Giants-Wildcats Baseball Battles Feature Big Scores

Rivals de luxe, the O'Donnell Wildcats and O'Donnell Giants, hustling boys' baseball teams here, are playing hotly contested games. The teams meet too often, and conflicting versions as to which team won, prevents giving scores in detail. Both teams seem to be handicapped, but not at the same time. One game will find the completely reversed.

Star Dust

- ★ Goofy Comedies
 - ★ 'The Sheik' Is Funny
 - ★ Restless Holiday
- By Virginia Vale

IT LOOKS more and more as if goofy comedies were on the wane. First Carole Lombard said she'd have no more of them. Now Claudette Colbert, who helped to start the cycle with "It Happened One Night," has balked. It was planned that she would do "Are Husbands Necessary?" when she returned from that European jaunt, but instead she'll go to work in "Midnight," which is romantic and dramatic and everything but goofy.

Speaking of "It Happened One Night," it was revived recently in New York, and a lot of people who'd heard about how funny it was but had missed it the first time round had a chance to see it. And the addicts who went to it over and over when it was first released found it just as funny as ever.

The revival of Valentino's "The Sheik," seems to have been ill-advised. Any picture that old is bound to look funny nowadays. And the generation of movie-goers that has grown up since the days of Valentino just couldn't understand why he had been such a world-beater. Some of them roared with laughter. They thought Agnes Ayres, the heroine, a bit too fat—though in her day she was considered streamlined! However, no matter what the young folks thought of that picture and the other Valentino revival, "The Son of the Sheik," they brought mobs to the theaters and money to the box offices.

It looks as if George Arliss had been tempted into returning to Hollywood, thanks to Samuel Goldwyn. Goldwyn has a picture called "The Exiles" on the list, based on the stories of the many famous men who have had to leave their homes in Europe because of political troubles. Arliss would play the role of a distinguished scientist.

Warner Brothers will, at last, screen "The Miracle," with Bette Davis in the coveted role of the Nun. Ever since it was so successful as a dramatic spectacle in London in 1911 and in New York in 1924—there has been talk of making it for the screen. Now, with Max Reinhardt, its original producer, available, they are ready to start.

When Bob Burns ducked away from Hollywood for a rest, preparatory to taking over the Bing Crosby radio program for the summer, he didn't do so well in choosing a spot to rest in. He and his wife went to New York, but were so besieged by people that they left and went to Buffalo—he wanted to show her Niagara falls. And the public caught up with them again. He really tried wearing a mask, if he really wants to rest!

Margaret Tallichet, a comparative newcomer to the screen, will be Ramon Novarro's leading woman in "As You Are." When and if "Gene With the Wind" reaches the screen she will be seen as Karen O'Hara, younger sister of Scarlet. Miss Tallichet tried the summer haters in the East last year.

ODDS AND ENDS—Nancy Carroll will be seen on the screen again in "There Goes My Heart." . . . Judy Garland has a scratched shiner, the result of an automobile accident. . . . Bobby Dreen won't have the kind of financial trouble that Jackie Coogan is having when he grows up; his parents have arranged to put his earnings into a trust fund, keeping $200 a month for themselves. . . . Sigrid Gurie says her husband threatened to humiliate her by getting a job in a gas station. . . . Lots of wives wouldn't see anything humiliating about that. . . . Harold Lloyd's new picture, "Professor Beware," will be released simultaneously at special showings in New York, London and Paris.

What Shanghai Is Like

Shanghai's Skyline From the Race Track.

Huge, Picturesque Shanghai and Its Famous International Settlement

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C. ... HILL the major battles and Chinese forces have raged late in the northeast province of Shantung, Shanghai still has reminders of the conflict which swept through the city last year.

In accordance with arrangements of long standing between the Chinese and foreign governments, the latter maintain units of their troops at several points in Shanghai.

Excepting occasional stately junks with eyes painted on either side of the high bow to enable them to "see their way," there is little to suggest the Orient on the way to the Changpu river in Shanghai.

From a downstream wharf it is a half hour's ride in a tender to the customs jetty in the city. Wharves, warehouses, and factories line the shores.

Immediately beyond the Japanese docks in Hongkong appears the curve of water front upon which three consulates now stand.

Beyond lies the mouth of Soochow creek, the crowded stream which meanders tortuously through the city. It battles with the floating homes of innumerable Chinese—Chinese who are born, live their entire lives, and die on the sampans which huddle together in its murky water.

Babies, toddling too near the gunwales, sometimes topple in, and, having been fished out, are cast casually to dry. Water dipped up over the side is used by the women for cooking rice and vegetables; clothes are washed in it; and it imparts that certain flavor to tea.

A sampan jaily pavilioned and decorated in red indicates that a wedding will soon take place.

China had First Footstool There. Great Britain was the first of all nations which now have sizable, valuable commercial interests in the city "above the sea" to recognize the vast potentialities of the little walled hamlet on the muddy shores of the Whangpoo.

In 1842, emerging victorious from the so-called "Opium war," she concluded a Treaty of Commerce with China, by which, in addition to the ports of Canton, Hankow, and other coastal cities were established as treaty ports.

Within two years the United States and France, realizing that Shanghai's geographical position made it the natural outlet for products of the Yangtze river valley, followed suit and signed trade pacts with China.

By 1858 an acre of Bundside property was valued at more than four millions.

An amazing variety of traffic thronged the Bund, that splendid waterfront boulevard which is the center of Shanghai's bustling activity.

Impending buildings, reminiscent of those of the Bund, banks, business, newspaper offices, clubs, the conveyances of the East, rickshaws, handcars, and rickshaws, bearing an unbelievable variety of loads, make way for lumbering double-decked buses, trams, and foreign cars.

FARM TOPICS

INDIAN RUNNER IS GOOD LAYING DUCK

Ability May Exceed Any of the Breeds of Hens.

By a Poultry Author in the Rural New-Yorker—WNU Service. The outstanding characteristic of Indian Runner ducks is their superiority as egg producers. Good strains may equal or exceed any of the breeds of hens in this respect.

The standard weight of the Indian Runner duck is 4 1/2 pounds; of the duck a half pound less. They lay a white egg, larger than the hen egg, and make fair brooders.

Two features stand out prominently in connection with this season's swim and beach togs. One is the use of materials in use, the other the fact of the dressmaker touch-up on their styling.

Brahmas Majestic Birds; Hardy, Vigorous Layers

The Brahma has a comb different from most birds. It is called a "pea comb" and is a low comb consisting of three ridges instead of a rose comb or a single comb.

Another feature that fashion spotlight is the use of striking color contrasts, perhaps in the way of playing up print with plain or the moderate gesture of making the costume one vivid solid color boldly contrasted against another startling color on a sort of fifty-fifty basis.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Green feeds are an important source of necessary vitamins.

Uncle Ab says that a stable supply of farm power means more horses.

It is estimated that China's 350,000,000 hens lay 26,250,000,000 eggs annually.

The Department of Agriculture plans to divert surplus hogs into fertilizer and manure.

According to estimates, there are from 12,000 to 13,000 licensed veterinarians in the United States.

Cannibalism among chicks is largely caused by lack of something to do, by over-crowded houses, or by hunger.

A cow that weighs 1,200 pounds and produces 20 pounds of milk daily requires about two ounces of salt each day.

Hens that fail to respond to good feeding and management during the summer should be disposed of promptly.

On January 1, 1938, the number of horses on farms was estimated at 11,160,000 and the number of mules at 4,477,000.

Only 47 per cent of the fluid milk produced in this country is pasteurized. In 1936, 42 epidemics causing 28 deaths were traced to unsterilized milk.

What's New in Swim, Beach Togs

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Two features stand out prominently in connection with this season's swim and beach togs. One is the use of materials in use, the other the fact of the dressmaker touch-up on their styling.

A very interesting costume, as shown to the left, uses blue and white cotton print for the beach cape lined with white terry cloth, worn over a loose-fitting white terry cloth suit.

Other interesting materials employed for playtime clothes and wardrobes for water nymphs include celanese rayon moire, celanese rayon sharkskin, silk prints of fast color, linens in monotone or spectacular print and cottons, so reliable when it comes to the wear and tear of riotous waves or strenuous mountain climbs.

Another feature that fashion spotlight is the use of striking color contrasts, perhaps in the way of playing up print with plain or the moderate gesture of making the costume one vivid solid color boldly contrasted against another startling color on a sort of fifty-fifty basis.

ACCENT ON POCKETS

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

After you have looked about at the new dress collections, the thought stays with you that this is decidedly a ribbon season.

Frilly-Frilly Guimpes or Vestees Have Blouse Look. With the classic suit or the more softly tailored bolero-skirt costume you are expected to wear the daintiest, frilliest blouse or guimpe or vestee you can find.

Salior Hats. The new salior hats have a wide range—from straw to oilcloth.

Speaking of Sports

Sons of Italy Make Up Star Baseball Club

By GEORGE A. BARCLAY

THESE are enough Italian boys in the big leagues to do a Verdi opera, with principals and chorus warbling in the mother tongue.

Put them all together on a ball field and you'd have a team that with the exception of pitching would be able to hold its own with any club in the big leagues. Let's start behind the plate. Well, there's Ernani Lombardi of the Cincinnati Reds. He is a heavy hitter and a crafty receiver who would be a .750 string catcher wherever he went.

Star Infield. At first base you would have your choice of Dolph Camilli of the Brooklyn Dodgers or Zeke Bonura of the Washington Senators.

There would be no contest at third base for Melvin Mazzera of the Brooklyn Dodgers who led the league in hitting this spring would fall down that job without half trying.

His best chance would be to nose out Bill Terry, manager of the New York Giants, acquired Second Baseman Alex Kampouris of the Cincinnati Reds recently.

WONDERS ARE BEING DONE WITH RIBBONS

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

After you have looked about at the new dress collections, the thought stays with you that this is decidedly a ribbon season.

His best chance would be to nose out Bill Terry, manager of the New York Giants, acquired Second Baseman Alex Kampouris of the Cincinnati Reds recently.

Little Alex, who is the only Greek boy in the big leagues, is not a heavy hitter, but he does clutch them occasionally for extra bases and break up ball games as a result.

Bill Berger, whom the Reds got from the Giants in exchange for Kampouris, hit .285 last year and tied Alex's record of 17 home runs.

A Champ Passes

THE fight trade is looking for Lou Ross to stop the fight between some competition against Henry Armstrong when they fight for the lightweight championship July 24.

As long as his speed holds out, Armstrong will probably prove too much for any fighter he meets. Armstrong is not as far along the backward trail as is Ross, but he is not likely to prove a match for the swarming tactics of the Negro.

Ross' announced decision to retire is a wise one. "Barney's through," was on everybody's lips the night of his last fight, even though he gave championship exhibition of gameness.

Bred in the dingy poverty of New York's East Side and reared in the tough ghetto of Chicago, Ross rose to the top of the world in boxing merit. When he won the Chicago Golden Gloves featherweight title in 1929, as an awkward kid, he attracted the attention of Sam Pitas and Art Winch, who ever since have been his managers.

They handled him shrewdly and four years later had him winning the lightweight championship from the veteran Tony Canzoneri. In 1934 Barney won the welterweight championship from Jimmy McLarin. In a return bout with McLarin, Ross was beaten, but came back in another year to regain the title.

Here and There—

CONNIE MACK, seven-year-old manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, is expected to surprise the fans. Adding a couple of .250 .300 boys to a team that was regarded as the leading stock of the American league, he has made the Athletics a club to be reckoned with.

Bunny McCormick, Notre Dame's right halfback last two years, will spend the summer delivering mail at Livermore, Calif. before accepting a full time position with an oil company in California.

When Bill Terry, manager of the New York Giants, acquired Second Baseman Alex Kampouris of the Cincinnati Reds recently, he offered a neat deal that makes him a real pennant contender. The Giants were stumbling around until they got Alex. Various players trying to substitute for Burgess Whitehead, who is probably out for the season because of illness, gave poor

Scouts Planning Trip of Interest

Thirty-three Scouts and leaders from the South Plains Council will camp at Camp Post Saturday and Sunday, June 25 and 26, in preparation for a twenty-one day camping tour through New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming to the Yellowstone National Park. The complete route schedule has been made and every detail including camping permits, swimming and fishing, and Health and Safety, has been worked out. Mr. Earl H. McClure, Scout Executive, will be Chief Camp Director. He will be assisted by G. B. Wadcock, Scoutmaster of Troop No. 35 at Spur, and has been serving as Camp Director at Camp Post for the past three weeks. Frank Rankins, Scoutmaster of Troop No. 8, Lubbock, who has been in charge of nature study and Indian lore at Camp Post, will also make the trip.

H. I. Keifer, reporter for the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, will make the trip as guest of the South Plains Council, and will make regular reports to home towns as they progress on the tour.

Scouts that plan to make the trip are: Allan Barnard, Robert Ragan, Dee Hall and Bob Beal, Troop 23, Lamesa; Russell Winn, Troop 35, Spur; Lubbock; Walter Clark, Allen T. Stewart and J. A. Ralston, Troop 35, Spur; Eldon Carroll, Troop 46, O'Donnell; James Wilcox and Joe Dick Moore, Troop 57, Floyd; Dale McIlroy, Troop 80, Ames; Earl C. Pollard, Jr., Troop 7, Lubbock; J. L. Sanders, Troop 9, Lubbock; Elbert Bouillon and Jerry Nobles, Troop 21, Tahoka; Cornelius Duffy and Roger W. Latt, Troop 75, Amberst; Gene Bray and Marvin McLarty, Troop 4, Lubbock.

SEES CONTINUING TREND SOUTH FOR CHEMICAL PLANTS

DALLAS—Encouragement for the South in its drive for continuing industrial progress is seen by the All-South Engineering Council in a review of chemical processes' industries' 1937 expansions.

The only place in the United States where the boundaries of four separate states come together at a point is at the southwest corner of Colorado, where it meets New Mexico, Utah and Arizona.

The terms "homicide" and "murder" differ somewhat, in that "homicide" is a broader term. It signifies the killing of one person by another, while "murder" is intentional and unlawful homicide.

and future trends by James A. Lee in connection with the recent convention of the Manufacturing Chemists' association at Skytop, Pennsylvania. The "outstanding feature" of the national program that saw more than $200,000,000 invested in plant expansion and modernization in the heavy chemical, pulp and paper, rayon, petroleum refining and other process fields during 1937 has been the vigorous industrial development in the South, where almost two-thirds of this expansion took place, said Lee, managing editor of Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering.

Texas' position as a magnet for these developing industries, the report points out, enhanced by the increasing disposition among her leaders to emphasize the desirability of sound, aggressive state encouragement of industrial enterprise, can bring the Lone Star state an impressive share of the fruits of this long-range expansion movement.

The steady march of technical advances in petroleum refining has accounted for extensive modification of existing refineries and equipment in recent years, while changes in various key chemical processes are being made constantly, necessitating frequent changes in equipment, and often installation of whole new plants or removals to new locations to produce larger quantities of certain heavy chemicals when a new suddenly creates a new volume market.

AW, LET HIM LOOK

She—Promise you'll never ever look at another girl?
He—If I never look at 'em, how am I going to know that you're the prettiest one there is in the world?

LET DAD WIN

Daughter—So father objects to Frank because he plays poker; I wonder how the objection could be removed?
Mother—Easily enough. Tell Frank that to win the daughter he must lose to the old man.

JUST LIKE THAT

She—I married my husband to change him if possible.
He—That's the trouble with you women; you change husbands too often.

NEEDS THE MONEY

Nevered—Don't want the income tax repealed? I'm surprised at you.
Longwed—It was repealed, my wife would be sure to hear of it and then I'd have to think up a new excuse whenever I'd want to hold out part of my salary on her.

Bobbie—Say, Pa, a bee hums, doesn't he?
Father—Yes, my boy; but run away and don't bother me.
Bobbie—Well, Pa, if that's so, ain't a bee a humbug?
Leopard—What kind of an entertainment would you suggest giving Miss Kangaroo?
Monk—A "top," of course!

PLATFORM OF ALVIN R. ALLISON, CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE, IS PRESENTED IN ANNOUNCEMENT

In presenting my candidacy for State Representative of the 119th district, I do so fully aware of the problems confronting the people of this district. Being present county judge of Hockley County, I have been brought to realize the significant need of adequate representation of this great district in our State legislature. I refer to the people of the 119th district to the citizens of Hockley County, where I have been county judge for four years, as to my qualifications, my sincerity and ability to do those vital things necessary for the best interests of those whom I represent.

Within ten days after I reach the legislature I will present a bill, amending the present law, so the farmer may retain the four-cent gasoline tax upon purchase, when the fuel is to be used for non-sport purposes. Such an amendment to the law would save the farmer valuable time and many dollars he now spends in getting the gasoline tax refund. In the last several legislative bills have been introduced to prevent the farmer from collecting any part of the four-cent gasoline tax, and, as your representative, will vigorously oppose such bills and work to the end that the farmer may retain the four-cent gasoline tax upon purchase. I will also oppose any bill which attempts to make the farmer pay a registration fee on his farm tractor.

I advocate an increase of the $22 per capita allotment for school children. As your representative I will lend my earnest efforts to see that it is raised—thus insuring greater efficiency in public school administration, and less tax for city and rural school districts.

The tax problem in Texas is a simple problem to my mind. I believe men should go to the legislature with backbone enough to back to the people." When I am your representative the mandates of the people shall govern every action in such a way that the state's greatest legislative district, the 119th, will have a representative in Austin who considers the will, problems, and needs of its 150,000 people.

Social Security Board Posts Wage Accounts Rate of 650,000 Daily

WICHITA FALLS.—Wages of millions of men and women for whom the Social Security Board has established old-age insurance accounts were being posted during the last of May at an average of approximately 650,000 entries a day, J. Gordon James, manager of the Wichita Falls office of the Social Security Board, said.

The wages now being posted, James explained, are from employers' wage reports for 1935, which were filed at the end of each six-month period. Approximately 7,000,000 wage items reported by employers for 1935 have been received by the Social Security Board from the Bureau of Internal Revenue, and about 40 per cent of these have been posted to employees' accounts.

Under revised regulations effective January 1, 1938, employers now file a tax return every three months when they pay their taxes and their employees' wages. On the same form they list the amount of wages paid to each employee during the quarter. Approximately 2,100,000 wage items reported by employers for the first three months of 1938 have been received by the Social Security Board. Employers' wage reports are filed with the Bureau of Internal Revenue, and after they have been checked against the employer's tax return, are turned over to the Social Security Board where each employer's wages are recorded in his old-age insurance account.

Although there is a few months' lag between a worker's pay day and the day his wages are recorded in his old-age insurance account, this will not cause delay in settling a claim for benefits, Mr. James said. Lump-sum payments are now being made to workers reaching age 65 and to heirs and estates to workers who have died. Supplemental information concerning employees' wages needed in settling such claims is obtained from the worker's employer. James stated that in no instance had an employer denied this co-operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Denney and children of Comanche, Texas, visited E. O. Lane and family of the Harmony community a few days last week. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gloghorn of the Harmony community returned from Ft. Worth Wednesday where they had been with his sister, Mrs. F. P. Patterson, who is seriously ill.

Wall Street in New York

received its name from the fact that in the time of Peter Stuyvesant a palisade, or wall, was built across Manhattan along that line to protect the Dutch colonists from a threatened British attack. The wall was removed before 1700, but the street along it has since been known as Wall Street.

Roosevelt is to make another "gride chat" Friday night. For Texas consumption it is a good thing he didn't speak during the Lott-Schumling fight, and anytime W. Lee O'Daniel is on the air.

We don't claim to know about it, either, but it does seem that speeding can be curbed—and street enforcement made of any laws governing the operation of an automobile in O'Donnell. The many drivers are whirling about the streets at fast rates of speed, cutting corners and in general endangering the lives of other people. Wonder if a few "Slow" and "Stop" signs at certain points would do any good? It shouldn't cost much to have them painted—and fines could be assessed against violators which would take care of the upkeep!

One farmer in Indiana has posted a sign of "Unwelcome" to AAA representatives—that is, owner owns his land and will run it to suit himself. Wonder what the gentleman had to say in 1932 and whether he chuckled for joy when he heard that Roosevelt intended to help him? Memories of mankind are short.

Joe Lee Ferguson and son, Jimmy, of Haskell attended a rally at Abilene Tuesday for W. Lee O'Daniel, and the boy spoke in behalf of the candidate for governor who has his competitors slightly dizzy over the crowds he is drawing. Also in the race for governor is one James A. Ferguson, relative of the Haskell men and Ex-governor Jim. Are the Fergusons supporting W. Lee O'Daniel or their relative—or are they having another family falling out?

We've attended a number of the political speaking held in this county, and enjoyed every one. And we personally vouch for the fact that none of the candidates is "tight-fisted." Each one has generously given us their cards as every meeting and shaken our hand. After the election, and the winners known, we can truthfully say "we shook hands with him."
