NEW H-D AGENT BEGINS WORK

Miss El Fiedra Harrison assumed her duties Wednesday morning as home demonstration agent of Lynn county, having arrived in the city last Friday. Miss Harrison comes from Quitman, Wood county. She has been teaching in the public schools the past three or four years but became much interested in home demonstration work and decided to enter this field of activity. Miss Greenwade is assisting her for a few days until she can familiarize herself with the work here.

Miss Greenwade has been serving in this position for two and a half years. She has performed her duties in a most efficient and satisfactory manner and has many warm friends throughout the country who regret that she is leaving the work. Her supervisor, however, is making a good impression and will doubtless prove to be a most excellent agent.

It is to be noted that Miss Greenwade is planning to become a bride within the next few weeks, the groom being a popular young man of this city.—Lynn County News.

All applications for federal farm relief must be made before the 20th day of April, according to information received here this week by A. H. Koeninger, who has spent the past several weeks in assisting in filling them out.

The office at Ft. Worth will close in the near future, and all those desiring this aid must have their applications on file before the above mentioned date.

With clouds promising needed moisture, farmers are for the most part well advanced with this year's work.

MANY APPLICATIONS FOR SUPERINTENDENT'S PLACE

With thirty-six applications already received for the superintendency of the O'Donnell Public Schools, a place left vacant by the removal of D. A. Edwards to Crosby for the coming year, the school board is busily engaged in trying to make the wisest selection.

Meetings have been held twice already this week, but so far nothing definite has been done. It is generally felt that it will be difficult to find a man to fill the place left vacant by Prof. Edwards, who has been connected with the local school system for the past six years.

WELLS LITERARY SOCIETY TO PRESENT PLAYS HERE

Friday night, April 10th, the Wells Literary Society will present "The Winning Widow" and "Too Many Wives" to the people of O'Donnell and surrounding vicinity.

These plays have been staged once in the Wells auditorium, and were pronounced a knowing success. In fact the auditorium was too small to hold the crowd, and since that time numerous requests have come from O'Donnell that the plays be staged there.

"The Winning Widow" pictures a man-hung widow with two daughters. The plot revolves around her endeavor to protect her daughters from the snares of the men, thus becoming entangled in the web herself. The untangling of the web furnishes a very amusing climax.

"Too Many Wives" is a one-act comedy ever produced in this territory—it literally "stole the show".

In addition to the plays, plenty of music will be furnished by a very popular orchestra.

No admission will be charged for the performance. Remember the date and the place. Be there and see for yourself what the Wells Literary Society is doing.

LEAGUE INSTITUTE DRAWS LARGE CROWD AT TAHOKA

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR COLLINS THURSDAY

Funeral services for Dr. C. E. Collins, local physician, were held here last Thursday afternoon at the Methodist church by Rev. L. S. Jenkins, assisted by Rev. C. A. Duncan.

Perhaps the largest crowd which has ever attended such a service in O'Donnell gathered to pay their last respects to the deceased. The church was crowded to capacity and many were standing in the church yard.

Many of the rural schools dismissed for the afternoon to allow the pupils to accompany their families, who knew the doctor as their family physician and personal friend.

Dr. Collins in his seven years of practice here had made many friends among the country people of this trade territory, and was known as a doctor who never failed to go when called, and who always did all he could in the sick room. It was not uncommon to hear mother and father remark, "we owe the life of our child to Dr. Collins", and many other remarks that praised the doctor for the manner in which he served his patients.

As is often the case, flowers and tributes are paid too late for the deceased to enjoy, but the fond memory of those tributes live long in the minds of those who survive. Cases are numerous in this community of the whole-hearted charity which the doctor practiced out of the love for his fellow man. Many friends of the doctor have called at the Index office and have told of personal favors the doctor had rendered in their families. In one instance one reader came to say, "No one man has done as much for this community as Dr. Collins".

The incident has been related over and over again here by a man who stated that only recently he met the doctor on the street and told him that he owed him for professional service and that he wanted to pay him, but that at the time he had only the amount for his bill with which to provide for his family. The doctor smilingly said, that if that was all he had he could not possibly feed a family, and handed the man a sum almost equivalent to his total finances, saying, "maybe with that you can get by, forget what you owe me".

It goes, therefore, without saying, that a man who loved men as he did, and who served so untriflingly will be missed by people of this community, both professionally and by those who knew him as a true and tried friend.

Active pall bearers were: Ben Earles, M. J. Whittsett, B. J. Boyd, Harry Cain, Waldo McLaurin, Alvin McMillian, Ray Jordan, and Lee Miller. Honorary pall bearers were: Grover Sutton, Dr. Ferrell Farrington, Nagmon Everett, Dave Scott, Mel Pearce, Chas. Cabool, Paul Gooch, E. T. Russell, Harvey Line, Guy Bradley, Luther McMillian, and Roy Gibson.

IN MEMORIAM

Almost forty-nine years ago a new life made its appearance on this earth as C. E. Collins. Last Monday night that life was taken from this world. But in that period of more than forty years, his mother, father, brothers, sisters, and countless friends saw the making and moulding of a life for the service of humanity.

Dr. Collins was the kind of a man who looked one in the face with straight-forward sincerity. He was the kind of man who worked just as long as there was work to do. A man foursquare—we might say—whose thought in terms of honesty and usefulness.

That usefulness showed itself daily in O'Donnell as he ministered to the sick and suffering. He worked with an intensity of purpose, and that purpose was to be the good Samaritan to his many friends.

He gave of his time, his interest, and his energy to his profession. He seemed to carry always before him the idea:

"Count that day lost whose lowly setting sun Views from thy hand no worthy action done."

His usefulness is made doubly commendable and appreciable when one remembers that unto himself he took no credit. Never once did he try to place himself in the limelight; never once did he think of glorifying his own name. All that was typical of Dr. Collins.

When he entered the sickroom, one might hear a chuckle, a ready flow of humor, a kindly word, that friends of his can never forget.

It is not necessary to say more. Dr. Collins, by his life, said the things that count. He has woven himself into the thoughts, memories, and lives of those who knew him with a thread of purest gold that knows no fading. And so it is that another man is taken from our midst in the twinkling of an eye—but he died as he lived—for his friends and loved ones.

JUNIOR S. S. CLASS HAS PARTY FOR TEACHER

Honoring their teacher, Mrs. D. A. Edwards, who is soon leaving to make her home in Crosbyton, members of the Junior Girls S. S. class of the Methodist church surprised her with a party and handkerchief shower at her home one afternoon last week.

The guests arrived at four o'clock while Mrs. Edwards was away from home, and on her return, greeted her with the announcement that they had just come to see her.

One of the games was the drawing of number and Mrs. Edwards drew the lucky number, one which entitled her to search the house for the prize, a number of handkerchiefs hidden all over the house.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Pemberton were hosts Monday evening at an informal affair featured by the frying of real fish, the fish being furnished by A. Y. Pemberton, who has just returned from a fishing trip along the coast.

The guests aver that they don't know, or care, anything about how many big ones got away but they do know that Mr. Pemberton brought back enough that the guests were quite miserable after eating fish and everything it takes to make a meal complete.

But it seems that misery was a pleasure, especially to the hostess, as she was seen (after all others had exhausted every ounce of capacity) and had declared the fry a

Like Coffee . . . the best Gasoline is Blended

The sun beams cheerfully through an eastern window. The subtle fragrance of the morning coffee adds zest to the morning air, advance notice of the joy to come as you give the "cup test" to the coffee blend of your choice. Coffee roasting is important, of course, but the most skillful roaster cannot make a popular coffee from just one type of coffee bean.

The coffee connoisseur would not want to drink coffee made from a single type of bean. Neither should the thoughtful motorist allow an unblended gasoline to go into his fuel tank. Gasoline must be blended if it is to possess all the vital properties contained in the three types of gasoline.

CONOCO Gasoline is blended, just as carefully as the finest coffee.

In CONOCO blended gasoline you'll find: Natural Gasoline, for quick starting; Straight-run Gasoline, for power and long mileage; Cracked Gasoline, for its anti-knock qualities. Motorists are fast learning that this is so. The result is a fast increasing group of gasoline connoisseurs who have added to their knowledge of good things of life the fact that good gasoline must be blended.

The CONOCO Red Triangle marks the spots where CONOCO Balanced-Blend Gasoline may be found. It is today.

H. E. Contest Held Wednesday
 Beatrice Gardenhire won first place, Kimmie Lee Pearce, second; and Wilma McMurry third in a contest held Wednesday morning in the Home Economics Department. The project was the making of a wash dress.

As winner of the contest, Miss Gardenhire's dress will be entered in the state contest at Lubbock on May 1st.

The judges, Mmes. Fred Henderson, and W. E. Guye and Miss Alma Hyde were most enthusiastic in their praises of the quality of work as well as the taste with which each costume and harmonizing accessories was assembled, and also stated that their decision was a difficult one to make, as each entry had been well planned and made.

A style show will be held in the near future so that patrons of the school may have an opportunity to see what is being done in this department.

BABY chicks... as delicate as any other babies... their fluffy helplessness appealing to you for good care, that they may have a chance to live and work for you. Good feed is their greatest need - what will you give them? RED CHAIN Chick Starter raises chicks with the smallest mortality - thousands of poultry folks all over the Southwest will tell you that, and only one PENNY more pays for all the RED CHAIN chick will eat! The extra chicks you'll raise will pay for the feed - and increase your profits, too. So easily killed, with cheap feeds - but so easy to raise, with RED CHAIN, which will you feed your chicks?

ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF FORD VALUE

Bright, enduring RUSTLESS STEEL is used for many exposed bright metal parts of the Ford

WHEN YOU BUY a Ford you buy enduring beauty. The body finish is made to last for the life of the car and practically all exposed bright metal parts except the bumpers are made of enduring Rustless Steel.

This Rustless Steel has great tensile strength. It is the same bright metal all the way through. A salt test equivalent to forty years' service under the severest weather conditions failed to have any effect on its brilliance. It never requires polishing. All you do is wipe it with a damp cloth, as you do your windshield.

This is just one of many features that show the substantial worth of the Ford. In speed, comfort, safety, economy and long life - in the richness of its finish and upholstery - it brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

Call or phone for demonstration.

"Don't Neglect It"

It was the last bit of advice a prominent retiring merchant gave to his son and successor, and it guided a sound business enterprise safely through the rough channels of trade.

"Under no circumstances," counselled the merchant, "neglect the protection which sound stock insurance affords. Keep it broad - adequate! It strengthens business credit, invites public confidence, stimulates patronage and encourages consistent progress."

Let us help you review your needs and give you sound, dependable protection.

The Daily Milk

When the milkman brings your milk, do you step to the sink immediately and pour out a portion of it? Certainly not!

Then why do such a thing with Natural Gas?

Burners clogged with lint and dust; appliances unsuited for Natural Gas; and small leaks in connection, often waste as much gas as is actually needed in the home.

Remember, water can't get hotter after it begins boiling. And don't permit gas to burn wastefully between the cooking of dishes.

Do not burn gas in heating appliances with doors and windows open.

Satisfied customers constitute our best asset. They are worth more to us than any revenue derived from gas which is wasted.
