Korea Military Picture Improved; Senate Passes Mobilization Bill; Nation's Farmers in 'Fine Shape'

KOREA:

Picture Changes

As the Korean war went into the third month military observers were inclined to comment "the picture has changed." And from available information it seemed the Communists had lost the power to mount great offensives involving thousands

North Koreans launched one attack in force, its objective the city of Taegu, temporary capital of the South Korean republic and supply terminal for U. N. forces. It failed In some of the bloodiest fighting of the war, U. S. and South Korean Taegu, and then proceeded to smash bulges all along their lines. One of the most spectacular operations of the Korean battle was the concentrated air attack on an assembly area at Waegwan, involving 98 B-29's each loaded with 40 500pound all purpose bombs. The load was dropped in a rectangle 71/2 miles long and 3½ miles wide. General MacArthur, commander of United Nations forces, in a report to the security council said: "The ground fighting continues to be of the most savage character." Our outnumbered forces face an enemy with "almost fanatical determination. The whole operation has assumed the character of a major campaign." He went on to ask for troops from other members of the United Nations.

To date the number accepted for action in Korea included Thailand 4,000, the Philippines 5,000, Turkey 4,500, and the United Kingdom 7. 500. It will be several weeks before they can be brought to battle.

Military observers agreed that the picture had changed, but added that it will be "a long and hard winter in Korea."

FARMERS:

In Fine Shape

In a major speech at Carlisle. Indiana, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan asserted that the nation's farmers are in "fine shape" and took the opportunity to put in another plug for his farm plan. Said the secretary: "Even allowing for increases in military food requirements we expect to have enough food so that civilians can continue consuming as much as in the past two years.

Farmers worried about possible economic controls of agriculture were reassured when the secretary said there are grounds for hope that such controls can be postponed for a considerable time or perhaps avoided entirely—"unless the emergency becomes much worse.

Talbing up the Brannan plan, the secretary said we need a program which "solidly protects farm prices in case of a sudden slackening of demand" yet "puts an abundance of milk, eggs, and other perishables in the hands of consumers at attractive prices."

Brannan added that the present program of sliding-scale price supports fail to assure support on some of the most important commodities and offers no incentive for necessary production shifts.

WHEAT: Highest Level

The agricultural department has fixed price supports for 1951 wheat at the same level as the 1950 crop -90 per cent of parity. The department said 72,800,000 acres of wheat may be planted. If yields are average, this acreage would produce 1,150,000,000 bushels. This year's crop is estimated at 996,000,000 bushels. In fixing the wheat support at the highest possible level, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan said:

'In view of the world situation. it is imperative that our supply of bread grains be maintained in strong position. Ample supplies will be a major factor in assuring reasonable food prices to consumers and our ability to meet our international food obligations.

"We believe the wheat-production and price-support programs have been developed to protect the interests of both producers and con-

The price support announcement had been expected, since Brannan is required by law to announce supports in advance of planting; winter wheat planting starts this month.

Only farmers who keep within acreage-allotment limits can get price supports.

Toll Is Heavy

The shattering realities of the Korean conflict reached into many American homes as the conflict went into its third month. More than 2,600 families in the cities and small towns and on the farms of the nation have been notified of crets to Russia. servicemen killed, wounded or missing in action.

At the same time, a military spokesman said that Korean Communists had lost 50,000 killed.

Victories

nearly all fronts in Korea during the eighth week of the conflict. The big Communist push on Taegu from the north was driven back; South Korean troops recaptured Pohang and Kigy (2); another bridgehead (3) across the Naktong was beaten back; American forces flattened the bridgehead (4) in the Yongsan area.

HOME-FRONT:

Mobilization Bill

The senate, by a vote of 85 to 3, passed a home-front mobilization bill which would give President Truman power to invoke wageprice-rationing controls and other anti-inflation curbs at any time.

The bill then went to a senatehouse conference for the ironing out of differences between the senmeasure and the bill passed earlier by the house.

In one point the bill was a defeat for the administration since it directed the President to put wage and price controls into effect simultaneously and virtually across the board if he invoked them at all.

The President has maintained he sees no need of wage-price curbs or rationing at this time. Further, the administration requested authority to control commodity speculation, but neither the house or senate versions contain such authority.

Both bills contain an anti-hoarding provision prohibiting the ac-cumulation of excessive supplies of goods designed as scarce.

The administration suffered another setback in that its plea for retention of the provision which would let the President fix controls on selected commodities-meat, for example-in advance of any general controls program, was defeated.

AMERICA:

Angry People

Americans have never liked the evasive tactics and double-talk used by diplomats. That such a dislike stil' persists in the minds of average Americans was indicated by the increasing number of letters to national leaders and members of the United Nations demanding that Soviet delegate Jacob Malik be thrown out of the security council.

The letters asked why prolong the arguments in the security council? Why not expel the Soviet delegate, the people in the small towns of America wanted to know?

Ir. answer to these questions Warren Austin, U.S. chief delegate to the United Nations, made the following statement:

"Our objective is peace. We do not find peace by throwing out the person with whom we must make peace.

"We must be firm in our principles. We must be strong. But we must also be patient.

"In the United Nations, we must keep trying to convince Mr. Malik and his government of their errors our peaceful intentions. Through the United Nations we can reach the peoples of the Soviet Union and of other countries.

"It is not the people, it is the 'ruling circles' that we encounter here. That creates a force of public opinion, backed by moral authority that opposes aggressionand even the Soviet dictatorship cannot ignore such a force.

"It is a strain for us to listen to the deceit that the Russian spokesman has poured out. But truth will prevail. Meanwhile, it is better for diplomats to get nervous indigestion than for young men to get shot.'

That. Americans agreed, was straight talk and to their liking.

Just as democracy starts in the home as an obligation, it ends there as a reward. To the degree that all the other duties of citizenship have been fulfilled, your home will be your castle, secure from the threat of confiscation, and those in it safe from detention camps and firing OTIS WIESE, editor of McCall's Magazine, said in an article, "The home, we all agree, is the foundation of the social structure. And women are the bed rock under that foundation. Any woman who achieves success as a mother has a more pervasive influence over the next generation than any cell of Communists. And her mother's might certainly outweighs in social significance the manufacture of millions of can openers.

"The home, in effect, is the trans-mission belt of our culture, for it is there that the child learns its first lessons. It is the place where our social health is either insured or undermined insidiously . . . "

IN CONCLUDING this series of articles, one way to measure the results of our system is to add up our physical and cultural gains in everything from bathtubs to symphony orchestras. Although it has only 6 per cent of the world's population and less than 6 per cent of the world's land area, the United States has:

STRANGE SPECTACLES

By Richard H. Wilkinson

ON THE MORNING of Aug. 4th, Sandra Hunter glanced through her bedroom window and saw a strange spectacle. Between the great white house and the street was a wide expanse of lawn, and this lawn was at present occupied by a young man pushing a lawn-Sandra didn't know what to make of it. She r e m embered that her mother and father were away for the weekend and that the servants were in the rear of the house. By the time she had dressed and ventured outdoors, the young man had finished his mowing and was should be mowed. "Should be mowed?" Sandra puckered up her brow. "What mean, 'should mowed'? Who are you? And where is Rufus, our gardener?"

"I'm Jerry Leonard. I bribed your gardener this morning to let me mow your lawn. You see. I have to drive by your house every morning on my way to work, and every morning I've noticed that Rufus cuts the lawn unevenly."
"Well of all things!"

"Besides, I've been wanting to meet you since last June." "Meet me?"

"Yes. My mother and I moved into the old Saunders place last June and, the day after, I saw you and decided I had to meet you.

THROUGHOUT the day Jerry was conscious of a forlorn misery. All his carefully formed plans had proved fruitless. At 5 o'clock he drove home via a route that did not take him past the Hunter estate. Leaving his coupe outside in the drive he entered the cottage by the rear door and found a note on the kitchen table, left there by his mother, which advised him that she had gone to a church supper and that if he didn't want to come too he'd find some warmed-over things in the oven.

Jerry moodily ate the warmedover things and afterward stepped outside to smoke a cigarette. He was about to ease himself comfortably onto the doorstep when he chanced to glance toward the drive. He blinked, rubbed his eyes, swallowed. "What the devil!" he said.

As he approached, the girl who had been washing the automobile's wheels straightened up and stood off to survey her work. It was Sandra Hunter.

Uncle Charlie's Luck Is Bad, Bandit Crosses Him Up

By BILLY ROSE

Last Friday night on the way home from his weekly pinochle session, my Uncle Charlie was held up a few blocks from his home on Allen Street and a wallet containing $13 was taken from him. This misadventure, strangely enough, has made my Aunt Frieda very happy, and with your leave and license, I'd like to tell you why . . . To begin with, to hear my uncle tell it, Frieda is crazy like a fox about most things, but when it comes to fortune telling and allied superstitions she's crazy like a crazy. This, of course, in Charlie's own words, "drives him to destruction," particularly when my aunt shells out good money for such charms and amulets as lucky horse-tail hairs and pieces of string with seven magic knots.

"I can't understand," I once heard him tell her. "how a distinct twenty - century type like you could potsky around with such superstitions.' 'Century, schmen-Frieda answered. "What was good enough by my grandmother is good enough by

"So why didn't your "So when I look at you, that's who I'm thinking I married." THE MATTER CAME to a crisis last Friday when Charlie arrived home from the shop and Frieda asked him for 10 dollars. "Only last week I am giving you 10 dollars," he exploded. "What you making, a down payment on a this Gypsy?" "In the back of a store on Suftolk street, and ber I am trust-ing complete," said Frieda. "F'rinstance, when Mrs. Feitelson was expecting, the Gypsy told her to sew up the stuffed derma with black thread for a boy and white thread for a girl, and when she used the black, you saw what happened —a boy." "It occasional takes place," said my uncle patiently, "that a boy comes in the world without black thread in the stuffed derma." The upshot of the argument was a decision to put the magical fish to a practical test, and when Charlie went out that night for his weekly pinochle session, the good-luck charm was in his wallet. If he lost, it was agreed Frieda would stop

WELL, AS IT turned out, my uncle won ten dollars which, added to the three he started out with, gave him a take-home total of thirteen. Reluctant to face gloating Frieda, he took a roundabout way home.

A few doors from a drugstore on Rivington Street, a hoodlum stepped out of an alley and stuck him

"Could you return, please, the pocketbook?" said Charlie "Is genuine alligator leather." "Scram," said the hold-up man, 'or I'll bust in your head.' "A pleasure," said my uncle politely. "Cherry-ho."

When Charlie got home, Frieda was considerably shaken by the story of the stick-up, and was forced to admit that the brass geegaw was a flop. But the next morn ing she gave my uncle the horse laugh when the mailman dropped off a small parcel with the wallet in it, its contents intact. There was also an unsigned note.

"Dear Mister - When I see you got the Fish of Zoroaster, I decide to send everything back because I have dealings with such fishes before and want no part of them. Besides, when I count up the money I find 13 dollars exactly. I know when I'm licked."

"See?" said my aunt. "On account of the brass fish, everything is turning out hunky-totsy.' "Maybe," said my uncle, "but to me it still smells from herring."

Scientists Conclude Calf Parasite Study

A study of the parasite infestation of calves on pasture has led C. D. Grinnels and J. L. Moore of North Carolina to three main conclusions: (1) calves under ten months of age should not be turned on pasture; (2) calf pastures should be rotated to reduce the parasite intake; and
(3) calf pastures should be grazed part of the time by horses, mules or by mature cattle.

Parasite populations build up very rapidly on calf pastures, the inves-tigators found. The increase was most rapid on heavily grazed plots, these showing almost double the parasite population as the lightly Calves under ten months are ex-tremely susceptible to parasite at-tack. Rotating pastures and grazing them with mature animals cuts down the population. Mature cattle have an age immunity.

Egg Profits Down During Hot Months Poultrymen Recommend Close Culling of Flock

On the average, poultrymen fail to realize a profit above feed costs during July, August and September because of low egg production per hen. For example, during this period in 1949, the average monthly production per hen for the United States was 13.2 eggs. As a rule, poultrymen who maintain an average egg production per month of 15 or more eggs during this period, realize a profit.

little activity and are often found on the roost during the day.

When the profit margin gets slim, it's poor business to cut down on the laying mash, or take it away entirely, with the expectation of bringing the hens back into production later when egg prices pick up. The solution to the problem of increasing profits requires close culling of flocks. Get rid of the "boarders".

Poor layers, as well as non-layers, can be spotted by certain physical characteristics, such as "crow heads," pale, shriveled, scaly combs, yellow beaks, yellow legs and clean feathers. A good layer will have large red comb and wattles; an enlarged, smooth, moist vent: and well spread, pliable pin bones.

Poultrymen who start culling now will increase profits. Cull often and closely and sell the culls while they still have good body weight. Then feed the remainder of the flock a good laying ration.

Showdown Battle Looms in Korea; Jacob Malik Stops U. N. Action; House Votes Home-Front Controls

KOREA:

Showdown Near

On the fifth anniversary of the liberation of Korea from Japan, Communist and United Nations troops were involved in a series of maneuvers and probing thrusts that indicated a showdown battle was

In the north the Communists made their most important gains with the capture of Pohang and forcing U.S. troops to evacuate an important airfield. American and South Korean forces were in action against a Red unit west of that city

In the west, the Communists had crossed the Naktong river at two points, north and south of Taegu At one point 12,000 Red troops had crossed the river and counter attacking Americans attempted to throw them back with some suc-

The Communists were reported to have 60,000 men massed in that area for the all-out drive to push United Nations forces from Korea.

In the south, U.S. marines consolidated their positions just four miles outside Chinju and continued to mop up isolated Red groups cut off by the American drive.

Military observers reported the Communist time-table had been upset by the stubborn defense of U.S. and South Korean forces. The Reds had set August 15 as the date for final victory and their so-called "liberation" of South Korea. A final and desperate attempt to gain that victory seemed but a matter of Meanwhile. American jet fighters and bombers continued raids on North Korean installations and ground positions. One striking force dropped 625 tons of bombs in a raid on an oil refinery.

The Navy announced the first combat use of a new rocket-type missile, the Tiny Tim, a 11.75-inch armor-piercing rocket. The rocket was credited with knocking out 13 Communist locomotives and destroying a bridge.

HOME-FRONT:

Truman Gets Power

The house voted, 383 to 12, a broad home-front mobilization bill that gave the President power to control prices and wages, ration consumer goods and impose industrial curbs to speed up the war effort. The senate also had a similar bill under consideration.

Some kind of control bill had been expected for some time, but there were several surprising aspects to place, the vote of 383 to 12 was startling. But even more startling was the fact the house, which usually jealously guards its authority and power, left it entirely up to the President when to invoke the pricewage-rationing and other control powers contained in the bill.

Mr. Truman insisted he was not ready for severe restrictions upon civilian economy. And although the bill gives him that power, it is not believed that such broad scale mobilization is in sight. However, the administration is reported anxious to use some of the industrial controls, particularly the power to allocate scarce materials to war industries.

If and when the President invokes controls, the bill stipulates he must peg wages at the May 24-June 25 level. For prices he would have to "due consideration" to the period as a base.

The bill would:

(1) Give the President authority to impose wage and price controls and rationing at any time he deems necessary.

(2) Make it a criminal offense punishable by a $10,000 fine and a year in jail, to hoard food, clothing, automobile tires and other "neces-

(3) Authorize the President to exercise consumer credit controls similar to those used during World War II.

(4) Authorize the President to requisition materials and factories necessary to the defense effort. (5) Let the President set up a system of priorities and allocations for getting strategic and critical materials to defense plants.

(6) Authorize the government to make or guarantee loans for defense purpose. The total of loans outstanding at any one time could not exceed $2 billion.

ESPIONAGE:

Suspect No. 7

Mrs. Ethel Greenglass Rosenberg, 34, mother of two children, was arrested by the F.B.I. as suspect No. 7 in the Harry Gold-Dr. Klaus Fuchs atom spy case. She was held under $100,000 bail.

Her 32-year-old husband also is under $100,000 bond. The F.B.I. said when he was arrested July 17 that he belonged to a spy ring financed by Anatoli Yakovley, former Soviet vice consul in New York.

UNITED NATIONS:

Anger and Frustration

Delegates to the U. N. security council watched with disgust as Russia's Jacob A. Malik blocked every move of the Organization to continue with its business after two weeks under his chairmanship.

Non-Communist delegates were angered and frustrated by his tactics, but were resigned to waiting it out until his chairmanship ended today, August 31 and Sir Gladwyn Jebb of Britain takes over.

Malik's strategy had been designed to stall any action of the organization on the Korean situation and to create as much propaganda as possible for the Communist cause. Some quarters believed that Malik scored some success along that

He continued to drum the theme that South Korea started the war and accused the United States of using "inhuman and barbarous methods of waging war in Korea.' The western delegates hit back much more forcefully than ever before. U.S. delegate Warren Austin pinned the responsibility for the North Korean invasion on the Russians—as the men behind the men behind the guns. Sir Gladwyr made biting attacks on the entire philosounder which the Kremlin phy operates.

The western attack seemed to hit home. Malik seemed a little harassed at times and talked much faster and gestured more often.

Malik stated during one of the rounds that the only Russian arms possessed by the North Koreans were those "we sold to them when Soviet forces withdrew from Korea." It was the first time Malik or any other Soviet leader has admitted that North Koreans were using Soviet weapons.

The statement exposed Malik as a liar before the world because late model weapons have been captured from the Communists that were not even developed at the time the Russians were supposed to have withdrawn from North Korea. One such weapon was a late model mor-

POLITICS:

An Issue Found

Four important Republican senators, members of the foreign relations committee, issued as indictment of Democratic diplomatic failures, charging the administration's policy invited Russia "to grab whatever it could in China, Korea, and Formosa."

Senators Wiley of Wisconsin, Smith of New Jersey, Hickenlooper of Iowa and Lodge of Massachusetts signed the statement that demanded the United States take immediate steps to "regain the initiative and the power for the organization and preservation of lasting peace, which it threw away in

The senators charged that the administration was responsible for "the disintegration of our armed forces in 1945," evidently forgetting that Republicans and Democrats both answered the screams of mothers and fathers throughout the nation to let their boys come home. Republican leaders said they will discuss this issue in the congressional campaigns and expect their national committee soon to lay down a documentary "white paper" to support their position.

In other words, the Republicans believed they had found an issue for the coming political campaigns.

Income Up

The national production of goods and services boomed up to an annual rate of nearly 270 billion dollars in the second quarter of 1950, the commerce department announced. It is the highest quarter on

The 270-billion mark represented a sharp climb from the annual rate of 254 billion in the last quarter of 1949, and 263 billion in the first quarter of 1950.

No matter how busy he is, in addition to church and school, nearly everybody can find time for at least one community activity. It may be the Boy Scouts, or Girl Scouts, the 4-H Club, the Red Cross, the Future Farmers of America, the Community Fund, the Campfire Girls, slum clearance, a new park, a public swimming pool or golf course, or merely your family helping another family.

The spirit which motivates these groups is what makes one community so much better to live in than another town the same size which doesn't have the spirit.

These things call for your time and ability rather than your money, and they will give every good citizen an inner glow of pride and satisfaction for having done them.

"IN THE MAKING OF A TOWN," William Allen White said of Emporia: " . . . the material-the brick and stone and mortar of Emporia: " and lumber that make this town, are but a small part of it. Hundreds of towns in the country have just as much brick, stone, lumber and lime as Emporia has, that are not nearly such good towns. "Those who have lived during the half century now passed, put something besides houses and streets and trees and material things. They put practical work in politics, in religion, in education, in business, in the social organization to make this a good town. Emporia did not just grow. To have a clean town meant a fight, every day in the year for someone; it meant sacrihealth and strength. To have all these schools and churches meant that thousands gave freely and in a great faith without material results in sight, that we who now enjoy what we have, might reap where we have not sown.

"This town is the child of many prayers. This town is the ideal realized only after those who dreamed the ideal, laid them down to rest with the dream still a dream. His town is the fruit of a great aspiration, and we who live here now, have a debt to posterity that we can pay only by still achieving, still pursuing; we must learn to labor and to wait, even as they learned it who built here on this townsite when it was raw upland prairie . . .

Show Business Offers Heart Break to Stage-Struck Girl

As everyone and his Aunt Esmerelda knows, there's no business like show business for the fortunate few who make the grade. But— In 1946, a stage-struck lass from Nebraska named Judy Peters moved into a boarding house off Times Square and began looking for work in the theatre. As per usual, she was average bright, round of face, figure and eye, and determined to make her mark on the 45th Street marquees.

A few months later, thanks to a stage manager who took a shine to her, she got her first part- a threeline role in a twoact play that lastfour perform-

By thi time her family, fed up with show business shenanigans had put her on notice that the only further money she could expect would be train fare back to Nebraska. And so, to keep body and bopes alive, the would-be Helen Hayes went back to waiting on tables.

Last April, after three grim years of scratch-as-scratch-canning, Judy was handed the script of Keith Winters' old hit, "The Shining her any more, and when George Hour," by the director of a sum-

Quitter Makes Good

Lesson for September 10, 1950

UNLESS THAT boarding house in Antioch was different from other boarding houses, you could hardly have a private quarrel in it. There would be some inquisitive people who would notice when voices were raised, and who could not resist the temptation to

One of the quarwas none relers other than the famous Apostle Paul, and the other was his best friend Barnabas. At least, Faul and Barnabas had been good friends up to that Dr. Foreman

After that day's argument we do not know that they ever saw each other again. Paul never mentioned the incident, but the story got around, and Luke put it into his book of Acts.

Young Man Seeks Position

THE ARGUMENT was all about a young man named John Mark. Young people do not always realize how often they are discussed by their elders, or how much those discussions affect their lives. A young man applies for a job (which he would rather call a "position") and he either gets the job or he does not. But he never sees the files. He never hears the conversations about himself. He never knows just what remark got him the job-or cost him the job, as the case may be. So John Mark may never have known just what Paul and Barnabas said about him.

The facts were plain. John Mark was a native of Jerusalem, son of a woman at least well-off enough to have a large house of her own. He was some relative of Barnabas, perhaps a nephew. (Tradition says he was the young man in embarrasing circumstances described in Mark 14:51-52.) When Paul and Barnabas set off on their first missionary journey together, this John Mark went with them as a general assistant.

All went well at first. But when the party landed on the hot steamy shere of Pamphylia, and when the missionary expedition was about to take off over the high lonesome ranges through bandit country, John Mark left the party and took the first boat back to home and moth-

WE HAVE no idea why he went. Maybe he had good reasons. maybe not. Anyway, we do know that he quit. And that was all Paul wanted to know. A new missionary party was being made up, and Barnabas wanted to take his young relative along again. But Paul could not see it.

Why take a man who had already fallen down on one job? Why take an assistant that could not be depended upon? The argument between Mark's twe bosses boiled down to this: Paul judged their assistant on past performance. It was all he had to go by. Barnabas judged Mark by his love for him and his belief in him. The quarrel was sharp, and the two old friends could not agree. Finalthe incredible happened: Paul and Barnabas parted company, and each went his separate way from that time forward. What happened to Barnabas we do not know. But we do know that Barnabas was right about John Mark. Years later we read in more than one letter from Paul that Mark was a real help to him. We find that another great leader, Simon Peter, called Mark his "son." These leaders of the Christian church, though they might differ on some things, agreed about Mark, that he was a man to rely on.

What This Goes to Show

ALL THIS GOES to show several things. For one, it is clear that even an Apostle may be wrong. No man can be an infallible judge of another man. And another thing: You can't judge a man on his record alone. There may be more in the man than the record shows.

On the other hand, people do judge others by their records. The dubious young man does not always have a relative who will give him the benefit of the doubt.

If your record is bad, you must realize that there are numbers of people, even good people, who will judge you by that alone.

Pork Chops Take to Creole Sauce (See Recipes Below)

Hearty Meat Dishes

FALL'S THE SEASON with the erisp, cool mornings, splashes of red and yellow on the tree tops, the back to school parade, football games and, of course, bigger and better appetites! It's time to start thinking of those bigger and heartier meals, those which are built around

stick - to - the - ribs quality like meats. Our recipes in the column today borrow seasoning tricks from abroad as well as from regional cooks. No matter what kind of foods please the family, these are bound to be a success because they're so extra good.

HERE'S AN American version of a famous Italian dish that's very popular among folks in this country because it's nicely seasoned. The list of ingredients is rather long, but the dish is not difficult to prepare. Serve with crisp French bread and a tossed green salad, and you'll have a meal to repeat often because t's truly special.

Veal Scallopini (Serves 6) 1 2 pounds veal steak, cut 1/2 inch

1 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon paprika

1/2 cup salad oil

clove garlic

1 teaspoon prepared mustard 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

1/2 teaspoon sugar 14 cup flour

14 cup shortening 1 medium onion, sliced thin

1 green pepper, cut in strips 1 can (10 ounce) chicken bouil-

lon 14 pound mushrooms

1 tablespoon butter 6 pimiento olives, sliced

Cut veal into serving pieces. Make sauce by combining salt, paprika, oil, lemon juice, garlic, mustard, nutmeg and sugar. Beat thoroughly. Lay veal flat in baking pan and pour sauce over it. Turn meat to roat with sauce. Let stand for 15 minutes. Remove garlic. Lift veal from sauce and dip into flour. Brown in heated shortening in skillet. Add onion and green pepper. Combine bouillon and remainder of sauce and pour over veal. Cover and cook slowly until veal is tender, about 40 minutes. Clean and slice mush rooms. Brown lightly in butter. Add mushrooms and olives to veal, basting meat as you add them. Cook for five minutes longer. Serve veal with

FROM NEW ENGLAND comes a full-of-flavor pot roast. Try it for a hearty meal with fluffy mashed potatoes, cole slaw salad with soured cream dressing and fruit cobbler.

Yankee Pot Roast (Serves 8)

3-4 pound pot roast of beef 3 tablespoons lard or meat drippings

2 teaspoons salt 14 teaspoon pepper 1/2 cup sliced onions tablespoons water minced, garlic clove

8 peppercorns 1/4 cup vinegar

In a heavy covered kettle, melt

LYNN SAYS: Good Flavors Make Favorites of Simple Foods

If the family shows signs of getting weary of chocolate pudding, try serving it with coffee-flavored custard sauce. You may add instant coffee to the sauce or make it with part of the liquid, leftover coffee.

Cream cheese and soft maple sugar make a delightfully different spread for lunch box sandwickes or for dainty tea time snacks. A nut for ambrosia desserts, add some bread with this spread is certain to canned fruit cocktail also, and bring calls for seconds.

on all sides, allowing about 30 minutes for the process. When browned, add salt, pepper, onions and water. Simmer three to four hours slowly on low heat until meat is tender. About and thoroughly

45 minutes before meat is tender. add garlic, peppercorn and vine-When meat is tender, remove it to hot platter and make gravy from drippings.

FROM DOWN SOUTH comes the recipe for these pork chops which are served with rice and creole sauce. The menu can be rounded out with mixed green salad with French dressing to which a little curry is added, crusty rolls and an apricot whip with custard sauce. Pork Chops a la Dixie

(Serves 6) 6 loin or rib chops, cut 1-inch thick

In hot frying pan, brown chops slowly and thoroughly. Season chops with salt and pepper. Add creole sauce and cover; cook slowly until tender, about one hour. Serve with fluffy rice and sauce. Creole Sauce: Heat to gether 2 cups tomato juice, 11/2 tablespoons worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, dash of tabasco sauce, 1 teaspoon lemon juice and 1/4 cup chopped green pepper.

RAGOUT is the French word for stew, and here is the glorified version inspired by that country, *Ragout de Veau (Serves 6)

2 slices bacon I large onion, sliced green onions, chopped 8 tablespoons butter or sub-

2 pounds boneless veal, cut in 11/2 inch cubes 2 tablespoons flour

11/2 teaspoons salt 1/4 teaspoon pepper 16 teaspoon oregano 1/2 cup water

1 cup sour cream Parsley, chives-chipped

Cut bacon into one-inch pieces. Cook and stir in heavy skillet until lightly cooked but not brown. Add onions and butter. Cook and stir ur.til onions are cooked but not brown. Dip veal in flour mixed with salt, pepper and oregano. Add to skillet and brown. Add water; cover and simmer for an hour, being careful not to burn. When veal is fork tender, push to one side. Stir sour cream into drippings. Stir all ingredients together, cover and heat for 15 minutes to blend flavors.

Several sprigs of parsley, snipped with scissors and added to the cream sauce for creamed chicken in a casserole will add lots of color and fine flavor to it.

For those cubed or minute steaks which you broil or pan-broil, add a sauce made of equal parts of melted butter and chili sauce. No cook-

In addition to just plain bananas and orange sections with coconut you'll multiply flavor and color.

Writer Needs Local Color, Goes to Jail to Get It

PASADENA, Calif.-A writer, Mrs. Eloise Andrae, needed some local color for some radio crime stories she was writing. She needed to get in jail, so-

She took out a temporary driver's license under the name of Susan Ann Little and used it to cash a check for $25. Nothing happened.

Next she charged a $3.95 slip to a friend who didn't have an account. Still no policeman. Then she went back to the store and pulled the same stunt for $15.47 Detectives hauled her away to a cell with lots of local color and booked her on suspicion of forgery.
