Lining each side of the road e many buildings—some small tages, some stately mansions, en a few skyscrapers. There is building for every person who meys down life's road. The ilding represents the person mself. He has built it by his ery thought, word, and deed. ough some of the buildings ve been completed, many others still under construction. In the distance lies a group of me thirty-three incomplete ildings. At this very moment nstruction activity in that parular area seems to have reached all time high. Those are our ildings-one for each of us, the s candidates for graduation! ground breaking for each of venteen, eighteen, or nineteen ars ago with the cry of a tiny fant. Subsequently thirty-three undations were laid.

without a doubt, the foundation the most important part of any ilding, for it determines the rength and stability of the enedifice. The foundation is a mplex of inherited qualities d environmental characteristics. herefore to our parents, our others, our sisters, to our grandarents, our aunts, our uncles, and our friends we say "Thank " for providing us with strong ndations, thereby enabling us become high school graduates.

The most evident part of any uilding is the walls, and so it is ith our building. With every son learned, every goal reached, very failure experienced, a new art — a new brick — has been dded to our buildings. Again to - a new brick - has been ur families and friends we exess our deepest appreciation for eaching us many lessons, for makg many accomplishments possie, and for comforting us when e have failed. We also consider other distinct group of people esponsible for the present size our buildings. For twelve years have been closely associated th this group-our teachers. If tese teachers had merely cram-ted our heads with isolated facts ut of the many books we have eld, I really do not think that eing a graduate would be an

Johnny Avila had a double for the Braves.

Johnny Avila worked on the mound for the Braves, giving up 5 hits. Singles by Roy Gomes. Gary Cartwright, Joe Valdez, and Keven Wood and a triple by Billy Wood accounted for the Cub nits.

The big difference in the game was made by the 16 errors committed by the Braves and the fact that Valdez was able to strike out 14 batters.

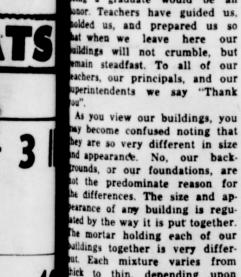

The Braves made a double piay in the lourth inning when Scory Thompson caught a line drive and stepped on first base to double off the runner. This game gives the Braves four losses and the Cubs three losses and one win.

The second game of the night found the Yankees going against the Giants. Jerry Webb worked on the mound for the Yankees and pitched the first no-hitter of the season. Webb walked two men and three reached first on Yankee miscues but none were able to cross home plate. The Yankees also executed a doube play when Rex Childress snagged a line drive and doubled the runner off at first base.

Odell Hunter started on the mound for the Giants and couldn't seem to find the plate. Although he gave up no hits he gave free rides to seven batters and gave up 8 runs before being relieved in the first inning with only one out. Yes, construction activity in the rea where our buildings are sit-ated on the road of life has eached a peak tonight, because we receive our diplomas we ceive a challenge to take a huge tep forward. No matter whether e begin our careers now or conaue our education in a college, university, or a vocational thool, we accept the responsibilty to make our contributions to ociety, leaving our marks on the world by continuing to build and y applying our education and raining in a practical way. Yes, onight our buildings are just arge enough to be seen along he crowded sidelines. There are any more bricks to be added. Personally, it is my sincere pe that my building will be an architectural feat reaching into the clouds. It is my hope that the aterior of my building will become more beautiful than the exior so that those who come inide will find a refuge, a retreat, help, and an inspiration. It is my hope that each of my classmates realizes the importance of his building and remembers that any eventuality remodeling is Possible! As we continue to build may we never forget our heritage nor the pleasant environment of the past twelve years.

Let our prayer always be: May re not build in vain!

Plains Growers Adopt Legislative Position

Support for a cotton program which "maintains the traditional concept of producer income protection through a non-recourse loan at or near the U.S. producer income level of 75 percent of parity" was voted by Directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at a meeting in Lubbock on May 13. This was point number one in a nine-point policy adopted by a vote of 17 to 6 with one absten tion.

W. L. Edelmon, Chairman o' the PCG Legislative Committee which recommended the nine points to the Board, emphasized that they were to serve as guidelines under which PCG would work toward cotton legislation in the best interests of High Plains cotton farmers. On this point PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson said: "PCG is not now ttempting to write a cotton law, but to formulate legislative priniples to express the wants and needs of the area." He assured hose present that PCG could not and would not support any legislative proposal which violated these principles, and that any specific cotton bill that is introduced would be further discussed with the Board.

The full policy states that PCG will give full support to a cotton program which:

1. Maintains the traditional concept of producer income protection through a non-recourse loan at or near the U.S. producers income level of 75 percent of parity.

2. Maintains the 16 million acre base national allotment.

3. Makes cotton competitive in domestic and foreign markets through a trade-incentive payment in the channels of trade to other than the producer.

4. Establishes a definite export goal of at least 7 million bales annually and provides for the attainment of this goal through a more aggressive and flexible policy stressing the movement of current crop cotton through the normal channels of trade.

5. Provides acreage choices to individual producers is such mancont'd back page
