone, the bombing aviator, who every evening had told his birds as one of the first military flyers, who had always cheered up the spirits of the downhearted and urged them on to new work.

"To put it briefly, He crawled through the wire entanglement, swam across the Loire, went to a nearby aviation field got into a machine ready to start and flew to the German front."

Smiles Easy in Berlin; You're Paid for It Berlin.—Ambitiously Americanizing itself, Berlin has adopted the "Keep smiling" slogan. It has just had its first six-day-smile race. Konrad Frenck, a cook, won the first prize of $75 because he played through part of a championship football game with a smile, despite serious injuries.

Riding Both Horses Seldom Pays

Governor Moody comes out of the Beaumont convention an ostensible victor. The delegation to the national convention at Houston is pledged to a dry candidate. The Governor will head the delegation, selected not by the district delegations, but by a committee as he finally said he wanted it done.

But it is apt to prove not only a hollow but a very costly victory so far as the Governor is concerned. In its wake have been left political wounds that even time may not heal. Close friends and wheelhorses in the campaign for Governor—men like John Boyle of San Antonio and Steve Pinckney of Houston—charged him openly with breaking a solemn agreement. The Love faction, to which he went in his final hours of the convention, earlier in the proceedings had said ugly things about him and at one stage its leader, Senator Love, had hurled at him an admonition that "crooked politics never pays."

Thus the Governor, in his apparent victory, occupies the unique and unenviable position of playing with both sides. He is charged with having used the votes of the Smith contingent to defeat the Love proposal for instructions against Smith and any other wet candidate and this attained, then joining with the Love group to pick the delegates so that no Smith man or man of Smith's leanings remained on the delegation. Worse still, he is charged with having delayed the report of the committee until sufficient Smith delegates had left to make his joining with the Love faction assure the desired victory.

But regardless of what the true explanation may be, the spectacle at Beaumont was not only but regrettable. To have the Governor of the largest, and the greatest Democratic State in the Union, and the chairman of its own delegation to the national convention denounced by both factions and held up by one as a "double crosser," represents a shameful picture to the visitors we shall have at Houston. To say the least of it and irrespective of how one may feel toward Governor Moody, it is something that people with pride in their state and party can not relish.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

"Judge Electrical Service by its Results"

Says George E. Roberts, Vice-President, National City Bank, New York

Science may measure electricity in terms of volts and ohms; business, in terms of kilowatt hours and the curve of production; homemakers, in terms of its labor saving and comfort-making advantages.

However measured, its extension and application by the electric light and power companies to every department of our industrial and domestic life stands out as among the most important basic causes of America's well-being. From its wires has sprung the golden flood of America's unprecedented prosperity.

But economists no longer limit wealth to things. They echo John Ruskin's sound doctrine, that "there is no wealth but life." And judged from this point of view also, the development of electric service in America will go down as one of the most far-reaching events in history.

These things have been made possible by the application of the sound American principle of leadership through competition and elimination—in short, by the principle of individual enterprise.

To the degree that this principle is maintained will the benefits derived from electric light and power continue to be multiplied.

HERE THEY GO—THERE THEY GO!

They're not selling gold bricks these days—these transient peddlers—but they are selling merchandise and whatnot that isn't worth more than what suckers used to buy as shares in mines that turned out said gold bricks.

Day in and day out Longview is forced to contend with non-resident sales people who claim to handle the "very best" lines. In the first place they are prevaricating. If their lines were the best, as the salesmen claim, they would be on display in stores. In one respect they have a good line—of talk. Their little speeches, committed to memory, are repeated scores of time every day. They tell you they are extending you a personal favor by giving you a reduced price on a certain article. You visit your neighbor the next day and learn that the same promise was made every where. It is part of the salesman's line. Hundreds of persons are gypped every week by these transients and still they are reorganized. They come today and are gone tomorrow. So is your money. All you have is some merchandise that you could have bought at a Longview store—and perhaps cheaper.

The best lines of any salable stock of merchandise are furnished. In buying them you won't get stung. The city commission is devising ways and means of ridding Longview of transient peddlers. Whatever action is taken, it should receive the whole-hearted approval of the citizenry.—Longview News.

HONEST MEN

There are some people who are just naturally honest. They live up to their contracts and do not seek to break them. They are not always considering the letter of the law, but have an inward better that they obey. It is refreshing to meet these people; they renew your faith in human nature. Someone has said the honest man has the advantage over the dishonest one, because the honest man knows there is one honest man in the world, while the dishonest man does not know there are any.

A lawyer named Gavin McNab died the other day in San Francisco. In his will we find two bequests, one to Mrs. Elkins of $35,000 and another of $5,000 to Miss Finnell. The money was bequeathed in each instance because the people had lost money on account of advice given them by Attorney McNab. He was under no obligation to return the money, but he just felt better for doing it. The explanation is simple. The man was honest and he wasn't honest because he had to be, but just because he was.

The other instance is that of Reuben H. Donnelly, millionaire head of a publishing company. Twenty-two years ago Mr. Donnelly's company passed through bankruptcy. He afterwards made good, is now 63 years old and has some money. He has voluntarily made good all the debts that were wiped out by the bankruptcy.

Some of the creditors held claims for only small amounts, but they were in the humbler walks of life, and in many cases a little money meant a good deal to them. Now he is taking care of these little fellows. There was one man who held a claim of $18 when the house went into bankruptcy. That was in 1905. He got his check for $38.75 which is plus interest for 22 years.

Mr. Donnelly said in his letter to the old creditors: "While the unpaid balance does not constitute a legal claim, I have always considered it a moral one." It is a comfort to know that there are some people in the world who can not rest easy until they have discharged all their obligations.—Dr. Frank Crane.

It is presumed that picnic ants never heard of the law of supply and demand.

Miss Christine Milwee accompanied Mr. W. A. Hancock when he went to Abilene Tuesday. She attended Epworth League Assembly and returned with Mr. Hancock and Miss Roxie Wednesday.

Misses Sue Gates and Jessie Fuller returned Saturday from Canyon where they have been to school. Both young ladies made splendid records in every branch of student activity. They have no definite vacation plans except "eat, sleep and rest."

Bob Cowden is envied of all the boys here, for he is visiting on an honest to goodness ranch, with cowboys, horses, round-ups, chuck-wagons, and all the thrills. He will be on the Cowden ranch near Midland for about two weeks.

Mrs. Noel Sikes suffered a painful, though not serious injury, Friday while trying chicken. A quantity of hot fat splattered her throat and chin, blistering instantly. First aid measures brought relief and it is thought that it perhaps will not leave a scar. Even brides get a few thorns with their roses.

BOAT SAILS ON SCIENCE CRUISE

Nonmagnetic Craft to Seek Data in Three Years' World Voyage.

Washington.—Eight scientists sailed from the United States recently on the nonmagnetic yacht Carnegie to spend three years on a trip around the world. The 110,000-mile cruise is under direction of the Carnegie Institute of Washington.

From the years between 1900 and 1921 the Carnegie made six voyages, covering 290,000 miles, in a magnetic and electric survey of the oceans. Now, after a long lay-off, the ship will go forth once more on a quest for general scientific information. The crew numbers 17.

England, Germany and Iceland are the first intended ports of call. As the sun goes southward next fall the Carnegie will work south to the West Indies and Panama, spending next winter in the south Pacific visiting the Society Islands, Easter Island, and Peru, and coming north again to Japan and California next summer.

On Around the World.

And so on around the world, following the sun in order to avoid storms and delays due to wintry weather and to improve the conditions for making her investigations.

Among the places to be visited after leaving California are Honolulu, Samoa, New Zealand, Cape Horn, India, western Australia, across the south Pacific again and around the Horn to Buenos Aires, Argentina; St. Helena, Azores, Madeira, and back to Washington in September, 1931.

The purposes of the cruise are manifold. Capt. J. P. Ault, commander of the expedition, outlined the program as studies of magnetic, electrical and oceanographic conditions.

"Perhaps the most fascinating study connected with the sea," Captain Ault said, "is the multitudinous life found in all oceanic waters from the surface down to the deepest abyss yet explored. Physical and chemical changes in the ocean waters have profound influences upon marine life, its variety, its amount, and its distribution. A knowledge of these influences will contribute in many ways not only to the study of evolutionary processes taking place in the sea but also to the practical problem of economic use of the ocean's food supply."

"The problems in marine biology are so many and so far reaching that it has been necessary to confine our attention chiefly to microbiology, to determine the abundance and distribution of the so-called 'grass of the sea,' the plankton, and other small organisms such as diatoms, copepods, and foraminifera, which ultimately constitute the food supply of fishes.

To Dive Among Fishes.

"A diving helmet is a part of our equipment, so that in warm, clear, tropical waters we may descend 30 to 50 feet below the surface among the fishes, learn how they live, and describe the wonders of the underwater world."

The scientists who have been selected to make the investigations are: Capt. J. P. Ault, commander and chief of the scientific staff; Wilfred C. Parkinson, senior scientific officer (atmospheric electricity and photography); Oscar W. Torreyson, navigator and executive officer (magnetism, navigation, and meteorology); F. M. Soule, observer and electrical expert (magnetism and physical oceanography); J. H. Paul, surgeon and observer (medical work, meteorology, and oceanography); W. E. Scott, observer (navigator and commentary); Lawrence A. Jones, radio operator and observer (radio conditions and communication); H. R. Sewell, chemist and biologist (oceanography).

Blacks to Wear Pants London.—A member of the British house of commons has found an easy way to increase the sales of English cotton goods, which are experiencing a heavy slump just now. He estimates that there are at least 5,000,000 negroes in sections of the British empire who are only scantily clad.

If these men could be educated to wear pants millions of yards of English cloth could be disposed of every year. The M. P. suggests that if necessary compulsory laws should be passed in various colonies forcing the population to wear at least shorts, if trousers are uncomfortable because of the hot climate.

PLANS FOR BIG AIR CIRCUS AT LEGION MEET

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 8.—Arrangements have been completed with the war department for spectacular battle exercises and two great air circuses during the American Legion national convention to be held in San Antonio, October 8 to 12.

Co-operation of the army has been pledged to the limit by Secretary of War Dwight F. Davis, and Assistant Secretary of War Truman F. Davidson, in charge of aviation for the department, Phillip B. Stapp, general Legion convention director, announced on his return from conferences just held with them at Washington.

The greatest fliers in the army will be assigned to put on the air circuses. Secretary Davis and Assistant Secretary Davidson told Stapp: "One circus will probably be staged on Monday and the other on Friday of convention week."

Picked battalions from the famous old Second Division which wrote its name large in the history of the World war, will stage the battle exercises, which will be the most elaborate and thrilling put on in America since the armistice. Mr. Stapp stated: "This will be in the form of a simulated attack on a captured enemy position. Fliers will be assigned by the war department to demonstrate the dropping of 1100-pound bombs on the attacking troops."

Co-operation of the navy department has also been assured by Secretary Curtis D. Wilbur. Plans are being considered for sending the dirigible Los Angeles to the convention if arrangements can be worked out for mooring the big ship here.

The air circus and the battle maneuvers will be only two of the many big features of convention entertainment which San Antonio is going to put on for Legion gathering the next Stapp spawl. A world's championship rodeo with the greatest performers in the game participating, will also be staged.

MUSIC IN SMALL VILLAGES IS AIM OF NEW CAMPAIGN

Playground and Recreation Association to Extend Movement Begun in Adirondacks.

New York.—A campaign to carry music to small towns will be promoted throughout the United States. It has been announced by the Playground and Recreation Association of America. The organization plans to extend nationally a movement begun in Adirondack villages by the Lake Placid club and aims to open greater musical opportunities to the thousands of people who live in towns of 2,500 population or less and who, in many cases, have had no musical education and are unable to read even the simplest music.

Its first objective will be to further the work among villages of New York state. Music "missionaries" already have been placed in 64 towns, with the co-operation of the state education department, which pays half the salaries of these music teachers. The rest of the expenses has been met by the local boards of education.

Choruses, glee clubs, orchestras, choirs, music festivals, and serenades are among the community music activities which have been started. With the aid of the radio and phonograph, musical appreciation has been taught to the little red schoolhouse and the country around it.

Large towns and cities will be urged to reach out into the country with their musical resources, holding annual music festivals in which rural groups as well as others may compete.

The dearth of musical education and of opportunities to hear good music found in northern New York is true of small towns in many other states, according to the association.

High Heels Spoil Legs, Dr. Mayo Warns Girls

Los Angeles, Calif.—Women are sacrificing the shape of their legs on an altar of high heels in the opinion of Dr. Charles Mayo, famous surgeon of Rochester, Minn. Doctor Mayo is in Los Angeles on a vacation.

"Ladies' legs are really an interesting study nowadays," said the noted surgeon. "They're losing their calves. Why, these high-heeled shoes they're wearing are changing completely the shape of their legs."

"You know, after watching them walking on their high heels, I made an experiment some time ago. I took several thick cork blocks and strapped them under my own heels and tried walking on them—like the ladies do."

"I found that it made my calves absolutely useless. In other words, the ladies, by using high-heeled shoes, are gradually atrophying their calves. And you can see for yourself what it's doing to their legs."

Women also are getting shorter, according to the doctor.

"They ride in automobiles too much," he explained. "So, not walking, they get shorter. And because they're getting shorter, they're wearing higher heels, so they can walk like the men."

Lynn County Experiencing Rapid Growth; Business Conditions Radiate Prosperity

NEW SLOGAN COINED FOR WARDLAW

FORT WORTH, June 5.—The Fort Worth Star Telegram, published by Amos G. Carter, of Fort Worth, who was reprimanded by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson for yelling "Hurrah for Dan" at a Texas A. & M. football game, has coined a new campaign slogan for Louis J. Wardlaw, Fort Worth candidate for governor, which is:

"We've had a woman for governor. We have a boy for governor. Let's have a man for governor.—LOUIS J. WARDLAW."

RAISING THE SPEED LIMIT

Many states are fixing the maximum speed on the country roads at forty and forty-five miles an hour. Thus far the changes have apparently been a success and there is no reliable record to show that safety on the highways is any less attainable than before.

There are accidents every day to be sure, but that is nothing new, and so far as can be learned, the increased speed, alone, has not been an extra hazard. Motor traffic is a long way yet from the ideal, as to safety, and whenever there is congestion mishaps occur.

While there are many instances of gross recklessness in driving and while no way has been found to bar from driving a considerable percentage of both sexes who are temperamentally unfitted to sit behind a wheel, Americans as a nation are developing a high degree of facility in motoring and there is greater skill and much greater care in driving than four or five years ago.

Were this not the case the rapidly increasing registration of vehicles would have caused proportionately greater number of accidents, while, on the contrary, accidents tend to be fewer in proportion to the number of cars on the road.

Speed is not in itself as much a factor in casualties as carelessness or incompetent driving. The day may yet come when dangerous speeding will be defined not in miles by the hour but in conditions and circumstances.

TAHOCA, May 27.—Business conditions are excellent and Tahoka is experiencing one of the most substantial growths it has ever enjoyed.

A number of new brick buildings are going up, or have just been completed. Many new residences are being built. Farmers are building substantial farm homes in all parts of the county. Bankers report the best of conditions financially.

A site has been bought here by the East Texas Compress and Warehouse Company, which has headquarters at Athens, and announced it will erect a plant here.

Texas Utilities Company is expending $50,000 in building a high line from Station to connect up the Tahoka plant, and about $15,000 will be spent in town rebuilding lines.

Gas lines are being laid in the city by the West Texas Gas Compy, minor extensions are being made to telephone lines and light lines and the two State highways are being put into better condition to take care of the heavy traffic that pass through this county.

General conditions both in town and country are better than they have been in several years, and with another good crop year thousands of acres of new land will be put into cultivation in this county.

THE ANNUAL CROP OF COMMENCERS

This is the month of high school commencements in Lynn County, when the boy or girl graduates aer either leaving the seventh grade to enter high school, or those in high school will receive diplomas entitling them to go into some higher educational institution, or settle down in life.

Along with the spring flowers come the annual crop of good advice to the graduates. The keynote for the next few weeks will "success." The world receives its yearly accretions of school-trained youngsters with somewhat the same sense of hope and fears and responsibilities that it feels for babies.

The average boy or girl graduate wonders why such exercises are called "commencement." Many of them believe that the word should be "Finished" because it represents an end to their education. It is true for some of the graduates it means an end, but the real significance of the word is in its application to the "commencers."

The youth who graduates at this time of year is just commencing upon his life, whether he goes into other branches of learning, or whether he decides to take up his work and just settle down to business.

"Success" at this season of the year should carry much weight with the graduates. There is no specific direction making straight the road to success. The elders never can persuade the boys and girls at commencement that they are to tread paths marked with footprints. The optimistic, cage adventurous spirits, who for a whole year have been accustomed to the dignity of being called "seniors" are bent on nothing less than the conquests of new worlds. Commencement means to commence, not to finish.

It is well. The wisest who have lived have not made the world what it ought to be. The job has not been very well done. Take a chance on the "commencers." There is much that needs commencing. We need better cities and better farms, better business and better recreation, better government and better citizens; better industries and better arts—in the whole category of what has been accomplished there is nothing that

VALLEY FORGE PLANS TWO MEMORIALS TO HONOR HEROIC SOLDIERS OF 1778

Library and Non-Denominational Church Will Rise on Broad Acres Near Philadelphia—Celebration Arranged for June to Mark 100th Year.

Washington's Headquarters and Memorial Arch at Valley Forge. Here Approaching the Arch Has Been Chemically Treated.

VALLEY FORGE, scene of the Continental Army's martyrdom and heroism in the depressing days of 1777 and 1778, will furnish the background for a great national observance of the 100th anniversary.

Imposing memorials are planned for the big cantonment outside of Philadelphia, chiefly a Washington Memorial Library and a Washington Memorial Church, non-denominational.

While the details for the celebration have not yet been announced, it is believed that they will be most comprehensive and picturesque, including participation first of all by the thirteen original states and then by all forty-eight states.

The Washington memorials will rise on the site of the Zutich mansion, destroyed last spring by fire. The Rev. W. Herbert Burk, founder and rector of the Washington Memorial Chapel, has received assurances of gifts that will make the memorials possible.

His congregation has bought a site covering 15 acres for the buildings and an unidentified donor has promised funds for the library, the cornerstone for which will be laid June 19, 1928, as the closing feature of the Sesqui-Centennial observance.

History only will have a place on the library shelves. Each state will be represented by works dealing with the history of that state and the library will have, therefore, 48 alcoves.

Valley Forge continues to be the center of interest of thousands and thousands of visitors from every section of the country, as well as from abroad.

Railroads and automobile bus companies regularly run excursions to the famous old shrine of patriotism and on Sundays and holidays even the broad acres of Valley Forge are taxed for space by the huge throngs. In addition many visitors travel by private motor cars over the excellent roads, kept in splendid condition by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

All roads to Valley Forge run through a landscape of remarkable beauty, artists agree, and these roads are treated, as necessity arises, with chemicals, especially calcium chloride, to lay the dust.

Only 22 miles from Philadelphia, the shrine has long been one of the favorite objectives for daily excursions for Philadelphians, as well as for visitors to that city who have combined the Valley Forge trip with a tour of other places of historic interest, such as Independence Hall, the Betsy Ross House and other relics of the Revolution.

That interest is expected to be stimulated by the forthcoming celebration could not be better. Turn the graduates loose without too much hammering advice. After all, each must create his world for himself.

MR. DON EDWARDS GIVES INSPIRING TALK AT S. S.

Taking as his subject "Christ's Real Crucifixion in Gethsemane" Mr. Don Edwards roused an interest and reverence beautiful to watch at the opening services of the Methodist Sunday school Sunday. His own sincere emotion making it more touching, he painted a vivid word picture of the Master bowed down by the sins of the world, unstained by any friendly comfort, one disciple a base betrayer, the others sleeping, leaving Him alone in His agony. Then in a few apt words, Mr. Edwards turned his listeners from the abyss of gloom and despair and "the rainbow of hope shines through the clouds" in the wonderful promise found in the fourteenth chapter of John, "Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you."

Crop Reports Reveals State Is In Fine Condition; North Texas as Wheat Shows Big Yield

DALLAS, Texas, June 8.—There is an optimistic tone to May crop reports for Texas, compiled by the Department of Public Relations of the Southland Life Insurance Company.

Two features of the report are especially noticeable this month; the surprising increase in prospects for grain crops in the northern part of the state, and the consistently conservative and sober attitude taken by farmers over the entire state. Drier and favorable weather, except in scattered communities, have increased chances for cotton considerably. While it is true that much of the cotton crop had to be replanted, this has been done and there seems to have been an unusual record of growth during May. The situation in Central and South Central Texas with reference to the cotton crop appears to be especially good. West Texas has been greatly helped by recent rains, that section having suffered up to some three weeks ago from lack of moisture.

Reports from some sections indicate that the wheat crop, some of which is now being harvested, may be better than normal instead of below normal as earlier predicted. Other grains appear to be coming along well, although there is little likelihood that the oat crop will be as good as last year.

The danger from insect infestation as far as the cotton crop is concerned, appeared to be less than was believed a month ago. One of the especially encouraging aspects of business conditions is that farmers, while optimistic are being entirely conservative in their predictions and expenditures. That, of course would tend to slow business at the present time, but assures extreme prosperity in the fall, in case crops are as good as expected.

The Rio Grande Valley, both in crop prospects and business conditions is in unusually excellent shape, with the one exception of districts damaged by hail.

The Texas spinach crop amounts to almost $4,000,000 a year.

About 52,000,000 acres of public lands of Texas have been appropriated for public schools purposes in this state.

"...but what will it cost me to buy that car on time?"

WHEN you buy a car for cash, you pay the factory price plus freight, war tax and delivery charges. When you buy on time, you pay an additional charge which includes fire and theft insurance. This additional amount is known as a "finance charge."

The finance charges on General Motors cars are low because the General Motors Acceptance Corporation was organized to assure sound credit practice and low rates to those of its customers who prefer to purchase on time. The Acceptance Corporation operates the GMAC Plan of payment. The Plan is simple, fair and economical. Its large volume of business reduces costs. It is conducted to give you satisfaction and to keep your goodwill.

When you buy a General Motors car on the GMAC Plan, you pay the cash delivered price—plus only the low GMAC financing charge—nothing more!

The Plan is available only through General Motors dealers. Another reason for buying your next car—whether new or used—from a General Motors dealer.

Buy your next car on the GMAC Plan

The General Motors cars are Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Oakland, Buick, LaSalle and Cadillac. Together they make up a line of 86 models, ranging in price-at-the-factory from $495 to $5500. They are the quality cars of the various car price classes. Whatever make and model you choose—whether it be of the highest price, or the lowest—you will get a beautiful body (the closed bodies are by Fisher), 4-wheel brakes, a powerful engine, and a quality of design, materials and performance that only General Motors, by reason of its resources and its policy of continuous improvement, is in a position to give.

And the final touch in your satisfaction will come when you buy it on the GMAC Plan. The transaction will be in your interest. The rates will be low. And the dealer will not lose interest in you after the down payment is made.

MRS. G. T. BREWER DIES IN LUBBOCK SANITARIUM

Died Sunday and Burial Tuesday Is Skat T. Entire Community.

Mrs. Annie Renfro Brewer, wife of G. T. Brewer, died in a sanitarium at Lubbock at six o'clock Sunday afternoon, following an illness of only a few days.

The funeral was conducted from the Brewer residence here Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, followed by interment in the City Cemetery. A great concourse of relatives and friends attended the funeral services, which were conducted by Rev. J. N. Hunt of Decatur, a former pastor of deceased.

Mrs. Brewer was born on December 6, 1863, and was therefore 64 years old. Her maiden name was Annie Renfro. She was married to George T. Brewer on November 23, 1879, in Johnson county, Texas. She resided with her husband and family in Johnson county, Texas, until they removed to Tahoka. Mrs. Brewer joined the Baptist Church many years ago and lived a devoted Christian life.

She left surviving her besides her husband, four sons, L. T. Brewer and H. B. Brewer, who reside at Joe Bailey in this county, Earl Brewer of Fort Worth and Carl Brewer, and two daughters, Mrs. Len Turner of Fort Worth and another daughter of Mansfield. She also left a surviving brother, George Renfro, of Mansfield, and a number of grandchildren and other relatives. One grandson, Seth Brewer, has been residing with her and his grandfather, G. T. Brewer, for a number of years. All the children except Carl and the daughter at Mansfield attended the funeral, together with numerous other relatives from various places in Texas and Oklahoma.

Mrs. Brewer was truly a good woman and had made a host of friends here since removing to Tahoka six years ago. The News joins this great host of friends in extending sympathy to the bereaved relatives and especially to the heartbroken husband, Geo. T. Brewer, and the grandson, Seth who resided with them.—Lynn County News.

SO LVE MYSTERY OF FLYING FISH

Both Flapping and Soaring Methods Used.

New York—That troublesome question, "How do flying fishes fly?" is still pestering scientists, although many attempts to solve the mystery have been made.

J. T. Nichols, curator of recent fishes at the American Museum of Natural History, and C. M. Breder, Jr., research associate of the New York aquarium, find some truth in both sides of the argument as to whether these fishes sustain their flight by flapping of the wings, or pectoral fins, or whether they merely soar as gliders.

Writing in Natural History, the museum's journal, the ichthyologists say:

"The flight is largely a planing one, but at certain times and under certain conditions a definite wing motion may enter into and contribute to it. The enlarged pectoral fins or wings are on anatomical grounds and structurally—from an engineering point of view—ideal gliding planes, so arranged as to be easily held rigid at the proper angle.

"The wings of large flying fishes are sometimes seen to vibrate or flutter, a motion more reasonably referable to tension in setting them, or to the wind, than to a definite function in flight. In very small and young fishes, on the other hand, the wings vibrate to such an extent that they blur, like those of a flying insect.

"It seems that with an increase in age and size, a buzzing, bee-like flight is replaced by a true soaring flight and that the former is very likely a function of absolute size as are so many larval specializations.

"Flying fishes fly more freely in a strong breeze and attain greater elevation, speed and distance than in calm weather. The conclusion is almost inevitable that they utilize the wind to some extent to lift and propel them, even though it is difficult to understand how this would be accomplished."

The observations were based on the collection of flying fishes gathered by William Beech's Arcturus expedition.

Bottle Drifts 7,300 Miles;

Faster Than Sail Boat Washington.—Six miles a day, or faster than old sailing vessels, is the record established by a bottle reported to the navy hydrographic office.

The bottle traveled 7,300 miles from the gulf of Tehuantepec on the western coast of Mexico to New Guinea. It was thrown aboard by Second Officer J. M. Johansen of the Norwegian steamer Helles July 12, 1924, and was picked up December 13, 1927, on the north coast of New Guinea.

Caught by the northeast trades, the bottle drifted into the north equatorial current setting westward, its drift passing Clipperton island, between the Hawaiian islands and Palmyra island, through the islands of the Marshall group, thence southward of the Caroline islands across the equator to the Hermit islands, off the north coast of New Guinea.

Miss Florence Henderson left Wednesday for Abilene where she will enter school. Miss Florence has for many years been a leader in scholastic, social and church activities, and her friends are confident of her success in any line she may choose.

Miss Alta Rogers, who has been in Lubbock sanitarium for several eration, visited her parents over the weeks recovering from a mastoid operation. She is no longer in the sanitarium but will be in Lubbock for some weeks yet for treatment.

Mrs. Tom Moore was very ill the first of the week, but is better now.

SPRING GARDEN PRIMER

See the man? I see the man. Where is he? He is in the garden. Who is with him? A woman is with him. What has the man in his hand? The man has a hoe in his hand. Is he using it? He is, most vigorously. What is the woman doing? She is watching the man work. Does the man need watching? He does. Why does the man need watching? To keep him at work. Would he not work if the woman should leave? Most assuredly not. When will the work finish? Some time next summer. Will it profit him anything? The woman thinks so. But what does the man think? His thoughts would not look well in print. Will his labors result in a garden? It is extremely doubtful. Then what will he do for vegetables? He will buy them. Does gardening pay? No, but it pleases the woman.
